'Shoot' Orders Issued

Indian Troops Rush to Border

By B. K. TIWARI
United Press International

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The cabinet Saturday ordered Indian Army troops rushed to the northern frontier where thousands of Chinese Communist soldiers were massed along the border, authoritative sources reported.

The troops had orders to shoot if necessary and to relieve the auxiliary forces which have faced assaults by probing Chinese units during the last two months. Army authorities were said to have arranged to set up a field headquarters near Jorhat to direct the defense of the 1,500-mile northern frontier.

Estimates of the number of Red troops deployed along Communist-held Tibet's southern borders with India, Nepal, Bhutan and Sikkim, from Kashmir to the northeast frontier agency, ranged up to 40,000 men.

Authoritative sources said the Indian cabinet had ordered the Army to take over border patrol duties in view of the reports of Red troop concentrations.

The sources said Indian soldiers have been ordered to shoot any "Chinese trespassers" if they ignored warnings to withdraw.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru already has warned Peking that India would regard aggression against the tiny Himalayan buffer states as an attack on herself.

Previously, border patrol duties were carried out by armed police under control of the border states. But the poorly trained and armed police have been unable to cope with the increasing number of Red Chinese encroachments on Indian territory.

(There has been no official comment from the United States and Great Britain on the reported Chinese actions. American and British spokesmen said their governments were waiting detailed reports.

Indian sources in London said that India's high commissioner Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit had refused an audience with President Eisenhower and would meet with him Tuesday afternoon. The report could not be confirmed.

There were reports of a considerable increase in Communist aerial activities over the border areas during the past three days. According to these reports, Red Chinese paratroops were dropped to reinforce frontier checkpoints.

It was learned that Air Marshal S. Mukherjee, India's air commander, had cut short a tour of Egypt at Nehru's advice to return to India.

Reports relayed from Shillong, headquarters of India's Northeastern Frontier Agency (NEFA), said the area is tense.

Nehru told a shocked parliament Friday that Red Chinese troops already had crossed into

INDIA INVADED

Communist Chinese troops have invaded India on both flanks of Tibet and captured frontier posts in gunfights with Indian defenders. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has announced in New Delhi. Nehru said a second Red force has moved into the Ladakh territory of Kashmir (A), due west of Tibet, captured an Indian reconnaissance force, and established a forward base on Indian territory. He said one Communist contingent attacked in the remote North East Frontier Agency south of Lhasa, Tibet, where Red troops crossed the NEFA's Subansari division (B) and opened fire on Indian border guards.

THOSE BACK-TO-SCHOOL BLUES

The four unhappy youngsters are the offspring of Dr. and Mrs. Joe Donaldson, 26th and Duncan. The reason for their unhappy expressions is the fact that bright and early tomorrow morning all four face the prospect of school. The Donaldson youngsters, left to right, are

School Doors Open Monday

Summer vacations from school which always seem too short for students and too long for parents — come to a close Monday morning when schools re-open throughout the city.

Superintendent of Schools Knox Kinard said Saturday that all students in grades one through six will report to their respective schools tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. Bus students will report at that same time.

At Lee Jr. High all students in grades seven, eight and nine who attended Pampa schools last semester will report to the school auditorium at 9 a.m. Newcomers will report at 1 p.m.

It was also reported that there will be no cafeteria service at report that afternoon at 10. The same procedure will be followed at Pampa Jr. High and Pampa Senior High, Kinard said.

All who attended Pampa schools last semester will report to the school auditorium at 9 a.m. Newcomers will report at 1 p.m.

It was also reported that there will be no cafeteria service at newly-constructed William B. Travis Elementary during the first few days of school.

In connection with the re-opening of schools for the fall semester, Police Chief Jim Conner urged motorists to show more than usual caution in their driving habits.

"There will be so many youngsters going and coming from school," Conner said, "that we will have to depend on the cooperation of motorists."

REDS STRIKE

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is an on-the-spot assessment of the Communist revolt in Laos by veteran UPI correspondent Wendell S. Merick, who has arrived in Vientiane, Laos, from his post in Hong Kong.

By WENDELL S. MERICK
United Press International

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Communist rebels in Laos Saturday struck at an outpost 16 miles from the capital city of Vientiane and vanished in the jungles with the slippery tactics that won them a vast area of Indochina in 1955.

Against the Red's hit-and-run attacks, the Royal Army of Laos—trained by French officers—is manning fixed positions. And many here remember that it was this watch-and-wait style of warfare which led to the disaster of Dienbienphu in 1954 and the winning of North Viet Nam by the Communists.

The brief skirmish south of Vientiane Saturday was bloodless. Only a few shots were fired. But it showed the Reds are there, and that they remain a threat.

well armed and well trained. The rebels are estimated to have fewer than 2,000 regular troops. It is fairly certain that there are no Vietminh (North Vietnamese) troops or Red Chinese soldiers actually in Laos. But some of the rebels are Chinese—trained and saw service at Dienbienphu.

Self Sufficient

The rebels work in the fertile fields provided by two million tribesmen in the northern jungles, who grow their own food, weave their own clothing and use bows and arrows and hand-made muzzle loading rifles. The tribesmen, whose racial strain is mostly Thai (Siamese) know little of civilization.

The 200 million dollars in American aid to Laos in the last five years has done little for them. (See STRIKE, Page 3)

"Working in civic affairs has been both enjoyable and easy here, thanks to the splendid cooperation I've always been given by local citizens," Dickerson said from his home at 2108 Terry Saturday.

A 1955 graduate of Texas A&M, Dickerson spent two years in the Army. He and wife, Jean have three daughters: Nancy, 6; Mary Lou, 4; and Susan, 2. Dickerson was advanced to the group manager's position here from Fort Worth.

CHEQUERS, England (UPI)—President Eisenhower told Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Saturday at the opening of their private talks that he will make no go-it-alone attempt to reach a settlement of the cold-war during his meetings with Nikita S. Khrushchev next month.

The two heads of government held a two-hour meeting at Chequers, the ancient estate 40 miles from London that is the official country mansion of British Prime Ministers and discussed a report drawn up by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

After that they had "just a general talk on the world situation," according to White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

CAR GLASS IS BROKEN

Four complaints of malicious mischief were reported to Pampa police Friday and Saturday, Chief Jim Conner said Saturday. All came from motorists who complained that windows had been broken in their cars overnight.

E. S. McDonald reported Saturday that someone had knocked windshields from two of his parked trucks at 408 W. 7th. He thought it may have been done with rocks.

Mrs. H. C. Powers, 631 N. Banks, said a glass had been broken in her car Thursday night, and Gwen Gray, 615 N. Gray, reported one of her car windows had been cracked the same night.

A fourth complaint was heard from Donald R. Conley, 1031 Christine, who said his car window had been broken while the auto was parked near the Parish Hall at Purviance and Browning.

Industrial Relations Course Set

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

Top O' Texas residents will have an opportunity to "sit in" on a nine-month industrial relations course, sponsored by the Naval Reserve, which begins Tuesday evening in Pampa.

The course, in other years given only to Naval Reserve Officers, this year will be opened to officers of other services as well.

Moderator of the nine-month, once-a-week course is Jack Miller, a Lt. Commander in the Naval Reserve, and perhaps better known as "the district supervisor of the Railroad Commission office in Pampa."

Miller informed the Daily News Friday that, "In other years we more or less limited our course to about 12 area naval officers. But this year it is being offered to officers in the other services, and is being opened to the general public for their own information."

Miller added, however, that officers of other services will have to get orders from their own command to receive credit for the course. Individuals, he said, can sit in and perhaps gain useful knowledge to carry back to their own particular businesses.

The course, free of charge, is scheduled for Tuesday evenings beginning at 7:30 in the Air Force Reserve Building, 206 W. Browning. This coming Tuesday night, most of the evening will be devoted to registration and organization.

Miller says he looks upon himself as the moderator of the course. He plans to instruct through material prepared by the Navy and with the aid of area guest speakers who are considered experts in labor-management problems.

"There will definitely not be any teacher-student relationship during this course," he said. "We will hope to learn something by presenting information and then bringing it out for discussion."

Miller said he feels the Reserve's Industrial Relations course "should be of interest to any young man on his way up to anyone who has already arrived, so to any person in the position of an employer."

Red Cross Is Grateful For Pampans' Help

The Pampa Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to thank all the citizens of Pampa who have helped families involved in the Gilking Apartment House fire.

Libby Shotwell, executive secretary, said Saturday.

Mrs. Shotwell went on to thank Radio Station KHHH for leading a fund drive for three surviving members of the Lewis Stone family. This drive netted close to $5,000 for the three teenage Stone brothers—Norman Ray, 12; Leslie, 11; and Russell, 17.

The Pampa Chapter has collected $93 for five families who resided in the Gilking Apartments and $25 for the sixth family, the Stone's. The $35 sum was given directly to the boys. Expenditures for the other families total $1,426.87. The balance was made up out of Red Cross funds.

"Had it not been for the goodness of Pampa people who gave so generously and gladly of clothing, baby clothes, blankets, bedspreads, cooking utensils, dishes and silverware, Red Cross expenditures would have been far greater," said Mrs. Shotwell.

Thomas Lewis, a veteran involved in the fire, was given good used clothes, a suitcase, and comfort articles. The Red Cross applied to the Veterans Administration office in Los Angeles, Calif. for Lewis' identification so that he could be moved to the Amarillo VA Hospital from Highland.

The Red Cross also advised the Stone boys that they are eligible for benefits as children of a veteran and assisted them with their application.

A Red Cross wire was also sent to Kigin Air Force Base notifying a serviceman of the death of his fiancée, Betty Stone.

The National Red Cross has met the outstanding needs for rehabilitation of the disaster families, according to Mrs. Shotwell. No repayment of any kind will (See RED CROSS, Page 3)

Peeper Claims Sleep Walking

A 14-year-old, nabbed while window-peeping at a home on Somerville St. early Saturday morning, told officers he "must have been walking in his sleep" during questioning Saturday at police headquarters.

The youth, visiting here from Kansas, later admitted he wasn't telling the truth and that he was just "curious."

The youngster, clothed in underwear, was collared during an early morning footrace by R. A. Shaw, 616 N. Somerville. Shaw said he first noticed someone peering in a window of his home about 4 a.m. He went outdoors to check, but found no one.

Later he heard a window screen being pulled off, arose and gave chase to the youth who ran into a home on Frost St.

Desegregation Demanded In Virginia Hills

By H. L. STEVENSON

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A push for school desegregation began Saturday for the first time in mountainous Southwest Virginia, while token integration was just around the corner for five other counties in the state.

NAACP attorney Reuben E. Lawson of Roanoke filed desegregation suits in federal district court at Abingdon seeking immediate enrollment for eight Negroes in the all-white high school at Galax.

Lawson's suits followed his similar request to federal district Judge Robt. C. Thompson Friday to admit 12 Negroes to two white high schools in Floyd County and an order to admit four more Negroes to the predominantly white schools of Norfolk.

Barring last-minute legal maneuvers or court orders, 76 Negroes will enter previously white schools in Norfolk, Arlington, Alexandria, Front Royal and Charlottesville as the state which fostered "massive resistance" begins its first full school term with limited integration.

Elsewhere in the South the racial picture was like this at the school opening: The seventh North Carolina city planned to begin token integration; a Miami school in a "changing" neighborhood intends to drop segregation barriers, and the Nashville, Tenn., stair-step integration plan reached the third grade. Atlanta schools ordered to present a desegregation plan by Dec. 1, opened without incident fully segregated.

Galax, which began token race mixing last February, opens its public schools Tuesday with 16 Negroes scheduled to go to predominantly white schools.

Classwork in the other four cities begins Sept. 8, the date Lawson asked Thompson to hear the suits to break the color line in Floyd County and Galax, both in mountainous regions where the Negro population is sparse.

Six of the Negroes who seek to enter the high school at Galax live in neighboring Grayson County and two Negro sisters live in the city. Neither the county or the city have Negro high schools, but send their Negro students to Wytheville, about 40 miles away.

Lawson asked Thompson for a temporary injunction to keep school officials and the State Pupil Placement Board from denying the Negroes admission to the white schools.

A court suit is pending to force immediate enrollment of 28 Negroes to Fairfax County white schools. Fairfax is a neighbor to Alexandria and Arlington, all suburbs of Washington.

Prince Edward County, where one of the original cases before the Supreme Court originated, closed all its public schools July 1 to avoid compliance with a desegregation order. About 1,500 white students will go to private schools in the rural county, starting about Sept. 10. An equal number of Negroes will have no facilities for formal classes.

Desegregation suits are pending or threatened in Richmond, Newport News, Staunton and Lynchburg with no definite action likely for some time.

Rites Held For Pauley

Funeral services were held in Bellingham, Wash., recently for Ray Pauley, 31, a former resident of Pampa.

Mr. Pauley, a painter, was killed when a scaffolding collapsed as he and a partner were painting trim on the Herald Building.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Pauley, who lived west of Pampa, Pauley attended White Deer High School. He later worked for his uncle, Roscoe Pirtle of Pampa.

Mr. Pauley had been in Bellingham for seven years. He is survived by his wife Donna and two daughters, Sandra, 8, and Susan, 6, of Bellingham; by his father, R. F. Pauley of San Diego, Calif.; and by one brother, Ralph of El Rio.

He was the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Pirtle and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. King of Pampa.

A member of the Presbyterian Church, McDonald is married. He and wife, Judy, have one daughter, Julie Annette, 2.

One of McDonald's initial responsibilities will be to coordinate the conversion of Shamrock and Canadian telephone exchanges to dial operation. These conversions are scheduled for Dec. 6, for both towns. New offices are presently under construction in both towns and new business office and plant personnel will be stationed in each town.

Following the Dec. 6 conversion, the telephone operator force for both Shamrock and Canadian will be located in Pampa.

Western Electric contracts have also been let to expand the dial system in Pampa, and to expand the long distance facilities necessary to handle the additional calls out of Shamrock and Canadian.

In June of this year, the McLean telephone exchanges was switched over to dial operation and long distance calls to and from there are presently being handled by Pampa operators. Upon completion of the expansion here, the Pampa Southwestern Bell plant will be one of the largest in the Panhandle.

Indian territory and clashed with Indian border patrols in the NEFA and in Kashmir, 1,000 miles to the West, in July and August.

On Wednesday, he said a force of some 200 to 300 Red Chinese troops overwhelmed the Longju border post, four miles inside India's territory.

Nehru said that defense of NEFA had been turned over from the auxiliary Assam Rifles to the Indian Army. While cautioning Parliament not to become unduly alarmed over minor border skirmishes, he said:

"There is no alternative but to defend our borders."

Reliable reports said that strong contingents of Indian Army troops, specially trained for jungle and mountain warfare, already have moved into the border areas. Indian military authorities set up an advance command post in the NEFA to direct operations.

Happy Blending

Harmony in decorating comes largely from a happy blending of the room's background (walls, draperies, floor covering) with the furnishings.

Before the various elements that make up a harmonious, livable room can be assembled, many selections must be made. . . . selection of colors, form, line, pattern and texture. These will be determined to a great extent by the style, type and purpose of the room. Questions like: Is the room to be formal or casual? Gay and cheerful or dignified and restrained? must be answered before satisfactory selections can be made.

When casting about for easy ways to relate background and furnishings don't overlook the possibilities that matching fabrics and wall papers offer. There are designs available for all types of rooms.

Porcupine Is Killed Here

Pampa's Humane Officers, occupied the past two weekends with alley-cats and a chicken hawk, Saturday ran up against a porcupine.

Dog Warden Buster Collins said the porcupine was spotted Saturday about 11:20 a.m. in a tree at 624 N. Frost.

Collins said he went for help in removing the animal from the tree, but when he returned a youngster had dislodged the porcupine and knocked it to the ground where it died. Burial was in the dumpgrounds east of Pampa.

although it has helped the government arm its soldiers.

What is hobbling the government is not the shortage of arms and trained men to use them, but the lack of sage advice.

Two decades ago, Chinese Communist Party leader Mao Tse-Tung drew up the now classic Communist strategy of mobilizing the countryside surrounding the cities, and suffocating the enemy.

That is what the Communist Vietnamese did in 1954 against the French. It is what the Pathet Lao is doing today.

Need No Supply Lines

Living off the countryside, the Red rebels need little or no logistic support. Without unwieldy supply lines they can exist for years.

The Reds may not be required to do much shooting. There is passive acceptance of them among many tribesmen.

What started it all?

The primary reason is that the government rejected an agreement to keep two Communists in the cabinet, refused to accept the return of the International Control Commission established in 1954 and began arresting both Communist and neutralists.

The Pathet Lao had been incorporated in the Royal Army. The arrangement did not work. The Communists broke loose and, since they could not worm their way to power through constitutional means they took to revolution.

Helping Has Hand

The attacks in the northern province bordering China and North Viet Nam began in May — well before arrangements were made for the talks.

tion would arise at further meetings Saturday night and Sunday at the ancient 40-room manor.

The two statesmen were expected to agree to call for another East-West foreign ministers conference before there is any full-dress summit meeting of Communist and Western states.

Eisenhower and Macmillan were relaxed and cheerful. They went out on nearby Ellesborough Golf Course after the afternoon meeting for eight impromptu holes of golf with Lloyd, U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney and presidential physician Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder. They used Snyder as a "hole" as they improvised greens and all used one set of clubs belonging to Whitney.

A dinner of mutton, grilled filet of sole, roast chicken, strawberry mousse and a savory called Scottish woodcock rounded out the day. Eisenhower went to bed in an old-fashioned four-poster.

Eisenhower and Macmillan began formal conferences immediately after lunch, seated in comfortable chairs in the long gallery — a 90-foot long room on the first floor used as a gymnasium in Elizabethan times.

It was expected that they would decide that there must be another foreign ministers conference like the one at Geneva last spring before there can be any formal summit conference with Russia.

The talks were aimed at preparing Eisenhower for his meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev next month. Sources said that aside from Berlin and disarmament, such issues as the Red revolt in Laos and the Communist Chinese threat to India's northern borders were to be discussed at Chequers.

The President came to the estate from a refreshing overnight stay with the royal family at Balmoral Castle in the Scottish highlands, the one respite of his 10-day peace mission abroad. Protocol went by the boards at the castle and Prince Charles and Princess Anne called him "Uncle Ike."

Formosa Set For Typhoon

By ALBERT E. KAUFF United Press International

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Advancing gusts of a giant typhoon packing gusts of up to 140-miles-an-hour slammed into Formosa Saturday night. The island braced for the full fury of the Pacific howler which was expected to hit Sunday.

Police reported six persons killed when vanguard winds of Typhoon Joan leveled five houses in Chinmei, four miles from Taipei.

Heavy rains whipped through the streets of Taipei, deserted except for police patrols.

Government authorities declared a national emergency as the storm, one of the biggest in 30 years, bore down on this Nationalist Chinese island. Tidal wave warnings were issued on the East Coast.

All U. S. military clubs were stocked with emergency supplies in case any of Taipei's 10,000 American residents are forced from their homes.

Restaurants, theaters, and night clubs were closed and shops and stores locked and boarded. Most of Taipei's 800,000 residents nailed doors and windows shut and tied down roofs against the storm.

A number of flimsy frame houses and shops were dismantled by owners who feared they would never stand against the fury of the storm.

Police evacuated some 32,000 persons from low-lying areas in Taipei and another 6,700 in Keelung, in Northern Formosa. They were housed in schools, theaters and other public buildings in case of floods.

Services Set For Braddock

Funeral services for Harold Jerry Braddock of White Deer will be held at 3 p.m. Monday in the Skellytown First Baptist Church. Mr. Braddock died at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in Groom Hospital after suffering a heart attack in White Deer Friday afternoon.

Mr. Braddock owned and operated Bruck's Drive-In of White Deer. He was a member of the Baptist Church and a veteran of World War II.

He was born on Dec. 17, 1917 in Cooper. A year and a half ago he moved to White Deer from Skellytown, where he had been living for 13 years.

He was married to Kathleen Rich in Memphis in the fall of 1942.

Survivors are his wife Kathleen, and two sons, Jerry Doyle and Terry Don of White Deer; his mother, Mrs. Dewey Martin of Lakeview; five sisters, Mrs. Pauline Gambill of Lakeview, Mrs. Helen Anthony of Memphis, Mrs. Evelyn Friley of Lakeland, Fla., Mrs. Bobby Gilchrist of Borger, and Mrs. Lola Mays of Clarendon and one brother, Wesley of Hartford, Ky.

The Rev. Eugene Brand of Lubbock will officiate Monday, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Luther, pastor of the local church.

TEXAS RANCHER DIES

JOURDANTON (UPI) — R. L. Eschenburg, 89, a prominent Floresville, Tex., hardware merchant and rancher, died at Mercy Hospital Friday night following a long illness. Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Sunday in the First Lutheran Church of Floresville. In addition to his hardware and implement business Eschenburg owned a grocery store and extensive farm and ranch holdings.

Happy Blending

Harmony in decorating comes largely from a happy blending of the room's background (walls, draperies, floor covering) with the furnishings.

Before the various elements that make up a harmonious, livable room can be assembled, many selections must be made. . . . selection of colors, form, line, pattern and texture. These will be determined to a great extent by the style, type and purpose of the room. Questions like: Is the room to be formal or casual? Gay and cheerful or dignified and restrained? must be answered before satisfactory selections can be made.

When casting about for easy ways to relate background and furnishings don't overlook the possibilities that matching fabrics and wall papers offer. There are designs available for all types of rooms.

Sports Around The World In Pictures

HAVING A FLING—Demonstrating form far beyond his years, little Manolin bends at the knees, tilts back the ceta, receives the ball and fires away on the regulation, 175-foot-long jai-lai court at Denis, Fla. The three-year-old is the son of Isasa, a top star in the Basque game.

END OF RAINBOW—Russell Allen and his son, Warren, 13, put food on the table early in the Granite State trout-trout season with Dad's two-pound Rainbow and the youngster's pair of smaller ones. They were taken from Hand's Pond, hard by Lake Sunapee, in western New Hampshire.

KING SIZE—Roy Brady is delighted with his luck. Fishing off Blodgett's Landing in Lake Sunapee, hard by Newbury, N. H., Brady caught this 11-pound, three-ounce lake trout. The whopper is 30 inches long and has a girth of 17 1/2 inches. It took 20 minutes to land the fish.

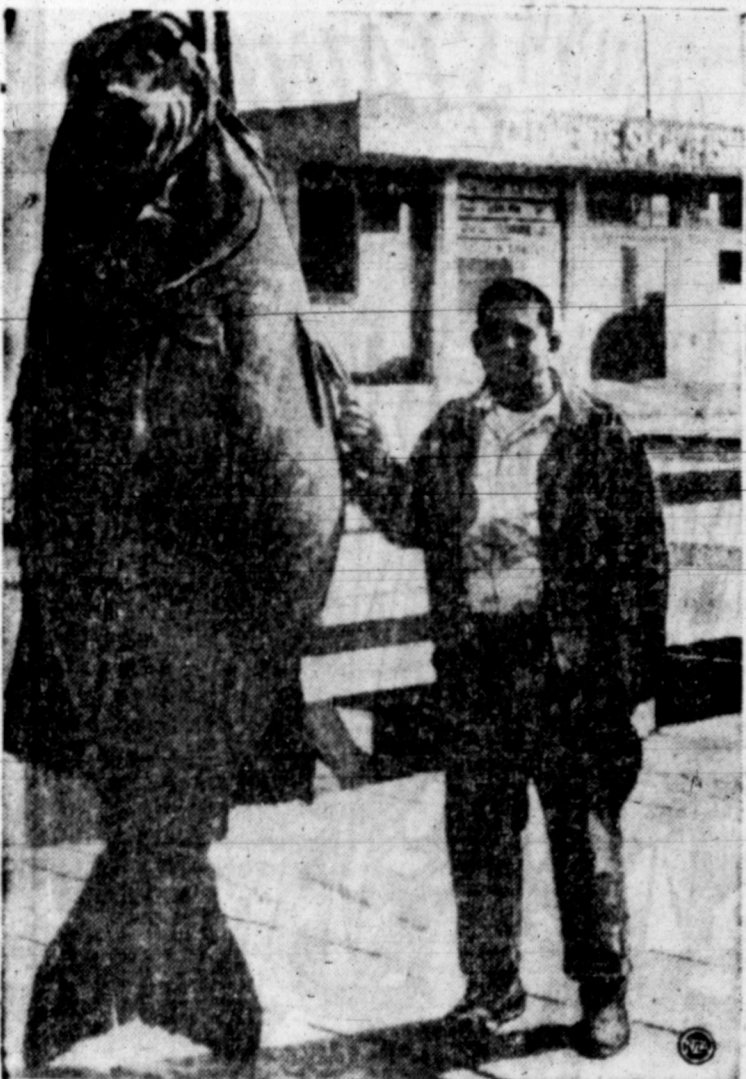

FRACTIOUS—A track employee tried to keep a tight rein on Lady Noon as the filly reared in the Hollywood Park paddock and started to fall backward with Johnny Wadley. Fortunately, the jockey fell free and scrambled out of danger as his mount regained her feet. The rider escaped with only a bruised knee. The high-strung thoroughbred horse was not injured.

HOT PILOT—About to "bank into a turn" on Andrews Air Force Base runways is Gen. Curtis LeMay, cigar still growing out of his face. The Air Force Vice-Chief of Staff gives the gas to one of many go-carts in a race at the base of operations near Washington, D.C.

HONEST COUNT—John Draggatto stands alongside a 509-pound black sea bass the Los Angeles angler hooked off San Clemente Calif. The whopper is five pounds under the record.

NO TROUBLE—Danny Boy takes his nifty rider, Pat Moss, over a jump in fine style in the Royal International Horse Show in London. The event is the Manifesto Stakes.

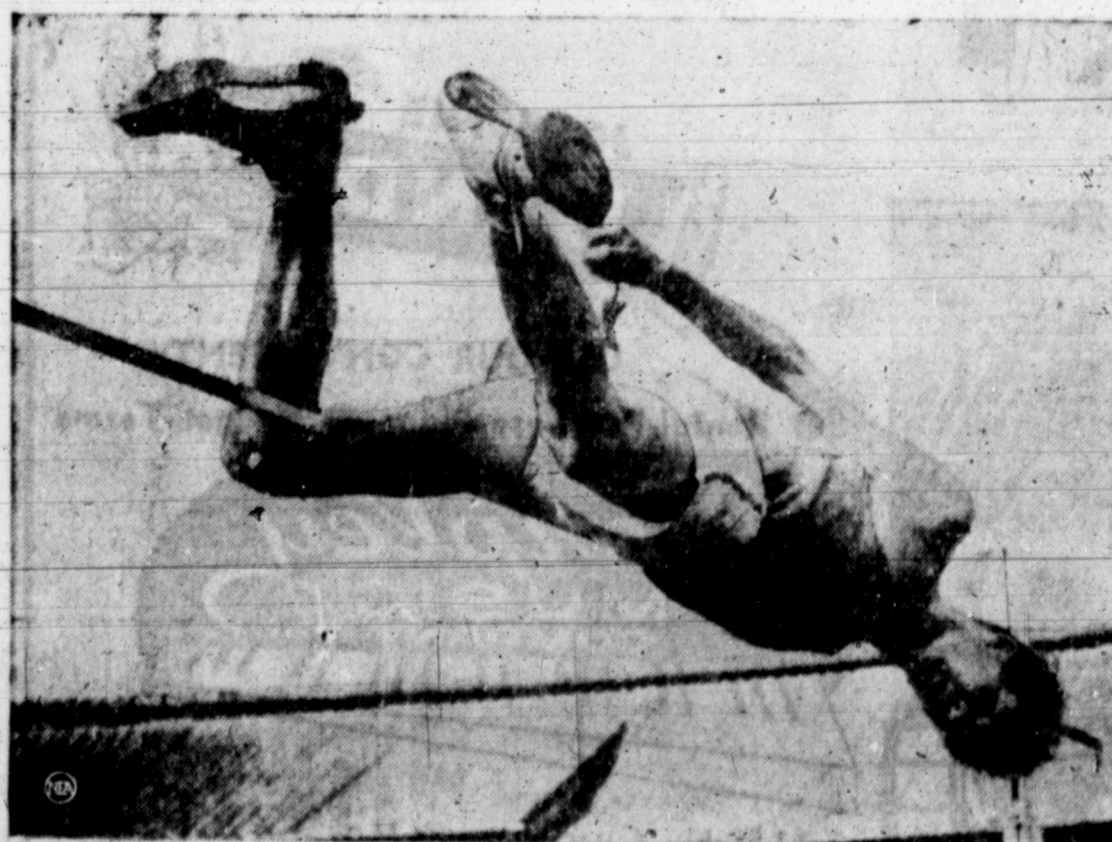

STRETCHING A POINT—Anna Dmitrievna didn't get very far in the Wimbledon Championships, but the Russian less easily could have been the winner had it been a beauty contest.

KLEIN AND DANDY—Jackie Klein displays fine form in spectacular style on the bars in an exhibition in the Chicago loop. The Olympic Games gymnast competes in the Pan-American Games scheduled to be held there, Aug. 27-Sept. 7.

DOUBLE STRATEGY—Bob Mark, left, and left-handed Rodney Laver made futile dives for this ball hit by Gardner Mulloy, but protected the middle well enough to eliminate the veteran and Jack Frost from the National Doubles. A five-set match at the Longwood Cricket Club, Brookline, Mass., lasted nearly three hours before the Australian titleholders won.

STADIUM HIGH—C. W. Fairbrothen is all arms and legs as he barely wriggles over the bar in the high jump of a track and field meet in London. He won with six feet seven.

MAN YOUR BOATS!—Lined up at the dock of San Diego's special club for young beginners, these junior skippers get last-minute directions from instructor before shoving off.

'GREEN MANSIONS'

The world's smallest deer shares acting honors with Audrey Hepburn and Anthony Perkins in "Green Mansions," MGM's spectacular film version of W. H. Hudson's famed novel of romance and adventure in the South American jungles. The little Muntjac, a scant nine inches high, is one of a number of rare animals seen in the picture, for which a location trek traveled 25,000 miles into Venezuela, Colombia and British Guiana. Filmed in Cinemascope and Metrocolor, "Green Mansions" was directed by Mel Ferrer and was produced by Edmund Grainger. The cast includes Lee J. Cobb, Sessue Hayakawa and Henry Silva. The film opens Thursday at the LaVista Theater here.

NEW CAR MAY TAKE PLACE OF RAILROADS

By CLAIRE COX
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—A revolutionary new car that skims with ease over water, mud, ice and dry ground on a cushion of air, may someday make today's railroads as obsolete as mine trains. The car, which is neither an airplane nor an automobile, might even turn superhighways into country roads and ground many short-haul airplanes.

If developed far enough, it could conceivably replace some ocean liners, buses and trucks and turn land-bound cities such as Indianapolis into world ports.

These are some of the possibilities offered by one of the nation's leading transportation experts on the basis of information now available about an assortment of flat-bottomed cars that zip through the air no more than a foot from the surface of the earth and sometimes only a hair's-breadth away.

Danger In Rash Predictions
Dilliam L. Grossman, professor of transportation at New York University, is enthusiastic over the possibility of a truly amphibious mode of transportation. But he carefully pointed out the dangers of predictions of things to come from the development of vehicles such as the Ford Motor Co.'s "Lev-a-car," the Curtis-Uright Company's "air-car," and the British "Hovercraft."

"A lot of things that are sensational technically seem to have less impact on society than you would think," Grossman said in an interview. "The helicopter was going to change suburban life entirely. There were predictions that people would build houses with special roofs for landing. It hasn't happened yet, and isn't an immediate prospect."

Production This Fall
All three cars described by Grossman operate on a system of levitation involving the ejection of streams of air that provide cushions between the cars and the earth's surface. The air is a lubriant that greases the way for the flat-bottomed vehicles, which have no wheels, no gears to shift, no clutches and no foot pedals.

Curtis-Uright is putting a four-passenger, 60-mile-per-hour model of its "air-car" into production this fall. It hopes to sell these cars to ranchers, oil explorers, pipeline developers and similar users. Later, it hopes to turn out English Channel.

"air-car" trucks and buses. The Ford model still is in an experimental stage. It is being developed to go at speeds high enough to put it into competition with buses and airplanes or, intercity routes.

Britain's "Hovercraft" has been developed mainly to skim over water. Present plans call for putting it into service across the English Channel.

FATTY SAYS HELLO

After a separation of nearly a year, ex-Boys Rancher Lawrence Greear is reunited with his dog, Fatty. Fatty enthusiastically welcomed her master, who flew 6,000 miles from Ansbach, Germany, to attend the 15th annual rodeo at Cal Farley's famous Boys Ranch near Amarillo.

Former Boys Rancher Comes From Germany To Big Rodeo

AMARILLO (Sp) — From half a world away, Lawrence Greear has come home to see a rodeo and to visit his lady friend.

Lawrence is a corporal serving with the 3rd artillery, 210th group, first missile battalion of the Seventh Army at Ansbach, Germany; "home" is Cal Farley's famous Boys Ranch near Amarillo; the rodeo is the fifteenth annual presentation of the celebrated all-boy sports event and Lawrence's lady friend is a venerable dog named "Fatty."

"I never have missed a rodeo since I first went to Boys Ranch to live. I used to always get to be the clown because I was so tall. All the time I've been in Germany I've been saving my money so I could be sure to have enough to fly back in time. I just wouldn't have missed it for anything. And I was pretty homesick to see Fatty, too."

Lawrence raised the roly-poly, friendly little black creature ("She has brown eyebrows, though") from a puppy during the years he himself was growing up at the Ranch, and the bond between the two has held while the handsome young corporal has been away in service.

"When I got to the gate, I whistled just like I always used to, and the kids said she took out across those hills like greased lightning."

The tall ex-rancher—he stands 6 feet 6 inches and weighs over 200 pounds—proudly wears unit honors such as the Presidential citation, the French republic fourragere and the badge of an expert marksman. With equal pride he wears his Boys Ranch class ring, class of 1937.

He finds the Ranch vastly changed from the first day he saw it, when he rode horseback across the unbridged, bank-to-bank full Canadian River. At that time, he recalls, the Ranch had only four Jan (Mrs. Tobias) Stone in that West seat had what looked like a mighty sound double of South's four diamond bid.

After leading that ace of hearts she looked over dummy carefully. Most players would refuse to lead a trump on the theory that it would cost a trick but Jan felt that she could surely get that trick back with interest and promptly played the ace and jack of diamonds.

Her play worked out beautifully. A spade return would have set the hand off a trick only; a club shift would have given South his contract but the diamond play led to a two trick set.

'Three Bells' Stays On Top

CHICAGO (UPI) — "The Three Bells" by the Browns led the United Press International top 20 tune for the third straight week Saturday.

"Bells" finished ahead of Phil Phillips' "Sea of Love" and Santo and Johnny's recording of "Sleepwalk."

In the fourth and fifth spots were "What'd I Say" by Ray Charles and "I'm Gonna Get Married" by Lloyd Price.

Two newcomers to the Top 10 were "Till I Kissed You" by the Everly Brothers and "Broken-Hearted Melody" by Sarah Vaughn. The Fats Domino tune "I Want to Walk You Home" fell from fourth to 19th. A newcomer to the ratings was Ivo Robic's "Morgan," ranked 15th.

A complete list of the Top 20 follows: (Numbers in parenthesis indicate ranking this week, last week and the number of weeks in the Top 20)

Elk City Rodeo Set

ELK CITY, Okla. (Sp) — Elk City is preparing to pry the lid off the 21st annual Rodeo of Champions Monday, with second and third night performances Tuesday and Wednesday.

Boasting every seat in the park a good one, Elk City rodeo directors are planning to accommodate the largest crowds in the history of the rodeo. Two thousand new steel bleacher seats bring the total seating capacity for a single performance to 7,624 persons.

Rodeo festivities will commence at 4 p.m. Monday with a traditional parade through the downtown section. The opening rodeo performance will follow at 8 p.m. Succeeding performances are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Contests will include bareback and saddle bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping. Professional rodeo cowboys will be competing for points in the National Rodeo Cowboy Association's championship standings.

British Wondering When Elections Will Be Held

Foreign News Commentary
By GREGORY JENSEN
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and the rest of Britain currently is occupied with international affairs as epitomized by President Eisenhower's visit.

But in the background looms the closer-to-home question of when the next general elections will be held, a question that has become something of a national guessing game.

It has been decades since the game was played with anything like the present suspense. Cliff-hanging tension has been building up for almost a solid year. By today, everyone was about ready to burst with it.

This is the way the game works:

British governments are elected for five-year terms. But they are not required to serve the whole period. They can call a general election at any time.

Select Own Time

Naturally, those in power call their elections at the time most advantageous to them. If they've been in office only three years but see a dead sure win at the polls, they'll pop a new election and win a new five-year lease on No. 10 Downing Street. If there's any doubt, they'll postpone the poll until the omens set fair.

Macmillan has been "it" in this little game since late last summer. It was about then that the possibility of a quick general election began to be bruited about.

And it was right then, almost a year ago, that the opposition advance. Plans must be drawn up, speakers mobilized, campaign material designed and prepared, posters printed and space for them rented — and all this without a definite date to go by.

If the opposition organizes too well around a specific date, it may march the public right up to the polls and then discover the election isn't for another six months.

If it organizes not well enough, the lack of preparation can cost it the election.

Right now, the best educated guess is that polling will come Oct. 22. Most observers have settled on that date as the most likely.

Only Macmillan can act. Under the rules of Britain's election-guessing game, he alone knows the answer to the question all Britain has been asking for a full year: When will the election be?

WALKS BEHIND GIRLS
BRADFORD, England (UPI) — Clifford Thompson, 34, arrested on a beach of peace charge after walking along behind two teen-age girls stood up for his rights Friday.

"If looking at girls is a crime then I am guilty," he told the local magistrate. He was bound over for trial.

DRIVE CAREFULLY

IT'S BACK TO SCHOOL TIME

Help improve our local safety record! Drive carefully! Many children go to school for the first time! Don't let it be their last! Your caution can save a child's life!

IT'S UP TO YOU! FOLLOW THESE SAFE DRIVING RULES:

- DRIVERS! DON'T HURRY when you drive! We may as well face it! We cannot reduce traffic casualties unless we slow down! The lives of others are in the hands holding your steering wheel. The minute you may save isn't worth the life of a schoolchild!
- HAVE YOUR CAR CHECKED by an expert! Any car that is not in perfect mechanical condition is a potential murder weapon. The few dollars you spend may save a life!
- DRIVE EXTRA CAREFUL around schools and playgrounds! Be on the lookout for children when they walk to and from school! Your vacation from school children is over now!
- PARENTS! NEVER STOP TELLING children about the many traffic dangers! Only then can we hope to help reduce traffic fatalities! One out of seven fatalities involves a schoolchild. One out of ten fatal accidents is caused by a teen-age driver.
- PULL OFF THE ROAD when you're tired, and take a nap! DON'T DRIVE at all when you've had a drink! Drowsiness and drinking are responsible for most fatal accidents!
- BE ON THE ALERT when you are near a school-bus. Of course, they have to obey all traffic rules! But, give schoolbuses a break anyway . . . they carry a priceless cargo!

You loll on the shady sidelines and listen as these words swim through your damp ear-pockets . . .

CHARLIE ROBISON, Pampa Quarterback Club president: "Our first meeting this year will be held on Sept. 8 in the new downtown Pampa Junior High Cafeteria. We had 212 members last year and are shooting for 350 or 400 this season. Dues are $2.50 for the year and we'll meet with the coaches every Tuesday night. Travis Lively Jr. is the veep and Ralph McKinney is sec-treas."

FRANK KIMBROUGH, West Texas State college athletic director disturbing our 11 a.m. slumber Saturday morning: Tell the Pampa people open house in our new 20,000 seat stadium on the Amarillo Expressway is set for Sept. 13. Richard Drug will handle sale of chair-back seat tickets in your town.

PUTT POWELL, the Amarillo sports writer who got his start covering the sprint events at Bull Run: "I don't know why everybody's picking Tascosa first either. They're certainly not the fastest team in the district."

Buck Prejean Drilling For Oil

Before our pleasant work was so rudely interrupted by a Las Vegas vacation (Oh, bother) Choc Hutchinson wrote from Lubbock informing of the Oct. 3 St. Louis Hawks vs. Philadelphia Warriors pro basketball game at the Coliseum down there. It's a 3:30 p.m. affair with Texas Tech and Tulsa going in a 8 p.m. grid engagement the same night.

Choc set reserved seats at $2.50 and $2.00 and he obtained from Box 5092 in Lubbock, and he invites Clifton McNeely and team to attend.

M. C. (Buck) Prejean, who left Pampa for a Lufkin coaching job and is now athletic director in Tyler has slid into the oil business. Buck sez there is some big promise on his lease six miles northwest of Tyler where a one-hour

In the grits and yam country, Ole Miss is drawing much more football attention than LSU, the national champ who was almost unscathed by graduation. The southern authors feel LSU was extremely lucky in several games of its undefeated season, and that the luck can't last.

And then there was the guy who crossed a raccoon with a skunk and all he got was a dirty look from the raccoon.

Kirbie Is Eagle Tackle

Pampa's Dick McCune, the Dallas Times Herald's bearded outdoors Editor who weighs maybe 145 with his Army overcoat on, awards it a true: "Not so long ago I used to be able to grab Harold Lewis (200-pound Baltimore Colt halfback) by the nape of the neck and shake him when he got out of line."

That was in the days McCune was Hefeguard and Lewis, the ex-Harvester was an over-exuberant 11-year-old. Like the song sez: "What a difference a day makes."

Already 2 Texas Grid Deaths

Football season for the 914 Texas schoolboy teams hasn't even opened yet and already the fall training has claimed two lives. Wednesday a Hondo High School soph smashed helmets with a player from a San Antonio school during a scrimmage and died of a brain concussion.

Friday the captain of the Tyler Lee High team collapsed during a scrimmage at Athens and died of a brain hemorrhage. Another player, also collapsed and is in serious condition from heat stroke, resulting from the same Tyler-Athens scrimmage.

Watch for parley cards at Michigan State. Coach Duffy Daugherty sez James P. Hoffa, son of Teamster Union chief James R. Hoffa, is a fine football player (all-Detroit schoolboy guard) and will be welcomed on the Spartan frosh squad.

And then there was the lush who was always fixing things around the house . . . like martinis and Manhattans.

45 Harvesters, 18 Shockers Turn Out For First Workouts

More Expected Next Week; Weight Is Major Problem

The Pampa Harvesters, 45 strong, ended two days of intensive two-a-day workouts Saturday, in preparation for their Sept. 11 opener at Wichita Falls against the defending state champion Coyotes.

Head Coach Babe Curfman said that he expects quite a few more boys to come out for the team during the first week of school. A total of 63 worked out Friday and Saturday—45 for the Harvesters and 18 for the Shockers.

Curfman was moderately pleased with the weekend practice sessions, but was concerned about the weights of his players. Of the 47 candidates, only a few were over the 170-pound mark.

"The four weekend workouts were not the usual light, limbering up drills with which most teams open their season practice. After calisthenics, skill practice, and agility drills, the Harvesters immediately got down to the serious business of running play patterns.

"We won't waste a minute during the next two weeks," Curfman said Saturday. "We'll need all the time we have, and the boys are getting ready for the Coyotes." Curfman indicated that full-scale scrimmages would get underway in the near future, possibly this week.

Although Curfman expects more boys out for the team, he thinks the number of varsity candidates will remain about the same. A number of sophomores are now working out with the varsity, and many of them will be dropped to the Shockers after school starts.

Coaches working with the Harvesters and Shockers were Curfman; assistant coaches Weldon (Bird Dog) Trice and Dwain Lyon; B team coaches Norman Phillips and Deck Woldt; and junior high coaches Roy Eller, William Kennedy, Earl Peeler, Lester Ramsey, and John Hale.

Only Curfman, Trice, Lyon, Phillips, and Woldt will work with the Harvesters and Shockers once the season begins.

Players out for the Harvesters are Dickie Hopkins, Jim Hoyle, Terry Harison, Charles Giesse, Charles Warren, James Webb, Eddie Berry, Gerald Boen, Jim Boyles, Larry Braly, Jack Bromlow, Mert Cooper, Bill Cooper, Butch Crossland, Lucky Dunham, Butch Dunham.

Steve Dobbin, Roy Dyer, Mac Filippin, Bob Followitt, Duke Garrison, Dicki Willis, Randy Harrison, Lynn McGee, Sherrill Miller, Kent Mitchell, Dennis Mills, Buddy Rawls, Robie Robinson, Gerald Reed, Terry Rexroad, Harold Stokes, Roy Stephens, Lynn Schofield, Jim Scott, Ronnie Smith, Bobby Stephens, Roland Stone, Jimmy Storms, Henry Stout, Russ Strickland, Larry Taylor, Mack Taylor, Dwain Tichanzyk.

Massengale Will Enter Top o' Texas Tourney

By MARVIN OLSEN Daily News Staff Writer

Pampa's big Top O' Texas Invitational Golf Tournament—with $2,800 in prizes—look on added luster Saturday. One of the state's finest golfers, Don Massengale of Jackboro, notified the Country Club he will be in Pampa in time for the opening day of play Friday.

Massengale's entry—and assurances from Amarillo and Borger that some of their best swingers will be on hand—has started some talk that "this will be the toughest local tournament in years."

Jim Deaton, who golfed with young Massengale several years ago, said Friday that Massengale should be in Pampa Wednesday and might bring along one or two more aces from the Wichita Falls area.

Massengale, a senior at TCU, won the Texas State Amateur and the Southwest Conference championship in 1958. This year, just two weeks ago at Minneapolis, Massengale led the first-day qualifiers in the Trans-Mississippi Amateur. This week the Jackboro star will be qualifying at Dallas for the National Amateur.

With Massengale on hand there seems little doubt that Pampa's biggest threat, Don Prigmore, will have his hands full in trying to repeat as the Top champion.

Prigmore said Saturday his game is in good shape and he "from what I've heard so far wants "more than anything else" to win again. A week ago Prigmore carded nine birdies in an 18-hole tune-up.

Tournament Chairman Thurmon Fain and Country Club Pro Hart Warren again reminded golfers Saturday that play in the Top O' Texas will begin Friday for all championship flight qualifiers. The tourney will draw to a close Monday, Labor Day.

Prizes have been boosted to $2,800 in equipment and trophies, a total that should bring out the best in the some 200 swingers expected to enter the four-day classic.

Warren reports that championship flight golfers will play Friday for medalist honors and a place in the championship flight. On Saturday the low 32 will golf 18 holes, while the remainder will drop into the flights.

Those not qualifying for championship flight will automatically be dropped into the main play Saturday. Their particular handicap will be determined by their handicap scores.

Chairman Fain urged all entrants to register their handicaps as soon as possible at the club house. He added that pairings in district futback, is expected to be the big man in the Mobeetie attack. Hathaway, who has speed as well as size and power, is the kind of back who causes opposing coaches to have nightmares.

Doorman has three hard-running boys to pick from for the halfback spot. They are James Lester, Douglas Rogers, and Jimmy Simpson. Hathaway and Lester are considered very fast, while Rogers is perhaps the shiftest runner on the team.

With Hathaway and either Simpson, Lester, or Rogers in the backfield, Doorman expects to have a powerful running attack—and in the wide-open six-man game, this counts for much more than it does in the regular 11-man game. Often defense counts for very little in six-man football.

The Hornets may have to depend heavily on their two running backs, because quarterback Garland Lancaster is only a fair passer. This is a worse handicap than most teams have because the quarterback is required by the rules to hand off, lateral, or pass the ball. He may not run past the line of scrimmage.

Keith Rowell, a two letterman who played some last year, will play (See MOBEETIE, Page 16) about Booker," said Doorman, they should be the team to beat. Miami will be plenty tough again, too, and Channing should have an improved team."

This is Doorman's first year in the coaching profession, but he has kept himself informed about the records, strength, and weaknesses of the other teams in the district.

Mobeetie has one returning starter, three other boys who played regularly last year, and a total of 11 lettermen to build this year's team around. Only four of the 15 boys out for the team have no experience.

MOBEETIE — The Mobeetie Hornets, who were runners-up in six-man district 1-B last year with a 6-2 record, may lead a team even better than the fine 1958 squad. However, Mobeetie coach Don Doorman expects champion Miami and third-place Booker to be improved, also.

From what I've heard so far

Pampa's Trent Olsen, a 112-pounder, held his own with Pete Garcia of Dumas until the third when he tired and was hit with stinging lefts and rights as the bell saved him from a possible knockout. Garcia won a unanimous decision.

Carl McClure of Dumas, using Pampa seconds, registered the night's only knockout, and it was of the technical variety. The Texas heavyweight champ from last winter's Fort Worth finals found Bill Clements of Canyon a tough customer in the first round, but the latter started too fast and was worn to a frazzle in the second when McClure had him out on his feet. The fight was stopped with only 1:14 gone in the round.

In three other fights, Amarillo's Manny Perez defeated John Fred Brown of Plainview; Fran O'Donnell of Dallas out slugged Bob Willis of Amarillo in a solid bout; and Ernest Tijering kept Gil Lopez of the Amarillo Air Base on the run while poking home a fair combination of rights and lefts.

Aiding Wilhelm in coaching the Pampa team Friday were Don Riley and Jimmy Olsen. Both men have been working with the Pampa boxers for the past several weeks.

By RICK PEZDIRTZ Daily News Editor

AMARILLO — If Pampa's terrific Gary Wilhelm were still boxing in Texas instead of at the University of Wisconsin, the stocky little son of Optimist Club canvas coach, Ollie Wilhelm, would probably inherit the state welterweight robes next winter.

Ignoring an outstretched paw and a wide arm-span disadvantage, Wilhelm clouted out an impressive split-decision victory over Dickie Don Woods, the tattooed 1959 Texas welterweight champion from Wichita Falls here Friday night.

"It was a dilly of a match from the outset, with first Wilhelm and then Woods landing dazing lefts in the third round, Wilhelm was the aggressor all the way. It was his "go-get-em" style in the glowing minutes that won the decision for the Wisconsin Wildcat.

Kenny (Tiger) Powell was the only other Pampa fighter to emerge victorious in five bouts involving local talent. Scrupping before the sparse gathering at the Amorillo Fair Grounds Sports Arena, Powell never let a series of hard rights by Beldon Paton of Dallas bother him. The sandy-haired little 126-pounder kept scoring with a long overhand left.

Winger Leads by 3 Strokes In Miller Open Golf Tourney

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Bo Winger, Odessa, Tex., withstood the challenge of Ted Kroil and Gene Litter Saturday to lengthen his lead to three strokes in the $35,000 Miller Open golf tournament with a 15-under par total of 195 for three rounds.

Winger, 36, who is going into semi-retirement after this tournament, matched the six-under, par rounds of 64 shot by Kroil, of Sarasota, Fla., and Litter, of Singing Hills, Calif.

Winger's rounds of 66-65-64 set a new 54-hole record at the Tripoli Country Club. He was on the verge of tying the course record of 63, but bogied the par four 17th hole to wind up with a 64.

Kroil, 40, who like Winger has not won a major tournament since 1956, shot five straight birdies on the front nine holes for a sparkling 30. But he could not keep up the pace on the back nine and bogied the 16th hole.

Litter, at 29 a five-year veteran, did not bogey a single hole and had six birdies for his round. Winger entered the round with a one-stroke lead over Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla., and Doug Ford, Crystal River, Fla. Sanders slipped to a two-over-par 72 for a 204 total and Ford could only shoot par 70 for a 220 total.

The next closest competitor behind-Kroil-and Litter was PGA Champion Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., who also had a 64 which gave him a 200 total. He was followed by Tony Lama, San Leon, drop, Calif., and Dick Knight, San of the Eastern, Hockey League.

Diego, Calif., who were tied at 210. Arnold Palmer, Laguardia, Pa., the 1958 Masters Champion, came in with a 66, his lowest of three rounds thus far to give himself a total of 208.

Defending Champion Dr. Cary Middlecott finally broke par with a 65 and thus survived the third-round cutoff with a total of 211. The cut reduced the field going into the final round Sunday to 65 pros and 10 amateurs.

Spray Captures Junior Golf Meet

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—Steve Spray, 13, of Indianapolis, Iowa, defeated Dave Leon of Tucson, Ariz., 8 and 7, on the University of Illinois course Saturday to win the Western Junior Golf Title.

Spray, playing some of the finest golf of the tournament, was 1 under par for the 32 holes—the match lasted after the morning 18, he was 6 up, winning 5 of the first 9 holes to get off to a fast start.

Leon was hampered by traps and had trouble with his putting on the morning round. He improved in afternoon play, but Spray continued to play sensationally and had a 2-under par 33 for the first 9 holes of the afternoon round. Par for the course is 38-36-72.

Spray won the title on the 11th hole of the final 18 with a birdie, one of 8 birdies he racked up during the match.

McIntire Wins Fem Tourney

WASHINGTON D. C. (UPI)—Twenty-four-year-old Barbara McIntire, playing like she belonged on the pro circuit, won the National Women's Amateur Golf Championship Saturday by defeating Joanne Goodwin of Haverhill, Mass., 4 and 3.
Miss McIntire, who sells real estate for her father in Lake Park, Fla., turned in several clutch chip shots in the match, which was played in humid, 85-degree heat on the 6,457-yard Congressional Country Club course.
The Rollins College grad, playing in her 10th National Amateur Championship, closed out the scheduled 36-hole match on the par-five 33rd hole with a halve. For the day, Miss McIntire was three strokes under par.
Miss McIntire held a 1-up lead at the end of Saturday morning's 18-hole round, and picked up her eventual winning margin on the front nine in the afternoon. The Floridian took the 23rd, 24th and 26th holes to open a 4-up lead which she held the rest of the way.

Pendergrass Gets Top July Honors In Optimist Club

Vern Pendergrass is the first winner of the "Optimist of the Month" award. Pendergrass received the award in recognition of his work with the Little League baseball farm teams during the month of July.
According to Optimist Club officials, Pendergrass did an outstanding job of organizing and operating the Farm League, despite problems due to the large number of boys who could not play in the regular Little League.
Pendergrass has been in the Optimist Club since 1956, and has been a leader in the club's various construction programs. He was one of the two men who supervised the building of the Pampa Optimist Boys' Club in 1957.
He is a member of the club's board of directors, and is responsible for the work of three committees — interclub visits, programs, and park repairs. He is chairman of the interclub visits committee.
The "Optimist of the Month" award will be a regular monthly presentation, to honor outstanding members of the club.

Yankees Defeat Washington, 9-5

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The New York Yankees spotted the Washington Senators three runs and then came on to register a 9-5 victory Saturday with the help of home runs by Hank Bauer and Mickey Mantle.
Harmon Killebrew put Washington in front when he stroked his 38th homer with one on off Yankee starter Bob Turley in the second inning. Turley was knocked out in the fourth inning and replaced by Jim Coates, who was credited with the victory although he, too, gave way to Duke Maas in the eighth.

To every man, there comes a Moment of Truth. A crucial time when he must do or die. And for a sports writer, that time comes just before each football season when, with fear and trembling and gnashing of teeth, he prepares to make his predictions for the coming races.

That time, we are sorry to say, has now arrived. Classes AA, A, and B, open their seasons Friday, so the Hour of Decision can be delayed no longer.

Since class 4A and the colleges won't open for a while, yet, and since we believe in the old adage "never do today what can be put off 'till tomorrow," we will delay making these predictions ... permanently, if possible.

But since there seems to be no way out of it, let's look into a very hazy crystal ball, into the future of Districts 5-AA, 2-A and 1-B.

Perryton Streak Will Be Broken

The District 5-AA race should be a little closer than last year, although it will probably still be a two-team private party between Quannah and Perryton Childress, Wellington, and Shamrock, however, should all be improved from last year. Here's how they should finish:

- 1 — QUANAH — The Indians are always tough, and the same goes for Perryton. It will just be a question of who wins in a head-on clash. The Indians will be tired of finishing second, and will be just fired up enough to take the Rangers this time when the two teams meet.
- 2 — PERRYTON — Will be hurt some by inexperience, but most of the gaps left by graduation last year will be adequately filled. Should be just about as tough as ever.
- 3 — WELLINGTON — The district dark horse. Will be improved from last year, when they had a 3-6-1 mark, but won't be a real title threat.
- 4 — CHILDRESS — Some improvement expected, with eight starters back. Should be able to stay out of the cellar.
- 5 — SHAMROCK — Twelve lettermen back, but the loss of quarterback Joe Jernigan could keep them from improving on last year's mark.

This Could Be Panthers' Year

It's about as foolish to try to pick the winner of District 2-A as it is to pick the winner of the Southwest Conference. But here's trying.

- 1 — PANHANDLE — The Panthers, though a loser in 2-A last year, could have won most districts. They have three all-district boys and seven starters back from that team. This should be their year.
- 2 — WHITE DEER — They were picked for second last year, too, so we're afraid of this one. However, their line is a question mark which could keep them from taking it all, despite their tremendous backfield speed.
- 3 — CANADIAN — The Wildcats are big but inexperienced. Panhandle and White Deer should both be just a shade better.
- 4 — CLARENDON — They were better last year than their 1-9 record indicated. They should be improved enough to move up a couple of notches from their sixth place '58 finish.
- 5 — MEMPHIS — Didn't have much of a team last year. They have 16 lettermen back, but they were no great shakes last season and don't figure to be this year, either. However, the McLean and Lefors teams are so light and inexperienced that the Cyclones will have to be picked ahead of those two.
- 6 — LEFORS — Extremely light and not much experience. Don't figure to make much of a splash in district play.
- 7 — MCLEAN — About as light as Lefors and even more inexperienced. Won't go anywhere this year.

Groom, Then Claude In 1-B

It looks like 1958 all over again in District 1-B, with Groom and Claude battling it out for the crown.

- 1 — GROOM — No team ever had a better chance of repeating as district and regional champ. They're loaded, with 15 lettermen, including two of last year's all-regional boys.
- 2 — CLAUDE — Could give the Tigers a good run for their money, as they did last year. Have five of last year's regulars back.
- 3 — WHEELER — Won only one district game last year, but with six starters and 12 lettermen back, more speed, and better defense, the Mustangs should do considerably better. However, any injury could really hurt, since only 20 boys are out for the team.
- 4 — TEXLINE — Most of last year's team back. Were plagued by injuries last year. Will improve if lightning doesn't strike twice.
- 5 — DARROUZETT — Still rebuilding. Don't have a challenger yet.
- 6 — FOLLETT — Lost heavily by graduation. Won't be a threat.

Publinks Qualifying

NEW YORK (UPI)—The sectional qualifying dates for the 1960 USGA amateur public links championships have been moved up in order to give qualifiers more time between sectional play and the championship proper, the USGA announced Saturday.

Sectional play was moved up two weeks from June 19-26 to June 5-12.
The change was made at the request of the USGA Public Links Committee. The 1960 championship will be played at the Ala Wai Golf Course in Honolulu, July 1-12.

MASSENGALE

The flights will be announced at the buffet dinner Friday night in the Country Club.

Entry fee for this year's event remains at $12.50.
Massengale's entry of course turns the championship flight into quite a scramble. His main competition seems likely to come from Prigmore, who a year ago won with a fantastic 17-under par performance.

If Prigmore can't hold Massengale there is some feeling that it could be Melvin Chisum, Jim Deaton, Max Hickey, or perhaps someone from the Borger and Amarillo delegations.

Borger entrants seem likely to include Vance Moxom, Elgie Seaman, Don Kaplan, and Jerry Abbott. It is hoped that Amarillo's young Jim Owen will compete, and at this time it appears certain that John Farquhar will be on hand if wedding plans do not interfere.
Borger's Kaplan, should he enter, could prove a dangerous threat. Don won the Top O' Texas in 1956 and '57. Jim Russell of Amarillo took championship honors in the '57 TOT.

HUNT ACCUSES NFL OF SABOTAGING NEW LOOP

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Millionaire oilman Lamar Hunt Saturday accused the National Football League of trying to sabotage his newly organized American Football League.
George Halas, chairman of the NFL's expansion committee and owner of the Chicago Bears, and Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers, announced in Houston they would recommend an expansion of the NFL to include Houston and Dallas by 1961.
The two owners, in Houston for Saturday night's exhibition game between the Bears and Steelers, said the recommendation would receive consideration at the NFL's annual meeting next January.
"Prospects are excellent that franchises will be awarded to the two Texas cities, raising the number of teams from 12 to 14 in 1961," Halas said.
Hunt, who owns the Dallas franchise in the new league and was instrumental in organizing it, said he thought reaction from Congress to Halas' statement would be strong.
"I'd say that Mr. Halas' action is probably unfortunate for the National Football League," Hunt said. "I think he must have been poorly advised in making this statement because Senators and Congressmen from Colorado, Washington — Washington state that is — Minnesota and Florida — they're not going to be happy about this at all, as you can imagine."
"They were aware that the NFL was trying to sabotage the formation of this league and I think that their reaction is going to be very strong," Hunt said regarding what the NFL does, his AFL is going ahead with its plans to begin play in 1960.

Braves Top Cubs; Banks Grand Slams

CHICAGO (UPI)—Hank Aaron hit his 35th and 36th home runs of the season Saturday to help the Milwaukee Braves overcome a grand slam blast by Ernie Banks for an 11-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.
The win went to Warren Spahn, who went all the way on a yield of eight hits for his 17th victory of the year. Spahn struck out four and walked one.
The left-hander, completing his 17th game, gave up nothing except a single in any inning except the third when the Cubs loaded the bases on singles by Tony Taylor and George Altman, plus a walk to Lee Walls to set the stage for Bank's 38th home run of the year.
It was Bank's second grand slammer of the campaign and the seventh of his career.

Pittsburgh, 11-1 Philadelphia, 11-1

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates stepped up their determined bid to preserve their pennant hopes Saturday by unleashing a 18-hit attack to rout the Philadelphia Phillies, 11-1.
Bob Friend, who usually encounters difficulty with the Phillies, gave them the "cousin" treatment instead by scattering nine hits to record his eighth triumph of the year and fourth in a row.
It was Friend's first 1959 victory over the Phils after losing four games to them and left his career mark with Philadelphia at 12-24.
The Pirate righthander reversed the Phillies' jinx at the plate when he smashed a bases-loaded double which produced three of four Pirate runs in the seventh inning.

Boston Red Sox Beat Orioles, 4-1

BOSTON (UPI)—Rookie Jerry Casale fired a four-hitter and Jackie Jensen broke out of a slump to drive home three runs Saturday in a 4-1 Boston Red Sox victory over the Baltimore Orioles.
Casale's best effort in weeks earned the 25-year-old right hander his ninth win. The lone Baltimore run came in the fifth inning after Casale had retired the first 13 batters to face him.

Gene Harrison, another two-letter winner whom Doorman describes as a "really good player," will probably play center. Two lettermen — Gene Coward and George Patton, may get the nod at the end posts, with Jimmy Hooker (no experience) in reserve.
One of Mobettie's big problems so far has been getting the boys out to practice. "Many of them have been out working in the harvest," Doorman explains, "and it looks as if we won't have any really good workouts until school starts."

Wheeler Could Improve; Has Good Speed, Defense

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the sixth in a series of articles on the pre-season prospects of area football teams. This article deals with the Wheeler Mustangs of District 1B.

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

WHEELER — The Wheeler Mustangs have no place to go this season but up, and indications are they may go a little going. The Mustangs, who finished 2-4 for the season and 1-5 in district last year, figure to make some improvement on that mark this season.

Eleven lettermen, including six starters, are back from last year's squad. Head Coach Louis Boynton and his assistant, Richard Gaines, figure to have more speed and better defense than they did last year.

However, the Mustangs' speed and improved defense may be offset by a lack of depth. Only 20 boys are out for the team now, and Boynton expects to pick up only three or four more at the school starts. The club is made up almost entirely of juniors, with only four seniors and one freshman out for the team.

Leading the list of returning starters are three boys who made the second all-district team last year — quarterback Jimmy Atherton, tackle Kenneth Farris, and guard Marshall Watson. Of these, Watson is switching to fullback this year.

Other returning starters are ends Donald Gandy and Buck Holcomb and halfback Marvin Cox. The remaining five lettermen are halfbacks David Trimbell and Jim Jolly; tackle Troyce Hunter; guard Harold Ford, and center Frank Walker.

Backfield Speed — Boynton thinks that he will have a dependable player at almost every position. He believes that Jolly, Trimbell, and Cox will be the hardest jobs, replacing halfbacks Kenneth Childress and Gary Satterfield, who were lost by graduation.

Cox, the speediest back in the backfield described by Boynton as "the fastest I've had here in several years," may take one half-back post, while Jolly and Trimbell will probably fight it out for the other.

At quarterback, Wheeler will have an experienced and capable boy in Atherton. He is a good short passer, as well as a fine signal caller, hitting about 50 percent of his attempts. But he hasn't, as a rule, thrown very many passes in a game.

Watson, 170 pounds, is Wheeler's best hope for power in the backfield. Boynton hopes he'll be able to run with the same power at fullback with which he blocked and tackled at guard last year.

Defensive Strength — Wheeler has several experienced and hard-hitting defensive boys, and Boynton expects the biggest improvement to be in this department. "Our defense was what really hurt us last year," he said. "Our offense was pretty good most of the time. But I think we'll be better balanced this season."

Boynton thinks Wheeler's defensive leaders may be guard Ford, tackle Farris, linebackers Watson and Cox, and defensive halfback Atherton. All of these boys played the same defensive positions last year.

The weight in the line will be about average, from 155 to 160 pounds, but won't quite match that of Groom and perhaps some of the other district schools. Holcomb, considered an above-average pass receiver, will hold down one end position, and letterman Don Gandy is expected to take the other flanker job. Farris and Hunter will probably be the tackles, while Ford and Bob Riley (no previous experience) are expected to win the guard positions. Center may be a tossup between Wayne Hill (no experience) and Frank Walker, a letterman.

Boynton thinks Groom and Claude will again fight it out for the district crown. Although he thinks his squad will improve on its 1958 record, barring injuries, he doesn't yet consider it a serious threat for the crown.

Wheeler opens its season by hosting the powerful Class A Canadian team Sept. 4. Non-district games with McLean and Erick, Okla., follow on successive weekdays. After an open date the Mustangs take on Estelline. They open district play at home against Texline Oct. 16.

Funk-Nelson, Duran-Phelps Matches Set Here Monday

A top-notch card has been lined up for Pampa's first Monday night wrestling event in several months. In a double main event which opens the new Monday wrestling series, Dory Funk meets Art Nelson and Ray Duran takes on Tommy Phelps.

The first match will begin at 8:30 p.m. Monday, at Top of Texas Sportsmen's Club on Lefors Highway.

Pampa's wrestling night was changed from Saturday to Monday by promoter Doc Miller, in order to get better wrestlers for the Pampa cards.

Miller explained that several other Panhandle cities have wrestling on Saturday night, and that the top wrestlers are split among several different cities. Since Monday night is an off night for wrestling, Miller hopes to lure many of the top attractions to Pampa.

Nelson, making his first appearance here for several weeks, is not exactly known as a clean, scientific type wrestler. His tactics include just about anything it might take to win — and a few things he might not need in order to win.

Whether he wrestles fairly or otherwise, though, Nelson is big enough and tough enough to give any other matman the bout of his life.

Funk is a little smaller than Nelson, but also a little faster. He wrestles by the book — a far cry from Nelson's style. Funk is one of this area's better-known wrestlers, having teamed here several times with Bob Geigel.

Duran and Phelps are both looking for a chance to get back into the big money class. Phelps is in the midst of a comeback attempt, and has been having some success, after hitting a long losing streak earlier this year. Duran could also help his status some by beating Phelps.

Advance tickets for Monday's matches, sponsored by the Pampa Shrine Club, are on sale at Levine's Department Store. Ringside seats are $1.50, reserved seats $1.25, and general admission $1.00.

Hamtramack wins Little League Title

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — A Mid-West team won the Little League World Series championship for the first time in the 13-year history of the classic Saturday when Hamtramck, Mich., defeated Auburn, Calif., 12-0, before 10,000 fans.

Ace righthander Art Deras pitched three-hit ball and contributed a three-run homer as he ran his string of scoreless innings to 7 1/2 in Little League play this season.

The Michigan team clipped Bob Sunada for 13 safeties, exploding for six runs in the second inning and four in the fifth before the large crowd, which included Gov. David L. Lawrence.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kenny Sears, Willie Naulls and Charlie Tyrk have signed New York Knickerbocker contracts for the 1959-60 National Basketball Assn season.

AUSSIES CAPTURE DAVIS CUP DOUBLES MATCHES

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson, a peerless pair with power and precision, won the storm-punctuated doubles Saturday with a straight-sets 7-5, 7-5, 6-4 victory over Alex Olmedo and youngster Butch Buehlo to give Australia a 2 to 1 Davis Cup challenge round over the United States.

The Aussies ignored an hour and half's delay caused by a torrential downpour and with a slashing attack which matched the thunder overhead ripped their way to victory in the all-important doubles. The storm knocked out the rest of the matches.

This was the Aussie Whiz Kids headed a split in Sunday's two closing singles matches — Olmedo vs. right-hander Rod Laver in the opener and Fraser against Airman Harry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio — to carry back down under the big silver mug emblematic of international tennis supremacy.

Fraser, a 25-year-old southpaw, and the 22-year-old Emerson displayed the same amazing rhythm which swept them to the Wimbledon and U. S. Doubles titles as they concentrated their attack on the 18-year-old Buehlo.

And the 2-year-old youngster from the banks of the Mississippi found the pace and the pressure of his first Davis Cup match more than he could handle. The blonde Fraser was the wheelhorse of the Aussie attack, his whistling racket allowing only six points in the nine games he served, steering his younger partner and putting up an impenetrable defense at the net.

Despite the long delay, the Aussies reached their peak in the final set, breaking the feared Olmedo twice to clinch their win and shake United States hopes of ultimate victory.

CINCEBOX TO NIB — NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (UPI) — Jon Cincebox, former Syracuse University star, will play with the newly-formed New York team in the National Industrial Basketball League next season. Cincebox averaged 19 points a game during his varsity career at Syracuse.

Fullmer Ready To Meet All Comers — Even Ray Robinson

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gene Fullmer, middleweight champion of all the world (except New York and Massachusetts) is ready to take on all comers, even his shattering of Carmen Basilio Friday night.

"I'll meet anybody where there is a chance for a good gate," said Fullmer after his 14th round knockout of Basilio. "Even Sugar Ray Robinson."

But if Robinson, who holds the title in the two states not covered by Fullmer's, ever expects to get a shot at Gene's crown, it will be mostly for free.

"I think I should get 45 per cent for the states I'm champion in — and Ray about 5 per cent for his two states," said Fullmer.

When Gene first won the middleweight crown from Robinson, he got only 12 1/2 per cent of the purse. Then, when Fullmer was champion and Gene Sugar Ray a return bout, he still didn't get the champion's usual share.

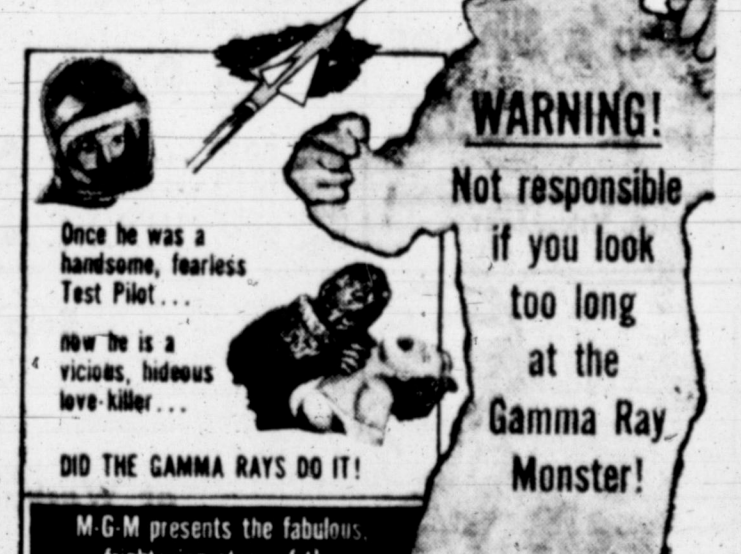

"If we ever meet again, it will be different," said Fullmer. Fullmer was a dapper Friday night as he followed a backtracking plan that completely befuddled the 22-year-old Basilio.

The bout was ended when Carmen's handlers asked to referee Jack Downey. "Stop the fight!" The call came after 30 seconds of the 14th round and just after Fullmer had thrown a straight right that landed with the explosive power of TNT on Basilio's chin. Carmen's knees sagged and he wobbled. That's when the call to end it came.

Lefors Lions Club Finishes 3 Projects.

LEFORS (Sp) — Several projects have been completed through the summer months by the Lefors Lions Club.

Members have organized a gun club and purchased land and machinery for it. They will have the club in operation soon. Proceeds will go to other needy projects in the community.

A water pipeline has been completed to the Lefors Cemetery which will benefit the beauty of the burial ground.

Two concrete tables and benches have been completed in the city park and the street signs, also completed, now direct persons in the city of Lefors.

The baseball park on the city square has been sodded with grass and, with the underground water system donated by the Lovett Estate Foundation, will be a beauty spot of the city.

One new member has been added to the board of directors, Joe Dan Watson, assistant secretary-treasurer.

A banquet was sponsored by the Lions recently, honoring the faculty and school board.

Curtis Cryer, International counselor, speaker of the evening, was introduced by Jim Hathaway, deputy district governor at large, of McLean.

One hundred and eight persons were present for the banquet, 50 of whom were representatives of the school system.

On The Shelf

Among the recent additions to the books at Lovett Memorial Library are a number which will be of particular value in reference and research.

The People of the Dead Sea Scrolls by John Marco Allegro is the first book to give a complete pictorial record of the dramatic story of the Dead Sea Scrolls — actually to show the places where the Scrolls were found, as well as the desert and caves in which the people of the Scrolls lived just before the dawn of Christianity.

The American Petroleum Industry: the Age of Illumination 1858-1899, by Harold F. Williams and Arnold R. Dain is the first of a two-volume history, based on years of intensive research, sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute. Encompassing all facets of the early development of the petroleum industry, the book relates the development of that industry to a position in world leadership.

All readers will appreciate the inclusion of nearly 150 maps, diagrams, and photographs that illustrate the story and depict the leading personalities connected with it.

Two biographical dictionaries have recently been added which will be of interest and value in research. Who's Who in the South and Southwest has been issued in a sixth edition, and includes noteworthy men and women of this area. A new publication Who's Who of American Women, offers brief biographies of notable living American women.

Three Hundred Years of American Painting, by Alexander Eliot is a gift of the Pampa Art Club. The 250 carefully selected paintings — all superbly reproduced in full color — are accompanied by a text prepared by the art editor of Time Magazine.

The result is a vivid panorama of our artistic, social and historical heritage from Revolutionary times to the present, containing summaries of every major American artist — his life and works, his contributions, characteristics and influences — in lucid, non-technical language.

Another gift of the Pampa Art Club is The Picture History of Painting: from Cave Painting to Modern Times, by H. W. and Dora Jane Janson. It is a vast panorama of the art of painting through the ages — encyclopedic in scope — gorgeous in color — profuse in black-and-white. The book is not only a magnificent picture gallery, but an education in art, from the most remote times to and including Futurism, Cubism, Surrealism, and Abstract Expressionism.

Hughes To Speak At Baptist Meeting

F. C. Yager, a member of the executive committee of the Palo Duro Association of Baptist Brotherhood, has announced a quarterly meeting to be held Monday at the First Baptist Church in Phillips.

A barbecue supper will be served, beginning at 6:30 p.m., to an anticipated 400 men from the 50 Baptist churches that comprise the association.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Fred C. Hughes, former State Brotherhood speaker from San Antonio, will be the featured speaker. Hughes, a retired railroad engineer, is in constant demand as a speaker for Brotherhood meetings throughout the Southern Baptist Convention.

Peg O' Pampa

WELL, MOTHERS, here we go again for another nine months of worrying about what time the kids get themselves to bed at night... and hoisting them out of bed the next morning in time to get to school... and paying out dimes and quarters for lunches or "spending money"... and hounding junior to do his homework... and speaking of homework, have you read the latest of Cosmopolitan magazine, which is devoted to education problems?... in it Sam Levenson, one of our favorite comics, says that his parents refused to believe him when he said a few times that he had no homework to do... they asked him "So they kicked you out of school... anyhow, the old grind of the school-time schedule is about to begin for mothers... so who said they are so all-fired anxious to get the urchins out of their way and into the way of the teachers?... no more relaxing summer no-routine... no more letting them sleep late so you can have an hour to spend quietly reading or some such or getting them up early, if you prefer, and kicking them out doors to play to get the same peace and quiet for a second cup of coffee and the paper... ah, school.

AVOIDING THE RUSH... for vacations which begin in September avoid the rush of the tourist season... are Curt and Will Beck... who are vacationing to Santa Fe... to the Grand Canyon... and on up to Salt Lake City... and Las Vegas, if there is time... sounds like a grand trip... Fidelia Yoder and son, Gordon, are tripping; also... to attend a nationwide family reunion in Hutchinson, Kansas... and then on to California for a visit... and the W. J. Lewis' visited their son, Harold, in Dallas... he is at the University of Houston... Mary Jones... Pat Jones... Margaret Dial... and Pat Dial are visiting in Red River, New Mexico... that is a beautiful place... and speaking of New Mexico... Dewey and Peggy Palmistier, and the children, Stephen, Dennis, and Johnny, took a trip a week or so ago, to New Mexico... Santa Fe and Taos and so forth... they rented a cute little red and white trailer, which sleeps five, and took off, dragging their house behind them... reported later that they enjoyed trailer travel.

FUNNIEST NAME OF THE WEEK... or the year for that matter... noticed a short in the paper the other day, with the dateline PUGWASH, Nova Scotia... how would you like to live in Pugwash?!

MORE 'N' MORE... a communication from Sarasota, Florida indicates that Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hall had a ball at the Sarasota Jungle Gardens... where visitors can mingle with flamingos and other exotic wildfowl, face to face, so to speak... the birds roam uncaged along jungle trails... and there are tropical plants to see, and so on... Florida sounds wonderful... heard that Bob Jernigan is attending a National Science Foundation program for outstanding high school students at the University of Maine in Orono... also heard that Fern Chase is away, awaiting the birth of a grandchild, with Irving holding down the fort at home... will report further when we learn the details of who and which kind... Ronald Waters, we hear, is going to teach journalism at the high school in Levelland this year... he has been in Ranger the past year, editing a newspaper there, so he should know whereof he speaks in the classroom.

DISSA & DATA... Bob and Yvonne McCracken, who lived out on Charles, are being transferred to Amarillo... friends will be saying goodbyes soon... Yvonne has been active in Exemplar chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority... and Pampa will be losing a cute and peppy citizen... have you seen the pretty canas that the R. M. Browns have in front of their home?... and speaking of flowers... we saw most unusual cockscombs... they're yellow!... we always thought cockscombs are usually red... and this seems to us a rare phenomenon... or are we just behind the times... anyhow, Mrs. Bill Oler on Bradley Drive is the grower... Paul Ellison has the gift of gab, or has kissed the blarney stone, or however you wish to put it... hear he was rated the best speaker of the evening by the Pampa Toastmasters last week... Perla Mitchell's friends have welcomed her home... she has been with her daughter, recuperating from the accident she sustained a few months ago... and she is looking fine, too... welcome home.

INCIDENTAL INTELLIGENCE... did you know that there are one hundred and sixteen days until Christmas?... and this is not shopping days, either, but TOTAL number of days... now, don't you hate Peg?

NOTED IN PASSING... that the football boys are hard at it already... saw them out jumping about, and running, and generally getting ready for the Fall season... and the most discussed question in gatherings of two or more people nowadays seems to be... "Are we going to have a good team this year?..." but let's not forget that we should also be asking if we are going to have some good scholastic work this year, too... that's what school is for...

ONE OF THE PRETTIEST showers lately was the one given for Vicky Osborne, who is to marry James Callier, September 4th... the colors are blue and white... and the table was laid with a white cut-work cloth centered with white pompon daisies shaded by a blue taffeta umbrella... the silver and crystal which completed the arrangement made one of the prettiest tables ever... blue cornflowers floated on the punch... Sondra Sullins, Celia Fowler, Marilyn Wells, and Dorothy Ann Ayers were hostesses, and it was in Sondra's home... Anne Triplehorn will be going to Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri this fall... good luck to her... saw Mary Ann Kelley home, from summer session for a brief breather before taking up classes again in the Fall term... heard that the KeNey family was slightly "shook up" by the earthquake at Yellowstone Park, even though they were miles away, driving on their way home from a vacation at the time... they felt the tremors miles away... Bill and Jean Roots are happily settled in their pretty home at 501 Linda Drive... and we noticed another home a-building on Linda Drive... wonder whose it is?... we'll find out soon... noticed the white zinnias which have been so pretty all summer along the alley side of the fence at George and Kathryn Snell's house?... their fence has weathered so beautifully... and the flowers are very pretty there... nice to see.

INFORMATION you may like to know: Dord Fitz is again holding painting classes this fall, and there will be a meeting September 7th at 10 a.m. for all those interested in painting... on the second floor of the Pampa Junior High School... at the meeting those present will decide about the time for classes, and so forth... all you artists and would-be artists hie yourselves up there, you men, don't leave the painting up to the women... show 'em who's good... and for a parting shot... did you read in the paper the statement of a fashion designer (male) who said when asked where hemlines should be, and about the fit of clothes... "Just where you start to feel uncomfortable. That's the way clothes should be fitted. If you want comfort, don't bother wearing good clothes."

Unfashionably, but comfortably yours,
Peg

Mrs. A. C. Malone

MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Taylor, 715 N. Sumner, announce the marriage of their daughter, Maxine Uhles, to Richard Gattis, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gattis, 800 E. Gordon. The couple was married Aug. 21 in the home of J. W. Graham. They will be at home to friends at 712 W. Francis.

CANADIAN COUPLE MARRIED IN DALLAS

CANADIAN — On Tuesday evening in the First Baptist Church, Miss Jacqueline Jewell Sharp became the bride of Thomas Franklin Mitchell, with the Rev. Harvey K. Parker, minister of the John Calvin Presbyterian Church in Dallas, officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gladys Sharp and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gober Lee Mitchell.

The wedding music was presented by Mrs. Malouf Abraham, organist, and soloists Kay Lansdowne who sang "Because" preceding the ceremony and Frank Carver who sang "The Lord's Prayer" following the nuptial service.

Wedding vows were exchanged before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli and candelabra entwined with white gladioli and greenery and holding white tapers. The fireplace mantle behind the altar was decorated with greenery and white tapers. The guest pews were marked with white satin ribbon bows.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by a family friend, Lawrence Teague, the bride was gowned in imported Chantilly lace over taffeta, designed with molded bodice with Sabrina neckline, long lace sleeves and embroidered with sequins and seed pearls; An inset of crystal pleated tiered tulle in the front panel swept into a bouffant chapel train of lace. Her finger-tip Veil of Illusion was held in place by a contour crown of matching lace highlighted by pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Patricia Teague was honor attendant. She wore a Dior blue silk organza dress with fitted bodice, full skirt with a crushed cummerbund of organza and matching lace jacket. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Janice Wilbur and Miss Carolyn Job of Oklahoma City and their dresses were identical to the honor attendant's. They carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Candle-lighters were Linda Kay Sharp, sister of the bride, and Susan Owens. They wore matching blue nylon dresses with bouffant skirts and blue taffeta cummerbunds with bustle bows. Their head-dresses were white carnation bandeaus.

Mark Fry was the ring-bearer. Gober Lee Mitchell served his son as best man, Usher were Kenyon Abraham and Ben Mathers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Tepe home, with Miss Vera Tepe and Mr. and Mrs. George Carver as host and hostesses. Members of the house party were Miss Eura Mae Reid; Miss Gayle George, Miss Elise Craig and Mrs. Kay Nix.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cut-work cloth and centered with entwined hearts made of white tulle and sprigs of asphodel with a silver and white wedding bell suspended in the center. Crystal candle holders holding blue tapers flanked the centerpiece and the table appointments were crystal and silver. The five-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom standing beneath an arch of white wedding bells overhead. Punch and wedding cake were served to the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sharp chose a navy silk sheath dress with matching accessories and arch corsage. Mrs. Mitchell, mother of the bride- (See Canadian, Page 16)

LUNSFORD, MALONE MARRIED IN PAMPA

Miss Estelle Lunsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. (Nat) Lunsford, 1145 Juniper, became the bride of A. C. Malone Friday evening, August 28, at 7 Mr. Malone is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Malone of 820 N. Davis.

The double-ring vows, performed by Rev. Ennis Hill in the Calvary Baptist Church, were repeated at the altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, palms and white tapers in double candelabra.

Mrs. Nell Turpin played the traditional wedding marches on the organ and accompanied Mrs. Venita Conklin, vocalist, who sang "Always," "Because," and "Wedding Prayer."

BRIDE

The bride, accompanied to the altar by her father, was gowned in a dress of white satin featuring a classic neckline. The yoke and full-length sleeves, which came to points over the hands were of lace and edged with seed pearls. The long-line fitted bodice was enhanced by the full ballerina length skirt which had lace panels inserted in the deep soft folds of unpressed pleats. Her elbow-length veil fell from a lace half hat edged with seed pearls, and complimented with pleated net and a satin and pearl band. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls which was a gift of the bridegroom. The bridal bouquet was of white roses.

She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue by wearing an 1883 penny in her shoe which belonged to her grandmother; her wedding ensemble was new; she carried a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Ennis Hill, friend of the bride; and wore the traditional blue garter.

ATTENDANTS — Miss June Smith, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor, wearing a turquoise lace sheath dress with a tunic of net and chiffon, white net hat and gloves. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Miss Sandra Watkins served as candlelighter, wearing a turquoise lace sheath dress with cummerbund and back tie, and a wristlet of carnations.

Ted E. Williams attended the bridegroom as best man and Jimmy Gray and Mike Germany served as ushers.

Mrs. Lunsford, mother of the bride, chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece dress of blue silk with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Malone wore a dress of pale blue lace over taffeta and black patent accessories. Both wore corsages of white roses.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Nell Turpin provided background music and Miss Carolyn Mills, cousin of the bridegroom, presided at the guest register. Miss Rita Cartwright, cousin of

St. Vincent's Home, School Association Holds Meeting

Next meeting of the Association will be at 7:30 p.m., October 13, at St. Vincent's Cafeteria.

the bride served the punch, and Miss Rita Cartwright, cousin of the bride, served the wedding cake.

For traveling, the bride chose a rust brown, two-piece shantung dress and white accessories. Her corsage was the roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Pampa High School and is presently employed at Southwestern Public Service Company. The bridegroom is a 1956 graduate of White Deer High School and is employed at the Citizens Bank and Trust Company.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 421 N. Wynne.

A buffet dinner, honoring members of the wedding party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Malone, bridegroom's parents, in their home on Thursday evening at 6.

Shower Given For Miss Lunsford

Miss Estelle Lunsford, bride-elect of A. C. Malone, was honored at a miscellaneous shower recently at the Calvary Baptist Church. Hostesses were Misses M. D. Snider, C. A. Pixler, R. O. Clements, Glyndene Shelton, Charles McGahan, J. B. Crocker, Nell Turpin, Merl Reeves and Miss Wilma Hill.

The honoree, Mrs. G. L. (Nat) Lunsford, mother of the bride-elect and Mrs. E. J. Malone, mother of the prospective bridegroom, were in the receiving line.

Mrs. Sheila Williams presided at the guest register. Miss Lunsford was presented with a corsage of white split carnations and Mrs. Lunsford and Mrs. Malone were presented pink carnation corsages.

Miss Ruby Ruddick was in charge of entertainment which consisted of vocal selections presented by Misses Rita and Rita Cartwright, cousins of the bride.

The serving table was covered with a white cloth with turquoise ruffle and decorated with a milk-glass fruit bowl with turquoise grape clusters and two old fashioned lanterns holding turquoise candles.

Refreshments of cookies and punch were served by Mrs. M. D. Snider assisted by Mrs. Charles McGahan and Mrs. J. B. Crocker.

Approximately 125 persons attended or sent gifts.

Mrs. Thomas Mitchell

Munn To Present Program of Bible Readings For Horace Mann PTA

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my wife and her dog. We've been married 14 months. I'm a simple, hard-working guy of 23 and she is 22. I bought her a pup because she always wanted one and her parents wouldn't let her have one. Well, she doesn't know the first thing about training a dog or taking care of it. That dog hasn't had a bath since we've had him and he smells like nobody's business.

He has the run of the apartment and you can imagine what the place looks like. I work odd hours and can't train the dog myself. She even forgets to feed him. I can't reason with my wife. She cries when I mention giving it away. Can you help me?

DESPERATE: A dog who hasn't had a bath in over a year must be even more desperate than you. If your childish bride wants to keep the dog, insist that she learn to care for him — and see to it that she does. If she refuses to learn, or is negligent — give the poor animal a break and find him a good home.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's first wife passed away six years ago. She is buried in Kansas City, Mo., where his grown children live. He has a double marker on her grave. Also a plot right next to hers with his name already on the marker. All that's missing is the date of his death.

This was done before I came into the picture so I'm not blaming anyone. But now I am his wife. I don't want him buried there. Who am I going to be buried by?

DEAR SECOND: Yours is one of the difficult problems a woman faces when she marries a widower. These arrangements are obviously the result of a promise made long before you came into the picture. Don't attempt to change anything. Express the desire to be buried near your own parents, if possible.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and have started to get gray hair. What I am worried about is can worrying cause gray hair? What can I do about it?

GRAY AT 15: Worrying does not cause gray hair but it can cause other far more serious difficulties. Those who gray early in life usually inherit the tendency from their parents. You can take the problem to a good hairdresser — or you can leave it alone and enjoy that distinguished look. I recommend the latter.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HEART: SICK MOM—Tell your daughter you read her diary and give her a chance to account for her behavior. Keeping quiet eliminates all possibilities of helping her, and this girl certainly needs help.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Willing Workers Have Breakfast

The Willing Workers Sunday school class of the First Baptist church held a breakfast in the home of Mrs. Earl Dodson, 919 Rham, Wednesday morning. Mrs. Earl Dodson, class teacher, and Dorothy Pollard, social chairman, were hostesses. Patsy Holloway, president, gave the devotion. Guests were Mrs. R. L. Edmondson Jr., Mrs. Howard Holt and Miss Patsy Tipton. Members present were Pat Miller, Warreneta Greenway, Larry Gates, Martha Bearden, Linda Frazier, Jan Cook, Judith Rogers, Patricia Ann Howard, Glenda Kay James and Mary Ann Hom.

On a trim figure, a two-piece suit is fine. But if you're less than trim, better pick a one-piece suit for a sleek look.

Mrs. Tony Don Saulsbury

Jarvis-Saulsbury Say Vows In Sacred Heart

Miss Patricia Ann Jarvik, daughter of Mrs. A. F. Jarvik of Wichita Falls and the late Mr. Jarvik, became the bride of Tony Don Saulsbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Saulsbury, 103 Carroll, Shreveport, La., formerly of Pampa, with vows exchanged on August 28 at 6:30 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Wichita Falls.

ganza styled with bouffant skirt over taffeta encircled at the waistline with a taffeta silk cummerbund. The neckline was fashioned with a cowl of soft folds of silk organza. A yellow picture hat complemented with a large yellow bow completed her attire. She carried a tear-drop sheaf of yellow daisies.

John Buss of Odessa, Miss Annette Polhemus of Wichita Falls, who presided at the cake and punch service assisted by Miss Carol Ann Buss and Miss Judy Buss.

Magr. A. E. Daly officiated at the ceremony before an altar banked with gladioli and Daisy mums interspersed with greenery. Miss Barbara O. Boehmer of Wichita Falls, organist, provided the nuptial music.

Miss Wanda Lee Wade and Miss Mary Jane Harrison, both of Wichita Falls, were bridesmaids dressed identically as the maid of honor.

Following a wedding trip to Louisiana and other southern points of interest, the bridal pair will make their home in 1512-23rd in Wichita Falls.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her uncle, John Buss of Odessa, the bride was gowned in white silk organza embroidered with clusters of flowers over taffeta fashioned with a Sabrina neckline; long, tapering sleeves, which came to points over the hands; and a bouffant, floor-length skirt. Her fingertip Veil of French Silk Illusion was secured to a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried two entwined circlets of white roses clustered with gardenias. The gown was designed and made by Sammie Saulsbury and Alene Brown.

RECEPTION
Friends were received immediately following the ceremony in the Sacred Heart Parish Hall. The bride's table held the traditional tiered cake and crystal punch bowl centered with a large silver candelabra entwined with trails of daisies and stock. The flowers were in the bride's chosen colors of white and yellow.

The bride was graduated in 1958 from the Academy of Mary Immaculate, where she was a member of the Solidarity of the Blessed Virgin Mary; co-editor of the 1958 annual; Senior - Junior Prom Queen; and served as class president in 1955-56. She attended Midwestern University and is a member of the senior branch of the Catholic Youth Organization.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Marian Rose Gilleland of Wichita Falls attended as maid of honor wearing a yellow silk organza. Reception assistants were Mrs.

Mother Who Drives Children To School Has Tougher Time Than Real Bus Driver

By GAY FAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The mother who drives children to school in the family "bus" has a tougher job than the driver of the school bus, says one safety expert. She spends more hours as a chauffeur than the average bus driver, because she not only shuttles the children to and from class but also to a variety of after-school activities — plays, scout meetings, dancing lessons, sports practice.

Herbert said most bus drivers operate like the captain of a ship — they teach the children from the first day aboard that the driver is responsible for what happens to the bus and passengers.

The professionals cautioned against trying to stop horseplay or settle quarrels if it means turning your head to reprimand them. One second or not looking at the road may cause an accident. If a sharply spoken "be quiet!" doesn't stop a ruckus, pull over, and park the car and then get stern.

Don't Overload Car
Don't try to keep the children constantly amused with stories or games and don't answer questions that require long answers. These divert your attention from the business of driving.

Don't overload the car or permit lap-sitting. If you're transporting three children or less, load all of them in the back seat where they will be less distract-

Discipline Is Must
To find how the mother-driver can be a safer driver, Jim Herbert, safety director for the Socony Mobil Oil Co., interviewed 100 school bus drivers in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

All agreed that discipline is a must, along with driving skill.

RUTH MILLETT

An ideal husband, judging from the articles, advertisements, and fiction in women's magazines is one who—

Takes over the children when he gets home from work, so that his worn-out wife can get a little rest at the end of a hard day. (Supposedly Papa has been loafing all day himself.)

Spends his weekends either on do-it-yourself projects which the little woman has dreamed up or on family outings. (Only a cad would look forward to a golf game or poker with the boys.)

Discusses all family problems with his wife, which is called "talking things over." (Instead of hiding behind a newspaper or sneaking off to his workshop to get away from it all.)

Pitches in to help with dishwashing, marketing, etc. (No easy chair for him, while Mama cleans up the kitchen and gets the kids to bed.)

Never makes a decision without first consulting the little woman. (How can you have complete "togetherness" if Papa is going to decide things on his own?)

Is a pal to his children (Even though what they may need more than a pal is a father who demands and gets their respect and who is the voice of authority in his own household.)

Encourages his wife to "express herself." (That means he doesn't grumble if Mama is too busy being a do-gooder to keep up the house.)

He's something quite new in the way of husbands, this ideal as pictured by the women's magazines. He may be easy to live with and the answer to the modern maiden's prayer. But isn't he going to be a trifle dull, once he's given up all of his masculine independence to become a little helper and the kids' best pal?

If you have a handy clothes-basket at home, make it look like new. Sand away wood splinters and cover the area with shellac. This will cut down on tearing clothes placed in the basket.

Mrs. James Warren Baldridge

Baldridge Weds Miss Barrows

The marriage of Miss Lyal Barrows of Webster Groves, Mo., to James Warren Baldridge of Pampa, was solemnized Saturday, August 23, in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church of Webster Groves. The Rev. Warren H. Deane officiated amid a setting of white flowers, jade foliage and lighted tapers at the altar. Wrought iron standards along the aisle held more candles shielded with hurricane globes.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Fuller Barrows, 245 Jefferson Road, Webster Groves, Mo., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bismark Baldridge, 1224 Charles.

BRIDE

The bride wore a white French tulle gown simply designed with short sleeves, a fitted bodice and a skirt cut straight at front and bouffant at the sides and back. Handcut duchess lace, ornamented with iridescent sequins, provided lavish trimming for the gown. The bride's veil, arranged in mantilla style over her hair, was fashioned of antique Brussels lace over tulle. She carried a bouquet of white vanda and moth orchids with

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. William Sinclair Lowndes served as her sister's matron of honor. Another sister, Miss Valery Barrows; Miss Elise Feldmann and Mrs. Kenneth Schwab, Urbana, Ill., were bridesmaids. They wore waist-length gowns of pale blue organza with three-quarter length sleeves gathered over the elbows, basque bodices and full skirts. They carried lilac and purple chrysanthemums and asters combined with white baby's breath and ivy and in their hair wore bands of the flowers.

Don Black, Midland, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Toby Yow, Amarillo, and Robert Davant, Austin.

RECEPTION

The reception was given at the Barrows home following the ceremony. Guests were greeted in the living room in front of the fireplace which was massed with white flowers. The terrace and garden, with ivy-bordered brick walls, were lighted by candles in wrought iron standards.

Mrs. Barrows chose for her daughter's wedding a chiffon gown with a pink bodice above a paler pink cummerbund from which the violet skirt fell full. Tiny pink ostrich tips formed her hat and her flowers were pink-throated white orchids. The bridegroom's mother was in steel gray chiffon, accented with touches of leaf green, and a small matching green hat. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mr. Baldridge and his bride will spend their honeymoon at the Emerald Beach Hotel in Nassau. They will live in Austin.

LITTLE LIZ

A lot of folks get all their cleaning done at the face track.

RUTH MILLETT

A homemaker wants to know: "What can I do to get our next door neighbors to keep their lawn mowed?"

"This one neglected yard detracts from every house in sight. And it's worse for us because we live right next door and have to look at it. Can't we do anything?"

Nothing that I know of. If you mention it to your neighbor you'll make an enemy—and having an enemy next door could be a lot more unpleasant than unkept grass.

If you belong to a garden club you might ask your next door neighbor if she would like to join. If you can get her to just a few meetings she might get interested in her yard.

If that doesn't seem practical, then why not plant a hedge of high-growing shrubs to cut off the unsightly view?

That in itself ought to be a gentle hint that you are tired of looking at tall grass and weeds.

In the meantime don't fret too much. Families who buy homes and then don't bother to keep them up, are very often "movers" who go from one neighborhood to another. So you may be rid of your problem sooner than you think.

HOPPESS, FORRESTER PLEDGE WEDDING VOWS IN BRYAN

Miss Nancy Rush Hoppess and Terry Norman Forrester pledged wedding vows Saturday evening at 8 in the First Methodist Church of Bryan. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coulter Hoppess, 1202 Hoppess, Bryan. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Forrester, former Pampa residents, now residing at 204 South Ike Street, Monahan.

Dr. Harry V. Rankin of Tyler performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white asters and white chrysanthemums, accented by palms and three point ivy. White candles in wrought iron candelabra lined the choir loft with tall white tapers in brass candelabra placed on the choir rail. Pews were marked with arrangements of asters and white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Charles E. Gray presented the organ music for the occasion, and accompanied Mrs. Robert W. Butler, soloist, who sang "Through The Years," and "The Song of Ruth," preceding the entrance of the bridal party.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of cameo-toned silk taffeta in a high-neckline tradition. A deep oval neckline and three-quarter length sleeves were the features of the intricately cut bodice. The shaped skirt was formed by inverted pleats, accented at the waistline by a soft bow, flaring to a chapel length train. Her four tiered, waist length Veil of English Illusion fell from a flat-fitted bow of ivory silk taffeta. She wore short white gloves and carried an heirloom lace handkerchief which had been carried by her mother and paternal grandmother at their weddings. Her only jewelry, a string of pearls, was a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, centered with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Beverly Horn of Corpus Christi, roommate of the bride, served as maid of honor, wearing an ivory chiffon tulle gown fashioned similar to the bride's. Bridesmaids were Miss Judith Hoppess, sister of the bride; Miss Frances Forrester, Monahan, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Carol Kelley and Miss Mary Ann McClure, Bryan; Miss Anne Price of Bryan and Dallas and Mrs. Donald Frye Jordan Jr. of Brownwood. Little Miss Martha Hoppess, sister of the bride served as maid of honor.

Yours isn't an uncommon plight. Furthermore, it really isn't the most serious problem a neighborhood can have.

Karl Coulter Hoppess, brother of the bride, attended Mr. Forrester as best man with Emmett Forrester Jr., Taft, Calif.; William Landers, Plainview; David Price, Paris; Floyd Travis and Tommy Campbell, Austin; Joe Wayne Key, Houston; Marvin Beck, Waelder and Gates Whiteley, Bryan, serving as groomsmen. The bridegroom and groomsmen were all attired in midnight blue tuxedos with black satin cummerbunds and matching ties.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hoppess chose a gown of champagne chiffon featuring a shirred, fitted bodice with V-cut neckline and softly flared skirt. Her lightly veiled chapel hat and pearlized slippers were of a matching color, and she wore full length gloves of bone-white kid. Mrs. Forrester, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in driftwood silk organza over bouquet taffeta. A portrait neckline, cap sleeves, tucked bodice and flared skirt were the features of her gown and she wore gloves and shoes of a matching color. Both wore corsages of green Cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony a reception and dance were held in the Ballroom of the Memorial Student Center of Texas A&M College. The guests were greeted by Misses Holland Porter, William Thomason, Boyce Oliver, James Alexander, Bryan; and George Hoggan, Dallas, as they signed the bride's registry.

The bride's book, which was placed at one end of a table covered with an embroidered linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of white asters and chrysanthemums, was presided over by Misses Shirilreed Walker and Alicia Franklin, Bryan; Doris Moore, Dallas; Judith Lum, Houston; and Mrs. Emmett Forrester Jr., Taft, Calif.

The bride's table was covered with a two-tiered ruffled cloth of ivory chiffon silk taffeta overlaid with an imported hand-woven lace cloth. Each end of the cloth was caught up with a garland of white pom-pom chrysanthemums and green trailing ivy. A tall silver urn of Roman design holding large white chrysanthemums, asters and baby's breath, centered the table. White pom-pom chrysanthemums, candy-tuft and English ivy were placed at the base of the urn. The embossed Double Wedding Ring cake was placed at one end of the table and a silver punch bowl was placed at the other end. Mrs. Sam Williams of Pampa, assisted with the houseparty.

Green plants decorated the ballroom with white and green columns outlining the stage, where Ed Gerlach and His Orchestra from Houston, provided dance music for the wedding guests.

Mrs. Terry Norman Forrester

For traveling on their wedding trip to the Prade Ranch on the Frio Canyon in the Hill Country, the bride chose an original suit of taupe brown chiffon wool featuring a bloused jacket, fitted at the waist by a narrow belt, and slim skirt. Her accessories were of a matching color, and she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a student at the University of Texas and will receive her degree in January. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pampa High School and the University of Texas. He was high point graduate in the School of Architecture and was elected to Tau Sigma Delta, National Honorary architectural fraternity and was also a member of Acacia. He is presently associated with Roger Erickson in Austin, an architectural firm.

The couple will make their home at 1408 East 35th Street, Austin.

The bulky pull-over goes to college this fall in wool tweed combined with a slim skirt. It's done in wool cable-stitch sweaters, too.

Fashion has brought the little black crepe dress back to favor. You'll see it from now until Christmas in many designs but always basically simple.

Vanishing Hair Spray Avoids Winglike Look.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

As beauty products get better and better and therefore do more for us, we naturally expect more of them.

Knowing this, manufacturers of beauty preparations engage in constant research to give us not only new products but improved products. One of these improved products, just placed on the market, is a hair spray that all women will welcome.

Designed for the three different hair types, dry, normal and oily, it releases a fine, misty spray that does not build up to sticky stiffness in daily use. It may be used every day, the manufacturer says, with perfect safety. Further, it isn't necessary to use water to restyle your hair. A dry comb will turn the trick.

"This 'vanishing' hair spray will not, the manufacturer says, plaster the hair into wiglike stiffness since it really does prevent building up dull film from daily spraying. And it will hold the curl even in damp, rainy weather.

Chill evaporated milk in freezer tray of refrigerator until ice crystals form around edges. Turn into large chilled bowl and whip with chilled rotary beater or on-high speed of electric mixer until milk is stiff. Add lemon juice; beat ingredients; fold into whipped mixture. Turn into freezer trays; freeze until firm.

RUTH MILLETT

Some housewives spend a whole dreary day doing the same amount of work other women can finish in a couple of hours.

What's the difference?

A housewife who has her home in shining order by 10 every morning and is free to do as she pleases the rest of the day explains it this way:

"In the first place I never let myself get behind with my work. Whatever needs to be done, I do immediately. I never sit and stare at a job. I just do it.

"In the second place, I never make extra work for myself. I put things away when they are used, clean up after myself as I cook, throw out useless things that make clutter, and so on. It's amazing how much easier housekeeping becomes once you cultivate such habits.

"In the third place, I get started working as soon as breakfast is out of the way. Lots of women sit around and read the newspaper, put on a second pot of coffee, make several long telephone calls, wander over to a neighbor's house and get to talking while the time slips by. By the time these women are ready to go to work, my housework is finished.

"But most important of all, I guess, in streamlining housework is the determination not to be a slave to a house.

"The thing that really keeps a woman from putting around all day at housework is wanting to get out and do other things."

Maybe there's a helpful hint or two here for women who claim that housework keeps them so busy they never have time for anything else.

Hearing aids now go to the beach, too, in the form of sunglasses such as this girl wears. The plastic tube leading from the temple bar conducts the sound.

Convertible Aids Fit Sunglasses

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The roar of the surf at the beach is a sound that most of us take for granted. It's a sound that lures many people to the seaside and makes them feel relaxed once they're there.

But it's not a sound that, until recently, people with a hearing problem could take for granted. True, hearing aids and glasses with built-in hearing aids have been getting better. Better looking, too. But there was the problem of the double need for sunglasses to protect the eyes from the dazzle of the water and for good hearing, too.

Now, however, the bows of hearing aid glasses can be removed and attached to sunglasses. They convert back again to regular glasses when the wearer leaves the beach at the end of the day. Summertime is the one time when a regular hearing aid can become a bit of a problem in that it's somewhat more difficult to conceal in light summer clothing—or a swimsuit. The hearing aid sunglasses solve the problem nicely and allow a girl to have her glamour.

YOUNG IDEAS from Polly Pond

Q: I like winter sports and spend a lot of time outdoors in cold weather. The only thing is, my face gets all chapped and rough. Is there anything I can do about it?

A: You can prevent your skin from chapping by using hand cream as a foundation for your make-up.

Q: Rub the cream over your entire face, working it into the skin until it disappears. Pay special attention to the areas that seem to chap more easily than others—your chin, for instance, cheeks and forehead.

Now, apply your make-up, loose or compressed powder. The cream will act as a weather barrier that will help keep cold wind and snow from irritating the sensitive surface of your skin.

Bleached Hair Indicates That Woman's Reaching For Inner Security, Says Cary

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bleaching indicates a woman's reaching for inner security, says Cary Grant, the movie star.

The suave Mr. Grant sounded off at length concerning some of modern woman's habits and the personality they reflect. But he insisted in an interview over lunch that he was not "sounding off against, but sounding off FOR womankind."

"In changing her hair color, a woman is trying to hide herself, said the British-born Grant. "She must be discontent with herself, or she would not be trying to alter. Right? I doubt if it occurs to her that she is flaunting her insecurity."

"Or look at the woman who wears too much perfume . . . smokes with a cigarette holder. These are more of the signs. The more she resorts to artifice, the further she pushes herself along the road to complexes."

"Have you ever noticed this about women . . . how few of them can sit still?" Grant asked. "Look around this dining room. That woman over there, fingering a necklace. Or that one there, twisting her gloves. Sitting still takes some doing . . . a lot of poise."

"Insecurity is a spreading thing. From parents to children. And the male of the species is in equal trouble. He's coerced on all sides. Pressured by his wife or neighbor to buy the latest car. He argues that his old 1957 model still runs okay. But someone reminds him it doesn't have fins. "I suppose pressures are inevitable in our modern economy . . . like salmon swimming upstream. "All most of us can do is regard them with a sense of humor."

To bring the actor up to date, he is starring in a new Hitchcock movie called "North By Northwest"; he is separated from his third wife, actress Betsy Drake; he denies there is a romance with Kim Novak; and he says he has no intention of retiring from a movie career which began in 1932.

Grant said he preferred not to discuss the breakup with Miss Drake. "It is a personal matter. We are the best of friends. Is a reconciliation possible? I own no crystal ball."

"I do say one thing about a good marriage though," he added. "A true fusion of two people. What an invincible force."

Grant and the blonde Miss Novak made headlines last spring when they attended the Cannes Film Festival. But Grant said any romance was "a wild piece of idiocy. We think we dance very well together. That is the extent of our physical activity. Unfortunately."

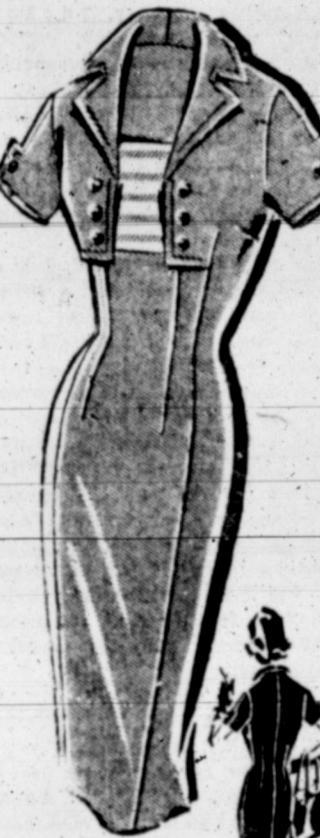

"We were a sensation, and I haven't seen her since."

The Staggs family live in a completely all-electric home — their home, was, in fact, the first Gold Medallion home to be certified under the high standards set by the Medallion Home program. Electricity is doing a clean, dependable job for the Staggs. They like all their electric appliances and with 5 in the family, they appreciate, all the more, the abundance of hot water that they get from flameless electric water heating.

SPECIAL LOW RATES FOR WATER HEATING

Yes, ask your Public Service office about the special water heating rate. It makes electric water heating economical, too.

Mrs. Staggs knows that hot dishes will be clean and sanitary with the combination of her electric dishwasher and the germ-killing hot water that her electric water heater delivers.

Woman Is Rescued From Rocky Canyon

SAGUACHE, Colo. (SpI) — A Pampa woman, Mrs. L. K. Tomlin, waited several hours for rescuers last week after she slipped and broke a leg while fishing in a narrow, rocky canyon in central Colorado.
Mrs. Tomlin, 1813 Coffee, was brought to safety that night by a rescue crew after she had lain alone in the rain several hours. She was taken to a hospital at Salida. Rescuers had to carry her more than three miles on an improvised litter to a fishing camp at North Crestone Creek.
Mrs. Tomlin and her husband had been fishing together when the accident occurred about 10:30 a.m. He immediately went for help, but rescuers were unable to make their way back to Mrs. Tomlin until about 6 p.m.
Mr. Tomlin was treated later for shock and exposure following the ordeal.

TODAY—Up to 50 tons of Ponderosa logs are carried on a huge, 10-foot-wide logging trailer over private logging roads near Bend, Ore., in an example of today's logging operations.

GAME BUDGET OK'D
AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Game and Fish Commission Friday approved a $6,759,931 budget for the next fiscal year. One commissioner, Henry LeBlanc of Port Arthur, charged that the Legislature had done a "great disservice to Texas sportsmen through appropriations. LeBlanc said he objected to going to the Legislature for money that was already the commission's through sale of hunting and fishing permits.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's 13-day tour of the United States next month is arousing curiosity and excitement across the nation. But there is one group that feels only concern — the State Department's security office.
When the round, talkative premier steps off his plane at Washington National Airport, some of the most elaborate security precautions known to man will be enforced.
The planning is going on now around-the-clock.
At this moment some member of the security force is making an anonymous visit to a hotel where Khrushchev will stay, a path-he'll walk, or a bridge-he'll cross.
State Department and Secret Service officers are checking crackpot letters containing threats against the premier.
Walters Checked
Seven days a week thousands of invitations are being checked to see just where it is safest for Khrushchev to go.
Heading all this security planning is William O. Boswell, director of the State Department's Office of Security, Boswell, who wears the harried look of a driver in a New York traffic jam, understates the problem this way: "Security is a very complex thing."
Complex, in this case, means picking the waiters who will serve Khrushchev dinner in New York, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and elsewhere.
Complex means keeping the nearest threshing machine at a safe distance, when the No. 1 Communist visits a farm.
It means checking the guests on the floor above and floor below in the hotels where he stays.
Ready For Anything
It means checking how much weight a bridge will hold, and how many persons a speaking platform will support.
It also includes such matters as having a geiger counter available to check Khrushchev's food. First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan requested one for his food during his spring trip.
It means working with local police forces everywhere the premier stops or passes, and it means being ready for that unscheduled "impulse" stop at a roadside hamburger stand.
It means protecting Khrushchev if he decides to go to a baseball game with 50,000 fans for a luncheon with 50 guests. At a ball game, the principle of security is the same as with the president. The nearest persons are checked the closest.

Coon Rapids Man Will Play Host To Soviet Premier

By GEORGE B. BROWN
United Press International
COON RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI)—Coon Rapids is like any other town in the midwestern corn belt, except that it has Roswell Garst, a prosperous farmer, factory owner, world traveler, agricultural innovator and prospective host to Nikita S. Khrushchev.
Outside of President Eisenhower of course, Garst is the only American the Soviet premier has specifically asked to see during his forthcoming trip to the United States.
For corn-grower Khrushchev obviously feels there's a lot he can learn from the 61-year-old Iowan, a true capitalist whose agricultural aim is simply to make farming a more profitable enterprise.
Garst promised to show his Russian visitor "exactly what CI have been showing American farmers for the past 20 years" — including his own farm of "about 1,000 acres," the "4,000 or more" acres he manages for other owners, his five-block - long hybrid seed-corn factory and an assortment of new projects Garst is working on.
Garst is "delighted" by the prospect of a visit from Khrushchev. He has met with the premier twice during trips to the Soviet Union. Last March, he and Mrs. Garst had dinner with Khrushchev at the Kremlin, and invited him to stop off at Coon Rapids if he ever got to the United States.

News In Brief

BERNSTEIN CONDUCTS
LENNINGRAD, USSR (UPI)—Leonard Bernstein, who got into a rhubarb with a Soviet music critic in Moscow, conducted the New York Philharmonic orchestra in its first concert here Friday night, the Tass news agency reported. Before leaving Moscow, Bernstein had objected to a critic's review which called the conductor "cocky" for his behavior at a concert Tuesday.
WINE PRICES INCREASED
TAIPEI, FORMOSA (UPI)—The Nationalist Chinese government today announced an increase in the price of wine and tobacco to help pay for the flood reconstruction bill. Government officials hope to gain $5,500,000 from the price boost on the two commodities, a government monopoly.
FROST HONORED
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Poet Robert Frost called America's "poet laureate," has been appointed honorary consultant in the humanities at the Library of Congress, it was announced today. The celebrated 85-year-old Frost, noted for his lustrous poems on America, said he was "honored" when he accepted the non-salaried three-year position.
MARKED TREE, Ark. (UPI)—A 60-car freight train derailed, as it swept around a curve here Friday night, sprawling cars all over the main freight track. No injuries were reported. Witnesses said about 30 cars of the Frisco line train were strewn over the tracks "accordian style."
ADENAUER ANSWERS KHRUSHOV
BONN, Germany (UPI)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Friday sent a reply to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev denouncing West German rearmament. Contents of Adenauer's note were not immediately revealed, but informed sources said the reply would be published Sunday.

people who are at home with QUALITY choose GAS appliances
fuel for a growing empire Pioneer Natural Gas Company
Enter the home where choices are made strictly on the basis of quality, and the chances are excellent that you'll find a built-in Gas range in the kitchen. That's because people who are concerned enough to evaluate, discover that a Gas range offers superiority in two ways. The range itself combines precision accuracy with complete automation. And Gas, as a live-flame fuel, does important things that no other fuel can do. It consumes cooking vapors so that you can enjoy closed-door smokeless broiling. With Gas there's no warm-up wait when it's turned on... no lingering heat when it's turned off. And only an instantly responsive Gas flame permits perfect control of the subtle variations in temperature that mean so much to the taste and texture of foods. Gas is the choice of people who insist upon quality at any price... and it's incidental that Gas costs from five to eight times less than any other fuel. Where the finest is truly appreciated... GAS belongs.

TAXES IN MESS

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Fort Worth's tax valuations are "a pure mess," according to one of its city councilmen. Oliver Shannon pointed out what he called numerous inequities at a council meeting Friday, and the council instructed City Manager L. F. Cookingham to look into the situation. Cookingham said he may order an outside survey.

Steve Allen Returns To Hollywood

By RICK DU BROW UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Steve Allen, 37 and graying, has returned here "permanently" from the east so he can be near his three sons by his first wife. "That's the only reason for the switch," said the affable TV showman. "I visited them whenever I could from New York, but now I've bought a one-way ticket for the first time in nine years. "I'd much rather see them every day, and I can't conceive of anything moving me out of this home." Sitting at the poolside of his hilltop home, Allen noted he lives only 10 minutes by car from the three boys — Steve Jr., 15, Brian, 12, and David, 9 — who reside with their mother in Van Nuys, Calif. He also has a fourth son, Billy, 20 months old, by his wife, Jayne Meadows. Switched To Different Night In addition to switching to a different coast, Allen has also been switched by NBC to a different night and time slot. He'll be seen starting Sept. 28 at 10 p.m. on Mondays — but he doesn't consider this a defeat by his old competitors, Ed Sullivan and "Maverick." "It's not a defeat because the network wanted me to continue on Sunday," he said. "In fact, they wanted me to extend the show to 90 minutes. The decision against it and for the transfer was entirely my own. We already were working a seven-day week and all of us, including the crew, said 'no, thanks' to 90 minutes. "Besides, it seemed illogical for four top-rated shows — Sullivan, "Maverick," Jack Benny and our own — to be jostling each other around in the same time areas. People would stop me on the street and tell me how silly it was for us to compete, especially since TV offers only so many good shows." The New York-born comedian admitted ratings had something to do with the switch. Taste Is Unpredictable "By all means," he said, "public taste is unpredictable, and you can never argue with it. You just say, 'that's it' and step out of the way. But other shows have switched — Groucho Marx and Perry Como, for instance." Allen, a thoughtful fellow of Irish extraction, is known in show business for his lack of too much concern about ratings. "Why get excited about a bunch of guys horsing around every week, which is what we do?" he asked. "Our show isn't one of the important things in the world. It's not nearly as important, say, as the plight of sugar workers in Puerto Rico." Allen said he feels his introspective nature stems partly from the fact that comedians, in general, are sensitive — more so, for instance, than actors. "Fred Allen once remarked that to be an actor all of one's life, one must have the mind of a child," he said. "Actors are charming — they have to be. But in general, they have true interests beyond themselves. "On the other hand, a comedian usually is what he is because he is reacting to what happened to him in his childhood. You rarely meet a comedian who was a rich kid with an all-American background."

McPherson To End Training

FORT SILL, Okla. (SpI) — Army Pvt. Gene L. McPherson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen S. McPherson, 603 E. Gordon, is scheduled to complete eight weeks of advanced individual artillery training Sept. 11 at the Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla. McPherson received training in the duties of a cannonner in a 105 millimeter howitzer section. He entered the Army last April and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. McPherson attended Cheyenne (Okla.) High School.

Johnston Taking Recruit Training

Johnny Ray Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Johnston of 233 N. Hazel, enlisted in the Navy Aug. 26 and is now in recruit training at San Diego, Calif. Johnston applied for enlistment and was accepted through the Navy Recruiting Station located in the Post Office Building in Pampa and sworn in at the Main Navy Recruiting Station in Albuquerque. He will receive nine weeks of recruit training at San Diego, after which time he will be granted 14 days recruit leave prior to reporting to his first duty assignment. Johnston is a former student of Pampa High School.

McNaughton Ends Combat Training

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (SpI) — Marine Pfc. Jerry C. McNaughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McNaughton of 1305 Terrace, completed four weeks of individual combat training Aug. 30 at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. The course included the latest infantry tactics first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling on weapons. Trainees learn that all Marines are basically infantrymen, whether they serve as cooks, typists, truck drivers, or with aviation units.

Richmond Training In San Diego

George Warren Richmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Richmond, 1141 Prairie Dr., is now in training at the U.S. Naval Training Center, San Diego. George enlisted in the Navy Aug. 26, through the Navy Recruiting Station. Richmond enlisted under the high school graduates program, this program guarantees schooling for qualifying high school graduates in the field of their choice. He has chosen the Hospitalman field for his training and will be sent to Hospitalman School after completion of recruit training and leave. Richmond is a graduate of Pampa High School, Class of '59.

Bynum Enlists For Nike Work

Ralph Edward Bynum, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Bynum, enlisted in the United States Army Air Defense Command (Nike-Site) in the city of his choice, Limestone, Maine. It was announced today by Sergeant First Class John C. Dills, Army Recruiter for this area. Ralph will report to Fort Carson, Colorado Springs, Colo., for necessary processing and will possibly receive basic training there. Upon training, he will be assigned to the Nike-Site which he enlisted for at Limestone. There he will learn the operation of the guided missile site composed of the Nike-Hercules surface to air missiles. This is an ideal assignment for buddies and relatives who want to train and serve together. This option is now open in 30 major cities throughout the United States for qualified men who want to enlist in the U.S. Army. Men who are interested in electronics or guided missiles and who want to choose the city in which they want to serve are asked to contact SFC Dills at the Army Recruiting Station, located at 112 E. Foster, or call him Collect at MO-hawk 5-2022.

Blind's Sales Grow

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Commission for the Blind's business enterprises program made $1,650,000 in gross sales during the fiscal year ended June 30, the commission reported Friday. Lon E. Alaup, commissioner director, said the blind made $100,000 more than in the previous fiscal year. Profits for the 120-blind Texans operating snack bars in public buildings and other locations totaled $205,061.

MELVIN ROMINE ... finishes up

Romine Completes Air Training

PENSACOLA, Fla. (SpI) — Three weeks of aviation indoctrination and training have been completed at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., by Naval Academy Midshipman Second Class Melvin M. Romine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor of 408 Hughes St. The program, under the supervision of the Chief of Naval Air Basic Training, is planned with the objective of developing for the midshipman an understanding of naval aviation. Emphasis is placed on training and future concepts of aviation. During the three week period, each midshipman received a well rounded flight training program that gives him more than 40 hours in the various aircraft assigned to the Naval Air Basic Training Command, including an indoctrination flight in the Navy's T-34 training plane.

Divorce Granted

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Jean McKinnon, 37, won a divorce Friday after telling the court that her husband, Air Force Maj. John McKinnon, "spends all his daylight hours playing golf and all his night hours watching television."

Penny Unwise

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A Federal Reserve Bank spokesman complained Friday that people are "hanging on to" their pennies. But he indicated it is not really because of increased thriftiness. The spokesman said people have the mistaken belief that there is a mistake in the new Lincoln penny issued last January and that it has a premium value as a collector's item.

Stratton Reports On Success Of Schenectady Little League

The Record carries nothing formally labeled as comics, either, but this is considered a mere technicality. It does include almost everything else, and lately there have been indications it even may have to start a letters to the editor column, to carry complaints from the readers. Some Readers Unhappy There are about 43,000 of these, but the only ones whose complaints carry much weight, around here are the 336 members of House and Senate whose daily activities the Record purports to relate. Some of these readers have been pretty unhappy lately at the way their own remarks were, or were not, reported; at the way the remarks of some others have been magically improved in the printing; and at the way pretty near everybody has been littering the Record with material not clearly relevant to the business at hand. Nobody has specifically mentioned box scores as falling in the latter category. Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D. Ore.) reported to the Senate recently his discovery that history was being rewritten, or at least heavily edited, in the pages of the Congressional Record. Reparte, according to Neuberger, consists of the bright remarks you would have made if you had thought of them at the time. And in Congress, he points out, you still can make them, right up until press time of the Congressional Record, which is usually some time around midnight. Can Delete Remarks If Neuberger was dismayed at what happens to the purportedly verbatim account of what goes on in the Senate, he ought to see the way things go in the House. House members not only can edit their remarks before publication, as can the senators. They also can take 'em out of the Record, entirely, or insert statements never actually made. Senators aren't supposed to do that. Just this week, though, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) had to patch up a dispute in which Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) accused Sen. Joseph S. Clark Jr. (D-Pa.) of having censored out of the Record four pages of transcript including remarks not only by Clark but also by Bennett and others. Clark pleaded not guilty and Johnson was able to restore harmony by establishing that a helpful clerk was to blame. The four pages of censored transcript were duly inserted in the Record two days later, a clear vindication of history but one calculated to baffle any historians who may try to figure what happened. Neuberger has proposed to stop this kind of thing with a new rule under which senators would have to say what they mean. And they wouldn't be allowed to change their minds later. No Outcome Expected Although Neuberger has been joined by Clark and Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.) in sponsoring this proposed change in the rules, nothing is expected to come of it. Meantime several House resolutions to clean up the Record also have been assigned to a proper committee for trial. These are aimed at cutting down on the volume of recipes, poetry, newspaper editorials, jokes, unmade speeches, letters from home and other such matter that already this year has filled 7,431 printed pages in a section of the Record appropriately labeled "appendix."

Telescope May Reveal Edge Of Universe

Science and You" By JOSEPH L. MYLER United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists hope a mammoth radio telescope now being built will reveal the edge of the universe — if it has an edge. If it hasn't, they hope for a glimpse of what lies beyond the incomprehensibly distant regions where the edge would be if it existed. In any event, whether the universe is finite or infinite and whatever its geometry, astronomers fully expect their new radio eye to disclose a multitude of marvels. These are almost certain to include additional colliding galaxies — vast systems of hundreds of billions of stars passing through each other in the as yet unplumbed reaches of space. They may also include cosmic arenas in which clouds of matter and antimatter are engaged in a war of mutual annihilation, releasing floods of energy dwarfing the violence of nuclear fission or fusion reactions. Being Built By Navy The new radio telescope, largest of its kind ever designed, is being built by the Navy near Sugar Grove in a little valley of the West Virginia hills. It is expected to go in operation in 1962. Its dish antenna will be 600 feet in diameter, far larger than the largest now in existence, the 280-foot radio telescope at Jodrell Bank in England, and surpassing a 350-foot instrument the Russians are said to be planning. Construction of the telescope is one of the most difficult engineering tasks ever undertaken. A spokesman for the Naval Research Laboratory said "it's like taking Yankee Stadium and putting it on hinges." In theory, the telescope will be able to peer many times farther into space than the 200-inch optical telescope at Mt. Palomar in California. The Palomar telescope gathers light waves from the distant galaxies. Radio telescopes gather radio waves. Great dust clouds block off vast segments of the universe to Palomar but are transparent to a radio eye. Undreamed Of New Facts It has been said that the Sugar Grove telescope will enable astronomers to determine which of a number of ideas about the size, history and future of the universe are correct. It is just as likely, scientists say, to discover undreamed of new facts which will scrap all existing theories and force the building of brand new "models of creation." The Palomar optical telescope can probe into space as far as two billion light years. A light year is the distance light, moving at 186,300 miles a second, travels in 365 days. This works out at about 6,000 billion miles. Our sun is half a light minute, about 93 million miles, away.

Alaskan Bill Is Still Alive

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Alaskan oil and gas leasing limitation bill recently vetoed by President Eisenhower as a monopolistic "giveaway" may not be dead.

Its sponsors, the three-man Alaskan congressional delegation — Sen. Ernest Gruening and E.L. Bob Bartlett and Rep. Ralph J. Rivers — are talking revival strategy with the Senate and House Interior committees but may delay action until Congress reconvenes in January.

Right now they are licking wounds inflicted by Eisenhower's curt veto message and casting about for ways to turn the tide. They concede there is no hope of overriding the veto.

The measure would have doubled Alaska's present lease-option limitation from 800,000 acres to 1,600,000 under lease and 200,000 under option — to 600,000 acres but with no flat option requirement. The maximum in all other states is 246,000 acres — 46,080 under lease and 200,000 under option, with no option loopholes.

The legislation sailed through House and Senate but before Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.) and Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton lambasted it as a device for handing over to oil companies now in Alaska millions of acres of unexplored land at "bargain basement rates."

Their opposition won solid Republican support in the Senate and led Gruening to charge that Allott's speech against the bill had been written by George Abbott, Interior Department solicitor. This Abbott denied.

MORE CARS TO CHOOSE FROM

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry is traveling two roads at the same time these days.

Outwardly, and with much fanfare, it is offering the motorists a larger group of cars to choose from. Quietly, however, it is making use of the same parts on many different cars.

Chrysler Corp. will soon offer two new cars—the Valiant, an entry in the small car field, and the Dodge Dart, a slightly smaller version of the Dodge which actually fits at the top of the low-priced, standard-sized field.

General Motors and Ford also will offer new entries in the small car field—Chevrolet's Corvair and Ford's Falcon. And, by this time next year, General Motors will be making smaller versions of the Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick while Ford will be producing a smaller version of its Edsel.

State Oil Allowable Up

AUSTIN (UPI) — The average daily oil allowable increased 10,475 barrels during the past week, the Texas Railroad Commission said Saturday.

Daily allowable jumped from 2,690,349 to 2,700,816, the commission said.

The commission said there were 191,316 producing wells in Texas, an increase of 185 over the previous week.

Oil well completions during the week totaled 220 to bring the number for the year to 7,803, while there were 21 gas well completions to hike the year's total to 1,278. Dry holes numbered 108 for parts that will fit more than one kind of car.

General Motors, for example, already uses the same basic body shell for all its autos.

Ford has tied its Edsel operations into a closely-knit organization which produces and markets the Ford passenger car with many components of both cars made on the same machine.

Chrysler recently organized its setup to combine the Plymouth and DeSoto divisions.

Industry sources report the new smaller Pontiac to be produced next year will use the same engine that is now being produced for the small Chevrolet at Massena, N.Y., and that the smaller Oldsmobile and Buicks scheduled for 1961 will share an engine to be built by GM's Fabricast Division.

Spreads Out Costs

The use of the same parts on separate automobiles made by one company is likely to continue.

The industry is using more and more big, automated machines to turn out parts. These machines are expensive and they would force up the price of a car if the cost weren't distributed over a wider base.

It is in an effort to distribute the cost of the machine that the auto companies use it for more than one make of car whenever possible.

And some parts of a car are so basic there is really no reason to do otherwise.

Borger To Host Magic Plains Oil Exposition

BORGER (SpI) — The third Magic Plains Oil Exposition will be held in Borger, September 10, 11, and 12th. This show features outstanding exhibits concerning the oil industry alternating on odd years with the Odessa, Texas Oil Show. Site of the Magic Plains Oil Exposition will be the first Aluminum Dome in the South West located in Johnson Park.

Officials of the show are predicting the largest event yet, as all available exhibit space both inside the Dome and in the outside exhibit area have been sold for three weeks.

In addition to the oil exhibits other features of the three-day show include the first Panhandle showing of the Nike Hercules Guided Missile, a $1,200 free fireworks display and a Dance to be held Saturday night.

Exhibitors from Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, California, Illinois, Iowa, and Louisiana are showing their products in the 1959 Magic Plains Oil Exposition.

Show officials expect a crowd for the three-day show of approximately 50,000 persons. All hotels and motels space in the city have been reserved for weeks and private housing will take care of the overflow of visitors.

Shamrock Gas Course Slated Thurs.; Program Announced

SHAMROCK — The program of the fourth annual East Panhandle Gas Course to be held here Thursday, has been announced by Roy Carlton, president.

The all-day meeting will be held in the American Legion Building, starting at 8 a.m. and closing at 4:30 p.m.

Mayor Selbert Worley will give the address of welcome at 9 a.m. Products of various manufacturing firms will be on exhibit all day at the Legion Home.

A feature of the meeting will be an address at the noon luncheon at Nunn's Cafe by R. R. McCafferty, vice-president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and general chairman of the 1960 University of Oklahoma Short Course.

The entire program was announced by Mr. Carlton as follows:

8 a.m. to 9 a.m. — Registration and inspection of exhibits.

9 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. — Welcome address by Mayor Worley.

9:15 a.m. to 10 a.m. — "Four Point Back Pressure Test and Railroad Commission Requirements" — Eddie Zuniga, District Engineer.

10 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. — Coffee break.

10:15 a.m. to 11 a.m. — "Maintenance and Operation of Plug Valves" — F. H. Neilson, Rockwell Mfg. Co.

11 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. — "Specific Gravity and Gas Laws" — Ray Jordan.

12 o'clock Noon — Luncheon at Nunn's Cafe — Speaker, R. R. McCafferty, vice president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and general chairman of the 1960 O. U. Short Course.

Outlook for speedy settlement of the steel strike continues at a lowebb today as no new bargaining sessions are scheduled until next Wednesday. But both union and management were quick to emphasize that the delay did not mean a breakdown in the talks. Industry officials said they needed time to study new requests by the union.

Construction put in place in August reached a record $5,300,000,000, the Commerce Department estimated. The rise from $5,200,000,000 in July, however, was less than seasonal with a drop in residential construction a factor.

A catch-all housing bill was passed by the House and sent to the White House despite threats of a veto. Republican efforts to amend the measure to bring it more in line with the administration's wishes were rejected.

A one-cent gasoline tax increase appeared almost certain to come up for House floor debate next week. House Democratic leaders appeared to have cleared one of the last remaining obstacles to floor consideration of the revenue measure, designed to ease the highway construction crisis.

Lunch Pail May Soon Be Obsolete As Buggy Whip

"On The Farm Front"
By GAYLORD P. GODWIN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The lunch pail soon may be as obsolete as the buggy whip.

The lunch pail rapidly is becoming a symbol of by-gone days. And, as the home prepared lunch goes out, another service of the food industry is expanded.

A survey by the Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) showed that more and more manufacturing firms are providing eating places within their own plants.

During a four-week survey made in January-February, 1959, factory lunch rooms and cafeterias purchased 20 million dollars worth of food.

AMS said that about half of all plants with 250 or more employees provided some type of eating service for their workers. This group of plants employs about two thirds of all the persons in the manufacturing trade. So, about one-third of the country's manufacturing workers are provided with some sort of lunch service where they work.

The AMS researchers aid company executives in plants without food service felt they had adequate public eating places nearby (lunch counters or restaurants) as well as vending machines within the plants. Some workers ate at these places, but most brought their lunches from home.

In plants providing their own feeding facilities, accommodations ranged all the way from the stately executive dining room to the more modest restaurants, cafeterias, and lunch rooms. The survey also included canteens and mobile food carts.

One thing these services all had in common: they served some hot food other than beverages.

Vending machines weren't counted as food services even when they dispensed hot foods and drinks. Even so, nine out of 10 plants provided vending machines. Almost all of these plants had beverage machines; more than half had food machines; and about a third had milk machines.

Concern Over Morale
The researchers said the reasons for the increased number of in-plant eating facilities included management's concern for employee morale. Also, many factories have moved out of town, away from public eating places, or have outgrown the capacity of local restaurants and cafeterias.

Company food services gained momentum during World War II when women worked in large numbers and there was less time to prepare lunches for employed members of the family. Increased family incomes also helped to
