C of C Awards To Fatheree, Buckler

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT AWARD—Pioneer resident C. P. Buckler, left, was honored by his fellow citizens last night at the annual Pampa Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Presenting the plaque is William Jarrel Smith. The award is for his work in developing the library, nurses home and many other community projects. (Daily News Photo)

Awards at the annual chamber of commerce banquet last night went to two Pampa civic leaders, C. P. Buckler and Warren Fatheree.

More than 500 persons attended to hear featured speaker, Dr. Carl C. Byers, a former superintendent of schools at Parma, Ohio. More than a score of out-of-town guests attended.

Buckler's award was for the person who contributed the most during the past year for civic betterment in the community, and the award to Fatheree, Scoutmaster of Region 9, was for work with youth.

Upon receiving the award, Buckler noted that he came to Pampa more than 50 years ago "with nothing in my pockets, but with a willingness to work."

"I am only sorry," he said, "that my wife is not here to receive this award with me. Pampa is my town," he concluded, "and I hope to live here the remaining years of my life."

The award to Fatheree was presented by E. Roy Smith, chamber vice president, acting in behalf of the president, H. V. Wilks, who was absent. William Jarrel Smith made the presentation to Buckler.

Dr. Byers told the audience that the "best formula for success is to treat people right" because "a community is made up of people and it represents far more than people—it represents spirit." His topic was "Teamwork for Living."

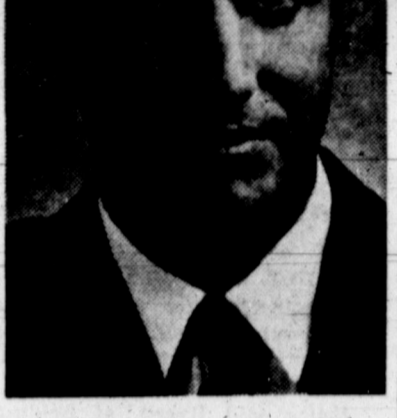

"You can't legislate spirit and money won't buy it," Byers said in a talk interspersed with anecdotes, gleaned largely from his many years in the Ohio school system.

This was the fourth annual chamber awards banquet.

At the conclusion of the meeting a plaque was presented to outgoing chamber president, Warren Haase, "in recognition of an outstanding job well done this past year."

Haase presided at the meeting. The invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Burgin Watkins, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church. Dinner music was provided by Mrs. Maxine Milliron.

Special vocal entertainment was given by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sanders, accompanied by Miss Nanette Flynt on the piano.

Economy At Low Ebb, No Hope For '59

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The economic boom anticipated for the last three months of this year is out the window. Government officials blame the steel strike.

The boom had been expected to whittle unemployment to the lowest level in two years. Officials also had hoped it would produce enough tax revenue to keep the federal budget in the black.

But the narrow budget surplus of 95 million dollars predicted for the current year now is in grave danger of turning into a deficit and unemployment is expected to remain above 3 million because of the 99-day steel walkout.

Earlier in the year government officials had expected that a sustained improvement in the economy in October, November and December combined with usual seasonal trends would drop unemployment in October to below three million.

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell was so confident of this last spring he offered to eat his hat publicly if it didn't occur. With 2,200,000 persons out of work in September and layoffs in steel using industries mounting, Mitchell is being advised to prepare to devour his fedora.

The economists, meanwhile, expect that the October-November-December boom will be stretched out. An earlier estimate of a 405 billion dollar annual output rate of goods and services in the three months has been abandoned as out of reach.

The government will report in July, August and September slid below the 484-billion-dollar annual rate posted in the spring.

Officials are not alarmed over the slide which was very small. Abnormally high steel output and stockpiling in the spring gave the national output rate an artificial boost.

American Motors ran up 14 directors to a new high at 684. Its directors plan to act on a dividend on Nov. 30. Studebaker-Packard, most active issue trader also made a new top at 214, up 14. Studebaker when issued stock had large volume and rose nearly 4 point. Chrysler and Ford eased while General Motors had a small net gain.

Traders continued cautious on the market in general and steels in particular on the continuation of uncertainties in the steel strike. Youngstown Sheet & Tube lost 1 1/2 points on a poor third quarter report, and declines of a point appeared in Jones & Laughlin and Inland. Bethlehem and U.S. Steel were down nearly a point each. Chemicals held in a narrow area. Tires firmed.

Johnson Casts Aside Prepared Speech, Talks On '60 Issues

BRENNHAM, Tex. (UPI)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson Tuesday night cast aside a prepared speech on the fight against Communism and launched a discussion of the "issues of 1960."

It was Johnson's first public speaking engagement since House Speaker Sam Rayburn urged Texans last weekend to form a "Johnson for President" club in each Texas county.

Although Johnson still did not say he would run for President, political observers saw his speech as a possible back-door announcement of his candidacy because he openly discussed campaign issues.

Johnson was obviously moved as speaker after speaker introduced him as "the next President of the United States."

Johnson said the "greatest issue in 1960 will be the preservation of our form of government."

"I don't think we shall have to die for liberty as our forefathers did, but we shall have to do some heavy thinking," he said. "Are we going to be alert and awake enough to be sure we are always prepared?"

"I think we should be doing more in the fields of science and space," Johnson continued.

"While we are crowning Miss America, the Russians are burning the midnight oil. They put their first Sputnik into orbit and while we were investigating it, they put two more into the air."

The Soviets are still ahead of the United States in the field of intercontinental missiles, Johnson said, warning that "We cannot lead the world by sitting back in our rocking chairs and chewing gum."

He soundly criticized President Eisenhower's defense spending program.

"Congress has given the President practically every cent he asked for defense spending," he said, "and last year we gave him a billion and a quarter more than he asked."

"But," he said, "if we are not in danger we are spending too much. If we are in danger, we are not spending enough."

Johnson also pointed out that America must concentrate on a speeded-up education program.

He closed his remarks with a statement that "God willing, I want to continue serving the people of the United States as long as I can."

Johnson spoke at a barbecue sponsored by the Brenham Lions Club.

Johnson continued.

Quick Action After Blast By von Braun

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower called top advisers to the White House today in an effort to speed up the nation's embattled space programs.

The meeting with military and civilian aides was arranged after the U.S. space-missile program came under new fire from Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, retiring Army missile chief, and rocket expert Werner von Braun.

Embarrassed by the Russian Luniks, the administration is under pressure to get confusion out of military and civilian space efforts and speed the business of overtaking Russia.

At best, authorities have said, it may be several years before America can hurl as big payloads into space as the Soviets. The Russians' rocket boosters admittedly are vastly more powerful and there is no way to catch up overnight.

One thorny issue on which the administration has been apparently marking time and now must meet head-on is what to do with the Army's ballistic missile agency and the team of scientists and technicians headed by the German-born von Braun.

With assignment of the chief military space role to the Air Force, the Army's space outlook has become progressively dimmer. But that service wants to cling to its ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala. and do space work under contract to other government agencies.

Von Braun lashed out at the nation's space effort Tuesday in a speech here. He contended it was being pursued at a "leisurely pace" and said his Huntsville team had not had enough to do.

McElroy said on returning from a Far East tour late Tuesday that Von Braun should "relax" because his team was an "important national asset" with assurance of important space research assignments.

But the secretary also said the Huntsville organization "could very well be attached" to NASA—the civilian space agency, a maneuver which the Army successfully resisted less than a year ago and still opposes.

High Court Gives Chessman Eighth Stay Of Execution

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today granted an eighth stay of execution to Caryl Chessman, one-time "red light bandit" of Los Angeles, so he can bring his 10th appeal to the high tribunal.

Chessman's lawyer, George T. Davis of San Francisco, had applied to Justice William O. Douglas for the stay.

Chessman, 38, was to have been executed Friday. He had already arranged to have his body cremated, and made his will. The estate presumably is royalties from the books he has written in prison.

Douglas referred the petition to the entire court, which announced its action today. Chief Justice Earl Warren, a former governor of California, did not participate in the decision.

The reprieve will allow Chessman to file appeal papers and await the high court's disposition of them.

Davis had filed a clemency petition with California Gov. Edmund G. Brown. But, after hearing and considering the plea over the weekend, Brown turned it down Monday.

Chessman has maintained that he was denied his constitutional rights because the trial record in his case was not properly prepared. The court reporter died shortly after the trial ended and his notes were transcribed by some one else.

Attorney John Thorne wired another appeal to the high court Tuesday, asking time for Chessman to testify in the criminal conspiracy trial of Thorne's client, Joseph Longstreth.

Longstreth is charged with conspiracy along with Davis and the New York publishing firm of Prentice-Hall for smuggling one of Chessman's four books out of San Quentin prison.

Christmas Seals Here

"It's not the temperature, it's the activity that makes it feel like Christmas" at the headquarters of the Gray County Tuberculosis Association, according to Mrs. Lillian Jordan.

Harbingers of the Yuletide season, 22,000 sheets of the 1959 Christmas Seals were delivered today to Mrs. Jordan, Christmas Seal chairman.

Funds contributed for the seals, which will be mailed to all Gray County residents Nov. 16, are used by the association for the prevention and control of TB.

Eager hands of the business women here were ready to help prepare the gaily colored, meaningful sheets of seals for mailing to county residents, Mrs. Jordan added.

"It takes a Christmas Seal on holiday mail to make it feel like Christmas and the big job of getting traditional Christmas Seal mailing ready is done entirely with volunteer help," Mrs. Jordan said.

Judge Rules Today On T-H Injunction

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A federal judge may rule today on whether to send 500,000 striking steelworkers back to work under a Taft-Hartley injunction sought by President Eisenhower.

DeGaulle Blocks Way

WASHINGTON (UPI)—French President Charles De Gaulle balked today on going along with the Western Allies on the timing of a summit meeting.

While President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan are urging the summit meeting be held in December, the French government issued a Cabinet announcement today declaring the "best chance" for the East-West conclave would be next spring.

The French statement was issued after De Gaulle met with his Cabinet and undoubtedly reflected the French leader's views.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has declared his willingness to go to the summit any time.

As the French view was announced, Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter conferred for 40 minutes at the White House. Herter declined to tell reporters the topic.

Eisenhower, De Gaulle, MacMillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will get together sometime fairly soon, authorities said, probably in the first or second week in November.

U.S. District Judge Herbert P. Sorensen weighed arguments advanced by the government and the United Steelworkers Union in a two-hour and 35-minute hearing here Tuesday. He told the parties to file supplemental briefs today.

Although Sorensen gave no indication when he would make his far-reaching decision, the union believed the answer might come today. USW President David J. McDonald delayed a scheduled meeting of the union's 171-member Wage-Policy Committee from morning until afternoon.

Sorensen recessed the hearing at 6 p.m. Tuesday after Asst. Atty. Gen. George C. Doub and USW General Counsel Arthur Goldberg offered conflicting opinions on whether a court-ordered halt to the 99-day steel strike was vital to the nation's health and safety.

The union also challenged the constitutionality of the injunction provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The government hinged its case for the injunction on the President's contention that continuance of the strike would endanger the nation's space and missile programs and would cause extreme economic hardship to strikers and workers in related industries.

The nine-page injunction petition filed by U.S. Atty. Hubert I. Teetsch said that unless an injunction was granted the United States will suffer "immediate and irreparable injury."

The Steelworkers Union contended that the injunction provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act were unconstitutional.

Auto Shares To New High

NEW YORK (UPI)—Automobile shares outside the big three rose to new highs on heavy volume today to feature an otherwise quiet, irregular stock market.

American Motors ran up 14 directors to a new high at 684. Its directors plan to act on a dividend on Nov. 30. Studebaker-Packard, most active issue trader also made a new top at 214, up 14. Studebaker when issued stock had large volume and rose nearly 4 point. Chrysler and Ford eased while General Motors had a small net gain.

Life Is Brief For C.G. Hannan Quintuplets, Born Prematurely

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—The last of the Hannan quintuplets—a one pound, 11 ounce girl that could fit comfortably in an adult's hand—died today after an 18-hour and nine-minute fight for survival.

The quintuplets were all girls and none lived long enough to be named: The one that lived the longest was "Baby D," so called because she was the fourth to be born.

Their pretty blonde mother, Mrs. Charles G. Hannan, 27, and her husband a 29-year-old Air Force navigator, were grief-stricken.

They said it was "God's will" and asked to be allowed to retire from the turmoil into which becoming the parents of quintuplets had thrust them.

Capt. W. D. Mumroe, a pediatrician who fought for "Baby D's" life all night told the father about dawn that the last of the babies was dying.

The father, a first lieutenant, went quickly to his wife's room to be with her when Mumroe brought her the news.

The last baby died at 6:40 a.m. (est). Mrs. Hannan wept but did not become hysterical. Her husband's eyes filled with tears, but he did not cry openly.

The babies—the 47th recorded birth of quintuplets—were born three months prematurely Tuesday within 12 minutes: At 12:22 p.m., 12:45 p.m., 12:29 p.m., 12:31 p.m. and 12:34 p.m.

"Baby B" died at 5:40 p.m. Tuesday, "Baby A" died at 6:10 p.m.; "Baby E" at 9:30 p.m. and "Baby C" at 10 p.m.

Lt. and Mrs. Hannan refused to permit either interviews or pictures after the death of "Baby D."

But they rent out a formal statement, which said: "My wife and I are terribly sorry to learn of the death of our babies and are stricken with grief."

He likes sports and he liked history.

Most of all he liked Cecilia Thonig, his girl since high school days. "Hannan" was never at school on weekends. He always returned home to Taylor, Tex., to see his girl and take her to St. Mark's Catholic Church where they were married in September, 1953.

Tuesday, Cecilia gave birth to quintuplet girls.

However, we are confident all is for the best and that God has a better place for them.

"We know that the hospital and staff here at Lackland did all in their power to save our babies. They were just too immature. The best medical facilities were available.

"We hope that we can find a little peace and quiet now."

They have two sons, Robert, 5, and Patrick, 4, but wanted a daughter.

Lt. Col. Charles E. Gibbs, who delivered the quintuplets, said there was no reason Mrs. Hannan could not have more children. He expects her to leave the hospital in about a week.

He said his entire staff had tried, since it was determined that Mrs. Hannan was going to have a "multiple birth," to keep the hopes of her and her husband from getting high.

Lt. Col. Thomas M. Holcomb, who was on duty in the pediatrics ward of Lackland Air Force Base hospital when the first four died, said:

Deputy Harold Martin identified the men as Joe Owen Hughes, 24, and Jackie Tarlton, 25. Both were under sentence for armed robberies in El Paso and were awaiting trial on similar charges here.

Hale county Sheriff Ted Andrews and Texas Rangers launched an immediate search for the fugitives.

The men escaped shortly after 7 a.m. when a jailer and a trusty brought them their breakfast. They overpowered the men and locked them in a second floor cell, then went downstairs and broke open a desk, from which they took a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver.

When another jailer and a Negro porter came to investigate the noise, they forced them at gunpoint to get into a cell and locked them in. Hughes and Tarlton then crossed the street to the Hale county courthouse, where they forced a custodian to give up the keys to his car.

Martin said it was believed they fled southeastward.

United Fund Vignettes

Where Is John Gikas Today?

John Gikas operates his own business in downtown Pampa. Today he opened up, took care of the early "rush," and then he really "went to work."

As major (chairman) of the Retail Division of your United Fund Campaign, his is a big job. All the retail business houses not specifically assigned to another division are his responsibility.

With him are many other volunteer workers. They spend their business day taking care of their own customers. Between buyers, they run down the street — up the street — across the street — contacting other businesses.

In our town everybody knows all about everybody. So, this is friend calling on friend. Even so, Gikas still has a "selling job" to do for United Fund. There is every good reason to give, but the business man wants to know where his money goes.

WORK IN EARTHQUAKE VALLEY—A tractor-shovel burrows through a mass of rock and dirt, part of about 43 million tons that were shifted in the Aug. 17 earthquake in Yellowstone National Park. U.S. Army engineers are building a spillway through a giant dam formed across the Madison River when the slide occurred. The impounded waters must be released to avert another disaster. The slide may also hold bodies of victims unlisted in the known toll of nine dead.

Meaty Roles Now Written For Women

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Here's good news, men—girls are coming back! To movies that is. During the past decade Hollywood has been a man's world. The big pictures, the fat roles, the razzle-dazzle publicity campaigns all were written for leading men.

Adventure dramas, westerns and detective stories with occasional biblical epics—were the order of the day. Actresses had a difficult time of it, becoming almost extinct in the lists of box office attractions.

But the cycle is moving again, and nice, round, sexy, beautiful women are coming back—and one such luscious creature knows the reason why.

She's Angie Dickinson, a gazing blonde, playing her first leading role in a new movie taking top billing away from co-star Peter Finch. Five years ago this event could never have taken place.

"The answer is simple," Angie said, a twinkle in her dark brown eyes. "Television has come to the rescue of movie actresses."

"All the westerns and detective thrillers have moved to TV, and the men who make movies realize they can't compete with the television versions of adventure dramas. So they're returning to what used to be called women's pictures."

Angie's theory holds up. New titles are reflecting the change. "The Nun's Story," "It Happened to Jane," "Cleopatra," and Angie's new Warner Brothers picture, "Rachel, Rachel."

"I'm very lucky this counter-revolution is taking place right now," the curvaceous beauty went on.

"The poor girls who were 25 years old 10 years ago didn't have a chance. I'm 25 now and feminine roles are getting better and more important every day. Until now there were so few good leading lady roles available they went only to the top stars."

"As a movie-goer I much prefer seeing relationships between people to action stories," Angie concluded. "I think people who want action can watch TV. Those who want good stories and acting will go to movies."

Battle Over Star's Estate

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The estate of Errol Flynn, who has roused almost as much controversy in death as he did in life, figured today to stir up a battle between the actor's teen-age companion and his family.

Supposedly included in the estate, which was believed willed four years ago to Flynn's four children, were a 60,000-acre plantation in Jamaica with a cocoa crop to be harvested and $100,000 he received for the sale of his yacht only hours before his death.

The impending court action comes between the children and Miss Aadiand. The children are Sean, 18, by Flynn's first wife, Lilly Damita, Deidre, 15, and Rory, 13, by his second wife, Nora Eddington, and Arnella, 6, by his estranged wife Patricia Wymore.

Miss Aadiand's attorney, Melvin Bell, refused to reveal if he planned litigation on behalf of his client. "It is a little too early

Miss Smith Sings For Kiwanians

Miss Marilyn Smith, Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club sweetheart and pianist, presented a musical program Tuesday night at the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Pampa Hotel.

Miss Smith played the piano and sang two ballads. It was announced that she had been selected from the A Capella Choir here to sing at the Regional Choir in Canyon and will try for State Choir later this year.

Don Bird was presented his one year pin for perfect attendance by Harold Standfield, club president. Bird has been chairman of two committees and joined the club soon after it was chartered in July, 1958.

Les Hart, Downtown Kiwanis member and past lieutenant governor, presented a talk on the recent district convention which he attended in Galveston. He said the convention was very successful and highly organized with a record attendance.

Guests for the evening included Laverne Ataway, engineer with Colness; Don Nelson, Pampa High School teacher; Gary Siam, representing the Pampa Kiwanis Key Club; and Jim Daley, representing the Downtown Pampa Club.

Quints

"We tried to give them that."

"There isn't a man that feels he didn't do every damned thing he could to save those babies," Gibbs, Hplcomb and Munroe met reporters for a news conference today after the death of "Baby D."

At first the babies looked good. "But at the first sign of tiring, when they became a dusky color, we would give them gentle stimulation, like wiggling a foot, to start their breathing," Hplcomb said.

"Then as the tiring increased and the stimulation wouldn't help, we put them under an oxygen tent."

"We tried to make them understand that the odds were against keeping those babies."

He told Hannan and his wife together about the first two and Hannan told his wife. They learned together about the last one's death.

"L. Hannan had it from so many sides, but he stood up well, I think, because of his wife," Hplcomb said. He said they are now under sedation.

All five babies were completely normal, except for "extreme immaturity."

DWI Charges Filed Against Two Pampans

Two Pampa men were arrested this morning within 15 minutes of each other on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Charged were Chester Leroy Johnson, 31, of 313 N. Hobart, and Leon M. Davis, 37, of 704 W. Foster.

Police said Johnson was observed by officers at 9 a.m. on W. Foster near City Hall. Davis was arrested at 8:45 a.m. after his car tangled with a telephone booth near an alleyway at the side of the Pate Hotel, 704 W. Foster.

New Member Awards Made To 2 Troops

"Possible Pete" certificates were presented to Scout Units qualifying in the round up with a gain of five new members at the regular Scouters Roundtable meeting Tuesday.

W. L. Veale, assistant district commissioner for the Santa Fe District, made the presentations.

Units receiving certificates included the Oil Chemical & Atomic Workers Union Pack 15 and the First Methodist Church Troop 80.

The Baker School Parent Teacher Association Pack received the certificate with a seal denoting a gain of 20 percent over the August registration of the unit. J. C. Hyatt, Cub master, received a leaders' neckerchief slide for being one of the first 25 to qualify for the seal.

Other packs receiving certificates with seals were Hobart Street Baptist Church Pack 15 with Gene Leigh serving as Cub master and Church of the Brethren Pack 113, Elmer Wheeler Cub master.

The round up is a conscious effort on the part of the units to extend the Scouting program in order that every boy may have the opportunity to be a Scout.

A goal of 8,000 boys has been set for the Adobe Walls Council with recognition going to the unit that registers "Possible Pete," the 6,000th Scout.

Round up awards will be presented at the next Roundtable meeting Nov. 17 and also the following meeting in December.

Father Of Pampan Succumbs Tuesday

Funeral services for W. M. Curry, Archer City, father of R. W. Curry of Pampa, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church in Archer City.

Mr. Curry, 83, died Tuesday. He was an owner and operator of newspapers in Snyder and Crosbyton.

Survivors are his wife of Archer City; two daughters, Mrs. Roy E. Heard of Archer City; Mrs. Jim Crouch, Fort Worth; and two sons, W. H. Curry, Crosbyton; and R. W. Curry, Pampa. Also six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services are under the direction of Owens Brumley Funeral Home in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Hattie Johnson Funeral Thursday

McLEAN (Sp) - Funeral services for Mrs. Hattie Johnson, 67, of Hedley, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church of Hedley, with the Rev. J. S. Tipton, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Johnson died about 4:30 p.m. Monday at Hedley.

She was born April 28, 1892, in Corinth, Miss. She moved to Hedley from Amarillo in 1956. She was the wife of C. E. Johnson, who is a pioneer operator of the Hedley Telephone Exchange.

She was a member of the Hedley Garden Club and the 1919 Study Club. She was a past Worthy Matron of the Hedley Eastern Star.

Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery in Amarillo under the direction of Richardson-Lamb Funeral Home of McLean.

Auto Stolen

A white 1954 Buick sedan was stolen Tuesday from a parking place by the G. W. James Material Co. on Price Rd., police said today.

Car owner Douglas Melcar, 909 E. Campbell, said his car was taken sometime between 7:20 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. Police said the license number is AV-2098.

Motor Oil Stolen

Sixteen quarts of motor oil were taken from a parked pickup truck Tuesday night at 1140 Terry, police reported this morning.

E. M. Stafford reported the loss at 6:45 a.m. today. He said the oil was taken sometime after 8:20 p.m. Tuesday.

"She had blue eyes and blonde hair—you've got to see her." Minutes later the proud father, now a first lieutenant in the Air Force, was at his wife's side when medical officers at Lackland Air Force Base hospital told them two of their tiny babies had died. The third and fourth quintuplets died several hours later, and the fifth today.

Hannan said: "I spent the day praying that they would all grow up to be normal children."

Hannan left school at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos, Tex., in 1952 to carve his Air Force career.

From history to the Air Force is quite a jump. But the stocky, blond haired Irishman proved he could make a go when it was tough. His seven years in the Air Force have found him a "wash-out" in pilot training but a guy who rebounded to fly rugged missions as a navigator on typhoon hunts out of Japan.

He has changed a lot since those college days Tuesday changed him even more.

For a while he was the richest man in the world—a happy proud father. He can still be proud of his ability to take the cruelest of setbacks and still be a strong fighter.

Trailer House Destroyed By Fire

LEFORS (Sp) - Fire last night destroyed a trailer home owned by the Carroll Prestidge. The family of five was visiting in Shamrock when the blaze broke out at 1:30 o'clock.

Fire chief J. J. Archer said the trailer house and its contents was a total loss. It is covered only partially by insurance, Archer said.

Heater Catches Fire

Light damages were reported Tuesday afternoon when a fire from a hot water heater spread to insulation in a bathroom wall at 724 Naida. Firemen, called at 1:23 p.m., said there were no damages to the home. The occupant was Lee Lamb.

RED TIDE EASING

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) - The fish-killing red tide appeared to be easing along 150 miles of southwest Florida's coast today. Rough water, rain and relatively cool temperatures during the past two days appeared to have halted intensification of the organisms causing the red tide.

HOUD HEALTH SEMINAR

TOKYO (UPI) - The World Health Organization (WHO) today opened a two-week seminar on the education and training of sanitation personnel for 40 health officials from 17 countries and territories in the Western Pacific.

Pampan To Head Writer Group Again

Mrs. Lorene Locke, of Pampa, was re-elected president of the Pampan Pen Women for a second term, at a meeting of the group Tuesday in the Amarillo Country Club.

The five vice presidents to serve with her are Mrs. Bessie Patterson, Hereford, programs; Miss Helene Huff, Pampa, contests; Mrs. Lucy Ann Clawson, Amarillo, hospitality; Mrs. Mackie Pickett, Pampa, workshop; Mrs. Edith B. Underwood, Amarillo, publicity and librarian. Mrs. Nova Bair, Amarillo, was named recording secretary; Mrs. Kay Robins, Borger, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Nace, Pampa, treasurer; Mrs. Laura Enns Clark, Claude, hospi; Mrs. Jean Hillon, Borger, and Mrs. Vivian Robinson, Amarillo, are new board directors. James Neill North of Oklahoma City, widely-known author, poet, editor, teacher and lecturer addressed the quarterly meeting of the group and pointed out that "writers should be fluid people, go out and mix with others." He listed the five P's of good writing as Provocative, Projected, Pertinent, of the kind of writing you do, old newspaper rule of Who, What, When, Where and Why is a good one to follow. Even though you think it has all been said go out and write your story in your own way. The plots may be old but you can use them in another way."

Mrs. Locke, president, presided at the business meeting. Readers for the morning workshop directed by Mrs. Mackie Pickett were Mrs. Jean Hillon of Borger, Mrs. Marcia Hudson of Pampa, and Mrs. Laurene Chinn, Borger.

During the luncheon roundtable members reported their sales and Mrs. Lee Patrick of Borger was welcomed as a new member.

It was announced that the next Pampan Women contest will be poetry to be judged by Mr. North. Winners for the contest will be announced at the February meeting.

The second lesson of the Home Nursing course for the Care of Sick and Injured, sponsored by the Pampa Chapter of the American Red Cross, will be taught Thursday from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. at the Red Cross office. Twelve persons are registered for the class. There is room for two more interested persons, according to Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the Pampa chapter.

Glenda Gorman, Jane Hayes, Ernie Christie, all high school juniors and members of the Harvest annual staff, and Mary Ann Harvey and Marianna Perkins, both seniors and members of the Little Harvester, were recently initiated into the Pampa High School Quill and Scroll International Honorary Society for high school journalists.

James T. King of Pampa was recently elevated to the rank of Knights Commander of the Court of Honor.

Don Blaylock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blaylock and freshman major in pharmacy at Panhandle A&M College, Goodwell, Okla., has been named president of the freshman class.

Ike To Take Golf Holiday

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Eisenhower, still somewhat annoyed by traces of a cold, flies to Georgia today for his second golfing holiday this month.

The Chief Executive will stay at one of his favorite resorts, the Augusta (Ga.) National Golf Club where he expects to remain through next Sunday.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said "no serious health reasons" were behind the hurriedly arranged trip. He said the President learned early Tuesday afternoon that the week-end outlook in Augusta was for warm, sunny weather and he decided to take advantage of it.

"Apart from traces of a cold," Hagerty said, "he is in excellent health."

The White House doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, and Hagerty were flying south with Eisenhower, but Mrs. Eisenhower, also recovering from a cold, decided to remain at the White House.

News Employee Lives High On Stolen $36,000

CHICAGO (UPI) - Edward L. Stange, 54, told today how he embezzled at least $36,000 from the Chicago Daily News employees' credit union and spent the money "on women and high living."

Stange, treasurer and manager of the credit union, was seized by state's attorney's police Tuesday on two complaints charging forgery.

An employee of the newspaper 38 years, Stange signed a 13-page confession admitting he mishandled $228,000 over the past 13 years.

He said some $190,000 was in fictitious loans made to cover the other losses. But he added that all of that money was put back into the credit union.

Stange was unsure of the exact amount taken. "I always was afraid to count it," he said.

Daily News employees were told that they would suffer no loss of money deposited with the credit union, although deposits were not insured.

Marshall Field Jr., president of Field Enterprises Inc. and president and publisher of the Daily News, guaranteed the employees against any losses.

'Sissy' Bull Captures Many Hearts

SOLIHULL, England (UPI)—Brook Mandore, the pretty bull whose sissified looks may yet be the death of him, lived on borrowed time today.

Even though the Ministry of Agriculture has ruled the contented bull must die because his lovely, cow-like face might be passed on to his male offspring, thousands of Britons were rallying to his aid.

Brook Mandore appeared on nationwide television Tuesday night and his sweetness and gentility sparked a "save-the-bull" movement.

Farmer William Titcomb, owner of the 14-month-old purebred Ayrshire bull, said he could probably stall the execution a few days. An Irish farmer offered to buy Brook several days ago and Titcomb today awaited a final offer.

Titcomb's wife said individuals and organizations have offered to circulate petitions demanding that the beautiful bull's death sentence be commuted.

And the Ayrshire Society of Scotland, which lost an earlier battle with the agricultural bureaucracy to save the bull, vowed to return to the fray.

The Ministry of Agriculture refused to license Brook for breeding purposes on the ground he might sire even more pretty male bulls and ruin the Ayrshire breed.

The ministry gave Titcomb one of three most unsatisfactory choices as to what to do about Brook—they could slaughter him, castrate him, or ship him out of the country.

The Titcombs winced at the first two choices and settled for the third.

Clear Skies And Warmer For Texas

United Press International

Indian summer weather prevailed over most of Texas today, with clear skies and mild temperatures.

The only cloudiness in the state was along the coast and in parts of South Central Texas. No rain fell during the night.

Temperatures before daybreak today dipped as low as 33 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart, and ranged as high as 72 degrees at Corpus Christi near the coast.

The high in the state Tuesday was Presidio's 91—the only 90-plus reading reported. Galveston had the low maximum of 75, and most readings were in the low 80s and high 70s.

Other early-morning temperatures today included: El Paso 52, Alpine 44, Lubbock 42, Brownwood 52, San Angelo 55, Laredo 57, Austin 54, Waco 53, Dallas 54, Fort Worth 53, Beaumont-Port Arthur 56, Houston 59, Galveston 56, Victoria 60 and Brownsville 69.

Engines of a U.S. jet bomber flying at 365 miles per hour developed more horsepower than 400 at Amarillo and Dalhart, and autos of 200 horsepower each.

News In Brief

GIVE REFUGEE REPORT

BERLIN (UPI)—The West Berlin City Council today reported that 2,122 refugees from the Soviet Zone crossed into West Berlin last week. About 28 per cent of the refugees were unmarried youths, it said.

COST OF DYING UP

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The cost of dying is rising nearly as fast as the cost of living, a business counselor told the National Funeral Directors Assn. Monday.

He said the cost of an adult funeral increased by 2.3 per cent last year to $661 while the national cost of living index rose 2.7 today dipped as low as 38 degrees per cent.

"HUNTERS" SMASH RING

ROME (UPI)—Police disguised as hunters and equipped with walkie-talkies smashed a gambling operation in an abandoned fortress outside Rome Friday. The police used ropes to climb down the moat surrounding the fortress and surprised 27 gamblers who surrendered meekly.

LIKE PRAISES CARRIERS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower Friday hailed the nation's 700,000 newspaper delivery boys and girls for strengthening two cherished American traditions—freedom of the press and opportunities of citizenship. "With your help, our newspapers are swiftly distributed to the homes and working places of our people," he said in his annual newspaper day statement.

"With your earnings and experience, you are better able to prepare yourselves for the careers of your choice."

SAVED BY PAD

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Brooklyn truck driver probably owes his life today to an order pad he carries in his shirt pocket. Charles Hager, 23, told police that two armed thugs jumped on the running board of his truck and tried to rob him Friday.

When he attempted to shake them off, he said, one fired right at his heart. The bullet hit the order pad and was deflected. The thugs fled.

He surprised everyone not long ago when he launched into his first full-length English language speech to an audience of some 800 American churchmen.

"So I am old," he said with a twinkle. "But in English I am still a child in his first steps."

New Pontiff Appeals To All The World

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
United Press International

ROME (UPI)—"There was a man, one sent from God, whose name was John . . . he was not himself the light but was to bear witness to the light . . ." (Fourth Gospel)

Pope John XXIII, a little man of stout girth, has radiated sunny light since he became Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church a year ago.

This peasant's son with the rough-hewn face captured the imagination of Catholics and non-Catholics alike almost from the moment he ascended the Throne of Peter.

He has a formidable position. He is spiritual leader to more than 600 million Catholics throughout the world. He is king of tiny Vatican State whose 108 acres of stately palaces and gardens he has already explored with lively inquisitiveness, even to the oil-stained garage.

Humble and awed by his responsibilities, he nevertheless thoroughly enjoys his job, and makes it obvious that he does.

He frets at his comparative confinement to his little kingdom but accepts it with good nature. "I'm impatient of being always indoors," he told a group of American priests recently.

He confides his feelings not just to private secretaries and a few select cardinals but to all who are willing to hear.

His Papal audiences, to groups of thousands or to individuals are filled with surprises.

He likes surprises. Several days after his election, Pope John had his three brothers and sister in for supper at his private apartments. He has since dined with other old friends despite the tradition that a Pope eats alone.

"After all," he told one intimate, "nothing in scripture says that I have to eat alone."

Protocol dishards of the Vatican have resigned themselves to Pope John's unpredictable ways and comments.

He visited the city jail and frankly told the convicts, while some aides shuddered, that "one of my relatives" was jailed for a month for hunting without a license.

Pope John does not like pomp. He has firmly instructed his immediate aides to kneel before him only twice a day in a drastic curbside of Vatican ceremonial.

"One of my humiliations is to see everyone kneel before me because of the heritage of St. Peter," he said. "So I have agreed with the persons closest to me that they should kneel down only twice a day, in the morning and evening, and that's all."

He would like to show everyone the simple rooms where he lives in the Vatican palace high above St. Peter's Square.

But that would be impracticable.

So Pope John agreed to let a television crew come in and follow him throughout the day.

Millions saw the Pontiff proceed from his pre-dawn prayers in his private chapel, through a spirited public audience and a walk in the gardens to his evening recitation of the prayers of the rosary.

John will be 75 years old on Nov. 25.

But he moves and acts with extraordinary ability and is learning new things at an age when most mortals are happy to content themselves with thoughts of the past.

POPULATION PROFILE — At the beginning of 1959, 175 million persons were living in the U.S., the Census Bureau estimates. This was an increase of nearly 25 million since the last official census in 1950. Newsmap above shows how they were distributed in geographical areas. Eight states making up the highly industrialized Middle Atlantic and East North Central regions accounted for 40 per cent of the population. More than one-third of the total population was under the age of 20.

LESS COB ON THE CORN—Small-cobbed corn, left, compared with normal cob, right, by Mrs. Sue Fidler, at experimental nursery of the Missouri Farmers Assn., Marshall, Mo. Such experiments lead toward development of characteristics which researchers incorporate into new, hybrid corn varieties.

BICYCLE THIEF

EAST PATERSON, N.J. (UPI)—Felix Cintron told police Monday the thief who has been stealing his son's bicycle on the installment plan now has a complete bike.

First the headlight and generator were stolen, the wheels went next. The frame vanished Sunday.

First person to climb the Matterhorn, in the Alps, was E. Whymper in 1865. Four of the party lost their lives in the descent.

Funeral Today for Singer

By RICK DU BROW, Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The stricken family and thousands of fans pay final homage to Mario Lanza—the fabulously talented singer whose career was cut short by death at age of 38.

Solemn Requiem Mass was held at the Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church with 500 mourners to follow at Calvary cemetery.

Antonio Cocozza, the pale, 72-year-old father of Lanza, threw himself on his son's casket Tuesday night before 1,500 mourners wing recitation of Rosary at church.

"Say something to me Freddy!" the grief-stricken man screamed, pounded the casket and wept. Lanza was his real first love.

It was the first time he had seen his son since the singer died of a heart attack in Rome Oct. 7. Lanza's mother stood by her hand at the casket crying: "My baby, my baby, my baby." Cocozza collapsed at the casket and had to be helped from the church. He is reported in poor health.

Lanza's widow, Betty, tried to comfort her in-laws, pleading, "Mamma, mamma, please, it'll be right."

Two Dead, Five Hurt In Crash

HAWKINS, Tex. (UPI) — Two women died and five persons were injured Tuesday in the violent head-on crash of two cars on U.S. Highway 89 near Hawkins.

The victims were Mrs. Norma Holmes, Dallas, and Mrs. Harry Johnson, Fort Worth. Those injured were Mrs. Holmes' husband and three daughters, and R. E. Barker of Fort Worth.

Barker and Mrs. Johnson were in one of the cars and the Holmes family was in the other.

the mourners, some young mothers with babes in their arms, sat past Lanza's flag-draped casket for 45 minutes. He was dressed in a light tan tropical suit. The flag was added because he served in the Air Force during World War II.

the mourners were "plain ordinary" persons—the fans. There were no celebrities seen.

Credit Cards A Problem For Oil Companies

By MAC SEBREE
United Press International

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—The oil companies, which were one of the first to jump on the credit card bandwagon, are learning that the handy credit devices are becoming a sort of Frankenstein's monster. But the customer's benefits are growing.

A recent Oil and Gas Journal survey indicates that the cost of handling credit accounts has trebled in 10 years and threatens to go higher.

Inflation hasn't accounted for nearly all of the trouble. Bad debts, slow collections, and the expense of unused accounts have made credit costs soar. They've jumped the average cost of setting up and handling an account from $11 to $19 a year in 1949 to between $30 and $59 today.

Said one oilman: "...The costs of administering these credit accounts are breaking our back."

Motorists needn't fear that the credit card idea will be junked, however. The trend has spread so far that you can buy just about anything with credit cards these days. Oil companies have to compete with each other and credit cards are a useful tool.

For one thing, if you have a credit card of a particular oil firm you're more likely to stay "tied" to that firm's products because they can be bought from the card.

This has meant that oil companies sometimes "show down" credit cards on individuals—unsolicited. Once upon a time, you had to apply for a card and then wait for long credit checks, and then sometimes the companies acted as if they were doing you a favor when they presented you with your card.

Soon, it may not be necessary to carry a wallet full of credit cards. Several new ideas have cropped up which may revolutionize the business.

Under one plan, a central agency would handle the paper work and collections for a large number of oil companies. It would cut costs by eliminating duplication of credit offices.

Another plan calls for the issuance of a "universal" credit card good at the stations of all oil companies. A few cooperating oil firms already are trying it.

A third pitch is the "cash card" movement originating in the east. Oil companies will be asked to join the movement, in which a card-promoting company sells the customer a "cash card" for $5 a year. The card entitles the holder to a 10 per cent discount for cash at service stations, stores, and other businesses.

The central agency plan appeals to some companies, in that they would be relieved of a lot of non-oil paper work. The agency, operating entirely outside oil company setups, would ride herd on slow pays and deadbeats.

Under this plan, the companies would continue to issue their own credit cards, investigate risks and cancel privileges.

There are an estimated 45 to 50 million credit cards in the oil business today, with several companies known to have more than a million cards in circulation. One company figures its "average" customer owns from three to seven cards.

Men In Space Shortly, Russ Scientists Say

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Russian scientist has predicted that "pilots and scientific workers" will be sent into space aboard recoverable satellites "in the near future."

Space authorities here would not be surprised if the Russians sent up a manned satellite next year. The United States does not expect to put a man in space before late 1961.

The Soviet prediction was made by Prof. V. Dobranravov, doctor of physicomathematical sciences, Moscow, in an article distributed by the Commerce Department's office of technical services.

Discussing Lunik II, which he said was fully guided and tracked all the way to the moon Sept. 12-13, Dobranravov foresaw "other far-reaching actions."

"In particular," he said, "the creation of controlled and recoverable artificial earth satellites in the near future is already fully possible. It is also already possible to dispatch pilots and scientific workers in such satellites for training them for distant interplanetary flights."

Officials in charge of the U.S. manned satellite program, Project Mercury, concede that Russia may well be the first nation to put a man in space.

In Moscow, the names of Russia's first three prospective riders to the moon were revealed in two magazines today.

The magazines "Soviet Union" and "Ogonek" broke a long Soviet silence on the nation's high altitude training program with articles dealing with simulated space flights in which the blood of prospective astronauts was made to "boil."

Named as Russia's first astronauts were Ivan Kachur, Alexei Grachev, and Alexei Belokonev.

The articles failed to answer the big question of when Russia will attempt to fling a human into space in a rocket or possibly a space exploration plane such as the American X-15.

It had been reported in the West that the Soviet Union had 5 to 20 astronauts in training. The articles published today did not say whether the three astronauts named were the only ones in training.

Officials Don't Think That Injunction Will End Strike

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government officials expressed concern today over possible harmful side effects of a court-ordered halt in the steel strike.

President Eisenhower said Monday that he had no choice but to seek an injunction to send the striking steelworkers back to the mills for 80 days.

But Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell and chief fact-finder George W. Taylor made no secret of their belief that such a truce would not settle the marathon dispute.

Here's what informed sources in Washington believe may occur during the so-called 80-day "cooling-off" period:

—Negotiations will stop for 10 days or two weeks while management and union leaders are occupied with back-to-work problems.

—Workers, angered at being

...back to their jobs at old pay scales, may express their resentment by slowdowns, refusing to work overtime and other harassing tactics.

—There may be "chaos" in steel markets when mills reopen. It will take weeks — perhaps a month or more — to get production up to 90 per cent of capacity. Some experts say only 50 — not 80 — days of production will be possible because of the need to warm furnaces and then repair facilities.

—Further bargaining will proceed without any heat on the parties for an agreement. During the strike, both sides felt economic pressure — the workers got no paychecks and the industry sold no steel.

—Union and company officials will point their major efforts to the Taft-Hartley vote on management's final offer. The union will campaign for an overwhelming "no" vote and management will do the opposite to improve bargaining positions.

—The strike is likely to resume after the injunction expires unless negotiators reach an agreement well before the deadline.

A back-to-work order issued now would prohibit resumption of the walkout until around Jan. 10. This would probably inspire a flood of proposals for dealing with emergency disputes that could bring woe to union and management when Congress reconvenes in January.

Taylor and Mitchell have warned that unless this dispute is settled at the bargaining table, it may lead to contract terms imposed by government decree.

The Almanac

United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 21, the 294th day of the year, with 71 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this date in history:

In 1772, British poet and philosopher Samuel Taylor Coleridge was born.

In 1805, the English fleet under the command of Lord Nelson defeated the allied French and Spanish fleets off the Cape of Trafalgar, Spain.

In 1853, Swedish chemist and engineer Alfred Nobel was born. His will provided for the well-known Nobel Prizes.

In 1879, Thomas Edison invented a workable electric incandescent lamp.

In 1917, soldiers of the First Division of the United States Army became the first Americans to see action on the front lines.

In 1844, the United States First Army captured Aachen, the first large German city to fall into allied hands.

A thought for today: British poet and philosopher Samuel Taylor Coleridge said: "Never pursue literature as a trade."

KNIGHT LIFE—Aspiring beyond merely looking at a king, this cat has his eye on knight-hood in Chessington, England. He found a fine perch in an old suit of armor.

DUTCH TREAT—Audrey Hepburn admires a sign marking a street named in her honor in Doorn, Holland. Just behind the actress is her husband, actor Mel Ferrer.

Dick Clark Unhappy Over Row

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dick Clark denied Tuesday night that his rock 'n roll "Caravan of Stars" was responsible for a riot last Saturday night in Kansas City where 49 persons were arrested.

"The show was over when the incident took place," Clark said. Clark, a 29-year-old idol of the nation's teen-agers, told reporters at a news conference that there were "three different versions of what happened" in Kansas City.

"What happened was certainly unfortunate, but it only reflects the attitude of very few of the thousands of people there," Clark said.

As a result of the riot, Minneapolis Police Chief Milton E. Winslow cancelled a scheduled Oct. 28 performance of the "Caravan of Stars" in the Minneapolis Auditorium...

Clark, who books the talent for the show but does not appear personally, would only say that "the police chief requested that the show not go to Minneapolis and we will honor his request."

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Institution's Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., says "teleguppets" will build the first space platforms from which to launch expeditions to the moon and planets.

As described by Whipple in a report to the Office of Naval Research, teleguppets are remotely controlled robots with television eyes.

They would bear little resemblance to the popular image of a pressure-suited construction worker, with a couple of siphon bottles on his back, getting about the job of assembling platforms in space. Whipple rejects the idea of human workers in space on the ground that their suits would be awkward, inefficient, and "probably very dangerous."

The Russians also appear to prefer mechanical to flesh and blood men for space labor. A Soviet scientific article recently circulated here suggests that moon stations will be built by tank-like robots controlled from the earth by radio.

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 11-year-old who wanted a football jersey but didn't have the money to buy it decided Tuesday to try a bank. William Sicari went to the Manufacturers Trust Co., pledged his bicycle and his electric trains as security and floated a $5 loan. He will pay $1.02 each month for five months.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Institution's Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., says "teleguppets" will build the first space platforms from which to launch expeditions to the moon and planets.

GENERAL MOTORS SHUT-DOWN — Auto workers leave the General Motors Fisher Body plant in Framingham, Mass., after drawing their last paychecks prior to an assembly line shut-down. Material shortages due to the steel strike were called the cause of the stoppage.

Executed By Old Method

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (UPI) — Juan Garcia Suarez, Spanish slayer and political refugee, was executed Monday by the ancient method of slow strangulation.

Suarez, who hid in the hills of this Atlantic island for 19 years as a Spanish civil war fugitive, died by the garrote, a form of execution in which the neck is placed in an iron collar affixed to a post. A screw is tightened gradually until strangulation ensues.

The execution was the first in the Canary Islands since the turn of the century. It was carried out despite mercy pleas from local leaders.

The execution took place despite a formal last-minute plea for the condemned man's life forwarded to Spanish chief of state Francisco Franco by the mother of an officer who died fighting for Franco in the civil war.

Actor Honey-mooning

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Charles Coburn, 82, today was honey-mooning with his new bride, attractive Mrs. Winifred Natka, 41, widow of a New York opera basso.

They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., Sunday in a surprise ceremony.

Ouster Of U.S. Official Not A Cold War Spur

LONDON (UPI) — Western observers today saw no letup in Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's "peace drive" despite the expulsion of the security officer, at the American Embassy in Moscow in an incident reminiscent of the Stalin era.

Diplomats were surprised, even shocked, by the kidnaping and arrest of Russell Langelle and his ouster by the Soviets on charges of espionage. But they tended to regard the incident as an isolated episode rather than any switch to the methods of the cold war.

All signs, in the belief of officials here, still point to a continuation of the "spirit of Camp David," as far as Khrushchev is concerned, coupled with a genuine desire on his part to get along with the West.

The Langelle incident jolted officials here. However, they did not regard it as any indication of a switchback to cold war tactics.

The general British view was summed up in an editorial in the Times of London which said Monday: "The incident is a sign that the Russian police services are still strong. It is probable that the affair was due to the momentum of the machine rather than any deliberate decision by the government."

Time To Take Look At Roof, Do Repairing

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's what's on top that counts. At least that's the case with a house.

The roof is a home's first line of defense against the onslaughts of the elements. If you haven't taken a look at your roof lately now is the time to do it while the weather is favorable. October is roof inspection time.

If there is anything wrong with the roof, winter is the time the damage usually will be done. Repairs during that season may prove inconvenient as well as costly. A check-up now can prevent headaches all around.

The cost of roof repairs is only part of the expense that roof leaks may cause, according to Clarence Hausmann of Allied Chemical Corp.'s Barrett Division.

Most leaks are hidden. They make their way unseen into open spaces between walls and by the time they are discovered costly

Murder Case 'Falling Apart'

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI) — Mexican police said today their case against Dykes Askew Simmons, 30, of Fort Worth, Tex., in the Oct. 13 "thrill killings" of a brother and sister "seems to be falling apart."

Judicial Police Chief Julian Candianosa and another officer intensified a search for new suspects in the roadside slayings of Martha Perez, 18, and her brother Juan, 14.

So far, police have failed to prove that Simmons had weapons in his car, despite questioning of several persons who were with him the day after the shootings. The same persons had said earlier that Simmons did have pistols with him.

Simmons went on a two-day hunger strike after his arrest and refused to talk to police about movements since he came to Mexico.

Consider using heavier shingles. Standard weight shingles (210 pounds per 100 square feet) meet most local requirements, but heavier weight shingles with extra layers of asphalt, mineral granules and special fire-resistant ingredients provide years of additional protection at little extra cost.

Put the new roof over the old one. Discuss this possibility with your roofer. It might reduce your costs and provide extra fire, weather and insulation protection.

If windstorms cause trouble in your area look into the new seal-down shingles. These are standard shingles that contain bands of special adhesive to cement the tabs to the roof deck. Jig-saw shaped lock shingles also do an effective job of resisting high winds.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for telling off that woman who didn't like bragging done by the "foreigners." I would like to add one more thing. If she thinks WE'RE bad I am a "foreigner" she should have been in Europe during World War II. Your G.I.'s did some first-class bragging over there. In fact, one of them so impressed me with his stories that I married him. (They were.) So now we are the parents of five nice (well behaved) American children.

Cheerio!
"DEVONSHIRE"

DEAR ABBY: I am a refined, reliable grandmother who has been babysitting for some time. Parents tell me they are at ease when they leave their children in my care. But why are the young mothers so inconsiderate? When they leave, they never think to give you permission to make a cup of tea. I have sat until 4:00 a.m. without so much as a pretzel to nibble on.

Older women do not raid the refrigerator, not do we touch anything without permission. Also, we stay awake. When I start at 5:00 p.m. I have to bring a sandwich from home for my supper. Other older sitters I have talked to say they've had the same experience. What is your opinion of this?

DEAR SITTER: "Sitters" who come to sit at 5:00 p.m. should certainly be offered a substantial dinner. If it isn't offered—the sitter is perfectly justified in asking for it. Ditto for the "permission" to make tea during the evening. In your case, the meek will inherit only hunger pangs. Speak up!

DEAR ABBY: I have a wonderful woman who has helped me with my laundry and housework for years. But the longer she helps me, the more she steals. She started with little things like a package of powder-puffs from a dime store. But she graduated to nylon hose, a slip, a bottle of wine now and then and a place mat set. She has even taken some of my husband's socks and underwear.

I pay her well and have given her things for her children. It hurts me to know she steals from me, but no one else could be taking these things. Should I fire her and tell her why? Or should I let it go because I need her?

DEAR TROUBLED: Don't let it go. Have a heart-to-heart talk with this woman. Give her a chance to return or pay for the articles she has stolen. If she denies taking them and you are certain she has, replace her. A clean house is nice, but the help shouldn't be allowed to take you to the cleaners.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BADLY BURNED" at the TROPIC ISLE HOTEL: By the SUN or by the SON?

B&PW Club Has Dinner Meeting

SHAMROCK (Sp) — The B&PW Club met in the Blue Room of the Dixie Restaurant for a dinner and business meeting with Miss Monnie Gill and Mrs. James Colvin, as hostesses, Miss Ruth Zeigler, vice president, and Merita Bumpers gave the invocation.

A card was read from Mrs. Ila Byars, president and Mary-Pace, Neil Adams and Marcella Payne, who were attending the regional meeting in New Orleans, La.

Those present were: Ruth Zeigler, Imogene Wilson, Marie Taylor, Laura Ray, Glenna Heffley, Estelle Colvin, Elsie Mae Hood, Bonnie Brothers, Helen Hardin, Merita Bumpers and Vera Morgan.

Most drip and dry materials benefit from a light touch-up with a warm iron. However, you can iron pleats into a permanently pleated acrilan skirt with a twist of the wrist. After laundering, snap the skirt tautly. This shakes the pleats into place. Then hang up to dry.

Snob Set No Longer Has Corner On Collecting Antiques, Advises Dealer

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—A veteran antique dealer said today that collecting no longer is confined to the snob set. Everyone seems to be squirreling up something, from old pudding molds to old store signs.

"The collecting bug's spread all over the country," said Miss Anne Benjamin. "It is a bug we never spray."

Miss Benjamin, a small-browed woman in her middle years, said that "when I first began in this business, it was the old and wealthy who collected. Now everybody's doing it. Young people. Poor people. People who never knew what an antique was."

"I have one woman customer who collects pitchers. She came in the other day and found one she wanted, shelled out $20 and said, 'Well, there goes a new pair of shoes.'"

"I know one old lady who can hardly afford groceries, but she will pay $7 or $8 for an antique button. So maybe she does without some of the everyday necessities. But she loves old and beautiful things."

Miss Benjamin, whose shop is in its 17th year, credited World War II with the upsurge in collecting, for two reasons. One, shortages of materials which cut the number of new items made for the home. Young couples furnishing an apartment or house scoured through attics and antique shops.

"Once they found how beautiful and superbly made some of the old things were, they were hooked," she said. "World War II gave Victorian furniture a tremendous revival."

"And two, the war took a lot of men to parts of the world they'd never seen. They began shipping or bringing things home—stuff out of old castles. And guns. A big collector's item now. I can get about any price for a little old powder horn."

The dealer's well-stocked shop includes a whole series of closets filled with costumes dating to the 1860's. Broadway and television producers come to her frequently for authentic costumes—she helped

Teachers Feted At Radio Station

SHAMROCK (Sp) — Teachers of the Shamrock schools were honored with a coffee recently at KBYP and auditioned a new series of musical appreciation programs for children of all ages. Merita Bumpers and M. W. Yarborough, owners of KBYP, were hosts to the teachers.

Teachers attending were Supt. Kenneth Laycock; Principals Boyd Williams, Arthur Wells, Lucille Zeigler and June Harvey. Other teachers were: Mrs. Arthur Wells, John Neece, Claude Montgomery, Clyde Whittle, Kathleen Smith, S. Q. Scott, Harold Teegerstrum, Robert Laycock, Irene Bryan, Price Barrett, C. V. Wood, Mary Bledsoe, Jim Dougherty, Robert Lee, Della Cowan, Ruth Zeigler, Ellis May Hood, John Glasscock, Susan Pagan, Louis Hill, N. A. Burrell, Mr. John Neece and Mrs. M. W. Yarborough and Miss Neel Adams were guests.

Mrs. Jack Bryan Party Honoree

WHITE DEER (Sp) — Mrs. H. T. Dickens was hostess to a birthday-bridge party in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Jack Bryan, who is visiting her parents in White Deer. Mrs. Bryan, wife of Lt. Jack Bryan, is currently living in Moultrie, Ga.

Refreshments were served to two tables of players. Those attending were Misses June Kelp, Donna Crutchfield, Doris Freeman, Liz Thompson, Pat McBrayer, Sue Terry, Nancy Coffee, the honoree and the hostess.

Mrs. McBrayer held high score for the evening.

Fingers and fingernails often can tell a doctor much about the patient's general physical condition. Ridges running horizontally across a nail, nails that split and break easily, all may be warning signals that it is time to eat a better diet, get more sleep, fresh air and exercise.

Manners Makes Friends

If there are so many relatives that exchanging Christmas gifts has become a financial burden, why not draw names so that each adult gives another adult a gift and each child gives another child a gift.

If you want a baking sheet that's easily cleaned, try greasing only the spots to be used instead of the whole sheet. It's more economical, too.

PRESBYTERIAL SPEAKER—Mrs. J. D. Barker of Canyon, left, president of the Amarillo Presbyterian Society, presiding officer, and Mrs. J. Felton Christopher of Kansas City, Mo. attended the fall meeting of the Society held Thursday morning in the First Presbyterian Church here.

Key-Note Speaker Of Kansas City, Mo. Addresses Women's Presbyterian Meet

Mrs. J. D. Barker of Canyon, president of the Amarillo Presbyterian, called the meeting of the Pampa District, to order on Oct. 15 in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Wm. J. Chambliss, chairman, welcomed special guests and members of the Presbyterian.

Mrs. Thomas Brower, Perryton, presented the worship service using the theme "We Train to Demonstrate His Love". Mrs. H. N. Toland of Phillips and Mrs. Bill Leslie of Memphis gave "Echoes From Area Training School". Mrs. Bruce Rigler, Plainview, had charge of the dedication of the "Fellowship of the Leaf Coin". Mrs. Edgar Hubbard, White Deer, entertained the group with a humorous presentation of the responsibilities of the literature secretary.

Mrs. W. Felston-Christopher, Kansas City, Mo., presented the keynote address. Mrs. Christopher, whose husband serves on the Board of Christian Education for the West Central Area, emphasized the importance of the mission of communicating the gospel today. She stated that "You can render service with skills you do not have because of your involvement with people who are dedicating their skills in Christian service."

"NEVER-FAIL" is an apt description of this saffron rice soufflé. It's a perfect companion dish to roast duckling.

Saffron Rice Soufflé Wins Plaudits Of Food Editors

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

In the new Guildhall of the Ambassador West Hotel in Chicago, the directors of the rice industry gave a harvest festival supper. Served with a flourish, it featured a soufflé of saffron rice.

The occasion was the annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference. Here's the complete Harvest Festival Supper menu: Essence of Wild Pheasant, Kentucky Limonette Lettuce Salad Ambassador, Supreme of Duck au Grand Marnier, Soufflé of Saffron Rice, Braised Endive au Vermouth, Baby Belgian Carrots, Fine Herbs, Rice Conde with Pineapple Flambé Beverage.

The editors were told of the versatility of rice as an accompaniment to other foods — meats, fish, poultry, etc., also vegetables and fruits. The tables were "decorated with sheaves of rice and chrysanthemums.

NEVER-FAIL SAFFRON RICE SOUFFLE

One-quarter cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon powdered saffron, 4 eggs, separated; 1/4 cup cooked rice.

Melt butter in saucepan. Stir in flour. Remove from heat and gradually blend in milk. Add salt and saffron. Gradually add saffron mixture to slightly beaten egg yolks. Stir in rice. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into rice mixture. Pour into an ungreased 2-quart casserole. Place casserole in a pan of hot water. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 1 hour.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Orange and ripe olive cup, roast duckling, saffron rice soufflé, Brussels sprouts, rye bread, butter or margarine, pineapple upside

Not Only Does Favorite Matinee Idol Grow Older... So Does Movie Fan

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The trouble with meeting one of our girlhood matinee idols several years later is the shocking realization that not only is he older. But so are you.

So it was with seeing Robert Taylor, whose profile so far as I once was concerned out-chiseled any belonging to a Barrymore. The actor, who played leading man to virtually all of Hollywood's leading ladies in the 1930s and 1940s, came to town this week to talk to reporters about his job in—for him—a new medium, television. His press agent wanted to know, would I like to meet Mr. Taylor?

New Type Leading Man

Would I? After all, in my youth I spent quite a bit of my weekly allowance on the man, sighing along with millions of other females as Taylor made love to Garbo or Dunne or Garson or Leigh. Why not see what the hero of my teen years was like.

"Okay," said Taylor, "I'm used to people like you who remember me when they were little girls. I don't mind at all."

Teen-agers still have their idols. But now they worship Marion Brando or Paul Newman or Tony Curtis. Different type of leading man.

"I don't mind that I'm not playing the great lover anymore. Changes in roles are inevitable, if you're going to progress as an actor, just as age is inevitable."

He's Only 43
"At the time I was enjoying that fan hysteria... when auto-graph seekers mobbed us at hotel entrances... I was young enough to appreciate it. I don't miss it today. Fans have changed. They are blasé. Television has brought the personalities right into the home."

As Taylor talked, I was busy looking at Taylor. Sunburned, wind-burned, more the outdoor type now than the drawing room. But same heavy arched brows. Same chiseled profile, only he did seem heavier under the chin. But same hairline. No gray.

"Well," laughed Taylor. "I'm only 43."

Taylor's television debut is in a detective story series which will begin on ABC Oct. 16. "Sure I'm apprehensive about TV," he said. "But if this thing proves a fiasco, I can always go back and gather eggs."

When you travel, take along enough lingerie to keep you comfortable through the entire trip. You won't want to spend all of your time hanging over a washbasin and laundry service is not always reliable.

New Members For Rho Eta Chapter

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

Nine new members were received into Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in a formal Ritual of Jewels ceremony held Thursday in the City Club Room. New members are Mmes. Don Jones, Charles Crowson, Delmar Watkins, Frank Heare, Dawrence Rice, Don Boddy, Ted Williams, Mack White, Bill Gough. Another member, Mrs. Melvin Green, was unable to be present for the ceremony.

The candlelight service was conducted by Mrs. Jim Terrell, president, assisted by Mrs. John Gibson and Mrs. H. L. Meers. Pins were presented by Mmes. Bill Duncan and Mrs. Bill Tarpley. A special pin was presented to Mrs. Bill Flewelling, chapter sponsor. Each new member was presented with a yellow rosebud in a black bud-base.

Luxurious Mink Becoming More Fashionable For Practical Wear

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The designer Valentina once said that mink is for football. The furrier Maximilian this fall decided its for skating.

This firm's white mink skating outfit is just one of many sportswear items made from precious furs.

"The sport or spectator look in luxury furs is on the increase," said Leo Ritter, furrier and designer. "The sport or spectator look in luxury furs is on the increase." Members present in addition to those mentioned above were Mmes. Jim Wallace, James Deaton, Haldane Suttle, and Jack Tabor.

which is a pale beige and the newest shade among the mutations. It is double-breasted, belted, and priced at $11,000.

Maximilian's mink on ice is on pfece, with the short, flared skirt traditional of most wool skating costumes. The sleeves reach just below the elbow and are banded in white wool knit. Wool knit, with a band of tyrolean colors, also shapes the midriff. The furrier used the same tyrolean motif and knit midriff on a white fox coat suggested for after-ski wear.

Polly's Quiz

By POLLY CRAMER
Dear Polly: What color should I paint the walls in the living room, dining room and hall of my new home? I'm thinking of a charcoal, gray-and-white (weed carpet wall-to-wall for all three rooms). My sofa and upholstered chair need new slipcovers. I also need new drapes and a new chair.
Mrs. C. B.
Dear Mrs. C. B.: Why not paper the walls in the hall? Use a white paper with a medallion design in blue and green. Have white walls in the living room with draw curtains and sofa a deep green. Cover the large chair with a textured fabric in broad green and deep blue stripes. A new chair in white leather would be striking. For the dining room, have clear blue walls, white woodwork and curtains edged with blue and green fringe. Chair seats might be in the same blue-and-green stripes used on the living room chair.
Dear Mrs. L. W. I.: Wow! I don't know why you want turquoise walls with the black, red and beige you already have in your bedroom. Paint them beige instead. Pale gray is a good choice for your living room. It would look good with rose and deep green.
Dear Polly: My two-piece couch is rose with silver threads.

I have a dark green leather chair and a light brown chair. I have room for another couch. Will brown be all right? The rug is green and café curtains are rose, green and brown design.
Mrs. J. L.
Dear Mrs. J. L.: Brown would do for the new sofa, but a slip cover made of the curtain print would be an improvement.
Dear Mrs. E. A. S.: You ask for a color scheme but you have already chosen so many things that your scheme is pretty well set. Walls might be a beige just a shade lighter than the background of the curtains. Two extra chairs could pick up the perimmon color in the draperies.
Dear Mrs. M. W.: Draperies should go all the way to the floor. They should never stop at the top of the baseboard. A dropped ceiling will help to cut the height of the room.
What can you do with outmoded and unbecoming clothes: In the big cities, you can sell them to thrift shops. This also takes care of "bargains" you never wore. But in smaller towns, the best thing to do is pack a box for a relative who can use the clothes. Anyway, don't keep clothes that don't do something for you under the delusion that they're too "good" to throw away.

NO PLACE FOR PAPOOSE—The motor's on the caboose of this roller skate-powered "train" in Chicago, as Janet Slaughter takes 14-month-old Arthur Mitchell to the store. The 16-pound power pack consists of a one-horsepower gas engine and flexible cable which drive a geared skate. Hand control operates the device, which gives over 70 miles from a quart of gas, at 20 miles an hour. The device and the special skates are manufactured by a Detroit, Mich., firm.

British Labor Party Deeply Reappraisal Of Its Future

"Europe Today"
By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—The shattered British Labor Party, trying to pick up the pieces after its third night pasting by the Conservatives in a general election, is deep in an "agonyizing reappraisal" of its future.

The first formal party soul-searching begins at a meeting of the Labor Party's National Executive Committee next Wednesday. It will be resumed at an abbreviated annual conference soon after that. The exact date has not been announced.

One thing, however, is regarded as certain—no matter what the outcome of the inquest, party leader Hugh Gaitskell even in defeat will remain Labor's unchallenged leader.

The whistle-stop electioneering campaign, in which he drew as much as find out what went wrong. At the time and wildly enthusiastic ready, a "great debate" has been held up inside the party's ranks on such questions as:

- Is the Labor Party finished and doomed to extinction, as some observers predicted immediately after the election?
- Will it swing to the left or to the right, or split?
- Will it link up with the resurgent Liberals to form a new left-of-center but non-Marxist British radical party?
- The idea of a link-up between the Liberals and Labor's right wing has been widely discussed. Liberal Party chief Jo Grimond, without waiting for the dust of the Oct. 8 general election to subside, rushed in with a bid for a merger. He called for a "new progressive movement," stripped of the taint of socialism, that might replace the Labor Party as the main opposition group and ultimately might become Britain's future government.

Gaitskell and the party's official leaders have ignored the proposal, which even the liberal Manchester Guardian said sounded like a "shot-gun marriage."

But it is being tossed around actively by Labor rank-and-file.

Christopher Columbus never lived to realize that he had discovered a new continent.

No Charges In Mexican Slayings

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI)—The sole survivor of the Oct. 12 roadside double murder today disclosed that the killer got into the victims' car before the shooting.

Hilda Perez, 21, whose sister Marta, 18, and brother Juan Manuel, 14, were fatally shot, reiterated her previous identification of Texan Dykes Askew Simmons as the man who did the shooting.

Miss Perez was shot five times and is under treatment in a hospital here.

After making her statements Tuesday she fainted.

Meanwhile, police began dismantling Simmons' automobile in a search for the .22-caliber pistol used in the shooting.

The weapon is essential to substantiate the charge against Simmons, Dist. Atty. Salvador Garza Salinas said.

The 30-year-old Simmons, with a criminal record as well as several commitments to mental institutions, took a lie detector test but the results were inconclusive.

Bank police commander Ricardo Polo Perez, who conducted the test, submitted his report to Garza Salinas today, and recommended psychiatric tests for proper evaluation of the instrument's findings.

For a normal person, Polo Perez said, the results would mean that the subject was lying.

"My main conclusion from respiration and pulse counts," he declared, "is that Simmons is concealing something."

VIOLATES CONSTITUTION
The action was filed just after Moorhead gave State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert a check for $16,864 as a protest payment of the tax for September.

The new tax went into effect Sept. 1.

The suit said the provisions of the tax: "Violate the commerce clause of the U.S. constitution by imposing a tax upon an instrumentality of interstate commerce."

"Constitutes an unlawful attempt by the state of Texas to invade a field of interstate commerce already occupied and preempted by the federal government by virtue of the terms and provisions of the Natural Gas Act."

"Are arbitrary and discriminatory, in violation of the due process and equal protection clauses of the 14th Amendment of the constitution of the United States."

"Are vague, indefinite, uncertain, ambiguous, and incapable of determination, and is therefore unenforceable and void."

Moorhead represented Michigan Wisconsin when the company filed suit and the Supreme Court ruled that a 1951 natural gas gathering tax was unconstitutional. The state returned $11,800,000 in taxes to the company then.

But Gov. Price Daniel said Tuesday the state expected some company to challenge the new tax. He said he felt sure that Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and his staff would defend Texas against the suit successfully.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

The phone rang about 7 o'clock yesterday evening. We picked it up, and when the voice on the other end said, "Are you Red Griggs, the sports editor?" we expected to be chewed out for some oversight or error.

However, we were pleasantly surprised when the voice turned out to be a friendly one. It was W. M. Pearston of Skellytown, who wished to bring out a couple of points which he thought worthy of publication and discussion.

Pearston said that the two points, which he and his Skellytown friends had been discussing, were "Did the White Deer Bucks get a fair shake in being transferred to District 1-A for the 1960 season?" and "Why are most Panhandle football fields built north-south, causing the wind to be a factor in most football games?"

Pearston said that in the Panhandle, the wind usually blows from either the North or South, and that if the wind is strong enough, it can make the difference in a football game—especially if one team has a much better kicker than another. He said that a chance factor like the wind shouldn't weigh that heavily in deciding a game.

That's The Way The Wind Blows!

We couldn't give the Skellytown fan an answer as to why football fields are built the way they are. It's doubtful if any thought is given to the direction of the wind, when they are laid out. But maybe it should receive some consideration. The direction of the sun is usually considered in building a baseball park, and the wind in football is a big factor as the sun in baseball.

They might have considered, but the short punts certainly helped them do it a little faster.

Amarillo turned the tables in the third quarter, when they took over on a short Harvester punt and marched to a touchdown. Good kicking, against the wind, by Mert Cooper, helped stave off two other Sandie touchdowns threats. So, like Mr. Pearston said, a good kicker may have made the difference in this case.

Mr. Pearston said that while he wasn't in favor of tearing down any football stadiums, he did think that in the future it might be a good idea to consider building stadiums east-west instead of north-south. It's something to think about.

Break For Some; Hurts Others

As to the new district alignment, I did a little checking through the list of the 32 class A districts, and found that the teams were, apparently, distributed pretty equally.

District 1-A, White Deer's 1960 district, is one of the 15 containing six teams. Four of the districts have seven teams, while 12 have five teams, and one has only two.

District 2-A is certainly getting a break, in being cut from seven teams to five. District 1-A is getting the other two teams. White Deer and Panhandle, while losing Spearman to class AA. They'll thus have one additional team to contend with in conference play.

The 2-A teams have been, in recent years, carrying a heavier load than other Panhandle schools of their class. Stinnett, Gruver, and other 1-A schools have had to play only four conference games; District 3-A has also had to play only four conference games, and 4-A has been playing only five. 2-A teams have had to play six.

Some realignment of schoolboy districts is made every two years, to allow for teams moving up to higher, or down to lower classes; and to make sure that no one district has to carry more than its share of teams for too long.

The new setup, of course, is no break for White Deer or Panhandle. These two teams will now have to contend with two perennial powers—Gruver and Stinnett. But on the other hand, 2-A teams will get a break, in playing two less conference games, and not having to play White Deer.

Although the realignment works a hardship on some teams, it seems to be necessary. It also seems that the Interscholastic League, which does the shifting, tries to be about as fair about it as possible.

Fraley Picks Texas, SMU, Aggies, LSU

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fraley's Follies and the weekend football "winners" plus some equally valuable reflections on sports in general.

Iowa over Purdue—This is a pick 'em affair with both teams on the rebound. Even though playing at home is supposed to be worth a touchdown, the hunch here is the Hawkeyes.

Illinois over Penn State — The blue plate special.

Ohio State over Wisconsin—What ever happened to Floyd Patterson?

Northwestern over Notre Dame — What do ya mean, "who's he?"

Also: Michigan State over Indiana, Oklahoma over Kansas, Minnesota over Michigan, Missouri over Nebraska, Iowa State over Kansas State, Marquette over Boston College, Miami over Ohio U., Bowling Green over Kent State, Bradley over Drake, COP over Cincinnati, Dayton over Xavier and Toledo over Western Michigan.

Navy over Penn — Water poloists are merely aquatic rascals.

Syracuse over West Virginia—A surprising number of Yankee players don't like lovable old Casey Stengel.

Pitt over TCU — If I had a fireplace I'd stage a wood-chopping championship every fall.

Also: Army over Colorado State, Holy Cross over Columbia, Princeton over Cornell, Yale over Colgate, Harvard over Dartmouth, Rutgers over Lehigh, Bucknell over Lafayette, Brown over Rhode Island, Buffalo over Western Reserve, Boston College over Marquette, Connecticut over BU, Gettysburg over Muhlenberg, Scranton over Albright and VPI over Villanova.

USC over Stanford — Luis Aparicio has a Spanish bullfighter namesake.

UCLA over Air Force — I like canoeing if somebody else paddles.

California over Oregon State—Night flat racing would send the trotters back to the plow.

Also: Washington State over Idaho, Oregon over Washington, Colorado over Arizona, San Jose State over Arizona State, Brigham Young over Denver, California Poly over Fresno State, Montana over New Mexico, Montana State over Utah State and Wyoming over Utah.

Auburn over Miami — Skiing would be fun except for the snow.

Mississippi over Arkansas — If football players get much bigger they'll have to enlarge the field.

LSU over Florida — The basketball star under six feet has to be a great athlete.

Also: Georgia over Kentucky, Georgia Tech over Tulane, Duke over North Carolina State, Clemson over South Carolina, North Carolina over Wake Forest, George Washington over W&M., Vanderbilt over Virginia, Florida State over Richmond and Mississippi State over Memphis State.

Texas over Rice — My favorite sport after sunbathing is deuces wild.

Texas Aggies over Baylor — Parry O'Brien is weightlifting to develop more Olympic muscles.

SMU over Texas Tech — As I always say, its your money.

Also: Oklahoma State over Wichita, Tulsa over Detroit, Harbin Simmons over West Texas State, North Texas State over Houston and New Mexico State over Texas Western.

The Quarterback Club's personal contact drive began bearing some fruit this week, as membership at Tuesday night's meeting rose to 116, compared to 70 last week. This was by far the biggest single week increase of the year.

More membership cards were distributed to those present, for sale to prospective members this week. Cost of the membership cards is $2.50 each.

Tuesday night's meeting, held in Pampa Junior High School Cafeteria, was a brief one, since the Harvesters have an open date this week. Because of the open date, there was no scouting report, or detailed report on this week's Harvester workouts.

Pampa head coach Babe Curfman said that the Harvesters are running quite a bit, to stay in shape, but are not doing much heavy contact work this week.

"We have four tough games left," said Curfman. "We're through with the roughest part of the district schedule," he continued, "but any of the four remaining teams can beat any other team in the district, on any given night."

Curfman disclosed that Kent Mitchell, who has been out after having his appendix removed, and Buddy Rawls, who has a broken jaw, are again taking some part in workouts.

"We haven't located the right protective equipment for Rawls," he said, "but when we do, he'll be back in action. Mitchell will probably be able to play within two or three weeks."

Curfman praised the Harvesters for their effort against Amarillo. "Sure, we had to settle for a tie," he said, "but we were underdogs to start with, and they had to come fighting back to tie us."

"We had several injuries to hamper us during that game," Curfman said. "In addition to Rawls and Mitchell being out, several boys had hurt shoulders. We tried putting football bladders inside their shoulder pads, and it worked pretty well. They hit the Sandies as hard as they'd hit anybody this season."

Curfman declared that the Harvesters were extremely nervous, going into the Amarillo game. "We didn't have to fire them up," he said. "They were already fired up — perhaps too much. But they were all right when they got out on the field."

The Pampa coach concluded, by saying that the Harvesters are still showing the same fine attitude they showed against the Sandies. "I don't know how long they can keep playing like that," he said, "but I hope it's the rest of the season."

Fight Night Set Thursday; Hereford Match is Friday

The Pampa Optimist Boys Club will have its second fight night of the season Thursday night, at the Boys' Club building, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Friday, Boys Club boxers travel to Hereford for their first inter-city bout of the year. Match-maker Oren James said that 12 to 15 boys would make the Hereford trip.

Nine fights are definitely scheduled for Thursday night, and James said that three more would probably be added, making a total of 12. Most of the boys fighting Thursday are from Pampa. Two are from Lefors.

The feature match will send Ronnie Morgan of Pampa's Richard Drug team against Clyde Steele of Citizens Bank, in a 135-pound match. Morgan is a former New Mexico high school champion. Steele has little experience, but is described as a very hard hitter.

Thursday's other fights are as follows:

50 pound — Tim Braly, First National vs. Gary Watson, Parsley Roofing.

75 pound — Ronald Dunn, Citizens vs. Leland Ellis, Parsley.

95 pound — Ronnie Bennett, Citizens vs. Johnny Brown, First National.

70 pound — Gary Smith, Lefors vs. Danny Boyd, Richard Drug.

145 pound — Johnny Grimsley, First National vs. Wayne Matney, Parsley.

Logart, Rodriguez To Fight Tonight

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — "Serious" Isaac Logart of Coaguay, Cuba, tangles with unbeaten hometown Lulu Rodriguez to tonight in a nationally televised 10-round welterweight fight at Miami Beach Auditorium.

For Logart, 26, the battle could mean a return to the ranks of the top 10 contenders.

He once was ranked as the leading challenger for the welter crown and his overall record in 75 fights is 55-13-7. But he has been dropped from the top 10 list for the first time in three years and has lost his last three starts, to Charley Scott (twice) and Garnet (Sugar) Hart.

STANFORD GOLF SITE

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — The 1960 Women's National Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, June 20-24, will be played on the Stanford University golf course.

135 pound — James Morse, Richard Drug vs. Bobo Hunicutt, Parsley.

122 pound — Jerry Oliver, First National vs. David Steele, Lefors.

70 pound — Gary Smith, Lefors vs. Danny Boyd, Richard Drug.

Reaper Game Cancelled; Shockers Here Thursday

Injuries and illness have plagued Pampa's Junior High and B teams during the past week. The Shockers and the Lee Rebels will both have regular starters missing from their lineup Thursday because of injuries or sickness.

In the case of Pampa Junior High, the injuries were serious enough to force cancellation of Thursday's schedule game with Dumas.

Earl Peeler, Pampa Junior High coach, reported that quarterback Randy Matson's right arm is injured and that end Brian Prigmore has some cracked ribs.

The Shockers have a squad of only 19 men, and can not easily replace injured players. Also, Matson has accounted for at least half of the Shockers' yardage, and Peeler feels they could not make a showing without him. For these reasons, Peeler decided to call Dumas today and cancel the game, originally set for Thursday.

The Shockers will play the Palo Duro B team at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Harvester Park. Norman Phillips' squad has a 2-3 record for the year, after last week's 28-0 loss at Lubbock.

Three regular starters — left halfback Dennis Mills, right end Corky Godfrey, and left tackle Dennis Duncan all were sidelined during the Lubbock game with sickness or injury. Mills and Duncan are still not ready for action, but Godfrey is expected to start.

Lester Ramsey's Rebels play Austin of Borger at 4 p.m. Thursday in Borger. Two offensive regulars, quarterback Ronnie Chase and fullback Harry O'Neil, are out with broken bones (Chase a finger, O'Neil his nose) and several others are nursing minor hurts.

The Rebels have a 4-2 record for the year, and last week won their big traditional game of the year over Pampa Junior High, 30-16. Ramsey said that he is finding it difficult to get his team "up" for this week's game after last week's win.

Unbeaten Lee 8th To Play Thursday

Pampa's only undefeated football team, Lee Junior High's eighth grade, puts its perfect record on the line Thursday against Austin of Borger at 4 p.m. on the west practice field of Harvester Park.

Bill Kennedy's eighth graders have been scored on only once in winning three games. They defeated Dalhart, 8-0; Houston of Borger, 6-0; and Phillips, 5-6.

Lee eighth, however, has been idle for the past two weeks, and Kennedy reports that his squad is very restless, and eager to play a game.

"I have to hold them down in practice," Kennedy said. "They don't want to just run through plays and signal drills. They want to scrimmage every day."

Fiscal Box-Score

During this interim period, while President Eisenhower is considering what, if anything, he should do respecting the steel strike...

So, let's review. To begin with, at the first of 1959 the nation's representatives seemed to have the idea that the predominant mood of Democrats in the halls of Congress was supposed to indicate that a really full-scale spending spree had been signaled...

But the lawmakers ran into a problem. They met a new and a tougher Mr. President than they thought existed. And slowly it was borne upon them that the president's unwillingness to go along with a vast increase beyond the declared budget limits was actually supported by widespread public opinion...

But elsewhere they parved down the ink on that $77 billion budget. It was hardly dry when the Senate approved a housing bill and a bill for federal aid to municipal airports which cracked the budget wide open...

Two Kinds of Action

When a person awakens to the fact that something has gone wrong with our political and economic situation, his normal reaction is one of frustration. How could anything go wrong with a nation as wonderful as this one?

But that something is wrong is now apparent to him, and in the midst of his frustration he wants something done about it. He doesn't know exactly what is to be done, but he wants action.

Certainly, he is convinced, he has had nothing to do with the sorry state of affairs. Other people have caused our mounting dependency on government. It is the growth of government, the growth of taxation, the trend toward socialism...

The Pampa Daily News

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence...

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"Bankers As Brokers Of Money Versus Bankers As Creators Of Bankers" I have been quoting Frederick Nymeyer's essay on the causes of boom and bust...

Reason number one is that about $400 million of these cuts in requested funds, won't affect the total spent at all. These pariahs in the budget reflect on long-term spending items which won't have to call for these millions until 1961 or later...

President Eisenhower wanted the budget not to exceed $77 billion. Various appropriations agencies got together and asked for $81,623,209,075. The House approved $80,571,126,772. The Senate approved $78,195,268,767...

When you realize that we are already spending more than $9 billion annually, just in interest charges on prior debt, you can begin to see that our fiscal situation in Washington is rapidly deteriorating. It is not impossible that before long it will be out of control altogether.

When we are going to suggest, even at the risk of not being properly understood, that it is not action in the political camp, but self-improvement in our own mental camp which is the important thing...

What we must see is that there are really two kinds of action. One is the unthinking kind of action which is aimed at getting other people to do things with the least possible effort made by ourselves...

The other kind of action is the direct kind taken by each individual. This is action which doesn't depend on what anyone else does at all. It is self-controlled, self-restrained action, in which each individual decides what he will believe, what he will do, and what he will say.

So, all we can say is this. If you are one of these persons who have awakened to the dangers we are experiencing in this country because of our flirting with massive collectivism, and if you feel the political action you have advocated has added up to more of the same, then we respectfully suggest that you begin to take action on yourself.

IRAQ CAULDRON — A lot more blood will be spilled in Iraq — and it can happen any moment. The situation there is as explosive as an armed hand grenade.

These are highlights of the latest intelligence report to the White House, State Department and Pentagon. Other significant details are:

The U.S. embassy in Baghdad is under tight Iraq military guard; and only persons with U.S. passports are allowed admittance.

The library of the U.S. Information Service is still packaged, and all requests to reopen it have been turned down by Premier Kassem's regime.

Kassem declined U.S. offers of medical care for his bullet wounds in the recent assassination attempt, and was treated by Russian doctors. Soviet specialists and nurses were flown to Iraq for this purpose.

Since this shooting, an estimated 3,800 persons have been jailed, many of them military officers and government employees. Trials by so-called "people's courts" are slated soon. These tribunals are notorious for their death sentences.

Western authorities are closely watching what is done by General Ahmed Salah el-Abdi, chief of staff of the Iraq army. Now very close to Kassem, el-Abdi was strongly anti-Communist earlier this year. But subsequently he acceded to the execution of anti-Communist officers.

Getting accurate information about what is going on in strifetorn Iraq is extremely difficult. Assistant Secretary of State William Macomber stressed that in a talk with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He told them, "It is harder for us to get at the facts there than in some of the Iron Curtain countries. It's a very tough and complex problem which we are handling with the utmost caution and care."

Until Iraq trends are clearer and better known, Macomber explained it is the policy of the U.S. to do everything we can to promote stability to prevent the Communists from increasing their power. We train you. For appointment call Elmer Stinson, MO 4-1127.

While Soviet technicians are replacing Britons in Iraq, there has been no meddling with the flow of oil, whose production is controlled by the British with slightly less than one-fourth American participation. This income, upwards of $300 million a year, is the bulk of Iraq revenue.

Three-Time Loser Wins

MARLOW, England (UPI) — Miss Dorothy Blewitt, a 61-year-old spinster, finally got her man. Perseverance did it.

Back in 1916 she fell in love with Tom Rance and told him so in her love letters. But he didn't take her seriously and up and married her Aunt Alice.

Quotes In The News

United Press International WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower in ordering the Justice Department to seek a Taft-Hartley law injunction in the steel strike: "It is a sad day for the nation."

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman, arriving in the capital, asked if he liked still to be recognized by the public: "When a fellow is fool enough to make himself notorious he's got to pay the penalty."

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

TOKYO (UPI) — Crown Princess Michiko celebrated her 25th birthday today. The common-born wife of Crown Prince Akihito expects to bear their first child next April. She was reported in good condition.

BOSTON — A spokesman for an advertising agency which handles posters for the Metropolitan Transit Authority on why the artists and model costume ball posters had to have clothing painted over the bare figures: "We considered the posters of offensive. We have to be very careful with things like that."

DEPARTS FOR U.N.

TOKYO (UPI) — Shinichi Shibusawa, chairman of the U.N. fact-finding commission on Laos, left by plane Monday night for New York to report on the results of the investigation into charges of aggression from Communist North Viet Nam. Shibusawa arrived from Laos last week.
