By JACK V. FOX
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev avowedly heartened by a "good beginning" of his American visit, undergoes today the sharpest cross-examination of Communist motives he is likely to get in public during his 13-day stay. The Russian leader was to speak and then submit to a no-holds-barred question session at a lunch of the National Press Club, headquarters for the capital's veteran news correspondents.

Khrushchev declared in a toast at a White House dinner Tuesday night that the United States and the Soviet Union are "much too strong" to quarrel. He said Russian intentions are based on the need to improve relations.

"If we were weak countries, then it would be another matter, because when the weak quarrel they are just scratching each other's faces and it takes just a couple of days of a cosmetic and everything comes out right again," he said.

Warns of World Shambles
"But if we quarrel, then not only our countries can suffer colossal damage, but the other countries of the world will also be involved in a world shambles."

Khrushchev was likely to be asked specifically today just what Russia is prepared to do to implement its good intentions with regard to Berlin, Communist aggression in Asia, disarmament and his famous threat that the Reds will "bury" us.

The bustling and exuberant Russian plunged into another day of non-stop activity that was to begin with a trip to the 11,000-acre "Agriculture" Department experimental farm at nearby Beltsville, Md., include a "tea" with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and wind up with a Soviet embassy dinner for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower seemed to be enjoying Khrushchev's presence far less than the beaming Russian liked being here.

GRIM LEADERS

A grim President Eisenhower greeted an equally grim Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as the Russian arrived at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., to begin his historic visit to the U. S. Tuesday.

Altrusa Club Will Honor Sr. Citizens

Senior Citizens of the community will observe the third anniversary of the organization of Senior Center with a party Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in Lovett Memorial Library with members of the Altrusa Club as hostesses.

Appearing on the birthday program to help commemorate the occasion will be Mayor Ed Myatt, who will briefly address the group; Mrs. Otis Nace, who will review "Mr. Robin Rides Again" by Edward Streeter; and students of Jeanne Williamson's Beaux Arts Dance Studio.

Senior Center, sponsored by the Pampa Altrusa Club, held its first meeting in September, 1956 and has met each Thursday afternoon at 2:30 during the past three years. Starting with only a small group of guests, who participated in table games, visiting, and refreshments during the 2 1/2 hour period, the Center activities have steadily grown to approximately 40 to 50 guests attending each Thursday afternoon. Transportation to and from the Center is provided by Red Cross Gray Ladies.

The first Thursday of each month is set aside for a birthday party for each Senior Citizen having a birthday in that month. Altrusa hostesses provide an afternoon of entertainment, especially baked birthday cakes, gifts and Senior Citizens have their birthday pictures taken.

During the first year of organization, the Altrusa Club, composed of professional and executive women, provided the entertainment and refreshments.

In the past two years, other civic and study clubs, wishing to participate in the Senior Citizen program, have brought varied programs and refreshments to the Center. Clubs participating in the past year are VFW Auxiliary, Chapter CS PEO, Kit Kat Klub, Opti-Mrs. Club, DMF Auxiliary, First Methodist WSCS, Business and Professional Women's Club, Parent Education, Pampa Garden Club, First Presbyterian Church Friendship Club, Twentieth Century Culture, Civic Culture, Gray County Home Demonstration Clubs, Twentieth Century Allegro, El Progresso, Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Rho-Eta Chapter (See CLUB, Page 3)

Apartment Collapses; At Least 16 Are Dead

SCHOOL GROUND CONFUSION

Police, firemen, ambulance crews, school officials and families seeking their children are shown in the school yard of the Edgar A. Poe elementary school in Houston after Paul Harold Orgeron threw a homemade bomb into the school's play ground. The bomb killed three children, a teacher, the school custodian, and blowed the bomber to bits. Eleven children were admitted to hospitals for treatment.

Six Dead, 19 Injured In Houston Bombing

By KYLE THOMPSON, United Press International

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Children returned to classes at Edgar A. Poe elementary school today where a madman bomber turned a play period into a nightmare of horror and left six persons dead and 19 others injured.

Authorities scheduled classes today even though windows in the school were shattered by Tuesday's blast that tossed bits of human flesh on children at play.

The madman was Paul Harold Orgeron, a 49-year-old former convict. He carried his bomb in a big black suitcase and apparently touched it off with a timing device he worked with his foot.

Orgeron killed himself, his own seven-year-old son, Paul, and another seven-year-old boy, a school custodian and a school teacher.

He might have killed more but for the quick work of teachers who herded some of the charges back into the building when Orgeron, after trying to gather a group of children around him, yelled that he had a bomb.

One of the seven-year-old boys killed was Johnny C. Fitch, the grandson of Vice-Adm. Aubrey W. Fitch who was second in command to the late Adm. William Hasley during the Pacific fighting in World War II.

The other victims were Bill Hawes, 7; custodian James A. Montgomery, 56; and the teacher, Mrs. Jeannie A. Koulter, 56.

So shattering was the blast that it was several hours before Orgeron's identity could be established by fingerprints on a severed hand found in the schoolyard.

Montgomery's head was blown off when he tried to rush the former convict.

All of the injured were pupils except Mrs. R. E. Doty, the principal. She lost a leg while answering for fingerprints on a severed hand found in the schoolyard.

Disaster In Italy Leaves 40 Missing

BARLETTA, Italy (UPI)—A house, containing 24 families totaling 110 persons, collapsed a new five-story apartment without warning today. Many residents were trapped and killed, and police said the death toll was high.

Police said they had recovered 16 bodies so far and taken 13 injured from the twisted mass of steel and stone. An estimated 40 or so still were missing.

A doctor at Barletta's only hospital told United Press International by telephone that most of the dead showed signs of asphyxia, meaning they were choked to death under the rubble.

Police, firemen and volunteers worked desperately in the rubble trying to pull out survivors. But a doctor expressed serious doubt that many could be dug out alive.

Authorities threw an army cordon around the hospital to control a crowd of anxious friends and relatives.

Soldiers gently but firmly pushed back crying mothers who tried to force their way into the hospital to search for their children among the bodies in the morgue.

City officials said the house was built some six months ago over a previously existing garage. They said they understood no new foundations were laid, and the floors of the apartment building merely were put on top of the garage.

Barletta is on the Adriatic Sea in southern Italy, about 35 miles northwest of Bari near the heel of the Italian boot.

Little Girls Aren't Always Sugar & Spice

Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard is finding out that little girls aren't always "sugar and spice and everything nice."

Monday night Leonard tracked down three rural Pampa girls—none yet in their teens—for the theft earlier in the day of a 1953 Pontiac.

The girls, two 12 year-olds and one age 11, had skipped school Monday found a car with the keys in it, and took a short joy ride north of Pampa. When the car stalled on the Perryton Pky., they pushed it off the side of the road and abandoned it.

Tuesday afternoon Leonard picked up another threesome of young ladies—one 13 and two others both 12—after they were spotted shoplifting in the M. E. Moses department store.

Questioning yesterday revealed that the girls had been fishing articles from downtown stores the past two weeks. The value of property recovered has so far totalled $35.

Among the articles taken by the young shoplifters were several bracelets, diaries, earrings, a hat, a pair of jeans and two purses. Most of the trinkets were found in a trash barrel behind one of the girls' homes.

Stores visited by the youngsters included Moses', Levine's, McClellan's and Woolworth's. Leonard said no action will be taken until all the stolen articles are gathered together.

C-C SETS MEETING

The Chamber of Commerce fire prevention committee will meet Thursday to organize for Fire Prevention Week Oct. 4-10. Committee Chairman Roy McMillen announced this morning.

"Good fire prevention practices are by no means important than the general public realizes," McMillen said.

The group will meet at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Chamber office.

U.S. Relations In Moscow Are Much Improved

MOSCOW (UPI)—A new era of good feeling toward Americans burst upon Moscow today.

Glowing reports in the Soviet press and on Moscow Radio of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's reception in Washington dissolved the traditional aloofness toward foreigners.

Even the Voice of America was allowed to report factually and in Russian the news of Khrushchev's arrival. For ten years it has been jammed by Soviet Nations.

"Broadcasts by the American 'Radio Liberation' which mixed commentary, some critical, into its newscasts on Khrushchev were jammed as much as ever before a spokesman for the American Committee for Liberation said in New York.

Moscow Radio, after broadcasting an account from Washington on Khrushchev's meeting with President Eisenhower, ended with a special weather forecast for the eastern part of the United States (good)—the first time anyone could remember such an act.

The usual stiffness toward foreigners began to unbend when the exchange of visits was announced. By the time Khrushchev landed the feeling was one of holiday mood. And with each passing hour of his visit the feelings toward Americans became warmer.

The Russians regard the Khrushchev visit as a prelude to the end of the cold war and act as if restraint is now off. Their attitude seems to say: "It's okay now." There were new departures in reporting, and Tass, the official news agency, carried Eisenhower's welcoming speech in full.

The Soviet press told its readers today a "solid wall of 200,000 Americans" gave Khrushchev "stormy applause and ovations" when he arrived in Washington. The reports described the Washington scene as one of overwhelming approval by mammoth, friendly, handkerchief-waving crowds.

Washington was so packed with people, said the official government newspaper Izvestia, that "there was not even a place to drop an apple."

"Long before the arrival of the airplane, several thousand residents gathered to greet the head of Soviet power," Izvestia said. "Thousands of Americans expressed their approval by stormy applause."

Mrs. K Is Well-Groomed For Dinner

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev brought modest grandmothers' elegance to the White House Tuesday night.

But Christian Dior might not have thought so. If the late high fashion designer had seen the Soviet first lady at the White House dinner, he probably would have described her as "dowdy" in a room full of exquisitely dressed guests.

Mrs. Khrushchev wore a teal blue, taffeta-like gown with a black thread running through the fabric. It had a low "V" neck and a fairly narrow skirt with no folds, pleats, or fancy arrangements.

A large gold rimmed brooch decorated the center of her dress. She carried a black beaded evening bag.

Her graying hair was groomed in a soft, wavy style. On her lips was just a touch of lipstick.

Nina Khrushchev glittered much less than Mrs. Eisenhower, who was in gold, brocade and white kid gloves.

But the Soviet premier's wife looked her very best, and it was obvious that painstaking preparation had gone into her appearance. Her two stepdaughters, also were attractively dressed.

The younger Rads wore an ivory brocade cocktail-type dress with a jacket. Her dark blonde hair was brushed into a casual cap. The other, Yulia, wore a dotted black and white net dress with her hair pulled back in a severely braided chignon.

Mrs. Khrushchev and her stepdaughters obviously wanted to make a good impression.

Road Near Lefors Will Be Paved

County Commissioners meeting Tuesday morning voted to use state appropriations for the future paving of a four-mile stretch of road near Lefors.

County Judge Bill Craig said the road under consideration is currently paved at both ends with a four-mile gap unpaved in the middle. The road begins near Lefors and joins up with the highway to McLean.

Charles (Chili) Smith, district engineer for the highway department from Amarillo, said the state has apportioned in the neighborhood of 70 to 80,000 dollars for the needed work.

Smith attended yesterday's meeting along with G. K. Reading, resident engineer in Pampa.

Convalescent Home Fund Drive Slated This Year

A quiet finance campaign for the construction of the Barrett Memorial Convalescent Home will begin later this year, President Arthur Teed stated at a board meeting of the Top O' Texas Foundation Tuesday.

Teed also said that the Foundation's request for Hill-Burton funds will probably not be considered until December since the campaign has not begun.

The proposed Barrett Memorial Convalescent Home will be built on the Castleberry Hill site west of Highland General Hospital.

Other members of the Foundation board are Dr. M. C. Overton Jr., vice president; James McCune, treasurer; and Nina Spoonemore, secretary.

Directors are Adrian Foster, E. O. Wedgeworth, Sam Begett, the Rev. R. W. Crews, and the Rev. E. G. Barrett.

Building plans have been drawn up by the firm of Moore & Hollar and approved by the Foundation.

Jupiter Goes Out Of Control, Is Destroyed 1,000 Feet Up

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR., United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—A Jupiter intermediate range missile wiggled out of control today and was exploded in flight 1,000 feet above the ground.

Many debris showered the cape but no injuries or damage was reported.

Officials said the range safety officer pushed the "destruct" button when the Army missile veered from its planned trajectory.

The missile erupted in a ball of orange and red flame, pieces, some of them burning, plunged from the fiery sphere to the ground. No ground fires were started.

Some of the debris fell in the vicinity of the blockhouse housing the launch technicians. But the Air Force announced 15 seconds after the destruction that no one was injured.

Officials said a malfunction caused the rocket to veave off its programmed path just a split second after blastoff, prompting the safety officer to destroy it.

The missile's nose cone was jammed with 14 pregnant mice, two frogs, human blood and skin scheduled to be recovered from the Atlantic Ocean some 1,500 miles down the tracking range.

Scientists planned the biochemical experiments to study space flight conditions on various biological systems, including gravity loads, weightlessness and cosmic radiation.

It was the third time in two days that rockets here failed to get their birds aloft in successful flight. The launching of the same Jupiter rocket was postponed some 24 hours earlier.

Three hours before that, the firing of a Vanguard rocket carrying an earth satellite was postponed.

The failure came as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, visiting in this country, bragged about Russia's successful rocket shot to the moon.

One man suffered burns and three trucks went up in flames Tuesday morning when a gas well caught fire on the Burke lease about 13 miles southwest of Pampa.

The injured man, Lloyd Short of White Deer, was taken to Highland General Hospital where the extent of his burns was undetermined.

The well, owned by the Service Drilling Co. of Tulsa, caught fire when a truck servicing the well backfired about 10:30 a.m. Pampa firemen, called to the scene at 10:40 a.m., said the flames consumed a gas transport-owned by the Cactus Ordnance Co. and two 1959 Chevrolet pickups owned by the Service Co.

Two Pampa trucks raced to the scene, with the first returning shortly after noon and the second staying at the scene until about 2 p.m. when the flames were under control.

GUARDS SENT TO SCHOOLS

HOUSTON (UPI)—Police sent guards to more than a score of public schools in the area Tuesday when anonymous pranksters made at least eight threats of bomb attacks after the bomb exploded at Edgar A. Poe elementary school.

In Galveston, authorities evacuated 1300 students at Ball High School after a caller there said a bomb had been planted in the school building.

The Ball High students were out for two hours while police and firemen searched the building shortly after noon and found nothing.

BURGLAR OF SCHOOLS IN JAIL

James Ralph Clark, about 25, of Amarillo, was transferred to county jail Tuesday from Amarillo to await trial here for last spring's burglary of Pampa High School.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said Clark had been involved in several other school burglaries in the Panhandle and was apprehended in Amarillo. His trial is tentatively set for Friday.

UN Opens 14th Session

By WENDELL S. MERICK
United Press International

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—A 14-man United Nations fact-finding team arriving here today to check on a reported Communist invasion ran into a Soviet charge it was here illegally.

The Soviets said Monday night the team was not the proper instrument for resolving the Laotian crisis.

They called instead for a conference "without delay" of the countries that attended the 1954 Geneva conference that created Laos, North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam out of what was once French Indo-China.

The team prepared to begin its work despite the Russian attack, however. The Soviets were expected to formally protest creation of the team in the U.N. General Assembly, which opens today in New York.

The Laotian government seemed confident the team would make an on-the-spot investigation in rebel-held northern Laos, despite a U.N. report the fact-finders would stay in Vientiane.

The U.N. Security Council sent the team here at the request of the royal Laotian government, which charged the Pathet Lao Communist rebels had received aid in the form of arms and troops from Communist North Viet Nam.

The U.N. team, headed by Japan's Shintichi Shibusawa, was met on its arrival here from Bangkok by a delegation headed by acting Foreign Minister Sisouk Natchanasack.

The team members were scheduled to call on several Laotian officials, including Prime Minister Phoui Sananikone. The team is made up of members from Japan, Italy, Tunisia and Argentina.

5th Hollywood Personality In Nine Days Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Actor Wayne Morris died of a heart attack Monday aboard an aircraft carrier in the Pacific, the ocean where—unknown to most of his fans—he played his greatest role during World War II.

Morris, 45, collapsed while watching air operations from the bridge of the carrier USS Bon Homme Richard, which was conducting exercises off Monterey, Calif., about 100 miles south of San Francisco.

As a carrier pilot during the war, the veteran actor was awarded four Distinguished Flying Crosses and two Air Medals. He shot down seven Japanese planes and was credited with sinking an enemy gunboat and a destroyer.

Morris was aboard the Bon Homme Richard as a guest of his uncle and wartime squadron leader, Capt. David McCampbell, skipper of the carrier.

He was stricken by what the Navy described as a coronary occlusion. His body was taken to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, at nearby Oakland.

Morris is survived by his wife, Patricia, and two daughters, Melinda and Patricia. He also leaves a son by a previous marriage to Rubbles Schinas.

The husky actor was the fifth Hollywood personality to die in the past nine days. The others were Paul Douglas, Edmund Gwenn, Kay Kendall, and dress designer Gilbert Adrian, husband of Janet Gaynor.

Record Press Corps To Turn Out For Khrushchev's Tour

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's two-week tour of America will be covered by the largest press corps ever turned out for a foreign visitor.

State Department officials said today they have issued credentials for about 2,000 reporters, photographers, radio and television broadcasters and newsreel cameramen. That exceeds the previous record of 1,500 press badges issued in 1957 for the U.S. tour of Britain's Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

Some 300 of the newsmen—including 40 Russians—will follow Khrushchev throughout the tour. The rest will be stationed in the six cities Khrushchev visits.

Special communications facilities have been installed at each place Khrushchev visits to speed transmission of news reports and pictures.

Elaborate Arrangements

Some of the most elaborate arrangements were made in Washington, particularly along the 15.6-mile route of Khrushchev's initial entry into the capital.

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. said it had installed the following special news media facilities along the parade route:

- 100 private telephone lines for wire service and newspaper reporters.
- 50 radio broadcasting circuits, plus 45 "cue lines" or control circuits.
- 18 television circuits.
- A telephone company spokesman said scores and perhaps hundreds of special circuits have also been set up to serve the press at other key points in the capital, such as Blair House and the Soviet Embassy.
- "We've been so busy putting in lines we haven't had time to count them all," he explained.
- Western Union officials said they were ready to handle an "unlimited" amount of press copy out of Washington.

Press Network

Western Union also has arranged an elaborate network of press filing facilities at other points along Khrushchev's cross-country itinerary. For example, reporters who ride Khrushchev's non-stop special train to New York Thursday will send dispatches through what are called "throw-offs." Their copy will be placed in special pouches and tossed from the moving train to waiting Western Union telegraphers at six assigned spots along the route.

Press Wireless Inc. said it has put on extra help and opened additional channels to handle an unprecedented volume of press traffic to overseas points.

The 300 newsmen who will follow Khrushchev all the way will fly from New York to Los Angeles in three chartered planes—two Boeing 707 jets and one propeller-driven plane. Three 707 jets will transport the 200 U.S. and Soviet members of the official party.

The 40 Russian newsmen include six who are regularly stationed in the United States and 34 who came here from the Soviet Union especially for the Khrushchev visit.

About 80 other foreign newsmen will be in the traveling party. Two of these are from Iron Curtain countries—one each from Poland and Czechoslovakia—and five others represent Communist newspapers in western European countries.

The State Department news division, headed by Lincoln White, has charge of coverage arrangements, including the formidable logistics of providing transportation and hotel rooms for the traveling press squad.

Reservations Tough

Hotel reservations proved to be a particularly difficult nut to crack since the Khrushchev visit coincides with the start of the fall "convention season," and many big city hotels are already heavily booked with business and professional conventions.

One of the main concerns of State Department officials is to make sure that Khrushchev is not always surrounded by a milling mob of reporters and photographers so that he can neither see nor be seen by the American people.

To avoid that possibility, the department is insisting that coverage at many points be through a "pooling" arrangement under which a small group of newsmen represent all of their colleagues.

Jaycees Name New Officials

Two members of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce have been named to fill the unexpired terms of Clyde Dickerson as secretary-treasurer and director, Jaycees public relations chairman Dwayne Kuntz, revealed today.

Named as replacements to Dickerson, former Southwestern Bell Telephone manager here who was promoted to unit manager at Tyler, were Lee Jackson and M. E. Kieffer.

Jackson will finish out Dickerson's term as secretary-treasurer and Kieffer will fill the Jaycee board of directors' vacancy left open by Dickerson's move.

In other business during their regular Tuesday luncheon meeting in the Palm Room of the City Hall, local Jaycees discussed stepping up their collection of large rocks, which will benefit Pampa's three Garden Club's proposed new rock garden.

Benny Shackelford, program chairman for the day, showed the Jaycees a film on the 1958 Southwest Conference Football Highlights.

Passenger trains 39 and 49 operating between Spearman and Shattuck will be discontinued "in a week or so," it was learned today from the Santa Fe office in Amarillo.

A Santa Fe spokesman said the two trains, operating daily, "have been operating at a loss for quite some time." It is expected that the discontinuance will not affect more than half a dozen commuters in the Spearman area.

The one-way passenger train made a daily turn-around between the two Panhandle cities, usually with only one to three passengers a day.

The decision to drop the service was reached at a hearing between Santa Fe and the Railroad Commission in Spearman one month ago, Santa Fe said it will drop the service as soon as the Postal Service can make arrangements for some other sort of mail transport.

Long Not In State Race

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) - Gov. Earl K. Long was scratched at the post Tuesday as a candidate for re-election, but Louisiana voters had a record field of 12 candidates in the governor's race today.

There was a distant possibility the list of candidates might still grow. It surpassed a record of 10 which qualified as candidates for governor in 1952.

State democratic chairman Rufus Hayes said he understood candidates could file by registered mail postmarked before the 5 p.m. deadline Tuesday, although he discounted the possibility.

Other candidates included a grocer and a taxi driver, two insurance men and a piano salesman, the mayor of New Orleans and the present state comptroller, a staunch segregationist, a Baptist minister and a former race track handicapper.

The odds on betting was centered on Davis and New Orleans Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison, with a field of four darkhorse contenders: State Comptroller Bill Dodd, State Sen. W. M. Rainach, Noe, and Marshall Brown of New Orleans.

The 12 persons who qualified as candidates for governor offered voters a variety never matched in Louisiana history. One other former governor, Jimmie Davis, was included.

The flight, which came while the cars of thousands of home-bound government workers jammed Washington's streets and highways, also should have removed Khrushchev's doubts about the number of automobiles in America.

Khrushchev had indicated he was skeptical of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's statement in Russia that there are 60 million cars in the United States. It was one of the Soviet leader's misperceptions about this country that Eisenhower wanted to clear up.

In addition to the crush of cars on the streets, Khrushchev got a birds-eye view of homes that ranged from sprawling estates near country clubs to some with two cars and a swimming pool to a rather rundown neighborhood in nearby Alexandria, Va.

Khrushchev sat in the seat normally occupied by Eisenhower, alongside a broad window. Also in the helicopter were Capt. E. P. Aurand, naval aide to the President, two interpreters, a U.S. Secret Service man and a Soviet security officer.

LEFORS (Sp) - A Lions Club board of directors meeting was held recently in the civic center.

It was decided by the club to buy eye glasses for needy families who need them, and to sell four cases of Christmas Cards for the benefit of the Crippled Children home in Kerrville.

Directors and officers present were David Robinson, Jerry Jacobs, Roy Beck, Walter Elliott, W. D. McBase, Bill Watson, George Duncan, Aubrey Carlton, Jack Thacker, C. J. Trusty, Fred Blackwell, John Archer, D. T. Piel, J. R. Sparkman, and Ray Chastain.

Fifty-seven members were present for the evening meeting at which Sheriff Rufe Jordan gave an address on four topics combined into one - "Safety of the Nation," "Invasion of Communists," "Crime in General," and "Law Enforcement."

India Wants Admission Of Commie China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) - India goes before the United Nations today to demand the admission of Communist China despite her own blazing border dispute with Peiping and the Red's suppression of the Tibetan revolt.

India's insistence on giving Nationalist China's seat to the China mainland Communists was executed to produce the first diplomatic fireworks of the 14th annual session of the U.N. General Assembly, which convened Tuesday.

The full Assembly was not scheduled to meet again until Thursday, but the Indian proposal to kick Nationalist China out of the world group in favor of the Peiping regime may be the first item to go before the 21-member hearing committee, which today sets the Assembly agenda for debate.

The United States "prepared to move," as it has in years past, but the Assembly table the question of Chinese representation during the current session.

It was believed world reaction to Red China's suppression of the anti-Communist revolt in Tibet last March would produce a wider margin than last year's 44-28 vote in favor of the American motion to shelve India's demand, once the Assembly considers it.

The steering committee's debate today on the Indian motion was expected to bring the session's first mention of the Tibetan Dalai Lama's appeal for "immediate intervention" by the U.N. to end Red China's "wanton and ruthless murder of my people."

The 25-year-old god-king asked the steering committee to put his appeal for help on the Assembly agenda "on its own initiative." There is no precedent for this, the custom being for one or more delegations to propose items for normal debate in the world parliament.

Ike, Nikita Ride 'Copter

By MERRIMAN SMITH UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Eisenhower accomplished one of his long-cherished aims by taking Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev into taking an unscheduled helicopter whirl around the capital.

The 35-minute flight in a Marine helicopter late Tuesday afternoon was not part of Khrushchev's official itinerary. Eisenhower suggested it during the limousine ride to the city from Andrews Air Force Base and the Russian leader agreed.

The President told a news conference a month ago that he would like Khrushchev "to fly along in my chopper and just make a circuit of the district (of Columbia) and to see the uncountable homes that have been built all around, modest but decent, comfortable homes."

The flight, which came while the cars of thousands of home-bound government workers jammed Washington's streets and highways, also should have removed Khrushchev's doubts about the number of automobiles in America.

Khrushchev had indicated he was skeptical of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's statement in Russia that there are 60 million cars in the United States. It was one of the Soviet leader's misperceptions about this country that Eisenhower wanted to clear up.

Plane Makes Belly Landing At SAC Base

PLATTSBURGH, AFB, N.Y. (UPI) - An Eastern Airlines Martin 404 airliner made an emergency belly-landing on a foam-covered runway at this Strategic Air Command base early today and all 34 persons aboard escaped serious injury.

The plane developed landing gear trouble while on a flight northward from New York City to Massena, N.Y. The pilot discovered the trouble while attempting to make a landing at Burlington, Vt. Municipal Airport.

Air Force officials here said the pilot passed over the operations tower several times and then decided on the "belly landing."

He circled the field for about 54 minutes to burn up his excess fuel.

Air Force personnel spread a thick blanket of foam used to extinguish oil fires over a 300-foot wide section of the runway for 4,500 feet.

The pilot then set the two engines down in the middle of the runway, and a running account of the emergency landing said that the plane slid almost 1,700 feet before it came to a halt.

2nd Lt. Dave Whalen, a base information officer, said sparks flew out from the plane as it slid along and a small fire broke out. This was quickly extinguished.

At least 200 Air Force personnel stood by to assist the crippled plane.

Passengers and crew members were taken to the base hospital and checked by Air Force doctors and an Eastern Airlines doctor.

They said the passengers and crew were in "good condition."

Objectives Of Club Federation Outlined By Art-Civic Speaker

LEFORS (Spl) — Mrs. J. E. Carter was speaker of the evening at the first meeting of the season of the Lefors Art and Civic Club in the civic center on Thursday night.

"There are unlimited avenues in Federation with over eleven thousand members representing a great power in leading to International understanding, a path to peace, helping to control armaments for freedom of all nations," stated Mrs. Carter. "This year, mental health and the narcotics problem is to be stressed."

Mrs. Carter outlined nine reasons for being devoted to federation, "its interest in the American homes, communications, community affairs, conservation of natural resources, education, fine arts, international affairs, public affairs, and religious, each representing the different departments of federation."

Following the program, Mrs. Babe Hall, incoming president, presided at the business meeting and lead the group in the club collect.

Mrs. Hall, hostess for the evening, used a "back to school" theme for the salad supper with a little red school house scene as a centerpiece for the white covered tables, with various school supplies, cut-out letters, and apples completing the setting. Place cards were tiny statures.

Four new members were welcomed, Mrs. Ray Chaastain, G. N. Mougner, Paul Waldon, and a Bill Teel. Mrs. Boyd Beck, was

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married almost twenty years to a man who was married before. His first wife died about 30 years ago. Next month my husband would have been married to his first wife fifty years if she had lived. But she didn't live, you understand. She died.

My husband wants US to celebrate his 50th wedding anniversary. I told him it was not proper as we have been married to each other for only 20 years. He said that 50 years of married life was 80 years of married life and it didn't matter who he started out with. He was finishing up with me. How can I stop him from making a fool of himself? We've been quarreling about this all month.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I are both 15. Lots of people think we are too young to talk about sex. Others think it isn't proper for a boy and girl to discuss sex at all. But, Abby, we feel it is a big problem for lots of teenagers and it should be discussed together. Please give us your opinion. Are we right or wrong?

DEAR R. OR W.: A discussion of "sex" can be wholesome, illuminating and constructive only when an "authority" contributes to it. Two 15-year-olds cannot learn much in a discussion of this kind. When questions arise, ask an experienced adult (perhaps a parent or teacher) to guide the discussion and answer questions. Then you'll be sure the information is correct. There is nothing wrong with teenagers discussing sex in the presence of an enlightened adult.

DEAR ABBY: I am a respectable woman, 26, who had the misfortune of marrying the wrong man when I was 19. My marriage lasted only one year but it seems that I must carry the stigma of this "disgrace" forever.

I've been going with a young man for the past two years. He has put off introducing me to his family until finally he ran out of excuses. He finally admitted that his mother wouldn't like me because she is against divorce.

I love this man, Abby, and I know he loves me. But I want to get married. What is a divorcee supposed to do? Kill herself?

SANDRA
DEAR SANDRA: Is divorce against the religious principles of this man's family? If so, you are fighting a losing battle and you would be wise to give him up. If this is not the reason, your friend is simply not adult enough to face his mother with the facts, in which case you are lucky to know it now.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TRYING HARD": You married a man who is emotionally in knee-pants. But he is your husband. Lead him — do not push him.

For ABBY's pamphlet, "What Every Teenager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

There's an art to wearing gloves and the proper length is important. Either have your gloves meet your sleeves so that no skin shows or wear gloves so that a lot of skin shows between sleeve and glove. A halfway compromise isn't chic.

LEFORS (Spl) — Mrs. O. O. Bishop was re-elected president of the Lefors Home Demonstration Club, at a meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. J. D. Smith on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Bishop presided over the business meeting, which opened with a prayer by Mrs. A. M. Dickerson. "Taint So," a prose reading was presented by Mrs. Bishop as recreation.

Mrs. W. E. Chowins was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Charles Roberts, exhibit chairman, announced that Achievement Day will be held Oct. 8, in the civic center; the theme will be "Autumn Leaves," she appointed Mmes. Dee McBee, O. O. Bishop, W. E. Chowins, and Ted Kendall

Boycott Of School Over

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 100 white students were expected to show up for "integrated" class today, ending a peaceful boycott that started last week. The students plan to take them Wednesday to Riverdale, an all-white suburb of the Bronx, to attempt to roll them in schools there. A move was another reaction to the school board's policy of transferring students from overcrowded schools to less crowded ones. The board transferred several hundred white students to the Riverdale school, and the Negroes there have as much right as the white students, they claim. "Segregation is inferior."

Other incidents occurred to the return of 1,500,000 students to the city's schools Monday. There was picketing but no violence at five elementary schools near Ridgewood-Glendale. At Queens as 302 transfer students, most of them Negro, arrived in special buses. Teachers of the new students, neatly dressed and well-behaved, got amicably with their white mates.

Mrs. K On Threshold Of Adventure

By COLETTE BLACKMOORE
 United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev is on the threshold of the greatest adventure of her life.

To some, such adventure comes at 20 or in middle age. But to Mrs. Khrushchev, it has come in the twilight years.

At 60, nothing that she has done so far, and little that she might possibly do in the future, can eclipse the importance of her first visit to the United States.

"It isn't that Russia's first lady has led a dull existence or that coming to America is the most significant thing that any foreigner can do.

It is simply that Nikita Khrushchev has put this visit on such a high pedestal that some of the responsibility for its success or failure is bound to be shared by his wife.

If the Soviet premier had wanted to make this primarily a business trip, he would have come to America alone. Instead, he is making a tremendous gesture in international public relations — bringing almost his entire family and a son-in-law to boot.

He is in effect saying, "See what a family man I am, and see how wonderful this typical Soviet family is."

Nina Khrushchev will be the first Russian woman that most Americans have ever observed closely.

But no Soviet woman has ever projected herself on to the American national scene like Mrs. Khrushchev will do for 13 days.

For millions of U.S. TV viewers, Nina Petrovna and her two stepdaughters, Yulia and Rada, will represent Soviet womanhood — what they look like, how they think and how they conduct themselves.

Adenauer Still Loves A Fight

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

A man of seemingly frail physical stature but a Hercules in the shaping of free world destinies observes an anniversary today.

In the hullabaloo surrounding Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's U.S. visit, it might pass almost unnoticed.

It was 10 years ago, at the age of 73, that Konrad Adenauer took over as chancellor of the newly established Federal Republic of Germany.

He has held the job ever since, standing as a stubborn rock against which the political ambitions of lesser men have shattered in his own West Germany and as a bulwark frustrating the aims of this same Khrushchev to take over the whole of Germany for Communism.

Khrushchev has reserved some of his bitterest words for Adenauer whose parchment skin, sunken eyes and outward frailty would seem at odds with the spirit of a man who thrives on a battle and who has proved himself one of Germany's most astute politicians.

Champion Against Communism — And as a champion against Communism, it was significant that it was Adenauer whom President Eisenhower first sought out in Europe to explain the purpose of this week's talks with Khrushchev.

Adenauer's chief concern was that there should be no "sell out" of West Germany, and especially no sell-out of West Berlin.

In Germany, Adenauer affectionately is called "the old man." In 1933 it seemed that his public career should be finished.

The Nazis ousted him then as mayor of Cologne. He came back to the job after 12 years of enforced idleness—only to be fired again by the British in 1945.

But at the age of 70 he founded the Christian Democratic Union which came to power with the birth of the new republic in 1949 and elected him chancellor by the margin of a single vote. The voters re-elected him in 1953 by an amazing majority and he has remained in power ever since. With his political allies, he is assured a working majority of approximately 100 votes in the German Bundestag.

Believes in Adenauer Alone — This amazing man is both a guaranty of German democracy and at the same time the opposite of the democratic spirit. He believes firmly in no one but Adenauer.

Thus it was that in June he reversed himself on a previous decision to run for the West Germany presidency, a job of pomp and circumstance but little real power. In doing so, he ruthlessly cast aside Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, the man credited with most of West Germany's present prosperity but a man whom Adenauer did not trust to retain the unyielding line followed by Adenauer himself in his international relations.

His high-handed action against the popular Erhard caused both consternation and resentment within the party, but Adenauer held fast and won.

Today, at 83, he is West Germany's chancellor for the foreseeable future. He still loves a fight. Is one of Communism's most im-

UN Team Of Fact-Finders Are In Laos

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The U.N. General Assembly opens its 14th annual session this afternoon—the first to be addressed personally by a premier of the Soviet Union.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, whose arrival in Washington today was completely overshadowing the usual diplomatic clamor here, addresses the meeting Friday.

He will speak behind the tightest security the United Nations has given any of the more than 100 heads of state and government leaders who have visited here.

The 82-member Assembly had 70 proposed items before it, including the Algerian war and Chinese Communist repressions in Tibet. It is expected also to take up the report of the fact-finding committee sent to Laos by the Security Council to check on Lao-tian charges of Communist Vietnamese "aggressions."

The opening day of the Assembly will be devoted to routine business, including the election of an Assembly president and various chairmen and organization of the Assembly's seven standing committees.

Dr. Victor Andres Betsaunde, 76-year-old diplomat veteran who has headed Peru's Assembly delegations since 1950, is expected to be elected Assembly president without opposition.

The verbal fireworks are expected to start Wednesday when the Assembly steering committee meets to approve the 1959 agenda. This is expected to touch off the clash over the representation of China. In spite of the bitter border dispute, India again has proposed that the Peking regime replace the Chinese Nationalist government in the United Nations.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

Ed Strickland is back at Texas Tech. Strickland, the former Harvester star who quit the Raider squad last year, has now patched up his differences with Coach DeWitt Weaver, and is bidding for a place in the starting lineup.

He has been switched by Weaver from guard to "tight end." That's what his position is called under Weaver's new split T offense, and the other end, is called the "split end" because of being 15 or 20 yards from the tackle.

The Pampa gridders quit the Tech squad last year after being dropped from guard to center and dropped to the third team. He missed the entire season, and the '59 spring training as well, but he reported for the first fall workout. Since he didn't play last year, he'll still be classed as a junior, with two years eligibility remaining.

Strickland is competing with two other "tight ends" for that spot in the starting lineup, when Tech opens its season against the Texas Aggies Saturday night in Dallas. Other candidates are junior letterman Mike Seay of Andrews and sophomore Tommy Pace of Amarillo.

Ronnie Rice Out With Injury

Both Tech and the Aggies are plagued by injuries as they get ready for their season opener. Missing from the Tech lineup will be Ronnie Rice of Lefors, the Raiders' leading ground gainer last year.

Until Tuesday, Weaver had some hopes that Rice might be able to play Saturday, but the Raider boss man announced Tuesday that Rice will definitely miss the opener.

The Aggies, though, have even worse injury trouble. Coach Jim Meyers has been forced to make several changes in his injury-riddled lineup. Among the missing are two star halfbacks, John Few and Eddie Van Dyke.

Texas University is also plagued by injuries and sickness. At least

Kansas Nabs 4 Texas Gridders

Remember the fuss that was made last year when Mike McClellan, a Stamford football player, suddenly switched from Baylor to Oklahoma University? Well, that was nothing compared to what's happened this season!

Not one, or two, but FOUR Texas football players have defected so far this season, to the same school. Only this time, it's not Oklahoma, it's Kansas.

The latest pair are Texas A&M starting guard Mickey Walker and the Aggies' number two left end, James Street. They join Roger McFarland, former Aggie freshman star, and Bert Coan, TCU gridders, in jumping to Kansas.

Walker and Street made the move, they said, because they were "impressed with the engineering school." Coan went because "of the law school and track program." McFarland gave similar reasons for going to Kansas.

Now, we don't doubt that Kansas has fine law and engineering schools, but we also suspect that they have some fine recruiters on their coaching staff. Who we want to know, though, is how did they manage to snare four Texas A&M through Oklahoma past the watchful eyes of Bud Wilkinson?

If Bud doesn't watch out, Kansas may get all the Texans who don't go to school at home. Then what will Oklahoma do for a football team?

Arlington Heights Big, But Also Inexperienced

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Pampa played its worst football game of 1958 the second game of the season, against the Arlington Heights in Fort Worth. According to a man who should know, "Borger beat us a lot worse," said Harvester coach Babe Curfman, "but we played worse football against Arlington Heights."

Curfman predicts that the Harvesters will have to play much better to win this season's home opener over the Fort Worth team Friday. "They're a better team than last year," the Pampa coach declared.

"They'll outweigh almost as badly as Wichita Falls did," Curfman pointed out. "They did pretty well against Tascosa, which is the top team in our district."

Actually, Arlington Heights probably will outweigh the Harvesters on defense by about 14 pounds a per man both on the line and in the backfield. On defense, the difference may be about 15 pounds.

The starting Arlington Heights line, in last week's 21-6 season-opening loss to Tascosa, averaged 183 pounds per man. The backfield averaged 168, and the defensive lineup weighed in at 179 pounds per man.

However, their weight may be somewhat offset by a lack of experience. They have only four returning starters, and are still seeking dependable regulars at many positions.

According to Shocker assistant coach Dick Woldt, who scouted the Tascosa game, Arlington Heights was hurt especially bad by fumbles, as they lost four to Tascosa. Woldt also said that the Cowtown squad seemed to tire in the second half, when Tascosa scored two touchdowns.

Woldt said that Arlington Heights' new coach, Homer Ludicker, used from two to four men at several positions, and seemed to be looking for "somebody who could do the job."

The Shocker coach listed Arlington's strong points, besides its size, as a quarterback who can pass and run, a speedy halfback, a good punter, and a pretty fair defense. Dwayne Health, a 192-pound quarterback, completed five of 14 passes last week against Tascosa, for 82 yards, and also picked up some yardage running. Ends Tom Magoffin and Tom Truelson, who scored the Fort-Worth team's touchdown, are among his favorite receivers.

Len Brantley, 130, the team's speed merchant, is a threat as a pass receiver as well as a runner. Halfback Homer Price is, according to Woldt, an excellent punter and kickoff man, though he didn't run much with the ball.

Shocker Contest Cancelled; Junior Highs Play Thursday

Both of Pampa's junior high school football teams are slated to see action Thursday, but a scheduled Shocker game here against Phillips B team has been cancelled.

Shocker Coach Norman Phillips said the game was called off because the Phillips B squad had a conflicting schedule. Palo Duro B was to play them then at the same time as the Shockers, and they chose the Palo Duro game. The Pampa B team coach said that he has tried to get another game, without success.

Lester Ramsey's Lee Rebels are to host Dalhart Junior High at 4 p.m. Thursday in Harvester Park. The Rebels will be shooting for their second victory of the young season, after last week's 20-14 squaker over Shamrock's freshmen.

Carl Peeler's Pampa Junior High Reapers will be trying, for their first victory of the year against the White Deer B team, at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in White Deer.

Ramsey, who is deep in manpower at most positions, plans to start, either offensively or defensively, five boys who did not start last week. He expects to use at least 17 players on his offensive and defensive first team, in addition to possibly using his second team some.

Wilbur Walls, 155, has broken into the offensive lineup at the left guard spot. New defensive starters will be tackles John Osborne, 185 and Des Wright, 220; linebacks Dean Henderson, 165, and right cornerman Harry O'Neal, 130.

Ramsey expects to use all three of his quarterbacks, for a about equal amount of time. They are Howard Reed, Ronnie Chase, and Robert Pullen.

At Pampa Junior High the problem, as usual, is not deciding which player to use, but getting enough players to fill all 11 positions. Only 20 men are out for the squad.

Perry Thompson, the Reapers' first team fullback, is injured, and may be replaced by James Willeford.

Monte Morris, 175, the regular Arlington Heights fullback, was out with an injury in the Tascosa game. However, Woldt said that he may be ready to play in the Pampa game. He is reported to be a good power runner.

Curfman said that probably Pampa's only advantage over Arlington Heights is the home field. "Harvester Park may help us," said the Babe, "but it won't help us enough to make up for a bad ball game."

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Willie Besmanoff, a native of Germany who now fights out of Milwaukee, muscles in on some of the Brave's headlines tonight when he tangles with favored Eddie Machen in a 10-round nationally televised bout.

Machen, who has transferred his allegiance from San Francisco to Portland, is going after his sixth straight win in a comeback campaign which he launched this year after being flattened in the opening round last September by Ingemar Johansson.

Eddie is ranked fourth in the latest Ring Magazine listing while his opponent is not cited. But Besmanoff's camp claims this is all wrong.

Parilli, Boydston Among Those Dropped by Pro Football Teams

The Pittsburgh Steelers purchased tackle Byron Beams from Los Angeles, acquired halfback Bobby Luna from San Francisco for a future draft choice, and cut six players.

A handful of veterans, including end Max Boydston and quarterback Babe Parilli, and a half-dozen rookies were handed their walking papers Tuesday when National Football League teams cut their rosters to meet the 35-player limit.

Those who survived the axe will not be able to breathe easily until after next Tuesday when the squads must be cut once more to the new league level of 36 players.

The Green Bay Packers placed Parilli, their top draft choice in 1952, on the waiver list along with veteran tackle Tom Sadeck and rookie halfback Alex Hawkins of South Carolina.

Boydston, the Chicago Cardinals' No. 1 draft choice in 1954, was placed on the club's waiver list.

The Los Angeles Rams asked waivers on three players and placed defensive back Floyd Iglihart on the injured reserve list. Those released on waivers were guard Bob Reisnyder of Navy, Jim Jones, a defensive back from Washington and Fresno State halfback Darryl Rogers.

Linebackers Joe Robb of Texas Christian and Rommie Laudd of UCLA were released by the Chicago Bears.

The San Francisco Forty-Niners axed four from the squad—quarterback Bobby Newman of Washington State tackle Frank Gernia of Notre Dame, guard Hogan Wharton of Houston and end Tom Osborne of Hastings.

Veteran halfback Gene Gedman and three rookies were placed on waivers by the Detroit Lions.

Punting specialist Dick Doerschline was released by the Cleveland Browns, along with two rookies.

Defense — linebackers Dean Henderson, 145; and Wells; cornerman Harry O'Neil, 130, and Halfey; halfbacks Crease and Reed; ends Glover and Pitts; middle guard Clark; and tackles John Osborne, 185, and Des Wright, 220.

Lee 8th Graders To Open Thursday

Robert E. Lee's eighth graders open their 1959 football season Thursday at 3 p.m. on Harvester Park practice field, against Dalhart's eighth graders.

Bill Kennedy, the new Lee eighth grade coach, has 35 boys out for the squad. His team is deep in pin backs, with two complete starting backfields. However, he expects to use the same seven men on the line most of the time.

The eighth graders are divided into two teams, red and blue, with the blue team being slated for starting duty in the opener. Both teams when used, will play on both offense and defense.

The eighth graders will have a fairly heavy line, for a junior high team, at an average of about 150 pounds. Two linemen, tackles Gerald Rascoe and Keith Reimer, weigh about 200 pounds.

The backs are much lighter, ranging from 90 pounds to 130 in weight. Fullback Don Rexroad is the heaviest back, at 130. Kennedy rates right halfback Jimmy Lollar as his fastest back.

Kennedy has three good quarterbacks to pick from — Rickie Stewart, Clay Lively, and Bryan Martin. Stewart is regarded as a fine passer, and right end Mike Bridges is one of his best targets.

Kennedy expects to use his two backfields for about an equal amount of time in Thursday's game. The probable starters are as follows, with the names of both teams.

Quarterback Club Membership is 43

The Pampa Quarterback Club members for their loyalty in coming out after a losing game. "We have no chance at all of beating the White Sox," he said. "I think you have one of the all-time great teams."

Shooker assistant coach Deck Woldt gave a scouting report on Arlington Heights. He described them as a big but inexperienced team, with a good passing and running quarterback.

Woldt said, however, that fumbles hurt Arlington Heights in last week's 21-6 loss to Tascosa, and that they showed their inexperience. He said that their coach shifted several different players into some positions in an effort to find a suitable man. Woldt concluded by giving an individual summary of each Arlington Heights offensive and defensive starter.

Shooker Coach Norman Phillips and junior high coaches Earl Peeler and Lester Ramsey gave a brief report on each opening game, and urged club members to attend this week's games.

A film of the Wichita Falls game concluded the meeting. Refreshments were served afterward.

Quarterback Club members are Charlie Robison, S. B. Haralson, George Gann, M. W. Sealey, Henry Stephens, Don Stephens, Bill Martin, S. O. Dunham, H. B. Mitchell, J. C. Boyles, J. C. Scott, T. A. Breckenridge, WF Dominate Rankings

DALLAS (UPI)—If there was any doubt that Friday night's Breckenridge-Wichita Falls game was the No. 1 schoolboy grid clash of the season, the United Press International's Football Coaches Board Ratings made it as official as possible today.

For the 32 coaches making up the two boards there was only one dissenter to the agreement that the Coyotes and Buckaroos were the No. 1 teams in their respective divisions.

Breckenridge was a unanimous choice for the AAA top berth with 150 points, while the Coyotes got 15 out of 16 possible votes and

Chisox 'Number' Now 4; Giants In Crucial Series

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International

Get the champagne ready. Looie!

The White Sox may be asking you to pop the cork this week end. And by that time, the Giants should let you know definitely one way or the other.

For the White Sox, it's virtually all over but the gala formality of celebrating their "first" pennant clinching in 40 years. Their "magic number" now is down to four and for those whose mathematics may be a bit rusty, it simply means the Sox can wrap up the whole business by Friday night.

That was made possible when Cleveland fell 5 1/2 games behind Tuesday night by losing to Boston, 1-0, after the White Sox had won a 4-3 thriller from the Yankees.

Giants In Good Shape
The Giants are in good shape, too, although not quite in the commanding position the White Sox are. San Francisco is two games in front of both Milwaukee and Los Angeles, and the Giants meet the Braves in a two-game series at home starting today, then play host to the Dodgers in a three-game set.

Everything worked out perfectly for the Giants Tuesday. They crushed the Reds, 13-6, while the Dodgers beat the Braves, 8-7, in 10 innings.

The Giants hammered out 13 hits Tuesday in routing the Reds. They shelled rookie Jay Hook with a five-run burst in the first inning.

Reliever Don McMahon walked in the winning run in the 10th inning to enable the Dodgers to climb back into a second-place tie with the Braves.

Cards Trim Phillies
St. Louis defeated Philadelphia, 6-4, in the only other NL game played. The game between the Cubs and Pirates was postponed because of cold weather.

Ernie Broglio of the Cards gave up five hits in beating Ed Keegan for his seventh victory. Tim McCarver, 17-year-old rookie catcher, collected two of St. Louis' 10 hits and scored two runs.

The White Sox' victory over the Yankees marked the 34th game this season they won by one run. The White Sox scored three of their runs — including the winning one — with sacrifice flies to offset Mickey Mantle's 30th and 31st home runs.

Frank Malzone broke up a brilliant pitcher's battle between Tom Brewer of the Red Sox and Jim (Mudcat) Grant of the Indians. Malzone's ninth-inning single scored Pete Runnels from second base with the only run of the game.

Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm registered his 15th victory for the Orioles with a four-hit 2-1 triumph over the Tigers in 11 innings.

Washington and Kansas City split a twonighter, the Senators winning the opener, 1-0, on Camilo Pascual's three-hitter and the A's taking the nightcap, 6-2, on Johnny Kucks' five-hit effort.

Khrushchev's Visit

Our political leaders have made a decision to which they have bound the nation. America is playing host to a visit by the Russian chief, Nikita Khrushchev...

In a rather unique way, Khrushchev's visit provides an historic first. Never before that we can discover has the head of an imperialistic, war-threatening state consented to take the possible target of this attack under peaceful auspices...

Clearly, this event is a breaking with tradition. And time alone will tell whether this action on the part of our president in making welcome this man, who is in fact a symbol of all we despise and loathe is an act of bravery and wisdom or the very epitome of folly...

Something like a mammoth demonstration seems in order. But the nature and character of this demonstration is of the utmost importance...

Truculent Tyrant

The effort of the nation's labor bosses to take over this country is now moving into high gear. On August 13 of this year the Landrum-Griffin bill was voted in the Congress. The bill passed...

Labor bosses were in an uproar and promptly sent a letter to every Congressman in the United States who had favored this piece of legislation. The letter is a thinly veiled threat of political extermination...

Dear Congressman: Only you know, in the privacy of your own conscience, whether you carefully considered the possible consequences of the Landrum-Griffin bill when you voted for it on August 13, 1959...

Dear Congressman: Only you know, in the privacy of your own conscience, whether you carefully considered the possible consequences of the Landrum-Griffin bill when you voted for it on August 13, 1959...

We are going to suggest a demonstration nonetheless. And the demonstration we propose should be one conducted in utter silence and absence. Let us stay away from Khrushchev in large droves...

Let us treat him as the really fell about him as the he were persona non grata. And, as a final suggestion, perhaps we might attach to our front doors or windows a piece of black crepe as a symbol of the death of thousands who tried to trust this man to their ultimate undoing...

Let Mr. Eisenhower and Khrushchev confer in any way they please. Do we have to sanction it by our participation? Let the streets down which the Russian party will make its way be cleared of persons and remain as silent as a tomb...

Meanwhile, let us go on about our business. Let no heads be turned to stare; let no voices be raised even in interest or in questioning. A mammoth disposal not to participate in these political maneuverings is what all of us should feel.

A universal disinterest displayed with resolution is the proper dose of medicine at this time.

Summary Of Hebrew-Christian Law Of Love

Frederick Nymeyer sums up his second installment of the Hebrew-Christian Law of Love thus:

"In the second installment it was shown: (1) that each person himself is the standard on how much to love the neighbor; the neighbor is not the standard; (2) that pursuing your self-regarding interests is meritorious; (3) that the pursuit of your self-regarding interests involves your individual and personal values and choices and wishes, and that you do not pursue such interests if you do not have freedom in regard to these values and choices; and (4) that because freedom is your prerequisite to happiness and living the life of a human being, therefore your love to your neighbor is manifested by giving him the same freedom that you need, namely the right to pursue his individual and individualistic self-regarding interests."

Scriptural Corrections of Popular Errors Concerning Law Requiring Brotherly Love

Under the sub-heading of "Objections by Well-Meaning Christians to the Correct Law of Brotherly Love" Mr. Nymeyer continues as follows:

"We believe that nothing in the first two installments deviates from Scripture. Nothing has been added or subtracted from the basic law of brotherly love. 'But what, it will be demanded, is now left of that wonderful and glorious doctrine of brotherly love—of charity, of self-sacrifice, of loving-kindness, of serving one another, of that wonderfully warm and glowing feeling of which the hymns speak, of that indefinable and mystical something that Christians call love? Or, as the theologians may wish to express it, what is left of agape (ag' a pei) the ancient love feast that preceded the celebration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper..."

"The idea of agape love is ravishingly appealing to many people. But it is important to note that the idea of fervid, emotional attitudes from one to another is at best a high point in religion. It is not a sustained nor sustainable emotion or attitude or way of life. Obviously, it can be argued that it has its place; a crowd of young people who enjoy each other together and have a fine time; a crowd of Christians get together and have a fine time; neither phenomena represents much that is tangible as brotherly love; most people enjoy a crowd; most people like a sense of belonging. The subjective, emotional pleasure which comes from congregating together or of drinking too much together is not, we think, the essence of brotherly love. (It is hardly possible to treat of love wholly subjectively or wholly objectively. In this treatise we are treating love as something primarily objective and in the field of human action. But perforce it was necessary to treat it to a degree subjectively, as when discussing the motivations for action. Motivations being subjective phenomena. Love has some subjective characteristics: as compassion, mercy, etc. Those subjective phases are being reserved as largely outside the scope of this study. It is to the subjective phases that Nygren devoted special attention. He called this 'overbearing outbreak of an elected official mistakenly claiming to speak for the people.'"

The Pennsylvania Congressman referred to letters Carey wrote to all House Members who supported the Landrum-Griffin bill and said they "set a record for insolence, arrogance and stupidity." Carey told the Members organized labor would do all in its power to have them opposed for re-election. "This self-styled spokesman for the union bosses dared to threaten a majority of House Members with political reprisals because these Members performed their duty as they saw it, and voted to curb violence, acid-thriving, embezzlement and thugery in labor unions thru the medium of the Landrum-Griffin Bill, Mr. Simpson added.

"Carey might have frightened a faint heart here and there, but the majority of House Members will be glad to stand on a platform of grounds he wants to choose, legislative or political.

"For the Congress of the United States does not vote for or against legislation because of threats or pressure or urging by men of Carey's type and record. It legislates on behalf of all the people, including rank and file union members.

"Carey's assumption that his letter would frighten those who voted for the Landrum-Griffin bill is an insult as well to those who opposed it. It presumes to say that he and men like him can tell the Congress what to do."

Mr. Simpson termed the Carey letter "a classic example of attempted political intimidation." He added that when a union official undertakes to threaten a majority of the House and implies his control over the remainder of its Members "we have reached a dangerous point in American history."

"I believe that Carey's communication is almost without precedent. It carries the overtones of dictatorship that cannot help but infuriate every Member of Congress and every decent citizen.

"Carey calls the Landrum-Griffin bill punitive and repressive. And it must certainly be just that, when applied to evil, dishonest union leaders who ally themselves with hoodlums and gangsters. But it is not in the least punitive and repressive when applied to honest union leaders who do their best for their individual members."

"If the shoe fits, I suggest Mr. Carey should try it on for size."

The Allen-Scott Report

ROBERT S. ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott are on vacation. During their absence a distinguished medical scientist reports on the latest developments in the centuries-old struggle for a cure against colds—and some highly gratifying news about Asian flu.

REAL PROGRESS IN LABELING "COMMON COLD" CAUSES By DR. JUSTIN M. ANDREWS, Director, National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases of the world-renowned National Institutes of Health.

BETHESDA, Md. — Not long ago scientists studying "colds" placed a deep-freeze aboard a U.S. Navy ice breaker bound for remote Antarctica. This might seem analogous to shipping coils to Newcastle; but the freezer was necessary for preserving blood samples and other specimens from people in two isolated Antarctic communities.

These specimens should provide information on respiratory infections acquired in the remote communities after visitors from the outside world have introduced the germs prevalent elsewhere. Away from the crowds with their confusing cross infections, it is possible more clearly to discern the "battle tactics" of the respiratory microbes.

Respiratory infections are indeed prevalent in most communities. Twenty million people in the United States have "colds" on an average winter day. During the past Asian influenza epidemic year, 284 million acute respiratory illnesses—involving disability or medical attention were recorded. The annual medical bill for colds, pneumonia, influenza, croup, and the like is some $3 billion. Industry pays tribute of additional billions in lost productivity.

The effectiveness of our schools is also greatly impaired. The average individual suffering two to four respiratory attacks each year, hardly comprehends the immense toll of these diseases on our health and economy.

The problem of the cold is as complex as it is common. The "common cold" is really a group of diseases with similar combinations of symptoms—typically, headache, fever, runny eyes, stuffed-up nose, sore throat, and cough. These occur in varying degrees of severity.

Other upper respiratory diseases which appear superficially similar to the common cold present medical researchers with a variety of complicating problems. Scientists working in this field do not expect the sudden discovery of "the germ that causes colds; or of a vaccine that will immunize against all such illnesses; or of a cure-all medicine.

They do, however, see real progress in the identification of the causes of many such illnesses; in vaccines that have proved effective against certain of these; and in medicines that relieve some cold symptoms.

A considerable portion of respiratory infections are caused by viruses, smallest of microbes. These cell-parasites are so tiny that they are visualized only with the electron microscope. The different kinds of viruses may be identified by the way they affect living tissue grown in test tubes, or by the way they react with blood substances.

Such identifying tests are relatively new and complicated, time-consuming and expensive. Few medical centers are equipped to perform them, and they are not yet used routinely in diagnosing disease.

and so there can be no question that the definition of brotherly love presented up to this point is definitely incomplete and defective.

"What is added to the law of brotherly love in what follows is brotherly love in a reality in this world."

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — I don't want to throw the blame on anybody or anything, and when it comes to taking a walk in New York streets I'll walk as far and as often as anyone, but when a $9 pair of sandals from Greenwich Village leads to a violently new way of life, I quit. No more walks.

It was this way. My bride had a copy of the New Yorker, and didn't mind me reading it for people who don't live here, and she said: "I can get a pair of sandals made to my exact measure in the Village for $9 and the next time we are in the city I asked what I had to do with it. Wasn't she old enough to go get her own sandals? She said this exact measure"...

So we had lunch with a poet as rare and sparkling as vintage wine the other day and when he had gone his bright way, she said: "Today is a special day in Cathay on the Hudson." I said she was a had thief, because what O. Henry called it was Baghdad on the Hudson, but if she had to have a pair of sandals I was sport enough to go along.

"You don't know it," I said, "but this is a chance to revisit the areas of my yallow youth, since in the early '20's before my mind matured I lived in Greenwich Village. There were no beanstinks then or espresso houses or bums, but it was a green and splendid and lovely part of the town. Let's go."

We took a taxi to the sandal man who turned out to be a fellow with a lip and the apparent opinion that just everything was "divine." When he saw my bride's classic Grecian-heel-heel-heel-heel, dear Museum feet. Like the Greek statues. All those nice toes all the same length. Well, let's see what we can do to make you feel just divine." So I said, "I'll be seeing you, honey, down the block. I remember an old lantern oler who had a shop there."

An hour later she found me in Sam Kramer's jewelry store looking at some gold rings designed to resemble skulls in torment. She was pretty wrath about my disappearance until I explained that fellows who make sandals designed to make you feel just divine often enough make me feel a little ill and I couldn't help it a little what?

So she said, "Well, there is this wonderful new apartment thing called Washington Square Village. Let's go look at some apartments." I asked what for, because we have a house already. But she said, "Oh, come on, just for fun." So we went and it was all that she described: new, immaculate, roomy, air-conditioned and inviting. She found a one-bedroom, living room, bath and kitchen suite with a terrace 35 feet long running past the living room and bedroom windows and it was only $245 a month. Could we sell the house and move in?

"You happen to have a pair of daughters 15 years old," I said, "and what did you think you were going to do with them? Firm them out to the Yankees? This has one bedroom, not two; one bath, not two; and it is against the law in winter to make them sleep on the terrace."

"Well, with the money from the house we could send them off to private school," she said. "Only two more years and then the rest of the money would pay for their college and it's as simple as that. Let's telephone them."

We did. They were home. Have you ever heard a $100 stern let go when its wires become short-circuited? That was the sound when she told them we might sell the house and put them in private school and we'd take a little apartment in town. I will be amazed if they didn't hear the screech all the way to Fort Lauderdale. Or Menkato, Minn.

What it amounted to was "no." In a shrill, piercing note. "So we went home to a hot house on a humid Sound and sat in the considerable loss of weight. After it has existed for months or years, loss of appetite, nausea and vomiting and bloating of the abdomen frequently appear. Low fever and mental changes are not unusual. In the advanced case the diagnosis is fairly easy from the symptoms and special tests, but cirrhosis in its early stages is often hard to identify.

A much more helpful attitude toward treatment has developed in the past 20 years. Even for those who have moderately advanced trouble, rest in bed, the prohibition of alcohol, a diet rich in proteins, vegetables, vitamins supplement and drugs may bring great improvement. Also there are surgical procedures aimed at relieving some of the aunts of cirrhosis which may be helpful.

For those who have light or moderate involvement of the liver, if the condition can be recognized early and properly treated the outlook is pretty good on the average. Even for those with more advanced and serious cirrhosis proper dietary treatment and other measures usually help.

A sure method of preventing cirrhosis has not been devised, but an adequate diet would reduce the frequency of this condition. Certainly in some, alcohol is an important factor.

"What is added to the law of brotherly love in what follows is brotherly love in a reality in this world."

Politically Thinking While In Foreign Lands

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

STOCKHOLM — I find that when I am in some beautiful foreign capital I am inclined to sit in a room with my eyes on my work ignoring such sights as the outside my windows in the Strand Hotel, Strand meaning "shore" in this case, and concentrating on facts of political life which rarely are delightful. The Strand stands on an inlet of a complex archipelago and there are small passenger ships and shapely scooters tied up alongside the key both down in front and across the water, a quarter mile away. They come and they go quietly.

Yesterday there was a do about the queen along about noon when guns started banging to the total unconcern of every Swede within view. They just kept going, dodging ferocious taxis and trucks which drive to the left here, as in England, or covering behind posts and other traffic, because the Swedish drivers play for keeps. There is a naval plant down to the right, with stunted destroyers and miscellaneous gray moustaches, some apparently chafed for the seaward and I could give you a post-card travelogue, but that is not why I came here at vast expense.

I came here at vast expense to inquire about the Swedes' domestic politics, their unions, their government and their religious institution, which would be outrageous if it subsidized a state church and the clergy thereof who seem not to be doing a very good job because attendance is down, and SWEDISH INDIVIDUAL PATRIOTISM, some apparently chafed for the seaward and I could give you a post-card travelogue, but that is not why I came here at vast expense.

Pampa's E. S. Lowry Is Awarded Grade B Certificate

State health authorities have awarded E. S. Lowry of Pampa a Grade B "certificate of competency" in recognition of his skill and knowledge of water plant operation.

The certificate was awarded under Texas' general sanitation law that plants furnishing water to the public must be under the supervision of an operator who has proved his talent for the job in a written examination and has been certified by the Texas State Department of Health.

Lowry's newly won certificate will be valid for five years. After meeting certain requirements of experience and training, he will be eligible to try for higher certificate.

Grade B certificates are issued in specific fields of waterplant operation: administration, distribution, production, and quality control.

Applicants must successfully pass a written examination in their specialty field in addition to an examination covering such diverse subjects as water quality requirements, pumps, sanitation requirements, bacteriological analysis and pipe laying and maintenance.

Grade B certification requires a minimum of three years of experience, plus 80 "credits" earned by attendance at annual district and state water works short schools sponsored by the State Department of Health, A and M College Engineering Extension, Service and the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association.

AHEAD BY A WHISKER
LONDON (UPI) — John Todd of San Diego, Calif., came to town with an 18-inch mustache in search of an Englishman with a 19-inch mustache. Todd said he had heard there was an Englishman with a bigger mustache than his but that he is not worried because his own mustache expansion program is heading toward the 19-inch mark.

JUDICIAL REVERSAL
NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) — Robert Tait, 22, was disqualified Tuesday from driving for two years. When he told the magistrate's court he did not have train fare home, the court postponed his suspension until he drove the 156 miles back to Newcastle.

British Say Elections Won In Final Seven Days

By NORMAN RUNNION
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — A number of astute British politicians maintain that general elections here are won in the last seven days of the campaign.

If the Labor Party, which has been in opposition since 1951, hopes to return to power, it may change the picture in the Oct. 8 polling date that will do the job.

When Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced the election date last Sept. 8, labor's chances of winning looked dim.

But it would take only a slight shift of public opinion, or a sudden upsurge of labor voter interest, to change the picture in the next few weeks.

Labor lost the 1951 election, but its total vote was bigger than the Conservatives.

In 1955, 1,500,000 Labor voters stayed away from the polls, the total Labor vote was lower than the Conservatives, and the party lost the election by a total of 60 seats in the House of Commons.

Pollsters Still Puzzled
It is this 1,500,000 figure that is puzzling the pollsters, dimming Conservative optimism, and raising labor hopes.

If, as observers have pointed out, labor leader Hugh Gaitskell can get only a fraction of these abstentionists back in Labor's ballot box, the Conservatives might

Levine's Declares 10-Cent Dividend

Declaration of a dividend of ten cents per share of Levine's, Inc. Common Stock was announced by William Levine, Chairman of the Board. This is the second quarterly dividend declared on 1959 fiscal earnings. Payment will be made on October 4, 1959 to Stockholders of record September 14, 1959.

Levine advised that both sales volume and profits during the first six months of fiscal 1959 were significantly ahead of the same period in 1958, and that sales volume was the largest in the company's history for the first two fiscal quarters if any year since the firm began business.

The company has already opened four new stores this year in Texas and New Mexico. Four more stores, located in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, are being readied for opening, the first of which will be in Albuquerque, N.M., during the latter part of August.

Pain Varies With Color Of Patients' Eyes

Science Today
By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Incredible as this will sound to you, there may be a connection between the color of your eyes and whether or not you feel pain while a dentist is drilling into one of your teeth.

Science, always skeptical, finds the utterly incredible occasionally turns out to be perfectly true. For that reason, science is listening to Dr. Phillip R. N. Sutton, a dentist.

He had been drilling out dental cavities for 20 years before he got to thinking it was the blue-eyed patients who seldom cried out and the dark-eyed ones who often had to have novocaine before he could drill them.

You'll think that if this impression were true, it would have to be a coincidence. But Sutton had the confidence in his powers of observation to put them to the acid test of statistical analysis.

Pain Varies With Color
He kept two sets of records for the next 403 persons in whom he drilled. The first record was of whether they felt pain at all and if so, whether it was moderate or severe enough to require novocaine.

The second record was of the color of their eyes, across the entire spectrum of eye colors. This spectrum ranges from dark brown to blue. Between the poles are brown, light brown, hazel, green, grey-green, green-grey, and blue-grey.

By merging the two sets of records in a statistical "curve," he found that the degrees of pain from no pain to a lot of pain, fitted the intensity of eye-coloring in reverse, from blue down to dark brown.

To put his results into percentages, 53 per cent of the 403 who had dark brown eyes requires an injection of a pain-killer before they could be drilled.

Records Both Agreed
Of those with light brown eyes, 30 per cent had to have it. But in patients with greyish-green, green and hazel eyes the percentage went down to 13, and it was only 2 per cent in patients with
