Hawaii Votes On Congress Members

By CHARLES BERNARD
United Press International
HONOLULU (UPI)—The many-colored peoples of these Polynesian islands go to the polls today to elect their first representatives as the 50th state of the United States.
Enthusiasm for statehood was so high that Secretary of State Ed Johnson predicted 90 per cent of registered voters would cast ballots to elect a governor, lieutenant governor, two U. S. senators, a U. S. congressman and 62 state legislators.
"Virtually every race and nation which has contributed to the population of the islands is represented on the ballot. The only contest between two Caucasians is that for governor. The appointed territorial governor, William F. Quinn, a Republican, and the territory's non-voting delegate to Congress, John A. Burns, a Democrat, are in a close race for that job.
A Hawaiian-born Japanese-American, Daniel K. Inouye, a Democrat, is expected to win election to the House of Representatives over Republican Charles H. Silva.
For Senate seat "A," Democrat Frank Fasi, a Connecticut-born businessman, is opposed by millionaire Chinese-American Hiram Fong, Republican, in what is expected to be another close race.
Former Gov. Owen Long, a Democrat, is expected to defeat Wilfred C. Tsuiyama, Republican, for Senate seat "B."
Candidates for lieutenant governor are James Kealoha, Republican, a Hawaiian-American, and Mitsuyuki Kido, a Japanese-American.
The new state has 147,000 registered voters, and Johnson predicted 165,000 will vote today. Among them are descendants of early Hawaiian kings and New England missionaries, English traders and whalers of all nations, laboring immigrants from Portugal, Puerto Rico and every nation of Asia.

Status Quo In Berlin Is Proposed By West

At Least Until Christmas of '61

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—The West is working on a compromise plan to save the deadlocked foreign ministers' talks by offering Russia a proposal to keep the Berlin situation as it is until Christmas 1961, conference sources reported today.
The plan reportedly will propose that:
Western rights in Berlin should remain unchanged until an all German settlement, unless modified previously by Big Four agreement.
At the end of 2 1/2 years—that is, around Christmas 1961—the Big Four foreign ministers should meet again to reconsider the Berlin situation.

Demos Okay Sept. Big 3 Paris Meeting

By WILLIAM THEIS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Diplomatic reports of a Big Three Paris conference in September won Democratic endorsement in Congress today and brought a plea that Italy and West Germany be included.
Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield, a foreign relations committee member, said he thought it a "splendid idea" to have President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle get together—regardless of the outcome of the current Geneva conference.
But he said in an interview that the "time is long overdue" when both Italy and West Germany should be given equal representation in deliberations by the chiefs of the Western powers.
Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the "reasoning of a Big Three conference is almost inevitable."
He said he was all for "downgrading" the belief that solutions always must emerge from meetings like the Big Four foreign ministers conference at Geneva. He suggested that conferences might be held more often just to exchange ideas.
Diplomatic sources in Washington revealed that plans were in the making for the Paris meeting of the American, British and French heads of government regardless of whether the Geneva talks lead to a summit conference.
These sources said the Big Three leaders would want to meet ahead of time to work out plans if they agree to a summit conference with Russia. And if Geneva talks should fail to produce a summit meeting, they then would want to meet to discuss where matters stand.

Nixon Receives Warm Welcome

By ERNEST BARCELLA
United Press International

NOVOSIBIRSK, U.S.S.R. (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon received the warmest reception yet of his "peace and friendship" tour of the Soviet Union when he arrived in this Siberian industrial city today.
A crowd of 20,000 cheering persons jammed the airport when the airplane carrying Nixon and his party landed here this afternoon following a one-stop flight from Leningrad.
Hundreds of others lined the streets from the airport to the center of the city to wave at the cars and buses, hugging members of the party into town.
The vice president acknowledged the warmth of his greeting by telling the "throng" in this "Chicago of Siberia" 1,500 miles east of Moscow, that he was here "so that we can know each other better and bring the peace and friendship that all of us want."
Legas Open Cities
"I want to express my appreciation for your warm welcome and to extend on behalf of all the people of the United States our best wishes to the peoples of this city and to the great territories of Siberia," Nixon said in reply to welcoming speeches.
"This is a closed city, and I am sure you will agree with me that all cities should be open on both sides."
This was an apparent reference to the fact that few outsiders are permitted to visit this great industrial metropolis of western Siberia.
Nixon's arrival coincided with the end of the day shift in this manufacturing city of 800,000 persons. This fact may have explained the size of the crowds, although there was no question of the warmth of the reception.
Streets along the route from the airport to the city center were so packed with people that at times it was difficult for the motorcade to get through.
The Big Soviet-Built TU-104 jetliner made a refueling stop at the Europa-Asia border city of Sverdlovsk, and Nixon stepped off the plane to mix with a small crowd of onlookers gathered to watch him.
Smiling and waving to the crowd, Nixon shook hands with several dozen of the 200 local citizens on hand at the Sverdlovsk airport, about 850 miles east of Moscow.
So far Nixon appears successful in his campaign to win friends and influence important Soviet leaders. (See NIXON, Page 5)

HEARING SET SEPT. 1

$1 1/2 Million City Budget Released

By WALLACE TRUEDELL
Daily News Staff-Writer

The City manager's proposed $1,379,961 budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year was filed with the City Commission today and released to the public. A public hearing was set for 10 a.m. Sept. 1 in the City Commission Room.
Mayor E. A. Myatt said that the tax rate could be set on the same day.
"There has been an increase in both revenues and expenditures in this year's budget," City Manager John Koonits stated. "Part of this increase is due to House Bill 87, which requires the City to provide police department. We are replacing some of our old equipment which is beyond repair. We are also adding some additional Dumpster boxes to take care of the needs of our growing City."
"We have eliminated a coal-coating the streets and also the cathodic protection of our water tanks which we all agree is great. Other means should be used to acquire these items such as the issuance of warrants or the sale of bonds."
"I want to express my sincere appreciation to the department heads, City employees and City officials for their assistance in the preparation of this year's budget," Koonits concluded.
City Judge Buff McGuire appeared before the Commission with some figures on the number of unpaid overtime parking tickets issued during the past fiscal year. Only 22,217 were paid. This represents 65.6 percent paid and 34.4 percent unpaid.
"For the first nine months of this year, 22,491 tickets were written and 17,134 paid," McGuire's figures show the percentage of paid tickets to be 77.1 with 22.3 unpaid.
McGuire estimated that 350 unpaid tickets per month are accumulating in Corporation Court. The City has hired a second clerk for the Court who does nothing but work on overtime parking tickets.
It was explained that the minimum fine for overtime parking is $1 and the maximum, $100. And, according to the Parking, M.I.E. Ordinance, the car can be impounded. A 25 cent fine is in effect as a courtesy matter for those who pay their fines within 12 hours.
Last year 81.9 percent of overtime parking paid by the quarter method. For the first nine months of this year the percentage is 66. One-third of the offenders still do not use the quarter method and 22 percent are not paying at all.
McGuire said that of an average 350 overtime parking tickets issued per month, 230 tickets are issued to local persons and 320 to drivers from outside Gray County.
Koonits suggested that a 25 cent fine may not be high enough for some drivers.
Going into the cost of writing tickets, McGuire said that a car's ticket costs nine and one-half cents, including the salaries of the

Cuban Turncoat Will Be Tried

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI)—High army sources said today Rafael del Pino, Cuban-born-American from Miami who was wounded and captured by police here Saturday, is a trial for high treason—a crime punishable by death.
Hospital reports said Del Pino, who is being treated for a gunshot wound and a bullet wound in the neck, is in "improved" condition. He probably will be transferred from the police hospital to the infirmary of the Cabana Fort prison.
Del Pino, a one-time rebel who changed sides, was shot Saturday night while trying to take a Cessna plane. The plane, in which Cuban authorities charged he planned to fly to Premier Fidel Castro out of Cuba, caught fire and he was burned in the blaze.
Castro visited Del Pino in the hospital Monday and questioned him for an hour about his activities.
The premier told a news conference Monday that he may go to next month's foreign ministers' conference in Chile to charge that Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic are to blame for the Caribbean crisis.
Castro charged that the two countries are "governed by dictators." Other factors contributing to tension in the Caribbean, he said, include "hunger, economics and freedom."
The premier ridiculed the U.S. Congress for being concerned about Cuban policies, saying that Cuba does not investigate U.S. generals, admirals or FBI agents. This was a reference to recent U.S. Senate hearings on reports of Communist infiltration of Cuba.
Castro said his American foes are the same people who opposed the late President Roosevelt—people who are against reform of all kinds.
Marilyn Kay Turner, raven-haired beauty from Fort Worth, Texas, was crowned "Miss Texas of 1959" in Beaumont, Texas, by the 1958 winner, Mary Nell Hendricks of Arlington, Texas.

MISS TEXAS OF '59

TAX BREAK IS POSSIBLE

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—A break in the Texas Legislature's 1959 day deadlock on taxation appeared possible today in the Senate.
The Senate State Affairs Committee scheduled a morning public hearing to go over a House-passed 170 million dollar tax bill.
Senators voted to go into regular session at 7 p.m. today. The afternoon session was presumably called to give senators a chance to vote on a tax bill at the earliest possible moment if the State Affairs Committee sends the bill quickly to the floor.
Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, said he had been asked to call the public hearing to allow testimony against some new tax features in the House's bill.
Senate Changes Due
Taxes on precious and semi-precious stones and furs and a levy on cameras are new items that have not been covered during previous testimony either before the Senate or the House Revenue and Taxation Committee.
Senators were expected to either increase the levies in the House's bill or add a new section or sections to make sure the bill raises enough money to finance the new state spending during the next two years.
House sponsors of the tax plan contended it would raise enough money to meet the state's needs, but there was speculation by opponents that some of the new tax levies would not raise as much money as estimated.
Although the House bill contains many selective sales taxes that have previously been approved by senators, final Senate acceptance of the tax bill hinges on a controversial severance beneficiary tax on natural gas—aimed at the interstate gas pipelines.
Spending Bill Penks
The House bill contained a 1.5 percent severance beneficiary levy, estimated to raise between 15 and 24 million dollars.
Senators have repeatedly ignored the severance tax feature in earlier tax battles.

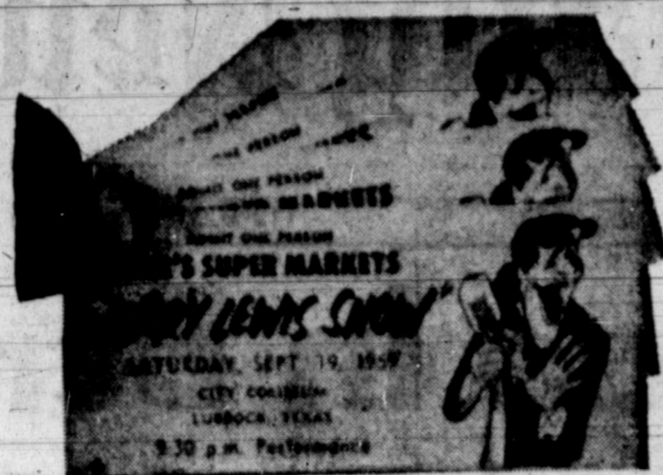

Tour to Stop Here Oct. 5

Pampa has been chosen as a get acquainted stop of the All Texas Air Tour, according to Asa Burroughs, managing director. The stop is set for 3:30 p.m. Oct. 5. Burroughs stated in a letter to E. O. Wedgewood, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.
The All Texas Air Tours are sponsored by the following organizations: The Texas State Aviation Association, Texas Private Flyers Association, Texas Flying Farmers, Texas Ninety-Nines, Texas Wing and the Civil Air Patrol. They are coordinated by the Texas Aeronautics Commission for the purpose of promoting civil aviation and getting flyers better acquainted. Every year some worthwhile cause is promoted by the Texas Air Tour. The theme to be carried this year will be "The March of Dimés" together with "Good Neighbor Relations." In order to further this good neighbor policy, every effort is being made to get participants from out of state, and Mexico. Last year, 15 states and Mexico were represented.

Aluminum Strike Looms

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United Steelworkers of America (USW) scheduled contract talks with the Big Three aluminum producers today to avert new threat of a strike which would shut down the nation's production of a second basic metal at midnight Friday.
In the two-week old steel strike, Federal Mediation Chief Joseph F. Finnegan reported "no substantial change of position" by either party in respect after a two-hour joint meeting Monday. The first since the strike began. No further meeting was scheduled.
The Cooper Industries, also under strike threat, from the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, which has been continuing talks under contracts extended since June 30.
Steel companies continued meanwhile to show record sales and profits in newly released six-month reports. The strike threatened Aluminum Co. of America, (Alcoa) also showed a sharp increase in sales and earnings for the half-year period.
The giant United States Steel Corp. was to release today a financial report expected to show record or near-record sales and earnings.
Key issue in the stalemate steel negotiations is the industry's insistence that it cannot pay a wage increase without raising prices and that both must be resisted to combat inflation. The issue is similar to the closely related talks with the aluminum workers. The Aluminum Workers International Union, which represents most of the rest, also is negotiating for new contracts to replace those expiring July 31.
McDonald has not yet personally entered aluminum talks, although he has been in close touch here. Meetings were scheduled today with Alcoa, Kaiser Aluminum and the Chemical Corp., and Reynolds Metals Co. The three companies produce more than 80 percent of the nation's basic aluminum.
A half million Steelworkers are already on strike against the steel industry and an estimated 14,000 workers in supporting mining and transport industries have been laid off as a result of the 100,000 of the aluminum firms' 34,000 strike.

Ex Harvester Tackle To Get TCU Degree

Ben Sturgeon, Pampa High School '55, will graduate from Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, in August. A history and government major, Sturgeon will enter Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Sept. 14.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Sturgeon, 1331 N. Russell.

In TCU he has served as president of the freshman and sophomore classes. He was also named runner-up for freshman and sophomore favorites. For two years he worked on the Horned Frog.

Sturgeon was elected to the offices of treasurer, vice president and president of the SAE fraternity and was a member of the Student Congress for two years. He was a member of the Bryson Club, composed of 40 of the top campus leaders, and was secretary of the Intercollegiate Student Association for the 1957-58 term.

A fighting Harvester under both Tom Tipps and Aubra Nooncaester, Sturgeon played five years of football as a tackle in the Pampa Public School System two years with the Reapers and three with the Harvesters.

He was president of the Student Council for the 1954-55 term, a member of the A-Capella Choir for two years and president of the junior class for 1953-54.

When a sophomore in high school, 15-year-old Sturgeon was selected as tackle in the Pampa Public School System two years with the Reapers and three with the Harvesters.

He is married to the former Saphira Hartman of Amarillo.

Sheila Chisholm Will Attend St. Louis Meet
A Pampa resident, Sheila C. Chisholm, will be in St. Louis Aug. 3-Sept. 5 to attend the 16th National Congress of the National Federation of Catholic College Students.

A senior history major at Tulsa's Benedictine High School in Oklahoma, Miss Chisholm will be one of the school's four delegates at the meeting. She is the daughter of R. A. Chisholm of 800 N. Gray.

An active coed, Miss Chisholm has held membership in the Library Club, the Chant class, and the credit committee of the college's Credit Union. She has also served as chairman of the Liturgy commission and headed last year's orientation committee.

people. This was the deepest penetration into the vast Soviet land mass by America's No. 1 traveling peace salesman.

Two other TU-104 jets carried a party of 100 newsmen into the heart of the Soviet Union, probably the biggest number of foreign correspondents ever to journey so far into the heart of Russia.

The Nixons were accompanied on the flight by Georgi Zhukov, chairman of the Soviet state committee for cultural relations with foreign countries.

They were seen off at the airport by Nikolai Smirnov, chairman of the executive committee of the Leningrad City Soviet, who wished the American guests a happy landing.

Nixon will spend the rest of today and most of Wednesday in Novosibirsk, the big manufacturing and communications center on the Ob River. Wednesday afternoon he will swing around and fly to Verdovsk, the big steel manufacturing center known as the Russian Pittsburgh, 850 miles east of Moscow.

As he headed into Siberia, Nixon could show evidence that he has generated some good feeling among the Soviet hierarchy — a fact that may cause him to recommend to President Eisenhower that Premier Nikita Khrushchev be invited to the United States.

Some examples of the good feeling Nixon has generated:

—Khrushchev's gesture of turning over his country estate to the Nixons Saturday night and then hosting a river cruise and dinner for them.

—The unexpected decision by First Deputy Premier and Mrs. Frol R. Kozlov to accompany the Nixons from Moscow to Leningrad Monday. Kozlov is a native of Leningrad and this was taken as a compliment to the Nixons.

—Khrushchev's belated offer to allow Nixon to fly to Leningrad in the U.S. jet that brought him to Russia last Thursday for his 11-day visit. Nixon declined with thanks. The Soviets originally had rejected Nixon's use of the American jet in the Soviet Union.

—Nixon's success in interceding with Soviet officials to allow Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover to see "everything he wanted to see" in the Soviet's nuclear powered ice-breaker Lenin. Rickover said later he saw "what he wanted" when they came to realize what a friendly soul I was."

Whitney Fined On DWI Charge

Romaine Wright Whitney, 314 W. Browning, pled guilty Monday to charges of driving while intoxicated.

He was fined $50 and costs in Gray County Court, receiving the standard three day jail sentence and six month's suspension of his license.

Whitney was arrested at 9:57 p.m. Saturday at the corner of Piquivance and W. Foster.

Hereford Man Held By Police

Police have filed drunk charges on Aubrey D. Brown, Hereford, who Monday was discovered parked in a Pampa man's pick-up truck. Further charges may be pressed against Brown, according to Police Chief J. B. Conner.

A pick-up truck owned by L. E. Thomas, 205 N. Frost, was reported stolen from the Highland Pharmacy parking lot at 3:30 p.m. Monday. Thomas said that a number of articles, including a Lord

Shirley White watch and a Sunbeam electric razor, were in the back.

The pickup was discovered at 7:30 p.m. on a vacant lot at 2300 Aspen. Brown was inside drunk. It is probable that felony charges will be filed.

Long Lives It Up With Big Blonde

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI) — Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long parked under an Arkansas moon with a buxom blonde divorcee from Memphis, Tenn., early today.

"I like 'em big," Long said. "That's a smart woman."

Long's ladyfriend is Mrs. Ann S. Billings. She is vacationing in Hot Springs with her son and daughter, Johnny, 11, and Sherry, 16, and an aunt, Mrs. M. S. Elkin of Lebanon, Tenn.

Long, separated from his wife, Blanche, met Mrs. Billings at his hotel early Monday. He had dinner with her and her family Monday night, then dropped the family off and ditched his chauffeur, Lt. Russell Willie of the Louisiana State Police.

Mrs. Billings drove his $10,000

Cadillac limousine through Hot Springs, the spot noted for its national forest and world-famous bath house row. Long, 63, sat beside her, his arm around her shoulders.

After a 30 minute drive, they parked behind the DeSoto Hotel, where Long is staying. After another 30 or 40 minutes, they got out of the sleek car and went into the hotel.

They talked for another 15 minutes in the lobby, and the governor had his chauffeur take her back to the Arlington Hotel, where she is staying.

"We talked politics," Mrs. Billings said with a sly smile. "He's got a brilliant mind. I don't care what they say."

The evening started off with the governor and his guests trying to find a ham. They drove nearly 100 miles, practically to Little Rock, then settled for roast beef and chicken in a Hot Springs cafeteria.

BOOSTS SMALL BUSINESS
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman John Sparkman (D-Ala.) of the senate small business subcommittee today demanded that the Defense Department "cut out waste" by giving small firms a better chance to win defense contracts. In a prepared speech, Sparkman told the Senate the Pentagon practice of "non-competitive, sole-source" purchasing has proved itself wasteful, but said he has received no indication that the department "plans to take the lead in mending the error of its procurement ways."

BIAS NOT SIGNIFICANT
 NEW YORK (UPI) — Religious discrimination has declined in American college admissions policies to the point where "no significant evidence" of bias exists, the American Jewish Congress reported Sunday. The report, based on a questionnaire filled out by more than 1,200 high-ranking high school seniors in the state, said there was a "marked decline" in discrimination since similar surveys in 1949 and 1952.

News In Brief

AUD IN GOOD HEALTH
 FRIEBURG, Germany (UPI) — Doctors Monday reported that a thorough medical examination had shown King Saud of Saudi Arabia to be in "good health," although "suffers from some blood pressure" trouble.

DROUGHT HITS CHINA
 OKYO (UPI) — The New China News agency said today that 10 million peasants in Communist China's central provinces "are waging a hard fight" to overcome the effects of drought. Emergency irrigation procedures have been instituted for 3.4 million acres of land, the agency reported. In one province alone, 100,000 more than 22,000 ditches and canals were dug.

HONEY MONEY FOUND
 TOPLITZSEE, Austria (UPI) —

Divers Monday recovered a case containing $840,000 in forged British bank notes from Toplitz Lake. The notes were part of a great quantity forged by the Nazis during World War II in an abortive plot to flood Britain with fake money, and ruin its economy.

SCHENCK REPORTED FAIR
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Joseph M. Schenck, 77-year-old movie pioneer and former board chairman of 20th Century-Fox Studios, was reported in fair condition today with a broken hip. Schenck, who retired in 1953, was injured Monday when he slipped and fell in his penthouse apartment at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

SENTENCED TO CHURCH
 TAMPA Fla. (UPI) — A couple accused of forgery were sentenced Monday to 10 years in church. Judge Thomas Carput Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Bevel on probation with the stipulation that they attend church every Sunday for the next 10 years. "I think the church can do more good than jail."

LAWYER APPOINTED
 AUSTIN (UPI) — A 31-year-old Waco lawyer, Hilton H. Howell, was named Monday as public information chairman of the State Bar of Texas, succeeding Homa S. Hill of Fort Worth. Bar President A. J. Folley of Amarillo said Ben F. Johnson of Tyler, a former bar director, was named vice-chairman. Howell is a Baylor University law graduate.

HONEYMOON "NO FUN"
 MIAMI (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Minson ended their two-week honeymoon in an underground shelter over the week-end, agreed it was "no fun," and planned to leave today for Mexico for a more conventional one.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE
 By OSWALD JACOBY

If you held the South hand you might not have jumped to four hearts so let us assume that someone else got to four hearts and you have been called in to play the hand. How did you plan your play?

You can count two diamond ruffs and three aces outside your trump suit so you need five trump-tricks. What is your best play to get them?

You should assume that East will hold both the king and queen of trumps and should plan to shorten yourself as much as possible so that he will have to lead trumps to you. Hence, you take the ace of spades and ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond, ruff a spade, ruff another diamond, ruff a spade and lead your small club.

The best defense is for East to win and play diamonds. You follow to the first diamond, trump the second one low and lead back the jack of trumps. East will win and have to lead a trump to your ace ten whereupon you make both of them and your contract.

The Army officer, attracted by the curious activity of the policemen, leaped a wild bull was loose. He had it roped and tied in five minutes just the way he learned it, he said, in his South Dakota youth.

Five-Team Third Major League Formed

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — William A. Shea, the man who did the job that couldn't be done, said today the new Continental League "is offering major league baseball the greatest deal in its history" but is prepared to go it alone if the big leagues try to block formation of the third circuit.

"We anticipate the cooperation of organized baseball," said the dynamic, 52-year-old New York City attorney who Monday announced the formation of the new league with founding franchises in New York, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Denver and Toronto.

"But we are all in this to stay and we are not going to back out no matter what happens."

Shea said the new league will take its next step when it meets with American and National League officials in New York, Aug. 18, and proposes its solutions to the problems of player distribution, territorial rights, inclusion in the pension plan, television policies and participation in the World Series.

"We expect them (Aug. 18) to join the structure of organized baseball," said Shea. "Once that's done, we'll proceed to the new problems."

Shea insisted the new league was "holding no club" over organized baseball but Edwin C. Johnson, three times governor of Colorado who delivered an impassioned plea for support of the new league Monday, sounded a warning that obviously is a key factor in the circuit's formation.

"I believe that the major leagues are sincere in their expressed wishes to help in the expansion of their game," said Johnson, who served as president of the Western League for seven years. "But I also know major league baseball fears two things—the courts and the Congress. We do not want to start a war but we are not afraid of one."

Shea argued that organized baseball "must accept us" because we are offering them "the greatest deal in their history."

"It can't cost them a thing," he said. "It creates vast new areas of interest and income with no risk or their part. On what grounds would they object to a deal like that?"

Shea said the new league planned to begin its first 354-game schedule in 1961 with a minimum of eight clubs and added that it might be included in the World Series by 1963 or 1964. In addition to the founding cities, he listed Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, New Orleans, Portland, San Di-ago, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas, Fort Worth, Seattle and San Juan, P.R., as cities interested in obtaining franchises.

"We will want to be included in the World Series when our champion is able to give a good account of itself," said Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Toronto International League club and president of a founding franchise. "And the day will come when the Continental League will win the World Series and we will really be made then."

Shea said the main objective of the Aug. 18 meeting with organized baseball officials, headed by Commissioner Ford Frick and league presidents Joe Cronin and Warren Giles, was to obtain "acceptance as a major league."

But he said executives of the new league would have proposals to submit on various problems involving expansion as follows:

Territorial rights: "We see no real problems here. Money is the least of our problems and we can pay off any indemnity needed. Besides, we feel the new league is built on the health of minor league baseball."

Players: "A new league requires about 200 players. Who says the economy of the United States can't produce 200 men if we supply the jobs?"

Pension plan: "This appears to be a complicated problem to some but it really is not when you put some financial experts to work on it. We will have a pension plan of our own or be a part of the existing one."

Television: "This is mainly a local problem and each city will handle it in its own way. However, I have to doubt that any city outside of New York would have home television."

World Series: "A round-robin World Series would be a great spectacle. Of course, the Continental League's champion might not win it for a while but can you picture anybody saying it's not big league when it does."

REACTION TO LOOP MIXED

United Press International
Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) led congressional sources in hailing the announcement of a third major league today, but organized baseball generally adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

"This announcement spells the advent of a new day in the history of American baseball," said Sen. Johnson after it was announced in New York that the Continental League was being formed with five founding cities. "Fresh horizons of recreation and business opportunity lie ahead for the citizens of the cities forming this new league."

A few light years less enthusiastic was by Joe Cronin, president of the American League who commented, "Just branding a league 'major' doesn't make it one. They have to come up with major league talent."

Cronin, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, and President Warren Giles of the National League agreed they'd have more to say after they meet with Continental League backers next month.

But other officials in Congress, some of whom were starting today to study anti-trust legislation that organized baseball considers vital to its existence, weren't waiting that long to let it be known how they felt.

"This is a great forward step and will go a long way toward returning baseball to the American people where it has always belonged," said Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee which is holding hearings on the sports bills—one of which he introduced.

Sen. Kenneth E. Keating (R-N.Y.), who introduced the other sports bill, being considered, warned Congress should "do nothing in the way of legislation that will interfere with establishment of a third major league."

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), went a step further and said that Congress would be "duty bound" to help if it could with problems the new league might encounter.

Also enthusiastic were the comments of city officials in cities either included among the five founding clubs in the league or being considered for franchises.

RICKEY MIGHT BE PRESIDENT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Branch Rickey, 78-year-old elder statesman of baseball, will be offered the job as first president of the newly formed Continental major league, it was learned today by United Press International.

"Branch Rickey is the most logical choice for the position," a source close to the situation told UPI. "I don't know whether he will accept the job but I am sure that he will be offered it."

William A. Shea, the New York attorney who led the drive to create the new league, emphatically eliminated himself as a candidate.

"I cannot and will not take the job if it is offered to me," he said. "When the third major league goes into operation in 1961, I will not be an official. I will not have one single cent invested in the league and I will return to being just a lawyer-like I ought to be."

Rickey's name rarely is mentioned publicly by Continental League officials but it is known the man who created baseball's farm system and broke its color line, has been a key advisor behind the scenes.

"There are other candidates, of course," UPI's informant said. "But Mr. Rickey undoubtedly will be offered the job first. He has been the most far-sighted individual connected with baseball during this entire operation. The new league could not have been formed without his counsel."

"We may need a man conversant with the ins and outs of major league ball to negotiate with American and National League officials," he continued.

"And we are sure Mr. Rickey would be an able representative in such negotiations."

Rickey currently is chairman of the board of the Pittsburgh Pirates and has said repeatedly over the last two years that major league baseball should expand by the creation of a new league.

Milwaukee Braves Find Cousins-Pittsburgh Pirates

United Press International
The Cincinnati Reds are refusing to play dead for the Milwaukee Braves any more, but the Braves have found a brand new bunch of "cousins"—the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Remember how the Braves marched to the National League pennant in 1957 by rolling up an amazing 18-4 mark against the Reds in their season series? And repeated last year by beating the Reds 17 times against only five losses?

Now they're doing the same thing to the Pirates. A 5-2 Milwaukee triumph Monday that boosted the Braves back into second place was their 10th in 13 games with Pittsburgh this year, the last five wins a row.

This win on Joe Jay's five-hit pitching climaxed a five-game series sweep that really saved the Braves' bacon. The champs stumbled into this series with eight losses in their last 10 games but a visit from the new "cousins" got them healthy again quickly. Now they're only a game-and-a-half behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

Ronnie Kline of the Pirates had the Braves blanked, 2-0, until Milwaukee scored all its five runs in the seventh inning in a rally that featured Bobby Avila's two-run triple. The loss was the seventh straight for the Pirates who now have skidded into the second division.

In the only other National League game Monday, Cincinnati downed St. Louis, 8-3. In the American League, Boston blanked Cleveland, 4-0, to drop the Indians back into a first-place tie with the Chicago Cubs. Gene Woodling's shugging led Baltimore to a 6-0 win over Detroit, and Kansas City scored its eighth straight win, 7-4, over Washington.

Johnny Temple's three-run homer led the Reds' 5-1 hit attack as they beat the Cards. Bob Purkey scattered nine Chard hits to gain his ninth win.

Rookie Jerry Cozma pitched a three-hitter for the Red Sox to beat the Indians, snapping the Red Sox' six-game losing streak and the Indians' five-game winning streak.

Woodling drove in all of the Orioles' five runs with a single and the first grand slam he's hit in 13 years in the majors. His bases-full blast off Jim Bunning of Detroit in the third inning was the 27th homer served up by Bunning this year.

Roger Maris hit a grand-slam homer for the A's in their win over the Senators, but actually Kansas City's pair of winning runs in the eighth inning were unearned thanks to an error by Ken Armstrong. Harmon Killebrew's 33rd homer (top in the majors) and a grand slam by Faye Throneberry couldn't save the Senators from their ninth straight defeat.

TWIN CITIES GREET LEAGUE WITH BIG YAWN

By OSCAR ERALEY
United Press International
MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Baseball's proposed third major league could be neither happy nor optimistic today over the Minnesota-Minneapolis-Twin Cities would be one of its key franchises.

There was a general apathy and disinterest on the part of the man in the street. It has many facets.

The main one is that the Twin Cities would be "just another minor league team" masquerading in big league uniforms.

There are several other important factors. First of these is a feeling, even in this dual city of 1,500,000 people, that a team which draws a paltry 5,000 attendance for its league leading team in the American Assn. couldn't equal "the from hunger crowds" of six to eight thousand for the average Washington Senator game.

Seemingly Eternal Feud
Then, too, there is the seemingly eternal feud between the shoulder-to-shoulder cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is a feeling akin to the dog-eat-dog rivalry which became such a lucrative item for the erstwhile Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants. You draw a line between two pieces of real estate and immediately those concerned start acting like starved stepbrothers fighting over the last pork chop on the platter.

Go out into the streets and the stores and the public places and you can almost taste this rabid partisanship. It raises the hackles on your neck like a meeting between the cobra and the mongoose, the bull and the red flag or a couple of ex-wives.

Minneapolis has a stadium which, with the addition of a planned tier, can be improved until it would be a match for the best in the big leagues. But the tier would be useless without customers to fill it. And those fans come from St. Paul, a district with absolutely nothing saintly about it when it comes to things from Minneapolis. St. Paul wants its own ball club, and that's that.

Talk of Internal Expansion
Talking to the man on the street you also get the idea which in all fairness was voiced previously by Commissioner Ford

NO COMPLAINTS HEARD ABOUT COURSE FOR PGA

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — The usual grumblings of a "tricked-up course" were missing today among the field of 180 players who will tee off Thursday in the PGA golf championship over the two par five holes here in two days. The par fives are the 581-yard third and the 581-yard 18th.

As in the U. S. Open, played at the Winged Foot Golf Club at Mamaroneck, N.Y., last June, the golfers agreed that this course, like that one, is as far a test of the game as could be found. That's a far cry from the usual lamentations that the courses over which major championship tournaments are played are toughened up unfairly.

They've changed the usual par of 36-38 to 35-37, but they do that for the Open, too, and the competing golfers pay little attention to it. They figure par for the course for the four rounds comprising the PGA title-chase is still 72, but they don't think that four regulation rounds will do the trick.

The one thing most of them are concerned about is the winds which sweep the 6,500-yard course, which the home pro, Gunnar Johanson, claims runs closer to 7,000 yards.

"The winds can change here four times a day and if it should come from the north or northwest, it could mean a difference of three strokes in the scoring," Johanson explained. "If the winds are from the south, as they usually are, it might take 275-five under par, to win it."

But such favorites as Jay Hebert said they would be satisfied with 280.

New Optimist Club Will Be Organized

A morning Optimist Club will be organized Thursday for people who are interested in the club's work, but are unable to attend night meetings.

The organizational meeting will be held at 6:30 a.m. Thursday in Johnson's Cafe, according to Optimist publicity director Ray Fowler. The club will be a separate organization, with its own officers. At least 25 members are needed to get the new club started.

At Monday night's meeting, it was announced that there will be an old timer-teenage baseball game Wednesday. The game, matching Optimist Club members against a group of teenage all-stars, will begin at 5 p.m. in Pony League Park. The fence has now been completed at Pony League Park.

Also at Monday's meeting the Optimists set up a work schedule for the rest of the year and saw a Navy training film. The film, "Blue Angels," was shown by C.P.O. Vance, local Navy recruiter. It was the story of the Navy's crack jet demonstration team, a five man squad showing the full capabilities of jet airplanes.

The work schedule will be two Wednesdays per month, one Saturday and one Sunday afternoon per month, through the winter.

TIRE-TANKS—The day may or may not be coming when you can tell the service station attendant to put the gas right in your car's tires. But here's an odd contraption, called the Roll-Tanker, which carries 1,000 gallons of liquid inside the huge tires. The Army will use Roll-tankers to carry fuel. They can be dragged over any kind of terrain.

Cuba Was Major Center Of Red Activity In 40's

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Though some political and lay observers seem to be snake-bit with fear that Dr. Fidel Castro's Cuba may become a Communist center of poisonous activity, there are certain related facts which merit consideration.

For example, there are the facts related in a just-published book by R. Hart Phillips, "Cuba, Island of Paradox," is the book's name, published by McDowell, Obolensky. Miss Phillips has lived in Cuba since 1920 and since 1937 she has been a New York Times staff correspondent there.

The significant facts in Miss Phillips' book are that Cuba was a major Communist center of poisonous anti-American activity and not so long ago, either. The time was in the mid-1940s after Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin had succeeded Gen. Fulgencio Batista as president in an election which even Batista's enemies conceded was wholly honest. Grau San Martin was anti-Communist, had promised during his campaign to take strong measures against the Cuban Reds.

Worked in Schools
Cuba's Communists, however, persuaded the new President that they were good citizens and he decided after taking office to accept their support. That was in 1944. By 1946, Miss Phillips relates, the education association of Cuba was sounding an alarm that Communist Party members were gaining control of all teachers' associations in the island. They were indoctrinating the Cuban youth.

"Cuba had become," Miss Phillips writes, "one of the focal points of Communist propaganda in the Western Hemisphere and a center from which orders went to other countries."

"Schools for agitators were being operated and anti-American programs were being initiated. Every one of the unions was headed by Communists. The Communists controlled the powerful radio station Mil Diez Cuba's only free channel, and the daily paper Hoy, which published direct propaganda cables from Moscow."

Red Party Line
The Communist Party line was that the United States was both seeking to exploit all of Latin America and, with the atomic bomb, actively was planning another war to obtain control of the entire world. The propaganda password was "Yankee imperialism." The purpose was to arouse sufficient anger against the United States to destroy its influence throughout Latin America.

It is not necessary to suggest that because such was the situation with Grau San Martin in the presidential palace that the new president was a Communist. It is not necessary to suggest, either, that Castro is a Communist because a somewhat similar situation seems now to be developing in Cuba.

Castro and Grau San Martin both entered office as extravagant fools. Neither could have repudiated the Cuban Communists and made it stick.

The question is: What happens in Cuba next?

Talks between management and labor in the steel industry resumed Monday in an effort to settle the 13-day old steel strike. Joseph F. Finnegan, federal mediator, warned that no easy or early settlement appeared near.

The magazine Steel estimated that by the end of Monday total wages from the steel strike would reach $135,200,000 and lost sales $378,000,000. Shutting down the industry cost companies $30 million and the same cost will be involved in starting up again. Also companies lost so far $72 million in overhead, depreciation and salaries and non-production workers.

Chase Manhattan Bank said a prolonged steel strike could retard any normal growth prospects in store for the national economy in the months ahead.

Negotiations on a new contract in the aluminum industry appeared deadlocked similar to steels and a strike is said to be threatened when the contract expires Friday at midnight. David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, bargaining agent for the aluminum workers, planned a strategy meeting with union negotiators Monday.

The government has ordered American Telephone to reduce charges on long-distance calls exceeding 300 miles by $50 million yearly. The new rates, effective around mid-September, ignore the long-range interest of the public in view of the facilities needed for growth, said Fredrick R. Kappel, president of the company.

Arlene sighed unhappily and said she still admires Miss Crawford "when personal feelings don't enter into it."

"There are too many important things going on in the world to take time out for feuding," Miss Dahl concluded. "I feel no animosity about the lady. If it'll help, I apologize. I just want to forget the whole thing."

In 1914, Austria declared war on Serbia, marking the real beginning of World War One.

In 1932, General Douglas MacArthur led federal troops to drive out more than 15-thousand unemployed war veterans camping in Washington.

In 1941, Japanese troops swarmed into Indochina to begin their occupation of the French colonial outpost.

In 1945, the United States Senate ratified the Charter of the United Nations.

Also in 1945, an Army B25 bomber crashed into the Empire State Building in New York City.

Thought for today: British historian George MacAulay Trevelyan wrote, "Serbia... The little land of ferocious heroes."

Protracted Conflict

The nature of the menace of International Communism is understood by relatively few people and the appearance of a book which succinctly dissects the anatomy of this monster is worthy of every one's attention who is interested in survival. "Protracted Conflict," (Harper, $3.95) by Robert Strauss, Hupe and others, is a work which more clearly examines the strengths and weaknesses of both the West and Communism on the level of direct confrontation than any work we have yet encountered.

Interventionism

One of the reasons why we are spending and have spent so much money on overseas affairs is that our government seems bound and determined to intervene in a number of every conflict beyond our borders. Rarely has this point been made so evident as it was recently made by Mohammed T. Mehdi, director of the Arab information center in San Francisco.

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

BETTER JOBS

Why Strikes Always Lower Total Real Wages Since we are having a steel strike that has put 500,000 steel workers and close to 100,000 railroad workers and coal miners out of jobs, and if the strike continues there will be many more out, it might be well to do some thinking about the effects of strikes.

There are many who are denying that there are any moral absolutes: that striking unions and state socialism and communism deny that all men, not just the majority, have rights derived from the Creator.

PIPING AWAY ATOMIC WASTE—These pipes will carry atomic waste two miles out into the English Channel at Winfrith Heath, Dorset. Buried under the earth and sunk in the water, the pipelines will stretch a total of eight miles from the new Atomic Research Establishment. There, 12 European nations are collaborating on the development of a power reactor.

Walter Rogers Reports
 Nuclear Ship Launching Sets
 Atomic Transportation Age

One hundred and forty years ago the United States launched a brand new era when the SS Savannah was built and became the first steam-powered vessel to cross the Atlantic Ocean, which event signaled the beginning of the huge fleet of merchant vessels from every country which ply the ocean lanes today. The SS Savannah weighed 320 tons and could carry only enough coal and wood to power it for four days, relying on sails to complete the voyage from Savannah, Ga. to Liverpool, England.

Last week Mrs. Rogers and I were privileged to be present when this country embarked upon another notable new era. The NS Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant vessel, was launched at Camden, N.J. Having been more or less landlocked all our lives; it was a new experience for us to view the actual launching of a maritime vessel and it was a real thrill to see this gigantic atomic-powered ship slide down the ways after Mrs. Eisenhower had christened its prow with the customary bottle of champagne. The greater thrill, of course, was the knowledge that the age of atomic transportation had begun.

Legislation authorizing the construction of the Savannah was passed by Congress in 1956 and the keel was laid a year ago. The trials and tests are expected to be completed in about six months, at which time the Savannah will be placed in limited cargo and passenger operation. It is expected this ship will be chartered to a commercial firm for regular maritime use sometime in 1961.

The following operational data is most interesting. The Savannah weighs 12 thousand tons and can carry over nine thousand tons of cargo at a normal speed of 21 knots and can, in addition, carry some 60 passengers. Its atomic reactor will supply power for the ship for some three and one-half years on a single charge of uranium 235, which can take it around the world approximately 12 times. The vessel will not be initially economically competitive, but neither was Edison's first light bulb. It is expected, however, that the launching of this great ship will hasten the day when the sea lanes of the earth are filled with ships employing the unleashed atom for peaceful purposes.

As my good friend, Honorable Herbert Bonner, chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries noted at the launching ceremonies: "With this ship, and with those which I hope will follow soon, we are casting our bread upon the waters and I am sure the return will be a thousand fold."

Visitors
 We had an unusual group of visitors from the Panhandle last week in Washington. These were the American Field Service Foreign Exchange students from other countries who have resided in the Panhandle the past year. Of the total 1,156 foreign students who have lived with American families in 45 states this last year, four of them were in the Panhandle.

We were honored with their visit to my office last week when they stopped off in Washington en route to their homes in Europe. The four students were as follows: Miss Joelle Miller-Laroche, who hails from France and has made her home in the past year with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson of 610 E. Fifth in Bedford, where she attended Hereford High School; Miss Dorritt Madson, whose permanent home is Denmark. She lived with Mr. and Mrs. Henry tons of cargo at a normal speed of 21 knots and can, in addition, attend Amarillo High School.

SENATE WILL RECEIVE BILL

By LLOYD LARRABEE
 United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Senate today receives a House approved 170 million dollar tax bill, a possible solution to the 56th legislature's six and a half month deadlock over finances.

Senators meet in solo session while the House, which passed the tax bill last Friday, enjoyed a long week-end before returning to work at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

House sponsors of the much-amended tax plan contended that it raises enough money to finance the state government's money needs during the next biennium which begins Sept. 1.

Opponents countered that it falls far short of providing the amount necessary to support the growing needs of government.

If Senate Votes Negated
 Senate acceptance of the tax bill hinged on a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas aimed at natural gas pipelines. The House added a 1 1/2 per cent severance beneficiary levy, estimated to raise 15 million to 24 million dollars, but turned down a higher rate proposed by Gov. Price Daniel.

The House approved the tax bill by a 102-28 vote sufficient to place it in effect for the Sept. 1 start of the new fiscal year if it gains two-thirds approval of the Senate membership — requiring at least 21 votes in the 31-member upper chamber.

Some House members expressed belief the Senate would accept the tax package without amendment and sent it to the governor without the necessity of a joint House-Senate conference committee to iron out differences.

The tax bill, aside from the natural gas tax, contains selective sales taxes which have been previously approved by the Senate in the first two special sessions. It also carries increases in the corporation franchise tax and gas and electric utilities.

House Okays Spending Bill
 Adoption of the tax plah—some other tax bill—is necessary before the automatic end of the current third special session Aug. 15 if old age assistance and other welfare payments are to be made in December.

If the Senate accepts the tax proposal, it would set the stage for action on a $2,400,000,000 spending program for state gov-

Government in the next two fiscal years.

The House has approved spending bill calling for appropriation of some 337 million dollars from the general revenue fund which has a deficit of some million dollars — while the State approved spending bill some 30 million dollars less than the House version.

Today marks the beginning of the second full week of the third special session.
