

U.S. Suffers 5th Straight Atlas Flop

By RICHARD F. ROFER
United Press International
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A 100-ton Atlas ICBM exploded in flight two minutes after launching Saturday in the fifth straight failure of the nation's most advanced intercontinental weapon.
It was a bitter disappointment to the nation's missile scientists trying to develop a reliable 8,000-mile range ballistic missile to put in the hands of troops. Russia claims to possess operational ICBMs.
Saturday's Atlas was of the combat type, believed developed to the point that it might be deployed to troops at ICBM bases by July. It was the third straight "operational" type Atlas to blow up within moments after blast-off on attempts to propel its nose cone 5,000 miles at a peak 16,000 mile per hour speed.

The blowup came after the Atlas' two booster engines quit 90 seconds after blast-off. In a successful test, the boosters would have dropped off the 85-foot long war rocket.
The mighty missile exploded in flight over the ocean out of visible range of observers on the Cape.
An observer on the beaches several miles south of here reported the explosion which was confirmed almost immediately by the Air Force.
The Atlas "exploded after completion of the initial performing stage of its flight," the Air Force said. Cause of the malfunction was not explained immediately.
There was no indication as to how the failure would affect the Atlas program. The missile was programmed to reach initial operational capability this summer, and it has been chosen to put the nation's first manned space capsule into orbit.
There was much significance attached to Saturday's test, planned over a full 5,000 mile range to a target area near Ascension Island in the South Atlantic. The first two operational type Atlases exploded shortly after launching and this was the third combat type to be tested.
It was actually the fifth Atlas in a row to fail. The last successful Atlas test flight was on Feb. 4. The first operational Atlas blew up about 1,000 feet above the Cape on April 14 and the second exploded shortly after blast-off on May 18.
Saturday the 100-ton blunt-nosed Atlas wobbled slightly as it lifted from its launching pad at 12:39 p.m. est. But then it straightened out and appeared to follow its planned flight path. It was visible from the Cape for 100 seconds before it vanished behind a cloud bank to the South.
The Air Force had tried twice earlier to fire the Atlas which blew up Saturday. Both attempts were cancelled because of undisclosed technical difficulties.
Been Fired 15 Times
The Atlas is the nation's first intercontinental ballistic missile, and the first three operational, or D-type, Atlases lacked only a few minor technical refinements scheduled to be added before the (See ATLAS, Page 2)

Ike Can Recall D-Day

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press International
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — The problems he faced in sending a huge invasion force ashore in Europe 15 years ago came back to President Eisenhower's mind Saturday on this anniversary of D-Day.
The chief executive took no public notice of the anniversary, but he talked about it soon after he arose Saturday morning.
Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's doctor, dropped in at the Eisenhower farm at breakfast time to chat with Eisenhower before they drove to the golf course.
The President brought up the subject and he and Snyder reminisced about the vast responsibilities on Eisenhower's role as Supreme Allied Commander.
The chief executive drove to the Gettysburg Country Club before 9 a.m. to play golf with another associate from World War II and now a fellow flogger here, Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins.
Nevins is retired and in addition to operating the farm, assists the President with the management of his establishment.
The two played 18 holes in about two hours, and then Eisenhower faced new problems—rain clouds forming toward the Catoctin Mountains of nearby Maryland and the fact that he and his wife were giving a late afternoon lawn party for 200 White House staff members and their wives.

DOGFACE DAY ON OMAHA BEACH

This was the way Normandy Beachhead looked in June 15 years ago. It was the beginning of the end of the dogface — the foot-slogger — at least as Americans had known him in two World Wars. It was D-Day (Dog-face Day) when the all-out push in Europe began 15 years ago yesterday. It was a day many American boys made man's most precious sacrifice — life itself — so that the people might be free. For a writer's eye-view of D-Day read United Press International's feature by D. H. Hales on page 24 today.

BY IKE FOR MESSAGE

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower used the moon as a messenger service Saturday to send greetings to Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker and scientists at a new U.S.-Canadian research laboratory.
The message, bounced off the moon, traveled about 500,000 miles in 2.7 seconds last Wednesday. The White House announced. It was taped and played Saturday at the official opening of the laboratory at Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.
The President said the event marked "another major advance along the road of cooperative ventures between our two countries in defense research and other fields."
Diefenbaker, who heard the message, agreed that the laboratory is a "significant milestone in our mutual cooperation in the defense sciences."
First Performed in 1954
The President recorded his message at the White House last Tuesday. It was bounced off the moon the next day by the Millstone Hill Radio Observatory at Westford, Mass., and immediately recorded on tape at Prince Albert for Saturday's playback.

Force and the Canadian Defense Research Board. It will investigate factors influencing the radar detection of aircraft and missiles entering the zone of the Aurora Borealis, or "Northern Lights."
In his message, Eisenhower said "the work of this laboratory can not fail to make a significant contribution, in future years, toward the solving of mutual problems."
Played for Newsmen
Diefenbaker, whose message indirectly was recorded and transmitted to the Millstone Hill Observatory by conventional lines, said free world survival may depend on the success of the United States and Canada in assuring the joint defense of North America.
A tape of President Eisenhower's message was played for newsmen at the White House. Every word was clearly intelligible despite static-like noise in the background.
John Keesler, representing the Lincoln Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said the message showed the improved quality achieved in broadcasts bounced off the moon. MIT operates the Millstone Hill Observatory.
Mrs. Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, said the President was scheduled to hear a tape-recording of the message at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, where he was spending the weekend.
Keesler, who said the reception compared favorably with a transmission broadcasted by a transatlantic broadcast, added that it took about 2.7 seconds for the message to travel to the moon and back.

Tractor Accident Hurts 15-Year-Old

SHAMROCK (SpI) — A 15-year-old Wheeler boy, Charles Ray Risner, suffered serious injuries Friday afternoon in a farm tractor accident near the Harold Lee ranch on the Mobeette Road.
Risner, taken by ambulance to Highland General Hospital in Pampa, suffered a fractured skull and jaw and lost one ear.
At the time of the accident the young Risner was driving the tractor to the Lee Ranch near Mobeette. A passerby found the youngster and as yet there is no indication how the accident occurred.

Discharged Airman Dies In McLean Auto Mishap

McLEAN (SpI) — An airman anxious to get to his home in Indiana after being discharged from Walker Air Force Base in Roswell, N.M., Friday night was killed inside of McLean city limits here early Saturday morning, after apparently falling asleep at the wheel of his car.
Airman 1st Class Richard Gerald Losche, 22, became Gray County's third traffic fatality of 1959 about 7:15 a.m. Saturday when the 1946 coupe he was driving veered to the left, leaped a curb, bowled over a sign and slammed into the rear of a parked telephone truck in the driveway of the Ernest Watson Service Station on Highway 66 here.
Losche, who had been discharged only a few hours earlier was driving east toward his parents' home in Southport, Ind. The automobile was almost completely demolished and the engine was hurled into the front seat, Texas Highway Patrolman Dave Crossland, the investigating officer explained.
Losche was alive for about 15 minutes while pinned in the wreckage, but died before Creed Lamb and Bill Cash both of McLean could free him. A Richardson-Lamb Funeral Home ambulance was standing by when the message to travel to the moon and back.

Talks Turn Sour; Soviet Threatens New Berlin Block

By K. C. THALER
United Press International
GENEVA (UPI) — A rocketing speech by Nikita S. Khrushchev and the threat of a new Berlin Blockade Saturday paced the Western Big Three through a "very discouraging" session with Russia at the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference.
Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, at a secret meeting with the Western ministers in British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd's residence, refused to discuss anything but his often-rejected proposal to establish West Berlin as a "free, demilitarized city."
It appeared that Gromyko was stalling for time while new diplomatic moves were being prepared by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in the Kremlin.
The two-hour meeting got nowhere. "It was very discouraging," a Western official said.
Herter invites Brandt
Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his British and French colleagues hammered for guarantees of free access of military and civilian traffic to West Berlin.
On the side, Herter invited West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt to Geneva next Friday for consultations.
Observers presumed Brandt would be asked for a fill-in on the latest Communist moves against his outpost city and the possibility of a new Red squeeze.
In East Berlin, propaganda chief Gerhard Eisler, a ball-jumping fugitive from U. S. justice, threatened another blockade of West Berlin if West Germany goes through with plans to hold a "provocative" presidential election in the free half of the city.
Eisler, writing in a Communist newspaper, also hinted at a possible increase in the cash tolls for traffic to West Berlin, renewing the suggestion of a possible attempt to strangle West Berlin economically.
It appeared West Germany would cancel plans for the election in West Berlin.
Germans Fly to Moscow
In Moscow, Khrushchev ignored the four-week-old Geneva talks to threaten the West with rocket bases in Albania and Bulgaria if the West arms Greece and Italy with rockets.
His failure to mention Geneva confirmed Western opinion that the Soviets were planning new moves and might define next week their terms for an East-West Summit Conference.
The leaders of Communist East Germany will fly to Moscow Monday for meetings with Khrushchev.
Observers said there probably would be no break in the Geneva talks before Wednesday if then.

Wahoo, Miami Lives It Up!

MIAMI — Little Miami (pop. 698) showed the big city folks (Pampa and Amarillo) some fancy cow-calling tricks Saturday afternoon in a green-shady pastureland just east of town.
A crowd, estimated at just over 1,000, spent the early afternoon enjoying home-cooking and then settled back for a session of cow-calling, queen judging, sack races and horseback barrel-racing.
The champion cow-callers were Mrs. Mary Snyder, who lives on a ranch south of Canadian, and husky Sid Talley of Miami. Their lusty whoops failed to produce cows, but it did earn them $15 apiece.
The ruling queen of the day was pert Jackie Jackson, a Miami Highguard, who was named the fairest of 19 contestants for the title "Sweetheart of the Plains." The runner-ups were Barbara Holland and Jackie Gill.
Mrs. Mattie Shackleton, who annually heads the oldtimers reunion at the Miami celebration, reported that the oldest pioneers registering

Local Realtor Gun Shot Victim

Frederic B. Collett, a Pampa real estate salesman, died Friday night at Worley Hospital from what was described as a self-inflicted gunshot wound from a 22 caliber gun.
Collett, 48, shot himself Friday afternoon about 2 p.m. in a roadside park near Miami called Five Mile Park. Roberts County Sheriff W. H. Carr said no coroner's jury verdict has been returned.
He was found at a picnic table upon which was laid a cigarette lighter, a book and a jug of coffee.
The Pampa man was taken by ambulance Friday to Worley Hospital in Pampa where he died at 10 p.m.
Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in St. Matthews Episcopal Church with Rector William E. West officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.
Mr. Collett was survived by his wife, Patricia, of the home address, 1104 Crain Rd.; two sons, Robert, Pampa, and George, stationed with the Army at Fort Bliss; and one daughter, Patricia.
Pall bearers Monday will be L. V. Grace, Jack Cooper, Joe Daniel, C. R. Howard, Clem Followell and S. J. Meador Jr.

Election Might Bring Blockade

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING
 United Press International
BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communists Saturday threatened a total blockade of Red-encircled West Berlin if West Germany goes through with its "provocative" plans to hold elections for a new President here.

The Reds also hinted at a possible boost in the already-heavy traffic between West Berlin and East Germany on land and water traffic between West Berlin and the West, suggesting a possible attempt to strangle the city by economic measures rather than an outright blockade.

anymity claimed. Eisler echoed the Communist allegations against West Berlin as the center of western espionage activity and suggested tolls of traffic be raised to pay for the cost of fighting against "this rascality."

"Why do we not place a protection tax on all transports to West Berlin?" Eisler said. "West Berlin should pay what we have to give out to protect ourselves from espionage organizations."

Connell Rites Slated Today

The threats were made in an editorial in the authoritative Communist newspaper Berliner Zeitung by Gerhard Eisler, bad-jumping fugitive from U.S. justice who is East Germany's No. 1 propagandist.

Eisler said "workers" in East Germany are demanding the blockade of West Berlin if the West German government persists in carrying out its planned "provocation"—to hold the presidential elections scheduled for July 1 in the isolated western outpost.

Funeral services will be held today at Wheeler for Alvin Emmanuel Connell, 58-year-old trucker, who died Saturday morning at his home in Wheeler.

Mr. Connell, a long-time resident of Shamrock and later Wheeler, had been in ill health since Feb. 1. He died at 7 a.m. in his Wheeler home.

Services are set for 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Wheeler, with Rev. Frank Ross officiating, assisted by Rev. M. B. Smith of Pampa. Burial will be in the McLean Hillcrest cemetery.

Mr. Connell was born at Hamilton, Tex., Nov. 20, 1900, and moved to Shamrock in 1930. In 1946 he moved to Magic City, and two years later settled at Wheeler. He married the former Emma Hale at Sayre, Okla. Sept. 9, 1930.

Survivors include his wife Emma at Wheeler; his mother, Mrs. G. N. Connell of McLean; two brothers, Herman of Amarillo and Elwood of Pampa; and six sisters, Mrs. H. H. Martin, Mrs. E. P. Franklin, Mrs. L. R. Bunting and Mrs. R. L. Sherrod, all of Amarillo; Mrs. H. C. Bentley of Shamrock; and Mrs. Harold Vowbe of Waco.

 weapon is placed in the hands of troops.

A second ICBM, the Titan, has been flown successfully four times but is not nearly as far along in the test phase as the Atlas, which has been fired 25 times.

After the May 18 Atlas blew up, Defense Secretary Neil McElroy said he was not discouraged about the Atlas program. He said however that "it was not 100 per cent reliable, nor will it be for a long time."

The nation's project to put a man into orbit with an Atlas is not scheduled until 1961, but there are tentative plans by the Air Force and the Federal Space Agency to begin firing prototypes of the project mercury capsule at an early date. A few Atlases have been placed at Vandenberg AFB, Calif., but there has been no indication as to when Strategic Air Command troops will begin firing Atlases over the Pacific.

Remove Any Dust. Khrushchev spent 45 minutes discussing Albania and Bulgaria and the possibility of rocket bases there in a "major speech" on his return from a 12-day tour of Albania and Hungary. He did not once mention the deadlocked Geneva Foreign Ministers' Conference on Berlin and Germany, although he had been expected to do so.

His only reference to diplomacy was a proposal for more frequent meetings of statesmen to "remove any dust" on international relations.

"The more politicians and statesmen meet, the stronger their friendship would grow," he said.

He sharply criticized Italy for having agreed to American rocket bases on its soil, and denounced Greece for considering such bases. Both Italy and Greece are NATO members.

He urged acceptance of a Romanian proposal for a de-nuclearized zone in the Balkans, Communist and non-Communist. Even

Khrushchev Threatens To Arm Albania, Bulgaria

By HENRY SHAPIRO
 United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI)—Nikita S. Khrushchev Saturday threatened to arm Albania and Bulgaria with rocket bases on NATO's borders if the West rejects an atom-free Balkan Zone and puts rockets in Italy and Greece.

He urged Italy and Greece to "be sensible" and reject the bases.

The Soviet Premier warned that Russian rocket bases hidden in the high mountains and deep gorges of Albania and Bulgaria could "destroy the opponents bases with small rockets."

Greece, which is considering acceptance of American rocket bases, is bordered to the north by Bulgaria and Albania, Italy, which already has accepted U.S. intermediate range rocket bases, lies across the narrow Adriatic from Albania.

He sharply criticized Italy for having agreed to American rocket bases on its soil, and denounced Greece for considering such bases. Both Italy and Greece are NATO members.

He urged acceptance of a Romanian proposal for a de-nuclearized zone in the Balkans, Communist and non-Communist. Even Yugoslavia favors the idea, Khrushchev said.

Crowd Applauds Loudly. The Soviet government believes that it would be most sensible to set up in the Balkans a rocket-free, non-atomic zone under mutual control," he said.

"If this proposal meets with no support and the aggressive policy of the Western Powers is carried out in the Balkans, the Soviet Union together with the People's Republics of Albania and Bulgaria, with all the countries of the (Communist) Warsaw Pact, will be forced to set up rocket bases closer to the bases of the aggressors."

The crowd of 20,000 that gathered in Lenin Stadium to hear him applauded loudly. His address also was broadcast and televised.

City Loses Landmark

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

What is believed to be the last wind-powered water well tower in Pampa was torn down a week ago behind a home at 507 E. Browning. The old wooden tower, possibly as sturdy as the day it was built in 1915, tumbled to earth shortly before noon, May 27.

A woman at the Browning St. address called the Daily News and asked if the paper might want a story or pictures. The paper got both, and during a short interview it was learned that the old wooden tower was owned by no one less than a twice-chosen mayor of Pampa, an 81-year-old gentleman named Ed S. Carr.

If the name Carr isn't as well known to citizens as the names Boyd and Myatt, it should stir some memories in citizens of the 1940's, the 1930's and "roaring twenties."

Ed Carr today is nearly blind — "television comes hard" — but is alert and gets around easily with the aid of a cane. He lives in one of the earliest homes in Pampa — built with the windmill in 1915 — at 507 E. Browning.

Carr is one of Pampa's many oldsters who remembers Pampa "way back when" when the old windmill behind his home supplied water for the greater part of east Pampa; when the city had an airfield near the present Pampa Country Club; and when Franklin's Ready-to-Wear on Cuyler St. was at one time the Carr-Crawford Hardware. (Carr was part owner.)

Ed Carr was born in a little southern Minnesota town called Wabasha, on Jan. 1, 1875. His father was one of the earliest itinerate photographers, and not a man to settle in one place long.

The Carr family moved to western Texas in 1884 and at last Ed, by then a young man, settled in Pampa. He bought the old Browning St. home in 1920 from the widow of R. W. Yeager. (Yeager St. is named after the same man.)

At that time (1920) the Browning St. home was five years old, and the old waterwell was gushing forth at the rate of two or three gallons a minute. A big 100 gallon tank, that stood above a still-standing rock hut, held the well's reservoir.

Carr said that that single well supplied water for homes from Browning St. to Kingsmill as far east as most homes stretched. The lines from that original well still lay buried in the ground.

Carr, the businessman, operated a Pampa hardware shop on Cuyler St. called the Carr-Crawford Hardware. In 1926 he sold his interest to Rufe Thompson — now a Gray county sheriff's office deputy — and the hardware then became known as "Thompson's."

Carr was first elected mayor of Pampa in the 1920's, and was chosen a second time in 1929 for a two-year term. He remembers that Lynn Boyd was his city commissioner of Ward One.

Today Ed Carr lives the quiet life of a retired and moderately successful man. He said he "never got in on the oil — none of his old settlers did," but still lived comfortably from his cattle which grazed a 70-acre L-shaped tract over part of what is now called Carr Terrace in the Dick Hughes Highland Homes development.

Carr is an avid fisherman and likes to talk of fishing in northern Minnesota in the "land o' Lakes" region around Bemidji, north of Bemidji.

Last week, he related, he offered former Mayor Lynn Boyd photographs, and not a "all the misinformation you need for fishing in Minnesota." Boyd, one of Carr's old friends, is leaving in September for Duluth on a fishing and business trip.

Carr said he really didn't need to take down the old water well. "But we hadn't used it since the city put in its own system. It was solid as a rock, but the kids liked to climb it too much, and they might have got hurt."

MENTAL CHECK ORDERED

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—An 11-year-old boy has been ordered committed for an additional 30-day period of psychiatric observation in the slaying of a young girl. Juvenile Judge John J. Wingrave committed Edwin Herty Thursday to the East Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville for observation. Herty, an honor student, is charged with sexually molesting and then fatally stabbing a 12-year-old girl in a blackberry patch.

The appointment of Mrs. James Barker as Church Secretary replacing Mrs. Bill Earles who recently resigned.

FAVORITE FISHING POLE

Ed Carr, twice chosen former mayor of Pampa, has many recollections of the days in Pampa "before oil" and afterward. Carr, now 84, remains learned and alert and still has visions of "the next big fishing trip." The bamboo pole in Carr's hands is his favorite, handmade "with just the right whip to catch anything that might come along." (Daily News Photo)

JESS WILLARD
... heart victim

Folk Singer Passes Away

AUBURN, Calif. — Jess Willard, popular western song composer and singer died of a heart attack here last week only a few weeks prior to the release of a new recording release, entitled, "Night Time is Cry Time."

Willard is the brother to a pair of Pampa women, Mrs. Jack Robertson, 1104 S. Faulkner; and Mrs. A. R. Yates, Bradley Drive.

Commonly known as "Big Jess" to his many radio station KAHN listeners, Willard was a recording star for Capitol Records. His full name was Jess Willard Griffin. He was a former television attraction with the California Hayride program and in 1953 had toured the Far East Command with the USO.

Willard, 43, is survived by his two Pampa sisters, a wife, Hazel I. Griffin, and one daughter, Doran, both of rural Auburn. Also a brother, I. D. Griffin of Texas; and another sister, Mrs. J. D. Cushman of Missouri.

"MY BIG LOVE" — Freckle-faced Diamanti Samartzis, 11, has 4,981 "dads." The youngster, who lives in Tripolis, Greece, was "adopted" through Foster Parents' Plan by the inmates of San Quentin prison in California. She wrote them: "My parents, brothers and sisters send you a thousand thanks. I send to each one of you separately my big love."

McLean Bible School Over: 116 Graduated

McLEAN (Sp) — The First Baptist Vacation Bible School held its commencement exercises Friday night at the church. This marked the close of two weeks of church school for the 116 boys and girls and 26 instructors.

Besides studies and crafts, the participants enjoyed refreshments each day and on Thursday the group had a swimming party and picnic in the city park.

Rev. Jesse Leonard, pastor, said church members will concentrate now on the launching of the "J&J for Jesus" campaign. This means June and July for Jesus, and its primary purpose is to beat the summer slump in attendance.

during the next two months with renewed interest and enthusiasm for Christ.

This project will involve many goals such as painting parsonage and yard fence, clearing eight lots recently purchased adjacent to the church property, enlistment of all local unaffiliated Baptists, Pastor teaching a class each Sunday evening from 7 to 8 on "What Baptists Believe and Why They Believe It," and baptizing an average of one per Sunday.

The campaign will conclude with a free picnic supper at the Baptist Pan-Fork Encampment with a program to follow.

MATTERS OF THE MILITARY

ENDS BASIC — Army Pvt. Jimmy W. Wagner of Letors recently completed advanced individual training with the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Texas, the Army reported Saturday. Wagner, whose wife Lucille, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kell Wagner, are Letors residents, entered the Army in December. He attended Panhandle high school and was employed by Panhandle Irrigation prior to entering the service.

Mobley On Toledo

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — Gerald L. Mobley, boilerman third class in the U.S. Navy, took part in an amphibious landing on the beaches of Camp Pendleton May 28 as part of an operation known as "Twin Peaks."

Mobley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Mobley, 2314 Alcock, is currently serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Toledo. The May landing involved more than 60 Navy ships and 25,000 Marines and was the largest exercise of its type since January, 1957.

Wagner Arrives

ULM, Germany — Army Pvt. Jimmy W. Wagner, 23, of Letors, recently arrived in Germany where he is a member of the Fourth Armored Division. Pvt. Wagner's wife, Lucille, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kell Wagner, are residents of Letors.

Wagner entered the Army in December and is an automatic rifleman in Company D of the division's 41st Infantry in Ulm. He attended Panhandle High School and was employed by the Panhandle Water Works prior to joining the Army.

Aerographer 3rd Class Billy L. Rose, formerly of Pampa, recently completed Aerographers Mate School at Lakehurst, N.J. Rose and his family are now living in Washington D.C. where he is stationed with U.S. Weather Central, connected with the U.S. Weather Bureau in Suitland, Md.

Rose is now serving his second enlistment; he was a Quartermaster 3 from 1952 to 1955. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rose, 847 S. Banks in Pampa.

Aboard Carrier

WESTERN PACIFIC (Spl) — Arthur R. Hernandez, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hernandez, 316 Davis St. and John C. Schaffer, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom A. Schaffer, Star Route 3, all of Pampa, are serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Bon Home Richard operating in the Western Pacific.

Evans In Navy

James Loyd Evans, son of Mr. Mrs. Audrey H. Evans, 625 S. Barnes, enlisted in the Navy May 21st, and will receive his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

James is a graduate of Pampa High School and was enlisted in the Electronics Field in the Navy, one of five fields with guaranteed schooling to qualified high school graduates. Evans chose the electronics field at the Navy Recruiting Station, Pampa, prior to enlisting in the Navy at the Main Station in Albuquerque.

After completion of recruit training, James will be allowed to come home on 14 days leave prior to reporting to a trade school in electronics.

Gets Promotion

STUTTGART, Germany (Spl) — James E. Galloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Galloway, 491 N. Zimmer St., Pampa, recently was promoted to specialist five in Germany, where he is a member of the 124th Ordnance Company.

Specialist Galloway, an instrument repairman in the company in Stuttgart, entered the Army in July 1955 and arrived in Europe in February 1956.

The 23-year-old soldier's wife, Edith, is with him in Germany.

Hall In Germany

DARMSTADT, Germany — Army Specialist Four Alvin W. Hall, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin F. Hall, 308 W. Third St., Shamrock, recently arrived in Germany and is now a member of the 32d Signal Battalion.

Specialist Hall, a field radio repairman in Company E in Darmstadt, entered the Army in September 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

Hall is a 1957 graduate of Shamrock High School.

Grace Visits

S-Sgt Lowell Grace, his wife and four children are visiting in Pampa for two weeks prior to their leaving for the Denim Studios Air Force Field in England where Grace will be stationed three years.

The Grace family is staying at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Grace, 613 Magnolia. Both Mr. and Mrs. Grace are former Pampa residents. S-Sgt. Grace, a career soldier, was formerly based at Big Spring, Texas.

Buddys Join Navy Here

Darrell Eugene Cockrell, 517 N. Ward; Ralph Clyde Palmer, Gilking Apts.; and Robert Arthur Murray, 1819 Beech St., all of Pampa, have enlisted in the Navy through the Navy Recruiting Office, Post Office Building, Pampa and were sworn in at the Main Navy Recruiting Station, Albuquerque on May 22nd.

Darrell, Ralph, and Robert enlisted under the "Buddy Program" whereby they will receive recruit training together, at the Naval Training Center, San Diego. Upon completion of 9 weeks recruit training they will be allowed 14 days leave prior to reporting to their various duty assignments.

All men enlisting under the "Buddy Program" are guaranteed to go through recruit training together. While at San Diego a school will be given a series of tests to determine the field in which he is best suited. After recruit leave he will report to either a trade school or to duty and receive on-the-job training in his chosen field.

Milliron Trio Set For H-SU Career

By WALLACE TRUEDELL Daily News Staff Writer

MERRY MILLIRONS

The hardest thing about photographing the Milliron Trio is getting them to sit still long enough to have their picture taken. Their faces and voices are as well known around Pampa as those of some movie stars but just to set the record

Not even graduation can break up Pampa's Milliron Trio. The three girls — Barbara Lunsford, Marilyn Myatt and Nancy Stevenson — have sung at so many in-stallation banquets and in so many variety shows that they're not going to give up now. So they're all going to Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and there, will sing to their hearts content. Not one of them is a music major. Miss Lunsford is religious education and drama, Miss Stevenson, psychology; and Miss Myatt is undecided. How did Pampa's best known trio get started? The girls got together for a Christmas assembly four years ago at Pampa Junior High School. They made their debut with "Something's Got to Give." From there it was a short hop to the Lions Club Minstrel, where they were discovered by Maxine Milliron, the wife of a local contractor. They did not get their name until much later when they were singing at the Country Club. Then Mayor Ed Myatt, who happens to be Marilyn's father, decided that the trio had gone around without a name long enough and dubbed them "The Milliron Trio." The name has stuck and the girls have too. They all sing in the First Baptist Church Choir as well as the A Capella Choir at Pampa High School. They have been to State three times — separately. This year, Barbara, the clown of the company, showed a little independence and showed up on stage in a couple of High School Theatre productions. The Thespian president is equally hammy, on stage and off. Miss Stevenson did some poetry reading in the Interscholastic League Contests, finally placing fourth at Regional. That leaves Marilyn, the soprano of the company, who wears contact lenses and keeps out of mischief, by helping her father with the lawn. Miss Myatt had a short wall in the dramatic sequence "God's Trombones" last year when the A Capella Choir joined with the Thespians to do something a little different in the way of theatre. The Milliron girls, as they are called, are three of the most seasoned troupers in town. As well as appearing in Lions Minstrels, in a variety of costumes, not to mention mud make-up, they have done their bit for the High School talent show every year and this May turned in a surpassing performance. They have sung for Lions Club installation banquets and recently sang at the Lions District 2T-1 convention in Plainview. They have been invited to sing at the next convention, in Borger. In fact, there are very few places that the girls have not sung. They have been heard on the radio, seen on television and were a featured attraction for a Pampa Day program televised from the Amarillo Tri-State Fair last year. They are accompanied on the organ by their "grandma," Maxine who also plays dinner music on a portable organ in the case of banquets. Barbara, who sings bass, is the daughter of Mr. Helen Lunsford, 417 Yeager, Nancy, the alto, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stevenson, west of Pampa. Soprano Myatt lives in the Mayor's residence at 2121 Charles. Miss Myatt is the oldest of the sisters in song. She is 18. Miss Stevenson is the keeper of the scrapbook, in which she started a list of their songs. At the end of that page she has written: "I abandoned this idea in 1957."

MOONSHINE OUTLAWED TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—The Florida Legislature has approved a bill making possession of more than one gallon of moonshine whiskey a felony and possession of less than one gallon a misdemeanor. OBJECTS TO "THING" HIGH POINT, N.C. (UPI)—R. B. Watson called police after he looked out a window and saw a "great big thing" on his neighbor's lawn. The thing turned out to be a six and one-half foot plaster of paris dog taken from a Winston-Salem store.

'Battle' Still Sits On Top

CHICAGO (UPI) — The "Battle of New Orleans" kept its place on top of the United Press International's top 20 tune list this week, but other tunes underwent a reshuffling. The catchy "Personality" melody edged up to second place, and last week's second-place "Dream Lover" slipped into fourth spot. The third position was left open for Martin Denny's "Quiet Village." Durable "Kansas City" held fast to fifth place and "Only You" was in sixth. "Teen-Ager in Love" inched up to seventh. The novelty "Kookie Kookie" dropped to ninth and two fast newcomers rounded out the bottom slots of the top 10. Paul Anka's "Lonely Boy" raced from 18th to eighth this week and "I Only Have Eyes For You" jumped into the UPI's top 10 without bothering to go through the bottom half. Following is the list of the top 20 standings (numbers in brackets indicate the position this week; the position last week and the number of weeks in the top 20). (1-5) Battle of New Orleans, Johnny Horton (Columbia). (2-3-4) Personality, Lloyd Price (ABC). (3-4-6) Quiet Village, Martin Denny (Liberty). (4-2-6) Dream Lover, Bobby Darin (Atco). (5-5-8) Kansas City, Wilbur Narison (Fury). (6-7-8) Only You, Frank Pourcel (Capitol). (7-4-6) Teen-Ager in Love, Dion and the Belmonts (Laurie). (8-18-2) Lonely Boy, Paul Anka (ABC). (9-6-8) Kookie Kookie, Edward Byrnes (Warner). (10-0-1) I Only Have Eyes For You, Flamingos (End). (11-19-2) Along Came Jones, Coasters (Atco). (12-0-3) Tallahassee Lassie, Freddie Cannon (Swan). Pampa Founder, M. K. Brown Recalls Phone Call Of 1927

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following news story appeared in an issue of the Pampa Daily News in the summer of 1927. Clippings of the story were furnished by M. K. Brown, prominent Pampa founder. The story was headlined "Brown Talks To Brother In London Today." Beneath were three deck heads reading: "Conversation Lasts 7 Minutes and Costs $196;" "Sends Greetings to King

George;" "Call Placed on 24th Anniversary Coming To Pampa." The 1927 story read: "Congratulations to the citizens of Pampa on the city's great importance, and best wishes for a continuance of its prosperity." On the twenty-fourth anniversary of his arrival in Pampa, M. K. Brown today talked by telephone

Harold N. Smith Ordained Into The Christian Ministry

Harold N. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley G. Smith, 928 Fisher, was ordained into the Christian ministry recently in the sanctuary of University Place Christian Church, Enid, Okla. Smith completed his senior year in the Graduate Seminary at Phillips University, Enid, after receiving an AB degree from the College of the Bible in 1956. ACTRESS LEAVES HOSPITAL

LONDON (UPI)—Actress Kay Kendall, wife of Rex Harrison, left in a London hospital Saturday night after several days' treatment for bronchitis. A spokesman said Miss Kendall was expected to return to Paris this week end to resume work on a film she was making with Yul Brynner.

STEWART CIVILIAN AGAIN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Col. James Stewart goes to work Monday as actor Jimmy Stewart. Stewart, finished with a tour of duty at Vandenberg and March Air Force Bases, goes back to work at Revue-International to complete cutting and narration of "Cowboy Five Seven," a half-hour documentary film he made about the Strategic Air Command for TV and educational use.

Business Views

Business HIGHLIGHTS United Press International Retail auto sales continued to rise in the final third of May, carrying volume for the full month to the best levels in more than two years. According to preliminary estimates retail deliveries last month were nearly 530,000 cars, against 503,000 in April and 494,000 in May, 1958.

Consumer buying this week was up moderately from both the prior week and a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported. Hot weather in many areas stimulated sales of summer apparel, outdoor furniture and cooling equipment. Sales of new passenger cars advanced from the prior week and were sharply ahead of the 1958 period. The outlook for two major metals was improving. Aluminum markets show "some indication that the tide may be turning," said N. V. Davis, president of Aluminum, Ltd. Slab zinc returned in prices "as soon as the labor situation in the steel industry is settled," according to Howard J. Young, president of American Zinc Co.

'YOUNG PHILADELPHIANS' Paul Newman and Alexis Smith are lovers in "The Young Philadelphians," Warner Bros. production coming to the LaVista Theatre Thursday for a seven-day engagement. Barbara Rush, Brian Keith and Diane Brewster co-star in the film based on the best seller of the same name. Playing today at the LaVista is "Some Like It Hot."

Attitudes Contrast Greatly In Strife-Ridden Germany

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch by Frank H. Bartholomew, president of United Press International, reports on prevailing and contrasting attitudes of Geneva, East Berlin, West Berlin and Moscow on the German crisis in international affairs. The writer visited each city in sequence.)

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI) — The present adamant position of the Soviet negotiators in Geneva, the periodic threats of Premier Nikita Khrushchev at Moscow and elsewhere, and the continuously provocative acts of the Communist satellites in China, the Near East and Germany, are in stark contrast with the attitude of the people themselves in Communism's world capital.

Soviet diplomacy and the Soviet people themselves seem to be of dissimilar patterns.

In busy Moscow the man in the street talks earnestly of world peace and the desire to be left undisturbed to complete the nation's seven-year plan for his personal welfare. This theme is repeated as to negate any thought of a conspiracy of six million people to hide actual warlike intent from the foreign visitor.

The Russians are an air-minded people and more recently Khrushchev has made them rocket-conscious. He has repeatedly stated that the decisive modern weapon is the rocket. Nevertheless, to all superficial appearances the people are not being prepared for rocket warfare. There are no air raid shelters, no dress rehearsals of the civilian population for atomic warfare, no apparent fear that war is imminent.

Theaters Are Jammed. Inversely, popular interest centers on the miles of new apartments under construction on a scale perhaps not equalled anywhere else in the world. Street work goes on day and night. Industries appear to be operating to capacity. The theaters are jammed, by poorly dressed people obviously hungry for a touch of beauty.

The people are well-fed. An immediate result of the end of rationing is that most of them are too fat.

Now the yearning for a few of the finer things of life is manifesting itself, possibly as a substitute for religious worship which has been made politically unpopular to a point where attendance at the surviving churches is confined to the older generation and principally to old women.

The infrequent new Western cars on the streets are immediately surrounded by silently admiring throngs. A routine reception at a Western embassy will draw a crowd across the street equal in number to a major Hollywood premiere, despite the fact that none of the embassies is in the public directories or listings.

Slowly some of the better things are coming within view of the common man. He still usually dresses in an unmatched coat, baggy pants and tieless shirt, and his wife still occasionally wears a handkerchief to the Bolshoi Theater, but he does go to work in the cleanest and most beautiful subway system in the world, or on foot down boulevards lined with newly planted and luxuriating green trees.

See Better World

People living several to a room in present apartments, or arriving from East Berlin four to a compartment in every train, tell you that the difficulties are less than they were, that they are worth enduring because the seven-year-plan will deliver them to a better world.

"If," they say, "the warlike capitalist world does not take matters out of our hands."

It is certain that the people of Moscow have been completely sold on the seven-year plan, to the extent that the Khrushchev regime has bet its very existence upon its ability to deliver the goods by the deadline six years hence.

Completion of the seven-year plan would become an immediate impossibility in event of World War III. Obvious even to the most casual observer among the West's approximately 40,000 tourists in the Soviet Union this year is the fact that the people do not want war and have not been emotionally conditioned for war.

An impression gained in talking with Communist boss Walter Ulbricht in East Germany is that the East German government, while under the complete control of the Kremlin, nevertheless, of the best of its ability keeps the Kremlin under pressure to force a showdown, with arms if necessary, in Germany.

Everything To Lose

Russia would appear to have everything to lose and nothing to gain by precipitating a war. The same is not true from the standpoint of the East German Communist government and their present precarious situation.

Strong indication that the East German government feels it does not have popular support and could not survive a plebiscite appears in its refusal to consider free elections. The feeling in West Germany is that East Berlin at least cannot continuously survive with its gloom-encompassed low living standards and slow recovery immediately adjacent to the vigorous, lively and spectacularly successful city of West Berlin.

The situation in Communism's Oriental perimeter is believed, in some Western diplomatic circles here, to be basically different from the relationship between the Kremlin and East Berlin which it completely controls. The Chinese Communists, like their Caucasian brothers in East Berlin, are regarded as definitely warlike. The added danger to world peace here is believed to lie in the fact that Moscow is not sure of its influence over Peking, and in the further fact that face-saving is so important in the Orient that Communist China cannot accommodate itself to zig-zags in foreign policy such as that involving the recent abortive deadline for Western evacuation of Berlin.

No Warlike Preparation

World War III, stemming from a showdown over East Germany, may result from miscalculation or accident. But it seems certain at the moment that it will not result from the wishes of the people themselves in the U.S.S.R., as expressed in the capital city.

In perspective, the weight attached by the West to the present unyielding position of the Communist negotiators at Geneva might be regarded as a tribute to a strong case based more upon threat than fact.

The warlike threats of the U.S.S.R. which brought the foreign ministers conference into being at Geneva seem, as viewed from the interior of Russia, to have been based on bluff, insofar as any visible warlike preparation of the Soviet people themselves is concerned. West Berlin believes that if the conference fails to produce the desired summit meeting, the city will be subject to immediate Communist harassments. Some Western embassies here feel certain, however, that any excursions into brinkmanship—permitted East German leader Walter Ulbricht will be under tight Kremlin rein and control and not permitted to lead to a military showdown.

Administration Will Spend 500 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration now expects to spend at least 500 million dollars more, but take in 600 million more in fiscal 1960 than the amount forecast in President Eisenhower's precariously balanced budget, it was disclosed Friday.

The revised spending revenue forecasts for the fiscal year starting July 1 were disclosed by Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and Budget Director Maurice H. Stans in closed-door testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee earlier this week.

The committee today made public an analysis of the new data. The committee said Stans reported that the entire 500 million increase in spending estimates stems from the fact that interest on the public debt is now expected to run that much higher than the original budget estimate.

President Eisenhower in his January budget message forecast spending of 77 billion, with a surplus of 70 million. His forecast of a surplus was contingent on an increase—effective July 1—in both gasoline taxes and postal rates. It seems clear that Congress will not grant either. This would mean a deficit rather than a surplus budget. Assuming the new spending-revenue estimates are correct and Congress doesn't approve the requested increases, the committee said there still would be a "small deficit" in the new fiscal year.

Sukarno Is Calm Over Situation

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

Man-of-the-week: President Sukarno of Indonesia.
The place: Hollywood.
The quote: (From a spokesman for Sukarno) "If it were a critical situation the president would have stayed home."
Observers in Jakarta, Indonesia's capital, were saying this week that Sukarno had suffered his greatest political defeat. The army had banned all political activity, and Sukarno's bid for near-dictatorial powers had come a cropper in the face of stonewall Moslem opposition.

Jakarta reports said the army moved to prevent the nation plunging into chaos.
So, if the situation were not critical, it could do as one until a better and more critical situation came along.
But of all this Sukarno himself gave no sign.

Visits Hollywood
In the midst of a globe-circling tour, Sukarno was in Hollywood exploring the mysteries of movie-making and having his picture taken with no less a film luminary than Miss Joan Crawford. He showed no indications of hurrying home.

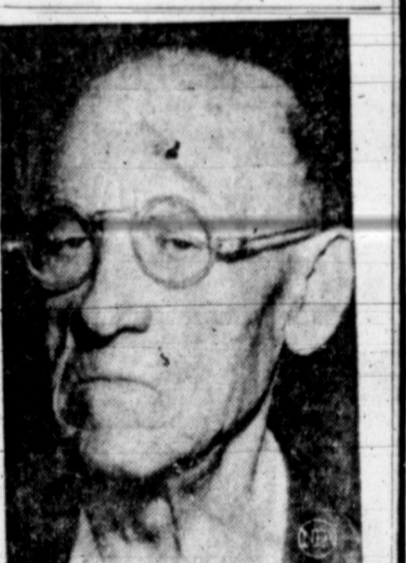

At the core of the difficulty was Sukarno's demand for creation of a five-year cabinet, with himself at the head, which would rule Indonesia without interference of opposition as conceived by the system of liberal democracy.
It would be the first step in his concept of "guided democracy" for Indonesia, a socialistic concept eliminating Capitalism.

It received strong support from Indonesian Communists who would participate in the new government on a basis of equality and who could help from this stepping stone eventually to take over the government.
Moslem opposition arose not so much from a dislike of the "guided democracy" plan as from Sukarno's refusal to assure them in advance of a prominent place in the new government.

Admires Russia
Sukarno has declared Western-style democracy unsuitable for Indonesia and his present actions indicate he considers his defeat to be temporary only.
During a visit to New York in 1956, Sukarno declared that "neither rubies nor dollars can buy a scrap of our freedom."

But as a successful revolution in his own right, Sukarno has expressed open admiration for the accomplishments of Soviet Russia and has paid tribute to Soviet leaders for helping to shape his ideas for a "working cabinet" which would "guide the people and channel their ideas to achieve their needs and desires."
Sukarno, 58 years old on June 7, spent 12 of those years either in jail or exile.
He is the son of a Javanese father and a Balinese mother. The father saw to it he got an education, culminating in a doctorate in engineering.

Collaborated With Japanese
But even before he obtained his degree, he already was an experienced and eloquent revolutionary against the Dutch who had held the East Indies for 100 years.
He collaborated with the Japanese during World War II but at the same time kept in touch with the Indonesian underground. In 1949 he took over as head of an independent Indonesian government with sway over 80 million people on 3,000 islands.
As a revolutionary he was phenomenal. As an administrator he has not been so effective. Indonesia's economy is in bad shape. The fanatic Darul Islam sect raids with impunity on the island of Java, and the smoldering civil war continues on other Indonesian islands.
But Sukarno remains the undisputed personal leader and hero of Indonesia. Even the anti-Communist army, which is the real force in Indonesia, hesitates to challenge him.

SEALTEST OPEN HOUSE
Open house was held at Pampa's new Sealtest milk and ice cream plant, 125 S. Houston, Thursday and Friday night with some 2,500 persons receiving free ice cream cones, chocolate milk and $200 in door prizes were given away. Local Sealtest manager S. C. Storrs and Amarillo personnel manager, Horace Malone, said the new Pampa plant and new refrigerated trucks cost over $65,000. A live band and a special Bat Masterson movie premier highlighted the new plant's opening. Pictured above is the plant at right and brand new trucks at left, plus a small portion of the crowd that attended the Sealtest open house.

Exceptional Child Assn. To Hear Esther Snell Speak

Esther E. Snell of Lubbock, director of Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center since its opening in August 1948, will be the guest speaker at the Exceptional Child Association meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 in Lovett Memorial Library. She will speak on the topic "Cerebral Palsy."

Mrs. Snell was graduated as a registered nurse with a BS degree from Ohio State University; with a MS degree in Public Health from University of Michigan. She has a certificate in Physical Therapy from Harvard University and an Ed. D. degree from Sanford University.

She has taught Health Education at Indiana State Teachers College in Indiana, Pa.; was Orthopedic Nursing supervisor with the Visiting Nurse Ass'n in Springfield, Mass.; a Teaching Fellow in Physical Therapy in Stanford University, Stanford, Calif.; an instructor, Cerebral Palsy, in College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, New York, N.Y.; and at the present time is director of the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center. She is also a lecturer on Special Education for the Texas Technological College.

Mrs. Snell is a member of American Physical Therapy Ass'n, American Registry for Physical Therapy, Alpha Chi Omega, and Lubbock Altirus Club.

Interested persons are invited to attend the lecture Tuesday evening on "Cerebral Palsy."

Tourists Flock To Texas' Aquarena

By DICK HARDWICK
United Press International

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (UPI)—Before the year is out, more than a quarter of a million people are expected to visit one of Texas' top tourist attractions — Aquarena.

Aquarena is located just off U. S. Highway 81 in San Marcos. A motorist can't overlook it. Large highway signs and pictures of bathing beauties attract the eye on highways into the South Central Texas city.

An admission is charged for the main attractions, which include a submarine theater—reputed to be the only one of its kind in the world—glass-bottom boats and a western village.

Free Attractions
But Aquarena is a nice place to visit whether you have money or not. The well-kept grounds, air-conditioned building, stately trees and the deep blue waters of the San Marcos River are restful and free.

Arthur B. Rogers, who owned a funeral home and furniture store in San Marcos, long dreamed of some kind of water development here at the headwaters of the San Marcos River, where the spring-fed stream runs crystal clear and 50 feet deep in some spots.

He never saw it realized, but his son, Paul Rogers, developed the natural beauty spot.

In 1946, Rogers launched the glass-bottom boats, which make a 30-minute trip up the river and affords visitors a peak at the big catfish, bass, sun perch and other sea life in their natural habitat.

Sub Theater Built 1950
The submarine theater was built in 1950 and the western Texas village was completed about two years ago.

The manager of Aquarena is Don Russell, a big ex-Floridian, who terms himself a "displaced Florida Cracker." Before he came to Aquarena eight years ago, Russell wrestled alligators at a resort area in Florida.

The spectator portion of the submarine theater seats 150 persons comfortably and submerges like a real submarine. Through the windows, spectators see pretty college coeds perform an underwater ballet, then refresh themselves by eating bananas and drinking pop from a picnic table under the water.

A clown named "Glurpo" furnishes the comedy.

Students of the "Aqua-misses" were students at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

Students Pay Way
Scores of students have paid their way through college "underwater" so to speak. Russell said Texas village features a renowned horse trainer and ex-rodéo performer, Sam Keen, who puts his trick horses through their paces.

'Have Guts' Says Spunky Fight Manager Jack Leonard

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Fight promoter Jackie Leonard, speaking from a hospital bed where he is under treatment for a mysterious beating, Saturday urged all promoters, managers and fighters "to have the guts" to get rid of gangsters in the boxing world. Leonard, 39, was beaten on the head at his home last Wednesday night a few weeks after he testified that Eastern gangsters Frankie Carbo and Blinky Palermo had threatened him if he did not cut them in on the contract of welterweight champion Don Jordan.

"If all boxing promoters, managers and fighters come forward we can get rid of these guys (the gangsters) pretty quick." Asked if he thought the fight figures would testify against the gangsters, Leonard said "they will, if they have any guts."

Leonard, suffering from partial paralysis of the right side of his face and right hand because of head injuries, was asked if he thought Carbo ordered the beating.

"I don't know whether he ordered it or not," he replied, "but I think he's responsible for it."

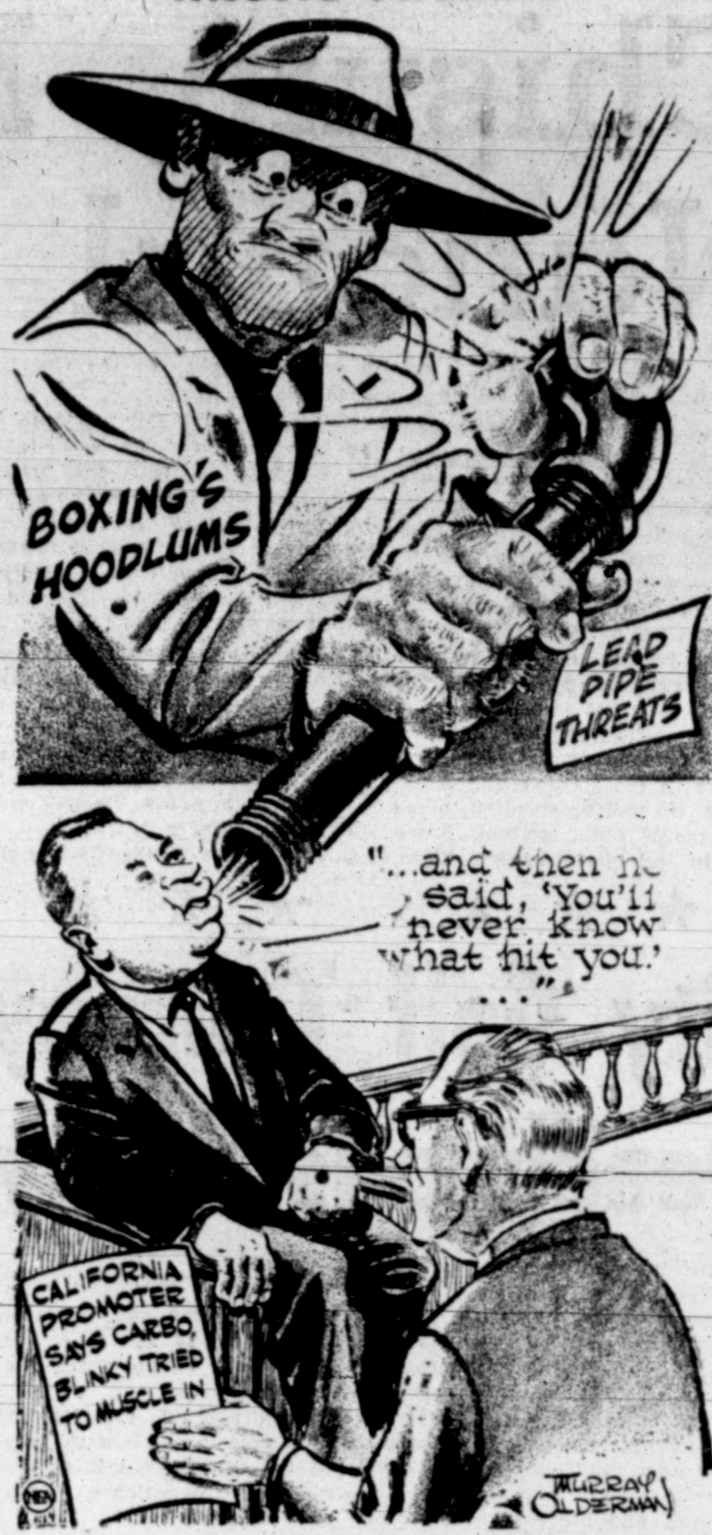

Leonard, speaking in a halting voice, said that he would be willing to testify again as he did last month for the California State Athletic Commission, and he said he might be able to "tell more."

He declined to say what more information he had available on gangsterism in boxing.

Dr. Louis Benson, one of Leonard's physicians, said spinal taps and brain readings are being studied to determine the extent of injury. He said Leonard would be in Park View Hospital for at least two more weeks.

MICHIGAN STATE WINS EAST LANSING (UPI)— Dick Radatz, three-hit shutout ball, a six-run first inning, and seven errors by Western Michigan University, enabled Michigan State to whip the Broncos 8-0 Saturday as both teams closed out regular season baseball play.

66ers Keep Softball Lead

The high riding Somerville 66ers absorbed their first loss of the season last week, at the hands of the Kempa Humble team. But they still kept first place in the Pampa Industrial Softball League by a half game.

The 66ers could up their lead this week, since they have games against the Phillips and Electric Supply teams, both of which have won only one game. Kempa, on the other hand, must face the improving Sinclair Oilers Tuesday night. They also play Phillips Thursday.

In other league games, the Packers play Electric Supply Tuesday and Sinclair plays the Packers Thursday.

Several games have been rained out, and some of them may be rescheduled this week.

TENNIS TOURNEY

HAMILTON, N. Y. (UPI)— A field of 41 players from 18 colleges opens play Monday in the Eastern Intercollegiate tennis tournament.

Red Griggs the pipeline

The newest candidate for the job of breaking Babe Ruth's season home run record is Harmon Killebrew, a 22-year-old Washington Senator fence-buster.

As of Friday, Killebrew had 19 home runs, and was well ahead of Ruth's pace. This doesn't necessarily mean much, since many hitters before have been ahead of Ruth, but it couldn't match the Bambino's torrid pace of 17 home runs in September.

But the surprising thing about "Killer" Killebrew (as he is now affectionately known) is not that he's shooting for Ruth's record, but that he's playing major league ball at all.

"The Killer" failed to make the grade in four previous tries with the Senators, and there was doubt that he'd stick this year, even though the Senators aren't exactly the nation's best club. In fact, it's rumored that Manager Cookie Lavagetto started him at third base only at the insistence of owner Calvin Griffith.

Meddling Sure Paid Off!

If this rumor is true, that was one time that front-office meddling paid off. With Killebrew in the lineup knocking 'em into the bleachers, the Senators are within reach of the first division for the first time in years. And they're playing before real, live fans!

Last year the Killer made no such splash with the Senators. He was seated on the bus at the Washington training base of Orlando, Fla., and he thought he was on his way to the majors.

But the man in charge told him to "get off the bus. You're going to Indianapolis."

He was no great sensation at Indianapolis, either, as he hit only .215. But he was sent to Chattanooga, where he hit 17 homers in 86 games, found the strike zone, and improved his fielding, to rate another chance with the Senators those three seasons combined. But Killebrew has the distinction of being the only Senator ever discovered by a Senator — the late U.S. Senator Herman Welker of Idaho. On Welker's recommendation Killebrew, who was at the time playing semi-pro ball, was signed for a $12,000 bonus — the first ever paid by Washington.

He had to sit out two years because of the now-defunct bonus rule, before he was farmed out. During that time, Welker needed Charlie Dressen (then manager) to play his discovery. Dressen told him that he was losing 100 games a year playing major leaguers, so why should he lose more playing a semi-pro.

Killebrew hit 15 homers playing with Charlotte, N.C., his first farm club, in 1956, then 29 for Chattanooga in '57, then 17 for the same club in the '58 half-season after leaving Indianapolis.

It looks as if he could hit as many this year as he hit all those three seasons combined. But whether he hits 30, 40, or 50 home runs, there's one thing for sure — covered by a Senator — the late U.S. Senator Herman Welker of Idaho.

Switzer Named to All-Stars high school game, which will be played in Huntsville July 18.

Laura recently accepted a basketball scholarship with the famous Wayland College Flying Queens, this year's women's AAU basketball champions.

She was signed by the Queens after playing with the Dowell's Dolls team of Amarillo, against the Queens in the AAU tourney. Dowell's lost to the national champs, but not before beating two veteran teams. The Dolls were all like Laura Mae, high school players.

Miss Switzer is an all-around athlete, a good student, and a favorite of her classmates. She was an all-district basketball player for three years, and also played on the softball and volleyball teams. She sparked the basketball team to a bi-district title and four tournament wins, and helped her teams win district in softball and second place in volleyball.

She's also been all-school favorite, class favorite, head cheerleader, vice president of her junior class, and received an American Legion award-citing her for All-Star team for the girls' all-star ment, honor, and scholarship.

Laura Mae Switzer, McLean's talented girl basketball star, has another honor to add to those she's already won on the court. She has been named to the North All-Star team for the girls' all-star ment, honor, and scholarship.

RACING CAR GOES WILD, INJURES 28 IN CROWD

By JACK AMES United Press International

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UPI)— A speeding race car hurtled upside down into a screaming crowd Friday night, injuring 26 persons, including the driver's son, who was in critical condition.

Twenty-one persons were hospitalized. Three were on the critical list today in Missouri Methodist Hospital, Attendants said. Hospital, which admitted 13 victims. Eight others were in St. Joseph Hospital.

Several may have been saved from being crushed by the car when a man grabbed one wheel and somehow managed to hold on and even lift it a bit while victims were pulled out from under it.

escaped injury. He was unaware of his son, Ronny Lee, 8, had been in the crowd and injured by his modified stock racing car until his wife, Betty, rushed up and told him.

The son of a personal friend of Nield also was critically injured.

Nield found his son in Missouri Methodist Hospital. Attendants said the boy had a critical brain injury and may undergo surgery.

In addition to Ronny and Johnny Timmons, 12, the hospital listed Bill Horsman, 42, as in critical condition.

The crowd of more than 600 at Beverly Speedway panicked. Many rushed to the scene to see if relatives or friends were hurt. Some of the injured lying on the ground were trampled.

Ragan, Littler Tied For Eastern Lead

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Dave Ragan of Chattanooga, Tenn., put on a brilliant birdie barrage on the back nine for a six-under-par 66 that pulled him even with Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., at the end of the third round in the Eastern Open golf tournament.

Ragan and Littler were deadlocked with 203 totals, 13 under par, for the 54-hole route.

With only nine holes to play Saturday, the 23-year-old Ragan trailed the pace-setting Littler by six strokes.

However, Ragan all but blasted the flags off the greens as he fired five straight birdies, starting at the 11th hole. And his putt for a sixth straight birdie teetered on the lip of the cup on the 16th hole.

Ragan's longest putt in this streak was eight feet. Four of his birdie putts were less than 15 inches.

At the same time, Littler was having putting trouble for the first time in the tournament. He three-putted three greens for a 71 Saturday.

This marked the third time that Ragan, a former Florida collegiate star, had a shot at his first major crown since joining the pro

Phils Edge Cards, 4-3

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Pinch-batter Dave Philley delivered a bases loaded single with two out in the 10th inning Saturday to give the Philadelphia Phillies and Robin Roberts a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Phillies opened the winning rally when Richie Ashburn doubled off reliever Lindy McDaniel for his fourth hit, and Ed Bouchee, with three hits, was passed purposely. Gene Freese moved both along with a sacrifice.

Wally Post fanned on three pitches and after Harry Anderson was walked purposely, filling the bases, Philley batted for catcher Vaimy Thomas. He ran the count to 3-2, lined off a foul and then lined the break-up single into rightfield.

Roberts, balancing his season mark at 4-4, gave up two runs in the first on four hits and a walk, but then went all the way for the Phils. Post prevented further damage in the first by throwing out a runner at the plate.

LA 3, Braves 2

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers pushed across two runs in the eighth on four successive singles to beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, and extend the defending champion's losing string to three, their longest of the season.

Wally Moon, who had driven in the Dodgers' first run with a double in the sixth, got the fourth hit in the eighth to score Junior Gilliam with a run that put his team ahead. Moon's single came off left-hander Juan Pizarro, who had just relieved Bob Rush, the Braves' starting pitcher.

Until the eighth inning outburst, a two-base throwing error by rookie shortstop Maurice Willis, who joined the Dodgers Saturday, threatened to be their downfall. Willis, a product of the Spokane farm club, uncocked his wild throw in the sixth when he threw the ball into right field after retrieving Del Crandall's hit. Andy Patko, who opened the inning with a single, scored all the way from first and Crandall got all the way to third before outfielder Duke Snider got the ball back into the infield. Felix Mantilla then scored Crandall easily with a fly to left.

Sandy Koufax, the Dodger left-hander who hasn't finished a game and won since September of 1958, got through seven innings before he was benched for a pinch-hitter in the Dodgers' victorious eighth. Clem Labine finished up with two innings of hitless pitching to give Koufax his second victory against a loss.

For Rush it was a familiar story. Since 1955 he hasn't pitched a complete game against the Dodgers and in his only previous appearance against them this year he beat them in relief.

Pinch-batter Norm Larker got the Dodger rally started in the eighth with a single. He was replaced by pinch runner Solly Drake, who went to third on Gilliam's third of four hits. Charlie Neal scored him with a single to right-center.

Bo Wininger, Odessa, Tex., 208; Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., 208; Tommy Jacobs, Whittier, Calif., 206; and Bill Collins, Baltimore, 208.

Actually, Ragan passed Littler after 17 holes Saturday. But Littler coolly stroked in a 12-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole to prevent him from slipping into second place.

Yanks 2, Tribe 1

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Bob Turley, back in the pitching groove again after nearly a month-long slump, set the Cleveland Indians down on six hits Saturday and beat them, 2-1, while hurling the New York Yankees to their fourth straight victory.

Turley, who recorded his fifth victory, had a shutout until Tito Francona hit a pinch homer with two out in the ninth. But that was the only run the Indians could score as they absorbed their seventh straight defeat.

Curve-baller Don Ferrarese went the route for Cleveland and suffered his third loss even though he yielded only six hits. Turley, who won only one game between May 8 and May 31, struck out nine Saturday.

The Yankees took the lead in the fifth inning. Gil McDougald was safe on a fumble by ex-Pyralie Willie Jones, playing his first game at third for the Indians. Tony Kubek drew a walk and McDougald then scored on Turley's single to left.

The Yanks added the deciding run in the eighth when Hank Bauer singled, moved to second on a sacrifice by Elston Howard, and scored on Mickey Mantle's single to center.

Turley was in several jams, and was saved in the most difficult one by a brilliant play by Howard in left field. Jones singled with two out, and Rocky Colavito then hit what appeared to be a home run over the left field fence, but Howard leaped and actually caught the ball over the fence.

Red Sox Win

CHICAGO (UPI)—Vic Wertz was safe on a fumble by ex-Pyralie Willie Jones, playing his first game at third for the Indians. Tony Kubek drew a walk and McDougald then scored on Turley's single to left.

The win was the second for Wertz in as many major league starts, although he needed help in the eighth inning after he loaded the bases with one out. Mike Fornieles came on to get pinch-batter Harry Simpson who grounded into a double play.

The Red Sox jumped to a two-run lead off Chicago starter Ray Moore in the first inning when Pete Rynnels walked and Wertz slammed a high, lazy fly that hit the top of the right field wall and bounced into the seats for his fourth homer of the season.

Malzone put Boston ahead, 4-2, in the sixth. He belted a low line that barely cleared the left field wall for his eighth home run of the campaign after Wertz had singled. All Red Sox runs came off Moore, who was charged with his fourth loss in five decisions.

Frisco 13, Reds 3

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants surged to within a game and a half of the National League lead Saturday when they crushed the Cincinnati Reds, 13-3, with the aid of an 18-hit attack and the eight-hit pitching of Sam Jones.

Leon Wagner hit the only homer for the Giants although they raked six Cincinnati pitchers for five doubles in moving up to the league - leading Braves, who dropped a 3-2 decision to the Dodgers.

Wagner's homer, his fifth of the season, came with two aboard in the first inning and set the pattern of the day. Victim of the blast was right hander Bob Purkey who departed in the third inning with his seventh loss against five wins.

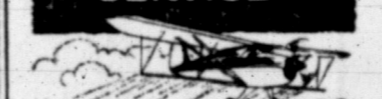

The Giants, scoring in all but three innings, made it easy for Jones to register his sixth win against five losses. An error by shortstop Andre Rogers in the third inning paved the way for three unearned Red runs and spoiled Jones' bid for a shutout.

Tigers Growl

DETROIT (UPI)—Paul Foytack fired a six-hitter and touched off a three-run rally in leading the Detroit Tigers to a 4-1 victory over the Washington Senators.

Foytack, who hadn't pitched a complete game all season until last Monday, had the Senators blanked on three singles until the eighth when Faye Thompson broke the spell with his second homer of the season into the upper seats in right.

But Kemmerer gave way to a pinch hitter in the eighth and the Tigers jumped on reliever Truman Clevenger for three runs after two were out in the bottom of the inning.

Foytack gained his fourth triumph of the season and third in a row against six losses while Clevenger suffered his first setback against one win.

Hugs tighter on turns... the road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

Wide-Track Wheel design brings car and road into a new relationship. The wheels of a Pontiac are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance but not the car. There's a feeling of complete control, road-holding response. You're steadier, more secure, balanced. Lean and sway disappear. It's the automotive advancement of the year and one of the big reasons why you see so many new Pontiacs these days. Hasn't the day come for you to drive this sleek beauty? The keys are waiting.

PONTIAC! AMERICA'S NUMBER 1 ROAD CAR

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Peg O' Pampa

Spring Of 1959 Weddings

YOU KNOW... we finally got a new typewriter ribbon... jolly nice to be able to see what we are turning out in the way of words... and the typesetters don't have to guess now... but don't expect complete and utter lack of mistakes... what would be the fun of that?... we must be slap-happy, after having the kids home for a week... it's not that we don't enjoy having them around for awhile, it is just that things never seem to get done any more... we could count on three relatively uninterrupted hours in which to take a morning coffee break with the neighbors before rushing home to hurl some "lunch" on the table... now, there are too many things demanding attention and dog-gone it, we just can't seem to get all the coffeying done!

WITH VACATION TIME here, there are people going hither and yon and up and down dale, and all the other well-worn phrases used to connote movement... for instance, Icie Harrah left for New York last week... going with a group of other students of Dord Fitz... to New York... the Beeg Ceety... there she will no doubt have a marvelous time... taking in several Broadway Shows... and the art galleries... she herself has a painting hanging in the Burr Galleries there, along with other Pampanos who are students of Mr. Fitz... and not so far away, but probably equally enjoyable to the people involved... Curt and Will Beck are back from a Memorial Day weekend at a ranch in Colorado... and Bobby and Ruthy Baird either have gone or are going fishing in Arkansas... might good fishing there we've heard... Cleo, their beautiful, large Bassett Hound must be pining away... they don't leave her very much... and we are frankly wondering how Catherine Hughey could bear to leave her beautiful garden and lush green trees and so on to go to Hawaii... oh, heck... we'd leave ANYTHING to go there ourselves... so really can't blame her... seriously we have always thought that Mrs. Hughey's home is one of the most beautiful in Pampa... and have said it before, if we remember right... what an enormous lot of care such grounds require, though... and not only physical care, but thought goes into the production of a fine yard... one must remember when to plant things, and when to dig 'em up and so forth... personally, we forget to water a houseplant that sets right by the kitchen sink and which we look at hundreds of times a day... guess we'll catch our breath.

MORE TO COME... don't go away... Leone and Loyale Davies... and Ruth and Harvey Nensiel have gone to New Mexico... the men, naturally, to fish in the streams... and the women, equally naturally... to do their kind of fishing in the shops of Santa Fe and Taos... and knowing Leone and Ruth, we suspect that they will come back with both terrific ideas for new projects, and some of the materials to do them... and perhaps a fine painting or two of an Indian pot or some such... can't predict about the men returning with the fish... as the fish have something to say about that... and they are at best unpredictable... Bernice Ward and her son Bob went to Colorado recently... Bob will stay at Bernice's mother's farm for the summer, to get in a good tan and some good work... we suspect... Hazel and Jimmy McCune had their son Richard and his wife visiting with them... they were on their way to Colorado to do some fishing... Richard is a sports-column writer in Dallas... so now he is going to practice what he preaches for a change!

MORE MORE MORE MORE... we have you in our grip now, like the Ancient Mariner... and you can't escape... you must read on to the bitter end... you must, you hear? George and Polly Hepner have moved already, yet to California... heard that they refused to attend a going-away party friends tried to plan... they didn't want to put anyone to a lot of trouble... so, by golly, the friends up and had the going-away party anyhow... after George and Polly left that's one way to do it, don't you think?... heard that Roger Long is planning to go to Turkey for study and painting... on a scholarship arrangement... more power to him... he comes home famous... have you seen Bill Bumpers' new Buick? or is it Frankie's... oh, well... they'll settle it somehow!

WHEN OUR FINGERS get tired, we throw in a dash and a star and rest a minute... we were thrilled to learn that Johnny and Margy Schwind have another baby... another boy... to be a playmate for the oldest... Shirley and Ray Welch have guests... their nephew and niece from Mt. Vernon, Missouri, Kenalea and Jimmy Langwell... Jeanne Willingham is going to have an exciting and hard-working summer of study in California... and will come home with oodles of new and glorious ideas for her dance studio for next Fall... bet the Don Coins will have the time of their lives in New York City... Don is there as President of the Pampa Rotary, a delegate to the International Rotary Convention... and, by the roster of speakers they are going to hear, it should really be something... Dr. Werner von Braum... Pearl S. Buck... Dag Hammarskjold... Nelson Rockefeller and others are on the agenda of speakers... my, but we'd like to hear them... Pat Dial... Pat Jones... Reeves King... Bill Atkinson and Heidi Schneider are some of the college students home for the summer... to laze around and to swim and have fun for three months before going back to the grind... it's fun to be in college... but also fun to come home!

HAVE YOU SEEN... the yucca in bloom all over the countryside... especially between here and Borger, it is a glorious sight to see... and everything is so green on the Plains now you should take a drive this afternoon... by the way... all you who enjoy doing dried-flower arrangements... the roadside dock is green now, and if it is picked now and dried, it will stay fairly green for a long time... it is very popular in making the aforesaid arrangements... now it is the time, we hear from good authority, to pick it... another reason for taking a ride, although the husbands may not agree!... we suggest the ride anyhow... but don't go too far toward Borger or you will run into road construction... pretty soon there will be almost a super highway between here 'n' there... we always have wondered how it is that just when vacationers are taking to the roads in droves, they begin tearing up the roads... good weather brings out the vacationers and the road-builders.

BY THE WAY... while you are out riding around... go by the Garland Gray's home at 737 Lefors... they have the cutest low white picket fence... and pretty red roses along it... it is worth the looking... saw lots of ladies going into the La Vista theatre last Thursday... must be another fine movie coming up... they always have a preview showing with coffee and donuts when a really whooping good movie is coming to town in a few weeks... wish we knew which one it is... our curiosity is piqued... last time we went to one of those, it was a real "hum-dinger"... we leave you with this thought for the coming summer; from Rebecca McCann... dream of garments soft as mist and light as moonbeams on the sea, I got so sunburned yesterday that nothing else will do for me!

Painfully yours
Peg

Barbara Baker Repeats Vows With Joe Tynes Jr.

Mrs. Joe Weldon Tynes Jr.

On June 6 at eight o'clock in St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Denton, Miss Barbara Ann Baker became the bride of Joe Weldon Tynes Jr. with double-ring vows performed by Rev. John Marvin. The wedding scene was decorated with sunburst baskets of white gladioli and Emerald Palms flanked with Swedish iron spiral candelabra. An altar sunburst arrangement of white gladioli was backed with Swedish iron candelabra. The bride aisle was marked with bows of white.

Miss Baker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Baker of Denton. Mr. Tynes' parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tynes Sr., 1917 Hamilton.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride was gown in a formal-length, fabulously full skirted gown of imported silk organza combined with imported hand-clipped Chantilly lace. The molded lace bodice featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline dusted with iridescent sequins and tiny simulated seed pearls. The demilace sleeves were complemented with the briefest white-kid gloves.

From the crushed waistline fell the very full organza skirt forming a regency scalloped lace train, falling from the waist. Adding special charm to the dome silhouette were the numerous crinolines and hoops worn under the elegant gown.

Her finger-tip veil of pure silk French illusion fell in scalloped tiers from a crown traced with iridescent sequins and simulated pearls.

She carried a cascade of yellow roses centered with a white orchid arranged with touches of English Ivy.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. W. J. Thomas of Monahans, the bride's sister, was matron of honor in pale yellow silk organza and carried a cascade of white gladioli arranged with English Ivy. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Hickey of Denton, Mrs. F. D. Krodel of Killean with Miss Carol

Mary Claire Worrell, George Haslam Solemnize Wedding Vows In Lukfin

Wedding vows for Miss Mary Claire Worrell and George Donald Haslam were solemnized on May 23 at seven o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Lukfin with Dr. Gordon Clinard, professor at Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roan Haman Worrell of Lukfin. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Earl Haslam, 1333 Christine.

A background of tall, white wrought iron candelabra with white tapers and graduated arrangements of gladioli, mammoth chrysanthemums, pompons, regal lilies and asters formed the wedding scene with tropical jade and Southern smilex forming the greenery base for the line of candles on the choir rail and in the candelabra, which balanced the opposite side. Aisles were decorated with jade foliage and mums tied with white satin bows.

As Don W. Looser played pre-nuptial music at the organ, the bridegroom's youngest sister, Miss Martha Jane Haslam with John Bateman of Lukfin and Allen Weed of Dallas, lighted the altar candles. F. William Schahan, First Baptist Church music director, sang "Until" and "Through The Years" accompanied by Mr. Looser.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gown in floor-length ivory silk peau-de-soi with re-embroidered Alencon lace framing the portrait neckline and tiny sleeves and tracing the princess lines of the molded bodice down into the folds of the skirt front.

The exquisite lace motifs were repeated down the entire fabulously full skirt back and across the chapel-sweep train. The back of the bodice was fastened with tiny covered buttons down to the butterfly bustle with fringed streamers. Her handmade veil of imported silk illusion fell in tiers from a pearl-crown. She carried a magnificent cascade of butterfly gardenias and stephanotis centered with three white orchids. She wore an antique diamond sunburst belonging to her aunt.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's attendants were Miss Julia Nell McConathy of Bastrop, La., Miss Andrea Anthony of Little Rock, Ark., Miss India Newton of Corpus Christi, all students at Baylor University; and Miss Janet Haslam, bridegroom's sister. Miss Nancy Worrell was her sister's maid of honor.

The feminine attendants wore ballerina-length dresses of shimmering water Nile-green silk organza with matching Chantilly lace-trimmed bodices. The gracefully draped skirts were drawn up in back to a large bow with hem-length streamers. They wore matching leaf coronets of velvet and organza in their hair and carried large crescents of white asters and stephanotis backed with shiny ivy leaves and large white satin bows.

Ben Sturgeon of Fort Worth served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Shackelford of Houston, George Chandler of Victoria, both students at Baylor, Tom Wild of Pasadena, and Bill Cullpepper of Fort Worth. Seating the wedding guests were Merten HD Club With Mrs. Groves.

Merten Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. T. G. Groves, 506 Powell, on Tuesday morning at 9:30.

Mrs. Jack Howard conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Bob Brandon.

Mrs. Jack Prather gave the council report and reminded members to have their recreation report ready for the next club meeting date.

Mrs. Groves gave the program on "Convenient Work and Play Areas in the Yard." She said that convenient planning will result in future enjoyment. "If one does not have a clothes-dryer, it is essential to have a good clothes line, well braced and equipped with a turn buckle so the line would not sag. It is also necessary to have good trash barrels." She reminded members that trash should not be burned in the city.

"In the play area, one should have a table and barbecue pit, toys and sand-box for the children," Mrs. Groves stated. "Shrubs or vines are very good for screening. Some good plants to use are Arbutus, privet, desert willow, Athea and English Olive."

Mrs. Groves then took members for a tour of her lawn.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Jack Howard, V. Smith, Alvena Brandon, Jack Prather and to a guest, Miss Tressa Smith from Bartlesville, Okla.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jack Prather, south of the city on June 16 at 9:30 a.m.

Delta Sigma Phi, social fraternity School and from North Texas State College. He is a member of and Psi Omega, professional fraternity.

They will make their home at 2101 Del Rio in Houston, where the bride will continue teaching and the bridegroom will attend the University of Texas Dental School.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dwin Kelley

Miss Lovejoy, Alfred D. Kelley United With Vows Said In Yuma, Arizona

Miss Shirley Marie Lovejoy and Alfred Dwin Kelley were united in marriage with a ceremony performed on May 2 at 2 p.m. in the First Assembly of God Church in Yuma, Ariz.

Rev. O. W. Killingsworth, pastor, performed the ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white and pink gladioli. As soloist, Virginia Williams sang "Because" and "Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us", while the couple knelt before the altar. Melba Killingsworth provided nuptial airs at the organ.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Webb of Yuma. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kelley, south of the city.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a floor-length gown of re-embroidered lace and nylon net over taffeta. The fitted lace bodice with long tapered sleeves featured a scooped neckline and a row of tiny fabric-covered buttons in the back. The

Rose Maureen Smith Repeats Vows With Don Hillin Nelson In Presbyterian Rites

Miss Rose Maureen Smith and Don Hillin Nelson exchanged wedding vows on Friday, June 5, at eight o'clock in the evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Newton Smith, 504 Magnolia, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry F. Nelson, 1105 E. Francis. The Rev. Donald E. Hubbard, assisted by Rev. J. E. Kerr, was officiant for the double-ring service.

The bride chose a wedding gown of white tulle and French imported lace. Hand applied French lace, embroidered with tiny seed pearls, outlined the scalloped bateau neckline of the bodice. The dome-shaped skirt with its court train was enhanced by a front panel of white tulle. The long, fitted sleeves tapered into points over the hands. Her white French silk illusion veil extended waist-length from a crown of seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. The bride's bouquet was fashioned of white orchids and stephanotis. Mr. Smith gave his daughter in marriage.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Harold Cline, matron of honor, and Miss Judy Ann Smith, bride's sister, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Schaefer, Miss Regina Riley, and Miss Carol Rose Miller. The feminine attendants wore ice mauve dresses fashioned with scooped necklines, elongated bodices enlivened by very full barem skirts they carried crescent-shaped colonial nosegays of pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Nelson was attended by Phil Kimbrough of Beaumont as best man, and the following groomsmen and ushers, Bruce Campbell, Jean Martindale, Sam Anderson and Ronnie Wells of Amarillo. Candlelighters were Ralph McClure and Miss Verna Joy Williamson of Farmington, N.M. Miss Williamson wore pink chiffon and a wrist-let of pink sweetheart roses. Ringbearer was David Williamson of Farmington, N.M. The flower girls, Misses Patricia Crawford and Iris Lee Page were dressed in pink organdy fashioned as the bride's attendants. They carried baskets made of pink roses and carnations.

Palms and baskets of white gladioli formed an impressive background for the branched candelabra holding white tapers. The

Busy Bees Have Graduation Rites

Busy Bee Kindergarten held its 1959 "graduation" exercises recently in the First Baptist Church. Presentation of diplomas was made by Mary Lou Douglas, class teacher.

"Graduates" are Jimmy Hunt, Todd Waggoner, Mark Lang, Hugh Jones, Bill Don Kenworthy, Bradley McAdams and Rodney MacDonald. Mrs. Lowrance and Robby Hudson graduated in absentia.

The program consisted of marching in to "Onward Christian Soldiers;" two songs, "Jesus Loves Me" and "America." Pledges were repeated to the American Flag, the Christian flag and the Bible. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Each "graduate" gave a resume of what they had enjoyed in kindergarten.

Mrs. P. K. Douglas closed the ceremony with prayer. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

Housewarming Fetes The George Clarks

Fidels Class of Harrah Methodist Church held a surprise housewarming party honoring Mr. and Mrs. George Clark in their new home, 400 Red Deer. Opening prayer was given by Rev. O. M. Butler and a devotional, "Living Your Faith" by Mr. Clark.

Guests were Rev. and Mrs. O. M. Butler; Messrs. and Mrs. Mmes. Aubrey Tillery, W. N. Neel; Carl English; M. E. Upton; Henry Figg; E. D. Moseley; Raymond Shannon; R. C. Heaton Jr.; Mmes. Neva Mallock; Boyd Stewart; Pat and Parker; Jerry Porter.

Homemade ice cream and cake were served during the social hours.

Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kelley, all sisters of the bridegroom and Miss Marsha Ray Graham, bridegroom's niece.

The bride is a student at Yuma Arizona High School. The bridegroom is serving with the U.S. Air Force at Vincent Field.

A post-nuptial courtesy was extended Mrs. Kelley in the home of Mrs. Ray Graham with approximately 70 guests calling or sending gifts.

Following a wedding trip, the bride and groom will be at home in Tampa, Fla., where Mr. Kelley will be stationed.

What can you do with outmoded and unbecoming clothes? In the big cities, you can sell them to thrift shops. This also takes care of "bargains" you never wore. But in smaller towns, the best thing to do is pack a box for a relative who can use the clothes. Anyway, don't keep clothes that don't do something for you under the delusion that they're too "good" to throw away.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Smith, 2140 Faulkner, are the parents of the bride. Mr. Coffee is the son of Mrs. Margaret Coffee, 320 N. Sumner.

For her wedding, the bride wore a ballerina-length dress of blue satin designed with three-quarter length sleeves. Sweetheart neckline, and a cummerbund encircling the full skirt. Blue satin slippers complemented her dress. Her headpiece held a secure a shoulder-length veil of white net. She carried an arrangement of white roses on a white ribbon.

Among the pre-nuptial parties for Miss Smith was a kitchen shower given by Miss Marilyn Steele, 1961 Dogwood on Thursday morning.

The honoree; her mother, Mrs. Floyd N. Smith; and Mrs. Jerry F. Nelson, bridegroom's mother, were presented with pink rose corsages.

Coffee was served from a table tastefully decorated in the bride's shades of pink and white highlight champagne pink net over pink tulle with an arrangement of pink tulle and white roses. Miss Heidi Schneider presided at the coffee service. Assisting the hostess were Misses Carol Rose Miller, Judy Smith and Mrs. Dudley Steele, mother of the hostess.

During the shower, the "grocery boy" impersonated by Miss Steele, arrived bringing can goods with no labels for the bride and bridegroom. Each guest also brought her favorite recipe.

Guests were Misses Pamela Goodlett, Carol Miller, Nancy Schaefer, Betty Nelson, Joy Williamson, Regina Riley, Heidi Schneider, Judy Smith, Joy Morgan, Rose Smith; Mmes. Molly Crawford, Lynne Cline, Jerry Nelson, Floyd Smith, N. Dudley Steele.

Harrison, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts for a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening in the private dining room of Johnson's Restaurant. Guests were members of the immediate families and the wedding party.

Theta Rho Girls Club, Rebekah Lodge To Send Delegates On UN Pilgrimage

Miss Mildred Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linzey Johnson of Pampa, has been selected by Pampa Theta Rho Girls Club to attend the annual "United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth," a continental project for youth sponsored by Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of America. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier, northwest of the city, wife of Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Texas, and by Sidney Ragsdale of Coleman, Mrs. Marjorie Judd of Amarillo, who have been selected by the Texas Assembly as adult leaders for the Texas Bus Tour. Thirty-five young people were selected from all over the state of Texas and will leave Wichita Falls on June 20 and return July 9.

The main purpose of the pilgrimage is to visit the United Nations, where they will spend six days with the councils and commissions of the United Nations in their respective headquarters. From the headquarters of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief of the U.S. delegation, the young people will learn about the part of the United States in the United Nations affairs.

Enroute to Washington, D.C. the tour will visit Texarkana, Little Rock, Ark., Memphis, Nashville, Charlotteville, Gettysburg, Washington, D.C., Mount Vernon, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Valley Forge, Hyde Park, Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada, Lafayette, Ind. and Springfield, Mo. In New York City, the young people will have accommodations in the heart of the city, Sheraton-McAlpine Hotel. Meals will be taken at the United Nations Delegates Dining Room. They will be given a boat trip around Manhattan Island; a guided tour of Rockefeller Center; have reserved seats at Radio City Music Hall and visit the Statue of Liberty and historic Frauncer Tavern.

This is the 10th consecutive year for these pilgrimages of youth to New York. Delegates are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, interest in civic affairs, participating in church young people's groups, interest in world affairs and general fitness for taking part. The UN pilgrimage director is Conrad J. Hansen of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Kretzmeier has been a member of the Rebekah Lodge for 23 years and has worked with Theta Rho Girls Club for many years.

Miss Johnson will be a senior in high school next year and has served as president of the Theta Rho Girls Clubs.

Theta Rho Girls Club with their advisor, Mrs. Pearl Castka have been busy during the past few months with projects to finance the trip for Miss Johnson. Upon her return, she will make a report on the UN trip to clubs by invitation.

Five Generations

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 13-year-old daughter refuses to go to the dentist. She has not been to one in four years and her teeth are awful. Maybe other mothers have this problem and you could help us all. Please print your answer.

UNHAPPY MOTHER: Any mother who has been taking orders from her 13-year-old daughter for four years has my deepest sympathy. If your child had a broken arm you wouldn't ask her if she cared to go to a doctor, would you? TELL her you are taking her and for goodness sakes, take her!

DEAR ABBY: two years ago my husband had an affair with a married woman in his office. We almost settled it in the divorce court but because three children were to be considered we changed our minds. He doesn't see her any more and has been trying hard to make it up to me. I am trying to forget the past, too. But Abby when he takes me in his arms and kisses me, my heart aches because I know he is thinking of her. Can you help me?

DEAR ACHING HEART: Unless you enjoy making yourself miserable, don't go in for mind reading. Maybe he's thinking what an angel you are!

DEAR ABBY: I've been wondering for a long time what I should do about this problem. I'm a widow with one child. I don't have many dates but when I do have a date, should I let my date pay for the sifter? Some men can afford it better than others. But I get so embarrassed when they insist on paying the sifter and I have to put up a fight to stop them. Being a working widow I don't have to watch my pennies, but always paid my own sitters. Some of my friends say, "Let them pay," and others say, "Don't obligate yourself." I would appreciate an opinion from you or any other women who has had this problem and solved it.

GERTIE: On the first date, NO. Regardless. After that, if he offers with real sincerity and you know he can afford it — surrender, Dear.

DEAR ABBY: I love children but enough is enough. A family moved next door to me and the first day, a little boy rapped on my back door and said he smelled I was making "something good." I was baking cookies, so when they were done, I gave him some. Now, almost every afternoon he raps on my kitchen door. If I don't answer it, he goes to the front and rings my bell. He asks me to give him "something good." Sometimes I am napping, or on the telephone, or busy, but he rings until I appear. His mother has never spoken to me — she just nods and waves. How can I handle this problem? It's like feeding a stray cat. Once you do it, there's no end.

MRS. S: It's time you spoke to his mother. She probably doesn't know her son is disturbing you. If, after you tell her, the boy persists, then it's up to you to tell him (nicely). "When I have something good I'll call YOU — don't call ME."

Mr. Williams Is Society Speaker

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Darsey, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stubbe were hosts to the Pampa Rose Society on Tuesday evening in the Darsey home, 2307 Duncan.

Mrs. H. H. Boynton, president, presided during a short business meeting, as members named the outstanding rose in their gardens this year.

Mrs. A. B. Carruth, program leader, introduced Quentin Williams, who showed movies of his and Mrs. Williams' recent visit to Hawaii.

Mrs. Stubbe distributed schedules for the Flower Show to be held on June 27.

Refreshments were served to 19 members and one guest.

Most drip and dry materials benefit from a light touch-up with a warm iron. However, you can iron pleats into a permanently pleated acrilan skirt with a twist of the wrist. After laundering, snap the skirt tautly. This shakes the pleats into place. Then hang up to dry.

Your house will be cleaner and less work for you if you use all attachments on a vacuum sweeper. Use the upholstery brush to keep bamboo screens or room dividers free of dust.

LEAVING FOR UNITED NATIONS — Miss Mildred Johnson of Theta Rho Girls Club, left, and Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier, Pampa Rebekah Lodge, will leave on Thursday for Wichita Falls, where they will join a Bus Tour of Texas delegates for a visit of the United Nations. They will also make a trip into Canada. (Daily News Photo)

ADDED ATTRACTION—Students of the Institute of Art in Hamburg, Germany, are escorting their "You Name It" vehicle through the streets during a carnival. The object at left is another of the humorous props on display for the celebration. The students were advertising a series of masked balls to be held at their school.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!—France Nuyen, star of the Broadway hit "The World of Suzie Wong," welcomed in the Chinese New Year—year 4657—with the traditional lion's head that's generally used to celebrate the event. The Chinese New Year lasts for 15 days, and New York's famed Chinatown section was a beehive of activity during the opening festivities.

PUP CONTENT—With the weather outside so frightful and the fireside so delightful, these small pooches have bedded down for the afternoon alongside a cozy hearth in London, England. They had just finished a good meal and felt the need for a little snooze.

IT'S THE STYLE—Photographers and models in Florence, Italy, are seen as they took pictures to show the world's women what they'll be wearing next summer. The girls have struck poses for this man and others who work with a camera.

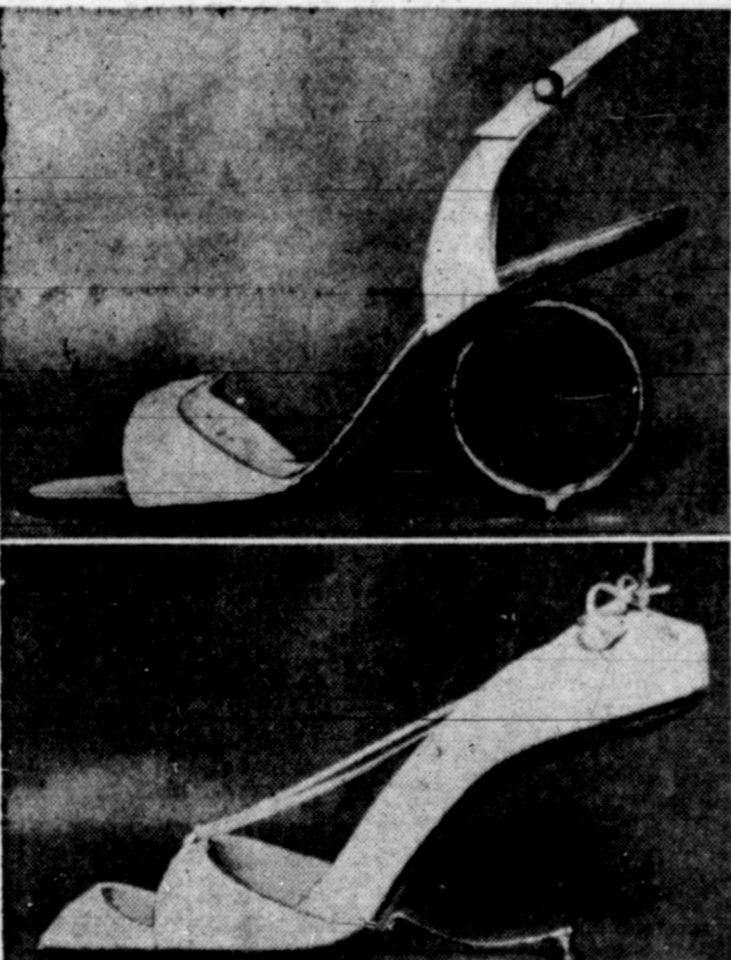

CHIP AHOY!—Hoisting away at Spithead, England, Royal Navy sailor John Bulford takes a good first look at his son, three-month-old Steven. Tugged out in his own sailor suit, Steven was on hand to greet his pop when the latter's ship returned from a tour of the Mediterranean.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

UNDAMPENED ENTHUSIASM—Every cloud has a silver lining for these kids on the outskirts of Jakarta, Indonesia. Heavy rains have flooded the street, but the youngsters are extremely happy about their new, and completely unplanned, swimming pool.

OUT AT THE HEEL—The hula hoop and the space age are brought to heel in these new Italian shoes in Rome. The sandal at top has a metal ring in place of the usual high heel. The shoe below has a special "space heel," at the end of a very strong steel arm attached to the sole.

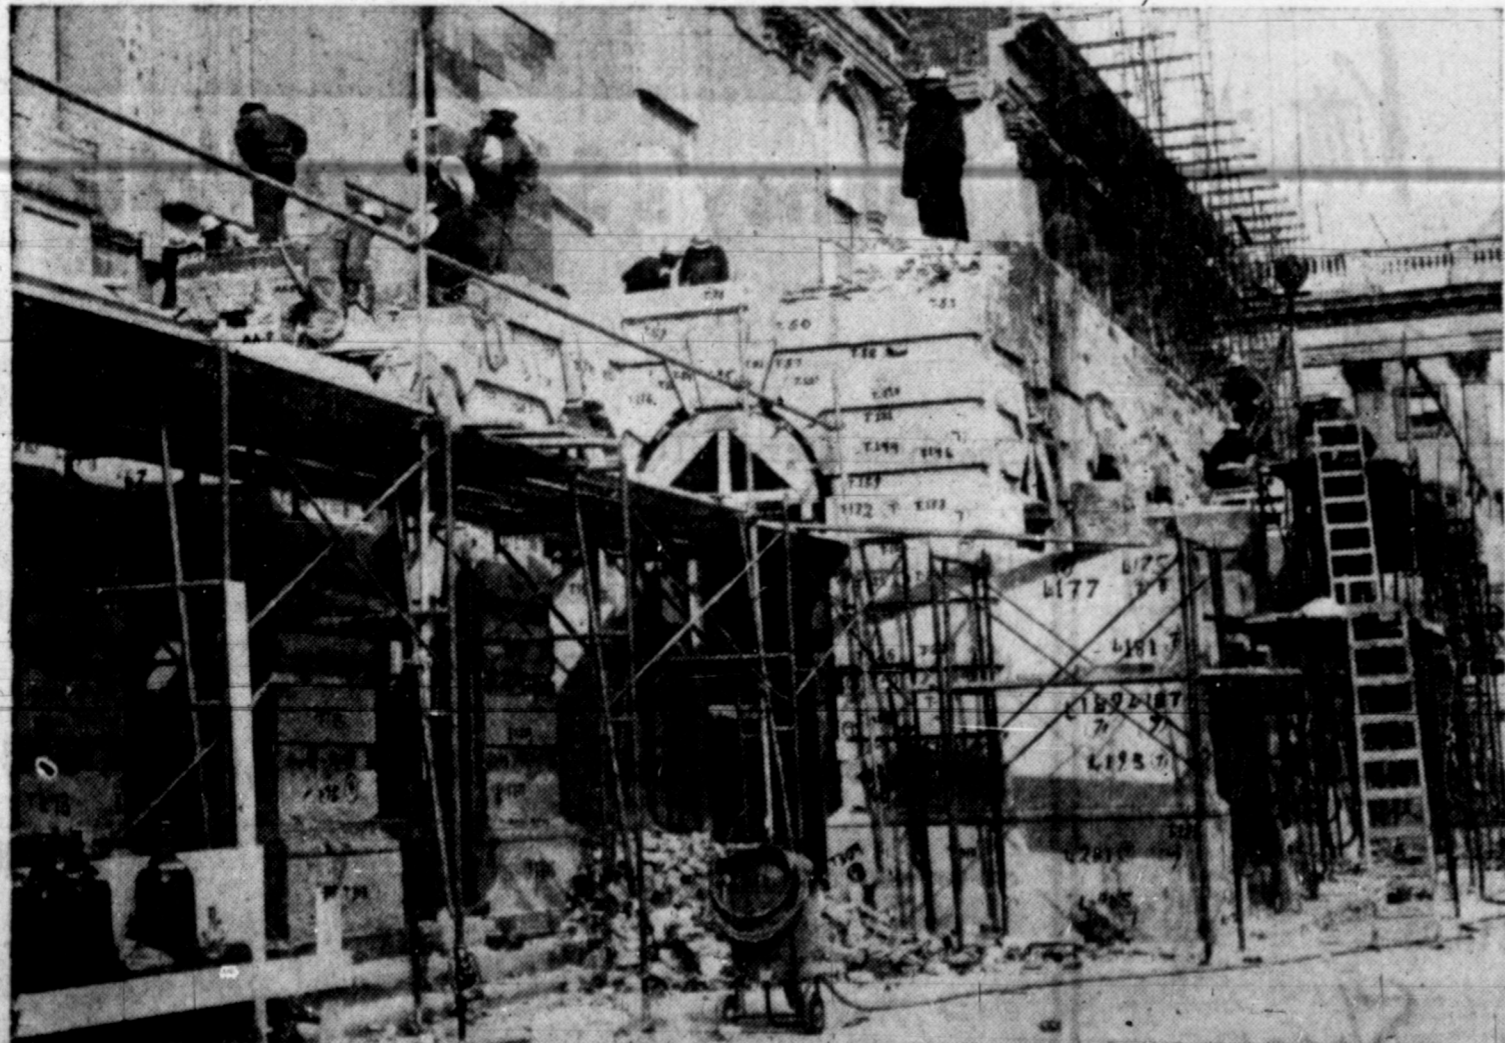

PALMED OFF—Frollicking on a wall in Miami Beach, Fla., Sara Brockett scores a clean sweep with a palm frond. She has her own broom-wielding technique as she does some light house-keeping in the open air.

NOTHING LIKE A DAME—Seemingly waving farewell to former shipmates aboard the oiler USS Hassayampa, this makeshift pin-up girl, known fondly to the Pacific Fleet as Taiwan-Tess, is getting a transfer in the line of duty. The dummy was put aboard the destroyer Trathen at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to provide feminine companionship for men aboard.

HIGH ADVENTURE—Atop bamboo ladders, some firemen performed acrobatic stunts during the annual fire brigade review in Tokyo, Japan. The men were costumed as firemen of ancient Yedo, the name of Tokyo more than 300 years ago. The latest equipment was also on display.

BY THE NUMBER—Workmen dismantling the East Front of the U.S. Capitol Building in Washington, D. C., uncovered a group of arches which had been hidden since about 1822. After they were built, the architect decided to erect an outside stairway which covered them up. Here, the blocks in the arches have been carefully numbered so that they can be put together again elsewhere as an historical monument. The arches were found during work to extend East Front by 3 1/2 feet.

FOR THE WEARY—Set up high in the Tyrolian Alps, a sheltered crucifix stands impressively amid the crisp, powdered snow at Going, Austria. The temporarily deserted religious symbol adds a note of solemnity to the peaceful winter scene.

SHELLING OUT—Mildred Kwan, 11, of Vancouver, B. C., gave a $125,000 check to Mrs. Adelaide Sinclair (left), deputy executive director of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) at the U.N. headquarters in New York. The money was collected by Canadian children in a campaign held last October. John G. H. Halstead, Counsellor of the Canadian mission to the U.N., is looking on with Mrs. Helen Kwan, Mildred's mother.

Maybe It's Habit

We hear a great deal these days about "world leaders" and those who are politicians or who "national leadership." The implications are that there are certain organizations whose aims are human beings, more brilliantly to get the government to do something than their fellows, whose pronouncements constitute some- thing in the nature of a beacon...

From the results which are being obtained at the supposed instance of our leaders, it appears that the leaders are simply men with a sort of native shrewdness and cunning who have been able to ascertain in advance just what the bad habits of thought or practice are, and then to pronounce them in such a manner that they obtain credit for leading the people into the folly which the people were about to enter in any case.

During a score of centuries certain thought patterns and habits have largely been adopted in the Western world. One of the most impressive and, at the same time, most distressing of these habits is the tendency of so many to look to their government to solve their problems for them. It is actually in this area of habit that most of today's "leadership" emerges.

Unlimited Taxation

While a great host of Americans have been thinking in terms of economy insofar as their federal government is concerned, it now appears that the legislators have been thinking about the problem, not in a rather different way. It is all too true that our present tax structure is lopsided, confu- sion, and the day of ultimate disaster for the nation will be speeded enormously.

Both may agree that something ought to be done about taxes. But just what should be done varies totally, depending on whether you happen to be a Congressman or an honest taxpayer. For the cat is out of the bag. A massive study to consider ways and means of revising the whole structure is scheduled to get underway next November. The main object of this study is to get more tax money, not less. The legislators are dreaming of the day when ALL the tax loopholes will be plugged up and everyone will be taxed rationally without a penny's worth left at all.

The Pampa Daily News YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence. This newspaper is dedicated to promoting and preserving YOUR freedom as well as our own. For only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he reap in its utmost capabilities.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOLLES

"How Labor Unions Cause Inflation"

It would seem that every person who is interested in the present and future welfare should try to understand why we have rising prices and to understand what inflation really is. Leonard F. Read, president of the Foundation for Economic Education, has an interesting article on the above subject in the May issue of "The Freeman" magazine.

Those people who want to be able to better understand and thus be able to better explain the free enterprise way of life can obtain this monthly magazine without cost by simply writing the Foundation for Economic Education, Inc., Irvington-on-Hudson, New York, and ask to be put on the mailing list for "The Freeman."

Here is the way Read introduces his article on "How Labor Unions Cause Inflation": "Labor unions 'cause' inflation in precisely the same manner as do chambers-of-commerce, the National Council of Churches, thousands of other organizations, and millions of individuals who call themselves Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, and Communists."

On the national and international scene it is clear that we have no true leadership at all. Our alleged leaders are simply repeating and over-repeating the same ridiculous ideas and policies which were old when the Circus Maximus of Rome was new.

The first requirement of getting out of a bad habit is the recognition that you have the habit and that not a single brain cell is truly employed in pursuing it. When that recognition comes, either to a "leader" or a "follower," then it is possible for a bad habit to be broken.

Robert Allen Reports:

Stormy Senate Battles Only Part of the Story

WASHINGTON — Those stormy Senate battles over the appointments of Commerce Secretary Straus and other high officials are only part of the confirmation story. While wide attention has focused on those turbulent wrangles, an equally significant situation has gone unnoticed in the Senate Judiciary committee...

There is no indication in these backstage logjams are apt to be broken. The prospects for that on the new judgeship bill are virtually nil. With only several months of this session remaining, serious consideration to this major legislation nor any sign of intending to do so.

Inflation Defined "Let's dismiss the labor union subject for a moment and examine inflation. What is it? Inflation is merely an increase in the money supply. The process or act of diluting the medium of exchange is inflation. Basically, but not necessarily accurately, inflation is legalized counterfeiting, inflating the medium of exchange — everything else being equal — will result in higher prices. But the rising price trend itself is not inflation; it is only one of the possible consequences of inflation. It is of supreme importance that we know the difference between cause and effect."

Magic Lamp Could Bring, Wife, Husband! By HENRY MCLEMORE I used to think that if I were handed an Aladdin's Lamp and told to wish away, I'd ask for ten million dollars, or a new head of hair, or a dry cleaner who wouldn't tag my suits with a riveting machine.

It's Up To You by Howard Kershner L. H. D. Capitalistic Way Is The Only Way If taxable individual income in excess of $6,000 were all siphoned off and divided equally among 175 million American citizens, each one of us would receive about $80.00.

Nothing will come of it, of course, for a union of these two would be too good to be true. But wouldn't it be great if they did swoon into no another's arms and fly off somewhere, leaving the front pages behind them, and giving us readers a rest. I'd chip in to help pay for the honeymoon.

The late Charles Fort compiled newspaper clippings of unexplained phenomena which he assembled into four fascinating books. Strange things continue to happen on our planet and to be reported in the press. Take the subject of mysterious disappearances. On January 11, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Jackson Jr., and their two daughters, disappeared on a road near Richmond, Va. Their car was found but they've not been heard from since.

D-Day, The Beginning Of The End For World War II

Editor's Note—Sam D. Hales, Southwest Division business manager of United Press International in Dallas, covered the invasion of Europe as a war correspondent 15 years ago Saturday. This is his story of what happened on D-Day in Normandy.

By SAM D. HALES
United Press International
The sun began to light the sand and poplars on the coast of Normandy, 15 years ago Saturday, in a slippery bottomed, overgrown plywood box with a motor on it, stuck on what became known that day as Omaha Beach. German shells burst close by with nasty, loud bangs. Bullets whined. Boats sank. Tanks blew up. Some men died. Others cried for help. It was D-Day, Hour plus 50. The fourth wave of the attack was hitting the beach, 20 minutes late, against an aroused and active enemy.

The day was already more than four hours old for its very active participants, but it really was just beginning. It lasted seemingly without end. Certainly no participant ever will lose any of the vividness of its events.

What One Man Saw
These recollections written today are not about generals or admirals or broad issues of the battle which was waged on our side by the world's largest amphibious expedition. This is just an account of what one man saw those around him do and in some cases who they were and what they said. E Pluribus Unum, so to speak.

That day I was one of many correspondents spotted through the naval forces, the headquarters ships in the invasion armada, at air bases, glider and paratrooper bases back in England and anywhere else back there that news might come out. We were put there to supplement the news of the fighting ashore that might or might not get back that day from the few men the high command allowed to go ashore with the assault forces.

The 14 soldiers, three sailors and I in that grounded landing craft (LCVP) were wet to the skin and cold and some had been seasick for four hours. Eleven miles out, we had circled and bobbed in rough seas for two hours, being lined up for the run to the beaches. For two more hours, we made the run, under the great naval bombardment.

Past Battleship Texas
We came past the old battleship Texas, now listless and immured at San Jacinto. But that morning the old Texas thundered 14-inch shells shoreward, to the accompaniment of red flashes and clouds of nicotine smoke. Warships of all sizes and several nations blasted away. Special rocket ships closer to shore fired whole barrages in salvo.

A captain in our little boat slept through the whole fireworks show; he said he would get some rest while he still could. The Navy crew were Salerno veterans and seemed blasé.

That is, they did until all of a sudden we ran out of water and a big triangle of railroad rails loomed in front of us. The landing ramp up front wouldn't lower to let our machine gun platoon and our special - chore captain dash through the surf, as advertised.

That was LeRoy C. Samuels, of McKeesport, Pa.; he was wounded an hour or so later and back in England the next day before I was.

"Now, there's plenty of time," he soothed the shouting sailor. "Let's not get flustered."

Samuels and a bespectacled platoon commander handed our load of 80 - caliber machine gun ammunition over the side of the craft to the soldiers. The GIs had gone over the side, with a right good will, as soon as advised. Samuels vaulted over too. The platoon commander was Lt. Harry J. Lotfus, of Milwaukee, Wis. Our coxswain gunned the engine this way and that and got us unstuck. We had been sitting ducks for seven minutes. Suddenly he idled the engine again and he and the ensign in charge dived into the water. They hoisted in four shuddering, dripping sailors from a landing craft that had foundered, next to us, full of bullet holes.

Soldiers Cover on Floor
Three soldiers lunged through the water, clambered into our boat, covered wet and shaking, on the floor.

"Get out! Go back! You belong back there!"
The four shuddered and stared unseeing but did not move. "Ah-H-H-H! You..."
The ensign sneered. He shook his fist at the soldiers, hoistered the platoon, turned to the coxswain. "Let's get out of here."

So we got out of there, hunted for a long time through the fore of ships that had moved along in by then, for the LST (landing ship, tank) from which we had started for shore at 3 a.m.

Plenty of Pensions
In the United States, 3.5 million people receive old-age pensions approximating a pension expense of $3,762,000,000, greater amount in the world.
