

Main Speaker Won't Appear Before Rally

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (UPI) — Segregationist leaders of Pine Bluff planned a mass anti-integration rally tonight but the scheduled main speaker won't show up.

Rep. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, who has spoken at several racist rallies since color mixing troubles hit Arkansas schools, would only say that "prior commitments" kept him from addressing the rally. He informed the sponsoring citizens' council late Thursday that he would not be able to show up.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus also had been asked to speak at the rally and also pleaded "prior commitment."

Wants to "Dispel Apathy"

The mass gathering is set for 7:50 p.m. at Hestand Stadium, a short distance away from integration threatened Dollarway School. It is planned as an "education" rally by the citizens' council.

"The reason for this rally is to draw people's attention to what they are up against at the Dollarway School," L. D. Poynter said. Poynter, 66, is president of the Arkansas Association of Citizens Councils.

"We want to dispel apathy and arouse interest in this fight and to educate people as to what is before them," Poynter said.

Poynter Thursday carried a petition to Gov. Faubus asking him to use all power at his command.

Cleburne Man Is Beaten, Then Shot

CLEBURNE (UPI) — Three thugs beat a Cleburne man beyond recognition Thursday night, shot him twice through the head and then left him for dead in front of Memorial Hospital.

The victim is Jack White, 43, brother of prominent Cleburne restaurant owner Rupert White. He was near death early today.

Police, sheriff's officers and Texas Rangers launched a statewide search for White's assailants. It was not known whether they were from Texas or from Albuquerque, N.M., where he had been working since mid-July.

Rupert White said the victim came to his home Thursday afternoon to take a nap. Three different men called him on the telephone, but White told all three that his brother was sleeping and did not want to be disturbed.

He told officers he suspected something was wrong when the callers asked for his brother.

"It wasn't what they said that aroused my suspicions," he said, "but the way they said it."

One caller told White he "understood" his brother was at White's house and another said the victim was supposed to meet him Thursday morning.

"I've got a job for him," he said. Jack White is a restaurant chef. He returned to Cleburne last Wednesday from Albuquerque.

When Jack White woke up, he told Rupert White he had to meet someone at 7:15 p.m.

Beaten With Pistols

About an hour later he drove up to a friend's house on the east outskirts of Cleburne.

The friend—Carl Davis—told police he looked through a window and saw another car pull into the driveway behind White's. Three men leaped from the car and began beating White with pistols.

They knocked him unconscious and threw him into their car, Davis said. One of the men got into White's car and followed the other car away. Davis called police as soon as the beating began, but they arrived too late.

Some two hours later attendants at Memorial Hospital found White, shot and unconscious, lying in his own car parked in front of the building.

Assault Scene Located

Two .32 caliber bullets had been fired into his head at close range and he was beaten so viciously his brother couldn't recognize him.

Sheriff Earl King called the Texas Rangers into the case and officers later found the spot about six miles east of Cleburne—where White had been shot.

It was in a dense post oak thicket near Keene, Tex. Officers found a cigarette lighter, an empty .32 caliber automatic pistol cartridge and blood on the ground.

93 Feared Drowned

MANILA (UPI) — An inter-island ship with more than 100 persons aboard capsized and sank off the northern coast of Palawan Island in the western Philippines Thursday, reports reaching here said today.

The reports said only seven persons have been rescued so far from the ill-fated 241-ton vessel Pilar II, and more than 93 were missing and feared drowned.

The Philippine Navy rushed the patrol vessel "Bohol" to the area to help the fishing boat Atonio the 12th seek more survivors.

An SOS message received in Manila said the fishing boat Fengnam Benz was in trouble off the eastern Luzon Coast.

Yellowstone Is Still Shaking

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (UPI) — Sporadic tremors in the Yellowstone National Park area brought fresh concern today about the growing lake behind a mammoth, earthquake-triggered slide in the Madison Valley.

The rising waters threatened two summer resorts and a summer home — and increased its pressure on the quake-formed barrier, threatening communities downstream where the trapped Madison River once flowed.

Eleven fairly strong shocks and several minor ones were recorded in the area Thursday. A major tremor could cause the huge slide to shift, allowing a deluge to break through.

The body of water, now known as "The Lord's Lake," is presently seven miles long and between 70 and 100 feet deep and it continues to grow.

The continuing shakes forced officials to call off an underwater search for landless victims. Ten persons were killed, and it was believed many others were trapped when Monday's powerful earthquake caused an 8,000-foot high mountain to collapse into the valley.

Civil defense and Montana highway officials said they did not intend to dig into the slide and search for bodies. Estimates of the number possibly missing ranged from 30 to 100.

Gallatin County Sheriff Don Skerritt said the slide, was "just too big." He said it was hundreds of feet deep in places and contained boulders as big as boxcars.

"We probably won't know for weeks how many are missing," a Red Cross official said.

Hereford Breeders To Hold Field Day, Bar-B-Q

The Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Association will hold its annual barbecue and field day clinic at the sales arena of Recreation Park Thursday, Wayne Maddox, president, has announced.

Activities will get underway at 5 p.m. with cattle judging. A barbecue dinner will be served by the Pampa Shrine Club at 6, with beef donated by Wayne Maddox and Frank Carter.

A ranchmen's clinic, beginning at 7, will feature State Representative Grainger McIlhany, Extension Veterinarian A. C. Patterson and Paul T. Mario, superintendent of the Spur Experiment Station, as speakers.

McIlhany will discuss new legislation affecting the cattle industry. Dr. Patterson will discuss the new Brucellosis control program and Marion will explain the latest developments in cattle feeding. A question and answer period will follow the presentation of the three papers.

Members of the Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders and their guests will attend the meeting.

For Space Capsule

Recovery Hopes Fade

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI) — Ships searched a 10,000-square mile area of the Pacific today in America's latest attempt to recover a space capsule, but there was little hope the instrument-filled package would be found.

The 300-pound, 27 by 33-inch capsule was successfully ejected from Discoverer VI satellite Thursday, but ships and planes waiting for the recovery failed to sight it or hear its radio signals.

"Therefore it is unlikely that the capsule will be recovered although the search will be continued," said the Defense Department in Washington.

It was the second failure in six days at recovering a space capsule from orbit, and the third time in the Discoverer series this year.

Successful recovery, figured at odds of about 1,000 to 1, would have been a space-age first and marked a step forward in research aimed at taking man into space.

The Air Force Ballistic Missile Division (BMD) at Inglewood, Calif., said a similar failure may have prevented the recovery of the capsules from Discoverer V and Discoverer VI.

BMD said extremely low temperatures encountered up to 577 miles in space might have prevented the capsules' battery power from working.

Failure of the power supply would prevent the capsules' parachute from opening and would keep silent the radio signal in the capsule needed in its recovery.

Discoverer VI was blasted into a north-south polar orbit Wednesday from this West Coast missile base about 150 north of Los Angeles. It followed by six days the successful launching of Discoverer V.

Air Force cargo planes trailing trapeze-like devices flew in a 200 by 50-mile area 700 miles southwest of Hawaii hoping to catch Discoverer's VI's parachuting capsule Thursday.

Government Says July Living Costs Hit New Peak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government reported today that the cost of living rose fractionally in July to reach an all-time high.

The increase amounted to three tenths of one per cent.

Higher prices were reported by the Labor Department in nearly all areas of the consumer spending. The increase, plus a decline in spendable earnings, reduced consumer buying power by approximately 1.5 per cent.

However, more than one million workers with contracts tied to the cost of living will receive automatic wage increases. Generally these will amount to about two cents an hour.

It was the fourth straight monthly increase in the consumer price index. It stood at 124.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average at the end of July. This is 0.8 per cent above a year previous and means it costs $12.49 to buy today as much as $10 did in the 1947-49 period.

The department said the increase actually was less than the usual seasonal jump recorded between June and July. A spokesman predicted the report for August probably will show a decline.

Biggest factor in the increase in July was an 18.5 per cent advance in egg prices. This was twice the usual rise for this time of year.

Seasonal increases in the prices of meat and poultry more than offset declines in the prices of fresh fruit and vegetables.

The consumer price index for June jumped four-tenths of one per cent to record its sharpest increase in 15 months and hit another record high.

The rise was attributed at that time primarily to a normal "seasonal increase" in prices of fresh fruits and vegetables. The department's price experts predicted the index would show little change in July and would decline in August.

The June increase lifted the price index to 124.5 per cent of the 1947-49 base period, or six-tenths of one per cent higher than a year earlier.

Increase in the price index mean wage boosts for about 600,000 trucking, aircraft and electrical workers whose wages are tied to the cost of living index by union contracts.

Clean-Up Continues

14 Flee From Havana Prison

HAVANA (UPI) — Fourteen prisoners escaped from Havana's Principe Prison today.

There were no immediate details on the break and it could not be determined whether they were classed as common criminals or political prisoners.

An estimated 4,000 persons were arrested in a government cleanup of a vast conspiracy against Fidel Castro's regime — the last two weeks but many have been released and the suspected ringleaders removed to La Cabana Fortress.

The Cuban government charged the Dominican Republic with being the plot.

Cuban communications workers appealed today to international labor organizations to help block all communications between the Dominican Republic and the rest of the world.

The Cuban Confederation of Labor began its own boycott of messages to the neighboring Caribbean country in protest against the "infamous dictatorship of Gen. Rafael Trujillo."

It asked the government to suspend communications officially. And then launched the unprecedented move to isolate Ciudad Trujillo.

Diplomatic relations between the two countries were broken off six weeks ago. They had grown steadily worse since former Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista fled to the Dominican Republic Jan. 1. He flew to Portugal Thursday.

Boy Stabs New Bride

NEW SALEM STATE PARK, Ill. (UPI) — A mental test was being arranged today for the 13-year-old son of a Michigan minister who stabbed a bride honeymooning at this Abraham Lincoln shrine.

Police said Glen Sampson, son of the Rev. Orval Sampson of the Congregational Church of Hart Mich., showed no remorse over the attack on Mrs. Bruce Brainard, 25, of Hamden, Conn.

"He acts like he hasn't got a worry in the world," police said. "He isn't the least concerned."

Police said the boy offered no explanation for the attack.

State's Attorney John Grosboll said Glen would undergo a psychiatric examination at Godfrey, Ill., to determine if he should be charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Grosboll said delinquency charges were certain to be filed against him.

Glen stole into a bathroom Thursday morning and grabbed Mrs. Brainard from behind. He

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today proclaims Hawaii the 50th state of the union and unfurls a top secret — the design of the new 50-star American flag.

There was speculation Old Glory would have four rows of eight stars and three rows of six stars, with the second, fourth and sixth rows indented.

The brief ceremony officially making Hawaii a state was scheduled for late this afternoon in the White House Cabinet room.

Eisenhower was to return briefly to Washington from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm vacation for the ceremony.

In the new state itself, Hawaiians planned to observe the occasion quietly without special fanfare. The big celebration was being saved for November when the official admission day observance is planned. It is hoped the President will attend then.

The flag approved by the President only a few months ago when Alaska was admitted to the union had seven staggered rows of seven stars each. That flag became official on July 4. The new flag becomes official next July 4.

The White House announced those invited to the Hawaiian statehood ceremony included Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Speaker Sam Rayburn, Hawaiian Territorial Secretary Edward Johnson, representing Gov. elect William F. Quinn; Sens. elect Hiram Fong (R) and Oren E. Long (D); Rep. elect Daniel K. Inouye (D) and Lorrin Thurston, chairman of the Hawaiian Statehood Commission.

Also, Maj. Gen. A. T. McNamara, Army quartermaster general; Col. John M. Smith, chief of research and engineering for Quartermaster General Office, and Lt. Col. James S. Cook, chief of Heraldic Branch in Quartermaster General's Office. These men worked with the special Flag Advisory Committee on the new flag's design.

Myatt Makes 5th Talk On City Problems

Mayor Ed Myatt delivered another report on local government Thursday, this time before the Noon Lion's Club in a meeting at the First Methodist Church.

Myatt, who is hoping to make at least two reports a year before the city's civic clubs, again stated that "any opinions I express are mine alone, not necessarily the City Commission's."

Thursday's talk was his fifth over the past two weeks. He has to date addressed the Optimist Club, Jaycees, Kiwanis, Rotary and Noon Lions Club. His last talk in the current series is scheduled for Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Evening Kiwanis.

City finances and the possibility of a "badly needed 10 cent raise in taxes" were the main themes of the mayor's talk.

He also expressed his opinion that city employees need better wages and some sort of hospital and retirement plan; that he would like to see a return of the at-large voting procedure for city commissioners; that the city's wards should be re-aligned; and that Senate Bill 87 "is the first step toward the infringement on the powers of local government."

Lion's Club guests Thursday noon included Dugan Smith, Horace McRee, Dale Thum, Bob Hudson, Jere Teed, and the club's new permanent organist, Maxine Milliron.

Entrance to the Jenkins home was gained by tearing off a screen and climbing through a window. Loots include a pair of new $22 bikini.

ECUMENICAL COUNCIL TO BE STRICTLY CATHOLIC

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
GENEVA (UPI) — The forthcoming Ecumenical Council in Rome will be "strictly a Roman Catholic affair." Protestant and eastern orthodox churches will not be invited to participate.

This prediction comes from the Rev. Dr. Willem A. Visser 'T' Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches. It conforms with opinions expressed privately by well-informed Catholics in Rome.

Dr. Visser 'T' Hooft is a 59-year-old Dutch clergyman who has served most of his adult life in the cause of Christian unity. He has been the chief staff officer of the World Council of Churches since that organization of 185 Protestant and Orthodox denominations was established 11 years ago.

Eisenhower To Hold Frank Talk With Premier

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev are expected to hold brass tacks cold war talks when the Russian leader returns to Washington at the end of his 12-day tour of the United States.

President Eisenhower probably will take the Soviet leader to his Camp David retreat in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains for their real down-to-earth discussions after Khrushchev has completed his coast-to-coast swing. The Soviet leader arrives in Washington Sept. 13. His initial stay here is expected to consist principally of the ceremonial aspects of such an official visit. He then will make a quick swing taking him to New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Des Moines, Pittsburgh, and back to Washington.

During a two-day stay in Des Moines, he will motor to a Coon Rapids corn farm and also go by automobile to Iowa State College at Ames.

Khrushchev's refusal to visit any military installations in the United States apparently stems from the Russian's desire to avoid showing President Eisenhower similar facilities when he makes his return visit to the Soviet Union later this fall. The Russians are sticklers for reciprocity in such matters.

There still is no definite information as to whether Khrushchev will bring his wife with him.

Distinguished Visitors Soon May Have To Pay Own Bills

THE LIGHTER SIDE
By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Our cultural exchanges with other countries are booming, the State Department man said. The only thing is, a lot of those distinguished visitors we keep having soon will have to start buying their own martinis and lunch.

That doesn't go for Nikita Khrushchev, of course, although as Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) pointed out the Soviet boss is part of the exchange program too. We're taking Khrushchev for 10 or 12 days next month in trade for President Eisenhower, who later will visit Russia.

Various other public funds, running to the millions, can be tapped to roll out the official red carpet for top officials like Khrushchev. But for entertaining other foreign "leaders and specialists" who will be arriving in droves during the year, Congress has put up only $1,000.

Robert H. Thayer, special assistant to the secretary of state in charge of such matters, said told Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee he may just have to tell some of the official tourists to cancel their flights.

Bad Impression Senseless
"It wouldn't make sense to bring them over here and give them a bad impression," he said. "I'd rather they didn't come over at all."

Fulbright agreed this was a predicament, all right. He said he was afraid it showed we don't think very highly of culture. That in fact was why he was holding the hearing.

He had heard that the Cultural Exchange Program was about to be reorganized and in the process maybe "downgraded." Thayer said reorganized, yes, but goodness knows nobody was about to downgrade it.

He said Secretary of State Christian A. Herter got to worrying recently about just the same thing. He feared the cultural exchange was being neglected. He told Thayer to look into this. And what Thayer found was, it was getting attention all over the place.

In fact, he found so many government agencies had gotten into the act nobody knew what anybody else was up to. He did a quick check in Thailand, and found culture being busily exchanged between the Thais and 12 separate American agencies, plus a number of private foundations and other such groups. He found 292 Thais in this country and 452 Americans there, under one or another government or private

PERILS OF SUBURBIA
TUCKAHOE, N.Y. (UPI) — The special dangers of suburban living caught up with a pair of skunks here Wednesday. They fell into swimming pools. One was pulled out by humane society agents—after it had been put asleep by chloroform. The other managed its escape unaided.

POLICE NAB "BREATHER"
DETROIT (UPI) — Police rushed to the home of Noah Thomas when a telephone operator reported she heard heavy, painful-sounding breathing coming over the line. When they got there they found four-year-old Noah Jr. snoring blissfully into a telephone receiver he had knocked off the hook while napping.

Thought for today: Abraham Lincoln said, "I do the very best I know how—the very best I can; and I mean to keep doing so until the end."

East Is East And Vest Is Back
With All Its New Magnificence

By EICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — East is east and vest is vest, and all around the country it looks like a big comeback for the good old vest.

In the last few years, about the only people who've worn vests are those with abnormally chilly stomachs and a few old timers with vest pocket watches. But, here we go again.

Vests that match suits are slowly drifting back. You'll see more this year than in the past few years and the expectation is that they'll be very popular within five years.

But it is in the realm of colorful, nonmatching vests that the fastest progress is to be seen. The vest (or, if you'd rather, the waist) is a handy item and there's no question it's a handsome one, too. And this fall will see some coordinated outfits — suits with contrasting vests, and slacks-sports jacket — contrasting vest sets.

A couple of the nicest of these new fall vests — included outfits make good use of Cone fabrics. Honesdale uses Cone's midwale corduroy in an Ivy-styled, three-piece job. The slacks, vest and paisie-lined jacket are slim and neat. And the big surprise is the vest, which is reversible. One side matches the rest of the outfit, the other side is a paisie to match the jacket lining.

McGregor's three-piece set has contrasting slacks and sports jacket — the slacks in Cone's Gaycord, the jacket in Cone's Lurvei — with a vest that contrasts with both. The vest comes in such tempting tones as gold, blue, black and others.

These outfits are typical. And they point up one important fact:

LITTLE LIZ

Many a fellow has a photographic mind, but nothing ever develops.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My Dad is in his seventies and when he drives a car he is a danger on the streets. His reflexes are poor. I am afraid to let my children ride with him. When he comes here for his vacation and wants to drive, what can I do?

His pride is tied up in his ability to drive. He thinks he is a good driver, but he is a threat. Others may have this problem, too. Can you help us?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Life and limb (your children's as well as his own) are most important than his "pride." Tell your Dad that because you love him and want him around for many more years, you don't want him to drive. Get the rest of your family to back you up. This may seem cruel, but it is a lot kinder than letting him kill himself. (P.S. Nearly 37,000 people were killed and 3 million were injured on American highways in 1958).

DEAR ABBY: Should I send wedding invitations to people who live too far away to come to my wedding?

I'm afraid if I don't send them an invitation they'll feel hurt. I am also afraid if I send them an invitation, knowing they can't come, it will look like I'm asking for a present. Could you advise me please?

OCTOBER BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: In recent years, the formal wedding invitation has taken on the connotation of a "bill."

Send invitations only to those friends and relatives whom you feel will come to your wedding. Very few people are "hurt" because they fail to receive an invitation to a wedding they cannot attend.

DEAR ABBY: A very well-mannered and cordial neighbor has deliberately trained her dog to do things on our lawn that she doesn't want done on her own lawn. She knows we disapprove strongly because she has stood in her doorway and watched us chase her dog from our yard several times. We are puzzled. How can dog owners train their dogs to destroy and mess the property of others? Your advice is needed.

GREEN INK BUT NOT GREEN GRASS

DEAR GREEN: You are mistaken. Neighbors who train their dogs to destroy and mess the property of others are neither well-mannered nor cordial. Don't rely on anything so subtle as "chasing" her dog from your yard to convey your disapproval. Pay your neighbor a visit and tell her that if she doesn't keep her dog out of your yard, you will ask the Law to help protect your property.

DEAR ABBY: My four-year-old daughter was born two years before her father and I were married. When she was born I had to use my maiden name on her birth certificate.

Her father and I are married now. How can I get her birth certificate fixed up proper like it should be?

MARRIED NOW

DEAR MARRIED: I doubt very much if you can "fix up" a birth certificate after it has been filed. Consult a lawyer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO TROUBLED CONSCIENCE: Return the stolen articles and ask to be forgiven. Since this was your first offense you will probably be given another chance. It is doubly unfair to remain silent while suspicion falls on innocent parties.

For ABBY's pamphlet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

RUTH MILLETT There Will Be Many Towering Crowns To See

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

"Grow old along with me..." says the poem. Any wife who wants to do all in her power to make sure that her husband lives long enough to grow old along with her, ought to see that the two of them form a new pattern of living once they reach middle age and their children leave home.

First of all, she should try to ease her husband's financial burden if he still has his nose to the grindstone.

Trading a big house in on a small one could make it possible for them to lessen their house payments, taxes, heating bills, insurance, the cost of a cleaning woman, etc. Maybe they can get by with one car, instead of two. Maybe the wife can get a job.

The wife should also figure out where her husband's energy is being wasted. Is he working long hours that are no longer necessary? Are they keeping up a social life that is more of a burden than pleasure or more from habit than anything else? Is she expecting her husband to do things she could be doing, such as running errands for her, doing the family bookkeeping at night, looking after family business matters?

The jobs that a man assumes when his wife is busy with small children should be lifted from his shoulders when the children get older.

Then, too, a wife ought to encourage her husband to take brief vacations whenever he can. She shouldn't forget that her life has been made easier, automatically, by her children's growing up. But her husband's life has to be made easier by conscious effort.

Still another thing a wife can do is to make sure that her husband gets enough sleep. If he comes home looking tired, she ought to put his health above other pleasures or conveniences.

There is a lot of wife can do to

CARE OF MEAT

Fresh meat cuts, roasts, chops, steaks or ground meats should have the market wrap removed before storage in the refrigerator. The meat should be stored in the coldest part of the refrigerator uncovered or loosely covered.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Tailored hats, towering crowns and feminine hats for late day wear make millinery news this fall.

This tailored trend in hats stems from the tailored theme of ready-to-wear. In hats, it means darbies, homburgs, and fedoras. Not your husband's, of course. These are feminine versions, softened with veils, supple crowns and many different brim treatments.

The Garbo influence shows up in slouch hats to wear with autumn's trench coat, high crown clothes and other large, floppy hats done in soft felt.

Towering crowns are done in cone shapes and in soft-draped versions, too. This tendency to high crowns takes in pillboxes, toques and turbans. The Russian-inspired chechia is included in this group and is done in both soft and stiff styles.

The "profits" hat, with its dipping brim, is derived from hats of the 1930s. There are "berets" done in this same mood, dipped to one side to make the most of a pretty face.

Fur hats and fur-trimmed hats are high on the fashion list for fall. Most wanted fur is mink, of course, with long-haired furs next in importance. There will be fur hats bearing moderate price tags as well as the luxurious mink, leopard, sable, and chinchilla numbers.

The fur look has influenced fabric to the extent that there are many plush, brushed felt and velour hats for fall.

Late day hats offer real splendor. Often, these are miniature hats done in gorgeous brocade or satin, designed to perch, with the aid of loops, atop a modified bouffant hairdo. There are many all-weather hats for theater and evening wear.

Carver Continues Sermon Series

Sunday evening the sermon topic will be another in a series of "sermons" from the Bible. Solists for the Sunday morning hour will be Mrs. Leroy Thornburg and Mrs. Bob Byrd, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carver. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Andantino" by Davis.

Sunday evening the solists will be Jim Johnson and Mrs. Harold Craddock. Miss Lane will play "Davatina" by Overholt for the evening offertory number.

Tuesday evening at 8 there will be a combined meeting of all the Sunday School superintendents and Training Union directors. This meeting will take place in the church parlor.

Wednesday evening will feature another church wide fellowship supper. This will be the fourth in a series of fellowship suppers to be held this summer. Young People's 1, 2, and 3 departments will set tables and serve.

Twenty five young people and their sponsors are attending the Student Retreat at Gloria in Gloria, N.M. This annual retreat is one of the high lights of the summer for high school seniors and college students. They will return Wednesday evening.

Actress Joins Music Faculty At Wayland

PLAINVIEW (Sp) — Miss Charley Jean Eddy, Knoxville, Tenn., has recently been appointed instructor in voice and theory and director of chapel choir at Wayland Baptist College, according to President A. Hope Owen. She will take over her new duties on Sept. 1.

Miss Eddy is currently appearing as singer and actress with the historical production, "Horn of the West" at Boone, N.C. This is her third summer in the cast.

Miss Eddy holds the B.A. degree with a major in voice and a minor in piano from Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky. For the past year she has been assistant minister of music at Southside Baptist Church, Louisville, and before that was solist and director of the youth choir at Fourth Avenue Methodist Church, Louisville. She has also been solist for St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Louisville, and of the Magnolia Avenue Methodist Church, Knoxville.

Last winter Miss Eddy was chosen as solist for the Civic Oratorio presentation in Athens, Ga., and with the Beechmont Baptist Church Oratorio group in Louisville. She also served as solist with the Southern Seminary Oratorio Society, the Seminary Choir and the Seminary Male Chorale. At Carson Newman College she was solist two years with the A Cappella Choir and for four years with the Oratorio Group.

While an undergraduate student, Miss Eddy was active in Student Government, on the YWA Council and the yearbook staff, as well as vice president of her society.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eddy, 3808 Esary Dr., Knoxville.

Adcock Sets Two Topics

"Keep Your Lamp Burning" will be the sermon topic discussed by the pastor, Woodrow Adcock, at the two Sunday morning services of the First Methodist Church.

Special solist at the services will be Tracy Cary, who has selected "The Twenty-third Psalm" by Malotte, for his special number.

Mrs. J. E. Gunn is serving as guest organist. She has selected "Voxseraphique" by Williams, and "Cansanetta" by Kohlmann, for the special Prelude and Offertory numbers.

Sunday Evening Fellowship will begin at 8 with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. At 8:30 children, youth, and adults will separate for one hour of planned activities, according to interest and needs.

"Know Your Bible," the course designated for adults, will be taught by the pastor. The Sunday night service at 7:30 will feature the sermon, "Avenues of Salvation," which will be discussed by the pastor.

The special music for the evening service will be a solo, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, sung by Miss Bettie Tatum, accompanied by Mrs. Gunn on the organ.

Lonnie Bolding, church school superintendent, will attend the Church School Administrator's Conference at Ceta Canyon, Saturday and Sunday.

This annual conference is provided to examine the responsibilities of the church school superintendent, the membership cultivation superintendent, and the chairman of the Commission on Education. It is designed to study the development of an effective program in Christian education for the local church and to provide an informal and relaxing setting for the sharing of problems and their solution in Christian fellowship.

"Evangelism and Christian Education in Church and Church School" will be the central emphasis this year.

'Mind' Will Be Emphasized At Christian Science Sunday Morning Services

How the understanding of God must be not merely believed, but it must be understood.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (147:5): "Great is our Lord, and of great power; his understanding is infinite."

A cordial invitation from First Church of Christ, Scientist, Panama, is open to all of you at the church services on Sunday morning at 11, and Wednesday evening at 8. The King James Version of the Bible and authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed, or purchased at the Christian Science Reading Room located in the church building at 910 N. Frost.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (330:25-28): "The basis of all health, sinlessness, and immortality is the great fact that God is the only Mind; and this Mind must be not merely believed, but it must be understood."

Quotes In The News

WASHINGTON — AFL-CIO Vice President James B. Carey, in a letter to the 229 House members who voted last week to substitute the Landrum-Griffin bill for a milder labor reform measure: "We wish to assure you ... that we shall do all in our power to prove to the working men and women in your district that you have cast your lot against them and they should therefore take appropriate action at the ballot box."

TOKYO (UPI) — If ever the time was ripe for a visit to Asia by President Eisenhower, that time is now.

Since the President decided that he has good health, good-will, and will travel, there have been all kinds of suggestions, feelers and trial balloons concerning a tour of Asia. Asians realize that the focal point of the cold war still is in Europe, but they also caution the United States to keep its eye on Asia.

As UPI's Asian affairs expert in Washington, Rutherford Poole pointed out in a dispatch last week, U.S. relations with the uncommitted nations of Asia have improved dramatically in the past year — mainly, it must be said, through the blundering of Red China in Quemoy, Tibet and with her communists; and the bulging threats of Russia in the Berlin Crisis.

It is just the man to put the frosting on the cake in this happier state of affairs, to consolidate and strengthen the better relations building.

Recent European Policy — Those are the immediate reasons why a visit now by the American President would heighten American prestige. But there are other and deeper reasons that perhaps would add up to more in the long run.

Asians always have resented the United States' "Europe first" policy. This feeling, when set against the oriental exclusion laws, has given many Asians an attitude of being treated like "second class" citizens.

Asian nations also are just beginning to dig out from centuries of Western colonialism. There still is much evidence of national inferiority complexes and there still is a reservoir of bitterness toward former rulers.

Thus, a visit by an American president — especially one so revered as President Eisenhower — could do much to alleviate and palliate these feelings.

No President Visited — To understand Asians' feelings, it must be realized that no American president ever has visited Asia while in office.

There is scarcely a country in Asia — those behind the iron curtain, excepted — in which Mr. Eisenhower's presence alone could not quiet, if not actually lead to peaceful solution of, some extremely important problems.

Eisenhower has said he would like to travel the world once he has left the White House. It is to be hoped, that so far as Asia is concerned, he can do it before.

NEW DESIGN—The familiar surgeon's gauze mask will soon be replaced in many hospitals by this new plastic mask.

Designed by Dr. Claude R. Hitchcock and Dr. Joseph Kiser of Minneapolis General Hospital, the mask combines comfort with effective trapping of airborne bacteria. A removable, highly absorbent filter placed in a special chamber in the front of the mask filters the surgeon's breath. Air is inhaled through the side vents.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

H. M. HUTCHINSON, Pastor
Bible Baptist Church

ACTS 26: 27-28. "KING AGRIPPA, BELIEVEST THOU THE PROPHETS? I KNOW THAT THOU BELIEVEST." "THEN AGGRIPPA SAID UNTO PAUL, ALMOST THOU PERSUADEST ME TO BE A CHRISTIAN."

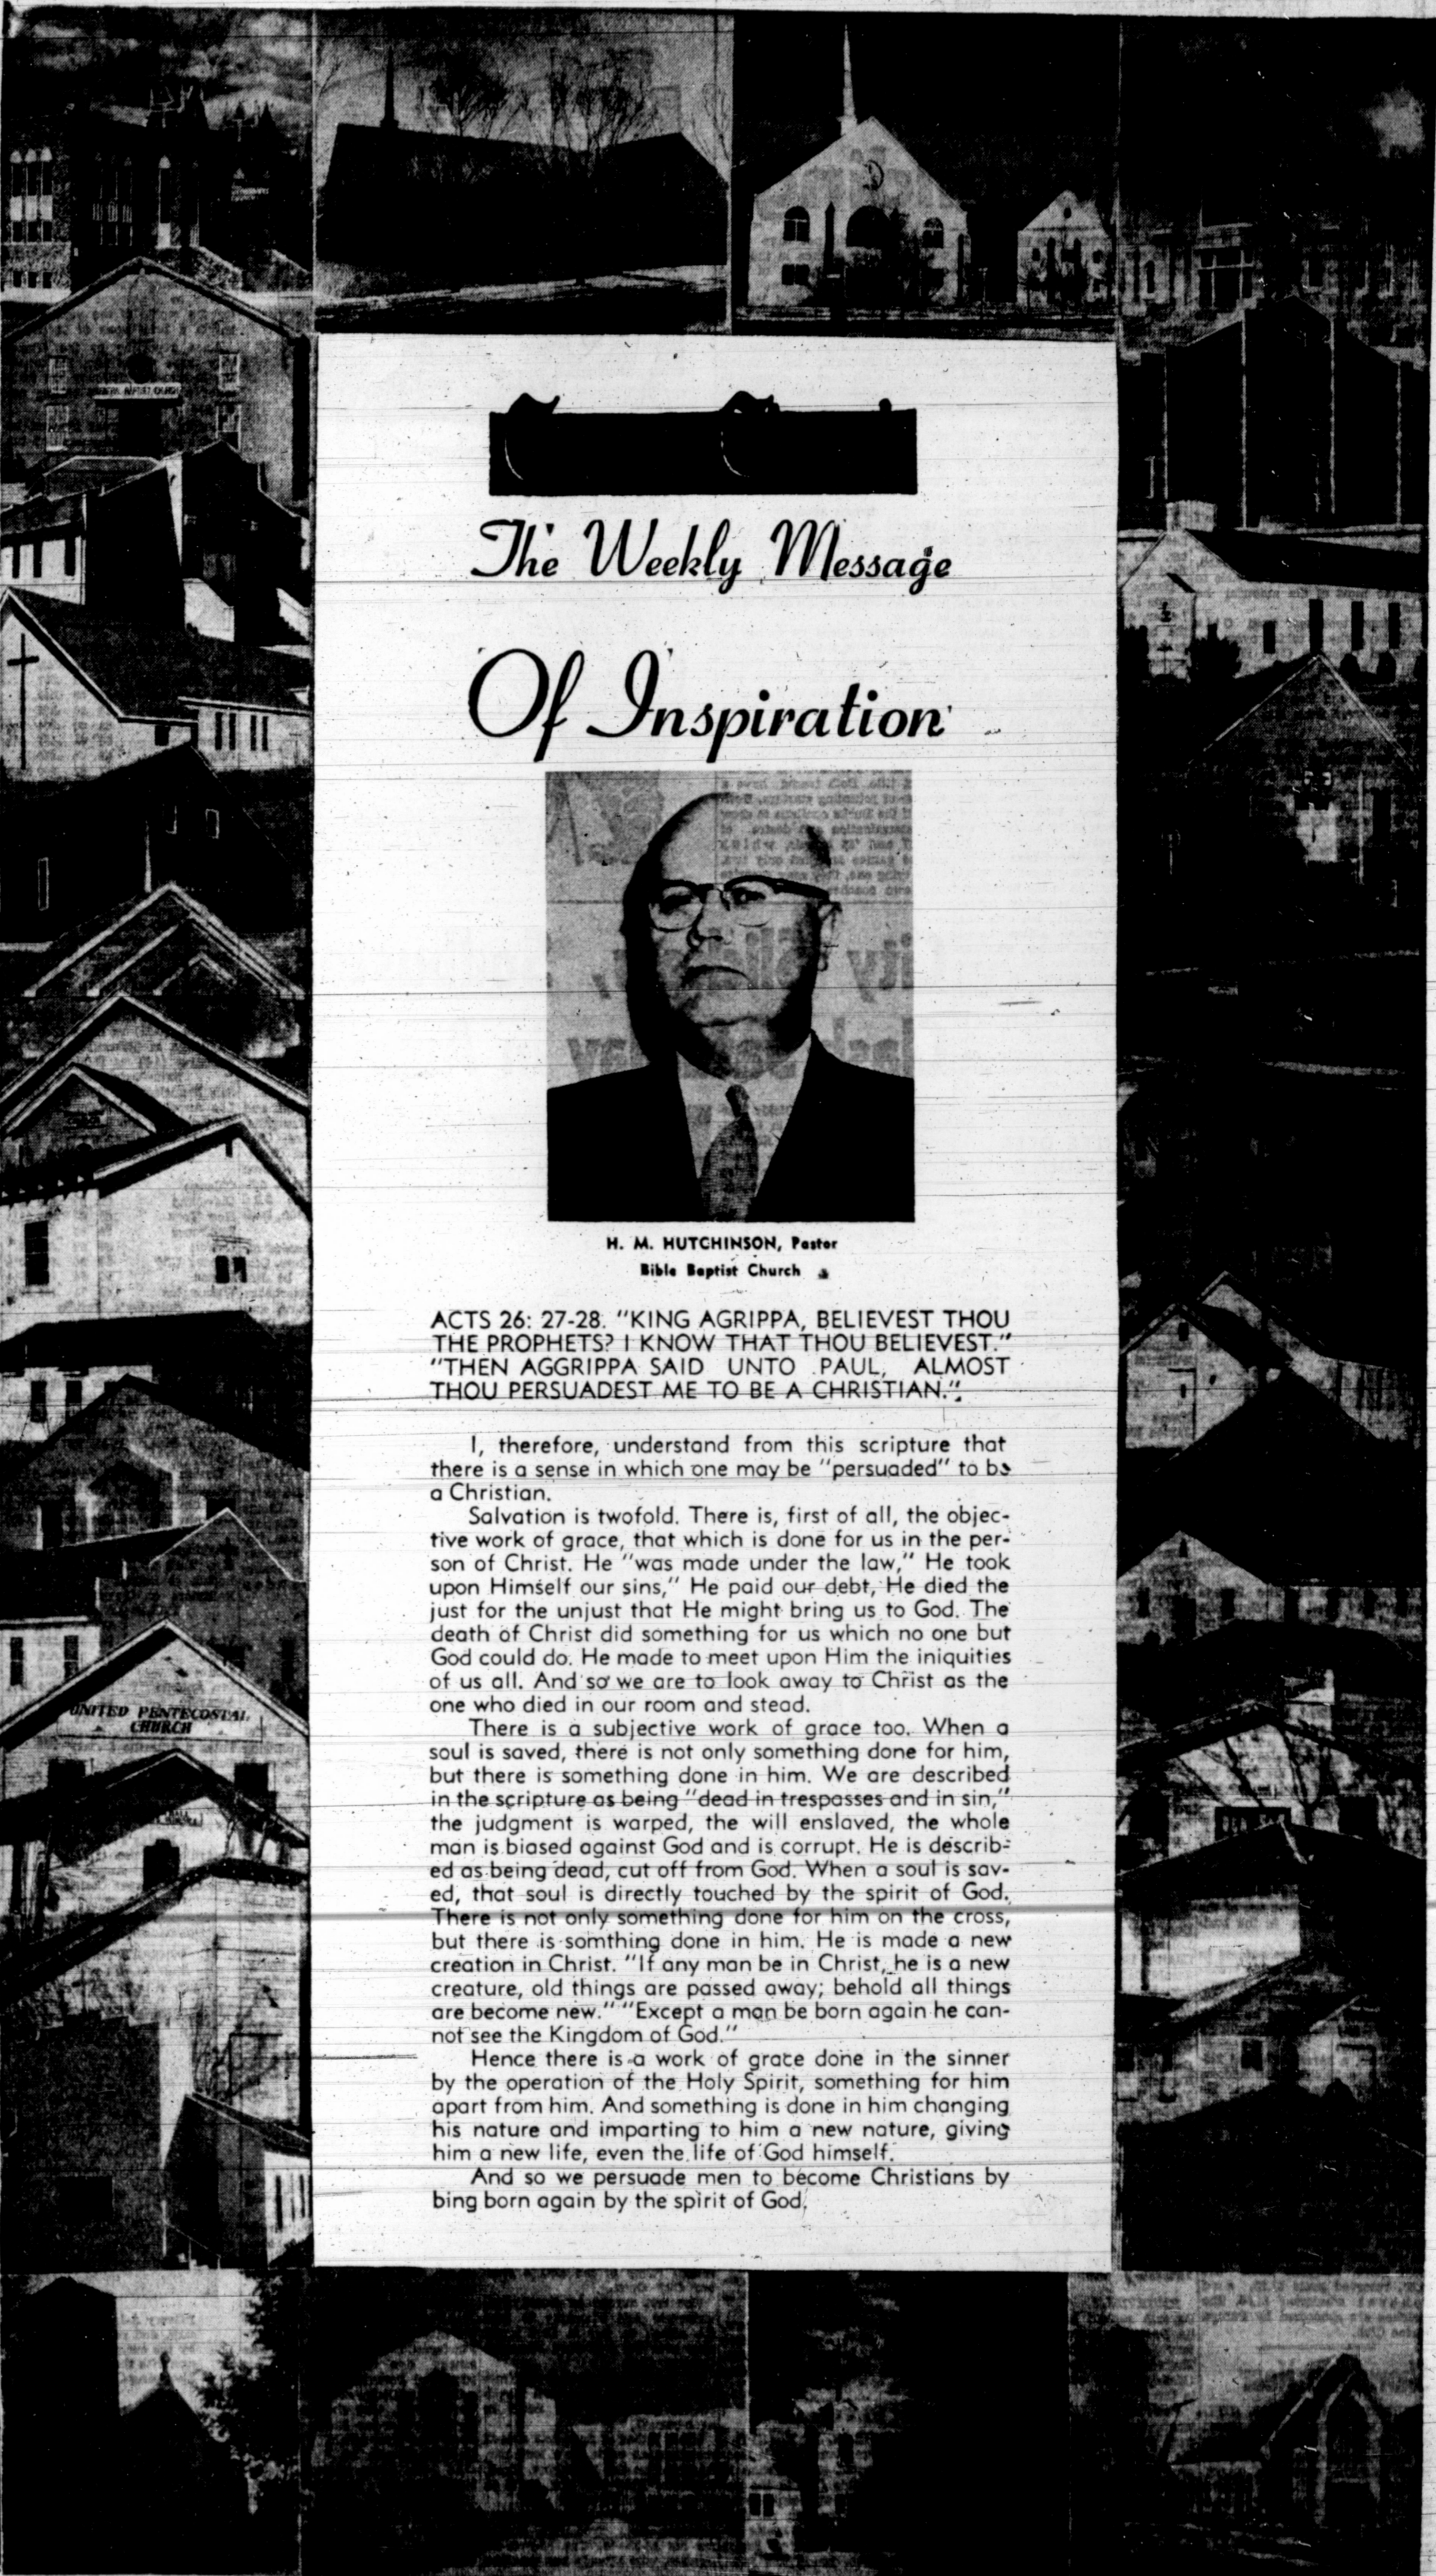

I, therefore, understand from this scripture that there is a sense in which one may be "persuaded" to be a Christian.

Salvation is twofold. There is, first of all, the objective work of grace, that which is done for us in the person of Christ. He "was made under the law," He took upon Himself our sins, He paid our debt, He died the just for the unjust that He might bring us to God. The death of Christ did something for us which no one but God could do. He made to meet upon Him the iniquities of us all. And so we are to look away to Christ as the one who died in our room and stead.

There is a subjective work of grace too. When a soul is saved, there is not only something done for him, but there is something done in him. We are described in the scripture as being "dead in trespasses and in sin," the judgment is warped, the will enslaved, the whole man is biased against God and is corrupt. He is described as being dead, cut off from God. When a soul is saved, that soul is directly touched by the spirit of God. There is not only something done for him on the cross, but there is something done in him. He is made a new creation in Christ. "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature, old things are passed away; behold all things are become new." "Except a man be born again he cannot see the Kingdom of God."

Hence there is a work of grace done in the sinner by the operation of the Holy Spirit, something for him apart from him. And something is done in him changing his nature and imparting to him a new nature, giving him a new life, even the life of God himself.

And so we persuade men to become Christians by being born again by the spirit of God.

White Deer Faces Job of Rebuilding

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series of articles detailing the pre-season prospects of local football teams. This article deals with the defending state class A champion, the White Deer Bucks.

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

The White Deer Bucks have nowhere to go this year but down — but that isn't as bad as it sounds. The Bucks won the class A state title last year, going through the season with a 14-0 record. No one expects them to do that well again.

However, Buck boosters aren't pessimistic, either. The new coach, Coley Huffman, has built successful teams at Wheeler, Springlake, and Friona, and should be able to get the most of the material he has.

Huffman took over from Otis Holladay, who is taking over the reins at Colorado City. Huffman will be assisted by Ray Morgan, who comes to White Deer from Monahans, and Bob Moore, the only holdover from last year's staff.

The coaching staff will have only two starters from last year's championship squad to build around — veteran quarterback Jackie Burns and guard Bryan Coday, who may be switched to fullback.

Coday will be late reporting for workouts because of illness, and he is expected to be a shade underweight. However, he is expected to be in shape for the Sept. 5 opener with Groom.

Don Driskill, a third starter from last year's team, has been lost because of an injury, and is a manager this year. Driskill, a starting wingback last year, was injured in a bi-district game, and has not recovered sufficiently to play football. He had been counted on as a blocking back.

Backfield Depth
Despite their lack of returning starters, however, the Bucks still have good experience, depth, and speed in the backfield. Dickie Hanna is again available to back up Burns in the quarterback slot, and three other lettermen, Tommy Lester, Joe Gange, and Don Carter, are available at other backfield positions.

Hanna passed for five touchdowns last year, while Gange, Lester, and Carter—all moved into the backfield during the playoff games and performed valuable service.

Lester, a capable runner and pass receiver, averaged 5.3 yards per carry and snagged four passes. Gange was one of the team's best pass receivers during the playoffs, and may be shifted to an end position because of this.

Carter, the fastest man on the team, finished fourth in the class A-200-yard dash. Both he and Gange averaged 10 yards per carry last year.

Inexperienced Line
In the line, the picture is not quite as bright as in the backfield. There are five returning lettermen, besides Coday, but only one of them saw much action last year. He is Scott Barnes, who was a standout defensive end, but saw little action on offense. He will probably be shifted to offensive tackle.

Wayne Hughes, a 210-pounder, is expected to be a leading contender for the other tackle position. Expected to be contending for other line positions are Mark Collins, 145; David Crawford, 148; James Gann, 155; and Jerry Braddock, 156.

Pastrano TKO's Kelley in Third

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Seventh ranked heavyweight Willie Pastrano scored his 49th victory on a technical knockout Thursday night by battering Tom (Kelley) Davis out of commission in three rounds.

Pastrano, of Miami, Fla., walloped the Macon, Ga., fighter with punishing body blows from the first round. Davis, an awkward fighter, notified the referee after the third round that he would not come out for the fourth.

For the winner, it was a tuneup bout for his upcoming fight with Tony Anthony in Baltimore, Md.

The Bucks will not have the weight and experience in the line or the reserve strength of last year's team, and such great stars as all-state back Hershel Powell, all-state end Jeff Bearden, back Allen Harmon, end Ronnie Cade, and lineman Jimmy McKernan, Robert Anderward, and Tommy Powell are all gone — along with back Don Adams and defensive specialist Charles Jackson.

The Bucks will also have to adjust to Huffman's wing T style of offense, and many boys may have to play different positions than the ones they played last year.

Bright Spots
However, on the bright side, Willie Deer still has backfield strength, and adequate speed and deception. Forty-six boys are out for the squad — a number which would do credit to a school twice as large.

White Deer opens its season at home Sept. 4 against the regional class B champion Groom Tigers, then plays Stimmet, Spearman, and Shamrock on successive weekends. After an open date on Oct. 2, the Bucks move into district play Oct. 9.

Huffman and his assistants pick Canadian or Panhandle to win the district title. Both teams have a number of returning starters. However, if the Bucks continue to show the determination and desire of the '57 and '58 squads, which won 24 games and lost only two, while tying one, they may surprise their own coaches.

AMARILLO (Sp) — Dickie Watkins of Pampa will be in the offensive lineup for the City Slickers Saturday night, when they meet the Sobdusters at 8 p.m. on Price College Field here in the second annual Panhandle grid classic.

Seven gridders from the Pampa area will be on the opposing Sobduster squad. They are tackle Charles Lovett, Perryton; quarterbacks Tommy Johnson, Lefors, and Kenny Abraham, Canadian; halfbacks Earl McKinley, Perryton, and Allen Harmon, White Deer; fullbacks Hershel Powell, Willie Deer, and Billy Crockett, McLean.

The City Slickers won last year's inaugural game, 34-12, thanks largely to the play of Amarillo's David Russell, who was named the outstanding player in both that game and the Texas High School All-Star game at Houston.

Russell's punt returns had much to do with the City Slicker win, so the Sobduster coach, Jack Barry, has been concentrating heavily on punting, punt return defense, and all other phases of kicking and kicking defense.

Both the Sobdusters and City Slickers completed their heavy contact work Thursday. They were to hold light drills this afternoon in preparation for Saturday's game.

Neither team has suffered a serious injury, although Abraham had a minor nose bleed after he bumped hard into Crockett in a practice session. A couple of City Slickers have minor pulled muscles, according to coach Jack Venable. However, these Leo, Eddie Gipson of Phillips and Billy Adams of Monterey, are expected to go full speed.

Team captains for the two squads will be McKinley and Canyon's Eddie Boydston for the Sobdusters, and James Pressley and Landon Roberts of Littlefield for the Slickers.

Starters
Offensive starters for the Sobdusters will be Duane Griffith, Lockney, center; Lovett and Boydston, guards; Don Warren, Dimmitt, and Sam Lilly, Stinnett, tackles; Bill Patterson, Ployada, and either Gary Walsh, Price College, or Gary Howe, Hays, ends; Abraham, quarterback; McKinley and Ronnie Ledbetter, Duhart, halfbacks; and Powell, fullback.

Defensive Sobduster starters will be Johnny Lovelace, Farwell, and Powell, ends; Gary McLaughlin, Friona, and Lovett, tackles; Griffith, center; Boydston and Crockett, inside linebackers; Johnson and Fred Cawthon, Chidress, outside linebackers; Abraham and Carroll Nunneley, Wellington, halfbacks.

Watkins will start at center of offense for the City Slickers. Other offensive starters will be Jim Dawson, Berger, quarterback; Richard Barker, Palo Duro, and Gipson, Phillips, halfbacks; Coolidge Hunt, Lubbock, fullback; Jerry Garrison, Levelland, and Tommy York, Amarillo, ends; Jim Harper, Berger, and Duane Cook, Palo Duro, tackles; Gene Gifford, Tascosa, and Perry McWilliams, Plainview, guards.

The Slicker defensive unit will probably include Bill Brooks, Tascosa; Ronnie Covington, Palo Duro; Bill Adams, Monterey; Larry Tipton, Levelland; Dickie Meyer, Berger; Bobby Huntington, Plainview; James Walton, Dumas; John McCracken, Tascosa; Danny Wilson, Palo Duro; Buddy Clayton, Amarillo; and Landon Roberts, Littlefield.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Undefeated Von Clay, promising young light heavyweight, hopes to gain a foothold among the contenders tonight when he meets fourth-ranked Johnny Ray of Chicago in a nationally televised 10-round bout here.

The 20-year-old Clay, who stopped seven of his opponents in the building a 9-0-1 log, knows that the real money is at the top and he hopes to use Ray as a stepping stone.

Ray, 20, who gained national prominence with a surprise knockout of Jesse Bowdry, is confident that his superior ring knowledge will be the deciding factor.

Kroll, Palmer, Goalby Share Lead in Rubber City Open
AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Victory Starved Ted Kroll, seeking his first win in three years, shared the lead with Arnold Palmer and Bob Goalby today as a bustling happy pro tee off in the second round of the $22,000 Rubber City Open.

The trio turned in torrid five-under-par 66's Thursday to lead the attack on par in first round play over the 6,520-yard Firestone Country Club.

Of the 128 competing, 40 fractured par, while 11 others traveled the picturesque 18 holes in even-par 71.

Kroll, father of four, had a 34-32 including an eagle on a long par-five hole on the back nine. Kroll, Sarasota, Fla., has won $9,775 in 12 events this year.

Some of those 90-day "wonders" the Army were lulu, but even they couldn't keep up with Willie McCovey, who is leading the Giants to a pennant and bidding for the rookie of the year award within a brief span of 21 days.

Since reporting to the Giants only three weeks ago, the amazing 21-year-old McCovey has fashioned a fabulous .418 batting average.

Hardly a day goes by that he doesn't win a ball game for the Giants. Of a night, for that matter, too.

McCovey was doing business at the same old stand Thursday night when he drove in three runs with three hits, including a two-run homer, that beat the Braves, 5-3, and preserved the Giants' two-game lead in the National League race.

There was some talk they might "catch up" with Willie the "ace" a time around. Well, the Braves were seeing him for the second time and they had no more luck with him than they did the first time.

Willie Mays also chipped in with three hits to help Sam Jones notch his 16th victory over Warren Spahn, who suffered his 13th loss.

Dodgers Defeat Reds
The second-place Dodgers defeated the Reds, 8-5; the Pirates beat the Cardinals, 3-1, and the Cubs took the nightcap of a two-night two-bill, 6-4, after the Phillies won the opener, 8-5.

Ed Bailey's passed ball on a two-out third strike to pitcher Danny McDevitt paved the way for a seven-run fifth inning that gave the Dodgers their victory over the Reds.

After McDevitt reached first, Jim Gilliam singled, Carley Neal doubled, Wally Moon walked, Norm Larker homered, Chuck Essegian doubled and Ron Fairly singled before Willard Schmidt reliever loser Bob Purkey. John Roseboro then doubled home the seventh run of the inning. McDevitt was credited with his ninth victory.

Bob Friend struck out 11 men and scattered nine hits in leading the Pirates to victory over the Cards. The victory was only the sixth for Friend, who has lost 15, Pittsburgh got to loser Ernie Broglio for a run in the fourth and added another pair in the fifth on Bob Skinner's single. Dick Carl Sawatski drove in four runs with a homer and a double and Wally Post contributed a two-run homer in Philadelphia's opening game win over Chicago. Ruben Gomez was the winner. In the nightcap, Bob Anderson won his 10th game with some fine relief from Bill Henry, who gave up one hit and struck out six over the last four frames.

Art Schult drove in the deciding runs for the Cubs with a home run in the fifth and a single in the seventh. Moe Drabowsky was the loser in the opener and Taylor Phillips in the nightcap.

In the American League, Cleveland topped Washington, 6-1; Baltimore beat Chicago, 7-8; Boston outlasted Kansas City 11-10, and Detroit shellacked New York, 14-2.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant beat his Washington "cousins" for the 11th straight time in two seasons with out a Cerv while leading Cleveland to within 2 1/2 games of the top. Grant limited the Senators to three hits in winning his eighth game — six at the expense of Washington. Ed Fitzgerald and Woodie Held each homered off Pedro Ramos, who lost his 15th game.

Orioles Lick League Leaders
The Orioles worked over seven White Sox pitchers for 13 hits, including four by Billy Klaus, in licking the league leaders. Hoyt Wilhelm pitched the first six innings to post his 12th victory. Billy Loes hurled the last three. Chicago starter Barry Latman was the loser although Baltimore scored its last two runs off rookie Ken McBride.

Bob Cerv slammed three homers and drove in six runs for the Athletics but the Red Sox still won the game, trailing 7-5. Boston rallied for five runs off loser Tom Sturdivant in the seventh and then added what proved to be the winning run in the eighth. Rookie Earl Wilson, credited with his first major league victory, helped his own cause by driving in three runs with a double and a single.

Oil Bowl Tilt Set Tonight
WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI)—Some 15,000 fans are expected at Midwest University Stadium tonight for the 16th annual Oil Bowl charity football game between Texas and Oklahoma schoolboy all-star teams.

Texas once again is cast in the favorite's role. The Lone Star teams have won 13 of the 15 games played, losing 20-17 to Oklahoma in 1957 and playing to a 6-6 tie in 1954.

The games are sponsored by the Musk Shrine Temple. Tonight's contest shaped up as a possible passing duel, although both sides are loaded with break-away runners.

Wichita Falls' all-state quarterback Johnny Genung and his Oklahoma counterpart, Don Truell of Oklahoma City Southeast, were expected to handle most of the passing.

Truell, however, may give way later in the game to Bruce Log of Ada or Val Renuau of Cushing, both of whom are rated on a par with Truell.

The Oklahomaans, coached by Marvin Martin of Tulsa Webster, will work from the Split T while the Texas team will use a slightly different version of the T masterminded by Tugboat Jones, former mentor at Highland Park.

Jones and Claude Gistrap of Arlington tutor the Texans. Only one serious injury was reported in either camp. A sinus infection may sideline Texas lineman Joe Miller of Dallas Jefferson. Another Texas, halfback Paul Lea of Terrell, was expected to be ready for action even though he was bothered by chest pains during workouts.

TOMMY PHELPS battles Hamilton

Myaki Tangles With Savich Here Saturday

Another double main event is scheduled for Saturday at Top of Texas Sportsman's Club, as Taro Myaki tangles with Dynamite Danny Savich and Silent Joe Hamilton takes on Tommy Phelps.

Savich, known as "The Savage Savich" as well as "Dynamite Danny" will be making his first appearance this year before Pampa fans. He is another in a series of new grapplers brought here by Doc Miller to enliven the wrestling cards.

Savich's opponent, Myaki, is well known in these parts. The slippery Japanese matman has enough ability and ring knowledge to win a match fairly most of the time, but he seems to feel he'd rather win some other way.

Justice has, however, caught up with the slippery Nip on occasion, and perhaps Savich could tip the scales this time.

In the second match, an old-timer of the ring, trying to make a comeback, goes against one of the toughest youngsters in the business.

Phelps has had some success in his last few matches, after breaking a long losing streak. However, he has yet to regain his old-time winning form, and he hasn't wrestled anyone in Hamilton's class recently.

Hamilton, a barrel-chested 260-pounder, speaks softly and seldom, but carries a big reputation. He actually has little to gain in this match, but he'll be trying hard not to lose anything.

This match could be a make-or-break event for Phelps; and although it wouldn't exactly "break" Hamilton if he lost, it would be a severe setback for him.

Advance tickets to Saturday's matches, which begin at 8:30 p.m., are on sale at Levine's Department Store. Ringside seats are $1.50, reserved seats $1.25, and general admission $1.00. The matches are sponsored by Pampa Shrine Club.

Showdown Near

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI)—Two surprising teen-age teams drew rugged assignments today as the national doubles championships into the showdown stages.

Sandy Laubart of New Orleans and Gwen Thomas of Cleveland, both 19, met defending champions Darlene Hard and Jeanne Arrh in a women's semi-final match.

City Slickers, Sodbusters Clash Saturday in Amarillo

The City Slickers will not have the weight and experience in the line or the reserve strength of last year's team, and such great stars as all-state back Hershel Powell, all-state end Jeff Bearden, back Allen Harmon, end Ronnie Cade, and lineman Jimmy McKernan, Robert Anderward, and Tommy Powell are all gone — along with back Don Adams and defensive specialist Charles Jackson.

The Bucks will also have to adjust to Huffman's wing T style of offense, and many boys may have to play different positions than the ones they played last year.

Bright Spots
However, on the bright side, Willie Deer still has backfield strength, and adequate speed and deception. Forty-six boys are out for the squad — a number which would do credit to a school twice as large.

White Deer opens its season at home Sept. 4 against the regional class B champion Groom Tigers, then plays Stimmet, Spearman, and Shamrock on successive weekends. After an open date on Oct. 2, the Bucks move into district play Oct. 9.

Huffman and his assistants pick Canadian or Panhandle to win the district title. Both teams have a number of returning starters. However, if the Bucks continue to show the determination and desire of the '57 and '58 squads, which won 24 games and lost only two, while tying one, they may surprise their own coaches.

AMARILLO (Sp) — Dickie Watkins of Pampa will be in the offensive lineup for the City Slickers Saturday night, when they meet the Sobdusters at 8 p.m. on Price College Field here in the second annual Panhandle grid classic.

Seven gridders from the Pampa area will be on the opposing Sobduster squad. They are tackle Charles Lovett, Perryton; quarterbacks Tommy Johnson, Lefors, and Kenny Abraham, Canadian; halfbacks Earl McKinley, Perryton, and Allen Harmon, White Deer; fullbacks Hershel Powell, Willie Deer, and Billy Crockett, McLean.

The City Slickers won last year's inaugural game, 34-12, thanks largely to the play of Amarillo's David Russell, who was named the outstanding player in both that game and the Texas High School All-Star game at Houston.

Russell's punt returns had much to do with the City Slicker win, so the Sobduster coach, Jack Barry, has been concentrating heavily on punting, punt return defense, and all other phases of kicking and kicking defense.

Both the Sobdusters and City Slickers completed their heavy contact work Thursday. They were to hold light drills this afternoon in preparation for Saturday's game.

Neither team has suffered a serious injury, although Abraham had a minor nose bleed after he bumped hard into Crockett in a practice session. A couple of City Slickers have minor pulled muscles, according to coach Jack Venable. However, these Leo, Eddie Gipson of Phillips and Billy Adams of Monterey, are expected to go full speed.

Team captains for the two squads will be McKinley and Canyon's Eddie Boydston for the Sobdusters, and James Pressley and Landon Roberts of Littlefield for the Slickers.

The Slicker defensive unit will probably include Bill Brooks, Tascosa; Ronnie Covington, Palo Duro; Bill Adams, Monterey; Larry Tipton, Levelland; Dickie Meyer, Berger; Bobby Huntington, Plainview; James Walton, Dumas; John McCracken, Tascosa; Danny Wilson, Palo Duro;

'PADDLEWHEEL'

A "Paddlewheel" satellite, of the type shown here, was launched into orbit aboard a Thor-Able missile by the Air Force from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Four paddles extend from the equator of the satellite. Folded birdlike beneath the satellite during flight of the space rocket, the paddles will extend into space through the force of springs and centrifugal force as the satellite separates from the rocket and is spun into orbit. Energy of sunlight, harnessed by 8,000 silicon polar cells covering the paddles, is converted into power to operate the satellite instrumentation.

Pope John Wants Catholic Church Run on Local Basis

By DANIEL F. GILMORE United Press International. All this will take time. But the increasing number of appointments by Pope John of native bishops and auxiliaries and the erection of new dioceses in former mission territory shows that the Vatican is hastening a program which has been in progress for centuries. The late Pope Pius XII alone appointed more than a score of African bishops. "Colonial" Presence Felt. The new and old worlds on either side of the Atlantic have their own cardinals, hierarchy, local priests, universities and seminaries. But a vast part of the world, including almost the entire continent of Africa, is still "colonial" church administration — in the sense that in these areas there is no local native hierarchy or dioceses. "Foreigners," regardless of their good intentions, run the church locally in these regions. Some 50,000,000 of the world's half billion Catholics live in areas with no local hierarchy, or with a native church leadership still in the incipient stage. The driving power behind this "colonial" office is Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, the energetic Armenian patriarch who was listed by many as a prime papal candidate after the death last year of Pius XII. Cardinal's Job Paradoxical. Pope John was elected, but he was delegated extremely important church work to Cardinal Agagianian. Cardinal Agagianian has a paradoxical job. He is actually moving to abolish his own massive organization. It will not happen in his time, but the impetus is there — to remove gradually the "mission" label from large areas of the world and leave them in the hands of local dioceses run by native priests and bishops, and, if possible, by native Cardinals. The church moves slowly, but it is as sensitive to changing moods in the world as any foreign office.

Indians' Rain Dance Often Brings Flood of Results

The Lighter Side By FRANK ELZEER United Press International. WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senators and their helpers can't say they weren't warned. Sen. Gale McGee (D-Wyo.) got up on the floor and told "am right out," "bring your umbrellas tomorrow." He said the Ki-Ann Indian dancers had been performing their rain dance, with live snakes every couple of months for years — and they practically never failed. They do their work so well, he said, that they often drown out their show. Well, it's too bad the way senators get cynical about matters like this. Or maybe they figured the Weather Bureau knows more about what the weather will do than a bunch of high school boys from Cheyenne, Wyo. Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) showed up on the Senate's front steps unprepared and unconcerned. So did Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.). Green Plans Safe. Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), who is 81 and presumably a little more foresighted than the younger members, came equipped with neither raincoat, hat nor umbrella, but stuck to the shelter of the marble front porch just to be on the safe side. Even McGee proved to be a man of small faith, although he did wear his drip-dry suit. In fact, it was the only one in the crowd who showed up with an umbrella. And before that rain dance was over everybody was sure envious. Man, the sun at high noon in capitol plaza was enough to bake your brains. Resemblance Is Striking. The Ki-Anns aren't really Indians, but when they got through getting undressed and painted in the senators' private locker room you had to look mighty close to tell. This transformation takes time, I guess, because at 12:20 p.m. the first feathered headdress had not shown itself on the horizon. Rumors spread through the palace crowd that somebody had headed off at the traffic light. McGee's administrative assistant, Joe Davis, suggested the kids probably were delayed waiting for one of the automatic elevators in the new Senate Office Building. These are supposed to think for themselves but the senators say they mostly just daydream. A cheer went up as the boys finally streamed single file out of what's left of the woods on the Capitol Mall. They picked their stealthy way between the piles of rubble from the demolished east front and the big red gash left by the new Senate subway. Snakes To Blame. McGee's optimism, unfortunately, at a cloud no bigger than a man's hand, stepped before the three painted tepals and announced that we could blame the delay on the bull snakes. All but one of them died en route with the boys by bus. Too hot and dry, apparently. Stand-ins had to be borrowed from the Washington zoo. With this preface out of the way, the boys popped the snakes into their mouths and put on an Indian rain dance so genuine and authentic it is said they have been sought out by the Hopis to teach it. By the time they were done, that one little cloud, no bigger than a man's hand, had clean disappeared and as the crowd scurried to get out of the sun, the announcer said it would rain in 24 hours. I listened closely though and I don't believe he said where.

Comedy, Proves To Be Most Durable TV Entertainment

By VERNON SCOTT UPI Hollywood Correspondent. HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Longevity is the rarest commodity in television. A show surviving two years is considered a roaring success in this age of fickle audiences and over-exposure. But in TV's brief history — a handful of network shows have racked up impressive records. Most durable entertainment on the airwaves is comedy — both the situation variety and the stand-up comedian. Jack Benny and Groucho Marx have been around for nine years. Show is Granddaddy. Rounding out the comedy shows for staying power are "I Love Lucy" and "The Red Skelton Show" with eight years each; "Ozzie and Harriet," seven; Danny Thomas, six; "Dennis the Menace" and "Father Knows Best," five. Ed Sullivan is the granddaddy of all variety-revue regulars. His original "Toast of the Town" program is the second oldest in video — 12 years. Also in the variety category are "You Asked For It," eight years; "Person to Person," six; and "People Are Funny," five. The two panel shows registering longest are "What's My Line," a nine-year winner, and "I've Got a Secret," which has been around seven years. Both are going strong and climbing in the ratings. In the dramatic department three filmed series and a single "live" effort have survived the rash of good and bad plays which confronted the public a half-dozen years ago. "Dragnet," which closes out its run this fall, hang on for seven years, followed by "The U.S. Steel Hour," a six-year veteran. "The Line-Up" and "Wall to Wall Presents" each racked up five years. Lone quiz show among the longest is "Name That Tune." The others were short-lived following the 1957-58 scandals.

Good Weather Aids Harvest Of State Crops

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — The harvest of Texas crops moved north across the state at a rapid pace this week as farmers took advantage of favorable weather. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported today. However, the need for a good general rain is increasing in much of the state as high temperatures and vegetative growth sap surface moisture, said director John E. Hutchison. Local showers have helped in some sections, but non-irrigated crops in the South Plains are said to be deteriorating. Also ranges in the Rolling Plains and much of far West Texas are drying up fast. Livestock Condition Good. The bulk of cotton and grain sorghum harvest is now in South and Central Texas, but many counties as far north as the Red River have ginned their first bale. A few bolls are opening on the South Plains, and much grain sorghum is being harvested in the Rolling Plains. Ranchers still are enjoying favorable range conditions in most of the state, even though grass is beginning to turn brown. Livestock are said to still be in good condition, especially for this period of the year. Goat shearing is nearing its peak in the Edwards Plateau. Some lambs are moving to market and calves are being contracted. There's also much movement of cattle in northeast Texas. Insects Hit Cotton. A record crop of hay already has been stored for winter feed in many sections, and cattlemen are putting up more. Insects continue to infest cotton fields. Fleahoppers are doing damage in the South Plains and bollworms and boll weevils are thickest in the older cotton in Central and North Texas. Pecans show much promise of a good crop. Peanuts in the West Cross Timbers need a rain. Vegetables are moving slow in the Panhandle due to a poor market. In the Grand Valley and West-Winter Garden they are making good growth and citrus is maturing well.

NO LIFE JACKETS NEEDED—These wild ponies were captured during an unusual roundup which occurs annually at Chincoteague, Va. Made to swim from their home on nearby Assateague Island, the ponies are herded on shore and colts are sold at auction. Older ponies are returned. Origin of the herd is unknown, although some say the ponies are descended from Arabian horses which swam ashore from a wrecked Spanish galleon.

Leaving the air this year is the single musical show which scored among the oldtimers after bouncing around all three networks. It was "The Voice of Firestone" which lasted 10 years. So-called "adult" westerns haven't existed long enough to climb into the long-run list. But "Wyatt Earp," which triggered the current oater craze, is moving into its fifth year this fall. And don't underestimate the power of dogs. Both "Lassie" and "Rin Tin Tin" are in their fifth years of barking up the night trees.

The Rise And Fall

When a nation's economy collapses, a debacle ensues. History reminds us grimly that such collapses are neither rare nor unexpected. It can be pointed out repeatedly that virtually all races and nationalities have experienced, at one time or another, the terrifying results of an economic eclipse.

Steel Stands Firm

The steel strike is still going strong. But word from the chairman of the board of United States Steel is still encouraging. He says: "Whatever the length of the strike, and whatever the eventual outcome of the negotiations—so long as they are voluntary—there is no danger that we will not intend to raise the general level of our steel prices in the foreseeable future."

Can Anything Good Come From Khrushchev's Visit?

It is a little difficult to understand why he invited Khrushchev to come to the United States to discuss matters with him. This is especially true since President Eisenhower has refused to have a Summit meeting unless there could be some prearranged concessions on the part of Russia.

It, and all of the appurtenances to the economy which keep the goods and services endlessly in motion. Without this constant exchange procedure, we would be doomed.

And the degree and rate of the deprivation is in direct ratio to the degree of speciality skills in our meager and paltry energies for the exchange store of capital expenditure and current energy releases which make life possible and even enjoyable for us.

It wants to see, as it did see in Britain, the full socialization of the steel industry. If the government moves in and grabs the mills, the union will have achieved a major victory, even if the workers get not a dime more as a consequence.

The union movement in this country has been in the vanguard of those seeking to accomplish the socialist objective of the abolition of private ownership of all important means of production and distribution. This present movement against steel gives them a marvelous opportunity to achieve just this, if they can get the government to take action.

There can be no question as to which side American sympathies belong. If the steel companies are forced to capitulate in either of the two ways outlined, a major blow will have been delivered by the union against the American way of life.

PARTISAN CLASH IN SENATE COMMITTEE OVER LABOR REFORM LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON — The turbulent battle in the House over labor reform legislation has nothing on that angry row inside the Senate Labor Rackets Committee over investigating the $1 million "flower fund" of the United Auto Workers.

Of course, we're also attempting to control "education" from the central government, just as Russia controls how children shall be "educated." We have already gone so far that we cannot teach the Ten Commandments in the schools, just as Russia refuses to teach the Coveting Commandment, the Bearing False Witness Commandment and the Killing Commandment in the Russian schools.

NEW YORK — CUFF NOTES IN PENNSYLVANIA: You get up at 5 in the morning because you are restless, sleepless and feel an urgency to get into an automobile and go somewhere...

Inside two hours you have passed New York and are on your way out Route 22 near Somerville, New Jersey. You make a mental note to get dinner at the Stockholm on the way back, if you come back that way and if it is dinner-time the next time you pass it...They have 110 smorgasbord items, all delicious, and you remember the last time you were there, somehow and incomprehensibly, you missed 11 of them...

It is actually a box with a hollow square. The Russians make a mystery unnecessarily and my explorations reveal only one stairway a furlong away unmarked by any directions or arrows. This condition would violate the first laws in most American cities. There are only clumsy elevators, run entirely by women.

The Hotel is severely segregated or partitioned from a larger portion of the great mass which is a flat-building rising from 12 to 15 stories on the other three sides of the hollow square and there are many spacious but usually empty dining rooms in the mysterious portions. There are acres of lobbies and on all the hotel floors above the ground floor absolutely useless public spaces, each containing a couch, a desk for the key-clerk, a round table and a few chairs, ugly in their design and the color of their plush and an utter waste because the only occasion for people to use them is when they are waiting for the elevators. This is considerable time in the aggregate but even so, the guests poise hopefully at the elevator doors trying to guess which one of the many may be running and alert to barge in.

One of my waiters, a "pure" Russian or Slav, and a polite, pleasant youth with a few words of pidgin English, took pride in describing the flat in which he and his mother and father, his sister and his brother live. It has two rooms, each 25 square meters (approximately 270 square feet), which you may measure off in your own dwelling with considerable overage, and his sister sleeps with her parents. They share a toilet, shower and washbasin with other lucky tenants and, measuring with the naked eye this wanton waste of room and many empty dining rooms, I should estimate that some thousands of Muscovites are still waiting for the miserable allotment of two times 25 square meters of the Soviet bureaucracy squandered all that space in a Jerry-built by Moscow standards quite superior hotel.

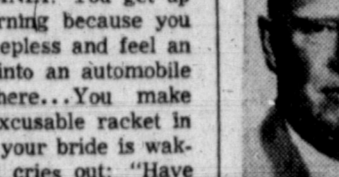

Meanwhile, women toil ignominiously not only as street sweepers, which is not hard work, but carrying hods, slushing mortar and swabbing great areas of tile floors into the night without even a mop. They get down on their knees with huge, sopping, dirty cloths and rub the dirt away, all dignity, all their precious feminine privilege long forgotten. I saw one such weary soul toiling away in a bakery store near the hotel about midnight. She was about 30, neither pretty nor ugly and a woman. Her hair was out of her skirt, her face was awry, she was sweaty and unspeakably weary and, as I stopped at an American woman to peer in the window, she turned her head away.

This was despair, a sight to make the angels weep. What habitations does she crawl to when her work is done? What food can she afford when we expense account satellites of the Nixon party and the American exhibition no longer bother to order the tasteless garbage which the pompous regime with absurd ecstasies before us in the Ukraine? Has this poor soul even a hot dog or such a chocolate cake as the Betty Crocker booth whipped up before our eyes at the RCA television show recorded in color on tape in the House of Enchantment at our fair?

Fair Enough

Russians Have Wasteful Hotels, Too Few Houses

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

MOSCOW — Time flies and so do most of us in journalism these days, so I should explain that although I am writing this exercise in Room 611 of the ridiculous Ula-raine Hotel in Moscow, I may have been in Copenhagen, Stockholm and elsewhere by the time it meets your eye. So I use the Moscow date line not merely as a tourist flourish—foreign stickers to show that I have been abroad, but because I am in Moscow at this writing.

Which being said, my theme today is the squalor of the brave world of the future which the Soviet Empire and Communism have inflicted on millions of the best members of the "pure" Russian race, the denizens of the imperial capital, as their reward for their solicitation of the manhood and personality and their suffering in a war which the Soviet political bosses brought down on Russia. The Ukraine Hotel covers a square block which would be about equal to two square blocks in the fifties between Park and Lexington in New York.

It is actually a box with a hollow square. The Russians make a mystery unnecessarily and my explorations reveal only one stairway a furlong away unmarked by any directions or arrows. This condition would violate the first laws in most American cities. There are only clumsy elevators, run entirely by women.

I have seen examples of the ing record of his... Later you all go back to Max's and after a goodnight you and your bride drive three miles to a Holiday Inn and fall asleep within 40 seconds, steak in slab sizes having made you both torpid... Next day, you drive around the countryside and, having absorbed enough distillate lore, you start back for New York and, sure enough, make it to the Stockholm at dinner-time... This time they have 114 varieties of smorgasbord, but you play it cool and decide not to murder yourself.

Teenage Girls Have Trouble Getting Into Movies Today

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Think back. How long has it been since a pretty girl has burst into stardom in the movies? *

Not since Marilyn Monroe's platinum explosion seven years ago.

In the interim, a gangling procession of ducktailed adolescent males have swarmed into the public eye, leaving the masculine population with a choice of old-timers in movies or western heroes on TV.

An exception to the invasion is Carol Lynley, a 17-year-old New Yorker who's making her fourth movie. A solemn, straight-laced blonde, Carol has a logical explanation for the dearth of young females in show biz.

"For every teen-age boy who writes a fan letter there are 10 teen-age girl letter-writers," she said during a lunch break on her new picture.

"As far as I know there isn't a single fan club comprised of boys. That's the whole answer to the success of people like Elvis Presley, Fabian, Pat Boone and Tommy Sands."

Though Carol has found a wedge in Hollywood's phalanx of boy wonders, her colorless private life and inability to elicit screams of rapture from teen-agers may work to her disadvantage.

She refuses to pose for cheese-cake. Her dates are as secretive as H-bomb plans. In a word, she's refreshingly square.

Currently starring in 20th Century-Fox's "Hound Dog Man," Carol also starred in "Blue Denim." "The Light in the Forest" and "Holiday for Lovers," in addition to more than 100 television dramas.

"I want to be an actress, not a movie star," she said slowly. "There is a big difference."

"When I'm not working I live like any other 17-year-old just out of high school. I live with my mother and brother in our apartment in New York. If I'm Hollywood mother lives out here with me until my picture is completed."

"I'll be in six months, and people here expect me to start living alone and going out when I please. That's silly. It's not good for an 18-year-old girl to be on her own. She should have the protection of her family. Too many people are anxious to take advantage of a single girl."

Carol dates only on weekends and returns home early.

"I've gone out with two actors, and I won't say who they are," she said. "My private life has nothing to do with acting; therefore, it's nobody's business but my own."

"I don't think it's good for a girl to date too much. You grow up too fast that way—and I'm in no hurry to grow up.

Does Carol believe she will ever match the prominence of Marilyn?

"Gosh, no. I'm not a glamour girl and I have no ideas about competing with Marilyn. I gave up on that when I was 11 years old."

Bit parts: Mickey Rooney has purchased the screen rights to the life of Laurel and Hardy, hoping to land Jackie Gleason to play Hardy while Rooney takes off on Laurel. Debbie Reynolds has three new films lined up at Paramount—"The Rat Race," "The Pleasure of his Company" and "Night Without Edn"—Broadway producer William Inge is seeking Shirley Maclaine to star in his new play, "Loss of Roses" scheduled late this fall. Tommy Sand announced this week he will ditch rock-'n'-roll songs and stick strictly to ballads.

Manhunt On For Rapist

HALLENDALE, Fla. (UPI)—A widespread manhunt was underway in Broward County today for a Negro youth who allegedly raped a 19-year-old Indiana coed in a rockpit near here Wednesday.

Under Florida law, the girl's name cannot be published, but it was learned that she was a sophomore at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind.

Ben Grigsby, Broward's chief criminal investigator, said a medical examination of the victim was "inconclusive, but not inconsistent with her complaint."

The girl was visiting here with a 16-year-old friend, whose father lives in the area.

She said she had an argument a.m. Wednesday and got out of with her date about 2 a.m. Wednesday and got out of his car, intending to walk home.

A few minutes later, she said, the alleged attacker halted his car alongside her, forced her to get in, and drove to a rock pit about a mile away where the incident supposedly took place.

The girl said she fled when the Negro got out of the car. She said she hid behind a service station for four hours in fear he would "find me and kill me."

She reached the home of her friend about dawn.

The girl said her purse flew open during her flight and some of the contents spilled out.

Grigsby said officers found her cigarette lighter near the rockpit. "I have to believe her story," Grigsby said.
