Hughes' Son Reports Home From Russia

EDITOR'S NOTE—Pampan Richard B. Hughes and his wife Loretta left Russia recently after some illuminating visits to Moscow and Leningrad. Hughes, a minister in the Presbyterian Church, gives his impressions of the Soviet Union in three letters written to his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes, 400 W. Harvester. The first two letters appear below. Hughes last letter from Russia will appear in the Sunday edition of the Daily News.

RICHARD HUGHES inside Russia

Dear Dad & Mother,

We arrived in Russia today after a very pleasant trip from Copenhagen. We stopped about 3 hours each in Stockholm and Helsinki. Our party includes diverse Brit- ishers, Americans, French, Swed- ish, etc. — or at least those on the boat were of mixed nationalities. All our group in Russia are Eng- lish speaking. There are two ladies from New Zealand, several Eng- lish and a couple other Amer- icans. They're a jolly lot, to borrow not from the Americans.

As all tourists, we're under the tourist organization and they seem to be taking good care of all our needs. The hotel and food are pretty good and we got in our first sightseeing this afternoon. We're all going to the ballet as the Rus- sians, Loretta and most of the party seem to think it's great.

It's fairly warm, although I'll wear wool tonight. After all, we're parallel to Southern Greenland. Leningrad was founded in 1703 by Peter the Great and called St. Petersburg, not after the czar but the fisherman. It was renamed Leningrad after the Bolshevik Revolution. Peter had moved the capitol here, but it was moved back to Moscow in 1918.

We met a couple of men from our embassy in Moscow on the boat. They don't like the job much — had climate they confided.

The hotel rules on the desk in front of me is printed in German, English, French and Chinese. Apparently quite a large number of Germans and Chinese come to visit, study, etc.

Some of the architecture here is terrific. The onion shaped churches, the elaborate buildings, the Winter Palace of the Tsars. The hotels, plumbing, etc., would be of interest to Dad — architecturally unique.

We hear that Lynn may be coming home for a short stay. We hope the visit was and will be a happy one.

We're recording our visit on pa- per and film and will give you a much fuller report later.

In the meantime we are most

TRUCK BLAST KILLS EIGHT

By JAMES DOYLE United Press International
ROSEBURG, Ore. (UPI) — A truck containing explosives blew up with a thundering roar in the southwest Oregon city early today and an area for blocks around was devastated by the blast and resulting fire.

At least eight persons were dead. One hospital had at least 35 injured, and another 15. Many more were given emergency treatment.

The blast dug a crater about 50 feet across and 10 to 15 feet deep. A two-block area looked as if it had been bombed out.

The truck blew up about 1:25 a. m., shortly after firemen were called to a blaze at a building supply company. The truck was parked near the building. Firemen said it contained a form of nitrate.

Business establishments in the immediate blast area were destroyed. The buildings included service stations, a flour mill, one motor company and apartments above it.

Firemen said the blast was under control and was confined to an area about five blocks long and two blocks wide.

Firemen Tony Shuckie said nearly everything inside the fire area was a "mass of poas."

One of the dead was tentatively identified as Asst. Fire Chief Roy McFarland. A policeman also was reported killed. One police car and two fire department pumps were lost.

Cars parked in the blast area were turned into pieces of twisted metal.

Police ordered a seven-acre square block area evacuated because of fear that propane tanks near the railroad depot might blow up.

Firemen were cooling the tanks with water.

Bill Brubaker, announcer at radio station KXRL here, said he lives about five blocks from the center of the fire.

"The explosion knocked me out of bed. I looked up and saw mushrooming flames. Windows were smashed," he said.

"I ran down to the fire. There was debris scattered all over the street. I saw one body — a boy about 18 or 19 about three blocks from the center. He must have been dead."

A spokesman at one hospital said scores were reported injured, some badly and many others less seriously. Many were hurt by flying glass.

Looting Feared
Deputy Sheriff Bob Johnson, speaking from a badly damaged cafe about a quarter of a mile from the blast, said there was much rubble in the area.

State and city police, national guardsmen and sheriff's officers were called in to prevent looting. Efforts were being made to keep the fire on the east side of the Umpqua River, which flows through this town of about 13,000 persons. The main business district is on the east side of the river.

Khrushchev expressed a desire to visit the Lone Star state. "This is a hell of a way to get publicity on the last day of the season," Sater said, pointing out that the president and secretary of state had invited Khrushchev.

House Finally Closes Session

By LLOYD LARRABEE United Press International
The House rang the curtain down voting 195-20 approval of the $2,410,000,000 appropriations bill that senators okayed Wednesday.

It came shortly after the second light in two days broke out on the House floor.

Some legislators expressed the opinion that Gov. Price Daniel might call a fourth special session in the near future to raise the pay of public school teachers.

Before the Senate adjourned it elected Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso as president pro tem, a position that places him third in command of state government.

Daniel signed into law Thursday the 185 million dollar tax bill that the legislature finally agreed upon last week, thus ending the stalemate that kept lawmakers at their desks during the 120 day regular session, two 30 day special sessions and 21 days of the third extraordinary meeting.

The new tax bill hits cigarette smokers hardest with an additional three cents per package levy, and contains a number of other selective sales taxes.

Fleet Breaks Out
The fight Thursday was between Rep. Jerry Sadler of Palestine and Rep. Louis Dugas.

Sadler led opposition to a proposed resolution by Dugas stating that Soviet Boss Nikita Khrushchev is unwelcome in Texas during next month's swing of the United States.

Khrushchev expressed a desire to visit the Lone Star state. "This is a hell of a way to get publicity on the last day of the season," Sater said, pointing out that the president and secretary of state had invited Khrushchev.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) of the House Labor Committee, who favors the Landrum-Griffin measure, said the "situation looks very good" for approval of that bill.

Landrum said, "I think we are going to win." Griffin said the speech would help "win a battle that the American people can't afford to lose."

Issue Called Partisan
But Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz.), a leading backer of the labor committee bill, said the Eisen- hower speech "plays into our hands" by making a partisan issue of reform legislation.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), chief author of the Senate bill, warned that the Landrum-Griffin measure might cause a congressional deadlock that would kill all reform legislation.

He said the measure would "wreck the legitimate union movement."

AFL-CIO President George Meany went on the nationwide NBC radio hookup two hours after Eisen- hower to denounce the Landrum-Griffin bill as an attempt to impose punitive restrictions on the entire labor movement because of corruption in some unions. He termed the bill a "blunderbuss."

He also assailed a too-tough House committee measure. Many urged the public to write their congressmen in support of a mild substitute by Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif.).

Ike Proposes Labor Reform

By RONALD H. NENSEN United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pres- ident Eisenhower threw his full personal and official prestige behind a strong labor reform bill Thursday night in a tough-wor- ded nationwide radio-TV appeal for "truly effective" legislation.

In the 15-minute speech, Eisen- hower called on Congress to re- spond to an "overwhelming national disgrace" of racketeers, crooks and other corrupt elements in labor unions.

The President gave examples of "blackmail" picketing, secondary boycotts and "no-man's land" cases. After each one, he looked directly into the TV lens and de- clared sternly, "I want that sort of thing stopped. So does Amer- ica."

He praised a proposed bill by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) and Robert F. Griffin (R-Mich.) as "a good start toward a real labor reform law. He also pointed out that his own recommendations still were before Congress.

Senate Bill "Weak"
Eisenhower rejected as too weak a moderate Senate-passed bill and an even milder measure approved by the House Labor Committee. He said neither "will really do the job" to curb the abuses the American people want to see corrected.

Backers of the rival measure gave sharply different assess- ments of the effect of Eisen- hower's address on the House labor reform showdown expected next week.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) of the House Labor Committee, who favors the Landrum-Griffin measure, said the "situation looks very good" for approval of that bill.

Landrum said, "I think we are going to win." Griffin said the speech would help "win a battle that the American people can't afford to lose."

Highway 70 Roadwork Set To Begin Wednesday

Reconstruction work on Highway 70, twenty-three miles north of Pampa is expected to begin next Wednesday. It was announced at a meeting here Thursday morning.

The portion of the highway set for repair work is from the Canadian River bridge to a point about nine miles south in Roberts County. It is expected that work will be completed in 75 days.

Resident Highway Engineer G. K. Reading said that the portion under construction will be zoned to a 45-mile per-hour speed while work is in progress, and that only about one and one-half miles of road will be under construction at any one time.

Present at Thursday's meeting in the County Courtroom were Reading, Joe Terrill of the Gilvin and Terrill Construction Co. of Amarillo, and Lt. Jack Higginbotham and E. G. Albers, both of the Department of Public Safety.

Sailor Robs, Slays Wealthy Widow

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (SpI) — A 21-year-old Pampa Navy man, Wade Zack Brown, has admitted to Riverside police he shot and killed a wealthy widow here Tuesday night.

He said he shot Mrs. L. E. Helms Boat because he had stolen $43 from her and knew he would be found out. Police Capt. Robert Eresley said Brown shot Mrs. Boat as she sat by an open window on her 800-acre estate near Riverside. The Pampa man, who enlisted at Pampa Jan. 17, 1957, said the 49-year-old woman had been "cool" and "bent" to him. He said she had loaned him $50 to buy a car.

He still owes her $20, he said, and went to her home to ask for an extension on the loan. But she refused.

Capt. Eresley said Brown told him he stole $42 from Mrs.

Rocket's 3 Stages All Fire

By RICHARD F. ROPER United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A towering three stage rocket hurled a "paddlewheel" satellite into space today in an experiment that could solve one of the key problems facing proposed Venus and Mars probes.

Fifteen minutes after the 90 foot tall rocket roared off the National Aeronautics and Space Administration a- nounced that all three stages of the vehicle fired.

NASA disclosed no information immediately on whether the rocket attained the speed and angle of flight necessary to achieve the pancake-flat orbit sought for the satellite.

Space technologists hoped the 142-pound satellite packed with 15 major scientific experiments would go into an elongated orbit 23,000 miles from the earth at its most distant point and only 160 miles away at its closest approach.

Launched in Flame
The huge Thor Able III rocket carrying the satellite jumped from its launching pad in a gust of flame at 9:23 a. m.

Within three to five hours it would be known whether the paddlewheel was going into orbit.

The first stage engine of the gleaming white rocket roared into life and lifted majestically from its launching stand. After about 15 seconds it bared through two low hanging cloud banks and then began arching toward the north- east in its planned flight trajectory.

It could be seen for 2 1/2 minutes before disappearing into the sky. This was the planned burning time of the first stage rocket.

The aluminum-covered artificial moon, nicknamed the "paddlewheel" because of four paddle-shaped vanes projecting from it, was the most compre- hensive scientific package the United States has attempted to hurl into orbit around the earth.

Attached to the four vanes were 8,000 solar cells to re-charge the satellite's chemical batteries during its earth-orbiting journey. If this method of keeping batteries alive proves successful, it will mean the United States has de- veloped a power supply for main- taining communications with space probes taking months to reach Venus and Mars.

The 14 other major scientific experiments carried in the satellite include devices to measure the hazardous belts of radiation surrounding the earth and a TV scanner designed to send back color pictures of the earth's cloud cover.

The launching rocket's third stage had to reach a peak speed of 22,000 miles an hour to put the paddlewheel into the orbit planned for it. This speed — 4,000 miles an hour more than the minimum necessary to get a satellite into orbit — was necessary because the orbit sought this time was as flat and elongated.

To help the paddlewheel achieve this difficult orbit, its makers built into the payload itself a small, solid-fuel "kick" rocket designed to boost the paddlewheel an extra 30 to 100 miles away from the earth during its first orbit. Planners feared that because of the elongated orbit, the satellite might come back too close to earth.

United Press International has reported that if the paddlewheel is successful, the United States will attempt to put a 375-pound payload into orbit around the moon early in October, and send another probe deep into space in November to test radio communi- cations over distances of millions of miles.

The Daily News gauge regis- tered 48 hundredths of an inch of moisture this morning from rain that fell during the night.

Big Two Visits Concern Europe

By DONALD R. SHANOR United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — European nations concerned over the prospect of a "Big Two" approach to world affairs began a round of talks today designed to insure that their interests will be pro- tected.

U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Livingston Merchant arrived in Rome to assure the Italian gov- ernment that the coming ex- change of visits between Pres- ident Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev will not have the effect of dividing the world into two spheres of influence.

At the same time, West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Ko- hrenstein was preparing to report to Parliament on the situation. Reports in Bonn said Chancellor Adenauer's cabinet is seeking a pledge that the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks will cause no weakening of the Western position in Berlin.

In London, Prime Minister Har- old Macmillan was continuing talks with Foreign Secretary Sel-wyn Lloyd on the situation created by the Big Four foreign min- isters' inability to reach any agreement on Germany or Ber- lin.

HOMES DAMAGED BY FIRES HERE

Two Pampa homes caught fire during the early morning hours today. One of the homes, at 941 E. Gordon, was heavily damaged.

Firemen said the Gordon 51. home caught fire shortly after midnight when a short circuit de- veloped in the home's wiring. The home is listed as the residence of Carlton Robinson.

At 2:14 a. m. the A. L. Bain residence at 236 W. Brown was partially damaged when a cigare- tte fell on a living room divan. Firemen said damages were confined to one room.

Poolside Buffet Supper Is Ultimate In Luxury

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food-and-Markets Editor

Why not get in the backyard swim this Labor Day and keep off the hazardous highways? Supper at the edge of the family pool—relaxation and refreshing privacy. Swimming pools are increasingly part of the American domestic scene.

In Westport, Connecticut, we went to a poolside party in honor of Ruth Millett.

RUTH MILLETT

The first thing a lot of couples do when they finally make the down payment on their dream house is to get rid of all old furniture and knickknacks and decorate each room exactly as they think it should be done.

This not only takes a lot of money, but the result is often a tastefully decorated house that doesn't have any of the individuality that makes a house a home.

Somewhere in anybody's dream house there ought to be a place for the rocker their children were rocked to sleep in when they were babies—if there was a rocker.

There ought to be a place for at least a few of the things that furnished their first, small apartment when they were struggling to get a start.

There ought to be a place for something just because it belonged to one of their grandmothers—a reminder of the past for the children to respect and cherish.

There ought to be a place for family photographs—and the small, decorative things brought back from trips. Whether or not they fit in with the decorating scheme is not nearly so important as whether or not they bring back memories of happy times.

And there ought to be a place for a few things of purely sentimental value.

The reason why so many dream houses today look so very much alike is that there is no room in them for the past.

And so they aren't as much like homes as like model houses that a family moved into with empty hands, bringing nothing of their tradition or their own individuality.

of Esther Williams, patron saint of the family swimming pool.

With the vivacious and friendly honored guest, we shared our buffet supper, served at the pool's edge on a rolling cart—mugs of hot beef broth from a coffee carafe, miniature meat balls with crispy consistency, plus a sour cream sauce, a vegetable mold, bowls of fresh fruit and homemade cookies and coffee. That menu is perfect for an "at home by the pool" Labor Day buffet.

MINIATURE MERMAID MEAT BALLS

(Makes 10 to 12 servings)
Two pounds ground round steak, 1 large onion (minced fine), 1 egg beaten, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon caraway seeds, 1 1/2-ounce bag potato chips.

Crush the potato chips very fine with a rolling pin. Mix meat, egg and onion. Add caraway seeds and potato chips. Form into 35 small, bite-sized balls and roll in the crushed chips. Press the chips well onto the meat balls. Prepare in advance, refrigerate until sauce is cooked.

SAUCE A LA ESTHER

One-half cup olive oil, 2 onions sliced mushrooms, 1 clove garlic (put through press), 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 pint sour cream, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Heat olive oil and add chopped onions and crushed garlic. When brown, add canned mushrooms and juice. Cover and cook slowly for a minute, stirring occasionally.

Stir in Worcestershire sauce and sour cream. Add meat balls. Cover until thoroughly hot—about 5 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste and serve at once.

TOMORROW'S POOLSIDE DINNER: Beef broth in mugs, miniature meat balls in Esther Sauce, fluffy rice, crusty French bread, butter or margarine, raw vegetable relish tray, fruit bowl, cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

For a delicious all-in-one supper sandwich, try this: Place a slice of hot buttered toast in an individual heat-proof casserole. Top with creamed chicken or tuna. Sprinkle generously with shredded mild nut-like flavored Gouda cheese and broil just until cheese melts.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I shouldn't feel this way, but I can't help it. I just celebrated my fifteenth wedding anniversary and my husband didn't even send me a card. He's perfect in every way. He doesn't drink, curse or chase. He brings home his pay check in one piece and he worships me and the children. But he says that birthdays, anniversaries and even Mother's Day are "just another day."

I know he loves me, but when I get together with my friends and sisters-in-law and they ask me what he gave me for my anniversary, I am speechless. Am I wrong to feel hurt?

DEAR HURT: A woman who is married to a man who "worships" her and the children, doesn't drink, curse or chase and who brings home his pay check in one piece, shouldn't complain when he doesn't make a fuss over her one day a year. Count your blessings. And when anyone asks you what your husband gave you for your anniversary, say, "Fifteen of the happiest years of my life."

DEAR ABBY: My doctor says I should have a husband, but my boyfriend is in no hurry. I am 29 and my boyfriend is 31 and we have been going around together since 1946. He is working steady and so am I. My hope chest is so full I can't close the lid. My doctor says when I settle down with a nice loving man I will get rid of the pains in my neck. How can I get my boyfriend to set a date for the wedding and keep it?

WANTING TO MARRY
DEAR WANTING: A boyfriend who balks at the hitching post after a 13-year courtship is enough to give any girl a pain in the neck. Tell him it's "Now or Never." Stalls are for horses.

NO NERVE
DEAR NO: If you have one pie or cake pan left, bake something you know she likes and take it over to her. Before you leave say, "Would you mind if I removed it from the pan as I have no more at home—which reminds me, while I'm here, Dear, may I please take back those pans and bowls? I could certainly use them." Exit, smiling and triumphant.

Shades Of Betsy! Handbags For Men?

Possibility Seen In Pocketless Suits

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Handbags for men? It will happen, says one menswear manufacturer, unless the American male reasserts himself and says no to some of the "haute couture" influences from Italy and France.

And, unless he also says no to the woman who insists that he look to the Continent for styles, as she does.

Stanley Goldman, executive vice president of Eagle Clothes, charged that "You women take everything Paris and Rome says as gospel, and now you're trying to get the men to do the same."

"The American male already is the best-dressed man in the world; they should copy us."

Omitting Pockets
He labelled "slim, sleek and stylish" some of the trends in men's fashions. He said some European designers are leaving out pockets to prevent distortion of a suit's lines by cigars, billfolds, handkerchiefs and other items.

"I hear they're about to market men's handbags to hold such necessities," said Goldman. "If virile, manly men don't stand up and be counted... well, one day we may be back in skirts."

Goldman, with the 40-year-old firm for the last 19 years, said that he is all for changes in men's styles. But not to the extent of the extremes currently available.

"The narrow pants which show a man's kneecap when he walks, ridiculous," he said. "Or coats so snug they look like the man's outgrown them. Sports jackets which look like oil paintings."

"If the Frenchman is well dressed, I will close the doors of my office tomorrow," he said. "And the Italians! Some of the men look like they're in hand-me-downs."

Doesn't Ask For Continental
Goldman believes the average man wants "to look good in his clothes" but not like a dandy. His firm, which does a 15 million dollar business annually through

Hi! The ballet last night was marvelous — Peer Gynt — as was the ice cream that's so popular here. Everybody had ice cream at intermission — and there are vendors selling it on every corner. We've been amazed to see so many Americans here — must be 50 in this hotel alone.

You must be in New York today to see Punk off tomorrow. We can't wait to see her! Love, Loretta Hotel Peking, Moscow

Dear Dad & Mom, Putting it as conservatively as I know how, this has been one of the most thrilling experiences of my lifetime. We have learned a great deal and enjoyed ourselves thoroughly.

This morning I went to a public school, followed by a tour through the 24,000 student University of Moscow.

Last night our party went to "Prince Igor," an opera in the grand manner.

In the morning came a visit to the Kremlin and Monday we also visited the Baptist Church and met its English speaking pastor.

Tuesday night we sail from Leningrad and reach Copenhagen the 26th, where I hope we shall hear from you.

I registered at our Embassy and visited the British Embassy with some British friends.

There is no doubt that science and math are important to these people. They begin biology in 5th grade, physics in 5th, chemistry in 9th. We visited an exhibition yesterday, designed in large part, to show Soviet accomplishments in science, technology, agriculture, and industry and to create incentive to excel.

Many apartment buildings are going up, but we have seen practically no private dwellings. That reveals a great deal about the psychology of the government, I think.

There is no doubt who the patron saint of the country is: Lenin's statue and picture is omnipresent, his tomb on Red Square requires waiting in line 4 hours to be seen (factually, Stalin is buried there too) and there are numerous museums and monuments in his honor.

He apparently holds a strong Stalin and present leaders.

We'll write on board ship. There is much more to say when we get time. Our love, Richard

Eisenhower, Khrushchev Will Like Asked to Hold Some Informal Meetings Set Deadline

By STEWART HENSLEY United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower is expected to take Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to his secluded Camp David retreat in Maryland for informal talks at some point during the Russian leader's visit next month.

This was reported today by well-informed officials who said tentative plans for the Camp David talks are emerging from U.S. Soviet negotiations on arrangements for the Khrushchev visit, which begins Sept. 15. Officials said Eisenhower and Khrushchev would have a much better chance to get down to brass tacks in a discussion of cold war problems in the relaxed, private atmosphere of the mountain retreat than at White House meetings.

The President and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan went to Camp David, which is in the Catoctin mountains about 25 miles from Washington, last spring for several days of conferences.

The disclosure that Khrushchev might be invited to Camp David came amid these other developments in connection with his visit to this country.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter were to report to the President's cabinet this morning on their recent dealings with the Soviets.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said he would welcome a chance to show U.S. military installations to Khrushchev. He said it would be "constructive" for the Soviet leader to see that "the military strength opposing him is sizable, effective and competent to carry out its mission."

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) suggested that Eisenhower invite Khrushchev for a cruise on the atomic submarine Nautilus. Gore said it would be an "enjoyable, invigorating, and challenging experience" for the Soviet leader.

European nations concerned over the prospect of a "Big Two" approach to world affairs began a round of talks today designed to insure that their interests will be protected.

President In Good Shape For Meeting

By WILLIAM J. EATON United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's close associates said today he appears to be in good physical shape for his forthcoming round of cold-war meetings with world leaders.

The Chief Executive heads for his Gettysburg farm today to begin an extended vacation. He departs for Europe later this month for talks with Allied heads of government before he meets Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Eisenhower is scheduled to interrupt his vacation for a 24-hour return to Washington to keep Sunday morning appointments. But he then will go back to Gettysburg for an indefinite stay.

This period of relaxation interspersed with White House business should help fortify the President for the hectic months to come.

Those close to Eisenhower also said his mental attitude seems to have improved. He's more cheerful these days and no longer shows as much irritation over minor setbacks, which plague every President.

His personal physician, Dr. Howard McC. Snyder, is reported to be pleased by the President's physical and mental fitness.

Reporters who cover the President's daily activities have noticed that he appears to be in better humor recently on the golf course and during his public appearances. Photographers have commented on his ruddy complexion, ready smile and general air of alertness.

One of the President's associates said he felt the Chief Executive, like any normal person, now gets more kick out of his job because he is involved in history-making events like the swap of visits with Khrushchev.

ike Asked to Set Deadline In Steel Strike

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — Thirty Democrats were reported signed today as co-sponsors of a Senate resolution calling on President Eisenhower to set a deadline for a voluntary steel strike settlement and to set up a fact-finding board if it is not met.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), author of the proposal said it would remain open for further sponsoring, signatures today and be submitted tonight to the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

Meanwhile Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan said union and industry negotiators are "getting down to brass tacks" although still not taking "hard cash" as they go into their fifth consecutive day of bargaining talks since the strike began 24 days ago.

Despite the apparent improvement in contract talks — Finnegan declined to characterize it as definite progress — both sides restated their so far unyielding positions in display newspaper advertisements today, a technique deployed earlier this week by the mediator.

The steel industry advertisement said "thanks for your letters" to "hundreds of you" who replied to an earlier request for comment "by a 20 to 1 margin," supported our stand against inflation.

"You have already told us how you feel," the advertisement said. "Why not tell Mr. David J. McDonald, president, United Steelworkers of America?"

The union's full-page advertisement under the headline "Now America, steel profits are expected for you!" listed figures from the 12 steel companies represented by the industry bargaining committee. It restated the union's claim that the industry can afford to pay a wage increase without increasing prices.

The union said that a ton of steel produced in 1957 with 19 production hours was produced in May 1959, with 10.9 production hours, and that the total payroll cost of that ton is now $3 less than in 1957.

The advertisement said steel industry executives have had the opportunity to make millions of dollars in profits on stock options in recent months whereas "steel workers regular wages have increased but 1 penny in the last 13 months."

Miller Brothers Play For Lions

Bobby Miller and his boys from Wichita Falls brought some real Western rhythm to members of the Noon Lions Club Thursday. The Miller Brothers band is playing for the Top O' Texas Rodeo dances in the National Guard Armory.

The top numbers of the civic club performers were "I Can't Get Started," with Arden Bruce on the trumpet, and a hopped-up production of "Springtime in Alaska" that is all for the eye.

The group was introduced by Coy Palmer, a Past Rodeo director. Lions also heard Rodeo President Jake Osborne and Treasurer Charlie Robison.

The new club members, William D. McKendrie and A. C. Latham, were introduced.

Lion Ray McMillen presented membership certificates to F. L. Wilshire, Samuel A. Metz and Bill G. Grant.

Business Views

United Press International

Federal mediators indicated steel contract negotiators have started to "tackle" the specific language of a new labor pact which, they said, includes labor work practices. But Chief Federal Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said there has been "no change of position by either party on economic issues."

The treasury announced plans to borrow $1,700,000,000 in cash in the coming weeks through the sale of short-term securities. The sale will complete the government's financing for the July-September quarter of the new fiscal year.

American Can Co. said it will resist demands by employees who are members of the United Steelworkers for wage increases in line with any that may be granted by the steel companies. Canco's contracts with the steelworkers expire Sept. 30.

Nixon Disclosing No Strategy On Dealing With Khrushchev

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch is by the United Press International reporter who accompanied Vice President Nixon on his tour of the Soviet Union and Poland. Nixon flew part way back from Poland on the press plane.)

officials should finesse Khrushchev whenever he flexes his "missiles."

That view can be stated as follows:

There is no point in arguing about detail if Khrushchev says he can destroy London with four missiles and New York with six. The best answer is to smile and say "Fine, we are not going to argue or question that; but we are strong, too, and neither you nor we are strong enough to knock the other out. But whoever starts anything is going to get the hell kicked out of him, too. It will be suicide for the one who starts it. It will be a double knockout."

Military Approach

This school also holds that, as to military position "there is nothing worse we can do than sit and shake and say we are worried; we must not only assume that he (Khrushchev) has strength but the will to use it. If we don't go to the bargaining table with the same strength he'll kick hell out of us at the bargaining table."

Observers who saw Khrushchev at close quarters publicly admit that some who saw him in private conversations came to the same general conclusion — he seemed full of rugged stamina, alert and in fine form. Some observers thought that he was ready to "blow his stack." At 64, Khrushchev drives himself unmercifully, and the pace sometimes shows, especially at the end of a long day.

Some of those who compare Khrushchev to Stalin, say that where as Stalin, communism was a means of power for Stalin, it is a religion with Khrushchev. As such one view is that regardless of what he sees in the United States he will see it through Communist eyes and magnify, distort and compress what he sees to suit the purpose of his Communist training.

American officials realize that they are not going to change his idea of capitalism — the idea that American workers are oppressed, that there is widespread unemployment and that American officials say they can. The main thing to American officials is the subtle effect that the visit could have over the long run.

Truth Heals Sickness, Destroys Sin, Say Christian Science Teachings

How spiritual understanding of God heals sickness as well as sin will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible will include Christ Jesus' promise (John 14:12): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (316:7): "Christ, Truth, was demonstrated through Jesus to prove the power of Spirit over the flesh; — to show that Truth is made manifest by its effects upon the human mind and body, healing sickness and destroying sin."

A sincere welcome awaits you at all the services in First Church or Christ, Scientist, Pampa. You may obtain information about Christian Science by visiting the Reading Room in the church building at 901 N. Frost, where the King James Version of the Bible and books

Rick Pezdirtz purely paid dirt

Prospecting while wondering whatever happened to Jose Iturbil!

Now the word is, Clifton McNeely will grab an administrative job in the Fort Worth area.

But, during these August dog-days, you're apt to hear most anything.

There's the rumor golden-voice Warren Hasse is considering returning to Wisconsin for a combination newspaper-radio job and as a stockholder in a growing concern.

Bosh! Neither Mac or Warren have indicated they were moving on. Their rumors are about as solid as our hitting a silver dollar jackpot at the Desert Inn in Vegas, where we'll be quartered for the next few days.

And then there wuz the Texas in New York who couldn't find a place to park his car... so he brought one already parked.

Matthews Wuz 1938 All-Star

Our old, old buddy Putt Powell, who's told us the dives not to get caught in while whirling through Vegas, ran up to Babe Curfman at the Coaching School in Fort Worth all excited and panting like a little pup the other day.

"Didja hear about 'em picking you for second, Babe?" Putt asked. "How's that, second from the bottom?" Curfman retaliated.

"Yeah, how'd ya guess," moaned the deflated Putt Man.

Seems Pampa is not tied with Longview and San Antonio Brockenridge for 12th place in the number of all-stars sent to perform in the annual North-South grid game held the past 25 years in conjunction with the Texas Coaching School.

Instead of 13, the Harvesters have been represented 14 times at the Yank-Rebel classic. At least, that's the word we get from J. P. Matthews who carried the Pampa High colors into the 1938 all-star game at Lubbock.

Matthews rang us up yesterday afternoon, and we're happy he did. Now an Industrial Relations Supt. for Amaco Chemical Corp. in Texas City, the 1938 guard who was placed on Putt Powell's all-time Pampa grid team, is in our city visiting his mother, Mrs. Viola Matthews of 109 S. Starkweather.

Matthews, who weighed 153 as a Harvester guard now carries a husky 195 on his 5-9 1/2 frame. He played college football at the Rice and Oklahoma A&M.

The press brochure we did so much bragging on yesterday sent out by the Coaching School people omitted Matthews name from the list of Pampa all-stars.

Some Hither, Others Yon

Some you remember Buck Francis, the guy who used to do such a fine job with these sports pages before moving to Snyder several years ago. He's now a sports author on the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

Clara Ann, a five-year-old mare galloped home second in last Sunday's sixth race at Raton, N.M., and got this: The Pampa owned (E. L. Holmes) horse paid a snazzy $35.40 to place and $14.10 to show.

And we were up there seven days earlier, tearing tickets at the rail right and left.

It may be a good thing Pampa's Eastern Little League all-stars didn't make it into the regional round-robin because of a still rolling 180-pound 12-year-old monster who recently walloped a 325-foot homer over the centerfield light towers in Brownwood tournament play. Whew, a phenom!

Our vacation will cause us to miss seeing Pampa's DeWayne Glover in the Aug. 15 Greenbelt Bowl and Dickie Watkins in the Aug. 22 Panhandle Grid Classic.

Perryon's halfback Earl McKinley and center Charles Lovett will both perform in each game, as will White Deer's running hoos, Herschel Powell.

White Deer back, Allen Harmon will also be in the Panhandle Grid Classic along with McLean's Billy Crockett, Cananda's Rice Institute bound quarterback, Kenney Abraham; and another super signal-caller, Tommy Johnson of Lefors who'll then go on to Texas Tech.

That autumn madness isn't far away, and there'll be a record 94 Texas schoolboy teams this year.

OBSERVATION PLATFORM—The honeymoon is over when she quits sneaking around to use your razor.

And then there wuz the customer who was watching his hat and coat and somebody stole his coffee.

Ortega, Paret Slated to Meet in Tonight's Televised Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Welterweight contender Gaspar Ortega meets a lusty substitute for a substitute tonight in a TV 10-rounder with Cuban Benny (Kid) Paret at Madison Square Garden.

Although Paret is unranked, his speed and skill are so highly regarded that wagering on the bout is at "even money."

Their fight will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 10 p.m. e.d.t.

Mexican Ortega is only 23, but he is struggling to get back up among the top-ranked, after losing two—his four—bouts this year. The lanky Indian from Mexico is rated sixth by the NBA and ninth by the Ring Magazine. Well-built Paret 27, was training to fight in tonight's 10-rounder at the Garden, but he was drafted for the main event after the originally scheduled Ortega opponent, Florentino Fernandez of Cuba, withdrew because of a virus. Then his replacement, Charley Scott of Philadelphia, discovered he couldn't get into shape in time for the fight.

Harvester League To Meet Wednesday The Harvester Men's Bowling League will hold a meeting Wednesday night at 8 at the Harvester Bowl League Room, League Secretary Jack Kenner reported.

The 14-team league is interested in expanding to 20 teams. Kenner asked that all members and persons interested in new teams be present.

North Cagers Thump South, 57-45

Coyle Winborn Nets Six; Football Game Set Tonite

FORT WORTH (UPI) — James Thompson, a blond blizzard from Bowie who never seemed to let the heat bother him, was the key man Thursday in the North's 57-45 win over the South in the Texas All-Star high school basketball game.

The win was the fifth straight for the North and its 10th victory in the last 15 games.

Thompson was the playmaker and the man who held the favored Northerners together when it looked for two and a half quarters like the South just might pull an upset.

The Bowie cager scored 19 points, to earn himself a share of high point honors, was teammate

Don Rosick of Fort Worth Poly and the South's Jimmy Cobb of Buna. Thompson was overwhelmingly voted the game's most valuable player, with 14 votes out of 20.

Others receiving votes for most valuable were Rosick, 3. Don Winborn of Pampa, 1. Don Brownlee of Odessa, 1, and Newton Terry of Hunnington, 1.

Winborn had a bad night as far as scoring was concerned, hitting only three of 11 field goal attempts for a total of six points. However, he played an outstanding floor game and grabbed six rebounds.

He drew praise from both coaches, Amos Turner of Grand Prairie, North coach, and Fort King of Big Sandy, South.

King praised the Pampa all-star for "doing a real good job of ball handling." Turner said that Winborn is a "terrific boy, but just happened to have a bad night shooting."

The South, which had been expected to win first in the heat, instead kept the heat on the North by leading 15-13 after the first quarter, lying it up at 26-26 at halftime and again at 30-30 midway through the third quarter.

Rosick started surging. However, Rosick dropped in a lay-up at that point to put the North ahead 32-30 and the winners gradually widened the gap to 42-37 by the end of the period and to as much as 14 points late in the game.

Lewis Qualls, the big seven-foot giant from Smiley, proved a disappointment to the fans although he played a little more than half the game. He contributed but seven points and hauled down but three rebounds. His presence may have been a mental deterrent to the North's shooting in the early portions of the game, but at the end, the speedy Northerners were fast-breaking and leaving Qualls far back down the court as they piled up their margin.

The North hit 37.3 per cent of its shots to 30.2 for the South and despite Qualls' towering presence, dominated the boards with 48 rebounds to the South's 28.

Rosick, little Dwan Riney of Denton and Don Brownlee of Odessa were the big factors in addition to Thompson for the North's behalf. Rosick led in rebounds with eight as well as kicking in 10 points. Riney turned in an excellent defensive job and Brownlee sank seven of 11 free throw attempts and dropped in one of the two field goals the North was able to muster in the second period.

North Gridders Picked The North will be a favorite again tonight when the scene shifts to TCU Stadium for the 25th annual All-Star football game that will wind up a record-breaking Texas High School Coaches Association week-long clinic.

However, the South is expected to make the margin a bit closer in football than it did last night in hot and humid Will Rogers Coliseum before an estimated 5,200 fans.

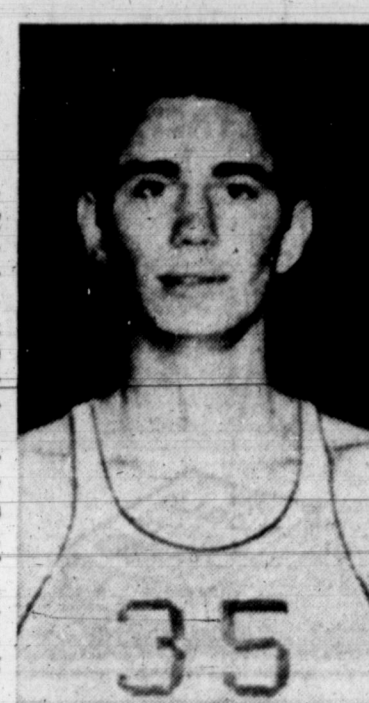

The football game, which is expected to lure around 20,000 fans, is expected to develop into a battle of the South's passes against the north's balanced running-passing attack. The South hasn't won a football game since 1953 and trails in the series nine victories to 12 with three ties.

Rebs Top Old Timers, 10-7, 14 Unearned Runs Score

By RED GRIGGS Daily News Sports Editor

The American Legion Rebels stopped the Old Timers, 10-7, Thursday night at Pony League Park in a wild and loosed fielded baseball game. Thursday's victory avenged last year's 3-1 loss at the hands of the Old Timers.

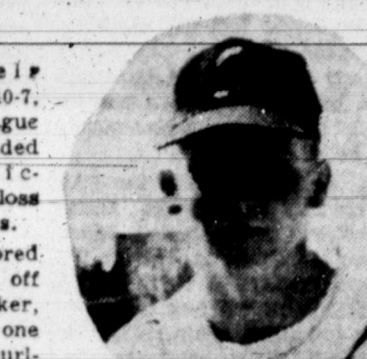

Only three of the 17 runs scored Thursday were earned — two off winning hurler Jimmy Walker, who went the distance, and one off loser Tom Glover, who hurled three innings.

Walker struck out 16 of the Old Timers during the seven-inning game, leaving only five outs for his team mates. The Rebels made only two assists during the game, one in the sixth inning and one in the seventh.

In the fielding department for the Rebs, catcher Ruben Strickland in regular second base position hogged the whole show. He caught the 15 strikers and got one other putout, for a total of 17 putouts, and also collected one of the two assists. First baseman Larry Stroud and shortstop Wendell Ridgway each had credit for two putouts, and second baseman Butch Crossland got the other assist.

Each team matched its hits and errors, with the Rebs getting six of each and the Old Timers seven of each.

The father-son duet of Harold and Keith Gregory stole the hitting show (playing for opposing sides). Harold Gregory, Old Tim-

New London, Terrell Are AA Favorites

FORT WORTH (UPI) — High school coaches meeting here predicted that a quarterfinal showdown between perennial contenders Terrell and New London may decide the 1959 Class AA football championship.

Those two teams, both in the same quarter of the 32-team state bracket, received the highest praise Thursday as a plane of coaches representing each district gave sportswriters a forecast of the coming season.

Neither Stamford or Angleton were given much of a chance of repeating as champion and runner-up, respectively. In fact, the coaches said, both will probably have trouble holding their own in their own district.

Terrell, New London, Floydada, Perryton and possibly Richardson were named as top playoff prospects in the northern half of the state while Belton, Liberty, Port Acres, Jasper, Edna, Goliad and Refugio drew the most praise as South Texas prospects.

Pick Favorites The coaches picked the following district favorites: 1, Dimmitt; 2, Mulshoe; 3, Floydada; 4, Denver City; 5, Perryton; 6, Stamford or Haskell; 7, Cato; 8, no choice; 9, Bowie; 10, Cleburne; 11, Terrell; 12, Richardson; 13, DeKalb; 14, Lindero; 15, New London; 16, Marlin or Hillsboro; 17, Brady; 18, Belton; 19, Georgetown or Taylor; 20, Smithville; 21, A&M Consolidated; 22, Liberty; 23, Port Acres; 24, Jasper; 25, Angleton or Deer Park; 26, Edna; 27, Gonzales; 28, Goliad; 29, Pearlsall; 30, Freer; 31, Refugio; 32, Edcouch-Elsa.

Robinson Sets Dec. 5 Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) — After a lapse of 21 months, Sugar Ray Robinson will defend his "big crown" of the middleweight title against Paul Pender at the Boston Garden, Dec. 5, "without a guarantee of any kind."

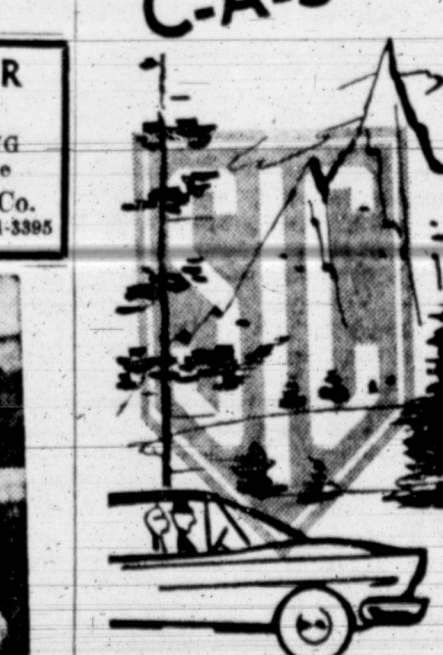

"I've still got a big portion of the championship," said 39-year-old Ray today, "and I'm defending it without a guarantee because I've got a good percentage deal and because it'll help independent promoters."

The promoters are Sam Silverman and Johnny Buckley of Boston.

Sleek, slender Robinson — who signed Thursday night to defend against the Brookline, Mass. contender — said, "I'm still recognized as champion in New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Cuba, and continental Europe."

He added, "and next year I hope to regain recognition everywhere."

Over and over we hear this theme: Khrushchev is woefully ignorant of the United States; its will, its productive capacity and its standard of living. Now, Khrushchev is going to visit the United States so that he might be enlightened and we make this dire prediction: Khrushchev will undoubtedly see a great productive machine and a standard of living considerably higher than that of Russia...

Interference In Prices Between Buyer And Seller

I am continuing to quote from F. A. Harper's article in 'The Freeman' magazine on the importance of having two people voluntarily exchange goods and services. This is the only rational and natural way to have full prosperity and to justice to all.

When challenged on the SAC bases circling the Soviet Union as indications of aggression, Nixon told his American and Russian TV audiences that "... we'll talk about that later." When this matter was broached again, Mr. Nixon changed the subject, leaving the impression that there was validity in the accusation.

Advertisement for 'The Cracker Barrel' featuring a cartoon of a man with a barrel and text: 'On Jan. 17, 1959, Robert S. Allen, a syndicated Washington columnist, wrote in the Brooklyn Tablet (and elsewhere) that "the U.S. and Canadian navies have made a sensationally sinister discovery. Off both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, they have found imbedded on the ocean floors, up to depths of 1,000 feet, more than a score of large steel radioactive devices of unmistakable Russian make. Navy authorities are certain that these are "position markers" to be used by Soviet submarines (of which there are known to be more than 100) for launching nuclear-armed attacks against U.S. and Canadian coastal cities and other targets.' Allen says wide publicity of this alarming discovery "was rejected on the ground such action would be 'inadvisable' during the visit of Mikoyan." JACK MOFFITT

MOSCOW (UPI) — American
Exhibition officials said today that two photographs in the exhibit "Family of Man" display were torn down by a Nigerian visitor who immediately was taken into custody by Soviet police.

The Nigerian, not otherwise identified, claimed the pictures were "unobjective" portrayals of the Negro race and ripped them from the wall after exhibition officials refused his demand to remove them.

COUPLE CAUGHT SHORT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Margaret O'Brien, who on her 21st birthday last year collected an estimated $300,000 saved from her earnings as a child star, was nearly unable to pay $2 for a marriage license Thursday. Neither Miss O'Brien's attorney, Harold Robert Allen Jr., 27, could muster the necessary cash for a marriage bureau clerk told Allen that checks were unacceptable. A news photographer quickly stepped up and cashed Allen's check for him. The wedding is Saturday.

Spanish Solidarity
 MADRID (UPI) — Generations of political turmoil in Latin America—such as current developments in Cuba—have left Spaniards with the feeling that "anything can happen there."

So it is not surprising that today the major ties between Latin America and the nation that looks upon itself as the homeland of all Spanish speaking people are cultural, emotional, and economic, but no longer largely political.

However, one political possibility does bother Spain, that is the fear that Communism might find in the Americas a foothold—in the community of Spanish-speaking nations.

Beyond this, the Spanish man in the street has little more interest in Latin American political rumblings than does any other European. For, of late, Spain has come to realize that its future lies in close association with Europe.

Mexico Solid Exception
 Spain has close diplomatic ties with all Latin American countries except Mexico—the only American nation which has never recognized the government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco. Mexico still accepts the former Republican government, which retains its exile headquarters there.

But cultural and economic ties are as close with Mexico as with any other American nation.

Spain takes pains to stay out of American politics. An example of this was its automatic recognition of the revolutionary government of Fidel Castro in Cuba.

Following the "Estrada Doctrine" (named for a former president of Mexico), they recognize the nation first, and automatically accept whoever is in power.

In an area where a man or group may be in, out, and back in again in a short period of time, the advantages of this are obvious.

Recent press comment in Spain, however, had been taking pot shots at Castro's regime. A fear of communism is what has caused this.

The newspaper "Madrid" said, "only a few months have been enough for the 26th of July movement to reveal its true aspects. At the beginning it might have been as pure and honest as they said...but after a half a year it has been fully unmasked."

Relations Have Changed
 "What Cuban people expect and want is not a regime based on Communist terror, and Fidel Castro must rely on this after having lost the wide emotional base which raised him to the top at the end of the civil war."

On the other hand, the dictatorship of General Raulista Trujillo in the Dominican Republic is free-

News In Brief

FARM WORKERS SCARCE
 VIENNA (UPI) — Czechoslovakia Minister of Agriculture Lubomir Strougal Tuesday night appealed to the Czech people to "help bring in the harvest" because of an acute shortage of farm workers. Strougal warned that Czechoslovakia faced a "crop disaster" unless more farm help was recruited.

OFFERS NIKITA TIME
 NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Broadcasting Co. is offering Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev "equal time" to answer Vice President Richard M. Nixon's Russian radio-TV speech, the network said Monday. NBC said it suggested that Khrushchev record a speech using the equipment displayed by Radio Corp. of America at the U.S. Exhibit in Moscow—the same equipment before which Khrushchev and Nixon carried on a portion of their public debate on the exhibit's opening day.

AMBASSADOR SWORN IN
 BERLIN (UPI) — Bernard Gufier took his oath Monday as new United States ambassador to Ceylon. Gufier had been deputy chief of the U.S. mission to Berlin and was sworn in here to allow him to go directly to his new assignment, instead of stopping off in Washington.
