Burden Of Proof Of Need To U.S.

By NORMAN L. BRAUN
United Press International

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A panel of three judges today ordered an indefinite stay of execution of a Taft-Hartley back-to-work order in the 100-day steel strike—clarifying the earlier ruling handed down in Pittsburgh.

Judge John L. Biggs of the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said the "stay will be continued until the arguments on the merits have been heard" — supporting Judge Austin L. Staley's ruling of Wednesday.

The United Steelworkers Union asked the judges to throw out a Taft-Hartley injunction in the steel strike on grounds the government has not shown that the safety of the nation is imperiled.

"It is plainly not sufficient simply to submit an affidavit from the secretary of defense or some other government official stating that the steel strike creates a peril to national safety," union counsel Arthur J. Goldberg said.

Goldberg told the court that the burden of the government to supply testimony to support its conclusion "is not met simply by submitting an affidavit or simply stating that conclusion."

The union attorney said the government in its appeal for the Taft-Hartley back-to-work injunction "did not explain its contention that production in 'unstruck mills cannot meet the defense needs."

"It is not the burden of the defendant union to show that there is no peril to national health and safety," Goldberg said. "It was the burden of the plaintiff to show that there is."

Goldberg said Congress "did not mean to entrust to a single district judge" the right to "require free men to work or require free industry to operate."

"Once the injunction becomes effective, the damage is done," he said.

Chief Judge John Biggs Jr. said the court would act on an appeal from a temporary restraining order issued Wednesday by Federal Judge Herbert P. Sorg in Pittsburgh. Goldberg contended the appeal was "not from the temporary restraining order, but from a final order in the case."

Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. George C. Doub called Washington, then said the government was prepared to go to a final hearing "provided it is heard on the briefs filed in the court below," so there will be "no delay in this critical national emergency."

Goldberg said because of the stay of execution by Judge Staley, it appeared that the "stay depended on the filing of an appeal before the court."

Judge Biggs then said the stay will be continued until the arguments on the merits have been heard, which is what Judge Staley's order intended.

The legal maneuvers began with a delay while Sorg conferred in his chambers with union and management attorneys who debated the question of retroactivity of any settlement reached during compulsory negotiations while the cooling off period is in force.

Sorg, at 47 one of the youngest federal judges in the nation, emerged from his chambers and signed the back-to-work order at 2:44 p.m. He agreed with President Eisenhower and found the strike "inimicable to the public health and safety."

The union attorneys were ready for the move, however. They had deposited earlier with the clerk of the appellate court here a notice of appeal. Within 15 minutes, Goldberg telephoned the clerk and obtained a docket number for the document, making the appeal official.

The attorneys then went before Staley in Pittsburgh and obtained the stay preventing the injunction from taking effect to halt the strike. Staley granted the stay "on the basis that there is a substantial matter of law involved."

Sorg said he signed the injunction "in order that further negotiations may go on while the basic needs of the country are being filled."

But Goldberg said in his arguments that the injunction was a deterrent to bargaining.

Jupiter Launched

Army Reaps

Successes In

Missile Firing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Army, fresh from getting the ax in the super-space field, Wednesday night successfully fired a Jupiter IRBM, the missile which first put the U.S. in the space race.

The 60-foot-tall rocket rumbled from its pad at 10:20 p.m. and arched gracefully through low clouds after the ocean to an impact area 1,700 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

This was a tactical model of the Jupiter weapon that will go on duty soon in the NATO European defense ring with its potential of sending a nuclear warhead deep into the heart of Russia, if necessary.

The firing, first for a tactical Jupiter since Sept. 30, came only hours after the Army learned it was losing its famed space missile team, headed by Dr. Werner von Braun, to the civilian National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

This had the effect of removing the Army from the field of giant space vehicles, although both the Army and the Navy may still be assigned specific satellite projects.

The Army Ballistic Missile Agency developed the Jupiter, which was later given to the Air Force for use alongside another IRBM, the Thor. The ABMA facilities at Huntsville, Ala., have been used for testing the Jupiter, although the missile fired Wednesday came directly from its builders, the Chrysler Corp. in Michigan.

Italian Poet Wins Nobel

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — The 1959 Nobel Prize for Literature was awarded today to Salvatore Quasimodo, a left-leaning Italian poet who once wrote that the Soviets took over God's work when they launched their first Sputnik.

It appeared the awarding of the prize to the 58-year-old Quasimodo might touch off a major controversy in Italy where Roman Catholics were outraged by his reference to "God's work" in his poem "The New Moon."

The winning of the prize also may alienate anti-Communist elements who look askance at Quasimodo's falling in step with Communist attacks last year on Russia's Zaboris Paternak who won the 1958 Nobel Prize for Literature. Quasimodo described Paternak as a little bourgeois who lives like a lord.

Where Is Nina Spoonmore Today?

Mrs. Nina Spoonmore is out working her "prospects" for United Fund gifts. Welfare is her business, but this is her contribution to another worthy cause.

All ages — children and adults — have problems. There is no way to know just who will be without one of the essentials of life.

Mrs. Spoonmore is contacting other business ladies, as well as housewives, in the individual division of the campaign, under Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Foy Heath. Mrs. Spoonmore is anxious to finish her cards by this afternoon.

Like News Conference

Favors Top Talks By West First

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today that he still strongly favors a Western summit conference as soon as possible, but told reporters he does not feel the same sense of urgency about a full-scale summit meeting with Soviet Russia.

At an unusual news conference here with about 50 reporters, Eisenhower also disclosed that he plans in his budget next year to ask for increased funds for the American space program.

The chief executive, who came South Wednesday in an effort to relieve symptoms of what he described as chronic bronchitis, said he does not believe the American space program should be regarded purely as competition with Russia.

In the field of military missiles, he said, the progress of the United States had been remarkable and this country now had operational intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Other major news from the President's conference with reporters included "fixed" television quiz shows, as revealed in recent congressional disclosures, a terrible thing to do to the American people. He said he had asked Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to determine the proper role of the Federal Communications Commission.

Despite his use of the Taft-Hartley labor management law, he is still hopeful that both sides in the steel strike will, as he put it, awaken to their obligations to the American people and resolve their differences in free collective bargaining.

He looked askance for the time being at additional labor legislation, saying he opposed the idea of adding to punitive laws. But on the other hand, he said, if the American people do not exercise the required self-discipline in their economic disputes, the role of government in such disputes will have to be re-examined.

He disclosed that the "cold" he contracted three months ago actually was bronchitis, which has become chronic. He said that in late September he found himself suffering from an acute cold and, as he put it, a flu attack on top.

Builder Jay Thompson, representing Hughes Development Co., also showed commissioners a proposed plan for a housing development for colored residents in the Boyd-Hughes addition south of Carver School.

The addition, three full and six part-blocks, will have streets designated after the names of famous American Negroes — Campagna, Mahalia, Thurgood, Clayton, Bunche and Crawford.

The commission also set Nov. 24 as the date to open bids on four new city vehicles, including three two-ton trucks, one three-quarter ton truck, and a four-door sedan for the city tax office.

Hope is that all commissioners will be present for a meeting next Tuesday hinge on the improvement of two members currently hospitalized.

Commissioner Vaughn is being treated in a Grand Junction, Colo., hospital for serious hip injuries suffered Tuesday when he was thrown from a mule on an elk hunt in the Ketchikan Pass near Elkton, Colo.

Holmes, commissioner of Ward Three, entered Highland General Hospital Tuesday morning following a seizure of asthma and pneumonia. Mayor Ed Myatt, who suffered a broken toe Tuesday night while dressing for the Chamber of Commerce banquet, is still on his feet, but he was quoted as saying, "The going is slow."

TELLICO PLAINS, Tenn. (UPI) — Daniel Boone, a Nashville, Tenn., businessman, killed a bear in the Cherokee National Forest, it was reported Wednesday.

Pampa Value Days
Today Thru Saturday

"No giveaway programs, just lots of bargains," is the way one Pampa merchant described "Pampa Value Days," beginning today and ending Saturday night.

All city stores are stocked with fall merchandise and many stores already have Christmas items on display and ready for lay-away.

Stores will observe regular hours during Pampa Value Days. Shop the News for outstanding values all this week.

Rites For Mrs. M. K. Brown To Be Friday

Mrs. M. K. Brown, prominent pioneer woman, died today at 2:20 a.m. in Highland General Hospital where she had been confined since Oct. 11.

The body will lie in state at Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home until 2:30 p.m. Friday.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church with the Rev. William E. West officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Brown has requested no flowers and that all memorials be sent to the memorial fund of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church where Mrs. Brown was a member.

Pallbearers will be Clyde Fatheree, Lynn Boyd, Gene Green, R. G. Allen, William J. Smith, Hugh Burdette, DeLea Vicars and Jim Thompson.

Born at McKinney, Tex., Sept. 27, 1878, Mrs. Brown, the former Josye Lucille Barnes, was one in a family of 12.

She came to Pampa in 1904 and became assistant postmistress to her sister, Miss Claudine Barnes, in 1914. She was married to M. K. Brown on Aug. 30, 1922.

During their marriage, the Browns resided in the Pampa Hotel in the spring and summer months. They spent the winters in the Aurora Hotel in San Antonio. During the years they have traveled extensively, returning often to Mr. Brown's native home in England.

While Mrs. Brown did not actively associate herself with any particular group, she was generous in her contributions to all worthwhile causes.

She was an enthusiastic lover of flowers. Although the Browns always resided in hotels or apartments, she had an abundance of flowers growing in window boxes.

Survivors include her husband and two sisters, Miss Clara and Mrs. Barnes of Sulphur, Okla., and Mrs. Jeanette Strong of Austin. Also, a number of nieces and nephews.

Weak Cool Front Opens

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
TOP OF TEXAS — Partly cloudy with little change in temperatures through Friday. High 80, low 48.

A weak cool front slipped into the Panhandle today but it was expected to have little effect on the state.

The low temperature reported early today was 43 degrees at Alpine, and the high was 66 at both Laredo and Houston. The high Wednesday afternoon was 91 at Presidio.

Skies were generally clear over North Central and West Texas early today but partly cloudy to cloudy elsewhere. There was considerable fog through South Central and East Texas and a light shower fell at Brownsville around 5 a.m., but it amounted to only a trace.

The fog was heaviest in East Texas limiting visibility to almost zero in some spots.

Amendment To Taft-Hartley Law Proposed By Mitchell

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell called today for a Taft-Hartley law amendment to let presidential fact-finding boards step into labor disputes before they reach the deadlock stage.

Mitchell said he would "promote a discussion" of his proposal within the Eisenhower administration. If the idea is approved, Mitchell said he will ask Congress to adopt the amendment when it convenes in January.

The labor secretary said that President Eisenhower had not specifically approved the proposal. But he said the Chief Executive "has indicated to me he would like the whole area studied."

Under the 1947 Taft-Hartley law, the President may appoint a fact-finding board to determine the issues in a strike only when the walkout appears to threaten national health and safety. He then may seek a court order to force the strikers back to work for 80 days.

Eisenhower used the provision recently in the steel and dockworkers strikes.

Mitchell proposed in a TV interview that the Taft-Hartley law be amended to permit the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to ask the President to name a fact-finding board at any time during union-management negotiations, "perhaps before a strike occurs."

THE 'NEW' BALLARD ST. — Ballard St. from Browning to Atchison, once a headache to city motorists, took on a wider appearance today with the introduction of four-lane traffic and the elimination of areas of indenture parking. Police Chief Jim Conner said Ballard should now move more traffic safely than ever before. Conner added that indenture parking will be permitted only where it is provided by individual property owners. Four-lane downtown traffic will also soon be introduced on Francis, Foster, and Kingsmill streets. (Daily News Photo)

Air Battle, Havana Bombings Climax Opposition To Castro

By JOSEPH A. TAYLOR
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — An air battle over Havana and bombings throughout the city Wednesday night climaxed an upsurge of opposition to Premier Fidel Castro that put one of his top aides in prison and drove another to suicide.

At least two Cubans were killed here and more than 30 were injured by gunfire from warplanes trying to shoot down a plane that flew over the city at dusk, dropping leaflets that denounced alleged Communist influence of the Castro regime.

So far as is known, the leaflet raider was not hit.

Other persons were believed to have been injured by motorized raiders who sped through the city later Wednesday night, tossing home-made bombs or hand grenades out of the windows of their cars.

Delegates to the convention of the American Society of Travel Agents that opened here Monday watched excitedly as warplanes roared low over Havana, their machine guns spitting fire. None of them was injured.

The air battle and the bombings caused momentary panic in the heart of Havana but the city's life went on much as usual. Night spots and gambling places remained open although there were few tourists on hand.

The leaflets that showered down on Havana were signed by Maj. Pedro L. Diaz Lanz, a former commander of the Cuban air force who resigned and fled to the United States last spring in protest against what he described as growing Red infiltration of Castro's revolutionary regime.

Thousands of leaflets fell in the vicinity of the hotels where the ASTA delegates are staying, but few of the American visitors could read them because they were written in Spanish.

The suicide was Capt. Jose Manuel Hernandez, commander of the Florida post 25 miles from Camaguey. He faced a crowd of Maj. Hubert Matos, military commander of Camaguey Province, in protest against "Communist influences within the government."

UPI Foreign Editor

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro may see a frightening sameness in the mounting revolt against his own regime and the manner in which he finally toppled the dictatorship of President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro's revolutionary forces, unable to meet the Cuban army in pitched battle, employed hit-run tactics which in the long run proved even more effective.

They struck at the sugar crops and by terrorism discouraged Cuba's tourist trade, the two together being Cuba's primary sources of income.

And finally, as they gained strength in the closing days of the revolution last December they managed to cut Cuba in two, separating the capital of Havana from Oriente Province and the sugar-producing southeastern end of the island.

It was this final success that convinced Batista it was time to flee. He left Cuba on New Year's morning not quite 10 months ago.

At least three revolutionary groups participated in the revolt against Batista, among whom Castro emerged the strongest.

The same pattern exists today with widespread but apparently unorganized attacks by any number of groups with their own reasons for hating the dictatorship which Castro superimposed on the wreckage of the one he destroyed.

Now, as then, revolutionary forces are striking at the sugar industry and at tourism. Sugar refineries have been hit, and it was scarcely by accident that the airplane leaflet raid over Havana Wednesday night coincided with a convention of some 2,000 members of the American Society of Travel Agents.

Tactics Of Castro Opponents Show 'Frightening Sameness'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration sources said today they hoped Congress would give quick approval to President Eisenhower's latest reshuffling designed to speed the nation's space effort.

The administration "wants to avoid a long drawn-out inquiry into the transfer of the famed, Werner von Braun rocket team from the Army to the civilian space agency."

But initial reaction from congressional military experts indicated the lawmakers want to take a careful look at the shift. The reorganization would become effective 60 days after Congress was officially notified of the plans unless rejected by the Senate or House.

Chairman Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) ordered the staff of his House military operations subcommittee to make a thorough study of the shift. Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) called on Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) of the Senate Space Committee and Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee to undertake separate investigations.

Optimists Give Out Christmas Tree Cards Today

More than 1,000 Christmas tree cards were distributed to Breakfast Optimist Club members at this morning's meeting at Johnson's Cafe.

The cards will be sold for $1 each, and will be worth $1.25 on the purchase of a Christmas tree from an Optimist Club tree lot. The club will have at least two lots, one to be located at Cuyler and Tyng, the other at Hobart and Decatur.

Deadline for sales was set for Dec. 1. Club President Kendall Green urged that each member sell at least 10 cards. He said that if a card holder is unable to find a satisfactory tree, his money will be refunded.

In other business this morning, secretary Vincent Simons announced that Optimist road signs are in. They will be posted Saturday afternoon by club members.

Guests at this morning's meeting were Frank Kempa and Darrell Hoggett, and Evening Club members Ronnie James, Eddie Lowrance, and Larry Parsley.

One Out Of Two A Possible Wreck Victim, Says Albers

Sgt. E. G. Albers of the highway patrol told Pampa Rotarians yesterday that every other child born today can expect to be killed or seriously injured in a highway accident during its lifetime. To stress the importance of highway safety, Sgt. Albers said that there have been 27,000 more people killed in automobile accidents in the United States in the last 50 years than have been killed in all the wars the world has seen in the last 150 years.

Last year, 42 per cent of all highway fatalities involved a drinking driver and the sergeant pointed out that five out of the six fatalities in Gray County this year had only one car involved. This proves, the speaker stated, that one cannot relax to danger just because there isn't much traffic on the road.

Kay Tooley and Sue Foster, high school students, attended the meeting on behalf of the Junior Red Cross. Miss Foster explained that Pampa had been featured in the current issue of the National Junior Red Cross magazine and copies of the magazine were given members as they left the gathering.

Visitors and guests for the day were Charlie and Donald Thut, Roscoe Elmore, Charles Mallet, Earl Wade, Ed Morris, and G. C. Matheny.

settle their problems, entered his office, and blew his brains out. In an island-wide broadcast, Castro denounced Matos as a "traitor" and an "ingrate". The bitter attack recalled the broadcast last July which forced the resignation of President Manuel Urrutia, who had also charged that Castro's government was unduly influenced by the communists.

Castro spoke directly to a crowd of about 5,000 workers and farmers, many of them armed with jungle knives, who had converged on Camaguey in response to a radio appeal in anticipation of a possible battle.

No trouble developed Matos surrendered peacefully to Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, commander of the army, who flew to Camaguey with Castro. He was promptly clapped into prison.

Matos, who is 41, quit a job as sociology professor at Santiago University to join Castro's rebels in the Maestra Mountains, before the overthrow of President Fulgencio Batista.

Reminded repeatedly by reporters that the French want a much slower approach to dealings with Russia than do the United States and Great Britain, Eisenhower said, picking his words carefully, that he thought an early Western summit would be very desirable.

Unless the Allied leaders properly coordinate their views and positions on a broad range of subjects to be discussed with Russia, Eisenhower said the inevitable result would be an international donnybrook.

He touched on the space programs of this government repeatedly. His money plans for next year developed only from intensive questioning. His administration has been criticized in some quarters for not seeking larger sums for development of space vehicles.

Trusting to memory, Eisenhower said that he asked 500 million dollars for the space program during the current fiscal year and as he recalled, Congress cut 68 million, then restored a small amount of the cut.

Without specific figures, the President said he definitely would ask Congress next January for something more.

Two south Pampa business buildings were entered overnight by burglars, police said this morning. Losses totaled $26 in change.

Burglarized were the White Way Cafe, 924 S. Cuyler, and the Mexican Inn Cafe on E. Frederic. Both buildings were entered through screen windows.

The Mexican Inn reported that $16 in small change was taken from a cash register. Losses at the White Way were about $10 from a cigarette machine.

A $1,000 bond was set on G. D. Russell of Borger this morning in county court after Russell entered a not guilty plea to charges of swindling with a worthless check. County Attorney Don Cain said Russell allegedly passed a worthless $22.29 check Nov. 15, 1958 at William's Gulf service station, 1405 Alcock. Russell had been sought on an arrest warrant the past several months.

Both men were arrested by Pampa police Wednesday morning.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI)—Friday will be a very busy day for Caryl Chessman — rather than his last one.

The 38-year-old convicted robber, kidnaper and rapist was granted a stay of execution by the U.S. Supreme Court Wednesday, just 50 hours before he was scheduled to die in San Quentin's gas chamber.

It was the seventh stay granted Chessman since he was condemned by a Los Angeles jury in 1948. The convict-author said he would use the new time to seek "eventual vindication."

Chessman met with newsmen Wednesday after the high court's action was announced. "I have already gone on record as waiving my rights to double jeopardy or anything of that nature," he said. "I want, and I always have all these years, a new trial and eventual vindication."

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Handwritten Will Changes Not Recognized In Court

Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used.

Take the case of Mr. S. Some time ago he went into his lawyer's office and laid in front of his attorney a will which had been prepared for him about a year previously. He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.

Mr. S. was attempting to change two items of his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will, but merely trying to change these two items.

If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes that he had made, but would probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

After the will has been once executed, changes cannot be made legally by crossing out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will an entirely new will must be written and properly executed—or an addition by way of a codicil must be executed.

Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker at least once a year—to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not been such as to require a modification of the will. It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may result in the intentions of the maker of the will being thwarted.

There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the legatees or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase or decrease the amount given them, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making the will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors may cause

In 1907, a "run" on the Knickerbocker Bank in New York City preceded the panic of 1907.

In 1953, France and Laos signed a treaty making the Indochinese state fully independent and sovereign within the structure of the French Union.

A thought for today: American man of letters Henry James said: "It takes a great deal of history to produce a little literature."

Three Canadians Scholarship Finalists

CANADIAN (Sp) — Three Canadian High School seniors have been named as semi-finalists in the 1959-60 National Merit Scholarship competition.

Johnny Glenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Glenn, ranked in the "top 20" in the state. Also named as semi-finalists were Betty Lee Abraham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malouf Abraham, and Anne Hoobler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hoobler.

All semi-finalists will take another examination, the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. Those who repeat their high scores on the second test will become finalists and eligible for hundreds of college scholarships.

STUFFED SPARERIBS — Monotony in menu planning is a habit all homemakers try to avoid. A standard recipe for barbecued spareribs can be an excellent find, but for diversity why not try stuffed spareribs.

Spareribs Highlight For Famished Fall Appetites

MENU
Spareribs With
 Apple-Raising Stuffing
 Baked Potatoes
 Buttered Broccoli
 Assorted Relishes
 Salt Sticks
 Butter or Margarine
 Baked Custard
 Coffee Tea Milk

Do you have a favorite sparerib recipe? Some homemakers prefer barbecued spareribs exclusively, while others like to use a tart fruit glaze. Has the thought ever occurred to you that stuffed spareribs is an interesting way to prepare this fresh pork cut?

Here is your opportunity to please the family, give Spareribs With Apple-Raising Stuffing the chance to win a few friends in your home.

Spareribs are a natural fall and winter entree. The stuffing is, too. Highlighted in this delicate flavored stuffing are apples, raisins, chopped celery, bacon and a host of different seasonings.

Fresh Pork is in abundant supply at the present time... a time for you to take advantage of the special prices your meat retailer will be offering. One thing which many homemakers are not aware of is that today's pork has been produced and processed to meet the demands of diet-conscious Americans.

A must to remember in preparing a fresh pork cut, regardless of the type of meat cookery employed, moist or dry heat, the meat should be cooked to the well-done stage.

SPARERIBS WITH APPLE-RAISING STUFFING
 4 pounds spareribs (3 sides)
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 Apple-Raising Stuffing

Cut spareribs into pieces of approximately 3 ribs each. Season with salt and pepper. Spread one-half of the pieces with Apple-Raising Stuffing. Cover with the remaining sections of spareribs, turning rib ends down. Open spareribs on a rack in a open roasting pan and roast in a moderate oven (350 degree F.) for 1 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender.

Menu For Simple 'Snacking' Will Add Hilarity To Halloween Hoop-De-Do

This simple, but good menu for "snacking," comes from Margaret Mitchell of the Alcoa Wrap Kitchens. Plan to serve individual portions of Gingerbread, Taffy Apples, and Hot Spiced Cider at your Halloween party. Decorate the taffy apple sticks with foil leaves for an added touch!

GINGERBREAD

- Shape 12 individual molds from double-thick square of Alcoa Wrap. Use a 4-ounce glass tartard cup to shape foil.
- Prepare your favorite ginger bread or a mix.
- Fill foil molds 1/2 full with batter; place molds on cookie sheet.
- Bake as directed for cakes.
- Serve warm in foil molds with whipped cream topping, or cool; frost with orange frosting; make ridges in frosting to resemble pumpkin; use a strip of green gumdrop for stem.

(NOTE: Gingerbread may be made in advance, wrapped in a sheet of Alcoa Wrap, placed in 100 degree oven 15 minutes before serving.)

TAFFY APPLES
 15 to 20 small, red eating apples
 4 cups sugar

SERVE SOUP ON HALLOWEEN EVE

The bloom of the native American vines — the tomato and the pumpkin — combine for a special Halloween treat — Harvest Soup, American. Start with velvet-smooth Heinz Tomato Soup, add canned or fresh pumpkin puree, allspice, thyme, salt and pepper. Heat till bubbling. It's as simple as that.

For festive service on this night of strange sights and sounds, hollow out a pumpkin shell and use it as a holder for a soup bowl. Perhaps you'll find a plain heat-resistant glass mixing bowl will fit the best. Be sure to select a pumpkin a few inches bigger in diameter than the bowl you want to use so that it will fit down in the shell.

HARVEST SOUP, AMERICAN
 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Heinz Condensed Tomato Soup, diluted with an equal quantity of milk
 1/2 cup pumpkin
 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Dash thyme
 Dash pepper
 Combine ingredients in saucepan. Heat just to boiling, stirring occasionally. Makes 3-4 servings.

Use Special Recipes For Quantity Cooking

Cooking and serving a meal for 50 is entirely different from preparing one for five. You'll soon discover this if you are heading a food committee for a club group this fall.

The menu will have to be considerably streamlined. Virtually failureproof dishes should be used. Foods that will upon standing must be avoided and foods that require lots of last minute attention will be a mistake.

These are the tips generally offered by the experienced quantity cook.

To avoid the pitfalls that can occur when doing large quantity cooking, your first step should be to select recipes that have been developed especially for this purpose. Don't attempt to triple or quadruple a standard recipe. It seldom works, for measurements and cooking techniques vary.

Fortunately, several food companies, now provide large quantity recipes. Pauline Pearson, test kitchen director for Beatrice Foods Company, for instance, has created a number of good quantity recipes designed specifically for the amateur chef. Among them is a main dish called Meat Ball Rice Bake and a crisp salad with dressing.

MEAT BALL RICE BAKE (50 servings)
 8 pounds ground beef
 2 pounds cottage cheese
 3 tablespoons salt
 2 teaspoons pepper
 1 teaspoon powdered thyme
 1-3 cup Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 cup butter
 6 pounds cooked rice
 2 1/2 cups finely chopped onion
 1 pound celery, finely diced
 1 pound green peppers, chopped
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 No. 10 can whole tomatoes
 1/2 No. 10 can tomato paste

and onion in drippings for 3 minutes. Core and dice apples. Add apples, raisins and bacon to celery mixture. Add crumbs, parsley, sugar, milk and seasonings. Mix lightly. Yield: 6 cups stuffing.

GARDEN SALAD, TANGY DRESSING (50 servings)
 4 1/2 pounds shredded cabbage
 1 1/2 pounds shredded carrots
 1 cup chopped green peppers
 1 cup sliced green onions
 2 1/2 pounds creamed cottage cheese
DRESSING:
 1/2 cup sifted flour
 1 1/2 tablespoons dry mustard
 2 tablespoons salt
 1 teaspoon paprika
 2 teaspoons celery seed
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 1-3 cups vinegar
 1/2 cup catsup

American food processors are rightly proud of the "convenience foods" which cut down kitchen hours for American homemakers. And homemakers themselves find new ways to use these products. Take frozen French fries, most popular vegetable in today's frozen food case. They're great heated to serve as crispy, golden brown French fries, but smart homemakers also used these peeled, cutup, and cooked strips of fine quality potatoes in casseroles, soups, chowders, and potato salads, cold or hot. Saves scrubbing, peeling and cooking. Potatoes are top quality too.

Cabbage Patch Soup Has Flavor Children Love

Cabbage Patch Soup — children will love the title — is a filling chowder-type dish. Condensed tomato soup and cream of pea are combined, then heated with tender, crisp grated cabbage and chopped onion.

CABBAGE PATCH SOUP
 1 1/2 cups water
 2 cups coarsely grated cabbage
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 can (11 ounces) Heinz Condensed Cream of Pea Soup, undiluted
 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Heinz Condensed Tomato Soup, undiluted

1 cup milk
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 Heat water in saucepan to boiling. Add cabbage, onion and cook over medium heat 5 min or until vegetables are to meanwhite, blend soups, milk pepper. Stir in cabbage; Makes 5-6 servings.

Monty In News Again By Mouth

FARMHAM, England (UPI)—Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery said Wednesday night he was the first honest man Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ever met.

Britain's outspoken World War II military hero told a dinner audience he explained the facts of war and peace to Khrushchev when he visited Moscow earlier this year.

"I think I am the first honest man Mr. Khrushchev has ever met. But I am not a politician. I am a simple soldier and I speak the truth," Montgomery said.

He said his April visit to Moscow convinced him "one thing the (Soviet) leaders do not want and that is war. But I warned them that if they push us about too much it might not give them the peace they want."

Simple soldier Montgomery admitted that two politicians—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd—accomplished some good during their February visit to Moscow. That was two months before Khrushchev met his "first honest man."

Lefors Ex-Students Elects New Officers

LEFORS (SpI) — Ray Jordan was elected president of the Lefors ex-student association, at a recent meeting of the group in the high school auditorium.

Other officers were Freddy Prister, vice president; Barbara Higgins, secretary; and Peggy (Cotton) Martin, treasurer. A committee elected to assist the officers was Joe David Martin, Ann Neil Wall, Billy Wall Gattio, Eddy Celmonson and Jan Mounger Brister.

Following registration from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. by the Future Teachers Association of Lefors High School, the Lefors Pirate Band presented a concert for the entertainment of the ex-students.

To highlight the program Earl Atkinson was crowned king, and Peggy Lamb, queen, as their names were drawn from the registration boxes.

The business meeting was presided over by Ray Dickerson, president. Minutes of the last homecoming were read and the roll called by Geraldine McPherson, secretary. The treasurer's report was given by Elaine Dickerson.

Leon Perkins was recognized for having traveled the longest distance, from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., for the homecoming. Mrs. Fern Bigham and Mrs. Billy Sims were recognized as having the largest families.

Approximately 150 persons attended the barbeque dinner in the cafeteria.

Offer Made For Dainty English Bull

SOLIHULL, England (UPI)—Brook Mandore, the dainty bull with an uncertain future, lived happily on today on borrowed time but his owners feared he might escape an English slaughterhouse only to end up as American hamburger.

Farmer William Titcomb and his wife said they would accept an American offer to buy the sassy-looking animal only if given assurance he would be allowed to live happily ever after in the United States.

"One thing we want to be sure about is that he won't come back to Britain in tins," Mrs. Titcomb said.

The minister of agriculture ordered the 14-month-old Ayrshire bull slaughtered because they feared his cow-like appearance might spoil the Ayrshire breed.

The Titcombs are paying an $8.40 a day fine each day to delay execution while they dicker to save Brook Mandore.

The most likely buyer appeared to be a Washington, D.C. businessman, Norman Bennett, who vowed he was "absolutely not commercially interested" in the bull.

"I like animals and just want to save him," said Bennett who cabled an offer to pay Brook Mandore's trans-Atlantic fare.

Titcomb cabled back: "Your offer appeals, State price prepared to give."

British Shoot One Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. (UPI)

A British Royal Air Force crew successfully fired a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile Wednesday from this central California coastal base.

It was the seventh Thor fired here by RAF crews. British crews are being trained here to launch the 3,500-mile range weapon which currently is operationally deployed in Britain.

Former U.S. Red Chief Denied Visa

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal Judge David Edelstein refused for the second time Wednesday to permit ailing William Z. Foster, 78-year old former head of the American Communist Party, to go behind the Iron Curtain.

Foster claimed that he couldn't afford to pay in this country for treatment of his heart condition, and that he had been offered free medical care in Communist Czechoslovakia.

Edelstein said Foster had failed to prove he couldn't get proper medical care here.

Rains Kill Truck Crops

MIAMI (UPI) — Millions of dollars of south Florida truck crops destined for the northland's dinner tables this winter were destroyed by heavy rains this week.

Agriculture agents in Dade (Miami), Broward (Ft. Lauderdale) and Palm Beach counties predicted Wednesday vegetable crop losses from the deluges would run into "millions of dollars."

The damaged crops resulted from near-torrential rains that followed Hurricane Judith which passed over this area Sunday.

Rainfall has averaged from three inches south of Miami to between 10 and 15 inches in Broward and Palm Beach counties between Sunday and Wednesday.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

The argument is still raging, in the Southwest Conference, on whether SMU should have beaten Rice last Saturday night.

The play that started the argument was a touchdown pass from Don Meredith to Glynn Gregory, in the last minute of the game. If the pass had been allowed, SMU would have won, 19 or 20 to 13. However, referee Napper Davis ruled that Meredith was in front of the line of scrimmage, and the play was called back. The game ended a 13-13 tie.

Later, films showed the pass was actually legal, and Davis apologized to SMU coach Bill Meek for making the call. Now, though, it seems that it wouldn't have made much difference anyway, because other films showed that SMU had an illegal receiver downfield.

Films taken by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and its TV affiliates showed that Gary Ferguson, SMU tackle, was at least two yards downfield when the pass was thrown. Conference commissioner Howard Grubbs agreed that Ferguson was in an illegal position, although Meek denied it.

Jess Neely, Rice coach, said that if games were decided by a week's film study, "it would take quite a while to decide the outcome."

Aggies Lose Two More Players

SMU isn't the only Southwest Conference team having its troubles. The Texas Aggies have lost their top two left halfbacks, making a total of six football players who have quit the squad this year.

One of those who quit, early this week, was Jesse McGuire of Plainview, A&M's top ball carrier, second leading player in total offense, and leading punt returner. McGuire had a 5.5 average rushing, and a 6.1 yard average per try on total offense (second only to Charlie Miltstead).

James Few was the other halfback to quit the squad. Both are returning to school, and both will apparently keep their athletic scholarships. But they won't play football again—at least not this year, Few said he probably won't play again at all.

Neither boy gave any reason for quitting the squad and Coach Jim Myers said he didn't know because "I didn't major in child psychology."

Four other Aggie players, all sophomores, quit before the season got underway. They were quarterback Roger McFarland, end James Street, guard Mickey Walker, and tackle Bill Vincent. All except Vincent went to the University of Kansas. Vincent transferred to Lamar Tech.

Myers probably thought the worst was over when the Aggies lost last week to TCU, 39-6. Now, he may not be so sure.

Cotton Bowl Tickets On Sale

Applications for Cotton Bowl tickets will be accepted, starting Friday. The applications will be accepted from Oct. 23 until Nov. 2.

There will be no four ticket limit, as there has been in recent years. There is no limit on the number of tickets that can be ordered, but applications for more than one person will be placed in the public drawing, in groups of 10 or less.

Some 25,000 tickets to the New Year's Day grid classic are available to the public. Tickets are $5.50 each and each application must be accompanied by a 25-cent mailing fee. Applications should be sent to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, Box 7185, Inwood Station, Dallas 9.

After applications are in, they will be placed in batches of 25, in numbered folders. A drawing will be held to determine the order in which the folders are pulled out, and applications filled.

Getting back to SMU, Don Meredith is making a runaway of the Southwest Conference total offense and rushing championships. He's hit 43 of 75 passes, for 607 yards and 10 touchdowns, and made 40 yards rushing. He's averaged 5.9 yards every time he's handled the ball.

Fleeman is due to take on Buddy Turman in Dallas, Nov. 2 in a rematch. He believes he would have a better chance to get in shape if he took up sparring with world heavyweight champion challenger Harris and Charlie Thomas, a new heavyweight from New York currently maneuvering the pads at Harris' camp.

Fleeman told promoter Ralph Smith that he talked with Harris' father and the elder Harris issued an invitation.

Wally Moon Made Best NL Comeback

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wally Moon, whose return to stardom symbolized the Los Angeles Dodgers' rise from a seventh-place team to the world championship, was hailed today for making the No. 1 comeback of the year in the National League.

The 29-year-old outfielder from Bay, Ark., was the choice of eight writers on the United Press International's board of experts representing every city in the league. Pitcher Gene Conley of the Philadelphia Phillies ranked second with five votes and outfielder Gus Bell of the Cincinnati Reds was third with four votes in balloting that included a total of eight players.

Acquired with pitcher Phil Paine from the St. Louis Cardinals for outfielder Gino Cimoli, Moon batted .302, drove in 74 runs and hit 19 homers this year. One of the steadiest players in the majors from 1954 through 1957, he had played in only 108 games, batted .238, knocked in 38 runs and hit seven homers in 1958.

"Certainly in a year in which so many Dodgers stood out at various stages of the campaign, Moon must be singled out," said Dodger General Manager E. J. (Bluzzy) Bavasi. "No player has more consistent throughout the campaign and no man was more of a team player than Wally."

Conley, a 6-foot, 8-inch right-hander, didn't win a single game for the champion Braves in 1958 and was traded to the Phillies after defying Milwaukee brass by playing with the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association. He bounced back with the last-place Phillies, however, to compile a 12-7 record and a .300 earned-run average.

Bell, 30, batted .287, drove in 115 runs and hit 19 homers this year after a 1958 season during which his figures for the same departments were 252, 46 and 10. Duke Snider of the Dodgers received two votes and Ed Hodges of the Braves, Ken Boyer of the Phillies got one each.

Fleeman To Train With Roy Harris

DALLAS (UPI)—Light heavyweight boxer Donnie Fleeman is discouraged with his present sparring partner situation. He may establish a situation "he Shoot to train with the help of Roy Harris."

Fleeman is due to take on Buddy Turman in Dallas, Nov. 2 in a rematch.

He believes he would have a better chance to get in shape if he took up sparring with world heavyweight champion challenger Harris and Charlie Thomas, a new heavyweight from New York currently maneuvering the pads at Harris' camp.

Dallas, Houston Will Get Players

By TIM MORIARTY United Press International

If Dallas and Houston become members of the National Football League next year they will receive a "sufficient quota" of professional players to "get over the hump," an informed league source told United Press International today.

One of the objections raised in some quarters when the Texas cities were proposed for league membership earlier this week was "where will they get the players?"

However, one prominent club owner who asked to remain unidentified revealed the league already is prepared to stock the new teams with players and outlined a three-point program of how this would be accomplished.

His plan follows: —Reduce the present limit of players each team is permitted to protect during the off-season from 30 to 25, thus placing an extra 600 players on the open market.

—Each of the current 12 members could surrender specified quotas in the player draft to the newcomers.

—Reduce the amount of the entrance fees usually demanded of new franchise holders, allowing them to use this money for purchasing players outright.

"I can see no insurmountable obstacles to our expansion plans," the owner said. "I think Dallas and Houston belong in our league now, and there should be plenty of players to get them over the hump during their formative years."

This opinion apparently was shared by at least nine owners, all of whom said they favored expansion when polled by UPI.

Only George P. Marshall of the Washington Redskins has publicly opposed the admittance of Dallas and Houston for the 1960 season.

Walter Wolfner of the Chicago Cardinals expressed some doubt whether the Texans will be able to acquire enough players to build successful franchises. His opinion was shared by Vince McNally of the Philadelphia Eagles. Both, though, conceded that "sooner or later we'll have to expand."

However, representatives of the other NFL teams appear ready to back George Halas of the Chicago Bears and his expansion committee to the hilt. Here are some of their comments:

Carroll D. Rosenbloom, Baltimore Colts: "We are ready for expansion. We have a sufficient backlog of players to take care of two new teams."

Art Rooney, Pittsburgh Steelers: "We're 100 per cent in favor of expansion and have been for some time."

Paul Brown, Cleveland Browns: "Expansion is a move in the right direction and much sounder for professional football than the creation of another league."

Jack Marra, New York Giants: "The time is right for expansion."

Dominic Olejniczak, Green Bay Packers: "As far as I'm concerned I think Mr. Halas' release (announcement) covered my feelings very well."

Daniel F. Reeves, Los Angeles Rams: "We think very favorably of it (expansion) ... We'll vote for it."

Edwin J. Anderson, Detroit Lions: "We are in favor of adding two teams next year and two more teams in 1961."

Vic Morabito, San Francisco Forty-Niners: "I think it is a good move and I'm sure that by January we'll be set up both in Dallas and Houston."

Longhorn Offense Worries Neely

United Press International

Jess Neely is worried about his Rice defense for powerhouse Texas University Saturday—a game that may be a sellout in Memorial Stadium in Austin.

He grinned on the outside Wednesday and announced wryly that Longhorn stars Jack Collins and James Saxton "ran all over us today."

Two Rice squads portrayed the Longhorn men in workouts and the defense just didn't hold up against Texas plays as Neely wished.

The Houston school announced that 9,000 tickets for the top team as the Mustangs drilled for the highest number on record for a Rice game at Austin.

At SMU, three backs who missed last week's starting lineup moved onto the top team as the Mustangs drilled for the highest number on record for a Rice game at Austin.

He pitted his first two units against his third and fourth in what he called a "situation day" workout and then announced that the Porkers lacked the "zip" they showed the day before.

TCU Coach Abe Martin got some pleasant news Wednesday, that may only increase his problems—Last week he dubbed little-remembered Jack Sledge into injured quarterback Larry Dawson's post and his Frog won the Aggie tilt with a record score.

But Wednesday Dawson recovered from a knee injury along with end Buddy Iles, and Martin is faced with three possible quarterback offensive starters — Dawson, Sledge and Donald George, Texas A&M at College Station Saturday and the Aggies are Gonzales.

thirsting for a win after last week's defeat at the hands of TCU.

The College Station bunch spent Wednesday concentrating on defense — still without the services of Jon Few and Jesse McGuire, first and second squad left halfbacks who quit the team this week.

Coach Jim Myers had other problems, too — he announced that end Ralph Smith, right half Randy Sims and guard David Skinner would be doubtful performers for the Baylor game.

At Fayetteville, Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles glumly admitted his Razorbacks took "a lot of punishment" physically in their 12-13 loss to Texas last week. But he said all regulars would be back in action when the Hogs take on Ole Miss at Memphis this weekend.

Two Games Slated Here

Two football games are scheduled today in Pampa. The undefeated Lee eighth graders (5-0) will play Harvester Park's west practice field, and the Shockers play Palo Duro B at 7:30 p.m. in Harvester Park.

A third Pampa team, Lee Junior High's Rebels, was to play Austin of Berger at 4 p.m. today in Berger. The fourth scheduled game, the Pampa Junior High Reapers vs Dumas, was cancelled because of numerous injuries on the Reaper team.

For Lee's eighth graders, today's game will be the first in three weeks. The Shockers, in tonight's contest, will be trying to even their season record (they have won two, lost three). The Rebels have a 4-2 record for the year.

Lee, PJH Seventh Will Clash Friday

The last intra-city football game of the season takes place Friday on Charles McDonald, Carl Moore, at Harvester Park, when Lee Junior High seventh graders meet the Pampa Junior High seventh graders.

The two teams met once before in the season opener, when Lee won that game, 14-6. Over the season, Lee's seventh graders have a record of one win, one tie, one loss. Pampa's seventh graders have a record of one tie and three losses.

PJH 7th Roster

There are 39, including the manager, on the Pampa Junior High seventh grade team. They are: Mage Keyser, Larry Leonard, Richard McClenon, Douglas Hilburn, Robert Dalton, Ronnie Edmundson, Rickie Maynard, Larry Steele, Richard Crews, Jih Harris, Steve Cloud, John Lane, Myron Scribner, Davis Blackmon, Gene Melton.

Lee 7th Roster

There are 44 players on the Lee seventh grade team. They are: Don Armstrong, Danny Bond, Ron Browning, James Brumley, Campaigne, David Campbell, Jerry Criss, Dean Evans, Jerry Harrison, Garland Goodwyn, Keith Smith, Nickie Hall, Scott Hall, Thomas Henley, Bill Howard, Ingram, Kenneth Johnson, Ronald Klein, Al Kuhn, Charley W. Lisinbee, manager Johnny Leudecke.

BIG TACKLES — Gerald Rascoe (left) and Keith Reimer (right) are a couple of tackles who weigh more than 200 pounds. This wouldn't be so unusual, except that they are both eighth graders. They play for Bill Kennedy (center) at Robert E. Lee Junior High. Rascoe and Kennedy both hit the scales at 210. Reimer is an even 200 pounds. (Daily News Photo)

Luis Rodriguez Last 'Big Thursday' Whips Logart Game Set Today

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The manager of unbeaten Luis Rodriguez said today his fighter was "ready for any welterweight in the world, including the champion," after Rodriguez' decision over veteran Isaac Logart.

Ernesto Corrales said the fast-punching Rodriguez "could whip (champion) Dan Jordan right now."

Rodriguez' unanimous decision Wednesday night over Logart, a fellow townsman from Camaguey, Cuba, pushed his unbeaten streak to 25. He had one no-decision contest of his record. He beat Logart with superior speed after a slow start.

Rodriguez, 22, weighed 145½ for the nationally televised bout. The 26-year-old Logart scaled 149½.

Archers To Elect Officers Tonight

The Top O' Texas Archery Club will hold its annual election of officers tonight at 7:30 in the City Commission room of City Hall.

Past President H. E. Ward said all members and persons interested in archery are invited. Two of the club's present officers, president Myles Morgan and secretary Fred Spalding, both have moved from Pampa. The present board of directors are Ward, R. R. Fields, and Robie Roberson.

Ward also announced today that the club will hold a get-together shoot Sunday afternoon at the archery range south of Pampa. The range is located 1½ miles southwest of Bowers City.

Six Lefors Boxers Slated To Fight Here Tonight, 7:30

Ben White, Lefors boxing coach, is bringing six of his fighters to Pampa for tonight's bout, according to Pampa matchmaker Oren James.

Tonight's fights, the second in a series of Thursday night matches, will begin at 7:30 p.m., at the Optimist Boys Club. The Thursday fights will be continued until a full schedule of inter-city bouts, sometime in November.

The first inter-city bout of the season is scheduled Friday night, in Hereford. James said that the Boys Club would send about 12 fighters to those matches. The boxers who will make the trip have not yet been disclosed.

Leading boxer among the Lefors contingent will be Glenn Tibbetts, who is one of Lefors' best fighters. He is a lightweight, and will be matched against Corky Morse of Pampa's Citizens Bank team.

Other Lefors boxers are Rene Berry, Kernel Miller, Jerry Lane, Gary Smith, and David Steele. Steele is a 122-pounder, and the others range in weight from 65 to 75 pounds.

A second feature bout on tonight's card, besides the Tibbetts-Morse fight, will be the match between Ronnie Morgan of Richard Drug and Clyde Steele of Citizens Bank. Morgan is a former New Mexico high school champion, and Steele is one of the hardest hitters on the Boy's Club roster. They are lightweights.

Tonight's complete card is as follows:

There's nothing like a new car and no new car like Chevrolet. This is the exciting Impala Convertible!

SIXTY'S SIZZLER The car with the year's hottest style is getting the warmest reception of all! And it's no wonder... when you look at all the new and different things Chevrolet has for 1960! Come and see it!

THAT'S CHEVY!

You can tell already, by the growing number of new Chevrolets you see on the road, that this one's the sizzler for Sixty! It was bound to happen. When you make an effort to find out all the things most people want in a car, then make sure they're all designed into a car most people can afford, you're almost certain to receive a pretty hot reception.

People look over Chevrolet's 16 freshly styled '60 models. They see a choice of 24 engine-drive combinations, including a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8. They drive a Chevy. They like the way the ride has been polished and perfected with new rubber-cushion body mounts muffling road hum and vibration. They like Chevy's wide seats, its wonderfully easy handling, the whole feeling of cruising along smoothly and comfortably in a car that never tires of travel. They just can't see a good reason for looking any farther.

Matter of fact, it looks like Chevrolet has a corner on quality and fine features in its field. Even costly cars have to look to their laurels—Chevrolet sets a new standard by matching elegance with economy. By offering luxury you've never seen before in Chevrolet's price class. We've got a hunch you'll go for this one. Just try it... and see if we aren't right!

Paternalism

The term "welfare state" is no longer on everyone's lips. It used to be and with good cause. Now, however, we have apparently moved so far into a welfare state that the matter is no longer news and the expression is rapidly moving into the discard.

Perhaps one of the reasons for this is the apparent fact that business and industry, instead of resisting this move toward governmental paternalism, have in recent years, set about rivaling the federal government, and state governments, too, in vying with one another toward providing "fringe benefits" to the employees.

We know of one plant, for instance, which does practically everything for their employees. They have a plant barber shop, a plant manicurist, a plant doctor, dentist and nurse. They maintain a baby-sitting service for married wives of workers, provide laundry service, maintain a company restaurant, bowling alley, tennis court, pool room and swimming pool.

They furnish insurance, both retirement and accident. There is a company general store with attractive discounts to employees. There is a pension fund, a lending fund, an emergency fund, to all of which employees have access.

Wages, in addition, are comparable to those paid by other firms. And this plant does not have a union.

But to the best of the knowledge we have been able to glean concerning the operation of what must appear to some workers as an industrial Utopia, employees at this plant are not quite as well satisfied as they are in another plant nearby which has none of these frills, treats its employees as tho they were mature men and women, and when a worker shows superior mettle, raises his wages.

No one does the thinking or planning for any of the employees of this second plant. When a worker earns more money, he gets it. Superior work receives superior pay. There is no coddling, no pampering, no fringe benefits whatsoever. And this second plant has no union either.

Without any doubt at all, many a plant manager, industrialist and businessman has gone into the business of providing fringe benefits as a means of making his particular establishment appear like a good place to work without union interventionism. But there is a grave question as to whether or not this is a proper activity for any business, with or without union pressure.

Paternalism... dependency by some upon others... is always a questionable procedure. Business comes into existence to serve the public, not to service the employees. And most employees who are worth their salt want to receive their own funds, handle themselves and provide for their own future and their own "fringe" activities.

The latest survey in 1957, which covered more than 1,000 companies of every type and size, revealed that fringe costs ranged all the way from 60 percent of total payroll down to zero. The average for all plants surveyed turned out to be about 22 percent. And this came out at $81 a year per employee. Most good wage earners would rather have that sum added to their pay envelopes than handed to them as fringes in this in-

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES Different Kinds Of Money Cause Booms And Busts

In Frederick Nymeyer's magazine "First Principles in Morality And Economics" he explains how different kinds of money legalized by the government cause booms and busts. This is the way he puts it:

"In the days of the goldsmiths in London, whom we mentioned earlier, their original money was a metal-gold. (Really, silver and gold; but we are confining this discussion to gold.) We shall call such metal commodity money."

"When the goldsmiths put out receipts for gold which they had on deposit, they put out a different kind of 'money,' namely, money certificates."

"When the goldsmith in our previous illustration put out 2,000 certificates which had no metal backing he was putting out (in our terminology) 'fake money.' Because putting out fake money can be successful as long as those who are given the fake money are willing to accept it, a name has been given to this fake money which we shall also use, namely, fiduciary media."

"If a law is passed which says that this fake money, this fiduciary media, must be accepted by everyone, whether he wants it or not, then this fake money is legal tender in the territories over which the particular government has control. Whenever something is declared to be legal tender it is declared in the payment of debts. The creditor must then accept the fiduciary media at its face value even though it does not genuinely have commodity money behind it."

"In the final settlement in international trade neither money certificates nor fiduciary media are accepted; only commodity money (gold) has a universal value independent of the stamp of approval of a particular government. If in international trade buyers and sellers would be willing to accept substitutes for commodity money at the value assigned by a particular government, then it would only be a short time before all governments would put a fictitious high valuation on their money."

"Booms and depressions do not result from variations in the quantity of commodity money or of honest money certificates. Booms and depressions result only from the expansion and contraction of the fake money, the fiduciary media, whose fiduciary character depends on a government declaration that it has a certain exchange value relative to commodity money, and making it legal tender."

"The terms we are using and the fundamental distinctions which we are here making in regard to the differences between commodity money, money certificates and fiduciary media are based upon the terms and distinctions made by Professor Ludwig Von Mises in his famous book, 'The Theory of Money and Credit.'"

"When the men who developed western capitalism made the decision to incorporate fiduciary media into their monetary structure they made a fatal mistake. They made a decision which authorized fraud and theft."

"They did not, it should be noted, make the decision that an unlimited amount of fiduciary media could be put out. If they had passed a law to the effect, the fact that it was a mistake would have become apparent promptly. It would have been a big sin and the big sin would have caught up with society quickly."

"Instead the decision was to authorize only a limited amount of fiduciary media, namely, a certain ratio to the amount of commodity money on hand. This in effect was saying that a big sin should be avoided but a modest sin would carry no penalties."

"It was inevitable that from time to time there would be unfortunate experiences with the fiduciary media of the goldsmiths, namely, the receipts they issued in greater quantity than the gold they had on hand. A sudden 'run' on a goldsmith would result in his bankruptcy."

"The natural thing to expect would be that the government would make it a crime to put out more receipts (certificates) than there was gold on hand. This there was gold on hand. The strange thing is that governments have done just the opposite. They have organized a banking structure which made fiduciary media an essential part of the monetary structure. Instead of limiting money to two classes—metal and certificates—they included in legal tender, money, certificates and fiduciary media."

Then Mr. Nymeyer says, (this increased "money") "show the surge in purchasing power caused by the issuing of fiduciary media. That surge creates the boom."

"But as certainly as the surge in purchasing power resulting from the issuing of fiduciary media creates the boom, equally certainly the repayment of the loans and the reduction of the fiduciary media creates a depression."

"Whenever loans are financed by new fiduciary media, the repayment must necessarily bring on a depression. That is how God brings home to man the punishment for a sin."

"The depression would not have occurred if there had not been the boom. The way to get rid of depressions is to insist on removing the cause of the boom."

INTERNAL REVENUE STUDIES TAX EXEMPTION FOR PUBLIC RELATIONS ADS, UNION DUES

WASHINGTON — Businessmen, trade associations and unions have a great deal at stake in a new regulation being considered by Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham.

Under this proposal, millions spent for advertising and dues would be tax exempt under these conditions:

Advertising by corporations, in which they expound their views on economic, political and social questions, could be deducted as "ordinary business expense" — provided these ads do not advocate or oppose specific legislation.

Dues and other payments by members of trade associations and labor unions would be tax exempt — provided lobbying is not a "major activity" of these organizations. Such assessments have long been deductible. Purpose of the new regulation is to clarify this practice.

If you have any opinions about these matters, you will be able to air them at public hearings which will be announced shortly. They will be held in the Revenue Service's offices in Washington next month.

Reason for these hearings is a barrage of complaints from Congress, businessmen and labor. The proposed IRS regulation was drafted after a series of court and other rulings raised doubts about the legality of tax deductions for certain advertising and membership payments. But when Commissioner Latham circulated this draft, it immediately drew sharp fire.

These complaints and possible revisions will be considered at the forthcoming open hearings. Foremost among the congressional critics are Senators Estes Kefauver (D. Tenn.), chairman of the Anti-Monopoly Investigating Committee; Joseph Clark (D. Pa.) and Eugene McCarthy (D. Minn.). They are against the proposed advertising deduction.

"This could open the way," contends Kefauver, "for business to engage in extensive tax-exempt advertising with definite political implications, even though it does not expressly touch on legislative measures. Merely giving voice to certain theories and policies would be highly political next year, when there is a presidential election."

For other reasons, the National Association of Manufacturers, U.S. Chamber of Commerce and other business organizations also disapprove of the IRS regulation.

They hold it doesn't go far enough. They want this tax exemption broadened to include advertising in which they take positions on specific legislative issues, particularly those directly affecting them.

Outcome of this crossfire of opposition is conjectural. In 1956 a similar regulation was drafted by IRS. But it was pigeonholed after a storm of protests from the same sources and congressional threats to block it by law.

NOTE: If you want to participate in these hearings, write to Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham, Washington, D.C.

INTO THE BLUE — Space Administrator T. Keith Glennan is asking the Budget Bureau for an additional $150 million to speed up lagging projects.

If the Budget Bureau approves this request, the way will be clear for the chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to do two things: Ask Congress to vote the $150 million when it convenes in January; in the meanwhile, accelerate his spending on the basis of these extra funds.

There is good reason to believe Glennan will get the green light. White House insiders are saying he has the backing of President Eisenhower.

Also being prepared by Glennan is a $300 million budget for 1960.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — A grown man who must have been the kind of kid who always had five sticks of gum in his pockets when the rest of the kids had none, or maybe one, came out to the place the other day. This is a man who indulges himself. If he reads about an astonishing automobile, he does not sit down with paper and pencil and figure out if he can afford it. He can and he knows he can. He has come, by with super-charger MG's with 'TR-3's, with a low-slung Mercedes-Benz and Sunday he glitters into the drive with a brand-new Aston-Martin, a sparkling job with about 2,000 miles on it. Just nice, broken in, ready to roll.

"You busy?" he said. This is this man. He does not say, "Is it convenient for you to take a ride?" or even, "Do you want to try this job out?" He says, short and blunt: "You busy?" We said, yes, we were, trying to lower off a recently recaptured runaway skye that needed a bath but if he'd wait 15 minutes we would not be busy. He looked doubtful and said: "Fifteen, huh? I don't know." So we said we didn't know, either, if it came to that, because this is the kind of man who does not understand anything but blunt replies and independence.

"Well, I'll wait," he said. "Do anything you want," we said. "No need to wait if you're itchy."

"I said I'll wait," he replied. "No one asked you to wait," we said. "Okay, okay," he said, "I said I'd wait."

We slowed down the toweling job on purpose and 30 minutes later we were ready.

"All right, what?" we said. "I bought a new job," he said. "Aston-Martin. It will do 42, 58, 71 and 140 through the four gears."

"Well?" we said. "Where would you like to see it?" "Through you can do 140 short of"

Uplands of England, Paris at the time of the Revolution, Boston during the days of the Tea Party, the Amazon Delta, Lord Petterly's estate in 1790, Port Au Prince and environs.

Maps. I discovered, a ren't cheap. Map-makers must be among the richest men in the world. I couldn't help but regret all the road maps I have thrown away in my time. Some day, if you are smart enough to free all the ones you are handed free at gasoline stations, your great-grandchildren will reap a fortune.

As a matter of fact, I might very well settle for one of England that can be had for the asking at any British Petrol station. They are real pretty, and if given a good ironing to get out the wrinkles and creases, would dress up our den to a T.

Seller Of Maps Has Good Market

LONDON — London is a man's town, and I had plans to do many things while I was here.

Shop for a bowtie, spend a day at the races, play darts in the Stag and Rooster, my favorite pub, stuff myself with rare roast beef at Simpsons, place a bet on the dogs at White City, and hang around with the newspapermen at the Falstaff on Fleet Street.

But a letter from Mary ruined my plans.

"Don't leave London," she wrote, "without buying us an antique map for the den. You know how long we have wanted one, and London is the best place in the world. Be sure to get a pretty one. But get one."

That was an order, not a commission. And straight from headquarters and the commanding general. It mattered not that I had no memory of spending a night tossing and fretting because we didn't have an antique map for the den. A map I had to get.

Mary was right — London is the best place for maps. There are more maps in London than Rand McNally printed in the first fifty years of its life. Foyle's bookstore has a million maps if it has one.

I ran into my first snafu in Foyle's when the clerk asked me what map I wanted. His tone indicated that people just didn't buy any old map, but had a definite one in mind. I knew he would think I was a fool if I said I didn't care whether it was a map of Egypt, the Danube basin, or Madagascar, and that all I wanted was a pretty one to cover up a black space on the wall at home.

So I decided on a map on the spur of the moment.

I told the clerk I was looking for an original, not a print, of Canada in Wolfe and Montcalm's time.

"You are a lucky man indeed," the clerk said. "We have just what you want. It came in with a shipment from Montreal a few days ago."

It was a beauty, and measuring it with my eye I knew it was exactly the right size. It was all brown and soft-blues and gentle greens, and was in perfect shape despite its age.

Then he told me the price. At first I thought he was selling me Montreal itself.

"Lovely, but much too large for where you want to use it," I said. "Do you happen to have one just like it but about half as big?"

He didn't thank goodness, so I started the rounds of the antique shops. Since then I have seen maps of every foot of real estate in the world — Johannesburg in 1907, the Lowlands, the Midlands and the PONCHO BUILT FOR TWO—"Togetherness" has invaded the fashion world. Making its debut is a Siamese poncho, just about the first garment designed to be worn by two people at the same time. Aimed at the college set, Soncho is the thing to take along to a football game on a windy Saturday afternoon, its maker says.

Wall Street Chatter
NEW YORK (UPI) — The existence of light money reflects the basic strength of the national economy, says Distributors Group, Inc.
Actually, it reasons, if the economy were weak or declining there would be no tight money worries because the demand for funds would be substantially less than today.
Distributors group bolters its argument with figures that put low the all-time high reached in June, 1959, but 3.2 per cent above the monthly average for the first quarter when steel mills were producing record tonnage.

Co. for long-term growth as a quality commitment in the air conditioning industry. It enjoys a fine industry reputation and, its outlook for larger industrial and commercial air conditioning units next year is favorable.

Purcell & Co. says Universal Cyclops Steel is a good buy as a near-term speculation, inasmuch as it is expected to show sharply higher earnings this year. The company has been little affected by the steel strike.
Automotive news reports the Corvair tire suppliers are Firestone and Goodrich. Falcon tires are made by Firestone and Good-year. The latter also is supplying the Chrysler Valiant model.

News In Brief

JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI) — Carlos Osuna, an El Paso crop-dusting pilot has been charged with murder in the shooting in Juarez of Eduardo Celis, 31, a businessman. El Paso police said they understood the shooting allowed a row-over money.
SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Victor Zuniga, 39, was convicted Wednesday of killing Henry Ramon, 22, his former wife's boyfriend, and sentenced to life in prison. The shooting occurred last June 11. Police said Zuniga went to Ramon's house and shot him when he came to the door.
SEAGOVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Oriseto Ocanas, 22, a city employe, was killed Wednesday when the sides of a deep sewer ditch caved in on him. Fellow workers tried desperately to dig him out, but when they got him out he was dead.
LORD NELSON FOOT
LONDON (UPI) — The Daily Telegraph reported today that a British Broadcasting Corp. official telephoned the Admiralty Wednesday, the 154th anniversary of the British naval victory in the Battle of Trafalgar, and requested films of the encounter.

Caesar Loses Something Of Creativeness

BY FRED DANZIG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — This has been quite a week for the TV tube.
Monday night we had Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby and Dean Martin; Tuesday night, Ingrid Bergman, and Wednesday night, come along Sid Caesar and his guests, Tony Randall, Audrey Meadows and Gisele Mackenzie.
It was nice to have Sid back. There were a number of solid laughs during the CBS-TV hour, but frankly, I was disappointed. The major effort of the evening was a half-hour sketch about an immigrant who becomes a great automobile maker. Basically, this sketch, with Caesar playing Anton Polka, the immigrant, and Tony Randall his American-born son, was warmed-over Caesar skits-of-TV shows gone by. The inventiveness we've come to expect from Caesar was generally absent. I spotted only one special touch: Caesar is slicing his dinner — a chunk of "boiled bread" — and he asks his wife, Audrey Meadows, if she'd like an outside cut.

The opening sketch had more laughs in it, Caesar, as the driver on a cross-country trip, was wildly funny portraying a man siphoning gasoline and eating while driving. Randall was excellent in his sketch and all evening long. The show was titled "Holiday On Wheels," and was dedicated to the automobile industry, but there was no bite in it. There were no spoofs of such automobile fetishes as size, design and salesmanship, unfortunately. Since CBS network is on a "tell the viewer everything" kick, I'd like to say that the show was taped in New York last August and not on the open road. Miss Mackenzie's singing was pre-recorded, and the "gasoline" that Caesar "saw allowed" wasn't really.

Dialing and Filing: Wasn't Charley Weaver's Hobby Lobby, on ABC-TV Wednesday night, when Weaver (Cliff Arquette) went flying over the stage attached to the mechanical aids of guest Peter Foy? Weaver's show is at its best when Charley gets a chance to comment on the props his guests bring along.
A touching contrast on NBC-TV's Perry Como show: Guest Rosemary Clooney came on in a full-length mink coat, bearing a French poodle and a flashing ring. A few minutes later, Rosie went into her song "I Got Plenty Of Nothin'."
Men in Space on CBS-TV passed up an effective, dramatic death-in-space ending Wednesday night in favor of the usual lippy-happy note.
The Channel Swim: Debbie Reynolds has signed a three-year exclusive contract with ABC-TV. She'll star in three-hour-long specials, one a year, and appear as a guest star on at least one other ABC-TV special.
Ray Bolger will co-star with Jimmy Durante, Jane Powell and Eddie Hodges in NBC-TV's special, "Give My Regards To Broadway," on Sunday, Dec. 6. Actor Hal Holbrook, who specializes in impersonating Mark Twain, is videotaping an adaptation of Twain's "Roughing It" for Robert Saudek Associates for possible network use next spring. On the subject of Twain, Robert Herdridge is producing a three-part version of "Huckleberry Finn" as part of his new half-hour drama series for CBS.
It will be Masquerade Party, with Bert Parks as emcee, into the Monday night CBS-TV slot via Advertisement

Homecoming Set

MOBETT High School's annual homecoming has been set for Saturday with seniors of the high school sponsoring the occasion this year as they have for the past several years.

Classes to be honored are the graduates of 1941 to 1945, inclusive. Local people are hoping that many will star in NBC-TV's adaptation of "The Philadelphia Story" on Monday, Dec. 7, the second in the special tonight series.

Everyone is invited to see new high school building, making cottage and other projects in the school plant. Dinner will be served from 6:30 in the high school gym. The program will be 6:30 with the football game.
