Steel Strike Efforts Hurt By Charges

NEW YORK (UPI) — Efforts to bring agreement in the four-week-old steel strike were started again today with a new sharply critical exchange between union and industry leaders.

United Steelworkers of America (USW) President David J. McDonald, who was absent from federal mediation talks here Monday said in Pittsburgh he was "sick of that show in New York" and indicated he would not return until industry negotiators are replaced by "people of authority."

R. Conrad Cooper head of the four-man committee representing 12 major steel firms, with which the union began negotiating three months ago today, retorted quickly that McDonald knows the team has "full authority" to bargain.

Cooper said he would be present at today's mediation session despite the absence of McDonald.

"He would be well advised to spend less time characterizing us as messengers and more time coming to grips with our message," Cooper said. That message, he said, is "that an inflationary increase in wages and benefits would be contrary to the best interests of all concerned."

That message has been rejected by the union since it was first presented by the industry, in advance of contract talks.

The USW, which called 500,000 steelworkers on strike on July 14 in an attempt to win a 15-cent wage package, has claimed the companies can afford to pay that out of increased profits without raising their prices.

Federal mediators said there has been no change in the position of either side on this sticking point since the strike began.

McDonald had previously announced he would be away from negotiations for the early days of this week in order to visit picket lines and conduct other union business.

Last Civil War Soldier Dying at Houston Home

'I Want to Go Home,' Says Walter Williams, 116

HOUSTON (UPI) — "I want to go home," old rebel Walter Williams, 116, the last survivor of the Civil War, said early today as he lay near death at the Houston home of his daughter.

Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles said Williams talked quietly with her during the night.

"He didn't say much. Just: 'I'm cold,' and 'I want to go home,'" Mrs. Bowles said.

Did "home" mean his farm at Franklin, Tex., or his memories the Confederate days in Mississippi, Mrs. Bowles was asked.

"I don't know, his voice was awfully weak, he just wants to go home," she said.

Mrs. Bowles said it was difficult to tell when Williams was conscious.

"He can't hear any more," she said.

Williams' physician confirmed Monday that the end for the old soldier was "only a matter of days."

"He's taking less food every day," Mrs. Bowles said.

"He's getting weaker."

Dr. Russell Wolfe said Monday that the aged Confederate veteran was "sinking" and has to be fed through an eyedropper.

"He's getting weaker every day. There's nothing we can do about it," Wolfe said.

Williams has been able to take only a mixture of milk, eggs and water for several days.

The old rebel recently won a bout with pneumonia, during which he spent about half the time in an oxygen tent.

Williams gained his status as last Civil War survivor when "General" John Salling, 112, died on March 16, 1959. The last Union veteran, Albert Woolson, of Duluth, Minn., died in August, 1956.

Williams moved to Houston six months ago.

LONE NEGRO NOT AFRAID

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The lone Negro scheduled to integrate Central High School Wednesday said today he isn't disturbed about white teenagers warning there will be trouble.

Jefferson Thomas, 17, said "they may throw me out, but they can't keep me out." He is one of the original "Little Rock Nine" that integrated Central High School in 1957.

The Little Rock school board said it would not "stand for any foolishness" and promised school officials full support in any move to maintain discipline when the four public high schools reopen.

Gov. Orval Faubus, meanwhile, remained silent on whether he plans to take action to try to prevent integration for the third straight year.

Segregation leaders said they were confident Faubus would make some move. But they scheduled a rally Wednesday to urge Faubus to act and instigate a "buyers strike" against Little Rock merchants who employ Negroes — a move that so far has failed to catch hold.

The school board approved the integration of six Negro students, three at Central and three at Hall. Some 54 other Negroes who asked to attend Central or Hall, were assigned to Horace Mann (Negro) High School. The board planned to act tonight on requests from 15 that they be re-assigned to Central.

Thomas said he probably would be the only Negro to enter Central immediately. Carlotta Walls, one of the two others, is attending summer school in Chicago and will not finish until Aug. 21.

Police Chief Jim Conner said seven of the men, all Negroes, were charged with consuming beer after hours, while two were arrested for drunkenness.

Conner and Lt. Denny Ross warned bar owners that police are maintaining a vigilant watch for offenders of after-hours drinking and selling of beer. Conner said no beer can be sold after midnight on weekdays, or after 1 a.m. on Sunday mornings.

AFTER ONE HOUR

Long's Special Session Ends

By GERALD MOSES
United Press International

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Aides of Gov. Earl K. Long predicted today that he would convert an apparent rebuke by the Louisiana Legislature into a political victory.

Moreover, they hinted that the rebuke — the vote to adjourn the special session, called by Long less than an hour after it started Monday night — may even have been engineered in part by the fiery 63-year-old chief executive.

Speculation that Long may have had something to do with the abrupt adjournment by both the House and Senate heightened when reporters found the governor in good spirits, laughing and joking shortly after the abbreviated session.

Campaign Issue
Several of Long's confidants said later his campaign for reelection will certainly not be hurt by the adjournment and he "no doubt will use it to his advantage."

The fact that the lawmakers didn't even bother to bring along any luggage and that Long didn't appear at the Capitol until moments before the session started lent further weight to this theory.

AJS Pest Control, MO 42424. Let us rid your home of roaches, termites. Tree spraying. Terms, Adv.

Immediately after the adjournment, Long's closest friends and political allies went to a nearby hotel where, laughing and joking, they parted the rest of the night with the men who administered the rebuke to their leader.

Long showed no trace of the anger he displayed when the Legislature thwarted him two months ago. That was over a relatively minor issue. But he became so infuriated he took the floor two straight days to rant and curse and hurt personal insults at friends and foes alike.

Mental Troubles
Two days later he was drugged, trussed up and flown to a Texas mental ward. He came back to Louisiana and was committed to a state mental hospital. He engineered his release from that hospital by firing the men who were holding him and appointing men who declared him sane.

When Long took the speaker's rostrum in the Senate chamber Monday night, the overflow crowd tensed, expecting another tirade. Instead, he brushed the adjournment aside as a "mistake" and leveled "typical sarcasm" at his enemies.

"I'm not mad at anybody. There will be no repercussions. I think they made a mistake and they think I made a mistake so I guess it's a tie," he said.

As much as 9 1/2 points in International Business Machines. Some of the early gains were shaved a bit by end of the first hour, however, and the Dow Jones industrial average after an hour was up 2.61.

The electronics issues, which took the brunt of Monday's selloff, spearheaded today's comeback. In addition to IBM, Litton, Zenith, Texas Instrument, RCA and Motorola all added from one to three points.

Reynolds Metals snapped back from a sharp loss with a gain of 2 1/2. Other metal leaders were Alcoa up more than one and International Nickel up a large fraction.

After Monday's heavy selling had wiped some seven billion dollars from stock values and sent the Dow Jones industrial average's down more than 14 points, brokers generally agreed the word was over.

The market proved them right today. The steels, oils, motors, aircrafts, rails, and chemicals all stood out on the upside.

Brokers agreed that the selling which sent the industrial average down 14 1/2 points Monday was principally the result of profit-taking following the market's retreat.

Market Decline 'Just About Over'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market rebounded sharply today from its worst drubbing in almost four years.

Eleven local builders met Monday night at City Hall with the City Commission for a preliminary look at the Southern Standards Building Code.

The code is being looked at as a replacement for the City's present code which Commissioner Jack Vaughn described as "outdated."

The Southern code was generally received with favor by the builders present although it was agreed some of its provisions apply more to bigger cities.

In general its 28 chapters apply to commercial building. It was felt that its conflicts with FHA and VA building codes were minor.

Builders and the Commission set their next meeting date for next Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

mission next Tuesday.

In other business the Commission approved monthly bills for July totaling $21,574.88. About half that amount ($11,615) will be paid through the general fund. Following its usual practice the past two months, the Commission gave close examination to its bills, making "spot-checks" of certain items.

Library bills for July totaled $120.28. A report from Librarian Mrs. Lillian Snow indicated that more persons are beginning to use library facilities.

In the first item on today's order of business, Dr. Malcolm Brown was reappointed. City Health Officer, Brown's month's pay remains the same, $150. His current term expires Aug. 31, 1959.

Standard Oil Co. told the City Commission this morning it plans the construction of a modern design service station next month at the northwest corner of Ballard and Brown Sts.

The new building, "of a particular design with a high fire rating," will go up in the newly created No. 1 fire zone on Brown St. on the site of the present Charles B. Bustin station.

Standard District Manager Russell E. Bell said he needed Commission approval of the building since its main construction will be of metal, not brick as is required of Zone 1 structures.

He said that whether or not the metal structure is approved, a service station will be built, either of metal or brick. The Commission said it will take the problem under advisement one week.

Developer Reno Stinson appeared at this morning's meeting and was told "two or three problems" have arisen over his proposal to re-plant the six-block Engler-Buechler addition into the Terra Alta addition.

Stinson's re-plant calls for the elimination of Worell St., from N. Hobart St. to Banks. The re-planting of Worell St. would create three long blocks. Stinson is expected to appear before the commission next Tuesday.

Committee Starts Hearing On UAW

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Racketeers Committee goes behind closed doors today for a United Auto Workers hearing which union President Walter P. Reuther blasted in advance as a "Star Chamber" session.

Reuther charged Monday that the secret inquiry was arranged by "witch-hunting" Republicans who were out to smear his union.

He urged Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) to open the meeting to the public.

McClellan declined to do so for the time being but pointed out that any committee member was free to move that the hearing be thrown open. He said "I might vote that way myself" under certain conditions.

The closed hearing, scheduled to last two days, was arranged for the purpose of reviewing testimony and evidence gathered by Republican members about the UAW.

It was expected to bring a showdown on the long-standing GOP demand for public investigation of Reuther's union. Thus far, committee Democrats have not been convinced that such an inquiry was warranted.

The fiery Reuther, vice president of the AFL-CIO, tangled loudly and often with Republicans during his appearance before the committee last year.

He renewed his attack Monday in a telegram to McClellan charging that the GOP members were "politically motivated" and wanted a closed hearing "for the sole purpose of leaking out charges that cannot stand the light of investigation."

Nine Arrested In After-Hours Party

Nine Pampa men were arrested early this morning at the Satellite Club, 1012-Gotavus, during an after-hours drinking party.

Police Chief Jim Conner said seven of the men, all Negroes, were charged with consuming beer after hours, while two were arrested for drunkenness.

Conner and Lt. Denny Ross warned bar owners that police are maintaining a vigilant watch for offenders of after-hours drinking and selling of beer. Conner said no beer can be sold after midnight on weekdays, or after 1 a.m. on Sunday mornings.

12 Union Leaders Fall In Racket Probe

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Racketeers Committee's findings have led to the downfall of at least a dozen national union leaders in the past 2 1/2 years.

Dave Beck, ex-president of the Teamsters, was the best-known victim of the committee's inquiry into labor-management misdeeds. But many others were ousted in the wake of the Senate investigation that sent a shock wave through the American labor movement and touched off bipartisan demands for union reform legislation.

As a direct result, the AFL-CIO booted out the Teamsters on charges of racketeer-domination and ejected the Bakery & Confectionery Workers and the Laundry Workers unions on the same counts.

Top officials of the United Textile Workers, Jewelry Workers, Operating Engineers, Distillery Workers and Allied Industrial Workers were toppled in a house-cleaning campaign by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

The Racketeers Committee failed to "get" Teamsters President James R. Hoffa but may have laid the groundwork for his eventual removal by court-appointed monitors on the basis of testimony it received.

Beck, who was being pushed out of his top post by Hoffa anyway, decided against running for reelection after being accused of "taking" hundreds of thousands of dollars of Teamster money. He was later convicted of income tax evasion and pocketing the funds from sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

tionary Workers (AFL-CIO). This organization was formed when the old bakers' union refused to oust President James G. Cross after he was charged with misuse of union funds. As a result, the Cross-led group was bounced from the AFL-CIO.

These other union leaders left office — some pleading ill-health — after corruption charges were leveled at them:

—United Textile Workers President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Kline. Both men were accused of misusing union funds to make down payments on lavish homes.

—Operating Engineers' President William E. Maloney, charged with running the union like a dictator and enriching himself in the process, stepped out under fire. He said his health was too poor to continue in office.

—Distillery Workers' President Joseph O'Neill, who was accused of failing to take action against welfare fund thieves, gave poor health as the reason for resigning.

—Jewelry Workers' President Joseph Morris and Secretary-Treasurer Hyman Powell both quit after they were accused of using their union posts for personal gain and tolerating exploitation of Puerto Ricans in New York.

—Resigns Under Pressure
—Meat Cutters' Vice President Max Block resigned under pressure after the committee accused him of failing to account for union funds.

—Bakers' Vice President George Spurr, accused of milking Chicago area locals of $40,000, resigned after testimony before the committee on his alleged misdeeds.

—Operating Engineers' Vice President Victor Swanson was ousted by the union. Later testimony indicated that he shared profits of $47,000 as the result of a land deal swung with union funds.

—Carpenters' Union, President M. A. Hutcherson and two other top officers in his union have been indicted in an Indiana highway scandal, but not yet tried. Meanwhile, they have been re-elected to office. Hutcherson has retained his seat on the AFL-CIO Executive Council although he refused to answer questions by the Senate group and was later cited for contempt by the committee.

Piano Teachers Will Hold Workshop In Amarillo

Piano teachers of the Amarillo area will hold a workshop on operating procedures — the first ever conducted in this area — at the Herring Hotel Aug. 24. It has been announced by Mrs. Gladys M. Glenn, president of the Amarillo Music Teachers Association.

Participating in the workshop will be a panel of four well known local private instructors and a consultant. They are: Dale A. Roller, Amarillo College; Miss Ardah Johnson, Amarillo; Mrs. Margaret Harper, Canyon; Robert Hoffman, Amarillo College music department; and William A. Murphy, consultant from Lubbock.

About 75-100 music teachers will attend the one-day workshop. Mrs. Glenn said, six separate sessions will be held, beginning at 9 a.m. The program follows:

9 a.m. — Studios: Location, Arrangement and Equipment.
10 a.m. — Recruiting Students and Sustaining Their Interest.
11 a.m. — Teaching Materials.
12 a.m. — Luncheon.
1:45 p.m. — Business Side of Teaching Music.

years ago to live with his daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles. Since that time, he has been almost blind and deaf, and totally bedridden.

He came to Texas at the age of 14 and joined Co. "C," Fifth Cavalry of Genl. John B. Hood's Brigade at Corinth, Miss. He was 22 at the time.

Williams recalled in later years that the only action he participated in was an early morning ambush that killed about 100 Union soldiers.

He received his first pension check from the federal government on Aug. 30, 1958.

Employment Hits Record High In July

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government is expected to report today that the nation's total employment climbed to a record high in July for the second month in a row.

Informed sources said the total may reach nearly 67,000,000. The previous record was set in June when 67,342,000 persons were employed.

Employment usually increases in July. A jump of 250,000, however, would be far below the rate of increase in June when the jobs total went up 1,326,000 from May.

Today's report also was expected to show that unemployment dipped in July from June's 3,982,000. But the decline failed to reach the seasonal expectation, sources said, and the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment went up from the June reading of 4.9 per cent.

The government figures also show that the four-week-old steel strike caused sizable layoffs in related industries last month. It was estimated the strike-related layoffs would exceed 100,000.

The 500,000 striking steelworkers themselves do not change the figures in the government report. Workers on strike are counted as employed in the Labor Department survey.

The steel strike also may have caused slowdowns in other lines that won't show up in the monthly employment report.

3 Speakers Slated For HBA Clinic

A full program for the 1959 barbecue and clinic of the Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Association, has been outlined by Cliff Vincent, program chairman.

The activity is set for Aug. 27 in the sales barn of recreation park. Three speakers will take part in the cattlemen's clinic. They are: Grainger McIlhenny from Wheeler, chairman of the agriculture committee of the Texas State Legislature.

Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian of Texas A&M College, College Station.

P. T. Marion, superintendent of the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station in Spur.

Wayne Madock, Hereford Breeders president, will serve as moderator.

The clinic will begin at 7 p.m., following a 6 p.m. barbecue served by the Pampa Shrine Club.

Some "Just for Fun" cattle judging is set for 5 p.m. A pie and cake judging contest will take place at 5:45 p.m.

Plenty Of Time To Build That Yearned-For Patio

The terrace of this modern ranch house enjoys longer usage when a roof is added. It is Fiberglas reinforced plastic.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Although springtime is supposed to be when homemakers spur their spouses to brick the terrace, build a patio and generally get set for summer outdoor living, the truth is that many such major projects start in the heat of summer.

One material that has gained favor is Fiberglas reinforced plastic which comes in panels of standard widths and lengths and in lovely translucent colors. It's used for roofing, awnings and windbreaks for outdoors; and for screens, room dividers and luminous ceilings indoors. Its light weight makes it easy to handle.

A few pointers on patios from Miss Margaret Castle, of El Segundo, Calif., manager of consumer relations for a major producer of these panels may help avoid some common mistakes.

Often forgotten by amateur builders, she says, is provision for adequate ventilation. Hot air trapped under the roof must be allowed to escape. To provide for air circulation, she suggests building the patio roof slightly lower or higher than that of the house or by allowing open spaces at either side.

Location of the patio should take into account the general climate. In hot climates, Miss Castle told me, she advises choosing northern and eastern exposures. In cooler areas, patios can face west to take advantage of light from the setting sun and thus extend their usefulness.

Color selection is not entirely a matter of decorative tastes. Dusty peach, snow, Nile Green, yellow, old rose and turquoise are among colors which best resist fading.

st heat while allowing evenly diffused light to enter the area, Miss Castle says.

If temperature is not a vital consideration, but maximum light to prevent darkening of adjacent interiors is, colors such as clear, frost, jade and amber are good choices.

Yellow is a favorite color in areas which frequently have overcast skies because it tends to act as a substitute for missing sunlight. In hot areas, Nile Green is often preferred not only because it resists heat transmission but because it is associated visually with cooness.

Fiberglas reinforced plastic panels are also used successfully as partial fences or windbreaks in small areas where the translucent gives privacy without a "shut-in" feeling.

To heighten the decorative effect, greenery silhouetted against the back of the panels makes a lovely mural. A similar material is also used for chairs, tables and planter bowls that boast the same hard, smooth and weather-resistant surfaces and brilliance of color. They are as decorative outdoors as indoors.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old daughter pals around with a girl her age who is from what you might call one of the "best" families.

My daughter never brings the girl here. She always wants to go to HER house.

I have heard that this girl's mother is gone every day and there is always a houseful of young kids running wild over there. They go down to the basement to watch television. Boys and girls together. Some of the boys are 18 and they drink beer. I trust my daughter but this worries me. Am I old-fashioned or should I let Nature take its course?

DEAR WORRIED: The course that Nature takes is sometimes pretty rough. Fifteen-year-old girls have no business spending the afternoon unchaperoned in a basement with beer-drinking boys of 18. Insist that your daughter entertain her friends in her own home. This is YOUR most important job, Mother. Don't let your daughter down by letting her get mixed up in bad company.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent letter signed "DIGNIFIED," there was a question about whether kissing should be a part of the wedding ceremony. I think a point should be made clear: There is a difference between a ceremonial kiss and the Hollywood type. The ceremonial kiss has a place in the wedding service. But on several occasions lately I have been shocked and embarrassed to see the bride and groom go into one of those clinches at the altar—that would do credit to a Class B movie. After all, the purpose of a church ceremony is to ask God's blessings on the union, not to get a running start on a lifetime of intimate happiness.

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon, my parents are divorced. My father married the woman who broke up our home.

I am having a small church wedding. I sent an invitation to my father and his new wife because he is paying for the wedding.

Mother will sit with the family and my father will naturally sit with the family, too. I hope my father's new wife does not come, but if she does, where should she sit?

DEAR BRIDE: If she's smart—she'll sit at home. But if she comes, she will probably sit with your father. In order to avoid an awkward situation, talk to your father soon or have your clergyman talk to him. Your father's "new" wife

The most fascinating people you ever meet are those who are always opening up new doors to see what's inside.

"It's opened up a whole new world to me," a man who started to learn something about art after years of leaving it to the "long hairs" recently told me.

And just the other day I listened to a couple of housewives who have gone back to college to take a course in understanding world problems.

Just as interesting as the people who open doors to learn facts are those who open doors to learn new skills. The beginning gardener who wins a prize for her dahlias is just as fascinated with learning everything she can about growing flowers as the person who takes a course in music appreciation.

The important thing isn't which doors you open. It is to have the curiosity and interest to keep on opening them.

Never mind what doors your friends are opening. If the door looks interesting to you, then open it.

If a closer look proves that what's inside isn't as fascinating as you thought it might be, then shut it and look for another door.

The world is full of doors to open. So there's no excuse for anyone to be bored or to quit learning or to reduce his life to dull routine.

The doors aren't locked. All you have to do to get a look inside is to say, "I'm going to find out about that." Instead of, "That's a subject I've always wished I knew something about."

U.S. Patent Office Assures Us Inventors Haven't Been Asleep

By FRANK ELEAZER United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I can't say how we stand today in the space race with Russia. But the patent office assures me our inventors haven't been sleeping.

One who may be able to sleep now is Doris M. Short, of Stamps, Ark. Doris has just won patent No. 2,895,468 on a motorized bed. It oscillates, and Doris says there's nothing like it for rest.

Oscar Soifer, of Dayton, Ohio, has another device to assure restful sleep: Patent No. 2,895,145 has been awarded his box spring, of which the distinguishing feature is a secret money compartment.

Richard E. Ayres, of Woodlake, Calif., developed a handy device for putting horns on cattle that Some reports from Vientiane, capital of the tenuous kingdom of Laos, say the rebel forces battling for control of two northern provinces now number 2,000 to 2,500. Two months ago, however, when the rebels resisted a government order to integrate their forces into the royal Laotian army and fled into the hills, even Communist sources listed their strength at no more than a battalion of about 600 men. The northern provinces where the rebels are holed up border on Communist North Viet Nam and Red China, so there is little mystery as to where the reinforcements came from.

New Algerian appeal: French President Charles de Gaulle is expected to issue a new appeal to the Algerian rebels to meet him in Paris for truce talks when he visits North Africa early next month. But the insurgents may decide their position on such a bid only after the new Algerian debate scheduled in the United Nations in New York in late September.

LESE MAJESTE: LONDON (UPI)—Cyril Thompson, 42, a newsboy, was fined $5.00 for "using insulting words likely to have caused a breach of the peace."

Thompson's offense — peddling his papers with the shout: "The Queen is in the family way."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Once East struck in his non-vulnerable diamond overcall North and South had no chance to buy the hand for four spades West had too much distribution.

Also, West felt that even a slam was possible for his side once East raised his heart bid. Therefore, when South jumped to four spades West decided a club cue bid was in order.

North might have gone right into the doubling business and if he had done so he would have picked up 100 points but North hated to give up a vulnerable game and he also thought he might get East and West one higher.

East wanted no part of any further defense and besides he thought he might have a good chance to beat five spades assuming his partner's cue bid had been honest so East doubled.

East was right. He won the opening diamond lead and gave his partner a club ruff whereupon the ace of hearts set the hand.

Age, Weight Could Stop Moore

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Time, tide and the tortures of making weight Wednesday night well, could spell the end of ancient Archie Moore's seven-year reign as light heavyweight champion of the world.

The muscular marvel from San Diego won't fight of the year and fight of the decade honors last year when he came off the deck four times to stop Yvon Durelle. It was one of the ring's greatest displays of gameness.

But it just may go the other way at Montreal Wednesday night despite the 3 to 1 odds favoring old Arc in this rematch.

It isn't so much, according to veteran fight men, that Archie is 43 going on 49 or that Durelle, the fistie fisherman from Canada, is riding a rising tide. They see Moore's eclipse in the fact that once again he has been forced to pare his 200 pounds plus down to the 175-pound limit.

"He can hand out all the bunk he wants to about having learned a reducing method from an Australian aborigine," explained one canny fight manager. "But after a while, even if the process is seemingly effortless, that constant reducing has to take its toll."

The feeling is that, even in a body which has been hardened muscularly, such reducing must leave a quickly tiring shell.

"Archie is ready to be taken," asserted another. "The time comes, for everybody, sooner or later, and Moore is no exception. You've got to remember that Durelle, while he may not be the best boxer in the world, or anywhere close to it, is a lot younger at 29 and it is as strong as a gorilla."

Making weight has ruined many a good fighter who insisted on going through the ordeal. Most others, tiring of the struggle, simply move up into a heavier weight class. Ray Robinson for years struggled to stay in the welterweight division where he had a lock on the competition.

But after repeated doctor's orders that weight making could be severely injurious to his health, he moved up into the middleweight bracket.

Ageless Archie can't be rapped too readily on the basis of his age, which remains a deeper boxing mystery than the names of the fighters controlled by Frankie Carbo. He claims he was born in 1916, which would make him "only" 43. His mother set the date as 1913, which would make him 46. Others contend that even this date is about three years short of the actual mark.

Nobody can contest the fact, however, that he has been boxing as a recognized professional since 1936—a mere matter of 23 years. How many years he laced on gloves before he in unrecognition bootleg bouts is once again anybody's guess.

The fact is that, in the ring, he still moves like a young sprout and it is an admitted fact that the last time a boxer loses in his punch, if Yvon's chin gets in the way, you can expect Durelle to go,

ARCHIE MOORE... can he do it again?

Final Plans Made For Durelle-Moore Fight

MONTREAL (UPI)—Ex-heavyweight champ Jack Sharkey, who kept a calm hand on the tiller during last December's stormy lightweight title bout here, was being favorably considered today to referee Wednesday night's return bout between Archie Moore and Yvon Durelle.

Also under consideration were two other prominent U. S. ring officials, Harry Kessler of St. Louis, Mo., and Ruby Goldstein of New York.

But Sharkey's name was being pondered first because his work in the first Moore-Durelle bout satisfied both sides. Each batter was on the floor four times and the action was hot and heavy, but Sharkey turned in a faultless performance.

Durelle, who balked Monday at signing a return bout pact, was expected to sign the pact today.

The fighting fisherman from Bala Ste. Ann, N. B., said at first he wouldn't accept the offered return bout terms—in the event he beats Moore—of 30 per cent of the net receipts for each fighter. He said he wanted "at least $100,000 for defending against Moore."

But Truman Gibson, president of National Boxing Enterprises, arrived by plane from Paris and went into an immediate huddle with Durelle and his manager, Chris Shaban. He emerged with word that Durelle would sign today—and for the originally offered 30-30 split.

Durelle, 29, claims to be more confident of victory this time than he was last December. His new-found source of strength is trainer Charles Goldman, the man who groomed Rocky Marciano on the Brockton blockbusters' march to the heavyweight championship.

"Charlie has given me a good left hand to go with my right," said Durelle. "He has stopped me from hitting with a loose left arm."

Although ancient Archie has in the past drilled right down to the day of the fight, he knocked off stiff training here—two days ago—an indication that he thinks he is at his peak form. The champion had a one-hour light workout Monday, finishing just in time to greet his wife who arrived from California.

STEELERS PLAY BROWNS TONITE

United Press International

The Pittsburgh Steelers, who would rather beat the Cleveland Browns than any other team, play host to the Browns Tuesday night in the first of five exhibition games this week involving National Football League teams.

The College All-Stars, made up of this year's leading NFL draft choices, tangle with the champion Baltimore Colts in Chicago Friday night in the 26th annual All-Star game.

Three night games are carded for Saturday. The New York Giants play the Philadelphia Eagles at Hershey, Pa.; the Detroit Lions play the Chicago Cardinals at Norman, Okla.; and the Green Bay Packers meet the Chicago Bears at Milwaukee.

The Steelers have high hopes this year in the Eastern Division race because they wound up the 1958 season as the hottest team in the NFL. Pittsburgh finally got rolling after obtaining Bobby Layne, winning six of its last seven games. The other wound up in a tie.

Cleveland is coming back from one of its most bitter disappointments. Just when the Browns appeared to have the Eastern title wrapped up, they dropped two in a row to the Giants, the last in a playoff.

The Browns are 16-2 in the league against the Steelers and 3-0 in exhibition play. They shut out the Steelers in their first exhibition game last year, 10-0.

Olmedo Breaks Out Of Slump

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (UPI)—Alex Olmedo may have been in a slump recently, but it now appears that the Wimbledon champion will be in top form to defend the Davis Cup.

Olmedo, U.S. Davis Cup star from Peru by way of Los Angeles, showed his good form Monday when he easily defeated unseeded Mike Green of Miami Beach, Fla., 6-4, 3-6, 6-0, 6-2, in the Eastern Grass Courts tennis championships.

Olmedo and Earl Buchholz Jr. of St. Louis, Mo., who may comprise the U.S. Davis Cup doubles team, then won the doubles title by defeating Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn and Indian Davis Cup ace Ramanathan Krishnan, 6-2, 11-3, 6-4, 8-6.

The victory here was the first for Olmedo since he won the Wimbledon crown earlier this summer, following disappointing showings in two recent tournaments. In early rounds here, too, he failed to play his best tennis. But Olmedo appeared every inch the champion against Green.

HARTACK BOOTS IN FOUR

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Willie Hartack helped get the 50-day Atlantic City racing season underway Monday by booting home four winners, including Miss Orestes in the $22,800 Margale Handicap. He also scored on Thurston ($4,000), New Prince ($8,000) and Southern Pomp ($7,400). Miss Orestes paid $15.40 to win.

HORSE EDGES 'KIN'

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UPI)—Weatherwise, a two-year-old son of Tom Fool, won the $37,500 Sanford Stakes at Saratoga Monday, beating Tompon another son of Tom Fool, by a neck. Weatherwise paid $8.00 to win after going six furlongs in 1:12.4-5. It was his second victory in as many starts.

IF MAJORS DON'T COOPERATE

SHEA READY FOR WAR

By BILL MCCORMICK
NEA Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—When total war erupts in the struggle of the Continental League to gain recognition and cooperation from organized baseball, the new circuit will be led into battle by William A. Shea, a seasoned campaigner.

The 52-year-old former Georgetown athlete who almost single-handedly created the new league, seems eminently qualified to head the Continental forces against the National and American Leagues in the battle of Washington lobbies that almost inevitably must decide the issue.

Shea is a New York attorney who deals mainly in corporate law, handling estates and master-minding proxy fights.

"Proxy battles can get pretty tough," reminds the man who represented Lou Wolfson in the financier's fierce effort to gain control of Montgomery Ward.

With true legal tact, Shea sidesteps the thought that the National and American Leagues will not voluntarily cede territory to the new circuit.

"The World Series and other valuable assets to the existing organization, if they don't cooperate, there undoubtedly will be legislative action in Washington to break up what amounts to a legal monopoly," he says confidently.

"You know that this is exactly what he expects."

"We've just started to fight," he says. "We don't have any organized lobby in Washington, but we do have one thing that is far more important. The fans are on our side. They've been resentful of the monopoly for a long time, but they never had anything concrete to get behind. We've given them a tangible proposition, something definite that they can express their feeling for."

Manhattan-born Shea graduated from Georgetown Law School in 1931. At the Washington university he played basketball for three years and was an end on L. D. Little's football squad for one season, "but not a very good one."

Shea joined a law firm which had as one of its accounts the Brooklyn Trust Co., headed by George D. McLaughlin, that represented the Ebbets estate and had all the loans on the Dodgers.

That's how he got his feet wet in the business of baseball. Shea ultimately opened his own law firm in Manhattan.

Willies Spark Giant Win

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Rack up another win for Willie! Only this time it was Willie Kirkland who supplied the blow that won the game and increased the Giants' lead to two full games in the National League race.

Actually San Francisco's 3-2 victory over St. Louis Monday night was a team effort—a team of Willies.

Willie Mays drove in the first run. Willie McCovey the second and Kirkland the winning marker. The Giants, if you'll pardon the pun, won the game in wild and Willie fashion.

Larry Jackson had them shut out on five hits and led, 2-0, until the ninth. Leon Wagner started the rally with a pinch single and Jim Davenport followed with another single. Mays then singled home the first run.

That brought in Dean Stone, who got McCovey to hit an infield grounder. In an attempt to make a play at the plate, however, the Cardinals missed Davenport and McCovey was safe at first. Ernie Braggio relieved Stone and struck out Orlando Cepeda but Kirkland, slammed a double that scored Mays and gave the Giants their fifth victory in the last six games. Stu Miller, second of three Giant pitchers, was the winner.

It was the only game scheduled in the National League.

In the American League, the Yankees tied the score with four runs in the ninth and then scored three more in the 10th to beat the Red Sox, 7-4, for their fifth straight while the Indians topped the Athletics, 6-4. They were the only games scheduled.

Frank Sullivan, the Red Sox starter, retired 16 men in a row before the Yankees capitalized on two errors to tie the score at 4-4 in the ninth.

The Yankees scored their three runs in the 10th on two walks and singles by Yogi Berra, Elston Howard and Hector Lopez. Whitey Ford pitched the last two innings and gained his 12th victory against six defeats. All Schroll was the loser.

Rocky Colavito was the big man in Cleveland's win over Kansas City, which has now lost seven in a row. Colavito collected four of the Tribe's 12 hits, including his 33rd homer of the season.

Cal McLish went the first seven innings, gave up two runs and eight of Kansas City's 11 hits, to post his 11th victory in 16 decisions.

Records Cheap In U.S. Swim Trials

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Trials for the United States swimming team in the Pan-American Games entered their final day today with records a dime a dozen.

The program for today included preliminaries and finals in the men's 220-yard freestyle; women's 220-yard breaststroke; men's 440-yard freestyle; men's platform diving and men's 1,600-yard freestyle.

A total of five new records were set in action Monday but two of them lasted only a few hours before they were eclipsed.

The competition was so keen that Bill Yorzyk, who set a new American record for the 220-yard freestyle in afternoon preliminaries, lost his record and his place on the team in the finals only a few hours later.

Yorzyk's record of 2:22.5 for the event was smashed by Mike Troy, Indianapolis, in the finals as he splashed across the finish line in 2:20.5.

Carin Conz, 19-year-old bigode University of Houston sophomore from Ridewood, N. J., established a record in the 110-yard backstroke.

JOHANSSON IN NO HURRY TO SIGN FOR TITLE BOUT

INGEMAR JOHANSSON... biding his time

Fight Okay; Promotion..?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson's knockout of Floyd Patterson was "strictly on the level," in the opinion of Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan, but Hogan has a lot more questions he wants to ask about the promotional side of the June 28 bout.

Hogan made that clear Monday after Frank Erickson, convicted gambler and bookmaker, was quizzed in the DA's office for about an hour.

Erickson, pudgy 64-year-old New Yorker who once ran a bookmaking business whose annual handle was estimated at $10 million, probably will testify today or Wednesday before the New York grand jury which is investigating underworld influence in boxing, Hogan said.

Hogan stressed that he is not investigating the action in the ring that night at Yankee Stadium when Johansson's thundering right fist knocked the heavyweight crown off the brow of New Yorker Patterson.

In "fairness" to both fighters, Hogan said, he wanted to make it clear that there is not "a scintilla" of evidence to indicate any possibility of a "fix" in the bout.

JOHANSSON IN NO HURRY TO SIGN FOR TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK (UPI)—The new head of Rosenzohn Enterprises Inc. wants heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson to come here "immediately" to complete a deal for a Sept. 22 return bout against Floyd Patterson, by Johansson seems in no rush to accept.

"There is no reason for me to go there," said Johansson at Goleborg, Sweden. "I am the world champion, and they have to come here if they want anything."

Johansson's statement was made Monday just before Vincent Velella, new president of Rosenzohn Enterprises, disclosed he has cabled the champion an invitation to come here expense-free to "close the deal immediately."

Velella wired Johansson that a decision must be made now concerning "three possible locations, two of which offer large guarantees." Velella told the champion that these "firm cash guarantees" and assurance of large closed circuit television audiences "make the bout can be held as early as planned on Sept. 22, but warned that present doubt about Johansson's intentions are "seriously hurting the promotion."

Whether Velella's wire would move Johansson to come here remained to be seen, but the champion was emphatic Monday in stating that he isn't planning a trip now.

Johansson said he was willing to fight Patterson Sept. 22 "if everything is in order," but added that he is "very disappointed" over the American conditions.
