Algerian Uprising Places French Republic In Peril

Rightist Hotbeds Raided

By NORMAN RUNNION
United Press International

PARIS (UPI)—French police today raided and searched homes of extreme rightists throughout France to prevent the spread to the mainland of the Algerian uprising against Charles de Gaulle.

Police arrested Jean-Marie Le Pen, an extreme right-wing member of the National Assembly, and they were seeking 50 leaders of right-wing groups who support Algerian rebellion.

Officials said the homes of an estimated 100 right-wing leaders sympathize with the rebel Algerian settlers were raided in the Paris area alone and similar raids were carried in the provinces.

A rebellion which threatens the French Republic was so serious de Gaulle was reported ready to fly to Algeria this week and have it out with the army which has failed to support him in the uprising.

Gaulle was reported extremely angry with the "colons" (French settlers and almost as many as 10 million) who have followed reports de Gaulle was preparing to take a stronger stand in Algeria.

The Algerian insurgents are popular allies of the men whose homes were raided today. The militant right-wingers hit today aided leaders of such rightist groups as the "Young Nation," the "Popular Movement of 13" or MP 13.

It was the May 13th movement which brought down the Fourth Republic and installed de Gaulle as leader of France.

Anti-Poll Tax Bill Stirs Up A Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Another civil rights hassle — this time over the poll tax — threatened today as the Senate moved ahead of the scheduled Feb. 15 showdown on the rights issue.

The anti-poll tax measure, in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment barring the tax as a voting requirement, was the pending business when the Senate resumed work.

Sen. Spearhead L. Holland (D-Calif.), a member of the House, introduced the amendment Wednesday. He tacked it onto an unrelated measure sponsored by Sens. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.). Their resolution — also a constitutional amendment — would permit state governors to appoint House members to replace lawmakers killed in a nuclear attack.

Holland's amendment was expected to arouse opposition from most Southerners — and also from some liberals who have introduced another bill to outlaw the poll tax, but by simple law.

Missile Program Steps, Backs Up

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—America's ballistic missile program took two steps forward and a half-step backward Wednesday.

The Navy Polaris, designed for firing from submerged nuclear submarines, made its fourth straight successful flight here.

And at Edwards AFB, Calif., the Air Force made a successful test of a "missile on a string."

But the 92-foot-tall Titan, biggest and potentially most powerful intercontinental missile, failed again. The Titan has had nothing but failures since last

May 4, and the Titan program is under criticism because of explosions here in August and December.

The Titan was poised for a 2,000-mile flight in which its 8,000-pound thrust second stage was to be tested for the first time. But the booster engine cut off automatically when trouble developed, and the missile never left its pad. It apparently escaped serious damage.

The Polaris, a bottle-shaped missile which had similar growing pains last fall, hit squarely on its target in the Atlantic just north of Puerto Rico, with a self-contained guidance unit in control. Within the next two months, Polaris test missiles will be fired from a "ship motion simulator" and from a specially-built tube aboard the USS Observation Island, a laboratory ship.

Minuteman, a so-called "third generation" ICBM behind Atlas and Titan, made up lost ground with success of a mock-up prototype in California.

The Minuteman, which uses solid rather than liquid propellants, was fired from a 100-foot-deep underground hangar. It soared 2,000 feet and then was returned to earth by an attached nylon cable.

Airliner Crash Man Made, Say Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Evidence accumulated by investigators indicated today that a low-grade, man-made explosion caused the Jan. 6 airliner crash which killed New York lawyer Julian Frank and 33 others.

But informed sources said that even if the explosion were man-made — as they thought — there was no answer yet as to who or what caused the blast that wrecked the National Airlines plane near Bolivia, N.C.

They said there was no way of determining how the explosive — if there was one — got aboard the plane. Whether it could have been put aboard by a passenger or in advance of the flight remains a mystery.

Investigators have not ruled out the possibility that organized crime could have figured in the crash of the DC-6B, which was en route from New York to Miami.

Frank's body was found some 20 miles from the wreckage, much farther than the others. An autopsy also showed different types of wounds, with bits of metal and wood impregnated in his remains. But no evidence has been found yet of powder burns from an explosive.

Mexico City Fire Threat

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—An explosion and fire raged through a government oil refinery today, threatening a 40-block area in the northwestern part of the city before firemen brought it under control.

Emergency hospital officials said four persons were killed and 35 injured. Police reported three others were missing.

Fire department officials said a kerosene stove at a tortilla bakery across the street from the Pemex refinery exploded and ignited vapor from the gasoline refinery.

There was a huge flash of fire which ignited gasoline in storage tanks within the plant grounds. An estimated 35,000 gallons of gasoline burned.

Many families were forced to flee. Police rushed heavy forces to the area and declared an emergency.

Plant and city firemen fought the blaze for more than two and one-half hours before bringing it under control about 8:30 a. m. cat.

The heat was so intense that some of the iron gates at the plant melted.

Ike Charts Attitude For '60 Campaign

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—President Eisenhower appeared today to have charted his course of political action for the pre-convention stages of the 1960 campaign: Steer clear of personalities for the time being and drum on the issues of inflation and national security.

Speaking from here Wednesday night to thousands of Republican party workers gathered at "dinner with Ike" fund-raising parties across the nation, the President hammered away at Democratic fiscal policies. He stressed repeatedly how America had prospered into the world's most powerful nation, militarily and economically, during the first seven years of his administration.

This was his first major political speech of the national election year and he spoke in the home state of the Republican most likely to run to succeed him, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Yet, not once during his closed circuit television talk to so many party dinners did Eisenhower mention the vice president's name.

Nixon appeared on the program, speaking from Chicago, as did GOP leaders in a number of other cities and all of them lavished praise on the President. Nixon made the actual introduction of the President.

Eisenhower was deeply grateful and visibly touched by the laudatory remarks, but he concurred (See CAMPAIGN, Page 4)

Ohio Lawmaker Hits Spending For $54,000 Eagle Ornament

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) is far from being a confirmed bird hater, but a certain 34-foot eagle can rattle his temper at the drop of a feather.

It's the one the State Department wants to place on the roof of the American Embassy now under construction in London. It would cost $54,000.

This bird, says Hays, has to go. The sensitive subject came up for the second straight year Wednesday during closed hearings of the House subcommittee on State Department organization and foreign operations.

Hays said the subcommittee was surprised to learn that the department did not heed its suggestion last year to drop the proposed roof-top ornament because of the cost.

"The subcommittee told them that aside from the question of taste in having a 34-foot eagle on the roof, there was the question of wasting taxpayers' money," Hays said.

"I further told them what with all this screaming about the budget around here, leaving out $54,000 would be a good place to start."

The subcommittee, headed by Hays, questioned State Department officials about a request for a 40 million dollar authorization for new buildings during fiscal 1961 starting July 1.

Hays said the subcommittee found out that despite its suggestion last year that the eagle be dropped, the department had gone ahead and contracted for it.

"They had the money so there was nothing we could do about it," Hays said. "They just defied the committee."

Flu Deaths Up In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—One hundred and 27 persons have died of influenza and pneumonia in Los Angeles during the first two months of the year — more than double the number for the same time last year.

The sharp increase in deaths came during the Asian flu epidemic which has stricken more than a million residents since breaking out here two weeks ago.

The epidemics is now on the loose.

A report by city health officer George M. Uhl Wednesday said 109 persons died from pneumonia and 18 others from influenza. In the same period last year 59 persons died of pneumonia and one from flu.

MOMS CALLING — During evening hours today from 6 until 7:30 mothers will call at homes over the city asking for contributions to the March of Dimes. They will have identifying armbands and MOD canisters. Illustrative of the calls that will be made is the one above, with Mrs. C. N. Gage, Jr., left, Baker School PTA president, and Mrs. E. A. McLennan, Woodrow Wilson PTA president, calling at the home of Mrs. E. L. Henderson, 419 E. Foster, who is holding daughter, Ann. (Daily News Photo)

March Of Dimes Gets Two 'Really Big' Pushes

The New March of Dimes drive shifted into high gear again today with the announcement of a new and unusual event scheduled to take place the remainder of this week in an effort to meet needed demands for funds.

J. C. Roberts, Gray County campaign chairman, said that the newest stunt will start Saturday morning in which he and Sheriff Rufe Jordan will participate. Roberts and Jordan already are conducting a weight-lifting contest for the drive.

The two stout Pampans will allow themselves to be pushed down the highway in wheelbarrows Saturday morning. The determining factor in how far they go will depend on the generosity of "highway travelers and Pampa citizens."

The wheelbarrow containing Roberts will start at a point one mile west of Kisse Ford Co. and travel eastward until it meets the other wheelbarrow carrying Jordan, which will start a mile east of Kisse. Donations of 10 cents to either of the pushing teams will advance the wheelbarrows one foot. It is hoped that $1,056 can be raised in this manner. Pushing Jordan will be Ott Shewmaker and George Kleeburg will be pushed for Roberts.

Radio Station KHHH will be on hand with mobile units to accept phone calls and collect money from city residents. The station will broadcast progress reports periodically.

Meanwhile, Dennis Dane, engineer-announcer for Radio Station KPND, has completed almost 24 hours afloat in a cabin cruiser in the swimming pool of the Coronado Inn. He is attempting to gain pledges and donations of $1,000 before setting foot on dry land. He broadcasts throughout the day.

Persons wishing to pledge money are asked to call the Coronado Inn, MOhawk 5-2506, extension 22. Anchored near the boat in the Inn swimming pool is a saucer in which persons may attempt to hit with a 50-cent piece. Lucky persons will be given a night's free lodging at the hotel.

Dane said at noon today that "collections were coming in slowly," but that "it is a start."

Pampa mothers will be calling at residences this evening from 6:30 to 7:30 to collect gifts from householders. Persons wishing to make a gift are requested to turn on porch lights.

Saturday has been described by Roberts as the "really big day" in the March of Dimes drive. In addition (See MARCH, Page 4)

Dorticos Says Cuba-U.S. Can Resolve Differences

HAVANA (UPI)—President Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado blamed the United States Wednesday night for differences between America and Cuba, but said he believes they can be "resolved effectively" by diplomatic means.

In a televised speech to President Eisenhower's press-conference remarks about Cuba this week, Dorticos challenged the U.S. President on almost every point. The tone of his speech, however, was not hostile.

Dorticos was especially sharp in his rejection of Eisenhower's assertion that the "intrigues of international communism" are a factor in the growing coolness between the United States and Cuba.

He said American "misunderstanding" of the Cuban revolution, coupled with the "wrong influence on our nation" by the United States were the main causes of the current friction between the two countries.

Castro has not commented as yet on the Eisenhower statement. In a radio-TV broadcast early today, he referred only inferentially to differences between the United States and Cuba.

Castro's speech at an outdoor supper marking the 107th anniversary of the birth of Cuban patriot Jose Marti was in part an appeal to the Cuban people for independence and dignity.

Breeders Issue Call For Stock

Top of Texas Hereford Breeders issued their last call for cattle entries in the stock show scheduled for March 7 and 8 today.

The catalog will be printed next week, according to Ralph Thomas, catalog committee chairman. Thomas said anyone wishing to file entries for the show, should get their nominations in as soon as possible.

Fifty to 60 head of cattle have been entered in the show at the present time.

Deputies To Fetch Trio From Coast

Deputy Buck Haggard and Texas Ranger Bill Henstee left today for Reno, Calif., to pick up 18-year-old Cecil E. Sexton.

Haggard and Henstee will also turn forger Gerald Thompson from Portland, Ore., and Stanley Garbutt from Salt Lake City, Utah.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said although extradition proceedings have not been completed in Garbutt, Salt Lake City police will not hold him any longer, and "I think in the time the boys get there, proceedings will be completed."

Thompson "took" Pampa merchants for more than $1,000 in forged checks in less than four days. Sexton and Garbutt are wanted here for jail break and car theft Jan. 10. Both were awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary to begin serving sentences for burglary when they escaped from Gray County jail.

Jordan said Henstee and Haggard are expected to return with the prisoners in about eight to 10 days.

Battle Of The Bust Starts Mild Fashion War

Haves

PARIS (UPI)—Dressmaker Guy Laroche today restored the bust — flattened by the famed House of Dior — to a place of extreme importance on the properly gowned female form.

Laroche's line for spring gave welcome relief to the full-chested female after the pancake flat look decreed Wednesday by Dior designer Yves Saint-Laurent.

In his collection shown today Laroche considered the bust area so important that several of his dresses had jeweled pins at the top and bottom of the bust, connected by a chain.

One of his gowns for evening wear had a decollete slit almost down to the navel. Laroche did not bare chests to point up their importance. He achieved the effect with dressmaking workmanship.

Skirt lengths remained unchanged from last season — just covering the knee. Hats were small with upturned brims. Blouses were either chiffon or taffeta. Several of the skirts had 10-inch pleated panels near the hemline.

The collection of flat-chested Dior creations set Paris fashion circles on its ear, but Italian actress Sophia Loren said she wasn't the least bit worried about what the House of Dior had done to deflate the bust.

"I am sure I can fit into it," she said.

But American buyers said the new line of Dior creations would need some "explaining" before American women will accept them.

A spot check of buyer reaction indicated the rest of the Paris fashion pack would have to swallow the fact that Dior has spoken and its flat-as-a-pancake edict is it.

Mrs. Henrietta Moon, a top buyer for I. Magnin of California, praised Saint-Laurent's use of color, his prints and the "good construction" of his clothes.

Kay Kerr, buyer for Niemann-Marcus of Dallas, said, "I think it can be a bridge between thinking in America and in France if people don't kid it out of existence."

Have Not

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Movie-land reaction to the flat-chested look decreed by new Paris fashions ranged from Jayne Mansfield's prediction it would bind girls up like Ubangis to Kim Novak's warning it might forecast World War III.

All actresses polled on designer Yves Saint-Laurent and his house of Dior's "Lines of Tomorrow" were unanimous in their opinion that the style won't last much longer than Saturday, at the very latest.

Weighing into the battle at a healthy 41-18-35, Miss Mansfield said, "He'll have to get men to wear them, they'd be awfully confining."

"My mother was in the Flapper era and she has a large bosom," Jayne said. "She bound herself up so she'd look flat-chested and tore down all her bosom muscles which is not normal. It was a tremendously barbaric thing to do."

Using the call of the jungle to back up her argument, Jayne said, "Ubangi's hand their heads up so they appear longer, and to me this is not attractive."

"Of course, I'm not a Ubangi and maybe I don't look good to them," she said, adding, "but I do get fan letters and I guess some of them are from Ubangis."

Leaving darkest Africa behind, we next encounter Marnie Van Doren, 37-23-35 who tells Mr. Saint-Laurent to go jump in the Seine, or words to that effect.

"Women have gotten wise to the fact men like a figure to look at," she insisted.

Janet Leigh (36-21-35) also photocopied the new styles, saying "I want to wish them a lot of luck. It's a long way till 'tomorrow.'"

"I don't mean girls should wear the lightest sweater they can find," she explained. "On the other hand, you can't hide the fact we have bosoms."

Musical Hit Concert Captures Knife & Fork Club Audience

A departure from the usual programs presented by the Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club was given last night in the Pampa High School auditorium following dinner by members in the school cafeteria.

Doraine and Ellis were the featured performers. They presented a variety of selections from all-time great American musical shows.

The striking feature of the presentation was the array of costumes used by the couple. During the hour and one-half-long show each changed costumes five times. Ellis, in addition to a night of fine singing, presided over the microphone in a warm and friendly manner which captured the audience.

Before each selection the couple sang, Ellis would give a brief history of the show in which it appeared and the artists who performed in the show. He contributed information also about the authors of words and music for such great hits as "Chocolate Soldier," "Maytime," "Showboat," "Rio Rita," "My Fair Lady," "Oklahoma," "Annie Get Your Gun" and others.

Selections from each of the above musicals were sung by the couple.

The next club presentation will feature General Glubb Pasha, former Briton who commanded the Arab Legion in Jordan.

Duo-Piano Team In Concert Tonight

As the third offering of the Pampa Community Concert season, the leading two-piano team of Israel, Bracha Eden and Alexander Tamir will be presented in concert tonight at 8 p.m. in Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

The team has won acclaim on the American concert platform by reason of their expert collaboration, interesting programs and immediate audience appeal.

Following the concert this evening, Pampa Piano Teachers' Ass'n. will be hosts for a reception honoring the piano team in Coronado Inn.

$12 Million Austin Post Office Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The General Services Administration Wednesday asked Congress for funds to build a $12,929,000 post office building at Austin, Tex., and a $1,342,000 border inspection station at El Paso.

The GSA recommended the two construction projects to the public works committees of both the House and Senate and said it was ready to begin work if committee approval was given and funds appropriated.

The Austin building would house other government offices besides the post office department. It would have 479,000 square feet of floor space and would replace a federal building erected in 1914.

Ragsdale Service Set In Childress

Funeral services for Mrs. J. C. Ragsdale, 90, will be held Friday 2 p.m. in First Baptist Church, Childress, with the Rev. Finley Vanderberg of Amarillo officiating. Interment will be in Childress Cemetery.

Mrs. Ragsdale died 2 p.m. yesterday in Highland General Hospital.

She was born March 17, 1869 in Waverly, Tenn. and moved from Tennessee to Childress in 1912. She had made her home here with her son, R. W. Ragsdale, 429 Doyle, since 1930.

In addition to her son, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Fuller of Roton; ten grandchildren, two of whom live in Pampa, Mrs. E. C. Edwards and R. B. Ragsdale; and 13 great-grandchildren.

Duenkel Carmichael, Funeral Home reports that the body will be taken to Newberry Funeral Home in Childress today for service and burial on Friday.

Rotary Meets At Coronado Inn

Pampa Rotarians, holding their first meeting in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn, yesterday heard a talk on "The Art of Writing Letters" by William Butterfield of Texas Tech.

The speaker outlined several points to take into consideration when writing letters to make them effective, stressing that one should say what he means simply in direct words. Butterfield gave many examples of how poorly composed letters failed to convey the desired message, most of them amusing.

Club president Jack Edmondson announced that ladies' night would be February 17 in the Starlight Room.

Visitors and guests for the day were Jerry Walsh, Rev. Carroll Ray, J. B. Wiggam, J. L. Sands, Geo. Wilson, Norman Taylor, H. E. Craig, John Hill, J. E. Hill, "Benjamin," Benjamin, Royal Cantrell, Bob Riley, E. O. Wedgeworth, Ray Channel, Gary Dalton, Ray Bierley and Marvin Cooper.

The weather bureau warned that highways would stay dangerous from Ohio to Massachusetts today. In addition, four to six inches of snow were predicted for southern Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

Rising temperatures helped take the icy glaze off midwestern highways, where seven persons died in winter-blamed auto accidents.

Committee To Meet

The Top O' Texas Girl Scout development committee will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. Glen Richardson in Shamrock.

The group will hear reports from committee members, and plan the program of work the committee will carry out until the next charter meeting.

The membership nominating slate will also be presented at tomorrow night's meeting.

MARCH

(Continued From Page 1) dition to the "bucket brigade," to be conducted by city service clubs, there will be high school students stationed over town selling phonograph records, balloons, litter bags and lapel emblems.

Downtown merchants also will donate all money collected during a certain period Saturday from sales of coffee.

Funds already have been deposited to the MOD account, Roberts said, from McLean, and from other sources participating in the drive.

Lafors will have its mothers' march tonight.

Algerians Moslems Backing Neither France Nor Colonial

ALGIERS (UPI)—Moslem children sabotaged a French war veterans' parade supporting the settlers' rebellion against the Paris government today by scampering ahead of the color bearers and shouting "Algeria is Arab."

This added injury to the insult—as the veterans saw it—of a massive Moslem refusal to join either in the parade against French President Charles de Gaulle or their rallying cry of "Algerie Francaise" (Algeria is French).

About 50 children were involved, aged six to 12. Most were barefoot and in rags.

The veterans had urged Moslems to join en masse as they did during the Algiers insurrection of May 13, 1958, that toppled the French government and bought De Gaulle back to power. But this insurrection is no longer for De Gaulle, but against him.

The parade was delayed more than an hour while waiting for the Moslems to "assemble" with their fellow veterans. But only 160 out of the quarter million Moslems in Algiers were in the parade.

The abortive parade was another chink in the growing division between the French settlers and the native population over the present defiance of De Gaulle's authority.

The only Moslem demonstrations so far in Algeria took place Wednesday in Mostaganem, near Oran, when rioters demonstrated for De Gaulle and the army and against the insurgents. Twenty persons were injured in scuffles and a few shots fired.

The danger of an open break was so great that Governor General Paul Delouvier pleaded Wednesday night by radio with the increasingly rebellious Frenchmen to avert the threat of secession from France.

The reply by the insurgents from their cobble stone barricades in the heart of Algiers was a Gallic shrug of the shoulder and the bringing in of more heavy machineguns.

Pierre Lagallarde, the fiery redhead who is a leader of the insurgents, installed a powerful shortwave transmitter at his Algiers command post to keep in touch with rebels throughout Algeria.

There still was no action by the 500,000-man French army against the armed anti-government rebellion. Rather, there was more and more fraternization and presents of candy and chewing gum to the soldiers from the children of the insurgents.

The sprawling province of Algeria—as big as Alaska and Texas combined—was almost paralyzed by a general strike called by the settlers Sunday and new troubles were piling up for the government.

Moslems who must work to eat were without food and trouble flared Wednesday at Mostaganem in western Algeria near Oran when groups of pro-French Moslems demonstrated in the streets for de Gaulle, for the army and against the settlers. Firing broke out and six persons were shot.

Stamp Collectors Club Formed Here

A new stamp collectors club has been formed in Pampa. The first meeting of the group was held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the city commission room in city hall. Warren Hasse will act as temporary chairman until officers can be elected and a name selected.

Tentative plans of the organization are to meet twice a month in St. Vincent DePaul cafeteria and buying a Scott catalog.

Members said anyone interested in joining the club may attend the first formal meeting Feb. 14.

Billford Stolen

Mrs. R. E. Arey reported to the police department at 11:15 a.m. yesterday that her billfold was stolen.

Mrs. Arey told police the pink billfold, containing about $4.50 in cash and personal papers was stolen from her home sometime Sunday morning while the family was at church.

Police would not say immediately how many arrests were made or what their pre-dawn strike disclosed.

The Algerian uprising grew constantly in scope and there was the imminent danger that Algeria might "secede" from France or that angry Moslems would turn the situation there into a three-way battle.

De Gaulle also announced he would visit the council of state today, a move that touched off speculation he had other emergency measures in mind.

Nixon Will Campaign On Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Richard M. Nixon offered the nation's voters today 1960-GOP presidential campaign based on the Eisenhower administration's "outstanding" record and a pledge to improve it.

President Eisenhower, Nixon and other top Republican leaders formally opened the campaign Wednesday night at a nationwide series of 83 "dinner with the banquets" in 43 states.

Speaking from Los Angeles the diners via closed circuit television, Eisenhower advised publicans to campaign on basic policies of his administration which had made the country "over-all the strongest power earth, both militarily and economically."

Nixon, unopposed for the presidential nomination, told largest of the dinners, in Chicago that, Republicans would win the election fight with a pledge to improve as well as continue "outstanding" record of the Eisenhower administration.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who bowed out of a fight with Nixon for the GOP nomination, said the party could not meet the "staggering responsibilities" of the future only with the devices and programs of Eisenhower era. But he praised the President and his accomplishments.

Nixon, who introduced Eisenhower to the estimated 100 television viewers, warned his party against any temptation to "mug and self-satisfied" about past achievements. He said the GOP must consider the Eisenhower record as "the solid foundation upon which to build even greater accomplishments."

In New York City, Republican National Chairman Thurston Morton scoffed at "politically motivated" Democratic critics of the President's defense program "with their paper hats and woody swords."

'Too Much, Too Soon' Was Story Of Diana Barrymore

EDITOR'S NOTE: Diana Barrymore — member of the "royal family" of the American theater who tried and failed to make it big on the stage — died tragically at 38 on Monday. Her tempestuous life ran its course in Newport, so-called adulthood debauchery, affairs and shame. This sketch tells of her last days, fighting for success and her own life.

By H. D. QUIGG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Of course," said a movie reviewer of the actress in her 20's, Diana Barrymore played the part to the hilt, and right on past the hill halfway up to the elbow. She played life that way, too, was in Hollywood that her cadgers began to vanish. What she did "the family sickness" of a famed actor forebears was on. On the lots, it was known she had begun to drink seriously.

The life of the girl who was named Diana, Bianca Barrymore Blythe (the family's name was Blythe, its stage name Barrymore) was a fairy tale in reverse. It started with the dainty foot in the glass slipper and run backwards to Cinderella scribbling in rags in the einders. She remembered she had her first drink when she was 11. Daddy bought it. Daddy was John Barrymore, the great profile, most famous actor of his day. Paying her one of his extremely rare visits, he picked her up at a Baltimore school, took her to dinner and bought her a brandy Alexander. She had two before dinner was over.

A critic once wrote that "Diana Barrymore was born with a silver spoon in her mouth — but she choked on it." She herself titled her autobiography, published in 1937, "Too Much, Too Soon." But the death which she herself had prophesied after she had started drinking again recently came when she knew she had achieved too little, too late.

In the book she wrote that she had lived three lives: "First, that of a child reared by governesses in New York and Paris, who became her 'enfant terrible' of society columnist Cholly Knicker bocker and El Morocco and Princeton week ends, and all the marvelous gold and tinsel of the social register.

"Then, that of a young actress on Broadway and in Hollywood, who tried desperately to live up to a fabulous name in a world bounded by her father's escapades and her own confusion.

"And third, there is the life I have led since — a life which I often think needs the combined talents of a Tennessee Williams and a Dostoevski to explain, and the wisdom and compassion of a St. Augustine to forgive."

New York gossip columnists linked her name romantically with that of playwright Tennessee Williams, but he said they were just good friends. It was in a play of his that she scored a success last spring in Chicago. That was after a long climb back from the depths.

When her third husband, Robert Wilcox, the actor — with whom she married so conspicuously that their names were often in headlines — died in 1935, she remembered her doctor's warnings: "You are on a dreadful merry-go-round — alcohol, barbiturates, stimulants. If you don't get off quickly, you will die. Your drinking has already given you the beginnings of cirrhosis of the liver. . . you simply cannot continue to torment your body as you have been doing. It took your father 60 years to do it. You keep this up and you'll manage in a much shorter time."

She put herself into Towns Hospital, a dry-out clinic which her father had favored in his time. She shook the alcohol and barbiturates, came out, completed the book with Gerold Frank as collaborator. She worked hard, appeared in summer stock, off-Broadway, and on the road.

Reviews were encouraging but nothing to place her near the eminence of daddy, or aunt Ethel Barrymore, or uncle Lionel Barrymore, or the others, including great-uncle John Drew, and great-grandmother Louisa Lane who was Mrs. John Drew, the elder. Friends said she stopped drinking perhaps a couple of years but had started again last Christmas "although she knew she would die if she drank." Another friend,

Mrs. Irving Kupcinet of Chicago, said that "she had a morbid foreboding all last week, saying, 'I am running out of time' and 'I will die soon.'"

She also said Diana had told her to "get a nice black hat and veil for my funeral — it's going to be soon."

It was reported that four policemen removed Diana from the audience of a Broadway play about 10 days ago when she arrived intoxicated and caused a scene after taking her seat.

She denied that she was intoxicated. Dr. Colter Rule had been treating her for chest pains. Some friends had dropped in to see her the night before her death. There were three empty liquor bottles in the kitchen and some sedative tablets in a cabinet of her apartment when a maid found her.

On the bed, nude, was the body that had held a soul in anguish. There remained the statistics. Born New York March 5, 1921. Nationality: Irish, English, German descent. Height, five feet four. Eyes brown, hair brown. The autopsy showed no violence. Apparently, as her lawyer said, "she went to sleep and didn't wake up."

Too much, too soon, or too little, too late.

Apple Meat Ball Recipe Is Keyed To Appease Healthy Young Appetites

"Apple Meat Balls," a recipe submitted by Mrs. N. L. B. Davis, Throckmorton, was chosen the best combination of economy beef and Cornet Rice in the recent Texas Beef Council contest.

"You can't imagine how much beef I cook," Mrs. Davis said, "my family includes three active youngsters."

The Davises live about 15 miles from their ranch, and spend many week-ends there. Their home in Throckmorton is on the edge of the city, and they are able to keep a horse for their 12-year-old son and 6- and 10-year old daughters to ride after school.

"The children nearly always spend Saturday at the ranch," Mrs. Davis said, "working up enormous appetites."

Mrs. Davis' recipe is proportioned for other healthy young appetites. It makes 8 servings.

- APPLE MEAT BALLS
- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
  - 1 apple
  - 1 small onion, chopped
  - 2 pieces celery, chopped
  - 5 soda crackers
  - 1 egg
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1 tablespoon brown sugar
  - 4 tablespoons cooking oil
  - 4 tablespoons flour
  - 4 cups cooked Cornet Rice
- Core and chop unpeeled apple, onion, and celery and crush soda crackers. Add to beef. Add beaten egg, salt and sugar and mix well. Form into small balls. Dredge with flour and brown in hot vegetable oil or drippings. Remove beef from skillet. Blend flour into fat to make smooth paste and slowly add hot water to make medium thin gravy. Spread the hot cooked Cornet Rice in a large serving tray. Pour gravy over rice and arrange meat balls on top.

Dip 'N Dressing

Good Party News

Good news for party-goers and party-servers is a brand new dairy speciality, Dip 'N Dressing. Sealtest introduces it specially packaged in gay reusable bowls, in three intriguing flavors: Bacon and Horseradish, Blue Cheese, and French Onion.

As its name tells, the new product is equally versatile for dipping and dunking with crackers, potato chips, any crisp nibblers—and for service as salad dressing. Its three distinctive flavors offer variety for most any dunking or salad-making purpose, with taste to suit. Dip 'N Dressing is a cultured blend of cream and milk, with varied condiments, flavor and seasoning ingredients.

The one-half pint reusable bowls—a practical and graceful size for table service either as "dunking" or salad-bowl—come in three colors, Chinese red, jonquil yellow, and French blue. The red bowl of Dip 'N Dressing contains Bacon and Horseradish; the yellow bowl Blue Cheese; and the blue bowl French Onion. All three have distinctive but delicate character—a versatile addition to the great family of read-to-use foods.

In this picture, a bowl of Bacon and Horseradish Dip 'N Dressing centers a tray filled with interesting "dipping" foods—shrimp cucumber slices and wedges of tomato. Crisp crackers flank the central tray.

CAKE SAYS "I LOVE YOU"—This delightful Sweetheart Cake can easily highlight your Valentine party or dinner. The shape is made possible by new rigid foil cake pans now available in supermarkets.

Put Your Heart Into Baking Cupid's Cake

Valentine's Day brings the annual February 14 challenge to put your heart into your cooking—literally that is! This year, for the first time, aluminum foil provides an answer.

Nothing is more symbolic of the holiday of love than the traditional cupid's heart. But as a shape for cooking, a heart just won't come out of a round or square pan.

Now, one aluminum wrap manufacturer is marketing a heart-shaped disposable rigid aluminum foil pan. This inspirational development opens all sorts of possibilities for Valentine cookery, whether for the "special" party, or as a gay touch for a family dinner.

One Valentine suggestion is to bake a delicious Sweetheart layer-cake topped with fluffy pink frosting. Foil heart pans come in a package of two for layer-cake ease.

For those proud cooks who like to mix their own, the recipe for this tantalizing cake and frosting follows. A box of cake mix also will make enough to fill the two heart shapes.

SWEETHEART CAKE

- 1 cup shortening
- 2 cups sugar
- 4 eggs, beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 cups sifted cake flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk

1. Grease; flour 2 Heart Shaped Foil Pans.
2. Cream shortening until soft.
3. Add sugar gradually, continuing to cream until light, fluffy.
4. Add eggs, vanilla; beat thoroughly.
5. Sift flour, baking powder, salt together.
6. Alternately add in thirds, flour mixture, milk; beat well after each addition.
7. Pour into foil pans; spread evenly.
8. Bake 30-35 minutes at 350 degrees F.
9. When done, remove from oven; let stand 5 minutes.
10. Turn out onto cooling rack; turn, top, side up; cool.
11. Frost with Fluffy Pink Frosting.

FLUFFY PINK FROSTING

- 2 eggs whites, unbeaten
- 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 3 tablespoons cold water
- 1 1/2 teaspoons white corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Few drops red food coloring

1. Place egg whites, sugar, water, corn syrup in top of double boiler; beat until thoroughly blended.
2. Place over rapidly boiling water.
3. Beat constantly with hand or electric beater until frosting will stand in peaks on beater.
4. Remove from heat; add vanilla, red food coloring; blend.

Hunter's Stew
Uses Short-Cuts

Although stew meats still need long, slow cooking to develop tenderness and flavor, there are many short-cuts with modern foods that will reduce the time in the kitchen. Paring and chopping of vegetables and the fear of lumpy gravy have been reduced to a minimum for this recipe developed in the Martha Logan Test Kitchens takes advantage of canned or frozen vegetables and soups.

HUNTER'S STEW
Yield: 8 servings (8 cups)

- 1 1/2 pounds beef stew meat, cut into 1 inch cubes
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup sliced celery
- 1 pound can (2 cups) tomatoes
- 1 cup water
- 2 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 bay leaf
- 10 ounce package frozen succotash
- 10 ounce package frozen peas and carrots
- 4 ounce can mushroom pieces (optional)
- 1/2 cup uncooked macaroni pieces
- 2 tablespoons water

Melt fat in a large kettle. Add meat and brown well on all sides. Stir in onion and celery and brown. Add tomatoes, water, salt, pepper, chili powder, and bay leaf. Cover and simmer 2 hours. Add vegetables and macaroni are done. To thicken broth, stir into stew 1 tablespoon cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoons water. Cook and stir over low heat until broth is clear and thickened.

Helpful Hints In Home Magazine

Here are some helpful cooking hints from the pages of the February issue of The American Home Magazine.

Home to plump raisins. Seedless raisins may be made plump by washing and spreading them in a moderate oven until the raisins puff up and lose their wrinkles.

For fluffy meringue. Puffy, fluffy meringue is easy to make by separating eggs when they first come from the refrigerator and allowing the whites to stand at room temperature for awhile before beating them.

Bread crumbs. To prepare soft bread crumbs, pull day-old bread into crumbs with fork or fingers. For dry bread crumbs, remove crusts from stale loaf and dry bread thoroughly in slow oven. Crush with rolling pin or put through food grinder or blender.

How to sour milk. If the recipe calls for sour milk and there is none on hand, simply add 1 tablespoon of lemon juice or vinegar to 1 cup of sweet milk and let stand for 15 minutes.

Previously called Kent, Londonberry, V.I., was given its new name by homestick arrivals from Londonberry, N.H.

Red Flannel Hash Is Easy On Pocketbook

Red Flannel Hash began along New England's rocky coast, back when creative cookery meant using the same home-corned beef and root cellar vegetables in different ways to make them palatable day-in-and-day-out. Ruby red beets brighten this baked dish of corned beef, potatoes, and onion, which followed a boiled dinner of corned beef and cabbage sure as baked beans came Saturday night.

Today's creative cooking starts with an abundant variety of convenience foods that imaginative homemakers use for new dishes, or turning old regional favorites into tempting modern fare. For a novel family treat that's easy to budget and glowing with color, fix Red Flannel Hash in minutes with frozen French fries (the same kind you crisp and heat for wonderful fries) as the potatoes, and canned beets, already diced, to bake with the cubed cooked meat.

Any leftover beef or even ham may be substituted for the corned beef; in that case use consommé instead of the corned beef liquor for moistening. Cut the handy strips of already scrubbed, peeled, cut-up, and delicately cooked potato into bite-sized pieces before mixing with the meat, beets, and minced onion.

An Irishman we know says his mother always ground her vegetables and meat; that way the beef juice soaked everything with true red flannel color! Get out the grinder if you wish; the cut up version given in several old recipes is quicker, and looks inviting. Putting eggs to bake in the hot hash 10-15 minutes before so is another idea to use or not, as you wish. They'll give extra protein when Red Flannel Hash is main dish in a dinner menu as this:

RED FLANNEL HASH
(serves 4)

- 1 9-ounce package frozen French fries
- 1/4 cup minced onion
- 1 cup diced cooked corned beef
- 1 cup diced cooked beets, or canned
- 1/2 cup corned beef stock
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of freshly ground pepper
- 4 eggs
- Parsley or watercress to garnish
- Thaw French fries slightly in 1/2 inch pieces. Mix all ingredients except eggs and parsley in place in greased 5-cup shallow casserole. Cover and bake in hot degrees F.) oven 20 minutes.
- Spoon, press 4 hollows in hash and drop an egg in each hot spot.
- Refrigerate until whites are set. Yolks hard or soft as desired. Garnish with parsley or watercress.
- NOTE: Roast beef, pork, ground ham may be substituted for corned beef, and consommé for the corned beef stock.

Distinctive Flavor Added With Cheese

Sharp cheddar cheese lends its distinctive flavor to a combination of beans, pimiento, eggs and seasonings that emerges from the oven a hearty Cheese and Bean Loaf:

CHEESE AND BEAN LOAF WITH TOMATO SAUCE

- 3 cups cooked, dried beans
- 4 cups corn flakes
- 1 1/2 cups shredded sharp cheddar cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup onions finely chopped
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme
- 3 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups cooked tomatoes
- 1/2 cup catsup

Mash beans well. Crush corn flakes slightly. Combine with beans, cheese, salt, thyme, pimiento, milk and eggs; mix well. Pack lightly in 9 1/2 x 5 1/2 inch loaf pan which has been well-greased and lined with waxed paper. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes; turn out onto heated platter.

Meanwhile, brown onions in heated butter; blend in flour. Gradually stir in tomatoes, catsup and salt. Cook slowly until thickened, about 10 minutes. Serve sauce over loaf. Yield: 8 servings.

Note: Leftover boiled or baked navy or lima beans may be used.

Polish Pot-Roast Has Modern Taste

The American version of the Polish Stufada uses modern bacon for flavor in place of salt pork formerly tucked into slits in the beef pot roast. A blade bone or rump roast of beef may be used in this recipe, though a round bone beef pot roast is shown here.

POLISH-AMERICAN POT ROAST OF BEEF

- 4 to 5-pound round bone beef pot roast
- 8 slices bacon
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 4 medium carrots, pared and quartered
- 4 medium onions, peeled
- 4 peppercorns
- 1/2 cup water

Cut the bacon into small pieces. Cook the bacon in a heavy kettle. Remove the bits of bacon from the kettle. Pour off all but 2 tablespoonsful of the drippings. Brown the pot roast in the bacon drippings. Slip a rack under the roast in the kettle. Add the bits of cooked bacon and remaining ingredients. Cover tightly and simmer 2 to 3 hours or until fork-tender. Make gravy by thickening drippings in the pan with flour.

Credit Union Has Dividend

LEFORS (Sp) — A five percent dividend has been declared by the board of directors of the Columbian Carbon Credit Union Friday night. It was announced by Bill Teel, treasurer.

In a meeting in the high school cafeteria, Charles Roberts was elected president for the next two years. Edgar Rosson was elected vice president and R. C. Fields, secretary, both to serve two year terms. Howard Archer and Bill Teel have one more year each, to serve. G. A. Hammer is outgoing president.

Invocation was led by Gene Fort. Reports were given by Hammer, board of directors; Teel, treasurer; Lonnie Ables, credit committee, and Fort, supervisory committee.

Hammer stated that new by-laws state that the Board meet once each month, an annual salary was to be paid the treasurer, and members of the supervisory committee will be appointed by the board instead of elected to office.

Tony Timmons and Calvin Lacy were elected by acclamation to serve with Ables on the credit committee. It was reported by Ables that 64 loans had been approved in 49 special meetings.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investors should not become too concerned with the January dip, as it represents a natural "retacement" of a portion of the October-to-January rally, according to Investors Research Co.

The market did not record a sharply "overbought" condition at the January high, it notes, and the minor reaction has failed to build liquidating pressure.

"This month's reaction should be regarded as an opportunity for under-invested accounts to bring their positions up to the recommended 90 per cent level," the service adds.

Bache & Co. believes the strong technical position of Atlas Powder indicates further upward potential.

Because of extreme selectivity on the buying side in the last six months, aggressive stock accumulation is undesirable, says Stock Trend Service.

Reynolds & Co. says a further sharp rise in the earnings of American Steel Foundries is likely in the current year. "The company's new pressure pouring steel process has added a new dimension to its activities."

FAITH SHATTERED

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twelve reserve officers training corps cadets of the Brooklyn Polytechnic institute Wednesday erected a scale model pontoon across a swimming pool in a training project.

Displaying confidence in his students, assistant military science professor Maj. Max E. Swastick stepped out on the bridge. The bridge sank as the major made it dry to poolside.

On this day in history:
 In 1871, Paris was captured by the Prussians in the Franco-Prussian War.
 In 1878, the first commercial telephone switchboard was set in operation in New Haven, Conn. Telephone users receiving calls cried out "ahoy-ahoy" rather than the later greeting of "hello."
 In 1922, the weight of 29 inches of snow caused the roof of the Knickerbocker Theatre in Washington to collapse, killing 95 persons and injuring many more.
 In 1954, American restaurants raised their prices of coffee from 10 to 15 cents a cup, and in grocery stores coffee sold as high as $1.35 a pound.
 A thought for today: Shakespeare wrote in Henry the Sixth: "A little fire is quickly trodden out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

Riot Of Color Trend For Home Furnishings

By KAY SHERWOOD

NEA Staff Writer
Whatever else 1960 may bring home furnishings, it is stirring a riot of color. Brilliant or color blazes a trail through literature collections, fabrics and coverings, scattering unusual and combinations like buck-to-dazzle the eye and gladden spirit.

Home designers with an adventurous approach to decorating will sample opportunity to indulge themselves. Timid conservatives will be coaxed out of their stance on neutrals by the beauty colors which turn up on fabrics, fall in the "easy care" division no more difficult to keep a air upholstered in a rich amethyst or a vibrant peacock blue being presentable than if it is brown tweed. If the fabric readily cleaned.

The colorful new look to the home was underscored in a model home designed by Dorothy Liebes recently displayed at the international home furnishings market Chicago. In this, a red Orlon-blended carpet (the first such) flecked with blue made a lush base for brilliant purple and orange upholstered chairs. The chairs, with their detachable legs removed, were pushed up to the edge of a shallow square well in which were two small marble-topped tables under a giant-size globe-like lighting fixture. Incidentally, the use of the well or pit in the middle of a room was a feature of extremely modern homes in the 1920s and it looks as though it is picking up greater acceptance. You can expect to see more furniture styled to surround the sunken square.

A combination of red, purple and orange may not be just what you had in mind for a new color scheme this spring, but this is an extreme statement of exciting possibilities. Purple, in all its shades from the regal, deep-purple to delicate, misty lavender, crops up everywhere, including charming little rugs for bedrooms.

Blues, greens, reds in shades reminiscent of an oriental potentiate's trappings, also abound. At the same time, quieter colors like soft apricot, pale green, and sandy yellow are on tap in fabrics and carpets.

The difficulty with this almost overwhelming palette is accurately naming any one color. One color or consultant for a large chain store remarked that consumers would benefit greatly from some industry-wide effort to standardize colors and color names. To this we say, "amen."

A promising development as we start a new decade for customers like me is that manufacturers are growing much more mindful of our desire for quality and good design in merchandise we can afford.

In new fabrics for curtains for example, there is a remarkable selection of really fine, high-style designs and color combinations which are priced to sell for well under three dollars a yard (some are under two dollars a yard).

RUTH MILLETT Junior Auxiliary Officers Installed

It's a fact:
—That if you are genuinely pleased when good fortune smiles on your friends, they'll be just as pleased when you get a lucky break.

—That is you smile at others, you'll usually get a smile in return.
—That is you are quick to step in to help others when they need it, you'll be surprised at how quickly others rush in to help you when you need their support.

—That is you are slow to criticize others you won't be judged quite so harshly yourself.
—That is you expect honesty of others instead of being suspicious of them, you'll rarely be disappointed.

—That is you genuinely like children, they will not only like you but will be on their best behavior when they are around you.
—That if you ignore another person's unpleasantness or bad humor it will soon disappear.

—That if you don't try to grab all the credit that is your due, others will be more inclined to see that you get it.
—That if you have confidence in yourself, others will have confidence in you.

—That if you brag about what good neighbors you have, you aren't likely to have any trouble with them.
—That if you have the wonderful ability to be able to laugh at yourself, others aren't likely to laugh at you.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I am married to a crazy man or not. We are now living in Eugene, Oregon. My husband's Daddy called him from Pine Bluff, Arkansas, last night and told him that Bozo my husband's dog died, so my husband drove to Pine Bluff to bury his dog.

Do dogs have funerals. A bby? Bozo was an old dog and my husband raised him from a pup. But in the six years we've been married my husband has lost several uncles and he never bothered to go to any of their funerals. What do you think of a man who will start out in the middle of the night to drive halfway across the country to bury a dog?

ONLY A WIFE
DEAR WIFE: A man's devotion or his dog can't be measured in units and uncles. Your husband is dog-gone normal.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am being petty, but I want to get your point of view. What do you do about a woman who always grasps a man's hand (the one in which the match is held) while he lights her cigarette? Both parties are married, but not to each other. The man is my husband and this woman is a free-lance widow. I trust my husband but I don't trust her. I don't want to make a big thing out of this because I don't want to appear jealous. But how should I handle it?

ANNOYED
DEAR ANNOYED: Simmer down before you get all burned up. The pour soul is probably trying to get a cheap thrill. Ignore the performance. You've got the bonfire and she's getting the sparks.

DEAR ABBY: I like a boy and he says he likes me, but listen to this: When I ask him to walk me home, he says he has to stay after school. But five minutes after I get home, I see him walking right past my house. He says he has to do his homework. Then I see him standing around outside doing nothing. He is 14 and so am I. How can I win his love?

DEE DEE
DEAR DEE DEE: He's shy, immature, bashful, timid, self-conscious and 14. There is only one cure for this. Wait until he's 18.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BEING USED": Of course you are. Simply tell your friend that she can no longer "copy" your homework. You have not been "helping" her. You have not been "helping" her cheat.

Have you read Abby's new, best-selling book, "DEAR TEEN-AGER"?

Cross-Fire And Backlashes BY CHARLIE CROSS

Ted Keating, writing in Sports Afield, says rabbit hunters can add excitement to their sport by "moving up" to the handgun. The method is just this: find a warm hillside and wait. Long-range accuracy requires a long-barreled handgun. If you're getting tired of the usual methods, try a handgun. It's different.

Confused, or blinded by my headlights, he crossed the road again going in the other direction. I nearly got him the second time, but he got by me. Fishing season will be on before we know it, and some people are already going at it hot and heavy. Bill Green tells me Ray and Clarence Horton, fishing in a private lake in Oklahoma caught nine big crappie one day last week. He also says the crappie should begin hitting in Canton lake before long. They're already hitting at Possum Kingdom. Every release I get from Mrs. Hank Satterwhite shows good catches on crappie, bass and channel cat.

Senior Tournament In Second Round

DUNDEIN, Fla. (UPI) — The oldest of the oldtimers teed off for the second round of the PGA Seniors golf tournament today mindful of "age does make a difference." The players from 55 past 80 resumed play today after the "youngsters" (age 50-54) Wednesday produced fewer better cards than the top scorers turned in by the older brackets on opening day Tuesday.

Al Watrous, 60, three-time winner of the Seniors, led the pack on opening day with a one-under-par 71. But he was with the field of players ranging in age from 55 past 80.

Amateur American Matador Wants To Make Bulls His Biz

By ED FITE
United Press International

LAREDO, Tex. (UPI)—A routine vacation in Mexico made a bullfighter out of a former Marine from Stratford, Conn.

Paul Ehlerl had just been discharged from the service in 1955 when he decided to spend a two-week vacation in Mexico.

It turned out to be a four-year stay. Now, he doesn't want to leave at all.

The 24-year-old novillero (amateur bullfighter) made up his mind about becoming a matador during an afternoon in El Toreo bull ring in Mexico City.

"Guillermo Carvajal was on the card that day and he was so spectacular that from that day on I made up my mind that I wanted to become a bullfighter," the blond, blue-eyed, slightly-built youngster said.

"It hasn't been easy. Since making up his mind, Ehlerl has sold Bibles in San Antonio and has been a pin setter in a bowling alley, a factory pressman and a tree surgeon in Los Angeles trying to make enough money to finance his ambition.

Finally, with $1,000 in his pocket, he left Los Angeles and headed back to Mexico City and the bulls.

Ehlerl has been in 12 formal novilladas and killed 16 bulls. Most of them have been around Mexico City.

For extra dough he has entered—and won—amateur singing contests in Monterrey, Ciudad Juarez and Acapulco.

While in Juarez, he attended a fight in which another American, Rocky Moody, was gored and later lost a leg as a result. But, that didn't faze Ehlerl.

During another bullfight at which he was a spectator, he jumped from the stands and made several passes at the bull. He was hauled off to jail for his trouble. But, matador Luis Procuna, who was fighting on the card that day, thought enough of his spunk to bail him out.

Ehlerl, who was visiting here while trying to line up appearances at Nuevo Laredo, across the Rio Grande in Mexico, said he plans to return to Mexico City to practice some more.

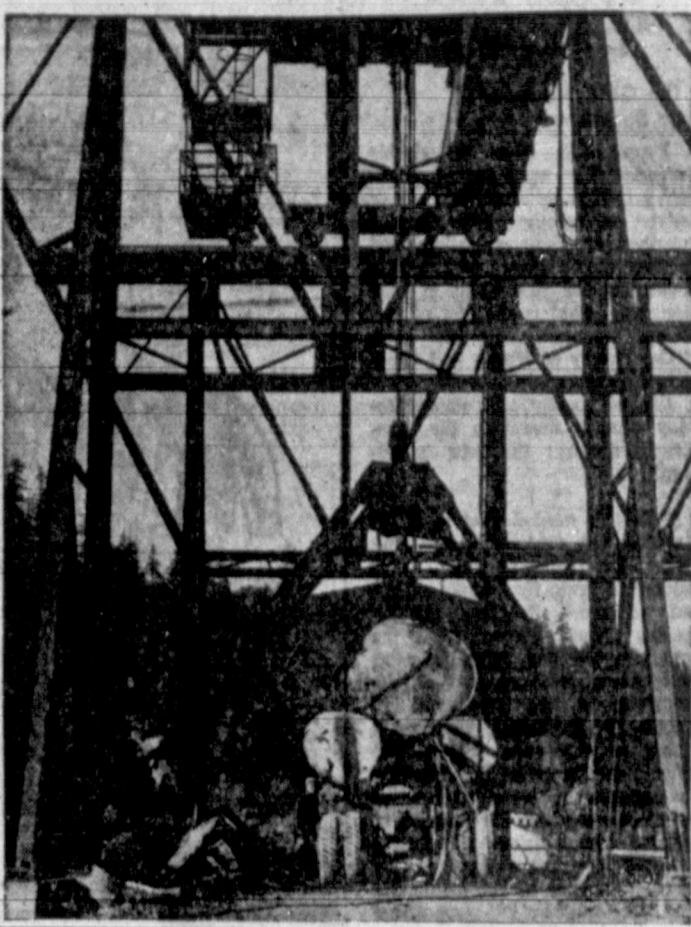

"Being an American has had its advantages and disadvantages," Ehlerl said. "Promoters probably think people simply go to my bullfights just because I'm an American and not to see how good a performer I am."

Average life span of a goose is 65 years.

Ship Workers Out On Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shipyard workers were on strike today at eight Bethlehem Steel Co. Atlantic Coast yards halting work on an estimated two billion dollars worth of ship building.

Members of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers went on strike against six yards at midnight Wednesday night. Two others were shut down last Friday in a dispute with the company over a new contract.

The new strike affected three New York City yards, two in Baltimore and one in East Boston, Mass. Previously closed by the walkout were the Fore River yard in Quincy, Mass., and the Hoboken, N.J., yard.

Union negotiators called the strike because meetings with federal mediators here had failed

The union has been without a contract since last July 31. Negotiations broke down over work rules, classifications and higher pay last week.

Cattlemen Urged To Help In Price Fight

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.) today urged the American National Cattlemen's Assn. to join with producers of basic crops and work together for higher farm prices and an end to farm surpluses.

Poage, vice chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, was the principal speaker at today's opening session of the ANCA's 63rd annual convention.

He said Congress is working to balance the supply of farm products with demand "so the inexorable laws of economics would work to the advantage, and not to the destruction, of producers."

But Congress can't do the job alone, he told the cattlemen.

Poage suggested deliberate production cutbacks by feed producers as a way to halt the skyrocketing beef supply and bring higher prices to both cattle raisers and farmers.

"I think the cattle industry needs to join with producers of basic crops in an effort to maintain substantially higher prices for all farm products," he said. "This does not mean that we must all accept the commodity loan program, the direct payment program, or any other detail of anybody's farm program."

Poage also suggested that the cattlemen try a stepped-up beef promotion program as a way to increase the market for beef products.

"By so doing," he said, "we would not only aid the cattle industry, and the hog and sheep business, but we would go a long way toward helping the corn farmer who is now faced with a surplus of a billion and a half bushels per year," Poage said.

Lagging prices and the alarming increase of cattle being raised in the United States today are two of the biggest problems confronting the industry, according to G. R. (Jack) Milburn, ANCA president.

In his annual address to the association, Milburn warned the cattlemen to arm themselves for "fighting against."

Withdrawal of federal lands from free range use.

Individuals or governments which would take away their water rights.

The continued rise of beef and beef product imports.

The possible abolishment of voluntary beef grading.

Brucellosis, a disease of cattle.

More than 2,500 cattlemen are in Dallas for the convention, which lasts through Saturday.

Mother Says Hospital Was Neglectful

AUSTIN (UPI)—Mrs. Mary E. Savala was to go before the Travis county grand jury today to present accusations that Brackenridge Hospital authorities were guilty of neglect in the death of her 16-year-old son last week.

Mrs. Savala is a widow with three living children.

She first leveled the charges against the city-operated hospital Wednesday in an interview with Wray Weddell Jr., a writer for the Austin Statesman.

Her son, Frank, died at the hospital last Friday. He was an inpatient.

Mrs. Savala said the youth was taken to the hospital Thursday with a high fever, but the hospital sent him home shortly afterward. On Friday, she said, she was advised the boy had pneumonia and took him back to the hospital, where he died at 4:40 p.m.

Hospital Administrator Arthur Crandall said everything that was possible under the institution's crowded conditions was done.

The boy was not admitted immediately, he said, because it would have been necessary to put him in isolation and the hospital didn't have room in isolation at the time.

Mrs. Savala's grand jury appearance was requested by her employer, Austin real estate developer Wallace L. Mayfield.

Foreign News

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

Just over a year and a half ago, Gen. Charles de Gaulle returned as the savior of a disintegrating France and spoke words which this week had a sorry echo.

Before a French Assembly which was to surrender to him all its authority, he demanded "full powers to be able to act in conditions of effectiveness and speed ... for a period of six months, hoping that by the end of that term order will have been restored in the state, hope rediscovered in Algeria and union remade in the nation."

That was June 1, 1958.

The Fourth French Republic was dead, largely a victim of its own ineffectiveness in Algeria where the "colons"—the European settlers—were in open revolt with strong support from the army.

In his own words and by his own choice, one of his major tasks was that there should be "hope rediscovered in Algeria."

This week de Gaulle faced his sternest test. The "colons" once more were in revolt, and for the same reason.

Their rallying cry was: "Algeria forever French."

And just as they believed the Fourth Republic intended to abandon them, to leave them stateless persons in a Moslem state whose ties with France were severed, so now they believed de Gaulle also intended to abandon them.

De Gaulle stood firm. To Moslem rebels and "colons" alike he promised that once peace had been restored to Algeria, then preparations would be made for a referendum in which Algerians would decide for themselves whether to remain with France or be independent.

To the French settlers, many of whose families had lived in Algeria for three or more generations, it meant the "autocess of the coffin"—meaning get-out-or-die.

De Gaulle's problem seemingly was insoluble. Yet there were important differences in the situation as it existed in early 1960 and as it was in May and June of 1958.

De Gaulle now was vested enormous power his government could not be toppled at the whim of the capricious French Assembly. The Algerian settlers' revolt was receiving scant sympathy at home, and, so far at least, the army was with de Gaulle.

So far as the future of Algeria was concerned, de Gaulle clearly hoped and believed it would remain tied with France. Algerian Moslem rebels who have fought the French for more than five years, he believed, were in the minority.

Thus he could promise the "Colons" that their ties with France would remain, while at the same time promising the Moslems a free choice.

Never Get It Back

During the costly and foolish steel strike of 1954, the average steel worker lost $1,982 in wages. Some lost more than this...

And there is a growing feeling of unrest among the rank and file with less and less inclination to try to settle disputes by means of a walkout.

But here's an interesting point which many have not noted. The first wage increase under the new contract do not have to be paid until December of 1960.

Now, as the nation hitches up its trousers to get back into full production, the looming shadow of a possible rail strike is darkening the sky.

Even considering the size of the raise which will be made and will be enormous, the average worker will find that it will take him four years and ten months to earn back in $1,982 in wages he lost thru the strike.

Now, as the nation hitches up its trousers to get back into full production, the looming shadow of a possible rail strike is darkening the sky.

The joker is plain to see. The steelworkers have been "had."

When the American workmen decide to practice some of the stoic virtues which were so in evidence when this nation was founded, we'll have an end to this constant labor unrest.

Oddly enough, these facts are now seen and comprehended by many of the union men themselves.

Paternalistic management is bad, paternalistic labor bossism is worse. But the apex of the evil will be reached if and when the working man surrenders what is left of his freedom to a paternalistic government.

Horse Sense

"Now, therefore, be it resolved: That the California Board of Education go on record as urging parents to teach pre-school children the letters of the alphabet, the letter sounds; to encourage them to read before starting to school; that they may be better prepared to learn the proposed tougher courses from the first grade up."

body got his lessons while at school. She placed the responsibility on the parents by sending Johnny and Suzy home with their books under their arms, and if they didn't study at home she found out about it the next day when they were called upon to recite.

That resolution was proposed by the Beaumont Unified School District in Riverside County for adoption at a convention of the California School Boards Association in San Francisco.

And to give them more of an incentive to study, she rewarded accomplishment by granting privileges to those who knew their lessons well. For example, the industrious pupils were allowed to make cutouts or posters and other decorations for the next holiday. The boys could go to the boiler room and make bird houses or soap bubbles pipe out of concrete and tin. This was called "play" then, but now it's called "a.r.t." and it's part of the regular curriculum. Pupils don't "get to" they "have to" do these things whether they know how to spell or read or write, and so having to do it often has the effect of making it another task, which the pupil is loathe to do.

Those parents who take this proposal seriously and do teach their pre-school children to read may find that their Suzies and Johnnies are unpopular pupils when they enter the first grade.

The size and luxury of a school building have nothing to do with its quality as a place of learning. Nor do college degrees have anything to do with the "horse sense" of the instructor.

They won't be unpopular, out of envy, among other pupils, as might be suspected. Pupils respect accomplishment. The recent one may likely be, of all people, the teacher.

In other times if Johnny was smart, he often was promoted in the middle of the semester. If he happened to be in the third grade and the fourth grade was in the

The Gold Standard Or Socialism?

People will have to decide whether they want money based on actual value such as gold or silver, or whether they want a planned economy, socialism and communism. They will either have one or the other in the long run.

"What is needed first of all is to force the rulers to spend only what, by virtue of duty - promulgated laws, they have collected as taxes. Whether governments should borrow from the public at all, and if so, to what extent, are questions that are irrelevant to the treatment of monetary problems.

One of the goals of the reform suggested is to explode and to kill for ever the superstitious belief that governments and banks have the power to make the nation or individual citizens richer, out of nothing and without making anybody poorer.

Such an arrangement presupposes that government and business are two distinct realms of the conduct of affairs. The government levies taxes but it does not interfere with the way the various enterprises operate.

Further, I can't agree with you that the convention will draft any one. I don't see that in the cards at all. Whatever else may happen at Los Angeles, I see no likelihood of a deadlock. I am not saying I would turn down a draft. But anyone counting on that would be building castles in the air."

MORSE TO RUN IN WISCONSIN, D.C. AND OREGON PRIMARIES

WASHINGTON - Senator Wayne Morse will definitely run in the Wisconsin, District of Columbia and Oregon Democratic presidential primaries - on April 5, May 3 and May 20 respectively.

Positive word of this was personally given by Morse to Adlai Stevenson at a breakfast conference in the former's apartment.

The former Illinois Governor asked for the meeting to discuss his forthcoming trip to Latin America. Morse is head of the Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee on Latin America, and visited there last fall.

During the latter part of their talk, Morse disclosed his decision to enter the three primaries - in two of which, Wisconsin and Oregon, he will be opposed by Senators John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey. In apprising Stevenson of this intention, Morse stressed two points.

In his campaigning, he will make it "perfectly clear that Adlai Stevenson is my first choice for President."

By running in these primaries, it is Morse's belief he will importantly stimulate a draft-Stevenson movement.

At one point in the conference, Morse offered to withdraw from the Oregon primary and vigorously campaign for Stevenson. Morse noted that polls have shown Stevenson has much popular support there.

This proposal was firmly declined by the 1952-56 standard-bearer. I am not a candidate," declared Stevenson, "and have no intention of becoming one. I mean exactly that. At the proper time, I shall send a letter to the Secretary of State of Oregon formally notifying him that I do not want to be entered in the primary. I will also send a letter to my friends in the state asking them not to file a petition for me."

Further, I can't agree with you that the convention will draft any one. I don't see that in the cards at all. Whatever else may happen at Los Angeles, I see no likelihood of a deadlock. I am not saying I would turn down a draft. But anyone counting on that would be building castles in the air."

Such an arrangement presupposes that government and business are two distinct realms of the conduct of affairs. The government levies taxes but it does not interfere with the way the various enterprises operate.

NEW YORK, N. Y. - PICK-UPS: A young man of world repute, commonly supposed to be the Aga Khan, recently collected $500,000 in refund from a jeweler on Fifth Avenue because two black pearls and some canary diamonds which he had purchased turned out to have been dyed gems and not genuine...

No names were used in the news stories of the fraud, but it was now three major jewelers of Fifth Avenue have taken two-column wide ads in New York dailies reading this way: "TO OUR CLIENTS: A recent article in the press regarding the sale by a Fifth Avenue jeweler of excellent reputation, of artificially colored canary diamonds and black pearls which was not disclosed to the purchaser. The transaction subsequently involved a refund of almost half a million dollars. It is imperative at this time to assure our patrons and friends that we are not the jewelers in question. Signed -"

While toying with sums of this kind and gems, let us turn to a new facet of elegance available in New York... You now can tool down any avenue in New York in the owner's seat of a polished Rolls-Royce, with uniform chauffeur, for the shabby sum of $10 an hour...

My hopes of keeping a budget book always have been dashed by my inability to find one that comes anywhere near to fulfilling the needs of my family.

All the ones I have ever thumbed through-and my search has been going on for many, many years - have pages for the entry of routine, standard expenses only. Such a book is fine as far as it goes, but what I need is one that makes allowances for expenditures that come on as suddenly and unexpectedly as snow in This year, instead of my another fruitless search for a round budget book, one capable of handling any and all surprises decided to make one of my own.

Never Get It Back

During the costly and foolish steel strike of 1956, the average steel worker lost $1,982 in wages. Some lost more than this...

But here's an interesting point which many have not noted. The first wage increases under the new contract do not have to be paid until December of 1960.

Even considering the size of the raise, which in the end will be enormous, the average worker will find that it will take him four years and ten months to earn back in $1,982 in wages he lost through the strike.

The joker is plain to see. The steelworkers have been "had." Within 30 months there will be new agitation for a new wage raise...

Paternalistic management is bad, paternalistic labor bossism is worse. But the apex of the evil will be reached if and when the working man surrenders what is left of his freedom to a paternalistic government.

That resolution was proposed by the Beaumont Unified School District in Riverside County for adoption at a convention of the California School Boards Association in San Francisco.

Those parents who take this proposal seriously and do teach their pre-school children to read may find that their Suzies and Johnnies are unpopular pupils when they enter the first grade.

They won't be unpopular, out of envy, among other pupils, as might be suspected. Pupils respect accomplishment. The recent one may likely be, of all people, the teacher.

Some teachers don't want their pupils to know too much. We say "some" because not all of them have taken to heart all the methods they learned in "education" courses in teacher colleges.

Their reasons for not wanting pupils to get "ahead of the class" sometimes are vague, but it appears that what they mean is that the "ideal" class is one in which all the pupils are at the same stage of progress all of the time.

If pupils are allowed to take classwork home with them, some will study at home, whereas others won't and so the plan for teaching everybody the same thing at the same time is thrown out of kilter.

To accomplish their "ideal" the entire class is kept at a level of what the duller pupils can accomplish in the school room.

The old-fashioned country school teacher didn't know anything about these "norms." With as many as eight classes in one room she didn't have time to see that everybody got his lessons while at school. She placed the responsibility on the parents by sending Johnny and Suzy home with their books under their arms...

And to give them more of an incentive to study, she rewarded accomplishment by granting privileges to those who knew their lessons well.

The Gold Standard Or Socialism?

People will have to decide whether they want money based on actual value such as gold or silver, or whether they want a planned economy, socialism and communism.

"What is needed first of all is to force the rulers to spend only what, by virtue of duly promulgated laws, they have collected as taxes."

One of the goals of the reform suggested is to explode and to kill for ever the superstitious belief that governments and banks have the power to make the nation or individual citizens richer, out of nothing and without making anybody poorer.

Paternalistic management is bad, paternalistic labor bossism is worse. But the apex of the evil will be reached if and when the working man surrenders what is left of his freedom to a paternalistic government.

Such an arrangement presupposes that government and business are two distinct realms of the conduct of affairs. The government levies taxes but it does not interfere with the way the various enterprises operate.

height, they would have reached on an unhampered labor market. Credit expansion is subservient to the unions. If a hundred or seventy years ago the government of a Western nation had ventured to extort a loan from the central bank, the public would have been in a state of shock.

same room, it was easy for the teacher to give him fourth-grade work, and if he could do it, she saw no reason why he shouldn't, so he was put in the fourth grade.

The school boards' association resolution is contrary to a theory of the "educators," a powerful group with a powerful lot of money behind them.

What the historian cannot help noting that laissez faire and rugged individualism have to an unprecedented extent succeeded in their endeavors to supply the common man more and more amply with food, shelter, and many other amenities.

MORSE TO RUN IN WISCONSIN, D.C. AND OREGON PRIMARIES WASHINGTON - Senator Wayne Morse will definitely run in the Wisconsin, District of Columbia and Oregon Democratic presidential primaries...

In his campaigning, he will make it "perfectly clear that Adlai Stevenson is my first choice for President."

At one point in the conference, Morse offered to withdraw from the Oregon primary and vigorously campaign for Stevenson.

This proposal was firmly declined by the 1952-56 standard-bearer. "I have repeatedly stated that I am not a candidate," declared Stevenson.

Among those O'Brien has conferred with is William Blair, law partner of Stevenson. Blair has promised to actively help Morse's primary campaigns.

POLITICALS - A Johnson-for-President headquarters is soon to be opened in Washington. Supporters of the Senate Democratic Leader have rented centrally-located space and are organizing a staff.

Some of your dollar-minded friends may regard these proposals as a waste but they may make the difference between a continued smog and the joy of free breathing through clear nasal passages.

My hopes of keeping a budget book always have been dashed by my inability to find one that comes anywhere near to fulfilling the needs of my family.

There being no diet expert on hand to certify to anything, all I can say is that women of professional consequence seem to be on a bizarre diet kick of some kind.

While toying with sums of this kind and gems, let us turn to a new facet of elegance available in New York.

As Democratic National Committee meeting here are "doping" this situation, Humphrey and Morse will split the important labor, farm and liberal vote, while Kennedy will get the party regular moderates and Catholic support.

As a matter of actual fact, the catarrhal patient suffers more from an inability to get rid of nasal discharge than from excessive secretion.

After a nasal catarrh has persisted for some time, it invariably becomes complicated sooner or later, all the sinuses that drain into the obstructed nostril or nostrils suffer infection.

Each of these performances is disturbing to the victim and his audience. Either is enough to ruin a conversation, a friendly meal, a business deal or a romantic interlude.

No Smoking Sign Paid Lip Service

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seldom have I seen so much tobacco consumed under a "no smoking" sign during a discussion about cancer.

People were firing up cigarettes, cigars and pipes all over the House Commerce Committee room.

No one paid the slightest heed to the "no smoking" sign that hung on one wall. Neither did the fact that Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, was the witness deter them.

One of Flemming's agencies, the Public Health Service, has on occasion called attention to statistical links between smoking and lung cancer.

On this occasion, however, he was talking about cancer in relation to cranberries, chickens, oranges and lipstick. Worrying about things like that may be one of the reasons people are smoking more.

The secretary was before the committee seeking a stronger law to protect us against cancer-causing chemicals in foods, drugs and cosmetics. The bill would give him more power to ban the use of artificial coloring agents that might be harmful.

Flemming first gave a long discourse on the things that science knows about the cause of cancer. Then he gave a longer discourse on the things it doesn't know.

That is all very well, agreed Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.), but neither, he added, should Flemming's agency keep the nation in a constant state of alarm.

Flemming replied that he was trying hard not to create any undue concern. But I gather some of the lawmakers still were concerned about the great cranberry panic, as well as the lesser uproars over chicken hormones, orange-tinted oranges and new lipstick shades.

There seems to be no doubt now that we can eat cranberries, chickens and oranges with impunity. But I am not so sure that kissing is safe.

Flemming, you may recall, put 17 lipstick colors on the blacklist last year. This made the lipstick makers sear red.

The order banning the sale of the lipstick has been set aside until Feb. 1 to give the lipstick makers time to raise objections. Pending the outcome, the ladies are free to use it at their own discretion.

Flemming said it was not a question of developing a cancer-proof lipstick, since none of the colors showed signs of causing cancer. But he said they might be harmful in other ways if used in large quantities.

Contingencies

In this unpredictable life of ours, it is the law's business to take a long look into the future and say what would "happen if."

For in your contracts, leases, wills, insurance policies, escrows, and the like, you had better say what would "happen if" some of your best laid plans go awry. Such events—the law calls "contingencies."

Who gets the "earnest money" you put down, if you cannot go through with buying that house? What if you want to pay up that loan and save interest. What happens if a partnership goes sour, or a partner gets sick or dies? What happens if the people you name in your will should die before you do, or, if you all perish in a common catastrophe like a car smashup?

The law is wise but it cannot do your thinking for you. It settles such questions—but not always to your liking. If you don't make a will, the law says who shall get your property. If you leave certain things out of a contract, the law assumes that you meant to put some certain things in. But how much better it would be in the first place to put them in the way you want them, by asking "what if."

Take your will now: Your first desire, of course, is to take care of your wife and children—those nearest to you. But it won't hurt anything to put "contingent beneficiaries" in your will in case something happens to thwart your first intentions.

Review your will every year or so to see if it meets the new things that have come up, or arrange with your lawyer to write in "contingent beneficiaries"—those who will receive your property if your first beneficiaries should die before you do.

You may long ago have had your son provided for in your will, but what about those lovely grandchildren he and his wife have presented to you since you wrote the will? What would happen to them if things go wrong and your son should die before you?

Or take your widowed sister and her children now. Suppose you and your immediate family should be wiped out: Would you want your property to go equally to her and to your well-heeled bachelor brother? Or would you prefer to leave your brother some token of your affection, and then really take care of your sister?

You may be impatient with the law's long memory. Such things never happen, you think, but the court records are full of plans which failed. And so the law has ways in which you can provide for "what happens—if." One way is the device of contingent beneficiaries in your will and insurance policies.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)
