Five Perish In Apartment Inferno

Blaze Started In Basement

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

The worst catastrophe in Pampa's 47-year history ended the lives of five persons—all members of the same family—in a spectacular early morning apartment fire here Sunday.

Flames that began about 2 a.m. in a northwest basement apartment turned the Gilking Apartments—located only three blocks from the heart of the business district—into a three-story brick furnace for almost four hours.

Police and fire officials who are still busy investigating the holocaust believe a carelessly flipped cigarette butt may have ignited the inferno.

The five dead and the times their twisted bodies, charred almost beyond recognition were carried from the building, were:

- 4:15 a.m. — Gary Richard Stone, age 15.
- 5:09 a.m. — Mr. Lewis Stone, age 42, an electrician for Hollis Electric Company.
- 5:14 a.m. — Betty Stone, age 20, a beauty operator for Louise's Beauty Shop.
- 5:26 a.m. — Mrs. Lewis (Christine) Stone, age 41, a house wife and the mother of seven children.
- 5:29 a.m. — Kenneth Stone, age 8.

The grim box score from the disaster today read like this: five killed, three injured and hospitalized, and seven other tenants safe. Three tenants were visiting out of town at the time of the blaze.

Of the Stone family, three boys who narrowly escaped the fire, and a daughter Mrs. Bobby Ray Braley of Dallas survive.

Two of the Stone boys, Leslie, age 14, and Norman Ray, 12, pumped to safety from the licking third-story flames and smoke. A nearby resident, James Williams caught or broke the youngsters fall. The third Stone boy, Russell, 11, had down a metal fire escape leading off a back balcony, but cut a deep gash in his arm breaking out of a glassed door.

Russell and Norman Ray, who injured an ankle jumping to safety, were reported in good condition at Highland General Hospital at noon today.

Also in the hospital, recovering from smoke inhalation is Thomas Lewis, 32, in whose basement apartment the fire started.

After Russell Stone fled the building a passerby, Carroll Copeland, helped stop the bleeding of his right arm.

"None of those victims may have ever felt the flames," Pampa Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said today. "They probably all suffocated before the flames reached them. All you need is one inhalation of that super-heated air, the fire pushes forward and your lungs will collapse."

Ambulances from Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home removed the fragile cargo of blanket-covered bodies from the disaster scene.

Pampa police officer Bill Robinson questioned Lewis briefly Sunday and Chief Winborne talked with Lewis today. Briefly here is how the Lewis family was involved.

He arrived in Pampa about noon Saturday by bus and was given lodging at the Gilking Apartment by the manager, Mrs. Sarah Hatfield, who also escaped the blaze with only a burned right hand and singed hair and eye brows.

Lewis admitted he had been drinking in a downtown tavern most of the night and telephoned for a taxi from a hotel about 11:30. Investigators said Lewis could not recall where he called from or what taxi he summoned to take him home.

After he went to bed, he awoke and discovered a chair in his room on fire. Despite a kitchen sink being only a few feet away, Lewis dashed all the way down to the other end of the hall to fill a pan with water from a rest room.

When he got back to his room the chair fire had spread to a nearby wall. After unsuccessfully trying to beat it out with his shirt, Lewis ran upstairs but failed in an attempt to awaken Mrs. Hatfield, the apartment manager since 1957.

When Lewis couldn't arouse Mrs. Hatfield he raced outside and ran up and down Gillespie Street in search of a fire alarm box.

He also told assistant fire marshal L. V. Bruce, he had been smoking and was using the lid of a jar for an ash tray. He said he remembered bringing home a six-pack of beer in the taxi but firemen never found it or any empty cans. Firemen did find a couple of empty wine bottles but

RUINS WHERE FOUR DIED

Fireman Charles Everett, standing in the charred, still warm ruins of the third floor, points out the spot, Sunday morning, where four members of the Lewis Stone family died. They were Mr. and Mrs. Stone, Betty Stone, 20, and Kenneth Stone, 8. At left are the double doors of the Stone apartment, and to Everett's right is a single doorway through which the Stones attempted to reach the hallway and a rear exit.

Stone's Rites Slated, Help Pouring In

Funeral services for five members of the Lewis Stone family will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home chapel.

The Stone's died in the Sunday morning fire that gutted the Gilking Apartments. The victims are Lewis Stone, 42; his wife Christine, 41; a daughter, Betty Jean, 20; and two sons, Gary, 15, and Kenneth, 8.

The surviving members of the Stone family are Norman, 12; Leslie, 14; and Russell, 11. The two younger boys are in Highland General Hospital. Russell is now staying with an uncle, A. E. Poole of 1120 Juniper.

The Stone's are also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Bobby Ray Braley of Dallas.

A Red Cross worker will be in Pampa this week to coordinate disaster relief for families who were made homeless by the fire.

The Pampa Red Cross today sent out an appeal for funds to aid the survivors of the Stone family and also the six other families involved in the catastrophe.

The Red Cross will meet all needs that the community does not take care of, Libby Shotwell, executive secretary, stated today. This will include hospitalization, funeral expenses and the replacement of clothing.

Jail Fire Kills 8, Injures 15 Others

By GAR KAGANOWICH
United Press International
TOMS RIVER, N.J. (UPI)—A flash fire of unknown origin turned an overcrowded county jail into a panic-stricken inferno Sunday, killing eight prisoners and trapping in their cells and injured 15 others.

The blaze broke out unexplainably in the padded cell of General Petersen, 35, of Philadelphia, who had been brought here after wrecking a cell at the municipal jail in nearby Lakewood. He died in the holocaust that enveloped his cell and grew in intensity as it fed on the foam rubber and canvas padding.

Jail officials said Petersen had not been allowed to carry matches, but that someone could have slipped him a lit cigarette.

The foam rubber and canvas padding stoked the fire and sped flames in all directions like a flame-thrower, eyewitnesses said.

Only Ground Floor Exit
The two-story, jail housed 65 inmates although built to accommodate only 28. It had only a ground floor exit.

Seven prisoners in an adjoining cell block perished in the inferno without ever getting out of their quarters. Besides Petersen, the victims and the charges against them were:

Stephen T. Wolf Jr., 30, of Manassas, former Linden, N.J., policeman charged with passing bad checks; William Charles Lehmann, 21, of Toledo, Ohio, a sailor stationed at Lakehurst Naval Air Station, charged with forgery; Adam Bodzan, 42, of Atlantic City, N.J., disorderly person, sentenced to 90 days; Calvin Wilson Letts, 19, of Cedar Run, N.J., sodomy, rape and carnal abuse; Thomas Arthur Hughes, 38, Philadelphia, forgery; Joseph Booker, 45, of Hartley, Del., larceny; and Richard Cavalier, 22, of Tuckerton, N.J., charged with the fatal beating of his 22-month-old daughter, Deborah.

Bodies Clustered In Cell
All except Bodzan were awaiting grand jury action or trial. Their bodies were found clustered together in a cell block a few feet from Petersen's cell.

Medical spokesmen said they had been asphyxiated. Petersen was burned to death, they said. Seven other prisoners, seven firemen and a sailor who raced into the inferno to help were injured Sunday morning hours.

A Night of Horror Is Relived by Mgr.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Her right hand bandaged from burns, her hair singed by heat and through eyes brimmed with tears, Mrs. Sarah Hatfield, manager of the ill-fated Gilking Apartments told this story in a steady voice during an hour-long interview Sunday morning with Daily News Managing Editor, Rick Pezdirtz.)

It was just like any other Saturday night. I went to bed about 9:30 and re-read an old novel until 11:30 when I switched off the lights.

The next thing I remember, was being awakened by that big police officer (Ralph Almqvist) at about 2 a.m. He was pounding on my door, and when I answered, he told me to hurry and get dressed, and that there was a fire. I didn't see any smoke then, and calmly returned to my bedroom, put on a house-coat, grabbed my purse and a little plastic box with my ring in it off a table, and returned to the hall.

This time, when I stepped into the hallway, there was thick smoke all over. The officer had called the fire and police department from my apartment and I learned later the other officer (Dave Cathey) had driven over to the fire department about four blocks away to get help.

Those two men (Almqvist and Cathey) saved our lives. If it hadn't of been for them, we'd all maybe died. They ought to do something nice for those two officers.

That smoke was so bad when I stepped into the hallway, it made my eyes smart—right off—and I had to feel my way down the mail boxes on the opposite wall from my apartment on the first floor. I managed to grope my way out to the back door beneath that big balcony after I screamed to John Davis who lives just across the hall from me to get out quick.

He did scramble from the building somehow. I don't know how. It was all pretty confusing. He told me later on the outside he was a real sound sleeper and might not have gotten out had he not heard my screams.

When I was safe outside, I realized there were others still upstairs on the third floor, so I raced up that metal stairway onto the balcony and knocked upon a door leading into the third floor. The heat and smoke kept slamming the door shut, so I broke some of the windows in it. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jones, who only moved in two days earlier, both climbed out a window onto the balcony and they were a little overcome by the smoke.

Mr. Jones, who lost his billfold while making his escape, told me he had beat on the door of some of the third floor tenants before he had to retreat from the smoke. He hollered at me not to go into the hallway, but I had to try to help the people I knew were still inside. I got about six feet down the hall and it was when I tried to turn on a light, I burned my hand.

The heat was unbearable. I just couldn't go any further. They said they found Gary Stone (one of the fire's five victims) only four more feet down the hall. I'll never know if he was there or not when I was in the hall. The smoke was so bad, you couldn't see a half-foot in front of your face.

I kept screaming for the Stones to get out, and when I got back to the doorway leading onto the balcony, Russell Stone, 17, almost knocked me down as he came running out. He cut his arm I think when he smashed into the glass in the door.

I stayed around the outside of the apartment house until about 5 a.m. when they took me to the hospital. My doctor wouldn't let me leave the hospital for awhile after treatment, knowing I have a

Thirty-two Pampa firemen answered an alarm sounded at 2:07 a.m. Sunday. The fire had already raced out of hand when they arrived. Manning an inch-and-one-half hose at the building's front were Ray Fischer and Bob Hulsey. The fire, which began in the basement, reached the third floor via an elevator shaft. (Daily News Photo)

Shooting and Robbery Mark Wild Weekend

An accidental shooting, an armed robbery, two burglaries and two thefts marked one of this city's most hectic weekends, Police Chief Jim Conner reported this morning.

In Highland General Hospital suffering a flesh wound from the shooting is Ethel Watie, 18, 532 Oklahoma. Held by police for unlawfully carrying firearms is John R. Morgan, 31, 810 Octavus.

Conner said the shooting occurred shortly after midnight Saturday in a car driven by Morgan. Morgan, arrested at 12:48 a.m. Sunday at Highland, said Miss Watie was accidentally shot when the two scuffled for a gun which had been left in the car's glove compartment.

Miss Watie, shot in the upper part of her left leg, was not seriously wounded.

The "armed robbery" involved three colored men and two whites in an alleyway behind the Legion Drive-In on E. Gray during the early Sunday morning hours.

Clashed Sunday afternoon in connection with the robbery were Clarence (Popcorn) Nelson, 25, told to "get away fast." Nelson was given a "beating" by Ford and Sullivan and left behind.

Fall Furs Have Fluffy Elegance

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Back in fur fashion this year are those fluffy, downy furs that make a girl look as if she's wrapped in a cloud.

This doesn't mean that the sleeker furs are out. It just means that they have company. Norwegian blue fox is one of the furs that's back in favor. It's used for everything from evening capes to tiny daytime capes and linings for casual fur coats.

For the woman whose mind doesn't think in terms of anything but mink, there's black mink. Not only black mink but black Alaska seal, Persian lamb, black dyed squirrel and black otter.

Newest way to handle fur is to cut it like cloth, drape it and shape it as if were fabric. The result is that fur coats, capes and jackets are far more feminine and shapely-looking than they ever were before. They're lighter, too, both to look at and to wear.

Fluffy tiered cape of Norwegian blue fox is for after-dark wear. The fur is shaped from a narrow shoulder; cape fastens to front with a bow.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 19-year-old son has been dating a beautiful 17-year-old girl. Yesterday he brought her over here and she was wearing the briefest of shorts with only one of those old-time red kerchiefs tied around her top. I was shocked to think a mother would let her daughter go out looking like that.

The next day the girl's mother called me and told me that her daughter never had such a "roughing up" in her life. And for me to tell my son never to come over there again.

Abby, don't you think that when a girl goes around like that she is asking for trouble? I'm not making up excuses for my son, but he is only human.

A MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: A young man who's had the proper moral upbringing would not go out with a girl who was not respectably clothed — much less "rough her up." On the other hand, a mother who wants her daughter to be treated like a young lady should see that she dresses like one. It's always the peach that is easy to reach that winds up in the jam.

DEAR ABBY: I know this gas is older than the hills but some of the boys I know are still using it. They will take you out for a ride in the country and then the car stalls. What do I do?

DEAR CINDY: When the car stalls—do likewise.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Maintaining Central Park in my city costs us taxpayers a lot of money. But our use of it is so limited that most of us seldom enter it. Those who do enter it do so only in broad daylight, and even then take care to avoid its less-frequented walks and benches.

For the park we support has been taken over by teen-age hoodlums who use its lovely shrubbery and shade trees as bases from which to launch muggings, robberies and their assaults upon us. As no law actually forbids us entering the park after sundown, a policeman won't arrest you for doing so. He'll just glare at you angrily as a troublemaker who'll shortly be making nasty work for him.

Do the responsible adults of my city rise up to protest this surrender of the park to irresponsible children?

No. We are all too used to submitting to children's expansive impulses to even question our surrender to the young hoodlums.

Our training in this submission begins early.

The moment our baby gets out of his crib, we start organizing our submission to his expansive impulses. Like vacating tenants, we remove ourselves from the living room to deliver it to the toddler. We are told to do so by our big child guidance authorities, and obediently denude our selves and tables of any of our possessions that our toddler might grab.

Just as the citizens of my city are unable to wonder, "Why should we give up our park to adolescent vandals?" we are unable to wonder, "Why should we deliver our living room over to this delightful but marauding infant of ours?"

So we really can't blame the adolescent vandals for taking over the parks we support, the schools we've built, the wallets containing money we've earned—and doing as they please with them.

No respected group has ever said to them, "No, you can't have that." Accustomed to their expansive impulses, they naturally become very bitter when the law finally says, "No, you can't have that," and declares, "I now judge you to be a delinquent child."

Know something? The only fellow citizen I've heard really protest the loss of our park to teen-age marauders is a European child psychiatrist. He said, "Must you all just give up when the kids say 'Gimme'?"

Lo and behold! The gourmet has invaded the picnic grounds! Even the simple frankfurter, the perennial pal of picnic lovers, is taking on airs—along with unusual spices and stuffings.

There's good reason for it, since the frank, one of the mildest seasoned sausages, lends itself well to "dress" favors. "Gourmet" is yours a "sweet tooth" family? The Pretend Ham treatment of frankfurters, complete with sugar 'n' spice, will be sure to please. Your picnicers prefer their frank he-man style? Try Sausage Sorrento, a zesty blend of franks, salami and cheese that will make pizza fans sit up and take notice.

Both these ideas call for skinless frankfurters prepared in advance and wrapped in foil. The tidy foil packages are grilled at the picnic site while your hot dog bun is toasting. Pack lots of relishes (with some chilled fruit to keep them crisp), fresh fruit and cold beverages. You're in for a picnic to remember!

Make criss-cross gashes on one side of skinless frankfurters. Stick 4 or 5 cloves in each frank, ham fashion. Make a paste of brown sugar and mustard and spread lightly over scored surface. If desired, sprinkle with 1 teaspoon drained crushed pineapple. Place on rectangle of foil and pinch edges together. Roast on grill over coals 15-20 minutes.

Another way to "foil" lagging summer appetites is to slit frankfurters and fill them with apple sauce, raisins and mandarin orange sections, or pimento cheese. Then make foil-wrapped packages as above. One of the nicest things about this technique is that the preparation mess is confined to the kitchen. Once at the picnic grounds, you merely transfer the contents of the foil to toasted buns.

Sausage Sorrento Slit skinless frankfurters almost all the way through. Alternate cubes of Mozzarella cheese with salami in the pockets formed. Dribble with tomato catsup. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and few grains oregano. Wrap in foil rectangles and grill about 20 minutes.

Chicken With "Souper" Gravy Is Favorite Of Girl Scouts

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Food and Markets Editor

There probably is one Girl Scout in most American families. But at the July Scout Roundup at Colorado Springs, there were 8,500 of them. And they all liked chicken. Fried chicken with "souper" gravy was a favorite style.

SOUPER GRAVY WITH FRIED CHICKEN (very smooth eating) (Makes about 3 cups gravy)

Remove chicken from pan, pour off and measure drippings. Pour 2 cans (19 1/2 ounces each) cream of chicken soup into pan. Stir well to loosen browned bits. Blend in 1/2 cup of water and 4 to 6 tablespoons drippings. Heat, stirring often.

CHICK-N-QUE CHICKEN Wash and dry 9 chicken halves.

Sprinkle each chicken half with a half-teaspoon of monosodium glutamate. Brush with corn oil. Place on the grill, skin side up, over medium hot coals. Cook, turning once or twice; it will take 20 to 30 minutes to brown on both sides. Have squares of aluminum foil ready and place broiler half in center of each square. Add 2 tablespoons Chick-N-Que Sauce to each; close foil by bringing ends together up over chicken and twisting. The foil does not need to be closed airtight.

Place chicken "pokes" on the grill and let them continue cooking for about 30 minutes.

Combine 1/2 cup corn oil, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1/4 cup water, 1 1/2 tablespoons salt and 3 tablespoons sugar. Heat to boiling.

TOMORROW'S GIRL SCOUT DINNER: Fried chicken with "souper" gravy, boiled potatoes, canned peas, rice, bread, butter or margarine, carrot and celery sticks, blueberry pie, milk (coffee, tea).

Both these ideas call for skinless frankfurters prepared in advance and wrapped in foil. The tidy foil packages are grilled at the picnic site while your hot dog bun is toasting. Pack lots of relishes (with some chilled fruit to keep them crisp), fresh fruit and cold beverages. You're in for a picnic to remember!

If Milady Maintains Beauty, She Doesn't Have To Rebuild Beauty Technician

WOMAN'S VIEW By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A girl's face may be her fortune. But many of us females aren't collecting any interest on the principal.

Ainslee Arenas, for 25 years a beauty technician, teacher and lecturer, says that neglect costs us steadily into our "investment." A good skin needs the same careful watching we give the bank account.

"All babies have beautiful skins," she said. "But what happens as we grow up and older? It is a combination of neglect and physical condition — diet and general health. Cleanliness is a basic rule. The skin has an oily surface. Dirt sticks to oil. Bacteria breed in dirt. So: Pimples and blackheads."

Miss Ainslee, as she is known in the cosmetics industry, believes in skin "maintenance." "If you maintain," she said, "you don't have to rebuild. But some women take 10 years to get a mess, and expect miracles in a week. It's like dieting. You put on those pounds over a long period. They don't disappear overnight."

An hour's chat with this vivacious, dark-haired woman with a near perfect complexion and you want to go lather yourself in all the latest potions. But over-usage of cosmetics, is one of the first mistakes.

Creaming Overnight Ridiculous "This thing of sleeping in cold cream all night is ridiculous," she said. "After 15 minutes, your skin's had it. Or maybe 30, if you have not been giving it daily lubrication."

"Start skin care before you need it. After 30, daily cleansing and lubrication are a must. They will keep you 10 years younger looking than you are. At 50 you'll look 40; at 60, you'll look 30. I think the gain is worth the trouble."

The beauty authority says that each skin has its own special problems, and every cosmetics counter is stocked with creams and lotions to fit your type. The generally types are dry and oily. She suggested a "balanced diet" of lubricant first, non-drying astringent second.

Young skin doesn't need a heavy lubricating cream, she said. The skin "over 45" does — by then, it is like an old girdle. It has lost some of its stretch. The oil of the lubricant acts as filler. . . . You're pumping temporary new life into it."

Direct's Training School Miss Ainslee is director of the Charles of the Ritz Training

School. She teaches makeup technique and skin care to the company's representatives, who work behind counters of department stores in this country, Europe, and South America. She also creates new colors and new products for the firm's cosmetics line.

Born in New York, Miss Ainslee planned to be a concert pianist and studied at the Juilliard School of Music. But "the depression" came along and "I got hungry." She got a job doing face treatments, joined a cosmetics laboratory, and 25 years ago moved to Charles of the Ritz.

Her job takes her on the road frequently to lecture before women's groups on beauty care.

What in her opinion, is our most common makeup fault?

"Too much rouge," she said.

Women are ducking sunburned roses with snowed straw hats for beach or poolside wear. Some hats, in fact, cover the head and face completely, with built-in sunglasses so you can find your way around. For baseball fans, there is a baseball-style model, also with glasses.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

By FRED MALONE

Let's talk about printed fabrics—big new this year in fashions. In the ordinary or direct method of printing fabrics, simple and elaborately colored designs are impressed on the woven cloth by means of engraved rollers. In block printing flat blocks are used instead of rollers and this operation is performed by hand. Stenciling is another hand process of applying colors to fabric. Often the stenciled design is planned to fit a woven pattern, so it looks as though the fabric were composed of two or more series of different colored threads.

What has all this to do with cleaning? A great deal. Your cleaner must make certain that the dyes used in the roller or stenciling process are color-fast—that they will not "bleed."

Combination fabrics like wool-and-nylon, rayon-wool, dacron-and-nylon—all require different types of dyes which in turn impose a need for special cleaning formulas.

Every garment you send us for cleaning presents its own specific challenge. We'll always make the necessary tests to determine which method will insure safe, satisfactory results. If it can be cleaned, we can clean it... a little bit better!

INFERNO

(Continued from page 1) bad heart. You know, I begged that woman (Mrs. Stone) to take a downstairs apartment. With those five boys upstairs, I was afraid they might clomp around and bother some of the people downstairs. But she promised me when they moved in a little over two weeks ago, she'd keep the boys quiet. I hated to see eight people move into that four-room apartment. It rented for $80 per month. Gary Stone, who was found dead only ten feet from the outside balcony and stairway, had only returned Friday after visiting out of town. The officers later told me the fire was first spotted by them in the basement northwest apartment. I had only let that apartment to Mr. Thomas Lewis at that Saturday after he came in from California on a bus and promised me he'd do some yard work Sunday. Maybe I was wrong in letting him stay. But when you have ten empty beds and a man comes to you all down and out, what are you supposed to do. I didn't allow any excessive drinking in my apartment house. Only six weeks ago, I'd moved a couple out because the husband drank too much. You can look at my ads in the paper, they all say "No drinking and no pets." I'd listed the apartment with both the police and chamber of commerce for people to use who needed to recuperate from a lot of mobile accidents and couldn't afford to stay in the hospital. It was also open to people marooned during snow storms. I've been living alone for 19 years and something like this really hits you hard. That old terry cloth pair of househoes I lost had been with me for the last six years. No, I don't need any help. If I can get the smoke out of my

All money given to the Red Cross for disaster purposes will go directly to the these families, according to Mrs. Shotwell. A radio appeal by Station KHHH has already netted over $4,000 for members of the Stone family from residents of Pampa and the surrounding communities. Special collections were also taken in Pampa and Skellytown Sunday. KHHH is also soliciting clothing, dishes and cooking utensils. About 2,500 pounds of clothing have been collected so far. Residents of Skellytown have contributed $168 plus clothing. Collections are also being made in Canadian, Lefors and White Deer. Children in Pampa alone collected $600 Sunday. The Stone family moved here two weeks ago from Ore City. Mr. Stone was employed by the Hollis Electric Company. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Order of the Eastern Star in Ore City. The family was affiliated with the Baptist Church. The Rev. M. B. Smith, pastor of Pampa's Highland Baptist Church, will conduct the funeral services.

Mr. Stone is survived by four brothers, Henry, Ellis and Cash of Maude and Jess of Willis; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Boatwright of Sacramento, Calif., and Mrs. Pearl Hollingsworth of Sims. He was born in Arkansas. Mrs. Stone is survived by her mother, Mrs. Willie Lee Poole of Borger, six brothers, A. E. Poole, and Virgil of Pampa, Lawrence of Borger, H. Elroy Face Takes 16th Straight Victory

United Press International
Elroy Face of the Pirates Sunday took another big step toward the major league record for consecutive wins spread over two seasons. He won his 16th consecutive game without defeat this year by beating Los Angeles in relief, 4-3, in ten innings, in the nightcap of a doubleheader. Pittsburgh also won the first game, 9-2.

Face is now three short of Rube Marquard's major league record of 19 straight victories in one season, and also three shy of Carl Hubbell's mark of 24 straight triumphs stretched over two seasons.

Face has won 21 straight since his last loss in 1958. Besides shooting for the major league consecutive win mark, Face is also bidding to become the first undefeated pitcher (with 15 or more decisions) in major league history. The hurler—who came closest to it was Johnny Allen, who had a 15-1 mark for Cleveland in the 1930's.

In the American League, Tito Francona isn't going to set any records. But he is providing a big lift for the Cleveland Indians. Francona, strangely enough, began the season by picking up splinters on the bench.

Francona was unhappy merely sitting around and doing nothing with the Detroit Tigers this spring. So he came up with the bench-warmer's age-old ultimatum—"play me or trade me!"

The Tigers quickly obliged him by dealing him to the Indians on March 21 and Frank Lane has been receiving congratulations ever since.

Single-handedly, the 25-year-old Francona, who couldn't even break into the Cleveland outfield earlier this year, has won more than 15 games for the Indians so far this season. He has won three of those games with last-inning homers.

Tito connected for his 16th homer in the ninth to beat the Red Sox 1-0, in the opening game of a doubleheader Sunday and then socked his 17th to help Cleveland win the nightcap, 6-2. The sweep ran the Indians' winning streak to six straight and moved them within 1½ games of the first-place White Sox.

The league-leading White Sox split a twin-bill with the Yankees, losing the opener, 7-1, but winning the nightcap, 5-0. Washington defeated Kansas City, 7-3, in the first of two games but the Athletics salvaged the second game, 5-2. Detroit beat Baltimore, 9-5, in the opener and the second game was washed out by rain.

In the National League, a doubleheader between league-leading San Francisco and Philadelphia was postponed because of rain. Play was called in the fourth inning with the Giants ahead, 2-1.

Milwaukee climbed into second place with a 2-0 win over Chicago, and Cincinnati topped St. Louis, 5-3.

Huris Three Hitter
Art Dittmer hurled a three-hitter for the Yanks in their opening game triumph over Early Wynn of the White Sox. Enos (Old Folks) Slaughter broke a 1-1 tie with a pinch two-run single in the seventh. Bob Shaw scored his 13th victory in the nightcap, pitching a six-hitter and striking out six.

Camillo Pascual won his 12th game for the Senators in their opener with the A's although a sore arm caused his departure in the seventh. First baseman Julio Becquer's error set the stage for a five-run rally in the third inning that clinched the nightcap for KC.

Eddie Yost's grand-slam homer and a five-for-five performance by Harvey Kuenn sparked the Tigers to victory over the Orioles. Frank Lary posted his 16th victory with Tom Morgan's aid in the seventh. Bob Nieman hit two homers for Baltimore and then belted a third in the first inning of the nightcap, which was wiped out because of rain.

Haddix Whips Dodgers
Harvey Haddix, who hadn't beaten a Dodger team in four years, led the Pirates to their opening game triumph over Los Angeles. Not only did he pitch a seven-hitter, but he also doubled with the bases loaded to cap a five-run rally in the seventh.

The Braves, who moved into second place and are now four games from the top, won their game from the Cubs on only two hits. Bob Buhl held the Cubs to six hits and won his 11th.

Jerry Lynch broke a 3-3 tie between the Reds and Cards with a two-run homer off loser Ernie Broglio in the eighth. Don Newcombe picked up his 12th victory, driving in two runs for Cincinnati with a single and a home run.

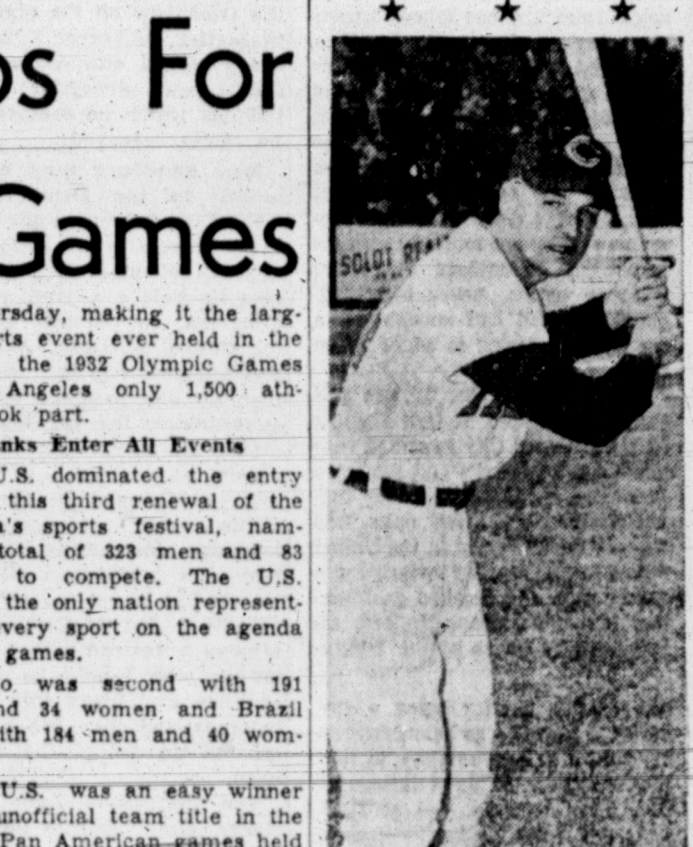

U.S. Preps For Pan-Am Games

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United States, trying to make amends for some of its recent international showings, marshalled its athletic prowess today for the Pan American Games.

With a total of 406 athletes entered in all of the 27 sports on the program, the U.S. was a top heavy choice to win the unofficial team title from her sister American countries and regain some of the prestige lost in the last Olympic games and the world's basketball championships.

A total of 24 North and South American nations entered nearly 2,200 athletes in the games opening Thursday, making it the largest sports event ever held in the U.S. In the 1932 Olympic Games at Los Angeles only 1,500 athletes took part.

American Football Loop Hopes To Have Commissioner Soon

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Directors of the American Football League concluded an organizational meeting in Dallas over the week end by announcing that they expect to name a commissioner within the next two weeks.

Lamar Hunt, 27, owner of the Dallas team, said they are looking for a prominent man with administrative ability. He said they seek a man in which the public will have confidence.

The next league meeting will be held in Los Angeles Sept. 12-13, Hunt said.

At the meeting, by which time they hoped to have a commissioner, they will adopt a constitution and by-laws and set draft plans and a draft meeting date.

They will also make a definite decision on whether to operate in 1960 with six or eight teams, Hunt said.

The six teams now in the league are New York, Los Angeles, Minneapolis - St. Paul, Denver, Houston and Dallas.

At a press conference, Hunt also made these points:

1. Seattle appears to have the inside track to becoming the seventh member of the league. Other teams being considered are San Diego, Kansas City, Louisville, Buffalo and Miami.
2. The league will definitely have no more than eight teams as directors consider eight the ideal number.
3. A league treasury has already been established and each of the six clubs contributed an equal amount although it was not revealed how much each club contributed.
4. Each club has put up a "performance bond." This is a guarantee that it will field a team for a full season.
5. The New York club, and probably the Los Angeles club, each will have a working capital of one million dollars since they are in competing cities with the National Football League. The working capital of the other cities probably will be a little less than that.
6. Every owner is aware that he may absorb financial losses for from one to four years.
7. The minimum salary scale for players probably will be at least 10 per cent higher in the NFL, and game officials likely will be paid more than in the NFL.
8. Each team probably will have territorial rights — or priority to top college players in its area.

Without television, each team would probably have to draw 30,000 fans a game to break even. With television, it would be considerably less.

The league will play a round-robin schedule but will be divided into two divisions if eight clubs are obtained.

Wrestling Night Changed From Saturday to Monday

Wrestling takes a turn for the better in Tampa next week with P.A.M.P.A. promoter Doc Miller changing the date from Saturday to Monday night for local grappling at the Top O' Texas Sportmen Club.

There are eight other cities in our area who hold their matches on Saturday night and that just tends to take away some of the top talent from Tampa, Hereford, Plainview, Littlefield, Liberal, Kan., and three New Mexico cities hold their wrestling on Saturday nights, so we figure if we switch to Monday, a light night for the wrestlers, we'll be able to get bigger and better names.

Miller pointed out no matches would be held this week, but that activity would pick up in full swing next Monday night.

In Saturday night's matches—a double main event—Joe Hamilton and Dynamite Danny Savich scored wins.

In the first main event, Hamilton took the first fall with a body press and Phelps took the second with a similar hold before Hamilton returned to use a slam and another body press for the decid-

The entire match, a slow and almost listless event with little dirty play involved, took only 37 minutes to complete.

In the wilder second main event, Taro Myaki applied his infamous "claw hold" to the pit of Savaich's arm for the first round fall. Savich was quick in knocking the match at one-fall apiece with a Boston Crab in 1:04 of the second round.

In the third round, Myaki had Savich in the ropes and was applying his "claw" when referee Bill Widener yelled at the Jap to break free and allow Savich to escape from the rope entanglement. When Myaki refused to permit his foe to spring free of the ropes, Widener disqualified the Jap and awarded the match to Savich.

ROOKIES BID FOR JOBS

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

It's tough taking away a "old pro's" job in the National Football League, but three rookies—Nick Pietrosante, George Dixon and John Aveni—gave it a try during the week end.

DWI Charge Filed Against Bob Layne
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Peace Justice J. H. Watson said today that Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback Bobby Layne will have to appear in county court "probably within two or three weeks" to answer a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Watson said that the charge, a misdemeanor, will be transferred to the court of Judge John Allen. The charge was filed in Watson's court.

The automobile in which Layne and three other pro football players were riding struck a parked vehicle in the pre-dawn hours Sunday. Layne was arrested and spent several hours in the city jail before two Austin attorneys posted $300 bond.

Nieporte Wins Golf Tourney

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Tom Nieporte, of Bronxville, N.Y., who finally broke a two-year victory famine, headed toward Milwaukee today spurred by a $2,800 check, evidence of his three-stroke victory in the Rubber City open.

The 29-year-old former Ohio State University and 1951 NCAA golf champion blasted a last round five-under-par 66 Sunday for a 267 total, a record-shattering 17-under-par for the Firestone Country Club, site of next year's PGA.

Nieporte, who has collected more than $14,000 in 29 events this year, was sporting a red-hot putter as he carded six birdies and one bogey.

Bob Gosby, Crystal River, Fla., still looking for his first title of the season, was runner up with 270. Bill Collins, Crystal River, Fla., who wound up with the third place purse of $1,400 fired a brilliant final round six-under-par 65 for a 271.

Colts Rip Giants

In other games, the Baltimore Colts ripped the New York Giants 28-3, before a crowd of 55,000 in the Cotton Bowl Friday night, the Washington Redskins clipped the Los Angeles Rams, 23-21, before 85,888 fans in the Los Angeles Coliseum, and the Chicago Cards handed the Pittsburgh Steelers a 21-10 beating before 15,000 at Austin, Tex.

Detroit's John Henry Johnson climaxed a 65-yard first period drive with a nine-yard scamper around left end and Jerry Perry booted a fourth period field goal that sent the Browns down to their second straight exhibition defeat at Akron, Ohio.

Dempsey, Ingo In 2nd Round

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI) — Jack Dempsey today opened his second session of conferences dealing with the Ingemar Johansson - Floyd Patterson rematch, which suddenly seems headed for Los Angeles in November.

With New York City ruled out officially as the site at Sunday's opening session, Los Angeles appeared to have the fight in the bag because of weather and money.

Dempsey, new promotional director of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., said, "We hope we'll be able to make a definite statement about our plans some time today."

Irving B. Kahn, New York theater - TV tycoon and board chairman of the Rosensohn corporation, was busy on the phone here at the swanky Park Avenue Hotel, trying to find out if guarantees offered in "a certain American city" would still be good for a November fight.

Apparently he was referring to Los Angeles, where warm weather would permit an outdoor fight in November and where Dick Pittenger and his American Legion group had offered guarantees ranging from $500,000 to a reported one million dollars for the fight—if held in September.

In addition, young Ron Waller of Los Angeles—former professional football player whose wife is an heiress to the Post cereal fortune—Sunday night offered a guarantee of $750,000 if he could come in as a co-promoter.

There are clearly two sides to the story. Millions of Americans have breathed an almost audible sigh of relief now that an exchange of visits between the heads of the Russian and American states appears to be in the offing. To them it appears that this particular two-way junket may spell the end of the cold war.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOULEZ

Important Statement From United States Steel Roger M. Blough, Chairman of the Board of United States Steel, has set forth some thoughts on the importance of a rational settlement for the steel strike. This is the way Mr. Blough puts it:

"For the sixth time since the end of World War II, the Steelworkers' Union has called a nationwide strike to enforce its demands for an inflationary wage settlement.

"Like all strikes, this one will be settled sooner or later — and we all sincerely hope it will be sooner. Like other strikes, this one involves differences over wages, fringe benefits, work-rules and similar issues.

"But it also involves more. It is a test of whether the steel industry, or any industry in present-day America, can successfully resist the enormous power that has enabled our modern labor unions to exact — frequently with the aid of government — inflationary wage increases from one industry after another — round after round — throughout these fourteen years.

"In the past when strikes have been settled, the settlement has been followed by an increase in the general level of steel prices where competitively feasible. This has been dictated by good business judgment as an attempt to recover the increased employment costs incurred and to provide revenues to offset the inevitable increase in other costs involved in operating a business.

"Many people mistakenly believe that a steel wage increase would not be inflationary if it did not result in an increase in steel prices; and thus we hear much debate about whether the companies could 'afford' to boost wages and benefits another notch.

"But the fact is, of course, that whether steel prices rise or not, inflationary wage increases in construction, motors, steel, oil, other major industries ripple over the entire economy as other unions strive to 'catch up' to the new, high level. And as these rising employment costs spread, they force higher costs and higher prices everywhere, for employment costs — direct and indirect — represent more than two-thirds of all production costs in American industry. Taxes, too, inevitably rise with other costs, for much of tax revenue finds its way into employment costs.

"The ripple effect of rising wage costs is still in evidence. There have been a number of wage increases so far this year, many of which are a catch-up nature; and there are certain to be many more if the demands of the Steelworkers' Union prevail. This is because the average earnings of steelworkers are already about $7 a day higher than the average earnings in all manufacturing industries. And any increase which widens this gap will tend to pull up wages, production costs and prices in every other industry.

"That is why in the steel industry we are so rightly and bargained for a settlement that would involve an increase in employment costs — or at least sustainable ones which could be met — in the end — by the elimination of wasteful practices arising out of various provisions in our old labor agreements.

"And that is why three months ago I said that it was not the intention of United States Steel to change the general level of our prices — the foreseeable future and that I earnestly hoped future events would enable us to maintain this position.

"Now we would like to go further. In the hope that removing any doubt as to the intentions of our company with respect to price will be helpful to the successful conclusion of the present strike, it is timely for United States Steel to make this further statement — a statement to which we intend to adhere in the absence of an involuntary settlement mandated by some public body or authority. And the statement is this:

"Whatever the length of the strike, and whatever the eventual outcome of the negotiations — so long as the steel industry remains in United States Steel do not intend to raise the general level of our steel prices in the foreseeable future.

"We believe that competitive prices in this industry are essential to the steel industry's ability to meet the needs of our country and the world. We know that employment costs abroad are but a fraction of our own. We know that imports of foreign steel and products made from such steel are increasing. And we know the tough competition that steel faces from other materials produced domestically. These things alone would dictate a hold-the-line position on prices.

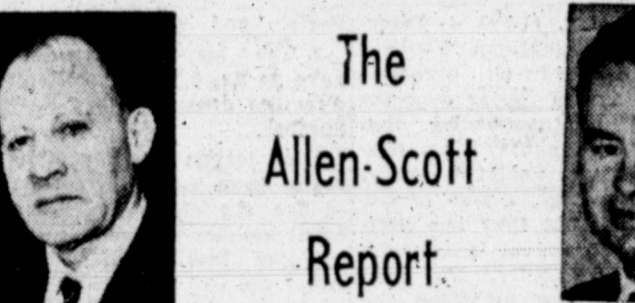

"We believe, therefore, that the long-range interests of all employees and our customers and stockholders will best be served by this policy.

"If events dictate a change in rate regulation, or, as an alternative, extend the exemption to rail carriers to allow competition for such shipments on more even terms.

"If we do not want a socialized railroad industry in this nation something is going to have to be done. As Loomis sums it up: 'These recommendations seek to establish conditions of fair and equal opportunity for all competitors in the field of transportation and to remove artificial handicaps and barriers that have thwarted, and continue to thwart, a basic industry in its effort to stay healthy and strong in the public interest.'

"Why not grant economic freedom of choice to the railroads? ...

HOUSE COMMITTEE STUDIES 'FREE LOADING' — STEEL STRIKE VISE TIGHTENING

WASHINGTON — The U.S. taxpayer is picking up the shipping tab on thousands of imported foreign cars.

More than 55,000 of these "free loaders" were brought into the country last year, chiefly by Army and Air Force officers and non-coms stationed in Europe.

Since 1950, military personnel have shipped more than 350,000 foreign cars to the U.S. at taxpayers' expense.

These are highlights of an unpublished inquiry being made by the House Armed Services Committee, headed by Representative Carl Vinson (D., Ga.).

The staff study has confirmed that also that it's entirely legal. Under regulations, upward of one-third of the 450,000 American military stationed in Europe are authorized to ship their private cars to and from the U.S. free of cost, except for a small "port charge" of $50 at the most.

All sources of credit combined as of December 31, 1952, totaled $67.7 billion. Today, the total amount outstanding of these same sources of credit is $80.2 billion, or an increase in six years of $12.5 billion.

"These figures illustrate the extent to which we Americans as a nation, as state and local governments, and as individuals, have for the past several years been living beyond our income, and the question may well be asked, 'When are we going to begin reducing these outstanding debts?'

"Some research projects already have been hit and slowed down by tax increases. 'Missile production and the building of bases for them will be definitely affected if the steel strike continues another 30 to 40 days.'

As submitted to the President the report makes no recommendations. Commerce Secretary Frederick Mueller is opposed to government intervention in this strike.

"SCARY FIGURES — The steadily mounting debt of the federal government is only one aspect of this disturbing problem. Some jolting statistics on other alarming debts in the U.S. have been submitted to the Finance Committee by Senator John Williams, Del., ranking Republican member and a long-time battler for economy.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — The travelers are beginning to come trailing in from a summer of jaunts and jaunjays, they having visited not only such seemingly innocuous places as Madrid, Rome and London, as well as the byways thereto, but also such infestations as Istanbul, Tangier, Marrakech and Havana.

Between World Wars I and II, Bucharest in Romania, if not having yet been snatched into the Red orbit, was the major point of spy infestation in Europe and the Athens Palace there was the hotel core. There even were gradations of agents: spies, spies, spies, spies' spies and one fellow, known charmingly and generally to all as Mr. Fred, was Top Dog. He represented so many nations that it was a wonder to all other practicing spies how he kept his wires straight and untraced.

Now Sandburg may be an immortal as the Democratic New York Times decreed the day after the Democratic majority in the absence of most Republicans put him up before a joint session of Congress, on the last birthday of the first Republican, Abe Lincoln.

During World War II one still rather celebrated if less tingling hotel in Mexico City swarmed with these nimble fellows and many an American, who had innocently registered there for a few days, was stunned on his return to the United States to find himself undergoing a rather rigid and detailed examination of his intentions.

The debts of individuals, corporations and states have increased at even more rapid rates than our national debt which has shot up from $267 billion to $283 billion in the past six years.

For these reasons, Williams contends there is no likelihood of a cut in taxes for a long time to come. He bases that on these sobering details:

"Corporate debts, which stood at $202.9 billion in 1952, today stand at $298.3 billion, or an increase of 45.4 billion in six years. The debts of our state and local governments — in 1952 were $31.2 billion. Today these same debts are $59.2 billion, or an increase of $28 billion. This is practically double their debts of six years ago.

"In the case of individuals, the value of outstanding mortgages on December 31, 1952, was $82.4 billion. As of December 31, 1955, they had increased to an all-time high of $155.4 billion, or an increase of $73 billion, which again is nearly double. Consumer credit during this same period had increased from $27.4 billion in 1952 to $45.1 billion on December 31, 1955, and other types of consumer or individual debts have increased from $23.7 billion to $39 billion.

"All sources of credit combined as of December 31, 1952, totaled $67.7 billion. Today, the total amount outstanding of these same sources of credit is $80.2 billion, or an increase in six years of $12.5 billion.

"These figures illustrate the extent to which we Americans as a nation, as state and local governments, and as individuals, have for the past several years been living beyond our income, and the question may well be asked, 'When are we going to begin reducing these outstanding debts?'

The Doctor Says:

by EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Uncontrolled drinking of alcoholic beverages is one of the most colossal problems existing today. There are many different sides to it, but today I want to discuss one of the terrible consequences of too-heavy long, continued drinking known as delirium tremens.

This is no condition to joke about, and the person who has it and complains of seeing pink elephants or snakes under the bed is more to be pitied than laughed at.

In the person who has delirium tremens, the poisonous effects of prolonged excessive drinking have reached the stage of serious danger. Delirium tremens usually comes in attacks. These take different forms in different people.

Sometimes the victim becomes violent and threatens anyone and everyone around. At other times an attack may not involve actual violence but merely "seeing" things which are not there. On the whole, the disease thoroughly deserves its long time name of "shaking madness."

American Exhibition—Tribute to Sandburg?

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

COPENHAGEN — The Russians may pardonably regard the American exhibition in Moscow as a grand official tribute to a posturing old showman with a bang like Adolf Hitler, only white, and a self-appreciation which makes a Barney Baruch look like a bashful sophomore on his first date.

Now Sandburg may be an immortal as the Democratic New York Times decreed the day after the Democratic majority in the absence of most Republicans put him up before a joint session of Congress, on the last birthday of the first Republican, Abe Lincoln.

The Russians have a social custom which forbids acceptance of a "souvenir" unless the recipient is in a position to return the favor. This applies only to the individual, however, as we found out when we gave the government lend-lease to the extent of $11 billion and got in return only a series of compound, multiple hangovers from a Russian investment of perhaps $100, net, in vodka and crimean jump-suits served at ceremonial debauches in the Kremlin and at Yalta.

I gave a pleasant youth two tickets to the fair, a half-point pen and an enamel souvenir button of the Soviet Fair in New York. Two days later, obviously at serious sacrifice of money, he solemnly handed me a Russian pen with, altogether much better than the maddening fraud which I had given him.

Congressman Walter and the committee staff had made a search of the records of the quack artists whose stuff was picked to express American culture in affronts so nasty that McClellan could only disown them and explain that art was not his line. It is too late again, as it has been so often before, but a reaction has begun for Nixon got his real political start hounding rodents out of the Bureau. He has come through many scraps in which the Roosevelt-Truman regime tried to get him.

In 1956, Harold Stassen had the gall to try to dump Nixon off the ticket after nomination and he showed signs of the courage that his military rank bespoke. Since then, Nixon and his wife have taken dangerous personal chances including Latin — American riots called for bravery and poise. In one of these episodes rioters spat in Mrs. Nixon's face. So, when Sandburg said in New York for the Moscow radio that he had high respect for the Soviet Union, he did not necessarily put himself within Nixon's approval even though he has been modestly backing into the limelight at frequent opportunities in Moscow.

Walter, the chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, recently addressed himself to all this mocking indecency. Belatedly, as always, Congress will confirm the worst and file the findings in some old warehouse on the Ohio River where some good flood will wash the sins away.

In a crowded office in one of the jumble of fair buildings, H. C. McClellan, the general manager, a manufacturer who has got it made now and dabbles in good works, was exuberant over the Russian reaction to two exhibits. They were the automobiles of Chrysler, General Motors and Ford, all glorious splendors of capitalism by contrast with the mean and still unattainable palloppies of the Soviet Union.

Railroad Trouble

Are the nation's railroads about to be socialized?

It is possible. It would be a sad day, should this occur. But it is possible that it will come about. Railroads are operating now as the most completely controlled private industry in America. They are taxed to the hilt; compelled to run trains which do not pay their own way; forced to incur enormous and conflicting reports on every item in shipment; regulated as to what they can carry and for how much; compelled to hire personnel for which they have no useful employment; forced to compete with other carriers which are, to a greater or lesser degree, subsidized by tax dollars.

The position of the nation's railroads is wholly untenable. And right now, as the railroads make a valiant effort to divert themselves of losers in the way of trains, and to divert themselves of personnel for which there is no useful work, they are met with legal tactics which may result in their total inability to respond. The result would probably mean that the government would step in to run the rails.

If this happens, the British called it nationalization, we must call it socialization. ... then one of our truly great industries will be struck a death blow.

Recently, Alfred E. Perlman, president of the New York Central, spoke up in opposition to a ruling by the Interstate Commerce Commission. In 1958, the railroads were granted permission (imagine the inquiry of having to seek permission to do what must be done) to discontinue losing trains after a 30-day notice had been filed. The ICC had refused that such permission to discontinue a loser is now altered in such manner that before a train can be discontinued, as long a time as four years may elapse before the discontinuance can go into effect.

As Perlman put it, this ruling places the railroads in the position of having to pay a penalty of up to four years' severance agricultural commodities from

Ford's Body Shop On Job

The fast-moving crew at your car. Ford's Body Shop, 111 N. Frost, makes short work of the damage that comes from a wrong turn on the road. Ford's has 24-hour wrecker service and specializes in remaking wrecked cars.

Any job is made for Ford's Body Shop where five experienced body men are ready to go to work on

Bring in your problems, your dented fenders, your stuck windows, and they will meet with swift dispatch. A rebuilding job may take a little longer but will be done with factory results.

Ford's turns out factory paint jobs on wrecks or scratched-up cars. More total wrecks have been rebuilt at Ford's, and saved from the salvage yard, than at most other body shops.

Call MO 4-7542 for a daytime tow, whether you've had a wreck or are merely in trouble on the road. The corresponding, nighttime, number is MO 4-1619.

You can rely on Ford's men to give you a fast tow or to get your car back into shape for the road.

Ford's men are specialists and get daily opportunities to prove their worth. Besides Coyle Ford, owner, you can count on Robert McCain, shop foreman; Joe Autry and "Red" Golden, body men; and "Razz" Johnson, painter.

The Almanac

United Press International

Today is Monday, August 24, the 236th day of the year, with 129 more days to follow in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mercury. The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this date in history: In 79, Mount Vesuvius erupted, burying the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum and killing thousands of persons.

In 1572, the St. Bartholomew's Day Massacre of Protestants took place in Paris.

In 1814, British troops burned the White House and the Capitol. In 1923, the dirigible ZR-2 exploded and burned over Hull, England, killing 62 — including 17 American naval personnel.

In 1932, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly non-stop across the United States.

In 1939, Russia and Germany signed a non-aggression pact.

In 1942, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill met at Quebec.

In 1954, President Getulio Vargas of Brazil killed himself.

Thought for today: The Italian author, Dante said, "I like to doubt as well as to know."

IMPROVE POSITIONS

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (UPI)—Marine Capt. Milton Jesabek, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and Sgt. Robert Watson, of Knoxville, Tenn., were tight back where they started Sunday — but in better roles. They were officer of the day and commander of the guard in the first recruit training battalion here. Ten years ago to the day, they were privates pulling guard duty in the same spot.

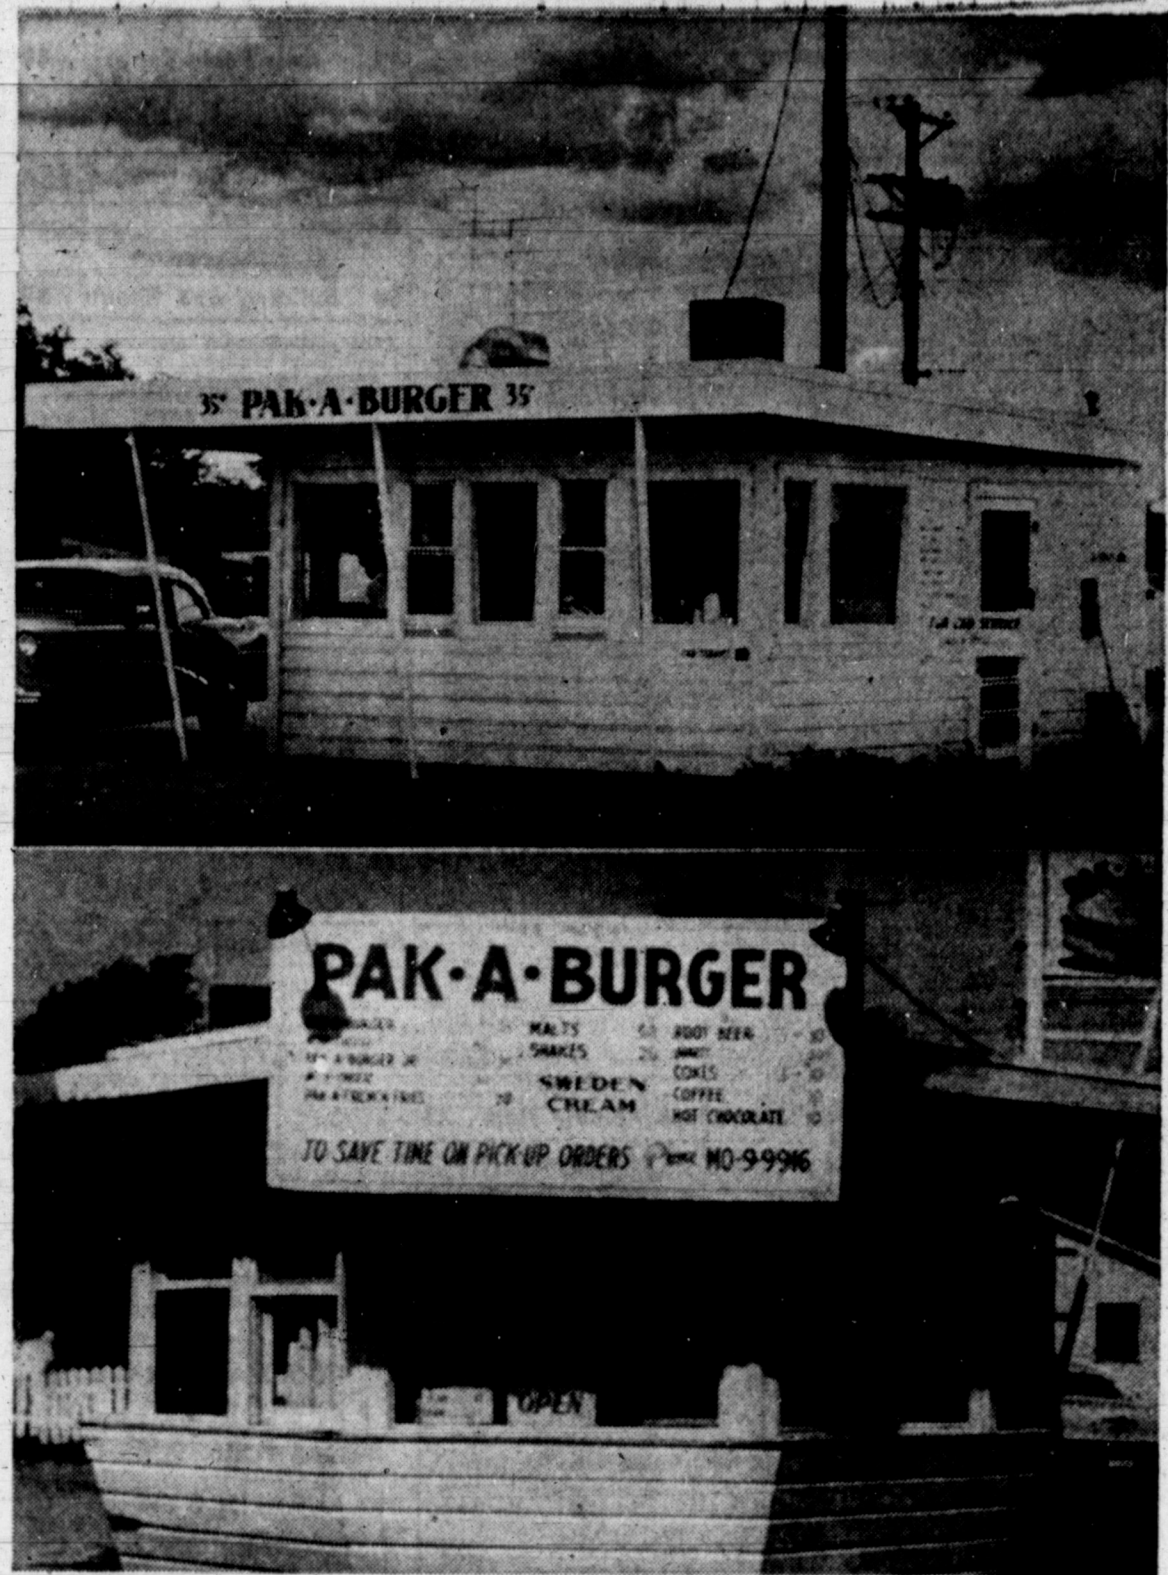

PUB APPEAL

FRYERNING, England (UPI)—The local minister, the Rev. William Mellor, requested that local pubs be allowed to stay open an extra hour here so that farmers can have their usual pint of beer after attending his harvest service.
