Navy Hunts Elusive Subs

PUERTO MADRYN, Argentina (UPI) — The navy canceled officers' leaves in southern Argentina today in apparent preparation for an all-out attack on two foreign submarines believed trapped in the Nuevo Gulf.

Theories Rife In Mystery Of Missing Coors

GOLDEN, Colo. (UPI) — Wet snow followed by bitter cold abated today, but the search for the missing Coors continued with no new clues.

Two theories began to develop over the weekend on the fate of the wealthy 44-year-old executive. One possibility he had been abducted by professional criminals who overpowered him Tuesday at a narrow bridge across Turkey Creek on Tuesday and spirited him away. The possibility Coors might have been "waylaid" at the bridge by a young thief seeking a fast dollar through violence, enmeshed in an operation "too hot" for him to leave as a holdup.

One major factor stood out in favor of the professional kidnap theory. Coors and his family had been on vacation and returned Feb. 7, just two days before he disappeared. In the meantime, highway crews had begun tearing up a section of U.S. 285 so that when he returned from his vacation, Coors began using another route to work.

'Cut And Dried' Payola Cases To Be Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators reported today they have turned up some "cut and dried" cases where record companies paid disc jockeys to spin their songs. A source close to the payola investigation subcommittee said these instances would be aired this week when the hearings turn from the disc jockeys to representatives of record distributors.

The subcommittee was slated to open the second week of its hearings on alleged under-the-table payments to record-spinners with testimony from more Boston disc jockeys.

Friend Of Dr. Finch Due To Tell Her Story Today

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Carole Tregoff is expected to take the witness stand today to tell her part in the "accidental" slaying of the wife of her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

Lawyers for the 23-year-old redhead were playing it easy up to the last minute on definite word whether Miss Tregoff would testify in this trial that started with jury selection last Dec. 8.

But the fact that Carole came twice from her jail cell to the court-house over the three-day weekend — a long time for a woman with her lawyers indicating strongly she was being defended for her appearance.

U.S. Losing Space Race By 'Default'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States lags behind Russia in the missile and space race by choice — in fact, by default.

This country has the ingredients for dizzying progress — if it wants to use them. It has created a broad space scientific and production base through a multi-billion dollar investment in rocketry over the past six years.

How fast America's present dramatic advances in science and technology are put to practical use in the space-missile field will depend on money limits and political judgments on what is needed.

These are conclusions gained in a 6,000-mile tour covering some major research and production centers in the missile-space vehicle field. The tour moved through a world seldom seen by any but its own military, science and industry inhabitants — a world of wind tunnels, rocket test stands, electronic computers, production lines and space medicine laboratories.

Sample comments from officials interviewed: D. A. Young, former head of the space technology program for the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency and now long-range planning director for Aerojet-General Corp. — Future problems in the missile field are not technical but political and economic. Never in the past 19 years have we strained our technology.

S. K. Hoffman, general manager of North American Aviation's rocket engine division — The government can command whatever it wants in rocket power for missiles and space vehicles. W. L. Young, operations manager of Convair-Astronautics Division of General Dynamics Corp. — Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles could be produced at twice the present rate with relatively small additional effort.

George Kleeberg, city drive chairman, said he and Roberts have deposited all monies collected and that the objective for 1960 was 98 per cent completed. There was more than $11,000 collected during the six-week drive.

Events during the six weeks included a Mother's March ($3,822), Float-A-Thon ($1,000), Wheelbarrow Race ($577), Bucket Brigade ($2,414), Radio Auction ($2,500), Bake Sale ($56) and collections from individuals, coin cards and street solicitations.

If it comes from a hardware store, we have it, Lewis Hdwe. Adv.

Service club members this week will tote up what they owe the Gray County March of Dimes, following the weighing-in Saturday of J. C. Roberts county campaign chairman, and Sheriff Rufe Jordan, who each lost 15 pounds in a contest to aid the drive. The campaign ended Saturday.

Jordan and Roberts at the beginning of the campaign each "went on a diet" to see who could lose the most pounds. Service clubs held auctions the following meeting days where members pledged what they would contribute to the drive per pound lost by each contestant.

During the first weigh-in, held at the Gray County Feed & Hatchery, Jordan weighed 311 and Roberts 271. Official weight taker, County Attorney Don Cain, was unable to weigh the pair on the scales Saturday, as the owner reported that the scales were being repaired. Whether the first weighing proved too much for them was avoided in discussions Saturday.

Cain, however, proving himself up to the emergency, weighed the pair "carnival style" and declared a tie, with each man having shucked 15 pounds. That made it official.

George Kleeberg, city drive chairman, said he and Roberts have deposited all monies collected and that the objective for 1960 was 98 per cent completed. There was more than $11,000 collected during the six-week drive.

Skies Clear Behind Sudden Snow Flurry

Snow And Showers In Texas

United Press International

A low pressure system centered in North Central Texas brought snow to the Panhandle and showers to other parts of the state today.

However, the storm system weakened and was expected to be less severe than first thought. Sides cleared in the Panhandle behind the storm.

Dalhart received two inches of snow and Amarillo one inch. Snow flurries extended as far south as Lubbock, and as far southeast as Childress.

Thundershowers hit the Fort Worth-Dallas area shortly before dawn. However, the most moisture recorded was 2.4 of an inch from rain and snow at Dalhart.

As the sky cleared, the temperature dropped to 10 degrees at Dalhart early today. This was the low for the state. Amarillo had a low of 13.

This snowstorm had few of the characteristics of one 10 days ago that blocked roads, closed schools and stranded scores of travelers in the Panhandle. No roads were reported closed in the Panhandle.

Mercury Dip Followed By 2-Inch Snow

Snow that began falling about 4 p.m. yesterday left a slick coating on area highways and Pampa streets this morning.

Sgt. E. G. Albers of the highway patrol said all roads in his area are open, but slick and hazardous.

Last night's fall left approximately two inches on the ground, bringing the total for the season to near 17 inches. The extremely wet snowfall contained 12 of an inch of moisture, with a low temperature reading last night of 15 degrees.

Only four minor accidents were reported to police as a result of the snow. Local utility companies had no trouble with their facilities.

The State Highway Department reported to police as a result of an icy pavement in the Amarillo district, causing hazardous driving.

Chances For Chessman Escaping Death Slim

United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — W. J. Caryl Whittier, Chessman, self-taught legal magician, escape the California gas chamber Friday for the eighth time in nearly 12 years.

Several million persons, mostly foreigners, have signed petitions urging mercy. But experienced public-opinion guessers say the majority of Californians want him to die.

Chessman's case is still in the courts on late-hour pleas. These efforts could win him another delay, although practically nobody thinks he has a chance of having his two death sentence convictions overturned by the judges.

Chessman refused clemency last October, noting Chessman's "failure to show contrition." The governor said the convict showed "steadfast arrogance and contempt for society and its laws."

But world public opinion is mounting on Chessman's side. He has become a symbol in the international debate over capital punishment which has stirred passions in several nations.

Brown now is receiving 200 letters daily which urge clemency by a two-to-one margin.

Chessman, 38, began a career of crime at 16. He has spent nearly two-thirds of his life behind bars.

In 1948, during seven weeks of freedom, he was arrested and later convicted as Los Angeles "Red Light Bandit" who terrorized couples or lovers' lanes. The "Red Light Bandit" was so named because he equipped his automobile with flashing red lights used on police cars.

He was given death penalties in a jury trial for two instances of holding up couples, robbing them and then forcing the young women to perform sexual indignities while a pistol was held at their heads.

One of the victims was partially paralyzed from polio.

Altogether, Chessman was convicted on 17 counts of kidnaping, attempted rape, sex perversion, robbery and theft.

He was given two death sentences, two sentences of life without possibility of parole, eight sentences of five years to life to be served consecutively, and other sentences with a maximum total of 33 years.

Chessman was taken to death row on July 3, 1948. His imaginative maneuvers won grudging compliments from judges and his courtroom appearances attracted experienced attorneys as admiring spectators.

And these petitions have postponed death for the 11½ years.

Birth Of Royal Child Imminent

United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Crowds of curious "baby watchers" increased in size today outside Buckingham Palace where Queen Elizabeth II awaited the birth of her third child.

Both Britons and tourists alike ignored prospects of further dismal weather and cautious warnings that the birth might not come till Tuesday or the next day or perhaps even the next.

The baby will be the first born to a reigning monarch in 100 years — since Queen Victoria.

Anticipation was fanned by the arrival at the palace Sunday of Sister Helen Rowe, the Cockney-accented royal midwife, who attended the Queen at the births of Prince Charles, now 11, and Princess Anne, 9. The 52-year-old nurse had been standing by in an apartment in nearby Kensington for more than a week for the royal summons.

But word was passed down that Sister Rowe's arrival did not necessarily mean that the birth was imminent. It was, however, an indication that the birth is expected within the week. At both previous births, Sister Rowe moved near Elizabeth one week ahead of time.

The "baby watchers," however, noted that Prince Philip canceled all engagements for Sunday and today. The Queen's husband had drawn some criticisms last week for continuing normal activities instead of remaining at her side.

Nehru Asks Chou To Talk Over Dispute

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told Parliament today he had invited Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai to New Delhi in late March to discuss the Indo-Chinese border dispute.

Nehru said the invitation, extended in a letter Feb. 5, expressed willingness to meet Chou at any "suitable time and place" but that immediate efforts should be concentrated on reaching an interim understanding to ease present tensions.

Nehru did not indicate Peiping's reaction. Chou already had proposed such a meeting but attached conditions Nehru previously refused to accept.

Nehru told Parliament he informed Chou that it was still "clearly impossible" for India to accept the Chinese position that the entire 2,200-mile border had never been marked properly and was to be settled through negotiations.

Dems Meet To Search For Issues

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats, uncertain whether they have the ingredients of a campaign issue, meet today in a party conference to debate President Eisenhower's budget and interest rate proposals.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) arranged the conference at the request of 19 senators who asked mainly for a chance to air party feelings on Eisenhower's plan to remove the 4½ per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds.

Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) told United Press International he thought Democratic opposition to higher interest rates could be "sold" as a 1960 campaign issue.

Paar Believed In Cooling Off Stage

NEW YORK (UPI) — Announcer Hugh Downs celebrates his 39th birthday today with the wish that Jack Paar would return to his popular late night TV show.

Downs is slated to fill in for the temperamental Paar on the National Broadcasting Co. network show tonight.

"I do hope Jack returns," Downs said. "On the basis of his past record he'll be back. He doesn't hold a grudge."

Downs also said he thinks NBC would be willing to take the comedian back.

"There is evidence that it already is 'in the works,'" he said. Paar, however, indicated he has not changed his mind about returning to the Monday-through-Friday show. He told the UPI late Sunday he was "very tired" and planned to leave today or Tuesday with his wife Miriam, for a South American vacation.

Paar quit his own program, "The Jack Paar Show," last Thursday night in an emotional outburst against the network for censoring one of his jokes. The previous night NBC had deleted a joke about a water closet on grounds it was in poor taste. Paar said the censorship reflected on his integrity.

Vampire Caught In Argentine Town

MONTEROS, Argentina (UPI) — A 25-year-old stonemason was admitted to police that he is the "vampire" who bit the throats and sucked the blood of at least 15 women here in recent weeks.

"I don't know what made me do it," Florencio Roque Fernandez said.

Two policemen, alerted by a woman's scream, chased Roque into a cave on the outskirts of this north-central Argentine town Saturday night. One remained on guard while the other went for reinforcements.

When more police arrived, they found Roque curled up in the cave, fast asleep.

Roque's nocturnal forays had terrorized Monteros. He preyed on unattended women, breaking into their bedrooms while they slept to fasten his teeth in their throats.

An NBC spokesman said tonight's show would be taped at 8:15 p.m. e.s.t. — the regular time — and that if Paar does not show up "it will go with Hugh Downs, and that's that."

Sticking Together

Enclosed in his wife's arms, television star Jack Paar greets reporters in his Bronxville, N.Y., home. He claimed he did not intend to return to his night show.

700 At Nurses Home Opening

More than 700 persons braved a chilly weather yesterday from 2 to 5 p.m. to tour the $142,000 Lovett Memorial Nurses Home, south of Highland General Hospital on N. Hoiland.

Hospital administrator C. C. Lander reported visitors "very impressed" with the building.

Ten nurses will occupy the home today.

Panel Discusses Youth Problems At Sam Houston PTA Meeting

Sam Houston PTA met Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium for the opening flag ceremony led by Den I. Pack 27 of Sam Houston School. The Rev. Ronald Hubbard gave the devotional.

The program on "Youth Problems" was moderated by Rev. Hubbard with a discussion panel composed of qualified leaders in their fields: Judge Bill Craig, Sheriff Ruff Jordan, Mrs. G. M. Wells, teacher; Bill Leonard, juvenile officer and the Rev. Bill West, minister.

Mr. Craig spoke of the lack of discipline in the home as the cause of most problems.

Sheriff Jordan opposed the use of the word "delinquent" as greatly overused; he stressed the moral responsibility of the home.

Mrs. Wells gave a brief summary of the needs of a child from first grade to junior high. "Each child," she said, "wants acceptance of himself, first as a part of a family, then as members of a group."

Mr. Leonard preferred the term

Men Air Their Views On Hair-Dos And Plead For Simpler Styling

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A man may not know a lot about fashion, but he certainly does know what pleases him.

The truth of this statement is borne out in the results of a recent poll to find out what husbands do and don't like about current hair styles.

To get the criticism right out in the open, here are a few things men definitely don't like about ladies' hairstyles:

- Stiff, lacquered hair that feels like shreds of wheat definitely displeases them. They're right, it's most unattractive.
- Extremes in hair coloring. Men also frowned upon. Men may love redheads, but not the carrot type. In brief, whether you are a redhead, blonde or brunette, be sure that your hair color looks natural.
- You might feel that you've achieved the height of fashion in one of these pyramidlike coiffures. But, according to hubby, he doesn't approve.
- Chignons and buns aren't exactly to his taste, either. He feels they evoke a dim memory of a former stern schoolmarm.

According to this poll by the Lilt Reference Service, what men do like is a clean, uncluttered, casual look.

Although unmarried men probably vote for shoulder-length tresses, husbands prefer short hair, for they don't want to see their wives with a headful of pins and rollers necessary to maintain a long bob.

They prefer lines rather than curls, and hair that molds to the head—then curls gently outward.

This style needs "underpermanents" to give the hair body and manageability, and free you from the nightly tyranny of bobby pins and rollers.

When you do use curlers for a home permanent, remember that firm, even winding and handling the hair so that it does not twist, produces a soft wave.

Too little hair on a curler produces frizz, too much produces nothing. So be sure to use only the prescribed amount on each curler so that the lotion can penetrate adequately.

"Underpermanents" will give you what husbands believe to be the perfect hairdo—one which he can affectionately disarrange without causing his wife to scream, "You're musing my hair!"

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a sailor with a problem. The problem is my uniform. My girlfriend's mother won't allow her to go out with servicemen. How can I convince this girl's mother that I am not a bad guy just because I wear a uniform? Please answer this in the paper as there are about a million other guys who would like to know.

SAILOR

DEAR SAILOR: A man in uniform is usually "a stranger passing through." And most mothers are suspicious of ALL "strangers passing through" (be they servicemen or traveling salesmen) because they have been known to play a beautiful tune when they are in town, but are seldom around to face the music later. Unless servicemen are given the chance to meet the parents and pass muster, they must suffer for the sins of wolves in military clothing.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it when a mother has lost a child, people will say to her, "Oh, I know what you are going through for I lost my mother or sister, etc." Any mother who has lost a child knows there is no comparison. Sincerely,

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ONE: Those who express their sympathy in this way, THINK they know the depth of your sorrow. They are mistaken, of course. But they mean well.

DEAR ABBY: I have eleven children (two sets of twins and they all use toothbrushes, Abby, have you ever tried to find toothbrushes in eleven different colors? Well, I have. And there are not eleven different colors on the market.

All my kids fight for red or blue and nobody wants white. Some times they forget which color is theirs and they use the wrong one. Then I have to throw all the toothbrushes out and start over again with new ones. This runs into money. Why don't toothbrush manufacturers put out polka dot and striped toothbrushes for mothers with this problem.

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: Maybe after I print this letter they will. But in the meantime, try dabbing each child's name in nail polish on his toothbrush. If necessary is the mother of invention, the father is "Pat Pending."

CONFIDENTIAL TO R. M. K. (Phillip, E. J. San Diego) and F. J. D. and Barry S. of N.Y.C.: You can find my book at a ny bookstore.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A House Of Disagreement Becomes A Haunted House: Says Analyst

“Woman To Woman”
By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tone down the voice and don't fling things when there's a disagreement in your house.

Otherwise, your dwelling—long after you're gone—may become a haunted house.

That gloomy view of haunting prevention comes from Dr. Nandor Fodor, a New York psychoanalyst and author of "The Haunted Mind," a new book.

Dr. Fodor was director of research at the International Institute for Psychological Research in London before coming to New York. The International Record of Medicine has called him "one of the foremost scientific investigators of 'psychic' phenomena."

The 65-year-old expert has investigated reports of haunted houses and poltergeists going on in England and in the United States. Many times, he found the reports more imagined than real.

But some times, he swears, he's found a genuine haunted house. He's equally emphatic about some poltergeist causing objects to fly.

During an interview, Dr. Fodor said that houses with a history of happy occupants have little chance of becoming haunted. The haunted houses he's seen reportedly soaked up unpleasantness of former occupants.

He explained the two energies—the past and the present—somehow merge and the haunting takes place. There are no ghosts in white sheets trailing chains. But there is banging of doors for no explained reason, knocking that's mysterious and sudden cold drafts.

If one unhappy family moves from such a house and a happy family takes up occupancy, the haunting usually disappears. Dr. Fodor said. He explained that haunting reports of a haunted house can only be spent when there is emotional instability.

Poltergeists differ from the "spirits" that haunt a house. Dr. Fodor said the poltergeist operates by day and makes much more noise—causing objects to explode and sail through the air.

"Make no mistake about it," said Dr. Fodor, "psychic phenomena do exist. Biology will have to revise some of its concepts and admit a force in the human body can move objects at a distance without muscular contact."

If you want to keep a friend:
—Don't be too free with your advice, or too prone to tell him things "for his own good" or insist on being helpful when he obviously thinks he doesn't need your help.
—Do stand by him loyally instead of discussing with others his faults and shortcomings.
—Be as gracious about letting a friend do something for you as you are in doing something for him. It is the give-and-take of friendship that makes it comfortable.
—Make sure that you are as good a listener as you are a talker.
—Never become possessive toward a friend; demanding too much of his time.
—Be a bit of a prearranged friend—build him up to others.

—Don't let yourself get so busy that you don't have time for your friends. That's the quickest way to lose them.
—Don't dwell on your friend's faults or try to reform them. Just take them as they are and be thankful for their many good qualities.
—Be as tactful with friends as you are with new acquaintances. Even old friends can have their feelings hurt by a tactless remark.
—Let those whose friendship is important to you know how much value you place on it. Friends should be taken for granted.
—Don't be so sensitive and easily offended that your friendships are strong while they last, but never last very long.

Dunham Is Pampa's Ninth 'State' Boxer

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Writer

This week Clayton (Lucky) Dunham will become Pampa's ninth official representative in the Texas Golden Gloves boxing tournament at Fort Worth.

Since 1948 Pampa has had nine boxers (one not an official representative) in the tournament. Four made the trip more than once. Since 1948, Pampa has been represented by at least one fighter in every year except 1950 and 1955.

Leading the list is Eugene Cooper, who went to the tournament five times and won three championships — the lightweight title in 1948, and the middleweight crown in 1951 and 1952.

Bobby Wilhelm journeyed to Fort Worth three times and came back with one title — the welterweight championship in 1958. His brother, Gary Wilhelm, also was in the tournament twice, gaining lightweight runner-up honors in 1957 and reaching the lightweight semifinals in 1958.

Light-heavyweight Dick Murray was the fourth Pampa to make more than one trip to the Cowtown boxing meet. He failed to place in 1952, but reached the semifinals in 1953.

Bob Prigmore won the heavy-weight championship in 1956, and two fighters who are still active with the Optimist Boys Club squad, Charles Snider and Kaul (Rabbit) Ramirez have also been to the state tourney. Ramirez was banterweight runnerup in 1956, and Snider went as a welterweight in 1957 but failed to place.

Rounding out the list, Tommy Lamar went as a featherweight in 1958 but failed to place, and Johnny Claunch, fighting out of the Wichita Falls district, won the light-heavy title in 1959.

Dunham, who will leave for Fort Worth sometime Wednesday, is a surprise entry this year in this select group. Although his boxing reputation is wide-spread in this area, he hadn't won a fight this year before the regional meet and his showing in the regional tournament, up to the finals, wasn't particularly impressive.

However, he fought one of the best bouts of his career in the 126-pound finals, against Robert Viaille of Levelland, to take the regional title and win the trip to the state meet.

Pampa's boxing coaches were impressed by the way Lucky fought Viaille, who was the defending regional champ and a top-heavy favorite to repeat. Viaille was taller than Dunham and had about a seven-inch reach advantage.

"The Viaille fight gave Lucky the confidence he needed," Ollie Wilhelm declared (Wilhelm is head coach of the Boys Club boxing team). "I believe," Wilhelm continued, "that Lucky will fight in the state tournament even better than he fought against Viaille."

Almost all Pampa boxing observers agree that all Lucky ever needed, in order to become a great fighter, were confidence and a little more aggressiveness. In the regional tournament, he showed that he had gained both.

Lucky is considered one of the fastest boxers in the region. He has won about 50 of 60 fights, and at one time last year had a string of 22 straight wins.

In the state tournament, Dunham will have to face many fine boxers in his weight-class. The favorite in the division will be Billy Pina of Andrews, who is fighting for the University of Corpus Christi. Pina is the defending state champion.

The state tournament will begin

Thursday and will continue through Tuesday, Feb. 23. Lucky will probably be accompanied by Fort Worth by either Wilhelm or matchmaker Oran James.

Although Dunham is the only Pampa fighter going to the state tournament for the Amarillo region, two other Pampans will be fighting in the state meet for the Corpus Christi region.

Light-heavyweight Johnny Claunch and welterweight Bobby Wilhelm, won their regional titles while fighting for the University of Corpus Christi. Gary Willis lost a close decision in the finals, but there is a possibility that the champion may not make the trip, and that Willis may go in his place.

The entry of Claunch, Wilhelm,

Dunham and Willis would give Pampa its largest representation ever at the state meet (as a town) although Dunham will be the only fighter actually going through the Pampa district.

The previous high was three fighters (all official Pampa district representatives) in 1954 — Ramirez, Lamar and Prigmore.

Pampa has never won more than one state title in any one year, but Claunch and Wilhelm are rated excellent chances of winning their divisions this time. Dunham and Willis (if he fights) would also be rated as strong contenders.

Two or more wins in the state tournament could make this the greatest boxing year in Pampa's history.

Warriors Have Had It In NBA

By United Press International

Wilt Chamberlain or no Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia Warriors have had it as title contenders in the National Basketball Association.

Chamberlain, a one-man gang who wither sets or closes in on another record almost every time he takes to the court these days, added two more to his collection Sunday, but they went for naught as the Boston Celtics whipped the Warriors, 125-115.

The victory gave the defending NBA champs an eight-game lead over the Warriors in the circuit's Eastern Division race with only 14 regular-season games left to play for each team.

Wilt, the all-time, single-season scoring champion in his rookie campaign, added the rebound record to his growing list when he picked off 19 shots to boost his total to 1,825 — 13 better than the previous record set by Bill Russell of the Celtics last year.

He also chipped in with 23 points and attempted 11 free throws, raising his total in that department to 882, which wipes out the previous record of 879 set by Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks last year.

In other games, the Syracuse Nationals extended their winning streak to five by beating the Minneapolis Lakers, 121-119, at snow-bound Syracuse, and the St. Louis Hawks, paced by Pettit, Clyde Lovellette and Cliff Hagan, nipped the Cincinnati Royals, 107-108.

United Press International

Ohio State can clinch a tie for the Big 10 title tonight and continue its march toward the first unbeaten conference championship in 17 years.

The Buckeyes moved another step toward the crown Saturday night when they routed Iowa, 79-47, for their ninth consecutive conference triumph. Ohio State thus shared the Saturday night spotlight with New York University, which upset sixth-ranked Villanova, 62-50.

NYU's triumph — only two days after St. John's upset of fifth-ranked West Virginia — sent New York City's basketball prestige soaring to perhaps its highest level in a decade. NYU already has accepted a bid to the NCAA tournament and St. John's is expected to take a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

No Big 10 team has gone unbeaten since the 1943 Illinois White Kicks, but Ohio State is a good bet to turn the trick.

Villanova was the only top-ranked team that lost Saturday night although all the teams in the first 10 except Cincinnati saw action.

California, the nation's No. 1 team, rolled to its 21st consecutive home court victory by beating UCLA, 53-45.

Third-ranked Bradley scored a 59-43 road victory over Drake. West Virginia bounced back from the NYU debacle to wallopp Richmond, 103-87, with the help of Jerry West's 23 points, seventh-ranked Utah ripped Montana, 92-76, eighth-ranked Georgia Tech beat Georgia Southern, 66-53, ninth-ranked Utah State downed Brigham Young, 75-64, and 10th-ranked Texas A & M defeated Rice, 64-53.

Memphis State and Detroit, both already entered in the National Invitation Tournament, and were beaten — Memphis State bowing to Wichita, 79-75, and Detroit losing to Xavier of Ohio, 73-71.

Harvesters - Plainview Tilt Will Be Crucial Contest

One of the most crucial games of the District 3-AA season takes place Tuesday night at Harvester Field House, when Pampa meets Plainview.

For Plainview, it will be a do-or-die contest. A Plainview loss, along with a Borger win, would place Tuesday night at Harvester as the final game of the season.

For Pampa, the game won't mean much as far as the standings are concerned, but it will mean a lot in terms of prestige. The Harvesters, suffering their worst season since Clifton McNeely came here in 1948, could make Pampa fans forget several of those defeats by beating Plainview. The Harvesters lost to Plainview by only two points, in double overtime, at Plainview.

The district season closes Thursday. The final games are being played a day early, in order to allow for a playoff if it proves necessary.

Three of the final games will have important bearing on the final standings. Plainview will be at Palo Duro in a game that could decide second place or (if Borger loses one or two games this week) keep the winner's championship hopes alive.

Borger, trying to wrap up the title or a share of it, will be at Tascosa. And last but not least, the Harvesters and the Amarillo Sandies will clash for fourth place at Amarillo.

The fourth game, Monterey vs. Lubbock, will have little effect on the final standings. Lubbock, now in seventh place, can do no worse than tie for the cellar even if it loses both its remaining games and Monterey wins both its final contests. The Westeners can climb no higher than sixth place in the final standings.

Longhorns, Aggies To Clash Tuesday

By ED FITE
United Press International

The Texas Longhorns, stampeding towards their first taste of Southwest Conference basketball glory in six years, come to the crossroads Tuesday night.

Coach Harold Bradley's blend of two seniors, two juniors and a sophomore are riding a four-game winning streak, including last Saturday's crucial away-from-home victory over Southern Methodist, and come face to face with the pace-setting Texas Aggies at Austin.

A victory could pull the Aggies down into a tie with Texas and SMU and set the stage for a merry five-game stretch run down to the March 3 finish line, while a loss to the Aggies might well prove a knockout blow for the Longhorns hopes and leave the scrapping to A&M and SMU.

At any rate, Texas gets its big chance on its own floor to avenge two previous setbacks at the Aggies' hands this season. The Aggies whipped the Longhorns 84-74 in the semifinals of the pre-season tournament at Houston and then trimmed them 72-61 at College Station in the fourth game of the conference race.

They used their tall rebounding edge and a tight one defense that kept SMU's sharpshooters at bay in knocking off the Mustangs 69-65 last Saturday night in Dallas for their second victory over that title contender. They had beaten SMU 58-56 earlier at Austin.

The Aggies' only loop loss has been to SMU, at College Station, 66-64.

Despite the Aggie-Texas game's importance, it won't be the only one on the menu for the week. Both clubs have another tough assignment before the week is out.

Texans must travel to Lubbock Saturday to face dangerous Texas Tech, while the Aggies must again face Arkansas, this time with the home floor advantage.

They downed the Razorbacks 77-68 last week at Fayetteville. And, SMU — still very much in a challenging mood since the Mustangs have yet to play A&M at Dallas — seeks to keep its hopes alive against Rice at Houston Tuesday night and against Texas Christian at Dallas next Saturday.

There are other games, too. But since Baylor and Arkansas are almost out of it with their 4-4 reords and the other clubs are even worse off, their games won't pack so much importance.

Tuesday night, Arkansas and Tech meet at Fayetteville. Wednesday night Baylor moves in to Fort Worth against TCU and then on Saturday night Rice visits Baylor.

White Texas was defeating Tech 75-66 and SMU 69-65 last week. The Aggies scrambled past Arkansas 77-68 and then mauled Rice 94-53 for a 16-2 season record. SMU started the week with a 66-52 setback of Rice.

Arkansas whipped TCU 65-61 and Baylor popped TCU 75-60 and Texas Tech 87-72 in other games last week.

Texas Jay Arnette and Arkansas Jay Rhodes continued to rule the full season and conference scoring races, but each had an onrushing challenger by being right down his neck. Carroll Bourzard of A&M scored 49 points last week to pull within 11 points of Arnette's season total of 338, while Del Ray Mounts of Tech scored 38 to edge within three points of Rhodes's 153-point total in eight league games.

Harvester Bowl Takes Loop Lead

The Harvester Bowl team took the lead Sunday in the Golden Spread Traveling League, by breaking even in 12 games. The Harvester Bowl team has a season record of 43-29.

McCaughy-King of Pampa won 10 of 12 to move into a second place tie with Oak Lanes of Dumas, which won seven of 12. Both teams are 42-30 for the season.

Other results Sunday were Clovis Bowl, 8-4; M&A Weed Control, Borger, 6-5; Borger Bowl, 8-4; Guya Court Cafe, Amarillo, 5-7; Cedar Lanes, Borger, 3-9; La Vista Motel, Clovis, 2-10; Amarillo Bowl, 7-3; Dodson Chemical, Amarillo, 5-7; Grand Grill, Amarillo, 5-7.

Ray Stephenson of Pampa had the high game of 276, and V.L. Langley of Amarillo had the high series of 688. Sunday's games were rolled at Harvester Bowl.

Repeat At St. Pete

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Beverly Hanson, who rarely takes a back seat to anyone on or off the golf course, became the first player in history today to repeat as champion of the St. Petersburg Women's Open golf tournament.

The energetic journalist-rancher-golfer from Indio, Calif., who won the St. Petersburg Open in 1954 when it was a 54-hole tourney, shot a 71 on the final round Sunday for a 72-hole total of 287—two better than Louise Suggs of Atlanta, Ga., who had a 73—289.

Victory was worth $1,247.35 for Miss Hanson, the 1958 ladies PGA money winning champion.

Jim Hearn Takes Baseball Players' Golf Tournament

MIAMI (UPI) — Stay close to Jim Hearn and you'll beat him. That was what they whispered in National League dugouts when the big right-hander pitched for the New York Giants a few years back, but it didn't work out that way Sunday when Hearn came on to win the baseball players' golf tournament.

Trailing Alvin Dark by one stroke going into the final round of the 72-hole tournament, Hearn, now out of baseball, shot a five-over-par 75 in high winds to beat Dark by one stroke with a 301 total.

"It was just like pitching a 1-0 ball game," beamed the pitcher.

Moral Fixity

There is more than a sprinkling of opinion these days that moral principles simply do not exist. This is understandable in a world which has experienced the changes this old globe has experienced in the last six decades.

Alpaca

The alpaca is a kind of llama with long, soft hair. The animal grows in Peru. "Alpaca" is also the name of a tiny book which comes from the press on February 14th and has been put together by H. L. Hunt, the Texas oil millionaire.

The Pampa Daily News

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Better Jobs

What Can You Do About Inflation?

I have been reporting for several days from the "Economic News" issued by the American Institute for Economic Research, on "How to Cope with the Financial Crisis Ahead." The magazine closes its articles under the heading of "What You Can Do About It" in this manner:

"The first and most important question is: What can you do to assist the Nation at this time, to help reverse the dangerous trend of recent years? You can do more than you perhaps realize:

"1. With some of your capital that you are willing to risk you can buy the stocks of the better gold-mining companies in Canada and South Africa.

No Backslapping In Steel Settlement

No one is to be congratulated on the inflationary steel settlement. It is a loss for all of us. The $1 billion added to the labor cost of steel does not begin to make up the loss already sustained by the workers and after a brief period they, like all the rest of us, will lose more.

South American Countries Like Will Visit All In Need Of Understanding, U.S. Aid

EDITOR'S NOTE
What kind of a reception will President Eisenhower get on his forthcoming tour of South America? What problems will he discuss with hemisphere neighbors? What sort of persons will he meet? Here, in the first of a series of dispatches, UPI's U. S. Latin American editor, surveys the peoples and problems Eisenhower will meet next week.
By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY United Press International
A deeper understanding and more economic aid.
In brief these will be the themes, with variations, of President Eisenhower's talks with the heads of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and the four South American countries he is to visit soon.
The Eisenhower timetable leaves Washington, Feb. 22; arrives Brazil, Feb. 23; leaves Brazil, Feb. 26; arrives Argentina, Feb. 28; leaves Argentina, Feb. 29; arrives Chile, Feb. 29; leaves Chile, March 2; arrives Uruguay, March 2; leaves Uruguay, March 3; arrives Puerto Rico, March 3; en route to Washington.
In 10 days President Eisenhower will have visited an area roughly the size of the United States, but with half as many people.

All four countries have a common problem — galloping inflation. All are in sore need of more extensive United States economic aid.
But the principal theme of Eisenhower's talks with the heads of the nations he visits will be the thorny subject of North American understanding of South American problems.
For many years, a common complaint of hemisphere nations has been that the Anglo-Saxon mind does not grasp fully the importance of continent-wide amity and support based on mutual understanding and respect. The cry has been that the United States has concentrated its attention on Old World problems while ignoring a neighboring New World beset by poverty.
An example of this feeling is the recent demand of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, voiced at a Buenos Aires meeting of continental statesmen, for 30 billions of dollars of U. S. aid to the nations of Latin America to help them achieve economic independence. The sum suggested represents a U. S.

grant of about $200 to every man, woman and child in the Western Hemisphere, outside of the United States and Canada.
Fortunately, however, President Eisenhower will find in the statesmen with whom he talks a more realistic appreciation of United States economic possibilities in the field of hemispheric aid and assistance.
These men are Presidents Arturo Frondizi of Argentina, Jorge Alessandri of Chile, Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil and Uruguayan Senator Benito Nardone, who will be head of the National Council of Government there at that time.
(The Uruguayan Council presidency currently held by Martin R. Echegoyen will change on March 1, the day before President Eisenhower's scheduled arrival in Montevideo. The presidency is rotated each year among the first four council members elected.)
In at least three of the four countries he visits — Brazil, Chile and Argentina — the President's popular reception will be influenced by the party line laid out from Moscow. These three nations have large local Communist parties whose political thinking on international affairs is guided from the Kremlin.
Next: Brazil-Eisenhower headache?

WINS TRIP

Bill Lyles, an employee of Anthony's, recently won an all-expense paid buying trip to New York for being top salesman of the Anthony department stores in the menswear department. He will fly to New York with executives from the Oklahoma City office where they will work with buyers from that buying office.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — The administration's drive to balance the budget has finally reversed the uptrend in interest rates, says Prentice-Hall.
Easing money pressure, mainly reflecting reduced federal needs for funds, has led to a rise in bond prices, the firm pointed out in its weekly report on business.
The government's "balance-the-budget" philosophy, says Prentice-Hall, has also meant a continued squeeze on defense spending.
"The current Washington debate on missiles and other defense issues seems to be virtually a verbatim replica of the similar squabble exactly one year ago. That's a disheartening sign of how slow U.S. progress on missiles has been during that period."

Hornblower & Weeks notes American Insurance Co. should participate relatively well in the expected industry upturn. Its $1.30 dividend yields 5 per cent, the firm points out.
Walter G. Bernthal of Flor, Bullard & Smyth offers the following opinion: "Additional work must be done to build up a base from which a more permanent rally can take place. I think this will take another week or so, and thus at the moment would consider the market a trading affair. I would use strength to sell stocks, and buy them during periods of weakness."

The Fitch Survey suggests that investors once again take into account the enviable position of Pittsburgh Metallurgical in a growing industry. The stock has slipped from a high of 42 in 1959 to around 30 at present.

His Slogan — "All Politicians Are Crooks" Candidate Finds That It Isn't Necessary To Win At Politics

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SECAUCUS, N.J. (NEA) — It is a testament to the American science of politics that Henry Krajewski has taken leave from his tavern again to run for a third time as the Poor Man's Party candidate for president of the U.S.
The campaign slogan, as usual, will be "All Politicians Are Crooks."
Now, to the casual observer who might secretly agree there does not seem to be any percentage in Krajewski's operation as he is never elected to anything. Look at the record:
He polled 12,000 votes in the 1952 presidential race. Two years later as a candidate for senator he got 35,000. Two years after that in the presidential race again, he polled only 5,000.
"Sure I lost," Krajewski said. "But in politics it is not necessary to win."
"Take 1956. I could see how things were going. So with three days to go before the voting I threw my weight behind Eisenhower. Of course I voted for myself, but Eisenhower invited my whole family to the inaugural ball. "If he backed me I would have naturally invited him to my inaugural ball."
In state politics Krajewski's Poor Man's Party has wielded real influence, however. With a Democrat predicted to become the U.S. Senator from New Jersey in 1954, Krajewski's 35,000 votes helped a Republican take the victory. "I didn't care which party was the majority," Krajewski said. "Mostly all politicians are crooks. But the Poor Man's Party certainly gave the political experts something to think about after that."
"You should have seen where I was invited."

But as there are very few rewards like this available to new members, Krajewski has had to resort to other tactics for getting the crowd out.
In his home stand of Hudson County, N.J., it is quite simple as the voters have been trained by long years of politicking. Krajewski merely sets up a few long tables of corned beef, cabbage and beer, shoots off a salvo of firecrackers — and in minutes the rally ground is filled.
Away from home, however, he has to depend on other tactics, like street-corners, city hall plazas and boys' prep schools.
"I did great at Phillips Exeter Academy," he said. "They were having a mock convention and I came up and gave it to them straight, like how all politicians are crooks and so forth."
"I would have won their election, too, except the seniors — who were my campaign managers — were out playing lacrosse when the vote was taken."
Well, under a campaign program like that you can see immediately how hard it is to get funds for party expenses. Besides, Krajewski is adamant about sticking to the ideals of a Poor Man's Party, which means absolutely no big donations or expensive fund-raising affairs.
"We got principles," Krajewski said.
So last time when the Republicans had a Madison Square Garden rally with a $100-a-plate dinner, the Poor Man's Party had a $1.98-a-plate pig roast across the street in a hotel.
The sign said: "Walk Across The Street, Sucker. And Save $98.02."
"You should have seen them come," Krajewski said. "They had a belly-full of crooked speeches and not enough to eat for $100. They ate us out of house-and-home and we didn't come anywhere near breaking even."

HENRY & ANNE MARIE: On the campaign trail again.

THE SMOOTHEST STREET IN TOWN

...IS THE ONE UNDER A BUICK '60

IF YOU WERE CONVINCED that the Buick '60 was the best-riding car in America...
AND YOU WANTED TO DESCRIBE this uncommon characteristic to other people...
DO YOU THINK YOU COULD DO IT nearly so effectively as a little ride around the block in the Buick could do it?
NEITHER DO WE... we don't know which is the best-riding car in America, but it must be a dandy if it rides any better than BUICK'S ALL-TIME BEST. You pick out the roughest street you can find and then call your nearest Buick dealer for a demonstration ride over it. The combination of deep-coil springs at all four wheels, front and rear ride-stabilizer bars and Buick's noise-baffling Torque Tube will make you think it's the smoothest street in town. Your dealer's number is in the Yellow Pages.
