LeVeve Intensifies Efforts To Shape Up Budget

Bardot, Army Joust For Hubby's Company

PARIS (UPI) — Parliament decided today whether army felt strong enough to oust Brigitte Bardot for the sake of the company of her young husband.

The army wouldn't say yes and wouldn't say no.

The question exploded in all circles, a National Assembly debate on President Charles de Gaulle's plea for a nuclear military force.

It climaxed a national tumult over whether BB's husband, actor

Jacques Charrier, was pretending illness to avoid army duty. Two days after he was drafted he was in the hospital with a "case of nerves" but three days after that was back in Brigitte's arms in Paris.

And two days after that he was back in the hospital with those old devil nerves.

The war of Charrier's nerves struck army Minister Pierre Guillaumet while he was urging fellow lawmakers to allocate money for atomic bombs, jets, and ballistic missiles.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower today intensified his efforts to whip the big federal budget for the next fiscal year into final shape before he departs for Europe Dec. 3.

Eisenhower scheduled an early morning meeting with Budget Director Maurice H. Stans who flew in from Washington late Wednesday night with an accumulation of non-military budget items for the Chief Executive's final approval.

The President obviously is having to spend more time resolving intra-service differences over the big military budget than in years past. He has set up another big defense budget conference here Saturday when the three service secretaries, Deputy Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates and Dr. Hebert York, director of research and engineering in the Defense Department, will fly here for a meeting.

The President has held earlier conferences on the military budget at the Augusta National Golf Club, beginning with Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and an array of Pentagon officials last Monday.

Wednesday the Joint Chiefs of Staff spent two and a half hours with the President in his small office overlooking the golf course.

Apparently the military budget for fiscal 1961, which begins next July 1, has been settled as far as an overall total is concerned—between 41 and 42 billion dollars. The individual services are fighting up until the last minute, however, to prevent the economy ax from biting too deeply into their own programs.

Pilgrimage For Pampans Set Dec. 20

Mert Cooper, a representative of the Pampa Key Club, explained plans for the Dec. 20 "Pampa Pilgrimage" at the meeting this morning of the Breakfast Optimist Club.

Cooper said that the two ideas behind the pilgrimage are to fill the churches of Pampa, and to make the people aware of their heritage of freedom, under God.

He explained that on Sunday, Dec. 20, at a given signal, Pampans will begin walking or driving to four "gathering points" from which they will go to their separate churches.

A Pampa radio station will broadcast the singing of hymns, from one church, to begin the services. The broadcast will come into each participating church, and each congregation will join in the singing. A prayer will close the cooperative part of the program, and then each church will conduct its own service.

"This is something that's never been tried before," said Cooper. "We hope that it will help put Christ back in Christmas. Too often, we've been celebrating Christ's birthday without recognizing the guest of honor."

Cooper said that the Key Club originated the pilgrimage idea, and that the Pampa Ministerial Alliance endorsed it wholeheartedly. The idea is now being brought before the local civic clubs and the general public.

Cranberry Edict Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government was expected to announce today a compromise plan to restore large quantities of "pure and wholesome" cranberries to grocery shelves. But they might not be certified in time for Thanksgiving.

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, who set off the cranberry scare, was to unveil the plan at a news conference after industry representatives and government officials worked out final details.

Flemming said in advance that the plan would cover both the 1958 and 1959 crops. He declined to give any details of how untreated berries would be separated from those contaminated with a chemical weed killer that causes cancer in rats.

LONGVIEW (UPI) — Two hoodlums threatened to kill a jailer and broke out of the Gregg county jail Wednesday night, but one left behind his girl friend who was charged with smuggling him a gun only last week.

It was learned that the two men — J. A. Avery Jr., 29, of Fort Worth, and Scotty Logsdon, 25, of Odessa — spent the night in a motel at Tyler only 40 miles away.

They left some purses and watches in the motel room that they had taken from the jail's property room, which they ransacked before leaving.

They checked into the motel about 10 p.m. Wednesday and told the desk clerk to call them at 6 a.m. today. But when the clerk called them at that time, they had already gone.

The pair stole an automobile in Longview from a parking lot across the street from the jail, and were believed to have abandoned it in Tyler and stolen another car.

Gregg County Sheriff Noble Crawford said Avery is a notorious criminal with a long record. He has twice been in prison.

Both Avery and Logsdon were in the Longview jail on burglary charges in connection with two burglaries at Kilgore.

Avery escaped from the Tarrant county jail at Fort Worth on Sept. 21 after pulling a butcher knife on a maintenance man. He was working as a trusty in the kitchen at the time and was described as a "model prisoner."

The short, squat fugitive was captured in Longview on Oct. 28 along with his 18-year-old girl friend, Cynthia Martin, also known as Cynthia Pack.

Cynthia was released, but later rearrested and charged with smuggling a gun to Avery. Guards found the gun strapped to Avery's leg.

Runaways Suspected Of Car Thefts

Two runaway Hoisington, Kan., youths, believed to have abandoned an overturned car near Pampa early Wednesday morning, are now suspected of a burglary and car theft in Pampa that a same morning, law officers reported today.

The boys, both 16, left a trail of stolen cars in Kansas and Oklahoma earlier this week. The 1958 Chevrolet abandoned six miles northeast of Pampa held articles stolen Tuesday in a burglary in Oklahoma. The car itself was stolen Wednesday at Waynoka, Okla.

A 1959 Oldsmobile car taken here Wednesday morning was found abandoned Thursday afternoon in Dalhart. Police Chief Jim Conner said he thinks the same boys also broke into the Brown Derby Cafe, 117 W. Foster, prior to taking the car from the Pampa Motel parking lot.

The car overturned near the Junction of U.S. 60 and State Highway 152 held a shotgun case, a 12 foot length of cotton rope and shotgun shells.

Daniel May Try For Third Term

'ROAD HOG' — A few Pampa motorists may have been startled Wednesday by the sight of the old Pampa High School shop building "hogging the road" on Decatur, Hobart and Ward streets. A few wires had to be moved and some traffic was halted, but the giant corrugated metal building was moved safely from the high school campus to the bus barns at Wall and Purviance. The building is seen above "coming through" on Ward St. from Kingsmill to Foster. (Daily News Photo)

Ex GM Chief Accidentally Kills Friend While Hunting

By DON MYERS
United Press International

FLINT, Mich. (UPI) — Former General Motors President Harlow H. Curtis, an iron-willed industrial titan, died today of a heart attack while hunting with a friend who was shot by Curtis' gun.

Former GM Vice President Harry W. Anderson was struck by the charge from Curtis' gun Wednesday when he stood up in a duck blind and stumbled just as Curtis pulled the trigger.

The blast tore away the upper right portion of Anderson's head. He lost consciousness immediately and died about an hour later while Curtis and other hunting companions carried him toward help on the Canadian mainland.

Curtis, Anderson, George Kennedy and Arthur Brown, a Detroit manufacturer's representative, had been hunting together at an exclusive 7,000-acre preserve owned by Kennedy's Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. of Detroit, on St. Anne Island. The island is at the junction of the St. Clair River and Lake St. Clair which form the international boundary between Michigan and Ontario.

It took the party about an hour to get from the duck blind to the hunting lodge by truck and boat, a distance of about four miles. When they arrived on the Canadian mainland with Anderson's body, Curtis talked to Canadian provincial police for about an hour and then rushed to the American side of the international waters—and drove to Anderson's home at Ann Arbor, Mich., about 90 miles away.

"I am deeply grieved," Curtis said on arriving at the Anderson home to console the widow of his friend, "Harry Anderson was my very dear friend for many years."

He then went inside and talked privately with Mrs. Anderson for about 20 minutes before he left for his own home at Flint, another 50-mile trip. At home, friends shielded him from reporters but promised he would meet with them today.

Curtis and his companions have hunted ducks on the opening day of the Ontario season at the same preserve every year for eight years. They were just about to quit for the day when the accident occurred.

Ford Discontinues Making Two-Year-Old Edsel Car

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. announced today it is discontinuing production of its Edsel line of cars which were introduced only two years ago.

The company said retail sales of the Edsel line have been "particularly disappointing and considerably below sales in the periods following 1958 and 1959 model introductions."

A Ford spokesman said he did not know exactly when production would halt, but that it would be "as soon as possible."

Ford said demand for its other lines of cars was up since introduction of the 1960 models, and that "in view of this high consumer preference for other lines and the severe decline in the demand for Edsel cars, the continued production of the Edsel is not justified."

The Edsel line, named for the late Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford I and father of the current company president, Henry Ford II, was first manufactured in July 1957, for the 1958 model year.

Ford spent more than 250 million dollars to launch the Edsel into the so-called medium price field. In the last six months of 1957 a total of 50,393 Edsels were sold, but it has been downhill ever since.

Sales for 1958 were 28,953 and through Oct. 31 this year sales totaled 30,120.

Pampa Men Burned In Truck Fire

Two Pampa men suffered second degree burns Wednesday when an Allen Service Co. hot oil truck caught fire at the Pond lease near Barger.

Brought to Highland General Hospital by ambulance were Jesse Connor, 31, living at 705 Doucette, and Elzie Lee Teague, 22, also of Pampa.

Doctors said Connor suffered second degree burns about his face, ears, neck and wrists. Teague, treated and released, had burns on his face and wrists.

Barger fireman said flames broke out near the rear of the truck where Connor and Teague were both working. The fire became both working. The fire began about 3 p.m.

Connor suffered burns in a similar accident two years ago near Skellytown.

Not Launching Earth Satellites

Red Space Effort Lagging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top Defense Department scientist said today that Russia's military space program is likely to be much smaller than America's.

G. P. Sutton, chief scientist of the Advanced Research Projects Agency, said the Soviet military space effort might be "only a very minor one."

He said he based his opinion on the fact that Russia has not launched any earth satellites since May 1958, and on the assumption that the Soviet Union has little need for communications or peeping-in military satellites.

Sutton told the American Rocket Society's 14th annual convention that Russia is concentrating "on scientific exploration and the psychological-political effects that accompany new space achievements."

Rep. Emilio Q. Daddario (D-Conn.) who spoke to the meeting earlier, proposed international registration of all satellites to prevent possible triggering of "a monstrous war."

Sutton said the military part of the U. S. space effort would "remain relatively small" compared with development of earth-bound offensive and defensive weapons.

He said that space technology takes only about a half billion dollars of the 41 billion dollar military budget.

He said Russia and its allies are close together and can use wire and radio communications rather than satellites. He said the Soviets do not need spy satellites because they already know about the free world's military facilities.

Daddario, in proposing registration of satellites, said that it is imperative "that we find a form of world law to avert catastrophe."

"If we fail to achieve law and order as we venture into these uncharted fields," he said, "the cost will be immeasurable."

Others have expressed concern lest the launching of a peaceful scientific space vehicle be misinterpreted by another nation as the beginning of a missile attack.

Indication At Meeting Of Partyites

SAN ANGELO (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel today laid down a 12-point platform of "unfinished business" for his administration in a virtual declaration that he will run for a third term.

Daniel, addressing a luncheon meeting of Democratic leaders of the 25th senatorial district, also gave his strongest indication to date that he will call another special session of the legislature.

He expressed hope that at next September's governor's convention "Texas Democrats will build and adopt a platform which will complete the unfinished business of this administration and continue the fight for progress, good government, and fair taxes in this state."

Daniel said all candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, and the Legislature should declare themselves on the 12 issues "during the next few months."

"We may be able to accomplish some of them at a special session of the present Legislature is being, but many of these programs are continuing fights which involve biennial appropriations, and that is why the Democratic party of Texas and its standard-bearers should dedicate themselves to these causes," he said.

The governor told some 500 West Texas Democrats that "Texas will have one of its biggest political years in modern history in 1960, and I hope the State Democratic Executive Committee and all party officials will be right in the middle of it."

Today's meeting was sponsored by Dorothy Griffin and Hal Woodward, members of the state Democratic executive committee.

Daniel said the work of the first state convention in 1960, to be held next May in preparation for the Democratic national convention, "is already cut out."

"Here we will have an opportunity to place our solid support behind our own Texas, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, for the Democratic nomination for president," he said.

Daniel outlined several items of "unfinished business" for his administration including:

"Further improvements in our public schools and colleges; including increasing teachers' salaries; Texas now ranks 31st in the nation in the average salaries of teachers."

"Better law enforcement, including enactment of the 24 recommendations of the law enforcement commission which failed to pass in the last legislature. More personnel and better salaries for police officers."

TV Producer To See Wheat, Cattle Ranches

Christopher Burstall, London television producer taking his first look at the Texas Panhandle will tour Pampa area wheat and cattle ranches today in the company of County Agent Ralph Thomas.

The Londoner's schedule Wednesday brought him to the Celanese Chemical Corp. plant, radio station KPDN for a tour of facilities, and to three dinner appointments with leading Pampa citizens.

Today's agenda is no lighter. At 9 a.m. he met Thomas and toured the Ed Vincent cattle ranch south of Lefors. At noon he was a guest of the Lion's Club, and at 2 p.m. he was scheduled to tour the John Johnson wheat and cattle ranch west of Pampa.

At 4 p.m., accompanied by Thomas and assistant agent, Cecil Reiger, Burstall will travel to the Joe Wheeler farm west of Pampa to inspect 4-H calves.

Burstall, on a five-week tour of America gathering material for a prospective television documentary, said he chose Pampa to "get off the beaten track." He is scheduled to leave Saturday for New Orleans.

ROBERT LE FEVE
... Libertarian

Writer Speaks On Coercion of Rotarians

The chief editorial writer for Freedom Newspapers group, Robert LeVeve of Colorado Springs, Colo., was speaker at the Pampa Rotary Club Wednesday on LeVeve's subject at the meeting was "How Much Coercion?"

Dealing with the libertarian concept of human relations and market-place philosophy of business and governmental relations.

"A society in which coercion is limited to its smallest possible use," LeVeve prefaced his talk. "Nature may tell us that each of us must control our own energy; but by politics, we can obtain a monopoly wherein certain persons obtain political control over the energies of others."

The speaker brought out, "And the first of the affair is that after a lapse of time, we begin to consider that which has been political-sacred with that which is really correct."

"In the end we confuse the two totally that we cannot tell them apart. And by then we are convinced that the only way in which operation can be obtained in a society is by reliance upon moribund decisions backed by the coercion of a majority," said LeVeve.

LeVeve warned that the process of using coercion—forcing a decision upon a person against his will—to compel everyone to abide by the rules set forth by the majority is the socialist process.

The speaker, who has been described as an "unreconstructed individual" and an "individualist," made his point concerning rights of man by creating a hypothetical situation of a society of three men, Mr. A, Mr. B and Mr. C.

"Mr. A and Mr. B meet one day for lunch," LeVeve began. "Mr. A suggests to Mr. B that a society requires a hospitalization plan. And to provide for an emergency relief, a fund of 10 per month should be collected from all members of society (the three men) to be used in the event of an emergency."

"B is enthusiastic about the proposal. Naturally, so is A, since he thought of it. Together the two make the proposal to C and make a suggestion to him."

"But C is sort of an unconnected, non-organization man, and he doesn't want any part of it," LeVeve said.

"What happens is that after his usual to participate in the plan," (See WRITER, Page 4)

SMART — "Pert," the turkey, was smart enough to escape the fate of millions of his cousins last Thanksgiving. Mrs. W. B. Elam, Sr., of Houston, Tex., bought "Pert" about a year ago and planned to have him for the traditional main dish, but it didn't work out. He soon became a pet, and now when "Pert" gets hungry he comes to the back door and pulls a rope to ring a bell. Mrs. Elam says, "He's so cute we'll never eat him now."

Boys Ranch Boss To Speak Tonight To Methodist Men

Cal Farley, frequently described as "the greatest boys' man in America" will address the Methodist Men's dinner Wednesday in the basement of the First Methodist Church at 7 p.m.

Farley, businessman, athlete and philanthropist who 20 years ago founded the first Boys Ranch in America at the site of the ghost town, Tascosa, 40 miles from Amarillo, is nationally recognized by such figures as J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, who states that Farley "is devoting his life to rescuing boys from the back alleys which lead to crime and starting them along the road to stable citizenship."

Secret of Farley's success in handling "the boy who doesn't like you," is that his program at the ranch is built around 50 per cent of good boys who have no home, and 50 per cent of boys who have run afoul of the law. By surrounding the boys from the back alleys which lead to crime and starting them along the road to stable citizenship.

TB BOND SALE — Jessie E. McKinney, chairman of tuberculosis bond sales in Gray County, made the season's first bond sale Wednesday to Mayor Ed Myatt. Five-dollar donation bonds are now being mailed to businesses in Pampa in conjunction with the sale of Christmas seals. Proceeds will be used to eradicate tuberculosis, Mrs. McKinney said, and will help carry on a program of education to prevent the disease. (Daily News Photo)

Cienfuegos Said Sighted

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Coffee bistros in Ybor City, Tampa's Latin Quarter with a Havana touch, buzzed with reports today that missing Cuban army chief Camilo Cienfuegos was spotted here Wednesday.

"Cuba is in national mourning for the army major who was presumed missing on a flight from southern Cuba to Havana.

An American of Cuban descent, a recognized historian of Cuban affairs, reported that he had talked here with Cienfuegos. He quoted the Cuban as saying he defected after a "bitter" argument with Raul Castro, brother of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, over Communists in the Castro regime.

Cienfuegos was reported Wednesday to be at the home of Dr. Jose R. Suarez, Mrs. Suarez, answering a telephone call from a newsman, refused to confirm or deny that Cienfuegos was there.

Beer Baron On Threshold Of Freedom

Except for a brief period when he went "over the wall" from prison, and for brief appearances in court, Touhy has been behind bars ever since.

He's still soft-spoken. He still can wear the same size clothes that he wore when he came here. He still doesn't swear.

But the years have marked this graying man, and as we sat in the almost church-like stillness of an assistant warden's office, looking out at the bright November sunshine, Touhy told me why.

"Five years in here," he said, "they're like a hundred outside. When I walk out of here, I walk out to liberty. When I get out, I want to crusade for what you might call a writ of innocence. There are at least 35 men in this prison who are behind bars because someone wants them there, not because they're guilty. I'm going to write to every congressman and senator that my money will permit to try to get a federal statute to give a prisoner the right of scientific methods to prove his innocence."

Then we began to recall the prohibition era career of Touhy. The kidnaping of John (Jake The Barber) Factor, a crime which Touhy still denies.

He reached into the frayed pocket of his blue and white striped prison uniform shirt, drew and lighted a cigarette.

"I'm going to disappear," said Touhy. "I have to go back to Cook County because the parole board said so, but as soon as I can go somewhere else, I'm going there and hide."

"I'm not going to look for my old friends. They're mostly all dead."

But remember when the county (Cook) was mine and the city was (Al) Capone's?

"They keep saying I was an enemy of Capone. I never was. Bob, I had the county and he had the city. Why, I'd go to Florida and get on his yacht. I'd go to the Midnight Frolics on 22nd St. and go in there while Al was there."

The Midnight Frolics is gone now. It was a wild life sort of cabaret; and got the front part of its name from the hour that it opened each night. It was a Capone hangout.

"When you first knew me, Bob, in Judge Michael Feinberg's courtroom in Chicago awaiting the verdict that was to send him to prison."

Cars Damaged, But None Hurt In Wreck

Two cars were heavily damaged but no persons were injured Wednesday afternoon in a collision at the intersection of Williston and 17th streets.

Officer P. E. Bailey said the motorists were Rickey Gene Quarles, 16, of 1068 S. Dwight; and Jerry Ross King, 17, of 314 N. Cuyler. Damages to the cars, a 1957 DeSoto and a 1953 Chevrolet, totaled $850.

Police said King was cited for running a stop sign. Quarles' DeSoto had damages set at $500 to the left side and all four wheels.

All-Day RC Meet In Borger

An all-day Red Cross Association meeting is set for Nov. 24 (Tuesday) at Borger. It was announced today by Mrs. Libby Shotwell, RC executive secretary in Pampa. It is hoped at least 100 delegates from the Panhandle area will attend.

Mrs. Shotwell said the meeting will be held in the Borger Hotel ballroom beginning at 10 a.m. The morning speaker will be George Dvorak, ARC field director at the Amarillo AFB.

Afternoon speakers will be Bob Black, RC field representative, and Rubye Cochran, home service case worker in Potter county.

Luncheon tickets are selling for $1.65. Mrs. Shotwell said, and persons are advised to make their reservations early.

ROGER TOUHY . . . tells story

EDITOR'S NOTE: Roger Touhy, beer baron of Cook County in the days of Al Capone, has spent most of the past 25 years in prison for kidnaping and jailbreak. Now he is on the threshold of freedom, paroled from Stateville Prison by the governor and awaiting the formalities of his release. The following dispatch written by UPI's Chicago crime reporter, is based on a two-hour interview that took place at the penitentiary.

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN
United Press International

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI) — The last time that Roger Touhy and I sat at a table together was more than 25 years ago, the night we were

eident occurred.

Witnesses told the same story. Curttice himself related to Ontario Constable Owen Collins who questioned him about the accident.

"He said he had taken aim on the lead duck in a flight and pulled the trigger just as Anderson stumbled in front of his gun, Collins said.

The lodge operator said Anderson may have become "excited" at sight of the ducks overhead.

Collins said there appeared to be no doubt that it was an accident, but that there probably would be an inquest anyway. He said the matter had been turned over to Canadian Crown Atty. S. A. K. Logan and that the question of an inquest would be discussed today.

A neighbor of the Andersons, Dr. Albert C. Kerlikowske of the University of Michigan Hospital, broke the news to Anderson's widow.

He said "she sensed something wrong as soon as I walked in" and asked "Curley, is something wrong — has something happened to Harry?"

But he said she took the news well — "She is a sturdy woman, capable of standing on her own feet."

Anderson, whose body was sent to Ann Arbor where he lived since retirement in 1956, was GM vice president in charge of personnel. He would have been 68 on Christmas Day.

WRITER

Mr. C is told by A and B:

"Maybe you didn't hear us correctly. We've just had a vote on this hospitalization plan. Now, the society here is made up of three eligible voters. And two-thirds of them have just adopted this hospitalization plan. So it really doesn't matter at all what your feelings are. We voters have decided. And the majority rules. So give us ten bucks or we can legally beat it out of you!"

LeFevre thus made his point. Majority decisions are right only for the majority. The minority must have the right to live by its decisions, or it will be governed by a system of coercion.

"The number of persons involved never make something that is morally wrong in itself, morally correct," LeFevre emphasized.

He said we "should stop looking to Washington, D.C. as though it was the exclusive entering spot for the wedge of socialism" and recognize that socialist concepts are among us every day to a remarkable degree.

LeFevre's editorials appear in the 11 newspapers of the Freedom group, of which Pampa is one. He recently received the Freedom Foundation's award made annually to honor citizens for their outstanding efforts to improve public understanding and appreciation of the basic constitutional rights and freedoms inherent in the American way of life, through the things they write, do or say.

He is founder and president of the Freedom School in Colorado Springs, a non-profit educational institution. The school offers a 72-hour course in liberty and the American heritage of free enterprise and self government.

LeFevre's editorial writing and teaching culminate nearly 20 years of study, lecturing, news commentary, analysis and debate relating to the libertarian philosophy.

Before coming to Pampa, LeFevre's speaking tour had taken him to Clovis, N.M. and Odessa. He left this morning to conduct a three-day seminar in Mineral Wells.

Jail Sentences For Shoplifters

Two men, one from Des Moines, Iowa, were arrested in Pampa Wednesday afternoon on charges of shoplifting. Both were given jail sentences ranging from 10 to 30 days in county jail.

Charged were Leonard M. Wilson, 30, of Des Moines, and Roy Franklin Howard, 54, living at 421 S. Russell. Both entered pleas of guilty in county court this morning.

Wilson was charged with taking an electric can opener, valued at $24.95, from White Stores, 109 S. Cuyler. Howard, sentenced to 20 days in jail, admitted taking a 20-cent package of beans from Ideal No. 2.

Swedish Dessert Idea Offers Elegant Finale

From Sweden comes a dessert which is an elegant new version of the fruit and cheese favor. It features a brimming bowl of fruit soup, an array of cookies on a board and butter-rich coffee finger cookies.

The traditional Swedish Fruit Soup is fun to serve. The plumped dried fruits are simmered then chilled in a cinnamon clove-tanged raspberry syrup. Slices are added just before serving. A selection of cheese is a nice accompaniment. Offer generous wedges of calorie-controlled, pulque flavored Gouda, slices of creamy full-flavored Port Salut, or smoked Edam, and a touch of smoky pasteurized cheese.

Complete the soup and dessert with a choice of crackers, melba toast circles and almond-rich Swedish Coffee. Finish with a dessert to please everyone. It is perfect for a come-for-dessert party, for late evening service and the elegant finale to a company meal.

SWEDISH FRUIT SOUP
1 11-ounce package mixed dried fruits
1 cup dried apples (about 4 ounces)
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 quarts water
1/4 cup minute tapioca
1 3/4 inch piece stick cinnamon
6 whole cloves
1 lemon, thinly sliced
1 10-ounce bottle (1 1/2 cups) raspberry syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup blanched almonds, optional

Place dried fruits and water in large saucepan. Cover and simmer until fruits are tender, about 30 minutes. Add tapioca, cinnamon, cloves and lemon slices. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Add raspberry syrup and salt. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, add almonds, if desired. Yield: About 9 cups.

SWEDISH COFFEE FINGERS
1 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup whole blanched almonds, ground
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 egg white, slightly beaten
Cream butter or margarine and confectioner's sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in flour, salt and almond extract and mix well. Wrap in waxed paper and chill. Shape dough, a tablespoon at a time, into 3-inch long fingers. Mix together almonds and granulated sugar. Roll fingers in egg white then in nut-sugar mixture. Place on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done and lightly browned, 12 to 14 minutes. Yield: About 2 1/2 dozen fingers.

Spiced Cherry Preserves Follows Traditional Special Holiday Treat

The Thanksgiving table gets an added festive touch with an elegant creation called Spiced Cherry Preserves, made in the tradition of the Special Day, and it is an ideal companion for the Thanksgiving turkey.

The tart sweetness of tart red cherries makes them especially welcome as an accompaniment to the main course. Besides the traditional water pack cherries used in our Preserves recipe, many customers will want to try sweetened tart pitted cherries, thawed, may be substituted for canned cherries. Reduce sugar to 5-13 cups.

SPICED CHERRY PRESERVES
6 cups sugar
3 cans (1 pound each) red tart pitted cherries (water pack), drained
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon red food coloring
1 3-inch stick cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
1 6-ounce bottle liquid fruit pectin

Combine all ingredients except fruit pectin in a large kettle; mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a full rolling boil. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add liquid fruit pectin all at once. Stir well. Skim off foam. Cool for 5 minutes, skimming and stirring to distribute fruit. Ladle into sterilized jars or glasses. Cover at once with hot paraffin.

Pineapple Ring Cake
For all the Christmases past, and those to come, dishes made with eggnog hold a special nostalgia for the yuletide. Pineapple Eggnog Ring Cake, made with a baker's chiffon or sponge cake and dairy eggnog is perfect for the family get-together. For each cake, combine 1 cup of eggnog and 1/2 cup pineapple juice. Spoon eggnog mixture over cake, gradually so that liquid soaks in 1/2 cake. Chill thoroughly. Combine 1 cup of heavy cream, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Whip and serve over wedges of chilled cake.

Holiday Hawaiian Ham, Turkey Curry Are Festive, Fork-Tender Servings

Holiday buffet meals for family and guests require main dishes that are festive, yet the meat should be fork food or fork tender. That is one of the reasons homemakers often play to buy a turkey or ham considerably larger than needed for the family's Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner. Each of the two recipes given below makes 12 servings.

HAWAIIAN HAM
For soy sauce, combine 1/2 cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup vinegar, 1 tablespoon soy sauce. Cook and stir until thickened. Sauce may be made and almonds toasted the day before.
2 lbs. smoked ham, cubed
1/2 cup sliced onion
1 cup thin strips green pepper
1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks
2-3 cup toasted almonds
Mix in casserole—pour soy sauce over. Bake 1 1/2 hours at 350 degrees F. Serve over fluffy cooked rice.

TURKEY CURRY
1/2 cup margarine
3 cups fresh, sliced mushrooms

1/2 cup flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon white pepper
1 teaspoon celery salt
2 cups turkey stock
2 cups 12 percent cream
2 cups coconut milk
4 egg yolks
6 cups sliced, cooked turkey
1 1/2 teaspoons powdered ginger
3 tablespoons curry powder

Directions:
1. Sauté mushrooms in margarine for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add flour, salt, celery salt, white pepper, and blend well. Return to heat and cook a few minutes to brown the flour.

2. Gradually add the stock and the coconut milk and cook until the sauce is thickened. Add the cream to which have been added the beaten egg yolks. Cook for 2 minutes. Slice the turkey across the grain into thin strips. Add the turkey, curry powder, and the ginger, and heat thoroughly.
3. Serve with hot fluffy rice. Chutney, fresh shredded coconut, chopped peanuts, and candied ginger sticks may be served with the curry to add interest and Oriental atmosphere.

The harvest is in full swing and Thanksgiving is just around the corner. Any homemaker will tell that minutes count around this time of year.

But busy or not, many homemakers are still responsible for preparation of a Thanksgiving dinner. Extended hours of a holiday dinner can be a burden, but the discriminating homemaker knows how to plan a meal in the least amount of work.

Let's look first to the highlight of the meal... the meat cut. It would be more appropriate in a center-cut pork loin roast than in plentiful supply which allows the homemaker to cater to her budget.

This particular cut of pork is so easily prepared. Once in the oven, forget the meat until it is done. You'll no longer have to act as sentry in the kitchen.

Pork is roasted in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until well done or until the roast meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F. If not using a roast meat thermometer, allow 35 to 40 minutes per pound for roasting.

SPECIAL DAY
Being somewhat a special holiday cut, this center-cut pork loin has been dressed up with an orange glaze. The glaze is applied 20 to 30 minutes before the end of the cooking time. This gives the glaze time enough to set.

PORK LOIN ROAST
4 to 5-pound center-cut pork loin roast
Salt
Pepper
Have backbone removed from loin. Season. Place fat side up on rack in open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so bulb reaches center of thickest part. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 3 to 4 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F. Allow 35 to 40 minutes per pound for roasting.

ORANGE MARMALADE TOPPING
About 30 minutes before roast is done, remove it from the oven and pour off the drippings. Spread the top of the roast with 1/2 cup of orange marmalade. Return the roast to the 350 degree F. oven for 20 to 30 minutes until the glaze is set.

Turkey Special Meal In Itself

What to do with left over turkey cream it — use it in soup — make hash! They are all good ideas, but here is a left over recipe that with a little extra work, and a few added touches, achieves a gourmet status. Another advantage is that it is really a meal in itself. Add a green salad and a party dessert — and you will have a company luncheon.

TURKEY SPECIAL
5 oz. package precooked rice
6 oz. can sliced broiled mushrooms
1 can cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup light cream
2 cups diced cooked turkey or chicken
1 cup cooked peas
1 tablespoon grated onion
1/4 cup shredded sharp American cheese
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1-3 cup toasted julienne almonds
Cook rice according to package directions. Drain mushrooms, reserving broth for future use. Combine mushrooms, chicken soup, cream turkey, peas, onion, 1/2 cup cheese, and thyme — and blend lightly but thoroughly. Place cooked rice in bottom of 1 1/2 quart round baking dish, spread turkey mixture on top. Sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup shredded cheese and toasted almonds. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven, 30 minutes or until thoroughly hot and cheese is melted and lightly browned. Makes 4-6 servings.

If you are a top stove cook by preference, try Cream-of-Rice as a base for this Turkey Special. Just put a spoonful of hot cooked Cream-of-Rice on your serving plate — top it with the hot, creamed turkey mixture, the 1/4 cup cheese and the almonds. Garnish with paprika.

Christmas Wreaths
The more, the merrier, will be the Christmas fun at your openhouse. You will want plenty of holiday cookies with the punch or coffee, so here are Christmas Wreath Cookies. Made by the dozen, but no dither. Purchase packages of unfrosted ring shaped butter cookies. Wreath green tinted confectioner's sugar icing around each ring. With a toothpick, roughen edges of icing to simulate holly leaves. Press cinnamon redhots for the berries, into icing. (Can be made in advance.)

COOKERY GUIDES
Do you use a roast meat thermometer in your cooking? Cooking time has been generally used as a guide to the degree of doneness for roasts particularly. But laboratory research has shown that the meat thermometer is the most accurate guide to the degree of doneness for these same roasts. The internal temperature of meat, as shown by the thermometer, indicates the exact degree of doneness.

Pineapple Salad Goes Swedish

The glamour of far-away places comes to your home as pineapple goes Swedish.

SALAD A LA SWEDEN
DRESSING:
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
3 cup pineapple syrup (drained from No. 211 can, pineapple chunks)
1 egg, slightly beaten
hard cooked eggs
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery seed
1/4 teaspoon onion salt
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 to 1 cup sour cream
Mix sugar, cornstarch, stir in pineapple syrup. Cook, stirring till thickened. Stir hot mixture into egg; return to pan and stir over at 1 minute. Cool. Mash egg yolk, blend in remaining ingredients. Beat pineapple and sour cream mixtures together. Makes about 2 1/2 cups.

Just before serving toss the following with dressing: Salad greens, washed, dried and coarsely broken. Unpeeled cucumbers in thin sticks, Pineapple chunks (optional), green pepper strips (optional), onion with sliced egg white and olive.

Working Homemaker Wastes Little Time With Potato Burger Pie

For the nation's army of working homemakers, such convenience products as instant whipped potato flakes are a blessing. Home from business at day's end, the working homemaker can waste little time in getting the family's dinner cooking.

Meat and potatoes offer a bulwark of energy and nutrition, and today's suggested Potato Burger Pie takes a minimum of preparation time. It comes to the table a deliciously seasoned meat pie with generous amounts of flavorful whipped potatoes. And for those whipped potatoes, there is no peeling, boiling or mashing required. In a jiffy the "flavor flakes" are transformed into delicious whipped potatoes.

Made from top grade white mashing potatoes, these "flavor flakes" come in pre-measured foil envelopes, each making four servings.

And now for tonight's dinner suggestion for the working homemaker:

POTATO BURGER PIE
(Makes 4 to 8 servings)

1 pound ground beef
1 egg
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons milk
1 small onion, finely chopped
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 envelope Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
Combine beef, egg, bread crumbs, milk, onion, horseradish, 1 teaspoon salt, mustard and pepper in large mixing bowl. Lightly pat mixture into 9-inch pie plate; cover top with foil. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Prepare Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes with water, salt, milk and butter, according to directions on package. Remove foil covering from pie plate; arrange potatoes as desired on surface of meat. Broil until potatoes are lightly browned. Serve immediately.

SCHOOL'S OUT — Geoffrey Hyde, 51, and his daughter, Wendy, 14, leave Chamberlayne Wood Road secondary school in London. Wendy has been sent home after day because school authorities take a dim view of her high heels and tight skirts. Her father has consulted lawyers with a view to taking legal action because Wendy is being deprived of her education. Hyde apparently likes the way his daughter dresses.

Minister, Wife Appeal Decision

YANCEYVILLE, N. C. (UPI)—A rural preacher and his wife went into Superior Court today to appeal their convictions on blackmail, conspiracy and larceny charges in a case where the wife is accused of luring another man into a room.

The Rev. Tommy Swinson, 51, and his 38-year-old wife were convicted in a lower court Nov. 10. Swinson, who has since resigned as pastor of the Faith Baptist Church near Burlington, was given a total of four years in prison or a two-year active term.

Mrs. Swinson, mother of two young children, was convicted of aiding and abetting in blackmail, conspiracy and larceny. She received a suspended sentence and also appealed.

The Rev. G. A. Hamby, 59, of Tuxedo, N. C., claims Mrs. Swinson took off her black negligee, pulled him into the bedroom and forced him into a compromising position. At this point, the Baptist minister said, the husband rushed into the room with a camera and began shooting pictures.

Hamby testified in the earlier trial that the incident occurred last month during an overnight stay at the Swinson cabin near here. He also said Swinson beat him, tried to make him give up his car and when this failed coerced him into writing out a check for $650 as downpayment on a car.

Individual Income Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department reported today that individual income rose in October in the second straight month, rebounding from declines caused by the steel strike.

But manufacturing workers' earnings continued to fall, reflecting layoffs in steel-short industries and unemployment insurance payments increased.

Personal income of all kinds rose in October to an annual rate of $381,900,000,000, up one billion dollars from September. Personal income set a record in June when it hit a rate of $383,800,000,000. It fell in July and August but partially recovered in September.

The biggest gains in October were in payments to farmers, lenders and laid-off workers getting unemployment insurance.

Smaller gains were posted for workers in government, services, distribution and business and professional men.

Farmer's income increased by 400 million dollars to an annual rate of 10 billion dollars, the August level.

Baptist Chairman — DALLAS (UPI) — Brownwood First Baptist Church pastor Dr. James Basden has been elected chairman of the new human welfare commission of the Baptist General Convention at Corpus Christi.

Rev. Lester Morris, Midland pastor, was named vice-chairman while Walter Delamarter of Dallas was named acting interim secretary.

Delamarter will direct commission activities until a human welfare secretary is employed.

The commission was designed to direct operation of eight Texas Baptist hospitals and four denominational supported children's homes.

KOOKIE KRUMBLES — HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Ed (Kookie) Byrnes, noted for his nearly constant hair combing antics on his weekly TV series, had this explanation Sunday night when he denied rumors he was engaged: "Man, I can't afford two combs."

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign Editor

On a lonely sand spit near the tip of the Sinai Peninsula, a special United Nations force stands guard three years after Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt.

The place is called Sharm-El-Sheikh, and from it Egyptian coastal guns once barred Israeli shipping from the narrow Gulf of Aqaba.

The Israeli wreched the guns in the invasion of 1956 and the otherwise deserted observation post now is occupied by small contingents of Norwegian and Danish troops.

They and their fellows are symbols of a religious and territorial conflict which has kept the Middle East in a state of uneasiness since 1949 and at times, such as in 1956, has contained the seeds of a war involving all the great world powers.

It was three years ago this month that the United Nations General Assembly voted to set up UNEF (United Nations Expeditionary Force) to "separate" the forces of Israel and Egypt. It was this force to engage in combat.

This force is a little more than 5,000 strong. It occupies the Gaza Strip, a 26-mile finger of land jutting into Israel along the Mediterranean Coast, and is strung out along the Negev from Rafah to Aqaba along the Israeli-UAR frontier.

Represented are forces from India, Canada, Yugoslavia, Sweden, Brazil, Norway and Denmark.

UNEF comes to attention in this dispatch, not because of a three-year anniversary but because the question of U. N. forces at Sharm-El-Sheikh has been brought up again by a spokesman for King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

The king, according to his spokesman, believes the troops should be withdrawn.

King Saud expressed the prevalent Arab view that the Gulf of Aqaba is composed of Arab waters. With U. N. troops at its entrance, Israel is able to use the gulf freely for shipping originating at the port of Elath at the head of the gulf into the Red Sea.

The problem is made more complicated because it also involves the question of Israeli rights to use the Suez Canal and Arab claims against Israeli-held Palestine.

The forgotten men of UNEF apparently have a life-time job. The state of war between Israel and the Arab states exists and apparently will continue to exist. Tens of thousands of refugees through the Gaza Strip and neither the Arabs nor the Jews show signs of yielding.

NEW YORK (UPI) — It appears that the steel strike has not seriously affected consumer confidence while its influence on national buying power, so far, has been only localized and limited, says Investors Advisory Institute.

Other considerations of a more tangible nature than retail sales weigh on the favorable side, the institute notes.

The strike, it points out, has served to reduce the total of manufacturers' inventories, but even before the strike there were no disturbing signs of over-speculation in inventories or in other areas calling for correction of over-optimism, except in the stock market itself.

Spear & Staff advises purchase American Vascor, hold General Foods and buy Chrysler on weakness.

Standard & Poor's looks upon textbooks as a growth industry. It bases this appraisal on population trends and projected school enrollment. "The top quality stocks now available for investment are Prentice-Hall, McGraw-Hill and Henry Holt, all selling in line with prospects and constituting sound long-term investments in growth accounts. Allyn & Bacon and Prentice-Hall strike us as currently offering the best values relative to future possibilities."

Blair & Co. says the patient investor looking for a profitable capital gains vehicle might look into United Asbestos Corp. Ltd. Its long term outlook continues promising.

CUTE, WHAT? — This two-year-old of the Old West (of London) is British starlet Yvonne Buckingham. She's signing autographs for youngsters at a charity show on Clapham Common.

Italy

Traveling With Ike — Italy
 United Press International
 Texas-sized Italy has a population of more than 50 million, 10,000 of them card-carrying communists. Its republican form of government was established in 1946 after Eisenhower-led Allied troops ousted Benito Mussolini's 22-year-long Fascist reign. It is the land that produced Latin, Francis, Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo, the Renaissance, many numerals, Julius Caesar and the Roman Empire. It is a long ally of the United States—a key member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Italy is larger than West Germany, has had less post-war trouble and more U.S. trade than France. Its geography varies from snow-capped Alps in the north to rice fields and orange groves in the south. The country is pock-marked by ancient ruins. Italy's northern industrial complex produces such world-wide items as Olivetti typewriters, Necchi sewing machines and Fiat automobiles. But the nation has 1,175,000 unemployed persons. Italy boasts relatively little juvenile delinquency, Maria Callas, the Lotoskrida, perhaps the world's best glass and leather handicraft, tourist-drawing sunny spots, the Isle of Capri, Milan and Vesuvius, endless fating foods, Espresso coffee, a tower at Pisa and almost matched classic art collections. Its national spiritual center is tiny Vatican City in Rome where reigns the Pope, world-wide leader of the Roman Catholic Church. Most popes have been Italians. Italy's Premier is Antonio Segni, 68, lawyer and former law school professor, and World War underground leader. Staunchly Western, Segni leads the righting of the Christian Democrats, Italy's largest political party.

Turkey

Traveling With Ike — Turkey
 United Press International
 Turkey, second country on resident Eisenhower's calling list, anchors the West's North Atlantic Treaty Organization to locking Russian advances in a national tradition. Turkey's 25 million citizens well on a rugged plateau against which Helen of Troy launched a thousand ships. Helen's ships, lost Texas-sized Turkey is surrounded by Communist Russia and Bulgaria, neutralist Syria and Iraq, and friendly Iran and Greece which is now settling its Cyprus dispute with Turkey. Its population is 99.28 percent Moslem. The Islamic faith in the centuries long empire building. The Turkoman Empire became the "sick man of Europe" in the 19th Century, and in the 20th, Mustafa Kemal Atatürk led the original "young turks" in establishing a republic in 1923. Islamic rule was abolished in 1924. Women lost their veils and gained the vote. Education became mandatory. Industrialization and "Westernization" began. Constantinople became Istanbul. The untimely cold war with Russia continued. Since Peter the Great, Russia sought control of Turkey's strategic Dardanelles Straits between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea. Turkey was fighting the World War I Gallipoli campaign, recently further angered Moscow by accepting U.S. missile bases. The Turks were fighting allies of America in the Korean War. The government has plunged into massive modernization programs, trying to industrialize 5 per cent agricultural nation. It seeds and gets U.S. financial aid. Turkey has sweet coffee, strong cigarettes and a Conrad Hilton Hotel. Turkey's government is headed by Premier Adnan Menderes, 69, wartime soldier, educated at the American College in Izmir, member of the Grand National Assembly since 1930. He helped form the Democratic Party in 1945 and was named prime minister when the Democrats won the 1950 election. Menderes has since survived handily two national elections and an airplane crash. He speaks English, which will spare the president having to call upon an interpreter. One of Turkey's big problems

Afghanistan

United Press International
 Texas-sized Afghanistan leans further toward the Communist orbit than any other nation on President Eisenhower's list. Fifty per cent of its trade is with Russia—the figure was 10 per cent in 1950. Its 43,000-man army uses 70 million dollars worth of Russian equipment. Soviet engineers are building highways from the Russian border to Pakistan on a crash basis. Eisenhower will drive along one the Russians built. The estimated 32 million Afghans, almost all Moslems, use fat from sheep's tails instead of butter, share seven movie theaters for the whole country, live by tribal law and the Vendetta. Frequently lawless and fanatical, they have a ready wit and grave courtesy. Some were planted in Afghanistan by Genghis Khan. The Durani and Ghilzai tribes largely dominate the Hazaras, Tajiks, Uzbeks, Nuristanis and others. Official languages: Persian and Pushtu. The land that isn't mountain is likely to be desert. Not for nothing has Afghanistan been called "top of the world." Mountains 20,000 feet and up are a dime a dozen; in the west, winds as fierce as 110 mph blow almost continuously from June to September in temperatures ranging to 312 degrees. Mountain ranges split agricultural valleys. Most towns and villages are half-way up their sides. Afghanistan's major industries produce matches and buttons, and not much of those. Its farmers raise sheep, goats, camels and asafetida plants. Karacul is its lucrative export; the soil is fertile but only a slim percentage of it is cultivated. The nation's principal wealth is its immense flocks of sheep; mineral potential has never been explored, much less tapped. King Mohammed Zahir Shah, 44, of Afghanistan is a constitutional monarch. Prime Minister Sadar Mohammad Daud, a professional army officer, doubles as defense minister and planning minister. Their capital is Kabul, a city of 210,000 a few miles downhill from the legendary Khyber Pass to Pakistan. Afghanistan's problem is to move into the 20th Century. It will accept help from anybody to do so. Russia and the U.S. have competed to offer help; lately Russia has been winning. The nation's women are still in purdah, only now losing the veil. Two million Afghans are nomads. There are no railroads. Afghanistan is poor, proud and ambitious. Industrialization is planned but barely under way.

Pakistan

 Pakistan, third stop of President Eisenhower's December tour, is the strongest Western ally on the Asian mainland. It is physically split and spiritually unified. Pakistan literally means "land of the pure." Pakistan flanks India. The western half is six times bigger than the eastern half. But the eastern section has more than half of the nation's 85 million population. More than 88 per cent of the citizens are Moslem. Hindus and a few Christians make up the rest. Pakistan has a 3,000-year history and is a 12-year-old nation. In 1947 Britain freed its Indian empire. The central portion of the Asian subcontinent is Hindu-dominated and became India. Moslems, under the leadership of the late Mohammed Ali Jinnah, formed divided Pakistan. Jinnah said Hindu and Moslem could never live together in peace as one nation; Pakistan and India have been having major trouble living in peace as two nations. Biggest Pakistani-Indian problems are control of Kashmir and division of the Indus River's waters. In the past few months India and Pakistan began cordial discussions toward settling the problems. New Setup Allows Replaced Strikers To Cast NLRB Ballot

EDITORS NOTE: This is the last of four dispatches by the general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board explaining the new labor reform law. This dispatch deals with votes for economic strikers and so-called hot cargo exemptions.

Labor Law—Economic Strikers
By STUART ROTIMAN
General Counsel
National Labor Relations Board
Distributed by UPI

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A far-reaching effect on labor-management relations may result from the new Taft-Hartley amendment which permits employees out on a strike for wages or other economic aims to vote in NLRB representation elections even though other employees have been hired for their jobs.

This right to vote for economic strikers is the fruit of a campaign begun by President Eisenhower in 1953. Under the law before the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947, replaced economic strikers as well as the employees, replacing them were allowed to vote in board elections. The Taft-Hartley law prohibited replaced strikers from voting. Unions had condemned this as a "strike-breaking" provision and President Eisenhower agreed it should be changed.

Congress in the new amendments gave replaced strikers the statutory right to vote. They may vote in any NLRB representation election held within 12 months after the start of the strike. Their right to vote is subject to "such regulations as the board shall find consistent with the purposes and provisions" of the law. Under this, the board may well conclude that strikers who engage in serious misconduct during the strike should still be barred from voting. The law has always permitted an employer to discharge a striker for such misconduct.

The other major changes made in the Taft-Hartley Act by new amendments which I have not discussed are:

1. The building industry exemption from the "hot cargo" ban to permit employers and unions in this industry to make agreements restricting a contract or subcontracting of work to be done at the site of the construction or repair. However, it appears that building trades unions cannot strike to enforce such agreements.
2. The provision permitting the building industry to make agreements which set up union operated hiring halls and require employees to join the union within seven days after they go to work. This section also legalizes union contracts in this industry made before any employees are hired.

3. The clothing and apparel industry exemption from the "hot cargo" and secondary boycott bans as to contracts governing the subcontracting of work. Under this provision, unions in the clothing industry may make agreements requiring that work contracted out go to firms with which the union has contracts. This exemption, however, is limited to situations where the subcontractor is "working on the goods or premises of the jobber or manufacturer or performing parts of an integrated process of production." The clothing unions may strike to enforce such agreements.

Uncertainty has already arisen over the building trades exemption. After adoption of the law, one of the Senate members of the conference committee of Congress which drafted the new amendments said that this exemption was meant to apply to any work that "could be" done at the construction site. A House member of the conference committee immediately rose to differ, declaring that it applied only to work "actually done" at the site.

These differing interpretations make a big difference as to what kind of agreements unions and employers in the building industry can lawfully make. But from this point, the issue goes to the general counsel of the five-member National Labor Relations Board, and ultimately perhaps to the top federal courts.

We now have the ball, and we shall all try to carry it to the goal Congress meant.

HEN PARTY—Some 4,400 hens jam a coop at Tonganoxie, Kan. Owner J. M. Jack eventually hopes to have 10,000 hens under one roof, producing 7,000 eggs a day. The tenants, Dekalb hens, are automatically fed and watered and their house automatically cleaned. When the arrangement is completed, the eggs will roll out in a trough for collection.

Decline Of Folk Humor Bemoaned

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Judy Canova, who parlayed hit songs, records and a multi-million-dollar fortune into a multi-million-dollar decline of folk humor.

"Some people in show business too many curfews on humor these days," says Judy, a movie night club fixture for years in her yodeling voice.

"I dressed like a rich city slicker, wearing a 10-carat diamond ring and a mink stole that almost weighed her down," she mentioned.

"I had to change it from 'Mammy' to 'Mommy.' That sort of thing rules out all the Stephen Foster tunes," she complained.

The prosperous owner of valuable California and Florida real estate which gives her a chance to pick and choose her appearances, Judy says it would be a success for a young hillbilly act to succeed today.

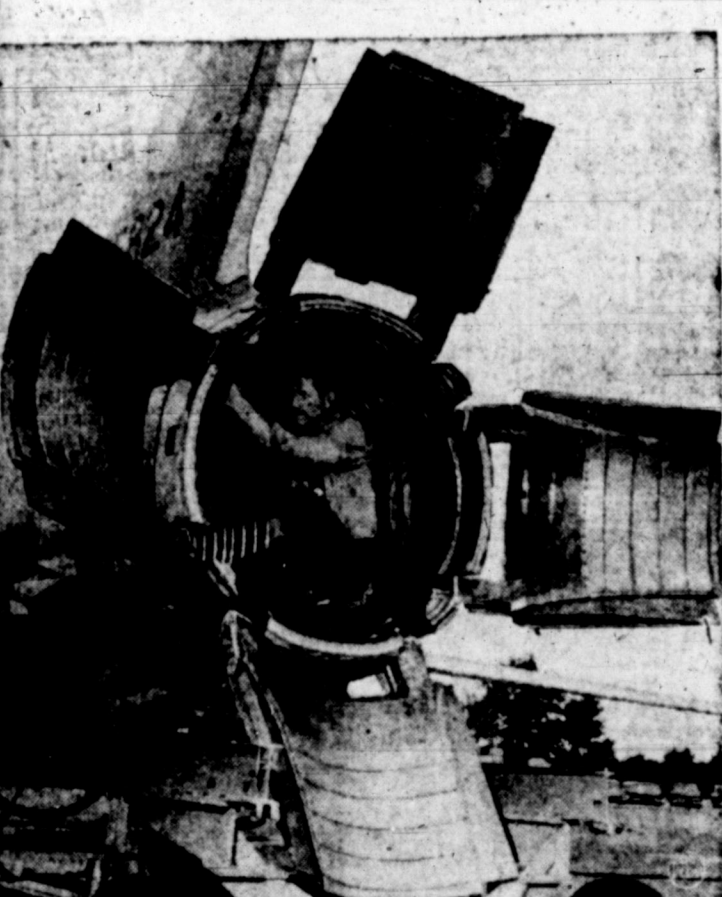

"It's hard trying to get something like a country act started these days over the objections of Madison Avenue boys," she said. "They'd say it was too racy."

"Some folks may have thought that stuff was corny in the beginning, but the public bought it," she claimed.

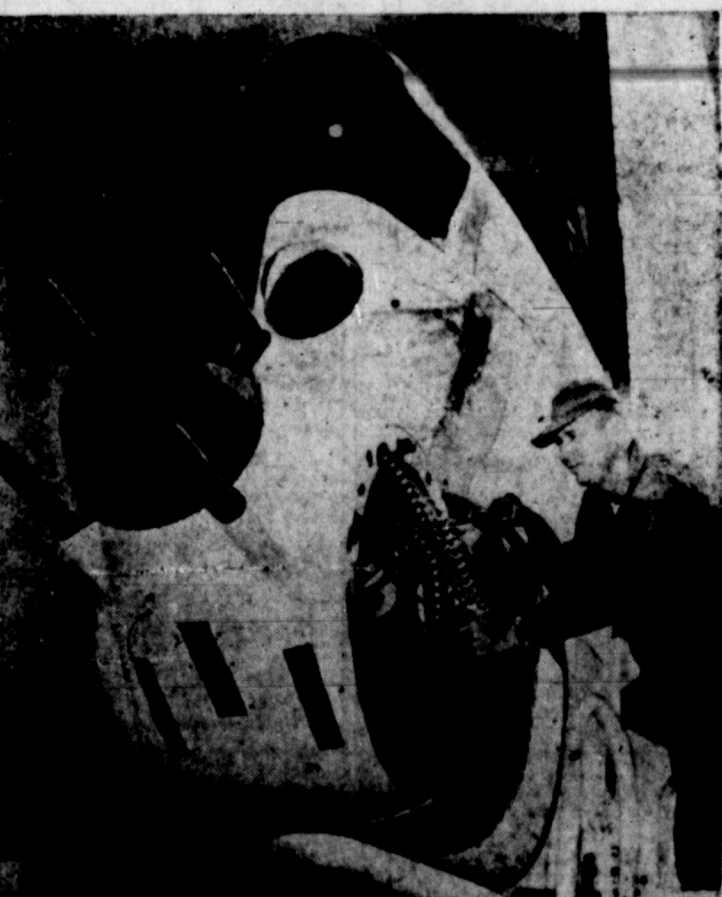

Miss Canova, a blonde now who resembles a countryified Dixie Shore, is making her first return in two years as the singer's wife in "The Adventures of Ukulele Finn."

"I've only done one other dramatic role and I want to do more," she said. "It's the old story, every comedian wants to become a tragedian and vice versa."

"People told me my first dramatic part came off pretty good," she said. "It made my lawyer and that's pretty hard to do."

SPEED BRAKE—Four stainless steel petals, forming a jet speed brake, are adjusted at the Republic Aviation plant in Farmingdale, L.I., N.Y. They swing open to slow the 1,400-m.p.h. B-32 bomber on landing. Just the top three are used in landing. Closed, they form a nozzle adding thrust to the engine.

DANGER SPOT ELIMINATED—The tail gunner's position, most vulnerable spot aboard a bomber in World War II, has been eliminated from this B-32 at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. TV camera behind glass bubble (above guns) sends rear view to screen in cabin. Viewing the picture, the gunner aims and fires the four .50-caliber machine guns by remote control. (Left) Jerry C. Harlow Curtice Headed GM, World's Largest Corporation

PERSONALITY SPOTLIGHT
HARLOW H. CURTICE
AND
HARRY W. ANDERSON
United Press International

Harlow H. "Red" Curtice, retired president of General Motors who accidentally shot and killed his "very dear friend" in a Canadian hunting accident, has a long-standing reputation as a tough, cold, aloof business executive.

But the man killed in the accident, retired GM Vice President Harry W. Anderson, himself once said this reputation was not deserved.

"He has a wonderful understanding and he has a softer spot than most people give him credit for," Anderson once said of his boss.

Curtice retired as chief of the world's largest corporation Aug. 26, 1958, two weeks after his 55th birthday and after 44 years of service with the firm.

He was born near Eaton Rapids, Mich., on Aug. 15, 1893, went to high school there and later studied accounting at Ferris Institute.

At the age of 21 he became comptroller of the AC Spark Plug Co., later a GM subsidiary, the youngest executive then in the budding auto industry.

By 1929 when he was only 36 he was president of the firm. Later he became president and

Steel Purchase By Reds Stalled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department has blocked an effort by the Soviet Union to buy $15,566,207 worth of American stainless steel.

The department said Wednesday night the applications were disapproved under regulations prohibiting shipment to Communist countries of materials having strategic value in wartime.

In addition to the stainless steel sheet, plate and tubing, the department turned down requests for ship Russia $176,455 worth of chemicals, plastics and synthetic rubber.

The department would not identify the U. S. firms involved.

Officials said they felt the export license requests indicated the Soviets were serious about doing business with the U. S. firms and were not merely putting out feelers to test possible changes in U. S. export controls.

general manager of the Buick Division, then in 1940 he was named a GM vice president. In 1948 he became executive vice president when Wilson left to become secretary of defense.

Curtice married the former Dorothy Biggs of Sherman, Tex., in 1927 and they have three daughters, Mrs. Robert C. Bishop, Mrs. Hugh Hartwell and Catherine Dale Curtice.

Harry W. Anderson, retired General Motors vice president in charge of personnel, would have reached his 68th birthday on Christmas Day. He spent well over half his life, 37 years, with GM.

Anderson, a gray-haired, ruddy-faced man who looked younger than his years, retired from GM in 1956. He began his career in 1915 in the legal department of United Motors Service, a GM subsidiary.

For more than two decades he was a dominant figure in GM labor relations. He was in command of the firm's negotiations when the historic "escalator" clause was first included in its contract with the United Auto Workers Union. The clause provides for wage increases or decreases according to the ups and downs of the cost of living.

Anderson also played a key role for the company in GM's longest strike — 119 days in 1945 and 1946.

At that time he said of his longtime friend Curtice that he was "at my side day and night. I have always had his complete support."

Anderson was born at Cadillac, Mich., in 1891. After graduating from the Detroit College of Law in 1913, he served in World War I and worked for Standard Oil for a time before joining GM.

In 1936 he became director of the labor relations section and in 1942 he was elected vice president in charge of personnel.

Since his retirement Anderson had lived at Ann Arbor with his wife, Veda, and daughter, Jan Kristan.

Judge Asked To Oust Hoffa

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal judge has been asked to oust James R. Hoffa as president of the Teamster Union and bring him to trial on corruption charges.

The request was made Wednesday to U. S. District Court here by Godfrey P. Schmidt, attorney for 12 rank-and-file teamsters.

The group asked Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts to name an impartial board of examiners to hear 164 charges of misconduct against Hoffa and report back on their verdict.

They said neither Hoffa nor the Teamsters' executive board had done anything about the charges which were filed with the court months ago.

They said "no reasonable hope of substantial reform of the Teamster movement can be entertained while James R. Hoffa and his cronies control the administration of the international organization."

The rebel group argued that the union's executive board, which normally would try union officers accused of misconduct, was not capable of being impartial in Hoffa's case.

Board members are "stooges" of the Teamster chief and would "whitewash" any charges against him, the rank-and-file teamsters said. They charged that Hoffa conspired to rig his own election to the $50,000-a-year union presidency.

Press Agents To Be Needed

DETROIT (UPI) — Advertising men are going to have to give cranberries "sex appeal" if they are to recover from the current contamination scare and regain their popularity on U. S. dining tables, an advertising man said Wednesday night.

"The cranberry people must quickly face their greatest challenge in public relations and advertising," said Arnold R. Jones, president of the Detroit Academy of Advertising Arts. To help them, he said, the academy is setting up an advisory committee "whose job will be to offer free ideas and suggestions for new advertising approaches."

"If cranberries could do away with bad breath, lure the opposite gender into waiting arms, give a man a tan, or even prevent conception," he said, they might well become an everyday item on the kitchen table, contaminated or not."

DALLAS (UPI) — Temperamental opera star Maria Callas, who will sing the title role in "Medea" tonight, said she will obtain an American divorce as soon as possible from her husband, industrialist Giovanni Battista Meneghini.

Miss Callas also denied columnist Sheila Graham's report that she had signed a $100,000 contract to appear in the film, "Guns of Navarone."

"I have signed nothing," she said. "I have made no final agreements on anything beyond Dallas. Why should I sign to do that film for $100,000 anyway when they

Four Dead In 2-Car Collision

Panel Evaluates Educational Program At Beta Delta Chapter Meet In Groom

Beta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Sanford Johnson of Groom.

Thanksgiving music was furnished by the Beta Delta sextet.

A panel composed of Miss Paullette Cooke, past president of District IX Future Teachers, Miss Marianna Perkins, president of Pampa Future Teachers, Mrs. R. E. Batson, and Mrs. Hueilyn Laycock discussed the theme, "Evaluating Our Educational Program."

Miss Cooke, speaking for the product, told of the academic preparation offered in high school through two types of diplomas, library facilities, counseling services, and advanced classes. She stated that several department heads had received letters from colleges saying that most students who had received the pre-college diploma were well prepared for college.

Miss Perkins discussed how to make students want to learn. "Students," she said, "want emphasis placed on honor roll, studies, and scholarship." Although the schools offer a variety of activities which sometimes take a great part of the students' time, she suggested, "Don't ban activities."

Evaluating from the teacher's viewpoint, Mrs. Batson compared the American system of education to that of foreign countries. "Perhaps Russia needs obedient robots," she declared, "but I like the charming relationship between American teachers and pupils who can discuss their problems together." She concluded, "American education is better, thanks to helpful, dedicated teachers."

Mrs. Laycock, speaking for parents, said that most parents are interested in how their child is being taught, who is teacher is what the curriculum offers, and what special services the school provides. "Most parents," she said, "want their child in a room where there is obedience, law, and order, where the teacher deserves and demands respect, and where good study habits are promoted."

During the business meeting Mrs. Kenneth Walters, president, presided as plans were made for the December meeting. The chapter voted to change the time of meeting to 2:30 p.m. for Dec. 12. Each member will bring gifts to be presented to hospitals for the mentally ill.

Mrs. Walters announced plans for the February meeting honoring the state president, Mrs. Nell B. McMains. Guests for the tea will include members of all chapters in the Panhandle area.

Hostesses for the morning coffee were Mrs. Troy Reno, Mrs. R. T. Foster, Mrs. F. M. Bones, and Mrs. Johnson.

NN Club Plans Christmas Fete

DEAR ABBY.....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Who do teachers always give the kids so much work that an 11-year-old child to sit up until midnight to get it done? Don't tell me that we're to keep up with Russia because if we never get to the moon it will be all right with me.

DEAR ABBY: Please help a very unhappy 16-year-old girl out with her problem. I have been begging my mother for three years to let me shave my legs. She says once you start, you can't stop, and there is no sense in rushing things. But, Abby, I am a brunette, and my legs are so hairy I feel like a gorilla.

MOTHER OF THREE DEAR MOTHER: The average ear-old shouldn't have to sit until midnight doing "homework" — unless of course he can't get to it until 10:00 p.m. to school and talk to your children's teachers. I think you'll find that the child who is well-read and doesn't dawdle, has a lot of time for playing outside while as finishing his homework a reasonable hour.

DEAR ABBY: For obvious reasons, John Isaacs gives Book Review.

ANADIAN (Sp) — Mrs. G. B. Thers was hostess to the Book Club in her home recently following luncheon Mrs. John Isaacs reviewed "Green Grows the Ivy" by Ivy Baker Priest.

Mrs. McClure Has EL Class Party CANADIAN (Sp) — Mrs. Margaret McClure has hostess to members of the TEL Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church in the E. S. F. Brainard home recently.

Presiding at the business session was Mrs. Aubra Bentley, president. The devotional was given by Mrs. Preston Hutton.

Pennant Punch for After Game

Pennant punch makes a warm after-the-game drink. Cut 1 orange into sixths lengthwise; remove rind. Cut 3 pieces rind in half crosswise to resemble pennants; reserve. Dice pulp and peel that remain after pennants have been cut. Into quart of water in a saucepan. Stir in 1/4 cup of sugar, 2 (inch) sticks of cinnamon, and 1 teaspoon of whole cloves. Bring to a boil; simmer 10 minutes. Add (6-ounce) can of frozen orange juice concentrate; bring to boil and add 3 tea bags. Steep minutes and strain into 6 mug. Add rind pennants on punch.

SPILLS AND THRILLS—Entrants in the Go-Kart Races held in Brands, Hatch, England, are rumbling along the track in their tiny vehicles (top photo). The pint-sized vehicles, powered by lawn mower engines, gained initial popularity in the U.S., and are now being manufactured by several firms in Britain. In the lower photo, a news photographer took a spill after colliding with a bale of straw during the special event for newspapermen. A few other accidents like this afforded plenty of excitement for spectators. All the participants, however, managed to wind things up with all limbs intact, and no one was much the worse for wear—or strenuous effort.

SULKY ADIEU—Bidding farewell to the sport that brought her to fame and fortune, star pacer Billy Meadow Maid is properly framed in a sulky at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N. Y. The fleet three-year-old, who has gone the mile in under two minutes and won a dozen stakes events, is being retired. Meadow Maid and her dam, Maggie Counsel, were sold for $125,000 and will be used for breeding at a farm near Hanover, Pa.

WINTER WEAR—A brief pleated skirt and dropped waistline give a little-girl look to this beach costume displayed in London, England. Sportswear designers had gathered there to plan for winter and next summer.

HOOP-DE-DOO!—Famed British comedienne Gracie Fields and her husband Boris Alperovici "hooped" it up with a life preserver when they arrived in New York aboard the superliner Queen Mary. Gracie's over here for some television appearances, and a welcome sight she'll be.

WETTED BLISS—By squeezing a few drops of water on his face during a moment of relaxation at Stockholm, Sweden, Danish athlete Vagn Bangsberg took the quickest kind of shower. He was refreshing himself during a break in a six-day bicycle race, and this may have helped him go on to victory.

SADDLING UP—Supporting herself on crutches (left), pretty Gunilla Giers, a polio victim since the age of 13, is all smiles as she arrives for her horseback riding lesson in Lucerne, Switzerland. While a friend holds the reins, Gunilla makes herself comfortable in the saddle (right) as the riding instructor adjusts the stirrups. Horseback riding is a new idea in physical therapy for polio victims for it exercises the muscles of the body.

McLean Teamwork Won 2-A Crown

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of articles dealing with area football teams playing bi-district games. This article deals with the District 2-A champion McLean Tigers, who meet the Stinnett Rattlers of District 1-A Friday at 8 p.m. in Harvester Park.

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor
 Several years ago, Notre Dame has a backfield known as the "Four Horsemen" and a line known as the "Seven Mules." The Four Horsemen got all the glory, but they were never able to do much when the Seven Mules had a bad day.

The McLean Tigers, instead of having four horsemen and seven mules, have one racehorse and 10 very stubborn plowhorses who clear the track for him. And the "plowhorses" are just as proud of their job as the "racehorse" is of his.

McLean's speedy halfback, Davy Crockett, has made most of McLean's yardage this year, done most of the scoring, and gotten the most of the glory. However, instead of being envious of Crockett, the other 10 Tiger starters are proud they have helped him gain some recognition.

"When the players read about a touchdown scored by Crockett," said McLean Coach Clifford Bradshaw, "they figure it's a touchdown scored by 11 men. That's the type of teamwork we have on this squad."

"Crockett is the kind of boy who inspires confidence in his teammates," Bradshaw added. "He has a fine attitude, and he's a good team player."

Crockett has scored 110 of McLean's 197 points this year, but he's the first to admit that he couldn't have done it without plenty of help.

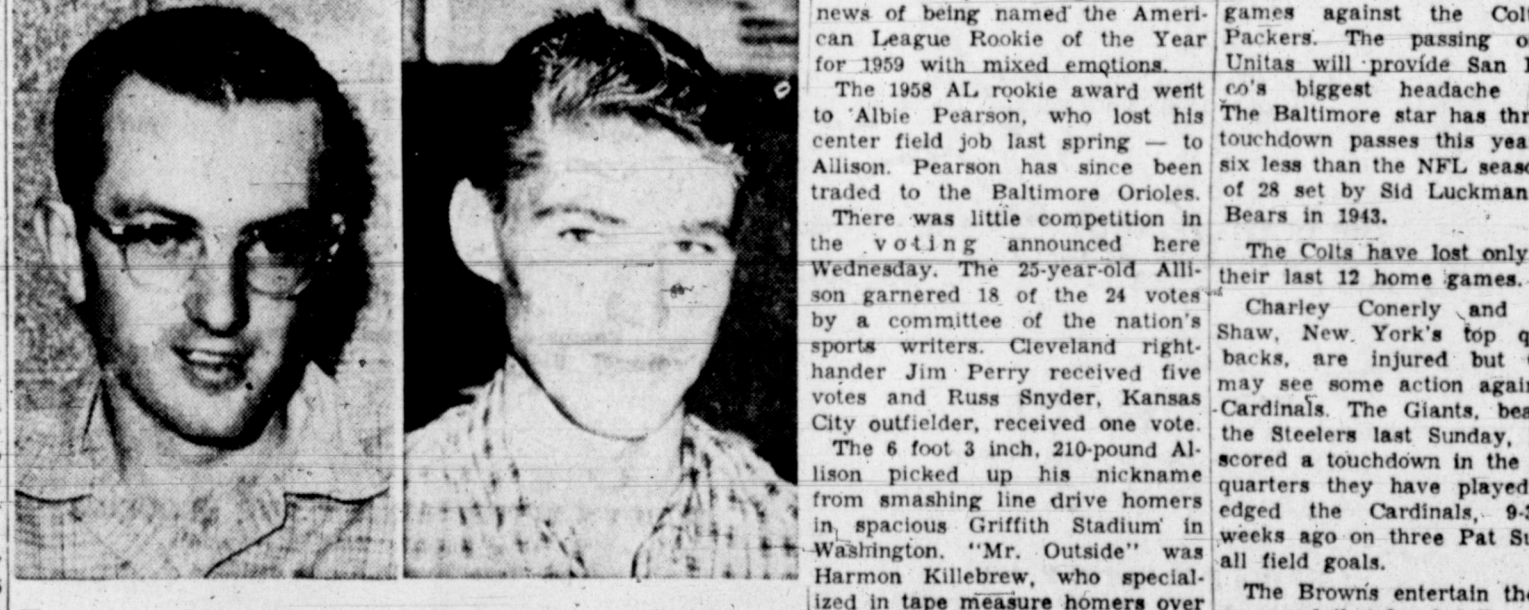

Right tackle Darrell Gibson and right guard Clyde Windom, a couple of 160-pounders, have opened the holes for Crockett on many of his long runs. Back O. K. Lee and end Don Cash have also run some good interference for the 175-pound fullback.

"Everyone on the team has done some excellent blocking at one time or another," Bradshaw declared. "Carey Don Smith, a tackle, is especially outstanding as a blocker, for one who has lit-

The Short Line

By RED GRIGGS
 Panhandle hunters wasted no time getting in on the quail hunt to be held on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area between Dec. 5 and Jan. 16. Twenty-eight Pampans and 13 area men will be given permits for those hunts.

Pampans selected by the Game and Fish Commission for the Dec. 5 Hunt were Edward Miller Jr., E. W. Holland, H. S. Whitmore, C. L. Copeland, W. E. McCracken, Carroll Copeland, Dr. T. J. Wright, and Otis Nance. Also selected was Clifton Grandstaff of Skellytown.

Picked for the Dec. 19 hunt were Pampans Walter Hyatt, James McCoy and A. W. Owen, and E. McVain, Wilford Lance, Reese Nowlin and Richard Nowlin, all of Perryton.

Those eligible for the Jan. 2 hunt will be four Booker hunters, Gene Garton, J. P. Rogers, Donald Garton and James Goldsmith; two from Skellytown, C. J. Horner and M. C. Hardy; two from White Deer, David Grayson and Otho Hendricks; and four Pampans, Paul Wiley, E. L. Hassell, Frank Roach and C. S. Youngblood.

In the Jan. 16 group will be Joe Brenkle of Lefors and 13 Pampans — Robert Webb, Chuck Richardson, J. J. Schmidt, H. C. King, J. W. Tribble, Joe Whitten, W. S. March, Doyle Doggett, Henry Parks, L. A. Barns, J. S. McMullan, A. T. Barrow and Finley Schumbach.

The West Texas Buffs have a habit of beating the New Mexico Aggies, but that habit may be broken this week. The Sun Bowl bound Aggies have their best team in many years, while West Texas has won only one game.

The Buffaloes have beaten the Aggies 11 times in 12 meetings, losing only in 1953, and they'd like to make it 12 out of 13. But the Aggies may not be cooperative.

Jim Dawson, the Borger freshman who's seen only limited action, is the Buffs' leading passer with 24 out of 53 for 275 yards; but Dawson's passing may not be enough to make up for the injury to two starters last week. Fred Hedgecock, the team's leading scorer, has a sprained back and Ray McCown is out with a broken arm.

Ronnie Rich of Lefors improved his rushing mark last week. He's now Texas Tech's third leading ground gainer, with 27 carries for 142 yards. He was fifth last week. Rice is also number two in kick-off returns, with four for a total of 79 yards, and fifth in pass receiving, with six catches for 54 yards.

Groom Uses Tough Defense To Repeat As 1-B Champ

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth and last in a series of articles on the area teams involved in bi-district football games. This article deals with the Groom Tigers, champions of District 1-B, who will test their defense against one of the highest scoring teams in the Panhandle, District 2-B champion Happy, at 7 p.m. Friday in Groom.

Groom has allowed an average of 10.9 points per game while winning six games and losing four. Happy has scored 35 points per game in winning its district crown.

Coach Kenneth Miller of the Tigers is worried that the Tiger defense, good as it is, may not be able to hold Happy, which has four boys in its lineup weighing 200 pounds or more.

However, the Tigers' defensive record is even better than the statistics show. Actually, 50 of the 109 points scored against them were tallied by two very tough class A teams (30 by White Deer, 20 by

 MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners" — if they're upside down, it's because they're from "down under" at the Canada Cup golf championships.

Game of the Week — Iowa over Notre Dame — Throw all these traditional battles into a hat and you have trouble picking one that means more of a dogfight than this one, where you have to make the Hawkeyes the favorites.

EAST
 Syracuse over Boston University — Too much, too early.
 Yale over Harvard — In the old tradition.
 Penn State over Pitt — It just ain't cricket.

MIDWEST
 Ohio State over Michigan — The draw for the cup caddies wasn't kosher.
 Northwestern over Illinois — There were two professional caddies available.
 Purdue over Indiana — Who got them in the draw?
 Wisconsin over Minnesota — Why, the Australian team, naturally.

SOUTH
 Michigan State over Miami — Close as the international field.

Gonsalves Quits
 OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Johnny Gonsalves, a master boxer who vainly searched for a shot at the world lightweight crown for 12 long years, has called it quits. The 29-year-old fancy dan announced Wednesday that he was retiring. Paolo Rosi, second ranked lightweight contender, helped Johnny make up his mind last Tuesday night by pounding out a unanimous decision over the Oakland favorite.

Harvey Livingston, Gonsalves' manager, also had a hand in the matter. "It was mostly my idea that Johnny quit the ring while he was ahead," Livingston said. "He isn't making the moves any more and got tagged by several punches which he used to avoid."

Livingston, who is in the tire business, added that Gonsalves could work on his staff "as long as he wants to."

Sam Snead Nears Canada Cup Lead

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Sam Snead shot the tournament's hottest round today, a five under par 65, to move within two strokes of the Canada Cup individual lead held by Australia's Peter Thomson and Canada's Stan Leonard.

But Snead's partner, Cary Middlecoff, slipped badly to a 75 and left the United States team nine strokes behind Australia in the international professional tournament.

Leonard almost matched Snead, who combined a 32 out and 33 on the back nine for his score and his two round total of 138. The Canadian had 66, for a two-day total of 136 and a tie with Thomson.

Another two strokes away with a 140 came Australia's Kel Nagle. After that, there was a long drop to Dave Thomas of Wales, 73 for a 143 total, DAI Rees of Wales with 144, and Sebastian Miguel of Spain with 144.

Roberto di Vicenzo, an Argentine playing for Mexico, fired a 69 to move into the 145 bracket with Belgium's Florij van Donk and South Africa's Gary Player.

TV Spectacular

The nation has been witness to some sordid confessions in the television industry. Apparently, it can now be told that show business and something resembling a public lottery, when mixed, place the emphasis upon show business. The gods of chance are ruled out in favor of a well-rigged, carefully rehearsed impression before the cameras.

Meeting With School Administrators

Several years ago I talked to a section of the school administrators of Orange and Los Angeles Counties of California. I evidently was not very successful in selling them my view on the first principles of education, so I was invited to talk to them again at the Western High School in Anaheim, California.

My five minute presentation was as follows: "Why do I take the unpopular position to opposing involuntary schools?" "Because I believe our education over generations will largely determine our idea of what is right and what is wrong."

Beginning To Get The Message

The plan was that I was to talk for five minutes and then answer questions that they might ask about my belief that involuntary schools could not successfully teach belief in the free enterprise voluntary method of life.

One of the administrators pointed to a sign on the wall, which read: "Respect the property of others." Then I told this administrator "Yes, that's all right to tell the children, but your administrators are certainly not respecting the property of those people who do not want to use your schools. You make them pay for something they do not want."

RADIO-TV 'PAYOLA' COMMON FOR YEARS, NBC MEMO REVEALS WASHINGTON - Radio-TV officials have known for a long time that "payola" is widespread in their industry - but have done nothing about such under-the-table payments and gifts to promote products.

Several years ago, Watson made this charge in a remarkably frank and revealing memorandum to Heffrich, who sent copies of it to Robert W. Sarnoff, NBC board chairman, and Thomas E. Ervin, vice president and general counsel.

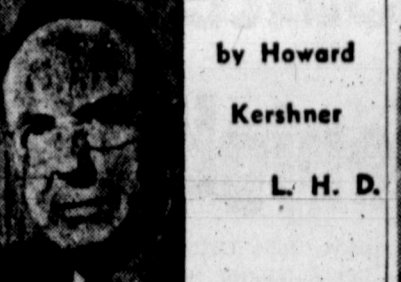

"There is danger that an exposure of the growing 'payola' practice in our industry... will spark a government investigation. In our day-to-day editing and monitoring, it is impossible not to notice the number of products getting so-called free rides in the body of established programs."

"The loss of revenue must be considerable, and what fodder it gives the boys who charge us with over-commercialism. The common gossip in the trade would suggest that a lot of income tax evaders may be endangering the public relations of the entire radio and television industry."

"The NBC official also makes it clear that he feels, 'We are the only people in a position to discourage this practice.' He strongly urges such action, in the following: 'I'll risk dragging out a dead cat in order to suggest that as a company we would perhaps be wise to take some steps in the direction of confining all merchandise plugs on our facilities to those companies who are already purchasing our facilities on a local, national spot, or network basis. In addition, I would suggest that wherever possible NBC assign all

I do not believe they will attempt to flatter me again by inviting me once more to talk to them on the condition that they are to answer questions without evasion as I am always willing to attempt to do and try to reduce them to principles, maxims and axioms. In a later issue I will report the questions I asked them and their answers, and the questions they asked me and my answers.

Visit To Cost Nikita A Franc Or Two Less

There can be no further doubt of Nikita Khrushchev's shrewdness - he is going to visit Paris in the off-season. That means his ruble will buy twice as much as it would in the summer months when the tourist is shown no mercy by Parisians.

For one thing, the Congress might decide to impose its own penalties on those whom it decides are in contempt of Congress. There is ample precedent for such action. It was current practice for more than half a century of our national existence. There is no reason for this function to be taken over by the Court. Congress may just as well continue to exercise it.

The Doctor Says:

Many letter writers inquire about cancer cures whose claims are not supported by the medical profession. Some of these letters suggest that the profession at large resists a cure and is unfair to those who claim to possess one.

"I would like to discuss the possible grounds on which these claims for cure are based. To limit the scope of the discussion, I shall assume that all the claimants are persons of integrity.

"Many substances cure the type of cancer that is artificially produced in laboratory animals like mice and rats. Unfortunately, artificially produced cancer in laboratory animals is not governed by the same biological laws as the malignant growth that occurs spontaneously in human patients.

"Rumor has it that some agencies operate on a yearly retainer basis for large manufacturers. Under the guise of public relations and with expense accounts, they arrange for the use and mention of products through cash and gift offerings to writers and producers.

As previously reported by this column, the House investigators have evidence that one TV employee got a "yacht" and another a $20,000 house in "payola." These payoffs are to be disclosed when the probes resume their public hearings in December.

Going Broke

The word "bankruptcy" came from the Latin "hancus" (a trader's table) and "ruptus" (broken).

Under old English law a bankrupt was a trader who hid himself or did other things to defraud his creditors.

Under the Roman law creditors could cut up the bankrupt's body and each take his due share. Other laws would put the debtor in prison or in chains, allow whipping and hard labor. East Indian creditors could sell the debtor and his family into slavery forever.

In the Middle Ages a bankrupt was a criminal. Later he got some rights. Though creditors could force him to turn over all his goods, he would escape prison.

The basic concepts of our bankruptcy laws are: (1) Prorate the bankrupt's assets among his creditors, (2) discharge him from most of his debts, and (3) "grub-stake" him by exempting certain things from the creditor's reach.

The English wanted to discourage extravagance, yet they saw that a debtor's misfortune could trap him. So the early bankruptcy laws grudgingly were only for actual tradesmen. Others had to take their medicine.

Our Constitution gives Congress power, first used in 1800, "to establish a uniform... law on the subject of bankruptcies."

After Congress had passed and then repealed three laws it passed our present bankruptcy act in 1898. It amended the act in 1938 to refine liquidation and rehabilitation procedures.

Today the act relieves the debtor through liquidation, or reorganization and rehabilitation. His creditors have always worried about the debtor, but now the state through law has declared the public concern in putting him back on his feet.

The Supreme Court has said that the act aims to "relieve the honest debtor from the weight of oppressive indebtedness, and permit him to start afresh, free from the obligations... consequent upon business misfortunes."

This purpose is "... it gives to the honest but unfortunate debtor who surrenders (his property) a new opportunity in life and a clear field for future effort..."

Also the law puts creditors on notice to watch out that their debtors do not overextend themselves.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

CABBIES PRACTICE ENGLISH

TOKYO (UPI)—Tokyo taxicab drivers have broken out with a shower of English greetings: "Good morning," "thank you," and "good bye."

They're practicing, they say, for the 1964 Olympic games in Tokyo.

FAT TRAGEDY

LONDON (UPI)—Denise Robins, president of the Romantic Writers' Association, Monday night said her latest book is about "the tragedy of being a fat girl."

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thump of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence on wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"No, for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.
