An 80,000 barrel crude oil storage tank exploded about 10:45 a.m. today on the Texas Pipe Line Co. lease six miles east of Lefors, injuring three workmen.

Injured and in "critical" condition at Highland General Hospital are Thurman Humphrey, foreman for the Shaw Tank Cleaning Co. of Houston, and Houston Floyd. The third man, Eddie Burger, is listed as in fair condition. All the men are from Houston.

At 12:30 a.m. officials at the Texas Co. offices in Pampa had only scant details of the explosion. Company district clerk, R. M. Barrett, said the huge tank was still burning.

It was reported at 1 p.m. from the scene that the fire had been brought under control. There were 2,000 barrels of crude in the tank at the time of the explosion.

A. R. Elms, engineer on duty at the plant, said that the crew was preparaing to clean out the tank when a gasoline engine ran out of gas, backfired and set fire Pampa's assistant fire chief, J. V. Pirkle, who with Chief J. E. Winborne answered the call at 10:40 this morning, said that there was no danger when they left the scene about 12:30. The Lefors disaster unit brought the injured men to Pampa.

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Charles Van Doren admitted today that his 14 money-winning TV quiz show appearances were rigged even to the point of following a script written in advance.

Van Doren, who won $129,000 on the now defunct "21" show, told a House subcommittee that Producer Alfred Freedman supplied him with questions, and with some of the answers, before each of his appearances.

present living standards. To continue working 40 hours a week with improved production methods is to have more of everything that people want.

With freedom in the market place for determining wages and prices no one need fear automation. The worst that could happen would be that men would have to shift occupations and sometimes learn new trades but there would always be a demand for their labor and at constantly rising living

The steam engine didn't reduce employment. It just made possible greater production so that all of us could live better. All the improvements in production that have been made the past century and longer have not reduced total employment for there are more gainfully employed workers today than ever before in the history of the world. That fact alone proves that automation will not reduce total employment. As improved methods of production are developed, we have the choice of more leisure or a higher standard of living. Some may prefer one, some the other. All should be free to choose as they wish. If a man can live well enough to suit himself by working half time or a third of the time, that is his priv-
