

Officials Agree To Meet

Steel Strike In 8th Day

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal Mediation Director Joseph P. Finnegan announced Wednesday night that the striking steel union and industry negotiators had agreed to meet jointly with him on Monday, but he said that didn't mean they were any closer to a contract agreement to end the nationwide strike, now in its eighth day.

A few hours later the Big Three aluminum producers turned down wage demands of the United Steelworkers of America (USWA), posing the possibility of a "shut-down" of the bulk of the nation's production of that basic metal at the expiration of contracts July 31.

Finnegan left for Washington Wednesday night to report today to Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell on the steel situation, in which Mitchell has placed himself as a one-man fact-finder. Finnegan told newsmen that his statement of last week that there can be no quick or easy solution to the strike "still stands."

Monday's meeting will be the first meeting of industry and union negotiators since 500,000 basic steel workers went on strike at midnight July 14. An estimated 35,000 more persons in supporting industries have laid off as a result of the shutdown of 85 per cent of the nation's steel production.

The industry, whose 12 biggest firms are represented by the four-man negotiating team, has refused to consider an increase in overall labor costs, demanding instead a wage and price freeze to combat inflation. The union claims the industry can raise wages without raising prices.

The aluminum industry apparently lined itself up behind the steel industry in rejecting the USWA's 15-cent wage package demand. About 30,000 steel workers are employed by the Big Three firms—Aluminum Co. of America, Reynolds Metals and Kaiser.

Four Pampa Youths Receive Large Fines

Four Pampa youths, involved in an outbreak of minor violence Monday night, were fined $100 each Wednesday in corporation court.

Fined for disturbing the peace were Early Jackson Jr., 18; Max Stanley, 24; L. H. Edwards Jr., 20; and Jimmy Dale Allen, 19. The young men, unable to pay their fines, were under custody in city jail Wednesday afternoon.

Two of the youths, Stanley and Edwards, were also sentenced to 30 days in jail by County Judge William Craig on charges of malicious destruction.

Six other juveniles, white and Negro, were placed under probation with Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard until further order of the court.

All of the youths were involved in a melee Monday night near the Steer Inn Drive-in on Brown St. Police said the trouble began when a car with six Negro youths inside passed the Steer Inn and was hit by some object. When the Negroes stopped to check for damage, both front windows of the car, were smashed out by coke bottles.

A gang fight, that threatened to develop afterward, was broken up by police, and a number of boys were arrested.

Nixon Lands In Moscow; Russian Radio Raps U.S.

Will Talk Soon With Khrushchev

By ERNEST BARCELLA
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon landed here today in clear, balmy weather, but an icy anti-American blast from Radio Moscow had chilled the international air.

Clouds which veiled the sky over Moscow when Premier Nikita Khrushchev returned from Warsaw earlier in the day cleared about half an hour before the arrival of Nixon and his party.

Russia's official welcome was cordial. First Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov, who recently visited the United States, expressed hope in a welcoming speech that the vice president's 11-day tour would help to clear up "prejudices and misunderstandings" between the two countries.

Nixon's formal arrival statement acknowledged the grim tension existing between the United States and Russia, and promised that he would help to achieve better understanding because "we must reach the point where we must either learn to live together or we will die together."

Khrushchev Charges

Khrushchev, in a speech coinciding with Nixon's arrival, accused the United States of direct interference in the Soviet Union's internal affairs. He was referring to the "Captive Nations Week" proclaimed by President Eisenhower.

A few hours earlier, a radio broadcast on the same subject had charged that certain persons in the United States were trying to force their dictates on the entire world.

The Communist organ Pravda accused the United States of new anti-Soviet provocations and reminded Nixon of the "stain" which he had brought to South America last year.

No disorders marred the vice president's arrival at the airport today. Curious Russians crowded the airport waiting rooms, pushing up to the windows to get a glimpse of the party.

When Nixon, after delivering his arrival speech in English, spoke the Russian words "Drazhba prikladno" (friendship brings peace) into a microphone, there

Police Seek 'Ducktail' Gang

Socialite Missing

By GAR KAGANOWICH
United Press International

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—A nationwide alarm was out today for a 21-year-old socialite beauty who disappeared at Newark Airport late Tuesday after kissing her fiancé good-bye at a plane gate.

Jacqueline Gay Hart, a 1955 debutante who was graduated from college in June and was to have been married in just five weeks, apparently never reached her graduation. Her present whereabouts are unknown.

The car they were believed to have been driving also was found abandoned at the airport. It had no license plates.

The only apparent clue to her fate was the report of her fiancé, Stanley Noyes Gaines 23, that he saw four or five "hoodlums" follow the small blonde beauty from the airplane departure gate.

The youths, described only as having ducktail haircuts, were also seen by others and are being sought by police for questioning.

But their known activity only helped graduation. Her present whereabouts are unknown.

The Rev. Herbert R. Cooper was scheduled to marry the couple in Christ Episcopal Church, Short Hills on Aug. 23, said the girl's distraught parents believe she is a victim of "foul play."

"The longer it goes, the less chance the girl has," said acting Police Inspector Charles Kelly.

FBI agents, without direct jurisdiction in the case, were working with local police.

Despite the foreboding statements, police said they had not discounted the possibility the apparently happy girl had disappeared voluntarily.

But they were equally without clues as to how she might have done that.

The airport is surrounded by marshland and by a waterfront and factory area which would be frightening to most persons at night. It is bordered by the New Jersey Turnpike and several other highways.

Police scoured the airport area and a Coast Guard helicopter searched the marshes from the air. The girl's beauty could be expected to turn heads in any crowd.

But police said they had checked all airline personnel, taxi and bus drivers serving the airport and all hotels and motels in the city and airport area without finding anyone who had seen her. State police, who had seen her state than her fiancé, whose plane took off at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Miss Hart is the daughter of Ralph A. Hart, executive vice president of Colgate-Palmolive Co. She had driven young Gaines, son of wealthy Fayetteville, W. Va., coal operator L. Emersole Gaines, to the airport from her family's home in the exclusive suburb of Short Hills, a drive of about 15 minutes.

Reds Ready To End East-West Meeting

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western foreign ministers today backed off their threat to break off the East-West conference here, if Communist sources said the Russians had had enough and wanted to end it themselves.

There were strong indications a West wanted to avoid an open clash with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Moscow for a 11-day good will tour and with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The West also wanted to avoid any blame for ending a talks.

Communist bloc sources said a Kremlin was rapidly losing interest in the foreign ministers conference after giving the West eight-week run-around. They noted that Andrei Gromyko was evincing a continuation of the talks was pointless.

Today's Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said the West had put forward unacceptable proposals knowing they would not be accepted and thus trying to make appear Russia was breaking off a talks.

The Russian maneuvering tied in reports by Western diplomats the Soviet Union was using a Geneva conference primarily a probing operation into Allied unity and weakness and once Gromyko had spotted these weaknesses were ready to call it off.

The diplomatic reports said Gromyko was under instructions from Khrushchev to sound out the eastern maximum and minimum demands for a cold war settlement and had been asked to find out how far the Western powers could be pressed.

Gromyko's assessment was expected to form the basis for a new Kremlin policy review before Khrushchev consents to commit himself to a firm decision. An assessment was considered an important part of the overall negotiations in Moscow for decision.

HOUSTON 12-YEAR-OLD

Two More Boys Admit to Slaying

HOUSTON (UPI)—Homicide detectives said today two more Negro teenagers signed statements admitting they took part in the slaying of a 12-year-old white boy in a vacant lot three days ago.

The two new confessions brought the total to seven Negro youths who admitted they were involved in the sexual assault and suffocation in an old icebox of William M. Bodenheimer III.

Two other boys, who were expected to be charged with sodomy and murder, meantime repudiated their earlier statements to newsmen and claimed they confessed to the crime because they were beaten by officers.

They are Joe Edward Smith and Adrian Johnson, both 17 and both old enough to be tried as adults under Texas law. The five other youths now involved in the case all are juveniles and cannot be charged with a felony crime in Texas.

Stories Changed

Roy Eugene Miller, 16, and his brother, Robert LeRoy Miller, 13, both were arrested at midnight Wednesday after they were named by another in the group as having taken part in the attack on the white boy.

The three other juveniles, Ira Lee Snyder, 13, Charles Archer, 15, and David Clemons, 15, all made new statements Wednesday night after they were taken to the murder scene and told to reenact the crime.

The main difference between the new statements and the earlier ones, detectives said, is that in the new ones each of the youths admit they sexually abused the victim before he was stuffed into the icebox to die.

In his earlier statement, Snyder claimed he did not go inside the icebox where young Bodenheimer's body was found Tuesday. However, he admitted in his latest statement that he took part in the sexual attack.

Playing Dominions

Officers said both the Miller boys admitted under questioning that they were in the group and described the events leading up to the murder almost exactly as the other three juveniles described them.

Both sides were busy making speeches for the record in advance of a breakdown. The Big 4 expected to spar for position on the Berlin agreement.

There were strong indications a West wanted to avoid an open clash with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Moscow for a 11-day good will tour and with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The West also wanted to avoid any blame for ending a talks.

LONG INVESTIGATING FRASER'S 'COLDNESS'

DENVER (UPI)—Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana planned a drive to the mountain town of Fraser, Colo. today to see why "it gets so damn cold-up there," but said he would return in time for another afternoon at Centennial race track.

Long won about $100 on four races Wednesday.

He called off a visit to the Tropics nightclub to see stripper Tempest Storm early today. All arrangements had been made by the governor got tied up in a telephone conversation.

The governor, feeling he'll be there for six weeks, told newsmen he was intrigued by the town, about 60 miles west of Denver, consistently records the nation's lowest temperature.

Long would cross 11,314-foot Berthoud Pass to get to Fraser. He blamed the 7,000-foot altitude at Santa Fe, N. J. for a mild heat disturbance earlier this week.

Long said he wanted to go to Kansas City, Mo., from here to discuss the 1960 presidential election with former President Harry S. Truman.

"I'm foolish enough to think I'll be elected and have something to do with the Louisiana delegation to the national convention," he said.

ONE INJURED IN PICKUPS COLLIDE HERE

No persons were injured Wednesday afternoon when two pickup trucks collided at the intersection of W. Foster and Commercial. The mishap was the sixth of the year in Pampa. Drivers of the trucks were Alexander R. Harvey, 236 N. 13th St., and Oscar W. Nowlin, 1404 S. 13th St. Both were taken to hospital. Damage to both trucks, a 1956 Chevrolet and a 1957 Ford, was about $200.

HOUSE MEMBERS OPEN DEBATE ON TOBACCO, LUXURY TAX BILL

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI) — House members today opened debate on a $75 million dollar tax program to finance state government, based mainly on levies on tobacco and sale of luxuries.

The general tax measure was laid before the House by Speaker Eggenor Carr without objection to its consideration in floor debate.

Rules were suspended by a vote of 121-24 to permit immediate passage of the measure after action on floor amendments.

Earlier, Gov. Price Daniel called some 25 House members together for a meeting in his capitol office to form battle plans for the tax debate.

Strategy was discussed on Daniel's pet tax recommendation a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas pipelines, and plans for a tax on individuals and levies on business.

A second bill, proposing a tax on the natural gas pipeline industry, also waits consideration of the lower chamber.

Both bills were returned Wednesday after a subcommittee of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee hashed over 15 different measures tossed into the upper shortly after the current third special session was called to order.

Sponsors say the general tax on would yield a direct $173,000,000 chiefly through selective sales taxes. They said another $9 million would be realized and added to it by the state comptroller through improved collection procedures.

The second bill proposes a 1.2 mill per 1,000 cubic feet gas pipeline tax that would produce an estimated 16 million dollars if fully approved.

The House shied away from immediate consideration of the general tax measure by turning down an effort to set the bill up for afternoon debate Wednesday. It also rejected a plan to bring up the bill at 10 a.m. today, but increased efforts are expected from sponsors.

16 Million Dollar Levy

The House shied away from immediate consideration of the general tax measure by turning down an effort to set the bill up for afternoon debate Wednesday. It also rejected a plan to bring up the bill at 10 a.m. today, but increased efforts are expected from sponsors.

The $75 million dollar measure was written by the subcommittee and sent to the floor of the House on a voice vote. At almost the same time, the Revenue and Taxation Committee approved a 1 per cent severance tax on natural gas and sent it to the floor.

No Gas Tax

Rep. Pete Matthew of Yoakum, who served as chairman of the subcommittee, said his group did not include a severance beneficiary tax on gas because "we don't want to endanger passage of a bill that will meet the state's needs with such a controversial item."

Matthew said the separate bill would give lawmakers a chance to vote on it.

Call for Sacrifice

"The best thing which he can do now for the nation is to make the sacrifice of returning to be the head of the government," said Dorticos.

Castro's speech was sprinkled with ringing defenses of the past, present and future of the revolution. For Cubans, it was a stirring speech.

He called Cuba a "true university of democracy" and said the enemies of Cuba were trying to impede its development.

"They are taking advantage of liberties which we won for all," Castro said. "There is no terror, persecution or force here."

Mainly About People

Friends report to the News that J. A. Thurmond, 2201 N. Russell, is recuperating in Mercy Hospital, Room 301, in Laredo from an emergency operation on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith of Flint, Mich. arrived Wednesday for a visit with Mr. Smith's brothers and families. Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Smith Sr., 232 N. Faulkner.

Rev. and Mrs. Dick Crews and family are expected home today from a month's vacation in California. Members of the First Christian Church will welcome them home with an Ice Cream Social on Friday at 7:30 p.m. on the south church lawn. Friends are cordially invited to attend.

to vote to tax interstate gas pipelines.

The Youakum lawmaker said the proposed bill would put a total of $18 million dollars in the general coffers after proceeds are coupled with estimated revenue from present taxes.

Five Items

The 171 million dollars tax bill is built largely on five items:

-A 20 per cent per pack increase on cigars, of which one cent would be temporary, to raise $42,972,000.

-A 25 per cent of value tax on cigars and smoking tobacco, to raise $19,200,000.

-A 2 per cent luxury sales tax on items costing more than $100, to yield $90,000,000.

-Increase the motor vehicle sales tax from 1.1 per cent to 1.5 per cent to raise $15,500,000.

-Increase the tax on liquor from $1.40 to $1.38 per gallon and increase wine by 20 per cent, to bring $5,200,000.

On the spending side of the legislative ledger, the Senate rejected the House approved $24,000,000 appropriations bill and substituted instead its own version of a plan for state spending.

The House promptly rejected the substitute. Another joint Senate-House conference committee will be appointed to iron out the differences.

from the Gatesville State School for Boys.

The pair admitted to homicide officers Wednesday that they and three younger Negroes pulled young Bodenheimer off his bicycle Tuesday, dragged him to an abandoned shack, committed unnatural sex acts and stuffed him into an old icebox to die.

The three other Negroes, all juveniles, will be turned over to juvenile authorities today. One of them, David Clemons, 15, led police to the scene of the murder and re-enacted the crime.

Died of Suffocation

The white boy died of suffocation in the ice box, an autopsy showed. H. R. Baughin, an uncle, the boy's mother, Mrs. Doris Bodenheimer and two others had been searching for him when Baughin found the crumpled body in the box.

They spotted the bicycle the youth had been riding home from a swimming pool lying outside the abandoned shed.

The other two juveniles are Ira Lee Sadler, 13, Smith's half-brother, and Charles Archer, 15. Archer and the two older youths were named as those who sexually attacked young Bodenheimer.

The boys worked together as a juvenile gang, Homicide Lt. B. Porter said. In their statements to police, they admitted they had taken money from newsboys in the same vicinity several times.

"They said that only Saturday night they had gone to the River Oaks Theater and taken some money away from the paper boys

Berry in Hospital

M. T. Berry, 424 Graham, was taken by ambulance to Highland General Hospital at 10:30 this morning after collapsing in the Empire Cafe, 115 S. Cuyler. His condition was not known at press time today.

Porter said.

Unnatural Relations

One of the younger youths told police he had been having unnatural relations with an older Negro man.

Porter said telephones at the homicide division had been busy Tuesday. "I don't know if this will cause any race trouble," Porter said.

"I haven't heard anything about any trouble. Of course, lots of people are talking about it. People are upset. It's a big topic of discussion."

Smith was described as the leader of the gang, maintained in the position by his half-brother Sadler, whom police described as big for his age and muscular.

Sadler was the first to break under police questioning after officers located him at a hospital, where he had gone with "pains in the stomach."

Dark-Haired California Coed Wins Miss United States Title

By RICK DU BROW
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Terry Lynn Huntington, a 19-year-old UCLA coed who refuses to give up college for an acting career, is the new Miss U.S.A.

The green-eyed dark-haired beauty from Mount Shasta, Calif., won the title Wednesday night over four blondes in the final round and will represent the United States against 33 foreign contestants in competition for the Miss Universe title which gets underway tonight.

Miss Universe will be chosen Friday night. The 5-foot, 6½-inch, 120-pound college sophomore, who measures 36-23-36, threw herself into the arms of her mother, crying.

"Momma, Momma! I can't believe it. When I stood there in the wings I just couldn't move."

Her mother, Mrs. Joia Huntington, a slim gray-haired woman, replied: "I knew you had it all along, honey."

Standing by as the two women embraced was Terry's brother, John, who was graduated from West Point last month and watched the contest in full-dress uniform with some 1,500 other spectators at Municipal Auditorium.

"She's a sister in a million," he beamed.

Runners-up in the finals were: Miss Texas, Carelean Douglas, 20, a student at Southern Methodist University; Miss Florida, Nani Greene, 21, a senior at the University of Miami; Miss Georgia, Dorothy Gladys Taylor, 18, and Miss New York, Ariene Nesbitt, 21, a registered nurse.

Commercially, Terry's victory was worth $1,500 cash from a make-up firm and personal items including a $500 wardrobe.

Asked if she would quit school to accept an acting career, Terry replied: "If they let me go back to school I'd take a movie contract."

Rites Completed For J. Killebrew

Danger of War

"We would not be honest if we did not recognize that while only miles separate our new state Alaska from the territory of a Soviet Union and while the level time between Moscow and New York is less than ten hours, we are grave and serious problems which divide us—differences which, if not resolved, could endanger the peace to which we are dedicated."

"In view of the destructive power of modern weapons we know that if there is another war there will be no victors, only losers. For the first time since the dawn of civilization, we have reached the point where we must either learn to live together or we will die together."

Nixon brought no personal message from Eisenhower to Khrushchev. Eisenhower had said in advance that the vice president would impart information and relay the attitudes of the American people but would not negotiate on anything.

The Pravda attack, Wednesday against the United States called "Captive Nations Week" and a new campaign aimed at disrupting American-Soviet relations.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, making to newsmen in Warsaw today, night, openly questioned the purpose of the Nixon trip—a statement that led Nixon to say before leaving Washington: "I'm puzzled as to why he is puzzled. Khrushchev abruptly cancelled a projected tour of Scandinavia after this week because of an anti-Soviet press campaign. Pravda's three column editorial attacked the United States of similar anti-Soviet propaganda."

Khrushchev Leaves Warsaw

Khrushchev was trying in from Warsaw a few hours earlier than he expected. They are to meet Sunday in Moscow's suburbs when Nixon pledged to tell him the Americans are solidly behind President Eisenhower.

Although Nixon may be subjected privately to blunt probing questions in the talks he is expected to have with Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders, the Russians are sure to maintain the tried diplomatic standard of courtesy to an illustrious foreigner.

Although Nixon does not rate the head of a state of government, he is the highest-ranking American office holder to visit Asia since the end of World War II.

Place vegetable kebabs on broiler pan with the meat. Again brush meat with the spread. Return to oven and finish broiling another 2 to 3 minutes.

If cooking outdoors, place meat kebabs on a grill and cook to desired degree of doneness. Brush with mustard spread and turn several times during heating time. The vegetables cook rapidly so place on grill near the end of cooking time.

For easy service, insert the skewers with cooked kebabs into the holes of foil covered bricks.

What hostess doesn't try to outdo her own past successes each time she gives a party? The season of outdoor dining opens up new recipe possibilities for the venturesome party-giver. If you would have your next Patio Party one that will be remembered, make the highlight of the meal Beef Steak Kebabs.

The best kebabs are made from steak cut at least one inch thick. For true elegance, select top quality aged sirloin steak with fat that is white to cream color. There should be a good covering of fat and streaks of fat, called "marbling," throughout. One of the best guides to delicious eating is the meat packer's own stamp, which may be found on the covering of fat. A small roll blue ribbon tag in some pre-chilled meat is a sure sign of quality.

It's said that we eat with our eyes, and it is true that food imaginatively served seems to taste better. For a clever touch when serving your beef kebabs, stand the skewers in the holes of foil covered bricks.

As with filet mignon, the sweet smoke flavor of bacon blends in a way that is irresistible with sirloin in Beef Kebabs. Mushrooms add texture contrast, green peppers a flavor lift, and the seasonings the unique difference in the following recipe for Beef Steak Kebabs.

The cocoa is instant sweet milk cocoa, a blend of fine quality cocoa, whole milk, and sugar that has been pre-processed to make a perfect cup of cocoa by merely adding hot water, or milk for extra richness and nourishment. Stir 3 heaping-teaspoons of instant sweet milk cocoa into a cup of hot water or milk, and cocoa is ready to serve!

The cookies have their quick secret, too, as they are self-frosted by cutting semi-sweet chocolate morsels into cookie batter that has been in the oven 2 minutes to soften the morsels.

Semi-Sweet Chocolate Self-Frosters

1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup light brown sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon water
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted flour

1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup nuts, coarsely chopped
1 5-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

Cream butter with brown sugar. Beat in egg, vanilla and water. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt; blend into sugar mixture. Stir in chopped nuts and 1/2 cup of the chocolate morsels. Turn into a greased and floured 8-inch square pan. Sprinkle remaining 1/2 cup chocolate morsels on top. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 2 minutes. Remove pan from oven, run tip of knife in a zigzag motion through the slightly melted morsels. Turn the pan and repeat the procedure in the opposite direction. (The second zigzag actually cuts through the first.) Continue baking for 20 to 25 minutes more. Cool in pan. Cut into 2 inch squares. YIELD: 16 squares.

Barbecue Mustard New Taste Treat

You outdoor fans have a new pair of flavor boosters — Heinz Barbecue Sauce and Heinz Mustard Sauce.

The barbecue sauce is a hot one — not too heavy in tomato, but zipped up by a combination of vinegar, brown mustard, Worcestershire, vegetable oil and spices. It's a brush-on sauce, ideal for ribs, hamburgers, chicken, hot dogs and every other meat that can be grilled over charcoal.

Actually the charcoal fire isn't necessary for imparting that genuine barbecue flavor, for this new recipe has a natural smoke flavor that is quickly transferred to the meat or other food on which it is brushed. Foods prepared with this new sauce have a real open-air flavor.

Mustard sauce is a tangy, sweet-sour sauce, the consistency for pouring. It's an adaptation of a popular recipe produced by J. J. Heinz Company in Australia. This is the second sauce "steal" from Heinz overseas production. Several years ago the British Ideal Sauce, or Sweet Fruit Sauce as it is known in Canada, was introduced on the American market as Savory Sauce.

Mustard sauce can be used just as it comes from the bottle as a dip for raw vegetables, miniature frankfurters and cubes of cold meats or cheeses. Easy to mix with other ingredients because of its consistency, it makes a zesty flavoring for salad dressing. Potatoes, salad, macaroni-salad, egg salad, stew, and of course, tossed salads take a flavor boost from this new sauce. It can also be used as a condiment for poultry, ham, roasts and spareribs or for frankfurters, hamburgers, corned beef or cheese.

Fruit For Breakfast 'Peachy' Idea For Adding Zest To Ordinary Meal

"Eat fruit for breakfast" has been the maxim of many a man from poet to physician, gourmet to gastronome. Often their interest centers on one fruit in particular, the sun-bushed peach.

At no other time of the year is there such an abundance of peaches and other colorful fruits to add zest to an ordinary breakfast and to give vitamins A and C to a growing family.

The popular peach with its succulent texture, refreshing fragrance and tree-ripe flavor is just the fruit to perk up any backward breakfast. Especially in hot weather, light, colorful peaches are a "natural" to tempt the most heat-weary appetites.

Peaches are more abundant than last year as a better than average crop moves to market. Latest estimate from the Agricultural Marketing Service places the total crop at 11.8 million bushels. Nine southern states are producing nearly 11.5 million bushels, which get-together, too.

BANANA NUT BREAD TEA LOAVES

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup soft shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 cups mashed ripe bananas
1 cup All-Bran (whole bran cereal)
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in bananas, All-Bran and vanilla. Add to flour mixture together with nuts, stirring only until combined. Fill six greased 6-ounce coffee cans about one-half full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 small loaves will be marketed mostly fresh fruit within the next 60 days.

Signs of maturity and best flavor in peaches are white or yellow background color and a fairly firm flesh. Peaches that look too green often will not ripen, lack flavor, and may even shrivel.

A few clues to remember in home ripening are: Ripen at room temperature; peaches won't soften in the refrigerator. Once peaches become "tender to the touch," keep cool until ready to serve. Setting peaches in the sun may lead to shrivelling and possible decay.

Don't peel peaches until ready for use to avoid darkening. Sprinkle lemon- or other citrus juice over peeled fruit to keep its color.

Multitudes of breakfast dishes are inspired by peaches. These rosy-checked gems are at their best in such simple dishes as these:

Breakfast fruit cup: a colorful, fresh eye-opener on a summer morning. Combine peach slices with raspberries, blackberries or strawberries. For added appeal, sift a sprinkling of confectioner's sugar over the fruit.

Broiled peaches: yummy with breakfast sausage, dressing up the platter and adding a flavor and color all their own. Any meat that is good for breakfast is even better with broiled peaches.

Baked peaches: flavored in the Midwest when teamed with over-lapping ham slices and buttered corn muffins. To prepare, bake whole, pared peaches in a sugar syrup until tender. Dot with butter and turn occasionally while baking.

Peach preserves: a favorite spread for biscuits. Preserves, jams, jelly and marmalade make juicy, "peachy" addition to light, tender breads, toasts and muffins. Who could feel "too hot to be hungry" when these taste-tempters are on the table?

Cereal toppings: welcomed more during warm summer days when

Hot Breads Add Variety To Lunch

At any time of the year, sandwiches are a great lunch and snacktime favorite. During the warm weather, they're especially welcomed since they are quick and easy to eat and offer the cooling, nourishing refreshment of a variety of tasty chilled fillings.

To add extra flavor to their sandwich courses, many homemakers include delectable hot bread variations, such as Banana Nut Bread, made with wholesome flour mixture together with nuts, stirring only until combined. Fill six greased 6-ounce coffee cans about one-half full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 small loaves

Cauliflower Casserole With Egg Sauce Sure To Lift Heat-Wilted Spirits

Nothing seems to counteract the sweltering summer heat better than the color white — cool-looking, fresh and seemingly untroubled by soaring temperatures. It's utilized in fashions, furniture and, by many homemakers, in their hot-weather menus. Try this trick by planning a cauliflower dish which, besides adding distinctive flavor, also decorates the table with a cool, white appearance.

Here is a recipe for Cauliflower with Egg Sauce which is sure to lift heat-wilted spirits. It's made easily in less than a half-hour. This casserole, with its creamy sauce and crisp topping of buttered corn flakes, is a delicious way to meet the challenge of the summer weather.

CAULIFLOWER WITH EGG SAUCE

1 medium-sized cauliflower
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup milk
2 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely chopped
1 cup Corn-Flakes
2 teaspoons butter or margarine, melted

Remove leaves and stalk of cauliflower. Soak in salted water about 30 minutes; drain. Cook in boiling salted water about 20 minutes. Drain carefully; put into greased oven-proof serving dish or casserole.

Melt butter, stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly; cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Fold in you use more crisp, ready-to-eat cereals. What could be a more perfect combination than crunchy bits of corn, wheat, or rice plus sweetened peach slices and cream.

For those occasional cooler days this summer, serve fresh peaches on hot cereal.

Peaches in combination: add zest to waffles, cobblers, fritters, muffins, tart and turnovers. To give a special caramelly fruit flavor to coffee-cake, use peach slices, flour, brown sugar and dots of butter to create a delicious crumb topping.

Little Things Mean A Lot

The little things that do so much to lend personality to a meal, to another form add just as much individuality to a meal. It only takes a special sauce, unusual seasoning or some other little trick of the trade to transform an ordinary dish into exotic fare.

Today's recipe for Fruited Pork is a perfect example. Prepared in a skillet right on top of the stove, the chops are browned in pure vegetable oil, an unsaturated cottonseed oil that contributes no flavor of its own to the other ingredients. Then comes the special touch — a rich sauce combining pineapple, prunes, apricots, spices and seasonings. After the chops have simmered in this sauce for the required period, the mixed fruit flavor will have permeated the pork, making for delectable dining!

FRUITED PORK

6 lean pork chops
2 tablespoons Wesson Oil (pure vegetable oil)
1 can (13 1/2 oz.) cubed pineapple
1 large onion, chopped
1/4 cup minced celery leaves
1 clove garlic, minced
12 prunes, pitted
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup dried apricots

Brown pork chops on both sides in hot Wesson Oil (pure vegetable oil) in large skillet. Add next 7 ingredients. Cover and simmer over medium heat 20 minutes. Add celery and apricots and let cook 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Creative Cookery In Salad Dressing

Do you want to be creative with your cookery? Begin with your salad dressing because it takes less time and less money than most creative cooking. But what an important role a salad dressing, made in your own kitchen, plays in a good meal!

All of the basic ingredients for salad dressings, especially vegetable oils, are in good supply throughout the country this season, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

For the basic French dressing, combine 1 1/2 cups salad oil, with 1/2 cup vinegar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika and 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard. Shake vigorously in a covered container or beat with an electric mixer. Lemon juice may be substituted for all or part of the vinegar if dressing is being created for fruit salads.

A few suggestions for varying the basic French dressing: A d d 2 tablespoons chopped onion and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce to 1 cup basic recipe.

Garlic French dressing: A d d 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 whole garlic clove to 1/2 cup basic recipe. If a definite garlic flavor is desired, crush garlic into dressing, otherwise remove before serving.

Celery seed French dressing: Add 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, 2 teaspoons catsup, 1/4 cup sugar and 1 whole clove (remove before serving) to 1 cup of basic recipe.

Chive French dressing: A d d 2 tablespoons finely chopped green chives to 1/2 cup basic recipe.

Blue cheese French dressing: Add 1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese to 1 cup basic recipe.

California Primary Closed Out Of State Democrats

WASHINGTON WINDOW
By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press-International

The somewhat belligerent word from West Coast is that any and all out-of-state Democrats had better get out of next year's California Democratic presidential primary. The word comes from the little cup of able man who are counseling Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown on political strategy. Brown is at least a favorite candidate for the 1960 presidential nomination. The word on California's primary has been conveyed clearly. Sen. Stuart Symington. It is believed in California that all three of the word and will abide by it. Humphrey is on firm public record that he will not invade Brown's preserves. There is no indication that Symington has considered contesting California. There is even less likelihood of contest in the Republican presidential primary. So, it looks like Nixon will win their home-state delegations without contest this year. Nixon is, of course, a candidate for the Republican nomination although he has not formally announced. Brown's status is less definite. He was reluctant to commit himself to a mere favorite-son candidacy after taking office as governor. In February of this year, however, Brown so defined his political status. Your correspondent was in California when the announcement was made. During a discussion of it with the governor, your correspondent was convinced that Brown was a favor-

That purpose was to control the House, California delegation to the 1960 Democratic national convention and to exercise such influence there as such control would assure. Brown neither looked, acted nor talked last February like a man who was aiming at the White House efforts to obtain delegate support for Brown in other Western states.

There is definite emphasis on this: Brown does not want second place on the 1960 Democratic ticket. It might be put this way: Brown does not want second place considerably more than he doesn't want first place. Brown's realistic political associates, however, concede that if Kennedy is not nominated for president, the Democrats may pick him for second place. Brown is a Catholic. Brown would be a logical and good choice for No. 2 in such circumstances. Some of his friends would persuade him to accept that believe Brown's party loyalty would persuade him to accept that nomination.

outh's three no-trump bid was based on hope, a stout heart and confidence in his ability to pick a "trick or so" in the play if he had to.

One look at dummy showed that he had little or no play in his contract but his expression radiated confidence and after giving the opening heart lead he the ace he put the nine of hearts on the table quicker than he could say "Jack Robinson."

West should have been ready to play the deuce but West hesitated awhile and played the ten. Just never occurred to him that South would have over-called with two clubs and then bid no-trump with a jack high suit and West was afraid to South play both the ace and the king and might let that nine ride. So West played the ten and simply played low from dummy. He was sure that East would take the ace for his opening bid but it just might be a singleton. So and behold, it was! East had to take his partner's ten and there was no way to keep the club from making five club tricks and winding up with an over-trick at his impossible contract.

Furr's to Feature Zany Jerry Lewis

Jerry Lewis, that delicious, energetic and zany clown of show business, will appear in person in Furr's Super Market Jerry Lewis Show, coming to Amarillo T.R. State Fair Coliseum September 17 & 18, 1959. In Jerry Lewis, Furr's has contracted for the "hottest piece of talent" in the entertainment field—a star who has recently signed for more than $10,000,000 to do seven motion pictures, more than any other single personality in Hollywood's history!

Lewis will top the two-hour variety show, playing a 15-day tour throughout Furr's Super Markets trade area — West Texas, New Mexico and Colorado, September 14 through 28. Some 300,000 persons are expected to see the show. It opens in Colorado Springs and plays these towns in order: Denver, Albuquerque, Amarillo, Lubbock, Roswell, Hobbs, Abilene, Midland, Odessa and El Paso. Some 42 performances will be staged, three-a-day scheduled in the majority of towns.

Tickets for the show will be available only through Furr's Super Markets, the host. A person will save Furr's cash register tapes, indicating purchases at any Furr's Super Market or Cafeteria. For each $25 of tapes saved, one ticket will be given. All redemptions will be made at Furr's Super Markets. No tickets will be sold or given away, according to Roy Furr, president of Furr's, Inc. There will be no reserved seats for any performance, he said. Tickets will be given during an 8-week period — July 16 through September 9.

In 1956, Furr's brought its first "Show of Shows" with Mickey Rooney, Mamie Van Doren and The Four Aces as the stars. In 1957 the "Show of Stars" starred Herb Shriner, Julius LaRosa, the Hilltoppers and DeCastro Sisters. This year, with Jerry Lewis as its star, the show will be centered around this dynamic comedian. Jerry not only sings many of his hit songs in his album "Jerry Lewis Just Sings", but he sings many others, including his two records which have sold more than one million copies each "Rock-A-Bye Your Baby with a Dixie Melody" and "Come Rain or Come Shine".

His comedy, of course, is devastating, what with his many gyrations and unexpected antics on the stage. He breaks his act by playing the trumpet and even dances with the best of the professionals! His latest motion picture "Don't Give Up the Ship" is being received well all over the country. In night clubs from Las Vegas to Miami, New York and Chicago, he has simply "brought down the house" in every case.

Other talent to back up Lewis are the Chordettes, girl quartet of Arthur Godfrey fame who come with a fine string of Cadence Records; Homer Garrett and his Y-Knot Twirlers (dancing with comedy who will be seen this summer on Ed Sullivan's show in Moscow); Hubert Castle, former Ringling Bros. Circus center-ring tight-wire walker of excellence and Teddy Phillips' orchestra of 25 pieces.

NEGRO EDUCATOR NAMED NEW YORK (UPI) — Negro educator Tuesday was nominated for the post of associate superintendent of schools. The name of Dr. John B. King, 50, was submitted to the Board of Education by Superintendent of Schools John J. Theobald. The board is expected to approve the nomination Thursday, making King the first Negro to become an associate superintendent.

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And even if you wish your property to be distributed entirely in accordance with our statutes of descent and distribution as explained in previous columns, a will can perform useful functions. Among other uses, a will could provide for an orderly and economical partition of your property, preventing any waste of the assets by heirs impatient for a settlement.

What happens to property which escheats to the State? Following certain required legal formalities and court proceedings, all escheated lands are set apart to the Permanent Free School Fund of the State, and may be leased and sold by the Land Commissioner under certain regulations. Escheated personal property is sold by the local sheriff under a court writ and the money received therefrom paid into the State Treasury.

When Senator Gets Windy, At Least Two Others Must Listen

The Lighter Side By FRANK ELIAZER United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In an episode that shocked sensibilities of the old timers the Senate now has brought out in the open one of the regrettable facts of life in the world's windiest legislative body. This is that when a member makes one of those long speeches, at least one or two other members have to hang around, just like they were listening. Somebody also has to preside, and persuading some junior senator to sit in for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the nominal presiding officer, during one of these soliloquies sometimes pretty nearly takes a subpoena. Sen. D. Aiken (R-Vt.), who likes to be accommodating, let himself be talked into this chore the other evening with the understanding he would be relieved in not more than three minutes. Obstacles Encountered This was supposed to give Robert G. Baker, secretary to the Democratic majority, time to finger some other unwary member. But the day's business was done, everybody was hungry, and the members were feeling. There is no evidence that the mass departure was influenced by the fact that one of the members remaining, with the obvious intention to seek recognition, was Sen. Wayne L. Morse (D-Ore.). But Morse is given to compressive discourses. In fact he once talked 22 hours and 26 minutes, setting a record that only once since has been topped. And other senators can't be sure when he may again desire to discuss an issue at length. Anyway, time passed and none of his juniors came to let Aiken up. Chair Makes Announcement "The chair has an announcement to make," he said, finally. "The present occupant of the chair took the chair a little before 8 p.m. for a period of three minutes. He has now been here 20 minutes. If there are any volunteers to take the chair, he will consider the offer. Otherwise the Senate will be adjourned in two minutes."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), a freshman elevated temporarily to the lofty post of acting Republican leader, said adjournment suited him fine. But Morse and Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.), the other survivor of the day's activities, weren't quite ready to quit. "Irregular as the chair's announcement has been," said Morse, "I think we all understand the situation, and we appreciate the enthusiasm with which the present presiding officers occupies the chair. But the senator from Kentucky and I have a few minutes' business to transact."

Aiken, in an announcement previously never paralleled in the Senate, said fine, he would give each of them one minute to talk. Make Proposition Of course no senator could agree to any such limitation as that, so Morse put a proposition to Cooper. Morse would preside while Cooper spoke. If Cooper would preside while Morse spoke, Cooper demurred, lest we get the long end of the deal. "My statement will be but an announcement," Morse promised. So Cooper agreed. Morse took the chair, and recognized Cooper. Cooper said he was introducing a mine safety bill, and he hoped it would be widely supported. Cooper took the chair, and recognized Morse.

Confirms Suspicions Morse indeed had only an announcement to make. It was that he would make a speech at a later date, on the subject of labor. He didn't say how long the speech would be. His announcement though ran 682 words, confirming Cooper's suspicions. Keating then fractured Cooper's remaining composure by saying he also felt moved to declaim. Cooper gulped but allowed that Keating insisted on talking he guessed he would be happy to listen. So assured, Keating said he would wait. And he waited. He waited until 6:24 p.m., the Senate, in the presence of the Supreme Court decisions, welcome this opportunity to address the Senate this evening."

MAKING ROOM FOR MORE—This stark, angular structure is taking its place beside the stately concrete silos that have long been a landmark in the grain belt. It is a metal building recently constructed by the Missouri Farmers Association in Mexico, Mo. It was built to serve farmers storing grain under government loan and has room for 250,000 bushels. Storage of federal farm surpluses is now the number one business of private grain warehouses, under the watchful eye of the Commodity Credit Corporation. Cost to the government for storing grain during fiscal 1959 is estimated at 422 million dollars. It is expected to rise to 558 million in 1960.

BLOOMERS, A DECLINING MARKET, NLRB DECIDES

The Lighter Side
By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When the news broke that the National Labor Relations Board had held up ladies bloomers as a declining style I could hardly believe it. I always figured NLRB as dealing more with labor relations.

Union suits, yes. But women's unmentionables, never. Here was their finding, though, all about the rise and fall of the bloomer.

According to these august gentlemen they soon will be forgotten.

Bloomers are Out
In short, they divulge that the girls now aren't wearing bloomers. They are wearing something called panties, with which the bloomer must not be confused.

The bloomer, we learn from the agency's 78-page finding, is a longish kind of thing, loose, and gathered in at the knees. The pants apparently is not, although the board did not see fit to go into that.

All of this came out in an NLRB story about seven bloomer girls and some of their friends and cutting and fitting at the Marion Mills, in Guin, Ala. A trial examiner James A. Shaw, who wrote it, said some parts might have been better told by Balzac than by a mere NLRB trial attorney.

I don't know about that, Author Shaw obviously labored long and hard over his manuscript, and I guess the board member liked it. Anyway, they included it all in their final report, including Shaw's passing respects, in a footnote, to the late Amelia Jenks Bloomer (1815-1894), the dress reformer and women's rights leader for whom the soon-to-be quitted garment was named.

Girls Join Union
The plot briefly was that the girls, and their friends, joined a union and shortly thereafter the bloomer line was shut down.

What with one thing and another, including conflicting reports about an allegedly amorous maintenance man who also was fired, the whole thing wound up before NLRB as a case of alleged unfair labor practices.

Evelyn Sandlin was a graduate of the Mill's panty line. She transferred to the bloomer line a year or so before it was halted. Evelyn not only joined the union but displayed such enthusiasm for its organizing campaign the other girls named her as spokesman to break the news to the boss.

The news the boss broke to her, Evelyn said, was that if she ever caught her talking union she would be fired. When the bloomer line was closed down, she said, he told her that's the way it would stay until "the union mess" was all over.

But Howard Sembia, a company official, said economics, not union trouble, prompted the decision to quit making bloomers at Guin.

A Declining Market
"It is what you might call a declining market," he said. "The people who like to wear bloomers are ones who wore bloomers ever since 1900."

Sembia's testimony impressed Shaw as so reasonable he was moved to some comments on his own.

"What is past is prologue," he observed. "To the undersigned, at least, bloomers as articles of feminine apparel will soon rest in the hallowed quiet of the past, alongside other fancied foibles of yesteryear, such as the bustle, high button shoes, and the hood."

On the strength of this and other literary flights by the trial examiner, the board found that it was indeed the harsh dictates of changing fashion, not anti-union bias on the part of the company, that put Guin's bloomer girls out looking for work.

As for the rest of the story, including the part about the allegedly amorous maintenance

CARIBBEAN UNREST BLAMED ON CASTRO

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

Just as Cuba's Fidel Castro served to dramatize the revolutionary spirit existing in the Caribbean, so it has become the fashion of Caribbean nations where unrest breaks out to blame it all on Castro.

Castro is the avowed enemy of the dictatorships of the Dominican Republic and Nicaragua, both of which have been the scenes of abortive uprising attempts within the last few months.

But unrest in Latin America is as many-colored as the rainbow and has as many different causes. In some instances the hand of Moscow is apparent.

But the seeds of unrest lie also in these statistics:
Little Land Cultivated
Half of the inhabitants of Latin America are illiterate. Though two out of three make their living from the land, only 5 per cent of the land is cultivated.

Average food consumption is about one fifth less than in the U.S., and in some countries, 1 per cent of the population control 20 per cent of the wealth.

The 1950 census for Honduras, showed that only about 30 per cent of the population had shoes.

In April of this year, some 80 men made an invasion attempt on the coast of Panama. Their leader reportedly was Dr. Roberto Arias, former Panamanian ambassador to Britain.

Later, the Panamanian government quoted some of the captured invaders as saying they had set sail from Cuba.

Accuses Castro
The "invasion" later was dismissed as a quarrel among Panama's traditionally ruling families, and Cuba largely was absolved.

In mid-June a 112-man airborne force attempted an uprising in Nicaragua.

This month, a second attempt in the last six months was made against the government of Honduras.

Whatever the cause, whether uprisings are born from within or without, the Caribbean is seething with unrest as it has not for more than 20 years.

Ministers To Meet
Next month, in Santiago, Chile, foreign ministers of the 21 American states will meet to study the broad problems of "unrest in the Caribbean."

It will be the most important meeting of the OAS in its 11 years, and its problems the most delicate.

Ferrying Kozlov Across US Like Being In Foreign Intrigue

Woman To Woman By MARY PRIME United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ferrying Soviet First Deputy Premier Kozlov around the country was like taking part in a foreign intrigue movie, say three airline stewardesses.

Beverly and Shirley Tobison and Margaret Arndt were the hostesses aboard the National Airlines DC7-B which the State Department chartered for Kozlov on a two-week official visit.

"We were nervous wrecks before that trip was over," said Beverly, 27, a shapely blonde. Her sister, 25, is red-haired and equally shapely.

The plane was under 24-hour security watch until the trip was over, the women said in an interview after the trip. Crew members were investigated before being assigned to the flight.

Luggage of passengers and crew was checked by Geiger counter and was fluoroscoped at each landing and take-off. Russian and American security officers stood watch each time baggage was loaded or unloaded. Scheduled de-planing positions were changed before each landing. Food Checked All food served on the plane was checked by Geiger counter for radiation poisoning. No outsiders were allowed on board except caterers whose every move was followed closely. Security men watched all hotel rooms and were present everytime meals, bath hours, waiters or other outsiders entered the rooms.

"It really was weird," Beverly said. "Every time we heard a car backfire, we were scared out of our wits. One night we called our room-mates from a hotel room. We told them the trip was like foreign intrigue and just then all the lights went out."

The stewardesses were chosen for the trip because of their experience in charter flights. Miss Arndt, the senior hostess, who hails from Newton, N. C., is a veteran of 15 years.

The Tobison sisters have been flying since and a half years. Born in Seattle and raised in San Francisco, they went into show business as a trio with another sister, Patty. Billed as "Taylor Maids," they sang with Guy Lombardo and toured Korea with Bob Hope in 1950.

When Patty married, Shirley and Beverly wound up trying for an airline job on a dare. Two pilots had bet them no airline would hire sisters.

Frightening Reaction "Our immediate reaction to the Russians was frightening," Beverly recalled. "They were so sophisticated, smooth, cordial and American-looking. I was talking with one man and asked where he lived, thinking he was one of the American newsmen from some place like New York. It gave me cold chills when he said Moscow. He was Kozlov's interpreter and had no Russian accent."

Kozlov was "like a typical politician," the women said. "The Russians in general were just like any other passengers." They found women aboard, all though the stewardesses were ill because their figures were so slim.

The Russians said they like their women large, but they didn't see anyone starting the other way," Beverly laughed. "During the trip, the visitors consumed great quantities of food and American cigarettes, tried to convince the girls that a Russian discovered America and admitted they were impressed that the sisters live in Miami with two other girls in a 12-room house with swimming pool and air-conditioning."

The stewardesses took one Russian to a baseball game, and attended a garden party for the visitors in Burlingame, Calif., and a party at the Russian Embassy in Washington.

At the embassy, they called everyone "comrade," and drank and less toasts in vodka," said Beverly. "But do you know what gave me an eerie feeling? A big picture of Khrushchev on the wall in front of me, and I had to stare at it all day. He had a bald head, I was scared as hell. We all went to the forward cabin door and pumped out after the captain told us to."

Helicopter Can Lay Fire Hose, Set Steeple In Place

By LEON BURNETT United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No telling what the helicopter will be used for next. Its odd jobs so far have ranged from laying fire hose to setting church steeples in place.

The Aircraft Industries Association of American, Inc. has compiled a list of unusual uses to which the whirlybird has been put, and reports that more than 140 firms are flying 'copters commercially.

Aside from its normal use as a passenger or cargo carrier, the helicopter has been adapted to a variety of lifting, towing and dropping jobs that can't be handled any other way.

There was the matter of delivering a big pane of glass to the 21st floor of a new office building. It wouldn't fit into an elevator so it was taken up by 'copter, saving the cost of building a delivery scaffold.

In Louisiana, a plane was forced down in an isolated area and ordinarily would have been surrendered to the elements. But a helicopter picked it up and flew it to the nearest landing strip.

In California, "choppers" were used to lay fire hose in forests, putting it down at the rate of 1,000 feet per minute. It also was used in California to prefabricate a church steeple was picked up and installed by air.

In Illinois, a 2,000-pound wooden box was built, then lowered by helicopter over a 65-foot statue to protect it against the weather.

In several areas, whirlybirds have been used to build high metal towers and to install the nearest landing strip.

During the Korean War helicopters demonstrated their value in the evacuation of wounded. Now officials are promoting their use as peacetime flying ambulances, and have predicted: "Within a few years we may see helicopter landing pads on most of the large hospitals in the country."

Dior Could Be Saving Shocker Line For Paris

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—If the fashion house of Christian Dior has any shockers up its sleeve for fall, it is saving them for the later show in Paris.

The American-made wholesale collection is without innovation. It joins the rest of Seventh Avenue, the nation's garment center, in a bounce back to normal.

The collection is called the "Willow Look," which I presume means the clothes will make us wince of silliness even if we have the trunk of an oak.

It was described at a show for fashion reporters Monday as "emphasizing both suppleness of line and freedom of motion."

Shoulders are a little wider than last fall, but without exaggeration. Often the shoulder seam is dropped. Waistlines are where nature designed them, frequently cinched with wide belts or crushed cummerbunds. Skirts are 1 1/2 inches longer than last fall, or comfortable covering the knee cap.

Longer Jackets

Suit jackets come in several lengths, although the trend is toward the longer, wrist length. Several are double-breasted.

Laurent, likes the collarless coat with half the belt at the back and the collarless, belted suit with a fur ascot tucked in the neckline.

In some late day and evening fashions, the bell skirt of the old, old "New Look" (1947) is back even to petticoats beneath.

Traditionally, the New York collection is a well-mannered one. The young designer follows the lead of the late Dior in saving the grand coup for the Paris custom collection, scheduled for July 30 this year.

Another up-and-coming young designer, Bill Blass, turned to masculine leisure wear for ideas. His clothes for Maurice Rentner included "smoking jacket" costumes—long jackets in fine wools or synthetic broadens, tied usually with self belts. The jackets are shown over simple dresses, or with contrasting blouses and slim skirts. Some of the jackets are collared in fox.

Two strips of fox also trim the skirt of a cape and dress costume.

GATHERING MOSS AND CUSTOMERS—Norman Butters' parking lot office in Long Beach, Calif., is probably the most unique in the country. It's a 1930 Packard which Butters, 64, drove for awhile and then put up on blocks five years ago. Wired for electricity, the old sedan has a radio, desk and heater. Occasionally Butters turns the engine over to keep it in shape. When he retires, he plans to paint the car and sell it.

Robert and Rose Olsen of New Orleans won the open pairs at the recent Spindletop tournament in Beaumont. In one of their winning hands they collaborated in both the bidding and play to get a really tip-top score.

To start, Rose pushed their opponents to five spades with a five diamond sacrifice bid. Robert doubled and Rose started proceedings for the defense by underleading her ace of diamonds. Robert went up with the king and led a club back for Rose to ruff. It was obvious to him that she wasn't underleading that ace for sheer sport.

Now Rose played the queen of hearts. South played low from dummy but Robert was there with another winning play. He went right up with his ace and gave Rose another ruff.

This last ruff represented in itself added to injury. When they set South one trick doubled they

CUBA MAY HAVE MORE VIOLENCE

EDITORS: The following foreign news commentary is the first of three which will be devoted to background and reasons for current unrest in Latin America, with emphasis on the Caribbean area. They are designed to be used either as single dispatches or in series.

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

No matter how high Cuba's Fidel Castro may be riding now, there are many who predict his country will be involved in violent revolution before the year is out.

What manner of man is Castro—saviour, impractical idealist, trigger-happy zealot and tool of communism? Whatever he is, few men have so stirred the imaginations of restless Latin Americans since Simon Bolivar, who was born in Caracas, Venezuela, in 1783 and who by the time of his death at the age of 47 was the liberator of Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Panama, Peru and Bolivia.

In the seven months since Castro drove former dictator Fulgencio Batista from Cuba, uprisings or threats of uprisings have occurred in the Caribbean nations of Panama, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Honduras, Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Have Castro Trademark
Two of these, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic, are dictator nations especially earmarked by Castro as next on the liberation schedule. But each uprising has had the Castro trademark.

The magnetism of Castro's leadership already has been demonstrated. One news writer said of him:

"Fidel Castro and his 26th of July Movement are the flaming symbol of opposition to the regime. The organization is formed of youths of all kinds. It is a revolutionary movement that calls itself socialist. It is also nationalist which generally in Latin America means anti-Yankee. The program is vague and couched in generalities, but it amounts to a new deal for Cuba, radical, democratic and therefore anti-communistic."

That paragraph was phrased nearly two years in advance of Castro's final victory.

In one aspect it proved accurate. In another, at least open to doubt.

Castro obviously came to power with his ultimate objectives only vaguely etched in his mind. The result is today's chaos.

Laws or decrees have been promulgated at Castro's whim. Each is advertised as for the nation's good, but each has resulted in near or total dislocation of the area affected.

Nearly half of Cuba's two-million-man working force is jobless. Rent reductions paralyzed the building field. The agrarian reform law brought almost total paralysis to cane, tobacco and rice plantings. And so the list goes.

Castro's own headstrong nature has shown in the dismal, rhythmic sound of Cuban firing squads before whom nearly 600 already have fallen, with more promised. First victims were alleged Batista

"BOMB" SHELTERS ASKED

DOZING TROOPER ROBBED
CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI)—State police reported with some details. To them now are added "counter-revolutionaries" and opponents of the agrarian reform law.

Castro's own handpicked president, Manuel Urrutia Lelo, found what could happen as result of criticizing the regime. He was dismissed and accused of near-treason because he protested the growing power of communism in Cuba.

Skelton Highly Regarded By Audiences, Fellow Comedians

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—If a man were taken among the nation's comedians as to who is the funniest performer in show biz, Skelton would win in a walk.

Red's popularity with audiences topped only by the high regard of his fellow comedians.

Jack Benny, Bob Hope, George Burns, Groucho Marx and other professionals all agree the red-head is the best, and the word they invariably use is "great."

Skelton is proving his magnetism nightly at the Riviera Hotel where he packs in 700 customers for each of his two performances. Opening night he was cheered for 15 minutes and was forced to lengthen his show by an hour and a half.

"METHOD" ACTOR—"Mr. Stubbs" is a "method" actor. His method: sticking everything in sight, scenes included. He's the animal star of the forthcoming circus-adventure story, "Toby Tyler." Nine-year-old Kevin Corcoran will star as Toby.

Shakes Head Happily
Red-shaking his head happily, had an explanation for the tremendous surge in his popularity. "I think it began two years ago when I almost died of asthma," he said.

"Then it occurred to me that I was more than just another comedian to most people. And I understood why. I've been coming into the nation's homes for 10 years now, and audiences have begun to think of me as part of the family. When I was near death it was as if they were losing a relative.

"Here, I'm not trying for immortality. I'm working for a living and doing the best I'm able. About this 'greatness' I'm called a great clown, not a comedian, and there's a difference. A clown is more diversified. He makes people laugh through sadness as much as humor."

Mixes Comedy
Most comedians stick with one type of performance, but Red mixes pantomime, stand-up jokes, sketches, folk songs and concludes with a dramatic bit about an old veteran watching a parade go by.

Red resents comparisons with Charlie Chaplin, the great clown of another era.

"He was a great silent picture star," Red says tersely. "I don't like the comparison. And there's no point in analyzing why people laugh. You can go nutty trying to figure that out."

"I have 600 set routines I can call on, and I guess most of them are funny. They make people laugh. But, truthfully, I'm always surprised when people laugh at what I do. Surprised and pleased."

"I realize I'm popular with the public, and I think it's because people must like a comic both on and off stage if he is going to be successful. It's different with an actor. They can be hated in one role and loved in another. Comedians and clowns must be loved constantly."

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a minister. Together we seek to maintain a home that will be a blessing to our children and an example of upright living for our neighbors and parishioners.

We are faced with a problem that may seem small to some people but is big to us.

We have no ashtrays because we do not enjoy smoke in our home or lungs. We have certain friends who refuse to visit us because they know how we feel about smoking in our home.

Are we being unfair to make this simple request or not?

PASTOR'S WIFE: Dear Wife: It is not a "simple request" to a habitual smoker. Your lack of tolerance may occasion criticism from some of your smoking friends. I doubt if any of your really worthwhile friendships will go up in smoke.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who sits herself in the front seat of the car next to her son and makes her daughter-in-law sit in the back by herself?

JUST WONDERING: Dear Just: A mother-in-law should not have to sit herself anywhere. A daughter-in-law, out of respect for her elders, should offer her mother-in-law, first choice of any seat in the car.

DEAR ABBY: My sister has a three children, ages 6, 9 and 12.

HE ATE MY FISH!

MRS. NO NAME: Dear Mrs. N. N.: You do your son no favor by quietly returning objects "confiscated" by him without making a fuss. Stealing is a symptom of something which can be cured only with professional help. Get it at once.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

SMOKED SHOULDER BUTT: This particular meat cut which is the cured, smoked eye of the Boston butt, can be either roasted in a 300 degree F. oven for 25 to 45 minutes per pound, or it can be cooked slowly in liquid for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Senior Citizens Have A Picnic

By Helen Reed Home Economist Bakers of America Program

Wise in the ways of picnics, our senior citizens like to break bread in this pleasant, informal way. With congenial friends and family, and with the old favorite foods, the picnic eye is one they are prone to follow. If the group has a liking for informal, and as for each other—then fun can be taken for granted. A three generation affair has been the accepted pattern for many large holiday gatherings—Memorial Day, July Fourth and the other traditional picnic days. It also is the pattern for informal, and spur-of-the-moment gatherings.

Now for older health and welfare advisors are recommending these outdoor meals because of their benefits, both physical and social. The building of outdoor grills and of picnic tables and benches is encouraged as a helpful hobby. There is, say the authorities, considerable therapeutic value in these outdoor activities.

Beaches, parks, and gardens are good picnic sites. The easily prepared and the simple foods are continuing favorites. In Florida, a fish-ry is as well as sunny peninsula's "most favorite" kind of picnic. It is one that our senior folk, their children and their grandchildren all enjoy. With fishing one of the state's great pastimes, a fish-ry always is the right climax. Here one is under way, with the fishermen resting after their hours on the shore, and a son-in-law taking over in the role of chef. It's a get-together of family and of friends, with a simple menu, and very good cooking. The old washing well has been equipped with an electric outlet for the use of plug-in electrical appliances. A deep fat fryer is making the cooking an easy chore, as the fillets of a fighting silver kingfish become a tender golden brown. If the picnic site is not far from the home kitchen, the salad already tossed, and a hot, parsley lemon loaf can be brought directly to the table. A baker's coconut cake was the chosen dessert for this outing.

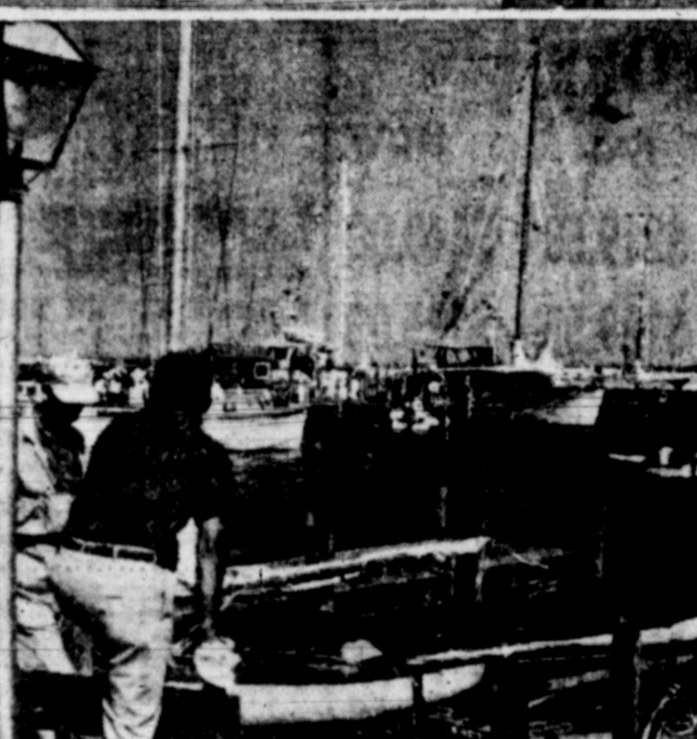

It was one of the wives who suggested an added ingredient for the fish sauce. Three tablespoons of India relish were added to the jar of Tartar Sauce. Many Beachwear rates loving care if it's to last you more than one season. For salt water and sand are good for you but destructive to fabrics if they're left in for any length of time. Sudsing a swim suit (left) after each wearing is an absolute must. It's no great chore. You wash it in much the same way you'd wash your nylons. Never wring it, of course. Sun lotion (center) helps you gain a golden tan but it can spot your swim suit if it isn't washed out. And a dip in the sea won't turn the trick. After a day at the beach, sun lotion, perspiration and salt or chlorine come clean in the bathtub. What's good for your swim suit is good for you, too. And don't forget that your hair, too, needs shampooing.

COOK'S NOOK Recipes Of Old New England Inn Star In New Cookbook

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Food and Markets Editor

Martha's Vineyard, serene island-off-Cape Cod, is a New England's last frontier. It is a land of the stately white houses of old sea captains. Sailboats and power cruisers sweep the blue Atlantic but sooner or later they all steer harborward in time for dinner.

We sat on the wide veranda of The Harbor View Inn in Edgartown, discussing menus with our old friends, John B. Packard, the innkeeper, and his wife, Ruth, famous for her flower gardens. When white sails came near a rigger gliding in past the lighthouse, John suggested dinner.

The recipes are in The Treadway Inns Cook Book. Packard, a Yankee gourmet himself and a guiding force in the Treadway Inns, contributed to the collection.

CRAB MEAT-CAKES (Makes about 12 cakes or 6 servings): Two slices white bread, 1/4 cup olive oil, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash paprika, 2 eggs, separated, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 pound crab meat, about 2 tablespoons butter.

Take the crusts off the bread, put it in a mixing bowl, pour 1/4 cup of olive oil over it, and let stand for 1 hour. Then pull it apart lightly with two forks. Add mustard, salt, Worcestershire sauce, a dash of paprika and the yolks, and blend lightly with a fork. Pick over the crab meat carefully to remove all bits of shell, and quickly mix into the bread mixture. Fold in the whites, stiffly beaten. Form into cakes. Brown on both sides, in a heavy skillet in a small amount of hot butter. The cakes may be served with tartar sauce with a little grated horseradish in it.

ROQUEFORT DRESSING: One-half cup cider vinegar, 3 ounces cream cheese, salt, dash Tabasco, 2 cups mayonnaise, 6 ounces Roquefort cheese, 1 egg yolk (optional), light cream (optional).

Blend together vinegar, cream cheese, salt, and Tabasco. Add 2 cups of mayonnaise and continue beating until smooth. Stir in Roquefort cheese broken into small pieces. The dressing should not be beaten after the cheese is added. A little lemon juice may be added if you wish, and the dressing may be thinned with a little light

Sun 'N Sand Can Be Summer Fiends Beauty Depends Overall Protection

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

A trim figure, chic swim togs, a sunny day and waves lapping the shore paint the perfect summer picture.

But gals, if you want that picture to remain lovely for the entire season, consider soapsuds as your greatest ally.

By treating your beachwear with loving care, you'll maintain its fresh color, fit and durability. Salt water and sand can have a devastating effect on your swim-suit if it isn't washed with warm soap of detergent suds after every wearing.

Even chlorinated pool water and the mineral-bearing fresh water of lakes can ruin the fabric of your bathing suit. And grains of sand can cut the fibers if they aren't washed out.

Most beach clothes are made from washable material. You can even get fabric beach shoes that can be scrubbed clean with a sudsy brush.

After you've sudsed your beach equipment, don't forget that you come next. A swim is not a bath. Sun lotion, salt and perspiration will clog the pores of your skin and may produce unattractive blemishes. And the salt will most certainly dull and dry your hair, if it isn't washed out.

So take a luxurious warm bath in lots of foamy soapsuds. Use a soft brush to remove the more stubborn grime. Then shampoo your hair.

You'll feel an exhilarating glow from the fresh air and exercise. And the dainty, well-groomed look you've acquired after your bath will add the perfect finishing touch to your summer picture.

RUTH MILLETT

How to tell whether a woman is a friend or just a flake. If she says, "What an attractive room: who did your decorating?" she's an acquaintance. If she says, "I love the way you've combined the colors in this room," she's a friend.

If she expresses regret when life deals you an unkind blow she may be either a friend or an acquaintance. But if she is obviously pleased when something good comes your way, she's a friend.

If she tells you "for your own good" an unkind remark, someone has made about you she's an acquaintance. If, instead, she tells you something nice she has heard about you that is sure to build up your ego, she's a friend.

If she talks about herself all the time she's an acquaintance. If she gives you a chance to talk about yourself part of the time and is genuinely interested in what you think she's your friend.

If she hurries to you with bad news she is an acquaintance. If she hurries to you with good news she is a friend.

If you have to "keep up a front" when you are with her or be careful not to say anything you wouldn't want repeated, she's an acquaintance. If you can be yourself in her company and not guard your words she's a friend.

If you are reluctant to let her do you a favor she is just an acquaintance. If you can accept help from her as a matter of course, knowing she knows you would do as much for her, she's a friend.

'His' Becomes 'Hers' Decried By Designers Of Milady's Autumn Hats

By MARY PRIME United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — What's "his" in hats now is "hers." The new crop of women's hats includes direct steals from the men—the derby, bowler, Homburg, and fedora. Slouch and swagger hats are manly. There even are Cosack hats and chechia—adaptations of the cylindrical Arab cap worn by Russian peasants and shown in fall collections in high, soft shapes in fur.

Many collections include shapkas—a Russian term for a man's cap or hat, which covers a variety of shapes, including the Casack.

The mannish styles stress feminine details—soft, supple crowns, varied brim treatments, jewels, doras with floppy, eye-shadowing flaps, and veils. There are fedoras with floppy, eye-shadowing brims, and slouches, high-crowned clothes and swagger hats with a Gabo look. These styles go with tie-belted wrap coats, coachmen's coats, and the longer belted jackets of suits and dress-and-jacket costumes.

Fur Is Important Fur is more important than ever. Mink heads the list, but there also are long-haired furs like lynx and fox. Colored nutria, leopard, broadtail, Persian lam chinchilla, sable, hair seal, beaver, hamster, fisher and river otter also are popular.

The fur look is so prominent that moderate-priced manufacturers have turned to fox as a mink for small hats. Fabrics are made to look like fur, such as brushed felt simulating mink, seal like velours and napped beaver materials. Even feathers are clipped and shaped to look like fur.

Nearly all silhouettes are shown in fur. Walter Florell did a group of mink shapkas. One slouch hat, which Florell called a "bacorette," came in cerulean or white mink, faced with pea grey felt and banded with white mink.

There was so much fur shown in milliner Irene's collection that a spectator remarked, "Why, it's a pet shop!"

Trimming Is Simple Because of the extreme shape and extensive use of fur, trimming is simple—grain or salt bands, leathers, veils, and a few jeweled pins which add a feminine touch to mannish hats as highlight tall toques, chechias and turbans.

Veils range from cage types "shadow veils" shown by M. John. They extend to the shoulder and fill in necklines of collarless suits and coats.

Colors are soft and misty, beige, and taupe, grey, violet blue, turquoise and pink. Two or three colors often are combined. Most late-day and evening hats are feminine, small, and generally sprinkled with jewels. Silhouettes include smoods, beret peaked caps, pill boxes, tulip domes, and head-bugging cloche.

Also for evening are velvet bands with sprays of flowers or feathers that stick straight up. Fabrics are lush—metallic brocades, velvet, silk jacquards, satin and a fall.

Commenting on a recent column, a reader who signs herself "Old Maid" writes: "It's usually the unmarried child who ends up with the responsibility for old parents. Married ones find excuses. Old people's homes are crowded because there aren't enough single children around to look after our old aged population."

I felt that "Old Maid" had something. And after checking with a friend whose work is placement in homes for aged, I found she thought so, too.

But unmarried children who find themselves exploited by married ones have only themselves to blame. They're so ashamed of their single state that they become easy victims to the married brothers and sisters who say, "We are so important to our own families that we just can't take any more responsibility. You're so important to anyone. So you are the person to take care of our parents."

Actually, behind this plea of too much responsibility is resentment of it. The married children think this way:

"Jane has nobody to please but herself while I have to please my wife or husband and youngsters. Jim has nobody to spend his money on but himself while my family's demands on me leave me with little..."

But though this is what they think, they do not say, "We are really just jealous of your freedom." Instead they use words like "duty" and "unselfishness" to deprive the single child of his freedom. The single child promptly reacts to them like old-fashioned horses to the sound of the alarm bell.

He often accepts not just the whole responsibility for physical care but for financial support of his parents.

Just as he once needed to show his brothers and sisters that he could spin as far as they could, he now needs to show them that he can be as self-sacrificing as they are.

Because married brothers and sisters are jealous of the single child's freedom is no reason to spare them their share of a common responsibility.

The single child needs to stop feeling apologetic for his single-ness. He needs to stand up in family council and say, "We are all important to ourselves. Only with this trust established can we plan justly and cooperatively to work out this obligation together."

Children trooping into the home during summer play are annoying. Especially when they track in dirt or drip water from the wading pool. Ease your cleaning problems by fixing an entrance where players can brush off the topsoil, change their wet suits and be near the snacks.

Lubbock's Legion Executes Rebels, 7-1

Clark To Hurl For Pampa Tonite

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Editor

The pitching performance of lean Donnie Bumpass lived up to advance press clippings here Wednesday night, but the Lubbock ace didn't make much of a splash with his feared Louisville Slugger.

Bumpass, a swift righthander with plenty of mound poise, kept four hits well scattered over nine innings to hurl the visiting Red Cheks to a 7-1 bi-district series opening win over Pampa's American Legion Rebels. Bumpass rifled through 15 strikeout pitches — four in the fourth frame — and walked only one while sailing merrily along to his 9th straight hill success this season, without a loss.

The four whiffs in the fourth resulted from clean-up batting Larry Stroud's fanning and reaching first safely when the catcher dropped the third strike.

Expected to do big things for the Monterey High pitching staff next spring, Bumpass entered the game as Lubbock's most prolific stickman with a gaudy .538 average. He drew the horse-collar five consecutive times here, however, for his first hitless outing in 21 games this season.

Pampa's little lefthander, Kippy Williams flipped seven frames of four hit ball for the Rebs, before Jimmy Walker came on in relief for the last two innings. Williams absorbed the loss by giving up three runs. Walker posted five strikeouts in his two-inning stint, but also allowed three hits and four runs in the 9th.

Roy Don Stephens, the No. 8 batter in Pampa's lineup rattled the semi-side armed offerings of Bumpass for three of the Rebels four hits, singling in the second and eighth, and doubling in the fifth.

The sudden hot streak by Stephens, who entered the game with a shabby .373 average, lifted his batting mark 51 percentage points.

Pampa will counter with undefeated Mike Clark (4-0) in an 8 p.m. game at Lubbock's Hodges Park tonight as the series swings into its second game. With backs to the wall, the Rebels must win tonight or hang up their spikes. A third game if necessary will be staged in Lubbock Friday night.

It was an air-tight contest through the first six innings, before the visitors broke open a 1-1 game with a pair of tallies in the top of the 7th. They added four insurance runs in the 8th as Pampa's infield collapsed completely.

Johnny Johnson led off the first for Lubbock with a single to left. He started second on a sacrifice by Jim Harris and just kept on moving around the horn and home when Larry Stroud threw to third to try and nab the fleeing Johnson there, but nobody was covering the hot corner bag, and the ball sailed down the line.

Terry Haralson walloped a long triple in the second to lead off things for Pampa, the ball bouncing over leftfielder Ronnie Ayeres' head and bounding all the way out to the wall.

Jim Scott sent a long high can-of-corn out to centerfield to easily score Haralson from third with the tying run. Roy Stephens followed Scott's sacrifice fly with a single to right, but was left stranded.

Stephens doubled to right-center in the fifth and looped a single into right in the eighth for the only other Rebel hits.

Meanwhile, Williams held the Red Cheks at bay until the seventh when Ayeres and Ronald Bandy sandwiched doubles around a walk, an error and a fielder's choice to take a 3-1 lead.

Ayeres poked his second double of the night to right to lead off the 9th. Then Walker fanned both Dale Harris and Johnny Johnson and ran a 3-2 count on Jim Harris before the roof caved in. Harris singled home Ayeres, Bandy singled home Harris and two straight errors in the infield let both Bandy and Gerald Mowery high-tail it for home plate, before Walker fanned his way out of the inning by striking Moose Dudley on a called third strike.

About the only thing the Rebels had to boast of after the game was the fact they managed only the second earned run off Bumpass this season in his 65 and one-third innings on the hill. In those 65-plus frames, he's now struck out 97, walked only 14 and allowed just 21 hits.

Although the Red Cheks whipped off a pair of snappy double-plays, Pampa centerfielder Bobby Stephens made the fielding play of the game in the seventh inning when he made a long running one-handed catch on a long liner from the bat of clean-up batting Mowery while two runners danced off the bags ready to sprint home-wards.

But pinch-hitter, Larry Gregory went down swinging to end the game and dash the hopes of Pampa's Pony League Stars for future advancement in the playoffs.

Step-Stevie paid $47.80 to go along with Blizago racing season. Step-Stevie paid $47.80 to go along with Blizoom's $11.90 in the second race.

HOW'LL WE STOP 'EM — With the score tied 1-1 in last night's 7-1 Pampa loss to Lubbock, this conference was held at the mound to map strategy about how to avert a squeeze bunt from scoring a runner at third. From left-to-right talking it over are: Pitcher Kippy Williams, First Baseman Larry Stroud, Manager Lloyd Summers and Catcher Terry Haralson.

ONLY SCORER — Terry Haralson was the picture of dejection after Pampa's 7-1 loss here to Lubbock last night. The hustling catcher tripled in the second and scored the loser's lone tally on a sacrifice fly to center by Jim Scott.

HERE'S 4, NOT FOR TENNIS

HAVERFORD, Pa. (UPI) — Perry Jones, non-playing captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team, said Wednesday night that four players had been invited to join the squad that declined because of business reasons.

Jones identified the four as Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Dick Savitt of New York, Ham Richardson of Washington, D.C., and Tom Brown of Los Angeles.

He also said that Bernard Bertzen, winner of the U. S. Clay Court title, was under consideration for the squad.

PAMPA OUSTED

Borger Bolts By Pony Stars, 3-2

BORGER — The tables turned on Pampa's Pony League All-Stars here Wednesday night after five and one-half scoreless innings. Winners of a tight 2-1 Monday night tilt over the Borger Pony Stars in the District Tournament opener Monday night, Pampa's All-Stars saw the cards fall the other way in the meet's semi-finals as they dropped a heart-breaking 3-2 decision.

Borger, however, blew a pair of early leads to bow out before unbeaten Childress, 10-7, in night cap as the latter picked up the tournament title and headed for the next playoff round in Denver, City.

Cecil Mitchell of Childress, the youngster who pitched the champs by Pampa, 13-12, Tuesday night.

Fem Golfers Eye $20,000
CHICAGO (UPI) — Women pro golfers begin a 72 hole scrap at Mount Prospect Country Club today for a $20,000 overall purse. At least 32 women pros were expected to begin the four day tournament and a dozen or more amateurs probably will go the distance as well.

Headline list of favorites was Mickey Wright, winner of the Ladies' PGA and U. S. Open championships who also annexed last week's ladies golf tourney at Alliance, Ohio.

But expected to give her competition all the way on the 6,421 yard course, which carries a par of 71-74, were such name players as Louise Suggs, Betty Rawls, Patty Berg, Fay Crocker, Betty Dodd, Beverly Hanson, Marilyn Smith, Marlene Bauer Hage, Mary Lena Faulk, Kathy Cornelius and Joyce Ziske.

Eighteen holes are scheduled daily through Sunday. The finish of the event was expected to be on a national television network.

TOWN HONORS MATHEWS

Machen Claims He's Ready For Heavyweight Title Shot

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Ed Machen, who said he would do his talking in the ring, hoped today that he was eloquent enough against Rubeen Vargas to earn a shot at the heavyweight championship.

"I'm ready to take on Ingemar Johansson in his own back yard," Machen said after blasting Vargas in 1:55 of the sixth round for a technical knockout at the Oregon Centennial Exposition grounds Wednesday night.

Vargas, 135, was sent to the Mexican on the aggressive. Vargas for an eight count in that round, but he arose and was knocked against the ropes at Machen's occasional outbursts of chicanery. The referee, Ralph Gruman, stopped the fight at that point.

Vargas blamed the TKO on the fifth and sixth rounds his second in Sweden last September.

Ed Machen, 28, said he was ready to take on Ingemar Johansson in his own back yard, Machen said after blasting Vargas in 1:55 of the sixth round for a technical knockout at the Oregon Centennial Exposition grounds Wednesday night.

Two heavyweights fought a close battle, through five rounds with Machen, 197, Portland, Ore., scoring more blows but with the Mexican on the aggressive. Vargas for an eight count in that round, but he arose and was knocked against the ropes at Machen's occasional outbursts of chicanery. The referee, Ralph Gruman, stopped the fight at that point.

It was the 28th pro bout for the fifth-ranked Machen and his 26th in the first round by Johansen in Sweden last September.

Avila Swings Away The Haney Blues

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
One swing of Bobby Avila's bat and Fred Haney can feel the Milwaukee Braves' second-base ace behind them.

Acquired from the Boston Red Sox only 24 hours earlier, the ex-American League batting champion pulled the Braves out of their seven-game losing streak Wednesday night with a two-run ninth-inning homer that produced a 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The win, the Braves first since July 13, moved them back into third place and also presented Warren Spahn with his 12th victory of the season and the 258th of his career. Spahn went all the way, yielding nine hits and contributing a homer to Milwaukee's seven-hit attack.

The San Francisco Giants, meanwhile, increased their NL lead to 1 1/2 games with a 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals while the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers bowed to the Chicago Cubs, 7-2.

Sox Regain Lead

The Chicago White Sox took over first place in the American League by one game when they shaded the Boston Red Sox, 5-4, and the New York Yankees downed the Cleveland Indians, 8-5.

The Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators, 6-2, and the Kansas City A's downed the Baltimore Orioles, 6-3.

Mike McCormick pitched a six-hitter for the Giants, who snapped a three-game losing streak with a nine-hit attack that included a run-scoring single and a homer by Willie Kirkland.

Earl Averill's grand slam homer was the big blow as the Cubs routed Danny McDevitt with seven runs in the second inning.

Bob Anderson turned in his sixth victory, his third over the Dodgers.

Philly Pounds Pirates Dave Philley drove in three runs and Ed Bouchee, Harry Anderson and Joe Lonnett knocked in two each to lead the Phillies' 19-hit attack on Ron Kline and three successors.

The White Sox scored their 21st one-run win of the year when Sherman Lollar's ninth-inning single scored Nelson Fox with the decisive run.

The Yankees rallied from a four-run deficit to deal fireballer Herb Score his eighth defeat and give Duke Maas his eighth win.

Frank Lary won his 11th game for Detroit with the help of Ray Narleski's late-inning relief job.

Franky Bolling hit his seventh homer and Lary his first for the Tigers who moved past Washington into fifth place.

Ray Herbert pitched a six-hitter for his fifth straight win and ninth of the year for Kansas City. Roger Maris had two hits and Dick Williams homered for the Athletics.

LL Stars Go Here Tonite

Two eager bands of Little League All-Stars — from Pampa, Western and Eastern loops — fill the playoff trail at 8 here tonight.

Winner of the playoff game slated for the Western Little League Park, advances into the area tournament at Memphis Friday night.

The two 14-member teams are both vying for a spot opposite Canadian in an 8 p.m. game Friday night in the Memphis Area Tournament which pits host Memphis against Childress in a 6 p.m. tilt Friday.

The Friday winners will tangle Saturday night in the finals of the area meet with a trip to the district tournament at Herford next week lying in the cards for the champ.

No starting lineups have been announced by either team's managers. This is the way the two teams stacked up with the teams they played for during the regular season included.

WESTERN LEAGUE ALL-STARS, with positions included: Kisse Ford — Randal Johnson, catcher; Stephen Molberg, first base-pitcher; Ronnie Pierce, pitcher-outfield; and Kenneth Davis, pitcher-outfield. One Bull Ranch — Tim Woods, third base-outfield; and Douglas Sagers, first base-outfield. Rotary Club — Roger Owen, pitcher-third base; James Daniels, shortstop-outfield; and Jerry Garrison, pitcher-outfield. C. R. Hoover — Phillip Smith, shortstop-catcher; and Walter Worley, second base-pitcher. Utility Oil — Jeff Smiley, catcher — outfield, E. M. Keller — Eugene. McCampbell, shortstop-pitcher.

EASTERN LEAGUE ALL-STARS, with positions included: Duncan Insurance — James Arthur, pitcher-infield; Ronald Oyer, catcher — outfield; John Robinson, infield-outfield; and Jerry Parker, infield-outfield. Meads Bread-

ALPINE, Tex. (UPI) — Sul Ross State college football coach B. C. Graves, disappointed because the school treats grid players "like thugs and criminals," has resigned his position to return to school himself.

Graves, also irked because Sul Ross president Dr. Bryan Wildenthal didn't even answer his request for a full time assistant coach, announced his resignation Wednesday in Temple, Tex., where he served 13 years as counselor at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The mentor, who's Sul Ross team won its first Lone Star Conference game in four years in 1958 despite the fact that he coached alone, plans to attend Texas University to get a doctor's degree in the psychology of counseling.

Graves termed the situation at Sul Ross as "unhealthy for the turning out of a good football program."

Then he added, "I think it is unfair to the football players at Sul Ross that they should have to meet higher scholastic standards than those of the conference."

He said the school treats players like "thugs and criminals." He was head coach last year when the school posted a season record of three wins and seven losses.

Pastrano In TV Match

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Brawny Willie Pastrano of Miami, Fla., who hit the skids in the ring ratings after deciding Chicago's Johnny Holman here two years ago, meets eager Alonzo Johnson in a 10-round Friday night fight to be headed nationally.

Johnson, of Braddock, Pa., is a substitute for Alex Mitoff, the big Argentine heavyweight who was sidelined by a kidney infection.

For Pastrano, who is just back from a so-so tour of European cauliflower alleys, the match brings back memories of better days. When he appeared here in September, 1957, he was ranked No. 3 in the heavy bracket and was the toast of the town for Louisville's first television bout.

After losing to Brian London and Joe Erskine, in London during a tour in which he won four and lost six fights in England and Italy, Pastrano finds himself ranked ninth in Ring Magazine and up against a foe who is riding a 12-fight victory streak.

Johnson, who gave up barbering for punching, has had a busy year. He has had five fights and has whipped Billy Hunter, Jimmy Slade and big Nino Valdes to run his record to a classy 17-1.

Johnson beat Valdes in a televised affair at New York's Madison Square Garden and promptly leaped to the No. 7 spot in the NBA ratings and ninth in Ring Magazine.

Aussies Favored To Oust Canada In Tennis Action

MONTREAL (UPI) — Australia, experiencing somewhat of an off year in tennis, nevertheless was the firm favorite to eliminate Canada in second round of the American Zone Davis Cup competition starting Friday.

To reach the challenge round against the defending champion United States, the Aussies will have to beat five countries in a row. They got by the first hurdle when they defeated Mexico, 4-1, in Mexico City Monday. If they get by Canada's "week-end" Davis Cup veterans—Bob Bedard and Don Fontana—the Aussies will play Cuba here July 31-Aug. 2 in the American Zone final.

Still confronting the Aussies, presuming they are still alive, will be the European winner, either Italy or Spain, and then India.

Australia's forces this year are comparative Davis Cup babies compared to Bedard and Fontana who have 11 years cup experience between them.

Non-playing Captain Lorne Main wasn't scheduled to name his team until noon e.d.t. today, when the draw is held. But it was no secret that Bedard, 27-year-old self-taught racket swinger from Sherbrooke, Que., and Fontana, 28-year-old advertising agency worker, would get the call. The other two members of the team were recently promoted juniors: John Bassett of Toronto and Francois Godbout of Waterloo, Que.

COLLEGE ALL-STARS PREPPING FOR COLTS

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 1959 College All-Star football squad of 52 players reported today to head coach Otto Graham to begin training for the 26th annual game with the National League champions, the Baltimore Colts, Aug. 14.

The Collegians, who defeated Detroit, 25-19, last year in Graham's coaching debut, will draw uniforms, get their rooming assignments and go through physical examinations today.

Graham, who will be assisted by Pete Pihos, Don Doll, Lou Saffan, Dick Stanfel and John Sauer, will send them through their first actual workouts Friday after a morning of picture taking.

Four new players have been added to the original roster. They are Dave Scherer, an end from Southern Methodist, and Rich Kreitling of Illinois, and tackles Harry Jacobs of Bradley and Ron Luciano of Syracuse. Center Bob Harrison of Oklahoma will not be able to play due to injuries in an automobile accident.

The tackles of Graham's squad this year will average 240 pounds, the guards 230 pounds, the backfield 191 pounds and the team overall 215 pounds.

CAR SICK?

Engine sluggish?
Burning oil?
Leaky transmission?
CURE IT FAST!

With These New Pyroil Rx Products

Pyroil Rx-1 for sluggish motors.
Purges engines in 30 minutes. Brings back pep and power. Add to gas or thru carburetor. Cleans out power-robbing engine deposits (the main cause of pre-ignition and engine knock). Loosens the binder holding carbon to metal so carbon is blown out with exhaust gases. Cleans out fuel lines, pumps and carburetor jets.
Add to oil and clean out the lower engine, too. Purges out sludge, gum and goo. Frees sticky rings, valve lifters. Flushes out impurities.
Contains a magnetic oil film that plates metal. Protects from rust and corrosion. Buy a can today for top performance and wonderful gas savings. Only $1.50 for a treatment.

Pyroil Rx-2 for worn motors.
Stops oil burning fast, because it forms a compression seal and prevents blow-by. Reduces exhaust smoke, keeps power in the engine instead of having it trail behind your car in the form of smoke. Miracle two-way formula stays tight for easy starting, keeps its body as motor heat increases. Contains CGA (Cam Guard Additive). Reduces engine wear and noise. Cuts oil pumping and worn motors, gives them a new lease on life $2.00 per quart, saves you oil and repair bills.

Pyroil Rx-3 for leaky transmissions.
Works two ways... 1. Stops leaks caused by drying, shrinking and hardening of transmission seals. Brings new life into oil seals, keeps them soft and pliable.
2. Cleans and lubricates transmissions, reduces gear and bearing wear and noise. Eliminates sluggish uneven shifting. Saves on expensive repair bills. Every auto, with automatic transmission needs this conditioner. Only $1.00 per can.

THIS IS THE LIFE—Two unidentified fishermen must be having the time of their lives as they fish for salmon in the Miramichi River in New Brunswick, Canada. They've already landed a whopper, and who knows what else they may net during the outing.

PLAY BALL!—Starting to play ball once again, Yankee third baseman Andy Carey spends time playing catch with his 2-year-old son James at home in River Edge, N. J. Carey was hospitalized by an attack of mononucleosis, but he's all ready to be taken off the disabled list.

ON HER WAY—In New York City, businesswoman Irene Brooks uses a motor scooter to call on numerous clients. At left, she's starting it up near Central Park, and a moment later she's on her way. The trim scooter is just what the doctor ordered for small parking areas.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

PASS MASTER—The answer to a football coach's prayer, Flippy, a porpoise, would rather be a pass-catching end than a water boy at Marineland, Fla. He's snaring a pass from Florida State University's new head football coach, Perry Moss, who'll start next fall. Moss succeeds Tom Nugent, who has moved on to the head coaching job at the University of Maryland.

HE GOT HURT—Walter Zemann (center), goalie for the Rapid of Vienna soccer team, grimaced in pain after injuring himself while making a save in the game with Napoli of Italy at New York's Ebbets Field. He left the game for 15 minutes, but returned to help battle to a 1-1 tie.

FROM BERMUDA—Dressed in kilts, members of the Bermuda Cadet Corp displayed their musical talents as they marched through Manhattan's Rockefeller Plaza. They had come over from their lovely British island to salute the city's Hudson Celebration, which coincided with Bermuda's own 350th anniversary this year.

HELL BE THERE—Rodney Pick is flanked by owners Gene Hayes (right) and brother Don in Du Quoin, Ill. Their horse is entered in the $133,000 Hambletonian Stake at the State Fair there in September, and the Hayes brothers have crossed their fingers and hope for the best.

UP IN THE AIR—A young lady at a lake near Ashland, Ky., is exercising with two bell-shaped plastic halves joined at their base. She uses two sticks connected with a cord to toss the unit into the air, or over a net to opponent.

BANNER OCCASION—Flag-waving is a proud occupation in Readstown, Wis., where these youngsters ride within a perimeter of 329 flags. No two alike, they were all made by Mrs. Harlan G. Sime, who started three years ago to make flags of the 13 American colonies for a parade. After finishing those, she kept right on with other flags.

REEL NICE—British beauty Ann Taylor curved and angled so expertly at a stream in a London park that she came up with that catch. Perhaps she needed no more lure than her abbreviated fishing costume to land this one.

TAKING COVER—Keeping their golf clubs dry was no easy matter for these damp competitors playing in the rain at the Connecticut State Amateur championship in Newton. Players and caddies carried umbrellas with them all over the course. Here, Pat Mazzarella (right center) keeps his umbrella nearby as he sinks a short putt.

TIME CHECK—Clock watching is fashionable in this featherweight gingham dress done in black and white. A giddily oversized watch is applied on the bouffant skirt of the sleeveless dress, which is just the thing for a game of shuffleboard.

THE START—All alone, Ann Davison Billheimer waved goodbye as she skippered her 17-foot outboard motorboat on the start of a 5,000-mile solo voyage from Miami, Fla. The British-born authoress and artist, who makes her home there, is off on a two-month trip that will take her to N. Y., Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans. She once crossed the Atlantic alone.

FLAMING YOUTH—These children aren't risking their lives on the rim of a volcano. They are standing on a hillside overlooking a smoking blaze which swept through a tire recapping plant in Chelsea, Mass.

SHOOTS CRAZED SON

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 18-year-old former mental patient was shot to death Monday night by his father whom he attacked with a jagged piece of glass. Joseph Carpinetti, 55, said his son, Larry, went berserk and began smashing furniture in their Bronx apartment. Carpinetti said that when he tried to calm his son, the youth came at him with a broken piece of mirror. The father then grabbed a rifle and fired two shots, hitting his son in the face.

NEGRO SEEKS OFFICE

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—At least one Negro will be on the ballot in the Memphis city election next month. Elichuie Stansback has qualified as a candidate for tax assessor. In addition, five other Negroes have announced they will qualify before the deadline at midnight tonight.

Explorers Leave Tuesday For Orange Naval Base

Members of Explorer Post 80 will leave Pampa by bus Tuesday for a trip to Orange, according to Davis Brown, Post advisor. They will return by way of Waco and Possum Kingdom Lake.

During their stay at Orange, they will be guests of the Orange Naval Base. They will make a tour of the base and a cruise of the Gulf and the Sabine Rivers. There is a possibility of instruction pertaining to naval operations at the base.

Plans are to spend at least seven days on the beach, camping out and cooking. On the return trip they plan to visit the State Penitentiary in Huntsville and the State national park, Waco. They will spend approximately two days at Possum Kingdom, returning to Pampa Aug. 12.

The boys will be escorted by Brown and Nicholas P. Chunko, local Navy recruiter.

The trip will be made for educational and training purposes under the new Explorer program," says Brown.

Explorers making the trip will be Vince Johnson, president; Ronnie Hoggett, Don Sears, Ronald Brown, Steve Metz, Bill Osborne and Mike Palmer.

Post 80 is sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

BOY STABS FATHER

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 12-year-old boy stabbed his father to death Tuesday night when he found him choking the boy's mother. Police said Raymond Wierhicki was playing in the street with his younger sister and brother, when he heard screams from their apartment and ran inside. Finding his father and mother struggling, he grabbed a knife and plunged it in the back of his 34-year-old father.

LIFE AT SEA—U.S. Navy Chief Petty Officer, Frank Oliva, 68, probably is the oldest Navy man, officer or enlisted on active duty today. Chief boilerman on the refrigeration ship USS Grafias, he is completing his 45th year of continuous duty. He originally listed in 1914 and re-enlisted 1958 for six more years.
