Adenauer Sticks With Present Post

WESTERN GOVERNMENTS at Geneva and in future negotiations with the Russians. Bildzeitung, a German newspaper with three million circulation, said Adenauer told one of his aides, "My party wants to rob me of power. I am to be pushed into old age and am no longer to have any influence on policy." For that reason, it said, he changed his mind.

Diplomatic sources in Geneva said Adenauer probably decided to remain chancellor in fear the Western position at the foreign ministers conference was getting too soft.

As president, Adenauer would have little voice in making policy. The presidency of West Germany is little more than a neutral, honorary post.

Some Geneva observers, who had considered the foreign ministers conference was making progress, felt Adenauer's turnaround decision would further slow East-West negotiations.

Coincidentally or not, the announcement here came soon after high Allied officials in Geneva disclosed that the Western Big Three might offer to reduce their West Berlin garrisons and make other concessions if the Kremlin would turn off the heat on the city.

Red Decision May Be Told

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—An East German delegation headed by Communist Party boss Walter Ulbricht meets Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow Monday when Khrushchev may make his final decision on Germany and Berlin.

There was immediate speculation here he would discuss with the East Germans the signing of a separate peace treaty that would seal the division of Germany and possibly wreck or delay indefinitely the foreign ministers conference here.

The East German press office announced the 18-man delegation to Moscow included Ulbricht, Premier Otto Grotewohl, East Berlin Mayor Friedrich Ebert, Ambassador to Russia Johannes Koening, and Deputy Premiers Bruno Leuschner, Hans Loch and Paul Scholz.

The Communist announcement called the trip a "friendship visit" and said Khrushchev visited the East Germans to Moscow in May but that the trip was postponed because of Khrushchev's trip to Albania. Khrushchev was conferring with Hungarian leaders in Budapest today while en route home.

But no one here was missing the timing of the Red little summit meeting. Western officials felt something was afoot that might have an important bearing on the ultimate Soviet stand at the four-

Auto Flips, Amarillo Driver Cut, Bruised

James Edward Thompson, a 27-year-old Amarillo man, was badly cut and bruised early this morning when his 1955 Pontiac flipped end over end on the Amarillo highway east of White Deer.

Doctors at Highland General Hospital believe the man's injuries are not serious. Highway Patrolman Royce Logan reported that Thompson had lacerations about the neck and head.

The one-car mishap occurred ironically only a few feet from the spot where Mrs. H. C. Grady Jr. of Pampa died in a car-truck crash two weeks ago.

OAS Looks Into Conflict

By JOSEPH E. HINSHAW
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A four-nation committee began an investigation today to determine whether the armed conflict in Nicaragua threatens the peace of the hemisphere.

The committee, composed of representatives of the United States, Brazil, Mexico and Uruguay, was appointed Thursday night after the Council of the Organization of American States (OAS) voted to look into the situation.

By a vote of 17 to 2, the OAS Council approved Nicaragua's request for the inquiry into the airborne invasion launched against her territory during the week end, allegedly from Costa Rica.

Venezuela and Cuba voted against the proposal. Bolivia was absent and Nicaragua, as the party involved, was not eligible to vote. Eleven votes were necessary for approval.

The special committee, headed by Uruguayan Ambassador Julio A. Lacarte, was directed to gather information to determine what further measures should be taken by the council.

Source: said the four-man group probably would go to Nicaragua, possibly today. The committee planned a morning meeting at the Pan American Union here.

The council's decision to authorize the inquiry followed 3½ hours of heated debate Thursday during which Nicaraguan Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa said there might be a "blood bath" in Central America.

Sevilla-Sacasa said invading planes from Costa Rica were filled with rebels of several nationalities. He said that unless the council acted, Nicaragua might have to launch military operations.

JERRY HUFF ... 13 break-ins

But Gromyko Is Unyielding

By STEWART HENSLEE
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—Moscow Radio held out new hopes of a Berlin compromise today, but Andrei Gromyko's stiffening attitude in the foreign ministers conference made it appear a final decision had not yet come from Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Khrushchev will meet an East German delegation headed by Communist Party boss Walter Ulbricht in Moscow on Monday. Western diplomats believed Khrushchev would set his final terms for a Berlin settlement then.

The hint of a compromise came in an English language broadcast of a commentary on the Geneva conference. The unidentified commentator said Russia believed "the Geneva talks can bring positive results" contrary to the gloomy thinking in the West.

The U.S.S.R. has declared its readiness to agree to compromise if the Western powers show an inclination to come to terms," the commentator said. "I have in mind the new Soviet proposals to leave symbolic troops of the four powers in West Berlin or else a limited contingent of troops of neutral states."

The West has turned down most of this Soviet plan but has limited it might be willing to make a symbolic troop cut in Berlin. Even this decision may have stirred up fears in West Germany that the West was becoming too soft in its attitude.

Some sources thought this may have been the reason Chancellor Konrad Adenauer decided to give up his plan to run for president and retain a firm grip on West German foreign policy. It was thought this decision would stiffen the Western position here.

Secret Sessions End

The Soviet foreign minister meanwhile forced the Big Four out of what the West considers hopeful secret sessions and back into the spotlight of fruitless semi-public debate.

Gromyko was listed as main speaker at today's session to be followed by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Delmer Friend Is New Officer

Delmer Preston Friend, 22, became an officer on the Pampa Police force this week. Chief Jim Conner said today, Friend, a replacement for the resigned Dan Lewis, has been working an afternoon patrol since Monday.

Conner said Friend had been an employe of Cabot's since the first of this year, and came to Pampa with his wife and child from Broken Bow, Okla. The Friends live at 1114 N. Somerville.

'Born To Lose' Burglar Makes Full Confession

Jerry Wayne Huff, Pampa's "born to lose" burglar, made a full confession early Thursday afternoon to 13 Pampa burglaries, beginning with the May 25 break-in at the Court House Cafe, 119½ W. Kingsmill.

Huff, 21, signed the confession under questioning in county jail by Texas Ranger Bill Henslee, Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggard and Police Chief Jim Conner.

Chief Conner said he believes Huff will be brought before a Gray county grand jury Monday. A conviction could mean a long prison term for Huff who at the time of his 13-burglary spree here was free on two $300 bonds from the Wichita Falls jail.

Huff was described by Chief Conner as blond-haired and blue-eyed, on the slim side and of average height. A tattoo on his left arm bears the prophetic words, "Born To Lose."

Huff said Thursday he had only been freed from Wichita Falls one day before he arrived in Pampa and successfully broke into the Court House Cafe. He had been living here at 851½ W. Kingsmill.

At Wichita Falls, Huff had been jailed on a charge of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, a charge which grew out of the knitting of a Wichita Falls serviceman.

In describing his methods in Pampa, Huff said he "worked as quickly as possible." He told Conner he usually waited in the shadows near his target, waited for a patrol car to make its round and then entered and did his job in from five to ten minutes.

Once, Huff said, he barely got out of a burglarized service station, (the E. C. Davis Gulf station) in time to elude officers. He said he watched

Adult Swimming Class Announced By Dickerson

Working adults in Pampa and the surrounding area will be given a golden opportunity to "get into the swim of things" this summer. Clyde Dickerson, Red Cross water safety chairman, announced today.

Dickerson revealed plans for a special two-week, adult swimming class to open here June 22 at the city pool. "Thanks to the cooperation of city manager John Kooz, the city pool will be provided for one hour (6-7 p.m.) daily from June 22 until July 3," Dickerson said.

Instructions for the adult swimming classes will be Jackie Chisolm and Mrs. Jimmy McClure. Swimmers interested in joining the swim class have been requested to register with Mrs. Libby Showell at the Red Cross office in the city hall.

Registration fee is $2 per person with all proceeds going to the city to defray the expense of closing the pool to the public for one hour daily, during the two-week program.

Thirsty Aviator Holds New Mark

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"Do old distance mark of 6,850 miles by more than 800 miles. That's the way flying granddaddy!" Max Conrad's family greeted him by telephone at the end of his record 7,683-mile flight from Casablanca, Morocco, Los Angeles in a single engine plane.

"No," the 56-year-old Conrad chuckled, "I shaved it off Wednesday."

Minutes earlier Conrad set his single engine Piper Comanche down after a flight of 58 hours and 35 minutes which beat the old distance mark of 6,850 miles.

Conrad, a professional ferry pilot who after a brief rest flies today to his San Francisco home, said he went without food and sleep during his lonely voyage.

"But I feel fine now, a little tired and very thirsty," he said.

"My greatest problem was thirst. I didn't know... it at the time, but the Arabs in Casablanca had flavored the tea in my thermos bottle with mint."

"It turned rancid in no time at all and I became sick Tuesday night."

By the time his record flight was nearing an end Thursday he radioed he would gladly trade his last 18 gallons of gasoline "for a drink."

The lean, grey-haired man at first planned to fly only to El Paso, Tex., a distance of 6,958 miles.

"But I had plenty of gas left and I felt pretty good so I decided to go on to Los Angeles," he said.

The Casablanca-to-El Paso run would have been good enough to beat the old single-engine plane record set last year by airline pilot M. L. Boling who flew non-stop from Manila to Pendleton, Ore., a distance of 6,856 miles.

During the long stretch of his trip across the Atlantic Conrad saw no ships or planes.

"There was just me," he said. Conrad, a flyer for the past 32 years, idled the long hours away during the trans-Atlantic crossing as he has in his more than 50 previous solo crossings of the Atlantic.

He writes songs and poetry, including one poem called "The Flyer's Rosary" which starts: "By night on swift enchanted wings I fly."

Asked why he undertook such rigorous flights in which he de-

Teed To Head Charter Group

Officers of the 15-member Pampa Charter Commission were elected during a meeting in the city commission room here Thursday night.

Elected chairman of the commission which will revise the Pampa city charter was local attorney Arthur Teed. Named vice chairman was former mayor Lynn Boyd.

Gene Fetherese was elected secretary and Ray Duncan was named vice secretary. Appointed as publicity chairman for the group was Joe Tooley.

Tooley said today that the 15-man committee would meet once a month with a called meeting by Teed expected after the latter confers with city attorney R. F. Gordon, upon the sections of the charter which should be studied and reworked first.

Other members of the commission include: C. P. Buckler, H. A. Pools, Crawford Atkinson, T. R. Thompson, Bob Olsen, James C. Levels, C. A. Huff, E. E. Shaffer, F. M. Culbertson and Calvin Whaley.

Cow-Calling Is Set At Miami

MIAMI (SpI)—The 11th annual Miami cow-calling contest will be held Saturday two miles east of here. The celebration will begin with the registration of pioneers in the American Legion hall at 9 a.m.

The 49er Club will sponsor barrel races, while other games for children will be sponsored by the North Plains club, the Meet Your Neighbors club, Child Study club and the Home Progress club.

Sponsors of the hog-calling contest, the Men's Service Club, announced that the event is open to all comers. Last year's winners were Claud Seils and Mrs. Lee Paris.

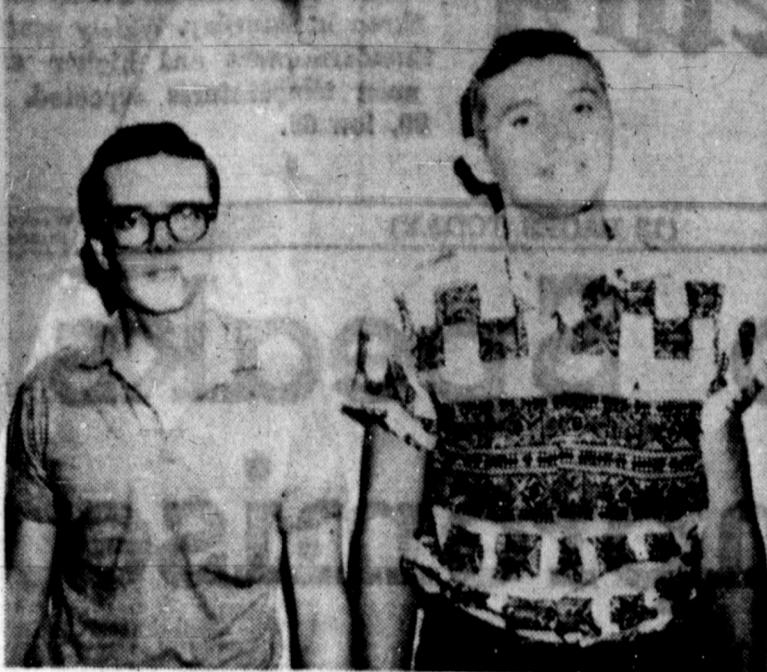

Following the contest, the class of 1947 will hold a reunion. Members are asked to bring a basket lunch; coffee will be provided.

3 Fugitives Are Nabbed; One Escapes

PAMPA PAIR JOIN NAVY

Brice Palmer, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy C. Palmer, of 2117 N. Russell, Pampa, and Charles Tennyson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Tennyson Sr., of 1140 Varnon Drive, have enlisted in the Navy under the Buddy System, which guarantees them to stay together through recruit training. They were sworn in at the Main Navy Recruiting Station at Albuquerque on June 2nd and will receive recruit training at San Diego, Calif. Both men are graduates of Pampa High School and enlisted under the Navy's High School Program which guarantees them a trade school prior to enlistment.

GEORGETOWN, Iowa (UPI)—Three desperate fugitives from the state prison were captured near here Thursday after a wild car chase. A fourth escaped fled into nearby woods.

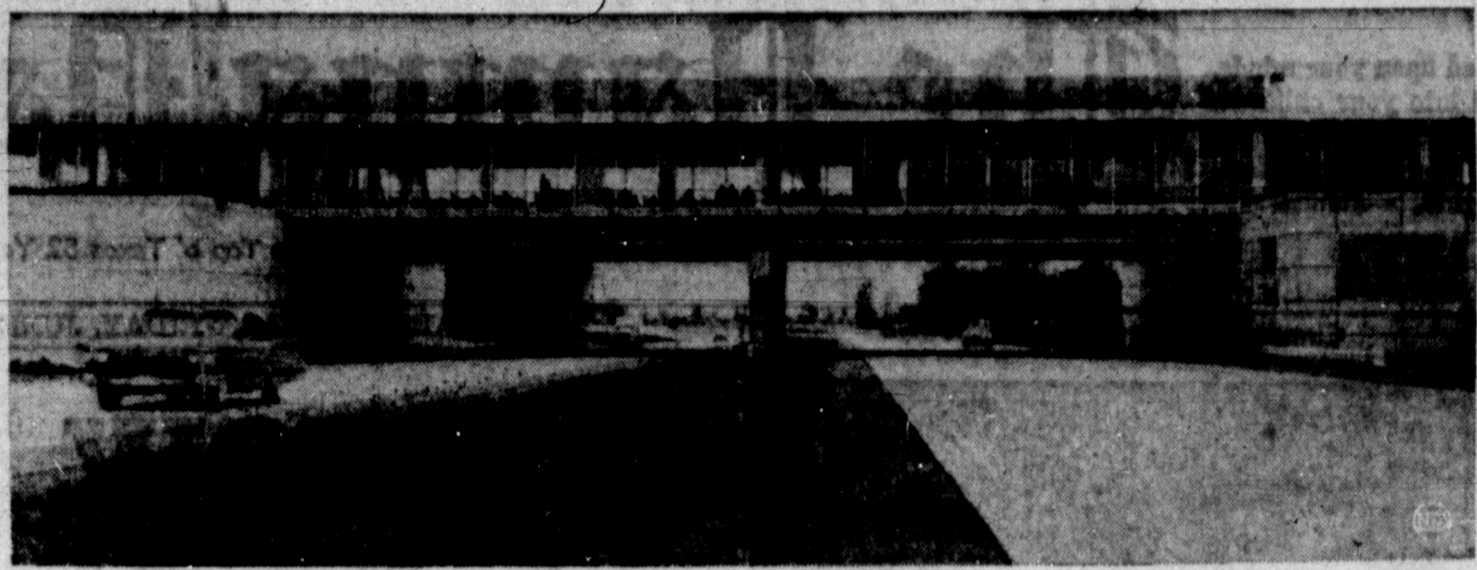

A farmer, identified as George Conway, provided the tip that led to the capture. Conway said he pulled their car out of a ditch. He identified them through pictures as the fugitives.

Conway came across the men in a ditch near here. The fugitives, led by police killer Lloyd Woodson, 38, Quincy, Ill., broke out of the state prison at Port Madison early Wednesday by overpowering two guards and sawing out two cell bars.

Authorities didn't immediately identify the three who were captured. Highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies attempted to seal off the wooded area where the fourth man disappeared and continued their search.

First reports from the capture scene didn't indicate whether the men put up a struggle or whether anyone was shot or injured. The hunt for the four men, armed with knives and black-jacks, covered areas of Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

The four broke out of their cells and overpowered cellhouse Capt. L. W. Smith and Guard L. H. Pickard on a ramp outside the cells. The convicts pressed knives to

Ike Might Have Run Too Quickly

WASHINGTON WINDOW
By LOYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower backed away fast from his own suggestion that, maybe, our machinery for national government is so creaky as to require big emergency repairs. He shouldn't have run so fast. Eisenhower was in good company but didn't know it.

What the President said at this week's news conference was in response to a question about how government shall function if the voters persist in giving to one party the White House and to another the Congress. He answered like this:

"I detect support for some change, so that we could change, even basic constitution, corporate into our system some of the features of the parliamentary system."

Some minutes later he revealed that he and John Foster Dulles often had discussed the problem—finally deciding it would be better "to stick with what we have, but try to make it work a little better."

The facts are, of course, that the functioning of government and the prosecution of government policies are dangerously hampered by lack of real party responsibility in either the Democratic or the Republican parties.

This lack of responsibility is due largely to the fact that there is neither party discipline nor means of enforcing it. The truth is, neither the Democratic nor the Republican Party is really a political entity, for the nation, over which that party attempts to exercise power. Perhaps no proper discipline ever will come or be desirable in the United States.

But, a means of obtaining a better coordination between the executive and legislative branches and of exerting greater pressure for agreement on overall policy has been suggested from time to time. It would require amendment of the Constitution, but it probably would be worth it. It would give Cabinet members seats and speaking rights in Congress.

Wilson and Baker
The idea is not new. Woodrow Wilson suggested it many years ago.

"What is the change proposed?" he wrote. "Simply to give to the heads of the executive departments seats in Congress, with the privilege of initiative in legislation and some part of the unbounded privileges now commanded by the standing committees. It almost surely would lead to a smoother functioning of government."

Newton D. Baker had the same idea. He wrote:

"It is far more loyal to the memory of the founders of our government to try to be as wise in our day as they were wise in theirs than it is blindly to try to perpetuate the mere machinery into a time when that they they found adequate for machinery is plainly inadequate."

Wilson and Baker possessed two of the great modern political minds. Dulles was in their league as a student of government. The President would have been in good company if he just had stayed put in his news conference.

Death Not From Ride

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army said today that a microscopic autopsy definitely established that the 300-mile high missile ride of Able the space monkey, was in no way responsible for her death.

Able, one of two monkeys which rode in the nose cone of a Jupiter missile for 1,500 miles on May 28, died at Ft. Knox, Ky., on an operating table.

"Final autopsy findings confirmed that the death of Able was the result of post-anesthesia heart arrest," the Army said.

Able, a seven-pound rhesus monkey, had been given general anesthesia for surgery to remove an electrode used in recording heart functions during her space ride.

Lt. Col. F. W. Timmerman, executive officer of the Army Medical Research and Development Command, said no radiation effects were detected in the autopsy and that none had been detected immediately after the monkey was removed from the nose cone.

Undue Alarm Is Caused

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The Ministry of Agriculture said today that undue alarm had been caused by a "local quarantine" of Mexican "battle shipments" through some Texas border points.

No official notice of border closing has been received from the U.S. government, the ministry said.

It added that "stomatitis," the cattle ailment which prompted suspension of shipments at Tamaulipas and Coahuila border points, occurs annually in Mexican as well as U.S. cattle.

Shipments in other areas continued normal, and government sanitary brigades have been isolating the areas of infection and curing infected cattle, it added.

The disease has absolutely no relation to the fatal ataxia which caused a total embargo of Mexican cattle shipments more than five years ago. Since 1954, there has been no ataxia in Mexico, the ministry affirmed.

Adverse Winds Delay Launching

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Adverse winds Thursday delayed the possible first free flight test of the United States' manned rocket ship, the X-15.

It was rescheduled tentatively for Friday.

The experimental plane was to have gone aloft today cradled under the wing of a giant B52 "mother ship," presumably on its fifth captive flight. But it had been planned to release the needle-nosed, coal black ship in powerless free flight of all equipment checked out.

Intricate preparations were carried on throughout the night but communication and telemetering facilities between the planes ran into what the Air Force termed "technical difficulties."

Friday's flight was rescheduled as another captive flight and possible free-flight drop.

Some Solons Can't See Strauss At All

The Lighter Side By FRANK ELEAZER WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some senators, as you may have read, just can't see Lewis L. Strauss, President Eisenhower's embattled nominee for secretary of commerce. For the moment anyway, Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.) had to be counted among them.

Holland, presiding at an appropriations subcommittee hearing Thursday on House cuts in the Commerce Department budget, surveyed the long witness table at which eight top commerce officials awaited his pleasure.

Since Secretary Strauss wasn't here, Holland began, somebody else had better proceed. Strauss, who no doubt thought he already had experienced every misfortune likely at the hands of a Senate committee, rose in manifest anguish at this latest affliction, and corrected the oversight.

Arrives Late Possibly Holland's trouble was that Strauss arrived late, and took his seat amidst his assistants while the chairman was reading a few opening remarks. If Holland didn't see Strauss at once, everybody else did.

TV lights bore down on his forehead and bounced off his rimmed glasses. Movie cameras rattled and clicked, recording his presence. Still pictures were being shot from all angles. Reporters jostled each other, elbow to elbow, at the press table.

Strauss, unbowed veteran of 16 recent bouts with the Senate's Commerce Committee, smiled, pulled out his statement, and read, while a movie man stretched a yellow tape from his lens to the top of Strauss' head, affirming the focus.

Another cameraman ranged up and down the arched committee table, recording the welcoming smile of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) and the absence of same in the faces of Sens. Warren Magnuson (D - Wash.), Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), and Gale McGee (D-Wyo.).

Attack Fall To Develop This trio of Strauss' adversaries, fresh from the Commerce Committee, battleground, were here as members also of the appropriations subcommittee, and word had been passed that one of them, anyway, had come equipped with a new plan of attack.

If so, it didn't develop at once. Holland asked Strauss, as he read, if he preferred questions now, or when he had finished his statement. Strauss said politely he would bow to the chairman's wish in this matter but that the preferred latter arrangement.

SHAMROCK IS HIT BY RAIN

United Press International A hail and rain storm, with winds up to 70 m.p.h., beat Shamrock in the Texas Panhandle for 40 minutes today and heavy rains in the North Central part of the state sent streams surging over low areas.

The weather bureau at Amon Carter Airport warned that heavy rains over the Chambers and Richland Creeks' watersheds will cause them to flood their lowlands for the next two days.

The weather bureau also warned of a sharp rise on the Trinity from Rosar to Long Lake, although forecasters did not expect the water to flood homes.

Power Knocked Out Nearly an inch of rain deluged Shamrock in the eastern Panhandle. It knocked electrical power out on the north side of town, but there were no immediate reports of damaged roofs or windows.

Alvarado; Waxahachie and Corsicana are on Chambers Creek, which is one of the biggest tributaries of the Trinity and which flows into the Trinity about 13 miles south of Trinidad.

Starkweather Refused New Stay of Execution

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — State authorities today took steps to set a new execution date for mass killer Charles Starkweather.

The case of the 30-year-old former garbage man who admitted slaying 11 persons in two states shifted back to the Nebraska Supreme Court after a three-judge federal panel refused to extend a two-week execution stay past midnight Thursday.

Nebraska Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck said he would ask the state Supreme Court today for permission to authorize acting state Penitentiary Warden John Greenholtz to set a new execution date.

Starkweather had "no comment" when Greenholtz told him the circuit court had rejected his plea.

It appeared the readjusted slayer's execution would be delayed at least until Monday, and possibly for months if he chose to follow up either of two remote legal possibilities.

Greenholtz said it would take more than two days to summon official witnesses for the execution. Further delay might occur, authorities said, if Starkweather either applied to a state court for a writ of habeas corpus, or appealed directly to a justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

After 90 minutes of testimony the circuit court coupled its ruling.

McLean Music Awards Given

McLEAN (Spl) — In the final band concert of the year, held in the city park at McLean, Director Bruce Cook presented music awards to outstanding band students, with the high award, the John Phillip Sousa Award, going to graduating Dorothy Pagan.

The event marked the close of a successful year for the 95 young musicians in the McLean High School band.

Receiving achievement awards which include a $25 tuition to a summer band at West Texas State College in August, were Jim McDonald and Keith Goodman, both juniors; Ruth Pagan and Rita Brown, sophomores; Mary Ann Carter, Doris VanHusen and Janice Page, freshmen; Marilyn McIlroy and Linda Gull, eighth graders; and James McCarty and Joyce Beasley, seventh grade. Jimmy Stevens, fifth grader, and Joyce Morgan, sixth grader, were presented trophies for their outstanding performances this year.

Cook teaches students in grades six through high school, and has the youngsters divided into three bands.

Plans for the roast were discussed at a recent meeting of Pack 20 conducted by Mrs. Eberhard. Den Two won the meeting's attendance award, and Den Three Donald and Keith Goodman, both juniors; Ruth Pagan and Rita Brown, sophomores; Mary Ann Carter, Doris VanHusen and Janice Page, freshmen; Marilyn McIlroy and Linda Gull, eighth graders; and James McCarty and Joyce Beas-

RUTH MILLETT

If you have a teen-age daughter these old-fashioned reminders still make sense:

One. Know her friends and, if possible, the parents of her friends.

Two. Know where she is going and let her know when you expect her home when she goes out at night.

Three. Let her know that you trust her but make it clear that trusting a young person means that parental supervision is still necessary.

Four. Don't be afraid to ask her not to date a boy you know she shouldn't.

Five. Don't nag at her about little things. She'll get the idea that she can't please you or that you don't have a very high opinion of her.

Six. Respect her right to privacy. Don't rummage through her mail, read her letters, ask prying questions about her friends or insist on helping her entertain the boys and girls who come to see her.

Seven. Encourage her to bring her friends home. Insist that you meet any boy she's dating.

Eight. Make her understand that it is just as unkind to hurt a girl's feelings as to hurt a girl's, so that she won't break a date when a better opportunity comes along or be rude by refusing a date with a boy she considers impossible.

Nine. Insist she be considerate enough to telephone and let you know if her plans are changed or if she is going to be later than she thought.

Ten. Help her build up her self-esteem to the point where she isn't afraid to stand up for what she thinks is right or to refuse to go along with the crowd when her better judgment tells her not to.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The other day several ladies and myself got together for coffee. Naturally we were discussing our children. One lady said her husband took their 17-year-old boy aside and told him, "If you want to go off the way with a girl, come to me first and I will see to it that you know everything you need to know." I was so shocked I couldn't say a word. Most of the ladies thought it was the right thing to do. To me, however, it was the same as telling his son it was all right. My sons are preschool-so this problem will not be mine for a long time yet, but I'd like the opinion of some of your readers if you care to print this. I am not very up to date on these things as I am only 23.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss and his wife invited us over for an evening. My niece is being married and since her father works for the same company, the boss and his wife received an invitation to the wedding. The boss' wife said, "What do you think Harriet wants for a wedding present?" I said, "I don't know, but if you give her the money she can buy what she wants." My husband told me later that he wanted to sink through the floor. Don't you think my answer was all right? What would you have answered?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old girl and I have a very good friend. I just love her, but when we go to a show on Saturday and her mother takes us home I always say, "Thank you," but when my mother takes us home she just says, "See you." When I call her and she isn't home, I always say, "Thank you and goodbye." My mother says when she calls me and I am not home she just hangs up. How can I help her with her manners? Thanks very much.

DEAR ABBY: I have the nicest husband in the whole world. He tells me every day he loves me. He even tells me I am beautiful although I know I am not. But my trouble is that he won't call me mother "Mom." If he wants her attention he says, "Hey!" Abby, it embarrasses me so much when all my sisters and brothers are around and their mates call me mother "Mom." I've called my mother "Mom" since the day we were married. How can I get my stubborn husband to do the same for me? It would mean so much.

Series Of Bride's Parties Honor

Miss Jean Hopkins: To Wed Saturday

A series of bridal courtesies have been extended Miss Jean Hopkins, bride-elect of Paul Moore, whose marriage will be solemnized on June 6 at ten o'clock in Holy Souls Catholic Church. The Catholic ladies were hostesses for a coffee on May 23 with calling hours between nine and 11 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Max Molberg, 1806 N. Nelson.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Do you feel uneasy about reading fairy tales to your child? If so, you may be struggling under the influence of overzealous educational theorist and child psychologists who condemn fairy tales as bad and "unrealistic" for children.

"Like most zealots, they see only what they want to see. The truth is, fairy tales are profoundly realistic.

A fairy tale is something that changes the commonplace into what is rich and strange and wonderful — what the commonplace always is if we have the eyes to see.

Aladdin inadvertently rubs an old, taken-for-granted lamp — and his cave is filled with the mystical presence of the Genii. The Little Lame Prince is given an ordinary cloak, and it carries him through his window up to the stars. In a fairy tale your breakfast egg argues with you in the voice of Humpty Dumpty and your governess spreads her respectable umbrella to sail away over the trees.

For a child, Hans Christian Andersen changes a battered old toy into a heroic tin soldier. In the game way Maurice Maeterlinck, by turning the jewel of insight in Tyltyl's cap, awakens his young hero's abrupt awareness of the friendliness of bread, milk and light by giving these taken-for-granted presences in his life new meaning and new importance.

The realization that what we taken for granted is not commonplace but wonderful is an experience of love.

When we fall in love, a person who has seemed ordinary to us stops being ordinary. When we make a friend, another human being is transfused with new meaning for us just as Aladdin's old lamp revealed unsuspected qualities to him — and light flared from the cottage lamp to turn into a lady of radiant grace for Tyltyl.

If this sudden vision of unexpected power and beauty in the taken-for-granted isn't love, what then is love?

I don't like adults who frown on fairy tales. I think they must be awfully grim people who've given up expecting anything strange and rich to happen to them.

Since fairy tales teach children to look for wonder in the commonplace, I think such people want to deny them this experience in love. I think they must want children to be as cored and unexpecting as they are. And that their "realism" is hopelessness calling itself another name.

Miss Sandford Feted At Shower

Mmes. J. T. Richardson, D. E. Holt, and John Pitts were hostesses for a bridal shower honoring Miss Mary Ellen Sandford, bride-elect of Eddie Duenkel, on May 29 in the parlor of the First Methodist Church.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of yellow rosebuds, and her mother, Mrs. Paul Sandford, and Mrs. Charles O. Duenkel were presented with corsages of white rosebuds.

Punch and cake were served by Mises Marcia Miller and Linda Kay Buchanan. The table was covered with a white net over satin cloth trimmed with sequins centered with an arrangement of yellow roses, white stock and tapers in a silver epergne.

Approximately sixty guests attended or sent gifts.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

AUSTIN MOORE —
Pastor Nazarene Church
Living For God

TEXT: Ye are not your own... ye are bought with a price. 1 Cor. 6:19-20. Being a Christian means attaching oneself to Christ, belonging to him, obeying him, following him, loving him. One's devotion should be real and complete. No one can serve two masters. It will not do to try a divided allegiance.

1. The life that belong to Christ must be kept from sin. The heart which is the dwelling place of God's Spirit must not be open to any thought or affection that would defile God's temple. Unrighteousness is very subtle. It creeps in when we are not aware. It begins in the heart. At first it is but a thought, a moment's imagination, a passing emotion, a desire. Therefore the heart must be kept with all diligence. Only pure and good thoughts should be entertained. It is in the thoughts that all life begins. All acts are thoughts first. Our thought builds up our character as the coral insects build up the great reefs. A sinful thought or wish stains the soul in God's sight and grieves the divine Spirit within us.

11. But keeping life unspotted is not the whole of living for God. There must be service also. When young Christians are received into the Church they profess to dedicate all they have of time, talents, money, every power of body, soul, and spirit to service of God, in Christ. This means that they will live for Christ all they days; that they will listen at each step for his command and will promptly obey it. True Consecration is something very real. It is living for God day by day, moment by moment in every way, all the way. It is nothing unnatural. It does not wrench us out of place nor disturb our relationship, unless they are sinful. It is the simple living out in true devotion to Christ. (Selected)

Cepeda Clobbers National Pitchers

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

They say Orlando Cepeda is just a growing boy but groggy National League pitchers insist he's a man-sized headache. The pitchers don't look any sicker, however, than the experts who thought San Francisco's 21-year old slugger might succumb to the "sophomore jinx."

It was Lew Burdette's turn to say "pass the aspirin, please" Thursday when Cepeda drove in seven runs with two homers, a double and a single in the Giants' 11-5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves took an early 5-1 lead but Cepeda's two-run fourth-inning homer cut the margin to 5-3 and his three-run blast in the fifth put the Giants in front. Orlando doubled with the bases filled to drive in the Giants' last two runs in the eighth.

Braves' Lead Trimmed
The victory cut the Braves' first-place lead to 2½ games. The Pittsburgh Pirates closed to within 3½ games of the Braves with their 9-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 5-3, and the Chicago Cubs struck the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2, in the other NL action.

They'll be computing the American League standings with a slide rule soon because only 4½ games and 96 percentage points separate first and seventh places. The Chicago White Sox' 6-5, 17-inning win over the Baltimore Orioles boosted them into first place with a .563 mark. The New York

Fight Manager Badly Beaten By Hoodlums

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Promoter Jackie Leonard remained in serious condition today—suffering from a brain concussion and partial paralysis—while law officers doubled their efforts to catch his attackers.

Leonard, who was attacked from behind Wednesday night, slugged, beaten and kicked. A promoter for Hollywood Legion Stadium, he told the California Athletic Commission two weeks before the attack the underworld was trying to gain control of welterweight champion Don Jordan.

He testified he was threatened several times when he and Jordan's manager Don Neseeth refused to go through a deal with the mobsters.

He and Neseeth had been under police protection since their testimony. Officers said he had received harassing phone calls for several weeks.

"You'll be dead by summertime," one caller warned last week, police said.

Leonard's physician, Dr. Louis Binson, said Leonard was in serious, but not critical, condition. He said a spinal tap Thursday showed traces of blood and Leonard was paralyzed on his right side.

A police guard stood outside Leonard's room at Parkview Hospital.

Yankees, who crushed Detroit, 14-3, are in seventh with a .467 average. And even the Boston Red Sox, who ended Kansas City's five-game streak, 5-2 aren't too far back at .435 and six games to make up.

Stu Miller shut out the Braves with three hits for the last five innings but the victory went to Gordon Jones, who was the "pitcher of record" when the Giants staged their decisive rally.

Home, Triple Aid Bucs
Bill Virdon's two-run homer and Bill Mazerowski's two-run triple were the key blows as the Pirates ran their winning streak to six games. Ron Kline yielded 13 hits but left 12 Cardinals stranded and went the distance for his fifth victory. One St. Louis hit was the 651st double of Stan Musial's career tying Honus Wagner's National League record.

Joe Nuxhall pitched an eight-inning game for the Reds who lathered Danny McDevitt for four runs

Lions Swallow Kist, 10 To 1

The Pampa Lions shelled two Kist pitchers from the mound with a first-inning barrage, then went on to win Thursday's Pony League game, 10-1.

Rockwell and Thompson were both knocked out of the box by a 6-run Lion onslaught in the first frame, before Bobby Price came in to finally get the side out and finish the game. Price fanned seven Lions.

Dee Wright stopped the Kist batters with only two singles, and fanned 12 hitters while walking only four. He also contributed a double to his own cause.

Claude Middleton and Jimmy Lollar collected three-base hits for the Lions. Mike Stewart drove in Kist's only run in the first inning, with a ground ball.

The fleet-footed Lions aided their 10-hit attack by stealing eight bases.

Paschal, Beaumont In 4A Title Game

AUSTIN (UPI)—Paschal of Fort Worth meets Beaumont today to decide the Class AAAA baseball champion of the 1959 state tournament.

The peppery Cowtown youngsters worked their way into the finals Thursday night by beating Austin 7-0.

Winning pitcher Stanley Stan-drige tossed a one-hitter. He walked only one, struckout eight and fanned only 23 batters in the seven-inning game.

Austin's Raymond Culp threw a brilliant two-hitter, but still counted his first loss in 15 high school games this season and the first in 19 games counting the final part of last season.

Paschal got its only run in the fourth inning when Ronnie McLain walked, stole second and then was singled home by Don Reynolds. Nederland blasted home five in the top of the seventh to take AAA consolation from Nacogdoches 5-3. Nacogdoches took a three-run lead in the fifth with a walk, a single and a double coupled with a Nederland error, but the eventual winners scampered back into the game on five hits and three errors. The winning

Tiger, Rory In TV Fight

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dick Tiger of Nigeria, British Empire middleweight champion, makes his American debut tonight at Madison Square Garden in a TV 10-rounder with slugger Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y.

Calhoun is favored at 8-5 because of his aggressiveness and punch, also because of New York's traditional lack of confidence in newly arrived foreign fighters.

Tiger, squat and muscular, is an enlarged replica of fellow Nigerian Hogan (Kid) Bassey, who used his American debut as an important step in his successful quest for the vacant world featherweight title.

The real name of tonight's newcomer is Richard Iketu (pronounced something like "I hate you.") But his admirers in Nigeria — Equatorial West Africa — changed the name to Dick Tiger because of his crouching and springing style in the ring.

Tiger, 29, is five years older than bull-shouldered Calhoun. But the British champ is slightly less experienced than Rory and much less ring-worn. During Rory's 47 professional bouts, he met the toughest men in the 160-pound division.

Calhoun had 37 victories, seven defeats and one draw. He scored 20 knockouts and was stopped once, by Spider Webb.

Tiger's 32-1 record includes 17 kayoes. He never was stopped.

Beaumont worked its way into the AAAA finals when Bobby Masterson broke a 3-3 tie with an eighth inning homer that edged Odessa, 4-3.

South San Antonio, the defending AAA champion, was set to tangle for the title at 12:30 p.m. today against Ector of Odessa after whipping Nacogdoches, 4-3.

Littler Leads By One Stroke In Eastern Open Tournament

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Gene Littler, enjoying a fat year on golf's tourney trail after several lean ones, carried a one-stroke lead today into the second round of the Eastern Open golf championship at the new Pine Ridge course.

Littler, 28-year-old pro from Singing Hills, Calif., shot a seven-under-par 65 Thursday as the field of blue-ribbon stars annihilated par on the 6,821 yard layout.

With improvement of lies on the fairway permitted because of their unsatisfactory condition, a total of 19 players shot 70 or better on the par 72 circuit. Tied for second place at 66 were Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver, Colo., and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif.

Littler, who has won three tournaments this year, finished in the money in 16 and 18 starts, and bagged $21,000, had a 34 on the front nine and 31 coming in.

Many of the pros found little difficulty in reaching the green in two on the par five holes. Littler, in fact, two-putted for two of his three birdies.

Tied at 67, only two strokes off the pace, were Don January of Denver, Bill Banton of Coronado, Calif., Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and amateur John Eisinger of Bethesda, Md.

At 68 were Bill Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn., Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., and Bob Wolfe of the national honor society. champion Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., and former Masters champion Arnold Palmer of Lancaster, Pa., both of whom were one over par at 71.

In the tie at 69 was Den Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif., who won the last two tournaments on the PGA circuit, along with George Beyer of Glen Eagles, Ill., Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., Ed Winger of Odessa, Tex., Dave Regan of Chattanooga, Tenn., Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., Bob Toski of South Miami, Fla., and Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla.

Disappointments of the first round were current Masters

Origins Of Crime

One of the distinguishing signs of our age is the overriding tendency to solve deep and serious problems with shallow and faulty methods. Since man resists labor and the disciplines which nature has dictated are elemental to human concord, the alluring songs of the socialist, the utopian and the dogooder are but the Piper's method of leading us down the road to the euphoric self-delusion that all that is necessary to attack a problem in society is to pass a law, reconstruct the social order, or start a project to direct the other fellow.

by WESTBROOK PEGLER
To be sure, Congress does allow us to retain varying percentages of our wages to pay for our food, quarters and clothing. But the slaveowner has to supply those necessities and, in this case, Congress merely throws us back a variable portion of our own earnings and spares itself the task and responsibility of keeping body and soul together.

Getting Organized

One of the astounding characteristics of so many Americans in this day and age is their absolute dedication to the idea of getting organized. The nation which built up its greatness of the fearless determination and the rugged application of its pioneering individuals, has succumbed to organizationalism.

When the people in a local community believe they have a right to get help from government to keep the prices of farm products up, they are advocating beliefs that are bound to lead to a collectivistic, communistic country.

When people in each community believe that labor unions have a right to organize and strike and picket if the employer will not pay what the group demands regardless of individual workers' views, then they are advocating that the individual is nothing and the group determines right; that the individual has no inalienable rights to sell his services in any terms that he thinks in the long run will benefit him.

When the people in a local community believe they have a right to get help from government to keep the prices of farm products up, they are advocating beliefs that are bound to lead to a collectivistic, communistic country.

Here's More Black, White Book Trouble

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) — Blackness of the pig that survived a wolf's rampage in a "Three Little Pigs" book has no social significance, according to the publisher.

The book, accused by a Miami man as part of an integration propaganda campaign, showed the pigs in black and white because the colors are easily distinguishable by children, Lloyd E. Smith said.

Replying to accusations by David Hawthorne, Miami, who has urged the Florida Legislature to ban the book, Smith said anyone "who implies that the book is intended to do more than tell a story to children is not supported by the facts."

The black-colored pig in the book survives after a wolf eats up the white pig and the "mulatto" pig. Smith, of Whitman Publishing Co., quoted the woman who adapted the story as saying the coloring of animals in her books had "no social significance."

In stories she had written about "a brown bear, a brown beaver, a brown horse, a black and white dog and a yellow cat," she said, and they all "lived happily ever after."

Oh Pain, Elvis Has Tonsillitis

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — The golden throat which made Elvis Presley a rich man was making him miserable today. He had tonsillitis.

The loose-hipped rock 'n' roll singer was admitted to the 97th General Hospital here Wednesday with a 102-degree fever.

Army physicians said his tonsils were sore and inflamed, but there was no immediate word on whether they would have to come out.

This was the first time Presley had been felled by illness since he arrived in Germany last October.

His superiors have gone out of their way to describe him as a good soldier. Just last week he was "upped" from private first class to specialist fourth class — the equivalent of corporal.

Presley commutes to Friedberg daily from his home in the spa of Bad Nauheim, also in the vicinity of Frankfurt. He lives with his father and grandmother in a small house they have rented.
