Airport Destroyed

High Winds Hit State

Winds of tornadic force destroyed the Rusk County Airport near Henderson, Tex., early today as a line of severe thunderstorms pelted North and East Texas and left a path of destruction in their wake.

J. O. Roy, airport manager, said the storm hit Henderson about 1 a.m.

Winds picked up a crop-duster plane that was anchored to three 300-pound blocks of cement and slammed it, blocks and all, against the side of a hangar also wrecked by the wind.

Probers Call Show Sponsors To Take Stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two brothers who sponsored the $64,000 TV quiz shows go before House investigators today to expand on their cosmetic company's denial of charges that it persuaded producers to rig the programs to attract more viewers.

Called to testify were Charles Revson, president of Revlon Cosmetics Co., and his brother, Martin, former vice president of the firm which sponsored the now-defunct "$64,000 Question" and "$64,000 Challenge."

In a preliminary statement issued Tuesday night, the Revlon Company conceded it "did suggest numerous ways in which the programs could be improved but rigging was not one of them."

"Pressure from a sponsor to do a better job did not give quiz program producers a license to cheat," the lipstick and fingernail (See PROBERS, Page 3)

UF Drive Nets $53,958 To Date

A total of $53,958.73, representing 84 per cent of the campaign goal, was reported by Floyd Watson, United Fund campaign chairman.

Watson said the general campaign will close Friday, after which a special committee will be organized to contact persons who may have been missed during the general campaign.

"We intend to reach our goal," Watson added.

All workers are asked to turn in their cards to the United Fund office in the city hall Friday whether they have been worked or not. No more coffee check-ins will be held, Watson said.

THE MILK FUND — Jack Blum, a Pampa dairy firm route driver, delivers milk on a voluntary program that provides milk without charge to children of families in need of assistance. Operated entirely by volunteers, the Milk Fund has no paid staff or money to carry on this project. Funds are provided by the United Fund. Various agencies, churches and individuals recommend families to receive milk. A volunteer or a professional worker from another agency investigates, tactfully, and approves the recommendation. Anyone with children in their home, and not able to pay for adequate milk may apply directly to the Milk Fund or contact the Red Cross, Salvation Army or either of the local banks.

Like Plans Extensive Trip To Europe, Asia, M-East

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today announced plans for a historic personal trip to nine countries in Europe, Asia and the Middle East next month.

The President told his news conference he will leave Dec. 4 and visit Italy, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran, Greece, France and Morocco.

This was a far more extensive itinerary than originally indicated. The tour will take 2-1/2 weeks.

Eisenhower said he hoped that by this trip he would build, particularly in Asia, a better understanding of the United States and — at all points of his jet plane journey — good will for the United States.

Other highlights of the President's news conference: He compared the results of the congressional investigation into rigged television quiz shows with the 1959 baseball scandal involving the Chicago Black Sox. Eisenhower said he felt no one in the basic television industry, from network executives and producers down through the actors, would be satisfied until the whole mess is cleaned up.

He expected a report from the Justice Department before the end of the year, on what, if anything, the executive branch should do to prevent repetition of the TV rigged shows.

He said he favored building a second Panama Canal, but that the project was so complicated and required such study that it would not necessarily be recommended.

He said he and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, at their recent White House meeting, talked politics all across the board, but he did not recall that they came to any conclusions. He said most of their talk, however, involved civil defense.

He said the United States was puzzled by anti-American outbreaks in the Caribbean. He said this country confidently hoped that not only Panama, but every other civilized government would make certain that law and order are preserved.

One of the many high spots of the President's trip will be Dec. 11 in New Delhi, India, when he participates in the opening of the American exhibit at the World's Agricultural Fair.

He plans to spend at least two days in Rome, then fly to Ankara, Turkey; Karachi, Pakistan; Kabul, Afghanistan, and then into New Delhi.

From India he will go to Tehran, Iran, for a brief visit and on to Athens, Greece, where he will be greeted by King Paul and Queen Frederika.

The President told reporters that because of the strenuous nature of the trip, he would take a break somewhere along the line, but still arrive in Paris for the opening of the Western summit Dec. 19.

Strike Mediation Efforts Revived

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government mediation efforts in the steel strike were revived Tuesday by the Supreme Court considering whether to uphold a court order to halt the 113-day-old walk-out.

Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan will meet with union and management negotiators. He said he wanted to sound out both sides before deciding whether to conduct separate or joint negotiating sessions.

The Supreme Court took the steel case under advisement after four hours of argument Tuesday by government and union attorneys. The court gave no indication when its decision might be forthcoming but Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin said he hoped for a ruling Friday or Monday.

Sometimes in the past the court has quickly announced its ruling in important cases, giving its reasons later in written opinions. But one seasoned court observer doubted this procedure would be followed in the steel case. It was felt the justices generally favor explaining their decision when it is issued.

The court must rule on a union request to overturn an injunction issued on Oct. 21 by Federal Judge Herbert P. Sorg in Pittsburgh which would send the 500,000 striking steelworkers back to their jobs for 80 days.

Ordinary Supreme Court rulings do not become effective for 25 days after they are handed down. But the government has asked that the steel judgment be made effective immediately.

The union has contended throughout the legal battle that the Taft-Hartley law's injunction provision is unconstitutional because it confers on federal courts an administrative function — that of helping to settle a strike.

Judging by the amount of time given to this argument and the number of questions put by the justices Tuesday, it is not looked on by anyone as a strong point.

Members of the high court seemed most interested in how it comes from a Hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware.

Injured Men's Condition Still Critical

Two men seriously burned in Monday morning's storage tank explosion near Lefors remained in "critical condition" late this morning at Highland General Hospital.

Suffering burns over 70 per cent of their bodies are Thurman Humphrey, foreman for the Shaw Oil Co., and Houston Floyd, both 46 and both of Houston. Both men remain under oxygen tents.

The third man injured, Eddie Burger, 31, has painful face and shoulder burns, but is in good condition.

An official of the Shaw Co. told the Daily News this morning that "no one actually knows how the fire began, although it could have been a backfire in a pump draining the tank."

The 50,000-barrel-capacity storage tank caught fire about 10 a.m. Monday on the Chapman lease about six miles east of Lefors, and exploded about 20 minutes later. Some 2,000 gallons of crude oil were in the tank when the explosion occurred.

R. M. Barrett, clerk at the Texas Co. office in Pampa said he was at the scene Tuesday but could make no dollars and cents estimate of the losses. He said the storage tank itself was a complete loss, but that an estimate will have to be made by the Houston office of the company.

Defenses Up In Panama

Army Ready To Quell New Invasion Try

BALBOA, Canal Zone (UPI) — U. S. Army troops equipped with machine guns and mortars guarded the borders of the Canal Zone today against any new invasion attempt by mobs of anti-American nationalists from the Panama Republic.

Rioting nationalists in Panama City Tuesday ripped to shreds windows in U. S. Agencies, burned automobiles and stoned U. S. Canal Zone guards. The U. S. consulate in Colon at the Atlantic end of the 50-mile wide Wistmas was attacked.

Troops kept the rioters out of the Canal Zone itself.

The violence erupted during what was billed by its sponsor — former Foreign Minister Aquilino Boyd — as a "peaceful invasion" of the zone to "reaffirm Panamanian 'sovereignty' over the canal zone, leased to the United States 'in perpetuity' in 1903."

U. S. Ambassador Julian Fisk Harrison delivered a strongly worded protest note to the Panamanian foreign ministry against the "unwarranted desecration" of the American flag. He said this seriously endangered relations between the two countries.

It was the worst anti-American violence in Panama in more than 30 years.

Canal Zone Gov. William E. Potter requested the Army take over enforcement of law and order after hard-pressed police had spent more than five hours fending off rock-throwing, using Panamanian youths.

The demonstrators were infuriated when police refused them permission to carry the Panamanian flag into the U. S. - controlled zone. At least three policemen were injured and two demonstrators arrested.

U. S. soldiers with bared bayonets moved up to ring the frontiers with Panama. Searchlights were concentrated anywhere a possible attempt at infiltration during the night.

Some Canal Zone authorities were openly critical at the failure of the national guard — Panama's only military force — to stop youths from hurling rocks at Canal Zone guards from inside Panama. Potter himself commented earlier on what he said was the "strange lack of will" on the part of the national guard in suppressing the violence at the outset.

National guardsmen were rushed to the U. S. Embassy after the attack and others prevented rioters from looting the Panama City railroad station, which is part of the Canal Zone enterprises.

The President told reporters that because of the strenuous nature of the trip, he would take a break somewhere along the line, but still arrive in Paris for the opening of the Western summit Dec. 19.

Democrats Capture Off-Year Elections

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats came out of the 1959 elections today with the same show of muscle they have been displaying in recent off-year political tests. Republicans also found something to boast about in city elections in Ohio and upstate New York.

For the Democrats, the brightest spots in Tuesday's voting were the election of a governor in Kentucky, the crushing defeat given Harold E. Stassen in the Philadelphia mayoral election and a sweep of Indiana city elections.

With scattered exceptions, Tuesday's voting followed the form sheet.

In Kentucky, Democrat Bert T. Combs was a runaway victor over John M. Robison Jr. In the cans had hoped that a factional contest for governor. Republicans had hoped that a factional split among Democrats would elect Robison in the normally Democratic state, but backers of retiring Democratic Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler failed to give them the necessary help.

Chandler, a declared candidate for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination and foe of Combs, now has little hope of going to the national convention next year as Kentucky's favorite son.

Stassen, former Minnesota governor who sought the Republican nomination for president in 1948 and 1952 and for governor of Pennsylvania in 1958, continued running downhill in the Philadelphia election. Democratic Mayor Richardson Dilworth won reelection easily.

In Indiana, Democrats won all but one of the mayoral elections in the 25 largest cities. They displaced Republicans in Fort Wayne, Lafayette and Columbus and held on to mayors' offices they won four years ago in Indianapolis, Gary, South Bend and other cities.

Stassen Loss May Spell End To His Career

By JOHN GAUDIOSI
United Press International

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A stunning 200,000 vote victory by incumbent Democratic Mayor Richardson Dilworth put a big question mark today on the political future of Harold E. Stassen, the Republican "boy wonder" who wanted to be president.

The former presidential adviser's second setback in Pennsylvania in 18 months left him reeling and vague about his plans for the road ahead. The defeat exceeded the highest Democratic expectations by 50,000 ballots. And it came one and a half years after he had made a futile bid for the GOP nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

The final vote — was Dilworth 428,209; Stassen 227,862.

As a landslide of votes buried deeper the national prestige he lost in a "dump" Vice President Richard Nixon gamble in 1956, Stassen hinted that the practice of law would take up much of his future time.

"I will do everything I can to build the Republican Party and my practice of law, which is in the international field," Stassen said.

Stassen, 52, governor of Minnesota three times, never had a chance once the votes began rolling in on his "comeback" race against Dilworth. The Philadelphia mayor is a popular Marine Corps veteran of both world wars and his handsome, lean features belie his 61 years.

Stassen's doom was sealed beyond doubt in the final two weeks of the campaign when the Democrats charged he failed to pay city $1,000 in wage taxes for 1953-54.

Senator Still Playing Coy

Fish Fry Becomes Full-Scale Political Rally For Johnson

BASTROP, TEX. (UPI) — If Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson doesn't seek the Democratic presidential nomination, about 7,000 Central Texans who whooped it up for his candidacy Tuesday night will be disappointed.

The affair was originally a fish fry in Johnson's honor, but it soon developed into a full-scale rally complete with a huge "Johnson for President" sign flying behind the speakers platform.

Johnson himself had to stand in front of the big sign to ask supporters to help him "play one game at a time."

"The first thing I have to do is to be re-elected to the U. S. Senate," he told the cheering crowd. "It's a long time until the nominating convention next July and the election next fall."

"The people usually have a way of making up their minds," Johnson said, "and are able to select a person who is most qualified and most capable to lead the nation. I have no doubts that wise judgment will prevail next year."

Johnson spoke just after hundreds of his supporters paraded with placards and signs booming him for the presidency.

Gov. Price Daniel helped whip the meeting into a rally by urging the crowds to "support Johnson 100 per cent for the presidency of the United States."

"I do not know of any man who would make a better president than a United States. I have never seen a man so devoted to his country," Daniel said of the Texas senator.

U. S. Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin, who succeeded Johnson in 1948 as congressman from the 10th district, said Johnson is devoted to the highest aspirations of public welfare.

"He is qualified to lead this nation with the free people against all aggressors," Thornberry added.

The crowd roared as Johnson took the platform.

"I have ears and I can hear," Johnson said. "I have eyes and I can see. I see what my friends are doing and saying... but while in Congress during a campaign, Franklin D. Roosevelt said 'to play them one at a time'."

"I hope you will join me in 'playing them one at a time,'" he said.

Organization Meet Set For Thursday

A meeting has been scheduled for Thursday night at 7:30 in the St. Vincent de Paul School cafeteria in the interest of organizing a Cub Scout Pack.

Boys eight, nine and 10 years old are invited to attend. This meeting with their parents, Dr. George Snell, Scout district commissioner, will preside at the meeting and explain how the pack could be formed.

The meeting was put on the church and school calendar by the Rev. Father Edward J. Cashman, C.M.

Driver Fined $100

William Thomas Pierce, 32, living at 716 1/2 E. Locust, was fined $100 and costs today in county court after pleading guilty to a charge of drunken driving.

Pierce was arrested by Pampa police officers Tuesday evening while attempting to back away from a parking space at the west side of the courthouse.

The Pampa motorist was convicted once previously on DWI charges in Randall county in 1951. Today's sentence carried with it an automatic six months suspension of license and three - day jail sentence.

Sewer Contruction Equipment Damaged

Machinery owned by the Walter D. Bellamy Construction Co. was "shot-up" with a .22 caliber weapon sometime Monday night, police reported today. The equipment was parked near the city dog pound which was also vandalized the same night.

W. W. Crawford of the Bellamy Co. said damages will probably total $30. The equipment will soon be used on a sewer project stretching from the sewage disposal plant through southeast Pampa.

WINDS

High winds unroofed three homes in northwest Waco during an eight - minute storm that dropped 43 inch of rain. Lightning struck two power lines and disrupted service to the northwest part of the city. Both Waco hospitals were without power for 15-20 minutes while emergency power generators were put into use.

At Hillcrest Memorial Hospital, a brain operation was finished. Just before the storm hit and knocked out the lights.

Two Waco city employes, J. D. Hamilton, 36, and Owen Stodghill, 48, were repairing a street barricade that was blown down by the wind when a car hit both of them. Hamilton was taken to a hospital with a back injury.

Police launched a citywide search for the driver, who backed away and fled after hitting the men.

Two inches of rain fell in parts of Fort Worth, Henderson and Farmersville during the night.

SPACE

Every equipment was obtained by recorders inside the capsule. The escape rocket was triggered about 30 seconds after launch. It carried the capsule several thousand feet away from the booster.

The escape rocket, which burned about one second, is located on the lower 16 feet above the capsule. After a 20-second coasting period, the escape tower was separated from the capsule.

Ten seconds later a drag parachute emerged from the capsule to keep it from tumbling end over end.

About three minutes after launch, at an altitude of about 10,000 feet, the main parachute opened and eased the one-ton capsule into the Atlantic. The impact was about the same as a man would experience in jumping from a 14-foot wall.

Pleads Innocent

Bond was set at $500 Tuesday in county court for a Pampa man charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The man, William E. Dixon, 712 E. Denver, was cited for "placing wine in the possession of a person under 17." The alleged offense occurred Saturday. Dixon entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

Jaycees Plan For Pancake Supper

The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, at its weekly meeting Tuesday, discussed plans for its pancake supper Dec. 1.

The pancake supper will be held at the high school cafeteria, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Dec. 1. Those attending may buy all they can eat for the price of a ticket. All proceeds will go to the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

Several of the Pampa Jaycees attended an area work conference Tuesday in Stinnett. State Jaycee president Jack Miller was the principal speaker at the conference.

At the regular Jaycee meeting in Pampa, County agent Ralph Thomas showed slides he took while he was in the service, stationed in Japan.

Importance Of Helium Output To Area Described By Speaker

The need for increased production of the scarce element helium in light of new uses found during the past 45 years was explained to members of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at their monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Palm Room of city hall.

Speaker for the evening was William Deaton, chief helium consultant of the Helium Activity Department of the federal Bureau of Mines.

The Panhandle area for 30 years has been one of the chief producers and prime sources of the element which is about 4 on the atomic weight scale as compared to 30 to 32 for the air we breathe. Helium has been manufactured in Texas since 1921 and in the Panhandle area, mainly the Amarillo field, since 1929.

Tax Assessor Has Troubles In Collecting

Pampa taxpayers have paid $98,453 in city taxes the past two weeks, but the city tax office is having its troubles, Assessor Aubrey Jones reported today.

More than 200 statements sent through the mails to city property owners have been returned to the tax office because of incorrect mailing addresses. The fault, according to Jones, lies with property owners who "failed to render their property and give us their correct addresses."

"Everyone was mailed a statement," Jones added. "If they didn't get one, they had better find out why. An owner ought to be interested in the value of his property and the taxes against it even though a loan company may be paying the tax."

Jones urges that persons who failed to receive their statements call or come to the tax office in person.

In regard to the payment of taxes, Jones said the response has been "very good" to date. Although statements have been in the hands of property owners less than two weeks, already 16 per cent of the total levy has been collected. Jones expects 85 per cent of the levy — which totals $594,927 — will be paid by Jan. 1.

Highland Lumber Office Entered

A burglar pried open a drawer-type safe at the Highland Lumber Co. office Tuesday night and escaped with $80.35, Police Capt. Denny Roan reported this morning.

The burglary third reported in Pampa the past two days, was the second at Highland Lumber, 1945 N. Hobart, in the past three years. Roan said the building was entered by breaking a south window and then opening a lock. Two screwdrivers were used to pry open the safe.

Meanwhile one of the four break-ins Monday night was solved Tuesday with the apprehension of a 16-year-old Pampa boy. He admitted breaking into the D. V. Burton station at 910 S. Barnes. Juvenile officer Bill Leonard said the youth will "work out" the damages.

CYO Week Filled With Activities

Catholic Youth Week began its activities with a radio interview over station KPDN with Rev. Ronald Ramson, spiritual moderator for the Pampa organization as guest. Rev. Ramson explained the purpose and operation of the Catholic Youth Organization and answered questions posed by the interviewer. He spoke on the need of an active youth organization and elaborated on the theme for the National Catholic Youth Week observance, "Spiritualized Youth Means a Vitalized Nation."

On the Feast of Christ the King, the Catholic youth of St. Vincent dePaul parish began with a Day of Reflection following a 9 a.m. Mass and communion breakfast at Johnson's Cafe. The rosary, question session and conferences were led by Father Ramson. In the evening the Pampa CYO were hosts for a dance with guests attending from White Deer, Canadian and Groom.

Chaperons included Miss Christine Carr and Mrs. J. J. McCarthy, co-sponsors of the group and Father Ramson. Parents who assisted with hosts' duties during the evening were Messrs. and Mrs. R. A. Farrow, L. H. Robinson, A. J. Edwards, E. R. Cloyd of Canadian and Dallas Wyatt of White Deer. Father Richard Lang was a guest.

Twelve members of the local CYO returned home Sunday night, Nov. 1, after attending the three-day Rocky Mountain Region Catholic Youth Congress in Colorado Springs, Colo. Workshops, discussions and tours of scenic interests were attended by over 3,000 young people.

Delegates who attended from Pampa were Misses Rita and Frances Robinson, Evelyn Edwards, J'Hon Urbanczyk, Ann Stein, Barbara Falkenstein, Adele Pung, Carol Schwind, Karen McCarthy, Quentin Noite Jr., Roger Farrow, and Ralph Palmer.

The group made the trip in private automobiles driven by Mrs. F. M. Schwid, Mrs. L. H. Robinson, Miss Christine Carr and Rev. Ronald Ramson.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Three days after her teacher started teaching fractions, Carol's parents tried to help her with her arithmetic homework.

First her mother explained why the common denominator of 2, 3, 4 and 7-32 was 32. But Carol couldn't see why it was. The more her mother explained the more upset she got. Finally, when her mother said:

"Why can't you see that you just divide the 8 into this 32, multiply the 5 by the 4 and..."

Carol burst into tears. So her father took over. But all that resulted from his struggle to clarify Carol's homework examples was the desperate cry:

"But that's not how she said to do it, Daddy! It's not how Miss Brown said to do it!"

So her father, a sensible man, said:

"Then the thing to do is to ask her to tell you how to do it again so that you can understand it."

At once, like countless other children in her state of mind, Carol felt relief. Though she protested that Miss Brown might object to re-explaining common denominators, there was no doubt that she found the prospect of Miss Brown's clarification the help she had really needed.

When youngsters ask for our help with homework, I do not believe that they want help with the homework at all. I think what they want is help with their fear of asking their teachers for it. And that is why our attempts to help them with homework, so often end in irritation with us.

A youngster who has failed to understand his teacher's teaching always blames himself. Because adults are such powerful, all-perfect creatures to him, it can't occur to him that there may have been a flaw in his teacher's teaching. His self-doubt is increased by his belief that the other kids all seemed to understand her, that he alone is stupid. Though the other kids may be struggling as hard as he is, shame over his unwise stupidity makes it as impossible for him to conceive this as it is.

For an additional charge of 30 cents, Travis School PTA members will join with Austin members in taking the course. Anyone interested in enrolling for the course is asked to contact Mrs. Wiley-Davis at MO 8-3179 by Thursday evening.

Leadership Course At Austin School

A parent-teacher leadership procedure course will be held Friday, Nov. 6 from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. in Stephen F. Austin elementary school. Instructors for the course will be Mrs. James Lewis, District 19 PTA president; Mrs. Julian Key, City Council PTA president; Mrs. J. Foster Elder, Austin unit president; and D. V. Biggers, Austin principal.

There will be a 75 cent fee charged in connection with the course. Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. in the school cafeteria.

Devotional topic was given by Mrs. Isaac Simpson. The program "Newspapers" was given by Mrs. Charles Teas.

Attending were Messrs. Ben Beard, W. L. Helton, John Jones, C. A. Studer, J. B. Lindley, Tom Hest, Isaac Simpson, E. H. Snyder, Dan Witt, Charles Teas, Frank McDermie and the hostess.

Party Insurance Is In Inviting Good Guests

For the hostess: Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) presents Mrs. Lucy Virginia Miller with plaque marking her election as first woman president of the Texas State Society, Washington, D.C.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If you want to make sure that everyone has a hang-up time at your party, invite people who know how to be "good guests."

This tip comes from Texas-born Lucy Virginia (Scooter) Miller, one of Washington society's most popular hostesses.

Although notables such as Vice President Richard Nixon, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn regularly attend Scooter's parties, they didn't make her "good guests" lists because of their big names. They meet special qualifications which she believes always guarantee a party's success.

Most important is that guests have outgoing personalities and know how to mix. "I like people who give something to a party," she explains.

Mrs. Miller feels guests also must know how to "take care of their hosts" or hostesses' belongings. "One of the worst things guests can do is to go into a pri-vaty home and not be conscious they're among beautiful things," she says. Her examples of this type of thoughtlessness are flicking cigarette ashes on the carpet and setting wet glasses on uncovered tables.

A third qualification is that guests genuinely appreciate being invited and don't take being excluded as a personal affront. Scooter explains:

"Entertaining is becoming harder and more expensive these days. The prices of food and help are continually going up."

"Scooter's husband and close friends believe she deserves a lot of the credit she gives guests for her enjoyable parties. Husband Dale, a lobbyist for Texas gas, oil and sulphur interests, says:

"One of the main reasons for Scooter's success is that she has a wonderful capacity for remembering names."

One of Scooter's tricks is to repeat a person's name as soon as she is introduced. "Also if it's an unusual name," Scooter explains, "I get the person to spell it for me."

Scooter always greets each guest at the door and makes sure he is introduced to everyone at the party. If she doesn't have time to make all the introductions herself, she will see that someone else makes sure the newcomer meets everybody. Before a party, she usually appoints four or five close friends to help with the inroductions. Scooter's parties range from sit-down dinners to informal buffet and cocktail affairs. "We have entertained, as few as 25 people," she explains, "and as many as 500 at one time." Average number of guests in about 100.

In addition to throwing parties, Scooter is kept busy raising three kids, Marta, 17; Dale, Jr., 14 and Mead, 11.

She is also active in several organizations including the Texas State Society, the Florence Crittenton Home for unwed mothers and the Young Women's Christian Home. The latter is a hotel for career girls who have just arrived in Washington.

Scooter was born in Dallas, Texas, and was graduated from Southern Methodist University. She got her nickname from a professor who once told her, "You tread well in this course but, you need to scoot!"

Scooter attributes her rise in Washington society to some advice her mother gave her when she left home: "Go to Washington and join a church. Make friends slowly and make them last."

Canadian Club Has Guest Fete

CANADIAN (Spl) — Canadian Women's Club entertained guests at its annual Guest Night with a program of organ and piano music by Arthur Bates, professor of piano and organ at Panhandle A & M College in Goodwell, Okla.

The program was held at the First Methodist Church and followed by a tea served in Fellowship Hall of the church to 200 members and guests.

The autumn theme was carried out for the evening by Mrs. Daisy Childers, president, and Mrs. Emery Vignal, vice president and program chairman, presided at the tea and coffee service.

The committee for the entertainment was composed of Mrs. George Earl Tubb, chairman, and Mrs. C. W. Allen, J. B. Lindley, Oliver Waters, J. L. Cleveland and E. H. Morris.

New Silhouettes Are Flattering And Feminine

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The body beautiful is evident this fall via clothes of freshness and elegance cut with an eye to a very feminine look.

This new silhouette has ease, grace and motion. It shows slightly widened shoulders, tiered skirts either full or slim, longer jackets and neckties that are the essence of flattery. Many of these are open and frequently framed with unusual and interesting cuts.

In the collection of Nat Kaplan, the tiered skirt takes several forms. It can be a short-tiered cape over a slim, embroidered wool jersey dress. Or it is handled as a skirt on other dresses, widened out for late day wear.

Evening clothes from this collection are spectacular. They are done in fabulous gold brocades and gold lames. Some of these heavy fabrics are translated into shirtwaist dresses that are the pinnacle of elegance. There are a good many beautiful imported silk woven taffetas done in sophisticated rose prints.

We show here two designs from the Kaplan collection. Daytime dress (left) is coin-crafted wool jersey in charcoal gray. Top is rounded with wider sloping shoulders; skirt is a slim three-tier affair.

Dinner dress (right) is a newly rounded soft silhouette is cut from imported pure silk wrap print. Bodice is draped through the midriff, ending in a beautiful, carved skirt with slightly rounded hips.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We live in the country and our mailman has just bought himself a new car. His new car is too low to reach my mailbox, so he wants all the people on his route to lower their mailboxes to 37 inches.

The base of our mailbox is cemented in. Do you think we should go to all that trouble to lower our mailbox when sooner or later we will have a new mailman who will probably want us to raise it again?

TOO HIGH
Dear Abby: As a rule, rural mail carriers are a very accommodating lot, but I think yours has reached a new low. According to postal regulations, rural mailboxes must be 42 to 48 inches above the ground. If it is inconvenient to read yours — leave it as it is.

DEAR ABBY: Are we supposed to be ashamed to thank God for our food in public? My wife passed away two years ago and left me with an eight-year-old son. We have always said our blessing before each meal at home.

I have been courting a very nice woman for six months. She is my age (36) has never been married and is a registered nurse. Last Sunday we all dined out. My son proceeded to say his blessing before eating. She gave him a look and he stopped. When we got in the car she bawled him out for saying "grace" in a restaurant and said such things are not done in public.

RUTH MILLETT

"How do you get a daughter-in-law to love you?" asks a mother-in-law who claims she has done everything possible to win over her daughter-in-law, without success.

"I kept her children five days a week for five years so that she could work," says the mother-in-law. "And many a time I've done a basket of ironing for her so that she wouldn't have to do it herself when she got home from work."

"I've given her the nicest gifts I could afford and I have never criticized her for any reason. Still, she never invites me to her house for a meal and if I stop-by to see my son and her without an invitation, which isn't often, she always leaves the room to lie down or do something in some other part of the house. How have I failed as a mother-in-law?"

You've tried too hard and done too much. The children were your daughter's responsibility — not yours. You didn't do her a favor when you took them over, even though you thought you were.

As for going in and doing her housework, you again were trying too hard to win her love. You would have done much better to give only the help she asked for, instead of constantly putting her in your debt.

You don't make others love you by assuming their responsibilities or turning yourself into a servant to make life easier for them. A mother-in-law wins love by living her own life, letting the young couple live theirs, making few demands upon them and refraining from trying to buy acceptance through money and gifts.

You aren't the only mother-in-law to make this kind of mistake and to feel cheated because you haven't won the love you worked so hard to get.

Why not get busy living your own life and let your daughter-in-law live hers without any offers of help from you? You'll win her respect that way — even if you never win her love.

PUZZLED MAN

Dear Abby: First you had better say something to the woman. There is nothing wrong with saying "grace" in public. If she would "hawl-out" your son for an act which is truly commendable, take a closer look at her. How fortunate for you to have caught this glimpse of her ignorance and cruelty so early in your courtship.

DEAR ABBY: We have a friend who, after unpleasent miscarriages, finally gave up and adopted two children. They are now 3 and 5. Yes, they are darling (but spoiled) children and we are all happy for her. BUT, Abby, she will start out like this: "I can brag about my children because I had nothing to do with it..." and then she will go on for hours bragging about her children.

Just because the children are adopted and she "had nothing to do with it," does this give her a right to bore everybody with their cute sayings and doings? And how can we shut her up?

HER FRIENDS
Dear Abby: No one has a "right" to bore anyone with cute sayings and doings of children, be they of their own blood and bone or adopted. You cannot "shut her up," but you can "tip her off" if you are friendly enough. Or you can avoid her.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that dentist who insisted on being called "DOCTOR" that his knowledge of dental surgery may not suffice. I suggest he call a physician to help him get his foot out of his mouth. A. R. (LAYMAN)

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wrap jars of grease to be thrown away in aluminum foil. Should they break, there'll be no mess to clean out of the rubbish can.

Grass stains on nonwashables sometimes can be sponged away with denatured alcohol. Rinse by sponging with clear water. Try this on a bit of selvage, first, to make sure color won't run.

Ramirez to Fight Powell Thursday

Rabbit Ramirez, former Texas bantamweight runnerup, will close out of retirement here Thursday night for a fight with Kenny (Tiger) Powell. This will be the feature match of Thursday's fight night at the Optimist Boys Club. Ramirez, who started the year as a boxing coach, will be facing one of the toughest fighters on the Boys' Club team. This time he'll be fighting as a lightweight. Ramirez has a lifetime record of 60 wins and 32 losses, but he dropped several decisions last year.

The Short Line

By RED GRIGGS

McLean and Groom grabbed the inside track for their district championships last week. This week, both will be more or less innocent bystanders, as other teams battle their biggest challenges.

McLean and Groom (both nicknamed the Tigers) both will probably have fairly easy games this week. McLean will host the Lefors Pirates, and Groom will host the Textline Tornados.

Clarendon, the only team which can do anything to stop McLean from going into bi-district play, may be knocked off this week by Canadian before they get a chance to do any "spoiling" for McLean. A Canadian win would assure the Tigers of a spot in the bi-district playoffs. Canadian will probably rate as a slight favorite, since the Wildcats will be the host team.

At least 12 bouts will be on tomorrow's fight card, according to match-maker Oran James. The fights get underway at 7:30 p.m. Nine of them have already been matched.

In the number two bout of the night, also a lightweight scrap, Corky Morse of Citizens Bank will take on Glenn Tibbetts of Lefors. Morse, last year's district high school champion, is an aggressive boxer with a good knockout punch. Tibbetts is also a dangerous fighter.

Three other bouts involving the larger fighters are a lightweight fight between Wendell Ridgway of Richard Drug and Joe Wagner of Lefors; a 120-pound scrap between David Steele of Lefors and Dennis Combs of Richard Drug; and a lightweight bout between Ronnie Morgan of Richard Drug and Clyde Steele of Citizens Bank.

Other fights matched so far include a 60-pound clash, Terry Sanders of Lefors vs. Danny Boyd of Richard Drug; a 90-pound bout, Danny Martin of Lefors vs. Jim Henderson, unassigned; a 65-pound scrap, Tommy McDonald of First National Bank vs. D. D. Lofton of Lefors; and a 70-pound fight, Jim Watson of Parsley Roofing vs. David Archibald, First National Bank.

James said that fights have already been scheduled here already, Dec. 3, and with Fort Hill, Dec. 10.

A match with Fort Hood will be fought sometime in December. Fort Hood is the Fourth Army champion, and has one of the top boxing teams in the Southwest.

Injury Was Deliberate, Cal Charges

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—The University of California today pressed for punishment of Mike McKeever, Southern California guard who charged deliberately against Cal halfback Steve Bates last Saturday.

California President Clark Kerr and Chancellor Glenn T. Seaborg Tuesday night issued a statement accusing the all-American candidate of smashing Bates in the face in an action they called "completely unnecessary and uncalled for."

The statement, which said movies and still pictures of the incident would be released to the public and shown to the presidents of the conference — said Dr. Norman Topping, president of the University of Southern California, and Francis Tappan, USC vice president, had agreed to take action.

Topping, without naming McKeever, issued a statement apologizing "to the extent we are responsible" and indicating that he felt the incident was closed.

However, Greg Engelhard, California director of athletics, called the Southern California statement "very unsatisfactory."

Bates was seriously injured in the game which Southern California won 14-7. He was hospitalized with a broken nose and cheek and several loosened teeth and will not be able to play for the rest of the season.

Of course, it might be a good policy for both Groom and McLean to pay a little attention to their own games this week, because upsets have been known to happen. It seems there were quite a few last week.

Harvesters Alert

There's one team which, you can bet the rent money, won't be under a rating this week's opposition. That's the Pampa Harvesters. Coach Babe Curfman admits the Harvesters were somewhat overconfident last Friday, when they lost to Palo Duro, 6-0, in Amarillo.

However, he points out that it was a good lesson to the squad. "It was hoping they'd be played a close game," he said, "so they'd be on their toes this week. Of course, I didn't want Palo Duro to play quite as well as they did."

Curfman says that Lubbock is a much better ball team than the record indicates, and predicts that the Harvesters will have to play good football to beat the Westerners.

Come on, Putt!

What's this world coming to? Putt Powell, who writes for a small paper, herabouts, is picking against his beloved Amarillo Sandies, when he shouldn't be. Putt picked Monterey and Tascosa both to beat the Sandies, and the Sandies beat both.

I have no interest whatever in the Sandies, except that I respect them as a good football team. But I picked 'em right against Monterey and Tascosa. Come on now, Putt, are you gonna let a mere Pampa show you up in "supporting" the Sandies?

Fearless Fraley Picks Texas, Syracuse, SMU, Arkansas

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fraley's follies and the week-end football "winners" — while making like a real "expert" —

Game of the Week
Syracuse over Penn State — Syracuse is listed as a seven-point favorite on the theory that Texas is aided at home. But the thought here is that the "Sizable Seven" will hit much higher than that.

The East
Navy over Maryland — It's Navy by seven but a porous defense indicates a free-scoring game.

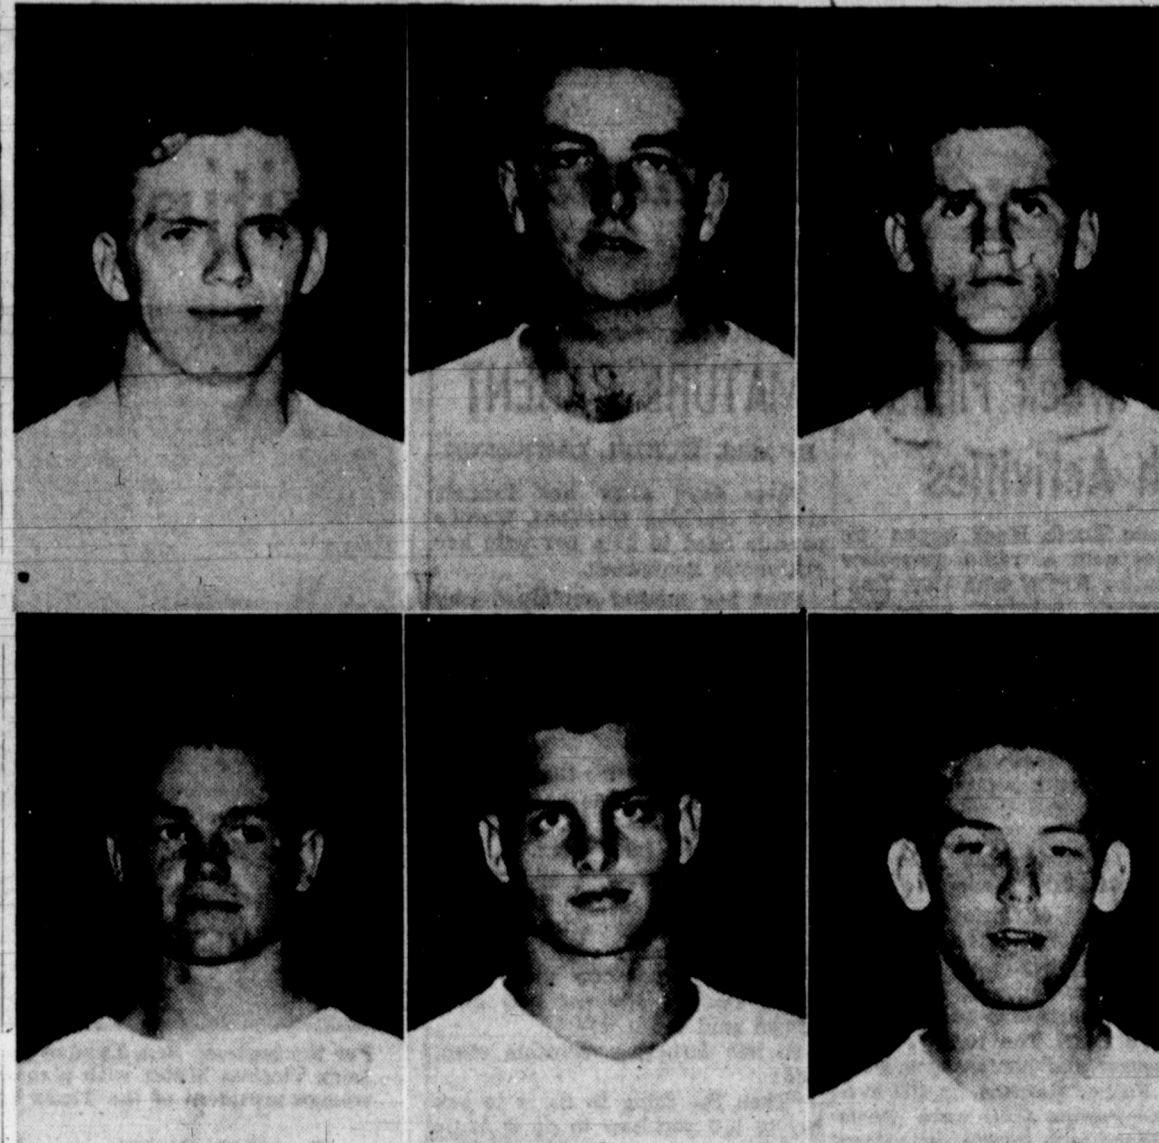

Yale over Penn — The blue-plate special with Penn favored by six.

Princeton over Harvard — The word is that Harvard found itself but not quite enough.

Also: Cornell over Brown, Pitt over Boston College, Army over Villanova, Holy Cross over Boston U., Dartmouth over Columbia, Lehigh over VMI and Delaware over Temple.

The Midwest
Notre Dame over Georgia Tech — The Irish, aided by playing at home, seem to have found themselves.

Illinois over Michigan — But watch out for the every-other-

RESERVE LINEMEN — These six boys are all reserve linemen on the Pampa Harvesters football team. Those on the top row are end Bob Followell, tackle Jerrell Reed, and end Jimmy Boyles. Those on the bottom row are guard Billy Cooper, center Jackie Bromlow, and end Larry Taylor.

Lee Squads to End Season; Shockers to Play Saturday

Robert E. Lee's eighth graders close their home season Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m., at Harvesters Park, against Perryton Junior High. The Shockers will play the Amarillo Yarnigans at 10 a.m. Saturday morning at last home game of the year for the Pampa Junior High and B teams.

Lee Junior High's Rebels will close their season Thursday at 4 p.m., against Perryton Junior High, in Perryton. The Shockers will play the Amarillo Yarnigans at 10 a.m. Saturday morning at last home game of the year for the Pampa Junior High and B teams.

Lubbock Team Better Than Record Shows

Weldon (Bird Dog) Trice, Harvesters assistant coach who scouted Lubbock's Westerners two weeks ago, thinks the Westerners have a much better team than their record indicates.

"I don't see how they've lost six games," Trice said. When they're in the right frame of mind, and well organized, I believe they can beat anybody. They did beat Palo Duro, a team that whipped us, by 21-16."

Trice said that the Berger game, lost by Lubbock 61-0, was closer than the score indicated. "Berger's scoring was very uneven," he added, "because they were held pretty well in the first and third quarters. They had a couple of big flurries in the second and fourth periods."

The Harvesters coach attributed much of Berger's scoring to desperation, gambling tactics by the Lubbock team, and by the desire of Westerner Coach Buddy Brothers to let some of his younger players get some experience.

Trice credited the Westerners with having a good defensive line. He said that the right side of the line, composed of 151 pound Jerry Seymour, 180 pound Alan Stapleton, and 170 pound Ronald Hunt, is especially strong.

He added, however, that some of the effectiveness of the line has been cancelled by mistakes on the part of the inexperienced defensive backs.

Trice declared that Plainview, a 41-0 winner over Lubbock, was unable to get away for any long runs. "The Bulldogs just ate 'em up four and five yards at a time with their single wing power," he explained.

Trice described Lubbock as a good passing team. "They throw short ones," he said, "and they don't send many men down, but the passes they do throw are hard to defend against. They give the passer good protection."

Trice said that Tommy Middleton, the Lubbock quarterback, is probably the best ball-handler in the district, and is one of the best passers.

The Westerners were described as having a routine ground attack, which has been one of the strengths of the team. "They have a good running game," Trice said, "and they don't depend on the passing game."

Lester Ramsey's Rebels will be trying to end their season with a winning record. They are now 4-1, after last week's scoreless tie at Dumas. The starting lineup will be about the same as last week.

Shocker coach Norman Phillips will again have the full services of tackles Preston Parrish and Wendell Winkleback, who previously were out with illness. Parrish missed last week's game, and Winkleback was not able to play at full speed.

Phillips said that his squad is becoming reconciled to the loss of five starters to the varsity, and that their attitude is becoming much better. The Shockers have a 3-4 season record, and will be shooting for a 500 percentage Saturday.

The Pampa Junior High Repeaters, the Lee seventh grade, and the Pampa Junior High seventh grade have all completed their seasons. Lee seventh lost Saturday to Houston of Berger, 16-8, a 4-1 finished the season with a 1-3 record.

And he doubts very strongly that the nation ever will see the likes of Oklahoma's string again in any conference.

He's ex-Oklahoma star Bill Jenkins, coach of Nebraska, honored today by United Press International as college football's "Coach of the Week" as a result of a stunning 25-21 upset of Oklahoma here Saturday.

Oklahoma, a 16-point favorite in this game, had not lost in the Big Eight since 1946—the same year that Jennings, who starred as wingback and end for the Sooners just before World War II, returned to his alma mater as backfield coach. The Sooners had not even been tied by a league foe since 1952, having won the last 44 conference games.

And Nebraska hadn't beaten Oklahoma since 1942.

This time it seemed that Nebraska, which had lost three straight games, was doomed again as Oklahoma marched to one quick touchdown. The Sooners still were on top, 14-12, at halftime. But Soph. Ron Mead's third-period field goal put the Huskers ahead, 14-14, and Pat Fischer's 61-yard kickoff return midway through the fourth period set up a Nebraska touchdown and conversion that made it 22-14.

Another field goal by Mead provided insurance points. And the final score made a true prophet out of Jennings, who had declared before the season began that the Sooners would be two years with an option for two more years.

"The bad days when there was no hope are behind us,"

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Pee Wee Reese today had an "oral contract" to be Dixey Dean's new partner on the telecasts of the baseball game of the week for a salary reported to be $32,000 a year.

The formal contract was expected to be signed Thursday at the Falstaff Brewing Corp., sponsors of the program. The agreement was said to be for two years with an option for two more years.

Amarillo Moves Up To Fourth in Poll

By ED FITE
United Press International

DALLAS (UPI) — The Amarillo Sandies made the major move in the United Press International's coaches board ratings this week, jumping from 10th to fourth in Class AAAA on the strength of their 13-4 upset of the previous No. 4 team — Amarillo Tascosa.

Another major change saw Arlington's once-tied but unbeaten Colts prance back into the Top 10 with a jump from 18th to 10th as Corpus Christi Miller skidded out because of an unimpressive 14-6 decision over oft-beaten Corpus Christi Carroll. Arlington beat Birdville 19-8.

Tascosa, beaten for the first time this season, slipped to eighth, while the only other changes saw Highland Park move up to sixth and Dallas Sunset drop one place to seventh in a switch of positions.

Wichita Falls held onto first place, but the Coyotes' 27-0 victory over weak Irving almost cost them the lead. Idle Corpus Christi Ray pulled to within one point at 148 to 147 with six first-place votes to eight for the Coyotes.

4A Top Ten
DALLAS (UPI) — Tabulations of the United Press International Texas High School Football Coaches Board ratings (based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. and with number of first-place votes and won-loss records in parentheses):

Syracuse Is Picked Over Penn State

NEW YORK (UPI) — The oddsmakers, who obviously don't believe in Jews, have made Syracuse a seven-point favorite over Penn State in their "meeting of the unbeaten" at University Park, Pa., Saturday.

Syracuse, the No. 3 team in this week's United Press International ratings, has won only two games on Penn State's home field in the last 25 years.

In Saturday's other games involving members of the UPI top five, first-ranked Louisiana is a seven-point favorite over Tennessee, second-ranked Northwestern is favored by six over Wisconsin, fourth-ranked Texas is 14 over Baylor, and fifth-ranked Southern California is 21 over West Virginia.

Miami (Fla.) is a two-point choice over North Carolina in a Friday night game.

Honest Columbus Cops Walk Beals Ashamed, Conspicuous

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — month. Ashamed and conspicuous. That's the feeling of many an honest Columbus police officer as he goes about his duties in the wake of the Police Department scandal that has rocked Ohio's capital city.

Ashamed, because at least nine policemen, including a sergeant, have been arrested in connection with police thefts in stores and businesses they are sworn to protect.

Conspicuous, because their blue uniforms have become the targets of public insults, jibes and ridicule as a result of the scandal.

The arrests that began last week brought into the open a department investigation that has been going on for more than a month. Chemical charges have already been filed against three patrolmen and the sergeant. The sergeant and one patrolman were freed on bond pending hearings. Five patrolmen were held in city prison. The three other patrolmen charged were held in city prison. Five patrolmen were held in prison on open charges pending filing of formal charges.

The nine arrested so far constitute less than 2 per cent of the 534-man force. But their alleged crimes have virtually wrecked department morale.

An angry mob stood by and jeered at two officers Tuesday as they fought three men causing a disturbance in front of a night club. One of the officers was hospitalized with a broken jaw as a result of the fight.

One patrolman said customers in the bar began calling the officers names. Another tried to incite the patrons to stop the officers.

Other patrolmen reported less violent incidents of disgruntling public respect for the Police Department.

But department officials said that "we're getting some good phone calls, too, from the better element."

Meanwhile, the department investigation continues with the possibility that more officers may be arrested.

Nationalist Fever Strikes Belgian Congo

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Editor

Stanleyville, a Belgian Congo city named after an explorer who helped open Africa to the white man, lately witnessed a bloody demonstration by African nationalists determined to drive the white man out.

It was another example to the rear guard action being fought by the former colonial powers of Europe to maintain a semblance of their former position on one of the world's last great frontiers.

The largest foreign holdings in Africa are those of Great Britain, France and Belgium.

Great Britain most recently granted independence to Ghana but retained it as a member of the Commonwealth.

France granted total independence to Guinea but is attempting to maintain a French "community" modeled after the commonwealth.

But whether community or commonwealth, the move in each case was dictated by a growing demand that Africa be governed by Africans.

Abetted by the Communists, it still was a part of a world-wide growth of nationalism after World War II.

Last January, the fever struck the Belgian Congo, for years regarded as a model of colonial to hold other of its former colonial administration. Seventy-six persons, both black and white, were killed in the January uprising in Leopoldville, the colonial capital.

In succeeding months, others died in Luliyaborg and in Matadi.

Ironically, the Belgians already had promised independence to the Belgian Congo and the machinery was in motion to hold the first elections early in 1960, with complete independence set for 1964.

It was in 1877 that the Englishman, Henry Morton Stanley, pushed his way up the Congo River and established an outpost which later came to be Stanleyville.

Stanley's exploits are legendary now, as explorer, adventurer and one of the great newspaper reporters of his time.

He fought in the American Civil War on the Confederate side and was captured in the battle of Shiloh.

But it was in 1871 that occurred the exploit for which he is most popularly known. Under contract to James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald he travelled to Africa and found Dr. David Livingstone and, according to legend, introduced himself with the inquiry:

"Dr. Livingstone, I presume?"

It was under orders from King Leopold II of Belgium that he undertook the explorations that led to establishment of the Congo Free State, later the Belgian Congo, an area covering nearly a million square miles and rich in uranium and diamonds.

In its early days, Stanleyville had to fight off Arab slave traders. Today it is the scene of new violence — the violent upward surge of a people determined to rule themselves, ready or not.

Textile Methods To Be Studied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department today prepared announcement of a new $85,000 loan into the U.S. textile industry.

Four private research firms will study the ailing industry in an attempt to find why it's not as healthy as other industries.

The department is ready to announce award of two contracts as part of the four-way survey of economic factors in the textile business.

Cost of the project recommended by a special Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. John O. Pastore (D-R.I.) is estimated at $80,000 to $85,000.

It will be the most comprehensive peek into the economics that make the textile industry tick. By the end of the month four research firms will be studying different phases of the industry.

Last June a $14,500 contract went to a Washington firm to study the work clothing industry.

Not officially announced yet is an $18,500 contract awarded last week to a private firm to probe the factors influencing fluctuations in the textile industry.

A third contract for investigation of costs of textiles here and abroad will be signed this week.

Indian Students Mob Red Embassy

NEW DELHI (UPI) — More than 3,000 Indian students mobbed the Communist Chinese Embassy today to protest Chinese raids across India's borders.

"Death to Chou En-lai!" the students shouted. The reference was to the Communist Chinese premier. Some of the students roughed up a Chinese-American newsmen they thought was a Communist.

Police rescued the journalist, who asked that he not be identified, and finally succeeded in keeping the crowd from getting further out of hand.

The police allowed a student leader to try to present a note of protest to Chinese Embassy officials, who refused to accept it. The students posted the note on the embassy gates. It read:

"We are fully prepared to face the challenge of your hostile country. We are pledged to resist the further advance of your forces and also to eject your troops from (the border area of) areas into which you have intruded."

Miss Sutton Crowned Queen

CANADIAN (Sp) — Miss Carolyn Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sutton, was crowned queen of the all school carnival recently. She was escorted by Chad Clay.

Other candidates for the title and holding places of honor in the Queen's "court" were Jo Brown escorted by Jerry Henderson; Jane Etheredge escorted by Johnny Glenn; and Judy Jackson escorted by Philip Price. All candidates were from the senior class.

Queen's attendants were nominated by the other high school classes. The junior class was represented by Frankie Smith. She was escorted by Billy Meek. The other candidate from the junior class was Nadyne Streeter escorted by Tommy Lemons.

The sophomore class was represented by Becky Etheredge with Terry Brown as her escort. Marcia Crowell was the other candidate with Frankie Muir as her escort.

Joe Ann Cook represented the freshman class and was escorted by Robert Lewis. Annette Arnold was the other candidate from the freshman class, escorted by James Clark.

Each person attending the Carnival, which was held in the City Auditorium, was entitled to one ballot in the election.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES "The Problems Of Banks: To Be Profitable And Liquid" No. 3

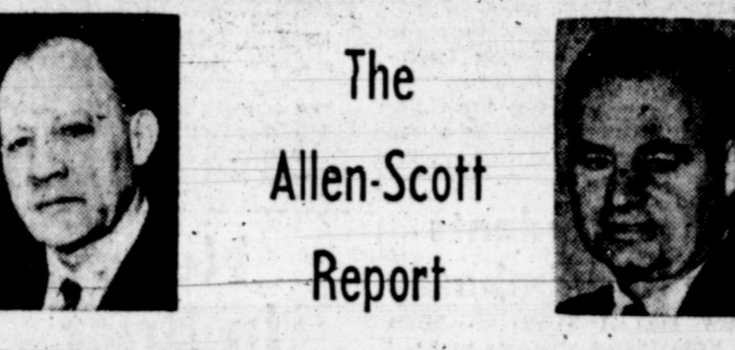

In the last issue I was quoting Frederick Nymeyer's essay in "First Principles in Morality And Economics" on the problems bankers face. He had explained that in normal times bankers find that only about two-fifths of the money deposited is ever withdrawn at one time.

"It should, of course, be kept in mind that people can become frightened. The first thing they then do is they try to protect themselves by getting or holding tightly to emergency funds, that is, by having more cash. If a terrifically frightening event occurs, your depositors might make an unprecedented withdrawal. They might reduce their deposits to nothing, or rather try to do so. They could not, under the circumstances assumed, do that. The cash would not be there, because you have loaned out $300,000 of their money. When they begin to draw out and continue to draw out cash, you will be sitting anxiously in your bank office hoping that the special withdrawal will end. But there are still depositors who want $200,000 more. What can you do? You could go out on your bank floor and talk to each of them like this: 'Mr. Smith, I have... loaned out $300,000 of the depositors' money to borrowers who needed money. They will pay me back soon, at varying dates, depending on when their notes are due. Would you please wait another 60 days or half-year? But Smith and the other depositors may be frightened. They may say: 'Mr. Banker, we understand we could always get our money when we wanted it. If we had not expected that, we never would have put our money in your bank. We must have our money, right now.' If the borrowers, whose notes come due from time to time, pay their notes on time, you will be able finally to pay out your depositors."

"At the moment that you are unable to pay you are at least nonliquid, and if many of your borrowers do not pay you, your bank may be insolvent. To make the distinctions between being nonliquid, insolvent and bankrupt will be helpful in explaining the problem. To be nonliquid, and nothing worse than that, means that what you own is worth more than what you owe, but nevertheless you are unable to pay because your debts come due sooner than you can convert your assets into cash with which to pay your debts. To be nonliquid is always distressing to honorable people, and very frequently brings on bankruptcy. The reason is that alarmed creditors do not wish to wait for an orderly and maybe slow conversion of your assets into cash. Because they need the money, or because they are alarmed, they may insist on so fast a sale of your assets that the prices you get for them are less than their real worth. At first, you may have been merely nonliquid, but you may end being insolvent and bankrupt. To be nonliquid is always to be suspect, and consequently a nonliquid condition is very dangerous. To be insolvent means that your debts really exceed your assets; you have no net assets. Nevertheless, it can happen that you will not, although insolvent, go through bankruptcy. Your creditors may give you time, and by hard work and thrift you may be able to accumulate an amount equal to as much as your debts exceeded your assets, and so pay off the debts. To be bankrupt means more than that you are insolvent; you may see no hope to pay your creditors fully, and they may insist that you go through bankruptcy proceedings and-or they demand it; your creditors are then all paid proportionately, but not the full amount (unless they are secured creditors in which case they get more); and you are then declared free of obligation to pay the remainder. Your name has, however, been on it. You have been a bankrupt. A bank, to do well, must retain the reputation of being liquid, as well as being solvent. The mere fact that your bank might not be able to pay one depositor his money, on demand, will be disastrous for your bank. That depositor will surely talk about it. For a bank to retain its reputation, it is as necessary to be 'liquid,' as it is for a woman to be virtuous. The breath of suspicion is ruinous. Depositors who do not need the money and had not intended to take it out will at once demand their money if they come to have doubts. There will be a 'run' on your bank. To restrain banks from following policies which will result in their being nonliquid, laws have been passed prohibiting commercial banks from making certain kinds of loans, that is, loans not due for repayment until a long time in the future. Obviously, the longer the time the loans made by a bank are not due to be repaid, the less liquid that bank is. Bankers, too, pay attention to

The Allen-Scott Report

ROBERT S. ALLEN CHARLES COOLIDGE, Boston attorney, is chairman of the unpublicized group of disarmament planners. For some unexplained reason, the names of the other 18 members have not been announced. Inquiry regarding them disclosed they are deemed "private."

U.S. PLANES APPROACHING SMIRNOVSKY WASHINGTON — U.S. planes are in danger of being shot down if they "approach Russian borders or come within range of its air defenses."

SOCIAL WHIRL — It's a little early, but Mrs. Wiley Buchanan, wife of the State Department's Chief of Protocol, has a stunning gift. It's a "rapturous" diamond necklace to commemorate their 20th anniversary — next April. Her husband gave it to her now and she is delightedly wearing it because, explains Mrs. Buchanan, "Wiley doesn't see why I shouldn't have it and wear it during this winter's social season."

Albert was taking part in a local concert. He was only 7 years old, but he had so much fun that he was overjoyed. "Father (proudly when his son returned home) — Well, Albert, and how did you get on?" "Oh, I thought I did all right, but they made me do it again."

Common Tongue Myth Is Rot

LONDON — One of the most oft-repeated misstatements I know of is that one about how England and America share a common tongue and how it forms an unbreakable bond between the two countries. In my small way I have done my best to correct this untruth. When a reader who is planning a trip to Europe writes to ask me if he can expect much trouble because of the language barrier, I always answer: "Only in England. You'll run into trouble there, and would be wise to carry along an English-American Self-Protecting Dictionary."

Rockefeller Should Make Play Soon

WASHINGTON WINDOW
By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The first week of November is an appropriate time to ponder what might have been—in the case of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

What might have been is this: Rockefeller might have been retired as a candidate for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination even before acknowledging publicly that he would seek the nomination.

There assembled last August in San Juan, Puerto Rico, a governor's conference attended by Rockefeller. On Aug. 3 came a story from San Juan stating that Rockefeller had decided to make this November a decision whether to contest Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination. Rockefeller would be guided in his decision, the story said, by the outcome of public opinion polls.

One reporter wrote: "If the polls (by November) show that Rockefeller appears stronger than Nixon, the New Yorker will seek the backing of the party's leading professional politicians."

Rockefeller's hopes clearly hinge on a conviction that the vice president cannot win the support of independents and (restless) Democrats in sufficient numbers to insure a White House victory.

This report obviously was authentic in that it must have come from Rockefeller himself or one of his close associates. For two weeks it remained unchallenged. During this period, it became apparent that Rockefeller probably had painted himself into a bad corner. The polls trend was more favorable than otherwise to Nixon. If that trend continued, Rockefeller would have been found by his own yardstick not to measure up.

This situation created by the news story from San Juan must have caused much anguish among the governor's aides and associates in Albany. These dedicated men and women reasonably can expect new horizons and a bigger and better life if their favorite is elected president in 1960. That is the way it was with the dedicated men and women who accompanied Franklin D. Roosevelt to Washington in 1932.

Harry Hopkins, for example,

Congressman Dies In Crash

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rep. Charles A. Boyle (D-Ill.) was killed today when his car crashed into an upright of an elevated train abutment. He was 52.

Police theorized the third-term congressman from Chicago's north side either fell asleep at the wheel or was cut off by another car.

Boyle, a native of Spring Lake, Mich., was first elected to Congress from the 12th district in 1954 and was returned in 1956 and 1958.

Noted for a large family, Boyle was named Chicagoland father of the year in 1952-53. He was eight children.

Police said Boyle was alone in the car. His family lives in Washington.

Actors Arrested For Tippy Driving

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actors John Agar, 38, and Charles Chaplin Jr., 34, face court appearances next week to enter pleas in their separate drunk driving arrests.

Chaplin, son of the famed comedian, was released on $25 bond Tuesday after spending the night in jail and ordered to appear in court Monday. He was arrested Monday night driving his car in the wrong direction on a one-way street.

Agar, former husband of Shirley Temple, was released Tuesday on $263 bail following his arrest Monday night. Police officers accused him of driving a weaving course through traffic. He was ordered to appear in court Tuesday.

Crop Stubble Is Valuable During The Windy Season

By BILL AUTRY
Agriculture Engineer

This is about the time of year for farmers in the Gray county area to be thinking of how to handle their crop stubble for the windy seasons to come. We have good stubble this year, why not let it work for our soil and its productivity. Leaving stubble on the surface of the soil provides cover to protect from wind and water erosion; to catch and hold snow; to reduce the rate of decline of soil organic matter. Protection of our soil from eroding should be reason enough to encourage leaving crop stubble on the soil.

We here, in the Panhandle of Texas, are proud of our soil and like to talk of its productivity. When we see the dust blowing no one wants to admit that some of it may be coming from our farm. No one wants to see gullies, or rills, in his field, or muddy water running down the road ditches. We know that the best way to farm our land where it is, is by the proper management of our stubble and, where needed, other conservation practices such as terracing proper crop rotations, and grass plantings.

We are short enough on soil moisture as it is and should try to save all we can. When we have a snow it is usually a blowing snow of low moisture content so why not catch and hold as much as possible. Leaving crop stubble on the surface of the soil will surely be a great help.

We all know that we have rich soils, relatively high in organic matter as compared with soils of other parts of the country. Organic materials though have a high susceptibility for blowing. As a result the top few inches of our soils are much lower than they should be. Leaving crop residues on the surface of the soil to decay and go back to the soil, will help build our organic matter as well as help prevent its blowing away.

You may wonder what types of implements are best to use. A large sweep type plow, or a rod weeder, and blade type implement are very good. The object is to leave as much stubble as possible. One way plows are sometimes effectively used if you have a lot of stubble and do only one or two operations. Chisels are very good and are probably the most commonly used. In the event of a dry year, or other reasons of a crop failure, the best protection is to do some type of tillage operation to bring about surface roughness, or a clod-

Cuba Charges Former AF Chief

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba is drawing up formal charges against former revolutionary air force commander Maj. Pedro Diaz Lanz that he incited a rebellion, it was disclosed today.

Conviction would be punishable by death before the firing squad.

But public attention still centered on the thus far fruitless search for army commander Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, missing since last Wednesday on a flight from Camaguey to Havana. The hunt continued in spite of wanting hope that the bearded hero of the revolution would be found alive.

Premier Fidel Castro was in personal command of the search for his comrade-in-arms. Haggard and looking depressed, he pledged "not to let down in our efforts to find my dear friend Camilo" as he took off for Camaguey Monday.

Already most of Cuba's 45,000 square miles and the nearby waters including the Bahama Islands have been checked and double-checked by civilian and military planes. U. S. planes and British air and naval units also have participated but to no avail thus far.

Texans have saved up to $125 financing and insuring their cars.

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 4, the 308th day of the year, with 57 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

On this date in history:
In 1842, Abraham Lincoln married Mary Todd at Springfield, Ill. One of the guests said Lincoln looked as "pale and trembling as being led to slaughter."
In 1879, humorist Will Rogers was born.
In 1918, Austria-Hungary accepted truce terms dictated by the Allies.
In 1931, the League of Nations cited Japan for willful aggression in Manchuria.
In 1952, the United States elected its first Republican president in 20 years — Dwight D. Eisenhower.
In 1956, Anglo-French forces invaded Suez.
Also in 1956, Russian tanks blasted Budapest in an all-out attack to crush Hungarian resistance.

A thought for today: American author Ernest Hemingway said: "The world is a fine place and worth fighting for."

OPPOSES METER MAIDS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Police and Fire Commissioner L. B. Sullivan received an unsigned plea Monday that he abandon plans to hire women as meter maids.

"We are harassed and nagged enough at home without having women cops harass and nag us in the downtown area," said the postcard. It was signed "A Friend."

INSPECTING BASES

TOKYO (UPI) — U. S. Pacific Army Commander Gen. I. D. White arrived here Tuesday for a tour of military installations in the Far East. He will visit Korea, Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong, and Guam.

Port Arthur Annexes Area

PORT ARTHUR (UPI) — The city of Port Arthur is twice as large and 18 million dollars richer today.

The Port Arthur City Commission, in a special session late Monday, voted to annex a 19 1/2 square mile area, including the gas-rich Port Acres area.

City boundaries were enlarged to encompass 6,000 new residents and property worth 18 million dollars. Area-wise, the city will be twice as large as it formerly was.

Fifty-seven producing gas wells in the Port Acres area will add nearly $450,000 to the city's annual tax revenue. Each well will bring in about $7,200 a year.

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — The 524-foot Gulf Brand, a 10-958-ton Gulf Oil Corp. tanker, was floated free Tuesday from the Mobile Bay channel.

It had run aground about 15 miles south of here as it was heading to sea, but the Coast Guard said no damage was reported.

Emcee Ignorant Of Fix Facts

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — Hal March, quizmaster on the defunct $64,000 Question, denied any knowledge of the program being "rigged." He said charges to that effect were "a surprise to me."

March said Monday that the producers of his show were "men of great integrity."

His comments were prompted by statements from the Rev. Charles Jackson of Tullahoma, Tenn., who told a congressional investigating committee that both the "$64,000 Question" and the "$64,000 Challenge" were rigged. Jackson was a contestant on both shows.

"I was never involved in the production of the show," March said, "but I don't think it was rigged." He said that he might be called on soon to appear before the investigators.
