House Will Probe Rep. Dowdy Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time since the 1967 probe into the affairs of Harlem Democrat Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Congress will investigate the actions of one of its members.

Alpine Jury Sentences Killer To Die

ALPINE, Tex. (AP) — Convicted murderer Witmer Jean Ballard must die in the electric chair as punishment for the shotgun slaying of Glascock County rancher Stephen Currie, a jury said Friday.

Appeal in such cases is automatic. The jury conferred for nearly three hours before deciding on the punishment, twice the time they took to decide their verdict.

"It is now therefore the judgment of the court that you are guilty of murder with malice aforethought and your punishment is death," Dist. Court Judge Charles E. Sherrill told the accused.

Ballard was ordered removed from Brewster County Jail here and transferred to the city jail in Midland.

The 46-year-old defendant received the punishment decree with little visible emotion and then rose and told the jury he wanted to thank them for the time and consideration they extended in his case.

Two University Players In Jail On Rape Charges

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Pan American University president Ralph Schilling said today he ordered the grand jury investigation which resulted in the indictment of two basketball players on charges of rape.

Leo Tolin, 22, of Detroit, Mich., and Reese Stovall, 21, of San Antonio, are in the Hidalgo County Jail in lieu of bond. Tolin was charged with rape and assault with intent to rape and Stovall was charged with rape.

Dr. Schilling told a news conference that Tolin and Stovall have been suspended from the basketball team and that their standing in the university will be up to the university's disciplinary committee.

Saying that the grand jury investigation and the indictments Thursday have resulted in an emotionally-charged situation on campus, Dr. Schilling urged students, faculty members and the general public to help him restore calm.

The university will not provide legal assistance for the two accused men, Schilling said.

He said that the campus is as safe for students and others as "any place in the Lower Rio Grande Valley."

Pioneer 10 Is On Way To Jupiter

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Pioneer 10, traveling at record speed, raced on an almost perfect course today toward the distant planet Jupiter and an eternal journey through interstellar space.

Flying with the spacecraft was a message for alien civilizations which might exist beyond the solar system.

Project officials said a brief firing of small spacecraft jets on Monday would adjust Pioneer 10's path so it would zero in on Jupiter, 21 months and more than 600 million miles away.

Many things could happen along the way to ruin the longest, most ambitious unmanned space flight ever attempted. But space agency officials hope the mission goes as smoothly as the launch phase Thursday night following three postponements because of high-altitude winds.

An Atlas-Centaur rocket thundered away from Cape Kennedy at 8:49 p.m. EST to propel Pioneer 10 into space at 31,413 miles an hour, nearly 7,000 m.p.h. faster than any space vehicle had flown.

"It appears we had a good start on our journey to Jupiter," the launch control center reported.

If all goes as planned, the interplanetary explorer will be the first to fly through the asteroid belt, the first to explore the solar system's largest planet and the first to escape the solar system to wander forever through other galaxies.

If it does not collide with a celestial body or is not captured by outer space beings, scientists said it will fly for eternity.

On the outside chance that it one day might be intercepted by intelligent beings from another civilization, Pioneer 10 carries a gold plaque which tells in drawings and scientific symbols when and from where it was launched and by what kind of people.

The payload will penetrate the atmosphere of Jupiter on Dec. 2, 1973, to begin four days of intensive investigation before zipping on into space.

Because of Jupiter's belt of intense radiation, Pioneer 10 will not approach nearer than 87,000 miles to the planet.

Hopefully, the craft will transmit pictures of one of the planet's most puzzling features—the great red spot which seems to float through the clouds, at times growing to 30,000 miles long.

Still No Contest In City Election

At noon today there still was no contest for either of the two city commission posts to be filled in Pampa's April 4 municipal election.

The two incumbents, Arthur J. Rohde in Ward 4 and R. D. Wilkerson in Ward 2, were the only candidates on file at that hour.

Both are seeking re-election for two-year terms. Deadline for filing was 5 p.m. today.

Nation's Jobless Rate Declines, Says Report

Unemployed Drops From 5.9 To 5.7%

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dipped in February, and workers' average earnings kept well ahead of the rise in living costs, the government reported today.

The jobless rate declined from 5.9 to 5.7 per cent of the work force, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

It also said average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank and file workers—more than half the nation's employment total—rose 35 cents per week to $130.27 because of the rise in the length of the work week.

The bureau's report said this represented an earnings gain of $7.66 or 6.2 per cent over the past year. The 3.4 per cent rise in consumer prices over the same period left workers with a net wage gain of $3.24 per week.

The actual number of unemployed persons last month remained unchanged at 5.4 million, but after seasonal adjustment for the usual February rise in joblessness, the bureau figured it as a decline.

Total employment increased slightly from 79.1 million to 79.3 million, but was unchanged on a seasonally adjusted basis at 80.6 million, the report said.

A gain in service jobs was partly offset by a decline in construction work.

The length of the average work week rose 12 minutes to 37.2 hours. In manufacturing, the work week increased 24 minutes to 40.4 hours, highest in more than two years, the bureau said.

Average hourly earnings remained unchanged at $3.54, it said.

Unemployment among men dipped from 4.2 to 4 per cent for a total of 2.4 million. The jobless rate for women showed the biggest decline, from 5.5 to 5 per cent with a total of 1.5 million. The rate for teen-agers rose from 17.8 to 18.8 per cent with a total of 1.3 million, the report said.

The jobless rate for white workers dipped from 5.3 to 5.1 per cent with a total of 4.3 million. The rate for other races—mostly blacks—was down slightly from 10.6 to 10.5 per cent with a total of a little over one million, the bureau said.

The rate for white-collar workers declined from 3.6 to 3.3 per cent. This was mainly a result of a reduction in joblessness among professional and technical workers, whose rate moved down from 3.1 to 2.5 per cent, its lowest level in eight months, the bureau said.

The average duration of joblessness increased to 12.5 weeks in February. It had fluctuated between 11.4 and 12.6 weeks over the past 10 months, said the bureau.

Joblessness among Vietnam era veterans declined from 8.5 to 7.4 per cent for the lowest rate in more than a year.

"About 4.1 million veterans were in the labor force in February; 3.7 million held jobs and 400,000 were unemployed," the bureau said.

The federal government has been conducting a special program to find jobs for returning veterans.

Calif. Boy, 6, Rescued From Hole

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—A rescue worker carried 6-year-old Anthony Bernardino to safety early today after the boy had spent almost seven hours tightly wedged 27 feet down a narrow hole.

The dirt-cked and pale youngster said, "Hi, Mommy. Hi, Daddy," to his parents before being taken by helicopter to a medical center for observation. He was reported in good condition.

"How's Jimmy?" the boy added in reference to his 8-year-old brother. The two were flying kites Thursday afternoon when Anthony tumbled into the hole on a road construction project in this Los Angeles suburb.

Rescue workers, newsmen and hundreds of onlookers cheered when the tiny boy was carried from a rescue shaft at 12:08 a.m.

"I never thought they wouldn't get him," his mother, Sandra said. "I just wondered how long it was going to take."

At times rescue workers could hear the boy crying, then laughing hysterically. Jim Bernardino, the boy's father, said, "I'm really happy. The rescue workers really did a good job."

Hospital attendants said the youngster apparently suffered no serious injuries.

As workers sank a 30-foot rescue shaft adjacent to the hole in which Anthony was trapped, Dr. William Baker of El Monte talked with him through a stethoscope extended on plastic tubing. Oxygen was pumped to within inches of Anthony's face.

At one point, authorities said, Anthony apparently became impatient and said he would dig himself out if workers didn't hurry.

Attempts to lower volunteers, including a 4-foot jockey, into the hole to Anthony proved unsuccessful. One volunteer was able to touch the boy but couldn't pry him loose because he was too tightly wedged.

The boy fell backwards into the opening, landing with one foot down and the other up. His head was jammed against the knee of the upright leg.

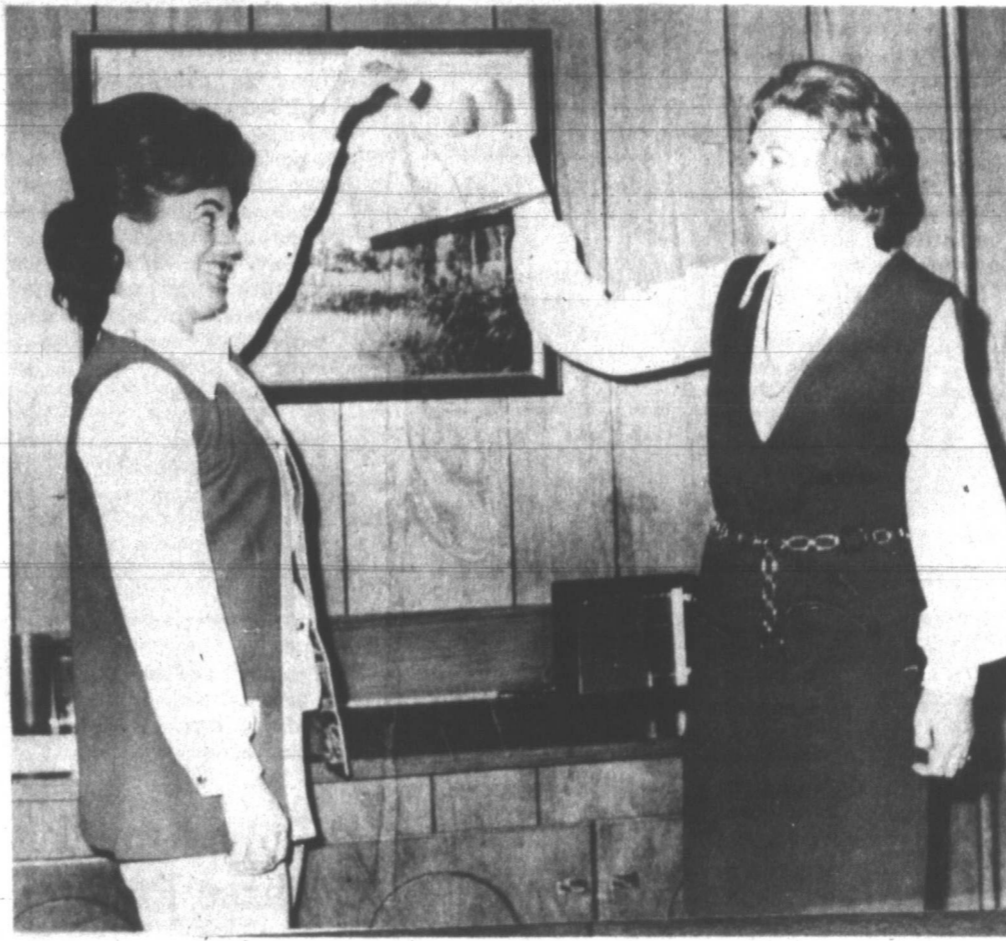

Anthony tumbled into the hole at about 5:20 p.m. A worker at the site said he saw the youth fall and rescue efforts began immediately.

Huge bits ripped into the sandy soil as other rescue workers rigged a crane over the hole. At nightfall the area was flooded with lights from several portable generating plants.

Champion Steers

DRAWING FOR POSITION—Mrs. Charlotte Luedicke is drawing for candidate places on the school board ballot while Mrs. Sue VanSickle holds the "hat" so she can't peek. Results were 1) Van Amber, 2) Hulsey, 3) Simmons and 4) McCarroll. The drawing was conducted by Homer Craig at the school business office this morning.

Four Persons To Compete For School Board Vacancy

Deadline for registration as a candidate for the Pampa school board passed without further entries in the race for the position being vacated by Dr. Raymond Hampton.

The four contenders for the post are, in the order their names were drawn for position on the ballot, Rev. Raymond Van Amber, Rev. Sam Hulsey, Paul Simmons and George McCarroll.

Rev. Van Amber is pastor of the Assembly of God church; Rev. Hulsey, St. Matthews Episcopal church; Simmons is engaged in an oilfield supply business and McCarroll is operations manager at Celanese.

There was an almost community-wide feeling that Dr. Hampton would run again and it was not until the deadline came and went that the Pampa physician had truly bowed out. Equally widespread was the opinion that he had made contributions to the cause of education in Pampa equal to that of any member who ever served.

It is the opinion of Dr. James Malone, superintendent of schools that the winning candidate will be joining other members of the board for the busiest, most demanding periods in the history of the local school system.

The normal course of executing a progressive educational program in this era demands is job enough. Coupled with such problems as declining population, ad valorem tax issues and other problems demanding solution, I feel the metal of every board member will be tested before his tenure is done," Malone predicted.

Voting on the school board position will be Sat., April 1. The polling place will be the music building at Pampa Senior High School, 111 E. Harvester St.

Since that is the Easter weekend, provisions have been made for absentee voting. Absentee ballots may be cast at the school business office, 126 W. Francis St. between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. March 13-20.

Ralph Dunbar is election manager with W. A. Rankin and George Scott election judges. Homer L. Craig will be absentee election judge.

Sharp Testifying At Speaker Trial

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — "I smiled and he smiled," Houston promoter Frank Sharp told a jury today in recounting a meeting in a Houston hotel at which he said House Speaker Gus Mutscher said he might buy stock in a company controlled by Sharp.

Sharp said Mutscher told him of reversals in the stock market and then asked about stock in the Sharp-controlled firm, National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

Sharp said he told Mutscher he was "very enthusiastic" about it and that the management of the firm was trying to get the stock "into strong hands, people of wealth who would keep it."

Sharp said he gave his "blessing" to loans by his bank to Mutscher and others to buy the stock. He said Mutscher called him six weeks later, Sept. 12, 1969, and said he wanted to sell the stock.

Sharp testified that Mutscher said he was "pleased" to report that banking bills sought by Sharp had won a large majority of votes in the Texas legislature.

Membership dues, which will cover all four concerts, are $10 for adults and $5 for students. No memberships are sold at any time during the year, except during the two-week campaign. Stowers stated.

Since all of the concerts will be held in the new M.K. Brown auditorium, an additional 300 memberships will be available this year, Stowers pointed out.

IN NEW YORK CITY PHS Teacher, Student To Attend Press Met

Pampa High School's Journalism Instructor Miss Elizabeth Hurley and student Craig Wilborn will leave Saturday morning for New York City to attend annual Columbia University scholastic Press Association Convention.

Miss Hurley will lead a roundtable at Columbia University as she has for several years. Her subject will be "What Price Publications?—Making Ends Meet."

Wilborn, a senior at the High School and editor in chief of the school paper "The Little Harvester," will lead a roundtable of other student journalists. The subject he has chosen is entitled "We have the vote—How Qualified are We?"

Also he is one of the 50 students invited to attend the overseas Press Club conference in the Time-Life building where high school editors will interview foreign correspondents.

One of the expected highlights of the conference will be the attendance of some of the journalists who have returned from covering President Nixon's trip to Peking.

According to Miss Hurley, the final luncheon will have 4,000 persons. It is not yet known who will be guest speaker, but in the past there have been famed writers, commentators and politicians.

While he was Vice-president, Hubert Humphrey addressed the meeting.

Wilborn is quite excited about his upcoming trip to New York City as he has never visited the nation's largest city.

They will return next week.

Man Faces Intrusion Charge

Charges are pending against a 29-year old man following his arrest last night at a Yeager St. residence in an intoxicated state.

The owner of the residence called officers and told them the man had pried his door open and entered, was present at that time without the owner's permission.

Officers found the intruder seated in a chair drinking from a gallon jug of wine. After he was taken into custody his wife brought some clothing, a radio and some other items to the police station. She told officers they were at their home but did not belong to her husband.

Youth Warned Against Firing Blanks From Car

A 16-year-old Pampa youth was taken to the police station last night by officers for discharging firearms.

Officers were traveling north through the Cuyler St. underpass when they heard the report and saw the flash of a shot from a vehicle traveling south.

They made a U-turn and stopped the car on South Cuyler. The youth, a passenger, was firing blanks from a pistol. His parents were called and he was released in their custody. The father told officers to keep the pistol and "get rid of it."

Higgins School Teacher Killed In Car Mishap

Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. today in the chapel of the First United Methodist Church for George B. Milum, 41, of 1517 Dogwood, who was killed early Thursday morning in a one-car accident near Higgins.

Dr. Lloyd Hamilton, church pastor, was to officiate, assisted by Rev. Gene Greer of the Higgins Methodist Church. Interment was to be at 6 p.m. in the Higgins Cemetery, under the direction of the Mason Funeral Home of Shattuck, Okla.

Milum was a passenger in a car driven by Johnny Fritzen, Higgins rancher and accountant, when it plunged over an overpass onto a railroad track, where it was hit by a train. Fritzen, reportedly thrown from the car when it hit the railroad track, is in critical condition in a Shattuck hospital.

Born Oct. 17, 1930, in Shattuck, Okla., Mr. Milum was married to Jean Coralie Williams of Woodward, Okla., July 9, 1953. He was a Lipscomb County rancher for 19 years and has been teaching in the Higgins School for the last seven years.

The Milums moved to Pampa in the fall of 1971. Mrs. Milum is an English teacher at Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

He is survived by his wife, Coralie; one son, Dierk Timothy, and one daughter, Georgina, both of the home; and his mother, Mrs. Lois Milum of Shattuck, Okla.

Main Issue

HOUSTON (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, seeking to return to the Senate, says the main issue in the campaign is experience.

"The people of Texas need someone who has demonstrated capability and that will get the job done," he said. "I've stood for progress in all my years in the Senate and I stand for progress now."

Three Rivers Boy, 15, Owner Of Champion Steers At Show

HOUSTON (AP) — A 15-year-old Three Rivers boy is the owner today of both the grand champion and reserve grand champion fat steers of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Keith Esse's Charolais Hereford crossbred steer was named grand champion and his Angus steer was selected reserve champion in judging Thursday night in the Astrodome.

It was the first time in the 40 year history of the show for one person to show both the champion and reserve champion.

Keith, a 4-H club member, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Esse, who are ranchers in Three Rivers.

The grand champion, a 1,170-pounder, was named Traveler. The reserve champion, named Duke, weighed 1,134.

The selection of the champion steer is the highlight of the show because of the price the animal brings at auction.

Last year's champion sold for $17,000 a champion brought $35,000 in 1970.

It took five minutes for Dr. Robert Totusek of the Oklahoma State University animal science department to name the grand champion at final selection time.

The nine steers in the final competition were chosen as the best of breeds.

Other champions included the Hereford owned by Bill Edwards of Llano, the Shorthorn owned by Max Jones, Swisher County, the Polled Hereford owned by Starla Mann of Clarendon, the Red Angus owned by Eddy McCown of Mathis, the Santa Gertrudis owned by Gayle Epperson of Llano, the Brahman owned by Mark Spaniel of Beeville, and the Brangus owned by Donald Jordan of Mason.

FFA and 4-H club boys and girls from all over the state showed up in the show rings during the event which drew the cream of the crop in the steer feeding business. Champion market hogs and classes of breeding sheep also were judged Thursday.

Bank Robbery Suspect Nabbed

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A 29-year-old Elsa man was named Thursday in a warrant issued by the U.S. attorney's office in connection with the robbery Wednesday of the Elsa State Bank and Trust Co.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Raul A. Gonzalez said the warrant named Santos Marin Vasquez, 29, of Elsa, and charged him with armed bank robbery.

Vasquez' name and description were broadcast by the Texas Department of Public Safety a few hours after the bank robbery.

A masked man with a .22-caliber pistol took over $22,000 as he left the bank with a hostage early Wednesday.

The complaint against the man was signed by FBI agents who sought the man.

"We have reason to believe other people were involved," Gonzalez said.

McCLOSKEY'S VIEWS A President Should Meet People

Serious candidate
Even the underground figures he can't be all bad.

CONCORD, N. H. (NEA)—Like so many presidential candidates this year, Paul McCloskey seems not so much to be running for something as against something. In McCloskey's case, someone—Richard Nixon. The candidate's opinion of the President borders on hate. He calls him a "stuff shirt," a "disaster," a "real stinker." Why? "Well, I wonder about a guy you can't drink a beer with."

The wonder is not just floridity. It's genuine. Paul McCloskey is up from the ranks himself and he can't suffer snobs. Especially high-ranking ones.

Says he of the incumbent: "The thing about Nixon is he's sealed himself off from the rest of us. He doesn't even read the papers. He has all these aides who clip out and summarize only the news that doesn't irritate him. It's unreal. What we need in the White House is a little humility, a little simple understanding of people's problems. I think the President should go down to the Greyhound bus depot now and then sit there in the seat and rub elbows with real Americans."

The complaint is not new. Every candidate has said as much about every incumbent since George Washington put a lock on his lavatory—and you can look it up. But McCloskey's call for a government of, by and for the people goes beyond just a line-o-type or two for the voters. He has made such an issue of it that the feeling is (if he's elected) he'll move his western White House to a San Francisco pub so anybody who wants can go out and have a beer with the chief.

"I believe," he says, "that the president should schedule regular daily meetings with ordinary people. I think he should set aside an hour every day and, like the Caliph of Baghdad, go out in the street to see what people think of him. I do this now as a congressman. Every month I have a meeting somewhere in my District (California's 11th) and I invite people to come out and give me hell." That's what it's all about. That's what politicians are for. It always bothers me to see people deferring to office holders when they should be kicking our butts."

The talk, to be sure, is socko. And to be equally sure Paul McCloskey programs it that way. He is at best a marginal candidate for the presidency. He has about as much chance, the professionals say, as peonies at Point Barrow. Polls here show him so far behind the President his tabulations don't appear until the second editions. His campaign treasury is so low, he has had to borrow $12,000 from the bank to meet personal expenses. So it is the congressman from California can't just shout votes—he has to shock for them.

He does it rather well. Not like George Wallace or Shirley Chisholm. His shock is low-pitched—noble but numbing. He comes on, as his advance men promise, as an "old-fashioned, tough, straight-talking American idealist." Married, four kids, a Korean war hero, a believer in old-shoe things like duty, honor, sacrifice. Even critics respect the man's earthy, often raw, commonness. One radical underground newspaper reporter was so impressed with the Republican's style he wrote: "Well, anyone who gives you an obscene Italian gesture can't be all bad."

Indeed, McCloskey may be the most interesting individual on the stump today. He's a fellow who hates war, but says he'd rather resign Congress than give up his Marine Corps commission. He's a fellow who hates men who walks around New Hampshire scratching his rump just like folks, but believes in legal abortion. He's a chap who asks people to elect him president, then concedes there are better men available for the office.

In a word, he's open. He uses four-letter words. He puts his pants on a leg at a time, etc. And he feels, honestly, the present President should be the same.

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The number of traffic deaths in West Germany dropped from 19,193 in 1970 to 18,658 in 1971, the government statistics office reported.

Farmers Union Adopts Plan Protecting Family Farmers

HOUSTON (AP)—The National Farmers Union adopted Thursday a new program aimed at protecting the family farmer.

Tony Dechant of Denver, Colo., president of the 250,000 family group, said the program would permit family farms to receive direct income support and force large, corporate farms to shift for themselves.

Two amendments made from the floor at the concluding session of the Union's 70th convention caused the 1972 policy statement to reject community programs in birth control and to call for immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

As submitted to the convention, the policy statement termed overpopulation as a threat to mankind and proposed that social workers teach and administer contraceptive methods for family planning and that community programs in birth control and family planning be established.

A floor amendment adopted by a 31-28 vote deleted the recommendations and called upon the people of the world "to encourage realistic family planning."

The policy statement section on world peace had stated "We believe it is in our best interest to form a definite timetable to withdraw from Southeast Asia."

No vote count was announced but the floor amendment changing this to immediate withdrawal was adopted.

The farm policy proposal provides for mandatory supply management in order to prevent undue surpluses. It also would provide 100 percent of parity for family farms, based on pounds or bushels of production with the exact levels yet to be determined on the basis of an independent study by the Library of Congress and the General Accounting Office.

The proposal would cover all farm commodities whose producers agree but the method of determining producer desires was not detailed. Such desires presumably would be determined by farmer referendums.

Dechant, who was reelected president, said the new program is a result of farmer disappointment over "the corruption of efforts to stabilize the market system for basic farm commodities under the Agricultural Act of 1970."

Tentative approval of the program was voted Wednesday, with formal adoption following Thursday when the entire 43 page 1972 policy statement was submitted.

Dechant said disappointment over the 1970 Act has occurred largely as a result of undue influence of corporate farmers and large agribusiness corporations.

Women Marchers Compel Museum To Close Exhibit

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The University of California Art Museum agreed to close for one day a display of prostitutes' photographs after the exhibit was picked by women's liberationists.

Ellen Sandor, national secretary of the National Organization of Women, and about a dozen other women marched outside the museum Wednesday where the E.J. Bellocq photographs, showing prostitutes of 1912 in various stages of dress and undress, are on display.

Museum official Bonnie Baskin said, "They are beautiful—some of them appear the way your grandmother would have as a young girl.

"These pictures are about as lascivious as a dog food ad," she added.

Bellocq, of French origin and believed to have died in 1938, photographed the girls in New Orleans brothels.

Most are fully clothed, naturally posed with flowers and pets, but some are nude.

The demonstrators said they perpetuated the degradation and exploitation of women.

"Why don't you have any photos of the male buyers?" yelled one of the demonstrators.

Ballet, Football Compatible, Says Leading Male Dancer

HOUSTON (AP) — Ted Kivitt would certainly bring a new move or two to the running back's repertoire if he ever decided to put on a football uniform.

And just because Kivitt is a principal dancer with the touring American Ballet Theatre, don't think that giving football a whirl hasn't been suggested to him.

"When we performed in Pittsburgh, some of the Steelers came to the performance," said Kivitt, who started dancing for exercise after he almost died from asthma. "They wanted me to come out to practice and run against them to see if they could tackle me. I told them no way I'm going to do that."

But the mental picture of the 5-foot-11, 155-pound Kivitt doing a grand jete over a 260-pound defensive end isn't as ridiculous as it might appear. Both men are superb athletes.

Kivitt goes through many of the same exercises, physical torture, injuries and has the same motivation as do athletes in other fields more generally thought of as sports. Kivitt, in fact, describes his skill as part athletics.

Asked if he considered himself athlete or dancer, Kivitt said "There's a line there. It's athletics with artistry. You must learn music and you must learn to act and express thoughts without words."

In addition to a rugged grind of practicing ballet techniques and rehearsals about six hours daily, Kivitt works out with light weights to strengthen his arms for lifting 110-pound ballerinas and to stretch the muscles.

He also does sit-ups and puts leg weights on his ankles when he's working at the bar.

Kivitt said dancers are afflicted with typical football injuries dealing with the knees. A dancer with a torn knee cartilage isn't able to perform either.

"There are a lot of cartilage operations," said Kivitt, who is just recovering from a knee injury. "After a dancer has a knee operation, he usually doesn't regain all of his ability."

"They didn't realize that a football player's muscles are different from a dancer's," Kivitt said. "It only lasted a couple of lessons. They couldn't take the pain. They couldn't understand how I could do things with my body they couldn't with theirs."

Kivitt got his early start in dancing as a last resort to help a serious case of asthma. "The doctors didn't think I was going to live," Kivitt said. "I was allergic to everything."

"The doctors were going to send me to Arizona and my mother didn't want me to go and she tried everything she could to keep me at home."

Kivitt started tap dancing at age seven and turned to ballet at age 10. He said from the time he started ballet, his asthma started to disappear.

Although Kivitt played baseball, high jumped and tried football briefly during his junior high school years, the fact that he also was a dancer caused him to become adept in still another sport—fighting.

"Junior high school was the roughest time for me because they all thought dancing was for sissies," Kivitt said. "I had to fight everyday."

"At first I got the hell beat out of me but then I started winning some. But it seemed like I had to take on every new kid to prove myself. I guess my trouble was, I would never run from a fight. I had so much pride."

Kivitt said he talked with the Steeler players (he didn't remember the names) about similarities between the two fields.

"We agreed that discipline is very important in both fields," Kivitt said. "We also agreed that dancing required more discipline because a dancer has to stay in shape the year around. For each day a dancer takes off, it takes three or four to get back what he lost."

Kivitt's experience with football amounted to a sandlot game in which he got his back injured.

"Somebody doubled me over and it tipped my pelvis," Kivitt said. "I went to doctors nine years trying to get it straightened out. I was about to give up dancing." But Kivitt discovered a chiropractor in New York who corrected his problem.

"He keeps us glued together," Kivitt said. "When I go on tour, he gives me a list of chiropractors in each city in case it pops out again."

So it appears unlikely the NFL will ever know how Chicago's Dick Butkus would react to a "pas ballonne" move by Kivitt at the line of scrimmage or what Dallas' Cornell Green would do if someone came at him with a "pas jete."

And Pittsburgh's Mean Joe Greene won't have to learn how to tackle a fellow doing a "grand battement jete."

Kivitt is ready to take his place with other athletes of accomplishment. Just don't ask him to do it in a football uniform.

Betty Canary

At times I have envied those women whose husbands fix shelves, repair washing machine pumps and build patios at the snap of the fingers.

"The last time I snapped my fingers, my husband, without looking up from his newspaper, said, 'When are you going to call someone and have that fixed?'"

"You say that all the time," I said sharply. "When the furnace went off..."

He turned a page. "And when the exhaust fan quit..."

He reached for a book. "And after you leveled the refrigerator so the leftovers didn't fall out, I had to stand on a chair to reach the ice cube trays..."

"I came to the rescue when the basement flooded that time," he said. (Which was true, if you call jumping into a canoe and yelling "scull for your lives" helping.)

"It isn't that I don't want you to have any relaxation," I reminded him. "It's just that you don't seem to realize this country wasn't founded by men who called the plumber every time they had a leaky faucet."

"America," I enthused.

Rho Eta Has Charm Class

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi recently hosted a Fashion Co-Ordination Class in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens' Bank and Trust Building.

The Class was presented by Mickey McDonald, national director for the American Beauty Charm School.

The program entitled, "Fashions And You!" Miss McDonald stated, "Fashion freedom has, finally arrived! Even so you should not compromise with less than your best! Your appearance speaks first!"

Miss McDonald presented several basic factors that would lead to a more poised and confident individual.

Several ladies from the audience modeled fashions showing the versatility of a good basic wardrobe.

Miss McDonald emphasized simplicity. In doing so a basic wardrobe could last from three to five years.

Dear Abby

Worrying about keeping in touch

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1972 by Charles Tilton-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: So many people complain to you because someone they love and worry about "doesn't keep in touch often enough.

I know how one mother solved this problem: When her son, a notorious nonwriter, entered the Army, she presented him with a large packet of stamped, addressed postcards. "Mail me one every week," she said, "just so I will know you are all right."

Not as good as a letter, of course, but at least she heard from her son once a week. How did I know? He and I were service buddies for two years, and lazy tho he was, it was never too much trouble for him to scribble a line or two and drop the postcard in the mail.

Perhaps this idea would be useful to some of your readers.

BILL: ABINGTON, MASS.

DEAR BILL: Possibly. But have you ever sent a child to camp with enough addressed, stamped postcards for him to mail one every day? And the kid comes home with all the postcards? [Not to mention a tube of unused tooth-paste?]

DEAR ABBY: When my son went overseas with the National Guard in World War II, the youngest in his battery, I tried sending him addressed postcards so he would write to me, but that didn't work.

Then I devised a little scheme. I wrote what was the corniest song ever to be written, "THE EMPTY LETTER BOX," and had it sent to my son's chaplain with a letter. The chaplain had someone sing it as the band played, and he announced who it was written for.

Instead of being mad as he well might have been, my son was contrite and wrote to me saying that I would never have an empty letter box again.

After that, he wrote me once a week, except after the Battle of the Bulge when he was too tired.

Last week when I heard taps blown over his grave I was a proud mother.

MARY PAXTON KEELEY

DEAR ABBY: When I see a letter from someone "back home" complaining because she doesn't hear from her serviceman often enough, I could tear my hair out.

Don't they realize there must be good reason why a guy doesn't want to write? Some days the "news" is so depressing, the folks at home would be better off not hearing.

How many ways can a guy say, "I love you. I miss you. I am counting the days until I get home. And pray for me?" "OVER HERE IN 'NAM"

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to say a word on behalf of our servicemen overseas concerning the criticism they receive for not writing home very often.

Most of them are busy dodging bullets, so what do they have to write home about? Should they say, "We had a great battle today. I killed four men. Wish you were here"?

Thank God my husband came home all right. In the 18 months he was gone, I got only three letters. But he came back and that's all that matters.

One thing our men overseas don't need is women nagging them to write.

Thanks for being a sounding board, Abby. God bless you. The boys overseas love you.

MRS. S. K. S.

DEAR MRS. S.: And I love them, too.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Seventh Day Adventist Plan Local Series; National Work

The local Seventh Day Adventist congregation is planning a month-long series of services based on the "Reach Out for Life" theme, according to R. D. Murray, pastor.

Services begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday with T. D. Collins, Amarillo, principle speaker. There will be special features planned for children. The pastor is the program director for this series of services.

This, locally, is one of a number of programs being undertaken by Seventh Day Adventists. Pastor Murray says Adventist church leaders have voted $146,500 for inner-city programs of Christian social outreach that stretch from Boston to Los Angeles.

W. W. Fordham, director of the denomination's Inner-City Service, says the voted funds will be matched with monies from regional units of the church.

Among the programs to receive grants is The Gate, an evangelistic coffee house on M Street in Washington, D.C.'s Georgetown area. Some $10,000 was approved to help establish a medical clinic adjacent to The Gate.

In the Southwestern states a medical-dental mobile van which supplies free services will benefit from a $15,000 grant. Some $30,000 is earmarked for a new project in the Greater Boston area which provides tutoring services, medical help, social services, and religious services. A medical clinic in Chicago and a better-living center in Detroit will share a $20,000 allocation.

Fordham explains that $25,000 voted by Adventist leaders in Washington, combined with grants from the church conferences, will help support a $122,500 Christian social outreach program in Arizona and California. Projects such as better-living centers and summer camps in Phoenix, San Diego, San Francisco, Oakland, and the Watts area of Los Angeles will all receive grants to help continue operation.

For the first time since the establishment of the Adventist Inner-City Service, funds were voted for Toronto, Ontario, where the church is conducting a program for immigrants. Some $5,000 has been earmarked for the Toronto project.

Three mobile medical clinics in the Southern states will receive $25,000: Greater New York—$24,000; Philadelphia—$5,000; Washington, D.C.—$5,000; Cincinnati and Cleveland—$10,000; and Seattle—$5,000.

PAMPA TEXAS 65th YEAR Friday, Mar. 3, 1972

Church Of The Nazarene Minister Moves On Field

The Rev. Edward C. Jackson has assumed his duties as pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, 500 N. West St. He had served at Hillsboro three and a half years before moving to Pampa two weeks ago.

A native of West, a town located between Fort Worth and Waco, Rev. Jackson has been in the ministry 30 years. Previous pastorates have been at Dumas, Higgins, Levelland, Brownwood, Odessa, Harlingen, Sweetwater, Denton and Mineral Wells so he is no stranger to the Panhandle.

He attended Bethany Nazarene College at Bethany, Okla.

Rev. Jackson and his wife, Pauline, will make their home at 510 N. West St. The couple have a married daughter, Mrs. JoAnn Edgar, Dallas.

The new minister announced a change in Sunday evening services. Nazarene Young People's Society and the juniors will meet at 6:15 p.m. with worship service at 7 p.m. All other services remain the same.

Rev. Edward Jackson
The congregation of the church extends an invitation to all to attend services and hear the new pastor.

Westside Church Of Christ Set

A new congregation of the Church of Christ known as Westside Church of Christ had its beginning last Sunday and is now meeting in the Carpenters' Union Hall located in the 700 block of West Foster.

Bible classes for all ages are at 9:45 a.m. and worship at 10:40 a.m. Evening services are at 6:30 p.m. Sunday and 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

James B. Lusby, minister of the church, joins with all the members in extending to you a very cordial invitation to worship with them Sunday in spirit and in truth.

Lutheran Worship Services

Continuing with the series of sermons on personalities in the Bible, the Rev. Mel Herring will speak on the theme, "The Man Who Was Known By The High Priest" for the Sunday morning worship at 11 at Zion Lutheran Church.

ARE WE ALL WORKING FOR THE SAME BOSS

A few days ago I was introduced to a preacher of a denomination, whom I had not previously met. The man who introduced us made a remark about his being my competitor, and then said however, he "guessed" we were both working for the same boss.

Upon reflecting back upon this idea, two things occurred to me: (1) We teach different and opposing things concerning God's Word; (2) We may indeed be working for the same "boss," but this is possible ONLY if we are both wrong! We can both be wrong, but we cannot possibly both be right and teach opposing doctrine both claiming it from God. "God is not the author of confusion..." I Cor. 14:33.

ye that work INIQUITY...

Good works, done in Jesus name yet called workers of iniquity, and therefore workers of Satan for Jesus said He did not know them, and "he that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad." Matt. 12:30. In Matt. 7:13-14, Jesus warns us to seek for the straight narrow way, which leadeth unto life, and says "few there be that find it," but the broad way that leadeth unto destruction will have many go in thereat. In Matt. 7:15 he warns "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing..." And the Apostle Paul in II Cor. 11 concerned over the Corinthians warns that they might be led from Christ by another gospel. "As the serpent beguiled Eve..." Describing the ones who would lead them astray in verses 13-15 he says, "For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore, it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works."

Yes, we might be both working for the same boss BUT I sincerely hope not—for then we must both be Lost! Ministers of Satan!

But what, you ask, does this have to do with YOU? YOU are responsible for your own salvation. Paul writing to the Philippians in Phil. 2:12 says "work out YOUR OWN salvation with fear and trembling." And in II Tim. 2:15 "Study to shew thyself approved unto God..." THE WHOLE EMPHASIS IN THE NEW TESTAMENT IS ONE OF AN INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY. You need to know as much as possible about GOD'S WORD and not so much what some man says about it. Compare EVERY teaching and doctrine with GOD'S WORD. What I tell you, or what any other preacher may tell you doesn't mean a thing if it is not GOD'S WORD. If it is not then it is a perverted gospel, and accursed. Gal. 1:6-9; and vain (useless) Matt. 15:9.

You will NOT be Judged by my ideas or interpretations, or any other man's. BUT YOU WILL BE JUDGED BY GOD'S WORD. John 12:48-50. Hopefully, YOU are working for the right boss.

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Adam's 'Unseen Hand'

Adam Smith, eighteenth century classical economist, observed in his monumental work, "The Wealth of Nations," that in a free market economy there is an "unseen hand" working to the benefit of all, rich and poor alike.

Socialists, pretending not to understand what Smith was talking about and advocating governmental intervention in the economy, have pooh-poohed the idea, attempting to give it a religious or mystical connotation. The idea, of a beneficent "spook" with an "unseen hand" hovering over and ministering unto society is ridiculous, they have said.

And so it would be if that had been what Smith had meant. But, as he went to great lengths to explain, he had something quite different, earthy and real in mind.

When each individual is left free to pursue his own good via the natural profit motive, while observing the like right of others to pursue theirs, production of the goods and services people need and want is maximized. Smith observed, which, in turn, results in the greatest possible good to the greatest possible number.

And, here, of course, is where Smith's use of the metaphor, the "unseen hand," comes in.

For, even though each individual in a free market (private ownership of property, capitalism, uninhibited competition, and voluntary exchange) may be working "selfishly" for his own good, the results, if the individual is successful in his efforts to benefit himself, cannot be withheld from others.

This is so plain and so self-evident that one wonders why it is ever questioned.

Take, for example, the inventor of the rotary plough. And let us assume, that its inventor was totally self-centered, intent solely upon increasing his own profit.

The plough invented and produced, what is his next step if his hope of profit is to be realized?

One, he can either use it himself to increase farm production or, two, he can sell it to someone else who will use it for the same purpose. In either case, overall production of farm products has been increased. But, again, the problem is how to profit from the increased production?

There is no way, except by offering the increased production to others at a price.

But, how does one induce the others to buy?

And, again, the answer comes hard and fast. By lowering the price below that of one's competitor.

It all adds up to simply this. Individuals pursuing their own "selfish" gain in a free market economy maximize production.

Maximized production, forcing prices downward, results in maximized consumption by the maximum number of people. The poor are benefited along with the rich.

Thus, the profit motive, with the aid of nature's "unseen hand," brings about the greatest possible good to the greatest possible number.

Industry, carried on by industrious people, is the great benefactor of the human race.

Adam Smith knew what he was writing about!

Holes-in-Pocket Elite

So year after year your name has been left out of the Social Register or the Four-Hundred or whatever. No matter. If you have a record as an "aggressive consumer," you may be among a relatively exclusive group of 300,000 families who have been selected to receive a new magazine called "Lifestyle."

The magazine will feature articles on travel, arts, sports and other "discretionary pursuits" and will be sent free to families whose occupations, stock ownership, home value, travel habits and purchase patterns are the nation's most aggressive consumers of quality goods and services.

The lucky 300,000 were selected from a computer bank of no less than 59 million names.

Which means that many were culled but few were chosen.

"Thank Goodness for the Tax Cut!"

Paul Harvey News Women Of the Men Who Serve Pay Price

By PAUL HARVEY

President Nixon could be accused of politicking for including wife Pat Nixon on official missions—except that he has always included her.

This is his tacit recognition of what a man's success costs his family.

At a recent banquet I sat beside a governor who'd been in office for only two months. There was no doubt he was enjoying the personal accolades, the public deference and the clout.

But he confided that he'd had no idea his wife would not be invited to play bridge with the neighbors any more.

"Perhaps," I suggested, "the neighbors have placed her, like you, on a pedestal out of reach."

The governor said it wasn't that. It was the fact that any political dissent was shushed by her presence; she "wasn't fun to play with any more."

Most of us are turned off by the prominent person who feels sorry for himself. When an actor bemoans the dreadful invasion of his privacy by "all those autograph seekers" he sounds like a whining, ungrateful, undeserving dilettante.

But that success is a merciless marriage-wrecker should be acknowledged and understood before the fact.

The wife of California's governor, Nancy Reagan, says the only way for a governor's wife to keep from feeling sorry for herself is to concentrate very hard on the advantages.

Like Nancy Reagan, Ruth Graham, wife of evangelist Billy Graham, resigns herself

Crossroads Report

Nearly every day another federal judge finds something else unconstitutional which we and our foreparents have been doing ever since the Constitution was written. Like we have executed murderers, hired people by capability instead of by color or sex, financed our schools with property tax money, and otherwise lived in sin. And having produced this new strain of superjudges who can find things in the Constitution which nearly 200 years' supply of former judges couldn't see was there, we may expect any day to get word that the Constitution is unconstitutional.

The taxpayer who puts the money into the public kitty these days is mistrusted, audited, threatened, bullied, and suspected by the tax collectors of trying to cheat a few extra nickels for himself. But any professional ADC mama, or lazy bum, or other handout-hunting citizen wishing to live higher and work less is fawned over by our leaders and the only question ever asked them is how much more they want. The Gospel, according to Washington, seems to be that all self-supporters are liars and cheats, while all beggars are virtuous and cannot tell a lie.

Your Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Disease Makes Infants Old People

Dear Dr. Lamb—In a recent issue of a medical magazine, which was read to a group of student nurses, was an article describing two children who were afflicted with a disease that caused them to age prematurely. They had all the symptoms of old age including breakdown of skin and body processes, deepening of the voice and matured sexual organs. Unfortunately, none of us can remember the name of it. We would appreciate any help you might give.

Dear Reader—I have no way of knowing what medical journal you may have read but you are probably referring to the disease progeria. This is a very rare disease that turns infants into old people. Aging starts in infancy and suddenly you have a little old man. Usually these patients die in their early teens. Their skin will become wrinkled and sagging. They will be bald or their hair will be gray. Many of them die of heart disease.

There are only about 50 cases of this problem recorded in the medical literature and they are of particular interest because they may serve as a model for aging. That is, they may give us some new clues as to what goes wrong in the body's chemistry or the chemistry related to heredity that causes aging. After all, with the more advanced knowledge that has developed concerning the chromosomes and inheritance, it is possible that chemical corrections can be made.

The only other problem that you might have read about which is in any way similar is Werner's syndrome. This disease usually appears for the first time in late adolescence and then there is rapid aging with most of these individuals dying at about 40, already with the changes we attribute to age.

These two rare abnormalities suggest that there may be a lot more to the aging process than we have always thought. Aging may not be inevitable. If a lot of the characteristics of the cells, organs and body that we attribute to age are truly chemical changes which can be altered then one might suppose that a state of perpetual youth or early maturity could be realized.

A lot of the things we now call aging may simply be disease. We have come to accept in our society that it is all right for older persons to be sick, "it is just part of being old," while in fact it may be just as much an illness as leukemia in young people or rheumatic fever.

The body cells are very complex and function by chemical process that appear to go awry resulting in the changes we call aging, but which in point of fact may occur decades before true aging really should occur.

I do not believe in a fate that falls on men however they act, but I do believe in a fate that falls on them unless they act.

Inside Washington

High Hopes for Veterans' Bills
Take Sudden Dive in Committee

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Those recent bright hopes for Congressional enactment of long-sought changes in the military retirees survivors benefits systems and the recomputation of veterans' pensions are beginning to fade.

Unless several key legislators drastically modify their attitude, there is virtually no chance for recomputation and at best only 50-50 for survivors benefits.

These crucial lawmakers are — Sen. John Stennis, D.-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, who has been dragging his feet on the survivors benefits measure; and Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D.-La., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, who has come out against recomputation, including the so-called "one shot" plan proposed by President Nixon.

Two months ago, when Congress reconvened, the prospects looked very promising for passage of both plans.

The House, in October, by an overwhelming 372 to 0 vote had passed a new survivors benefits program. And the President included in his new budget the necessary funds to finance recomputation of retired pay based on Jan. 1, 1971, active duty rates.

Both were big victories for veterans leaders and organizations which had been battling for years for these gains. Their chances for realization never looked better.

But in the short period since then, the situation has altered radically for the worse.

Suspicious Run-Around

Blunt reason the survivors benefits bill (passed unanimously by the House) appears to be getting nowhere is that for more than four months it has been gathering dust in the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Committee members queried by this column on this extraordinary delay produced a curious response:

Republican committeemen, righteously disclaiming responsibility, put the blame on the Democrats, who they pointed out control the committee and determine what is or isn't done. Democratic committeemen, carefully stressing they were talking confidentially, discreetly passed the buck to Chairman Stennis.

Pursuing that pointed hint, further inquiry brought to light the following:

Chairman Stennis turned the legislation over to the staff of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and it has been studying and analyzing it ever since—with typical bureaucratic plodding and deliberation. That tortuous and laborious process is still going on.

A staffman, asked why such time-consuming pondering was necessary in view of the fact that a special 11-member House Armed Services Subcommittee had spent a year studying and formulating the legislation, replied:

"This is a very complex bill. There are a number of aspects we feel need going into. We have asked the Defense Department for various supporting data and statistics. They have supplied some of it, and we're still waiting for the rest. It should be along shortly, but just when we don't know."

Asked when public hearings are likely to be scheduled, the staffman said that was up to Sen. Stennis.

Currently, the committee is working on the annual multi-billion dollar military procurement authorization bill. That is top priority legislation. Until it is out of the way, there is utterly no chance of hearings being held on anything else.

"Of course, as you know," the staffman was told, "it's not exceptional for a bill passed by one chamber to wind up in a pigeonhole of a committee of the other chamber. Is that going to happen on the survivors benefits measure?"

"I don't think so," replied the staffman. "As far as I know, that's not Sen. Stennis's intention. But then, I'm just a committee employee and have nothing to say about decisions. That's up to the chairman and the committee, and no one has discussed it with me—and won't."

That's the glum inside story on this issue.

If the long-struggling champions of this legislation, directly affecting nearly a million military retirees and their families, want it to see the light of day in the U.S. Senate, they had better hump themselves and get very busy.

Time is passing, and if this long-sought measure isn't brought to the full Senate by May, it's finis la guerre. It will be lost in the usual wind-up hassle.

Attention Disabled Officers Association and Retired Officers Association!

Miracle Needed

President Nixon's inclusion of funds in his new budget to pay for a "one shot" recomputation plan was a great triumph—but unhappily a short-lived one.

For three years, champions of this plan in and out of Congress have been pressuring and clamoring for Administration backing. Finally last year, a Special Interagency Committee headed by Assistant Defense Secretary Roger Kelley recommended a "one shot" formula officially called a "progressive restoration of military retired pay."

Various veterans organizations weren't entirely satisfied, but accepted it as a compromise.

Its estimated initial cost is $269 million. Veterans forcefully contend this is only a small part of the more than $7 billion retirees have lost in pay since the 100-year-old recomputation system was abandoned in 1958.

With this being an election year, the outlook for the Kelley formula appeared very bright. Everything seemed set for its relatively smooth enactment.

Then suddenly, House Armed Services Committee Chairman Hebert blew the whistle.

Kleindienst Denies He Knew Of Finance Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst swore Thursday that at the time of a settlement of antitrust suits against the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. he had no knowledge that a subsidiary of the giant conglomerate had made any offer to help finance next August's Republican National Convention.

Kleindienst's nomination to succeed John N. Mitchell as attorney general is pending before the Senate.

He was the first witness as the Senate Judiciary Committee opened hearings into charges relating to the antitrust case against ITT that was settled out of court last July 31.

He also told the committee that he never talked to Mitchell, whose resignation became effective Wednesday, about any aspect of the antitrust case.

Kleindienst, as he testified, was flanked on one side by Felix Rohatyn, a New York financier and an ITT director.

and on the other side by federal Judge Richard W. McLaren of Chicago, former head of the Justice Department's antitrust division.

He testified to a series of meetings with Rohatyn beginning in April of last year and said that at Rohatyn's request he arranged for an economic presentation by ITT to McLaren of the consequences if the government required the company to divest itself of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

Kleindienst said that subsequently Rohatyn complained to him about what he called McLaren's "hard, stringent, inflexible attitude" toward reaching a settlement, but Kleindienst said he refused to relate these conversations to McLaren.

He said he told Rohatyn that any settlement was a matter to be worked out between the officials of ITT and the Justice Department's antitrust division.

Fair Sex Begins To Criticize Way They Depicted In Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A vague discontent has broken into open and harsh criticism about the way women are portrayed in the movies, usually produced by, directed by, and written by, men.

Critics carp that films stereotype women as empty-headed bed bunnies—at best.

And actresses complain they can't find work or if they do they are cast as prostitutes. "To view films made in the last 10 years," says a woman screenwriter, "is to view a world where women make up one per cent of the population, don't work professionally and are either whores or harpy wives..."

Recent Academy Award nominations brought the point home. Best actress contenders portrayed a neurotic prostitute, a dope-smoking madam, two long-dead queens and a divorcee who shares her bisexual lover with a man.

Why the deficit of great dames in movies? "It is very difficult to film virtue," says actress Gena Rowlands. "It's much easier to play a bad woman." Also, she notes, not many scripts these days are written by women.

"Men are making movies for themselves, not for audiences," says actor-turned-director Jackie Cooper.

Writer Eleanor Perry, whose "Diary of a Mad Housewife" zeroed in on the misery of today's woman locked in yesterday's role, says she still has to fight to show women as they are.

"Hollywood believes that a woman cannot be a sympathetic character if she swears," complains Miss Perry who had to chop four-letter words out of her latest script. "... In life those particular women in those particular situations would have used those words," she says.

The dearth of roles for actresses shows in employment figures. A trade paper recently reported that in movies currently shooting, actors outnumbered actresses 144 to 66 in feature roles, and, in 26 new TV fall shows men outnumbered women 283 to 81.

Hints of change can be found. Miss Rowlands, actress wife of actor-director John Cassavetes, sees her role in their "Minnie and Moscovitz" as the birth of a 1970s female film type.

The heroine, Minnie, is intelligent, liberated and self-supporting—but also unhappy, emotionally wounded and vulnerable. She's the end product of Women's Lib, says Miss Rowlands.

"We're going to see more Minnies as Women's Lib gains," says the actress. "We have glorified freedom for maybe eight years. It's left a lot of bruised and battered women lying about—men too."

What of the future? "We should have more pictures about people communicating and understanding each other," says Cooper. "You don't have to put women above men—that's not commercial. But at least have them talk on a level of equality."

Two Bandits Nabbed One Hour After Robbing McCAMEY Bank

McCAMEY, Tex. (AP) — Two men talked their way into the home of the president of the Security State Bank of McCamey Thursday, and one of them held the bank president's wife hostage while the other collected "a large amount of cash"—unofficially estimated at $15,000-$20,000—from the bank.

About an hour later two men were arrested about 20 miles south of McCamey when their car ran off the highway while being pursued by law enforcement officers.

The bank money was recovered. The men were held without bond at Upton County Jail in Rankin.

Bank president Derwood Langston said the men went to his residence about 8:40 a.m. They told his wife, Billie Langston, that they had car trouble and asked to use the telephone.

Once inside the house, they ordered Mrs. Langston at gunpoint to call her husband at the bank.

"I think my life may be in danger... there are two men here with me," Langston quoted his wife as saying.

"One man stayed in the house with her and kept talking over the telephone to me while the other came to the bank," Langston said. "The one who came to the bank seemed pretty nervous. I tried to talk him out of it, but he said he had nothing to lose because he had only a short time to live. He said he had some kind of stomach disease and was doing this for his wife and child."

Langston said the money was packed into a briefcase.

The man then returned to the Langston home to pick up his companion. They left together, warning Mrs. Langston not to call the police for 30 minutes.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Shea and their six sons lost their home in a fire Feb. 11, they discovered their fire insurance policy had expired in December.

But Friday they were told they would be reimbursed for the loss anyway.

An investigation by the National Fire Adjustment Co. showed that the Sheas' insurer, State Farm Insurance, had failed to send a notice of expiration, required by state law.

Jail sentences are imposed in Tennessee in connection with big game violations.

DETROIT TIGERS

American League East PROSPECTUS: The tale of the Tigers seems a bit tattered. The pitching staff is woefully lacking in depth. They don't exactly have speed to burn (finishing last in the league in 1971 with 35 stolen bases) and some of their stars are close to being over the hill. Will this be the year they top? Manager Billy Martin has problems that could get worse as the season progresses. And yet the only winter deal they could make was to get Tom Haller as a backup receiver to Bill Freehan. Last season, the Orioles ran away with the division title, while the Tigers provided the only opposition that was not utterly laughable. This season appears to be one of even less hope for Detroit.

Norm Cash

PITCHING: If you start with Mickey Lolich (25-14) and Joe Coleman (20-9), it seems the Tigers have a formidable starting staff. Unfortunately, it seems to end right there. Sore-armed Les Cain (10-9) is the third best, with Joe Niekro (6-7) fourth. Top reliever is Tom Timmerman (7-6 with four saves) and Ron Ferranosi (1-5 with seven saves).

INFIELD: Norm Cash had a standout comeback year at first base, with a .283 batting average, 32 homers and 91 RBIs. But he's 37. Dick McAuliffe at second hit .207. The left side of the infield, Eddie Brinkman at short and Aurelio Rodriguez at third, can gobble a grounder but they have problems at the plate.

OUTFIELD: Al Kaline is 37, though he still can hit (.294). Willie Horton, Mickey Stanley and Jim Northrup also help to make the Detroit outfield one of the best in baseball, offensively and defensively.

CATCHING: Bill Freehan is one of the best in the league.

Predicted Finish: Third in East.

CHICAGO CUBS

National League East PROSPECTUS: If there's one thing Cub owner P. K. Wrigley has more of than chewing gum, it is patience. He has waited 27 years since the team's last pennant but despite pressure from fans and the press he rehired manager Leo Durocher, who has brought the Cubs up from the depths but not quite to the peak in his six years with the team. Though Durocher has a new coaching staff and a couple of new outfielders, Jose Cardenal and Rick Monday, he has yet to solve his biggest problems: relief pitching, catching and a surplus of dissension. Bright spots are rookie pitcher Burt Hooton, the still superb infielder, Billy Williams and the fact that most Cubs fans still remember the Eddie Miksis-Harry Chiti-Roy Smalley days and tend to be thankful for small favors. With Ernie Banks still hanging around waiting for a World Series to play in, emotion is on the Cubs' side. But the odds aren't.

Glenn Beckert

PITCHING: The pitching subsidiary of Ferguson Jenkins Enterprises Ltd., has won 20 games five years in a row, earned Cy Young Award in 1971. He is relentless and reliable. Milt Pappas won 17 last year, the best of his career, and Bill Hands is better than his 12-18 record of 1971. With erratic, malcontented Ken Holtzman gone, Hooton—who throws baseball's only knuckle-curve ball—could be a starter in second pro season. Bullpen was nearly useless last year.

INFIELD: Ron Santo, Dan Kessinger, Glenn Beckert (league's third best hitter at .342) and Joe Pepitone, third to first, is as good as any infield in baseball. Paul Popovich is capable backup. Banks is a coach but will probably be staying. "Ernie's not through in '72."

OUTFIELD: Billy Williams is still good for 25 homers, 95 RBIs. Speedy Monday, from A's, and Jose Cardenal, from Milwaukee will battle for centerfield spot with loser competing for rightfield job with sturdy Jim Hickman, who hit 19 homers despite injuries.

CATCHING: A catcher with one bad knee is in trouble. A catcher with two bad knees should start looking for other employment. Ready Hundley, once an iron man, has two bad knees. And if his comeback try fails, only J. C. Martin, Ken Rudolph and Frank Fernandez stand between Cubs and oblivion. Hello, oblivion.

Predicted Finish: Third in East.

Baseball Roundup

By Associated Press

A Richie Allen by any other name is just as tough to locate as the original was. Allen, who has expressed a desire to be called Dick this season, either is or is not a holdout for the Chicago White Sox. General Manager Stu Holcomb isn't exactly sure. This much Holcomb and the White Sox know. They did not have a contract with Allen's signature on it as they prepared for today's baseball exhibition opener against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Sarasota, Fla., and as a matter of fact, they did not have Allen either. "I don't know where Allen is at the moment," said Holcomb Tuesday. "We're waiting until he comes to us. It's been the history of the man that he generally reports late for spring training." And, Allen's ex-employers in Philadelphia, St. Louis and Los Angeles might add, he's occasionally late for other incidents like regular season games. The problem does not seem to be financial. Holcomb has a verbal commitment from Allen's Philadelphia agent for a 1972 contract. The numbers are reported to be $120,000. But a commitment is not a contract and a contract Holcomb does not have. "I imagine," said the Sox general manager, "he'll come to us when he gets ready." He was not ready for today's opener, one of three exhibitions scheduled. The others had the New York Yankees playing the Texas Rangers at Pompano Beach, Fla., and the San Diego

Padres playing the Mexico City Reds at Mexico City. The absent Allen had some star company missing from other spring training camps. Joe Torre, who had been in St. Petersburg, negotiating with St. Louis, left town to fly to New Hampshire for some campaigning in the presidential primary there. And Vida Blue's attorney, Robert J. Gerst of Los Angeles, was keeping the pitching prodigy out of Oakland owner Charles O. Finley's reach. Larry Grantham and Don Maynard are two original members of the New York Jets.

College Roundup

By Associated Press

"We've come too far now not to win it all," said Memphis State coach Gene Bartow. The message should be loud and clear for Louisville's basketball team.

Bartow, in the modern-day vernacular, was "telling it like it is" after his 20th-ranked team routed the second-ranked Cardinals 81-65 Thursday night and threw the scorching Missouri Valley Conference race into a tie. Memphis State has come a long way, baby. The Tigers have chased Louisville most of the year before finally catching the front-runners.

Both teams now have 11-2 records and a strong possibility exists that they will wind up the season in a tie. Each has a soft touch in the final game Saturday. Conference officials huddled after Thursday night's game at Memphis, Tenn., to determine a playoff site if things go as expected when Louisville entertains Tulsa and Memphis hosts Drake in the regular season windups. While the MVC looked forward to a probable playoff, the Southern Conference opened its postseason derby, as expected, the four top-seeded teams won opening-round games.

Furman crushed Virginia Military, 126-80, breaking a tenuous record for points scored and victory margin. Davidson smacked Appalachian State 87-77 on a torrid 54 per cent shooting from the field; William & Mary trimmed Richmond 98-82 for the third time this season and East Carolina rallied in the second half to stop The Citadel 90-71. Elsewhere, Miami of Ohio defeated ninth-ranked Marshall 77-71 and 17th-rated Oral Roberts blasted Wisconsin-Milwaukee 100-95. Memphis State rocketed away from a 50-50 tie midway through the second half on the shooting of Don Holcomb and Larry Finch. Finch scored 21 points and Holcomb wound up with 18. Ron Thomas and Henry Becon paced Louisville with 19 points apiece. Larry Garloch hit six, 20-foot shots in the second half to lead Miami past Marshall, which is bound for the NCAA post-season tournament. Richard Fuqua poured in 45 points to help Oral Roberts, the nation's top-scoring major college team, turn back Wisconsin-Milwaukee, the winners secured the decision in the closing minutes by scoring six of their last eight points from the free throw line.

DENVER (AP) — Riley Odums, a tight end from the University of Houston, signed a multi-year contract with the Denver Broncos Monday, the National Football League club said. Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Border Olympics Will Open Today

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — The 40th annual Border Olympics, billed as the nation's first major outdoor track and field meet of the season, begins Friday, boasting its largest university field in history in what boils down to a preview of the Southwest Conference championship.

Rice captured the Border Olympics in 1971 and used the momentum through the rest of the season to wrest the SWC track title away from the Texas Aggies. Every SWC club is on hand except Arkansas. The Owls and fast-improving Texas, which claimed the Southwest Recreation Track and Field Meet last week, are the teams to reckon with in the University field which also includes North Texas State and Lamar University. The Owls are paced by NCAA national champion Dave Roberts in the pole vault.

Roberts was named the outstanding performer last year when those voting in the press box were informed he had cleared 17-feet when actually he had topped 16-7. The ballots were quickly changed in favor of distance man Junior Lee of Howard Payne after the mistake was discovered but by that time Roberts was en route to Houston with the trophy. Thirty high schools are entered and 13 junior college teams. New Mexico Junior College is the defending champion and co-favored with Odessa Junior College. Preliminaries in the high school and junior college divisions are set Friday.

Black Athletes Earn Less And Work Harder

NEW YORK (AP) — "Most black athletes are so naive that they can be compromised by a steak dinner and a glass of champagne," a former pro linebacker turned actor charged today. "Scouts, agents, coaches and team owners exploit blacks. It's a fact that some super-star blacks earn less money than mediocre whites." The accusation was made by Bill Overton, 25, a Wake Forest graduate who was linebacker with the Dallas Cowboys and later the Kansas City Chiefs, although not a regular, before moving on to a successful career in the movies and on television. With two active players—commercial since so far the clients haven't paid a penny into the project. Besides, Overton doesn't need it for a livelihood. He has had parts in four movies, "Made for Each Other," "Hail," "Mortadella" (with Sophia Loren) and "Richard (a takeoff on the President); appeared on television and on the stage ("Bill and William" at Playboy Theater in New York) and has done numerous commercials. "When Hank Stram (Kansas City coach) offered to pay me $150 a game to stay on the taxi squad," Overton said. "I decided football wasn't for me." Overton grew up in a ghetto in Boston, began making decisions at the age of nine because both his parents worked, and won a scholarship to Wake Forest, where he majored in football and drama. He was graduated in 1968. "I was really naive," he said. "The guys once took me to a Ku Klux Klan cross burning in Greensboro (N.C.). I was one of the first black guys to play at Auburn in 1967. The trainer didn't want to sit with me on the bus because he was afraid he'd get shot." "That's not what bugs me. What bugs me is that black athletes are being victimized by sharp agents and promoters—sometimes by their own coaches. We want to help them." Overton said he had discovered that in many cases college coaches made secret deals with the agents and the agents, in turn, made secret deals with the pro teams with the athlete usually the loser.

Atlanta Braves Are Confident Of Victory

ATLANTA (AP) — Manager Luman Harris of the Atlanta Braves isn't impressed with the major league baseball oddsmakers who tabbed his team at only 6-1 in the National League West race. "I think there are five good teams in the division and I think any one of them could win," Harris said. "All they (Braves) have to do is look at the talent on the team and they'll know we can win."

This should be the best hitting Braves club ever and potentially the best hitting club in baseball," he added. "We have the strongest and deepest personnel of any Braves team I've managed," Harris said.

Atlanta's success depends primarily on the knees of Hammerin' Hank Aaron, Orlando Cepeda and Rico Carty, a trio of super sluggers who have combined for almost 1,100 home runs during their careers. Aaron, who Tuesday probably became the game's highest paid player when he signed a three-year contract for an estimated $200,000 per year, enters his 19th season only 75 homers away from Babe Ruth's lifetime record of 714.

His nagging knee problem forced him to the sideline more last season than in previous years. Despite this, he hit a career high 47 round trippers.

Carty, the 1970 National League batting champion, missed the entire 1971 campaign after breaking his left leg near the knee in a winter league collision. A pin was removed from the leg last November. Cepeda limped through 71 games with the Braves last year before receiving permission to undergo surgery on his left knee last August. Braves officials are taking a look at Carty and Cepeda in spring drills at West Palm Beach, Fla., before offering them 1972 contracts. Another Brave who strikes fear in opposing pitchers is catcher Earl Williams, last year's NL Rookie of the Year after belting 33 home runs and driving in 87 runs. Speedster Ralph Garr, who hit 343 and swiped 30 bases in his first full season in the majors, and steady second baseman Felix Millan, who batted .289 despite circulation problems in his right index finger, should give the sluggers plenty of RBI opportunities. However, it may take the best hitting club in baseball to make contenders of the Braves. Team speed is average, at best, and the pitching staff has a history of inconsistency and lacks a proven stopper. Harris says his 1972 squad "gives me the most pleasant feeling I've ever had as manager while the frost is still on the ground."

When the frost returns next October, he'll probably find his Braves no better than third or fourth in the division.

Baseball Season Starts For PHS

The Harvester baseball team will open their season in San Angelo today at noon against Midland High. Their second game in the tournament will be against the winner or loser of the Temple-Amarillo High game Saturday morning at 10 a.m.

In the second game Saturday the Harvesters will be up against one of four teams at 2 or 4 p.m. depending on their win-loss record at that point. Teams the diamond-crew could face Odessa Permian, Tascosa, Andrews, or San Angelo Central. A total of eight teams are entered in the two day tourney and trophies will be awarded to the first four teams.

The Harvesters will be playing without All-District outfielder Greg Schulz due to insufficient first semester credit hours. The oversight came to light according to coach Deek Woldt. "When we sent in eligibility lists to the UIL in Austin," Schultz had not enrolled in the necessary number of courses to be eligible to play in spring sports. News Briefs

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Man one day will say his spaceships between the planets carried on the solar wind, the 1970 Nobel laureate for physics predicts.
Flights to Mars will take weeks instead of months when the energy in the wind—hot, electrically charged particles streaming from the sun at more than a million miles an hour—is tapped, said Dr. Hannes Alfvén, 63.
He made his predictions in remarks released here and prepared for delivery in Moscow today where he received the Lomonosov medal for 1971 from the Soviet Academy of Sciences. Alfvén is on leave from the University of California at San Diego.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—County superiors' idea of planting plastic trees had died on the vine.
Bowling to public pressure, the supervisors have agreed to return to using nature's products to landscape county roads.
However, 900 artificial plants and trees, placed along a boulevard at a cost of $74,504, will remain as long as they survive. They have been the target of angry protests, one demonstration and vandalism from unhappy nature lovers.
The plastic plants were erected because officials feared the earth was too shallow to support real ones.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—China says it will pay most of its $7.1 million assessment for the 1972 U.N. budget but won't pay for items it considers "hostile to the Chinese people" or in violation of the U.N. Charter.
The latter category includes the U.N. Commission for the Reunification of Korea and the old debt for peacekeeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East. China follows the Soviet example in this. France also refuses to pay for the Congo operation.

JOHN THE BAPTIST

Out beyond the Jordan River, in the desert wastes, living on locusts and wild honey, John the Baptist preached a message of repentance. A first cousin of Jesus, he was the most highly regarded personality in the life of Christ.

John was a stirring, forceful prophet. From his wilderness pulpit he swayed thousands with his trenchant criticism of a corrupt society. Although imprisoned and headed by Herod Antipas, John successfully announced the coming of Jesus and His Kingdom. The demise of the Baptist was a signal for Jesus to begin His public ministry. Many of John's followers quickly joined the Master. They had been well prepared.

JAMES

Christian history is very honest about the reaction of the people who were said to be Jesus' brothers and sisters toward His ministry of teaching and healing: They were opposed. Jesus observed on one occasion that a prophet was without honor in his own house. At least one Scripture source recalls the time that His family tried "to take him away," so worried and apprehensive had they become over His public ministry.

Heading the family opposition may have been James, the oldest, and direction may have fallen on his shoulders. Joseph is no longer mentioned, believed to have died years earlier. Jesus' determination to preach the coming of the Kingdom of God must have annoyed James intensely: more work and supervision for him of a poor and struggling, fatherless family. Yet in God's providence, James is among the first to see the Risen Christ, to believe in the Resurrection and to take his place in church history. As head of the Jerusalem Church, he was wise and courageous—the hallmark of belief.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hellzapoppin" arrived as a variety hour special on ABC Wednesday night. A comparison with "Laugh-In" is inevitable. The show was equipped with old jokes, sight gags, showers of feathers, even a character who strangely resembled Ruth Buzzi's forlorn Gladys. And it was produced by Caroline Raskin, for years a producer of "Laugh-In."

There is considerable irony in the relationship. When NBC's "Laugh-In" arrived on the television scene four years ago, it was widely compared with "Hellzapoppin," a stage hit in the 1930s and not so much of a hit movie in the 1940s.

To enjoy such a show, one must appreciate corn and kneeslapping jokes. For example, a Negro man stalked on stage in safari costume announcing, "I am the great black hunter."

When the studio audience

laughter subsided, he was asked how to make an elephant shake, to which he replied, "You take two scoops of ice cream..." The studio audience was in the aisles.

"Laugh-In" humor actually is a cut above that.

Actress Lynn Redgrave had a jolly time clowning—she even blacked out a couple of front teeth with chewing gum. Perhaps her greatest moment was when she asked cohorts Jack Cassidy and Ronnie Schell, "Do you mind a gorilla in here?"

"We certainly do," they replied in chorus.

"Well, mind this one for awhile," she replied, introducing them to a man in a gorilla suit.

The show tried to be mad, merry mildly naughtily but it lacked the noise and freedom from inhibitions exhibited by both the original "Hellzapoppin" and "Laugh-In" of its early days.

Today In History

By Associated Press

Today is Friday, March 3, the 63rd day of 1972. There are 303 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1791, the federal District of Columbia was organized.

On this date: In 1845, Florida became the 27th American state.

In 1847, the inventor of the telephone, Alexander Graham Bell, was born in Edinburgh, Scotland.

In 1849, Congress established the U.S. Department of the Interior.

In 1944, during World War II, U.S. fighter planes made their first appearance over Berlin.

In 1945, the U.S. 9th and Canadian 1st armies joined up as German forces were in full retreat all along the Rhine River.

In 1969, the three U.S. Apollo 9 astronauts were sent into orbit around the earth, and they linked up with a second space ship.

Ten years ago: Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. received a tumultuous reception in his hometown of New Concord, Ohio, after becoming the first American to orbit the earth.

Five years ago: The Polish government refused to issue a visa to former Vice President Richard Nixon to make a private visit to Warsaw. Nixon termed the action uncalled for.

One year ago: Communist China launched its second earth satellite.

Thought for today: Tomorrow, tomorrow, not today; hear the lazy people say—Christian Felix Weisse, German poet and dramatist, 1726-1804.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M.D.

Lola's husband no longer calls her the "G.P.P. Elephant." And his kisses now sizzle! For she lost 23 pounds by the protein and dehydration method below. A dozen plump church women joined her, donating $2.50 for each pound they shed. So the church gained over $500, prior to Easter.

CASE T-517: Lola L., age 37, has a widespread problem.

For it involves her "widespread." "Dr. Crane, she moaned, 'I now weigh 164 pounds.'

"But I am only 5 feet 4 inches tall."

"So I waddle when I walk and my husband keeps making sarcastic remarks about me."

"He says the Republican Party could employ me as one of its G.O.P. elephants!"

"And he threatens to have an affair with some slender siren if I don't take off at least 30 pounds!"

"So PLEASE tell me how to stay on a diet!"

DIETING STRATEGY
Dieting is more difficult than quitting tobacco or liquor!

For the dieter merely tapers off, while the cigarette or whiskey addict can quit all at once.

And our psychological evidence proves it is much harder to taper off than to make a clean break with any bad habit.

Here are a few axioms for dieters:

(1) Protein is the ONLY food that loses 15 per cent of its calories in the process of being digested, so stress protein items like cottage cheese, lean meat, the white of an egg, etc.

Besides, fresh protein is needed for your muscles, including the heart, every day!

For it isn't stored, so you must always eat protein to stay strong and healthy.

You generally have enough fats and sugars in your body to last for months (Lola admits she has 30 pounds of surplus fat alone).

(2) Avoid most liquids with your meals, so omit coffee, tea and water.

For caffeine drinks whet your appetite and make you eat more.

Besides, they are often "Siamese" items, requiring their "twin," such as "Coffee and Doughnuts" or "Coffee and Pie," etc.

(3) Ladle the food on your plate in the kitchen and don't have any other food on the table to tempt you.

For your stomach actually registers more hunger if there are extra visual displays on the table (family style).

(4) Don't sit and talk after your plate is empty but go into the living room for your conversation!

For the mere sight of dishes on the table will resurrect more appetite.

(5) Clean out your refrigerator of those dozens of knickknacks that most housewives have cluttering up its shelves.

Keep nothing therein but cottage cheese, meat, milk and raw cabbage or lettuce, celery and carrots.

Those vegetables count little in calories but are filling.

(6) In cool weather, try my dehydration diet which will lop off at least 10 pounds in the first 10 days.
