GOP Hints Charges

Security Leaks Anger Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An angry new political controversy over alleged Democratic "leaks" of the nation's defense secrets raged today in the great debate over whether U. S. defenses are adequate.

Implied targets of the GOP "leak" complaints were Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Stuart Symington, Democratic presidential aspirants and members of the Senate Space and Preparedness committees now investigating the administration's military policies.

Democrats replied that the Republican concern should be directed to the state of the nation's defenses. They also deplored any "leaks."

The investigators said Tuesday night there was "confusion" between testimony on Russian missile strength by Central Intelligence Chief Allen W. Dulles and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. They said Dulles would be recalled to clear it up.

The "leaks" furor was touched off Monday when Symington, Air Force secretary under President Truman, threatened to make public secret intelligence estimates of Russian missile power if the administration insisted that the Soviet rocket threat had diminished.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) then criticized what he called "the disclosure of much too much information to the enemy about our plans and our estimates of their plans."

The Republican National Committee charged that any release of intelligence data by Symington would be "an act of total recklessness and irresponsibility." It also called Symington's stint as Air Force secretary "the lost years" in U.S. missile development.

Tuesday Symington handed Twining a letter-size sheet of white paper on which apparently were typed top secret defense figures on relative U. S.-Russian missile strength.

"Do you see anything there to justify the American people in the belief the missile gap is being closed?" Symington asked.

"I cannot answer that in open session," Twining replied.

Littered Path Left Over Texas By Weather Spree

Turbulence Brings On Dust Storms, Much Wind Damage

By United Press International

High winds and weather turbulence swept eastward over Texas today, leaving behind a path of death and thousands of dollars' damage.

On the heels of the duster came the cold front that touched off the vicious weather spree.

The Weather Bureau predicted isolated snow in the Texas Panhandle and the South Plains today, and sub-freezing temperatures over a large portion of the state tonight. Gusty winds up to 40 miles per hour swept the state again today.

BIG BLOW—R. E. Jones, lessee of the Echo-Service Station across the street from the Elks Club, looks at the big sign which blew down yesterday's hurricane force winds. Jones said he saw the sign go down, and estimated the wind at that time to be "at least 75 to 80 miles an hour."

Tote Up Damage By Wind Disrupts Power, Wrecks Property

Hurricane force winds that hit Pampa yesterday caused thousands of dollars in damage.

Television repair shops report as many as 100 antennas blown down. Stores and other business were blown off trees in many sections. Lost signs, and limbs were blown off trees in many sections of the city.

The wind reached a velocity of 75 mph at 1:30 p.m. yesterday at Perry Lefors field, although airport manager Claude (Tim) Timmens reported no damage to planes.

The Elks Club sign blew down, and the flagpole suffered damage on N. Hobart. Part of the Coronado Inn sign was blown away.

In the downtown section, the Adams Hotel's parking lot sign was blown down, and several small signs were blown over or into the street. Trees in the north section of town suffered the most damage, with limbs scattered about in several blocks.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported some trouble on rural lines due to wires being blown together, along with some PBX boards out in hotels and business houses. However, Wire Chief R. M. Byerly reported that "everything is fixed and service is back to normal."

Gordon Lyons, manager of Southwestern Public Service Co., said, "We had a lot of trouble due to the tremendous velocity of the wind." He said two transmission lines were out for a time, with a number of poles down all over the country.

Little Rock Bomb Blast

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—A dynamite bomb Tuesday night blew a hole in the home of one of five Negro students attending Central High School and police asked the FBI early today to help investigate.

The blast ripped a three-foot hole in the foundation of the brick home of Carlotta Walls, 16. It shattered windows in the immediate neighborhood, was felt over a five block area and was heard more than two miles away. No one was injured by the blast.

Neighbors reported seeing two cars prowling the darkened Negro residential area shortly before the explosion, and immediately after it.

"It was probably set," Police Lt. Carl Jackson said. "I imagine it (the bomb) had a fuse on it. It looks like it had one about five inches long. The route of the explosion went through the front room, around into the kitchen and blew out the kitchen window."

"If that window had not given it would have blown the hell out of things."

It was just a few days ago that Carlotta said things were settling down to normal at Central.

"Things are much better this year," she said. "Nothing at all happening. The students are studying and paying attention in class and not bothering us at all."

Carlotta, her mother and two other children were in bed on the far side of the house when the bomb exploded. They were not injured.

Mrs. Daisy Bates, Little Rock Negro leader and president of the Arkansas National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said Carlotta told her she had just left the front room when

Good, Bad For Ike At Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—America's missile testers had one brilliant success and one puzzling failure to present to President Eisenhower today on his first visit to Cape Canaveral.

Missilemen elated over the President's visit, had hoped to wrap up two successful shots of the nation's biggest space rocket boosters on the eve of his trip.

A "hot rod" version of the Air Force Thor missile—designed to help scientists put more elaborate space probes into the heavens while super-rockets are being 1,700-mile test flight.

But Tuesday night the reliable Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile failed after a string of 17 straight successes. Only last month Eisenhower had called attention to the Atlas as the nation's biggest and most powerful war ready weapon.

The engines ignited but shut off an instant later when a safety device detected a malfunction. The Atlas was not damaged and will be ready for another try within a few days.

But for scientists who had worked to make the Atlas the success it is—and for the cape's population whose lives revolve around missiles—it was disheartening to have a minor fupp occur only hours before a presidential visit.

Fidel, Mikoyan Schedule Tour

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro and Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan were expected to tour the provinces in a big Russian-secured helicopter today, but a security blackout vetoed details of their travel plans.

Castro and Mikoyan paid a flying visit Tuesday to Pinar del Rio Province, returning to Havana for the night. Newsmen speculated that they would fly to Camaguey or Las Villas today and Oriente Thursday.

Mikoyan is scheduled to appear on television here Friday night and fly home to Moscow the following day.

Capt. Antonio Nunez Jimenez, working boss of Castro's Land Reform Institute, accompanied the Premier and his Soviet visitor on Tuesday's trip. The principal purpose of the Kremlin official's tour appeared to be to inspect properties taken over by the institute.

At one stop in Pinar del Rio, Mikoyan was quoted as saying, "I am surprised by the work of the (Castro) revolution."

Two newsmen, Matthew Kenny and Nicholas Ruiz of UPI, with a Cuban companion—Julian Martinez, cameraman for the Pan-American Newswear Company—were held briefly by military police when they went to Camp Liberty, outside Havana, Tuesday to try to cover the Castro-Mikoyan takeoff.

Khrushchev On Goodwill Jaunt To Southeast Asia

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev left Moscow today for a three-week goodwill mission to Southeast Asia that may prove as tough a test

State Loses License Case

HOUSTON (UPI)—The State has lost its first case in Harris County under a new law that allows the suspension of licenses of habitual reckless drivers.

A county court jury of five women and one man decided Tuesday that Houston oilman William Periman, 42, should have his drivers license returned even though he was convicted of speeding five times between July 12, 1958 and Feb. 20, 1959.

Under the law adopted by the last legislature, a driver may lose his license upon conviction of five moving traffic violations during a one-year period.

William A. Robertson, Periman's lawyer, argued that only three of his client's speeding offenses occurred in the year immediately preceding last September, the time when the state suspended Periman's license.

Assistant county attorney Joseph T. Terrachina filed a motion to have the jury's verdict set aside. Judge Madison Rayburn set Feb. 19 for a hearing on the motion.

Insurance Exec Says State Merit Plan Changes Minor

AUSTIN (UPI)—The general manager of the National Association of Independent Insurers today belittled minor change the State Insurance Board made in Texas' merit plan insurance plan.

Vestal Lemmon of Chicago said the five revisions the board made "won't give the public as much relief as a small dose of sassafras tea."

Lemmon struck at a change by striking wild animals as a basis for rating points. He called it the "possum clause."

"This revision will be of great benefit to those people who hit a possum while driving at a tremendous rate of speed, but you'd better not hit mama's old rooster, and don't run over old Rover, and don't run over old Rover, because these violent acts could result in severe penalties on your automobile insurance," he said.

The state board made five minor revisions in the plan last Friday, refusing to buckle under pressure to eliminate traffic violations as a basis for auto insurance rates.

Lemmon said no merit rating plan would work in Texas as long as the state maintained a single rate law. He said the board was pressured by "select segments of the industry" to enact the merit system that went into effect Jan. 1.

"Unfortunately, the only result of this long labor has been to bring forth an unworkable monstrosity," Lemmon said.

He called the plan the safe driver "penalty" plan and said "the only recourse left to the public was to urge members of the Legislature to amend the law."

Belittles Effort

Accompanying Khrushchev were many of the Kremlin experts he took with him on his tour of the United States last fall. Mrs. Khrushchev, who also made the U.S. trip, stayed home this time. She was reported not feeling her best.

Khrushchev's first stop on the tour is New Delhi. He is due there Thursday to begin a five day visit which will include talks with Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru.

If Communist China is their most important ally, Soviet leaders tend to regard India as the most important neutral nation in the East-West tug-of-war.

The Red China-India border dispute set a delicate diplomatic stage for Khrushchev. Communist Chinese encroachments on Indian territory have alienated virtually all political and public factions in India.

Nehru has insisted that the dispute be settled in direct talks with the Peiping regime after Chinese Red troops have been pulled out of territory India claims. It is doubtful that Nehru would relish the idea of a third party, such as Khrushchev, mediating the dispute.

Pilot Killed Near Alpine

ALPINE, Tex. (UPI)—A San Antonio man was killed Tuesday when his small airplane crashed into the side of a mountain near Alpine during a dust storm kicked up by hurricane-force winds.

The victim was Anthony F. Spann, of San Antonio.

Brewster county sheriff Jim Skinner and Texas Ranger Arthur Hill said the wreckage was so scattered that it could not be determined whether or not Spann was alone in the twin-engine converted Air Force craft.

Visibility had been reduced to a quarter of a mile when the plane rammed the side of a rocky hillside on the Q. W. Abbingdon ranch about eight miles east of here.

Dimes Drive Finale Set This Week

The 1960 Gray County New March of Dimes headed into its final stages this week, short-considerably of the hoped for $15,000 unofficial goal. J. C. Roberts, county campaign chairman, reported this morning that contributions collected and deposited in the bank stood at about $10,500.

Coin cards and canisters will be collected throughout the week. It is believed that this source will yield less than a hundred dollars more.

Roberts said the KPDR radio auction of two weeks ago netted somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,000.

Only two more phases of the drive remain, a record-selling on downtown streets Saturday and a weighing-in ceremony Saturday morning by Roberts and Sheriff Rufe Jordan.

Both men, at the beginning of the fund drive, began a weight-reducing contest. For each pound each man loses, members of Pampa civic clubs have pledged each to donate a certain sum. The total realized from this will not be known until late next week.

Records that will be sold downtown Saturday were recorded especially for the March of Dimes campaign by the Kingston Trio. They will sell for $1 each.

Speeders Plague Police Department

Speeders were the biggest traffic violators in Pampa last month, with 41 arrests being made by the police department for this violation.

Chief of Police Jim Conner said next in line were stop-sign violators, traffic-light violators, failures to grant the right of way and following too closely. Conner said passing violations also were frequent.

In non-moving violations, the biggest offenders were persons with no valid operator's license. Twenty-three tickets were given for this violation. Expired license plates, no inspection sticker and allowing an unlicensed person to operate a car came in for one each.

In parking violations, overtime parking tickets far outnumbered other violations with 2,954. Ten tickets were issued for parking in a no-parking zone, eight for occupying two spaces and seven for parking in an alley.

Chief Conner again reminded motorists that parking in alleys, either in the residential district or downtown section without a driver in the car is a violation, and offenders are subject to discipline. Conner pointed out that trash and garbage trucks cannot negotiate the alleys when another vehicle is parked there, and in the event of an emergency the results might be disastrous.

HIGHWAY COVERED—Considerable damage has been reported from areas where flood-swollen rivers left their banks after two days of heavy rains in California. Here, flood waters of the Yuba River flow over Highway 40 about a quarter of a mile from the Rainbow Inn at Squaw Valley, site of the upcoming Winter Olympics.

Beat the rush! Get your safety inspection today. Bring your car to 411 S. Cuyler, Pampa Safety Lane. Adv.

THEIR HOPE HAS TURNED TO STONE—All that's left of the Algerian settlers' rebellion is this scarred street in Algiers. It is similar to others whose paving blocks were torn up by the insurgents to form barricades.

In this year 30 of the era of Trujillo, the Dominican "benefactor" is finding his subjects increasingly difficult to control. Apparently authenticated reports from the republic which shares the island of Hispaniola with Haiti say that to maintain his iron-fisted rule Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina has jailed at least 1,500 business and professional men, and that the figure may run into thousands. This past year has been a trying time for Trujillo, and the extent of his crackdown on possible opposition forces indicates he now faces the greatest threat yet to his rule.

Last June the government announced it had crushed a Cuban-supported invasion force.

The Dominican government does not like the bright light of publicity to shine on its internal workings and the true details of the reported invasion were difficult to learn. But there seems to have been some kind of action, the first of any size against Trujillo in many years.

The present unrest is said not to spring from any one source, and therefore lacks force unless it obtains leadership, and, possibly, help from dissident officers inside Trujillo's army.

Its extent first was disclosed in a pastoral letter prepared by six Roman Catholic bishops of the Dominican Republic. It said that "many families" were bereaved by the arrests of their loved ones, and that the church must defend the rights of individuals.

The Organization of American States is looking into the situation but would find action difficult unless it can be declared a threat to hemispheric peace.

At the age of 67, Trujillo is alert, vigorous and corseted—the latter to disguise the effects of years of good living. Elevator shoes add to his natural height of about five-feet-eight inches.

It was in 1930 that Trujillo took a backward, bankrupt country and built it to its present outward signs of progress and prosperity, good roads, hospitals, pure drinking water.

As a reward for his efforts, the dictator bestowed upon himself the title of "benefactor" and uses it on all his official documents.

HEARING FOR DEACON

ATLANTA (UPI) — A Baptist deacon was scheduled for a preliminary hearing today on charges he tried to kill the minister of his church so that he might marry the minister's wife.

Police said the deacon, William C. Johnson, 33, confessed rigging a homemade dynamite bomb in the seat of the pastor's car and told them the wife of the Rev. J. T. Robinson, 36, "led me to believe that if her husband was out of the way she would marry me." He was charged with attempted murder after the minister found the bomb last week.

TRAFFIC DEATHS UP

LONDON (UPI) — British traffic fatalities last December were the largest in number in any month since the blackout of December, 1941, according to the Ministry of Transport and Civil Aviation.

The ministry said 881 persons were killed in road accidents last December. This was 185 more than the previous December and the highest monthly toll since the grim December in 1941 when Britain was under almost constant blackout because of air raids.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus. On this day in history:

In 1775, English essayist and critic Charles Lamb was born.
In 1841, Upper and Lower Canada were united.
In 1863, the first fire extinguisher was patented.
In 1894, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was born.
In 1915, President Woodrow Wilson warned Germany she would be held to "strict accountability" for acts endangering the lives of American citizens during the current European war—World War I.
In 1953, Egyptian Premier Mohammed Naguib proclaimed himself the nation's head and promised to restore democratic rule after three years.
In 1959, St. Louis was hard hit by a tornado that killed several and injured more than 300.

A thought for today: English essayist Charles Lamb said: "Credulity is the man's weakness... but the child's strength."

DOG DIGS FUMES

VERMILLION, S. D. (UPI) — Chris Anderson's dog Fritz gets its kicks by inhaling gas fumes from auto exhaust pipes. Usually, Anderson said, the pedigreed boxer gets only slightly tipsy and staggers around giddily for a couple of hours. But sometimes Fritz sniffs enough to pass out.

CITIES CIVIL RIGHTS

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N. Y.) said Monday night that civil rights "may well emerge as the most decisive domestic issue" of this year's presidential campaign. Javits also told Yale University students he was "confident" a compromise on proposed civil rights legislation would be worked out and that "prospects are good" that Congress will strengthen civil rights laws during the current session.

RAMBLER WINS COMPACT CAR ECONOMY TEST!

Rambler American tops nearest competitor by 6.67 miles per gallon in Pure Oil Economy Trials at Daytona

Once again Rambler proves it is America's Economy King! Under official NASCAR supervision, the Rambler American won over all other U.S. economy cars to sweep the Compact Car Class in the Pure Oil Economy Trials held at the Daytona International Speedway Public Proving Grounds, February 1-3. But gasoline mileage is only one measure of Rambler economy. Rambler owners save, too, on lowest prices, lowest upkeep, and highest resale value. Discover Rambler's all-around economy yourself. See your Rambler dealer today.

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL PURE OIL ECONOMY TRIAL RESULTS

RAMBLER AMERICAN 51.281 Miles Per Gallon
FALCON 44.614 MPG—Rambler gave 14.9% more mileage
VALIANT 41.801 MPG—Rambler gave 22.7% more mileage
CORVAIR 39.882 MPG—Rambler gave 28.6% more mileage
LARK 32.965 MPG—Rambler gave 55.6% more mileage

IMPORTANT—All cars in the Pure Oil Economy Trials were driven by expert drivers and operated under ideal conditions. The winning Rambler American Custom was equipped with optional overdrive which is not available on most other cars in the Compact Car Class and averaged better than 25 miles per hour. No car owner should expect to approach in every day driving the mileage achieved in this test by Rambler or any of the other cars. However, the results prove again the superior economy that Rambler owners enjoy.

D. D. SETSER ... society speaker

Setser Talks At SPE Meet

D. D. (Don) Setser was the principal speaker at last night's meeting of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME in the Coronado Inn.

The subject of Setser's address was "The Implosion Capsule, New Tool for Selective Stimulation."

Setser told the group the new capsule, developed by the Dowell Division of the Dow Chemical Co., "makes possible the control of extremely high energy forces."

He said, "The capsule, measuring four inches in diameter, and varying in length from eight to 48 inches, expands all its force in its own occupied space."

Setser is a graduate of the University of Tulsa, with a B.S. degree in physics.

Ike Tours Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—President Eisenhower arrived here today for his first look at this nation's jumping-off spot for outer space.

The President, accompanied by Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr., and a group of aides, arrived in the presidential jet plane for a quick tour of the big Air Force missile test center.

There were no missile launchings scheduled during his three-to-four hour visit.

His plane landed on an airstrip on the sandy wastes of Cape Canaveral itself, about 15 miles from the regular landing spot at Patrick Air Force Base, the nerve center of the long, thin island where most of America's military and space rockets are tested.

The President could not hope to see much except missiles standing in their gantry cranes. But he and his party were scheduled for a long briefing from which reporters were excluded.

Sentenced, Fined On DWI Charge

Bailey A. Francis, 1025 E. Fisher, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail Monday after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Francis was arrested two miles west of Pampa on U.S. Highway 60 Saturday night, by Texas Highway Patrolman Stanley Schneider.

Demos Move To Offer Own Farm Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Democrats moved swiftly today to take up President Eisenhower's invitation to submit their own proposals for solving the nation's farm problem.

The Democrats planned to drop into the hopper their "Brannan plan" bill which would set production curbs designed to keep supply in line with demand and provide direct government subsidies if prices fell below a certain level.

In a special farm message to Congress Tuesday, Eisenhower repeated requests for elimination of what acreage controls and reduction of wheat price supports. But he said he would approve any constructive plan to curb the mounting wheat surplus.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said Eisenhower's invitation for alternative solutions showed Vice President Richard M. Nixon "is calling the shots" on the administration's farm policies.

He said it was designed to get the GOP's "political house in order" for the 1960 elections.

Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), one of the "backers of the Brannan plan" proposal, said the measure would "meet every requirement the President has listed except that it will not starve farmers of the farms."

Rep. George S. McGovern (D-S.D.), another backer of the bill, said the House Agriculture Committee would start hearings on the proposal immediately. He said the measure had a good chance of passage.

The bill would apply to any crop on which two-thirds of the producers agreed to limit production. Tobacco, sugar and wool would not be covered.

Prices would be set by the market. The government then would pay growers whatever subsidies were necessary to give them a return comparable to that available for the same effort and investment in "the average non-farm industry."

McDowell Rites Planned Tuesday

Funeral services for John Curtis McDowell will be held tomorrow 2 p.m. in Dukenel Carmichael Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Luther Berry, pastor of Lefors Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. McDowell was pronounced dead on arrival from a heart attack about 3 p.m. yesterday in Highland General Hospital.

Mr. McDowell, born May 26, 1890 in Montague County, was retired from Mgbil Oil Co. in 1955 after 27 year's service. He had lived in Electra for 14 years before moving to Pampa in 1943. He resided at Lake McClellan.

Survivors include his wife, Mattie; four daughters, Mrs. T. L. McCracken of Electra, Mrs. Edwin East of Pampa, Mrs. Richard McDonald of Lefors, Mrs. Orin Allen of Mesquite; two sons, Jackie of Pampa, Raymond of Chicago; 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

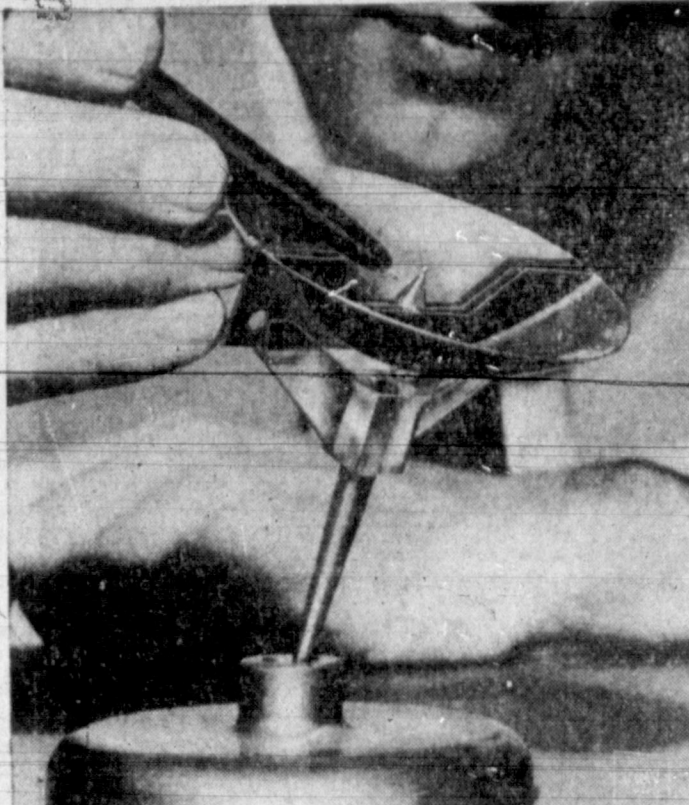

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Cross Examination Today May Decide Finch's Fate

By JACK V. FOX United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The prosecution climaxes its cross-examination of Dr. R. Bernard Finch today when it tries to break down his story that he accidentally shot his wife in the back in a struggle over the death gun.

The crew-cut surgeon will wind up one week on the witness stand after prosecutor Fred N. Whitchello tried to prove the "improbable odds" of Finch's tale that the gun went off as he threw it away.

Finch, 42, and his red-haired mistress, Carole Tregoff, 23, are charged with murdering Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch, 36, at her West Covina, Calif., home last July 18.

The state, which contends Finch killed his wife to prevent her from getting $750,000 in community property in a divorce settlement, sought to show Tuesday that the doctor was having a tough time paying his bills.

Whitchello brought out that Finch mortgaged $2,000 monthly to cover general expenses, including the following items:

—$395 for child support and house payments to his first wife, $82 for a maid, $250 for a new Chrysler, $171 for a new Cadillac, $250 for general household expenses, $171 for mortgage payments on his home and at least $34 for a slip in which to dock his boat.

—Also, country club and tennis club dues, legal fees and expenses for trips to play in tennis tournaments.

The doctor, who estimated his net yearly income at between $20,000 and $40,000, testified he borrowed $2,500 a few months before Barbara's death "after my wife had frozen my funds"—but, he added, he continued to take trips to Las Vegas even though each jaunt cost him more than $100.

Whitchello asked: "At the time the divorce papers were served on you (May 21, 1959), didn't you know that in cases of adultery or cruelty, a away, and several roofs suffered damage. An estimated 20 TV antennas were down there. Winds were reported to have reached an estimated velocity of 60 to 65 mph.

Midwest Gets Dose Of Weather

United Press International

A massive storm system that triggered hurricane-force winds and giant dust clouds in the Southwest battered the Midwest today with hail, sleet and foot-deep snows.

The Weather Bureau warned this morning of severe thunderstorms and a possible isolated tornado in an area covering parts of northern Alabama and eastern Mississippi.

Huge snow drifts and freezing rain snarled ground transportation and made a shambles of airline schedules, stranding countless travelers.

Some snow removal crews, unable to make any headway against the destructive storm, just gave up and waited for it to die down. Forecasters said the storm should leave the Midwest today and race toward New England.

The storm system, a chain reaction from gales and blizzards which swept the Pacific Coast, already has caused 14 deaths.

Winds that battered the California and Oregon coasts for two days and nearly sank the world's largest wine tanker waked today and gave way to partly cloudy skies.

The 21,800-ton tanker, Anglo Petri, wallowed helplessly three miles off San Francisco. One anchor kept the ship from being pounded to pieces in the surf.

Forty-foot waves pounded the Pacific Coast Tuesday. Beach homes were smashed, fishing boats thrown onto rocks and boulders tossed across scenic coastal highways.

STORMS

At Arlington, 11-year-old Gary Green climbed atop a barn to nail down roofing loosened by the wind and suffered a broken arm when a strong gust hurled him to the ground. Part of the roof went with him.

Grass fires whipped by the wind caused extensive damage near Cleburne and at the Glen Bell Ranch northeast of Shamrock—a fire fanned by 45-mile-per-hour winds destroyed a barn filled with hay.

The peak wind velocity in Texas, as recorded by the U.S. Weather Bureau, was 75 miles per hour at El Paso, but unofficially gusts were clocked at 80 miles per hour.

At Little Rock, Ark., winds of 70 miles per hour temporarily disrupted power to parts of the city and a top velocity of 96 miles per hour hit at Tinker Air Force Base near Oklahoma City.

With the winds came some of the lowest barometer readings on record.

Dallas, Austin, Sherman, Lubbock, Plainview and Wichita Falls had all-time lows. As the barometers dropped, temperatures soared to record highs. Laredo recorded a maximum of 98 degrees Tuesday and Dallas had 87 degrees, the hottest Feb. 7 on record.

The blinding dust began in West Texas and swept to the east, blotting out the landscape: from Alpine, in the Big Bend country, diagonally across the state to Wichita Falls and into Oklahoma.

Stiffing red silt rose 10,000 feet into the air above Lubbock.

Weather-wise, Panhandle residents said the recent snowstorm there, plus a succession of freezes and thaws, had ground the topsoil into a fine powder—ready to blow at the first wind.

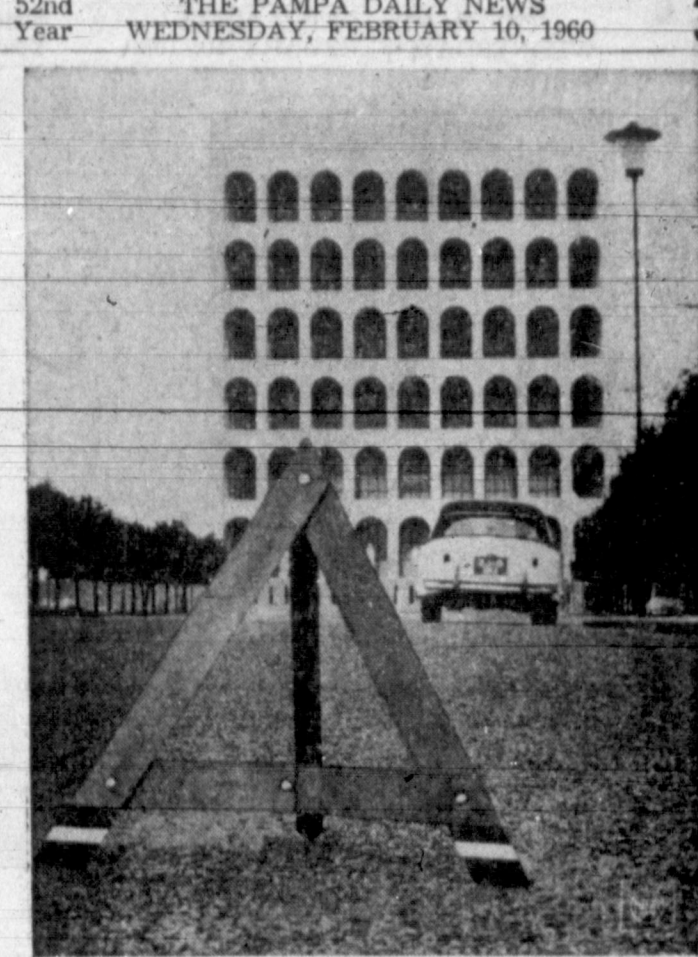

Then when a low pressure trough formed to kick the wind up, the dust began.

COPE Says That Feuding May Defeat Democratic Candidate

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The head of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) said today that feuding among contestants for the Democratic presidential nomination could lead to defeat for the party's nominee.

COPE Director James L. McDevitt said intra-party fights might leave scars that would insure victory for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, unchallenged Republican contender for the presidency.

McDevitt, a Democrat, did not express a preference for any candidate or for either major party. But leaders of organized labor traditionally have been allied with the Democrats.

The director said he had ordered COPE officials in Wisconsin and West Virginia to stay neutral in forthcoming primary fights between Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

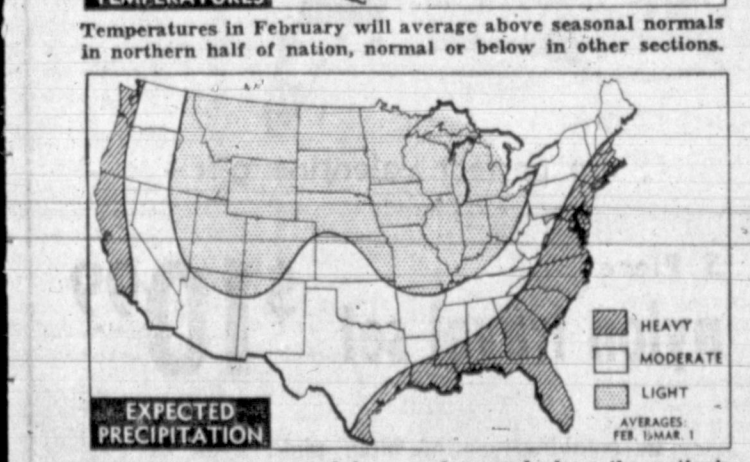

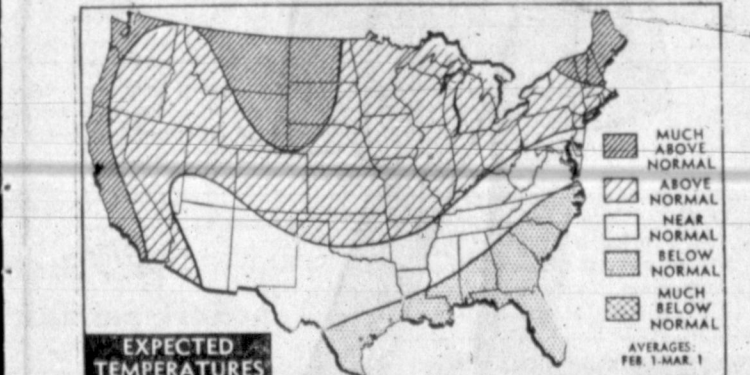

Both men, who are entered in presidential preference contests, are considered friendly to labor, according to COPE staff.

AFL-CIO Vice President Lee W. Minton said the Republicans should nominate Labor Secretary James Mitchell for vice president to present the strongest possible GOP ticket.

"I don't think any Democrat could beat a Nixon-Mitchell combination," said Minton, president of the 45,000-member Glass Box of the Blowers Assn. and one of the few Republicans on the AFL-CIO council.

The council is holding its winter meeting here.

Women Are Not What They Used To Be: Opines Designers Of Model Forms

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Where the female form's concerned, Simon Wolfe knows a good measure. For 55 years, Wolfe's company has been making the assorted model forms on which designers put together clothes to cover all types—and sizes — of womanly shapes. His studio is filled with armless, legless, headless forms—some dating from 1905. Some of the forms are of famous women whose dressmakers have ordered body casts of their high-paying clients. To show what fashion's done to the female silhouette over the years, Wolfe hauls out three forms—one from 1905, one from 1921 and one from 1959. The 1921 one looks anything but female. The torso that year, according to Wolfe's documentary proof, featured a flat chest. The vital statistics for that torso: 35½, 29 and an ample 39 in the hips. A view of the 1905 form is a study in contrast. "Now there was a woman," said Wolfe. Her waist was cinched with a laced corset. The tight lacing displaced waist tissue, fat and organs, showing them into the rib cage. This gave the chest a robust—but definitely feminine—look. Hips—padded, if necessary—were accentuated. The vital statistics give some idea of the "womanly look"—36½, 24, and a very ample 42½ in the hips. The contemporary woman, preserved for history by Wolfe's torso makers, has an uplifted, sharply accented bosom. She has slimmed the hips. The dimensions: Except for the slimmer hips, the contemporary woman isn't much different from the Gibson Girl figure of the early 1900's, Wolfe figures. Quantitatively, the three forms look like they could be squeezed into the same size. But the first, 1905, wore what was called a size 24. The second, 1921, wore a 12; the third, 1959, wore a good round 16. Through the years, says Wolfe, the only consistent thing about the sizing situations has been the inconsistency in standardizing sizes. Back in 1910, Wolfe said, a size 16 had a 29 inch waist. Today, a size 16 has either a 26 or a 28 inch waist—all depending on the way a particular maker of dresses figures. To add to the confusion, there are regulars, shorts, talts, petties, dimonitives, and half-sizes.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I met a girl who led me to believe that she would be all mine if I bought her what she wanted. She made out a list of the things she wanted and I bought them for her. It set me back over $400. All this time she wouldn't even let me hold her hand.

Now she tells me that she is a "nice" girl and I should get lost because I am too fast for her. She's already worn the clothes I bought for her. What do I do now? Four hundred bucks is not hay.

DEAR DELL: Tough luck. If the four hundred bucks WERE hay you'd have had enough to eat all winter.

DEAR ABBY: We have an old maid sister who lives alone. She has so many cats and kittens we have never been able to count them. (None of them are house-broken.) My sister says it's her home and her business. The problem is she used to give piano lessons but all her pupils have left her. Then she started going to her homes, but her clothes smelled so bad, they all quit her. Now she has no income. I egged her to give away her cats, and come to live with me, but she accuses me of wanting a free baby-sitter. (My children are all grown.) when I bring her food she gives it to the cats. I'm afraid she'll starve herself. What can I do?

DEAR SISTER: Your sister may indeed need a mental examination. When a person is incompetent to make decisions, he is told what to do — not asked. I urge you to get your sister to a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: I have something to say to that lady who signed herself FROM TEXAS. She said her husband leaves pennies on the hotel dresser instead of throwing them in the waste-paper basket. As she put it, "They weight down his pockets and tear the linings."

If this man will just look in the hotel lobby, he will find a little container with a slot where pennies can be dropped. He can help fight polio, cancer, heart disease, muscular dystrophy and one of dozens of other ailments. I'm sure his pennies would do more good there than in the waste-paper basket or on a hotel dresser.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and do quite a lot of baby-sitting. A certain couple I sit for go out and tell me they will call me from where they are to see how things are. They never call me. They never leave any number where I can call them in case of an emergency, either.

Shouldn't I have a number before they leave? If they don't, am I within my rights to refuse to sit for them?

CONCERNED SITTER: DO NOT sit for people who cannot be reached in case of an emergency. "What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Artists' Easels Carry Out Theme For WMU Topic

Central Baptist Women's Missionary Society met recently for a program on Panama Canal Zone and San Blas Indians entitled "In Word And Speech and Deed" presented by Sara Beth Short Circle. The program theme was carried out with an five artists' easels and sketch pads upon which participants drew pictures to illustrate scriptures read. "Artists" were Mmes. Will Powers, J. P. Adams, A. P. Holligan, Nolan Cole, and Stanley Stein. Participating in the program were Mrs. George Longman; Mmes. W. L. Stafford, Dou, Turner and Herchel Sanders costumed as San Blas Indians.

Following the closing meditation, the group viewed films taken of the recent WMS Fair. Mrs. Holligan dismissed the group with prayer.

Mrs. Charley Thomas, WMS president, conducted the business meeting during which secretary and treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Jack Cullison.

Mrs. Leon Brown, in giving the community missions report, announced that each circle would be expected to contribute to the fund for sending YWA Girls to the YWA Houseparty in Abilene later this month.

Other reports were given by Mrs. Fred Clark, stewardship; Mrs. Claude Turner, GA director; Mrs. J. F. Webb, Sunbeam director; Mrs. Charley Thomas, for the YWA.

Mrs. Thomas announced that the District 10 convention will be held Feb. 23 in First Baptist Church, Amarillo.

Whatever clothing goes to school should also be able to go into the washing machine safely.

Camp Kiowa Serves Scouts In 15 Counties

CAMPSITE SCENE

Camp Kiowa near Canadian is owned and operated by the Adobe Walls Council Boy Scouts of America for the benefit of Scouts registered in the 15 counties included in the council service area.

The purpose of this camp is to provide the opportunity for Scout troops and Explorer units in the Adobe Walls Council to have a place to camp for one week during summer months.

During this week Scouts are fed in the central dining hall. Meals prepared by professional cooks. Each troop plans its program during the week at camp. Certain basic program facilities are provided by a staff of trained leaders employed by the Council.

Some of the opportunities available are: rifle range instruction (firing of small bore rifles, range supervised by qualified N.R.A. instructor); swimming instruction (the camp has a beautiful lake and a well equipped waterfront. Scouts receive instruction in swimming and life saving); boating and canoeing (qualified staff members give instruction in small boat handling); archery range instruction; handicraft instruction; Nature study and pioneering.

During the week at camp Scouts also participate in evening camp fire ceremonies. Other campwide activities are conducted.

The camp opens with registration on Sunday afternoons and closes with the noon meal Saturday. Opening dates are June 5, June 12, June 19, June 26, July 3, and camp for Negro Troops on July 10.

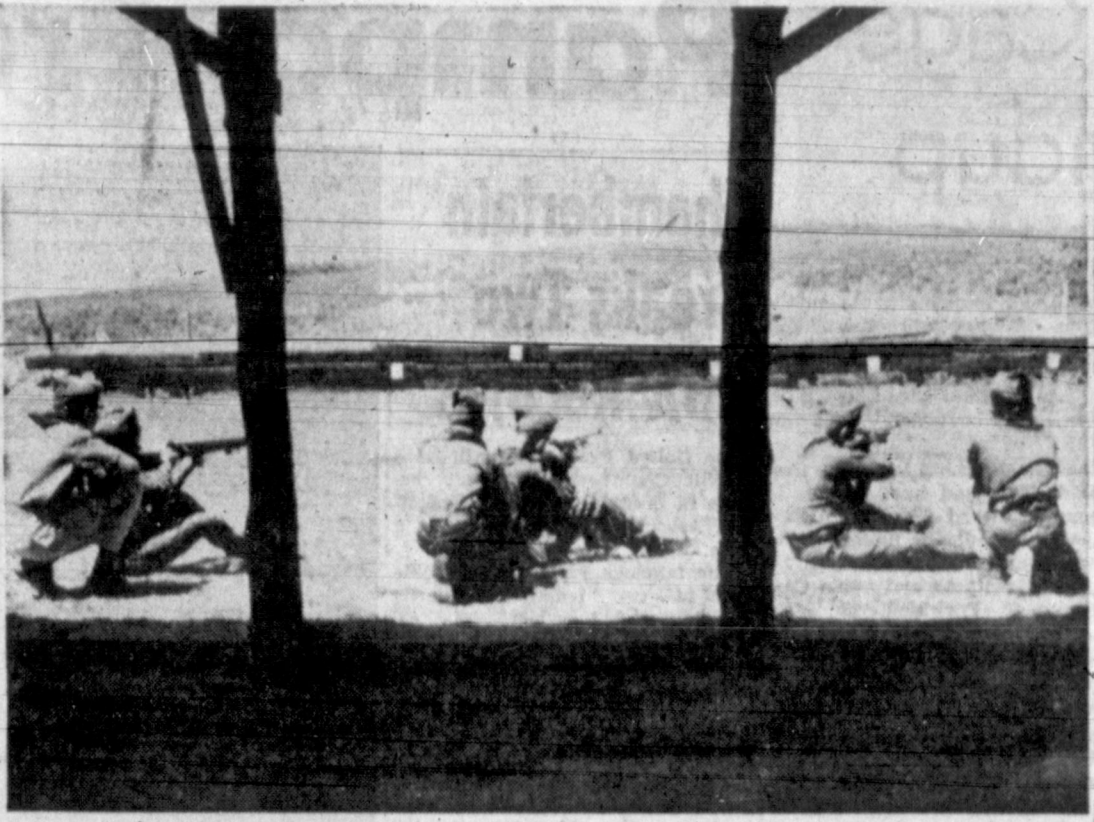

A one-week aquatic camp opens July 17. This camp is a special program for individual Scouts and Explorers. The purpose is to teach swimming, life saving, rowing, and canoeing. Scouts spend the entire week in a intensive program centered around the waterfront.

Camp fee is $14 per boy. Scouts register through their scoutmaster. Troops must furnish adult leader with their troop at all times during the camp.

Shed Destroyed

LEFORS (Sp) — A garage-shed fire at the Charles Williams residence, 117 W. 5th St., was battled at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday by the Lefors Fire Department. The shed burned to the ground, but the garage was not destroyed.

Officials reported that a power line short circuited as a result of high winds causing the fire. The prep property is owned by O. O. Bishop.

Same Source, But Out Of Other Pocket

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House highway investigators, critical of increased defense costs in the interstate road-building program, might recommend that the Pentagon pick up part of the tab.

Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ill.), a member of the subcommittee investigating the superhighway program, told United Press International today that he believed such a recommendation was one of the major aims of the inquiry.

Scherer said he would be "inclined to go along with" any proposal that the Defense Department pay at least a portion of the cost of the planned 41,000-mile interstate road network.

Scherer made the statement as the subcommittee recalled D. K. Wacey, assistant chief of Army transportation, for further questioning. He was the first witness in the opening of the investigation Tuesday.

The subcommittee also heard Armon Leonard, vice president of the Heavy Specialized Truckers Conference of the American Trucking Assn., state Tuesday that the 16-foot underpass clearance recommended by the Defense Department was not adequate.

Thousands of bridges on the superhighway system were built with clearances between 13 and 15 feet. Some lawmakers have charged that this happened because the Defense Department took two years to come up with its recommendations.

Other congressional news: Farm: A group of House Democrats planned to introduce their "Brannan Plan" farm proposal under which farmers could vote for production curbs designed to keep supply in line with demand or direct government subsidies if prices fell below a certain level.

Rep. W. E. Pogue (D-Tex.), one of the backers, said the bill met every requirement for constructive legislation listed by President Eisenhower in a special message to Congress Tuesday.

Prices: UPI learned that Senate investigators who have looked into the cost of autos, steel and drugs, plan a new inquiry on what they called the "high prices" of building materials. The new investigation will be conducted by the Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Cefauver (D-Tenn.).

Stork Club Picketing Halted: NEW YORK (UPI) — A Federal Court ordered a restaurant workers union to halt picketing of the Stork Club Tuesday. The union had picketed the club for three years in a dispute over representation.

Sherman Billingsley, owner of the club, had filed unfair labor charges against the union with the National Labor Relations Board. Federal Judge Archer O. Dawson ruled that there was evidence of unfair labor charges and ordered picketing stopped pending a NLRB hearing.

DeGaulle Charts Drive To Smash Rightist Element

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle called a cabinet meeting today to launch a new phase of his hard-hitting drive to smash rightist subversion and clear the way for a solution to the Algerian problem.

De Gaulle was expected to announce his first decrees under the emergency, near-dictatorial powers he was granted as a result of the Algerian risetroun in 1958 in the Algerian rightist insurrection. The decrees would tighten up the penal code to permit more government freedom in dealing with suspected subversives.

At least 30 rightists in metropolitan France and Algeria were in jail or being sought on suspicion of subversion or other crimes against the state.

Tuesday, in Algeria, the city's newly-appointed public prosecutor, Robert Schmeck, warned the government would relentlessly pursue its intention to punish those responsible for the tense days of the uprising that began two weeks ago.

The prosecutor vowed "judicial action will be pursued firmly against those who took an active part in planning, directing and carrying out the insurrection."

Integrationists Force Closing Of Restaurants

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Lunch counters at chain variety and some drug stores in five North Carolina cities were closed today as Negro students expanded their Gandhi-like protest of lunch counter segregation.

Both white and Negro representatives of the Congress of Racial Equality arrived to help spread the "sit-in" and "standing line" technique to other cities.

spread two days later to the Kress store there. The protest spread to Winston-Salem, Charlotte, Fayetteville and Durham.

Gordon Carey, 28, white field secretary for CORE, said he is advising the Negroes to limit their demonstration to stores of the Woolworth chain.

There is no law prohibiting Negroes from being served at the lunch counters, but local custom is against it.

The "sit-in" protest began a line Moj igawya a onet Woolworth store in Greensboro and five schools turned out in force to take seats at the lunch counters in F. W. Woolworth, S. H. Kress,

H. L. Green, McCrory and Walgreen drug stores. They refused to move even though they were not served.

Divers Plan To Search For Lurking Sub

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The Argentine navy was reported preparing today to send "frogmen" into the Nuevo Gulf off southeastern Argentina to determine once and for all whether a foreign submarine is lurking in its depths.

8-Kin-diver suits whose wearers could plunge as deep as 200 feet beneath the surface — less than half the estimated 450-foot maximum depth of the gulf — were said to be on the way to the naval task force in the area.

The navy closed the approaches to the gulf to commercial shipping Tuesday for unexplained "tactical reasons."

The only other official word about the sub which has been reported in or near the gulf intermittently for the past 11 years was that seven Argentine ships and half a dozen planes were "continuing patrols in the area."

Buenos Aires buzzed with rumors; that a second sub had been sighted near the gulf, that a cruiser was searching for a mysterious "mother ship" 300 miles off the coast, that police had arrested a "foreign couple" caught concealing supplies for 5,000 men.

Navy Undersecretary Eladio Vasquez said the department has no knowledge of the arrest of any foreigners or of the discovery of a supply cache on the southeast coast.

No official comment on the other rumors could be obtained. Observers here said the best guess seemed to be that the submarine — if there was one — either had slipped away or plunged to a depth where the Argentine navy could not hope to detect or destroy it.

AMARILLO — The Amarillo Sandies upset the loop-leading Borger Bulldogs here Tuesday night, 54-47, to cut Borger's District 3-4A lead to one game over Plainview and two over Palo Duro. Borger is 10-1 for district play, Plainview 9-2, and Palo Duro 8-3.

The victory kept the Sandies in a tie for fourth place with the Pampa Harvesters, with a 5-6 record. It marked the first time Borger has lost in the last 14 games. The Sandies led almost all the way, with a 19-9 margin at the end of the first quarter, a 32-20 halftime lead, and a 44-21 third quarter edge. Borger pulled ahead briefly in the fourth quarter, but the Sandies quickly regained the lead.

Three Sandies hit in double figures — Gary Pattinson with 18, Jerry Avery with 14 and Johnny Garcia with 12. For Borger, Frank Schaffer had 12 and John Kent 10.

PLAINVIEW — The Plainview Bulldogs moved to within one game of the District 3-4A lead here Tuesday night by whipping the Lubbock Westerners 59-49. The win left Plainview with a 9-2 district record, while the Borger Bulldogs, who were upset by Amarillo, are 10-1. Each team has three games left to play.

Lubbock is still tied for sixth place in the district race with Tascosa. Both have 3-8 district records.

District 11-B Tournney Set At Wheeler

WHEELER (SpI) — The District 11-B basketball tournament gets underway here Thursday night, as the Miami boys play Kelson and the Mobestie boys clash with the host Wheeler squad.

The district tournament will decide half of the district championship. If Wheeler, the round-robin champion, also wins the tournament, Wheeler will be the district champion. If, however, some other team captures the tournament, the tournament winner will meet Wheeler in a one-game playoff for the championship.

Wheeler finished the round robin with a 9-1 record, followed by Briscoe and Miami with 7-3 marks, Allison at 5-5, and Kelson and Mobestie with 1-9 records. Mobestie won the girls' division round robin with a 9-1 record, and Wheeler was runnerup with 7-3. Miami was third with a 6-4 mark.

In the upper bracket of the boys' division Thursday, Wheeler plays Briscoe at 6:15 p.m. and Mobestie draws a bye. In the lower bracket Miami meets Kelson at 8:45 p.m. and Allison draws a bye. The lower bracket semifinals will be played at 8:15 p.m. Friday, and the upper bracket semifinals are set for 8:45 p.m. Friday. The championship game is scheduled for 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

Thursday in the upper bracket of the girls' division of the tournament, Mobestie plays Kelson at 5 p.m. and Allison draws a bye. In the lower bracket, Wheeler plays Miami at 7:00 p.m. and Briscoe draws a bye. Lower bracket semifinals are scheduled for 5 p.m. Friday, and upper bracket semifinals for 7:30 p.m. Friday. The girls' championship game will be played at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The same rules govern the girls' championship race as cover the boys' race. If Mobestie, the regular season winner, takes the tournament, Mobestie is the district champ. If not, the tournament winner clashes with Mobestie in a playoff for the championship.

Weather Hampers Olympic Stars

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Olympic athletes, chafing under the restrictions imposed by inclement weather, moved out to the training slopes and rinks today determined to get at least exercise — if not full-scale practice.

Despite an all-day snow Tuesday, many of the skiers and skaters got outdoors for some limbering work and they planned to do it against today.

Snowfall which started at noon Monday, when a rain which threatened to wash out the winter Olympic Games turned to snow, reached a depth of 30 inches early today, and the forecast was for a total of 33 inches before the storm abates. At times it was a full-fledged blizzard with high winds and zero visibility, and then it would slacken to a gentle fall. But the snow never stopped.

For SWC Leadership Ags, SMU Tied

United Press International

Texas A&M and Southern Methodist were still running neck-and-neck for the Southwest Conference basketball title today following easy victories Tuesday night over Arkansas and Rice.

The Aggies, who make the earth tremble every time they don their basketball shoes, handed the hapless Porkers a 77-68 defeat on the strength of a tight defense and sophomore Carroll Broussard's pin-point accuracy.

The Methodist easily whipped Rice 66-52 in a game at Dallas as the two leaders stayed a game ahead of Texas (5-2).

In the only other action Tuesday night, Baylor overwhelmed Texas Christian 75-60.

The Mustangs and Aggie victories gave both teams 8-1 conference marks. Arkansas dropped to a fourth place tie with Baylor and Texas Tech at 3-4. It was the Hogs' fourth straight loss, and sent them below the .500 mark for the first time this season.

Broussard and his Aggie teammates, using a man-to-man defense, only slightly outbounded the Razorbacks, but outmaneuvered them virtually every step of the game.

Broussard hit a total of 23 points, 15 of which came from the field in the first half.

Arkansas' Pat Foster, playing his longest stretch since returning from an appendectomy Dec. 29, hit 20 points to lead the Razorbacks.

SMU's Mutt-and-Jeff combination of Steve Strange and little Max Williams teamed up to score more than half the Mustangs' total output. Each had 19 points. Rice was never far behind, however, chiefly because of David

Rodriguez Meets Hubbard Tonight

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Top-ranked welterweight Luis Rodriguez faces hard-punching Carl Hubbard in a nationally televised 10-round bout tonight which Rodriguez hopes will be a tuneup fight for a meeting with champion Don Jordan.

The 22-year-old Rodriguez, from Camaguey, Cuba, has not impressed his critics in compiling his 26-victory string. He is accused of having no punch, little boxing skill and poor defense.

Though Hubbard is unbeaten in 23 pro fights and has registered 15 knockouts, he is little known outside his hometown of Philadelphia.

Chamberlain Breaks Two NBA Records

By United Press International

Wilt Chamberlain doesn't believe in breaking National Basketball Association records one at a time.

The fabulous Philadelphia rookie cracked two league standards Tuesday night when he established a new single season scoring record and rebound mark while the Warriors were being trimmed, 122-113, by the Detroit Pistons.

Even in defeat Chamberlain outstarred the field. Wilt's 41 points gave him a total of 2,134 to bypass the old mark of 2,105 established by Bob Pettit of St. Louis last season.

The Philadelphia flipper also snared 14 rebounds to move one ahead of the 1,613 retrieves that Boston's Bill Russell nabbed a season high during the 1958-59 campaign.

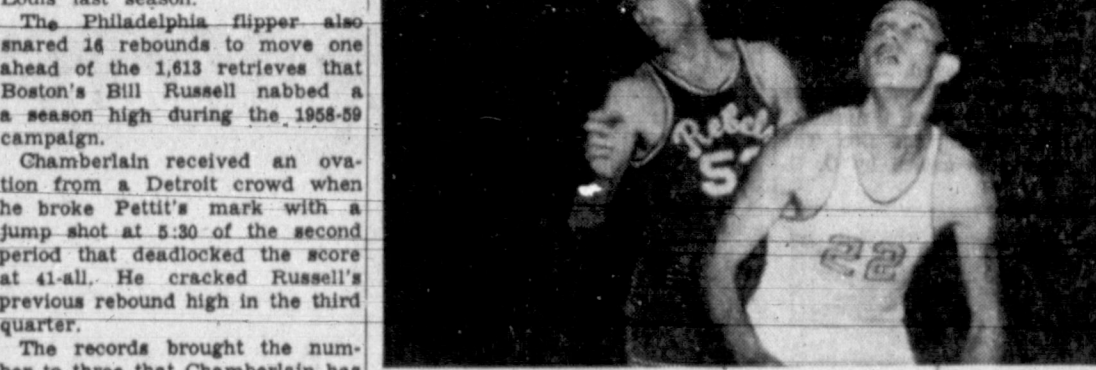

Chamberlain received an ovation from a Detroit crowd when he broke Pettit's mark with a jump shot at 5:30 of the second period that deadlocked the score at 41-41. He cracked Russell's previous rebound high in the third quarter.

The records brought the number to three that Chamberlain has broken.

He previously topped the Pettit record of 719 field goals made in a single season.

Syracuse withstood a late Cincinnati rally to defeat the Royals, 117-111 in the first game of a doubleheader at Detroit.

The Boston Celtics made Coach Red Auerbach's 1,000th game as an NBA coach a pleasant one as they ripped the Minneapolis Lakers, 129-90, and St. Louis made it six victories in eight meetings with the New York Knickerbockers by grabbing a 114-104 decision.

SWISH—Craig Winborn (right) of the Harvesters and Bill Randall of Tascosa wait under the Pampa basket for a rebound which doesn't happen. Pat Carter put this one in the basket for the Harvesters, in the first quarter, for one of Pampa's five successful field goal attempts. Pampa was outshot from the floor, but won the game on free throws. (Daily News Photo)

HC, Bonnies May Get NCAA Bids

United Press International

If officials of the National Invitation Tournament are serious about wanting St. Bonaventure and Holy Cross in their annual basketball jamboree next month, they'd better stop freezing the ball.

Otherwise, both teams could wind up as "at large" entries in the eastern regionals of the N.C.A.A. championship.

The Bonnies and Holy Cross have the proper credentials to qualify for either tournament.

Led by Tom Stith's record 46 points, St. Bonaventure (12-3) extended its home court winning streak to 92 games Tuesday night by nipping Providence College, 90-89, in three overtime periods.

Holy Cross (14-2) battled to a 72-71 victory over Dartmouth when reserve forward Spence Thompson tapped in a missed free throw in the final three seconds of play at Hanover, N.H.

Stith, the nation's second-highest scorer behind Cincinnati's fabulous Oscar Robertson, tossed in St. Bonaventure's winning basket had accepted an N.T. bid Monday. His total output far exceeded the Olean (N.Y.) Armory single-game record of 37 points, set by Mal Duffy of St. Bonaventure six years ago.

Holy Cross rallied from a 10-point deficit in the second half against Dartmouth in posting its ninth straight victory. Ralph Brandt paced the Crusaders with 19 points and Gary Vandeweghe

PJH Cagers Capture Two

United Press International

Pampa Junior High's Reapers won their 10th game of the season here Tuesday, beating the Perryton Junior High team, 36-28. The Reapers, now 10-2 for the year, led all the way, with a 7-4 first quarter advantage, a 17-12 halftime lead, and a 28-18 third quarter advantage.

Randy Matson led Reaper scoring with 14 points. C. E. Cantrell had 10, Larkin Miller nine, Jimmy Weatherly four, and Dwight Thompson two.

The Pampa eighth graders rallied with 15 points in the third quarter to come from behind and beat Perryton's eighth grade, 40-32.

The Planters trailed 17-16 at halftime, but a 15-point surge in the third period put them ahead, 31-23. The two teams matched point-for-point in the final period.

For the Planters, Kenny Hebert was high point man with 15. Charles Price had nine, Gary Davis seven, Eddie Barnes four, Richard Revoist three and James Wilford two. The Planters now have a 4-2 season record.

Ed Ederlatz Will Coach At Oakland

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Eddie Ederlatz, a fine coach without a single player, launched the pre-season basketball battle today by digging in a team for Oakland's entry in the new American Football League.

The former Navy mentor was named to the head coach's job Tuesday four days after the University of California had skipped him and filled its own vacancy with Marvin Levy, a comparative unknown.

"I have to form a staff of four assistants and then we'll go after the players," Ederlatz said.

Ederlatz appeared to be as vague as anyone else over the complexities of building up a roster. While other members of the league have made their draft choices and are waving contracts, Oakland is starting from scratch.

Ederlatz, who will be 47 in April, said that he was facing the challenge of building up a team and a winner with great enthusiasm.

"I've been everything else but a pioneer," said the former St. Mary's end and San Francisco Forty-Niner line coach.

Moyer, DeMarco Fight Tonight

BOSTON (UPI) — Young Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., meets former champion Tony DeMarco of Boston tonight in a 10-round welterweight bout at The Garden.

Moyer, a 20-year-old who has lost only once during his brief but sparkling pro career, probably will go into the ring as a 10-8 favorite to whip the one-time champ.

Harvesters Sink 35 Charities; Winborn Dunks 20 From Line

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Pampa's Harvesters Tuesday became (undoubtedly) one of the best teams in basketball history to be outshot by as many as 13 baskets, and still win a game.

Tascosa's Rebels outgunned the Harvesters from the floor, 18 field goals to five. But Pampa sank 35 of 41 free throws, the result of 23 Tascosa fouls, to take a 45-41 victory.

From the floor Tascosa took 47 shots and made 18. Pampa, because of Tascosa fouls got off only 25 shots during the game, making five of them. The Harvesters scored only one field goal during the entire second half but still managed to run neck-and-neck with Tascosa in scoring. Each team tallied 22 in the second half.

Craig Winborn scored 26 points for the Harvesters, although he made only three baskets. He went to the free throw line 23 times, and sank 20 charity tosses.

Pampa was charged with 11 fouls but Tascosa was able to take advantage of them for only 13 free throw attempts, and connected on only five of those attempts.

From the floor, though, Mike Sims of the Rebels matched the scoring of the entire Pampa team, getting five baskets for 10 points. He was high point man for Tascosa. Next was Curtis Waters with four buckets and a free throw for nine points.

For the Harvesters, Winborn was the only player in double figures. Joe Timms scored seven points. Pat Carter five, Allen Wise four and Phillip Gist three. Carter and Timms were the only Pampa players besides Winborn to score field goals. They had one each.

The first quarter Tuesday was a see-saw affair in which the lead changed hands several times. Pampa held a slim 11-10 lead at the end of the quarter, thanks largely to seven free throws made by Winborn.

A basket by Sims put Tascosa ahead early in the second period.

Shockers End Slump With 57-28 Win Over Tascosa B

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Terry Culley's Shockers broke out of their slump in a big way here Tuesday night by romping over the Tascosa Raiders, 57-28. In a previous game, the Shockers had beaten the Raiders by only one point.

Tuesday's game, which gave the Shockers a 12-9 season record and broke a three-game losing streak, was strictly no contest all the way. The Shockers grabbed a 13-5 first quarter advantage, led 26-19 at halftime, and pulled ahead 39-21 after three quarters.

Culley cleared his bench in the fourth quarter, but the fired-up reserves did as well as the regulars, outscoring the Raiders in the fourth period, 18-7.

All 13 players on the Shocker team saw some action Tuesday, and 12 of them scored.

Bucks Take Crucial Win Over Lefors

WHITE DEER (SpI) — White Deer's Bucks pulled even with the Lefors Pirates in the "last" coliseum here Tuesday by rallying in the second half to edge the Pirates 52-48.

The Pirates still lead the District 2-A race with an 8-2 record, but White Deer, with a 6-2 mark, could assure itself of a tie for the title by winning its remaining games. Lefors hosts Memphis Friday. White Deer hosts Clarendon Saturday, then travels to Memphis Saturday. Lefors has two district games remaining, White Deer four.

Lefors jumped off to a 18-8 first quarter lead, but White Deer modified its zone defense and managed to slow the Pirate attack. Lefors led only 20-15 at halftime, then White Deer came on strong in the third quarter to grab a 30-28 lead. The Bucks increased their lead to 48-41 with two minutes left, but Lefors rallied to narrow the gap.

Three Bucks hit in double figures, as Jack Burns made 16, Tommy Lester 15 and Robert McAllen 14. Mark Collins played an outstanding defensive game for the Bucks. Harry Price led Lefors scoring with 21 points.

In a preliminary game, the White Deer Does upset their district rival to 8-0 with a 58-51 win over the Lefors girls. White Deer led all the way, and had three girls scoring in double figures. Juanna Jo Moore tallied 24, Kay Allen 18 and Leona Travis 16. Pat McDowell scored 23 for Lefors, followed by Betty Lewis with 17.

White Deer completed a triple-header sweep by defeating Lefors in a B team boys game, 44-27.

Decision Set

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—The site for the Dallas-Tarrant county area's major league baseball stadium will be chosen by March 1, officials announced Tuesday.

Leonard Green, chairman of the Joint Board of Park Commissioners, said engineers and architects for the stadium also will be announced about the first of next month.

"The overall timetable calls for completion of the stadium by April 1, 1961, in time for the first playing season of the newly formed Continental League," Green said.

Why There May Not Be A Missile Gap

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Jumping in now to close the possible missile gap of 1962-64 would seriously endanger the security of the United States.

Likewise, if the Russians built all the 1960-type ballistic missiles in 1960-63 that U.S. estimators think they're capable of, Nikita Khrushchev would be endangering his own defense position.

This is the startling private thinking of some of the top U.S. Defense men. It is the reason why current U.S. missile production will be relatively small in 1960-62, until new type missiles are ready.

This is the reason why there are some men in the Pentagon who now think that a real missile gap may never develop.

ed the lesson of the Korean air battle and intercontinental bomber race.

So, U.S. strategists want to leapfrog today's old-fashioned intercontinental ballistic missiles. They want to turn out only as many liquid-fueled Atlases and Titans as they have to get by.

For these missiles with their fixed and well-advertised locations will soon be sitting ducks for Red sneak attacks. They're cumbersome and expensive. They're not versatile. They tie the U.S. to a vast network of expensive bases. They are obsolete type of missile bases.

If turned out in large quantities, they would tie up a great portion of U.S. military effort and organization on weapons and bases capable of doing only one job in a way.

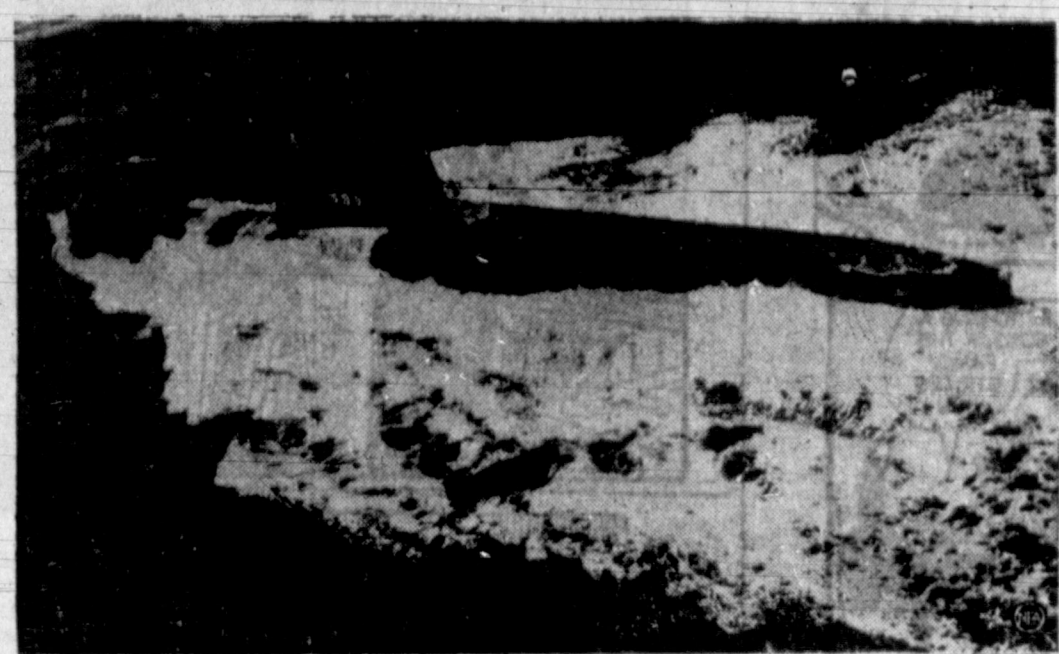

The strategists instead aim at jumping right to a new generation of superior ballistic missiles — the solid-fueled Sky Bolt, Minuteman and the advanced Polaris.

These are highly mobile. They get away from the fixed Maginot-line type of defense. The 5,000-mile-plus Minuteman can be put on railway cars. The 1,500-mile Polaris fits on subs. The 1,000-mile Sky Bolt will nest neatly on B-52s and B-58s.

These new missiles can't be zeroed in by Soviet intelligence men and knocked out on the first kick. They are relatively cheap and can be produced quickly in large numbers. They can do a variety of jobs.

If we concentrated on the Atlas and Titan closing the gap now, we'd be condemning ourselves to certain inferiority later. This we can't afford.

These new missiles can't be zeroed in by Soviet intelligence men and knocked out on the first kick. They are relatively cheap and can be produced quickly in large numbers. They can do a variety of jobs.

POLARIS SUB — Mobility, versatility and relatively cheap.

To understand this reasoning we have to go back a few years.

Take the air war in Korea. The Russians had concentrated on jets. The U.S. was far behind. The Red MIG was so good that they mass produced it. There was a "plane gap." The Russians had a lot of these modern planes. The U.S. didn't. But by leapfrogging the MIG-15 type plane the U.S. produced smaller numbers of a better plane, and the air battle in Korea was lopsided in our favor.

U.S. military men believe this lesson was not lost on the Russians. Again look back several years. There was great furor in the U.S. that Russians were producing a huge intercontinental bomber fleet. The men who now forecast a missile gap, were forecasting a bomber gap with thousands of superior Russian bombers ready in a few years.

The U.S. tried to meet that gap, and built a large number of intercontinental bombers, hurriedly continental defenses at great expense.

But the Russians threat never developed. The Reds decided to leapfrog into missiles. The U.S. ended up with a considerable supply of intercontinental bombers which quickly were obsolete.

In top U.S. military circles this Russian bomber "red herring" is now regarded as one of the major Russian victories — wasting U.S. production and effort in a blind alley.

Now these Defense planners see the same pattern developing. They see Khrushchev speaking loudly about how many missiles he is producing.

But while Mr. K. talks, they notice two things:

1. He is improving his conventional army, navy and air force in quality. He is producing more conventional weapons, not fewer.
2. He is not — so far at least — stepping up his missile production sharply. Nor is there evidence that he is planning to do so.

If Khrushchev were going to produce a great quantity of 1960-type missiles, he'd have to already have started a vast program of missile bases. So far there has been no evidence of this.

But whatever Khrushchev does, U.S. planners think they've learned the lesson.

Jet Travel Exceeds Even Most Optimistic Predictions

EDITORS NOTE: The writer of the following dispatch is one of the nation's leading authorities on commercial aviation, a pilot himself and the author of a number of books on the subject.

By MARTIN CAIDIN
(Written for UPI)

If the airline industry of the United States felt that its pre-jet age predictions bordered on the optimistic, it has good reason to wonder at its own reticence.

With the first year of major domestic jet travel now a fact, even the most optimistic expectations have been exceeded in the performance of the great jet airliners. In terms of speed, comfort and distance; the 707 jet airliner has earned the praise of both its users and its passengers. In terms of safety, the jet is the most cheering thing that has happened to commercial flying in years.

As of the end of January, 83 of the Boeing jets were in service. They had flown a total of 121,300 hours, or 82,000,000 miles, and carried the amazing total of 2,335,000 persons — without a single accident.

By 1964, American jetliners—the Boeing 707, Douglas DC-8, and Convair 440 and 600—may be flying as many as 400,000 to 500,000 persons a week.

In terms of safety, the 707 jets are almost beyond belief. In its first 4,000 hours of jet flight, Continental Airlines operated with a perfect engine reliability record. There wasn't so much as a single engine failure. On the basis of this performance, the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) states that the jet airliner was more than 20 times as reliable as the piston-engine airliner.

Another airlines in its first five months of operation completed 99.8 per cent of all scheduled mileage with the jet airliner. It flew a total of 48,380 hours of flight with no engine failures and only two shutdowns — a precautionary measure to prevent failure of, or damage to, an engine.

The FAA says the 707 jet engines have "almost fantastic" reliability. In 10 months, Pan American flew 64,000 engine hours, with no failures, and only five deliberate shutdowns. In this period, flying six jetliners, PAA made 1,273 trans-Atlantic flights carrying nearly 130,000 passengers.

In the early days of commercial jet flight, concern was expressed about FOD (Foreign Object Damage). What would happen if the powerful jet engines sucked in objects? Would they explode or burn? Would the airplane be crippled? These things worried people.

In a series of tests the Pratt & Whitney Co. ran an engine to high speed. They then hurled into the intake several chunks of glass, a furled jacket, three mechanics' hats, a pair of pliers, a file, a chisel, a jack-knife, a length of iron chain, a roll of tape, pilots' headphones, and an assortment of nuts, bolts, and ball bearings.

Wary Eye On Cuban Festivities

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American officials disclosed today they are keeping a wary eye on preparations for a Communist-biased propaganda blowout in Cuba which they expect to erupt in a torrent of anti-U.S. abuse.

The object of their attention is the proposed July meeting in Havana of a "Latin American Youth Congress." The Communist World Federation of Democratic Youth, Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime is reported to have embraced it with promises of financial support.

Intelligence sources said the Communist-dominated preparatory committee for the meeting is setting up a program which includes the following: Position toward dictators and "formal democracy"; limitations on national moment and economic developments.

These subjects all appear to U.S. officials to be the usual innocuous Communist cover designations for biases against "Yankee-imperialism" and charges that the West wants war as opposed to Russia's professed desire for "peaceful co-existence."

U.S. officials are certain that if this ideological fish-fry takes place as planned, it will provide a spate of hate propaganda against Uncle Sam, right at his very doorstep.

The Cuban Catholic Students' Movement has plans to sabotage the Red-tinged rally, if possible, according to U.S. intelligence sources. The Catholic group will offer an anti-totalitarian resolution, which the Communists cannot accept, and then do a spectacular walk-out — if Castro forces ever let the Catholics into the conference in the first place.

Stock Market Not True To Predictions

By ELMER G. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market so far this year has proved the efficacy of the old Wall Street adage which holds that when any group is unanimous in anything it generally is wrong.

There was almost complete unanimity among business men, economists, and government experts that business would boom in 1960. There was unanimity in Wall Street that the stock market would rise to a new high — possibly $700 to $750 in the Dow-Jones industrial average in the first half and dip in the second.

Not Holding Up

Lately there has been growing unanimity that business is not holding up as had been expected — auto sales disappointing, steel inventories high and possibly will not be built much higher, and so on.

Edmund W. Tabell, analyst for SOVIET'S COMPACT CAR—An American dealer has bought 10,000 of these Russian "Moskvich" sedans for the U.S. market, according to a Soviet report. The four-door, four-seater sells for $2,500 at the official rate of exchange. Its 45-horsepower engine carries it up to 72 m.p.h.

Oilman Succumbs

AUSTIN (UPI) — Herman Heep, prominent Austin oilman-rancher and a member of the Texas A&M Board of Directors, died today after a long illness.

Heep, who was chairman of the Committee on State Supported Colleges and Universities, died at 3:05 a.m. at Seton Hospital. Funeral services are pending at Cooke Funeral Home.

When the low is reached, Tabell believes it will probably be around the 350 level, and the upper limit of the range could be around 700.

"It is entirely possible," says Tabell, "that three years from today the averages will be right where they are today, but possibly with stock A 20 points higher and stock B 20 points lower."

Walston & Co. thinks there's a pretty good chance that all three of these forecasts could be somewhat off base.

Tabell, one of Wall Street's astute chart experts, admits he was in the crowd that looked for a high industrial average in the first half.

But he changed his mind when unanimity developed along this line. He became cautious in December.

And now, says Tabell, the way it looks the market could very possibly double-cross the experts and make its low in the first half and its high in the second half.

According to Tabell, the advance that started in October of 1957 is the fifth and final phase of the "long-term advance from the terrific undervaluation that existed at the 1949 lows."

When the move is completed, he says, it will be followed by a long consolidation period before a broad overall advance resumes. He believes that consolidation

Money Not An Influence In DJ Selections

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Half a dozen more disc jockeys were called for questioning today by congressional payola investigators who haven't yet got one to say that money influenced his selection of records.

The House subcommittee in two days of hearings has uncovered more than $22,000 in side payments or gifts from record or music companies to three disc jockeys.

Summoned to testify as the lead-off witness today was Wesley Hopkins, a former disc jockey for Cleveland radio station KYW. The station fired both Hopkins and Joseph Finan, another disc jockey, in the developing payola scandals.

Also on the witness list were Charles Young, former record librarian with KYW who also was fired for outside interests; four Boston disc jockeys; and four other Boston radio employees or executives.

Finan, 32, testified Tuesday that he took $15,225 in side payments from 16 record manufacturers and distributors before he was fired last December by the Cleveland station.

Finan said he saw nothing "immoral" about this and insisted that the payments were for various other services and never influenced his judgment in selecting records for his program.

The subcommittee took a different view. Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said Finan's testimony pointed up "a very bad situation" which "reflects on the entire broadcasting industry."

Finan, who sported a crew-cut and expensively-tailored suit, said he earned $38,000 to $40,000 in salary for his radio-television work last year before he was fired.

He was fired because of side payments from record companies which last year totaled $10,225. He had received the other $5,000 in 1953.

In addition to the payments, Finan said, he also solicited and received a loan of $2,500 from Chess Records, Chicago, in 1953. He said he signed no note for the loan, will pay no interest, and has no specific time limit for repayment. He said he still owes $1,700 on the loan.

Finan, a resident of Rocky River, Ohio, said he currently is in charge of promotion for a Cleveland record firm.

Trinity Water Development Talks Open

White, of Baytown, testified at a lengthy hearing before the State Board of Water Engineers on a Dallas-Houston proposal to develop the lower Trinity River.

The SJRA opposes the plan, as it hopes to develop the San Jacinto before the lower Trinity is developed.

White said he would pay 5% to 6 cents per 1,000 gallons for San Jacinto-River water rather than accept free Trinity water.

He explained that the major factor in industrial water usage from the user's standpoint is not the cost of "F.O.B. spur fence," but the cost of treating the water to make it fit for use.

Earlier he testified it would cost about three times as much to treat Trinity water as it would to make San Jacinto water usable in industries.

Studies have shown, White said, that it would cost $95 per million gallons to treat Trinity water while San Jacinto water could be made usable for only 38 per million gallons.

Other factors to be taken into consideration in river development are the ability of the supplier to enter into a contract and the amount of pollution from upstream industrial use, White said.

"I'm sure that a prudent water consumer would give consideration to all sources of water available to him with reference to the ultimate cost of what would make the water usable to his particular industry," he added.

The Dallas-Houston plan to develop the lower Trinity includes a dam and reservoir at Livingston and a salt water barrier at Wallisville.

Flu Attack Losing Punch

By BILL CLAYTON
United Press International

State health officials said Tuesday influenza's attack on Texas is losing its punch, although more counties are having moderate outbreaks.

State Health Commissioner Dr. J. E. Peavy reported that yet counties showed more than 50 cases of influenza during the week ended last Saturday, compared with 49 counties the previous week. However, Peavy said, case loads were lower sharply in the hardest-hit counties.

But, the official warned that cases can be expected to continue for a few more weeks.

Echoing Dr. Peavy's reports was a report from Dallas City Health Director Dr. J. W. Baas, who said the number of deaths in Texas' second-largest city from flu and pneumonia complications appeared to have reached a peak and started to decline.

Peavy said Shackelford and Stephens counties were having epidemics of flu, but that no figures were available on the actual number of cases.

Of the hardest-hit counties, El Paso reported 2,988 cases the past week, compared with 2,908 the previous week.

Jefferson had 2,044; Lamar 1,250; Nueces 1,992, down from 2,227; Reeves 1,600; Travis 1,991, down from 2,225.

Dallas and Harris counties did not report case loads, and Bexar county reported only seven cases officially, although many more were suspected in the San Antonio area.

Tax Load Not Equal

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Truett B. Marshall, an Austin tax consultant hired by the city of Fort Worth, charged Tuesday that many Fort Worth homeowners are paying more than their just share of taxes.

He said although "Fort Worth taxes aren't out of line with those in other cities, owners of homes built before 1949 are not paying as much as they should."

Marshall recommended that city revise its tax structure and make a property evaluation survey to "equalize property value."

He also urged that Fort Worth begin taxing individually-owned automobiles and stop writing off penalties on overdue tax payments.

Queen's Wish Stirs Fuss

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express today blamed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's cabinet for what it called Queen Elizabeth's "silly blunder" — introduction of the new royal surname of Mountbatten-Windsor.

"Plainly the cabinet members have misjudged the mood of the public," the Express said. "They have underestimated the people's attachment to the British name of Windsor."

The Queen decreed Monday night that all her descendants other than royal princesses and princesses should carry the surname Mountbatten-Windsor. This was in honor of Prince Philip, whose adopted surname of Mountbatten is the Anglicized form of the German Battenberg.

The Daily Herald today became the first newspaper to accept the new surname.

"Why all the fuss?" it asked. "It's the Queen's harmless and sentimental wish, why should anyone care to interfere with it?"

Missing Coed Just Touring

LUBBOCK (UPI) — A Texas Tech coed missing from the campus for a week has turned up in San Francisco, saying "I just wanted to get away from things familiar."

The accounting student, Anita Cantrell, vanished from the college with more than $300 Feb. 3. The cash had been for registration fees.

The girl's mother said she received a letter from her daughter Tuesday. It was dated Feb. 3 from San Francisco, and said, "I am well and happy, but I've got to get a job."

School officials reported that Miss Cantrell's mother called them from her Grand Prairie home to report that her daughter had been located.

Texas A&M To Stay Male

BRYAN, Tex. (UPI) — All-male Texas A&M College is going to remain that way.

District Judge W. T. McDonald Tuesday denied a petition of three women to enter the college. John M. Barron, attorney for the three women, said he would appeal the decision to the Circuit Court of Civil Appeals.

In announcing his decision following a hearing of less than two hours, Judge McDonald said that regardless of his feelings and his personal thinking in the case, he was bound by the decision of the Civil Appeals Court on the pre-

Driver Killed Using RR Tracks As Road

DALLAS (UPI) — Louis M. Fields, 74, unexplainedly drove his pickup truck several hundred feet down a railroad right of way Tuesday night before a Rock Island passenger train hit it head-on and killed him.

Police said Fields apparently tried to swerve off the tracks, but the truck's wheels caught on a rail just before the train hit.

The impact knocked the truck spinning off the tracks and down a gravel embankment.

J. H. McDonald, engineer of the train, said he was going about 40 miles per hour when the accident happened. The train was made up in Houston and was on its way into Dallas.

Wages War On Narcotics

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico (UPI) — Gilberto Suarez Torres, Mexico's assistant attorney general, said his country is waging a relentless war on narcotics traffic and the drive is "being stepped up all along the northern border."

Suarez Torres was in Nuevo Laredo Tuesday on a tour of border federal district attorneys' offices. He conferred at length with Nuevo Laredo federal prosecutor Jose Luis Montoya Centeno.

"We have enough federal agents and other law enforcement officers, as well as authority under law, to investigate and apprehend dope violators," Suarez Torres said.

He also talked with Rafael Garcia Tello, a federal agent from Monterrey who was shot in the stomach last Friday as he tried to arrest two narcotics peddlers in Nuevo Laredo's red-light district.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — A case of mistaken identity may result in payment of $42.58 to Mrs. Everett J. Williamson.

A city committee has recommended payment of that amount to Mrs. Williamson because city garbage men mistook a basket of her dirty laundry for garbage last month and picked it up along with the contents of her garbage cans.

Kennedy, Nixon Seek Fast Starts In N.H.

KENNEDY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE — His mother and father can vote.

Senator Beats Streets, Stores, Factories For Votes In Year's First Popularity Test

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

MANCHESTER, N.H. (NEA) — Vice President Richard N. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy are using each other as goads as they seek to make New Hampshire's primary a showpiece to captivate the country and get them off fast toward the Republican and Democratic nominations.

Neither has the prod of major city opposition in the March 8 presidential preference test, the season's first. So they're looking across the party fence for yardsticks.

The Kennedy forces want not only to run up a record Democratic score, in the range of 35,000 to 40,000 votes. They want to breathe on Nixon by narrowing the state's normal 2 1/2 to 1 Republican margin.

The Nixon side, alert to this threat and expecting a fall-sized write-in for New York Governor Rockefeller, aims to keep Kennedy at a proper distance and outdo President Eisenhower's 1956 primary vote of 56,000.

Nixon may yet be lured from his Washington perch to plunge into this campaign.

Kennedy, though already well known in New Hampshire, is making two or three forays. Following on one day:

Tanned, thin as melba toast, a softly falling snow flecking his thick hair, Kennedy walks along a Nashua street shaking hands with people clustered in store doorways "out of the weather."

Little knots of the curious flow with him down the street, and a posse of cameramen keeps circling, to zero in whenever he stops to chat. A woman several strides behind shouts: "Where's that new haircut? I wanna see the front of him!"

The candidate drifts into a lunchette, plops down on a stool beside a startled brunette, orders coffee and a sandwich. The girl purrs: "How can you relax?"

He darts for the door. A young blond grasps his arm so a friend can snap a picture. He breaks away and runs for his plane.

New Hampshire Democrats, unified, well organized, think they've got a man they can really put across. They're promoting Kennedy and giving a quiet blessing to things that might hold Nixon's vote down.

The Nixon forces, geared originally for a big fight with Rockefeller, have the organization horses, too. They know the rural GOP vote may be easier to pull than that in the Democratic cities, since primary day is also town meeting day for the smaller places.

But the Nixon men have one problem Kennedy hasn't — Rockefeller. A good write-in for the governor looks likely, though Rockefeller's leaders insist they won't try. The handful of delegates filed for him should poll more than the scattering who have filed on the Democratic side for Senators Symington and Humphrey.

TWO AIRMEN HURT

TOKYO (UPI) — A train struck an American Air Force patrol car near Fuchu on the outskirts of Tokyo Tuesday, injuring two airmen.

Airman 2-c John C. Moore, 22, of Philadelphia, Pa., was hospitalized with fractured ribs but described in good condition. Airman 3-c Freddie Filinger, 31, of Kansas City, Mo., the driver, was released after being treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Many New Bridges Not Suitable

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House investigator charged today that thousands of bridges built under the interstate highway program are too low to permit passage of the Atlas intercontinental missile and other important weapons.

Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex.) made the statement as a House Public Works subcommittee opened hearings on the highway program by calling D. Ken Chacey, assistant chief of Army transportation.

Subcommittee members said they wanted to question Chacey on why the Defense Department waited for more than two years to establish its minimum requirements for the highways.

Chairman John A. Blatnik (R. Minn.) said that a larger number of over passes were constructed with a 14 to 15 foot clearance before the Defense Department decided it needed a 16-foot minimum.

Wright declared that the bridges were too low to allow movement along many highways "of some of our most important military hardware." He said the ocean-spanning Atlas was included among this group.

Other congressional news: Defense: Sen. Stuart Symington, (D-Mo.) planned to ask Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. whether the Russian missile threat was downgraded in setting the new U.S. military budget.

Gates and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were scheduled to appear at the Senate space-preparedness investigation. Symington threatened in advance to make public secret intelligence estimates of Russian missile power if the administration denied that the Soviet rocket threat was greater than ever.

Former FCC Commissioner Sued For Divorce

MIAMI (UPI) — Susan Mack, wife of former FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack, filed for divorce Monday, saying her husband's drinking made him become "disturbing and intolerable."

Mack has been placed in the Jackson Memorial Institute by his father for a mental condition brought on by alcoholism.

Mack is awaiting the start of a second trial for conspiracy in Washington. The federal government charged that he and Miami attorney Thurman Whiteside conspired to fix Mack's vote in a television channel award case when Mack was a member of the FCC. The first trial ended in a hung jury.

Mrs. Mack said that in 1958 when they returned to Florida from Washington Mack moved into the Fort Lauderdale hotel his father runs and that she went to Tampa with their 13-year-old daughter, Susan. She said she had been working as a sales clerk for $38.60 a week.

She said she and the child cannot live on this amount and Mack refuses to support them. She charged Mack had deserted them for more than a year.

Mrs. Mack asked for alimony to approve its first major bill of the session by nightfall and send it on to President Eisenhower for an expected veto. The measure would raise from 500 million dollars to 600 million dollars the ceiling on federal grants to help local communities build sewage disposal plants. The bill, a compromise between differing versions passed by the two chambers last year, was scheduled for quick House approval today. Sponsors said the Senate would complete action today or Wednesday.

ACP Program Is Under Way

Mrs. Evelyn Mason, Gray County ASC office manager, said the ACP program is now under way, with several approvals for cost-shares already issued. She reminded farmers to sign up before starting any practices of the program.

She also said a limit of $1,000 per person will be in effect in Gray County for this year.

A further limit of not more than 150 acres of chisel plowing, listing, etc. per farm will be effective, with a limit of not more than 300 acres on all farms of one producer.

Mrs. Mason reminded farmers that Feb. 16 is the final date for signing an application for a "new grower" cotton allotment for 1960. She said to be eligible for a new grower allotment, the operator of the farm must derive at least 50 per cent of his income from the farm. The farm is not eligible if the operator or owner has another cotton farm. Application forms are available at the ASC office.

Mrs. Mason listed these final dates to remember: Feb. 16, to request a "new grower" cotton allotment for 1960; March 16, to elect choice (B) cotton allotment for 1960; March 31, to redeem wheat or grain sorghum under a CCC loan; April 22, to release 1960 cotton allotments that will not be used; April 22, to request that released cotton be reapportioned to your farm; and April 30, to redeem barley under a CCC loan.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Further improvement in the stock market's internal structure is not always perceptible on the surface, according to Investors Research Co.

"Dull, lacadaemical markets have always preceded big rallies," it notes.

"Only by looking inside the market — advance-decline statistics, upside volume daily ratios, odd-lot action, primary trend index, etc. — can the imminence of upward surges be detected."

Business activity has been recovering sharply from the effects of the steel strike and leading economists are predicting that it will hold up well into the latter half of 1960 and perhaps into 1961 at which time the cycle would be fairly mature, says Harris, Upham & Co.

If you are a victim of these symptoms then your troubles may be traced to Glauclular Inflammation. Glauclular Inflammation is a constitutional disease and medicines that give temporary relief will not remove the causes of your troubles.

Neglect of Glauclular inflammation often leads to premature senility, and incurable malignancy. The past year men from 1,000 communities have been successfully treated here at Excelsior Springs. They have found soothing relief and a new zest in life.

The Excelsior Medical Clinic, devoted to the treatment of disease peculiar to older men by NON-SURGICAL Methods has a New FREE BOOK that tells how these troubles may be corrected by proven Non-Surgical treatments. This book may prove of utmost importance in your life. No obligation. Excelsior Medical Clinic, Dept. B 9186 Excelsior Springs, Mo.
