COSMIC CONGESTION — Before Tuesday's successful moon shot by the United States, Russia sent a rocket around the moon. If it stays in orbit Russia will have two earth satellites as against nine American. Both countries have satellites circling the sun.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A complex earth satellite leaped into orbit and two big missiles soared hundreds of miles Tuesday in one of America's most dazzling assaults to date on space and its fringes.

The 91.5-pound satellite launched by a 60-ton Juno II rocket, was sandwiched between successful edge-of-space shots by a Thor IRBM and an air-launched ballistic missile (ALBM).

The ALBM was fired from a B-47 bomber toward the general direction of the Explorer VI "Pardewheel" satellite as the moonlet

Space Flight Details Out

LANGLEY FIELD, Va. (UPI) — The government space agency has revealed details of a space flight project that it hopes will put two Americans on the moon's surface in six or eight years.

The men would ride in a three-ton space capsule "containing their life support system." They would make the trip in about 2 1/2 days and stay on the moon about 12 days conducting scientific experiments.

The flight, now only in the theoretical stage, would be made by combining a series of rockets, the first of which is being developed by the Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced last Jan. 9 that it had awarded a 102 million dollar contract to North American for development of a rocket with 1,500,000 pounds of thrust.

NASA said Tuesday "it will take four or five years to complete development of a 1,500,000 pound thrust engine."

"The construction of a vehicle employing these engines in cluster is expected to take another two or three years," it said. "For a manned lunar expedition and return, a five- or six-stage vehicle would be used."

Day Of Selling Clinics Begin

"One Great Day of Selling" for Pampa opened today with Fred A. Palmer, sales consultant from Columbus, Ohio, as instructor, according to Lucian Young, chairman of chamber of commerce merchants committee.

Palmer spoke at a 10 a.m. high school assembly today and to the Rotary club at noon.

He will conduct two clinics today at junior high school. The first is scheduled for 3 p.m. with the second at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $3 for a single session and $5 for both sessions. Interested persons may buy tickets at the door.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hardware.

Jolly Good For Good Humor Man

BUXTON, England (UPI) — Britain's good humor men may lose their good humor when they hear this one—

Addressing the annual conference of the Ice Cream Alliance, C. T. Heinlein said under a new code, ice cream sellers who use vehicles will be recommended:

—To use musical chimes which will not sound more frequently than every five minutes.

—To be sure the chimes sound only for five seconds at a time.

—Never to increase the volume of the chimes.

—And to observe a "curfew" of 7 p.m. after which times chimes should be kept at a minimum.

Macmillan In Reshuffle Of Government

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan completed a broad reshuffle of his government today including appointment of a new defense minister.

Harold Watkinson, minister of transport in Macmillan's last cabinet, was given the defense post.

He replaced Duncan Sandys, son-in-law of Sir Winston Churchill, who was transferred to the new job of minister of aviation.

The three top jobs were untouched.

Home Secretary Richard A. Butler, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Chancellor of the Exchequer Derrick Heathcoat-Amory kept their jobs.

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd, who had been sharply criticized for the Cyprus revolt, Nyassaland disorders and a prison camp massacre in Kenya, resigned, it was announced. He was replaced by former Minister of Labor Iain Macleod.

The Ministry of Transport and Civil Aviation, previously held by Watkinson, was split into two parts—a Ministry of Transport and a Ministry of Civil Aviation.

A new job of minister responsible for scientific affairs was created. It was given to Lord Hallam, chairman of the Conservative Party, who at the same time received the sinecure post of Lord Privy Seal.

President Is 69 Today

ABILENE, Kan. (UPI) — President Eisenhower speeds by jet plane back to Washington today for a quiet 69th birthday dinner at the White House with his slightly ailing wife and other members of the family.

The Chief Executive flew Tuesday to Abilene, his boyhood home, for ground-breaking ceremonies on the site of the new three-million-dollar Eisenhower presidential library.

He was accompanied by his brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of John Hopkins University.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that when Eisenhower returns to the White House shortly after noon (e.d.t.), he was expected to spend part of the afternoon in his office before the strictly family observance of his birthday.

The President had no intention of holding a news conference in Washington today, but the White House did not close the door on a presidential meeting with reporters later in the week.

Evening Kiwanis Elects Officers

New officers were elected at the meeting of the Evening Kiwanis Club Tuesday in the Pampa Hotel.

They are Charles Wilkerson, president; John McCaustland, vice president; Dr. R. Thompson, second vice president; C. R. Howard, secretary; and Bill Fry, treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were Tom Bates, Don Bird, Bruce Campbell, Ed Miller, Bill Tidwell, O. G. Trimble and Herb Whitener.

H. E. Stanfield is past president. Bob Armstrong, chairman of the business affairs committee, announced that he would be leaving Pampa to make his home in Woodward, Okla. He is associated with Duenkel-Carmichael here.

Four Top O' Texas members will attend the charter night banquet at the newly formed Tascosa Club, the 300th club in the Texas-Oklahoma District.

They are H. E. Stanfield, Herb Whitener, Dr. T. Thompson and Charles Wilkerson.

Industry Not Going To 'Buy' Steel Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chief industry negotiator C. Conrad Cooper said today "no agreement will be possible" in the three-month-old steel strike unless the union accepts the companies' "non-inflationary" wage offer and changes in working conditions.

Cooper told a presidential fact-finding hearing the steelmakers "are not willing to buy peace at the price of making agreements which will continue to promote inflation and which will prevent them from taking reasonable steps to improve the efficiency of their businesses."

The spokesman for the 12 biggest steel firms told the three-man fact-finding panel that "unhappily" the companies and the steelworkers "are not even in agreement as to what the basic issues are." He blamed the union for the impasse.

This supported the statement of George W. Taylor, chairman of the fact-finders, that it would take a major miracle to break the deadlock before the Friday deadline for the panel to report to President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, acting under the Taft-Hartley law, was expected to direct the Justice Department to seek a court order directing the 500,000 strikers to return to their jobs for an 80-day "cooling-off" period.

Cooper, in a 21-page prepared statement, denounced the wage demand as "highly inflationary" and a "something-for-nothing settlement." He said that although the union describes its demand as an annual 1 1/2 cents an hour raise over two years, it actually would amount to 20 cents or more each year.

Cooper branded as "just plain hogwash" the union charge that company demands for changes in work rules would "break" the union. On the contrary, he said, the union demands would break the companies "by so inflating the cost of American steel that there will no longer be a market for it either at home or abroad."

He said the steel industry in Little Rock in 1957 did not discourage industry from localizing in Arkansas, despite reports to that effect from other sources.

He produced charts showing 9,471 new jobs in 1958 as a result of incoming business, 11,424 in 1957, a drop to 5,780 in 1958 when he explained all of the South was in a recession, and a prediction by experts that 1959 will be the best industrial year in Arkansas history.

Faubus did not give statistics on Little Rock alone. One industrial research organization, however, had figures showing there was no new business in the Arkansas capital for two years during the school crisis.

Faubus, chairman of the governor's industrial development committee, said "one of the biggest news events of the South — and largely an untold story" — is the recent surge of industrial progress. He said more than 1,000 plants per year are being added.

The Faubus report, delayed from Tuesday while the governor had charts prepared showing conditions in his strike-ridden state, was among the final acts of the four-day conference.

After resolutions and election of officers—expected to include Gov. Lindsay Almond of Virginia as chairman—the session will adjourn until next year's meeting at Hot Springs, Ark.

Governors Hear Industry Report

ASHERVILLE, N.C. (UPI) — Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus told the Southern Governors Conference today that the "sleeping giant" of southern industry has awakened and is taking long strides in improving the region's economy.

300 Flee Homes As Wind Threatens

LA CANADA, Calif. (UPI) — More than 1,000 men massed today around the 14-mile perimeter of an out of control brush fire which destroyed one $100,000 home and caused an estimated 300 residents to flee their expensive foothill homes.

Some 150 homes north of here in Alta Canyada were threatened early today by the wind-driven flames; but determined firemen aided by residents wielding garden hoses managed to save all but one.

Residents who had to flee their homes remained away for the most part in fear that suddenly shifting winds would sweep the flames back through the area.

The fire raged since Tuesday afternoon in the Angeles National Forest just north of this suburban Los Angeles city threatened for a time the Jet Propulsion Laboratory. Firemen reported however, they were now holding their own in the area where the pioneer space research lab is located.

Blustery, desert winds of up to 40 miles an hour plagued firemen throughout the night. The weather bureau saw no relief for today and tonight.

Most troublesome spot of the blaze after dawn was on its southeastern flank where flames jumped fire lines and ate into lush undergrowth and trees of the prime watershed area of the city of Pasadena.

Four firemen were injured, two seriously, and numerous more were treated for burns, officials reported.

Air tankers toting a water-borate solution joined firefighters in helping to squelch the blaze by "bombing" hot spots.

The $100,000 home destroyed belonged to contractor Guy F. Atkinson. Some cabins and out-buildings were reported ruined by flames, but no other homes.

The billowing fire was whipped (See FIRE, Page 3)

Harvester Band Back From Dallas

Pampa High School Harvester Band members will return today from Dallas where they participated in the music festival sponsored by the State Fair of Texas.

The 96-member band was in a mass concert at the Cotton Bowl Tuesday.

The festival included top bands from all over the state. Pampa represented this region as being a sweepstakes band — first division band in concert, sight reading and marching.

They are scheduled to return here between 6 and 7 p.m.

RC Nursing Class To Open Oct. 19

An American Red Cross home nursing class on the care of sick and injured will begin Oct. 19 in the Red Cross nursing room, basement of city hall.

Sessions will be from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Mrs. R. A. Jenkins, instructor, said that seven persons have registered for the class and there is room for three or four more.

Thirty-two skills will be taught during the class periods which are designed to make home nursing easier. Persons attending the classes will receive credit on Parent Teacher Association, study course.

Van Doren To Accept Service Of Subpena In TV Investigation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Television quiz-whiz Charles Van Doren agreed to accept service of a subpoena today ordering him to appear before a congressional subcommittee investigating the rigging of television quiz shows.

U. S. Marshal Thomas J. Lunney said he expects to serve the subpoena on the former champion of the defunct quiz show "21" "probably in Manhattan."

Van Doren, a 33-year-old Columbia University English instructor, was catapulted to fame by his display of intellectual prowess during his appearance on the show in 1956-57.

He amassed a $129,000 fortune in winnings before he was "defeated" and a new champion declared. In addition to his winnings, the scion of one of America's great intellectual families also was given a $30,000 a year contract with the network (NBC).

Van Doren became directly involved in the House subcommittee on legislative oversight's hearings when one-time contestant Herbert Stemple testified he took a dive to permit Van Doren to succeed him as champion.

Van Doren immediately sent a telegram to the subcommittee stating his willingness to testify and then disappeared. In the telegram he stated he had never been supplied with questions and answers and had received no assistance.

Committee Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) accepted Van Doren's offer and invited him to testify.

When Van Doren failed to appear, Harris personally issued the subpoena ordering him to appear to answer the subcommittee's (See VAN DOREN, Page 3)

Stalin Ghost Haunts Nikita

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials believe that any effort by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to bring back the late Josef Stalin's terrorist rule would mean the downfall of Khrushchev.

The keenest American observers of Soviet affairs believe the West is only beginning to see the consequences of Khrushchev's abolition of mass terror.

If Russia continues to become more normal internally, they feel, there is official hope that the West can eventually work out some of its problems with Soviet leaders.

More and more, they say, Khrushchev and Soviet leaders must answer to the will of the Soviet public. There will be no democracy in Russia, they believe, but each step of freedom necessarily leads to another.

These observers are convinced that Khrushchev cannot set back the clock to 1952 when Stalin held the Soviet Union in an iron grip. If he tries, they say, it will be the end of Khrushchev.

Pair Slain On Mexican Road

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI) — Army troops and federal and state officials searched throughout northeastern Mexico today for a mysterious motorist who killed two members of a prominent Monterrey family and critically wounded a third.

The dead are Maria Perez, 20, and her brother, Juan Manuel Perez, 13.

Hilda Hermilia Perez, 21, is in critical condition in a hospital here.

They were discovered early Tuesday by their brother, Monterrey dentist Paul Perez, when he returned to the roadside area with a wrecker-car.

He had left the three others at a point known as "El Oasis" on the Monterrey-Laredo highway when their car developed engine trouble.

The four were on their way to Monterrey from San Antonio, Tex. at the time. Hilda Hermilia, who has five bullet wounds, four in her chest, and one in the jaw, told police that the three were waiting for their brother when a man they did not know drove up, got out of his car, walked to theirs, and offered them a ride.

SEWER LINE FIELD CREW — One of the larger city sewer line projects in recent years will get underway Nov. 1 in Pampa when the Walter D. Bellamy Co. of Monahan begins laying five miles of line. The project, costing taxpayers $147,862, will take four to five months to complete. Seen above setting grade stakes for the line is the field crew for Roberts, Merriman, Bowden and Isbell, from left, Frank Willard, Don Willard and Don Stafford. In the background is the Coronado Inn, one of several additions to be served by the new line. The line will extend from southeast Pampa to the disposal plant, with one arm extending across the hotel property. (Daily News Photo)

TOMORROW'S AMAZING WORLD — "The people of the world are growing up scientifically but not emotionally," James H. Jaycees Have Busy Day

Pampa's Jaycees had a very busy day Tuesday. Twenty-five of them attended the United Fund kickoff breakfast at Robert E. Lee Junior High School, and were issued pledge envelopes and urged to bring in several contributions. Later, at their noon luncheon meeting, they heard a brief talk by Harvester Coach Babe Curfman; heard a report on the progress of work at Aspen Park, and were shown an article about Pampa in a National Red Cross journal.

Curfman told the Jaycees how much he has enjoyed coaching the Harvesters this year, and enumerated a few mistakes which he hoped to correct. The Jaycees expressed their appreciation to Curfman for "doing an excellent job with the Harvesters." They said that Curfman is doing more than building a good football team—that he is helping to develop some fine citizens.

A work committee, headed by Jake Osborne, reported that 10 pickup loads of rock have been delivered to the rock garden at Aspen Park. Osborne urged anyone who had rocks which might be used in the garden, to contact him at Pampa Lumber Co., 1125 Cinderella.

Martha Marsh and Zip Hall, two representatives from the Red Cross, showed the Jaycees an article in the recent Red Cross magazine, featuring Pampa. This city received more than a full page spread in the magazine.

Dr. Carl C. Byers, Cleveland, Ohio, will be the speaker. Mrs. Maxine Milliron will provide the dinner music. Reservations for 450 have been made. There are still a few tickets left, but these are going fast and will probably be sold out by Thursday, according to E. O. Wedgeworth, Chamber manager.

Fire

(Continued from Page 1) through the dry area at tremendous speeds by hot desert winds of up to 35 and 40 miles an hour, firefighters reported. Additional firefighters were rushed into the area, swelling the number of men on fire lines to more than 500. Firemen were brought in from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale and surrounding counties and states.

A temporary shelter has been set up for the homeless at the Flintridge Preparatory School here. The fire, feeding on dry brush and scrub oak, cracked to within half a mile of Cal Tech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

"We're missing equipment between the lab and the fire," said County Chief Fire Dispatcher Norm Lavigne. "We're not taking any chances." Jet Propulsion Lab helped develop the Explorer satellite series, America's first successful satellites.

He said the blaze also was within half a mile of expensive homes in Alta Canada, just above this city in the hills. Angeles Forest Fire Control Officer Jay Peterson said he feared the fire could last for "two or three days." The county Fire Department said 200 more firefighters were being flown in today from Arizona and New Mexico.

Country Nears Worst Steel Supply Crisis

NEW YORK (UPI) — An enforced return of striking steelworkers to the mills under the Taft-Hartley Act will not prevent "complete chaos" in steel markets, Iron Age magazine said today. The country already is rearing the worst steel shortage in its history and any injunction now, at best, can only prevent steel supplies from dropping up completely, the trade publication said.

It would come too late to head off additional layoffs and no one in the industry is "under any illusion" that an enforced truce will produce peak effort by the steelworkers, Iron Age said. An 80-day resumption of operations will result in only about 50 days of full steel production, the magazine said, explaining that there will be a lag in refiring the furnaces and filling the mills' own pipelines.

Iron Age estimated that steel inventories have dwindled to about 7 million tons and that steel shipments could not reach top volume until from four to six weeks after the steelworkers go back to the mills.

Some mills, it added, still be unable to maintain full operations in January and February because of lack of Great Lakes iron ore that has been strike-bound during the ice-free shipping season. Some steel shortages will persist through the first six months next year or longer, cutting into auto output, the magazine estimated.

The auto industry, which normally consumes from 15 to 20 percent of all steel output will be trying to grab off 25 to 30 percent of available steel to achieve its ambitious fall and winter production goals, it said. This would further tighten the steel pinch for other industries, the magazine pointed out.

W. A. Miller Dies Of Heart Attack

Funeral arrangements are pending for Willard Mathew Miller, 50, who died at his home, 726 Sloan, this morning at 7:45 from a heart attack. Services will be announced later by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Mr. Miller, an engineer for Slickly Oil Co., was born in Ellis County, Okla., and came to Pampa in 1949 from Higgins, where he had been engaged in farming and the grocery business.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Cecile Miller, one daughter, Carol Rose Miller, student at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene; one brother, Harry of Shattuck, Okla.; one sister, Mrs. Dorothy Fiskin of Tonkawa, Okla.; his mother, Mrs. Helen Miller also of Tonkawa.

SANDS SHIFTING

LONDON (UPI) — Rear Adm. K. St. B. Collins, Royal Navy hydrographer, today warned that the southern tip of the treacherous Goodwin Sands off Britain's southeast coast has moved more than one-half mile in the past 11 years. The 36-square-mile bank of shifting sands has been a graveyard for international shipping.

'This I Saw'

"A man, wife, five children and an elderly man arrived in Pampa on their way home in a northwestern state. They were without funds... had not eaten for two days... and their car was out of commission. Your Salvation Army fed them, gave them beds for a nights rest, saw to the repair of their car, and gave them a small sum of money to see them on their way. The older man was ill, the younger had been without work. Theirs was an involved story, but the only important thing was reflected in the faces of those children. As they ate plain, but ample food, life came back into their eyes... their faces... their smiles. Pampa may not be the best known city in the nation, but to these eight people, you are a city with a heart. "And, this I saw... in your town."

Envoy H. C. Seago, Salvation Army

Lucy, Ethel Split After Show Dives

HOLLYWOOD
By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — For nine years Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance were a set — you rarely saw one without the other on TV, but with "I Love Lucy" taking a dive the girls are going their separate ways.

With Lucy it's easy. She can sit back and clip coupons from the profitable Desilu Corp. Which she and Desi Arnaz own.

Red-haired Vivian is well off too. Residuals from reruns of more than 200 "Lucy" shows bring her a tidy income. Still, TV's Ethel Mertz wants to continue her career on her own.

To lose her identity as the wacky, scatter-brained Ethel, Vivian has just completed a dramatic role in a horse opera, "The Deputy."

"The role is a far cry from that biddy Ethel," Vivian laughed. "The woman I portray is a strong individualist who rides horses and drives buggies. It's given me a new lease on life."

"In all the nine years I was with 'Lucy' I never appeared in a movie or TV show. Toward the end I thought I was getting tired of acting, but I was just weary of the same role. From now on I hope never to be seen wearing a Marcel and house dress."

Vivian wasn't being disloyal to the show. She happily admits the program has made her financially independent for life.

"You'd think after all those years people would call me Ethel, but I'm seldom recognized. Off screen I look entirely different." She has one more hour-long she smiled. "However, I'll be delighted when audiences realize I'm not really married to Bill Frawley, who played Fred Mertz on the show."

A close friend of Lucille off-screen, Vivian and her madcap buddy are planting an hour-long TV musical with Vivian playing second banana.

"I learned my comedy early in life on the stage working with such greats as Ed Wynn, Victor Moore, Bob Hope, Jimmy Durante and Bill Gaxton," Vivian said. "I think it's the most difficult part of acting."

"Right now I'm hoping to star in my own series. The pilot already has been filmed. It's the story of a couple who open a dude ranch in New Mexico. We've titled it 'Guestward Ho' with Lefty Erickson co-starring."

No Vivian Vance is back in circulation, free of Ethel Mertz forever — or almost, anyhow. "Lucy" show to go and then she is on her own.

DOUBLE TROUBLE—Brian and Brent Heller, 20-month-old identical twins, are alike in more ways than one. Both must go to the hospital to undergo operations to correct similar heart defects. The case is said to be a medical rarity. They're the sons of Eugene and Esther Heller of suburban Cleveland, Ohio. The boys look none too-happy about it all as mommy holds them for the photographer.

Pampa Write-Up In Red Cross Mag

An article on the Pampa Junior Red Cross appears in this month's American Junior Red Cross Journal. Pampa is one of seven cities in the United States to be featured in articles in the magazine throughout the year.

Pampa is one of the smaller cities to be selected for these articles. Title of the article is "Top O' Texas Pampa," by Lois Johnson, who spent a week here last spring gathering material.

Copies of the journal will be sent to a President of the United States and to the governor of Texas and other high officials throughout the country.

Included in the article is an explanation of the outstanding growth of the local Junior Red Cross during the past five years, giving credit for this growth to Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of Pampa Chapter of American Red Cross.

The article also explains many of the year-round activities here in Junior Red Cross. These include overseas exhibit packets, radio promotion, campaign against litter in Pampa High School, water safety aides in training for summer swimming program and many others.

It also points out that Pampa Junior Red Cross is a steady flow of service.

MOON FILM BID

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A television producer bid a million dollars today for the film and photographs of the dark side of the moon taken by Russia's Lunik III. David L. Wolper, seeking exclusive rights to the films for his "Race For Space" TV show, said he is dealing with the U.S.S.R.'s film representatives, Sovexport Films and Arthino Pictures.

Red Cross To Send Gifts

Pampa Chapter of American Red Cross has been invited to send Christmas gifts to the William Beaumont Army Hospital in El Paso, according to Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of Pampa Chapter.

Mrs. Shotwell said the chapter has in years past sponsored Christmas on the High Seas for servicemen who are on board ship during the holidays, but this has been assumed by the seaboard chapters.

Lefors Senior A Semifinalist In Scholarship Test

Miss Carolyn Harvey, Lefors High School senior, has been named semifinalist in the 1959-60 National Merit Scholarship competition, according to Keith Geisler, school counselor.

She is among 10,000 of the highest scorers on the qualifying test, the nationwide test of educational development given in more than 14,500 high schools last spring.

Miss Harvey outscored 55,000 others and thus moved a step closer to the goal of winning one of the coveted merit scholarships to be awarded in the 1959-60 program.

The group of 10,000 semifinalists is composed of the highest scorers in each state, prorated according to state population.

Semifinalists take another rigorous three-hour examination, the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, which will further confirm their high scores.

This second test is to be given throughout the United States on Dec. 5. Those who repeated high scores on this second test will become finalists.

Finalists will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by an estimated 100 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, individuals and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Names of the merit scholars will be announced May 1.

All finalists will receive certificates of merit attesting to their high ability, and all colleges and universities will be notified, thus enabling these students to be considered for a wide range of other awards.

In view of the change, Pampa Chapter is sending gifts to the El Paso Hospital.

There are many long term patients who will remain in the hospital during the Christmas holidays, Mrs. Shotwell added.

She also said clubs and individuals who would like to include a serviceman on their Christmas list may send gifts through the Pampa Chapter. Approximately 400 gifts are needed with Pampa's quota set at 25.

Suggested gifts are pocket secretary or leather address book, flashlights with batteries, ornamental key rings, T-shirts with size marked on package, stretch socks, ties, boxed handkerchiefs, cigarette lighters, identification bracelets, pocket photo albums, ball point pens or toilet articles, not toothbrushes, or tooth paste.

Perishable items should not be sent due to the lapse of time before patients receive them. Reading materials and games are furnished by the hospital.

Impressive Rites Install New FHA Candidates

A formal initiation service for new members was conducted by the Letors Chapter of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America at a meeting held recently in the high school auditorium under the direction of the advisor, Mrs. Oola Nowlin.

Miss Barbara Halley, chapter president, presided on the stage in a setting of a white draped table with an arrangement of red roses, red and white candles.

Miss Linda Robinson, vice president, assisted with the initiation of the new candidates, who were guided to the stage by Misses Margie Nichols, Patricia Berry, Martha Carter, Betty Sue Lewis, Pat McDowell and Paula Cumberland.

Miss Barbara McDowell, president, played the "Star Spangled Banner" as the flag was presented for honor by Misses Diana Chase and Lanell Price, followed by the singing of the FHA Prayer song led by Miss Jan Atkinson, club song leader.

THE EMBLEM of the organization was explained by Mary Barron. Amy Earhart, Judy Laas, Penny Boyd, Karen Carruth, Joyce Malone, LeeAnn Pafford, Beverly White, and Clara Williams. As each girl explained a part of the emblem, that section was placed on an easel. When the parts were finished a complete FHA emblem was displayed on the easel.

THE COLORS of the organization were given and explained by Glenda Shirley as she placed the red and white ribbon on the easel with the emblem. She stated that red is for courage and firm determination to succeed and white for purity and integrity of youth.

Madonna Jordan then gave another symbol of the organization, the RED ROSE and placed it on the easel. "It reminds each member of vibrant, glowing, health which contributes to happiness and efficiency in home and group life," she said.

THE EIGHT PURPOSES OF FHA, were given by Dorris Halley, Georgie Wooten, Koala Lisenber, Carol Brantel, Oweida Jernigan, Sharon Brock, Sue Phillips, and Ruth Martin.

Ann Stubblefield explained that through the national, state and local chapters an effort to improve personal, family, and community living may be felt by our Nations Citizens and throughout the world. Misses Karen Cumberland, Sandra Elms, and Barbara Smiley explained the Junior Chapter, and State Degrees of Achievement.

Following the ceremony, the president declared the candidates members and each was given an emblem to be worn over the heart.

An Honorary Membership to the local FHA Chapter was presented to Miss Norma Lantz by the chapter. Barbara Halley, president, and Karen Priest, secretary were the conferring officers. Honorary membership in the Future Homemakers of America is awarded only to those who have helped to advance the homemaking program and has rendered outstanding service to the organization, they explained. Miss Lantz was presented the pin of the Future Homemakers of America and the symbol of honorary membership in FHA. She has served 9 years as advisor to the local chapter while teaching homemaking in high school.

The meeting was adjourned by singing "Sing Your Way Home." After the meeting, a get-acquainted time was held, and refreshments were served in the newly re-decorated homemaking room, for the mothers and friends present. The refreshment table was covered with a white cutwork cloth, over red centered with an arrangement of red roses in a crystal bowl. Other table appointments were of crystal. Punch, assorted open-face sandwiches, and minis were served to about 95 members and guests.

Mrs. Paul Evans Hostess To Class

The TEL class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Paul Evans recently with Mrs. Aubra Bentley, president, presiding.

Mrs. Paul Malcolm, led a discussion on "Christian Foundation." Attending were Meses, Aubra Bentley, Paul Malcolm, Ed Little, Tom Masters, Jack Graham, Earl Kelly, Everett South, Carl Wyatt and the hostess.

She compared the high cost of living here as compared to Brazil; the friendliness of the people in the USA and how quickly things are done.

"The language that is spoke in Brazil is Portuguese. It is the only country in South America that speaks this language. All of the schools are taught in Portuguese with the exception of a very few American schools there. The schools have only five grades and to continue into high school, an examination is given and those who qualify may go on to high school.

"As to food," Mrs. Searight continued, "it is much like our own. Meat is expensive and you have to grind your own if you want it that way. Canned food, on the other hand, is very expensive and there is no such thing as frozen food or juices.

Mrs. Searight, who lives with her family about 300 miles inland, described Teresina as a town of about 90,000 population and stated that she enjoys living there and is looking forward to returning in December, 1960.

She outlined the needs of missionaries to carry on their work successfully and informed the group that an encampment ground has just been finished and now facilities are needed to use it. "We have a very small building for a church and the average attendance is from 80-100 peoples, so we hope to have a larger building. The school is also inadequate. There is a grade school and high school with about 420 pupils enrolled. One group has to come in the morning, while the others have to wait until they are finished with their work. All pupils use the same little table and chairs. English is taught in the primary grade and is optional, but it is required in high school."

Mrs. Searight stressed that all of this work, as well as all foreign mission work is being carried on with contributions to the Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

Mrs. R. L. McDonald, W.M.U. president, conducted an executive board business meeting prior to the general meeting. Prayers were offered by Mrs. L. V. Hopp and Mrs. Gene Grace.

Three new board members were introduced, Mrs. T. J. Stark as magazine chairman, who asked that members wishing to subscribe or renew subscription to the National PTA or Texas PTA magazines may contact her at 224 Powell; Mrs. J. D. Weeks, as legislative chairman and Mrs. Sheila Williams, as new music chairman.

It was voted to send the president and one other delegate to it by ounces that you can set up boundaries of a summer breeze or calculate the fragrance of a rose. Home is the love, which is in it."

Members adjourned to school rooms, where each teacher met the parents and discussed teaching methods.

Baptist Missionary In Brazil Describes Work For Women's Missionary Meeting

Mrs. Kessie Mae Searight, a Baptist Missionary in Teresina, Brazil, presented the program for the Women's Missionary Union on Wednesday in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Searight, who first went to Brazil at the age of 22, has lived there for three-year intervals since 1952. She spoke on "Impressions of the United States."

Mrs. Searight stated that the people of Brazil are not as large as those in the United States and their coloring varies from blonde hair, fair-skinned to very dark people. "There are no television sets and very few air conditioners there. The schools are opened just half a day."

She compared the high cost of living here as compared to Brazil; the friendliness of the people in the USA and how quickly things are done.

"The language that is spoke in Brazil is Portuguese. It is the only country in South America that speaks this language. All of the schools are taught in Portuguese with the exception of a very few American schools there. The schools have only five grades and to continue into high school, an examination is given and those who qualify may go on to high school.

"As to food," Mrs. Searight continued, "it is much like our own. Meat is expensive and you have to grind your own if you want it that way. Canned food, on the other hand, is very expensive and there is no such thing as frozen food or juices.

Mrs. Searight, who lives with her family about 300 miles inland, described Teresina as a town of about 90,000 population and stated that she enjoys living there and is looking forward to returning in December, 1960.

She outlined the needs of missionaries to carry on their work successfully and informed the group that an encampment ground has just been finished and now facilities are needed to use it. "We have a very small building for a church and the average attendance is from 80-100 peoples, so we hope to have a larger building. The school is also inadequate. There is a grade school and high school with about 420 pupils enrolled. One group has to come in the morning, while the others have to wait until they are finished with their work. All pupils use the same little table and chairs. English is taught in the primary grade and is optional, but it is required in high school."

Mrs. Searight stressed that all of this work, as well as all foreign mission work is being carried on with contributions to the Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

Wilson Executive Board Sets Fun Night Activities At Meet Held In Cafeteria

The executive board of Woodrow Wilson PTA met Thursday in the school cafeteria with Mrs. E. A. McLennan, president, presiding at the resignation of Mrs. Don Taylor, who is moving to California, was accepted with regret.

Mrs. Dale Pinson, fun night chairman, announced that a home-room mother's meeting would be held on Oct. 13 at 1:30 p.m. in the school's auditorium to plan Fun Night activities for Oct. 23.

Two Community Concert Assn tickets were presented to the music teacher, Mrs. Sheila Williams, for different students to use throughout the year.

"Education in America is for everyone and not the favored few," Mrs. McLennan said in reporting on the leadership training workshop held recently in Memphis by District 19 PTA.

The Hale-Akin bill was discussed at the City Council meeting Mrs. E. L. Henderson, City Council delegate said. Information on this will be sent by the children to parents in the near future.

Need For Nurses Discussed At Club

CANADIAN (Spl) - Special guests of the Canadian Women's Club were girls of the senior class. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Wm. M. Karr with Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. George Earl Tubb as co-hostesses.

Mrs. E. H. Morris presented the program for the evening, "The Need for More Nurses Today."

Members attending were Meses, C. W. Allen, J. L. Cleveland, Erbin Crowell, Bob Dillman, Ben Kexell, W. R. Hext, G. F. Hoover, A. S. Jackson, C. H. Lansdown, J. E. Lindley, H. H. Marks, Burr Morris, Charles Vignal, E. Mery Vignal, Oliver Waters, Hugh Wilson, A. R. King, Paul Bryant, J. L. Yorkley and Miss Daisy Childers.

That evening I got more flour and returned it to my neighbor. My neighbor (who appears to be a spotless housekeeper) poured my flour into her canister. I don't like to tell her that her flour had weevils, but I don't want her to think I came from the flour I returned to her. What shall I do?

PERTURBED HOUSEKEEPER
Dear Perturbed: If you had weevils in your flour, wouldn't you appreciate knowing it? The fussiest housekeepers have had weevils brought into their homes. (In nuts, fruits and grain) so your neighbor need not be ashamed. Tell her.

Confidential To B. C.: In the interest of peace, harmony and a good family relationship, forego "correct social procedure" and seat the "old folks" at the bridal table.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Richard: It is my opinion that when things appear hopeless, it takes more courage to go on living and to work out one's problems than to "end it all."

Dear Abby: While baking a pie today, I ran out of flour. Since the grocery store is quite a ways off, I borrowed some from my neighbor. After baking the pie, I discovered there was a weevil in the flour which was left over.

Dear Burned: Perhaps you can find the answer in your mirror. Are you as slim, attractive, and well-groomed as you were the day you said "I do"? (He probably isn't either, but this doesn't matter.) Is he self-conscious about his outdated style of dancing? Teach him the new steps. If you don't know them, maybe both of you should take lessons. Women have been known to sulk for weeks over this problem. Don't skip it. Talk it over with him and find out why he fiddles while you burn.

Dear Abby: We have a question we would like your opinion on. If a person commits suicide do you think it is a courageous act or a cowardly one?

We had a very lively discussion at our home last evening and we were divided fifty-fifty in our opinions.

Would you please print your answer.

Dear Abby: Every time my husband takes me to a place where there's dancing, he pulls the same stunt.

I can sit there snapping my fingers and tapping my toes to the rhythm of the music and he pays no attention to me. But when the end of the song is near, he will say, "Would you care to dance, dear?"

No sooner do we get to the dance floor than the music is over, and we have to sit down. Have you any helpful advice?

Shocker, Seventh Grade Games Set

When it rains, it pours, so they say. And when "big" football games are scheduled, it seems that they all fall during the same week.

The Harvesters are playing their big game of the year Friday in Harvester Park, against Amarillo's Sandies; the two local Juniors, Pampa and Lee, clash in their big game of the year Thursday night, and the Shockers meet the undefeated Lubbock Cowboys

Thursday in Lubbock.

The only Pampa teams having fairly routine games are the Pampa Junior High and Lee seventh grade squads.

Frank Craig's Pampa Junior High seventh graders, with an 0-2-1 record for the year, play Houston Junior High in Borger at 4 p.m. Friday; and Harold Moore's Lee seventh graders meet Phillips at 4 p.m. Friday on a Harvester Park practice field. Lee seventh has a 1-1 record.

Lee, Williams Fight Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Curcy Lee, the bush newcomer from Los Angeles, says his fastest driving drive for a spot at the world heavyweight crown on the line tonight in a nationally televised match with dangerous Cleveland Williams.

The 210-pound Williams was a slight favorite going into tonight's 10-round (ABC-TV) battle starting at 10 p.m. e.d.t., but some observers said this was only because the "big cat" was better known here than Lee.

Dennis Mills, left halfback, and Corky Godfrey, fight end, are both ill. Mills will be replaced by Gerald Been, and Godfrey will be replaced by Tony Kirby. Dennis Duncan, left tackle, is still recovering from an injury. He will be replaced by G. M. Walls.

The Shockers are seeking their second straight win, after routing Plainview last week, 42-6, for the most one-sided Shocker victory in two years.

The Short Line

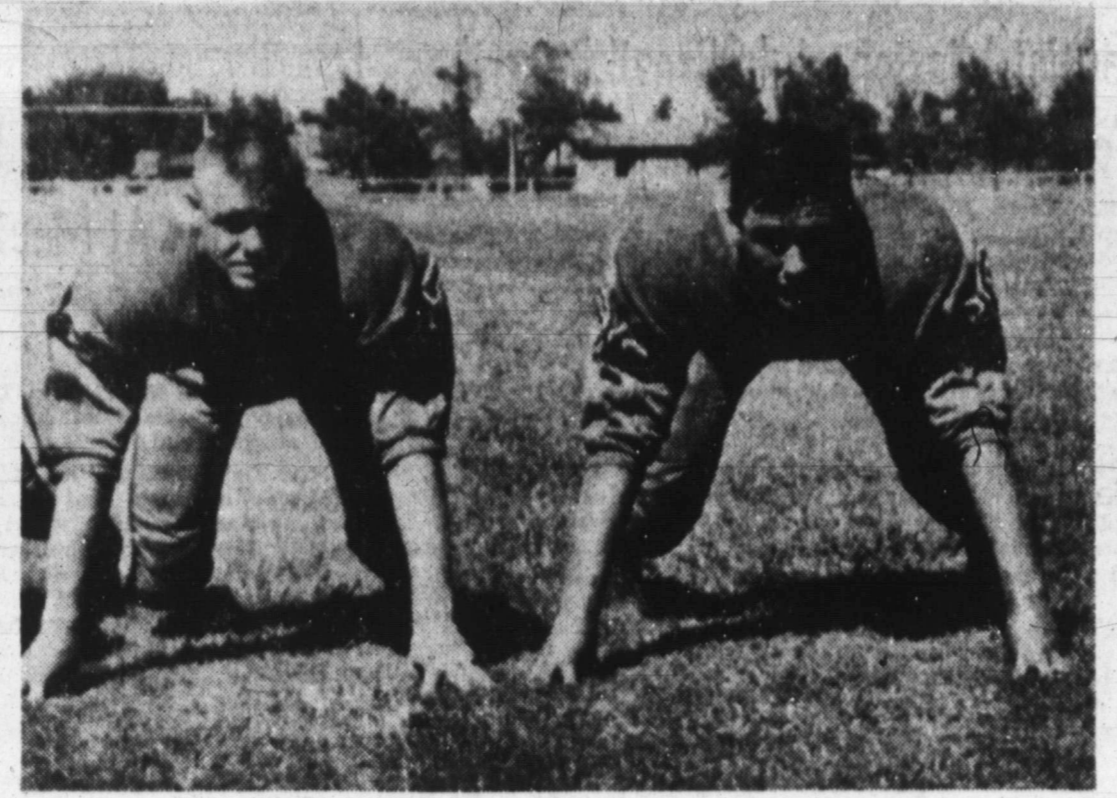

This could be the biggest week for Pampa sports fans since early March of this year, when the basketball team won the state championship. It could be the week Pampa beats the Sandies.

The Amarillo game is always the big contest of the year for the Harvesters, no matter what is at stake in the way of district standings or other things of that kind.

Rebels, Reapers Clash Thursday

The second most important game in Pampa this week will be played Thursday at 7 p.m. in Harvester Park. This particular game ranks as "second best" only because the Harvesters play the Amarillo Sandies Friday.

Actually, the Thursday game is one of Pampa's most important games of the year. It is, of course, the second annual inter-city junior high clash between the Pampa Junior High Reapers and the Robert E. Lee Rebels.

RESERVE LINEMEN — Billy Cooper, left, and Lynn Schoolfield are two of the Harvesters' reserve linemen. Both have seen some action this year, and both will be back to fight for starting positions next year. Both are guards. Cooper is a 139-pounder, Schoolfield is a 150-pounder.

Amarillo, Tascosa Both Make Top 10

Rebels Favored

San Antonio Jefferson, which was idle last week and which has lost to Abilene and San Angelo, also climbed back into the select group as AAAA's No. 10 club.

There were some changes in the Top 10's last week. In AAAA, Galena Park and Amarillo Tascosa swapped fifth and sixth places. Arlington climbed to No. 8 by beating Fort Worth Carter and showing that club down from eighth to 15th, and Lufkin dropped from 10th to a tie for 19th on losing to Port Neches.

Many Similarities

Once the weights and records are disposed of, the similarities begin. Both are strong defensive teams; both have improved greatly since last year; both are extremely tough and hard-hitting; both have excellent team spirit and morale; both have only a routine offense; and both have fair experience.

Defense is the Sandies' strong point, according to Shocker assistant coach Dick Woldt, who coached two Amarillo games. Amarillo has been scored on only twice this year, and at least two of the Sandie opponents have been held to a total offense of less than 150 yards.

Sandies Similar To Pampa Team

It would be hard to find two high school football teams more alike than the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Sandies.

The only differences are in their won-loss records and in weight—and the difference in their records can be at least partially accounted for by the quality of the opposition.

The Sandies are unbeaten, having defeated Odessa, 16-7; PAschal, 14-0; Dallas Woodrow Wilson, 36-0; and Plainview, 16-7. Pampa has beaten Arlington Heights, 12-0; and El Paso Bowie, 41-6, while losing to Wichita Falls, 40-0; Tascosa, 13-0; and Monterey, 7-6.

Richardson and Sparks, along with center Bob Webster, are rated among the Sandies' best blockers.

Amarillo has eight lettermen, including one regular (fullback Jordan) in its starting offensive lineup. The Sandies show their experience by taking advantage of opponents' fumbles and other mistakes, and by seldom fumbling themselves.

Sandie Coach Phillips has a fairly deep supply of manpower, as shown by the fact that he regularly plays six men on defense who do not play offense. Phillips has made many changes in the Sandie lineup since the beginning of the season.

So far, there's only one thing to say about these changes, or about anything else Phillips has done with the Sandies this year—They've really paid off.

Dads' Night Set For Sandie Game

The Quaterback Club, at its weekly meeting Tuesday night in Pampa Junior High cafeteria, laid plans for "Fathers' Night" at the Sandie football game, and for a personal contact membership drive.

Club president Charlie Robinson and Harvester coach Babe Curfman announced that fathers of football players will be honored Friday at the Amarillo-Pampa game. They will meet in the field house, about 7 p.m., be issued special name cards, and will sit in a section of chairs near the Harvester bench.

Braves Dominate UPI All-Star Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wally Moon, who staged a fine comeback after a 1958 flop, was the only member of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers named today to the United Press International's 1959 National League All-Star team.

The 24-man committee, made up of three baseball experts from each city, in the league, selected four members of the second-place Milwaukee Braves, two stars each from the San Francisco Giants and Cincinnati Reds and one Chicago Cub to round out a 10-man team.

To conclude the meeting, a film was shown of the Monterey game. There was much discussion, at the end of the film, on whether the Monterey ball carrier actually crossed into the end zone when the Plainvian scored their touchdown.

Services Held For Commissioner Bell

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell, under whose guiding hand professional football assumed the heights of popularity and financial stability, was buried today at Calvary Cemetery near historic Valley Forge, Pa.

Interment followed a Solemn Requiem Mass at St. Margaret's Roman Catholic Church in suburban Narberth which was attended by the great and near great of the sporting world and numerous players whose welfare Bell always had in mind.

4-A TOP TEN

Team	Points
1. Wichita Falls (10) (3-0-1)	152
2. Abilene (4) (4-0)	145
3. Corpus Christi (2) (5-0)	131
4. Highland Park (5-0)	101
5. Amarillo Tascosa (5-0)	83
6. Galena Park (5-0)	83
7. Longview (4-1)	45
8. Arlington (5-0)	37
9. Amarillo High (4-0)	31
10. San Antonio Jefferson (2-2)	21

They're Both Tough

Pampa, after two close losses to Monterey and Tascosa, isn't a contender for the title any more—but the Harvesters have done a lot better than most people expected. Actually, with a few more breaks, they could be 2-0 right now and in the thick of the race for the district championship.

Even with two district losses, the Harvesters could put together their best season in several years. A win over the Sandies, plus victories over the district's two weakest teams, Plainview and Palo Duro, would give Pampa a .500 season. An added win over Lubbock, not too remote a possibility, could give Pampa its first winning season in many, many years.

First Fight Night Slated Thursday

Boxing season opens Thursday night at 8 p.m., at Pampa Optimist Boys Club, with the first regularly scheduled "fight night."

Many of the matches will be between the younger Pampa fighters.

Thursday's fight night will be the first of a weekly series, which will continue until the beginning of major inter-city bouts late in November. New boxers will fight in many of the bouts on these fight night cards, so they can gain needed experience.

Season boxing tickets will be on sale until Thursday night, at James Feed Store, and from individual Optimist Club members. Season tickets will not be sold at the door at any fight, and no season tickets will be sold after Thursday.

Pampa boxers definitely scheduled to fight Thursday include eight lightweights and well-weights, representing three of the four Pampa teams — Richard Drug, Citizens Bank, First National Bank, No fighter from Parsley Roofing is scheduled.

D'Amato, Rosensohn Face Revocation of Fight Licenses

NEW YORK (UPI) — Counsel James P. Fuscas of the New York State Athletic Commission today began drawing up specific charges of misconduct aimed at revoking within two weeks the licenses of three principals in the mobster-financed Johanson - Patterson fight promotion.

Fuscas is acting upon orders contained in the commission's preliminary decision Tuesday against:

Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., which promoted the June 28 fight wherein Ingemar Johanson of Sweden won the world heavyweight crown from Floyd Patterson, and which has a return-bout contract.

—Bill Rosensohn, former president of Rosensohn Enterprises, who admittedly borrowed $10,000 from mobster Tony Salerno and allegedly arranged for $75,000 credit, apparently from Salerno.

—Cis D'Amato, manager of Patterson, who allegedly tried to perpetuate control of the title by hand-picking managers for challengers, and who allegedly acted as an undercover promoter.

—The charges will be served as soon as possible," said Fuscas. "We want to clean up the whole thing within two weeks."

which will name the teams for the Dec. 19 post-season classic.

Little's committee hopes to pit the top Eastern independent team against the best squad from another section of the country in the newest bowl game.

Field Goals Are Popular

NEW YORK (UPI) — College football's kicking specialists are booting field goals at a record pace this year.

With less than half of the 1959 football season gone, a survey of 110 major college teams shows 73 field goals kicked, a rate of one every three games.

A total of 48 teams have registered at least one three-pointer, and some squads boast as much as three for the campaign to date. The major colleges set an all-time record last season of 103 field goals, an average of one in every 5.6 games. But with goal posts widened from 18 feet, six inches to 23 feet, four inches this season, the three-pointer has become even more popular.

PLANS TEXAS TRIP

LONDON (UPI) — Dave Charnley, lightweight champion of the British Empire, plans to leave here early next month for Houston, Tex., where he will meet world champion Joe Brown in a 15-round title bout Dec. 2.

Charnley signed contracts Tuesday for the bout. He will receive 20 per cent of the net gate and 20 per cent of TV, movie and radio receipts.

JURORS BEING SOUGHT

TYLER (UPI) — Attorneys today continued to question prospective jurors for the murder trial of Dewey Kyle, 37, accused of shooting Claud A. Mitchell, 35, to death April 8 after the pair argued at Mitchell's home over a $25 debt.

Chicago Cubs Revamp Roster

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs today revamped their major league roster, bringing up seven farm team players and selling seven who were with the team this season.

Sold outright to the Fort Worth farm club were pitchers Ed Donnelly, Morrie Martin and Marcelino Rolis, catcher Gordon Massa, and infielders Bill Gabier, Don Eaddy and John Goryl.

Purchased to report in the spring were infielders Jim Woods, Sam Drake and Ken Huibbs, outfielders Lou Johnson, Mc-edith Morhardt and Nelson Mathews, and pitcher Dick Burwell.

Wheel Of Fortune

Perhaps many will remember the rather exact set of drawings put forth awhile ago by an unknown artist. The drawing was in the shape of a clock with nine places for the hands to rest. The markings were as follows:

1. The people go from chains to spiritual faith. 2. From spiritual faith to courage. 3. From courage to liberty. 4. From liberty to abundance. 5. From abundance to selfishness. 6. From selfishness to complacency. 7. From complacency to apathy. 8. From apathy to dependency. 9. From dependency back again to bondage.

Whoever outlined this wheel of fortune for the human race was remarkably accurate for all the brevity shown. We would simply insert another couple of stopping places for the hands of time to indicate that from dependency, people drift into fear. And from fear, they glide into ignorance and darkness. Then it is but a step from darkness and ignorance to chains of bondage.

Perhaps more than any other people in history, we Americans are in a position to view this entire wheel in an effective panorama. Certainly, if we consider the days of the early colonists and settlers we recognize immediately that the starting place on this cycle is not one for us. Many of the immigrants to these shores came here with the chains of servitude and oppression still upon them. But in the untrodden wilderness they found sufficient freedom from political mastery to make their own way.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

What is a Good Job? It seems to me I should attempt to do what I advise others to do in discussing matters—define my terms. I have been writing about better jobs for years and I do not believe I have ever specifically defined what a good job is, and, of course, we can't have better jobs until we have some standard of a good job.

And it seems to me that I should also do as Lord Kelvin said in trying to define my terms—reduce them to numbers, so that there'll be a common meeting point. And by reducing them to numbers I am, in fact, reducing them to principles, because every principle is based on the starting point of zero. There are no exceptions to the rule and no one is exempt from the rule. In both cases it is zero.

All of the last five commandments have been reduced to numbers. That is, the number zero. "Thou shalt not murder" means that for the individual there is no exception to this rule. And the rule also means that it applies to everybody. The number of people who have a right to murder is zero.

Now I want to set down what I regard as a good job for a person. A good job for a person is one that permits him to get all he produces, no more or less, as determined by a free market for his production and to advance and use all the talents that God gave him physically, mentally and morally as rapidly as possible. It means that no one is interfering with his taking the hardest and most useful job he can do.

This is a good job because it not only benefits him materially and everybody else materially, but also it benefits him spiritually. It gives him the joy and the delight of accomplishment. And there are few more satisfying rewards than the pleasure of developing one's faculties in a manner that benefits the individual and everybody else in the world. It gives him a spirit of goodwill to mankind. It eliminates all ill-will and makes him have a feeling of real brotherly love to all mankind.

The individual who has a good job has no special privileges. He does not receive a gift wage that makes him subordinate to the employer, but he has a feeling that he is earning his wage and could get an equal wage from another employer and is benefiting the customer of his employer. It makes him humble and makes him feel he is a real part of society based on his own initiative and responsibility. It makes him feel that he is living by the sweat of his own brow; that he is getting everything he gets on a voluntary basis and that he is benefiting everybody from whom he gets. It makes him realize that he is not entitled to protection from competition in serving from any other persons.

If anyone holding a less responsible and a less remunerative job is able to do his job for less, he is perfectly willing to concede the other person the right to that job. He knows that if he is protected from competition from those below him he will be deprived of his right to advance to a higher and more responsible job. His job, health, and he should have an opportunity to work as many hours and as hard as he wants to work in order to advance himself and his family.

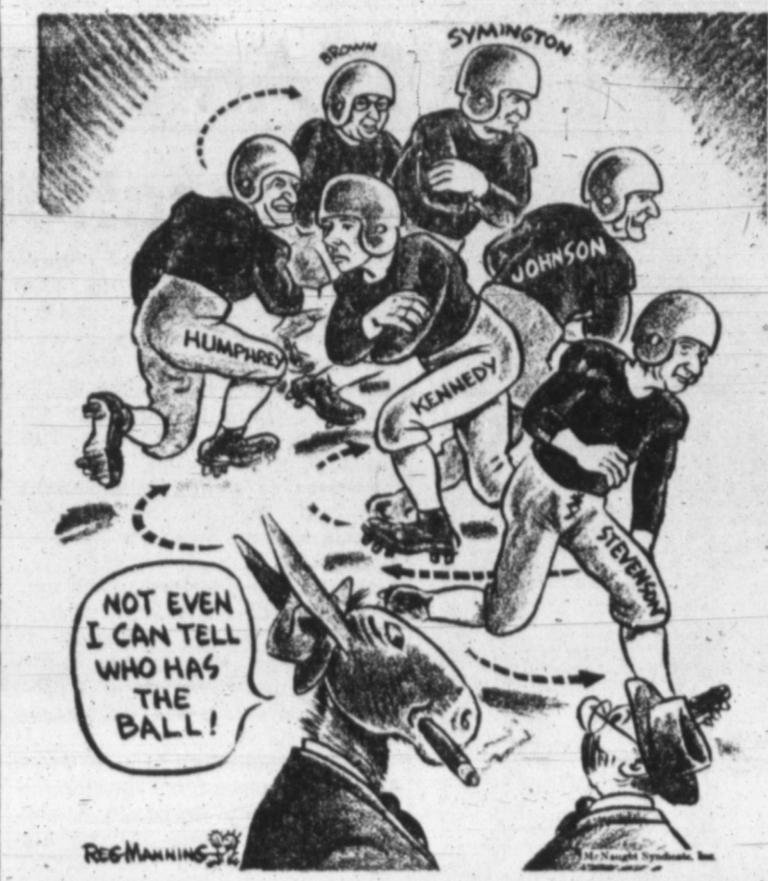

He should feel that his job is secure as long as he renders as much service as anyone else; that if he is lacking his employer, will tell him how to improve rather than dismiss him and hire another. The employer will give an employee all the time he possibly can to find another job if the employee does not eventually fit into the job and he does not believe he is the right man for the job. And a good employer will also give the employee all the time he can to find another job. It is a mutual, friendly, co-operative relation.

And there is no strife between the employer and the employee when a man has a good job. He thus has a feeling of friendship and security in a good job. A good employer will not dismiss an employee because of age, although he might be required to reduce the employee's compensation if his production decreases. The employer is interested in his unit costs, and of course wants to see his employees earn as much as they can and advance as fast as they can, so long as it does not increase his unit cost. The employer is really hiring his employee to market his production, and if he can find anyone who will market it to better advantage over a period of years, it is his duty to take the more responsible job that will reward him more, because it will help increase total production and thus everybody in the world will be benefited.

The employer and the employee, of course, are both fallible. They are both capable of errors and there will never be a perfect employer or a perfect employee, but both of them are perfectible. They are both capable of improvement in their understanding and their development.

This interpretation of a good job means, of course, there can be no conspiracy between employers to keep down wages or to boycott an employer. Nor can there be any conspiracy to get a non-competitive wage and discriminate against an employer for refusing to pay his employees more over a period of years than his customers will perform the same service for and thus increase his price to his customers or retard his ability to grow and serve mankind. An em-

Split-D, Hidden-Ball Play

NOT EVEN I CAN TELL WHO HAS THE BALL!

The Allen-Scott Report

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is seeking the cabinet's views on whether he should call a special session of Congress.

For that purpose the President has scheduled a detailed cabinet discussion of this matter the week after he visits his boyhood home in Abilene, Kansas. Specifically, the cabinet has been asked to consider the need for special congressional action on these two explosive issues:

Abolishing the 41-year-old 4½ per cent interest ceiling on long-term government securities. A new farm program that would extensively revise the grain and other crop price supports that are costing the government billions of dollars annually.

Despite repeated urgent requests by the President, Treasury Secretary Anderson and Agriculture Secretary Benson, Congress balked at doing anything on these problems at the recent regular session. Unless reconvened by the President, Congress will not meet again until after the new year.

Initial discussions have revealed a split among top White House advisers on the advisability of a special session of Congress this fall. Favoring that are Dr. Raymond Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors; William McCleskey Martin, head of the Federal Reserve Board; Gerald Morgan, deputy assistant to the President; Thomas Stephens, secretary to the President.

Unexpectedly, a leading inner council dissenter is Secretary Anderson, who has vigorously and insistently opposed the 4½ per cent limitation as essential as an inflation curb. But while sharply critical of Congress' refusal to vote that, the Treasury chief is opposed to a special session because of strong doubts it will do anything — other than engage in turbulent partisan wrangling. It is Anderson's belief that by January he can come to an understanding with Democratic congressional leaders on interest legislation that will be satisfactory to the Administration.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, a fellow Texan and personal friend, is particularly being counted on by Anderson for help in reaching such a backstage agreement. Similar efforts were made by Rayburn at the regular session, but without results. His compromise proposals were repeatedly rebuffed by a group of militant Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee. All they would agree to was increasing the interest rate on savings bonds to 3½ per cent — which was finally enacted. Also, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, Tex., balked at the 4½ per cent repeal. He warned the Senate would not approve it.

HE'S PROBABLY RIGHT
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—East Tennessee, hotbed of the state's illicit liquor traffic, has made a Doubting Thomas of state revenue commissioner Alfred MacFarland.

Addressing a law institute here Saturday, he said: "I don't think it's possible to dry up East Tennessee." As an afterthought he added: "I don't think it wants to be dried up."

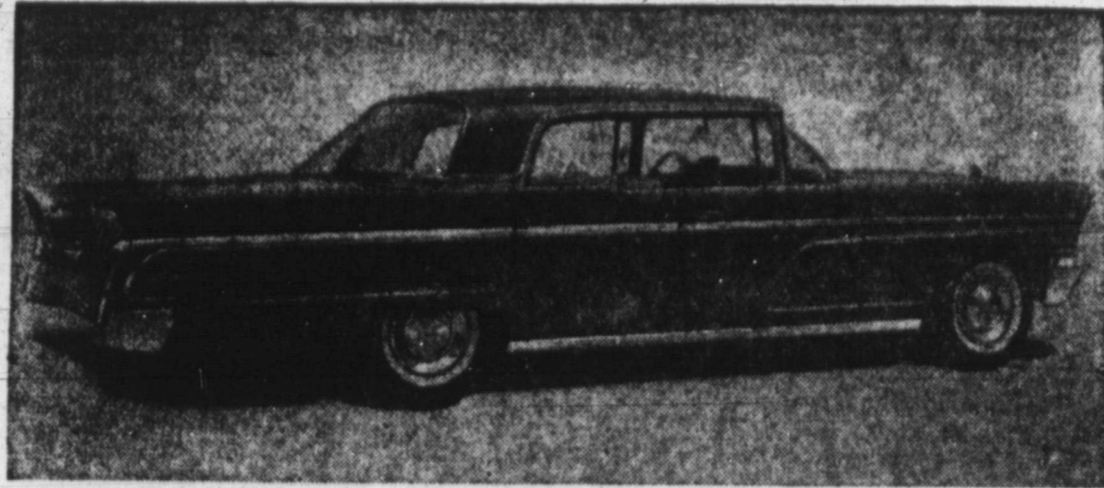

GULP!
LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—Henry A. Burns, 29, can tell you there are times when a hiccup isn't funny at all.

Burns is a "sword" swallower. He was performing his act Friday night with two 21-inch neon tubes when he hiccuped, shattering one of the glass tubes. Doctors at Seaside Hospital said the amusement park sword swallower suffered a lacerated throat but was improving.

ON DISPLAY OCT. 15. — A striking profile for the 1960 Lincoln is the result of a completely redesigned roof which gives the car a more formal look. The different shaped rear window has 177 additional square inches of glass area for improved rearward visibility. Inside, the instrument panel has been completely restyled to give the car a precision look. A smoother ride and greater handling ease are the result of a new Hotchkiss rear suspension with leaf springs. In addition to the Lincoln four-door landau (shown above) there is a two-door hardtop and a four-door sedan in the Lincoln and Premiere series. The Pampa Lincoln dealer is Rite Way Motors, 716 W. Foster.

Mobeetie Homecoming Oct. 24 To Honor Classes Of '41, '45

Faculty and students at Mobeetie High School have set Oct. 24 as the date for the annual homecoming of ex-students, ex-teachers and ex-trustees of Mobeetie School.

High school seniors are sponsoring the event this year as they have for several years. The classes to be honored this year are the graduates of 1941 and 1945.

The public is invited to see the new high school building; home-making cottage and other improvements in the school plant.

Dinner will be served from 4:30 to 6:30 in the high school building and will be a meat-vegetables-dessert dinner this year in place of the salad supper of last year served in the gymnasium.

The program will begin at 6:30 and the football game with Booker at 7:30.

Alumni will find the plaques and senior panels have been placed in the hall of the new building.

Persons who want homecoming notices sent to other persons may have that done by contacting Mrs. J. H. Scribner at the high school or one of the officers of the ex-students association.

Officers include Mrs. Winifred Quarles, president; Mrs. Clinton Stribling, vice president; and Mrs.

All-Girl Grid Game

Mobeetie High School seniors are sponsoring a girls football game Thursday at 7 p.m., according to Betty Sue Newman, class reporter. Senior girls will play their lower classmates.

Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

SUBMIT U. N. REPORT

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Four U. N. fact-finders headed for New York today to submit a report which may result in the assignment of an observer team to this country. Eleven staff members of the mission that came here a month ago to investigate Communist attacks in this landlocked jungle kingdom remained behind to await a decision on their future duties.

Officers include Mrs. Winifred Quarles, president; Mrs. Clinton Stribling, vice president; and Mrs.

DROPS ASSAULT CHARGES
TYLER (UPI)—V. L. Wilkerson has dropped assault to murder charges against paroled, convicted murderer Colquett Gibson, 46, who pointed a shotgun at Wilkerson after an argument last November. "My wife is the sister of the defendant, and I have to live with her," Wilkerson explained Monday to Judge Connally McKay who dismissed the charges against Gibson.

80 VESSELS SUNK
NAGOYA, Japan (UPI)—Japanese maritime safety officials today reported more than 80 vessels were sunk, grounded or destroyed by Typhoon Vera two weeks ago.

Crack FBI man— but bewildered father

There is a very good reason why 'THE FBI STORY' is considered such a wonderful motion picture. Rarely within memory has the screen offered as much excitement combined with such an abundance of warmth and humor. While it is 'the FBI story' it is at the same time the happy, sometimes bitter-sweet story of the growing pains of the family of Special Agent Chip Hardesty. Women especially will love this family and love
