

SEEK PHILLY BROTHERS

Posse Of 400 Combs Woods For Killers

By PETER J. CRONIN
MIDDLEBORO, Mass. (UPI)—
A 400-man posse early today surrounded a triangular area of dense woods...

the cordon. One brother was believed wounded.
Authorities planned to draw the circle slowly to flush out the brothers. They will be aided by bloodhounds and an Air Force helicopter.

The hostage, William Sedgewick, 49, of Philadelphia, was kidnaped in that city 10 days ago and held prisoner in his own car, sharing the bandit's meager diet of occasional sandwiches, milk and marshmallows.

The Coyles were known to have at least five guns and a large quantity of ammunition in their possession. Both were considered extremely dangerous.
Police from nearly every city within 50 miles sent men to the scene. They joined a force of over 100 state troopers, 25 FBI agents and a squad of Philadelphia police led by Chief Inspector John J. Kelly, Massachusetts Public Safety Director J. Henry Goguen took personal charge of the search operations.

The Coyles were wanted for the slaying of Philadelphia Policeman James F. Kane on June 4. He was believed to have caught them stealing bottles of milk near their hideout in that city.
The brothers also are suspected of a half dozen holdups including one Monday at a liquor store here, where they bound and gagged Mrs. Mary C. Kennedy, 54, after stealing about $50. Mrs. Kennedy hobbled to a telephone after working the gag loose and phoned police. Cruiser cars were soon on the trail of the fleeing bandits.

Middleboro Policeman Daniel R. Guertin, 28, and State Policeman Daniel Sullivan cornered the bandits on a lonely dead end road which borders the wooded area.
Before either officer was out of his car the Coyles opened fire. More than 100 shots were fired in the subsequent battle which ended when the policemen were forced to withdraw for more ammunition.

During the battle, Guertin said he heard one of the suspects say, "I'm hit." Guertin said he believed one bullet hit the man in the leg.
While the two policemen were getting more ammunition from their cars, the Coyles fled. When the officers returned they saw Sedgewick stumble from the back seat of the bandit's car, clutching his abdomen.

SUGAR AND SPICE

The two basic ingredients of little girls — sugar and spice — blended nicely for Arlene Willis of the Wayside 4-H club Monday as she won first place in the county 1959 4-H Bake Show. Miss Willis' winning entries were plain white sugar cookies and a loaf of applesauce walnut quick bread. (Daily News Photo)

Gromyko In Surprise Meeting With Herter

Last Minute Move To End Deadlock?

By STEWART HENSLEY United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)— Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko paid a surprise call on Secretary of State Christian Herter today, setting off speculation that he might be making a last minute move to end the deadlock in the current Big Four conference.
Earlier, authoritative sources said he plans to turn down any Western move for a long recess in the talks and to press for an immediate decision on a summit conference.
His asking for a meeting with Herter shortly before a scheduled strategy meeting among the Western ministers indicated he may have come up with a new plan to keep the discussions going a bit longer.

The Herter - Gromyko session lasted for slightly more than an hour.
Before Gromyko's visit to Herter there seemed little hope of resolving what one Western official described as a "complete impasse" in the current talks.
The authoritative Communist sources said Gromyko will resist the planned Western strategy of interrupting the more than five-week-old talks for a cooling off period. Some Western sources have mentioned a five or six-week recess.
The Western powers already were writing the obituary notice for the East-West conference on Berlin, convinced that Soviet refusal to back off on its ultimatum that the West get out of Berlin within 12 months made agreement impossible now.
Gromyko, by seeking to extend the deadlock conference, apparently hoped to split the Allies and get an unconditional summit conference without paying for it with progress at the foreign ministers level.
Britain Anxious
Britain still was reported far more anxious for a summit conference than its American, French or West German allies and the new Soviet strategy would be aimed at taking advantage of this difference.
Communist spokesmen made Gromyko's attitude known as Western powers went into urgent consultations on how to end the apparently hopeless meeting without making the Berlin crisis worse. They also wanted to convince the world that Russia caused the deadlock.
The Big Four conference itself was in recess until Wednesday while both sides sought a way out of their impasse.
Western sources said only a last minute retreat by Gromyko on the Russian ultimatum could keep the talks alive. They said at Monday's 2 1/2-hour meeting he showed no sign he was willing to withdraw the ultimatum.
Western spokesmen said there was no "give" in his position. One spokesman said the meeting produced a "complete impasse."
Another said Gromyko "was like a cow chewing a cud as he hashed over old ideas" — get out of Berlin or face the consequences.
Gromyko was coldly formal and (See DEADLOCK, Page 3)

ASKS FOR RELEASE

Looking pale and tired, Louisiana's Gov. Long, in white hat, is surrounded by newsmen as he arrives at the Galveston County Courthouse for a habeas corpus hearing. Long appealed to District Judge L. D. Godard to release him from the mental ward of John Sealy Hospital in Galveston so he can return to Louisiana.

Barricaded Boy Gives Up To Officers

By MORT J. SULLIVAN United Press International

CHARLESTON, Ill. (UPI)— An armed youth answered an appeal to his "sense of manhood" today and surrendered himself and his half-sister, whom he had held hostage for nearly 18 hours.
Kenneth Adkins, 22, gave up without a shot being fired, shortly before officers had planned to launch a tear-gas attack on the house where he had barricaded himself. Adkins in a note boasted he had attacked his half-sister, Mrs. Nyra Kennedy, 34, but she appeared otherwise unharmed.
The guns that he had waved at police and at his captive were empty when he surrendered, although he had not fired a shot.
Several minutes before Adkins walked out with his half-sister, he had conferred with Mervin Biel, Charleston attorney; Ralph Glenn, assistant state's attorney; Police Chief John Pauley and Sgt. Paul Baines.
Adkins said he made his decision in the talk with Biel, who appealed to Adkins' "sense of manhood," and warned him that no good would come of holding his half-sister hostage.
Adkins took the woman from her home near Paris, Ill., about 7:30 p.m. Monday, brought her to the house here and said he would hold her at gunpoint until he had a chance to even an old score with Charleston Police Capt. Logan Cox.
Regrets Trouble
Adkins told newsmen he did not regret "my decision to give up," but did "regret all the trouble I've caused—all I've ever wanted was a fair shake." He was jailed on a kidnap charge.
As he emerged into the sun-lit street, hundreds of people pushed forward to get a glimpse of the man who had held his half-sister, the mother of five children, captive all night.
Pauley credited the surrender to the insistent work of Baines, who "never gave up the belief that Adkins would surrender."
Baines set up two interviews during the night with Adkins and attended the third with the other officials. The two earlier ones were attended by this reporter.
In the second, we were accompanied by Mrs. Walter Adkins. (See BOY, Page 3)

BAKE SHOW IS HELD

Nineteen Gray County 4-H girls reached down for their best recipes Monday as they competed in the 1959 4-H Bake Show in the County Extension Service office.
Arlene Willis of the Wayside 4-H club won first place in final judging with her entries of plain white sugar cookies and a loaf of applesauce walnut quickbread.
Judges Elaine Holman and Faye Terrell named Leahwaas

Rowlin second, Rose Hudson third, Jeanette Mayberry fourth, and Roselle Baggerman fifth.
Albie Keuhler, who headed this year's bake show, said she was pleased with the number of entries — last year only four girls entered.
Miss Willis was picked champion for baking the best quickbread and gaining a second place award in sugar cookies. All entries baked es-entially the same cookies and breads, but some lost points for overmixing, texture and appearance.

Girls entered in addition to the winners were Pat Vinyard, Mary Belle Gibson, Janice and Sharron Mackie, Rebecca Spradlin, Charley Gustin, Frances Clark, Phyllis Daisling, Martha Pettillo, Vicki Lash, Marsha and Melody Geyer, Sue Stubbfield and Irene Baggerman.

BY RED PLANES

U.S. JET ATTACKED

By MILTON MAGRUDER United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Communist jet fighters attacked a U.S. Navy patrol plane over the Sea of Japan near North Korea today. They shot it up in six firing runs and seriously wounded a crewman.
The Defense Department said the badly-damaged U.S. plane, through the skill of its pilot, managed to reach an air base in Japan.
The attack occurred at 7,000 feet over international waters about 85 miles east of Wonsan, North Korea. The Navy plane, under heavy attack, dove to within 50 feet of the water to escape.
The department said radio messages from the crippled plane indicated two jet fighters participated in the attack. The planes were identified only as MIG jet fighters with red star markings on the fuselage.

There was no indication whether the pilots were Russian, Chinese Communists, or North Koreans. The North Koreans are estimated to have about 500 MIGs based at Wonsan.
The Navy forwarded a report of the attack to the State Department for a possible formal protest.
The Defense Department said the attack took place at 12:38 p.m. Tuesday June 16 Japanese time (10:38 p.m. e.s.t. Monday).

The announcement said the P4M was on a routine training patrol. It was based at the Tachikawa Marine air facility on Honshu Island.
The announcement said skillful handling by Lt. Commdr. Donald Mayer, the pilot, enabled the badly-damaged plane to be brought safely into Miho base on Honshu.
The tail gunner was wounded when his gun was knocked out by the first of six runs made by the attacking planes.

'Still In Jail, Boys' Exclaims Gov. Long

By BRYCE MILLER United Press International

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI)— Louisiana Gov. Earl Long today faced at least another week in the Galveston mental hospital where he contends he is being held prisoner. A hospital spokesman indicated the governor is becoming a bit more reconciled to his enforced stay.
Announcement by District Judge L. D. Godard Monday that he would need a week to decide whether "Die East" should be released from John Sealy Hospital capped a day long habeas corpus hearing marked by shouted interruptions from the fiery brother of the late Huey Long.
Long referred to his physician cousin as a "horse doctor" and at another point referred to hospital attendants as "bone crushers." Once, while sitting in the jury box, he noticed his trouser fly was open and casually stood to zip it up.
Although it was not noticeable, Long was under tranquilizer drugs during the hearing, the hospital spokesman said.
Long shouted to reporters "still in jail, boys" when he was led away at the end of the hearing Monday.
A hospital authority who declined to be quoted by name said that "naturally, Governor Long was disappointed" about not winning his immediate release.
"He thought that he would be on his way home in Louisiana last night. But he had accepted the court's action very well."
The spokesman said that the governor's spirits seemed to have been improved by seeing a number of his friends in court. He also said that Long is much better physically than he had been in a week.
The hospital noted that the mild sedation the governor was under Monday in no way hampered his thinking or restricted his activities.
Long, 63, showed up at the hearing with slightly glazed eyes and a somewhat stumbling gait. He asked for the hearing by filing a writ of habeas corpus in which he charged that he was drugged, tied hand and foot and spirited away from Louisiana against his will May 30.
Godard, in announcing the postponement of a decision, also said that he had conferred with Probate Judge Hugh Gibson and that Gibson had decided to postpone a sanity hearing scheduled for today until Godard makes his ruling.

Commission Hears Proposal For Re-routing Sewer Line

A tentative proposal to share the cost of re-routing a proposed sewer line around property in south-east Pampa, was presented to the City Commission this morning by Attorney Jimmy Thompson, who is representing two area landowners, Lamson Stovall and Lewis Yager.
The long-discussed sewer line project — if built under present plans — would cut a diagonal across property owned by Stovall and Yager. Both landowners at today's meeting said the diagonal line would damage property ticketted for future home development.

The commission, in a decision two weeks ago, decided to cut across Stovall's land with a 15-inch line rather than go around the 45nd at an additional cost of $18,000. Mayor Ed Myatt said he could see no reason for spending an added $18,000 of taxpayers' money for the "benefit of one or two property owners."
The proposed line would parallel a 12-inch line for which the city has long held a right of way. The section of line across Stovall's property is part of a multi-thousand dollar improvement of Pampa's sewer facilities.

The proposal by Thompson is expected to be considered and answered the next seven days.
In other business the city approved a final waterline estimate from the Stockton Construction Co. of Amarillo for $33,187.
A surplus of materials left over from the waterline job is expected to be purchased by the city after it is legally determined that the city can buy the surplus.
S. G. Stockton, appearing at today's meeting, said the surplus amounting to $2,940 in assorted waterline parts — developed when changes developed in the line's course.

Soil Conservation Stamp Will Be Issued in August

A 4-cent postage stamp saluting progress in soil conservation in the United States will be issued August 26 by the Post Office department, the SCD office in Pampa announced today.
The nation's first soil conservation stamp will be formally released at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America at Rapid City, S.D. It will go on sale the following day throughout the country.
The stamp, developed in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture, portrays a modern farmstead setting signifying that conservation farming brings beauty as well as bounty to rural living. The stamp will be printed in three colors, yellow, green and blue.

Japan Seeks World Markets,
Trades On Friendship With US

On Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese, in a sneak attack, all but sank the Hawaiian Islands. For several years thereafter this country and Japan were in a life and death struggle that ended only when this country had developed the atomic bomb at a cost of some two billions of dollars and dropped one on Hiroshima and Nagasaki — a war in which billions of dollars went down the drain and which, above all, destroyed thousands upon thousands of lives of the youth of this country and dashed to oblivion many of the hopes and prayers of their loved ones.

Less than 14 years after the forced surrender of Japan, we find a complete reversal in attitudes. Japan is now seeking world markets and is trading on a very friendly relationship with this country. In fact, she is presently exporting to this country goods in the approximate amount of $700 million per year. She is not entirely satisfied with this arrangement and would like very much to increase it, because she has cheap labor and can obtain many raw materials at prices below the cost of such materials in this country.

By combining her cheap labor with the materials, she can produce and deliver to this country many products at a much lesser price than the same product can be manufactured and sold here. Therefore, she looks upon this country as a vast potential market for everything from electronic equipment to dried fish. In order to expand her sales in this country and to protect the export volume already attained, she has been seeking influential counsel in this country.

It has been reported in the metropolitan press of New York and Washington that she has employed the former governor of New York and a man who twice unsuccessfully ran for the Presidency of the United States — none other than the well-known Thomas E. Dewey — at the alleged fee and expense figure of $200 thousand. It has been rumored that Dewey has denied this connection, but it is well known that negotiations have been going on between Dewey and the Japanese government for sometime. Apparently the old saying, "politics makes strange bedfellows," includes international as well as domestic politics.

The Wheat Bill
The House of Representatives last week passed, by the very close vote of 188 to 177, the controversial Wheat Bill — controversial because there had been much misrepresentation about the whole story. In the past six years the Secretary of Agriculture has continued to depress wheat prices which, in turn, increased wheat production and brought about one of the greatest surpluses in our history. The storage charges alone have become staggering. The President began to needle the Congress to do something about the wheat situation that his own Secretary of Agriculture had created.

The Congress, after long and exhaustive hearings, came forward with a bill which would do what the President had sought; that is, it would measurably reduce the surplus. In other words, it would reduce production by 25 per cent, or some 480 million bushels during the two years it is applicable. It was designed to lower the cost of the wheat program during that period by more than one-half billion dollars.

At the present time the wheat farmers of this nation participating in the program are allowed to plant 55 million acres of wheat. In the bill that passed the House, these same farmers would be allowed to plant only 41 million acres of wheat. The cut-back production would be supported at 90 per cent parity, in order to prevent placing many wheat farmers in bankruptcy because of the drastic acreage allotment reduction. There is much more in the bill, but space will not permit its insertion here.

The debate did bring out some interesting facts and answers to the scathing denunciation to which the American farmer has been subjected by the metropolitan press and many of the slick magazines in the last several years. For instance, the people living in the cities have been led to believe that the American farmer was getting rich at the expense of the city dweller in prices that the city dweller was paying for bakery products. Here are the facts: Between 1948 and 1958 the cost of wheat and other ingredients in a loaf of bread declined 12 per cent at the farm, while during the same period processing and marketing margins increased by 55 per cent. This means that during the ten-year period the cost of a loaf of bread increased by the sum of five and four-tenths cents or 39 per cent. The price of a bushel of wheat during that time declined by the sum of twenty-six cents or 33 per cent. The price of wheat in a one pound loaf of bread is only two and two-fifths cents, a loaf of bread that is now selling at more than 20 cents in many stores. This gives you actual information that definitely proves the conclusion that any rise in the price of a loaf of bread bought by the housewife is not due to any money received by the farmer. The propaganda that the wheat farm program was responsible for high prices of bakery products is a myth and should be so branded by those discussing the subject. Although the bill which passed the House will cause some hardships among many of the wheat producers, it will be a long step toward solving the surplus problem. I sincerely hope that the President will not permit political expediency to dictate a veto.

on Grain Sorghum

Frank Stanton, successful young Hale County farmer, says: "By chiseling in 85 to 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia as a side dressing, I increased my maize yield 1500 pounds per acre. This represents a 34 profit on every $1 invested in ammonia."

"This proved to me that using Phillips 66 Ammonia is profitable. I am using it on both my cotton and grain sorghum land this year. There are not many investments I know that will return 4-for-1."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved storage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied as a side dressing either by you or your distributor. See us today for your supply of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

BUSINESS BRIEFS
 United Press International

Private housing starts in May fell to an annual rate of 1,340,000 from 1,390,000 in April, the Labor Department reported. However, the May pace was the highest for that month since 1955. Plywood prices dropped in the Pacific Northwest. Unsanded fir plywood, used mainly for sheathing in dwelling construction, fell about $7 a thousand square feet below mid-May.

Manhattan Shirt Co. announced a 25-cent increase in the retail price of its $4 shirts. Other big manufacturers are expected to follow the action, first sizable advance in less expensive brand-name shirts in eight years. Recent wage boosts were cited as immediate reasons for the increase.

American producers shipped 96,300,000 pounds of acetate yarn and rayon in May, off slightly from April but 30 per cent above the month a year ago, according to a textile organ. The statistical bulletin of the Textile Economics Bureau reported that high tenacity viscose yarn deliveries last month amounted to 27,900,000 pounds, down 4 per cent from the 17,600,000 pounds delivered in April level and well above the May last year.

Savings and loan associations made $1,344,000,000 of home loans in April, a record for the month, the Federal Home Loan Bank board reported.

Seventh Avenue In Midst Of Opening Of Fall Collections

By GAY PAULEY
 UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — These days a fashion show on Seventh Avenue is a show even without the fashions.

Come behind the scenes to this, the heart of the nation's multi-million dollar garment industry, during its most hectic season. Seventh Avenue is in the midst of openings of the fall collections, which means an invasion of buyers by the six and seven thousands, and reporters by the hundreds.

Manhattan and congestion are synonymous in almost any part of town. But along Seventh Avenue the congestion reaches the point during market "week" (it actually runs about a month) that one observer referred to as on-elevators as "packed like bunches of asparagus."

The "heart" of the heart consists of four skyscrapers along Seventh. Here are located the bulk of the big guns of New York ready-to-wear—Norman Norrell, Jane Derby, Pauline Trigere, Adele Simpson, and Christian Dior.

Observe New Styles
 Here, daily, buyers and press observe what's new, and the buyers stay on to order what will be in the stores by late summer and early fall. Here also, viewers are jammed so closely together on hard, folding chairs that only our corset stays prevent a cave-in.

Some houses "glamorize" the scene by spraying the place with perfume—in case the designer produces one under her name. Others keep buyers' stamina up with box lunches to be juggled with notebooks, purses, and umbrellas.

Some offer champagne after a show—it helps kill time until the jam at the elevator has lessened. Still others hold cocktail-hour shows, with willed hors d'Oeuvres and warm martinis, standard fare.

Make Quick Change
 Shows take from one to two hours, which means from 50 to 150 costumes, with at least five models to parade them. Models are quick-change artists. But the clothes take a beating—skirts are walked out of and left on the floor, as a model reaches for a new costume. Five or six assistants, regular staff with the firm, are in the dressing room helping the girls with zippers, snaps and making sure they walk out in the correct accessories.

At Adele Simpson's, some of the men representing stores were shifted just before show-time to another part of the room. Where they had been sitting, they had a perfect view into the dressing rooms.

Designers try to lighten the tired moments with an occasional joke in a commentary, and the worst pun of the season belongs

NY Felines Have Their Own Sitters

By DOC QUIGG
 United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Modern living is in a new breakthrough. Now we get sitters for cats. That's right, cat sitters to answer the meows of felines forsaken by vacationing owners. The movement is in full purr in New York this summer.

Mrs. Judith S. Schofield, who invented the institution of cat sitting, admits she got the idea from baby sitting. As far as is known, this is the only organized cat sitting effort in the world. It is one of the many activities of the Save a Cat League, Inc., of which Mrs. Schofield is president.

The idea is that if you're going on vacation, you leave the kitty at home, in-house or apartment, and the sitter comes in—usually twice a day—and feeds it.

to Adele Simpson in describing a black crepe used in one group of dresses.

Remembering the recent headlines, I call it crepe Canaveral."

changes its pan, and plays with it a little. The service comes in two handy sizes—you can hire a sitter; or you can engage in reciprocal cat sitting.

Furnished From Pool
 The hired sitter will charge usually $1.50 a day plus carfare. He is furnished from a pool of about 70 persons in the greater New York area who have volunteered to the league for such duty.

The reciprocal sitter is simply a case of I'll scratch for your cat and you scratch for mine. The league tries to puff you in touch with someone in your neighborhood who'll take care while you're on vacation—if you return the compliment.

"We just want to make clear that we take no responsibility for the people who do the sitting," Mrs. Schofield said.

Don't Neglect Slipping FALSE TEETH
 Do false teeth drop, slip or wobble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze? Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. FASTEETH, an alkaline (non-acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates, keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feeling of security and added comfort. No gummy, rosey, pasty taste or feeling. Get FASTEETH today at any drug counter.

AROUND THE WORLD

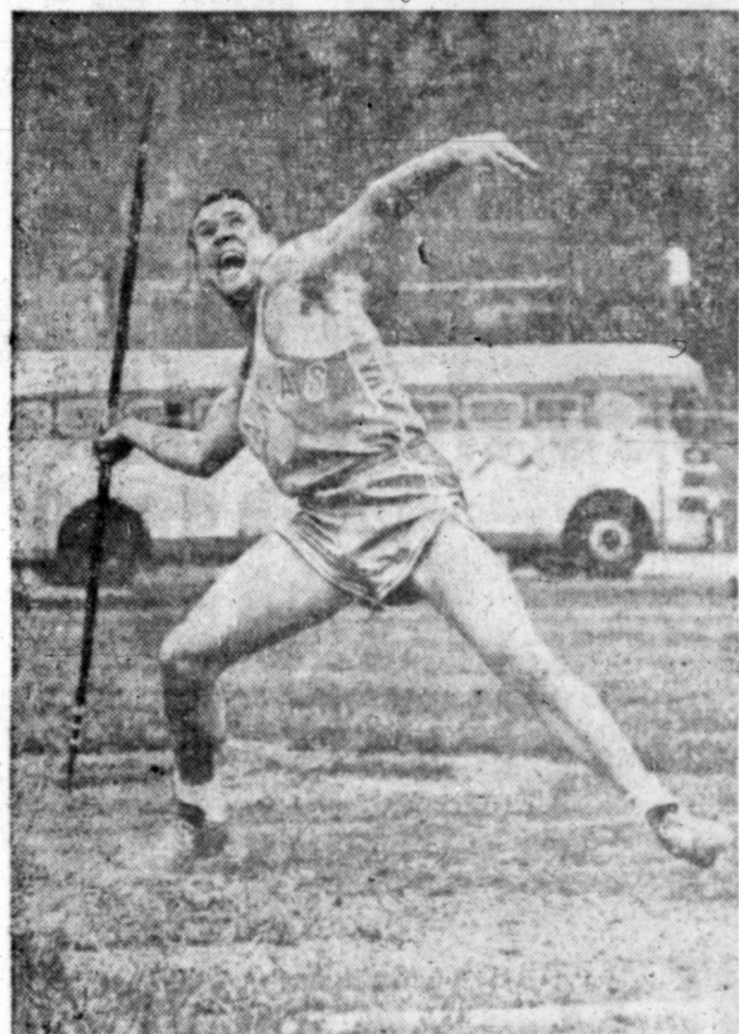

FIRST TURN—Contestants round the first turn in the mile run event in the finals of the IC4A outdoor track and field championships in Downing Stadium on Randall's Island, N. Y. Penn State's Edward Moran (third from left) won the event in four minutes, nine and three-tenths seconds. Peter Close (center), of St. John's, was second.

INVERTED—Broad jumper Calvin Glass, of St. John's, limbered up with a handstand at the start of the 83rd annual outdoor track and field championships of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America on New York's Randall's Island.

MASS PARTICIPATION—Putting on a sports spectacle in Tokyo, rows of athletes perform mass gymnastics for Crown Prince Akihito and his bride, who sat in a draped box to witness the performance. The royal pair, who originally met on a tennis court, were honored with a giant show, sponsored by 46 Japanese sports organizations.

HOISTING ONE—University of Kansas javelin thrower Bill Alley grimaces as he cuts loose a practice throw in Lawrence. Hailed as the best U. S. javelin thrower, the 22-year-old Short Hills, N. J., athlete has been breaking most records regularly. He has his sights on the world mark of 281 feet, 2 1/4 inches, set by Egil Danielsen of Norway.

YOU TRY IT—This Yoga exercise, being performed beside a swimming pool in Wupertal, West Germany, is the idea of a swimming teacher named Rufa, in front. He and his two young pupils can remain standing on their heads in this manner for several minutes.

PUTT IT THERE—Dancing star Ray Bolger may be more familiar with night clubs than with golf clubs, but he's trying the latter out in Las Vegas, Nev. He was clowning between shows at a hotel where he's appearing.

RUSHING IN—Umpire John Stevens looks on as Richard Gernert of the Boston Red Sox is tagged out at home by Yankee catcher Yogi Berra in New York. Gernert had tried to make it home on Frank Malzone's tap to Yankee third baseman Andrew Carey. The Sox won, 12-2.

BERMUDA BEAUTY—Ralph E. Whitmore Jr., of Sharon, Pa., is mighty proud to display the prize Allison tuna he caught off Bermuda. It tipped the scales at almost 106 pounds, and Whitmore used 24-thread line which trailed some garfish bait. He battled this big one for 25 minutes before bringing it in.

BOWL BELLE—On the beach at Kona, Hawaii, Papee Mossman, adds some nifty decoration to the shore. She's holding one of the massive Hawaiian koa wood bowls which will be awarded in the first annual Hawaiian International Billfish Tournament in August.

A FAMILY AFFAIR—Raising a daughter is no trouble for R. T. "Dud" Parish, of Memphis, Tenn., who's hoisting his seven-year-old Debbie aloft in a water ski stunt on McKellar Lake. They've become so good on the water slats that they're now trying a little professional entertaining as a sideline to Parish's regular job as a contractor. This is how they work.

THIS IS THE LIFE—Up north in Canada's Province of Alberta, spring doesn't warm up as soon as it does down south. However, these trail riders have already been able to have a meal in Waterton Lakes National Park and enjoy the great outdoors.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When Fred and I got married two years ago I agreed to continue my job. We bought a lot of things on time and figured we could marry if we both worked.

Now I find that I'd rather be home. It's too hard on me to stand on my feet all day and then come home to do the marketing, fix supper, do the laundry and clean the apartment. I have become short-tempered and, frankly, I am even too tired to give him the love he needs.

I'm afraid to tell him I want to quit my job because he might think I tricked him into marrying me. How should I handle this?

DOG TIED

Dear Tired: Tell your husband how you feel. He will probably love you all the more for wanting to be a good wife above all else. You may have to sacrifice a few material things temporarily, but the investment in building a good marriage is more important than money.

DEAR ABBY: I am an average middle-aged wife. It seems to me that most husbands are constantly looking around. Why does the grass always look greener on the other side of the fence?

ALICE

Dear Alice: Maybe someone takes better care of the grass over there.

DEAR ABBY: After 27 years of married life my husband died. Four years later I married a man I knew had been divorced once. After being married to this man for two years I met a lady from his home town. She said my husband had been married more than once before. When I asked my husband about it he called this woman a blankety-blank liar. Then another person told me the same story. This time when I asked my husband, he admitted it was true but he refused to tell me who he

DECEIVED

Dear Deceived: You certainly can. Line up a lawyer, lady. You've been had.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl almost 14 years of age. I know most of the Facts of Life, but would like my mother to fill me in on the details. I have read some books about it and the rest I got from my girlfriends. Do you think I am too young to know the rest if there is any? Should I ask my mother to tell me now? She would be the best source as she has had three children.

GROWING UP

Dear Growing: Don't hesitate to ask your mother any question that comes to your mind. When a young lady wants to know, it is time to tell her.

RUTH MILLETT

A woman is her most attractive self when she is—

All dressed up for a party at which she expects to have a good time.

Holding a child she loves on her lap.

Listening to what someone else is saying, obviously fascinated.

Laughing.

Holding a small child by the hand and is matching her step to his, but not, of course, when she is impatiently dragging the child along.

Singing someone else's praises or talking about something that interests her keenly.

But a woman is at her worst when she is—

Screaming at a child.

Deliberately trying to make an impression.

Talking in a loud voice that carries clear across a public room.

Laughing and shouting her way through a crowd.

Bossing a man around.

Listening impatiently to what someone else is saying with a sour look on her face.

Repeating unkind gossip about another woman.

Telling how she got even with a person.

Trying to act half her age.

Seen in public with her hair in pin curls.

Pushing and shoving her way through a crowd.

Bossing a man around.

Listening impatiently to what someone else is saying with a sour look on her face.

Getting a laugh at someone else's expense.

Dress For Heat Then Ignore It

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

The hot and often humid weather of summer frequently brings on skin problems. Women who have sensitive skins find themselves prone to rashes and other irritations.

There are several ways to keep yourself comfortable through such weather. First, remember that lightweight, loosely fitted clothing is far more comfortable and therefore better for your skin. It's also time to put away your closed pumps and get out open, airy sandals.

If you've a special summer sport, say, golfing, take a medicated powder with you to the links. It should go into your golf shoes before you start playing. It's absorbent, refreshing and contains, the makers say, two antiseptics to destroy harmful bacteria.

It's also handy to make a girdle slip on easily during hot and sticky weather. And by the same token, this powder can be used daily after a shower or bath to give your skin a cool, slick feeling.

Even Hoyt Can't 'Hold That Tiger'

By FRED DOWN.
United Press International
Who's gonna hold that Tiger if even Hoyt Wilhelm can't?
Seven American League rivals wish they could answer the question as Jimmy Dykes' Detroit Tigers continue their drive toward first place. They're only a game and a half from their goal now and they've been rolling at a 71-clip since losing 15 of their first 17 games.
The Tigers ended Wilhelm's nine-game winning streak and knocked him out of the box for good measure Monday night with a 6-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The coup de grace was a two-run homer by Harvey Kuenn that marked the first round-tripper off the knuckleball ace in 97 innings.

Hoyt Tagged in 6th, 11th
Wilhelm, who seemed to be throwing the next best thing to an invisible pitch in compiling a 9-0 record and a 1.00 earned run average, shut out the Tigers for five innings but then he tagged over the Boston Red Sox and him for three runs in the sixth and finished him with Kuenn's five-game losing streak with an homer in the seventh. It marked the only third time in 11 starts that he failed to finish.
The Cleveland Indians ran their winning streak to six games and went into first place with a 5-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox and him for three runs in the sixth and finished him with Kuenn's five-game losing streak with an homer in the seventh. It marked the only third time in 11 starts that he failed to finish.
The Cleveland Indians ran their Braves, 4-0, in the only National League game.

Detroit's Ray Narjeski went 7-2-3 innings, before giving way to Dave Sisler to gain credit for his fourth victory of the year.
Bell Throws 3-Hitter
Gary Bell pitched a three-hitter and struck out nine batters to win his sixth game for the Indians. The Indians made only eight hits themselves but three were homers — by Minnie Minoso, Mike Baxes and Woody Held. Bill Monbouquette was the loser.
Harmon Killebrew clouted his 22nd homer and Jim Lemon hit his 17th to lead a 10-hit Washington attack that routed Bud Dalry in three innings. John Romonosky shut out the Athletics for eight innings but then was kayoed when the A's scored five runs in the ninth.

FOR THURSDAY TEE-OFF

Canadian Open Is All Set

By DIK RACON.
United Press International
STE. DOROTHEE, Que. (UPI)—Canada's premier golf event, the Canadian Open tournament, tees off for its 50th renewal Thursday at picturesque Ilesmere Golf and Country Club.
On hand will be most of the touring pros from the U.S. golf trail, the best of Canada's professionals, plus a score or more of amateurs from both sides of the border. The field will number about 150.
At stake in the June 18-21, 72-hole tournament will be $27,000 in prize money plus the Seagram Gold Cup which has been in competition since the distillery joined the Royal Canadian Golf Assn. as co-sponsor of the event in 1956.
Top prize money is $3,500 and there is an additional $1,000 special money for Canadian players and the Rivermead Cup for the low Canadian.
The touring pros began arriving as early as Monday, many of them direct from Mamaroneck, N.Y., scene of the just completed U.S. Open at Winged Foot. But they were rained out of practice rounds Monday.
Missing from the Canadian

Open field will be such gallery magnates as Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Gary Middlecoff, Masters and former Canadian titlist Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Mike Souchak, Jackie Burke and Ken Venturi.
Still, there were enough "names" to satisfy most golf fans. The RCGA promised that 20 of the 26 leading money-winners have entered such financially successful swingers as Masters champion Art Wall Jr., U.S. Open winner Billy Casper, Tommy Bolt, PGA champ Dow Finsterwald, Jay Hebert, Paul Harney, Jimmy Demaret, Doug Ford, Bob Rosburg, Billy Maxwell, Julius Boros, and former champions George Bayer and Wes Ellis.

Negroes Denied Right To Qualify In Link Tourney

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—A Negro golfer says he and three other Negroes have been refused the right to qualify for a national links tournament because there are no integrated courses where they can compete.
Former Policeman Frank Hampton said he and other members of his race were denied the chance to qualify June 21 for the national public links tourney.
He said the area qualifying chairman, R. C. Ghio Sr., wrote him that because of "our inability to secure a golf course that permits integrated play for holding qualifying rounds for the national public links tournament, I must return your entry fee."
The qualifying rounds will be held at the private Fonte de Leon
