OIL BLAST INFERNO — Texas Pipeline Co. workers moved quickly with bulldozers Monday noon to cover up exposed pipes after a giant 80,000-barrel storage tank exploded on the Chapman lease near Lefors. Flames shot hundreds of feet in the air and smoke was visible for 15 miles. The top of the tank blew straight off in three pieces, landing to the right of the scene above. The three Houston men injured in the explosion were all standing near the base of a ladder visible at left. Three hours after the explosion heat from the burning tank could still be felt 200 yards away. (Daily News Photo by Marvin Olsen)

Two Fire-Blast Victims Remain On Critical List

Two Houston men critically injured in Monday morning's oil storage tank explosion near Lefors remained in "critical" condition late this morning at Highland General Hospital. Doctors said that Thurman Humphrey, foreman for the Shaw Tank Cleaning Co. of Houston, and Houston Floyd, are both in critical condition with burns over 70 per cent of their bodies, "but are better than they were."

The blast occurred on the Chapman lease, several hundreds yards from the Canadian River, and it was blamed on a gasoline engine which backfired. The tank was being emptied for cleaning. Burger, Humphrey and Floyd were believed standing about 20 feet from the tank when the explosion occurred. In nearby Lefors, residents said they heard a "loud boom and then a series of shock waves."

Commission Studies Ways To Ease City Parking Problem

Pampa's Traffic Commission, seeking to find more parking space on downtown streets, turned its attention Monday noon to the existence of numerous loading and man lease, several hundreds yards from the Canadian River, and it was blamed on a gasoline engine which backfired. The tank was being emptied for cleaning. Burger, Humphrey and Floyd were believed standing about 20 feet from the tank when the explosion occurred. In nearby Lefors, residents said they heard a "loud boom and then a series of shock waves."

Give Up In Minatitlan

MINATITLAN, Mexico (UPI) — The grave diggers gave up today in Minatitlan. "What's the use of digging them out from under 15 feet of mud only to bury them under six feet of dirt?" asked Maj. Andres Cosma, commander of the rescue team sent here by the Mexican government.

Chairman James Hart told commission members he felt the parking problem could be lessened if certain loading zones were "done away with."

ARRIVED 10 MINUTES LATER—Lefors firemen Fred Cullon and Chief J. J. Archer, at right, said that when they arrived on the scene 10 minutes after the explosion two of the injured men were wandering in a daze down a dirt road. The third man fell into a sand pit to extinguish his burning clothing. Cullon and Archer drove the injured to Highland General Hospital in the Lefors ambulance. (Daily News Photo)

The rest of the dead must lie in peace where they are. The smell of death lay everywhere in this mountain village that was almost wiped out in a grinding rain at 7:30 a.m. a week ago today when nightlong cloud-bursts loosened the slopes of Los Copales Mountains.

The living were walking dead, moving through the sloping streets like zombies or sleepwalkers or little children just awakening after a dream too frightening to be understood.

They were silent and unsmiling and could give no coherent account of the disaster that struck while most were sleeping or huddled awake in their mud and straw huts awaiting the end of the cyclone-borne rains.

The village of Minatitlan lies low on the slopes of Los Copales, nestled in a ravine formed by two interlocking mountainsides. Below is a nameless dry river. (See MINATITLAN, Page 3)

Recommendations on which zones are unnecessary will be made at the commission's next meeting. Businessmen who feel their zones are essential will likely be asked to re-apply for new ones. If the commission's recommendations are carried out, a detailed report on downtown fire and loading zones was read to the commission at its Monday luncheon by George Thul.

In other business the commission said in the future it will consider traffic suggestions from citizens only if the particular problem is put in writing and signed. Suggestions should be mailed directly to Hart.

A discussion on whether or not the city should make an overall traffic survey ended with no definite action taken. Prohibitive costs were cited as a reason.

Police Chief Jim Conner made an October accident report to the commission which showed 54 accidents on city streets with 10 injuries. A request to put a stop sign at the Hamilton-Harvester intersection was dropped, and the question of parking along the east side of the high school football field was tabled.

Steel Decision To Court

Justices May Hear Hours Of Evidence

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The steel crisis shifted from the bargaining table to the Supreme Court today for legal arguments on whether the 112-day strike can be halted by a Taft-Hartley injunction.

The court session could last as long as the nine justices have questions and the lawyers have points they want to make. The court, which normally limits arguments to one hour on each side, set no time restriction on the precedent-setting steel case.

The high court can hand down its decision any time after the arguments are completed. The ruling will determine whether the strikers have to return to their jobs for 80 days under a court order.

It is the first Supreme Court test of the injunction provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. The only other case to bring up the issue ended in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in 1953 with a decision against the union.

Government mediation efforts in the dispute were sidetracked for the day while the emphasis was on the legal aspects. But Federal Mediation Chief Joseph P. Finnegan scheduled further talks Wednesday morning with union and management negotiators.

Finnegan met separately with each side Monday. Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald said "absolutely no headway" was made toward a settlement. Finnegan said the talks had been helpful however, because both sides provided cost data for government analysis.

In today's court room drama, the leading roles were held by Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin, 52, who has argued many critical cases for the government, and Arthur J. Goldberg, 51, general counsel for the Steelworkers.

The chief protagonists in the union-management conflict — McDonald and chief company negotiator R. Conrad Cooper of U.S. Steel — had an opportunity to watch and listen from the side. (See STEEL, Page 3)

City Commission Meets

Radio Units Asked For City Vehicles

Pampa's City Commission, still not back at full strength, made plans this morning to equip nine public works department vehicles with radio units. The cost is expected to be slightly under $4,000.

The commission decided it would open bids Dec. 8 on nine mobile transmitter-receiver units and one base station. City Manager John Kooz said some money had been set aside in the budget for radio equipment.

Mayor Ed Myatt and commissioners present agreed that the purchase of radio equipment for engineers and public works officials, "would in the long run save time and money." It was pointed out that at present it sometimes is difficult to make contact with foremen and supervisors at their separate projects.

Ward Three Commissioner Leon Holmes, after a two-week bout with pneumonia, returned for duty this morning, but Ward Two Commissioner Jack Vaughn remained absent, still nursing injuries suffered two weeks ago in Colorado.

Runaway Well In Michigan Still Gushing

JONESVILLE, MICH. (UPI) — Michigan's runaway oil well continued to gush oil and water high into the air today, undaunted by a Texas trouble-shooter's efforts to shut it off.

"Red" Adair, a well-capping expert from Houston, Tex., launched his second attack on the maverick well today.

Adair and eight local oil men worked all day Monday in an attempt to stop the blow by pumping thick mud down the well's throat.

But the well remained untagged as bulldozer crews built dams to keep the oil from spreading across farm fields and into nearby Hastings Lake.

Two pits about 30 feet deep were dug to catch the oil as it flowed away from the well. Owners of the well hoped to lay a pipeline and draw the oil from the pits into tanks.

An estimated 3,000 barrels of oil and water an hour were spewing from the well, known as the Faulk-Mann No. 1.

State police said the flow of gas, which had threatened a wide area after the well blew its top late Friday, had slowed to a trickle. But there was still a danger of fire, a trooper said.

The well, located on the G. Mann farm in southeastern Michigan's rich Scipio Oil Field, is about one-half mile from the nearest farm home.

Ike Plans To Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower plans to fly to Gettysburg, Pa., today to vote in state and local elections if the weather permits him to make the helicopter hop.

If skies are clear, Eisenhower will take off from Langley, Va., where he is scheduled to help dedicate the new headquarters of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency.

Washington (UPI) — A Commerce Department economist predicted today that Christmas business would be at a "record all-time high" this year if the striking steelworkers go back to their jobs within 10 days.

Louis J. Paradiso of the Office of Business Economics said in an interview that people will have more money to spend this season than last Christmas.

Promised Publicity For Band

By VINCE J. BURKE United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Band leader Xavier Cugat testified today that he was given answers in advance when he won $16,000 on the TV quiz show "The $64,000 Challenge."

Cugat told House investigators that he had been given advance assurances by his publicity agent who arranged for his appearance on the show in June 1958 that he need not worry about looking bad on the program.

But it came as a surprise to him, he said, when it turned out that all of the questions were ones which he had been asked in a pre-show warm-up session by a member of the producer's staff.

He said the warm-up session was held in his apartment and the staff aide gave him the answers to the questions which he could not answer. All of the questions were about popular music.

Cugat appeared before a House subcommittee on Feb. 11 Monday wringing a painful confession of "deception" from Charles Van Doren, the quiz whiz of the now defunct "20/20" show.

The subcommittee also was told that associate producer Shirley Bernstein of the "64,000 Challenge" secretly coached some contestants on the show. Miss Bernstein is the sister of conductor-composer Leonard Bernstein.

Cugat said he was coached in his New York City apartment in three pre-program sessions by Bert Koplin, the producer of the program, who was also on today's subcommittee witness list.

He said he gave 10 per cent, or $1,600, to his publicity agent who arranged the appearance, gave some to a Spanish orphanage, some to an Italian orphanage and "some to my brother who helped me study for the show."

The partly handicapped star said the idea for his appearance on the quiz show came from his publicity agent who thought it would help publicize Cugat's orchestra engagement in a large New York hotel.

"I was interested in publicity, but I did not want to make a fool of myself," he said.

"Over the phone, my publicity man told me not to worry about a thing," Cugat said. "From the tone of his voice, I assumed that for at least one or two sessions they would either ask me easy questions or questions they knew I would know the answers to, or that I would actually be coached."

Cugat said that he told his story last January to the New York county grand jury investigating rigged TV quiz shows.

Extraction Plant To Be Built Soon

Construction is scheduled to begin about Dec. 1 on a new gasoline extraction and products plant on the site of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.'s recently completed Gray County compressor station, 12 miles south of Pampa. The construction is a joint venture of Amarillo Oil Co. and one of the other major oil companies with completion scheduled sometime around April 1.

Dresser Engineering Co., Tulsa, Okla., will handle the design and construction. The refrigerated absorption distillation type plant is designed to process an estimated 45 million cubic feet of natural gas per day. It will extract propane and a butane-gasoline mixture at a rate in excess of 22,000 gallons per day. The propane will be shipped from the Pampa plant by truck and the butane-gasoline mixture transported by pipeline.

The new plant will differ from Amarillo Oil's two present products plants in that the inlet gas and absorption oil will be chilled at 20 degrees Fahrenheit by a large freon compression-expansion refrigeration unit. If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Howe. Adv.

Christmas Business Outlook Is Brighter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Commerce Department economist predicted today that Christmas business would be at a "record all-time high" this year if the striking steelworkers go back to their jobs within 10 days.

Louis J. Paradiso of the Office of Business Economics said in an interview that people will have more money to spend this season than last Christmas.

He added that the steel strike would act "as a drag on total sales" but generally would not affect business unless the strike continues for 10 more days.

Paradiso pointed out that if the strike continued into December, it would have an adverse "psychological effect" that might reduce consumer spending.

The Commerce Department official said latest figures show that there has been a 5 per cent increase over last year in personal income after taxes. At the end of September, the annual rate of income after taxes was 335 billion dollars. A year ago, it was 320 billion dollars.

In past years income after taxes has shown a direct relation to Christmas buying. But, Paradiso said, Christmas shoppers will find prices a little higher than a year ago. He said prices of consumer goods generally are about one per cent over a year ago.

"More people are at work and incomes are higher," Paradiso said in forecasting a big Christmas season. He said there would be a shortage of automobiles and appliances but shoppers would switch their buying to other products not directly affected by the steel strike.

Vandals Strike At Dog Pound

Police reported today that someone overnight the city's dog pound east of Pampa was broken open and vandalized.

At least four dogs were freed and a number of lights were shot out with a 22 caliber rifle. Locks on the kennels were backed off and apparently carried away.

Police Chief Jim Conner warned this morning that the persons who vandalized the kennels "probably didn't realize what harm could have been done." In some cases, Conner said, the city holds dogs suspected of rabies. If they had been freed, he added, some people might have been bitten and been forced into a long period of suffering.

New Rules Should Stop Cuba Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U. S. officials said they hope that stiff new flight regulations would stop Cuban exiles from using Florida as a base for operations against Premier Fidel Castro's regime. The regulations were put into effect by the Justice Department at the request of President Eisenhower in a move to improve relations with the Cuban government.

Castro, in an angry attack on the United States, charged last week that American officials had countenanced the leaflet "bombing" of Havana by planes flying from airfields in Florida.

A squad of 100 Immigration Service officers has been sent to Florida to enforce the new regulations. Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing said they were equipped "with necessary planes, automobiles, communications and other equipment" to carry out the orders.

Swing said they were "being deployed throughout the almost 200 airports in Florida and are ready to institute continuous vigilant guard to prevent unauthorized flights from the United States to Cuba by persons whose departure would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States."

The FAA issued regulations requiring any persons operating a civil aircraft for flight into or over Cuba to file within an hour of departure a written flight plan disclosing the destination of the plane, the names of passengers, the names of crew and the nature of its cargo.

The regulation also requires that the plane must leave from a designated international airport. Pilots were warned that they must abide by the laws of Cuba when they are in Cuban air space.

The FAA said persons filing a false flight plan would be subject to criminal prosecution. Failure to file a flight plan will subject violators to a possible penalty of $1,000 and loss of certificate.

bed that last Tuesday became a great river, swollen and trapping the people of Minatitlan.

Village authorities say 1,374 persons were living here a week ago when the sides of the mountains trembled, slipped slightly and then roared downward toward the flooded riverbed with ever-increasing speed.

Almost 900 persons escaped death, though 100 were badly hurt. They crossed themselves and said it was a miracle. There was no warning and no premonition. Another 400 persons were crushed in their adobe huts or smothered beneath tons of muck and mire.

Houses crumbled or disappeared in an instant. Most of the few brick buildings that were the pride of the village — the store, the city hall — crumbled and were covered up. The sea of mud, as soft as quicksand, poured into the houses that still stood.

The people of Minatitlan are God fearing and they saw miracles all about. The church escaped severe damage though houses all about it including the home of the priest were swept away. Those who fled to the church for safety were saved. The priest was saved because he was away, praying for a parishioner.

The army also reported miracles. One was a lieutenant found buried up to his neck but still alive. Another was a soldier swept 300 yards from the army garrison by a sea of mud, but still living. The other soldiers were killed in the garrison.

The survivors, stoic and unsmiling Indians, are wracked with flu and diarrhea and skin diseases but they do not complain. They have never known of electricity or potable water or of sewage problems and the lack does not bother them.

One of the first horrors of the disaster, the swarms of tarantulas and scorpions which were

Lions To Hear Of Kerrville Children Camp

The Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville will be the program subject of the Pampa Noon Lions Club Thursday in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

The Lions of Texas have set aside November in honor of the camp, which has allowed 4,281 handicapped youngsters to enjoy the thrill of camping life since it was opened in 1953.

The camp is free to the blind and mute, deaf and crippled children of Texas between the ages of 7 and 16. Growing steadily, the camp now has 16 permanent buildings perched on the brow of a hill and valued at $600,000.

Each summer, for two weeks, 720 youngsters learn to swim, camp outdoors under the stars and develop new skills by learning various handicrafts.

Originally, the camp was in use only in the summer. Now it is being used the year around. During the other months, the camp serves as a training center for the adult blind — one of the thirteen recognized centers of its kind in the nation.

Applications to the summer camp are handled only by local Lions Clubs.

Perjury Indictments Considered

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's office indicated today the possibility of perjury indictments against TV quiz show contestants who made false statements to a grand jury will have to be considered.

Hogan said Monday a great number of the 150 contestants who appeared before the grand jury investigating rigging of quiz shows did not tell the truth.

"On the possibility of perjury indictments, Hogan said... It's a matter that will have to be considered and not in terms of one contestant."

Hogan said his office had questioned at least 300 contestants and about half of them appeared before the grand jury.

"A good many contestants told the truth," Hogan said, "but then there were a great number who did not, so you can see the ramifications of the problem."

Hogan also indicated that a determination of whether perjury indictments would serve any useful public purpose also would have to be considered.

He said the grand jury might be interested in knowing if any former contestants showed any signs of contrition, such as "correcting" their previous grand jury testimony.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Mrs. Young Yet" - the woman of 50 who refuses to settle for one of the many men over 70 who "adore" her - she'd better get wise and quit reaching for the moon.
Widows of 50 who want to get married are a dime a dozen. And "Mrs. Young Yet" knows of a healthy, eligible male of 70 plus who will have her, she had better grab him. Men of 50 can get plenty of eligible young women in their thirties.
Twelve years ago (when I was 82) I married a beautiful young woman of 33 and we have been supremely happy. Believe it or not, some men in their seventies are younger biologically than some men in their forties. Age means nothing!
A DOCTOR (70 plus)

sounds like he's all dollars and no sense.
DEAR ABBY: I am so mixed up I am going crazy. I married a man three years ago thinking we were an ideal couple. He hasn't had a happy day and I am miserable. I would kill myself but I am a Catholic and it is a mortal sin. What can I do, Abby? This is a marriage problem and what does a Priest know about marriage? Answer me soon in the paper before I lose my mind.
MISERABLE
DEAR MISERABLE: Talk to your Priest. You don't have to be a cow to know what milk is.
What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: I saw that pitiful letter from the little girl who had been begging her mother in vain for an eye examination. Perhaps you didn't know that "sight conservation" is a project that is close to the heart of every Lion.
If you will have this little girl get in touch with her local Lions Club for the one nearest her city, if she lives in the country we will arrange for an eye examination (and glasses, if necessary) if her parents cannot afford it. Yours truly,
B. M. B. (Lions Club, Chillum, Maryland)
DEAR B. M. B.: The warm letter from Chillum (you ought to rename that town) was very much appreciated. Yours was one of hundreds of letters I received from lion-hearted Lions all over the country. Bless you, Lions!

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a man who is very funny about money. Whenever he gives me a gift, he shows me the price tag. When we go anywhere he never fails to tell me how much the evening cost him. And he continually gripes about how expensive everything is.
I like him otherwise, but he makes me feel very uncomfortable because he is always bringing up money. My father says he will make a good husband. My mother says the opposite. What do you say?
UNCOMFORTABLE
DEAR UNCOMFORTABLE: A man who makes you feel "uncomfortable" during the courtship is not likely to make you feel comfortable after marriage. It's all right to be conservative, but he

Red Griggs the pipeline

It would be hard to say who was hurt worst in last weekend's wave of upsets. So many teams were whipped by the underdogs that it's hard to single out any one game as the upset of the week.

White Deer saw its dreams of another state championship sink in the mud against McLean; Oklahoma finally lost a Big Eight game after 11 years or so; to Nebraska; all of the favorites in District 3-4A, including the Pampa Harvesters, lost; and a number of other teams also bit the dust.

Among those biting the most dust were football pickers Red Griggs and Marv Olsen. Each of us barely managed to hang on at the 500 mark, with 14 right, 14 wrong, and two ties.

For Olsen, the rout was especially bitter, since the week before he had done the near-impossible by picking every national game right, and seemed to be on the way to a brilliant season.

For me, of course, it was nothing new—this being the third time this season I've dropped to or below the 500 mark. We have not as yet received the customary poem from B. A. Ricketts of Skellytown, but we're still waiting.

New Bowl Game Originated

Seven college teams evidently have five major bowls to bid for this year, instead of just four. A Liberty Bowl game will be played in Philadelphia Dec. 19. It is expected to match the best team in the East against a strong squad from another section.

The game will be played in the 98,000 seat municipal stadium, so there's a possibility it may rival the Rose, Cotton, Orange, and Sugar bowls in attendance. With any luck at all, it will outdraw the fifth "major," the Gator Bowl.

Lou Little, former Columbia coach and chairman of the Liberty Bowl selection committee, said that the purpose of the game is to help bring back Eastern football prestige. He said that more than a dozen teams are under consideration by the committee.

Two teams were knocked out of the perfect class—Mississippi and Yale. In the Mississippi-LSU game, of course, somebody had to go, and it turned out to be Ole Miss. Yale, the nation's only undefeated team before Saturday, was scored on twice by Dartmouth and beaten, 12-8.

The unbeaten teams, and many squads with good records, may

Semi-Pro League Formed

A new baseball league is being formed in the Golden Spread area. Bill Rogers at Phillips informs us. It will be known as the Golden Spread semi-pro league. Teams from Phillips, Stinnett, Borge, Spearman, and Amarillo are entering, and the league is seeking more teams.

Quail Limit Raised To 15

There's still time to get in on the quail hunt set for this fall and winter in the Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area. The hunts will be held Dec. 5, Dec. 19, Jan. 2, and Jan. 16.

Applications now are being received for these hunts, and permits will be issued after a public drawing to be held Nov. 15. All hunters must hunt in pairs, and only persons 17 or older will be eligible.

No preference can be given as to dates, and a pair of hunters may hunt only on one of these dates. Those who make the hunt are urged to use dogs. Applications should be mailed to the Texas Game and Fish Commission, Walton State Building, Austin.

Two other notes from the Game and Fish Commission: Duck season begins Nov. 12 and the bag limit on quail in the Panhandle and Pecos Kingdom areas has been raised from 12 to 15.

Panhandle area counties are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collins,

Praises Three Assistants

Royal Walks on 'Cloud 7' After Texas Win Over SMU

By United Press International
Lombard Coach Darrell Royal rode "cloud seven" Tuesday after his team won their seventh straight victory Saturday. The cloud walking position was so pleasing, he decided to shiver down his joy on the heads of three assistant Texas coaches.

After warmly complimenting members of his SMU - beating squad, he turned attentions to assistants Mike Campbell, Ray Wilsey and Charles Shira.

Royal said the trio was responsible for defensive designs and worked up the defense that stopped Don Meredith and his SMU pass-happy Mustangs cold.

After the meeting of the Longhorn Mutual Admiration Society adjourned, Royal turned attentions to this week's game against upset-minded Baylor.

"They have been tough to score on this season and they move the ball well, Royal commented about the Bears. Baylor also leads the conference in defense," he lamented.

Meanwhile at Waco, the Bears returned to the practice field after their defeat at the hands of TCU. There were enough footballs in the air to give even the most casual observer an impression the Baylorites plan to do a lot of passing in the Texas Memorial Stadium.

After the aerial session, the Bears retired to the movie-house to view action films of the Longhorns.

Starting but injured quarterback Bobby Pity is given only a 50-50 chance of playing against Texas.

Things were pleasant at Fayetteville Monday where the Porkers counted another win—Texas A&M—and looked forward to more competition from Rice at Houston.

It was just a loosening up drill with Coach Frank Broyles trying to keep injuries low. He may not have the use of ace pass defender

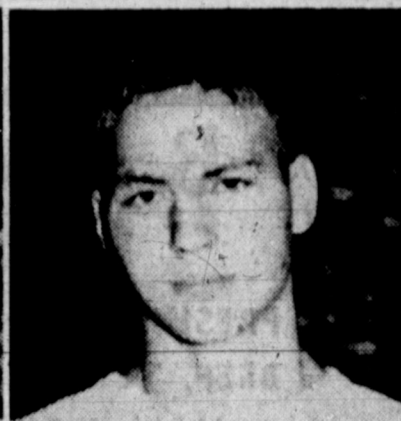

Miller May Become AFL Commissioner

NEW YORK (UPI) — Edgar E. (Rip) Miller, one of the "Seven Miles" who cleared the way for Notre Dame's famed "Four Horsemen" 35 years ago, is a strong candidate to become the first commissioner of the American Football League.

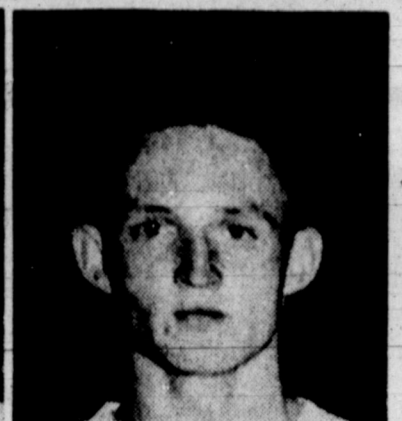

An informed source also told United Press International today that Buffalo, N.Y., has been granted a franchise in the new pro league. The eighth and final member is expected to be announced later this week.

LSU Tops UPI Football Poll; Syracuse Moves Up to Third

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louisiana State and Northwestern remained 1-2 today in United Press International's major college football ratings but Syracuse replaced Mississippi in third place.

Washington was the only newcomer in the top 10, replacing Georgia Tech in 10th place in the latest balloting by the 35 leading coaches who rate the teams for UPI.

Syracuse, moving from fifth to third in the wake of its 35-0 triumph over Pittsburgh, achieved the highest standing it has reached in the ratings since they were inaugurated in 1950.

Texas remained fourth and Southern California a distance from sixth to fifth, Mississippi, which lost a hard-fought, 7-3 decision to LSU Saturday night, slipped from third to sixth. Penn State, Syracuse's opponent next Saturday, was seventh. Wisconsin was eighth and Auburn ninth ahead of Washington.

Oregon and Clemson tied for 11th. Purdue, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Illinois, Tennessee, Ohio State, Texas Christian and the Air Force Academy rounded out the top 20 in that order. Only 20 teams drew votes.

Alabama failed to receive a vote for the first time in the history of the ratings.

Washington, Oregon and Clemson, 11 (tie), Oregon and Clemson, 21, each; 13, Purdue, 17; 14, Georgia, 15; 15, Georgia Tech, 12; 16 (tie), Illinois and Tennessee, 6 each; 18 (tie), Ohio State and Texas Christian, 3 each; 20, Air Force Academy, 2.

John Henry Johnson, Detroit Lions fullback, was in double trouble today because of his indifference.

And so was the whole Lions team. Johnson missed the plane bringing the team back from San Francisco Sunday night and was promptly suspended by Coach George Wilson.

Wilson used Johnson's absence as the occasion to lash the whole Lions roster for its lack of "desire." He warned that a general "rebuilding" is planned for 1960.

Meanwhile, a Superior Court bench warrant for Johnson was issued in Oakland, Calif., when Johnson's ex-wife charged he was "indifferent" about paying $850 in back alimony.

Wilson, sorely dejected by Detroit's six losses in seven starts, also slammed Johnson's general indifference. He said Johnson and three other players were fined $25 each for reporting late for practice three days before the trip West.

This surprise announcement by the Oklahoma horseman left Laurel officials holding the bag, for Round Table was being counted on to represent the United States against some of the world's greatest thoroughbreds in next week's classic.

John D. Schapiro, president of Laurel, and Joseph Cascarella, the track's executive vice president, were shocked when they learned of Kerr's decision.

"Kerr has been giving us the business for three years," Cascarella said pointing out it was the third straight year Round Table had been withdrawn from the International.

"Sportsmen from all over the world have shipped their horses thousands of miles to compete in our race," the former Washington Senators pitcher added. "Here's a horse who was 200 miles away and his owner pulls him out of the International after accepting an invitation."

Schapiro, who originated the event eight years ago, was equally bitter.

"We have had these disappointments in the past," he said. "However, the hardest disappointment to accept is when a man gives his word and then reneges."

When informed of the statements issued by officials of the Maryland track, Kerr found it hard to control his temper.

"You can tell them I don't give a damn how they feel about it," Kerr snapped. "We're requarback James Monroe in the Rice game. He aggravated an old shoulder injury Saturday.

Rice Coach Jess Neely concentrated his attention on reserves as his regulars ran through signal drills and light dummy scrimmage. He was cheered by reports that four regulars held out of the Clemson game by injuries would be ready to start against Arkansas.

He named them: ends Johnny Brezell and Charles Pollard, guard Rufus King and quarterback John Schnabel.

The Mustangs paid close attention to their kicking game as they aimed toward their Aggie game Saturday — still mad about the drubbing Texas gave them.

Two SMU players, guard Bobby Lovelace and end Harry Christopher, missed workouts because of injuries but hopes are high that they will be in shape for the game against the Aggies in College Station.

For the Aggies it was just another Monday. Workouts in sweat clothes was the order for the varsity while the third and fourth teams scrimmaged the freshmen.

The cadets also viewed movies of their 12-7 defeat by Arkansas. No injuries were reported.

The Horned Frogs were idle Monday. They have an off weekend coming up and then the highly publicized battle with Texas the following weekend.

Bragan becomes LA Dodger coach

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bobby Bragan, whose antics have entertained baseball fans in both the major and minor leagues, today replaced equally colorful Charlie Dressen as a coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The appointment of Bragan as Dressen's successor was announced Monday by Los Angeles General Manager E. J. (Buz) Bavasi who dipped into the club's farm system for the replacement for Dressen.

Bavasi said Manager Walt Alton picked Bragan as his new assistant when the general manager had suggested that they stay within the Dodger organization in picking the coach. Pete Rieker also had been mentioned as a possibility.

Bragan brings to the Dodgers experience as both a major and minor league manager. He managed Pittsburgh in 1956-57 and for half of 1958 he managed Cleveland. For the past year and a half he has managed the Dodger farm club in the Pacific Coast League at Spokane, Wash.

Harvesters Prep For Lubbock Tilt

"We had a fine workout Monday," Pampa Coach Babe Curfman reported today. "The Harvesters have snapped right back from that Palo Duro loss, and if anything, it's helped their mental attitude."

"They realize now," he explained, "that they were probably a little overconfident Friday against Palo Duro. They won't make the same mistake against Lubbock this week."

Curfman said that Lubbock is still a good football team, despite one-sided losses in their last two games. "They've been disorganized," he said, "and their morale was hurt by that licking Borge handed them. But I think that when they pull themselves together and get organized, they'll be much more dangerous than Palo Duro."

For the Harvesters, there was only one bright spot in last week's game—the passing attack. Pampa gained 57 yards through the air on five completions, for one of its best passing games of the year.

Charles Warren snagged three tosses, the most any one Harvesters has caught in a game this year. Warren's three catches, good for 28 yards, made him Pampa's top pass receiver, with Lou Stokes catches for 49 yards. Jim M. Storms and Mert Cooper grabbed the other two tosses, to remain tied as the number two receivers, with 38 yards each.

Buddy Rawls completed three of nine passes, for 37 yards, to cut Bobby Stephens passing leadership. Rawls, who was playing with a broken jaw (using special protective equipment) now has credit for 85 yards, compared to 88 for Stephens, who completed two of four tosses for 20 yards.

Dwain Urbanczyk was Pampa's leading rusher, with 39 yards in five carries. He remained in fifth place among Harvesters runners, but his Friday night effort boosted his total to 121 yards, or three yards short of Sherrill Miller's fourth place total of 124.

Pampa's usually tough defense had an off night Friday. Tackle Jim Scott, who threw Palo Duro ball carriers for a couple of losses, was one of the few Harvesters playing an outstanding game. End Benny Stout and halfback Bobby Stephens also looked good defensively, in spots.

Russian, Roberts Win; Ref Is Loser

Doc Miller, Pampa wrestling commissioner, is considering running an ad for a wrestling referee. It will read something like this:

"Wanted: one referee for Monday night wrestling matches. Must be able to take a punch. Must be relaxed in order to keep from being injured when thrown out of ring. Must have eyes in the back of his head."

These may sound like strange qualifications for a referee, but Monday night's arbiter at the Top of Texas Sportsmen's Club certainly needed all of them. Actually, the referee took a worse beating than any of the wrestlers.

In the first match, the referee was slugged by Nick Roberts in the third fall of the Roberts-Tony Morelli bout. Roberts aimed his punch at Morelli, but it hit the referee, as he was trying to separate the two men.

The ring arbiter first disqualified Roberts, then changed his mind, deciding that Morelli was the one who had thrown the punch. Morelli was disqualified, and Roberts was declared the winner.

The Morelli match was the first in Pampa, at least, in which Roberts, himself no angel in the ring, has been the favorite of the fans.

In the second bout of the night, the luckless referee again took his punishment. This time, it was Urbanczyk who threw the punch. It hit Geigel, along with Geigel's opponent, Russian champ Ivan Zdanoff.

White Sox Swap Jackson For Baumann

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox, who promised action in the winter trading market, got the ball rolling in a straight player deal with the Boston Red Sox.

The American League champions acquired Frank Baumann, a left-handed pitcher, and gave up Ron Jackson, one of six first basemen carried on the White Sox roster.

Baumann, 26, was a bonus baby from St. Louis in 1952 and received an estimated $100,000 for signing with the Red Sox. He finished the 1959 campaign, his first full season in the majors, with a 6-4 record and an earned run average of 4.05.

Baumann hurled two complete games, winning six-hitters from Baltimore and Detroit.

"Jackson came to the White Sox after being paid a $25,000 bonus in 1954. The 6-foot-4-inch first baseman was used only sporadically in three seasons, playing most of this year with Indianapolis where he hit .286. He hit 30 home runs and drove in 99 runs.

Out At Harvesters
Bowlers of the Week at Harvesters were Larry McCalherty, who rolled a fine 606 scratch, and Mary Lou Novotny who scratched 539.

Their efforts won them watch and lighter combinations.
Big games — Keith Robinson, 234; Howard Musgrave, 226; Bill Waggoner, 243; Mary Lou Novotny, 222; Marie Lander, 190; Bill Garrett, 244; Peg Kastein, 222; Ray Browning, 236; Pete Schmalz, 222; Clark Davis, 200 (144 Ave.); Bill Hawkins, 230.

High Series — Musgrave's 472; 622 and 601; Keith Robinson, 642; Dorothy Davis, 504; Jess Smartt, 608; Keith Chilton, 506; Ray R. Browning, 600; Pete Schmalz, 604; Bill Hawkins' 230-57 (145 ave.).
Rarities — Euna Lee Moore ("I've retired this year") picked up the 6-10; Neida Patton picked the 3-7-10.

Carl Hills of the Coca-Cola team was determined that nothing would come between him and bowling Monday night.
Hills, on business in Oklahoma City, phoned his wife to have his shirt washed for him at the alley. He was going to fly back to Pampa, and he had everything figured down to the last second. He would meet his wife at the door, don his shirt and just have time to make the first frame.

Gil Burgund swears that everything worked like clockwork. Hills made it, the shirt made it, and Hills bowled Monday night.
The Elks and Optimists put on quite a battle in the Civic league last week. The Elks lost the first game by one pin, won the second by a pin and lost the third by nine pins. That's the closest we've heard of this season.

Big scores at the Garden the past seven days include Al Duray's 239, Barbara Edwards' 178, Gladys Myer's 170, and junior Mike Clark's 189 and 217. Randy Williams of the junior league scored a stair-step 71, 81, 91.

Rockefeller Will Challenge Nixon At A Disadvantage

EDITOR'S NOTE: Is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York going to try for the GOP presidential nomination against Vice President Nixon? Following is the first of three dispatches giving the pros and cons of the subject and spotlighting his activities to date.

By JACK V. FOX United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation is just warming up to the great guessing game called "presidential candidates," but no one is giving it more earnest attention than Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Almost everyone takes it for granted the personable New York governor is trying to beat out Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the 1960 Republican nomination.

The 51-year-old Rockefeller acts like a candidate. He speaks like a candidate. And he travels like a candidate. Next week he flies into California, Nixon's home ground, and it is difficult to regard the visit as anything but a challenge.

But the more you talk to the top men around Rockefeller the more you come to the conclusion that he has not yet made up his own mind.

One of the New York friends closest to him put it this way: "If Nelson decides that it is near hopeless to try to overcome the undoubtedly lead Nixon now has within the party, he won't try. But if he decides there is widespread popular support conter-balancing it, then he will. That's what he is trying to find out now."

Rockefeller — at his own expense — is conducting intensive private polls around the nation. On them, plus his personal travels, will largely depend an open decision expected shortly after the first of the year.

Some feel he is waiting too long to make his move. But then "reluctant" candidate has traditionally been an appealing one in American politics, and there is the old strategy of letting the front-runner wear himself out.

Certainly he is laying the groundwork for his candidacy. He has spoken out on issues only remotely connected with his duties as governor of New York. He has taken a position on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's visit and relations with Russia in general which is decidedly more aloof than those both of Nixon and President Eisenhower.

His attitude toward Nixon has been courteous and friendly. He has said the vice president would make a good, aggressive GOP candidate. Friends say he does not want a bitter fight that would divide the party.

But he also feels that rivalry for the nomination would be better than a cut-and-dried Nixon nomination while the Democrats are stirring up interest with a slambang convention battle. He points out there are more registered Democrats than Republicans in the nation and is said to feel the Republican candidate can win only by swinging not only independent voters but Democratic voters to the GOP nominee.

And though it has not come from Rockefeller himself, some of his New York supporters are quietly raising the "Nixon can't win" idea that proved to be the cry that finished off the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in his presidential bid.

Rockefeller's technique in winning the New York governorship last year in his first try for elective public office furnishes an instructive blueprint on how he is operating now.

It was almost as if he let the governorship come to him. He did not announce his candidacy until June 30, 1958, but at the Republican state convention on Aug. 28 he was nominated by acclamation.

Then he swept to victory over Gov. Averell Harriman while other Republicans were topping across the nation.

Nixon To Rest In California

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Los Angeles Monday night for a five-day visit billed as a rest and reunion sojourn.

He and his wife, Patricia, immediately traveled to nearby Arcadia after landing and attended the first reunion of the "Committee of 100" which 14 years ago selected Nixon as a congressional candidate.

Nixon admitted at an airport press conference that "anything I do these days" has political significance. But he said his trip was undertaken mostly for relaxation.

A-Power Research Time Said Wasted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An industrial leader says that economic atomic power "has been pushed off many years" for lack of federal support.

The complaint was voiced Monday before the Atomic Industrial Forum here by Dr. Chauncey Starr, vice president of North American Aviation, Inc.

Starr, general manager of North American's Atomic International Division, said "it is becoming more difficult to remain optimistic" about the future of nuclear power.

Visit To Poland

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Frederick H. Mueller will head a four-member delegation to Poland Nov. 14-25 to explore ways of expanding U. S. Polish contacts.

A White House announcement Monday said the delegation was visiting Poland at the invitation of the Polish government, returning an official visit to this country in October, 1958.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Errol Flynn's estate is the object of an impending battle between his heirs and his 17-year-old "protégé" Beverly Aadland, but a thief was satisfied just to get the late actor's typewriter. Someone broke into Flynn's closed home within the last several days and stole only one item, the typewriter, police reported Sunday.

Consistory Call Predicted

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The death of Federico Cardinal Tedeschini revived speculation today that Pope John XXIII may soon hold another consistory for the naming of new princes of the church.

Even before Cardinal Tedeschini's death Monday, reports had been circulating here for some time that the Pontiff planned to increase further the strength of the Sacred College to as many as 100 Cardinals.

Until Pope John's reign, the college did not exceed 70 cardinals.

But last Nov. 17, shortly after his coronation, John named 23 new cardinals, raising the total to an unprecedented 75 members.

Since then four cardinals have died.

FROM POLIO TO PULPIT — Being confined for over 20 years in a wheel chair has not kept Allen V. Lee of Hayfield, Minn., from leading an active church life. Lee, 50, was stricken with polio in 1938 while a senior at Luther Seminary, St. Paul. After years of treatment, Lee returned and graduated from the seminary. For the past 14 years he has been an evangelist for the Evangelical Lutheran Church, preaching all over the U.S. from his wheel chair. Last May, Lee was ordained into the ministry of the ELC.

Thieves Net $20,000 From Pianist

PARIS (UPI) — Police today hunted the acrobatic burglar who stole about $20,000 in jewels from the upstairs bedroom of foreign-born U.S. pianist Artur Schnabel while the maestro was playing the piano downstairs.

Rubinstein, 70, and his wife Antia were in the parlor of their Paris villa. The maid was in the kitchen and the chauffeur was in the garage when the thief arrived about 5 p.m. Sunday, police said.

The marauder appeared to have scaled the grillwork outside the villa and gone directly to the second-floor bedroom of Rubinstein and his wife, police said.

While music poured forth from the living room beneath him, he rifled drawers and jewel-boxes of tie-pins, cuff-links, bracelets, earrings, clips and rings belonging to the renowned concert artist and his wife.

Then he apparently climbed out and down from the window he had entered, police said. The thief left no fingerprints behind.

Protest By Railroaders

CHICAGO (UPI) — A mass meeting of railroad workers here Thursday night will answer a "propaganda and advertising campaign" of the nation's railroads, the Railroad Labor Executives Association said Monday.

Thousands of workers were expected to attend the meeting, the association said, to hear talks by George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

The association said the rally would launch a labor counterattack against rail industry charges of featherbedding and its campaign to seek changes in railroad work rules.

Coal Industry Hangs On Ropes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Bureau of Mines reported today that the steel strike may plunge the nation's coal industry into one of its worst economic nose-dives in years.

Bureau economist Paul W. McGann said production might fall below the 14-year low of 1954 if the strike lasts another six weeks. He estimated that coal production already has dropped by about 500 million dollars as a result of the strike.

He said the hardest-hit areas would be the Appalachian bituminous districts, which include portions of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, eastern Kentucky and West Virginia.

The Almanac

United Press International Today is Tuesday, Nov. 3, the 27th day of the year, with 58 more days in 1959. Today is election day. The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn. On this date in history: In 1783, the Continental Army emboldened by order of Congress, America had won its first war. In 1814, European powers opened the Congress of Vienna in an attempt at resolving the problems left by the Napoleonic wars. In 1883, delegates from throughout the United States concluded a major conference at Detroit after signing the world Women's Christian Temperance Union. In 1896, Idaho granted full suffrage to women. In 1900, the first national automobile show opened its doors at Madison Square Garden in New York City. In 1917, the first American soldiers to die in World War I—a corporal and two privates of the 1st division—were killed near Nancy, France. In 1956, President Roosevelt covered the most one-sided presidential victory of the century, carrying every state but Maine and Vermont. A thought for today: The statesman Daniel Webster said, "let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country."

Items Of Note

Let's take a few pot-shots at the current federal picture respecting taxes. From 1947 to 1959 the federal government has run up a net deficit of $25.2 billion.

Table with 3 columns: Year, Deficit, Surplus. Data from 1947 to 1959.

This reveals that the Eisenhower administration in 1953 and again in 1959 provided the biggest peace-time deficits in all of our American history.

Now let's look at the agricultural picture. A recent comparison of the amount of surplus agriculture commodities held in 1952 and 1959 by the CCC in its price support program showed that the amount of grain sorghum had increased 234% times in the interval.

It is estimated now that it costs $3 million per day for carrying charges and storage of price-supported surplus wheat.

Non-Government City

The Crocker Land Company, out in California, has come up with something that in this day and age is rather unique. This company is planning on setting up a complete city without any government whatsoever.

1952, there were 467 million bushels of wheat in government storage; in the early part of this year the total had grown nearly 3 times, to 1,300 million bushels.

The latest annual report of the Secretary of Agriculture notes that if the U.S. did not grow one bushel of wheat in 1959, it could still meet all its current domestic needs—and all probable export needs.

Professor Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. of Harvard University, himself a one-time advocate of Keynesian economic philosophy, has come up with some interesting comments respecting what he chooses to call "liberal" and "conservative" periods in American history.

He lists them as follows: Liberal periods 1785-1787, 1801-1816, 1829-1841, 1861-1869, 1901-1919. Conservative periods 1787-1801, 1816-1829, 1841-1861, 1869-1910, 1919-1931.

It is estimated now that it costs $3 million per day for carrying charges and storage of price-supported surplus wheat.

What we do not know is whether these reservations were included in the bill by legislative requirement or whether they are part and parcel of the Crocker program.

What we don't know at this juncture is just how free and voluntary the management of the new city is going to be.

The Problems Of Banks: To Be Profitable And Liquid

Frederick Nymeyer has an article in his "First Principles in Morality And Economics" on the workings of banks.

"Imagine deciding for yourself that you will be a banker. If that would be your goal, these might be the steps in the program that you would take."

Step I. "As a banker, you would invest, say, $100,000 of your own money in a commercial bank."

Step II. "You will wish to put the $100,000 to work quickly. The thing to do is to loan it. If you loan every dollar of it at 5 per cent, you will have a return of $5,000 a year."

Step III. "But the assumption in Step II is unrealistic. People do not have checking accounts in banks, except to have money available whenever they want it."

Step IV. "But after being in the banking business for a while, you do discover one thing, namely, although all your depositors want their money to be available on demand, and although you are now an exercise of rights on the high seas, or as an infringement of the peaceful provisions of this treaty."

"Having discovered that your deposits appear never to go below $300,000, you reach a major conclusion, namely, not only can you loan the $100,000 which is your own capital, but you can loan another $300,000 of depositors' money."
