Cubans Reassured By Ike

Castro Acts Perplexing, But We're Still Friends, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower assured the Cuban people today that the United States has no intention of interfering in their domestic affairs or becoming a party to any reprisals at this time.

The President said he and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter were concerned and perplexed by recent attacks on the United States by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Eisenhower added, however, that the American people still have the greatest affection for the Cuban people and expect their "firm and mutually beneficial friendship" to continue.

The President discussed the Cuban crisis at his news conference.

Immediately following the conference, he issued a five-point restatement of U. S. policy toward Cuba which was critical of Castro for promoting the "unfounded" illusion of aggressive acts and conspiratorial activities aimed at the United States.

While professing close friendship for the Cuban people, Eisenhower said recent statements of Castro and members of his government would "hardly facilitate the development of relations of understanding and competence" between the two governments.

Castro's increasingly insulting remarks about this government, including charges that it is plotting to overthrow his regime, and his seizure of some American-owned property in Cuba have brought U. S.-Cuban relations to a lowest ebb, U. S. Ambassador Philip W. Borsal was recalled from Havana last week for consultations.

He said Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers has worked out a plan which, in the attorney general's opinion, will do more to assure the voting rights of Negroes than currently provided in any current law or pending legislation.

He said he has ordered a study by the attorney general, the secretaries of labor and commerce and the chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers into whether he should propose major revisions in the Taft-Hartley law because of the duration of the recent steel strike.

Eisenhower stoutly defended Defense Secretary Thomas A. Gates Jr. as a fine civil servant. Senate consideration of Gates' nomination was delayed because of debate over recent Defense Department estimates of Soviet missile power.

The President said that even with spectacular Russian results in probing space, the international prestige of the United States was not at stake and there was no reason for Americans to bow in shame. He said that the American record in space over the past five years was admirable and deserving of national pride.

Eisenhower thought there should be a major overhaul of the antiquated laws and regulations governing operation of the nation's railroads. He said while the railroads to a degree were responsible for their own economic plight, a real overhaul of laws and regulations might give the rail carriers a chance to be prosperous.

Eisenhower listed these five basic points of American policy toward Cuba:

1. Non-intervention in the domestic affairs of other countries, including Cuba.
2. A consistent policy of combating illegal acts in territory under American jurisdiction and where these acts are directed against other governments.
3. The illusion attempted by Castro to picture the United States as a plotting aggressor is unfounded and regrettable.
4. The United States recognizes the right of Cuba to exercise national sovereignty in undertaking any desirable social, economic and political reforms. But the United States feels that international legal obligations must be met and America will continue to defend its own sovereignty and legitimate interests.
5. The United States intends that differences between this country and Cuba should be subject to diplomatic negotiation or solution through other appropriate international procedures.

Eisenhower directed his expression of friendship to the Cuban people while bluntly criticizing Castro for his "unfounded illusions."

French Are Determined On Algeria

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Michel Debre returned from a quick night trip to rebellion-torn Algeria today and said emphatically that the government remains determined to let Algerians decide their own future.

His statement was a clear warning to the European settlers in Algeria that Charles de Gaulle's republic would not tolerate any armed revolt against his policies.

Debre issued it after conferring with De Gaulle for an hour and 15 minutes.

Debre flew to Algiers during the night aboard a French jetliner, conferred with top military and civil commanders there and then stroked home before daylight as De Gaulle sought to end the uprising without further bloodshed.

"The object of the quick trip that I have just made with the minister of the armed forces (Pierre Guillaumat) was, without doubt and above all to confirm the instructions previously given on the reestablishment of order," Debre's statement said.

"The rioting has already done too much harm to France," he said. "In Algiers, Debre found a city seething with tension. Some 9,000 rebellious settlers were concentrated in a small, barricaded section of the city ringed by French paratroopers. There were fears a quick trigger could set off a new series of riots."

The whole nation was rallying behind De Gaulle and he had the support of almost all factions of French politics and the press in (See FRENCH, Page 4)

T-H Steel Injunction Is Dead

EDITOR'S NOTE: The steel strike injunction expires today. Dispatches from Washington and Pittsburgh indicate labor will not be penalized by tougher labor laws and the steel industry will enjoy a record year.

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The steel strike injunction dies an undramatic death today. Proposals for revising the Taft-Hartley law that gave birth to the court order 80 days ago also appear doomed to a short life in Congress.

Hopes of overhauling the government's procedures for dealing with critical labor-management disputes faded fast in the hours before dawn on Jan. 4.

That was the moment when union and management negotiators wearily settled the steel dispute after an all-night bargaining session with Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

The settlement killed the chances that Congress would consider anything so crucial and controversial as labor legislation in an election year.

Capitol Hill observers give several reasons for this. For one thing, they say, this session will be relatively short and nothing as complex as revision of emergency strike laws can be handled speedily.

Secondly, the subject is politically "hot" and few congressmen want to incur the wrath of unions or businessmen so soon before they face the voters in November.

Finally, there is no emergency situation demanding a solution. Settlement of the steel impasse took away the atmosphere of crisis that generated so many proposals a few months ago.

Even if Congress wanted to act, there is little agreement on what (See STEEL, Page 4)

Ford District Sales Meeting

A quarterly sales meeting of Ford Motor Co. dealers, sales managers and salesmen for the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle area will be held from 9 to 12 noon tomorrow in the Coronado Inn Starlight ballroom.

Approximately 125 persons are expected to attend, according to Ray Ammerman, Pampa dealer. Meetings previously have been held in Amarillo, Tulsa and Oklahoma City. This is a first for Pampa and the first such sales meeting to be held in the new Coronado Inn.

Host for the meeting will be W. E. Cox of Oklahoma City, auto merchandising manager for Ford.

One of the speakers will be John Tyre, with the sales promotion and advertising firm of Wilding Brothers.

Board Of Education Meets New School Site, Track Discussed

Pampa Board of Education members voted yesterday to purchase a new tractor for the maintenance department.

The tractor which will cost approximately $2,600, will be fully equipped with a snow blade, dirt loader and rotary mower.

Board members also voted to prepare specifications and take bids on construction of a new high school track. Coach Dwaine Lyon told the group the track probably will cost from $15,000 to $16,000.

Bridge Plans Get Go-Ahead

Pampa City Commissioners gave Engineer Wayland Merriman an official "go-ahead" to draw up plans for a new bridge on N. Duncan St. this morning.

Contracts for the structure, expected to cost approximately $42,000, will be let about the middle of March or the first of April.

In discussing possibilities of widening the old structure or building a new one, Merriman told the group that in his opinion it will be better to build a new bridge.

An additional $10,000 will be spent to widen and pave Duncan from Sunset Dr. to Georgia Ave.

Merriman pointed out the street south of the bridge is 42 feet wide, narrows to 34 feet at the bridge, and widens to 38 feet on the north side of the bridge.

"This creates a bottleneck at the bridge," Merriman said. Mayor Ed Myatt said "bonds

Question Intelligence Reliability

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How much reliance should be placed on U. S. intelligence reports about Soviet missile "probabilities?"

That is the question that has brought Democratic wrath down on the head of Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. and touched off a new round of political sparring over the adequacy of U. S. defenses.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson announced Monday that floor consideration of Gates' nomination to the Cabinet post had been held up "at the request of several senators."

Gates is now serving under a recess appointment. His nomination was unanimously backed by the Senate Armed Services Committee last Thursday, with confirmation apparently a routine formality.

But Johnson and others have charged that Gates' testimony before the House Space Committee gives "too rosy" a picture of relative Soviet-American military power based on a new and "dangerously risky" system of estimating future Russian missile production.

Gates stirred apprehension among leaders Jan. 13 by testifying that for the first time America has "an intelligence estimate on what we believe he (Russia) probably will do, not what he is capable of doing."

Under fire for attempting to "read Nikita Khrushchev's mind," Gates Monday called the same estimate "a refined and better set of facts pertaining to what the probable Soviet intercontinental ballistic missile program will be."

Armed Bandit Robs Service Station Here

Pampa police today are searching for an armed robber who held up the Ira Bettis Texaco Service Station, 225 W. Brown, last night, and escaped with approximately $80.

Chief of Police Jim Conner said his department received the call at 10:18 p.m.

Troy Bettis, station attendant, told police that shortly after closing time last night a man about 24 or 25 years old, approximately five feet, ten inches tall and weighing about 170 pounds threatened him with a rifle and took $73 in bills and change from the register, plus three dollars from Bettis' billfold.

Bettis said the man did not point the rifle at him, but threatened to hit him with it, if he didn't comply.

After emptying the cash register the robber forced Bettis into a washroom at the station and escaped.

Bettis said he didn't see a car, but heard one start nearby shortly after the holdup.

Bettis told police the man was wearing a light gray, small brim western-style hat, a tan jacket or coat. He said the thief was masked with a smoke grey handkerchief or scarf.

Soviet 'Brass' To Visit U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twelve top-level Russian government officials, including several prospective heirs to Kremlin power, will fly here next Friday to begin a 24-day tour of 10 states.

The party was invited by state governors who visited the Soviet Union last summer. The visitors undoubtedly are the most important group of Communist politicians to visit the United States since the cold war thaw.

They are headed by D. S. Polyansky, a little-known but highly placed young protégé of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. He is premier of the Russian Soviet Federated Republic, the Soviet Union's largest political component, and is a candidate-member of the all-powerful Presidium of the Communist party's central committee.

Announcement of the impending tour came as a surprise, although a return visit by Russian counterparts of the American governors was expected some time this year. The Russians were invited by the executive committee of the U. S. Governors' Conference and travel arrangements are being planned by the Institute of International Education.

In addition to Polyansky, four others in the party are promoters of Soviet republics — the equivalent to state governors. The remaining seven are chairmen of executive committees of provinces containing important industrial cities.

It will be these Russians' first look at the United States. And it will be this country's first glimpse of up-and-coming third generation Communists who may well become the ruling clique in the Kremlin when aging Khrushchev and Deputy Premiers Anastas I. Mikoyan and Frol R. Kozlov depart the scene.

It's All Right; Happy Pickin'

DALLAS (UPI) — Social lions may not approve of it, but the lowly toothpick won high praise from a top dental researcher who spoke at the Dallas Midwinter Convention.

Dr. Balint J. Orban of Denver and Chicago said about the best thing a person suffering from any of a number of gum diseases can do is sit back after a meal and judiciously pick his teeth.

Orban is a periodontist-dentist's name for a specialist on diseases of the gums and other tissues of the mouth.

He recommended not only toothpicks, but dental floss, pipe cleaners, tape, massage sticks and other aids as beneficial to gum disease treatment.

HONORARY TOP O' TEXAN—George R. Dempster, the principal speaker at the January membership meeting of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, was accorded the distinction of being designated a Top O' Texan in a special ceremony following a luncheon at noon Monday. The presentation was made by Mayor Ed Myatt. (Daily News Photo) to the handicapped gave subject — hiring the handicapped. Dempster stated: "Our business was built on handicapped people."

Dempster, a former city manager and mayor of Knoxville, recently was appointed by President Eisenhower to his committee for hiring the handicapped, a position for which Dempster is suited and qualified.

In the Knoxville plant, Dempster Bros. has 26 handicapped persons on the payroll, and, according to Dempster, there have been handicapped persons employed by his firm since its beginning.

Presiding at the January membership meeting was E. Roy Smith, chamber vice president, who acted in the absence of C of C President Hershel Wilks.

The meeting was held in the Starlight Ballroom of the Coronado Inn. It was the first organized group meeting to be held at the hotel since its opening Jan. 19.

Following the main address, the more than 75 persons in attendance, saw Mayor Ed Myatt present Dempster with a Top O' Texan hat and a certificate, certifying him as an honorary Top O' Texan.

The speaker was introduced by a former Pampan who now works for the Dempster company. He is Sid Patterson, who coined the well-known phrase, "Hang Your Hat On The Top O' Texas."

The invocation was given by the Rev. Bob Stroble of the First Baptist Church. Maxine Milliron accompanied Ben Gallehon, director of music at Pampa Junior High School, who sang two solos.

At the speakers table were City Manager John Kooz, Smith, Cameron Marsh, chamber financial director, Stroble, Dempster, Myatt, Gallehon and Patterson.

The next chamber membership meeting will be Feb. 29.

Symington Says Dick Nixon An Easy Mark

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said Monday "any good Democrat can beat Vice President Nixon in the presidential election cause of his voting record during the Eisenhower administration."

The Missouri senator, considered a dark-horse for the Democratic nomination, said "the vice president's voting record shows a lack of faith in America, does not believe in the character of America as the Democrats see her. He voted against social security, extension of the minimum wage law, REA, plum clearance, flood control and reclamation."

He told the 70th annual banquet of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce Nixon's trips abroad would help his candidacy only "if some positive action is taken by the administration. But we'll have to wait and see after the summit conference. Locomotion is no substitute for policy."

Symington also accused Nixon and the Eisenhower administration of "wasting 100 million dollars a week through inefficient business policies and practices" in handling agriculture, defense, foreign aid and the national debt.

The former secretary of the Air Force said a recent Senate subcommittee hearing showed the Department of Agriculture was "wasting far more than a billion dollars a year" and yet "in order to raise a billion dollars, this administration now proposed five-cent postage stamps and higher gasoline taxes."

He also attacked proposals to build up a budget surplus "through tax and revenue increases," saying the surplus could be built "through more efficient management."

Loan Shark Banks Reduced

ROSENBERG, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. Will Wilson said Monday night his administration has reduced the number of loan sharks in Texas from 1,500 to 800 and he isn't through yet.

He said 400 more loan companies charging exorbitant interest rates are "under the scrutiny of my office now."

PAMPA REPRESENTATIVE — Bobbie Lee Andis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Andis, 1710 Mary Ellen, will represent Pampa and the Top O' Texas Rodeo Ass'n as official sweetheart at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, Jan. 29 through Feb. 7. Miss Andis will be presented Jan. 30, designated "Pampa Day." She will also be a contestant in the Cowgirl Clover Leaf Contest.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is a mere fortnight since President Eisenhower surprised Congress and the taxpayers with a forecast that the 1961 fiscal year would roll up a $4,200,000,000 budget surplus.

In a mere fortnight, that figure has shrunk considerably. The surplus was what FDR used to call "iffy," meaning, maybe yea and maybe no, or, probably not. The figure has shrunk, that is in the opinion of some persons who have examined the President's budget figures and, especially, the source of the dollars which would comprise the proposed surplus. Not all of these persons are political opponents of the Eisenhower administration.

Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton, for example, fingered the weak spot in Eisenhower's surplus calculations. Part of the surplus was estimated on the basis of hikes in the federal gasoline tax and in postal rates. Morton just doesn't believe Congress will vote those additional levies and in this he is joined by a great many other well-informed persons.

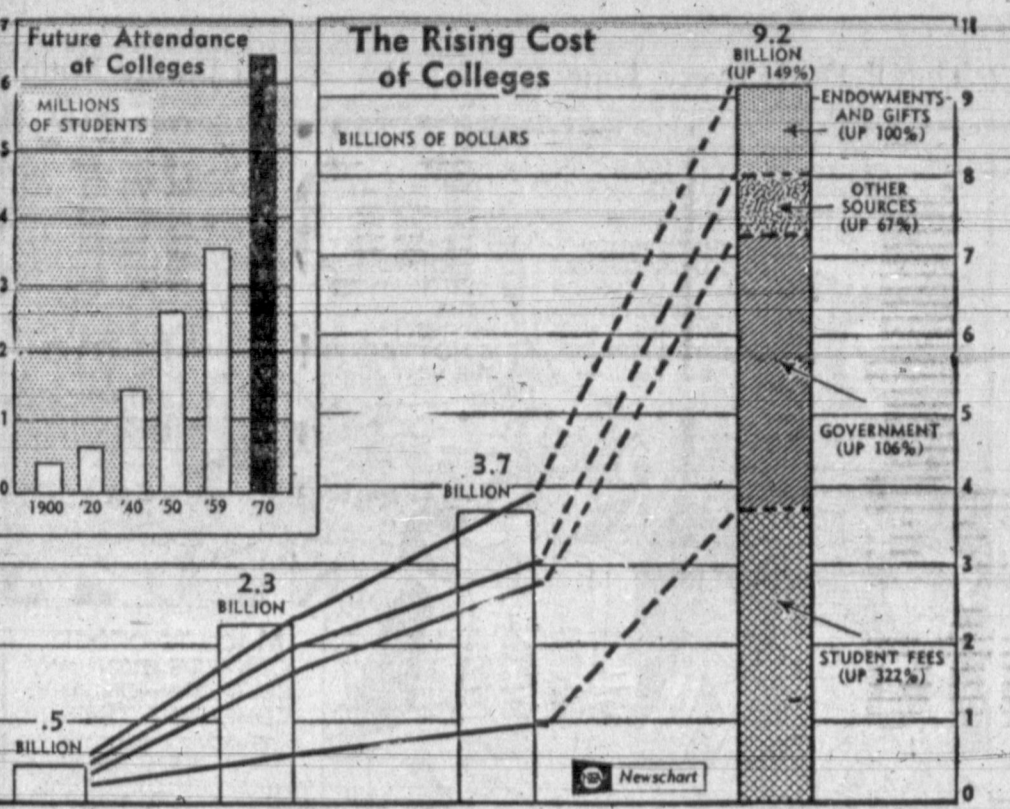

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee is friendly to it not a partisan of the Eisenhower administration. Byrd doesn't believe in the surplus miracle, either. Byrd believes the only sure path toward a budget surplus is by way of reduced expenditures. There is not much, if any, reduction of expenditures is Eisenhower's 1961 budget, a fact which caused Byrd to sum it all up like this:

"If there is to be a surplus, it will not result from expenditure reduction."

Eisenhower's budget surplus depends, of course, on holding the high spending line against efforts to raise the line higher. The Democratic Party in general and the Democratic Advisory Council in particular are aggressively committed to greater spending in most areas of government operations. The council believes this additional spending would not stimulate an inflationary budget deficit. There is disagreement about that.

Byrd is depressed by the spending trend over the years. Trends are like bad habits, hard to break. Byrd also challenges Eisenhower's overall 1961 spending figure of $79,800,000,000. The senator estimates it at $83,470,000,000, the difference being in mortgage finance and highway functions.

National defense and foreign aid are budgeted for a bit less in fiscal 1961 than in fiscal 1954—Eisenhower's first full budget year. Domestic—civilian affairs spending, however, is zooming. Domestic-civilian affairs spending is for such as veterans, labor, welfare, agriculture and the like. Domestic-civilian affairs spending is the kind for which the HIGHER AND HIGHER EDUCATION—College attendance and costs are at an all-time high and destined to zoom even higher during the next decade. (See Newschart above.) So say 11 education experts in a symposium recently published by McGraw-Hill. Some predictions include: college enrollment will be between six and seven million by 1970 (3.6 million today); salaries of full professors must average about $17,000 to compete with other careers ($9,000 now); annual cost of the nation's colleges will near 10 billion dollars, with the bill paid by higher tuitions, more public aid and more efficient administrative operations.

Jacoby On Bridge

Written for NEA Service By OSWALD JACOBY

The student took his ace of spades and promptly led the queen of diamonds and let it ride. East won with the king and led back the jack of hearts whereupon two heart tricks set the contract. "Bad play!" said the Professor. "You should have gone up with the ace in dummy". "I thought you had taught me to finesse for the king with ten," replied the student. "Only when a finesse is indicated," was the reply. "Just look at all the possibilities. Give West the king of diamonds. You will lose an unimportant trick by not finessing but you will still make the hand. No lead by West can hurt you. "Actually, East had the unguarded king of diamonds but even if it were guarded you would still make your contract by running off four clubs and discarding one of dummy's hearts. Then, when East did get in a heart lead still would not hurt you."

Algerian Citizens Can't Be Placated

By ALAN RAYMOND
United Press International

ALGIERS (UPI) — Thousands of citizens began streaming into the center of Algiers today to lend their support to 4,000 disarmed rightists who have been defying the French government from their cobbleside barricades.

Another day of major drama and possible bloodshed appeared to be in the making despite the flying visit here of Premier Michel Debra during the night with a government plan for quelling the settlers' uprising without further bloodshed.

The crowds poured into the critical area in response to an "order of the day" sent out by the embattled settlers whose barricades are ringed by tough French paratroopers.

"All civilians to the Plateau des Glières," the verbal order said.

By 10:45 a.m. more than 5,000 persons had poured into the square in response to the appeal and others were trooping into it from all corners of the hillside city.

At that time there had been no fighting although 27 persons were killed and 136 injured Sunday when police fired on a mob of 20,000 die-hard settlers who oppose President de Gaulle's plans for ending the Algerian war.

Further trouble was expected later today when the insurgents begin burying their dead. Two more victims of the Sunday fighting died today, to bring the total to 27.

The scene of the mass assembly of settlers who have risen up against de Gaulle in their demands that Algeria be kept French was the same square where the bloody fighting took place Sunday.

Today as on Monday, two regiments of paratroops watched the barricaded die-hards from a respectful distance but made no attempt to interfere with the settlers' movements. It was clear they were under orders to do everything possible to avoid further bloodshed.

Tension was so high in the city that Debra's arrival late Monday night and his departure time this morning were kept secret.

On Debra's last visit 11 months ago, Algiers rightists who hate him because of his absolute loyalty to de Gaulle cried "hang him" when he appeared in the streets. This time a communique said only he had left "in the first hours" of the morning. He snatched in Paris.

Debra flew here from Paris with Defense Minister Pierre Guillaumat and after a visit of only a few hours flew back to Paris for further talks with de Gaulle. While here he met with Gen. Maurice Challe, commander-in-chief in Algeria, and with Governor General Paul Delouvrier.

Debra and Guillaumat also consulted parliamentary deputies and senators and Algiers city officials and invited a group of them to fly to Paris this afternoon.

There still was no sign of truce by the settlers who have sworn to die if necessary to keep Algeria French. They fear that self-determination means the 10 to 1 Moslem majority will vote for independence and leave the 1,200,000 settlers without a country.

Small Cars Growing Up In A Hurry

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry's new small cars are growing up in a hurry.

Although they are only about four months old, the Corvair, Falcon and Valiant already appear to be in a horsepower race.

Chevrolet, which started out with 80-horsepower in its Corvair, earlier this month announced it would offer a "performance package" which would boost the Corvair's horsepower from 80 to 95.

Less than week later, Ford announced at the Chicago Auto Show that it has plans for an option engine package which would boost the Falcon's horsepower from 90 to over 100.

The latest—and the biggest—step was taken by Chrysler Corp. Chrysler said its Valiant, which started out with the highest horsepower of the three, would offer a new "hyperpack" which would boost its horsepower from 101 to 148.

Say It's No Race

All of the companies deny, however, that a junior-sized horsepower race is on.

They all say customers asked for more power in the small cars, even if it means a sacrifice in economy which was the theme of all three cars when they were introduced.

They also point out that even with the boost, the horsepower of their entries fall to match the maximums offered by Rambler and Studebaker Lark, the two early entries in the field.

Rambler offers its American six with 90 horsepower, the Rambler six with 127, and the Rambler V-8 with 200.

The Lark offers 90 horsepower in its six-cylinder engine and 180 in its V-8.

Corvair boosted its horsepower rating by offering a new four-speed transmission, a special camshaft, larger muffler and tailpipe and heavier-duty chassis components.

Valiant offered four-barrel carburetion, a high compression ratio, dual exhausts, a manual choke and a larger-fuel tank.

In keeping with the automobile manufacturers' associations ban on advertising horsepower or speed, however, none of the company's made a big point of the increased power of the small cars.

Chrysler actually never made a formal announcement of its new package. It just let the word seep out. When it finally came to the surface, it was revealed the specifications for the option had been on file with the AMA since Dec. 1 and the options were already available at dealers.

CAN YOU IDENTIFY? — Texas Ranger Bill Henslee would like to get an identification on the tools and cap in this picture. Henslee said the articles were left at the scene of Saturday's Bryan Food Store burglary in Perryton. Burglars "peeled" the safe in the store, and made off with $308.75. Henslee said if anyone can identify the tools or the cap, call him at the Gray County Sheriff's office, or Sheriff Ray Fagan, in Perryton. (Ochiltree County Sheriff's Photo)

Safe 'Peeler' Being Sought

Texas Rangers and Ochiltree County Sheriff Ray Fagan are searching for at least one "expert" safe-burglar.

Ranger Bill Henslee said the Bryan Food Store safe in Perryton was "expertly peeled" early Saturday, and $308.75 taken.

Henslee said the thieves were careless, however, in leaving tools, and a cap at the scene of the break-in. He said the cap, size 7 1/2, was left on the floor near a trash can, and the tools were left near the safe.

He said officers think the sledge has been used in a welding shop, and the 21-inch screw driver "had to come from a supply house instead of a hardware store."

Henslee said the burglars did an expert job on the safe, that measured 32 inches wide, 38 inches tall and 28 inches deep.

Scout Group Holds Meet

The Santa Fe District, Boy Scouts of America, held its monthly committee meeting last night in the southwestern Public Service Co. offices.

District Chairman Bob Curry introduced three new members-at-large of the district committee, including Sam Berger, Floyd Watson and Carlton Nance.

W. A. Morgan, district vice chairman, reported on plans for the observance of Boy Scout Week, scheduled Feb. 7 through 13. Morgan told the group plans are proceeding according to schedule.

Hollis Alford conducted a training session for the re-registration of Pampa units. Alford said approximately two-thirds of the units in Pampa will be re-registered in January and February.

The Scouters roundtable for Cub and Scout leaders will be held in the Palm Room in City Hall at 7:30 tonight.

Jay Leath, district scout executive, said the meeting will be held to discuss plans for special activities during the 50th anniversary month of February. All committees, unit leaders and den mothers are expected to attend.

bragged to fend the blow off and broke away. As she ran out the door she saw her mother beating and stabbing her brother, Cynthia ran to a neighbor's home screaming for help but returned to her own home after nobody answered the door.

She rushed inside and found her mother and brother on the blood-drenched bed. She called for an ambulance. Detective Grady Halre said the girl became hysterical after telling police what had happened. She rushed into the bedroom where the bodies were found and locked herself in. Police got her out. They took her to a hospital for treatment of shock.

While Mrs. Phillips remained in poor condition at a Fort Worth hospital her husband, Charles, a plastics company employee, was under treatment for shock. Police said he collapsed when they called him from work.

Relatives told police Mrs. Phillips was a former patient at a Galveston mental hospital. They said she was released from the hospital about a year ago.

Little League Program Is To Be Enlarged

The Little League baseball program is being enlarged this year, Baseball Commissioner Ben Hamilton announced Monday night at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Evening Optimist Club.

Hamilton said that team sponsors are being contacted, and that workers are trying to sign up all sponsors by Feb. 5. Cost of sponsorship, according to Hamilton, is $250 for a Little League team and $75 for a farm team.

The program is being expanded by adding one additional six-team Little League, making a total of three; adding two teams to the Pony League, giving it a total of six teams; and enlarging the teenage league from two to four teams.

The program for Monday's meeting consisted of accordion selections by Sharon West, Neal Bradley, Brad Waltz and Sharon Finley, all of Boyer. They are pupils of Freddie Lowrance of Pampa.

Guests at the meeting were Kendall Green and Ben Hamilton of the Breakfast Club, and Bert Carich, manager of the B. F. Goodrich tire store.

Optional Filing Dates Afforded

Farmers and ranchers are afforded optional filing dates with their Federal income tax returns, according to Wiley E. Davis of Internal Revenue Service, Pampa.

Uncle Sam's tax laws define a farmer or rancher as one who gets two-thirds or more of his gross income from farming or ranching.

"Farmers and ranchers," Davis said, "have until Friday, January 15, to file their estimated Federal income tax return for the year 1959, unless they choose to file their final return on or before February 15."

The IRS representative said that farmers-ranchers who file an estimated return on January 15 and pay the tax due until April 15 to file their final returns and pay any balance of tax due. Otherwise they must file final returns and pay the full amount of the tax due by February 15.

"Those who filed Federal income tax returns last year should already have received by mail their necessary forms for 1959," Davis said. Additional tax forms are available at the IRS office 120 W. Kingsmill St., or at local post offices and banks.

Everyone who had a gross (not net) income of $600 or more during 1959 must file a Federal income tax return this year, whether or not any tax is owed.

Only exception to this rule is for taxpayers $5 or over at the end of the year, who are not required to file a return unless their gross income was $1,200 or more.

Davis said that farmers in this area with questions about their Federal income tax returns may get a copy of the IRS publication, "Farmers Tax Guide," by phoning MO 4-2181, or by writing his office.

Basketball Star Caught 'Scalping'

ATLANTA (UPI) — Dave Denton, flashy Georgia Tech basketball forward, was arrested Monday night on charges of ticket scalping just prior to the all-important Tech-Kentucky game.

Vice squad detectives wrote him out a copy of the charges—disorderly conduct—ticket scalping—they told the player to appear in municipal court at 3:30 p.m. today. Six other persons face similar charges.

Denton then proceeded to dress for the game and scored 18 points in Tech's 65-44 victory over the Wildcats before a sell-out crowd of more than 7,300 persons. The sparkling win left sixth-ranked Tech alone on top of the Southeastern Conference standings with six victories and no defeats.

Earlier in the day, Tech officials asked the Atlanta police department to help them in cracking down on ticket scalpers.

Detectives B. Compton and L. M. Jones said they had just parked their car and were walking toward the coliseum when Denton approached them.

Jones said Denton asked them, "You fellows need any tickets?" The officer replied, "Yes, what do you want for them?" He said Denton answered, "I have two reserved seats for $30." The tickets normally cost $2 each.

When the officers identified themselves, said Denton looked surprised, told them he was sorry for what he had done, and said he wished he had not tried to sell the tickets.

Tech basketball coach Whack Hyder said he was informed of the charge against Denton after the game, but added he had had a chance to talk to the player.

"I certainly don't condone his action," Hyder said. "But I think it might happen to any kid. I don't think it makes him a criminal."

Dairy Queen Team Wins Pampa Invitational Bowling Tournament

The Dairy Queen team of Pampa came through with an upset victory in the Pampa Merchants Invitational women's bowling tournament last weekend, at Harvester Bowl.

The Dairy Queens, with a 624 handicap, captured top honors with a total of 2393. Each member of the team far exceeded her average. Ketta Hendricks rolled 536, Monica Gibson 406, Ruth Soapp 414, Aline Self 531 and Leona Stuart 382. Their averages, in order, were 136, 128, 115, 124 and 119.

Coors of Amarillo, the first week's leader, was dropped to second place with a 2318 total. The Coors squad, however, was not alone among the first week's high finishers in being bumped out of a high position. Six of the 12 money winning teams rolled last weekend.

The singles entries made an even better showing in the second week of the tournament. Last weekend's bowlers captured 11 of the top 15 places in the five singles divisions. Last week's bowlers also took 11 of the top 15 places in all events.

Only in doubles did the first week bowlers hold the line. Last week's "newcomers" took only six of the top 15 spots in the doubles divisions.

Pampa teams fared very well in the tournament, as seven of them placed among the 12 money winners. Crouch Office Supply was fourth, and finishing from eighth to 12th in order were Jay's Grocery, Harvester Bowl, W&W Construction, Vaughn and Roth and Tex Evans Buick.

Pampans won three of the five singles titles and two doubles crowns. One Pampa woman was an all-events winner.

Doubles winners for Pampa were Jean Seils and Elois Shary in D and Betty Jones and Ruth Wassell in E. Singles winners were Betty Rogers in D, Bobbie Johnson in D, and Jean Seils in E. June Kreis won the class E all-events crown.

Members of the Pampa money winning teams were as follows:

Ten-Pin Tales

It may not be too long before you hear talk something like this about the two Pampa bowling alleys: "Aw, he's not so hot. Why, he never rolled a 700 series."

This may be a little far-fetched, but the way things are going now, the 700 series may become as common in Pampa bowling as the four-minute mile is in track. For more than a decade, Pampa bowlers "rolled along" without getting a 700 series in sanctioned competition. Now, two men have done it in less than a week.

Leon Harris, rolling in routine double at Harvester Bowl Saturday night, set a Pampa record with a series of 258-235-242-735. Howard Musgraves' 738, set a week before, still stands as the high mark in official league play, but Harris' series is ABC sanctioned.

Leon Harris, rolling in routine double at Harvester Bowl Saturday night, set a Pampa record with a series of 258-235-242-735. Howard Musgraves' 738, set a week before, still stands as the high mark in official league play, but Harris' series is ABC sanctioned.

You also may remember that last week a third bowler, Jessie Smartt, barely missed the "magic circle" with a 698 series. Maybe the 700 series, like the four-minute mile, is just a psychological barrier, and now that the barrier's been broken it may become a rather frequent occurrence.

For all you gutter-ball addicts who have little hope of every rolling a 700 series, the showing of the Dairy Queen team in the Pampa Merchants Invitational women's bowling tournament should be encouraging.

None of the Dairy Queen bowlers had an outstanding average, but each one rolled well above her average and they became the top team in the tournament.

In regular league play at Harvester Bowl this week, Elaine Riddle, ranked up the first women's 600 series of the year, with a 222-174-213-609. Marie Landers was woman bowler of the week, with a 502 series. Carl Cox, with a 606 in the Caprock League, was named the bowler of the week in the men's division.

Other high men's games and series at Harvester were: Marshall Johnson's 603; Joe Wells, 256-462; Red Watson, 512; R. L. Edmondson, 245; Bob Baker, 225; W. F. Luker, 225; Dick Wilson, 227; Joe Fortin, 225; Carl Cox, 225-606; Ken Smith, 245; Stan Brake 241; and Buck Riddle, 245-591.

High women's games and series were Lela Swain, 219-529; Kandy Baker, 236-571; Peggy Kastein, 206-556 and 200; Dorothy Davis, 222-512; and Ina Reading 214-537. Ima Jean Sanders was the top split-picker last week, getting the 4-7-10 during the invitational tournament.

Garden Lanes

Top news at Garden Lanes this week is that five of the top junior bowlers will travel to Amarillo, Sunday for a special match game, at 1 p.m. at the Eastridge Bowl. This is one of the many trips lined up for these juniors. Top junior games and series last week were Mike Maguire's 215-512 and Mike Clark's 209-516.

Top man's series at Garden Lanes was Ed Miller's 212-576 in the Hilland League. Other high games and series were Harry Hoepner's 232-522 and Otis Nare's 215 in the Civic League; Chuck McCoy's 534 and Ellis' 209 in the Celanese League; Deck Woldt's 516 and Hank Babbitt's 205 in the Merchants' League; and Cecil Ikert's 567 and Hoepner's 214-566 in the Parkway League.

Top woman's series last week was Barbara Edwards' 232-522. Martha Ward in the same league, the Ladies' Garden Lanes League, had a 173-482. Other high woman's series were Ruth Snapp's 190-456 in the Nite Owls League, and Jo Burdick's 183 and 479 in the North-Crest mixed league. Ikert had the top men's series in the North-Crest, 559, and Rennie Havens had the top men's game, 202.

Cincinnati Tops UPI Ratings, But Barely Edges California

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Cincinnati Bearcats topped United Press International's major college basketball ratings today for the eighth straight week but were only three points ahead of California's Golden Bears.

The 35 leading coaches who rate the teams for UPI gave Cincinnati 17 first-place votes and the same number of points as last week, 326. California received 14 first-place votes and 323 points in the closest balloting of the season. The ballots were based on games played through last Saturday night.

Most teams were idle or played light schedules last week because of mid-year exams and there were few changes in the top 10.

West Virginia, Bradley, Ohio State and Georgia Tech remained 3-4-5-6 in the ratings. Villanova advanced from ninth to seventh. Cincinnati, hard-pressed to edge Duquesne by three points in its only game last week, entertains The Citadel Friday night in its only start this week. California, idle last week, will play host to Oregon Friday night and Oregon State Saturday night.

Top Ten

AFL Set To Pick Eighth Franchise

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The American Football League picks between Atlanta and Oakland to fit out its eight-team roster today, then pitches immediately into the fine details of greasing the machinery for launching operations this fall.

The selection of the new franchise was expected to provide the most verbal activity of the three-day sessions, but even those arguments were expected to be thoroughly tranquilized.

Each of the cities has its own backers within the present seven-team structure of the circuit. The solidity of the Atlanta organization was felt in some quarters to give that city an edge over Oakland, which will have three different groups here.

Atlanta and Oakland are the contenders for the vacancy created in the embryo circuit when Minneapolis-St. Paul interests pulled out under heavy pressure of rival National Football League promises to put a franchise in the twin cities.

The uncertainty of the NFL expansion picture was expected to keep Miami representatives from making a serious bid for the vacant franchise in the AFL.

Some observers felt Atlanta might have the inside track for membership over Oakland. But Commissioner Joe Foss and league organizer Lamar Hunt maintained that one had as good a chance as the other.

There had been a possibility that the eighth franchise might go back to Minneapolis-St. Paul.

But, the continued haggling in the NFL camp in Miami, which delayed any year or nay action on expansion of the NFL into the Twin Cities and Dallas, has all but erased that potential.

The representatives from the two cities were due to make their pitches to the directors soon after the sessions got under way at 10 a.m. and a vote on the matter was expected by nightfall if not earlier. It will take a unanimous vote for admission.

With that thorny problem out of the way, the league can then turn its attention to the more intricate matters of playing rules, operational procedures, a schedule, television and numerous minor items.

Lobby talk indicated the league would probably adopt the same set of rules as its NFL rival with the possibility of the two-point conversion option being advocated.

The scheduling problem will be left in the lap of Foss, but the owners will take this opportunity

Chamberlain Scores 58

WILT CHAMBERLAIN ... going for record

The experts keep saying that one of these days Wilt Chamberlain is going to come back to earth, but from the looks of things don't bet on it.

Last week Chamberlain was "held" to 137 points in four games and it was beginning to appear as if the experts were right. But Monday night, Will knocked that observation full of holes as he pumped in 58 points — a personal high in a season full of outstanding performances — and grabbed off 42 rebounds to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 127-117 National Basketball Assn. victory over the Detroit Pistons in the only NBA game played Monday night.

Will formed his big point production on 24 field goals and 10 free throws in the contest played at Bethlehem, Pa.

Campy's Son Arrested For Petty Theft

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former Dodger catcher Roy Campanella's 16-year-old stepson had another strike called against him today. He was charged with petty larceny, his third arrest within a year.

"I don't want to talk about it," Campanella, who is paralyzed from a broken neck he received in an auto accident two years ago, said. "I don't know any details yet."

David, the son of Campanella's wife Ruth by a previous marriage, was arrested Monday night with three other teenagers. They had a carton of candy, cigarettes and groceries from a grocery in Queens.

The youths claimed Morris H. Kessman, the owner of the store, gave them the groceries, but he denied it, police said.

David was released last April on probation on a juvenile delinquency conviction for breaking into a Queens drug store last February. He also had been judged a juvenile delinquent in February for participating in a fist fight.

Those arrested with young Campanella were Isidor Fisher, 20, Ronald Garnett, 18, and a 15-year-old who was not identified by police, because he is a juvenile.

Johansson Gets Hickok Award

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson, recipient of the $10,000 Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year award, warned Floyd Patterson today to "break away from the old: people" if he wants a return shot at the heavyweight crown.

Johansson, who received the diamond-studded gold-buckle belt at a dinner Monday night, stressed that if Patterson insisted upon having the Teleprompter Corp. and Floyd Patterson Enterprises control the TV, radio and movies for the return match, he might defend against light heavyweight champion Archie Moore instead of Patterson.

Johansson issued his warning while commenting on Monday's proceedings at New York City where state Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz started court action to dissolve Teleprompter and the Patterson Enterprises for allegedly conspiring to monopolize the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

Ingemar referred to Teleprompter and Patterson Enterprises as the "old people." He wants a setup with open bidding for TV, radio and movies.

Williams Lost To Mustangs

DALLAS (UPI)—Southwest Conference basketball schedule next week without Williams, the Mustangs' guard.

Williams is on crutches to his leg in a cast, and doctors say they won't know until next Monday whether the Ponies' top player will be able to go against Texas Christian on Wednesday, Feb. 3.

Tech's No Wreck Against Kentucky!

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press International

Don't call that Georgia Tech basketball team a Rambling Wreck.

The sixth-ranked Engineers, perennial also-rans in the Southeastern Conference, followed up an early season upset over onemighty Kentucky by whipping the Wildcats again Monday night, 65-44, at Atlanta.

It was only the second time in the history of the SEC that a team downed Kentucky twice in one basketball campaign. Tech also turned the trick in 1955 but wound up that season with a losing 12-13 record.

The Engineers' latest victory was their 15th in 17 games this season and put them squarely on the path to their first SEC title in 22 years with a 6-0 mark. Kentucky now has a 4-2 conference record and an overall mark of 10-5.

An Indiana Hoosier and a Kentucky "turncoat" helped Tech down the Wildcats this time before 7,348 partisan fans. Roger Kaiser, who hails from Dale, Ind., poured in 24 points while Dave Denton, an import from Bowling Green, Ky., chipped in with 18.

Sid Cohen scored 14 points and Don Mills added 13 for the Wildcats, who sorely-missed the services of their injured ace, Billy Lickert.

Minnesota set a Big Ten Conference record in turning back Iowa, 87-72, and Virginia Tech overcame a 34-point performance by Furman's Tom Conrad to defeat the Paladins, 107-77, in other major games on Monday night's all-marched.

Ray Cronk scored 21 points and Paul Lehman added 19 — 16 of them in the first half — in helping Minnesota vault into second place in the Big Ten race with a 4-2 record.

Virginia Tech tied West Virginia for first place in the Southern Conference race by turning back Furman. Center Chris Smith totalled 21 points and 16 rebounds for the Gobblers, who breezed to a 50-29 lead at intermission and never looked back.

Dave Kissinger scored 10 points in an overtime session to lead Hardin-Simmons to a 98-96 triumph over North Texas State. Centenary toppled touring Oklahoma City University, 65-58, and Stanford scored a 67-58 overtime victory over Washington State.

Jackie Jensen Quits Baseball

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox announced today that star outfielder Jackie Jensen had quit baseball.

The Red Sox said Jensen quit because of the family reasons he had mentioned several times during last season and during the off season.

Red Sox publicist Jack Maloney told United Press International that the club offered Jensen a "nice" contract, believed to have called for more than $40,000, but "It made no difference."

"He called Bucky Harris Monday from his Nevada home and told him he was through," Maloney said. "We withheld the information at his request but apparently he said something on the West Coast."

Knock-Worst

KNOCK-WORST—Andre Drille of France looked like he was falling apart sagging to the canvas, one arm over the middle eye, after being belted by Gustav Scholz in the 14th round in Berlin. Seconds later, the referee stopped the fight for the European middleweight championship, declaring the formidable German titleholder the winner by a technical knockout.

Harvesters Meet Sandies Here Tonight

HS Trying to Scuffle with Boss Streak

Pampa Harvesters, trying to break a three-game losing streak, will meet the Amarillo Sandies tonight in Harvesters Field House.

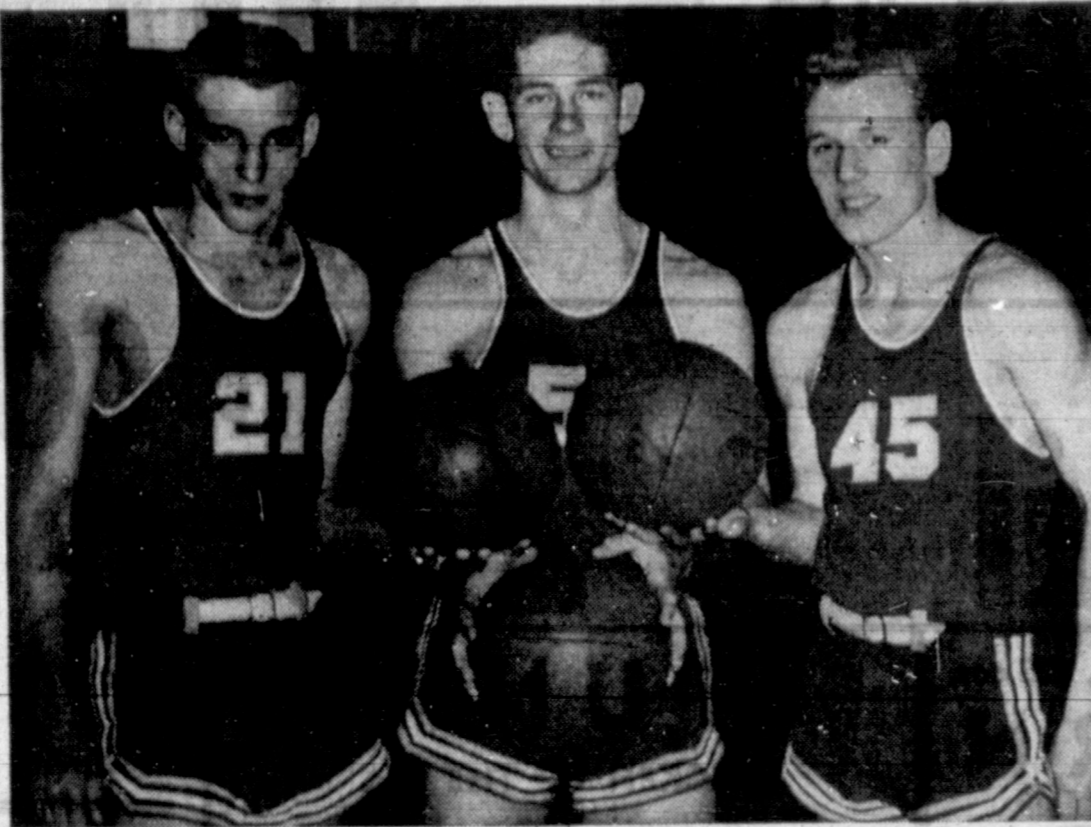

Harvesters have lost their last three games, all on the road. The total of seven points. Two losses were by one or two either in the last second or time.

Pampa's cagers stand a good chance tonight of breaking the losing streak, the longest ever suffered by a Pampa team since Clifton Gibson came here in 1948. The Harvesters have always been doubters here, losing only two since the beginning of 1957.

Harvesters and the Sandies tied for fifth place in District with 2-4 records. However, Harvesters has the better season record, 2-5, compared to 11-10 for the Sandies.

Harvesters' starting line-up is taller than that of the Sandies, averaging 6-2. The two teams are evenly matched in rebounding, with Harvesters having a margin over Monterey; but the Sandies defeated Lubbock by 10 points.

Missed Free Throws Hurt Cage Team On Road Trip

During the last two games—of Pampa's losing streak, the Harvesters' shooting from the floor was no better or worse than it had been the week before. In fact, the team shooting percentage increased just one point, from .467 to .468.

More significant, however, the team free throw percentage decreased 10 points, from .754 to .744, as the Harvesters hit only 11 of 21 charity tosses. One more free throw at the right time would have brought Plainview.

Winborn continues to lead the team in everything but free throw percentage. He has scored 324 points on 117 field goals and 90 free throws, and has collected 55 personal fouls.

Winborn did an excellent job last week of controlling the backboards, as he snagged 30 rebounds—19 of them against Plainview.

Terrell and Stroud, the only reserves in action last week, each battled a thousand from the floor but zero at the free throw line. Each made one shot from the floor, and missed one from the free throw line.

Stroud narrowly missed making the dream of every bench warmer come true—namely, going into a game in the final minutes and making the winning basket. Stroud did make the tying basket to save the game, temporarily, but he lost an opportunity to win the game when he missed his free throw attempt on a one-and-one situation.

Individual free throw percentages are Carter .786, Winborn .776, Wise .754, Timms .744, Neslage .700, Gist .679, Terrell .667, Stroud .650, and Stanfield and Curry 1.000 on two and four tries, respectively.

Allen Wise and Joe Timms edged above the 100 mark in scoring last week, and switched places in doing so, as Timms dropped to fourth and Wise moved up to third. Wise has tallied 105 points, Timms 104.

Phillip Gist, still hampered by a chronic charlie horse in his left leg and a back injury, scored only three points last week. Gist's recovery is considered, by Pampa's coaches, to be a vital factor if the Harvesters are to regain their winning form.

Pat Carter took over the free throw percentage leadership by making good on his only attempt. His free throw average is now .786, 10 points above Winborn's .776. Carter is the number two regular in floor shooting percentage, with a .457 average, and remains comfortably in the number two spot in scoring, with 223 points.

National League Schedule Includes 312 Night Games

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The National League announced its 1960 schedule today with a record number of 312 night games, which can be largely credited or blamed—depending on how you look at it—on the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers.

Every year at this time, the National League sets a record for the most night games ever scheduled. Last year the record was 296.

The Dodgers are chiefly responsible for this year's new mark with an individual club record of 54 night games at home, including two two-night doubleheaders.

The National League season officially will open on April 12, a week earlier than the American League, but both leagues will close on Oct. 2.

Philadelphia opens at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Milwaukee, St. Louis at San Francisco and Chicago at Los Angeles at night. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh's home openers are slated for April 14, St. Louis' for April 19, and Chicago makes its first appearance at home on April 22.

Seven who played Cupid

How these telephone girls helped sergeant in Iceland send flowers to his wife... an example of the Spirit of Service in action

A letter from Iceland addressed to Southwestern Bell ended up in the office of Miss Clara Balzen, telephone service order supervisor.

It was from Staff Sgt. Bob Van Sycle, stationed with the Air Force in Iceland. He said his wife's birthday was coming up soon and he wanted to send her flowers. He had an idea he could ask the telephone company to send the flowers and charge his phone bill for the amount.

GIRLS HELP OUT

It turned out the sergeant had the wrong information, but the girls decided to help, anyway. They wrote they were sorry the telephone company was unable to bill a florist charge to his telephone account, but added: "However, we feel such thoughtfulness deserves some special attention."

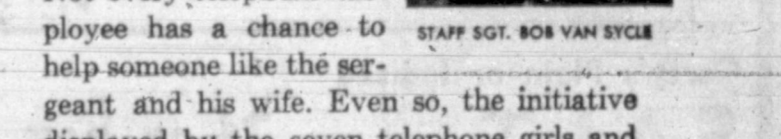

So they picked out a birthday card and had a florist deliver a dozen red roses to Sergeant Van Sycle's wife. She was delighted and so was her husband. He wrote to the telephone girls who helped play Cupid:

LETTER FROM SERGEANT

"Thanks to the gracious efforts of you girls, my wife's birthday was made very, very happy. The flowers arrived just at the right moment and were beautiful and the card you selected was very pretty and most fitting. My wife was very happy and as a result, I was happy, too. I owe this all to you. A light shone where, but for your generosity there would have been none."

Not every telephone employee has a chance to help someone like the sergeant and his wife. Even so, the initiative displayed by the seven telephone girls and their willingness to do something extra are very much a part of their daily efforts on the job. This is a special sense of responsibility that goes with telephone work: the Spirit of Service.

The millinery creators of America and leading individual designers endorsed hats that are tall, bulky and most often set back on the head to have the brow. Bulk, the experts said, is necessary to balance the fuller silhouette of clothes.

The millinery creators, at their semi-annual fashion show, featured full-blown berets, wide-brimmed brettons and sailors, halo shapes, bubbles, deep-crowned cloches, deep bowls, half globes, and hats which copied architectural shapes.

Despite their bulk, the new hats stress lightness of weight. Veiling and organza trim abound. Straws have a porous, airy look. And flower-draped hats, although out of size in dimension, are set on trelis bases, on net or chiffon.

Designers Sally Victor and Mr. Arnold were among the designers who turned to architecture for inspiration. Mr. Arnold hat shapes were cylindrical, steeple-shaped, skyscraper-crowned and domed. One of his skyscraper series was in blue straw with hyacinth "landscaping" — i.e., floral trim on brim.

Chances are the late Frank Lloyd Wright never dreamed his unorthodox building shapes would inspire unorthodox hats. But Mrs. Victor did replicate his famous Guggenheim Museum in New York — one, a three-tiered turban in a huriap-like straw cloth. Mrs. Victor also copied the dome at the Museum of Modern Art.

Some highlights from other trend-setting collections: Mr. John — a variety of hat shapes here from cloches to bicorns to big-brimmed numbers with overall floral trim. A new version of the wide-brimmed picture hat was pushed back off the brow and held in place on the

Young Metropolitan Diva Is Old Hand At Sustituting For Ailing Divas

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor NEW YORK (UPI) — Mary Curtis-Verna, young to the Metropolitan roster, is an old hand at substituting for ailing divas.

The blue-eyed brunette from Salem, Mass., who made her Met debut only four seasons ago, set some sort of record for pinching a few nights ago when she filled in for Vittoria de los Angeles in a performance of "La Traviata."

"I don't know whether I've done the most substituting," she said, ruefully. "But I'm certainly in the top ten."

In her brief career at the Met, the soprano has replaced Renata Stela and Eleanor Steber. One week, she sang in five operas and wasn't even winded. Most divas consider two a full week's work.

But she wants no one classing her as "always the bridesmaid, never the bride."

"I sing my own roles too," she said, in an interview at her Manhattan apartment. She and her husband were packing for a trip to Italy for operatic appearances.

"When you are doing Tosca, Aida and Cavalleria Rusticana at the Metropolitan, you've arrived. You're a bride. Steber and Milanov did their share of substituting in their early days with the company. After all, that is part of your job."

Miss Curtis-Verna figured that one of the reasons Rudolf Bing, the general manager, calls on her so frequently is not so much her good nature as her extensive repertory. Few sopranos can match her.

"I know 37 operas," she said, "and I'm ready to go on with any of them. When I learn a role, I don't need a lot of rehearsing."

"Some opera singers build a whole career on five operas. For 15 the Met is doing this season, so the odds are not when one of the other sopranos is ill, I'm called. That was the first time I've sung 'Traviata' in five years."

Polio-Riddled Family Allies With Spirit

PATRICIA McCORMACK led Press International YORK (UPI) — "Blazes, what John F. Collins, by polio, roared from his hospital bed when his wife urged him to run up the flag in the political arena.

year was 1955 and Collins, late for Boston's City council race. She did it the door-bell-ringing, ward-touring way—and got him elected.

Against doctor's orders, she helped him to show up for the first council meeting, in a wheelchair, three months later. His polio attack.

But that was not the beginning. The family had to find a new house — one with the first floor close to ground level so ramps could be built for easy access in a wheelchair.

Recently, she helped her husband campaign again — for the position of mayor. He won, proving to friends that he meant what he said when, urged again to give up politics, he uttered, "The mayor is supposed to run the city with his head, not his feet."

Mrs. Collins said politics "is a man's business." But she's been exposed to the "business" nearly all of her life. She was a court house secretary when Collins, a court house lawyer and member the State House of Representatives, courted her.

Politics, she said, is hard work. It's harder when there's a polio.

Parisian Designers Set To Spring Collections

PARIS NEWSPAPER — LeFigaro Newspaper carried these impressions of the spring collections of (left and right) Jules Crahay of Nina Ricci and Pierre Cardin.

PARIS (NEA) — Now's the time to start wondering what the Parisian designers are cooking up for the girls in their spring collections.

Will it be knee- or high-waistlines, tube skirts or lots of fluffy ruffles?

About the only way to find out is to ask the designers what surprises they've brewed for January 25. Here are some of the answers, designer by designer:

Pierre Cardin: Last season, he launched the lowered waistline and floppy, or possibly very full, but limp skirts. He says the gypsy influence will follow through into costume jewelry. There are two lengths of jacket of Nina Ricci. Both are used to top brief skirts widened by pleating. He also will show the many-gored skirt. He has discarded the balloon sleeves he showed last season. Hats, to compensate, will be enormous.

Jean Patou: This house will show little girl styles for daytime and the vamp silhouette for evening.

Guy Laroche: The clothes in his spring collection are designed to stand away from the body. But definitely, they will not be built

Italy's big Communist Party will give a loud send off to President of the Republic Giovanni Gronchi when he leaves for Moscow next week. The Italian Com-

Feb. 5, claiming almost two million card carriers, the Italian Communist party is the largest outside the Iron and Bamboo curtains, and second only to the ruling Christian Democrats as a political force in Italy. It has been losing membership and prestige, however, and party boss Palmiro Togliatti is expected to use Gronchi's Moscow visit as a springboard for an attempt to restore party fortunes. He will stress that Gronchi is going not as a partisan head of govern-

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The credit supply is more likely to ease than tighten in coming months, according to Sidney B. Lurie of Josephthal & Co.

"Tight money is no longer a threat to the market's well being. It's the supply rather than the cost which counts." With residential building declining, he adds, mortgage borrowing will be well below last year's record high level. Also "the prospective government surplus means there will be a net repayment of debt rather borrowing of new money."

Uncertainty among investors has revolved around two main questions, notes Spear & Staff. First there has been fear in some quarters that the boom might taper off in the second half. And second, there is the growing tightness of money in the wide spread between stock and bond yields.

The firm believes the economy will show a mixed pattern in the second half, while thus far the effect of high bond yields versus low stock income has been mainly psychological, but is still a factor which bears careful watching.

Commulation For Rapist

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Convicted Dallas rapist Billy Joe Houston won't be keeping his previously scheduled date with the electric chair tonight.

Gov. Price Daniel commuted Houston's death sentence Monday to life imprisonment. He acted on the recommendation of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Houston, a 29-year-old former paratrooper, was convicted in March, 1955, of raping a 51-year-old Dallas housewife. He carried his appeals to the Supreme Court of the United States, but was turned down.

The three-member pardons board said it recommended mercy in the case because Houston's mind has been slowly deteriorating over a number of years.

In its recommendation the board said the decision "was not a question of whether he (Houston) could be held accountable for the offense alleged to have been committed."

"A man who knows the difference between right and wrong and the consequences of his actions would be legally sane and accountable to the law," the board said.

"The board has come to the conclusion that this condemned man is mentally ill to a serious degree and he has been for some time."

Speed Limit Study Set

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Good Roads Assn. has set up a committee to study the possibility of increased speed limits on four-lane divided highways.

It will present its reports in May. Fritz Thompson of Borger, president of the TGRA, said its board of directors agreed that the present 60-mile-per-hour speed limits are too slow.

Thompson said another committee will study current "highway needs and resources" with emphasis on farm to market roads.

The primary object of that study is to determine whether the highway department, under current legislative earmarking of funds, is able to utilize its resources in such a way as to produce maximum results in meeting the state's needs, he added.

Mayor Receives Tongue Lashing

HOUSTON (UPI)—A federal judge gave Dr. James M. Russell, former mayor of Freeport, Tex., a tongue-lashing, fined him $2,500 and sentenced him Monday to 20 months in prison for income tax evasion.

Judge Ben Connally suspended the prison sentence for five years and Russell, named "Mr. Freeport" in 1957, stood with bowed head and whispered: "Thank you, your honor."

Russell, 35, a chiropractor, pleaded guilty to evading $3,957 in income taxes for 1952-1955. He has already paid more than $16,000 in penalties and interest.

"You have a great many friends, and you have devoted a great deal of time and effort to civic work," Connally said. "But I have the greatest difficulty in seeing how a man who devotes so much time to his city at the same time steals from his government."

Ex-Dictator On Way To Spain

MADRID (UPI)—Quoted Argentine ex-President Juan D. Peron is on his way to Spain today on a trip that may mark his farewell to the Western Hemisphere.

Peron left the Dominican Republic where he has lived for two years as a refugee, in a chartered Brazilian airliner at 9:35 P. M. Monday. He is expected to stop off in Bermuda, the Azores and perhaps Portugal on his way to this country.

A spokesman for the Spanish foreign ministry said Saturday Peron would spend "several weeks" somewhere near the Mediterranean port of Malaga before going on to Switzerland to live.

French Rally To DeGaulle In Crisis

PARIS (UPI)—The French nation rallied strongly today to support President Charles de Gaulle in his efforts to end the Algerian settlers uprising without further bloodshed.

He dispatched Premier Michel Debre and Defense Minister Pierre

Jeanneney to Algeria during the night to confer with Algeria's top military and civilian leaders. They returned this morning.

Early today about 4,000 heavily armed French settlers, businessmen, farmers—were still entrenched behind cobblestone barricades in the heart of Algiers where a clash with police Sunday killed 27 persons and wounded 136.

Despite the growing support for De Gaulle, the essential risk remained that a continuing settlers' revolt might sap the loyalty of the 500,000-man French army in Algeria although there has been absolutely no hint it might change sides.

Political leaders of various factions—except for the extreme right—threw their solid support behind De Gaulle and he appeared to have the support of the people as a whole and the French press.

Jupiter Testing Nearly Finished

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—America's Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile today stood one step away from completing its current series of research and development tests here.

The 60-foot-tall rocket, one of the most versatile and reliable in the U. S. arsenal, made a successful 1,500-mile experimental trip over the Atlantic Ocean Monday night.

Informal sources said one more shot, set for sometime in February, will complete Jupiter's present test program. Another series of unclassified nature, is scheduled to start "sometime late this year."

Texas In Debt Over $78 Million

AUSTIN (UPI)—The state of Texas is more than 78 million dollars in debt, State Treasurer Jesse James said Monday.

As of Jan. 22 the general revenue fund deficit was $78,847,301, a sharp rise from the deficit total of $69,855,966 reported Jan. 8.

James said the state is four months behind in paying its bills. It is currently honoring state general revenue warrants (checks) up to and including No. 213,516—which was dated last Sept. 24, and part of those dated Sept. 30. During the two weeks between Jan. 8 and Jan. 22, the general revenue fund issued 10,939,171 in warrants and collected only $2,137,714.

Flu Outbreak Closes Schools

TEMPLE, Tex. (UPI)—Temple public schools were closed today because of a flu epidemic that struck more than one-sixth of the city's students.

School officials said more than 1,600 of the 6,028 students enrolled were absent Monday. The school board met Monday night and adopted a recommendation by the Bell County Medical Society, which advised closing the schools and keeping them closed until Feb. 1.

Schools at nearby Academy and Salado were closed nearly a week because of outbreaks there, but they have since reopened.

One death has resulted from the epidemic. Adolph Sladovnik, 67, died last week.

POSTPONE COURT FIGHT

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The bitter court battle between actor Sterling Hayden and his ex-wife, Betty De Noon Hayden, over custody of their four children was postponed Monday until Feb. 29 because Hayden's attorney is engaged in defending accused wife slayer Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

SMU Brisles At Lefty Tag

DALLAS (UPI) — Southern Methodist University officials said Monday they had tried to overlook a magazine article charging the school "pamper leflism" because they didn't want to dignify it with a comment. The article appeared in a recent issue of American Mercury magazine. It charged that SMU and the Dallas Council on World Affairs, a group that sponsors speakers on international affairs, are the main centers of leflism in Dallas. "Any charges that SMU is encouraging left-wing activities are totally unfounded," Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, president of the SMU board of trustees, said. School officials stayed mum on the issue until a group called "Texans for America" started circulating thousands of reprints of the article, to many parents of students at SMU. J. Evetts Haley Jr., son of the chairman of the organization, said his father could not be reached for comment. "My father did mention that some Dallas people in the group wanted to make reprints available, and my father agreed to send the articles out under the auspices of the organization," Haley said. Bishop Smith said the article contained "amazing insinuations." Dr. Willis M. Tate, president of SMU, said: "We have never attempted to dignify the article by comment because it is filled with obvious untruths and malicious deceit."

Delinquency Attack Set By Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today launched a two-pronged attack on juvenile delinquency and its links with teenage drug addiction. The full Senate was scheduled to start debate on a "delinquency prevention bill" which would provide up to 12 million dollars to local communities over the next five years to train workers for special juvenile projects. The Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee resumed its hearings on dope addiction among teenagers and narcotics smuggling across the Mexican border. Treasury officials were recalled to testify on what the narcotics bureau and the customs bureau are doing to enforce anti-narcotics laws. Other congressional news: Durfee: A Senate judiciary subcommittee gives James R. Durfee, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), a chance to reply to charges that he violated the CAB's code of ethics by accepting "in usual hospitality" from airlines. The subcommittee is considering Durfee's nomination to be an associate justice of the U.S. Court of Claims. Lipstick: The House Commerce Committee summoned Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health education and welfare, to testify at new hearings on how to regulate the use of possibly harmful colors in lipstick.

Space: A House Space Committee report complained the United States had taken an "all eggs in one basket" approach to the manned space program. The staff study warned that it could be a "costly mistake" not to develop at least one other program to parallel the Mercury man in a satellite project. Health insurance: Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) announced he would introduce a bill that eventually would provide paid-up health insurance for life for every person covered by social security in return for a small increase in contribution rates. Elections: Informed sources indicated there was not much chance the House would approve a Senate-passed clean elections bill. The measure will be sent to the Committee on House Administration. Prospects were excellent that it would stay there until adjournment.

Bomb Hoaxes Halt Traffic On Airliners

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bomb hoaxes held up more than 350 airliners Monday and forced a luxury cruise liner sailing with 350 passengers to drop anchor before she could even clear port. Three of the anonymous threats were aimed at big Boeing 707 jets leaving New York's Idlewild Airport. Other telephoned threats disrupted flights in Fargo, N. D.; Milwaukee, Wis., and Lansing, Mich. Airlines make a practice of conducting thorough searches in response to bomb threats. "Tonight around midnight there will be a TWA jet out of Idlewild leaving for Paris," a man's voice said in the first of the day's threats. "There will be a bomb on it." "Do you have a 3 p.m. flight to Miami?" a man asked National Airlines a little while later. "Better check it for a bomb." "There is a bomb on one of your planes going off any minute," a woman phone caller told the American Airlines reservation office here. Trans World Airlines' only jet to Paris, Flight 800 scheduled to leave at 8:15 p.m., was held up 15 minutes by the search. Aboard the plane were handleader Xavier Cugat and his wife, singer Abbe Lane. National's Flight 7 to Miami and American's Flight 5 to Los Angeles both were delayed 45 minutes. The 20,000-ton Inces-Nassau liner Victoria already had set sail for a 15-day Caribbean cruise when port officials got a phone call warning that it carried a bomb. The Victoria dropped anchor at Staten Island. A three-hour search failed to turn up a bomb. Vermont has 450 square miles of rivers, ponds and streams.

Bulk of the nation will experience above normal precipitation for the period, except for northwest and the extreme southwest.

Weather picture for the next 30 days calls for below seasonal normals over western half of nation, normal or better in east.

HALF-WAY POINT
LANCASTER, England (UPI) — Marathon marcher Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, having marched 500 miles of her planned 1,000-mile trek from Scotland to England, spent the night in the "Boot and Shoe Hotel" here.

OPEN QUARANTINE STATION
STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The royal hall at Bromma Airport has been turned into a quarantine station where health officers and doctors will give vaccinations to prevent spread of a smallpox epidemic from Russia. Similar measures were reported being taken in Poland.

MODEST SENATOR
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) refused Monday to reveal the scores of a golf game he played with Vice President Richard Nixon. "Modesty prohibits me from answering that," said Symington. The U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis was opened in 1845.

Not Anarchists

Some years ago this newspaper was first accused of having anarchy as its central theme of its editorial policy. In view of the many things we have had to say about excessive government, about principles of human liberty being opposed to the use of aggressive force, and so forth, we can understand and sympathize with the accusation.

Anarchist Tyranny

While we're still thinking about anarchy, it might be good to explore the doctrine a little further. The Encyclopaedia Britannica, the Americana, and any number of popular dictionaries miss the boat on this one by an effort to oversimplify a word which carries a certain image to the mind.

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Why We Have Not Irredeemable Paper Money

I think Ludwig von Mises, in his chapter "Monetary Reconstruction" in his book, "The Theory of Money and Credit", explains pretty clearly why we have fiat irredeemable paper money.

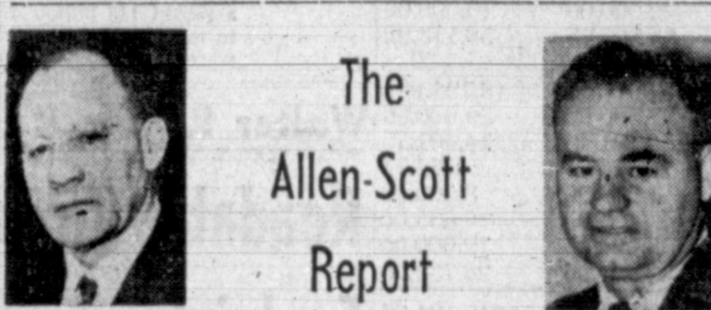

Mr. von Mises explains fiat money in this manner: "For the naive mind there is something miraculous in the issuance of fiat money. A magic word spoken by the government creates out of nothing a thing which can be exchanged against any merchandise a man would like to get. How pale is the art of sorcerers, witches, and conjurers when compared with that of the government's treasury department!"

Then von Mises continues: "Taxes for revenue, announced a chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, are 'obsolescent'." This is accredited to B. Ruml in "Taxes for Revenue are Obsolete (American Affairs, VIII (1946)), pages 35 and 36.

"How wonderful! And how malicious and misanthropic are those stubborn supporters of out-dated economic orthodoxy who ask governments to balance their budgets by covering all expenditures out of tax revenue!"

"These workshirts do not see that the ending of inflation is conditioned by the ignorance of the public and that inflation ceases to work as soon as the many become aware of its effects upon the monetary unit's purchasing power."

NASSER'S OPENING OF CONSULS IN PANAMA LINKED TO 'NEUTRALIST' - RED AGITATION ON CANAL
WASHINGTON - President Gamal Nasser is opening a consulate in strife-torn Panama, preparatory to exchanging ambassadors with that key Central American country.

Among the so-called diplomats being sent to highly strategic Panama by the United Arab Republic ruler are "canal experts" Egyptian agitators, undercover agents and other veterans of the long and bitter guerrilla fighting that culminated in the nationalization of the Suez Canal.

This disturbing backstage development is directly related to Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa's visit to Cairo and other Arab capitals. The State Department has detailed information that this militant leftist and close lieutenant of Premier Fidel Castro discussed the following with Nasser:

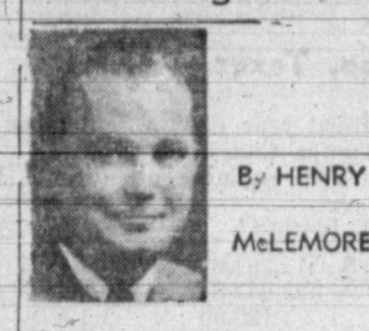

Obtaining arms, particularly planes and tanks, from Nasser, who is getting them from the Soviet bloc. Stirring up more difficulties for the U.S. in Central America, particularly in Panama, with the vital Canal as the prime target.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has been informed that Rao was assured of Nasser's "full cooperation" on all these activities.

The Committee, headed by Representative Thomas Morgan (D., Pa.), is making a comprehensive study of U.S. policy in Latin America. Secretary Herter and State of social affairs no constant relations between magnitudes, no measurement is possible and economic can never become quantitative. But the index - number method, notwithstanding its inadequacy, plays an important role in the process which in the course of an inflationary movement makes the people inflation-conscious.

Election On Performance, Not Political Promises
It's election time again. Not for politicians, but for baseball players eligible for a seat (if a bust ever sits) in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown.

The baseball election is different from a political one in many ways, the biggest one being that a baseball player is elected on performance, not promises.

Another difference is that a player is judged solely on what he did in baseball. His accomplishments in other fields don't count. He doesn't join the immortals at Cooperstown because he served a hitch as a general, an international lawyer, or a banker.

The Hall of Famers are chosen by Baseball Writers' Association of America members of ten years standing at least, which makes me good and eligible for I was riding the press box at Yankee Stadium, the Polo Grounds, Wrigley Field, and the gone but not forgotten Baker Bowl - of the Philadelphia Phillies, when Hoover was head man.

Rule No. 7 for voting states that "Candidates shall be chosen on the basis of playing ability, integrity, sportsmanship, character, their contribution to the team on which they played and baseball in general."

The first name I marked on the 1960 ballot was that of Moe Berg, catcher. As a baseball player Moe may never have been in the class

Department and Pentagon specialists in that field are slated to be questioned. One matter under scrutiny is a number of complaints about U.S. Information Service operations in Cuba.

LATIN FLASHES - After Cuban Foreign Minister Roa's extensive trip through the Middle East and satellite countries, he is due to come to Washington next week. He has appointments with Secretary Herter, the Export - Import Bank and other authorities, but it remains to be seen whether Castro's lieutenant will show up.

Mexico did a boom trade in U.S. tourists last year. More than 650,000 visited there, and spent an estimated $600 million. This does not include so-called "day visitors" to such border towns as Nogales, Ciudad Juarez, and Tijuana.

Fair Enough

Only Three Presidents Have Been Millionaires by WESTBROOK PEGLER

Only three of the 32 men who have been President of the United States have been "millionaires." They were Theodore Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Hoover gave all his salary to charity and he is still here to confirm that Theodore Roosevelt left a fortune to his children and others and generally observed the proposition that Presidents are citizens, not Caesars.

Franklin D. arranged for the taxpayers to maintain his grave as a national shrine, indeed, in its formal term, a shrine. Provision of a blank space for her name on the tombstone portends that it is a widow will be accommodated on the same terms and in the same imperial status. It is possible that the children and other kinship will be returned to dust in Pantheon on a patch which the family gave the government with an obligation to keep it watered, mowed and patrolled forever.

No family of any other President imposed a piece of lawn on the national government to serve as his grave with all these responsibilities and expense. Other persons in the same Hudson River neighborhood may not be buried in their home grounds except by special permission if an old graveyard exists on the family premises.

The father of President Theodore Roosevelt and of Eli A. Roosevelt's father, Elliott, was distinguished citizen of New York and an unflinching slacker in Civil War. Instead of going to the front he hired a substitute according to genteel patriotic ideas of the time.

Theodore and Elliott, the boys, were well-heeled by inheritance and Theodore was conspicuous in business. He lived in the luxury of the eastern gentleman of the period, went to Harvard and all that. Elliott, however, was drunk and a dead-end, yet he provided that his estate tried to have him declared crazy after death to nullify some of his debts. But although Franklin D. undoubtedly was Roosevelt and his children might even be called "pound Roosevelt," Franklin was a different but parallel strain to Theodore's and Elliott's. Of course how could he have married her who became The First Lady of the World?

The graves and memorials in Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Grant, Jackson, Cleveland and other noted Presidents all maintained by either the federal government or by private society and endowments, but with a few exceptions the state of New York in Grant's Tennessee contributed a little toward Jackson's Hermitage, but a society ladies provides the management.

The F. D. Roosevelt scholarship implies that he was a comparably greater than any other. Last year, Congress toyed with a bill to set aside another shrine to him, a 30-acre spruce in Washington, D.C., but this was just a practice swing.

The proposition may come pass yet.
