Officials Considering Ways Of Aiding Laos Against Reds

Supplies to be Sent; SEATO Nations May be 'Protectors'

By THOMAS J. FOLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top Defense and State Department officials today considered new moves to strengthen the Laotian government's hand in suppressing Communist-led rebels.

High-level conferences were being held to find ways to lend support to the royal forces. Plans under consideration would limit the additional direct aid to more support through supplies while expanding diplomatic and moral encouragement wherever and whenever possible.

One of the possibilities is for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) to exercise its previously announced plan to protect the tiny Southeast Asia nation from outside forces. Laos is not actually a member of SEATO.

Diplomatic officials believe the introduction of troops from the outside would be premature since the royal Laotian government is not yet using all of its own forces of 25,000 men.

Authorities recognize that the Communist government of North Viet Nam has violated the 1954 Geneva agreement ending the Indo-China War by increasing the level of military equipment in the hands of Laotian rebel forces. Viet Nam and Laos, together with Cambodia, made up what was Indo-China.

However, the administration was reported not to be ready at this time to break its part of the agreement by lending military planes or throwing other equipment into the fight. So far, all U. S. help has been of a non-military nature except for aid in training Laotian troops.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said a more likely possibility is to support the Laotian government's request for United Nations intervention through the establishment of an inspection committee that would focus world attention more on the situation.

Eisenhower was the supreme commander of the great Allied force that gave Germany its most disastrous military defeat 14 years ago, but he returns Wednesday as the protector of freedom from Communism in the Western half of the nation.

Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will discuss the problems of dealing with Communism for 6 1/2 hours, beginning at mid-morning Thursday.

The President, arriving the evening before, plans to show himself to huge crowds of West Germans that night and again the following morning before his talks with Adenauer.

The West German government said Eisenhower would be greeted with a 21-gun artillery salute when his Boeing 77 jet lands at nearby Wann Airfield Wednesday. Adenauer and most of his cabinet will be on hand to greet Eisenhower and Herter.

THE 3 SURVIVING STONE BROTHERS

The future plans of the three Stone brothers, pictured above at Highland General Hospital, were not certain today. They were the survivors of Sunday morning's tragic fire at the Gilking Apartments in which their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stone, a sister and two brothers died. Above, left to right, are Russell, 17; Norman, 12; and Leslie, 14.

'We'll Stick Together If Possible,' Say Stone Boys

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

"We sure want to stay together, that's the way daddy would have wanted it," whispered a brave 14-year-old Leslie Stone this morning, only three hours before he and his two brothers, Russell and Norman Ray, were to attend the 2 p.m. funeral of their parents, two brothers and a sister.

The three dark blond headed boys, all with a light trace of freckles across the bridge of their noses and dressed in blue jeans, were visibly shaken as they spoke.

"My hand is okay, it doesn't hurt much," spoke the oldest, 17-year-old Russell who'll be a senior in high school this fall. "No sir, my foot isn't bothering me much either," said the youngest, 12-year-old Norman Ray.

It was easy to see the real pain was not physical for the gallant young Stone boys. The big ache was in their heart. All three will never forget the pre-dawn hours of Aug. 23 when a flash fire swept almost without warning through the Gilking Apartments here, claiming the lives of five family members.

Dead in the sudden holocaust were: their dad, Lewis R. Stone, 42; their mom, Christine Stone, 41; a sister, Betty, 20; and two brothers, Gary, 15, and Kenneth, 8.

"We're going to sit down tomorrow and decide what we'll do about staying together," Leslie said this morning at the home of his aunt, Mrs. A. E. Poole, 1120 Juniper. Leslie and Norman Ray had just returned from a sad shopping trip with relatives. They had bought new clothes to wear to the mass five-casket funeral.

"Maybe we'll all go live with uncle Pee, Wes (C. H. Wortley) in Perryton," informed Leslie. The uncle, an employee of Producers Chemical in Perryton spoke out. "I've got two little girls, but I'd sure like to have all three of these fine boys come live with me, if that's their desire. I'll find a way to provide for them. I'd work like a horse to do all I could for them."

"We all want to finish high school, even if it means working extra hard. Daddy always wanted us to get a good education and even hoped we could all go on to college someday. Russell may join the Navy when he graduates from high school, but he'd still like to go on to college later. We've all got good strong wills, and we'll find a way," stated Leslie, sounding much older than his 14 years.

"You can tell the people of Pampa for us, they're the nicest bunch of folks we've ever run into. They've got hearts of gold. They (the citizens of Pampa) can't know how much we appreciate all the money and clothes they've given us," exclaimed Leslie.

At noon today the KHHH "Operation Good Neighbor" drive had netted $4,400 and almost 4,000 pounds of clothing. Memory Gardens donated five grave plots, and the Red Cross had also received some money.

Bob Blackburn, Red Cross field representative from Amarillo has been in town the past two days interviewing families and assisting them in making applications for Red Cross assistance and other benefits.

Mr. Stone as a veteran, is eligible for veterans benefits. Besides the three boys who escaped the fiery Gilking Apartments early Sunday morning, another daughter, Mrs. Bobby Ray Braley of Dallas, survives.

"We can't be sure how we'll end up. We hope to remain together, but maybe two of us, Norman and myself will have to go live in Dallas for a few years," Leslie said.

"That Dallas is just too big a town," added Norman.

"We've always been together, daddy always saw to that. And he saw to it we were always happy too, related a sad-faced Leslie.

While the Stone boys were making ready for the 2 p.m. funeral, Pampa police and firemen continued their search for the bodies of the missing Stone boys.

Red Carpet Treatment Due Like By West German Heads

By WELLINGTON LONG

BONN, Germany (UPI) — West German leaders today were preparing a tumultuous welcome for President Eisenhower when he arrives here Wednesday on a visit they hailed as a demonstration of U. S. determination to defend West Germany's interests in his talks with the Soviet Union.

Government officials said the President, who arrives for a 24-hour stay, would receive a welcome exceeding the pro-American demonstration that welcomed Secretary of State Christian Herter on his visit to West Berlin five weeks ago.

Eisenhower was the supreme commander of the great Allied force that gave Germany its most disastrous military defeat 14 years ago, but he returns Wednesday as the protector of freedom from Communism in the Western half of the nation.

Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will discuss the problems of dealing with Communism for 6 1/2 hours, beginning at mid-morning Thursday.

Was Noise

Sonic Boom!

The sudden loud thud heard all over Pampa shortly before 1 p. m. Monday is believed by officials to have been a "sonic boom."

Police, sheriff's and fire departments received several phone calls from anxious citizens regarding the loud "blast sound," but no emergency was reported to the law enforcement officials.

One caller stated he had seen the sun glint off a jet high in the sky immediately following the loud boom.

MURDERED WIDOW, 72

ATLANTA (UPI) — Larry Lord Motherwell, 43, charged with the murder of a 72-year-old prominent Washington, D.C., widow, was captured without a struggle early today by the FBI at Atlanta Airport just as he was about to board a plane for Cleveland.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, announced in Washington that Motherwell, sought for four days in a nation-wide search, was captured. The FBI in Atlanta said Motherwell was unarmed and offered no resistance.

Motherwell was living in Atlanta under the alias, Craig D. Foster, the FBI said.

Prank Rocks Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Two teen-aged brothers unaware of the tense school situation here exploded a homemade firecracker Monday night a foot from integrated Hall High School.

They said the explosion was a prank, they just wanted to hear the noise it would make.

There was no damage except for a scorched patch of ground. The brothers told police they had just returned from Formosa, and that their father was being transferred by the Air Force to a base in the United States.

The explosive brought all the police cars in town to the school, in Little Rock's most expensive neighborhood, but there was no damage.

Hall High, where three Negro girls attend classes with about 700 white students, is one of two integrated high schools here. Two Negroes attend Central High.

There has been no major incident since Aug. 12, when police and firemen drove away about 350 persons who tried an anti-integration march on Central High.

Assistant Chief of Police R. E. Glasscock said police cars arrived shortly after the blast. Glasscock said police saw two youths running behind the school and collared them. He said both had wet trousers, indicating they had been hiding in tall grass.

Both boys, the names of whom police declined to disclose, were kept in the Pulaski (Little Rock) county jail Monday night. Police said they expected to arrest a third youth today.

The two boys, aged 13 and 17, said they were not residents of Little Rock. They said they and their parents were visiting relatives here en route from Formosa to an air base in Missouri. They said their fathers were in the Air Force and were being transferred.

The "bomb" left a scorched spot in the gravel next to the east wall of the modernistic school building. It was made of various chemicals including aluminum phosphate, police said.

The Rev. William E. West, rector, announced today that the group will bring its version of "The Great Divorce" by C. S. Lewis here for the one-night stand.

The players will appear at 8 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 7 at the Episcopal Church, located at the corner of Ward and Browning.

The performance will be financed by the combined use of offering and patron ticket donations. The performance will be open to the public.

"The Great Divorce," which will be played here, concerns the eternal separation of Heaven and Hell.

The Bishop's Company was formed in Los Angeles, Calif., in 1952. It is committed to the full time ministry of drama in the churches of America. Most of the actors left the security of jobs or established careers to pioneer in this movement.

The first years were difficult but with the help and encouragement of many, the group met with increasing success everywhere.

The players are housed and fed by members of local congregations.

Armed Robbery Charges Filed

Three men connected with the robbery Sunday morning of two other Pampa men, have each been charged with armed robbery. Police Chief Jim Conner reported today.

Complaints against all three men were filed by the robbery victims, John C. Edge, 35, of the Barnett Rooms, and Gene Baker, 24, 123 E. Campbell.

Edge and Baker were held-up at gunpoint Sunday morning in an alleyway behind the Legion Drive-In on S. Gray St. Their losses were set at from $19 to $28.

Fire Zone Created Along Highway 60

By MARVIN OLSEN

Ordinance 528, creating a fire zone along both sides of U.S. 60 where the highway bisects Pampa, was passed on first reading this morning by the City Commission.

The ordinance also clarifies a fire zone set up along Crescent Drive in the North Crest addition.

In essence a fire zone requires that all new construction be built to meet certain rigid building qualifications. Buildings already within the newly-created zone would not be obligated to come up to fire zone standards.

The Commission today also approved a plat of the Terra Alta addition, Terra Alta, actually a re-plate of the Engler-Buckley addition, extends from 18th St. to Decatur, and from Banks to Nelson Streets.

Additional Developer Reno Stinson had been told a week ago to clear away certain problems connected with the re-plate before the Commission could approve the plat. Stinson this morning said all the problems had been ironed out.

In other business the Commission approved Ordinance 537 on second reading which pertains to the annexation of a section of the Country Club Heights addition.

The meeting ended with the naming of several persons who will be called upon to fill vacancies on Pampa's Traffic Commission. Named were James Hart, who will serve as chairman; Bob Banks, Claude Wilson, E. E. Shelhammer, Max Hukill, Don Connolly, and George Thut or Buster Higdon.

Next meeting of the Traffic Commission has been set for next Tuesday night at 8 in the City Hall.

Five Hurt In Collision

AMARILLO (UPI) — A gasoline truck ran out of gas on a hill on U.S. Highway 287 early today and five persons in the same family were injured when its driver started to back it down the hill.

There was no fire. Donald Arrington, 34, of Grapevine, Tex., was in critical condition with head injuries today at St. Anthony's Hospital here. His wife, 29, and his 2-year-old son, Donald, were in fair condition. Hurt less seriously were two other sons, Robert, 10, and Larry, 1. A fourth child, Sherry, 4, was not injured.

Highway patrolmen said the truck swerved over into the northbound lane of the highway as its driver backed down the hill and Arrington's car slammed into it. The crash occurred about 2:45 a. m.

Ike Leaves For Cold War Front

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporters
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower set up a busy White House schedule today before leaving by jet plane during the night for 10 days on the cold war front of West Europe.
 Eisenhower was expected to spell out the hopes and aims of his high-speed journey at a news conference today. He will take off from Andrews Air Force Base outside the nation's capital at 4 a.m., e.d.t. Wednesday, bound first for Bonn, the seat of the West German government where he will meet with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.
 Later this week and early next week, the Chief Executive will confer with the leaders of Great Britain and France.
 Eisenhower leaves behind him some high stakes in Congress represented in legislation still unpassed and which he regards as vital. He called in Republican congressional leaders today for a detailed review of the legislative situation.
 The duration of Eisenhower's stay in Europe will depend in part on how close Congress is to adjournment by late next week. This was one of the items he wanted to discuss with GOP leaders. If Congress seems likely to adjourn before Labor Day, Sept. 7, the President was expected to return to Washington Sept. 4.
 On the other hand, if the House and Senate seem likely to stay in session beyond Labor Day, the President might fly to Scotland before leaving for a brief grousing holiday after he concludes his meetings in France with President Charles de Gaulle. Their conferences are scheduled to end the night of Sept. 3.

BOYS Cigarette Was Given Inmate

 used to investigate the Sunday inferno, thought to have been ignited by a carelessly tossed cigarette.
 The fire began in the northwest basement apartment of Thomas Lewis, 32, who remained in Highland General Hospital today, in good condition from smoke inhalation.
 Lewis admitted to police and fire investigators Sunday and a gain Monday he had been drinking Saturday night and took a taxi home from downtown hotel after spending several hours in a local tavern.
 He awoke shortly before 2 a.m. to find a chair in his room on fire. Attempts to put it out with a pan of water secured from a rest room at the south end of the building and by beating the flames that had spread to a near by wall with his shirt failed.
 Pampa Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said this morning, "I haven't found anybody who says Lewis threw them out a window or anybody he saved." Reports in an area newspaper Monday pictured Lewis as almost a hero of the blaze for his "daring" efforts to save some of the apartment tenants from the fire. Winborne stated this morning that such information was false and that there was no evidence whatsoever that Lewis helped "save" anyone.
 Winborne also said the back door leading off a balcony which had a metal stairway going down to the ground was apparently locked, but broken open by Mrs. Sarah Hatfield, the apartment building manager.
 Winborne said Mrs. Hatfield told him, "Mrs. Stone asked that the door onto the balcony and leading to the back stairway be locked, to keep her youngest boy from running up and down on the balcony and bothering other tenants."
 Winborne also offered stiff warning to Pampa citizens with two story houses or buildings to "make sure you have some way of escape from the second story, even if it's only a rope ladder. You just can't be too careful when it comes to preventing a fire. The least thing you might expect can cause a terrible blaze such as the one we had at the Gliking Apartments."

Cigarette Was Given Inmate

TOMS RIVER N. J. (UPI)—A prison trusty confessed today that he handed a deranged inmate a lighted cigarette shortly before an explosion and fire gutted the county jail killing eight inmates who were trapped inside.
 Assistant Ocean County Prosecutor Thomas Muccifori disclosed Monday night that the deranged inmate, General Peterson of Philadelphia, had been given a highly-inflammable solution of paralytic, a tranquilizer with an ether base, about the same time.
 Muccifori theorized that Peterson, 35, described as a frequent drunk with "a tendency to tear things apart," may have thrown the tranquilizer solution against the side of his padded cell and then lit it with the cigarette.
 Sheriff Harry Roe questioned trusty Buenos White, 29, of Lakewood, N. J., all night and announced early today that White had signed a statement admitting he had given Peterson a cigarette.
 Prosecutor Howard Kwarz said White had done nothing criminal. "It was an act of kindness," Kwarz said, but he "gave it to the wrong guy."
 Roe criticized White for handing Peterson the cigarette but said the use of the tranquilizer solution was standard practice in the case of inmates who get out of hand.
 Despite the new disclosures, investigation into the cause of Sunday's explosion and fire in the greatly overcrowded jail continued. The two-story jail housed 65 inmates although it was built to accommodate only 28.
 The dead included Peterson and seven inmates who suffocated in an adjoining cell. Fifteen other prisoners were injured.

Flower Show
Judging Topic
At Garden Club

Pampa Garden Club met Monday in the home of Mrs. A. J. Mitchell, 1529 Williston.

A panel discussion was conducted by Mrs. V. N. Osborn and her daughter, Mrs. Thelma Bray on the topic "Flower Show Judging."

In the form of questions and answers, they discussed points learned by Mrs. Bray while attending a judging school in Amarillo recently.

It was announced that the September meeting will be held on the 21st starting off with a Coffee in the home of Mrs. H. H. Boynton, 1835 S. Hobart, followed by a tour

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. V. writes, "My divorced husband wants both our children at his remarriage. He's even asked me to let our 15-year-old boy go as an usher. I've hardly slept since getting his letter. The children were upset by the divorce. Why can't he see how cruel he is to demand this of them?"

Why all the concern for the children's feelings, Mrs. V.? Do you feel any rage of your own at this final repudiation of you?

Are you trying to be awfully civilized and "understanding"? If so, you expect a lot of yourself. Old China's aristocracy were very civilized people. Yet I have a Chinese friend whose parents never spoke to each other after his father took a concubine.

Few women have jumped for joy when their children's father took another wife. Why do you have to pretend your anger is for the children instead of for yourself?

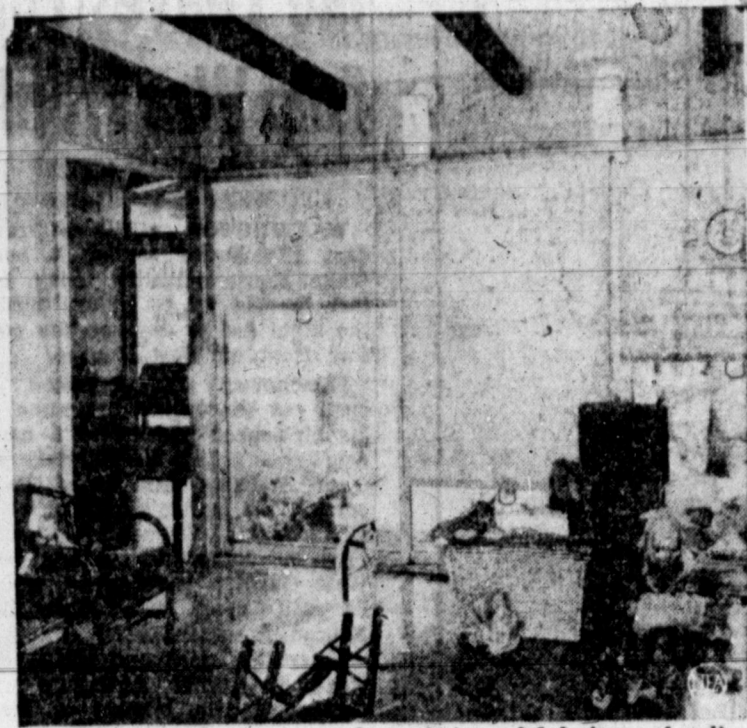

It represents a wish for love, Mrs. V. Even in its frustrated form, it's not a feeling to be ashamed of. If some phony moral value is forbidding you to feel it, it will keep howling at the door of your consciousness just as a neglected baby will keep you awake by howling for your attention and acceptance.

To open ourselves to an anger we have denied gives peace. In the place of the strained pride that has forced us to pretend we're above jealousy and hurt and discouragement, we feel dignity—a sudden new sense of completeness.

We may suddenly burst into tears of release from the awful obligation to be what we are not, and parade saintly patience before our children so that they won't be inconvenienced by the discovery that we are a hurt, angry, discouraged human being.

As our anger becomes part of us, our problem dissolves itself. We call the children to us and say, "Daddy wants you both to see him get married. You, Hill, he wants for an usher. I don't like the idea. But I have feelings about his getting married again that you couldn't possibly have. So try to figure out what yours are and make your decision. Daddy certainly seems to want you with him very much."

But if we orphan our anger as shameful, we'll speak hatefully of their father to them. Not because he hates them but because we hate the enemy in ourselves that won't let us be what we are.

This family room is not very large, but careful design makes it seem spacious. Good planning makes it a delightful place to be.

Feeling Of Spaciousness Gained
By Artful Design; Not Footage

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If you're adding a family room to your home, high construction costs will prompt you to look for ways to make actual dimensions seem bigger. A feeling of spaciousness is often achieved by artful design rather than added footage.

One way this is accomplished is through the use of sliding window walls which open a room to the outdoors and draw light and air inside. Use of light, neutral color for walls and floors adds to the illusion of space. Horizontal beamed ceilings also fool the eye into seeing a room wider than it actually is.

Perhaps as important for a family room as the feeling of spaciousness is that it functions efficiently for the uses to which it will be put.

An example of a small family room which looks charming and spacious even though it takes hard wear from small children is in the home of a friend of mine.

The room is planned so that the children can play happily. It is adjacent to the outdoor patio and yard but toys and the residue of play can be put quickly out of sight when the room is needed for grown-up entertaining.

Sliding window walls lead to the partially sheltered patio which gives the effect of an extension of the room. Furnishings indoors and out are co-ordinated in color and style—wicker and rattan are used because of their durability, low cost and handsome appearance.

To control the sunlight and for privacy when needed, window shades in a textured print are used and draperies are not needed. The shades, which are white outside and printed with a straw-like texture inside, are made of vinyl-coated cotton for easy cleaning. Instead of regular pulls, bamboo rings make strong and decorative pulls.

A natural light finish keeps wood paneled walls subdued and harmonized with a vinyl color floor in the natural cork color. Beams in the ceiling however are stained a darker shade to emphasize the width of the room. For sound control, white acoustic tiles are set between each beam.

Bright red rattan chairs offer gay contrast and other wicker accessories spark the simple decor. Big, good-looking wicker baskets offer hiding space for the multitude of toys without injecting a nursery room atmosphere. An amusing "sun" face in wicker hangs in front of the window.

As the homemaker who lives here points out, there are many clever wicker or bamboo accessories such as wind chimes, bird cages, figures and so on which are most inexpensive but do add gaiety and an original touch to an essential simple room. Everything in the room, too, is planned for speedy cleaning.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Is there any help state. She called asking me to for us Grandmas? I raised eight take her $ for all summer. I said, children. My youngest is 14. My children keep sending me their I am tired. Take care of your own kids for vacations. It makes no difference how I am feeling or what I have to do.

This year I turped over a new leaf. One daughter-in-law wrote that she was sending me all seven of her kids for 3 weeks. I wrote back, "Oh, no you aren't. You have a mother and 3 sisters. I will take part of them but not all seven at once."

My daughter lives in another

RUTH MILLETT

Before a wife with young children takes a job outside her home, she ought to ask herself a few important questions.

Am I doing everything possible to make ends meet on the salary my husband earns? She probably isn't if she doesn't know how to make over clothes, cook nutritious meals without depending on the more expensive foods, or if she frequently makes "bad buys" because she is an impulsive shopper, and if she has never bothered to keep track of expenses so that she knows exactly where the money goes. Many a housewife wouldn't need to take on an outside job if she were a better manager.

Will my being a job holder as well as a housewife handicap my husband in making progress? Many a husband's ambition has been dampened by having his wife decide that she has to help him earn a living.

Can I find someone to look after the children who will be as responsible as their own mother?

How much will I actually earn after deducting all the expenses connected with a job outside the home, such as lunches, carfare, child care, a working wardrobe, and the cost of hiring things done that I could do myself if I weren't working?

How does my husband feel about my going to work?

How do my children feel about my leaving them with someone else?

Am I thinking of going to work because it is actually a necessity or because a job in an office is easier than doing housework and looking after children all day long?

If more mothers put these questions to themselves and answered them honestly, there would be fewer working mothers.

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-ager. I have already had my polio shots and my mother, who is 33, has taken hers, too. But my father said he wasn't going to take any because polio does not strike people after their late thirties.

Is he right about this or not? I think I read where a man 42 years old got polio.

WORRIED ABOUT DAD

DEAR WORRIED: Your father is mistaken. Polio has stricken thousands of adults in their thirties, forties and even fifties. Tell your dad if he loves his family he will get his polio shots immediately.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to marry a boy who works on the second shift. He is 25 and I am 21. He never sees me on a Saturday night. He tells me he is working but he will not give me any proof. Like showing his check stubs. He complains about not having any money from one pay check to another, but if he works on Saturdays he should get time and a half.

AM I WRONG IN WANTING PROOF that he is not lying? What should I do?

WANTING PROOF is fishy! A truthful man could easily prove his statements. Get this Romeo out of the moonlight and take a good look at him in the daylight before you promise to spend the rest of your life with him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STEVE: If you have a "honeymoon salad" in mind, you'd better start a bank account. You are shelling out too much lettuce to go with the tomatoes.

What's your problem? For a personal reply to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"BEACH LUAU"

Want to spend a whole day at beach or lake, even breakfast time? Then take a tip from the people who live in the sun all year 'round, and cook and eat your breakfast outdoors right at the scene.

Of course, have a little something to eat very early in the morning before you start, perhaps juice, cereal and coffee. After you arrive at the shore, make the main part of your morning meal outdoors, like a Hawaiian "luau" or native feast. Then you'll still have lots of sunny hours before you.

Here's an easy menu for your cook-outdoors breakfast:

Grilled Individual Steaks with Grilled Bananas Peel Coconut-Topped Rolls Campfire Cocoa

Get the coals going, set the steaks to sizzling, put on maple-dripped bananas in their peel—and a wonderful feast is under way with the very least work imaginable.

The liquid sweetener for your beach breakfast, maple-blended syrup gives an exotic glaze to the bananas and enhances their flavor in a new way.

The rolls can be glazed with maple-blended syrup and topped with coconut slices before the breakfast, and then just barely heated in aluminum foil at the coolest part of the grill. Conveniently enough, the cocoa is made at the scene with portable milk—that's rich, evaporated milk that comes in cans—and since you've got your maple blended syrup along with you to make the bananas, use it to sweeten the cocoa, too. It's a delicious outdoors treat.

Bananas Grilled in Peel Take a banana that has all-yellow or slightly green-tipped peel. That's because a less-ripe banana will stay firm during cooking. With a knife, make a lengthwise slit in the banana peel. Lifting the slit peel just a little with knife or fingers, drizzle in a little maple-blended syrup all along the slit. Now put the banana to grill on a grate over the glowing coals. The peel will turn black. The fruit inside will develop an extra-delicious, mellow flavor everyone will like. To eat the fruit, you just pull aside the peel and with a fork or spoon, eat the cooked fruit inside.

Campfire Cocoa
4 tablespoons cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups water
1 tall can (1 1/4 cups) evaporated milk
1/4 cup maple-blended syrup
Combine cocoa and salt in campfire pot. Add water and bring to a boil, stirring constantly with long spoon. Simmer 2 minutes on back of grill (away from the hottest coals). Stir in evaporated milk and maple-blended-syrup. Bring to serving temperature but do not boil. Yield: 4 servings.

Walter Rogers Reports

Hawaii To Have Two Senators, One Representative In U.S.

Last week the eight large islands of the Hawaiian archipelago officially became the 50th state of the United States of America. Since the Hawaiian archipelago is not joined geographically to continental America, the term U.S.A. would not be exactly right. However, viewing it from a political standpoint we feel the term is correct because Hawaii wants to be that way. Hence, there will be no need for a change of that name. The new state will be represented by two new Senators and one new Representative. Their names are Long, Fong, and Inouye.

I have not had the pleasure of meeting the Senators, but I have had several long visits with Daniel Inouye, who is the new Representative. He is a very good friend of my good friend John Burns. John Burns is the former Hawaiian Delegate who piloted the Hawaiian statehood bill through the Congress. Although I vigorously opposed the measure granting statehood to Hawaii, Burns and I remained good friends and I sincerely hope we will continue to be. My opposition to the measure was based upon the political and economic problems involved and not upon personalities or emotional disturbances. Since the Congress has elected to admit Hawaii, it is my desire and my intention to do everything in my power to help it become a great state.

Inouye is of Japanese descent.

He served as a second lieutenant with the famed Hawaiian 42nd Infantry Regiment in World War II. He won the Distinguished Service Cross and fourteen other citations. He single-handedly neutralized two enemy machine gun nests at the cost of his left arm and wounds over other parts of his body. He is most popular in Hawaii and will prove to be so in the Congress.

Senator Long was born in Altoona, Pa., on March 4, 1888. He has served in the school system of Hawaii, as Director of Public Welfare, Secretary of Hawaii and Governor.

The other Senator, Yau Leong Fong, is of Chinese descent, a self-made millionaire and a former legislator on the local scene, having served in the legislature of Hawaii.

The people of Hawaii feel they have three able Representatives in Long, Fong, and Inouye, and that the combination of Long to Fong to Inouye may prove as effective in the legislative halls as the combination of Tinker to Evers to Chance proved on the baseball diamond.

Equal Time

The House last week passed the Equal Time bill. Under the Communications Act, any radio or TV station permitting a candidate for public office to appear on their facilities is required to afford equal time to other contestants in that race. This provision in the law had been under fire for a long time from the TV and radio industry. Many in these groups wanted to repeal the section outright. This would leave it to the discretion of TV and radio operators as to how they would handle political appearances.

This could not be done without opening the door to possibilities of abuse and fraud, and resulting scandals which could shake the industry more than the revelations of what had been going on behind the scenes in some of the bureaus in Washington. The whole matter came to a head when a perennial candidate in Chicago insisted he

Explosive Charge Could Return Astronaut To Earth

DALLAS (UPI)—An explosive charge that can blast a cockpit out of a plane as quickly and cleanly as a hot knife cuts butter may start America's first astronaut on the last leg of his journey back to earth.

The development of such a tailor-made charge is the latest goal of scientists at Chance Vought Aircraft, Inc., of Dallas.

Vought recently won a Navy contract to develop a "shaped" explosive charge suitable for projecting a pilot-cockpit and all from a disabled plane or for releasing an astronaut from a space vehicle.

Steel Could Reach 94 Per Cent Capacity

CLEVELAND (UPI)—If the strike ends by Oct. 1, fourth quarter steel operations will reach a peak of 94 per cent capacity.

That prediction was made Monday by Steel Magazine, the metalworking weekly. The magazine said major market will be as strong as they were in the first half and rails, the only weak item, will trend upward, as will output of capital equipment.

The ingot rate may reach its highest point of the year in November or December, but fourth quarter operations probably won't average as high as the second quarter's 91.8 per cent of capacity. Steelmakers will need at least three weeks to get production over the 90 per cent mark.

A survey by the industry weekly showed that more than half of metalworking purchasing agents say they have enough steel to last until October or longer. But the survey also showed that 47 per cent of the buyers may have problems before that time and 18 per cent have supplies for less than three weeks.

Bazooka Utilized Principle

The principle of a shaped charge was used in World War II for the famous "Bazooka," a highly effective anti-tank weapon. Earlier, the same method was used by miners who wanted to direct a blast at a particular small area.

Vought's development, called "Operation Safety Razor," uses shaped charges to cut through a specific section of the aircraft, freeing the cockpit rapidly for a safe descent by parachute. Using the shaped explosive, aircraft manufacturers could avoid additional weight and enjoy more freedom of design in their airplanes.

The shaped charge principle was discovered in the 1880s. It utilizes the fact that a cavity in a block of explosive concentrates the blast force in a small area.

Charge Placed In Trough

In the Vought development, the explosive is placed in three-sided strips of metal of varying lengths. A V-shaped strip of copper then is pressed into the explosive under high pressure to seal the open side. Tests have shown that such shaped charges can cut through heavy structural members and aircraft ribs of the F-101 Crusader with the cleanliness of a knife.

The blast would in no way endanger the pilot, who would barely notice it. Since he would remain in his pressurized cockpit, he would be protected from the tornado wind blasts of ordinary high-speed ejection, as well as from the freezing cold and low pressure of high altitudes.

With its advantages over the shotgun ejection methods now in use in jet aircraft, the shaped charge—well-proven in America's first space traveler into the last leg of his journey home—in a snug capsule floating to earth from the upper reaches of the atmosphere.

Inventories Vary Widely

Inventory situations vary widely among steel users as the strike dragged on. Maytag Co., Newton, Iowa, reported it had enough to last well into the fourth quarter. On the other hand, A. O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee, began laying off employees 10 days ago because of plate shortages. Rivet manufacturers can last another 60 to 90 days, but many consumers of galvanized steel already are in trouble.

Direct losses to the steel industry continue to pile up. The total cost through Aug. 24 was estimated at $2,136,400,000. Lost sales amounting to $1,218,000,000 and lost wages amounting to $416,400,000 led the cost list.

But with five weeks of the strike on record, industry observers still see no serious threat to the nation's economy. Shipments of goods other than coal, coke, ore and steel mill products have remained strong.

Power Output High

Output of electric power has been setting weekly records. The automotive sector is entering a perfectly normal model change-over operation with no ill effects from the steel strike.

Steelmaking operations last week held at 12 per cent of capacity. Production was about 340,000 ingot tons.

The magazine's scrap price composite on the No. 1 melting grade remained at $38.33 a gross ton last week. Consensus is that the price will not decline much below current levels for at least two months after settlement of the strike.

The metalworking weekly reported that German steel executives see no permanent sales advantage from the U.S. strike. They fear, instead, it will have a depressive and deflationary influence. German steel production now is at a monthly rate of 2.5 million tons, a record annual pace of 30 million tons.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Internal Revenue agents seized 18,900 gallons of moonshine liquor in July and arrested 800 bootleggers operating 480 stills, the Treasury Department reported Sunday.

North Carolina was the best hunting ground for the agents. They closed 167 stills and arrested 214 persons in the state.

Pan-Am Games Open Thursday

CHICAGO (UPI) — The man who will direct the destiny of the United States in the 1960 summer Olympic games in Rome predicted today the U.S. will win a minimum of 11 of the 27 team titles in the Pan American Games opening Thursday.

Pro Gridders All Escape Bad Injuries

Apparently most of the National Football League teams came out of last week-end's exhibition play without any serious injuries.

George Halas, Chicago Bears' owner-coach, has stepped-up practice sessions for today and Wednesday before the squad pushes off for Houston, Tex., for a Saturday game with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Halas reported his squad in "good shape" after last Saturday's victory over the Philadelphia Eagles at Lynn, Mass.

The champion Baltimore Colts who whipped the New York Giants in the Cotton Bowl last Friday, were back at their training base in Westminster, Md., prepping for a Friday night game with the Washington Redskins in Baltimore's Memorial Coliseum.

Del Schorner, who suffered a charley horse against the Redskins in Los Angeles last Friday night, will be ready to play again Saturday when the Rams meet the undefeated Chicago Cardinals at Los Angeles. The Rams enjoyed a day off Monday but are expected today to resume head knocking today.

The Detroit Lions cut five players from their roster, including Tom Rychel, who made the club last year after a year in the army. The other cut off were newcomers halfback Carl Smith of Tennessee, guard Harry Jacobs of Bradley, linebacker Jim Baldwin of Murray State and center Dan McGrew of Purdue.

Smith was the highest draft choice to be dropped. He was picked on the ninth round.

The Lions play the Giants in Detroit Friday night.

SUSPEND DESPIRITO

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Jockey Tony Despirito has been suspended for 15 days by Randall Park racing stewards for misjudging the finish line in last Saturday's $10,000 Buckeye Handicap.

Movies of the race showed Despirito rise in the saddle while riding Terra Firma in the stretch. Terra Firma finished second.

Ingemar Johansson Signs For Title Fight In 1960

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI) — Ingemar Johansson today signed to defend his world heavyweight championship in a return bout against Floyd Patterson in the United States during March and June 13, 1960. The date and site of the fight will be decided later.

The signing took place in the office of Johansson's attorney, Olof Ahlstedt, after two days of negotiations between Ingemar, his advisor, Edwin Ahlqvist, and representatives of Rosensohn Enterprises and Patterson Enterprises.

Before today's two sessions, Ahlqvist and Ahlstedt told reporters the bout probably would be staged in "Los Angeles in March." Ahlqvist listed Houston, Tex., as a reserve site.

Johansson, the smiling, handsome Swede who was in the driver's seat because he holds the heavyweight crown, signed after throwing a fight into Vincent J. Veilella, Irving B. Kahn, and Jack Dempsey of Rosensohn Enterprises.

The champion refused to sign during today's first meeting until changes were made in the contracts. A rival promoter also appeared, to add to the confusion. However, Johansson signed at the second meeting.

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion who was promotional director of Rosensohn

Harris Will Fight Bygraves Tonight

HOUSTON (UPI) — Roy Harris, the backwoods brawler from Cut N' Shoot, Tex., goes against former British Empire champion Joe Bygraves tonight in a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout in the Sam Houston Coliseum.

"That should give us tremendous impetus toward the games at Rome," said Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee. He added that he wasn't counting the U.S. completely out of the other 15 team titles to be decided here.

"All of the competing countries figure their teams are vastly improved over what they had at Mexico City in the last Pan American Games," Wilson continued. "But from talking to our coaches and other officials I'm confident that this is one of the strongest squads we ever have put together for international competition."

Wilson, basing his predictions from what U.S. coaches have told him, figured the U.S. would win both men's and women's track and field, both men's and women's basketball, yachting, boxing, baseball, men's and women's tennis, and men's and women's gymnastics.

Other nations are favored or co-favored with the U.S. in soccer, equestrian, both men's and women's fencing, water polo, yachting, rowing, shooting modern pentathlon, wrestling, women's volleyball, cycling, men and women's gymnastics and sheet.

However, Wilson believes the U.S. could upset the dope in rowing, yachting, and wrestling among others.

"After watching them workout and viewing their records, this is the strongest men's track team that's ever been put together by anybody at any place," Wilson declared. "I'd have to say that a large percentage of this team will be on our 1960 Olympic squad." He anticipated "perhaps a little trouble from Venezuela and British West Indies in the relay races, but that's all."

"Fred Schaus, our basketball coach, says this is the best basketball team we've ever fielded in international competition," Wilson went on. "It has good team size."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two girls from the state of Washington, defending champion Ann Quast of Maryville and Jo Ann Gunderson of Seattle, today led a field of 64 survivors into the second round of match play in the National Women's Amateur golf championship.

Miss Quast scored a 5 and 4 victory over Marge Burns of Greensboro, N. C., in the southlands top women amateur players.

Miss Gunderson, 20-year-old blonde who can outthrust anyone in the tournament by some 20 or 30 yards, whipped Mrs. George Patterson of Montreal, 5 and 4.

After the second 18-hole round today, two 18-hole rounds are scheduled Wednesday with the quarter-finals Thursday, semifinals Friday and the 36-hole final Saturday.

Miss Quast hopes to become the first since 1949 to win this 59-year-old tournament two straight years and experts concede her an excellent chance of doing just that.

Miss Quast Monday scored a 5 and 4 victory over Marge Burns of Greensboro, N. C., in the southlands top women amateur players.

Miss Gunderson, 20-year-old blonde who can outthrust anyone in the tournament by some 20 or 30 yards, whipped Mrs. George Patterson of Montreal, 5 and 4.

After the second 18-hole round today, two 18-hole rounds are scheduled Wednesday with the quarter-finals Thursday, semifinals Friday and the 36-hole final Saturday.

Enterprises by Veilella and Kahn so he could use his influence to get Johansson's signature on a contract, had almost given up hope. So had Kahn, who walked around the Park Avenue hotel looking as though he had just lost a million dollars. Then Ingemar dashed in and signed the contracts.

AT LEAST THEY COME TO FIGHT

Basilio, Fullmer Respect Each Other's Ring Ability

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer, the two young bulls who battle for the middleweight title at San Francisco Friday night, have much in common.

Both started boxing at the tender age of eight.

Each has similar slugging styles.

Each won and lost right back to Ray Robinson the now vacated title.

Both are happily married "home folks" who date on their children.

Each is an ardent hunter and fisherman.

Both are breeders.

But there the similarity ends. For while Fullmer raises mink, Basilio breeds hunting dogs.

"It is in a way," the story of the fight. Because come Friday the feeling in this corner is that it's going to be a bad night for the mink market and Fullmer well may feel like a future lady's furpiece harried by Basilio's beagle pack.

Friendly Enemies

Basilio and Fullmer are friendly "enemies." Each is highly complimentary of the other's courage and roughhouse ability. And this mutual admiration may be the reason why, although each lost the last duke to Robinson, both men voice the belief that this will be their toughest fight.

"I made just one mistake against Robinson the second time," Fullmer said today by telephone from San Francisco. "I let him hit me on the chin. It was the biggest error I ever made because anybody can knock you out with one shot if it lands just right."

Basilio, Fullmer contended, is not a one-punch stopper.

"But he'll be rougher than Robinson because he fights three minutes of every round while you have to chase Robinson for two and one-half minutes of every round," Basilio said.

Two Texas Girls Reach 2nd Round McKinley Will Play For Buffs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Texans entered the second round of the USGA Women's Amateur Golf Championship matches today after taking top slots in Monday's opener.

Miss Martha Painter of Corpus Christi edged Mrs. Grame Pyke of Montreal 1-up in 19 holes Monday to gain her position. Miss Sandra Haylie of Austin defeated Pasadena, Calif. golfer Eleanore Cranston, 8 and 6.

Two other Texans, Jeannie Butler of Harlingen and Polly Riley of Fort Worth lost opening matches against Sherry Wheeler of Glasgow, Ky., and Mrs. Paul Dye Jr. of Indianapolis respectively.

Gil Is Back--And Dodgers Know It!

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International

Gil Hodges is bashing that ball again, and this is one "nice guy" who could make the Los Angeles finish first.

With husky Hodges out of the regular lineup from July 23 to Aug. 23 with a severe ankle sprain, the Dodgers dropped from 1 1/2 games back of league-leading San Francisco to 4 1/2 games behind. But the one-time hero of Brooklyn is back now, and the Dodgers are starting to move upward.

Hodges stole the show even from strikeout pitcher Sandy Koufax Monday night when he drove in five runs to lead the Dodgers to an 8-2 win over the Philadelphia Phils.

It was a mighty big win for the Bums, because it snapped a three-game losing streak that had imperiled their pennant hopes, it boosted them into second place ahead of the Milwaukee Braves, and it moved them within 2 1/2 games of the Giants.

Friend Blinks Giants

The stage was set for Los Angeles to groove up when Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates blanked the Giants, 6-0, on 12 hits and young Bob Anderson of the Chicago Cubs blanked the Braves, 3-0, on six hits in the only other games played in the National League Monday.

In the only American League games, the Chicago White Sox boosted their league lead over idle Cleveland to two games by beating the New York Yankees, 4-2, and the Baltimore Orioles crushed Detroit, 11-0.

Hodges started the Dodgers on the road to victory when his bases-loaded single highlighted a four-run rally in the first inning against rookie Ed Keegan. He clinched the game in the second when he clouted a three-run homer, his 20th, also off Keegan.

Lefty Koufax fanned 13 Phillies in gaining the win. Eleven Dodgers also whiffed and that tied another record — the major league mark of 24 strikeouts by two teams in a nine-inning game.

Outduels Burdette

Friend fanned eight batters in beating the Giants—nailing "phenom" Willie McCovey three times, once with the bases loaded in the ninth. Rocky Nelson slammed two homers and a single to lead the Pirates' 13-hit attack, with starter Sam Jones of the Giants suffering the loss.

Anderson outduelled Lew Burdette to beat the Braves, George Altman scored the Cubs' first run in the first on Johnny Logan's error, Tony Taylor homered in the third, and Altman drove in the final run in the eighth with a single.

San Antonio punched the winning run across in the 14th to edge Corpus Christi, 3-2, with reliever Jimmy Brewer getting credit for the mound win after a two-inning stint.

Right-hander Tommy Bowers pitched brilliantly for Corpus Christi for 13 innings before he was lifted in the 14th. Verle Tiefenthaler, his successor, was charged with the mound loss. San Antonio could manage only 3 hits off Bowers and Tiefenthaler. Corpus Christi got 10 off five Mission pitchers.

Meanwhile, Austin dropped eight games behind league-leading Victoria by splitting a doubleheader with Amarillo. Charley Beamon checked Austin with six hits in pitching Amarillo to a 3-3 win in the opener.

Bill Thompson's grand slam homer in the eighth was the big blow as Austin won the nightcap, 5-3.

Tonight's games will have Amarillo at San Antonio, Austin at Victoria, and Tulsa at Corpus Christi.

Victoria broke a two-game losing streak by beating second-place Tulsa, 7-3, Monday night, but the clash between the Texas League leaders was overshadowed by Seattle's 3-0 win over Corpus Christi in a 14-inning marathon.

Victoria's win padded his lead over Tulsa to 6 1/2 games. Carroll Beringer went all the way for the Rosebuds, limiting Tulsa to seven scattered hits. The Rosebud pitcher was helped along by Bill Parson's two-run homer in the second

Luciana Paluzzi Brought To Hollywood For Teevee Series

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Shades of pizza and pasta food wait for you televiewers clamp your weary eyes on Movietown's newest Italian import—a lollapalooza named Luciana Paluzzi.

The first European beauty brought to Hollywood expressly for a TV series, Luciana is sexier than a trainload of lingerie.

Her black, snapping eyes, Italian hair and eye-wagging curves are scheduled to unhorse video's two biggest westerns, "Gunsmoke" and "Have Gun Will Travel." Her new hour-long show, "5 Fingers," will be pitted against the oaters come Oct. 5.

"They are the two top shows, no?" She asked in a glib, Paisano accent. "Then if we best them, we will be number one. That's good."

Not Nickname/Type

Luciana—she's not the kind of girl you'd call Lucy—originally was to play a one-shot role of slinky European spy in the series, but 20th Century-Fox producers took one look at the plot film and changed plans.

They increased the series to an hour in length and gave her co-star billing along with David Hedison who portrays a U.S. counter-intelligence agent.

"I play David's girl friend in the European tradition," she explained, adjusting the bodice of her dress. "It is not said exactly what our relationship is. But I travel all over the world with him, so I guess we will be the first TV couple living in sin."

Has Found Fiancee

"Or do people in America discuss such thing?"

Only six months in these palm tree climes, Luciana already has nailed herself a fiancee. He's actor Brett Halsey.

"We plan to be married Jan 25th," the little cutie said.

Why that particular date?

"Because Brett's divorce doesn't become final until the 24th. If we have enough time after that we will go to Rome to visit my parents. But we are going to make our home here in Hollywood."

Luciana, who's not yet 21, was a movie star in England, France, Germany and Italy before coming to Hepsal town for her TV series. She's anxious to return to movie-making.

Italian Girl Sexier

"This show is sold for 26 weeks," she smiled. "If it is a big hit they will make another 12. But I hope not. If they decide to make more I will go out and have a baby. After I'm married, of course."

Luciana is genuinely dedicated to uphold the tradition of such other Italian lovelies as Gina Lollobrigida and Sophia Loren, whom she greatly admires.

"The average Italian girl is sexier than the average American girl because we are not in competition with men for careers," she rattled on. "Many career women become hard and lose their femininity in this country."

"In Italy we concentrate on being girls and wives. This is a career in itself. We leave the competition to the men—and they like us better this way."

MANAGER AT WORK—When the Dodgers' scoring fell off, Walter Alston pitched batting practice from behind the protective screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum. Alston was nicknamed Smokey because he threw so hard as a young pitcher, later played first base in minors.

More Uniform Production of Quality Seed Wheat

C. G. Richardson, owner and operator of Richardson Seed Co., produces high quality, high germination seed wheat.

Mr. Richardson says: "We watch all of the things that will give us higher quality seed—both grain sorghum and wheat. For example, we have a clean farm, free of weeds. We use the latest and best cleaning and handling equipment."

"And," he continued, "we use Phillips 66 Ammonia to give us more uniform and higher quality yields of seed wheat. We apply 100 pounds of ammonia pre-plant on wheat land; and we plow down 125 pounds of ammonia in the fall on our maize land."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Hospital Costs Spiral Five Per Cent Each Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hospital costs at an all-time high will continue to spiral at about 5 per cent a year, the new president of the American Hospital Assn. said today.

To assure the public that its hospital bill "isn't being padded," Dr. Russell A. Nelson of Baltimore, also said he favors a "bank examiner" system for hospitals across the nation.

It is understandable that "the public will resist further increases in hospital costs," Dr. Nelson, director of Johns Hopkins Hospital, explained during an interview as the 61st annual meeting of the AHA convened in New York.

That is why, he said, the bank-examiner system, "functioning something like the Good House-keeping Seal of Approval, would help to clear the air."

It would be "one more guarantee," he said, that people aren't "being charged twice for something they get once."

"Let's face it," he said, "most hospital bills read like a Chinese treaty—and people mistrust them."

Returning to the bigger pain in the pocketbook in months and years ahead, Dr. Nelson said that three forces are bound to boost hospital costs.

They are: Bigger salaries for non-professional workers, inflation, and advances in medical science.

The latter, he said, will mean more intense and costlier care. Inflation, he stated, can't be dodged in a hospital any more than it can in any other field.

Sure Delinquents

The police department of Houston, Texas has issued a leaflet called "Twelve Rules for Raising Delinquent Children."

- 1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe that the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up "cuter" phrases that will blow off the top of your head later.
3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him "decide for himself."
4. Avoid use of the word, "wrong." It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later when he is arrested for stealing a car that society is against him and he is being persecuted.
5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around - books, shoes, and clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.
6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage.
7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later.
8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?
9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink, and comfort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.
10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.
11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything for him."
12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be likely to have it.

False Philosophy

In the past five years the Internal Revenue Code has been amended by Congress in 703 particular. Despite these changes in technicalities, the basic inequities remain to plague all of us. There is no basic rate change; no basic reduction in taxation; no shift in the burden. As a matter of fact, the particulars have added to rather than subtracted from the overall burden.

The fact of the case is that if a policy of "soak-the-rich" is to be revived in vogue, this means that our ability as free men to expand our productivity is enormously encumbered. All business and industry relies upon accumulations of capital for the purchase of the tools of production. If such accumulations are grabbed by the tax man before they are productively employed, it follows that they will not be productively employed. This can have only one result. There will be less production to reduce the jobs and, in the end, smaller sums of money going into the treasury department's coffers.

The enormous problem resulting from these repeated efforts to "do something" about our crippling taxes, lies in a false philosophy which has so generally been accepted by men in Congress as to require little examination from this source. Congress has, in the main, concluded that a "soak-the-rich" philosophy is morally sound and financially meritorious. Additionally, Congress has concluded that virtually everything to be undertaken by the government as a "project" is, ipso facto, correct. If we take these two points of view and adhere to them, then anything resembling a reasonable change in the taxing laws becomes impossible. Present taxing laws are based upon these false notes.

Comments Concerning United States Government

Phillip Lee Eubank, Box 8181, San Antonio 12, Texas, recently sent out four pages of mimeographed writing under the heading of "Comments Concerning". Seems to me they are comments concerning our federal government and "We, The People", the first three words of the United States Constitution.

Mr. Eubank has been attempting to find the truth as to the difference between a government and an agent. He starts out by apologizing for his former beliefs. He says: "This writer has lost a few false beliefs and apologizes for having helped perpetrate the fraud of 'Constitutional intent' and 'States' Rights'."

Regarding how sincere people may be in their false beliefs, they are none the less sincerely wrong. Then Mr. Eubank comments as follows: "Now let us note a few things we instinctively feel are right or wrong despite the fact that we have been brainwashed to think otherwise. Man-government is a dangerous institution, and history proves it. Why don't we believe the truth of history instead of the lie that we must have government instead of agency to administer our public affairs?"

"All other business of men is done on the principle of agency, and that was the principle in the First Constitution, the Articles of Confederation, and was the only thing new introduced in America for handling public affairs. The Second Constitution substituted government for agency and put the people right back under man-government from which they had just escaped. Was it because the people wanted something to worship and be ruled by, or were they tricked?"

"Because many political terms are not generally understood, it can not be too strongly urged that every citizen learn everything possible about government (the state), taxes, and especially that completely misunderstood thing called law; so they will not be tricked again. From different quarters there are movements afoot to give the United States a new Constitution. An agency Constitution is needed, but not more of the same man-government. We trust our comments, quotes and definitions will be helpful to meet situations as they arise."

"THE STATE: When used politically, 'the state' usually means 'the government.' A 'State' or 'States' usually means 'the territory governed.' It is in those senses that the terms are used herein. William Graham Sumner wrote: 'The state (or government) is the greatest monopoly of all; it can brook no rival or colleague in its domain; it is necessarily sole and supreme.'"

"GOVERNMENT: Tom Anderson wrote in April 1959 from Ranch: 'The greatest enemy of man is war, and always has been, and always will be, the government the bigger the enemy.' George Washington said: 'Government is not reason, it is force. Like fire it is a dangerous servant and a fearful master.'"

"Political oratory to the contrary, the plain truth is that government is never a servant. It is a master and a ruler of people, always has been, and always will be. By nature and definition government and master are the same. 'Master means to subdue. To rule or direct. Govern means 'to direct and control; rule.' Government means 'directing or governing.' Government is a monopoly and at any level and in any form it has exclusive possession of the power and force of a master. The truth is so plain why efforts to control government are so futile. When people accept government they accept the inferior position of servant to be controlled."

"When a new government is organized, all previous governments in that domain are 'de-organized.' The Constitution created only one government expressed in the word Union. It did not 'organize' co-government or equality of authority. Though the territories and names remained the same, thirteen free, sovereign and independent States (nations) and their governments were reduced to mere local unions in one big Union. There is a local government illusion but back of the illusion is one government which the Arkansas incident fully attests."

The above seems strong language, but it is thought-provoking.

The Allen-Scott Report

ROBERT S. ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

NIXON FOR McELROY AGAINST MORE NUCLEAR TESTS - RICKOVER NOT IMPRESSED BY RUSSIAN SUB WASHINGTON: The Atomic Energy Commission's plan to resume nuclear tests later this year is running into high-powered opposition. Vice President Nixon and Secretary Herter are now strongly against that.

On the other side of this significant backstage tug-of-war, AEC Chairman John McCone has the vigorous support of Defense Secretary Neil McElroy. Both groups have taken this eventful issue directly to President Eisenhower.

Preparing to fly to Europe for conferences with Western leaders, the President has decided to do nothing on this matter until after his talks with Premier Khrushchev next month, which will largely determine his action.

Crux of this inner Administration controversy is the one-year ban on nuclear tests which the President proclaimed last October. As recently disclosed by these reporters, the AEC is making preparations for a new series of tests, primarily for peaceful purposes. Congress has been asked for $8 million for this purpose.

Designated Project GNOME, the first of these tests are slated for November, December in the salt beds of the Caribbean area in southern New Mexico. They will involve nuclear devices with an explosive force of approximately 10 kiloton (equivalent to 10,000 tons of TNT). Next year other tests would be conducted in three western states and Canada.

Vice President Nixon and Secretary Herter are opposing these tests on the ground they will hamper reaching an accord with Russia. It is their contention this country's one-year ban should be extended into 1960 to aid in persuading Russia to agree to a long-term ban on nuclear tests. East-West negotiations on this have been underway in Geneva for many months.

To this counsel, McCone and Secretary McElroy argue that it is essential to resume testing at an early date to further the production of urgently-needed missile warheads and small weapons, and for the development of nuclear energy and other peaceful purposes.

Nixon Sets New Policy In Dealing With Soviet Russia

COPENHAGEN - On the flight from Idlewild to Moscow I thought many times that Vice President Nixon was taking a reckless chance in view of his notorious personal hatred of Communism and of the traitors turned up by the House Committee when he was a Congressman and one of our best red-baiters. And there was the literally murderous nature of the whole chain of descent from Lenin and Trotsky down to Khrushchev. This is not mere abuse. This is historic truth. They are the murderer as a normal political method to remove incumbents and dispose of rivals. Khrushchev himself, only three years ago had accused Stalin, who now lies in the Kremlin with Lenin, of deporting whole races of Russian subjects from their ancestral homes and dissolving their Soviet Republics by personal decree.

With no doubt of his truthfulness on that point, I was strangely upset by the possibility that he would order the liquidation of an enemy who, in 1960, might become President of the Soviet Union's only equal rival in the world. Khrushchev had, in a word, the veto of this fateful development in his history. By dumping Nixon in a crash on the Moscow strip or in any of the landings of his trip to old St. Petersburg and Siberia, he could throw the presidency to the Democratic Party again for another four or eight years, or in any case, to some individual who would be as weak and fawning and treacherous as Roosevelt, Hopkins, and Joe Davies or as stupid as Henry Wallace.

There was no doubt of Khrushchev's power and opportunity now that Nixon and his brave, tired wife were on the wing and committed before the world. Would Khrushchev knock Nixon down and deny all the Russians did for ten unarmed American Air Force men last year. Tito, their satellite, killed five of our men the same way in slandering so wondrous that Jimmy Byrnes, our Secretary of State, put in a half-hour calling their ambassador every abusive personal name that he could put his tongue to. Notwithstanding which we had not knocked Tito absolutely out of the air as we could have done. We retaliated by dumping another billion on him.

In fact, just before Nixon took off from Baltimore that night, Khrushchev had remarked that he had no idea why Nixon was going to Moscow, anyway. So the Nixon, with two little girls back home, were taking a great risk. This political pilgrimage certainly was no duty of a wife already worn almost to exhaustion helping to pick up the wreckage of the Roosevelt-Truman regime. Nixon had shown himself in 50 countries on all the continents and on many islands since he became Vice President in January 1953. Mrs. Nixon had gone with him on most of their travels. Her face was showing pallor and lines of fatigue.

But, if Khrushchev did not kill Nixon the prize in prestige and in the advantage for the United States and civilization would be incalculable. Nobody then could foresee the historic scrap in the kitchen of the little cottage at the Fair, where instead of wheeling and quavering as so many politicians had done as presidential emissaries under Roosevelt and Truman, Nixon measured this bum and belted him smack in the teeth. This shook up Khrushchev the way Tunney jolted

RECORD QUAKE

POMONA, Calif. (UPI) - A sharp but minor earthquake was felt Sunday in this Los Angeles County city and adjacent Orange County. The tremor registered 3.7 on the Richter scale of 10 at Caltech Seismological Laboratory in Pasadena, about 20 miles away. No damage was reported.

ed Dempsey in the first few seconds of their first fight in Philadelphia. Dear God, why didn't Roosevelt talk that way to Stalin at Yalta? To be sure, Khrushchev shook it off and went boring but Nixon turned him off with the rugged repartee that set a new tone and policy in our dealings with Soviet Russia.

For the first time since the feminine Roosevelt "recognized" Russia in 1933, an American pliant in effect was calling the Chief Russian a damned liar. But Nixon's only uncertainty when I caught him for a word as he milled around with Khrushchev later that same day, thinking toasts in California while in the midst of a mob, was a fear that he had been too rough on the louse. I said "Hell no! You tore him apart! You were great."

Why the Russians did not dump him I can't guess. They would have been rid of the only man with a chance to be the American president who ever gave their dictator the rough side of his tongue. We would have had to settle for another weakling and another series of surrenders, probably including the immediate absorption of the beautiful peoples and political character of Scandinavia.

I must do Nixon the justice here of explaining that although I have known him ever since he landed in Washington as a Freshman Congressman, my language here is strictly my own. I did not write it so if I did not conscientiously believe I was approximating the truth but my method of expressing the truth just here does not obligate Nixon.

Now we have been hearing facts about the great "technical" achievements of the Russians. The truth is as their housing "projects" in Moscow plainly show that they can't even mix cement, lay brick or hang a window or a door. They are the most incompetent slob on earth. They can't even ring a doorbell much less install one.

As for physics, that stuff is all in the books. Our students are as smart as theirs. If they are any scientific bulge they got it from the German double-domes whom they captured when Truman and I surrendered the victory in 1945 and from Klaus Fuchs, and the Mouth-traitors whom Joe McCarthy tried to expose.

I will discourse further on my observations in Russia, with emphasis on their yearning to be free and their inability to feed Moscow any better vegetable than pale cucumbers, rubeen tomatoes and grass in midsummer. Dogs have more spirit and better sense.

Congressmen Make Annual Headlong Dash To Adjourn

The Lighter Side
 By FRANK ELLIOT
 United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Our lawmakers are off on their annual headlong dash to adjournment. The aim is to get out of town before Khrushchev arrives.

A measure naming the "Petaluma River" in California, for example, was rushed through the Senate and on to the White House. This stream formerly was known as "Petaluma Creek," but you know how it's been raining some places.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to remove the 10 per cent tax from pen-sen, the breath sweetener. This may modify closet drinkers and others for whom Congress has steadfastly refused to reduce the taxes on whiskey.

One way or another, other urgent measures also are being cleared from the calendars. The hope is to adjourn by Sept. 5. Many problems remain and some members don't think they will make it.

Resolutions Filed
 There was unfortunate publicity earlier this year about wives, sons, daughters and other kind-folks on congressional payrolls. To help clear the decks for adjournment, the House Administration Committee has taken care of the resolutions offered to stop this. They have been filed, in case anybody ever wants to see them again.

A bill to publicize the travel expenses of junketing congressmen, which total about a half million dollars a year, also has been put in shape for possible passage—some other year.

Senators meantime have acted to ease the pain of making public their payrolls, an event set for sometime in the fall. Fearing some of the homefolks might not understand how a clerk or administrative assistant could be worth $18,300 a year, they have authorized fancier titles, each senator to make up his own.

House members have geared for the recess by voting themselves an extra $600 for stationery, raising the annual allowance per member from $1,200 to $1,800. They also voted to ease restrictions on their free-telephone and telegraph service.

House Makes Announcement
 One adjournment hurdle was cleared when the House announced to the world, for the 15th time, that it opposes admission of Red China to the United Nations. The Senate may act on this shortly.

In another move to clear the air, Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.) announced that Congress through the House Appropriations Committee, has reaffirmed its faith in government operation of the Panama Line.

The line runs cruise ships between the Panama Canal Zone and New York. Flood said putting the line under private operators, as proposed by a firm of consultants, would be contrary to the national interest. Among other changes, a private operator could start charging congressmen for their fares.

A big roadblock to early adjournment is the peanut bill passed by the House. It says for purposes of acreage allotments peanuts that are boiled aren't to be counted as peanuts.

Amendment Thrown In
 Southern sponsors thought this measure had a straight furrow

Weather May Cause Drop In Nationalist China's Trade

Foreign News Commentary
 By WILLIAM J. FOX
 United Press International

From the foreign editor's notebook:

CHINESE TRADE:
 Nature may have done to Nationalist China what Communist guns could not do: cause it grievous economic trouble. Financial experts fear that the recent spate of rain, floods and earthquakes that hit Formosa will have done enough damage to cause Nationalist China's trade to drop sharply.

IKE'S TRIP:
 British officials in London are looking forward to pleasant talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in the coming days. But they predict heavy going for the President when he meets in Paris with French President Charles de Gaulle. The British feel that France's NATO "big power" ambitions, her atomic bomb test plans, the question of Algeria and de Gaulle's objections to Eisenhower speaking for France when he meets with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev all are likely to cause difficulties.

MISSILE SITE:
 Intelligence sources in Jakarta say the British have carved out a huge missile launching site in the jungles of North Borneo. They point out that the area is just a few miles north of the Equator and one of the best spots available for launching earth satellites.

REPS IN SAN MARINO:
 The Communists are expected to launch an all-out, do-or-die effort to win the Sept. 12 general elections in San Marino, the world's oldest republic tucked in the mountains of northern Italy's Adriatic coast. At stake are the 30 seats of the grand and general council, the tiny nation's ruling body. The Reds took 35 seats in the last election in 1955, but lost power in a bloodless "civil war" in 1957.

CASTRO'S CUBA:
 One of the critical tests of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary agrarian reform program may come next month when the island republic's sugar mills close down for the year. Traditionally, the thousands of
