Three Pampa Lions Off To Convention

A busload of 40 Lions and Lionesses from District 2T-1 left Amarillo at 6 a.m. today for New York City, N.Y., the 1959 convention city, on the bus are three Pampa Lions and their wives — B. R. "Bunny" Shultz, Joe W. C. Tooley and Ralph Thomas.

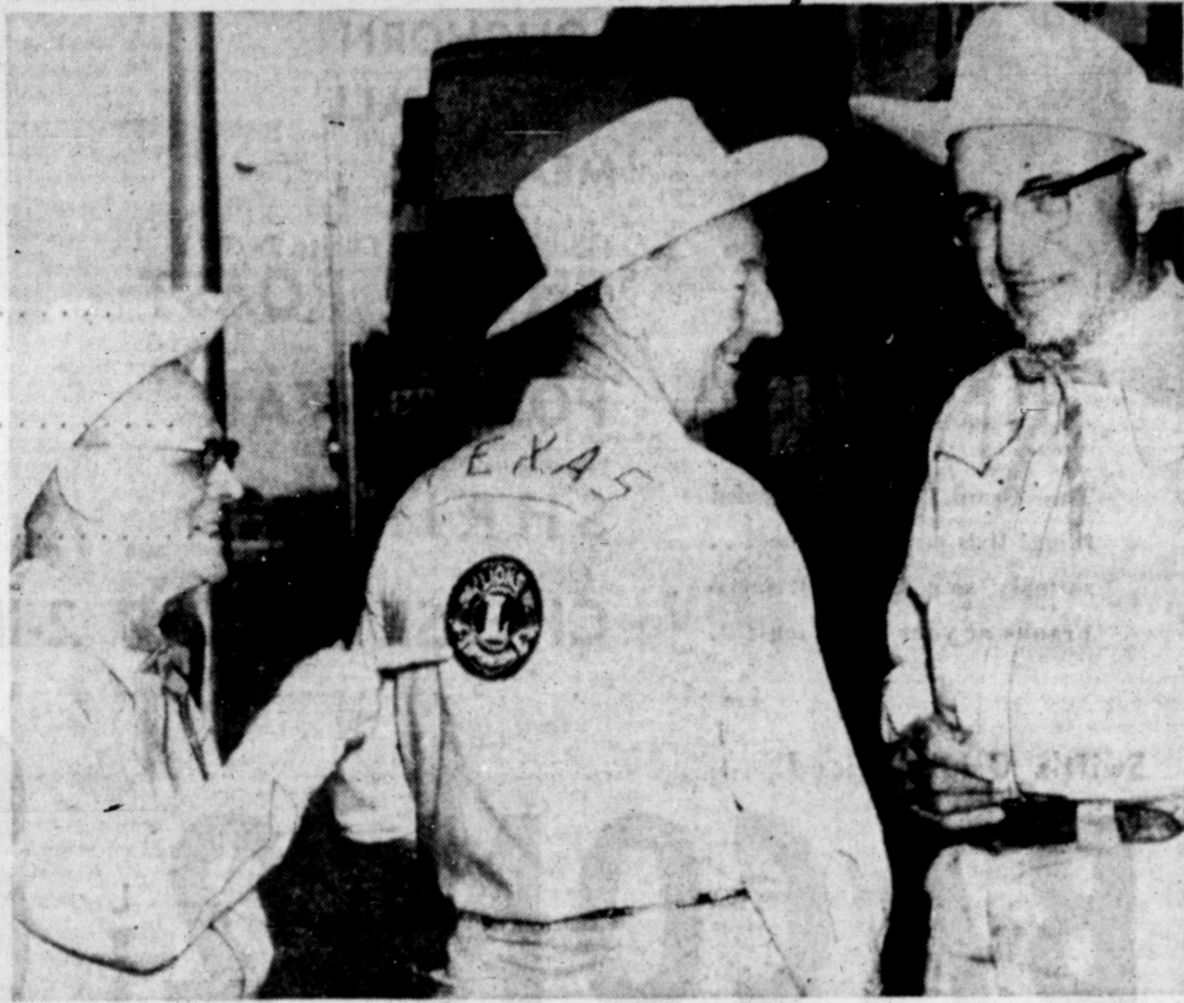

Shultz is the new president of the Pampa Noon Lions Club, the post vacated last week by Tooley. Thomas is a former president and former zone chairman. Tooley now has the zone chairman's job.

Another individual on the bus is District Governor Bill Hunter of Amarillo.

The Lions will arrive in New York Sunday and will have two days on the town before the Lions International Convention starts Tuesday. After four days of convention, they will head south for Washington, D.C. and more sightseeing. They will be there July 4.

At midnight July 5 they will be back in Amarillo.

Texas Lions are wearing cowboy hats, shirts and boots to the convention. Last year Tooley and Don Forsha attended the international convention in Chicago, Ill. The convention will be held in Chicago, Ill. again next year.

LIONS OFF TO 'BIG APPLE'

As anyone can see, these three individuals are Pampa Lions. And they're bound for the Lions International Convention in the metropolis of New York, N.Y. The Noon Lions Club will be well

Ramsey Rebukes Daniel Criticism

PRAY ME OUT PLEADS LONG

By JACK V. FOX
United Press International

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Gov. Earl K. Long appealed to the people of Louisiana in a smuggled tape recording Wednesday night to pray him out of the mental hospital into which he said he was railroaded by his "jealous" wife and ambitious nephew, U.S. Sen. Russell B. Long.

Political observers speculated the colorful meandering stump-type speech, broadcast on radio stations throughout the state, might draw thousands of political supporters to the Covington Junior High School basketball court where Long will appear for a district court habeas corpus proceeding Friday.

His wife, Mrs. Blanche Long, whom he bitterly accused of conspiring with his political enemies, fled the state Tuesday indicating she would make no further effort to force mental treatment on her husband. Friends said she believed he would be released at Friday's hearing and feared his alleged "homicidal tendencies."

The court will not rule on Long's sanity but on whether he was properly committed to the state hospital.

New Orleans radio station WOUE to which Long's attorney, Joe Arthur Sims, took the original recording, quoted, the attorney as saying Long would prefer a sanity hearing "to enable him to refute charges that he suffers from mental instability."

Long also quoted him as saying that 15 doctors were being flown to the hearing by chartered plane.

Long said: "I feel certain that having a man like the Hon. Robert D. Jones of this district deciding my case that I'll be a free man Friday."

Judge Jones had been asked earlier if he could be described as a "Long man" politically. He replied: "I want to make it quite emphatic that whatever political affiliations I may have will never go over into my court."

Long said he had never "tried to hurt" his political enemies. "I have never believed in reprisals, and I want to say this: I have no idea of impeaching anybody, taking advantage of anybody."

Blames Governor For 'Spending'

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—Rep. V. I. Bo Ramsey angrily rebuked Gov. Price Daniel's criticism of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee Wednesday night and indicated Daniel may be to blame himself for the legislature's money troubles by spending too much during his first term of office.

The flare-up by Ramsey, chairman of the tax committee, came at the end of the second day of public hearings shortly before the group agreed to resume its work at 9 a.m. today.

Witnesses parading before the group during its two day attempt to come up with a workable plan to raise some 184 million dollars in new taxes have largely urged approval of some sort of general sales tax.

Meanwhile, House speaker Waggoner Carr appeared confident some sort of compromise would come out of closed door talks before the week is out.

"We ought to have a bill out of committee this week at the latest, and we ought to take up a bill in the House Monday at the latest," he said. He said those were "absolute maximum times" if the Legislature is to avert a third special session.

Ramsey was irritated at Daniel's statement earlier Wednesday explaining his criticism of the Legislature's highly publicized "$800 holiday" weekend.

Daniel criticized lawmakers for taking four-day off over the weekend and said it cost Texas taxpayers $200,000 a day in new taxes for every day the Legislature fails to come up with a workable tax plan for increased state spending during the next two years, and enough new taxes to wipe out a mounting current deficit.

Then Daniel explained he was not criticizing the entire Legislature, but rather members of the Revenue and Taxation Committee.

"This particular committee which he criticized for not being in session last weekend while he was 'resting' in San Antonio is coping with a serious fiscal problem of the state," Ramsey said.

"How the problem occurred is not important; the facts are that the governor of this state took the oath of office with a $6 million dollar surplus, and at the end of his first term we are now faced with not only a $8 million dollar deficit, but an obligation to raise in excess of 123 million dollars to finance his recommended program for his second term."

Fighter Forces Plane To Land

By RICHARD F. ROPER
United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—"He had hot guns. We couldn't fight back."

In those words the pilot of an unarmed U.S. transport plane summed up the experience of being forced to land in the Dominican Republic Tuesday by a burst of machine-gun fire from a Dominican fighter plane.

Maj. George A. Williams Jr. 34, said that when the incident occurred he was flying the twin-engine C47 over international waters between the island and Cuba — far from the invasion-jumpy Dominican Republic.

Williams, of Eau Gallie Fla., said neither he nor the other six men on the lumbering Atlantic missile range plane were harmed when they landed at Ciudad Trujillo, capital of the Caribbean republic.

Air Force officials here could recall no similar incident since the Cape Canaveral test center and its 8,000-mile tracking range have been in operation.

The State Department, working with the Air Force, has been investigating the incident since Tuesday. But an Air Force spokesman said he expected no serious protest from the U.S. government over the incident.

The C47 was allowed to resume its planned flight to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, little more than two hours after it was intercepted.

Williams said the FBI pulled up beside his right wingtip, stayed there for a minute or two, then circled and drew up beside him again.

"He signalled with his thumb down for us to land, then he lowered his landing gear," Williams said.

The "wheels down" signal is an international sign for a plane to land.

"As soon as his gear was back up he fired a short burst straight ahead," Williams said. The Dominican plane was flying parallel to the B47 at that time.

Prisoner Hurt When Lawmen Smash Riot

By RICHARD F. ROPER
United Press International

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI)—A prisoner hurt when lawmen crushed a 16-hour riot in the homosexual wing of the U.S. Medical Center died Wednesday night of a fractured skull.

He was Richard Smith of Salt Lake City, a 24-year-old inmate serving seven years for threatening to kill or harm the President of the United States.

Meanwhile, Warden Russell O. Settle said he is in no hurry to take action against the ringleaders of the riot. He said he and his staff have found no rational explanation for the outbreak.

He said Earl C. Taylor, 31, of Phenix City, Ala., "one of the most vicious prisoners in the entire federal prison system," was the principal ringleader. Taylor's two lieutenants were identified as Bryan D. Reed, 24-year-old murderer from Los Angeles, and Carl Roberts, 19, of Kansas City, who is serving time for car theft.

PHYSICIAN HAS ATTACK

Starkweather—Killer Of 11 Persons—Dies In Chair

By ELLIS RALL
United Press International

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Charles Starkweather, red-haired confessed slayer of 11 persons, went calmly to his death in Nebraska's electric chair early today.

Five charges of electricity were pumped into the body of the 26-year-old killer who committed 10 knife and rifle slayings in a bloody reign of terror in January of 1958. He later admitted an 11th slaying.

Dr. P. E. Getzler pronounced the killer dead at 2:05 a.m., d.t., only four minutes after he walked into the chamber.

Ironically, Dr. E. A. Finkle, veteran prison physician, who was to have pronounced the killer dead, collapsed at the prison only minutes before the execution, and it was announced shortly after Starkweather's death that the doctor had died of an apparent heart attack. Finkle was in his 70's.

Doctor Hastily Summoned

Dr. Getzler was joined in the death chamber at the last minute by Dr. George Lewis Jr. Lewis, hastily summoned after Finkle's collapse, entered the prison gates on the run at 2 a.m. The execution was not delayed.

Starkweather merely shook his head negatively when Deputy Warden John Greenholtz asked him whether he had a last statement. But earlier, he made an apparent attempt at humor when Greenholtz entered his cell to announce it was time to go.

"What's your hurry?" Starkweather was quoted by the deputy warden. Earlier in the evening, he slayer told a guard, "I had feeling that tonight was the light."

Starkweather entered the small, arched lighted chamber at 2:10 a.m. and walked quickly to the large oaken chair. He shot the 40 spectators a quick glance.

Pale, Head Shaved

His head was shaved and he was pale. A guard was close on either side but he did not appear to need their help. He was seated and asked whether he had anything to say. He shook his head, and officials began the grim job of preparing him for death.

AUTO BLAZE SNAPS STREAK

Pampa's latest streak of eight days without a reported fire ended Wednesday night with a car fire at 8:42 in the 900 block on Gordon St.

Damages were described as light to an old model car which was being cut apart with a cutting torch by Joe Christy. A neighbor, believing a later model car was on fire, reported the blaze.

Rodeo Grounds Undergoing Face-Lifting

By RICHARD F. ROPER
United Press International

The Rodeo grounds are now undergoing a complete remodeling in preparation for the annual Top of Texas Rodeo in Pampa, scheduled for August 24. The grandstand is being rebuilt and 42 new box seats are being installed.

For the first time in the 18 year history of the show rodeo, performances will be held five nights, with the first performance on Aug. 4 and running through Saturday, Aug. 8.

Cowboys and Cowgirls from a wide area will be competing in the two go-rounds for some $5,000 in prize money plus many special awards, including a beautiful hand-stamped saddle for the top cowgirl, and special engraved silver buckles for the champion cowboy in all individual events as well as the all-around cowboy.

Morris Stephens of Quitaque will furnish stock and direct the arena with Jack Johnson, prominent rodeo announcer calling the events. Stephens has been in the rodeo business for many years and has produced some of the outstanding rodeos in the country.

An official American Quarter Horse Show will be held this year on Thursday and Friday, Aug. 6, 7, beginning daily at noon in the main arena at the rodeo grounds. Twelve Halter Classes will be judged, as well as four Performance Classes, with appropriate awards in all divisions.

The Miller Brothers Dance Band, now on tour in Europe, will provide music for dancing in the National Guard Armory building Wednesday through Saturday nights, and Ruby Nance and his world famous Rodeo Band will be on hand to furnish cue music for all rodeo performances.

The Kid Pony Show, which will be a curtain raiser to the big Top of Texas Rodeo will be held on Monday afternoon and Monday night, Aug. 3, with boys and girls between the ages of five and 15 eligible to participate in their respective divisions.

The 4H and FFA Calf Scramble which was such a sensation last year, will again be a special feature of the show on the nights of August 5, 6, 7, with boys from Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Wheeler, Carson, and Ochiltree Counties eligible to participate.

A giant street parade on Tuesday afternoon, August 4 will be held in downtown Pampa to officially get the world's finest amateur show underway.

MISS PAMPA CONTEST IS SET JULY 7

By RICHARD F. ROPER
United Press International

The Miss Pampa Pageant, an annual preliminary of the Miss America Contest, will be held here July 7. Mel Keffer, chairman of the Jaycees Pageant Committee, announced today.

Jaycees will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Southwestern Public Service Company building to discuss entries and ticket sales.

So far, twelve young women have entered the local competition with the event set for 7:30 p.m. July 7 in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School auditorium.

The Miss Texas contest will be held July 25-26 in Beaumont, followed by the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N.J., this August.

Jaycee wives, headed by Mrs. Leonard Hall, are preparing the Junior Miss program to be held with the Pageant. The program will consist of a fashion parade by several young ladies aged 4-7. Gowns will be supplied by Pampa merchants.

Clyde Dickerson will emcee the beauty contest. Each contestant will appear in a bathing suit and in an evening gown. She will be required to present some form of talent, instrumental or vocal music, dance or drama.

Mrs. Bill Clements will act as the girls' hostess. Miss Linda Kay Steele, Miss Pampa of 1958 and a Miss Texas contestant, will be contest advisor.

John Lee Bell is in charge of entries. Glenn Burke and John Dodson are in charge of advertising.

Wheat Applications For '60 Must Be Made By July 1

By RICHARD F. ROPER
United Press International

Farmers who have no wheat allotment and intend to seed winter wheat for harvest in 1960 have until July 1 to make their applications. Evelyn Mason, manager of the Gray county ASC office said today.

"Once you apply, she said, your application will be studied on the basis of the tillable acreage; type of soil and topography of the farm. The rancher's farming system will be reviewed, and the reasons why wheat has not been planted on the farm in past years will be considered.

If it all adds up to a convincing case in favor of 1960 wheat production, she reported, a rancher will be assigned an allotment to the extent that acreage is available.

None of this affects the farmer who already has a wheat allotment or an established record of wheat production on his farm. He gets notice of his wheat allotment without application. A nation-wide referendum is scheduled for July 23.

HERE'S THE WAY TO BEAT BIRTHDAY PARTY PROBLEMS

It would take a Univac machine to calculate the tremendous odds which smiled happily on Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Fatheree, 1911 Christine, at 5:30 a.m. today for the Fatherees became the parents of a 6 pound 4 ounce boy and a 6 pound 6 1/2 ounce girl.

Pastor And Member Of Flock Married In Alamogordo, N.M.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The Rev. W. S. McBirnie, former pastor of Trinity Baptist Church at San Antonio, and Mrs. Wilma Jean Durham, a member of his congregation, were married June 8 at Alamogordo, N. M., reliable sources said today.

McBirnie, 39, confessed "involvement" with a married woman of his congregation June 3 before 800 members of the congregation.

The marriage came the day after he resigned his pulpit at San Antonio and a week after his wife was granted a Mexican divorce in a court at Nuevo Laredo. Mrs. Durham was divorced from her husband, Carl W. Durham, owner and operator of the Durham Business Colleges, last April.

Children Attend Ceremony
The Durhams' two children, Exa, 12, and Tommy, 15, attended the Alamogordo ceremony, which was performed before a justice of the peace. McBirnie and Mrs. Durham had requested the day of the marriage that it not be revealed at that time.

His June 3 announcement of the involvement, McBirnie said: "In counsel with a family of my congregation and in trying to reconcile their marital difficulties, I succeeded on several occasions during the past year. But the last time they had difficulties, I unwittingly became partisan in defense of the wife. This led to an involvement between us of the kind that I now recognize as improper."

McBirnie said he was not trying to be gallant or noble, but "the blame in this involvement is mine and mine alone. I am not going to resign. I'm asking you to replace me."

California Bound
He later changed his mind, however, and resigned the night of June 7. His marriage to Mrs. Durham followed.

The San Antonio Baptist Ministers Conference in a statement June 15 said McBirnie had "betrayed a sacred trust," and hinted he should leave the ministry. The conference, representing 67 churches and 25 missions, said all Baptists were embarrassed by McBirnie's actions.

Sources in San Antonio said McBirnie and his bride planned to go to California.

Hunter Speaks At Lefors Lions Affair

LEFORS (Sp) — W. F. (Bill) Hunter of Amarillo was guest speaker and installation officer at a Ladies night and installation banquet held by the Lefors Lions club recently.

Miss Janie Nichols, outgoing sweetheart, was introduced by the president as well as Miss Sharon Hines, incoming sweetheart.

Jerry Jacobs, incoming Boss Lion, was unable to be present as well as Aubrey Carlton, one of the incoming directors. Other officers installed were C. J. Trusty, director; Ray Chastain, first vice president; Fred Blackwell, second vice president; Raymond DeGray, Lion Tamer; Walter Elliott, Tail twister; David Robinson, secretary-treasurer; and Joe Dan Watson, his assistant.

A special presentation to Earl Atkinson, zone chairman, was made by District Governor Hunter for his outstanding services.

A "Lion of the Year" trophy was presented to Boyd Beck, outgoing president.

Long's speech, taken from the hospital by Sims, was delivered in a strong, clear voice. It wandered and digressed, but veteran statehouse reporters said it sounded like the same old Earl.

"This is Gov. Earl K. Long talking from the Mandeville Hospital," he started out. "I'm glad to tell you good people that as far as mentally, I never was in better health than I am today. In my whole life, I've never been unconscious except when I was asleep."

Later in the speech he said, "I've satisfactorily recovered mentally."

But he said he was 11 pounds underweight "after they got through shoving me from one street corner to another, and put me on stretchers and tying me and shooting me with hypodermics."

Four Negro Youths Held In Rape Case

By H. D. QUIGG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four Negro teen-agers were held in $25,000 bail each today pending further hearing into their alleged rape of a 14-year-old white girl who has testified she promised sexual intimacies to one of them.

The girl, whose name was withheld, testified in felony court Wednesday that she made the promise to Jacob Bethea, 16, when he made a move to go further during a 10-minute kissing session with her. She said she only made the promise to get rid of him, that she was "only fooling him."

She said she told him that night, Monday, June 15, that she would allow the "intimacies on Tuesday or Wednesday of the following week." The kissing episode occurred at Junior High School 16, where she is a student and where a night recreation center is provided for youngsters.

Later that same Monday night, she testified, Bethea grabbed her by the legs outside the school and tried to drag her up the stairs. She said she resisted and "yelled for him to leave me alone," that "he started acting like a wild dog and I said, 'get out of here, an-

Economic Situation, Major Concern Of Castro's Regime

(Editors Note: The following dispatch is based on authoritative private advices reaching United Press International in New York from Cuba.)

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor
Copyright 1959 by UPI

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime in Cuba is in serious trouble. Government forces have been alerted against attack either from within or without.

The country's economic situation, which is going from bad to worse, is the main concern right now.

Some 300,000 sugar crop workers will be out of jobs upon completion of the sugar harvest at the end of this month. When that happens, Cuba's unemployed will hit near the one million mark, or approximately half of the nation's working force.

Six months after victorious Castro forces successfully ousted President Fulgencio Batista from office, Cuban business is almost at a standstill.

Business Affected
Each revolutionary law passed has brought with it an almost complete paralysis in its field.

For example, rent reductions paralyzed the construction field. The agrarian reform law has paralyzed cane, tobacco and rice plantings. Import and exchange controls have paralyzed imports.

Restrictions on installment sales have almost halted retail trade.

The agrarian reform law has, in addition, fanned physical resentment to an unprecedented degree, even among many who were ardent Castro supporters.

Some 20,000 Batista soldiers are out of jobs. So are many other thousands of public servants.

The spark of rebellion has been lit.

In the last three weeks, government forces have been put on three separate alerts against attack.

Air Attack Feared
Apparently feared is an air strike from without, possibly against Santiago and mounted

ORANGE MARMALADE BREAD: The heavenly fragrance of this orange marmalade bread is matched only by its marvelous fruity flavor. Eat it warm from the oven with butter or let it cool and make dainty cream cheese sandwiches for a special afternoon snack. A loaf of bread this good won't last long—better make two!

Orange Marmalade Bread Makes Tasty Little Tea Sandwiches For Lawn Fete

The more leisurely pace of summer living leaves time for such pleasant customs as afternoon tea. According to the day you may want to make that tea led, but whatever the weather tempting little cream cheese sandwiches made with flavorful orange marmalade bread will make the occasion a big success.

Ripening time isn't necessary to improve the flavor of this orange marmalade bread. It's right at its flavor peak from the time it comes from the oven. And since it's made with evaporated milk it's pleasantly moist and will retain its freshness should you want to keep it on hand for awhile.

Orange marmalade bread has such an enticing fruit and nut flavor that you may want to just slice it and eat it with no further embellishments, but it is good spread with butter as well as for the cream cheese sandwiches mentioned above.

ORANGE MARMALADE BREAD
 2 cups sifted flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 1 egg
 1 cup orange marmalade
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/2 cup evaporated milk
 1 tablespoon melted butter

Something "Hot" For Cold Lunch

It has been said that something hot should be served with a cold lunch or supper. Caraway Cheese Muffins brought to the table still warm from the oven will bring that "something."

CARAWAY CHEESE MUFFINS
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 cup grated American cheese
 1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
 2 teaspoon caraway seeds
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 2 tablespoons shortening, melted
 3/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add cheese, All-Bran and caraway seeds; stir lightly. Combine egg, melted cooking shortening and milk; add to dry ingredients, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Serve immediately.

Yield: 12 muffins, 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

PICNIC CUTLERY

The last thing you want to do at a picnic is work.

Still, the main attraction of a picnic is the meal, and somebody has to prepare the food to satisfy those hearty appetites. The hardest aid to take the work out of the meal preparation, to get it done just right, and quickly, is a good sharp knife.

The knife, you know, is the one piece of equipment most often used in preparing meals and the new style wavy-edge cutlery that stays sharp is a perfect picnic companion. These knives will do practically every cutting job faster and better than any other knife.

To name a few cutting jobs: trimming and slicing fresh vegetables for sandwiches or salads; slicing bakery foods, like bread, or hamburger; rolling, slicing those fancy, taste-teasing sandwiches; cutting into that special cake or pie (or maybe a cold watermelon); trimming and slicing a steak; disjuncting a golden-brown chicken.

The assortment of wavy-edge cutlery includes a small utility, paring, steak, offset handle Swedish Cook's, sandwich, bread and cake, large utility, steak slicer, tomato and grapefruit. Try a couple, and see how much more fun picnics will be this summer.

Appetites Improve With Salad Ring

When the temperature's high and appetites poor, serve well-chilled Gouda-Chicken Salad Ring and watch appetites improve.

GOUDA-CHICKEN SALAD RING
 2 tablespoons plain gelatine
 1/2 cup cold water
 3 cups chicken stock
 1 1/2 teaspoons celery salt
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
 1 1/2 cups thinly sliced celery
 1 cup diced Gouda cheese (about 3/4 Gouda)
 1-3 cups diced cooked chicken
 1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
 1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper

1/4 cup diced pimiento
 1 tablespoon minced onion
 Gouda cheese wedges
 Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine chicken stock, celery salt, salt, and pepper and bring to boiling point over low heat. Add gela-

Q. What is the name of these cuts of meat?
A. Pork Hocks.

Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?
A. They come from the lower part of the front shanks and are thick and oval in shape. They contain the two front shank bones.

Q. How are they prepared?
A. They may be prepared by either braising or cooking in liquid. The meat surrounding the shank bone has a fat and skin covering. Frequently the pork hocks are served with sauerkraut and turnips.

Create Summer Family Fun With Soda Fountain Right In Your Own Kitchen

Pull up a stool, put your foot on the rail and have a soda fountain right in your own home. Not many of us have a soda bar, but there's summer fun for all the family by creating ice cream treats in your own kitchen.

Ice cream sauces are the basis for delicious shakes, sodas, sundaes, banana splits, parfaits and soda fountain goodies that make summer such a wonderful time of the year. Rich and satin-smooth ice cream sauces are made with instant pudding mix, corn syrup, and PET Evaporated Milk—and need no cooking. Two full cups cost only about 30 cents. Once you have made your sauces, and it takes only about five minutes, they may be kept in the refrigerator ready on a minutes notice to set up your own soda fountain.

Start your old-fashioned ice cream parlor by making a variety of flavored sauces. Three family favorite ice cream sauces are chocolate, butterscotch and orange.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE
 1 package chocolate instant pudding
 2-3 cup light or dark corn syrup
 1/4 cup PET Evaporated Milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla

BUTERSCOTCH SAUCE
 1 package butterscotch instant pudding
 2-3 cup dark corn syrup

tin and monosodium glutamate and stir until gelatin dissolves. Cool until syrupy in consistency. Fold in remaining ingredients, except Gouda cheese wedges. Pour into oiled 1 1/2 quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate and surround with Gouda cheese wedges. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with Gouda cheese wedges and mayonnaise along with crackers or fancy breads and tall cool fruit beverages. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

If no stock is available, dissolve 3 chicken bouillon cubes in 3 cups of hot water.

ORANGE SAUCE
 1 package vanilla instant pudding
 2-3 cup light corn syrup
 1/4 cup undiluted frozen orange juice concentrate
 2-3 cup PET Evaporated Milk
 Mix pudding and syrup until smooth (orange juice should be added to the pudding and syrup mix for Orange sauce). Gradually stir in PET Evaporated Milk (stir in vanilla with evaporated milk for Chocolate Sauce). Let stand thickened, about 10 minutes. Makes 2 cups.

SUMMER SODAS
 1/2 cup of your favorite ice cream sauce
 1-1/2 cups softened ice cream
 2-3 cup PET Evaporated Milk (1 small can) two 7-oz. bottles soda pop
 Put 1/2 cup of sauce into a large bowl with ice cream and PET Evaporated Milk. Beat with electric mixer at low speed or rotary hand beater until well mixed. Stir in soda pop. Pour over scoops of ice cream in 4 tall glasses.

Reasonable Time
Before a contract arises someone must make an offer and another must accept it. Without an offer, no acceptance; without an acceptance, no agreement. But there is often a time within which you can accept the offer. And if not, the offer ends anyhow within a "reasonable time" which is determined by circumstances and the parties' intentions. Smith had a set of books which Brown wanted. Brown wrote and offered him $200 for the set.

Congressmen See Effect Of New Weapons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of the House Science and Space Committee went through a "gripping experience" watching animals being paralyzed by new secret weapons developed by the Army, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) said the "actual demonstration" Monday made it easy to imagine what would happen if such weapons were used against Americans in battle or in air attacks at home.

Brooks said the weapons used were "new experimental incapacitating agents" but he did not identify them further. The Army said recently it was working on a nerve gas which would have similar effects.

"To relieve the minds of the public," he said, "the animal subjects used before the committee were in no way permanently harmed even though they suffered almost immediate temporary body paralysis."

However, Brooks warned that "the consequences for the nation if we let down our defenses, would be something else again."

He voiced concern that only one-tenth of this country's defense budget is earmarked for chemical and germ warfare weapons. It's not enough, Brooks said.

The congressman did not reveal how much money actually was being spent but he called it "pitifully small."

Brooks issued his statement following closed-door testimony that the Russians would resort to germ warfare in any future war "if it is to their advantage."

The report came from Maj. Gen. Marshall Stubbs, chief Army chemical officer, who said the Soviets already have "openly stated" that the next war would see the use of such weapons.

Smith didn't answer for six months, and meantime Brown bought a similar set. On day Brown got a letter from Smith saying "I accept your offer of $200 for the set of books." Brown told Smith he'd bought the books elsewhere, but Smith still claimed that his belated "acceptance" had nevertheless sealed the contract with Brown. There are many ways to end an offer. You may withdraw it, you may say that the offer expires at a given time, or you may die, or the other party may turn it down directly or by making a counter offer. Here Smith had failed to accept Brown's offer within a reasonable time, which ended it just as though it had been withdrawn. What is a reasonable time? It varies. The offer could expire in a few minutes in the stock market or last for quite a while, depending upon what a court would think is a reasonable time. But in Smith's case six months was unreasonable. (This column, prepared by the 51st Year State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Commie Foot-Stool

Sing no more dirges about the alleged injustice being done respecting Fidel Castro and his brutal and bloody seizure of the island of Cuba.

Of course, Castro is a socialist. This has been known from the beginning. And since our own government is so largely dominated by socialist thinking it could be anticipated that this nation would not oppose him.

Now, his aims are known. Castro is aiming at the fulfillment of the Communist Manifesto. Here is the evidence.

On June 4, Castro moved to seize control of all the land of Cuba. This is the first plank of the manifesto. He has now decreed that no foreigner may own or inherit land in Cuba.

Additionally, no Cuban may own more than 1,000 acres of sugar land or 3,333 acres of cattle land. Much of the land remaining in private Cuban hands will be reduced to tracts of 67 acres each to be distributed among the peasants.

And here is the crowning gimmick. This land, being seized now, in full compliance with the communist strategy, is to be paid for by the issuance of 20-year government bonds at rates of no more than 4 1/2 per cent interest.

Castro is introducing still other planks of the manifesto and causing his victims to assist in financing their own spoliation.

An "agrarian reform" agent named Professor Antonio Nunez Jimenez, will head up the mammoth expropriation movement. It is known that Jimenez is a devout Marxist. This man, following both Marx and the American agricultural program, will tell farmers what to plant, how much to plant, and how to cultivate.

There is no longer the slightest question about it. Cuba has become a communist foot-stool only a few air miles from the sunny coasts of Florida.

If our own government aids this rascal, Castro, by means of a hand-out of American tax-payers' dollars, it will constitute one of the great betrayals of history.

With Socialism

The saga of socialism has caught up with Bud Abbott, moving picture comedian. You can add Abbott's name to that of Joe Lewis and a few other famous persons whose talents brought them fame and fortune.

worth $15,000 to open up the whole case that way and go back as far as they wanted.

Of course the fraud charge was quashed. But having made it, the IRS moved in to examine returns for seven, rather than for the legal three years as the law specifies.

"They took their time on the audit," confides Bud. "Pretty nearly two years. They had nothing to lose. The 6 percent interest was piling up. I went along with them and tried to work it out. But they kept adding penalties on penalties."

The first indication of the seriousness of the investigation came when the IRS refused to apply the lower capital-gains tax on the earnings of a movie made several years ago by Abbott and Costello. This was a picture made by the comedians which was financed by them. With entire propriety, since they had financed the affair, their attorneys had decided that profits made from this investment were capital gains and not personal income. IRS decided otherwise.

The maximum tax on capital gains runs to 25 percent. This sum was paid in full. But the IRS decided that this was personal income. And personal income taxes can be levied up to 91 per cent of earnings.

BETTER JOBS

By R. G. HOLLES 'The Moral Basis Of A Free Society' No. 1

In the last issue I was quoting from an address made by Howard E. Kershner at the Grove City College on "The Moral Basis of A Free Society."

I had pointed out that the ministers need all the help the laymen can give them if we are to approach bringing society in harmony with the First and Last Commandments. And the laymen need more than to give money and attend. They need to pray.

The last installment ended with this statement: "Let us consider the relationship of these Commandments to human affairs." Under the heading "No Other Gods," Kershner continues: "The First and great Commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other Gods before Me.' What does this mean? Simply this, that we must not allow pride, ambition, love of money, power, vengeance or self-gratification of any kind to come between us and the highest ethical vision of which we are capable."

"If a candidate is so eager for public office that he deceives the electorate in order to win, ambition is his god. If a man so greatly desires financial success that he resorts to unethical practices, money is his god. If a man is so determined to gratify his passion that he betrays a woman, lust is his god. If a woman is so interested in social position that she neglects her family, pride is her god. In all such cases we are placing false gods before the true God and as ethical standards break down, society crumbles."

"When men are not governed by loyalty to God, to fixed and unchanging moral ideas — something far greater and more important than themselves, there is no power that can prevent the strong from gratifying their selfish desires and taking what they want wherever and however they can. The result is exploitation and enslavement of the weak."

"The moment the startling conception of God's supremacy and of man's loyalty to Him gains the allegiance of the human heart, the basis for human exploitation is destroyed. Until the coming of the First and great Commandment, and long after, the strong enslaved their fellows and ruled over them. The less able served their masters without question. Then came this great concept of the supremacy of God over all, and gradually it began to seep into the minds and hearts of men that they owed supreme loyalty to God."

"As this thought grew plants sat more and more uneasily on their thrones. If God were the keeper of one's conscience, a man could not harm his fellows, even at the command of his rulers. God replaced the tyrant as the arbiter between men, there emerged the vision of man as a free being, entitled to function under his conscience as God's creature whom no other man had a right to command, oppress, persecute, exploit or enslave."

Negated by Statism "Statism is the negation of this Commandment; it makes the state and not God the supreme authority over men. The blasphemous totalitarian state exalts itself to usurp the place of God; that is what the devil sought to do, and for that reason he was cast out of heaven. Now he has donned the seductive attire of socialism, government-planned economy, 'the welfare state,' communism or collectivism under some other euphonious name and emerges in this new guise to threaten and enslave men."

"Refusing to recognize that men are created in the image of God and putting our own desires and ambitions in the place of God's plan for us — that is, having other gods in place of the true God — is the basic reason why freedom is slipping away from us. The First and great Commandment marked the emergence of the idea that no man was to be exploited by his fellows because that would be putting the false god of selfishness in place of the real God. Upon this declaration independence and freedom of the individual were established. It limited the right of group to control him, and marked the beginning of a long struggle to make good this freedom. The fight between statism and individualism is a part of the age-old struggle between God and the devil for possession of the souls of men. Under an individualistic system a man may choose to be loyal to God. Under statism, if he wishes to live he must be loyal to the state; i. e., to other men who assume the right to control, rule and enslave him. Therefore, only moral men, that is men whose supreme loyalty is to God and not to the state, can be free."

Serve No Other "The Second Commandment is laid unto the first: 'Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image...' nor... bow down thyself to serve them." It tells us he had been careful of his funds. His home, valued at $75,000, is the last asset he has to dispose of. If and when he sells it, there will still be a sizable bill to be paid. The comedian has nothing left but a memory. And as Abbott looks at the size of that unsettled account he says: "No matter what I earn, I still won't be able to clear with the government."

Always Room For One More

Robert Allen Reports:

Butler Summoning Leaders To Meeting

WASHINGTON — Democratic Chairman Paul Butler is summoning state and national leaders to a special four-day meeting here, September 15-19, to consider a number of strife-loaded convention problems.

Foremost among them is a backstage proposal to set up a "loyalty committee" to pass on the eligibility of delegates from certain southern states.

Sponsor of this explosive plan is California's National Committee-man Paul Ziffren, who is close to Butler and has strong yearnings to succeed him. Until recently, Ziffren, had been saying he favored Adlai Stevenson for a third try for the White House, but lately he has dropped hints of possibly switching to Senator John Kennedy.

Other thorny issues that will be acted on in the September deliberations are: Allocation of the 16,000 tickets to the Los Angeles convention. Oil up a large part of the money for the convention, is still trying to wrangle 5,000 tickets. He is a leading supporter of Senator Stuart Symington for the 1960 nomination.

Ziffren keenly fancies himself as chairman of the strategic convention arrangements committee. The Los Angeles affair is already very busy lining up backing for that. On this he has the full support of his good friend National Chairman Butler.

Chief among the convention changes Ziffren favors is to drop the veteran lawmaker tog Butler and put in place of him "young and more vigorous liberals."

So far as McCormack is concerned, this undercover move has his full approval. Several months ago the veteran lawmaker told Butler and other party leaders he did not want to be burdened with the arduous job of hammering out the 1960 campaign platform.

But Ziffren's aim to shove Rayburn as permanent chairman is certain to encounter strenuous opposition. The Texan is widely esteemed, and will be warmly backed by party leaders in all sections of the country.

Similarly, Ziffren will have his hands full putting over his "loyalty committee" proposal. It's sure to stir bitter contention. Under his plan the National Committee would name a special group to scrutinize the delegates of states in which the Democratic Central Committees have repudiated the 1958 "good faith" pledge binding the party's presidential electors to vote for its national ticket.

Particular targets of Ziffren's "loyalty committee" moves are Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi.

It is Ziffren's intent to bar the delegates of these states unless, prior to the Los Angeles convention, their Central Committees remove all restrictions on supporting the Democratic presidential candidates.

The first two days of the September meeting (15-16) will be devoted to National Committee matters. The other two days will be given simply and directly that we must not hold in our hearts any desire or ambition — that is to say, graven image — contrary to the will of God, or serve these man-selected gods in preference to the true God.

over to sessions with state chairmen, primarily for fund raising and other 1960 campaign preparations.

POLITICALS — Former President Truman, busily beating the bushes for 1960 delegates support for Senator Stuart Symington, is urging Maryland's Governor Millard Tawes to be the "favorite son" candidate from his state. Purpose of this backstage maneuver is to dissuade Senator John Kennedy from entering Maryland's presidential primary next May.

Following Senator Hubert Humphrey's three-day swing through Wisconsin, the Minnesota liberal is telling colleagues that six of the ten Democratic district chairmen in Wisconsin have committed themselves to back Kennedy in the presidential primary next March. Adds Humphrey, "Before I formally announce my candidacy, I expect to have eight of the ten chairmen."

After the recent primary defeat of Kentucky Governor "Happy" Chandler's handpicked candidate to succeed him, former Senator Earle Clements told friends that would "prove a big break for Senator Lyndon Johnson." Clements is a leading Johnson supporter for Chandler, and says the defeat of Clements "will go a long way to put Kentucky in the Johnson column."

Another Democratic leader has written a blistering letter to National Chairman Butler for asserting the party "is not likely to nominate a southerner or southwesterner for President in 1960." Texas' Democratic National Chairman Byron Skelton has hotly castigated Butler for that. Skelton's blast came on the heels of one from Senator Thomas Dodd, who bluntly advised Butler to shut up. Skelton in effect also urged that, saying, "I suggest that you should not use the influence of your office in favor of or against any of the fine candidates the Democratic party has for the presidency in 1960."

What is manifest — the Toledo man demanded. "That Aruz is a great! Of course. A man of gold. But he is not Indo."

He is Chicimec," the little Cuban insisted. "You are beryard straw," said the fat man. "He is of Spanish origin. For Heaven's sake and the love of the Redeemer, it is known to the world. Spanish Chicimec, indeed! I will tell you about Cubans; they make the best cigars in the world. The best, very best. But they could not find their way into a plaza de toros with a guide and four lanterns at noon. That is Cuban. Smoke, little rooster, enjoy life. But keep silent in the company of the authorities on such matters. You will live longer."

TEMELY HENT TO SOME ALLEDS (N.Y. Daily News)

For foreign aid in fiscal 1960 (beginning July 1, 1960), President Eisenhower is asking Congress for $3,500,000,000.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee cut this figure by a net of $258,800,000 — chiefly at the expense of proposed gifts of military and economic aid.

Could this be a gentle hint to some of our esteemed and increasingly prosperous allies to put more of their own money into their own defenses? If so, it's a timely hint. After all, Americans are spending more than 10% of their national effort on defense here and abroad, with Britain trailing at 7.5%, France at 6.8, Canada at 5.6 and West Germany at 3.4.

BEVIL J. McDONALD and his coplayers of the United Steelworkers of America have unveiled the demands they intend to make on the steel industry after their present contract expires June 30.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — The tiny cafe in the West 50's was like the inside of a furnace. There was nothing there but a row of tables, the bar was a raw slab, the walls were pocked with curling old calendars, and the air-conditioning was whatever air might come in from the street through the narrow, black door. If the air outside was hot — and it was — then the air inside would be hot, too, but more so. The men here — there were no women, not one — were a mix of a common blood: Cubans, Mexicans, Spaniards, one Dominican. Only the national labels were different. The blood was the same, or pretty much so.

The only thing good was the cigars. There wasn't a thing always in the place. Cigars, the best Havana. A man might drive a cab or be a visiting lightbulb or, no great light, he might be a waiter by night or even by day, but he smoked a fine Havana cigar. This was a pose, of course, but pride is like fine metal; it has body to it. His rent might be overdue, his electricity almost at the point of being turned off for lack of payment — but he held, with that wonderful Latin ease, a good one dollar Havana and knew how to smoke it with grace and authority.

"It is not in me to think that Mexico has a great torero in the cradle, I simply cannot think it," the big man from Toledo, Spain, said. "The facts of a thing always have to be studied and faced with equanimity. It is the harsh way but the only way. There is something in the Mexican blood that forbids a great torero except once in maybe 50 or 75 years. A pity, buy truth is pitiless."

"Not so," a little Cuban interposed. This was an odd Cuban, a slender, brown and tense little spirit of a man totally without political consciousness. He didn't care who ruled Cuba, or how. He wanted, only, that Nature in a generous mood provide the men of the Latin countries with another Manolo. "I am Cuban, yes, but I know I'm Mexican vein. It is thick and strong and abin. They could breed another Manolo. I say it."

"A Cuban! The Toledo said with open contempt. "What in Heaven's dearest name could a Cuban know about the magic of a great Torero? Or, for that matter, the Mexican vein? Please just listen. Don't animalse yourself by talk. It is an exposure of yourself as a man."

He moved his huge girl into a more comfortable position, the heat's sending rivulets of perspiration down his gleaming face.

"Now, then, if I may resume without piping and puerile interruption," he growled. "I hold, I hold it as a man dedicated to the theme, that there does exist in the Mexican blood some faint but usable weakness, a mischievous touch, that at the golden moment of truth the frailty takes charge and keeps a Mexican from being macho. From being the whole, shining, almost saint-like whole man. He took a filthy, bent poster from his pocket. It was like digging out coals from a tunnel. His eyes raced down a penciled list.

"What suppose say it had — that were Mexican through to the bone? No Spanish-Mexicans or Cuban-Mexicans, say. But Indo, pure and true. Name me one Indo torero in the list. One."

Vast silence, as heavy as lead, poured itself into the room. The men wrinkled their brows, thought hard. This was a perplexing nagging question. A pure Mexican of the Indian blood? Aztec or Zapotec or whatever? The little Cuban looked up at his face held triumph.

"Aruz," he said. "The man who is a monument. Aruz. It is manifest."

"What is manifest?" the Toledo man demanded. "That Aruz is a great! Of course. A man of gold. But he is not Indo."

"He is Chicimec," the little Cuban insisted. "You are beryard straw," said the fat man. "He is of Spanish origin. For Heaven's sake and the love of the Redeemer, it is known to the world. Spanish Chicimec, indeed! I will tell you about Cubans; they make the best cigars in the world. The best, very best. But they could not find their way into a plaza de toros with a guide and four lanterns at noon. That is Cuban. Smoke, little rooster, enjoy life. But keep silent in the company of the authorities on such matters. You will live longer."

The sun was setting when I left. For all I know they still are trying to think of a truly great, pure Mexican matador.

a raft of fringe benefits. All this, of course, would be passed along to the public in the shape of higher steel prices. The President's pleas to the industry and the union to help fight inflation by postponing big wage and price increases have made not a dent in McDonald's thinking. Same as to Samuel Lubell's report, after interviews with numerous steel workers, that most of them are fed up with pay raises which only push the cost of living still higher.

"We'll see what the steel companies will do in response to McDonald's reach for the moon with a fringe around it. Meanwhile, we can't help admiring this guy's gall."

It's Up To You

by Howard Kershner L. H. D.

Reds Will Need Element of Surprise Twenty-seven years ago Vimetry Manulsky addressed the Lenin School of Political Warfare in Moscow. Among other things he said:

"War to the hilt between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 or 30 years. To win we shall need the element of surprise."

"The bourgeois will have to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions."

"The Capitalistic countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fists."

Since making this frank statement, Vimetry Manulsky has been prominent in the activities of the United Nations including presiding over the Security Council in 1949. We are just now in the time when he expected fulfillment of his prediction. No Russian leader has challenged or repudiated this statement.

Those who advocate summit conferences, more exchange of vital information and more trust in the goodwill of the Communist Russian Government should read the above statement again and again.

Whether we like or not, we shall have to fight for our freedom, and indeed for our continued existence at any level above that of slavery. Maybe the fighting can be confined to the diplomatic front, to propaganda, education and other non-military measures but such means can hardly insure victory unless we are at the same time prepared in case of necessity for sterner measures.

If we are now ready, "to be put to sleep" by "the most spectacular peace movement on record" and by "electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions," the time of our being offered up is at hand.

Many are urging that the Soviet program has been modified and many are stating their beliefs that it is better to submit than run the risk of all-out war. The latter is indeed terrible to contemplate and every devout man and woman will pray that the world may be spared that cup of fury and suffering.

Some want peace even though it means slavery. Others prefer freedom though the price may be the dearest that men can pay.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Air Passenger Center, Top European Hotel

By HENRY MCLEMORE

In my book, the right answer isn't there, although the hotels mentioned are truly great ones. To my way of thinking, the best hotel in Europe, and certainly the most fantastic, has the unglamorous name of Air Passenger Center. It stands hard by the Rhein-Main Air Base, some six or seven miles from the center of Frankfurt, and is operated by an organization one does not usually associate with the hotel business — the United States Army.

Built through reparations, the hotel cost well over a million dollars, and is as modern as anything ever thought up by Mr. Hilton.

The hotel was built to handle the vast number of military personnel and their families coming from the States and going to the States, as well as civilian workers, State Department officials, junketing Congressmen and — well, name it.

An average of 225,000 passengers are handled annually by the Center. Mind you, these 225,000 are not just provided with a bed and board.

They are processed, which means a check on passports, health, immunization, orders, visas, luggage, and when this is finished, they are put on planes or trains or buses and sent on their way.

Like a Las Vegas gambling casino, the Center runs 24 hours a day, and the lobby is always packed. Hundreds are coming and hundreds are going.

Yet there is no bustle, no confusion. There is a very nursery for children, and no hotel has ever handled so many kids. There are formula rooms on every floor, a baby bed in every room, and nurses and doctors are on 24-hour duty.

A giant snack bar runs around the clock, and a laundry and quick press will get you looking spruce in nothing flat. There is a miniature golf course, tennis courts, a court for badminton players and a television lounge.

There is a bank for changing currency, an American Express office, a barber shop, a PX, a beauty parlor, a baby-sitter exchange, and if any of them ever close, I haven't discovered when.

The Center is a place of action, but the help, all German, is as polite and gracious as I have ever encountered.

In charge of the Center is Colonel Robert K. Blair, and while I have spoken to him only once, I am sure he is a genius.

He'd have to be to operate the Center the way he does.

Our fathers risked all, suffered severely and many of them died to purchase the freedom which we enjoy. If we are worthy sons, we shall not shrink from paying whatever price is necessary in order to preserve it for our descendants.

The Almanac

Today is Thursday, June 25, the 178th day of the year, with 189 more days to follow in 1959. The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter. On this date in history: In 1868, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana were readmitted to the Union. In 1876, Sioux Indians under Sitting Bull massacred General George Custer and 208 men of the 7th Cavalry Regiment at the Battle of the Little Big Horn. In 1886, Arturo Toscanini, then only 19 years old, conducted an opera for the first time, when the regular conductor failed to appear for a performance of "Aida" at Rio de Janeiro. In 1906, Pittsburgh millionaire Harry K. Thaw shot and killed Stanford White, the nation's most famous architect, in the nightclub atop the old Madison Square Garden. In 1914, fire destroyed a large part of Salem, Mass., making 15,000 persons homeless. In 1950, the Korean war began. Thought for today: The journalist and cartoonist, Bill Mauldin, said: "Look at an infantryman's eyes and you can tell how much war he's seen."

The play is a good example of correct technique. Mark won the opening spade lead, ruffed a spade and led a low club from dummy. East ducked and Mark was in with the king to ruff his last spade. Now Mark played the queen of clubs. East won with the ace and shifted to a diamond which was won by dummy's ace. Mark cashed dummy's ace of trumps and discarded two diamonds on dummy's jack and nine of clubs. Either opponent could ruff but that ruff and one more trump trick were all they could get. "I should not have made the overtrick," complained Mark. "Now I will be known as an underbidder."

RAIDERS KILL BRITISH
 CAIRO (UP) — Arab Fedayeen raiders killed five British soldiers in the southern Arabian state of Muscat and Oman, the semi-official Middle East News Agency reported Monday. The unconfirmed report said the raids took place between Narva and Azki against a British military camp and another British outpost.

ROYAL COACH FOR QUEEN—Little Anne Ternes, 5, of Detroit, Mich., is lost in the spacious back seat of a limousine built specially for Queen Elizabeth's summer tour of Canada. The car is one of three which will be used by the royal party. Plexiglass canopy in the rear can be removed so crowds can see the Queen. Interior will be lit for evening parades.

Brinkmanship Calls For Sides To Assess Readiness To Fight

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

"Brinkmanship" as practiced by both East and West in these perilous times calls for each side to assess constantly the readiness of the other to go to war.

So, it may be assumed that in the coming three weeks of cooling off time before the Big Four foreign ministers reconvene at Geneva, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, will spend some time assessing the West's readiness to fight over Berlin.

The previous six weeks at Geneva have produced demonstrable, if largely negative results.

In the same period, Gromyko has had his best chance to date to size up his Western adversaries. The next three weeks will not be a time for error.

Erred in Korea

International communism erred when it decided the West would not fight in defense of South Korea. That error was laid at the doorstep of the Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. For that and other sins, Molotov today is Soviet ambassador to Outer Mongolia.

Earlier Soviet diplomacy underrated Western determination when the Reds supported a Communist uprising in Greece.

Each case resulted in a hardening of the U.S. led Western line against communism.

Meanwhile, a number of interesting notes have emerged from the foreign ministers' conference to date.

One was sounded by Khrushchev first and now is being taken up by Western diplomats in Moscow.

It is that the West pays too much attention to dates set by the Soviet Union.

Both Khrushchev and Gromyko blandly have denied they intended ultimatums either in the original Soviet demand that the Allies get out of West Berlin by May 27 or in their subsequent suggestion that the Allies agree to be out some 18 months hence.

Whatever the reason, the May 27 crisis date came and went without action and the Russians paid less attention to it than anyone else.

Out of this also has come the clear indication that Soviet eagerness to talk still is undimmed after six weeks of argument at Geneva in which each side succeeded in little more than stating for the record positions from which neither would or could yield.

One of the latest proofs was

contained in the joint Soviet East German communique which reiterated Communist demands on West Berlin but also renewed the call for a summit conference.

Other Issues Involved

President Eisenhower warned the Communists weeks ago he would attend no summit conference either under threats against West Berlin or without tangible progress first having been made by the foreign ministers.

The question then arises on what evidence do the Reds base their confidence that a summit meeting will be held.

A guess may be that they believe there may be other means of forcing a summit conference.

One instrument could be the Geneva nuclear conference running concurrently with the foreign ministers' meeting.

In the months the nuclear meeting has been in existence, progress has been painfully slow and so small as to be microscopic. But progress has been made and so far it has been the one contact between the two forces where positions have not been fixed in advance.

Progress toward disarmament would make it difficult for any Western leader to refuse a meeting at the summit.

CROSS SELLING LEADS TO CHAOS IN CAR SALES

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fortunately for its ordinary folks there is always somebody here looking out for our interests. Testifying in our behalf this week before a Senate Commerce subcommittee were:

1. Organized new car dealers, who want to save us from so much tiresome shopping around when we get ready to trade.

2. The Federal Trade Commission, which contends we like shopping around, especially when it can save us some money.

It seems that in the competitive auto market since 1953 car buyers have been putting in more and more time hunting for bargains as dealers roamed further and wider in their search for prospects.

So now the National Automobile Dealers Assn. (though not all of its members) wants Congress to pass a law under which each dealer could enjoy protected sales rights for his make of car in his own franchise area.

A Better Deal?

Of course you still could drive over to the next county to buy your new set of tailfins, but the outside dealer in whatever make you selected would have to cough up a $150 or $200 penalty to the dealer in your own home town.

"It's for the benefit of the buyer," said Sen. Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb.), sponsor of one of several differing bills on the subject. "It's to improve the deal he gets."

That's what the NADA folks seemed to be saying too, and the vice president of General Motors. They said all this "cross selling" since the Korean war has led to "chaotic" conditions in the new car business.

They said one result is that many dealers now are hard-pressed to support the fine service and repair facilities which new car buyers expect. Thomas F. Abbott Jr., speaking for the NADA, put it this way:

"It is beyond debate that what ever makes the automobile available to the using public and keeps it in efficient and safe operation is in the public interest. Such is the case with protected territory."

Subcommittee Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) seemed convinced. In fact, he already had in a bill, though it would provide an extra commission on sales in the dealer's own area rather than a penalty for those somewhere else.

Eliminate Competition

Monroney said he didn't think much of the penalty plan. But he was pretty sure his own plan would mean that we customers could buy our cars cheaper and get better service besides.

Monroney's plan or NADA plan, said Chairman Earl W. Kintner of the Federal Trade Commission, it all comes out the same way.

"The common purpose of these bills is to enable dealers to increase the returns obtained on their sales to consumers," Kintner said. "The effect of enacting any of these bills would be to legalize the elimination of competition in sales..."

In other words, he said, protected franchisees would help auto dealers all right, but at the expense of the public.

It's too early yet to say which of our advocates will prevail. But whatever happens, Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) said he has one additional problem.

It's the man in the white coat, who receives his Buick Roadmaster when he takes it in for repairs. Why, Schoepel asked, can't he tell his car's troubles directly to the man in overalls who is going to fix it?

That, the auto men said, is a good question. If they had an answer, I didn't hear it.

ASNE URGES ACTION

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors has urged quick Senate action on a recommendation by the Senate Rules Committee that payroll information on Senate employees be made available to the public. J. R. Wiggins, the ASNE president and executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, called the committee's action "gratifying."

ARCTIC CAMP SET UP

FT. EUSTIS, Va. (UPI) — U.S. Army polar research experts, 41 strong, have established a base camp only 500 miles from the North Pole. The Transportation Corps Center here announced the explorers have traveled the first leg of their journey across the Greenland ice cap. The expedition traveling by tractor and dog sled, was to study weather conditions and mark a snow passage.

REDS WELCOME AMERICANS

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Russian official Wednesday night said his government would welcome as many as 150,000 American tourists in the Soviet Union this year. Yuri Zhukov, chairman of the State Committee on Cultural Relations, also said he hoped President Eisenhower and other officials of the U.S. government would make the trip.

Actress Thinks Of Mate While Playing Love Scene

Hollywood
By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — What does a beautiful actress think about in the middle of a passionate love scene with a handsome leading man?

LIGHT EATER — The pretty candles on Smudge's birthday cake hold little fascination for the 12-year-old cat. Like any feline, it's the cream he's after in Worcester Park, England.

Her husband!

At least that's the case with Natalie Wood. But then her husband, Bob Wagner, is a handsome movie hero in his own right.

Natalie, whose career is just beginning to blossom, has co-starred with Tony Curtis, Gene Kelly, Tab Hunter and Jimmy Dean—and at the age of 20 she has yet to be impressed with them as anything but fellow workers whose kisses are just part of the job.

Maverick Gets Nervous

Currently the brunette cutie is making amouir with Jim (Maverick) Garner in a new movie. And Jim, a fearless hombr in his TV series, suffers from the shakes when Natalie is in his arms.

"R. J. (Nat's nickname for husband Bob) visits the set almost every day I work," she said. "I do the same thing on his pictures. But when the script calls for a love scene my husband stays away."

"It doesn't bother him to see another man kissing me, but poor Jim gets terribly nervous. So on days when I'm in Jim's arms R. J. goes out and plays golf."

Nat's Not Fazed
"My feelings aren't affected when he has to make movie love to another actress."

"One day I asked Sherree North during a hot love scene she and R. J. were doing for 'In Love and War' if my presence annoyed her."
"Heck, no," Sherree said. "I've got a man of my own to worry about."

Natalie, back working with Warner Brothers for the first time in 1 1/2 years, co-stars with Garner in the movie version of the best seller "Cash McCall."

No Substitute For Sentiment Sparkler Still Rates High

'Understandings' between jeweler and groom-to-be are still common where the girl chooses her own engagement ring.

By ALIEN SNODDY
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA) — Practically no substitute for sentimentality when the prospect of a

From indications in various parts of the country, when love is in bloom, a ring is the thing.

The size of the gem varies from individual to individual, region to region. Those with love in their eyes on Fifth Ave. may pay more than a moonstruck twosome on Main St.

However, Arthur Muller, a vice president in charge of diamond engagement rings for a major jewelry firm (Artcarved), offers a word of advice for those contemplating marriage.

Fingering his gold wedding band, he says in a fatherly way: "Don't defer the selection of an engagement ring until after the marriage. Once you are married the sentimental bloom is gone."

Engagement rings definitely are not passe in this country. However, rings and marriage licenses are sensitively tuned to the job market.

Last year the marriage rate slumped, much to the consternation of women who were poised at the altar. It added, also, a few gray hairs to the heads of leading jewelers since diamond sales make up 25 per cent of the $1.5-billion-dollar total retail jewelry sales each year.

But Muller happily points out that 1960 is going to be a bumper year with 1,400,000 marriages anticipated. There were 1,445,000 marriages in 1958. More marriages are on the horizon because of the heavy birth rate during the 40s.

If the trend to teen-age marriages runs true to form, more young persons will marry. Seven per cent of the present teen-age population already is married. Nearly 2 1/2 million brides from 1957 to 1962 will be under 20 years old. And, those older folks who postponed alliances for financial reasons also will take the plunge in 1960.

If they do, chances are the shaky kneed bridegroom-to-be will "surprise" the maiden of his choice with a diamond — if he lives in a community of 50,000 or less. If he doesn't present the ring to his sweetheart "unexpectedly," he at least arranges with the jeweler to show only rings in a price range he can afford. This usually is from $125 to $250.

This reconnoitering is an interesting paradox, Muller feels. "Men and women today are supposed to have more confidences than years ago. It's unusual when something this personal isn't discussed thoroughly by a couple."

In metropolitan areas of more than 5,000, the majority of couples shop together for the ring. If you are an average man or woman still shopping for a lifetime mate you have these statistics before you:

— You probably will be engaged for six months.

— December is the happy gift (ring) month.

— June is still the month of brides.

— But there is always someone who will knock all statistics into a cocked hat.

As one woman in her late 20s explained, "I have my ring now. I'm in no hurry to get married."

My solution seemed simple. I took the book and was walking out with it when the librarian spotted it. Calling me back, she waved it in front of my face while making a very excited speech on my poor training and conduct.

Thereafter, although I was wise enough to control my wish to steal library books, I often wanted to. But my motive for wanting to had changed. I'd become less interested in possessing myself of books than in avenging myself on the librarian. I was so mad at her for misjudging my action that I wanted to humiliate her by proving to myself I could fool her.

This is why we are mistaken to make angry, condemning speeches when a child comes home with a friend's toy or otherwise possesses himself of other people's property. Like me, he may not know what you are talking about. A simple creature, he's served his wish for the dime on the kitchen table by taking it. I, for example, thought myself highly intelligent to solve my wish for the Persian fairy tales by walking out with them. It seemed such an obvious thing to do.

So, like countless other children faced with adult anger at their primitive morality, I was shocked by the librarian. I thought she was crazy. And again, like countless other children in these situations, I wanted to punish her for humiliating me when I was so pleased with my own resourcefulness.

This is the danger of the angry, condemning speeches. The child's wish to possess himself of a desirable object may turn into a wish to punish the condemning person.

When the condemning person is his parent, the wish may become uncontrollable. We are always more disappointed, more hurt by the misjudgment of a loved person than we are by that of someone like my librarian. So the child may start taking things, not because he wants the things so much as he wants to prove himself able to fool us.

Certainly the delinquent children I have known found the thief's secret war out of just such a passion for vengeance.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Most of our relatives live in the city but we live on a farm. We make a decent living but our relatives feel that since we live in the country and have five kids we are real hard up or something. They keep sending their children's worn-out clothes to us. They don't fit our kids and aren't decent enough to wear anywhere.

I unpacked a mess of these old rags this morning and just took them out and burned them. Should we write to them and tell them to quit sending us boxes or just keep quiet? The stuff they send is not worth the postage.

DEAR SIS: Write your relatives and thank them but suggest that they give their boxes or (don't say "worn-out" — say "outgrown") clothing to a local rummage sale or charity.

DEAR ABBY: A girl who works in our office has a PAST... and I mean a real PAST. She started out young and has really been through the mill. And she's not ashamed to tell people about it. She is very popular with the men because she tells them dirty stories. Everyone says she is a "good sport" and her past hasn't seemed to have hurt her. In fact, I think it helps. I wonder if it wouldn't pay me to get a past?

DEAR NO: Don't envy a girl with a past. She attracts only men who are hanging around in the hope that history will repeat itself.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married four years. He is 25 and I am 24. We have four wonderful children.

We have never had a honeymoon or vacation together. We take the children everywhere we go.

This summer my mother, who lives in another state, wants to take the children for two weeks. Am I being unfair for wanting to go some place without the children?

My husband thinks we should spend our vacation with our children. I love the children but, Abby, I could sure use a two-week rest. I'd appreciate your opinion.

KIND OF TIRED
DEAR TIRED: Everyone needs a vacation without the children occasionally. It's good for the parents, and good for the children. By all means, accept your mother's generous offer.

DEAR ABBY: Get a load of this: I am too young to wear nylon stockings or heels or lipstick but I am old enough to do the dishes, make beds and stay with my seven-year-old brother. I am too young to go to a night movie with a girlfriend but I am old enough to get the stove after dark for lunch meat my mother forgot to get. One minute I am a "child" and the next minute I am an "adult." What am I supposed to be anyway? I am 12 years old.

DON'T KNOW
DEAR DON'T: You are "supposed to be" a child who is learning to accept adult responsibility.

When making muffins or rolls place a tablespoon of Honey Syrup in bottom of greased muffin cup. To make Honey Syrup combine 1-3 cup brown sugar, 2-3 cup honey and 3 tablespoons melted butter.

Remember, you don't want to look as if you're in need of a massive dose of vitamins.

The notion that a tiny dab of perfume is "ladylike" is a carry-over from the Victorian era. It's an extension of the attitude that once said that rouging was "fast" or that no nice woman colored her lips.

In 1959, we make a dashing use of make-up. In the big cities, false eyelashes, eyeshadow and eye-liner are worn in the day-time. Perfume is worn all day long, just as it is in Europe.

But since the primary purpose of perfume is to give pleasure to yourself and others, don't be timid about applying it. The woman who can drift through a room leaving a trail of carnation scent didn't get that way by putting a dab behind one ear. She splashed herself in it liberally, thereby turning heads.

At a gathering of mature women recently, it was shocking to see that nearly all of them had dry, old, clawlike hands. The hands were far older than the corresponding faces. They were nicely manicured and decorated with handsome rings. But this didn't alter a look of oldness.

It was obvious that these women had lavished much attention on hair and face and completely forgotten that hands, too, need care. Your hands need a creaming nightly, exercise to keep them flexible, and as much sunbain oil as you lavish on your face and body.

LEFORS (Sp) — A family ice cream supper and game night was given Saturday night, June 20, in the civic center, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Coberley, who are moving to Arkansas to make their home.

Mrs. J. D. Smithee registered the guests as they arrived, in an autograph book presented to the honorees along with a bedspread, table cloth and hurricane lamp.

A corsage of red-crimson king carnations was presented to the honoree.

A white linen cloth covered the table on which were displayed an assortment of cakes centered with a bouquet of pink felt glittered flowers. An arrangement of pink roses was also placed with the honorees gifts.

Mrs. D. T. Pfeil played the piano for group singing led by her husband, D. T. Pfeil; Mrs. Curley Parker, a guest of Smithee, also played as her husband, Curley Parker, led group singing just before refreshments were served.

Games were led by Mrs. O. O. Bishop.

Attending were the families of Messrs. and Mrs. P. S. Coberley, Bill Coberley, L. B. Coberley, L. J. Crab, Tony Bivins, Curley Parker, Williamson and Mother, Earl Lane, J. D. Smithee, A. T. Cobb, B. JUST THE RIGHT AMOUNT OF CREAM FOR THE BEST POSSIBLE FLAVOR

Borden's HOMOGENIZED MILK

Borden's Milk

BEST-TASTING milk in town!

Milk gets its smooth, delicious flavor from cream. There's just the right amount of cream for the best possible flavor in every quart of Borden's Milk. This pure golden cream is evenly distributed through each drop of Borden's Homogenized Milk. Every last drop is so rich and good that tiny children, hardest to please of all milk drinkers, often call for a second glass. And it's fortified with Vitamin D for their benefit.

24% richer than standard ice cream!

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The summer I was 7 I tried to steal a library book.

I did not want to steal. I just wanted to keep a book of Persian fairy tales all summer without having to make a six-mile walk to the village every two weeks to get it renewed.

My solution seemed simple. I took the book and was walking out with it when the librarian spotted it. Calling me back, she waved it in front of my face while making a very excited speech on my poor training and conduct.

Thereafter, although I was wise enough to control my wish to steal library books, I often wanted to. But my motive for wanting to had changed. I'd become less interested in possessing myself of books than in avenging myself on the librarian. I was so mad at her for misjudging my action that I wanted to humiliate her by proving to myself I could fool her.

This is why we are mistaken to make angry, condemning speeches when a child comes home with a friend's toy or otherwise possesses himself of other people's property. Like me, he may not know what you are talking about. A simple creature, he's served his wish for the dime on the kitchen table by taking it. I, for example, thought myself highly intelligent to solve my wish for the Persian fairy tales by walking out with them. It seemed such an obvious thing to do.

So, like countless other children faced with adult anger at their primitive morality, I was shocked by the librarian. I thought she was crazy. And again, like countless other children in these situations, I wanted to punish her for humiliating me when I was so pleased with my own resourcefulness.

This is the danger of the angry, condemning speeches. The child's wish to possess himself of a desirable object may turn into a wish to punish the condemning person.

When the condemning person is his parent, the wish may become uncontrollable. We are always more disappointed, more hurt by the misjudgment of a loved person than we are by that of someone like my librarian. So the child may start taking things, not because he wants the things so much as he wants to prove himself able to fool us.

Certainly the delinquent children I have known found the thief's secret war out of just such a passion for vengeance.

And if you think that dish is for the birds, better have a look at the American League standings. They show Baltimore's on-rushing Orioles only a half-game out of first place and with more victories than any other team in the league. Not bad for a ball club that is last in the league in hitting, next-to-last in fielding and 10th in scoring with such castoffs as Skiny Brown, Walt Dropo, Billy Loes and Jim Finigan. Castoffs in Important Roles All of them played important roles in Baltimore's 7-4 victory over Cleveland Wednesday night and today another discard, Hoyt Wilhelm, gets a chance to boost the Orioles into first place when he goes against the Indians. The Orioles broke a 4-4 tie when they came up with three runs in the ninth. Gus Triandos, Dropo—playing his first game after coming from Cincinnati—and Gardner and Bob Nieman each homered. Brown, who posted his fifth victory, held the Tribe to five hits. The Athletics downed the Yankees, 4-3; the Senators whipped the White Sox, 4-2, and the Red Sox beat the Tigers, 4-2, in other AL games. Milwaukee retained its two game lead in the National League with a 4-0 win over St. Louis in a game cut to seven innings because of rain: San Francisco nipped Pittsburgh, 4-3; Los Angeles made it three in a row over Philadelphia, 9-6, and Cincinnati blanked Chicago, 5-0. Daley Checks Yanks Knuckleballer Bud Daley of the A's checked the Yankees on seven hits as he racked up his seventh victory with the aid of a two-run homer by Dick Williams. Roger Maris singled home the decisive run in the seventh. Mike Fornieles' fine relief job saved Jack Harshman's second victory as Boston beat Detroit. Harshman held the Tigers to five hits in 6 1/3 innings, then Fornieles came on and didn't give up a hit the rest of the way. Washington capitalized on three singles and two errors to score three runs in the ninth and defeat Dick Donovan of Chicago. Hank Aaron smashed his 20th homer with two on in the first inning for the Braves and it was that's all, brother, as far as the Cardinals were concerned. The Giants won their game from the Pirates when Leon Wagner's ninth inning pop fly with the bases full fell safely. Center fielder Bill Virdon, charged with an error, and second baseman Bill Maseroski collided on the play.

ART NELSON ... in main event

Negro Wrestlers to Be Here Saturday

A pair of Negro wrestlers and another episode in a long-standing grudge fight will be featured on Saturday night's wrestling card at Top o' Texas Sportsman's Club. The two Negro wrestlers matched against each other Saturday will be the first pair of colored men ever to meet in a Pampa wrestling ring. In a special added attraction, two out of three falls, 45 minute time limit, Tex Brady will defend his Southern Negro heavyweight championship against a rugged challenger, Willie Love. In the main event, Art Nelson and Sonny Myers renew their long-standing feud after a lapse of a few weeks. Myers has taken two of the last three matches, and the kind of wrestling he and Nelson did is shown by the fact that all three events were decided on disqualifications. Nelson is especially hungry for a victory, and eager to avenge his injured pride on anyone who happens to be handy—and Myers is the man he'll try to take his feelings out on Saturday night. Nelson has dropped four of his last five matches, including tag team losses the past two weeks to Bob Geigel and Dory Funk. He teamed with Doug (Iron Jaw) Donovan in these matches. These two tag team losses were especially bitter ones for Nelson, because he has held almost every tag team title in the book, and has seldom lost a tag team match. Strangely enough, the two tag team losses were on disqualifications, so all of Nelson's last five matches have been decided via that route! Myers, a big favorite of Pampa wrestling fans, is the opposite of Nelson. He uses dirty tactics, if at all, only in self defense. But he's usually rough and rugged enough to win by sticking with the rules. Tommy Phelps will try to climb another run on the comeback ladder in a preliminary match when he tangles with Tony Morelli in a one fall, 20 minute time limit event. Phelps, who has recently done more refereeing than wrestling, broke a long losing string three weeks ago by beating Juan Humberto. Advance tickets to Saturday's matches, sponsored by Pampa Shrine Club and promoted by Doc Miller, are on sale at Levine's Department Store. Prices are $1.50 for ringside, $1.25 for reserved seats, and $1.00 for general admission.

KISSEE, UTILITY WIN LITTLE LEAGUE GAMES

Only two Little League games were played Wednesday, as wet grounds forced postponement of Pony League and Eastern Little League games. Two games were played at Western Little League Park, which was in better condition because of its grass. Utility Oil routed One Bull, 16-2, and Kisee Ford stopped Hoover Oil, 5-2. One Bull's loss dropped the Ranchers out of second place, and put E. M. Keller Trucking in the number two spot, two and a half games behind league-leading Kisee Ford. One Bull is now three games out of first place. Ralph King stopped One Bull on four hits, one of them a home run by David Gregg, Bobby Holt and Jeff Smiley hit homers for Utility. The Oilers had their big inning in the fourth, when they scored nine runs. Steve Molberg threw a four-hitter for Kisee, striking out 13 Hoover hitters. He did some great clutch pitching in the bottom of the sixth inning, after Hoover loaded the bases with no one out. He proceeded to strike out the side in succession. To top off his performance, Molberg collected two of his team's 16 hits, a double and single. Other leading Kisee hitters were Randal Johnston with a homer and a single; Jimmy Weatherly with a triple and single, and Ken Davis with two singles. Smith had two singles for Hoover. Worley, the Hoover pitcher, struck out five men and got one of his team's hits.

NCAA GOLF IN ROUND 3

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Ward Wettlaufer and Tommy Aaron, a pair of sweet swinging Walker Cup stars, vie today in the top match during the third round of the NCAA Golf Championships. Wettlaufer, of Hamilton, and Aaron, of Florida, are among 16 players who survived Wednesday's action in which the field was pared from 64. Upsets highlighted Wednesday's play. Both co-medalists from team champion Houston, Bob Pratt and Jack Supit, were eliminated. John Konek, of Purdue, last year's runner-up, will meet Dick Crawford, Houston's only surviving player, in what is touted as another top match. Konek had to go 20 holes before beating Bill Eschbrenner, Fort North Texas State. In his second match he defeated Torfy Marimon of Houston, 5 and 4. Wettlaufer, a finalist two years ago, recorded 2 and 1 victories over John Dunkin of Oregon State and Jim Wright of Oklahoma State. Aaron edged Tom Garrity 1 up and trounced Chuck Hunter of Oregon, 6 and 5.

Patterson, Johansson Will Clash Tonight

Floyd Picked At 5-1 Odds Over Swede

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Possible thunderstorms are predicted for the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight tonight, but promoter Bill Rosensohn insists, "the fight will go on if I have to wait till midnight."

The only thing that can possibly postpone the Yankee Stadium bout until Friday is a "persistent deluge," Rosensohn declared.

The international 15-rounder between champion Patterson and challenger Johansson of Sweden is scheduled to start at 10:30 p.m. e.d.t.

Speedy Patterson of Rockville Centre, N.Y., became a longer favorite today at 5-1 as the odds jumped from 4-1. It was "even money" that the bout doesn't last eight complete rounds, regardless of the winner, and 11-5 that it doesn't last 15.

Patterson Eager To Win
Patterson, making his fifth defense of the crown, claims he is eager to win impressively over the unbeaten Swede, champion of Europe. Such a victory would help dispel any suspicions that he may be a "cheese" champion.

Handsome, burly Johansson claimed all-out determination to win the championship heroically and prove that those of his countrymen who had branded him a coward after the 1952 Olympics were ignoble liars.

If he beats Patterson, he would become the first Swedish-born world champion in any division, and the first foreign heavy world champion since giant Primo Carnera of Italy lost the title to Max Baer in 1934.

Meanwhile, Rosensohn announced that the advance sale had topped $500,000, the amount needed for him to break even. He expects a gate of $600,000, he said, and a crowd of about 28,000.

There will be no home-television; but the fight will be radio-broadcast to homes by ABC. The Teleprompter Corp. will send the bout by closed-circuit TV to 170 theaters and arenas in 135 cities, where 550,000 seats are available. Advance sales indicate the gross seat receipts will approximate $1,400,000.

Patterson, 24, is a long favorite because of his speed and punch. He knocked out 18 of his last 17 opponents. He is favored also because brown-haired, fair-complexioned Johansson, 26, was unim-

FIGHT FACTS AND FIGURES

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here are the facts and figures for Thursday's Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight:
Principals—World champion Floyd Patterson of Rockville Centre, N.Y., vs. European champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.
Title at stake—Patterson's world championship.
Distance—15 rounds.
Place—Yankee Stadium.
Tickets—$5 to $100.
Promoter—Bill Rosensohn's Enterprises.
Betting—Patterson favored at 5-1.

Time of main event—10:30 p.m. e.d.t. Thursday.
Expected crowd—40,000.
Expected gate—$600,000.
Home television—None.
Theater-TV—By Teleprompter Corp. to 170 locations in 135 cities with 550,000 seats available. Minimum 50-mile-radius theater black-out in New York area.
Radio—To homes in the United States by ABC, United Kingdom by BBC, Scandinavia by Phillips Philamp.
Johansson's purse—Guaranteed $100,000 against 20 per cent of all the promotion's net receipts.
Patterson's purse—30 per cent of net gate and 80 per cent of all other promotion net receipts including $300,000 from Teleprompter.

Return-bout contract—If Johansson wins, must give Patterson return shot at title within 90 days somewhere in United States, and Johansson's entire purse would be held in escrow until the fulfillments contract.
Glove-weight—Six ounces.

pressive in training. Despite his reputed thunderbolt right fist, he never scored a knockdown in 151 rounds of sparring for this bout.
Moreover, Ingemar's left jab and left hooks appeared mediocre. Johansson, seeking his 22nd straight professional victory and his 14th knockout, amazed the boxing world last Sept. 14 by belting out California's Eddie Machen in the first round. At that time Machen was unbeaten and the top contender. That quick kayo earned "Ingo" tonight's title shot.

Tale Of The Tape

NEW YORK (UPI)—Here's the tale-of-the-tape for Thursday's Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight:

PANAMA HONORS LOPEZ
PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI)—Third baseman Hector Lopez of the New York Yankees will receive a sports gold medal of merit from his native Panama during ceremonies of the July 4th double-header at Yankee Stadium.

SWEDEN TO STAY AWAKE TO HEAR FIGHT ON RADIO

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Sweden planned mass insomnia tonight to see if national hero Ingemar Johansson wins, loses, or draws with Floyd Patterson in their world heavyweight championship bout in New York.

The time difference means that the broadcast of the bout begins here at 3 a.m. Friday morning. The midnight sun means that it will be pretty light by that time, but the nation would gladly sit up in darkness to hear the outcome of the fight.

est, the state-run Swedish radio is pretending the fight doesn't exist. It frowns on boxing as a "cruel sport" and will not broadcast fights, not even this one. Swedes will hear it anyway from Radio Luxembourg.

In Goteborg, Ingo's home town, jammed night clubs will stop the dancing to let their guests listen to the reports of the fight.
The Swedes believe he will become the next world champion. Pining their hopes on Ingo's right hand punch and unbeaten record in the pro rings—as an amateur he lost 10 bouts, including a second round disqualification to the late American Ed Sanders in the 1952 Olympic final—about 80 per cent of the Swedes seemed convinced that Ingo will win, according to newspaper polls.

Olmedo to Face Toughest Test

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Alex Olmedo must prove his right to be top-seeded in the Wimbledon tennis championships today against the man who handed him a surprising defeat less than a week ago—Ramanathan Krishnan of India.

Krishnan whipped Olmedo, 8-6, 6-1, last Friday in the semi-final round of the London Grass Courts tournament and their clash in the third round of men's singles here was expected to highlight a program today that includes matches in almost every section.

Seven Americans still are "alive" in men's singles—five, including Olmedo in the third round and two in the second. And seven Americans still are in competition in women's singles—five in the third round and two in the second.

Not all were scheduled to see action today, however, as tourney officials put together a mixed program including both singles and doubles play in the men's and women's divisions, with matches from different rounds complicating the picture.

Chicago Open Starts Today

CHICAGO (UPI)—The biggest purse of the summer golf swing, $57,000, will be on the line when the 151 golfers teeing off in Glenagee Country Club's second annual Chicago Open.

Among the favorites for the title were defending champion Ken Venturi, National Open winner Billy Casper and Masters champion Art Wall Jr., but a hot putter for anyone in the field could turn the scrap into a one-man show.

The course measures only 6,350 yards, far shorter than the usual test for the pros, but the greens are tricky. They're rolling, hilly and deceptive, and hence while most of the players can reach the greens in normal figures, they run into trouble sinking the putts.

In addition the fairways have been narrowed and the rough allowed to grow for the tournament, but recent dry weather will give a good roll on just about every shot and the rough won't be particularly thick in any spot.

Others in the field who were given a good chance to win were the veteran Sam Snead, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer, Mike Souchak, Doug Ford, Bob Rosburg, Julius Boros, Billy Maxwell, and Don Whit.

Most of the field practiced Wednesday and Casper had the hottest round, even though he didn't hole out on three greens. He had one eagle drive and six birdies in the 15 holes he completed. That he might have been two strokes under his own competitive course record of 64, set last year.

Baltimore, Md., faced Jean Molinari of France and Jacques Griegry of Alhambra, Calif., met Manuel Santana of Spain.

Two U.S. girls, Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., and Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., were scheduled for third-round matches in women's singles. Two others, Karol Faberos of Miami, Fla., and Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif., were listed for second-rounders. All were expected to win.

Attention in doubles centered on a first-round match between the gray-haired U.S. combine of Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., and Budgie Pratt of Los Angeles and the crack Italian Davis Cup team of Nicola Pietrangeli and Orland Sirola. Mulloy and Patty astonished the tennis world by winning this title in 1957.

Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, Olmedo's running-mate on the U.S. Davis Cup team, also was listed for third-round action but was expected to have a much easier time against Jan Leschly of Denmark. In a pair of men's second-round singles matches originally scheduled Wednesday but postponed when rain delayed the program, Malcolm Fox of Chevy heavyweights takes all the meanness out of tough hauls!

When a truck goes to work for Lester Brothers, Inc., of Martinsville, Virginia, it's in for a life of extra-hard labor. Loads are whoppers—whole sections of Lesco prefab homes. Runs are scheduled without let up. And at the job sites the going's always tough. That's why Lester Brothers specify Chevrolet; why they're adding new ones as soon as the older models need replacing. Chevies take the meanness out of the roughest jobs. And they cost less to maintain than any other trucks Lester Brothers have owned!

A going concern like Lester Brothers, with tight delivery dates to meet every day in the week, demands maximum truck dependability and performance. And, mister, they get it—with most of their Chevrolets going at least 100,000 miles (some of them 150,000) before the engine heads even come off! With big truck V8's that hum right along on burry-up schedules. With Chevies trucks that are easier to handle, specialists at getting in and out of congested job sites.

This particular operation sure points up Chevrolet's natural ability to handle any kind of job that could come along. It illustrates what we've been saying for a long time—that once you put a Chevy on the payroll, that tough job loses its fight fast and settles down to a smooth-running routine. If your job demands even half as much as this one does, you've got good reason to visit your Chevrolet dealer. He's the man with specific information... the man to see before another good working day goes by.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer!

Saloons, Guns Best For Texas, Says Cowboy

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press International
BAYTOWN (UPI)—An old-time cowboy who also helped erect the capitol building in Austin thinks the best thing that could happen to Texas would be a saloon on every corner and everyone wearing a six shooter.

"Texas was once a good place to live," recalls J. L. (Jim) Mackrell, who was 90 years old last April. "If people would wiggle a few six shooters around, it would be a good place again."
The spry oldest who still looks out for himself "because I don't want to be beholden to my children for anything" recalls that back in the 1880's Texas had more land than money, so the state traded off three million acres of land for a capitol building.
His memory of helping put up the statehouse still is quite good and some of his letters on the subject to state librarians are on file in the state archives.

Has Color Picture
One of Mackrell's proudest possessions is a big color picture of the capitol building. He often points out the spots where he worked, sliding down cables to the ground rather than use a ladder.
Mackrell was a sheet metal worker. The firm he was working with drew its designs, made its dies and cast its metal on the spot where the work was being done. The land which the state exchanged for the capitol building later became the famous XIT Ranch.

Mackrell's family originally came from France, but because of religious beliefs moved to England. He was born 20 miles from London but came to Texas when he was six on a boat called the San Jacinto.

The family settled near Hempstead northwest of Houston, and later moved to Brenham where a family adopted Mackrell after the death of his mother.
Barely Missed Sam Bass
Mackrell said he had worked "nearly all over Texas" either in the sheet metal industry or as a cowboy. He recalls once he and his sister went into Round Rock to buy some supplies and found everyone in the town "armed to the teeth."
They became suspicious and left town in a hurry. Just after they got out they heard an outbreak of shooting. That was the day bank robber Sam Bass was killed.

One of his "pet peeves," says Mackrell, is today's westerns on television and in the movies, which he says are "full of inaccuracies." For one thing, he says women never went into saloons and because everyone had to roll their own cigarettes, there was little smoking.
There wasn't much shooting, either. He said he had seen hundreds of cowboys, all armed, but never had seen one draw a weapon against another.
Mackrell said he used to carry as many as three guns, including a Derringer in his boot.
"I didn't ever shoot at anything," he recalled. "But I was pretty well dressed up."

UAR HOSTS SELASSIE

CAIRO (UPI)—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia arrived here Wednesday for a five day state visit. The African leader was received by United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who had just returned from a vacation on the Mediterranean coast near Alexandria.

JORDAN GETS GRANT

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—The British government has given Jordan $1,400,000 to help complete a new desert road to Aqaba, a Red Sea port on the Gulf of Aqaba, a British embassy spokesman announced Wednesday. The road insures Jordan free access to the port. Other roads to Aqaba cut through Syria and are subject to a blockade.

- ★ NEW SAFETY DUAL-TREAD DESIGN
- ★ SUPER-STRENGTH NYLON CORD BODY
- ★ MODERN IN APPEARANCE... DELUXE IN QUALITY

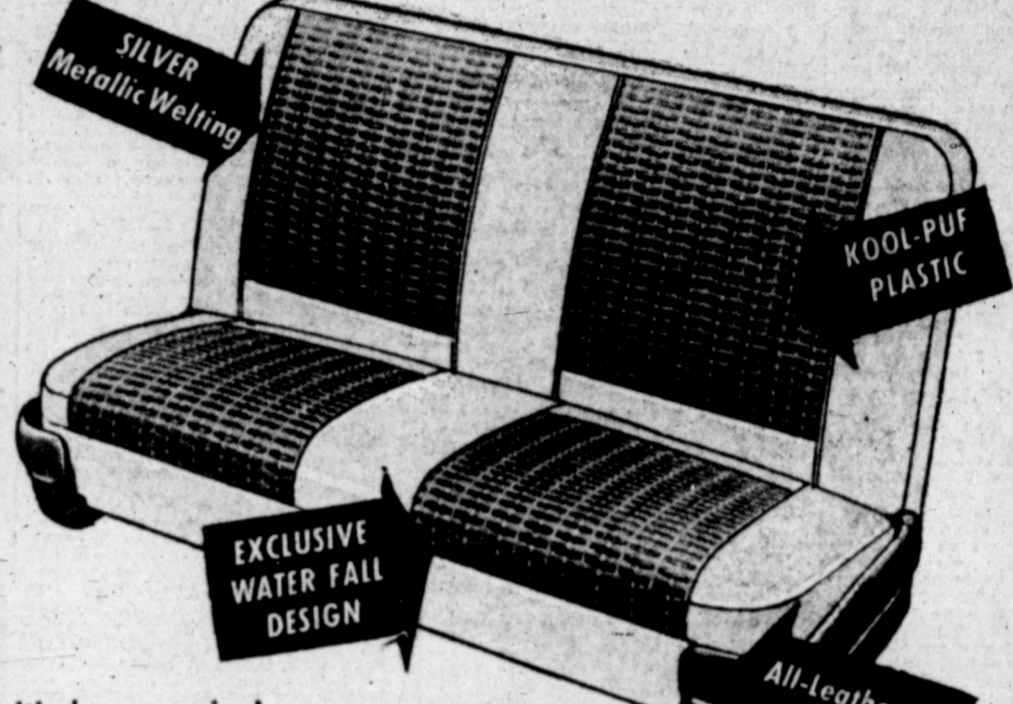

The White Premium Deluxe offers you, the motorist, more performance and safety features! New Dual-Tread design gives safer traction and smoother, cushioned riding. The 100% NYLON cord body is strength-tempered... it actually defies bruises, moisture, and fatigue damage from the constant flexing the tread receives. The NYLON is electronically processed to resist far more heat than any amount of use can build-up. White Premium Deluxe... TOPS for your tire dollar!
