Missing Airliner May Be Atop Loney Peak

Hope Dims For 27 Missing Two Days

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI)—Search units rushed to a lonely 4,000 foot mountain peak 40 miles southwest of Charlottesville late Saturday night to determine if a "shiny object" sighted there was the wreckage of a Piedmont Airlines DC-3 which vanished with 27 persons aboard.

MaJ. Charles A. Rausch, Civil Air Patrol Commander for central Virginia, emphasized there had been no confirmation that the wreckage of the plane had been found, but added "it looks like our best lead so far."

State troopers, five or six CAP and rescue squads rushed to the ground units, sheriff's deputies and rescue squads rushed to the mountain, near the little community of Montebello, Va.

A report spread that there might be survivors, but Rausch's search headquarters here said this could not be confirmed since the search units had not reached the scene.

Police and fire units from Buena Vista, Va., about 15 miles south of the site, were told to stand by the mountainside which is near the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Buena Vista police dispatcher J.B. Anderson said a report had been received that "there were a few survivors." This was unconfirmed.

The sheriff's office for Rockbridge County, where Buena Vista is located, said it had received the same reports and was sending its deputies to aid in the mountain search.

A vast air-ground search of the mountain country around Charlottesville slowed down Saturday with darkness. There was no trace of the missing plane or any of the 27 persons who disappeared last night on a flight from Washington to Roanoke, Va.

Piedmont headquarters at Winston-Salem, N.C., said the plane was piloted by Capt. George Lawrence, 32, of Alexandria, Va., father of two and a flight officer for eight years. The pilot was Bas A. A. Wortham, 27, of Falls Church, Va., father of one and a former Air Force pilot, and the flight attendant was George Weldon Hoke, 26, of Falls Church, Va.

Residents of rural homes throughout the lonely area joined police in ground parties which were threaded up the mountainside.

Survivors were sheltered for no trace of flares or other indications that possible survivors were looking for help.

Women and children from a coastal island to Manzanillo. They had been marooned since Tuesday. Many areas still have not been reached to determine casualties and if a man or woman was among the 300 dead in the rain-triggered mudslide that engulfed 300 homes. Hundreds of others were missing.

A Killer Has Blatant Excuse
 SPARTAN, Wis. (UPI)—Gary R. Renschmidt, 18, an AWOL soldier who admits killing his aunt and uncle after a day in which everything went wrong, was charged Saturday with two counts of first degree murder.

Dist. Atty. William J. Gleason said Texas youth who was being AWOL from an armored division at Fort Knox, Ky., for about a month, will probably be charged with the slaying of his aunt and uncle.

He called her the greatest Democratic National Committeewoman in the history of Texas and "a dedicated leader who has put Texas back on the Democratic map."

She has forced a number of other so-called Democrats to keep forces in Texas or anywhere else in the nation "who might switch from the Democratic to the Republican camp in the general elections."

Coach's Contract Renewed

Board Okays 2-Year Pact, Salary Hike

A two-year extension of the football coaching contract of Raymond "Babe" Curfman was approved by the Pampa School Board at a 4 o'clock Friday afternoon meeting. The new contract calls for a $5,000-a-year salary boost to $8,000. Board members were unanimous in their approval.

The school board meeting in the Pampa Junior High School building at 4 p.m. for the benefit of press and radio followed a previously announced meeting at 3 o'clock in Board President Aubrey Steele's office where details of the action were worked out.

As far as can be learned, this is the first time in the history of Pampa schools where a coach has been offered a contract renewal in the middle of the season rather than spring, the standard policy in the past.

Schools Superintendent Knox Kinard commented Saturday morning that Curfman's handling of the football team this season and the team's spirit had impressed the board. Curfman's charges have two wins, four losses and a tie game so far this season.

Two other matters were acted on by the board at Friday's 27-minute meeting.

The board decided to leave the school's football scheduling policy "as it is," that is, let the matter of scheduling stay in the hands of the coach, principal and superintendent.

Kinard said he had heard some criticism of scheduling policies this season, but saw no reason for a change in policy.

The board also accepted the resignation of Harold Shelton, transportation superintendent. Shelton was fired by the school system for 25 years. He was replaced by Harold Baer of Skellytown, Texas.

The resignation of Shelton and his subsequent retirement had been announced last week.

On Friday, U.S. customs agents seized the airplane that dropped the leaflets on Havana. It was taken in custody on technical grounds that the owners had not obtained an export license for the leaflets.

Frank Florini, a former civilian military adviser in Cuba, said pilots of the plane and was accompanied by Maj. Pedro Diaz Lanza, former chief of Castro's air force. Officials insisted that under present regulations it would be practically impossible to prosecute the "raiders" unless it were proved that they carried weapons. There is no evidence that their plane was armed, a source said.

It was expected that the new regulations would require aircraft owners to insure specific about flight plans and to state whether they carry any type of political propaganda that might disturb the peace of neighboring countries.

VILLAGE OBLITERATED — An avalanche caused by heavy rains obliterated the village of Minatitlan, Mexico, and reports from the devastated west coast area disclosed that some 600 persons may have lost their lives in the slide.

Mexico Emerges From Flood Havoc

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The survivors ran out of coffins to bury the victims of a cyclone-driven flood in the Pacific port of Manzanillo. A typhoid epidemic threatened.

The 31 Americans in the city were reported in good shape Saturday but 256 bodies of Mexicans had been pulled from the mud and debris of wrecked homes in the once-thriving city of 15,000. More victims were believed still embedded in the wreckage left by the monstrous waves and violent winds of Tuesday's storm. Officials stuck to their estimate of as many as 2,000 dead in two coastal states.

Relief workers were under orders to bury the dead as quickly as possible. The water and drainage systems in Manzanillo and other towns were wrecked. Officials feared typhoid.

Many of the survivors planned to leave the ruined city, but the official decision was made today to stand fast and rebuild.

Relief workers returning to Mexico City said coffins became so scarce victims were wrapped in straw mats normally used as bedding and rugs.

Relief was on its way. Roads were being opened to vehicles capable of plowing through mud and slides. Railroad trucks were being repaired for a 30-car relief train from Guadalupe. Officials hoped to have a one-way line opened Monday.

Mrs. Eva Samano Lopez Maiz, wife of the President of Mexico, rode in a jeep with medicine and supplies from Colima to Manzanillo across a shattered road. A 25-car caravan bringing relief supplies followed.

The United States offered an aircraft carrier to help with relief work, but the President's government declined with thanks.

Helicopters brought 71 men, women and children from a coastal island to Manzanillo. They had been marooned since Tuesday. Many areas still have not been reached to determine casualties and if a man or woman was among the 300 dead in the rain-triggered mudslide that engulfed 300 homes. Hundreds of others were missing.

Russia Appeals To Former GI

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The older brother of a Texas planning to renounce his American citizenship and become a citizen of Russia received the news Saturday with disbelief.

It L. Oswald of Fort Worth said, "I can't believe my brother Lee, Lee Harvey Oswald, 30, did it. The explanation he gave is that he's just a kid."

HALLOWEEN NIGHT — Two "witches" and a "skeleton" converged on the Dr. N. L. Nichols home, 1237 S. Nelson, Saturday night without any intention of causing mischief. They were seeking donations for UNICEF along with some 500 other Pampa youngsters. The Rev. David Mills, chairman of the drive, said collections Saturday night totaled $995.45 Mrs. Nichols' visitors, from left, are Sylvia Brown, 19; Becky Mills, 5; and Mary Ruth Choate, 10.

Congo Nationalists Rise Up In Bloody African Clashes

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI)—Belgian authorities rushed an armored column and two infantry companies into Stanleyville Saturday to combat a bloody outbreak by African nationalists demanding immediate independence of the Congo from Belgium.

At least 24 persons were reported killed and more than 100 others injured in clashes between demonstrators and police since the rioting broke out Friday in Stanleyville, some 375 miles northeast of Leopoldville.

Festiveness Jarred By Acts Of Violence

United Press International. Tragedy, and the threat of violence hampered the trick or treat parade of Halloween Saturday night.

At least two children were killed by cars, another was shot, and a little girl was criminally assaulted as they roamed the streets and front lawns in the traditional search for spooky fun.

In many communities, trick or treat pranks took their innocent and turned ugly. Young hoodlums assaulted motorists, set off a bomb at a Roman Catholic church and in one case sent a bulldozer crashing into a home.

Halloween tragedy began early. Patrols were ordered to curb violence. In quick order Friday night vandals in the area had: Injured a bus driver with a barrage of rocks and eggs. Assaulted a motorist who scolded them for sneaking his car with soap. Set a car on fire. Soaped bank windows with the word "VIOLENCE," (Page 3)

No Progress Reported In Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Negotiations in the 10-day steel strike headed for Washington Saturday for a last-ditch government-sponsored effort to end the walkout before the U.S. Supreme Court takes up possible enforcement of a walkout-ending Taft-Hartley injunction.

Bargaining teams headed by United Steelworkers' President David J. McDonald and U.S. Steel Corp. Vice President R. Conrad Cooper wound up the last of a series talks here by reporting absolutely no progress.

Negotiations between the union and the major companies were recessed until 10 a.m. Monday with the ground set for a meeting similar to an "exercise" with Kaiser Steel, Detroit Steel and Granite City Steel.

The union, however, continued talks with a smaller company and said an agreement was expected similar to that reached with Kaiser Steel, Detroit Steel and Granite City Steel.

The major companies said they would continue to resist surrender to the union's demands.

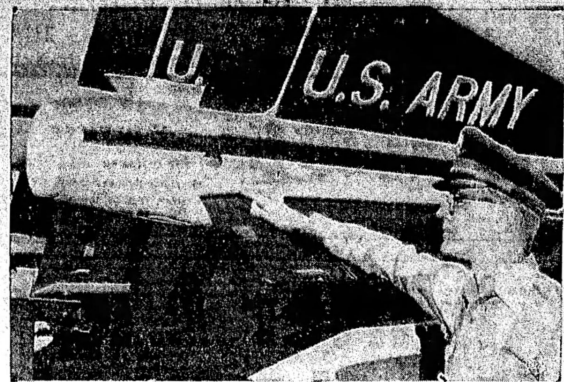

McDonald characterized the one-hour, 30-minute session with the smaller company as "bar-gaining talk."

It was expected that the major companies of using the Taft-Hartley bar-to-work order as a "bargaining tool."

H. P. Leaver, chairman of the development committee for the Indian Point-British Girl Scout Council, announced today that the National Board of the Girl Scouts has granted a license to the development committee to go forward with its work.

The development of the council will insure the volunteers more proficient in organizing and serving troops. It will also make it possible in the near future for the girls to have a camping experience in their own established camp.

The new council will include Armstrong, Carson, (except Hamble), Roberts, Gray, Wheeler, Donley, Memphis, Collinsworth counties, towns of Higgins, a Memphis and Hutchinson and Phillips counties of Oklahoma.

The development committee, which is composed of members from the Top of Texas Girl Scout Council, one troop communities of Canadian, Clarendon and Memphis and Hutchinson County Girl Scout Council, has collected and studied and Girl Scout membership and has drawn up the basic plans for the new council.

Now that the license has been granted their work will include securing and establishing an office, collecting funds in the towns which have no United Fund, selecting and hiring professional and clerical staff, drawing up articles of incorporation and by-laws and a slate of officers and board members to be presented to the new council at its first meeting.

Members of the committee from the Top of Texas Council are Mrs. Morris Silver, Mrs. Fred Nease, T. M. Whiteley, M. H. Taylor, B. M. Behrman and Mrs. John Holt Jr.

Students Given Bibles By Gideons

The Amarillo Gideon Camp last week distributed 1,300 New Testaments to all the elementary schools here and Pampa Junior High, according to Mrs. Wesley Bruce.

This was an initial distribution. Robert E. Lee Junior High will receive 325 New Testaments this week. Mrs. Bruce said.

Art Attergill, president-elect, presided at the luncheon.

The monthly Kiwanis Board of Directors meeting will be Thursday night at 7.

Friday's program was introduced by outgoing president Sam Bagert.

Guests were Joe McDonald, district manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Wallace Bruce, Top of Texas Kiwanis club, and Jim Lacy.

STORM

A snowstorm which dumped up to five inches of snow on parts of Utah, drifted to Turkey and moved southward over the Rockies leaving sunny skies in Wyoming and most of Colorado.

A huge cloud bank blanketed most of the eastern half of the nation pouring drizzle and rain of recreation-minded residents, but heavy skies with temperatures in the 70s and 80s were over Los Angeles.

High winds roared through the high Sierra Mountain country of a 4 x 6 ft California, whipping flames of seven large forest fires which had driven an estimated 1,000 persons from their homes and summer cabins.

The fires delayed and at times halted transcontinental highway traffic. Hundreds of firefighters battled to save homes near Alia, where more than 20 dwellings had been destroyed.

States flanking the Gulf of Mexico, meanwhile, were struck by locally heavy rains. Montgomery, Ala., recorded nearly 1 1/2 inches of rain in six hours.

A heavy fog lay over New Orleans until Saturday morning, grounding all commercial planes, and more fog was forecast.

In Texas, 12 families died their homes at Richmond, where up to six feet of flood water covered the sprawling sections. Twelve more families were forced from their homes in Houston.

Admits Sex Depravations

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, (UPI) — A 19-year-old Bermudian arrested by Scotland Yard Saturday was charged with committing one of the three sex and mutilation murders that have terrified this vacation island for the last eight months.

Wendell Willis Lightbourne, a Negro who lives in Warwick Parish where all the rape slayings occurred, was formally accused of the murder of Dorothy E. Rawlinson, 22, a pretty English secretary who was raped and mutilated on a desolate beach Sept. 27. Her body was thrown into the sea and was recovered after sharks had slashed it further.

Lightbourne, short and stocky with a thin mustache, pulled his black leather jacket over his head as he was brought before Hamilton Magistrate's Court.

Two Dead In Dallas Smashup

DALLAS (UPI) — A three-car smashup, south of here on ranch-like highway 67 claimed two lives Saturday night and left two other persons injured, one critically.

Dead were Mrs. Frances Swendsen, 40, of Dallas, and Robert L. Hartley, of Rice, Tex.

The husband of the dead woman was listed in fair condition and Raymond Ethridge, of rural Red Oak, was in critical condition.

Witnesses said two of the cars collided head-on and the third car plowed into the wreckage.

CONGO

The outbreak coincided with a riot of African prisoners in the Stanleyville jail. Police quelled the riot by using tear gas and batons and seven were injured.

Demonstrators set up barricades on roads into Stanleyville and stoned Europeans coming into town. One police car was attacked but the demonstrators were dispersed by machine-gun fire.

VIOLENCE

Other communities which "had" their fill of Halloween "run" included:

Newfane, N.Y., where pranksters opened five fire hydrants, siphoning off 200,000 gallons of water and leaving 500 families with empty faucets.

Plint, Mich., where youngsters took to dropping heavy pumpkins from an overpass onto a busy expressway. David King, 21, Saginaw, Mich., was seriously injured when one of the pumpkins crashed through his windshield.

Akron, Ohio, where someone sent his driverless bulldozer smashing into a home where a father was busy dressing his two children in costumes.

IT'S PRETTY PLAIN — It's pretty plain who the members of the Young Democrat Club at the University of Texas in Austin are for in the upcoming presidential election. Senate Majority Leader, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, winks happily at some of the club members after speaking at the club. Sen. Johnson said that Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.), would make a fine president.

Johnson Really Is A Candidate

By GEORGE J. MARDER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has said often that he is not a candidate for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

But it has become clear here that if the lightning strikes in his direction he won't run or walk for shyer.

As a result, there is a burgeoning Democratic buildup for Johnson for president. It is a serious, high-powered drive as evidenced by the solid support given it by Johnson's fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Rayburn is not in politics for fun. He is a professional power in Democratic politics. He was Mr. Democrat-of-congress while the man he's supporting was going to school. Hence, his backing is not just a polite gesture toward a protégé. Neither does it have the earmarks of a favorite son or stop-someone-else drive.

It's an all-out backing from one of the top political professionals of our time.

Before he went so far out on the limb to start the Johnson-for-president boom, Rayburn had to be convinced that if the proverbial presidential lightning strikes, Johnson won't duck.

This does not mean that Johnson has whispered something in Rayburn's ear which contradicts what he has been saying publicly that he is not a candidate.

Presidential politics doesn't work that way. It didn't work that way in the case of President Eisenhower.

All that is necessary is for someone close to the man marked for presidential politics to go to him and say something like this: A lot of people think you'd be good for the country as president. Now, we know you don't want to become a candidate for the nomination. All we ask is for you to let us show you the kind of support there is for your nomination. Now, just don't pull the rug out from these loyal supporters by saying you'll never run.

If the man so marked doesn't stop it then and there—say it's a waste of time because he won't accept the nomination even if offered—the drive is on.

Before the Johnson-for-president noise can turn into a boom, that

Frequent Summit Meetings Proposed

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Britain is promoting the idea of frequent East-West summit conferences which would take over from the United Nations Security Council the role of chief arbiter of the world's problems.

The project still is only in the "thinking stage."

Churches Plan Merger

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — A plan to merge the Unitarian and Universalist churches into a single denomination of 175,000 adult members was approved Saturday by a joint conference of the two free-thinking and historic churches.

The vote favorably to consolidation came only after a last-ditch attempt to retain a link with Judaism and Christianity was reintroduced, amended and agreed upon by the more than 1,000 delegates.

The final consolidation plan, which now will be voted on in parish plebiscites, lists the following as a "purpose" of the new sect to be known as the Unitarian Universalist Assn:

"To cherish and spread the universal truths taught by the great prophets and teachers of humanity in every age and tradition, immemorably summarized in the Judaeo-Christian heritage as love to God and love to man."

For a while a reference to Jesus or to the Judaeo-Christian heritage threatened the proposed merger. The reference was not in the original consolidation plan. After elements in both churches suggested its inclusion, a debate on the subject was allowed. It was voted down.

But today the Universalists reintroduced it, referring only to "our Judaeo-Christian heritage."

At the insistence of the Unitarians this was amended to read "the Judaeo-Christian heritage" so as not to specifically identify either or both sides of the hyphen with the new sect. Neither creedless denomination insists on a belief in the divinity of Christ.

The way appeared clear for union of the two churches which began in colonial days as a protest principally against the theology of John Calvin.

The Universalists refused to accept the Calvin theory, that only the "select" could be saved. The Unitarians disdained belief in the Trinity. Both groups maintained the widest of liberal feeling about religion.

Heaves that the Security Council, as at present constituted, can not hope to carry real weight in settling world problems.

There is no suggestion—at least not yet—of scrapping the Security Council.

But the British government is known to feel that a Big Four summit conference, meeting on a regular basis—say once every six months—would be a much more effective instrument.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan himself began advocating frequent summit meetings as long ago as last summer. He called not merely for a one-shot summit meeting to settle every cold war problem at once, but what he described as "a continuous chain of summits."

These would be interspersed with meetings of foreign ministers or their deputies to work out details of the summit leaders' agreements and prepare for the next summit get-together.

President Eisenhower at first was cool to the project. But recently—probably since his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at Camp David—he appears to have come around to the Macmillan idea.

Khrushchev himself also appears to favor it. In fact, he made it clear to Macmillan, when the British Premier visited Moscow early last spring, that the Kremlin leader himself is the only Russian with whom the West can hope to do serious business.

French President Charles de Gaulle remains the odd-man-out in this whole discussion.

Unlike Eisenhower, Macmillan and Khrushchev, the general does not like the prospect of frequent summit talks.

A summit meeting, as de Gaulle sees it, would be a single grand slam operation, at which the Big Four leaders would meet just once and settle all major cold war issues.

Award-Winning 'B's' Of Pampa Back Civic Betterment, Beauty

By NANCY MOORE
Daily News Staff Writer

The letter "B" has taken on a new significance in Pampa — for four of Pampa's most outstanding civic leaders' names begin with it.

For the past four years the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development has awarded a plaque to the man who past years for civic betterment.

And from past awards — as was pointed out at the annual chamber banquet — these awards are going in alphabetical order, starting with the second letter of the alphabet.

The first award went to Lynn Boyd in 1936 and Hugh Burdette in 1937. Then M. K. Brown in 1938 and C. P. Buckler this year.

These men have spent much time and thought to the development of Pampa and have unselfishly devoted their time and effort with no thought of thanks.

Their accomplishments are too numerous to mention. All one has to do is walk or ride around Pampa and find the many many improvements in which they have been instrumental. As one person said, "They are sold on Pampa."

Boyd moved here in 1926 from Ardmore, Okla., and was one of the first city commissioners when the city changed to the commission manager form of city government. He also served the city as mayor.

Boyd was one of the organizers of the Pampa Rotary Club and also served as the second president of the club. As some one very close to Boyd said: "He thinks this is the finest community and plans to continue to do his part to keep it that way."

Brown and Buckler came here in 1930 from England with the same company — the White Deer Land Co. Buckler was active with the school board for a number of years. He has worked tirelessly through the years on the Cemetery Association — this group works without pay toward the development of the Fairview Cemetery.

Burdette also served for a number of years on the draft board. "Pampa is my town and I hope to live here the remaining years of my life," he said, which best displays the way Buckler feels about Pampa.

Brown was Pampa's first funeral director, helped install the first telephone poles, was a school trustee, elected mayor, served as president of the chamber of commerce and president of the Rotary Club.

Brown and Buckler have been instrumental in Pampa receiving its new library.

All four of the men worked toward getting the Pampa community hotel, the Coronado Inn. All the worthy causes in Pampa are pet projects of these resourceful men.

Burdette came here in Oct., 1925, and was later transferred. He returned in April, 1942. He has always been active in Boy Scout work and interested in aviation. He has been active in the chamber of commerce and was vice president of the chamber.

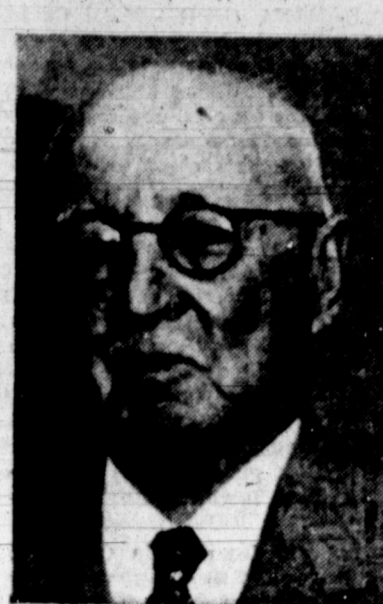

He is serving as community president of the United Fund this year and is a former president of the Pampa Country Club.

To illustrate his devotion to this community, you find Burdette still walks his mile every day for better health and on these walks he often befriends children. He receives numerous calls from Sam Houston School asking him to attend parents' night at the request of one of his friends he met on his regular walks.

Burdette is general manager of the southwest operation of Cabot companies.

All of these men live busy, active lives, but they are never too busy to overlook a chance to help the community in which they live and the community which they love.

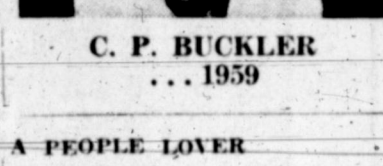

Pampa is proud of these men and justifiably so. And they are proud of Pampa.

TOURIST LURES

RABAT, Morocco (UPI) — Morocco has decided to let tourists enter without visas and ease customs regulations on souvenirs taken out of the country. A government commission is studying other measures to attract more tourists.

DENVER (UPI) — Woldemar Kima, a laboratory technician, got a developed roll of film back from a drugstore Thursday and found his missing spectacles.

One of the snapshots showed his glasses hanging from a board in the Arizona desert, where he had forgotten them last week.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A rare goat-like antelope from the Himalaya Mountains called a "takin" goes on exhibition at the Bronx Zoo today.

The zoo said the one-and-a-half-year-old takin is particularly suited to its new life because it loves people and hates to be left alone.

HE'S THEIR MEAT—Sleek Hawker Hunter jets close in behind a little open-cockpit plane over the English countryside, resembling game fish about to devour their prey.

One Bible For All Faiths Is Proposed

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

For more than four centuries, the Reformation split in the Christian family has been underscored by the existence of "Protestant Bibles" and "Catholic Bibles."

Now Biblical scholars are saying the time is ripe to eliminate this particular symbol of division. They believe it is quite feasible for Protestants and Catholics to get together on a joint translation of the Scriptures.

The idea got a powerful boost this week from the respected Catholic journal America. In an article entitled "The Bible Is A Bond," Associate Editor Walter M. Abbott, S.J., said a common translation of the Bible "would be a great achievement in the history of Christianity."

While agreement on the exact wording of the Bible would by no means settle all doctrinal differences between Catholics and Protestants, Fr. Abbott pointed out, it would put an end to a number of mutual irritants such as different renderings of the Lord's Prayer, and different numberings of the Ten Commandments.

When all Christians are talking about the same Commandments, said Fr. Abbott, "there would be hope for better observance of the one great Commandment — to love one another."

Fr. Abbott's article drew an immediate, warm response from a leading Protestant authority. Dr. Robert M. Grant, president of the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, said it would be "hard to overestimate" the importance of a universally recognized translation of the Bible as a "unifying force" among Christians.

A joint translation is, of course, easier to propose than to accomplish. Biblical translators, even when they are of the same denomination, can spend months in heated debate over the meaning of a single phrase. But the very fact the project can now be seriously considered is evidence of the strong current of unity which is now running in all branches of the Christian church.

Twenty years ago the whole idea would have been regarded as hopeless. At that time, many Catholics viewed with distrust the energetic efforts of Protestant scholars to recover the original meaning of the Scriptures through the scientific methods of modern Biblical criticism.

Pope Pius XII radically altered the situation in 1943. He issued an encyclical urging Catholics to make full use of every advance in history, archeology, and linguistics to produce better translations, and better understanding of the Bible.

When Catholic scholars plunged into this task, they found, in Fr. Abbott's words, that "a vast amount of excellent and objective work" had already been done by Protestants. Following the Pope's directive, they adopted whatever was solidly and scientifically established by Protestant scholars while making their own investigations.

The Pampa High School newspaper, "The Little Harvester", has been awarded the George H. Gallup Award from the Quill and Scroll International Honor Society for high school journalists.

The award for superior achievement among high school newspapers was presented for last year's newspaper, edited by JoAnn Thompson.

This is the second consecutive year that the newspaper has received this honor. Out of a possible 1,000 points the Harvester scored 958, with a score of over 950 representing a superlative newspaper.

The Gallup Award is named for chairman of the board of trustees of the Quill and Scroll Society, C.

Pan America Common Market Being Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield asked the State Department Saturday to explore the possibility of a "common market" for all of North and South America to steady the "feast or famine" economies of some Latin nations.

The Montana Democrat requested Secretary of State Christian A. Herter to consider possible meetings of the Organization of American States and of the foreign ministers of all North and South American nations to discuss the idea.

Under the common market concept a group of nations bands together with the idea of gradually eliminating all economic and trade barriers among themselves. The European Common Market is perhaps the best known example of the concept.

If a common market could be worked out in the Western Hemisphere, Mansfield wrote, "we could face up to the problems of such commodities as lead, zinc, copper, sugar, coffee, cotton, cattle and others which at one time or another have created difficulties" between nations.

Castro Takes Over Search For Comrade

HAVANA (UPI) — Fidel Castro, in personal charge of the search for army Commander Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos missing aboard a light plane, Saturday was reported prowling the coasts and bays of Central Cuba's coast for signs of his old friend and co-revolutionary.

The search for the bearded war hero, one of the 11 survivors of the 1956 Castro invasion from Mexico against Dictator Fulencio Batista, took precedence in the public mind over the seizure Friday of the exploration files of international oil companies. Cuban government agents put a round-the-clock guard on the offices of the firms, including American and British.

Reports from Santa Clara said Castro sailed from Isabela de Sagua, a port on the north coast of Las Villas province, at the head of a group of small boats trying to find Cienfuegos. There were reports his twin-engine Cessna plane might have fallen in the area.

Various reports of wreckage have failed to turn up any trace of the missing plane and the army commander who was one of the most popular men in Castro's "26th of July" movement.

Castro's government sent agents to occupy the offices of 10 oil companies. An oil industry source said the move was designed to freeze the records of exploration for oil drilling and keep them

State Baptists Converge On Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—More than 6,000 representatives from almost every Baptist church in Texas will arrive in Corpus Christi Sunday night and Monday.

They will attend a two-day meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas and church leaders said they will act on some of "the most significant proposals in the history of Baptist work in Texas."

The business session of the annual meeting is scheduled for Wednesday.

The messengers will consider two proposals submitted recently by the BGCT Executive Board. One of the recommendations is to lease Wadley Hospital in Texas rather than accept the hospital as a gift from trustees. The other is a recommendation to revamp the administrative framework of the BGCT.

The 191-member executive board voted by a slim 74-71 margin Oct. 1-2 in Dallas to lease the hospital for a nominal sum.

An outspoken critic of accepting the hospital as a gift, Dr. E. S. James, editor of The Baptist Standard, will address the convention on "teaching them to observe separation of church and state."

The hospital was originally built with the aid of 1 1/2 million dollars of Federal Hill-Burton funds.

The matter is one of the biggest Baptist controversies in recent years.

Miss Goodnight Chosen For Honor

DENTON — Miss Barbara Goodnight, senior sociology major from Pampa, is one of 31 students at Texas Woman's University selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, Dean of Admissions and Registrar Francis Emerson announced this week.

Texas Woman's University students named to Who's Who, along with those chosen from other colleges and universities over the nation, will be listed in this year's publication of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. They will also be pictured in a special section of the Daedalus Annual, the university yearbook.

Winners of this honor were selected by a faculty committee, which considered each candidate's campus offices, participation in activities, honors and all-around personality.

Miss Goodnight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Goodnight, Jr., 922 Jordan, is Senior Class president, a member of Alpha Chi, national honorary scholarship fraternity, Chaparral Literary - Social Club and has been on the Dean's List for six semesters. She is a past president of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary organization and has been a counselor in Capps Hall.

She is a member of Round Table, the Sociological Society and the Citizenship League.

Henry Dunn Named Property Director

PLAINVIEW (Spl) — Henry Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dunn, Lefors, has been selected to serve as property director of the Homecoming Play at Wayland Baptist College, according to John Lee Welton, instructor in speech and director of the three act play.

"Dear Brutus," by James M. Barrie, has an 11 member cast. The play, by the same playwright who penned "Peter Pan," has setting in England around 1920.

A 1958 graduate of Lefors High School, Dunn is seeking a Master of Arts degree with a major of music and a minor of speech from Wayland Baptist College, a four year, degree granting institution in its 51st year on the Plains of Texas.

Last year, Henry was a member of the International Choir, Sports Editor of the college paper, and served as a Senator of the Student Government Association Senate.

This year, he is also in the International Choir.

Flight Instruction

LUBBOCK (Spl) — W. E. Hogan, math major, and J. L. Parish, chemistry major, of Pampa are taking flight instructions under the Air Force ROTC program at Texas Technological College.

There are 25 senior cadets at the college who will receive some $54 worth of flying instruction while enrolled in the program at Texas Tech, all paid by Uncle Same.

Member of Gatorettes

Rebecca Skelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Skelly Jr., 916 N. Somerville, is a member of the Gatorettes, a Rockette-type kickline, which performed at the half-time show at the Allegheny College homecoming football game recently.

The 30-girl ensemble is attired in dark Bermuda walking shorts, white blouses, and white sailor caps. They will next appear in the half-time show at the Allegheny-Case football game, Nov. 7.

Rodeo Set Nov. 5

The West Texas Rodeo Club of West Texas State College will have an Intramural Rodeo on Nov. 5 at 7 p.m. in the college arena in Canyon. Only students who do not belong to the Rodeo Club may enter.

Price of tickets are for adults $1 and children, 50 cents and college students with activity cards, 50 cents.

Events include for girls, wildcow milking, goat tie and calf scrambling; for boys, bullriding, calf roping, bare back riding.

Bill Barnes Has Part In Play

PLAINVIEW (Spl) — Bill Barnes, son of Emily M. Barnes Fritch, has been selected to play Death in the Homecoming play, "Dear Brutus," at Wayland Baptist College, according to John Lee Welton, instructor of speech and director of this three act play.

The play, by the same playwright who penned "Peter Pan," has a setting in England, around 1920. Written by James M. Barrie, the play has a cast of 11 members.

A 1958 graduate of Lefors High School, Barnes is seeking the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in English and minor in speech from Wayland College, a four year, degree granting institution in its 51st year on the Plains of Texas.

A veteran to the Wayland stage, Barnes was a member of the casts for "Lute Song" and "Importance of Being Earnest" last year.

To Represent UT

AUSTIN (Spl) — John Teed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Teed of Pampa, will represent the University of Texas School of Law in the annual regional contests of the national moot court competition, sponsored by the Junior Bar Association of the City of New York.

Teed is a senior student at the Texas Law School in Austin. The 23-year-old law student is a former winner of the school's annual Hildebrand-Moot Court competition and won the July 1959, Texas State Bar Association's moot court contest in Dallas. The contests are based on skill in advocacy in an appellate court.

The Texas University team has won the regional contest three times in the last five years; and, in 1959, won the national finals in December in New York City. The regional contests this year will be held in Houston on Nov. 19, with teams from four states participating.

SMU Hunts School Song

DALLAS (Spl) — Southern Methodist University has announced the Carruth Competition for the composition of a university alma mater-type song. Prizes to be awarded over a three year period will total $7,200 with a possible bonus of $2,500.

Sponsor of the contest is W. W. Carruth Jr., Dallas, an alumnus of SMU.

Original songs with words and music appropriate for use by students, faculty and alumni of SMU will be submitted to the Carruth Competition committee at the university by Jan. 10.

The entries may be individual compositions or composed in collaboration. In the spring of each contest year the submitted songs will be judged by SMU alumni, students and faculty and by a technical committee to be appointed.

Nikita, Ike Agree On Peace Methods

By HENRY SHAPIRO United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev reported to Parliament Saturday that he and President Eisenhower agreed that world problems must be settled by negotiations and not by force. His remark, a mild-toned policy address stressed mutual concessions and early summit talks.

FBI Nabs Kidnaper

DALLAS (UPI) — FBI agents swooped down upon a rented house in Dallas Friday night and captured Billy Gene Tallant, 24, a native of Terrell, Tex., now wanted for kidnaping and rape in California.

U. S. Commissioner William Madden Hill set Tallant's bond at $25,000. He will have a further hearing at 10 p. m. Monday.

Curtis O. Lynum, special agent in charge of the FBI in Dallas, said he is wanted at Bakersfield, Calif. for kidnaping and rape. The FBI stepped into the case when he fled the state.

Tallant and John William Sallee, 27, of Bakersfield allegedly raped a 27-year-old housewife Sept. 27 after a mutual friend introduced them in a cafe.

They offered to drive her home, she said, but instead drove her to an isolated area east of Bakersfield where they beat her into submission and ravished her.

She managed to slip away and run to a nearby house, the occupants of which telephoned authorities. Sallee was arrested after an investigation and an order issued for Tallant's arrest.

leaders and bitter "warmonger" phrases were conspicuously absent in his state of the world speech.

The 101-minute address to the Supreme Soviet in the former throne room of the czars made these points:

He found most Americans want peace and better relations with Russia.

Nevertheless, there still remains hostility to Russia.

Berlin and the German problem remain "knots in relations" with the West and should be unraveled with a peace treaty.

The Middle East is "not yet stable" and both Iran and Turkey are rocking the boat by allying themselves militarily with "imperialists."

Red China is a "major power and nobody can remain blind to this fact." He said he was "convinced" Formosa would be won by the Reds.

Russia "greatly regretted" incidents on the Red Chinese-Indian border. He did not take sides and urged a "peaceful settlement."

The Soviet Union desires "not even the minutest hotbed of war" to remain in the Indochinese kingdom of Laos.

Korea could be unified if foreign troops were withdrawn from South Korea. This would apply to American forces.

He did not go into Latin American affairs or the current Cuban-U.S. quarrel.

Said a Western ambassador in the gallery, "The angels of conciliation are already in flight."

At least 10 times, the Premier urged mutual concessions by East and West to achieve peaceful co-existence.

"The ice of the cold war has already been broken," he declared. But he remained "like a rock" in his belief that ideological conflict must continue. He left no doubt that he thought communism would triumph.

He cited the "Enslaved Peoples Week" declared by Congress in the United States just before his September visit as an example of hostility that still exists toward Russia. Nevertheless, he said,

Ike's Fitness Pleases Docs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower—at 69—is in "excellent" health except for a mild but persistent case of bronchitis, a head-to-toe medical examination shows.

Results of the check-up were announced Saturday after the President left Walter Reed Army Medical Center where he underwent the two-day annual examination.

Both Eisenhower and his physicians were highly pleased.

The White House issued a statement saying, "The results of these all-inclusive studies show that the President continues to maintain an excellent state of health, with the exception of a persistent mild tracheo-bronchitis."

The President told reporters last week that he was bothered by the bronchial condition. He was smiling and in high spirits as he left the hospital.

The President, who was 69 on Oct. 14, said the check-up "was so good that I would like to go back oftener."

Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Army surgeon-general who participated in the examinations, said the results were "the best we ever had."

Other than the reference to bronchitis, the announcement of findings was almost identical with that issued in October 1958 when the President had his last previous full-scale examination.

For this reason, he added, "the sooner a summit conference is held, the better."

On his 13-day trip to the United States, he said, "I gained the conviction that an overwhelming majority of the American people do not want war and want relations between our countries to improve."

In discussing the bronchitis, Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said: "The doctors did tell the President that whenever possible, it would be helpful if he could get into a warm climate, preferably dry."

Twice this month, Eisenhower left Washington for warmer sites in an effort to shake the cold he picked up on an European trip in September. He found excellent weather at Palm Springs, Calif., during a golfing holiday, but rain

Florida Newspaper Endorses Sen. Johnson For President

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—The Orlando Sentinel strongly endorsed Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas for president in its Sunday edition.

The influential Central Florida newspaper urged southern newspapers, radio and television stations to create "a man-sized boom to draft this man-sized Texan."

The endorsement came in a front-page editorial written by Editor and publisher Martin Anderson.

The Sentinel said it urged nomination of the Senate majority leader four years ago "to solidify and make peace in the Democratic Party and bring the South back in the field of the national party."

"And after four years," continued the editorial, "we see no reason to change our opinion of the tall Texan who in this time has only further demonstrated dynamic leadership and exceptional ability."

The newspaper described Johnson as "the only man with proven experience as a national government leader" so far in the running for the Democratic nomination.

"Of the others, not a single one of them has shown any talent much except a desire, to be a hero. One of them is too young, another is too typified as a case-hardened military man, another is too liberal. All are ambitious, willing to step into the spotlight. But which of them can match his experience and ability with Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson? "Stack them all together, the Texan will outshadow them all."

Civil War Survivor Is Losing Fight

HOUSTON (UPI) — Walter Williams, the last veteran of the Civil War, made no progress Saturday in his struggle to fight off his third attack of pneumonia in recent months.

On the other hand, Williams, who will observe his 117th birthday Nov. 14, if he lives, was no worse. He is under an oxygen tent.

Dr. Russell Wolfe, his doctor, said he will examine him later and issue another report on his condition.

After his last examination, Dr. Wolfe listed Williams' condition as serious, not critical. He said Williams has pneumonia through his entire left lung and his blood pressure is abnormal.

Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, a daughter with whom Williams lives, said his "heart is broken" because he has fallen sick with his 117th birthday so near.

He wanted a barbecue on his birthday. Mrs. Bowles is now feeding him with an eyedropper.

Liberty Bell Replica By Originator

LIBERTY, Tex. (UPI)—A new Liberty Bell cast by the same foundry in London which cast the original bell that proclaimed America's independence soon will announce a new call in Liberty.

The replica of the famous Liberty Bell will be sent to the National Muscular Dystrophy Research Foundation in Liberty.

Skilled English craftsmen, backed by 400 years of knowhow in the art, are casting the new Liberty Bell especially to symbolize the struggle for Liberty from dystrophy.

The bell will be used in connection with the foundation's 1960 fund-raising campaign.

There presently is no known cure for muscular dystrophy, which slowly kills its victims by destruction of muscles.

As the disease progresses, muscles turn to scar and fat. The victim becomes more and more helpless, and finally dies when muscles necessary to vital functions are destroyed.

The foundation was organized in 1950 by Nadine and Sallie Woods of Liberty, who watched the disease kill their sister, Dell.

Ninety per cent of funds raised by the foundation go to research.

Raymond Walter, the foundation's first symbol, died in 1956. Since that time Linda Lou Boseman has represented the foundation in its annual appeals.

She has been confined to a wheelchair since last year, but has remained active in foundation drives.

Friday night after 40 years with Shell Oil, "I'd just as soon go to work again Monday."

Parker created quite a stir in June when he was given a 40-year "no-accident" award — one of the few ever awarded by Shell. He has seen a lot of the oil industry's history.

His wife, currently teaching at B. M. Baker School, commented that together they saw oil "grow up" from the days when holes were drilled with horsepower to the complex, modern machinery of today.

Friday night Parker and his wife were guests at a Shell retirement party in Skellytown. Gifts from Shell and from Parker's many friends included a coveted 40-year-old pin and a metal clock.

Parker is still " hale and hearty," but a bit hard of hearing, and so far hasn't made plans for his retirement days ahead. He and Mrs. Parker have done extensive traveling during the summers and he said chances are good they would be "doing a lot more."

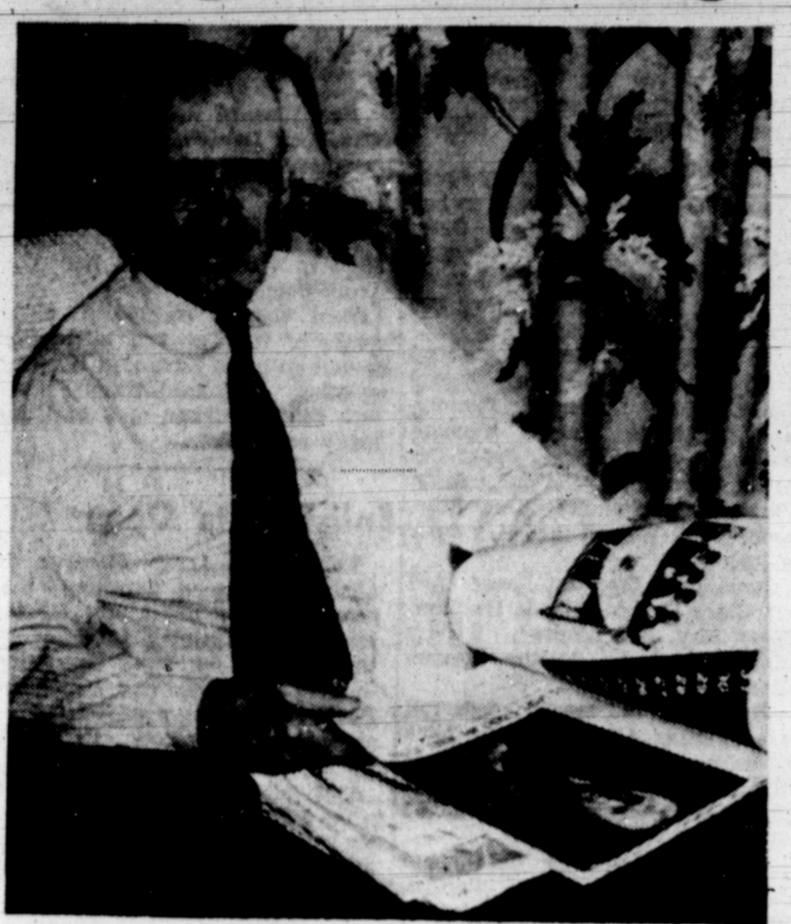

Parker travels the past 40 years with Shell coincide with the big oilfield booms in the Oklahoma and Texas fields. He began at Bartlesville in January, 1919, shortly after his discharge from the army and a stint with the telephone company.

"I worked with the telephone company in Indian Territory for a few months, Parker said. The pay was $95 a month. That wasn't bad, but the oil companies were paying better, about $145, so I went to work for the old Wolverine Co."

Parker began as a roustabout in 1927. Shell sent us to Plant 15, just southeast of Pampa. Parker's final move was to Plant 17 at Skellytown when Plant 15 closed in 1952. The past 30 years the Pampa man has worked as Operator No. 1 at both Plants 15 and 17.

The Parkers have lived in Pampa since 1937 and currently reside at 1521 Williston. They have a son, Leroy, living at home, and a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Perkins in Amarillo.

"We always followed the oil boom," Parker recalled, "and daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Perkins in soon we went to Maude, Okla., in Amarillo."

LIFE OF LEISURE — Walter L. Parker, 1521 Williston, retired Saturday after 40 years with the Shell Oil Co. He said one of his first retirement projects will be to "catch up on some reading." ### Mrs. Carlson Has Garden Club Meet

Top of Texas Garden Club met Monday at one o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ira Carlson, 331 N. Faulkner for a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Raymond L. Welch, president, and a program presented by Mrs. Jamie Deal and Mrs. H. L. Pitts.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Tom Patton, projects chairman, presented proposed plans for fund-raising projects.

Members heard a report from Mrs. L. B. Robinson relative to the club's progress of plans for the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Table Setting Contest to be held Nov. 14.

A covered-dish luncheon and workshop to make Christmas decorations was planned for the next meeting on Nov. 9 with Mrs. Jimmie Allen, 1219 Williston.

Mrs. Deal, program chairman, presented a topic on "Birds, Our Feathered Friends." Mrs. H. L. Pitts showed films of Colorado scenery and flowers.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a Halloween cloth highlighted with a dried arrangement of pumpkins and Indian corn.

Attending in addition to those mentioned above were Meses. R. E. Anderson, K. L. Hyman, Fred Hinkley, W. L. Stark and J. A. Knox.

Christmas Plans Discussed By Club

Grandview 4H Club met recently in the Grandview School for a business meeting conducted by Miss Kathy Davis, president.

Miss Connie Burger and Miss Davis gave a demonstration on "How To Do Artificial Respiration."

Plans were discussed for making Christmas presents.

Members attending were Misses

GLAMOUR GLITTER — John Furbach, Jr., center, gem expert of Amarillo, shows a few of the pieces of jewelry he brought along to illustrate his talk for Twentieth Century Club members and their guests on Tuesday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library. His most interested audience is Mrs. G. F. Branson, left, and Mrs. Ronald Hubbard.

Monnie Weinheimer, Sharon Maddox, Juanita Miller, Mrs. Dean Burger, leader and Mrs. Keith Davis, guest.

Gem Expert Discusses Jewel Beauty At Twentieth Century Club Guest Day

"Understanding the Beauty of Jewels" was the topic of the program for the Twentieth Century Club Guest Day. Mrs. G. F. Branson introduced John Furbach Jr. of Furbach Jewelers in Amarillo as the guest speaker. Mr. Furbach is a third generation European trained jeweler, a member of the International Gemmological Association, and is the 28th American to receive this fellowship.

The development of gem stones was demonstrated by pictures and graphs as Mr. Furbach explained that 300 million years ago gem crystals were formed. He stated that in 1869 in South Africa, a small boy found a shiny stone. "A man traded him 10 oxen, 2 sheep and another small item or two for it. The man later sold it for $75,000. It was an eighty-four carat diamond. By 1871, 10,000 men were involved in the diamond rush in Africa. Africa is the largest diamond producing country in the world."

"The Hope Diamond," Mr. Furbach said, "is the best known stone because of its history, is now in the Smithsonian Institute. It is valued at one million dollars." "No loose diamonds are found. All are in rough form and resemble a potato. Diamonds are not easy to recover. From 23 tons of ore only 4 1/2 carats of rough stone are taken; of that 3 1/2 carats are industrial type and 1 carat gem grade material," Mr. Furbach said.

For a salad dressing that's different try this: Beat one-half cup honey and one-half cup lime juice together until well blended.

Broadway Theater Program Topic For Twentieth Century Forum Club Meet

Twentieth Century Forum Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. C. Federer Jr., 2211 Aspen.

Mrs. Joe Daniel Jr., president, presided as announcement was made that the club will be hostess for Senior Citizens on April 4, 1960.

Mrs. Roy Bourland, federation chairman, read a brief article taken from the Texas Clubwoman Magazine on the history of the Club Collect, written by Mary Stewart. Mrs. Bourland stated that the collect was offered as a personal prayer in 1904 by Miss Stewart, while she was principal of high school in Longmont, Colo.

Mrs. F. J. Vendrell introduced the program which was presented by Mrs. C. V. Wilkinson, who showed a 20-minute film on Bayler Theater's 1957 version of "Hamlet." Mrs. Wilkinson explained that it was filmed in Taylor Theater's unique Studio One, where stages surround the audience and showed the major scenes as they unfold on the five stages. The film was given the prize award at the Brussels World's Fair Film Festival for best short-run fiction film with an experiment in theatrical art.

Mrs. Wilkinson informed the group. The play was produced under the direction of Paul Baker, Mrs. Wilkinson's brother. Following the film, Mrs. Wilkinson discussed various Broadway plays which are due to open in the near future and stated that Broadway critics feel that the 1959-60 theater season will be better than the 1958-59 season. Among the plays discussed by Mrs. Wilkinson were "The Miracle Worker", which opened Oct. 19, a play by William Gibson that deals with the early education of Helen Keller by her tutor, Annie Sullivan; a musical, based on Edmund G. Love's "Subways Are For Sleeping" scheduled to open after Christmas. "Also scheduled at that time is "The Sound of Music" starring Mary Martin." Mrs. Wilkinson also told the group that several Broadway plays will be presented on television in the coming months. Mrs. Wilkinson concluded the program on theater with a brief review of "Look Homeward, Angel", one of the better plays of the last two seasons on Broadway and which is now on tour and will be in Amarillo in the near future. Attending were Mrs. Roy Bourland, Bob Curry, E. J. Dunning Jr., William L. Ellis, William Frasier, Gene F. Groom, W. Calvin Jones, Frank Kelley, John B. McCrery, M. McDaniel, Bruce Pratt, Henry J. Rose, Aubrey Steele and Arthur Teed.

Aromatic Squash For Tasty One-Dish Meal

Aromatic acorn squash makes a one-dish meal. Cut 1 medium-sized squash in half lengthwise. Remove seeds and brush the inside and outside with 2 tablespoons of melted butter. Combine one 4 1/2-ounce can of deviled ham and 2 cups of soft bread crumbs and 2 tablespoons of chopped onion. Fill squash cavities with stuffing, sprinkle with bread crumbs and drizzle with melted butter. Bake about 1 hour in a 350-degree oven. Serves 4.

"Hawaiian And Alaskan" Guests Are Interviewed On Civic Culture Program

The Civic Culture Club meeting the good of all under the flag of freedom." Mrs. Mo Ann bade the guests on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. C. Houchin was carried out in the form of a television program interviewing the 50th state. With club members participating as the audience, the program was bamed from Station OCC in living color.

Mrs. J. B. Townsend, as emcee, interviewed Mrs. Una Lasky portrayed by Mrs. Ophelia Morris, as a representative from the new state of Alaska. "Mrs. Lasky" presented facts about Alaska pertaining to its people and terrain. She said "They celebrated admittance to the union with parades, parties and festival gaiety. It is a state of interesting, vigorous warm-hearted and modern people. Alaska has one of the worlds' largest pulp mills. Fishing is one of the chief industries."

She closed by saying, "its superb natural setting makes it a potential paradise for vacationers and sightseers."

The next guest to be interviewed over Station OCC was a representative from the 50th state, Hawaii. Mrs. Mo Ann (Mrs. Emmett Osborn) presented Mrs. Lasky, Mrs. Townsend and the hostess, Mrs. Houchin, with Hawaiian leis. "Our 50th state," the "Hawaiian" guest began, "has an area of 64,000 square miles with a population of about 500,000. They have been waiting 50 years to become a part of the union. Hawaii is a Pacific outpost of the American way of life; a window on our freedoms. It is a showcase of democracy. Proof that the people of the East and West can work together for freedom."

Mrs. Mo Ann bade the guests aloha by concluding, "The 50th state is a place where the air is balmy; flowers bloom all year and men are tempted to say this is the nearest thing to an earthly paradise since Eden. Time passes, not so much by the tick of the clock as by the long, even surge of a warm sea against coral beaches."

Refreshments were served in the "studio lounge" to Mrs. Carl Axelsson, R. E. Dauer, A. D. Hills, Jackson Hon. Frank Lard, C. F. Pennington, W. C. Scott, Louise Sewell, Katie Vincent, Willis White, Stanley Brandt.

One of the adhesive wall coverings, applied to walls of a hall from baseboard upward some four feet, makes a "mud room" where small fry can hang outdoor clothes. Supply hangers, of course, and a rack for muddy boots.

Home Art Topic For Varietas Club

"Art In the Home" was discussed by Mrs. H. Price Dosier as the program for the Varietas Study Club meeting held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. H. Butler, 100 Baer St.

Mrs. Dosier defined art as "skill in doing anything as a result of knowledge and practice. Art is all around us, in the garden, the kitchen or in arranging our homes."

Refreshments were served during the social hour by the hostess. It was announced that the next meeting for the club will be a Husband's Party to be held on Nov. 10 at 7 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ralph Thomas, 1705 Williston.

Members attending in addition to those mentioned above were Mrs. H. H. Bratcher, C. O. Drew, S. C. Evans, H. T. Hampton, Lee Harrah, J. E. Kirshman, R. W. Lane, Luther Pierson, Joe Z. Weaver, Sherman White, P. E. Yarbough, and Garland Rutherford.

Gamma Conclave Sees Film Tour

Mrs. Charles Meech, president, presided at the meeting of Gamma Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota Sorority on Monday evening in the City Club Room.

Reports were given by Mrs. John Evans, treasurer and Mrs. J. E. Tatum, secretary.

During the evening, members were shown the film of "A Tenderfoot in Europe."

Refreshments were served from an attractively appointed table with a brown cloth centered with a Horn-Of-Plenty by hostesses Mmes. Houston Price, John W. Woods, Sam Groom and Teresa Humphreys.

Members attending were Mmes. Floyd Smith, Lois Morrison, B. R. Nuckols, W. A. Rankin, D. V. Biggers, Otto Mangold, Austin Ruddick, Ben Ogden, L. B. Penick, Truett Ross, A. R. Nooncaster, Joe DiCosimo, Warren B. Cochran, Homer Bowers, Roy Sparkman, Dan Johnson, Herbert Coker, John Evans, M. L. Carter, B. G. Gordon, W. L. Pakker, G. M. Walls and Miss Elizabeth Enns.

Members attending in addition to those mentioned above were Mmes. H. H. Bratcher, C. O. Drew, S. C. Evans, H. T. Hampton, Lee Harrah, J. E. Kirshman, R. W. Lane, Luther Pierson, Joe Z. Weaver, Sherman White, P. E. Yarbough, and Garland Rutherford.

Halloween Fete For Small Tots

Mrs. Lois Fagan entertained students of her Musical Kindergarten with a Halloween Party on Friday morning in her studio, 314 Purviance.

In keeping with the Halloween season, songs were sung by the 3½-year-old group in a program presented for their mothers. Included in their selections were "Jolly Jack-O-Lanterns," "Bobbing For Apples On Halloween."

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth flanked with two orange candles. Cookie witches and pumpkins and orange Kool Aid were served by hostesses, Mrs. David Mills and Mrs. Bob Baker.

Guests were Mmes. E. H. Wymann, Orville Thornburg, Wesley Langham, W. H. Cooper, and A. J. Kuhns.

RUTH MILLETT

There comes a time in every mother's life when she should say to herself—

"It is time for me to turn my child loose. I've done my job as well as I know how. I've taught this son-or daughter all that I can. I've made the way easy as long as I should. I've eased the hurts long enough. As a mother to this child my work is over. All I can do is hope that this son-or daughter I love will make the right decisions, will be able to withstand hardships and disappointments, will find joy in living."

The trouble is, of course, that is hard for a mother to realize when the time has come to view her job as finished.

You can't set an age that is the right time for every child to be cut loose from his mother's apron strings.

But certainly by 18 most boys and girls have learned what they are going to learn from their mothers.

By 18 most boys and girls are ready to think for themselves, to make their own decisions and to get advice from their parents only when they ask for it.

By trying to be a protective mother too long, a woman either keeps her child from maturing or she makes him rebellious enough to want to do just the opposite of what she thinks is best for him.

But by turning a child loose a mother gives him a chance to find himself as an individual. And because he feels free, he will stay closer to his parents through the years than if they had tried to guide him too long.

One of the most important decisions a mother has to make is knowing when to step back and let her child go forth to meet life alone.

Cloverettes Plan Skating Party

Cloverette 4H Club met Tuesday in the Courthouse Annex, east of the city, with Miss Phyllis Dalsing, president in charge of the meeting which opened with roll call answered by "What I Have Done To Make My Home Safer Since Last Meeting."

Miss Nan Nichols reported on plans for decorating a window during National 4H Club Week.

Misses Sue Fife and Martha Price gave a demonstration on artificial respiration.

Miss Jane Heaton reminded members of a skating party to be held Friday at 4 p.m. Members are invited to bring guests.

Two new members, Misses Katy Ledrick and Tena McIntosh were welcomed as new members.

DEAR ABBY: I will make this short although I could write a book about it, I am a Sophomore in College. I have just learned that I am going to have a baby. For reasons which I cannot tell you, there is no chance of the baby's father marrying me now or in the future.

I know I will have to leave school and return home pretty soon. My greatest problem is whether I should keep this baby or give it up for adoption. I have cried and prayed but the answer doesn't come to me. Can you help me?

TROUBLED SOUL Dear Troubled: The best answer I can offer is to share with you this letter from a girl who has had to face the same problem. Hope you will profit by the wisdom in her thinking. God bless you and help you.

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 years old and a University student. Last year I gave birth to an illegitimate baby. The father couldn't marry me. Of course I had to leave school and tell my parents. When my condition was impossible to conceal, I went to a home for unwed mothers.

Abby, you can't imagine what it is like in such a home. There were 50 of us girls from every imaginable station in life, all drawn together by one common experience. We all had little jobs around the Home which we did gladly. There were classes offered and plenty of recreation time. We were allowed to take short walks around the neighborhood every afternoon.

With the birth of each baby: the Home buzzed with the big question, "Is she keeping her baby?" Yes, many kept their babies. I gave mine up.

Calvary Circles Name Officers

Calvary Baptist Church circles met in the following homes during the week:

MARIE MATHIS CIRCLE met in the home of Mrs. Bob Clet, 1120 Neel Rd., with Mrs. M. Hawkins, circle chairman, in charge. During the business meeting, new officers were elected as follows: Mmes. C. E. Humphries, program chairman; C. Davis, mission study; Bob Clet, stewardship. Four members were present.

LEOLA RAGLAND CIRCLE met in the home of Mrs. Ovrille Brewer for Bible study and a short business meeting. Plans were made for visitation each Thursday and a social on the last Tuesday of every other month. Mrs. Charles McGahan taught the study on Human Relationship. Six women were present.

BLANCH GROVE CIRCLE met with Mrs. Jack Robertson with Mrs. O. R. Turlington in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Bob Shoulters was elected Bible study chairman. DEAR ABBY: I am a member of a family who recently lost an aged and beloved mother. We are being severely criticized because we did not all go to the mortuary the day before the funeral.

We all loved our mother very much. We're very emotional and did not want to display our grief publicly. In her death notice we published the fact that we would receive friends and relatives in my home, which is a few blocks from the mortuary. We requested the casket be closed during the funeral services as we didn't want the agony of viewing her for the last time. Do you think we were disrespectful to our mother?

LOVING CHILDREN Dear Children: Ignore the criticism. The Lord and I am sure your mother knew what was in your hearts. Who else matters?

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE A young wife, realizing that she didn't love her husband, consulted a psychologist. Her realization was confirmed. On her return from Reno her worried parents invited her to visit them before resuming her job. Two days after her arrival, she blamed her mother for her marital mistake. She said bitterly:

"You brought me up to be afraid of hurting people. You've always looked so injured when I didn't do what you wanted me to do, that all Joe had to do was look injured when I said I didn't want to marry him to make me do it. Your training has made a mess of my life."

Shocked, wounded, her mother refused any responsibility for her marital failure. So, after a painful scene, the girl packed her bags and left to spend the rest of her vacation with a friend.

If her parent had not been so scared of the accusation, she would not have run away to her friend. Of course, listening to unjust accusation isn't easy. Whether a child blames us for the milk he's spilled or for his marital misjudgment, it is hard to stand by quietly while he accuses us of his intolerable guilt at having made a mess of his life.

Then the accusation goes in one ear and out the other. Instead of rushing to defend ourselves, we can dispense with the need to remind him that he was the person who spilled the milk or chose the wrong marriage partner.

We can ignore the whole problem of who did the terrible thing and begin to make it appear less terrifying. We can say, "Children often spill their milk" or "Why are you so frightened to discover that you are capable of misjudgment?"

We do not accept the responsibility for what we didn't do, but make it more realistic for the child. Always another person's need to condemn us for his failures confesses the intensity of his own self-condemnation. If we are interested in justice, we will, of course, insist on his solitary guilt. But if Robinson closed the meeting. Present were Doris Halley, Phyllis Lamb, Shirlee Cable, Amy Earhart, Oweida Jernigan, Angelia Alchely, Mmes. Luther Berry and David Robinson.

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of a family who recently lost an aged and beloved mother. We are being severely criticized because we did not all go to the mortuary the day before the funeral.

We all loved our mother very much. We're very emotional and did not want to display our grief publicly. In her death notice we published the fact that we would receive friends and relatives in my home, which is a few blocks from the mortuary. We requested the casket be closed during the funeral services as we didn't want the agony of viewing her for the last time. Do you think we were disrespectful to our mother?

LOVING CHILDREN Dear Children: Ignore the criticism. The Lord and I am sure your mother knew what was in your hearts. Who else matters?

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Earl Atkinson Guest Speaker For Art And Civic Club Meeting

LEFORS (Spl) — "The things taught in schools and colleges are not an education, but the means of education," was the quotation used by Mrs. Earl Atkinson, in introduction of her topic as speaker of the evening at Art and Civic Club in the civic center on Tuesday night.

To narrow the field of education, she compared American education to that of Russia's, stating, "In 1918 Russia was feudal in its educational backwardness, but due to Soviet rule, has progressed to at least 100 percent literacy and, at least, seven years of schooling for everyone in the U.S.S.R. The common tendency in America is to look upon everything Russian as bad and inferior, but you can be sure that, when it is to their advantage to do so, the Russians will copy things American. If the Russians goad us into a better job of education, then we shall only be doing what our own best traditions call for."

University education is reserved for the most intelligent. A respected Russian college math professor spent three days on ten questions that had three or four parts to each question and finally got three parts to one question. These are said to be typical of tests given to enter a university."

She concluded, "It is not that Russian students are more intelligent than ours, but their education is so thorough, that we have a situation here that should be given serious thought."

In the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Carl Hall, a play was planned for production the following week. Mrs. Hall said she was interested in him, we will help him take responsibility, not for some fancy self he thinks should be above mistakes but for the real one that will often make them.

Miss Cable Leads GA Stewardship

LEFORS (Spl) — Miss Shirlee Cable was in charge of the Stewardship program for the Intermediate Girls' Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. L. M. Berry on Monday afternoon.

Scriptures were read by each one present, followed by the song, "This is My Father's World." Those on the program were Amy Earhart, Shirlee Cable, Doris Halley and Phyllis Lamb.

Miss Earhart, president, presided over the business meeting in which plans were discussed and made for the forthcoming GA Banquet.

GA Allegiance was repeated by the group. The secretary's report and roll call was given by Shirlee Cable. Prayer calendar was read by Miss Phyllis Lamb and prayer for Missionaries was led by Mrs. Luther Berry.

"Take My Life and Let It Be," a song, and prayer by Mrs. J. Robinson closed the meeting. Present were Doris Halley, Phyllis Lamb, Shirlee Cable, Amy Earhart, Oweida Jernigan, Angelia Alchely, Mmes. Luther Berry and David Robinson.

'Check Artists' Get Away With $800 Million Yearly

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — In the midst of modern life — where organizational men are nurtured by international business machines — it is heartwarming to note how many people are still in business for themselves.

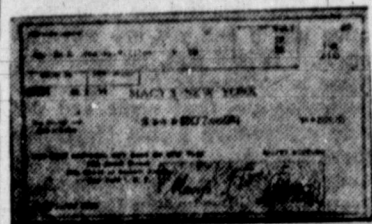

According to a recent survey, you can figure:

Individual entrepreneurs — with an inventory of only pen and ink — made close to $800 million this year by passing off fraudulent checks.

The amount of conservative as many stores do not want to waste time or money by making complaints, but instead write the loss off.

Whatever the amount, it will grow annually. For the percentage of phony checks is tied to the total number of checks we use. Last year Americans used more than 10 billion checks. In 1970 we will use about 22 billion.

Unfortunately, the percentage of

CHECK and check-casher are photographed by "Regiscope."

in change and an IOU for the rest.

Incident: A sale lady in a Southwestern city jewelry store told the check artist that his $1,524 check had to be certified before it could buy a $1,500 diamond. So, the customer went out, forged a certification, and ended up with the diamond and $24 in cash.

Often, of course, the checks are not bad, but the customers are. Federal, state and local government paymasters issue nearly a million checks a day in wages, social security, etc. These checks are often delivered by postmen.

"So the rule has become," Cowan said, "that whoever gets up first gets the check."

In a similar dodge, shoplifting accounts for nearly twice the amount of phony and forged checks.

A shoplifter has to be out of his mind to sell stolen merchandise to a fence at half price when he can take it back to the store and get a refund for the complete sales price.

Commonest offenders in shoplifting are among extra help hired during rush seasons who pilfer widely and distribute the merchandise among their friends and relatives for refunds.

"The rule," Cowan said, "is now: $40 per week and all you can take home."

If there is a sure-fire way out of the larceny, nobody has yet found it. Detectives are loath to charge forgery because the jails are already overfull. Victims are loath to complain because most bad checks are small and a day in court is money lost.

Even public outrage is unavailable, for phony checks are associated with Robin Hood: stealing from the rich (stores, banks, taverns) to give to the poor (forgers).

One ray of hope has broken through. A photographic company has come up with a camera called a Regiscope that makes a simultaneous picture of both the check and its signer. In its first 18 months of production, 4,000 cameras have been installed on store and refund counters throughout the country.

And now the first reports are coming in: supermarkets and taverns complaining to the police that they have been robbed of their cameras.

The Church of San Miguel in Santa Fe, N.M., was built about a half-century after Columbus discovered America.

TREES, NOT CELL BARS—Three boys build a brush dam at a new work camp in Michigan Forest, Ohio. It was set up by the state for delinquent youths. The camp has two dozen juvenile lawbreakers, aged 16 to 18, working at a variety of woodland chores. The boys can go home on weekends once a month, have visitors weekly and travel to nearby towns for recreation. The camp has already turned out 100 "graduates."

Steel Production This Year Still Huge, Despite Tieup

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States can still turn in a big figure in its steel production for 1959.

Production for the last two months of the year, if it only runs at a rate of 8,000,000 tons a month, would result in a total output for the year of 94,500,000 tons. We have only had six years in which that figure was beaten.

And if the steel mills could be beefed up to the figure for the second quarter of the year when 33,800,000 tons were produced, we would have a total of 112,300,000 tons for 1959. That would be the fourth largest year in our history.

Last year, cut by recession, steel output reached 85,254,885 tons or 89.6 per cent of the capacity for that year. This year the capacity figure—the total steel that could be produced if the mills operated all their equipment—is 147,633,670 tons of steel or 2,831,331 tons a week.

Third quarter steel production, hampered by a strike of most of the industry, amounted to only 8,201,406 tons, the smallest for any quarter since the third quarter of 1938. That figure represented 22 per cent of capacity of the industry.

The production of steel for the first nine months of this year, despite the strike, amounted to 72,479,509 tons or 65.6 per cent of rated capacity. In the first nine months of 1958 output amounted to 59,135,267 tons.

We have been turning out steel in the few plants operating during the strike at a rate of around 370,000 tons weekly. That's about 13 per cent of the industry's capacity.

The steel mills can get up to 85 per cent of capacity in 10 days to two weeks, but that isn't the main problem. The users of steel don't buy steel ingots. They want what is called finished steel. It will take longer to fill the pipelines with that kind of metal.

Meantime many industrial plants dependent on steel will lay off men in large numbers. However, with steel flowing again, the users are not too worried. They are willing to use the last ounce they have in their inventories and hope for early shipments.

The industries that have been hardest hit are the automobile, appliance, and farm equipment. Hundreds of smaller companies which haven't been able to stock up as much as the big ones are suffering from lack of steel.

Test Results Due In December

Preliminary scholastic aptitude tests were given to 65 students at Pampa High School recently, according to Miss Evelyn Milam, counselor. The tests were given to juniors who plan to attend college, and seniors who are applying for scholarships.

Results will be received in December.

The test is a two-hour version of the three-hour scholastic aptitude test using the same kinds of multiple-choice questions and measuring the same verbal and mathematical abilities.

Miss Milam said the college entrance board examinations will be given in Pampa on Jan. 9 and March 12. Interested students must apply to the College Entrance Board 30 days prior to taking the test in order to be able to take the examination.

RESTORE LENIN'S CAR
MOSCOW (UPI)—Lenin's car is being restored at a Moscow automobile plant and will be displayed in the Lenin Museum.

Although First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan revealed recently that both he and Lenin rode in Rolls-Royces during the Communist regime's early days, the nameplate identifying the make of the Lenin car was missing in a picture in Thursday's Pravda.

MYSTICS TO MEET
DJAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—A nationwide conference of mystics will be held here in mid-November, it was reported today. An Indonesian news agency said the conference would discuss mysticism in the framework of national education, mystics and the community, mysticism and culture and mysticism and peace.
