TRUMAN PLANNING TO WRITE TWO BOOKS

By JERE COX
United Press International

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman Saturday announced plans to write two books, one of his experiences and candid opinions since leaving the White House and the other an American history book for 10 to 15 year olds.

The first book will be titled "Mr. Citizen" and is scheduled for publication in March, 1960. The second will come the following year. No title has been selected.

The books will be published by the new firm of Bernard Geis Associates, which includes among its partners many entertainment personalities, and will be distributed by Random House.

It will be the third and fourth times for book-length authorship by the former chief executive at a chopper age of 75. He previously published his memoirs in two volumes, "Years of Decision" and "Years of Trial and Hope."

In announcing his books to a news conference, Truman hinted at probably one of his deepest disappointments since leaving the White House: Not being called upon officially to serve the country in some manner.

"In reading again of the lives of those former presidents who survived their terms of office, I found that some have fared on good fortune, others in hardship, some in esteem and some in neglect," Truman said in a prepared statement.

Breaks Away From Text
"But in too many instances the nation was deprived of their unique experiences when they might have been called upon for special service to the country," he continued, but then broke away from his text to note:

"If you recall, I recalled one of my predecessors and he did a wonderful job."

Truman referred to his appointment of former President Herbert Hoover to an economic fact-finding mission in Europe and the Hoover Commission to investigate government processes.

Asked if he could have used his experiences to help the country in his post-Washington days, Truman snapped:

"Ask the man who should have

Khrushchev's Itinerary Set

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—The vacation White House announced Saturday that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will visit at least seven American cities on his historic journey to the United States next month.

He will see Washington, New York City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Des Moines and Ames, Iowa, and Pittsburgh.

On Khrushchev's travels outside of Washington, he will be accompanied by Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations who will serve as President Eisenhower's personal representative.

Khrushchev will arrive here on Sept. 15. His visit to this country will end Sept. 27, according to the itinerary issued Saturday.

Eisenhower will in turn visit the Soviet Union later in the fall as part of a big two exchange aimed at easing cold war tensions.

Here is the Khrushchev itinerary:

After arrival, he will stay in Washington Sept. 15 and 16 where he and the President will hold informal talks. He will be in New York City Sept. 17 and 18; Los Angeles, Sept. 19; San Francisco Sept. 20 and 21; Des Moines and Ames, Sept. 22 and 23; Pittsburgh, Sept. 24, then return to Washington for further talks with the President until his departure on Sept. 27.

While in Washington, Khrushchev has agreed to speak at the National Press Club on Sept. 16 and engage in a free-wheeling question and answer press conference after his speech.

The session will be televised. In New York City, he has been invited to speak before the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Price Speaks On Travels Abroad

Tom Price spoke on his experiences in Europe and Africa at the weekly meeting of the Downtown Kiwanis Club Friday. Price, who is the son of Pampa's Tom Price, has recently returned from abroad.

Kiwanians also heard a report on preparations for a Key Club back-to-school program that will be broadcast over KPDM at the end-of-the-month.

Strikers' Payroll Losses Run About $70 Million Per Week

By LEON BURNETT
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Payroll losses of workers idled by the steel strike are running about 70 million dollars a week, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell reported Saturday.

He released this and other facts as a supplement to the exhaustive report he gave President Eisenhower earlier this week and released to the press on Thursday.

Saturday's report said about 63,000 workers are either on strike or out of work because of the six-week-old walkout. Aside from the steel industry itself, railroading and coal-mining have been hardest hit.

Production in the defense and atomic energy programs have not yet been affected, Mitchell said, although they have had to ask the commerce department for help in procuring steel.

Producers of freighters, machinery and chemicals have reported that their operations may suffer if the strike continues until the middle of next month. Some impact already has been felt in construction, trucking and ore shipping.

Steel production during the past month averaged just over 330,000 ingot tons a week, compared to 2,600,000 tons weekly during the spring and early summer. Supplies have been sufficient for current production, but inventories are dwindling rapidly, Mitchell said.

The report said that 125,000 workers in other industries have been laid off as a result of the strike. Almost 75,000 of these already have applied for unemployment compensation under state and railroad programs.

Rockefeller May Campaign

By A. E. PEDERSON
United Press International

OSGONE, Norway (UPI)—Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said Saturday he might campaign for the Republican Presidential Nomination "under certain circumstances."

But he repeated his stand that under no circumstances would he run as a vice-presidential candidate. Asked whether he would accept a draft to be a running mate for Richard M. Nixon, the governor replied "I do not think there is such a thing as a draft."

Reporters peppered Rockefeller with political questions during a news conference which he obviously wanted to keep on the purely non-political subject of the marriage of his son, Steven, to Anne Marie Rasmussen.

He sighed when asked whether he would run for Governor of New York again.

"I don't like to cross bridges until I come to them," he said. And that one's a long way ahead."

Reporters pressed him on the subject of a political draft and asked whether his rejection of a draft as a vice-presidential candidate also applied to a candidacy for the presidential nomination.

He explained:

"I have said in the past that I am not a candidate for President, but I have also said that under certain conditions I might reconsider."

On the subject of the second slot on the GOP ticket he was explicit.

"I am not a candidate for the vice presidency of anything," he said.

ed), the wedding began to the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march played by the organists with a violin accompaniment.

Spectators outside wore potato sacks over their heads to shield themselves from the rain. The 40-man police force of nearby Christiansburg came to help Sogno's lone constable. The rain let up briefly while Anne Marie entered the church.

A crowd of some 2,000 stood outside barricades to watch and there was only one incident. A photographer swung at a policeman. It was quickly broken up. Many in their shirtsleeves were soaked, but no one seemed to care.

Among the guests was Trygve Lie, the first Secretary-General of the United Nations. He sat on the Rockefeller side.

Anne Marie's father spared no expense. Some said he spent a whole year's income, $1,500 for the wedding of his daughter.

"Love Breaks Barriers"

The pastor read a 12-minute sermon which called attention to the fact that "real love breaks down all social and conventional barriers among us."

As they held hands, shyly, beat Rigg slipped the ring to Steven, who placed it gently on Anne Marie's third finger of the left hand.

The pastor pronounced them "rightfully wedded in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, Amen."

The couple drove off for their reception, a bite of cake, a flight to the United States and a honeymoon in Wyoming. Then an apartment in New York.

St. Vincent's Sets Open House Today

Dedicated Laymen Aid St. Vincent's

Besides the priests and Sisters at St. Vincent's Catholic Church there are a number of dedicated officers who serve the parish through church organizations.

These are four major groups in Parish life — the Altar Society, the Home and School Association, the Parish Council and the Choir.

Mrs. Raymond Laycock heads the Altar Society as president. Serving with her are Mrs. Fred Ammeter, vice president; Mrs. L. R. McBride, treasurer; and Mrs. Abe Wallace, secretary.

Officers of the Home and School Association are Mrs. Victor Jamieson, president; Mrs. Walter Pung, vice president; Mrs. A. J. Edwards, secretary; and Mrs. William Merrill, treasurer.

Mrs. Francis Schwind is president of the Parish Council. Mrs. John Schwind serves as vice president and Mrs. Lawrence Flaherty serves as secretary-treasurer.

The choir is under the direction of William Haley.

Half-Million $ Plant

By WALLACE TRUEDELL,
Daily News Church Editor

The new $500,000 Catholic Church plant at 23rd and Hobart will be open to the public this afternoon.

St. Vincent's open house will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. with all citizens of Pampa invited to tour the three new buildings, erected on the 16-acre north Pampa plot.

The tour will start at the rectory and end in the cafeteria of St. Vincent's school. Men of the parish will act as guides. Women will serve punch and cookies at the end of the tour.

After seeing the three-bedroom rectory and eight-bedroom Sisters' home, visitors will inspect the facilities of the school, including an auditorium with a seating capacity of 280 and a modern kitchen and cafeteria.

Masses will be said in the auditorium until a new church is built, between the rectory and the Sisters' home. It is expected that the old Holy Souls building on West Browning will be sold.

The name of the parish was officially changed to St. Vincent de Paul Aug. 2 when the first masses were said in the auditorium. St. Vincent is the patron saint of the C.M.'s, who are in charge of the parish. C.M. stands for Congregation of the Mission of St. Vincent.

The Very Rev. Edward J. Cashman, C.M., is pastor of the parish. He is assisted by the Rev. Richard Lang and the Rev. Ronald Ramson. Sister Latoria is Mother Superior and principal of the school.

The move for a new church and school began about eight years ago when the very Rev. Myles Moynihan, C.M., was pastor here. It continued under the leadership

REPORT POLIO CASE

BRYAN (UPI)—Bryan health officials Saturday reported the city's second case of polio this year. The victim is Sandra Kay Thornton, 11, of San Francisco, Calif., 11, who is visiting here with her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Thornton. Both cases reported in Bryan are of the non-paralytic type.

BLAST VICTIM DIES

HOUSTON (UPI)—John R. Weatherford, 66-year-old Dallas shoe shop operator, died here Saturday of burns he suffered in a gas explosion in a motel room. Police said an open gas jet let gas into the room and it exploded when Weatherford lit a cigarette. He was in Houston for a medical checkup.

of the very Rev. Otto Meyer, C.M., who retired in September, and was brought to fruition under the administration of Father Cashman.

The old church, which seated about 180, has long been inadequate for the needs of the parish. There are approximately 200 Catholic families in Pampa.

The new buildings will be dedicated Sept. 27, the tercentenary of the birth of St. Vincent.

260 STUDENTS DUE

St. Vincent's School, formerly staffed by five Sisters and by three lay teachers, Sister Latoria, Mother Superior, is the principal. She will be assisted by Sister Asteria and by three other sisters who are on their way here from the Provincial House in St. Louis, Mo. Final registration will be held from 8 to 11 a.m. Tuesday. Two hundred and 45 students registered in the spring. Last year there were 196 students enrolled. The ten-room school will be fourth; and Mrs. Victor Jamieson, kindergarten. The kindergarten is a new thing in this parish; it could not be undertaken until there was room. Elementary classes were formerly held in the school building on the corner of West and Browning and in the Parish Hall. Father Cashman stresses that St. Vincent's will be open to children of all denominations.

Training Sessions To Be Held At First Presbyterian Church

Two training sessions for church school teachers and leaders will be offered at the First Presbyterian Church Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 in the Educational Building auditorium, E. L. Henderson, chairman of the Christian Education Committee, has announced.

are E. L. Henderson, chairman, Mrs. Tom Braly, Mrs. James T. Brown, William S. Dixon, Mrs. Joe Fischer, Newt Secrest, and ex-official members W. A. Morgan, Mrs. Charles Wade, and the Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard.

The training course offered this week is the beginning of a long-range plan of the Christian Education Committee to provide a continuous training program for teachers and leaders.

About 130 prospective teachers and leaders are expected to attend the two sessions that will be taught by the Rev. Burnette W. Dowler, associate pastor and director of Christian education at the First Presbyterian Church, Amarillo. These two sessions will be supplemented by an all-day session on Sept. 19 taught by a team of teachers and leaders from the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo under the direction of Dowler.

On Monday evening Dowler will cover goals and purposes of the Christian Education Program, and on Wednesday he will discuss the curriculum for the coming year, "The Church in Christian Faith and Life."

The Faith and Life curriculum of the United Presbyterian Church was first issued in 1948 by the Board of Christian Education of the then Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Since 1948 many improvements have been made in the curriculum as a result of the criticism and suggestions made through conferences, nationwide questionnaire surveys, parents' clinics, and frequent discussion within the staff of the Board of Christian Education.

The Faith and Life curriculum is built upon three themes: Jesus Christ, the Bible, and the Church. The basic fact of the Christian theology is that God reveals himself to man through Jesus Christ. God's self-revelation is known through the Bible and the knowledge of God in Jesus Christ becomes a fact in the Church where the Word of God is proclaimed under the direction of the Holy Spirit.

One year in every three is devoted to each of the three themes of the Presbyterian curriculum in the primary through the adult departments. However, no theme is treated in isolation from the others, because such isolation is impossible in Christian theology. Each theme of the curriculum is prepared to be equally scriptural, theological, and practical.

The training of teachers and leaders in the Pampa Presbyterian Church is under the direction of the Christian Education Committee. Members of this committee

Chairman of the Christian Education Committee of Amarillo Presbytery, has assisted and advised the local committee in formulating plans for raising the standards of local teachers and leaders and setting up a rotation system whereby no teacher will serve longer than three years without an opportunity for rest and study with other adults.

American Housewife Selling Fur Coats In The Tropics

By ALBERT E. KAFF United Press International. TRAJPET, Formosa (UPI)—A graying American housewife is doing the impossible. She's selling fur coats in the tropics.

And it's a big business for Mrs. Muriel L. Arnold, wife of a U.S. Navy officer, who operates the only fur shops on the sun-baked island of Guam. "I gross between $5,000 and $70,000 a year, Mrs. Arnold reported during a visit to Formosa. She quickly explained that no one wears minks or sables on Guam, an American possession where temperatures rarely fall below 70 degrees. She's selling fur coats in the tropics. "What's her gimmick, then?" "Guam is a free port," Mrs. Arnold explained further, which means "We can sell the highest quality furs from Hong Kong at prices far below what you would pay in the United States."

By ALBERT E. KAFF United Press International. (UPI)—A graying American housewife is doing the impossible. She's selling fur coats in the tropics.

Her $800 mink coats, cut and priced by low-paid Chinese craftsmen would cost $1,500 if manufactured and sold in the United States, she explained. Only a handful of women visit Mrs. Arnold's three shops on Guam, one of America's major military bases in the western Pacific. "About 80 per cent of my customers are men of the U. S. mil-

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

PUSH UPS—Actor Keenan Wynn makes things more difficult by doing them on a couple of chairs in Hollywood. Starring in a new TV series, "The Troubleshooters," which will make its debut in the fall, Wynn must keep in tip top shape for the stories about rugged construction workers.

LEARNING THE ROPES

HEADING FOR THE DRINK—Ready to go off the deep end in amusing fashion, Obe Ross does a zany balancing act on the hand of fellow clown diver John McCurdy. They're cavorting on a trampoline at the Steel Pier in Atlantic City, N. J., where they belong to a six-man diving team. Five of them are college students earning their tuition in this manner.

OFF THE DEEP END—In East Lansing, Mich., these gals smiled after placing among the top finishers in the women's 3-meter springboard diving event in trials for the Pan-American Games. Barbara Dudeck of Detroit (top to bottom) copped first; P. J. Myers Pope, Los Angeles, second; and Joel Lenzi, Coral Gables, Fla., who took third place.

UNIQUE METHOD—Dr. Joseph Bartes, of Waukesha, Wis., is in danger of becoming his own patient. As he rides back and forth on that bicycle, he concentrates on the handlebar clipboard holding his French lessons rather than on his direction. The doc claims his setup helps him get into the mood to study French.

REUNION—In New York for the Old-Timers Day festivities at Yankee Stadium were these former New York Yankee pitchers. Waite Hoyt, of Cincinnati (left to right), Alie Reynolds, of Oklahoma City; Wiley Moore, of Hollis, Okla., are holding balls as Tom Zachary, of Graham, N. C., holds a bat. They are on the roof of a Manhattan hotel.

LUCK RODE ALONG—German driver Hans Hermann is crouching on the ground as his racing auto swerves crazily through the air during the German Grand Prix race in Berlin. Hermann was slightly injured, but French driver Jean Behra was killed when his car crashed.

GOING WITH THE WIND—Serene as the swift-moving clouds overhead, these boats move briskly along with all sails filled in a setting of sky and sea at Braasemermeer, The Netherlands. The Falcon-class yachts were competing in a race in the southern Holland province.

DOWN HE GOES—Los Angeles Rams' fullback Ollie Matson was grabbed by the ankles and brought down by Detroit Lions' Gil Mains (right) after a short gain on a pass play in Boulder, Colo. Coming up to get into the act are Rams' Paul Dickson (71) and the Lions' Bob Long (86).

ON A DAY OFF—These sailors seem to like the water so much, they spend their spare time on it. While the U.S.S. Kearsage visited the Bay Area with the First Fleet, Edward Metz (left) and William Decker headed for the waters of Stow Lake in San Francisco.

SHOWING OFF—Hitched to a troika, the traditional Russian carriage, the Grand Champion Troika Team of the U.S.S.R., now owned by Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton, is going through some paces at Westbury, N. Y. The side horses gallop at full speed while the one in center simultaneously trots. Premier Nikita Khrushchev presented the team to Eaton.

HE'S UP IN THE AIR—The second ranking gymnast in the U.S., 23-year-old Donald Tonyr is completing a swing on the high bar during tryouts in West Point, N. Y., for the U.S. Pan-American team. The games will be held in Chicago, starting September 3rd, Tonyr's a native of Brooklyn, N. Y.

APT PUPIL—Lady Norah Docker, the Britisher who often gets into the news, has decided to take up water skiing. She is shown churning up some whitecaps at Cannes, France, where she's being taught the tricks of the water sport by instructor Armand Muller.

NIEPORTE TAKES LEAD IN RUBBER CITY OPEN

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Tom Nieporce, who hasn't won a tournament since joining the pro circuit four years ago, carved a six-under-par 63 Saturday for a total of 201 to take a one-stroke lead at the end of 54 holes of the $22,000 Rubber City Open.

Nieporce, a former Ohio State University student, fired six birdies as he set the pace for the pros who continued their assault on par over the rolling 6,620 yard Firestone Country Club.

The transplanted Ohioan, who now hails from Bronxville, N.Y., was the Intercollegiate champ in 1951 and the All-Army champion two years later. He turned professional in 1954 and joined the tour three years later. Despite the fact that Nieporce hasn't taken top money, he has collected $11,554 in 28 events this year.

Rugged Bob Goalby, leader at the end of 36 holes, had a one-under-par 70 for a 202 total to drop into second place. The 28-year-old Crystal River, Fla., veteran had successive 66s in his two previous rounds.

Arnold Palmer, Lionier, Pa., and Bill Casper, Jr., Apple Valley, Calif., were third with 203. The long-bellied Palmer blasted a three-under-par 68 while Casper fired a four-under-par 67.

Two others, Don January, Denver, Colo., and Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., were next with 204. January, who has pocketed $12,506 in 24 events this year, had the only eagle on the day. Four others were fired in previous rounds.

Temperamental Tommy Bolt, Crystal River, Fla., and Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla., were fifth with 205. Bolt had a three-under-par 68, while Sanders carded a par 71.

Fourth Period TD Shoots Texans Past Oakies, 21-14

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—The Texas All Stars' 21-14 victory Friday night over a rival Oklahoma team put the Sooners 14 games and a tie behind in the 16-game intercollegiate Oil Bowl pre-season rivalry.

The Oklahoma All Stars fought their way into a third quarter point lead, but the Texans crushed their hopes with an early fourth quarter touchdown and the seven-point lead remained the winning factor until the final gun.

Dillon said last season that he was quitting to devote his time to private interests as assistant sales manager of the Ralph Wilson Plastics Co. here.

PAN-AM GAMES SLATED

By LEO H. PETERSEN, UPI Sports Editor

CHICAGO (UPI)—The 1960 Olympic potentials of the Americas, north and south, will be tested next week when the third Pan American games begin.

They could go a long way toward determining what chances the United States has of dethroning Russia in the Olympics at Rome next summer, although admittedly the caliber of the U. S. team for this inter-continental competition is not up to Olympic Standards.

But in the major sports, like track and field, the U.S. is putting its best foot forward as the start of its campaign to get the unofficial Olympic team title back from the Russians, who won it at Melbourne in 1956 under any scoring system.

Various Systems Used.

Actually, there is no official team title in either the Olympics or the Pan American games, but the unofficial championship is decided on various point systems. The one the U.S. uses awards 10 points for a first place, five for a second, three for a third, two for a fourth, two for a fifth and one for a sixth. Europeans score it differently and some countries score it on the number of medals won—gold medals for first places, silver for second and bronze for third.

Miss Osborne Is Honored At Party

Miss Vicky Osborne, bride-elect of James E. Collier, was guest of honor at a bridal "come and go" shower on Monday evening in the home of Miss Sondra Sullivan, 2131 Christine, with Misses Celia Fowler, Marilyn Wells and Dorothy Ann Ayers as co-hostesses.

Miss Osborne and her fiancé will be married on Sept. 4 in Charleston, West Va.

In the receiving line were Miss Osborne, her mother, Mrs. Marion Osborne, Mrs. F. W. Osborne and Mrs. Lida Ramsay, grandmothers of the bride-elect.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of white Daisies; the mother and grandmothers with blue Daisy corsages.

Carrying out the bride's chosen colors of blue and white, the table was laid with a white cut-work cloth centered with an arrangement of white pompon Daisies shaded by a blue taffeta umbrella. Silver and crystal completed the table appointments.

Punch with floating blue cornflowers was served by Miss Fowler. Miss Ayers presided at the serving of cake decorated with blue flowers.

Approximately 150 guests attended or sent gifts.

CHOW TREAT

A day at the beach reaches its peak at "Chow Time." Just catch a whiff of those hot dogs, cooking merrily in Chili Barbecue Sauce. Boy, oh boy, let's eat. Tomato soup with chili powder, celery and onion makes this sauce full of flavor oomph. The gang will gobble these along with corn on the cob, fruit, chocolate cake, and lots of iced tea.

Chili Barbecue Sauce

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1/4 cup chopped celery tops
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 to 1 teaspoon chili powder

Cook green pepper, onion and garlic in butter until tender; add remaining ingredients. Cover; simmer about 15 minutes to blend flavors. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce.

NOTE: For prolonged cooking, add 1/2 cup water.

Frankfurters: Brown 1 pound frankfurters in butter. Add remaining sauce ingredients; cover and simmer 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Makes 10 servings.

Woodrow Wilson PTA Makes Plans At Exec Meeting

Mrs. E. E. McLennan, serving a second term as president of the Woodrow Wilson PTA, presided at the initial meeting of the executive board on Tuesday in the office of the school principal, Floyd Smith.

She announced that the PTA Council will conduct a procedure course for each unit who wishes to take it.

It was announced that Woodrow Wilson school will be hosts for the First City-Council PTA meeting to be held Sept. 1 at 9:30 in the school's auditorium.

Plans were outlined for the PTA meetings to be held during the year; the first of which will be on Sept. 10 at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Otis Nace presenting a book review. A nursery will be provided for small children and movies are being planned for the older children.

PTA memberships and subscriptions to the PTA magazine will be taken on the first day of school, Aug. 31, with board members present in each classroom to assist with PTA enrollment.

A party will be given by the board members honoring the Woodrow Wilson School faculty and their families on Aug. 25 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Henderson, 419 E. Foster at 7:30 p.m.

Board members present were Floyd Smith, Mrs. E. A. McLennan, Don Taylor, W. M. Sims, Sam Goodlett, M. L. Newton, Weldon Adair, Norman Sublett, Glenn Day, Larry Parsley, Burl Graham Jr., Jay Lackey, E. L. Henderson and Derrel Hogsett.

Don't Throw That Clothesline Away, Some Items Need Good Outdoor Airing

A breezy, sunny spring day is just what the homemaker would order for freshening up some of the home furnishings and getting others ready for storage.

There's still plenty of use for the outdoor clothesline in spite of the efficient automatic dryer. Putting the automatic servants to work, however, shortens the time and effort needed to get the house in shape for summer.

Some things, such as chenille bedspreads, shag rugs, pillows and cushions, may need nothing more than a good airing.

Although natural breezes can fluff up nap and plump up feathers, if you have a modern automatic dryer with an air-fluff setting, the mechanical helper will do a better job.

Foam rubber and kapok-filled cushions can be popped in the dryer for air-cleaning without heat.

If cushion covers are removable, wash or have them cleaned separately.

Feather or cadron-filled pillows can be washed in machines if care is exercised. If your machine is new enough to have the slow-speed agitation and slow-spin settings, those are recommended for pillows.

Line-drying, however, is preferred for certain fabrics. From Linda Marshall, Maytag Home Service department head, comes this advice based on recent laboratory testing:

According to their experience, some resin-finished cottons or cottons with special finishes, such as we find in many garments, cafe curtains, bedroom furnishings and so on, are best line-dried.

Christmas Ideas Given At Meeting

The reason for this is that some of the resins are sensitive to heat. In the absence of a manufacturer's tag giving exact washing and drying instructions, you'll be safer to hang out the crisp-finished cottons to preserve the desirable qualities that the resins give to fabrics.

When cafe curtains have been or plastic rings attached to the heading, fold the heading inside the curtains; pin folded sides together before washing.

Recommended washing technique for these finished fabrics is to use a light-duty detergent, and cold water if lightly soiled or warm water for heavier soiling.

When the long winter evenings close in and a crackling fire in the fireplace looks good, it's time for cozy at-home fashions. A girl can take her pick of many designs in at-home fashions and can look equally pretty in tapered slacks or a well-cut robe. Sophisticated tunic (left) in scroll-printed corduroy has stand-away neckline, is worn over tapered black plai-wale pants. This very soft and feminine bedroom coat (center), is in wide wale corduroy tied at the neck with a satin bow. It tapers from shoulders to hemline. Silk shirt in a winter floral print (right) teams with slim pants in corduroy.

DEAR ABBY . . .

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A year ago, due to an old infection, it was necessary to have my left arm amputated close to the shoulder. I quickly adjusted to my loss until recently. I became reacquainted with an old friend (now a divorcee) who insisted she'd be glad to let me escort her places. She assured me that my having only one arm made absolutely no difference to her. I have taken her out several times and enjoy her company. Now she persists in telling me that my "empty sleeve" is conspicuous although she knows that I can't wear an artificial arm. I am losing confidence in myself. Should I continue to see her?

"EMPTY SLEEVE"

DEAR SIR: Your "empty sleeve" isn't nearly the handicap that this woman's head is. Drop her.

DEAR ABBY: I am another one of those poor saps whose love life has gone to pot since my wife put a television set in our bedroom. Can you tell me how to get back in the act again?

NEGLECTED

DEAR NEGLECTED: They say one picture is worth ten thousand words. Don't you believe it! A few well-chosen words spoken softly and at the right moment beats any picture. Try it!

DEAR ABBY: Everyone knows that a sifter has no right to invite boy-friends over without the consent of her employer. But has the EMPLOYER the right to let the baby-sitter have boys over without the consent of the baby-sitter's MOTHER?

I found out that my 16-year-old daughter was entertaining boys at her baby-sitting job who were not allowed to come to our home. I am not trying to excuse my daughter. But don't you think the lady she sits for should have checked with me before letting my daughter entertain boys in her home? After all, my daughter is only 16 and she still needs a little supervision.

City Council PTA Coordinates Work

The Pampa City Council president, Mrs. Julian Key, called a special meeting of all presidents of the PTA units to coordinate the work for the coming year between the units and the council. Individual unit problems were discussed and recommendations made for these problems.

It was suggested that roundup blanks for first-grade children may be obtained at the principals' offices or the Superintendent of schools. These blanks are necessary for enrollment for the first grade students.

An executive board meeting has been called for August 25 at 9:30 at the Robert E. Lee Conference room.

Attending this meeting were Mmes. J. F. Elder, Stephen F. Austin; John Holt Jr., Horace Mann; C. N. Gage, Baker; E. A. McLennan, Woodrow Wilson; James Lewis, district 19 president; R. J. Forsythe, City Council; Elmer Darnell, City Council; Dorothy Francis, Robert E. Lee; J. H. Trotter, Pampa Jr. High; and Jim Cornutt, Sam Houston.

Sitting Pretty On Evenings At Home Simple To Do In Loungewear Designs

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—There's still a large gap between the way a woman should look in the evening hours at home and the way she usually does look.

All of us like to be comfortable in leisure time, to be sure. But comfort does not mean a battered old robe, shapeless slippers and a wave net over curlers. The members of your family must look at you. Let them like what they see.

The new at-home fashions are not expensive. You don't have to slink around in gold lame festooned with ropes of Oriental pearls. You can get yourself up nicely in tapered pants and silk or cotton shirt and look lovely. You'll be comfortable, too. And if friends or neighbors drop in, you won't have to scurry behind a door excusing your appearance.

For the gals who either can't or won't wear slim, tapered pants (are there any?), there are really beautiful robes in ankle or dress length, done in fresh colors of violet or apricot or cornflower blue.

Lounging pajamas no longer slink. They are cut with cropped jackets, wide collars and slim pants. Or tailored, boxy coats are worn over tapered pants.

Devotees of the velvet or wool jersey robe will find both in glowing colors this season. There are versions that emphasize a small waist and there are the free-flowing peignoirs. Pinwale corduroy is handled like velvet, often given a silk lining and is beautifully detailed both in short and long robe lengths.

Ferspiring palms on the steering wheel are uncomfortable and also unsafe, since a sliding grip in an emergency could be fatal. One way to keep your hands both clean and comfortable is to wear string driving gloves. These come with leather palms and are completely washable.

Mmes. Nation, Luna Duplicate Winners

Four tables of players played the Howell Movement at the Thursday Morning Duplicate Bridge Club held at ten o'clock in St. Matthews Episcopal Parish Hall, 727 W. Browning.

Top winners were Mmes. Jim Nation and H. M. Lunda, first; Mmes. P. V. Rowe and E. J. O'Brien, Mmes. Hugh Morrow and W. B. Purphy, tied for second and third.

The club will meet again on Thursday morning at ten in the parish hall and extends a cordial invitation to duplicate players to meet with it.

Dressing table drawers, kitchen cupboards and even the refrigerator yield up aids to beauty. These cotton buds you keep for the children can perform lots of beauty chores for you. The cupboard gives you vinegar for hair rinses and the refrigerator lemons for bleaching skin. But these are just a few of the household items that can be enlisted in the aid of beauty. This girl uses flexible cotton buds (left) to touch up her hairline, a job that requires precision and delicacy. Another cotton bud makes easy the task of smoothing out a-brow line (center) after eyebrow pencil has been applied. And then she finds that the cotton buds are just right for removing excess nail polish which tends to collect (right) around the edges of the nails. You'll find many uses of your own for these handy helps to good looks.

RUTH MILLETT

A high school teacher casually mentioned something about over-privileged teen-agers. When I asked her what she meant by the term, she cited a few examples from observing students at her own public high school. According to this teacher an overprivileged teen-ager is one who—

52nd Year

Charges an orchid corsage to his dad whenever the teen-ager takes a girl to a formal dance. Expects a pat on the head from mother and dad for making a mere passing grade. Tells her mother she would rather stay home from a dance than wear the same party dress twice with the same crowd—and gets her mother's sympathy, and a new dress. Expects her mother to get the car out and drive her distances she could walk in five minutes because she doesn't want to be seen walking. "And," claims this teacher, "these overprivileged teen-agers are far more numerous than you might think. Often it takes two parents working to keep them from feeling underprivileged."

Child's Room Should Have Rosy Present And A Promising Future

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Before you make any sweeping efforts to redo your child's room, lay your plans as carefully as you do for other rooms. Children's room furnishings have a way of getting out of hand unless mom makes a plan aimed toward a cheerful, cozy and practical domain for her darling. Practically doesn't mean austerity nor the antiseptically clean look it does mean a lot of things, including being sensible about purchases and recognizing that a child grows up rapidly. Furniture that looks so cute or sweet now may be a source of acute embarrassment to a young lady five years from now. Nor do I think it is practical to accept cast-off furniture for a youngster's room just because it's free. If an old piece can be fitted into a scheme, fine; if not, forget it. Old-fashioned, straight-backed or rocking chairs, for example, can often be refinished or reered to make excellent little chairs for a child's room. Early 20th Century chests of drawers, on the other hand, are likely to be too big and bulky for successful conversation. A good example of a child's room with a rosy present and a promising future is one designed by Barbara Joseloff, a noted Eastern interior decorator. Herself the mother of four children, her design combines bright, clear colors and modern ideas with 18th Century furniture. The combination has a grownup air of importance. With but few changes, the room will "grow" with the child from kindergarten right on through the teenage years. It could be adapted to almost any period. Red, pink, gold and white is the color scheme. Three walls are white, the wall back of the fourposter bed is bright red. To increase storage space, Mrs. Joseloff made unique use of venetian blinds to screen off two corner areas on each side of the bed. The blinds, set in wood frames, are gold-flecked white; two other blinds facing into the room are made with red, pink and white stripes for a striped effect. Back of the blinds is space for clothing and shelves for toys. Mrs. Joseloff explains that the use of blinds is twofold; it saves space and supplies a decorative effect without having to resort to doors or a variety of materials. Another interesting idea is her floor design. Here she has a red-and-white vinyl tile play-area surrounded by peppermint-red carpeting. This is an area large enough (4x7 feet) for floor-based projects where a mess can be easily cleaned up. A blackboard set in an old, gilt-painted picture frame invites scribbles and pictures. Later, the blackboard will be replaced by a mirror and a shelf will be added underneath for a teen-ager's dressing table. If you like traditional furniture and enjoy hunting antiques, you might turn up useful accessories such as miniature chests which can double as nightstands. You might look for small, pretty, marble-topped tables that can be practical play tables now and later on serve as graceful tea tables for an older girl.

Household Items Substitute As Aids To Beauty For Ingenious Housewife

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Leave it to a gal to ferret out any item that will be helpful to her in her beauty chores—regardless of the purpose for which it was primarily designed. Kitchen paper towels have moved to the dressing table where they are mighty useful during amancure. Countless are the uses of tissues during a make-up job. And though tampons add flavor to tea, out of every batch purchased, there are bound to be some used for bleaching elbows. Even eggs find themselves in a shampoo instead of the frying pan. And castor oil, the children's ogre, might well be vigorously brushed into your eyebrows to make them grow.

Another item, small enough to fit into the palm of your hand, can make your beauty routine simpler: It's the cotton swab. So steal a few from your medicine chest, and store them in your dressing table. Eye make-up is important this fall. A light stroke with a cotton swab after you've applied your eyebrow pencil will give the brow a more natural line. It's an aid, too, in applying eye shadow and in removing mascara that has been put on too heavily. If you tint your hair and just want to touch up the hairline, try using a cotton swab. You'll find it neat and quick. You can get these swabs with flexible stems made of tightly rolled white paper, which is claimed, makes them safer to use. Along with all the products specifically designed for your vanity table, you'll find many other household items helpful in your efforts to be lovely. From vinegar in a hair rinse to plastic cloths for holding pleats in a newly washed drip-dry dress, you'll find something useful in almost every room in the house. So call on your ingenuity, play Sherlock. Invade your kitchen cupboards and the medicine chest. You never know what helpful object you might uncover to aid you in preparing for your next big date.

Healthy Respect Needed For Razor

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Any woman who has ever emerged from a bout with a razor and nicked legs has a healthy respect for the way she handles a razor. But she still may not be getting the smooth, even results that she should. Experts say that it's simple if you go at it correctly. First, and most important, be sure your legs are wet. The hair then becomes soft and pliable and is easier to cut. The ideal time to shave your legs is when you've just stepped out of a bath. Be sure to use a shaving cream. The foamy type that comes in cans is convenient. It will lubricate your skin and hold the moisture on your legs. Check the blade in your razor to make sure that it's new, clean and sharp. As you start shaving, use long, even strokes rather than short ones. As you shave your legs, rinse the razor under hot water to clean it. Wiping it with a towel or tissue will dull the clean edge. When you've finished, loosen the blade, rinse the razor and let it dry.

United Press International Prospects for a quick settlement of the steel strike dimmed today as top industry and union representatives virtually ignored Labor Secretary Mitchell's fact-finding report and paid no heed to his plea for stepped up bargaining talks. Federal Mediator Finnegan said he would not meet privately with union President McDonald and chief industry representative Cooper until next Monday.

The AFL-CIO Executive Committee called on President Eisenhower to summon key officials of the steel industry and union to the White House in an effort to promote a settlement of the strike.

that is now in its sixth week.

The Senate passed a bill limiting the power of the states to tax interstate business. Under the measure a company would have to pay an income tax only if it operated an office or warehouse in a state outside its place of incorporation. It could not be taxed if it simply sent salesmen into the state.

Texas oil production will remain at the same nine-day rate in September as in July and August despite pleas by several large producers that it be increased. The Texas Railroad Commission set maximum production for the month at 2,730,215 barrels. RADIO TELEPHONE BILL WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate has adopted and sent to the House a measure that would impose $100 fines for improper use of radio telephones. The bill, requested by the Interstate Commerce Commission, is aimed chiefly against small boat radio broadcasts. The commission reported 371 rule violations including misuse of distress frequencies by small boats last year.

NEGROES TURNED AWAY

SOUTH FULTON, Tenn. (UPI)—A group of 12 Negro students was turned away Friday while trying to enroll at all-white South Fulton High School. Cotton Grade Standards Are Established For Next 3 Years

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A group of cotton specialists from all over the world met here recently in a little-noticed conference to select grade standards that will govern the cotton industry for the next three years.
The work performed was not spectacular. But it was so important the set of standards chosen as a guide for the industry was deposited in a Treasury Department vault.
The specialists represented cotton associations of the 11 nations participating in the Universal Cotton Standards Agreement. Delegates came from Belgium, England, France, Germany, India, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Poland, Spain, and the United States.
These countries agreed in 1932 and every three years thereafter to make U. S. grade standards for upland cotton, as established by the Agricultural Marketing Service, the basis for all of their U. S. cotton contracts.
Has Universal Application
By using "universal" standards, cotton manufacturers in Japan, India, England, or any other country can state exactly what quality of cotton they want to buy.
Middling white cotton means the same thing to each one of them, because each understands and uses this previously agreed-on standard to describe this particular quality of cotton.
Every three years the standards are reexamined. Changes may be suggested and the standards altered.
In May this year when the 12th Universal Cotton Standards Conference met, the official set kept in the Treasury was brought before the group.
These standards, approved in 1956, now were matched against boxes of the same grades of cotton prepared by the Agricultural Marketing Service for use during the coming season and the three years until the next conference.
Approved As Official
The specialists quickly approved one set of the newly prepared standards as the official "guide" boxes for the 1959 conference.
The next job was to match additional boxes with these guide boxes.
As each box was passed as a true copy of the guide box for that particular grade, it was stamped "approved at the Universal Cotton Standards Conference of 1959" and officially numbered. Boxes of the 11 different grades were then assembled into official sets.
After some 1900 boxes had been compared and approved, the official set for the 1959 conference was selected by lot, sealed, and deposited in the Treasury vault.
A second set again was placed in storage at the Agriculture Department, and other sets selected again by lot—for the signatory associations and for use in this country.

LEARN ABOUT WOMEN

VENICE, Calif. (UPI)—Albert A. Tammer, 31, learned the hard way Friday that when women are involved, it's sometimes the better part of valor not to try to break up a fight.
Tammer, a dishwasher, told police that when he tried to act as a peacemaker, two scuffling women beat him into semi-consciousness and took his cigarette lighter and his wallet containing $5.
