Challenge Settlers Revolt May Be Ignored Kennedy Not Ready To Fight In W. Virginia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. F. Kennedy appeared today ready to pick up Sen. Hubert Humphrey's challenge to it out in the May 10 West Virginia presidential primary. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said he was weighing Kennedy's (D-Mass.) invitation to meet in the primary the same day as the West Virginia contest. But Humphrey said West Virginia offered a better "cross-section" test than Midwestern primaries. Kennedy further showed that he carefully chooses his primary tests by formally withdrawing in the April 12 Illinois race in which he had been entered by Daily, perennial candidate for House offices. Humphrey supporter, meanwhile, officially entered New Hampshire's March 2 primary as a candidate for convention delegate. Humphrey already has entered the Hampshire contest. Humphrey aide here said the Hampshire action was taken without Humphrey's knowledge. "It does not represent an effort by Senator Humphrey to enter the New Hampshire primary," Kennedy supporters in New Hampshire took steps to remove the name of the Hampshire contest from the primary ballot. The Kennedy backers said they wanted to keep what they (See KENNEDY, Page 3)

Talks Deadlocked

Rail Unions Set To Call Strike

CHICAGO (UPI) — Arbitration or appointment of a presidential fact-finding board appeared the only alternatives today to head off a possible nationwide strike of two large railroad unions. Wage negotiations between major railroads and the unions, representing 87,000 workers, virtually all the nation's engineers and firemen, here came deadlocked Thursday and no new sessions were scheduled. Leverett Edwards of the National Mediation Board said bargainers for the industry and the 37,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (BLE) were sent home late Thursday night when talks collapsed. Earlier, the 80,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (BLFE) broke off negotiations with representatives of the 168-170 railroads affected. At this point, under provisions of the National Railway Labor Act, the board may offer arbitration to settle the dispute. If that fails, it may ask the President to appoint a fact-finding board to head off a national emergency. But no major strike is likely for 60 days at the very least, since the fact-finding board would have 30 days to submit recommendations, and a mandatory 30-day cooling off period would follow that. Edwards said the talks, involving two of the five operating unions negotiating for new con-

The BLFE has demanded a 14 per cent wage increase, a changed cost of living escalator clause and adjustment of daily earnings guarantees. Firemen at present average $18.54 daily for passenger service and $18.34 for certain freight service, according to union estimates.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Democratic leader and the director of the hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency were expected to debate today whether the administration has changed its "yardstick" for measuring Soviet missile power. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) opened a sweeping investigation of the Eisenhower administration's defense and space policies by the Senate Space and Preadmission Committees, which he heads. CIA Director Allen W. Dulles was summoned as the first witness. Dulles was expected to say, as he has in previous public statements, that U.S. intelligence methods have not been changed, but that new information has caused the government to downgrade the Soviet missile threat. Other congressional news: Space: House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.),

Judge Choice Of Martin For Vice President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., former GOP House leader and one-time speaker, today threw his support to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for the GOP vice presidential nomination. Martin, chairman of the last Republican convention, said he would discuss the matter with Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. Lodge has said he would not talk politics while he held his diplomatic post. Lodge said in New York City, "I am grateful for the compliment and I am grateful he feels at my age about me, even though I am not a candidate in any shape or manner." The 75-year-old Martin listed Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson as his close second choice for the vice presidential nomination. But he said he was sure Anderson would accept the nomination. The veteran Massachusetts Republican also said it would be "very difficult" for the GOP to recapture control of the Senate and House in the November elections. Martin made the statements to United Press International reporters in one of his rare interviews concerning politics since he was ousted as House GOP leader last year.

More File For Office

Two additional filings for county offices brought the number of candidates to 33 today. Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo filed for re-election and Bud Wells filed for Constable, Pct. 1, before. Wells has been a resident of LePita all his life, and said, if elected, "I will operate the office in a fair and impartial manner to the best of my ability." Meanwhile, the Gray County Democratic Executive Committee voted yesterday not to allow H. A. Doggett's name on the ballot. Doggett, former juvenile officer and city policeman, had filed for the office of constable in Pct. 2, Pampa. Executive Committee secretary, Bob Baker said the group voted to strike Doggett's name from the ballot because of a question of legal residence in Gray County.

French Cross Fingers, Hope For Solution

By K. C. THALER United Press International PARIS (UPI) — The taxi-driver shrugged his shoulders in typical Gallic fashion and said: "It doesn't look good, but somehow things will get straightened out—we hope."

Then, as an afterthought, he added a French expletive which translated into a four-letter Anglo-Saxon word.

He was commenting on the explosive situation in Algeria.

Paris itself was calm — there was none of the turmoil as in the 1958 revolt which overthrew the Fourth Republic and catapulted de Gaulle into power.

But under this screen of near indifference, apprehension was growing.

For days, the man-in-the-street had been left guessing at the possible outcome of the Algerian settlers' revolt.

Until Thursday night, nobody in authority here had even hinted at what de Gaulle might do.

But the sudden and dramatic developments Thursday confronted the French people with the realization that a showdown could trigger a civil war.

De Gaulle has been playing his cards close to his chest, with only a few of his most trusted lieutenants in the know.

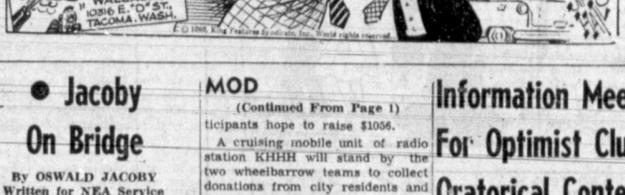

It is apparent that the overwhelming majority of the people of France are solidly behind de Gaulle and have no sympathy for the insurgent Algerian settlers.

And the Algerian settlers resent the wavering attitude of the army in Algeria.

Forger Draws Prison Term

WHEELER (Sp) — Leonard Earl Bonner of Shamrock was sentenced to five years in prison in Wheeler County District Court Monday after conviction on a forgery charge.

Bonner pleaded not guilty to a charge of passing a forged instrument in the Western Auto Store in Shamrock in July, 1959. He was found guilty by the jury after a 25-minute deliberation and was assessed the maximum penalty.

The only two civil cases to be tried were William Perry Broadshaw et al vs. L. W. Bullock and it was settled on Monday morning.

The other case to be tried was Archie Gene Hardin vs. Texas Employers and was to have come to trial Tuesday morning, but due to the illness of H. G. Pipkin, attorney for Hardin, it was continued until the next term of court.

Safety Awards Dinner Tonight

Justin Wilson will be the principal speaker at tonight's Cabot Carbon Company safety award dinner.

The dinner, honoring Cabot employees without a lost time accident, will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Coronado Inn.

Wilson is senior member of the firm of Justin Wilson and Associates, of Baton Rouge, La., and a "Cajun" raconteur.

Don M. Conley, safety director for the Cabot Companies in Pampa, said 25-year safety awards will be presented to Charles C. Simmons and Joseph M. Rutledge.

Saturday 25-year awards will be given Marshall W. Franks, Jarvis M. Johnson and Grace Smith. Other awards will be made for 20, 15, 10 and 5-year perfect safety records.

Conley said the first Cabot safety award dinner was held in 1933.

West opened the jack of diamonds and South discarded a spade on dummy's ace.

The trumping originally began as a protest against De Gaulle's promise to give self-determination by plebiscite to Algeria.

It was a confused situation with many facets, Delouvier, outwardly loyal to de Gaulle, made an impassioned speech last Thursday in which he made it clear his heart lay with the insurgents.

But should the Moslems heed his appeal there would be bloody Moslem-insurgent riots.

SALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — President Eisenhower luxuriated in the desert sun beneath the escarpment mountains of South California today.

Up item on his agenda was a driving golf game at the Eldorado Country Club not far from Loma, a fashionable resort set about 25 miles from Palm Springs.

Eisenhower was staying at the Quinta home of his good friend, George E. Allen. The president flew from Los Angeles by helicopter Thursday, landing at the practice fairway of the Loma golf course.

Three-bedroom, two-swimming pool winter bungalow. Within minutes, Eisenhower checked off his dark business suit, shifted into a sporty brown ensemble. He and Allen left immediately for the nearby Eldorado course where they played a foursome with three other Eisenhower buddies.

Charles S. Jones, both West Coast businessmen, and Liam E. Robinson, Coca Cola field chairman who has been in the Palm Springs area nearly two weeks.

The President's game did not appear to have suffered too badly from an intermittent winter playing. With a booming 250-yard drive on the first tee of a course that some of the more difficult in this area.

After golf, the President returned to the Allen home for a set dinner and an evening of bridge with his friends. The Chief Executive planned to stay here until early Sunday afternoon, then to Denver to pick up Mrs. Eisenhower. They will return to Washington Monday.

Soviets Could Attack Soon, Says General

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Air Force Gen. Thomas S. Power warned today that Russia might have enough intercontinental missiles within two years to launch a massive nuclear attack on the United States.

But, Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, said the Soviet Union would be afraid to make such an attack if America's nuclear bombers were kept on airborne alert. Such an alert, he said, "can be instituted when required."

If the Russians were not deterred from attacking, Power declared, "we will have no active defense whatever against their ballistic missiles."
The SAC commander made the statements in a speech prepared for the American Legion National Security Commission. The remarks were sure to add fuel to the controversy over new administration estimates downgrading the Russian missile threat. Democrats claim the new view is "too noisy."

Another speaker, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told the Legion group he would seek funds for 10 new Polaris missile submarines this year—seven more than President Eisenhower's defense budget recommended.

But Power said the Navy's Polaris missiles could "conceivably even detract" from the nation's offensive strength unless they were integrated with SAC weapons under a "harmonious" command.
A joint strategic command is under consideration at the Pentagon.

Mid-Winter Piano Recital To Be Presented On Sunday Afternoon

This Sunday in the Church of the Brethren, 600 N. Frost, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder will present two groups of students in mid-year piano recitals. The first group will begin at 2:30 and the second at 4 o'clock. Pupils of all ages will be included in each group and the music offered will be varied. Some ensemble work will be presented, but most of the selections will be solos.

Included in the program at 2:30 will be the Haydn Concerto in D Major played by Joyce Prock, which she recently played in the Amarillo Symphony contest. Frederick's well-known Minuet will be played by Beverly Langley, and Cynthia Plaster will present the Tarantella by Beethoven in a duo arrangement with Mrs. Yoder, who will also play several other second piano parts.

Others in this first group are: Gail Wilson, Kay Uphaw, Brenda and Celeste Duncan, Jackie Howard, Mary Lou Watkins, Lynda Gunn, a duet by Harriet Henderson and Jo Hubbard, Beth Case, Sylvia Graham, Harriet Henderson, Katrina Spencer, Billy Conley, Janie Prock, Jimmy Flynn and Joretta Baird.

Of special interest in the second recital at 4 o'clock will be the Miniature Concerto, in E-flat (Seul-Holt) played by Jean Prock who also played it in the Amarillo Symphony contest where she received a second-alternate rating among 31 contestants who played it. Carol Chase will present the Williams Concerto in C Major, and Sue Ann Thompson will play the first movement of Williams A-Minor Concerto. Lynda Key will play Mowrey's Spanish Gypsy Dance and Nannette Flynn will present Grieg's To Spring.

Others playing in this group will be: Chuck Wade, Gene Key, Joyce Fischer, Douglas Morgan, a duet by Brenda and Celeste Duncan, Prudence Skelly, Jo Hubbard, a duet by B.H. Gage and Mary Lou Watkins, Cynthia Key, Ann Collins, Terry Watson, Jane Howard, Kathy Larsen, and Loretta Baird.

The public is cordially invited to attend these recitals.

Sgt. Albers Guest Of Art-Civic Club

LEFORS (Sp) - Mrs. Ray Boyd Jr. introduced, Sgt. E. G. Albers Jr. of the highway patrol as guest speaker for the Lefors Art and Civic Club at a meeting held recently in the civic center.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Adams and the drivers education class of the high school were special guests of the evening.

"If the present trend of accidents continue, every second child now born will be critically injured or killed on highways," Sgt. Albers stated. "A greater public awareness of safety is a must to prevent these."

A film, "Aim High, and Get the Picture," was shown on safe driving, demonstrating the Smith System. Statistics presented were "2,500 persons killed on highways in Texas annually; 126,000 sent to hospitals; $30,000,000 economic loss from collisions; 97,000 more persons killed in last 50 years on highways, than those killed in war in last 50 years; 52 percent caused from speed, 42 percent caused from drunken driving, and 20 percent from disregarding warning signs."

Mrs. Jack Thacker was hostess of the evening.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for twenty-five years and I would like to make a great sacrifice for my country. If they need a woman to go to the moon, I would be glad to send my wife. She is very tiny and would fit nicely in the cone of the rocket. Please tell me if you have any influence with the people who are in charge of this and how are my chances?

"PATRIOT" DEAR ABBY: Your generosity has me all choked up. I have no influence, but if you promise to go along to hold her hand, I'll try to arrange it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 years old and unmarried. I had a baby six months ago. The father is married and has three children. I wanted him to divorce his wife and marry me but he said his interest in me was not love and marriage. I thought if I told his wife she would divorce him and he might marry me after all. But it didn't turn out that way. They stuck together and now both of them are trying to prove me an unfit mother so that my baby will be taken away from me. The baby's father says he won't.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The new neighbor who'd just moved into the apartment house came hurrying in from the street just as Mrs. L. and her younger daughter entered the elevator. "Good morning," I hear that you neighbor spoke without turning. "Do you always make it your business to know everything about new tenants?" she said.

So startled was Mrs. L. by this rebuff that the neighbor was out of the elevator before she fully realized it.

But before she'd reached her own apartment door, her rage at the neighbor had turned to rage at herself.

Furious, she thought of the devastating retorts she should have made to the neighbor. She might have said, "From here on, let me assure you, nothing about you will be of any interest to me!" She could have said, "Wherever you come from, you certainly learned bad manners there!"

Instead, she said nothing. She'd let the woman get away with her insolence.

By the time Mrs. L. had closed her apartment door behind her, they held it for her. As its automatic door shut, Mrs. L. said: "Then she felt fury at the neighbor and her husband are from out-of-town."

She was so mad at her failure to crush the neighbor that she crushed Janet instead by slapping her sharply for dropping her coat on a chair.

This kind of experience is as common as it is unreasonable. It is unreasonable because we can't always triumph over other people. Therefore, we shouldn't want to. Though in our daydreams we may like to imagine ourselves as always witty, always decimating always irresistible, always ready with the perfect comeback, the fact is, we are not the supreme beings of our imaginations. We are inadequate to many occasions.

Our dreams of perfect triumph are as silly as the fantasies of children who imagine themselves Superman and other unconquerable creatures.

So when we start berating ourselves for some failure to produce the devastating comeback, it's wise to ask ourselves: "Why can't I lose a fight occasionally? Why must I always be victorious?"

The moment we stop needing to triumph in encounters like Mrs. L.'s we start responding to them sooner. With our minds on ourselves instead of off the other fellow's conquest, we can say simply: "You misunderstood me. I spoke to be friendly not to be trying."

It not only LOOKS bad, it IS bad. Ask him to return your house key. If he doesn't do it, have the lock changed on your door.

Have you read Abby's new, best-selling book, "DEAR TEEN-AGER"?

Mrs. Vignal Has CW Club Meeting

CANADIAN (Sp) - Mrs. Charles Vignal was hostess to the Canadian Women's Club in her home recently with Mrs. Hugh Wilson as co-hostess.

Miss Daisy Childers, president, presided at the meeting. The safety program on the subject, "Transportation Today" was given by Mrs. Paul Bryant and Mrs. W. R. Hext.

Attending were guest Bill King and members Meses. C. W. Allen, Morris Bennett, Erbin Crowell, Robert Dillman, Ben Ezzell, W. R. Hext, R. M. Hobby, John Jones, Wm. M. Karr, J. B. Lindley, H. H. Mark, Burr Morris, E. R. Morris, James Price, George Earl Tubb, Charles Vignal, Emery Vignal, John Waters, Oliver Waters, Hugh Wilson, H. S. Wilbur, Paul Bryant, and Miss Daisy Childers.

The shirtwaist dress is strong as ever for resort wear. Women who love it will find it in many fabrics ranging from linen to silk. The wise will buy a couple and put them away for summer even if they're not going cruising now.

Cruise fashions this year stress the cool pastel colors. Favorites are ice blue, parrot-pink, and mint green, lemon yellow and lilac. Black-and-white combinations are important, too.

Study the most charming women you know and you are sure to find that they have many qualities in common.

One: They'll be good listeners. No woman is charming if she doesn't know how to listen with flattering attention.

Two: They will be comfortable to be around because they know how to put others at ease. A charming woman knows how to make others feel pleased with themselves rather than uncomfortably on guard.

Three: They will be able to laugh at themselves. A woman without a sense of humor, particularly in regard to herself, never seems charming for long.

Four: They may not be pretty by conventional standards - but they will most certainly be well-groomed and know how to make the most of the looks nature gave them. No woman who looks a mess is ever charming to others.

Five: They will know how to present their ideas without seeming argumentative. Charming women don't force their ideas on others, but offer them for what they are worth.

Six: They will be so aware of the feeling of others that they are kind and considerate and tactful.

Seven: They will have soft, happy-looking faces. A woman who looks hard, or discontented, or bored, just doesn't charm others.

Eight: They will have pleasant voices. A voice that is harsh or rasping or pitched too high isn't easy to listen to.

Nine: They'll have good memories for names, faces and facts about others. You never consider a woman charming if she can't remember your name, or where you work, or how many children you have - or other such facts that are important to you.

Ten: They'll talk more about you than about themselves. For that is one of the basic ingredients of charm.

From the United Press Wire this week came the results from the Pick - A-Poste election, which local FTDA agencies conducted last October to help congress pick a national flower by popular vote of US citizens.

The rose, according to the wire service, won the national flower election with a margin that would make every prospective presidential candidate green with envy.

According to Florists' Telegraph Deliver Ass'n, the rose polled over a third of the more than one million votes cast in the contest and led its nearest competitor, the carnation, by better than two or one.

The pool purportedly was taken in an effort to help settle the prolonged congressional hassle over what flower, if any, should be the official national horticultural emblem.

The leaders were: Rose 356,841; Carnation, 171,591; Chrysanthemum, 75,729; Lily of the Valley, 60,033; Orchid, 46,681; Tulip, 31,639; Gladiolus, 30,569; Camellia, 27,560; Black-Eyed Susan, 22,249; Mountain Laurel, 20,840; Germanium, 17,177; Magnolia, 16,871.

The rose carried all but 17 states, Colorado and Hawaii, which named the carnation as their choice.

Yes, indeed, a rose by an other name would still win the election.

If your eyes are small, you can make them look larger by using mascara on both the upper and lower lashes. If your eyes are large, apply mascara only to the upper lashes or your eyes will look too made-up.

Lengthy Survival John Adams survived his term of office as president of the United States by 25 years and four months when he died on July 4, 1826; ex-president Herbert Hoover surpassed that record survival.

The rose, according to the wire service, won the national flower election with a margin that would make every prospective presidential candidate green with envy.

According to Florists' Telegraph Deliver Ass'n, the rose polled over a third of the more than one million votes cast in the contest and led its nearest competitor, the carnation, by better than two or one.

The pool purportedly was taken in an effort to help settle the prolonged congressional hassle over what flower, if any, should be the official national horticultural emblem.

The leaders were: Rose 356,841; Carnation, 171,591; Chrysanthemum, 75,729; Lily of the Valley, 60,033; Orchid, 46,681; Tulip, 31,639; Gladiolus, 30,569; Camellia, 27,560; Black-Eyed Susan, 22,249; Mountain Laurel, 20,840; Germanium, 17,177; Magnolia, 16,871.

The rose carried all but 17 states, Colorado and Hawaii, which named the carnation as their choice.

Yes, indeed, a rose by an other name would still win the election.

Polly's Quiz

By POLLY CRAMER

Dear Polly: We are going to paint the outer wood trim on our brick house. Could we paint it any color but white and still be in good taste? -Bothered.

Dear Bothered: Certainly. Both you and your neighbors will relish a change from white paint. Consider gray, pale beige, gray-blue or gray-green. Take the color card and try different shades against the brick of the house. Not long ago, I saw a rosy brick house take on a new charm after the wood trim was painted blue-gray and the front door a shiny black. A big brass knocker and black tubs of pink geraniums completed a really pretty picture.

Dear Polly: I am turning my attic into a bedroom-den. Thus far, I have a black dresser, black tables and TV set, some red and aqua accessories, a white leather chair and a beige rug. What colors shall I choose for couch, walls, curtains and lamp shades? -Mrs.

Dear Mrs. G. T.: You can fade out that pink look you object to by using a sofa and possibly one chair covered in a print with brown background, with floral print in white, pink and green. Have another chair in olive green. Add white lamps and a brown rug. As for the drapes, they should touch the window sill or hang even with the lower edge of the apron.

Dear Polly: I have a new home. My living-room walls are beige with a pinkish cast. Draperies are rose. But when the draperies are closed, the room looks too rosy. What do you think of toning down the rose by having brown furniture? Could I use any other color? All of my draperies are short. Is this incorrect? They come just below the window sill. -Mrs. G. T.

Dear Mrs. G. T.: You can fade out that pink look you object to by using a sofa and possibly one chair covered in a print with brown background, with floral print in white, pink and green. Have another chair in olive green. Add white lamps and a brown rug. As for the drapes, they should touch the window sill or hang even with the lower edge of the apron.

REV. ALVA M. SELMAN
Foursquare Gospel Church

The Gospel According To Christ

Luke 19:10 "For the Son of man is come to seek and save that which is lost." Jesus came forth with the Gospel whosever will may come. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is very simple, even a child may understand. For we read in Romans 3:23 "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." All of us are sinners when we reach the age of accountability and must be saved or we will be eternally lost and doomed for hell. So Jesus came to give salvation through faith in Him. His first command was to repent and be baptised as He started ministry in Mark 1:14-15 "Now after John was put in prison Jesus came in to Galilee preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom of God and saying; The Time is at hand repent ye, and believe the Gospel "To repent means to be sorrowful enough for your sins to quit doing them. It is one thing to Know right from wrong and another to do that which is right and avoid the evil. So when we realize we are sinners and have a desire in our heart to be saved we come to Christ through faith, believing what the Bible says in Romans 10:9 "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead thou shalt be saved "He will hear that cry and save the soul that will repent of their sins and have faith in God through the Lord Jesus Christ and will keep you all the days of your life if you will commit your life unto Him and keep His commandments. For He says if you love me ye will keep my commandments.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

MOMENT OF PRAYER—After defeating the New York Giants, 31-16, for the National Football League Championships in Baltimore, Md., members of the Baltimore Colts bowed their heads in prayer in their dressing room. It's a good idea for other teams to follow.

THING OF THE MOMENT—Those bounds of happiness of actor Russ Tamblyn are clearly in evidence in Hollywood, where he's jumping for joy. Russ was registering his delight at being granted a leave from the Army to appear in "Cimarron." After completing the picture, he'll return to his Army duties at Fort Sill, Okla.

GOOD CHEER—Slim, trim, print corduroy pants, cut to flatter the sub-teen's blossoming curves, are mated with a net broadcloth blouse. The outfit features an elasticized back waistband, push-up sleeves and a half-moon collar that dips to a triangle in the back.

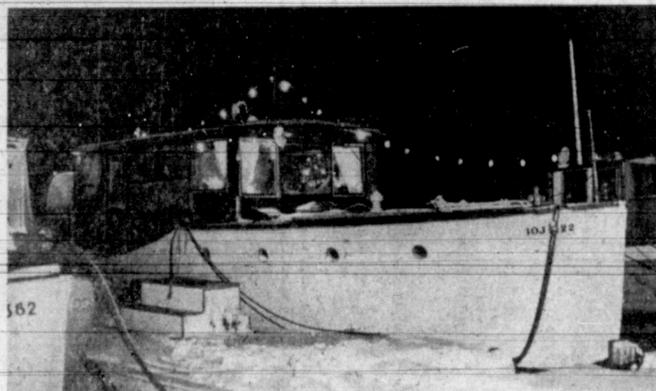

MEN WILL BE BOYS—New York captain Red Sullivan (7) and Toronto defenseman Carl Brewer shed their gloves and started swinging during a brawl. It erupted in the final period of the Rangers-Maple Leafs hockey game at Madison Square Garden. Sullivan came out of it bloody but unbowed, as the Canadian team defeated the Rangers, 6-3.

ON THE WING—A jumping porpoise in Miami, Fla., is taking a fish tidbit from feeder Dave Landon. The latter is braced against a small, railed platform that extends high over the outdoor pool where the porpoise performs for visitors. It can jump 20 feet for a bite.

PASSING FANCY—Eddie Lopat, former pitching star of the New York Yankees, is checking the football passing form of his 9-year-old son John, at their home in Hillsdale, N. J. Lopat is scheduled to go back with the Yankees next season, when he'll assume the job of pitching coach.

HOLIDAY NOTE—The 40-foot boat "Loafer II" lent a cheery touch to the marina at Port Washington, N. Y., over the New Year holidays. A lighted Christmas tree is visible through the cabin windows, and other lights were strung from stem to stern.

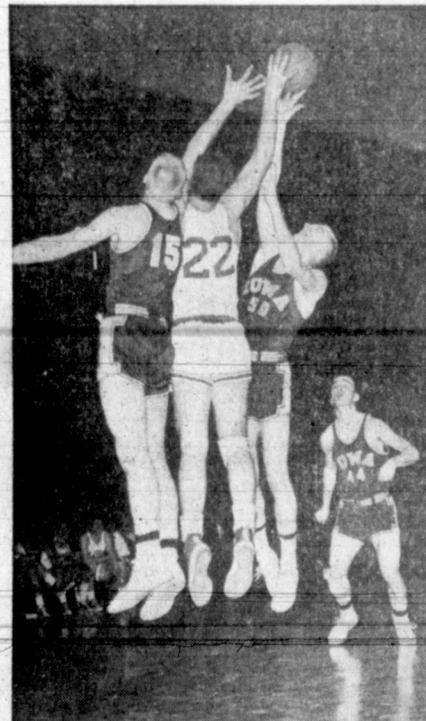

BY HOOK OR CROOK—As he waits for a bite, four-year-old Kenneth Smith seems somewhat discouraged about hooking a goldfish in the big goblet in Los Angeles, Calif. Kenneth is one of many handicapped children being treated at the Orthopaedic Hospital. He lives in Lancaster, not too far away.

COME WHO MAY—All "hands" seem eager for the ball as members of the United States amateur basketball team get together prior to a practice session in New York. Coach Bud Browning (left) is holding the ball for those 13 eager beavers.

THE GOOD LIFE—Down in St. Petersburg, Fla., Jean Belden and Dick Dantzer are having a splashing good time. They are probably sending their own warm-weather greetings to Northerners who have to fight wintry snow and ice. Perhaps their good luck won't last the entire season.

IT'S BABY'S FIRST—Sea Rover, a young race horse, got this special treat at Florida's Hialeah Park. Joe Mormile (right) clipped the horse's winter coat while Pat Dacey helped hold the beautiful animal who may have been a bit nervous.

WELL BALANCED—As she prances happily through the surf at Acapulco, Mexico, shapely Dolores Kirby kicks up a shower of spray. There was apparently no need for the umbrella, unless Dolores merely wanted to brighten the already resplendent local scenery.

Dallas Receives NFL Franchise

LAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The National Football League set to stand today in Dallas, where the infant American League had established one of its prize franchises, and immediately made the battleground for a new football war.

NFL Threatens All-Out Fight

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Battle lines were drawn today as the National Football League threatened an all-out fight if it wants to move into Dallas.

When Joe Foss, AFL commissioner, learned the NFL had ordered a Dallas franchise at its meeting Thursday in Miami Beach, Fla., he angrily accused the NFL of taking the action to "check" the AFL.

American League Play Starts Week Later Than National's

BOSTON (UPI)—The 1960 American League schedule calls for a record number of 293 night games and for someone to explain why it will start a week later than the National League's.

Oklahoma Movement For Johnson

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A statewide movement supporting Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) for the Democratic presidential nomination has begun in Oklahoma under the direction of former national American Legion Commander Preston J. Moore, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Harrington Wimberly, Altus publisher, who is organizing similar groups in other states in the Southwest.

Moore, a Stillwater attorney, was named chairman of the Oklahoma Johnson-for-President Committee Wednesday.

Moore and Wimberly agreed today that although Johnson, the Senate majority leader, has not announced his candidacy, he will enter the race for the nomination before the national convention in Los Angeles.

"Johnson will be active long before the Los Angeles convention," Wimberly predicted.

Moore said he expected clubs supporting Johnson to be active throughout the state prior to the first state party meetings.

"Our goal is an enthusiastic and loyal Lyndon Johnson delegation to the Los Angeles convention," Moore said.

HONOR AUPI

MOSCOW (UPI) — The village of Blizhne Pokrovsky near Gorky has named its library after American author Theodore Dreiser who visited the village in 127, the official Tass news agency reported Wednesday.

WARM? — This man is not wearing an all-weather cap. He's an aircraft worker at the Farmingdale, L.I., plant of Republic Aviation and he's guiding the nose of a F-105D fighter which is being carried on a fork-lift truck.

Jacoby On Bridge

In the Jackson tournament most East-West pairs arrived at six hearts on various lines of bidding and most South players counted up that six hearts was 980 and down five at seven-diamonds was 900.

After counting they would bid seven diamonds and West would double.

One unfortunate South was playing against Bernard Tighe of Jackson and Alvin Landy, Executive Secretary of the American Contract Bridge League. Bernard and Alvin cooperated to set South six tricks and 1100 minus was a bottom score.

Moore opened his singleton club. Alvin won, looked dummy over carefully and played the ace of spades. Bernard signaled with the eight and Alvin led the six of spades to Bernard's king.

A third spade was ruffed. Now Alvin was ready for the kill. He cashed the ace of hearts and led a second club.

This gave Bernard a sure trump trick and South a headache. He could not shut out that queen of trumps.

ARE YOU GETTING THE MOST OUT OF YOUR TELEPHONE?

Mary Louise Radzom, busy mother of 3, tells how her phones lighten the load, make life more fun

Are you using the telephone in every way you can . . . to save valuable time and thousands of steps . . . to allow you to do more of the things you want to do?

If not, you might ask yourself, "Why not?" After all, that's what a telephone is for . . . to use.

Mrs. Mary Louise Radzom—one of a group of telephone customers who kept a diary of calls made and received in a week—believes in using her telephones to accomplish many jobs and keep in touch with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Radzom places many of her calls on an extension telephone she received as a birthday present. "One of the nicest gifts I ever received," she says.

Looking over her diary of calls, Mrs. Radzom smiles. "Hard to believe, but it shows I couldn't run the house and keep up with my outside activities, too, without my telephones."

As the record shows, the Radzom family is getting the most from its telephones. Are you?
