Geneva Conference

Russ Suggest Red China Join In Arms Reduction

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union proposed today that Communist China join the United States and Russia in trimming their armed forces to 1,700,000 men each in a 12 to 18-month period, to start disarmament.

The Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin presented the proposal in a three-stage Communist blueprint at the second session of the 10-power East-West disarmament conference and later read it to newsmen. It asked France and Britain to cut their armed forces to 650,000 each.

Zorin thus introduced Red China at the beginning of the conference although the Peiping regime was not invited. Red China has said it would not go along with any plan it does not help write.

Zorin said the troop reductions would comprise the first stage of the Soviet plan for "complete and general disarmament in four years," proposed by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The West already has attacked Khrushchev's proposal as thoroughly impractical. The Russians lost no time in attacking a rival Western plan as meaningless even before they received it officially.

The Western plan calls for step-by-step disarmament. In the first step an international organization would be set up and the Soviet Union and the United States would cut their troop strength to 2,500,000 men each, later to 2,000,000 each.

The Western plan was formally presented to the conference by British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore today.

Ormsby-Gore emphasized there must be strict controls and supervision along every step in order to assure that no nation or group of nations gains an advantage over others.

The plan calls for controlled scrapping of arms and armies and banning of military space satellites, nuclear rockets and other weapons of mass destruction on a carefully supervised basis. It proposes creation of an international disarmament organization and a world peace army.

The Communist bloc hastened to condemn it even before the West had time to explain the plan at the conference table.

Communist delegates objected to built-in controls without which U.S. chief delegate Frederick M. Eaton said any disarmament agreement would be simply a "grand but holy design."

Khrushchev himself, in a message to the conference, served notice the Soviet Union had no intention of dropping its demand for general world disarmament without waiting for establishment of controls.

Perhaps even more ominous were attacks the Soviet and satellite delegates made on West Germany in their opening speeches. These were clear signs the cold war once again had returned to the Geneva conference table.

Snow Storm Buries Mid Section Of U.S.

By United Press International

A driving, blowing storm buried central plains today under the heaviest snow of the year and closed roads and schools throughout Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas.

With spring only four days away the calendar, the storm pumped up to 10 inches of new snow on the hard-hit Midlands and roared eastward into Illinois, Indiana, southeastern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin, and lower Michigan.

Hail was forecast for Central Florida this morning and the Weather Bureau warned of the possibility the thunderstorms might spawn "one or two isolated tornadoes."

The hundreds of southern Iowa baseball fans were snowbound for a night in the Red Oak High school gymnasium and 200 girl football players and their coaches were stranded at a tournament in Peru, Neb.

High winds reduced visibility to 100 yards and whipped the new-fallen snow into drifts which blocked rural roads and threatened to halt traffic on main highways.

The storm, which started in Kansas Monday, left Kansas City piled under 20 inches of snow, most of the city's industrial plants shut down.

Hazardous driving warnings went up across the Midwest and the Weather Bureau warned of severe traffic problems in store for Chicago and other major cities.

A heavy rain system soaked the Gulf Coast area of Alabama, Georgia and Northwest Florida. A tornado funnel struck near Lakeland, Fla., Tuesday and wind, hail and rain damaged homes and property.

Skies Clear Over Texas

By United Press International

Skies cleared over Texas today as remnants of a widespread dust storm moved eastward out of the state.

The state forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies through Thursday with somewhat cooler weather over most of the state tonight.

The five-day forecasts call for temperatures 4 to 10 degrees below normal for all of Texas with some showers.

Brownsville reported fog and zero visibility early today. Alice also reported some fog.

Strong winds raked the Panhandle Tuesday, kicking up dust and mixing it with snow flurries. Wind gusts reached 60 miles per hour in the Lubbock area.

Temperatures Tuesday ranged from 84 degrees at Laredo to 45 degrees at Dalhart.

Foster Parents Win Right To Adopt Exceptional Child

By IRVING DRASSIN
United Press International

OLD BRIDGE, N.J. (UPI) — Marie Combs, almost five years old, is in his arms. The sanctuary of affection is here that she doesn't know she almost has.

Gloria and Richard Combs are only parents Alice has ever known, although she was not born them. It was a little more than two years ago that a 10-month-old child was brought into their home to be cherished as their daughter.

Alice became a friendly, bright child, surrounded with the warmth and security of the young couple's love. But state child welfare investigators said she needed an intellectual surroundings to reach the superior intelligence tests had shown she had.

That was two years ago. The state Child Welfare Board wanted to take Alice from the Combs to place her with different parents. It was the start of the Combs' fight to prove love could conquer statistics. They won the battle yesterday.

The Combs modest, ranch-style home in Madison Twp. was a scene of jubilation when the Child Welfare Board Tuesday reversed its earlier decision and gave the Combs permission to adopt Alice.

Alice kissed reporters, displayed her toys and romped about with the Combs' other two daughters, Sheri, 2, and Gail, 15 months.

"I don't know how to thank everyone," Mrs. Combs said. "I have just been crying with joy."

The Combs had refused to believe that the foster daughter they had wrapped warmly in love could not develop both in personality and intellect where she was so strongly wanted.

Their struggle against the ruling of child welfare officials won attention around the world. They took the case to court and lost. It was appealed to a high tribunal where it was under consideration when the child welfare board changed its decision in a surprise move.

"With the press and the public on our side," Combs said, "I was confident. It proves we live in a democratic United States and that the will of the people will be done."

The Child Welfare Board said it believed in its original findings but that it was better for the child that the battle cease. Gov. Robert Meyner agreed.

Local Settlement Of Race Tensions Urged

Negroes Determined To Break Racial Barriers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lunch-counter sit-downs by Negroes in half a dozen states in the South have given a new dimension to the South's racial segregation picture. In the following dispatch UPI Correspondent Al Kuttner, who has covered southern segregation developments since well before the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 school decision, writes of the new effort to break segregation barriers in the midst of the long and continuing struggle over public school desegregation.

efforts of their elders to win civil rights victories in the courts.

A "passive resistance" theme has held violence and injuries to a minimum, but there have been nearly 1,000 arrests, mostly Negro demonstrators with a scattering of white sympathizers.

Leaving the efforts to desegregate public schools to the direction of older hands, the young crowd has aimed its attack mainly at segregated eating facilities. There is no reason to believe they will stop there.

The lunch-counter sit-downs started with four students at one lunch counter in Greensboro, N.C. Within days, the demonstrations spread over six southern states.

So far, the lunch counter revolution has achieved little if any permanent desegregation of the facilities in the Deep South but has served to draw a lot of attention to the racial struggle. Many Negroes, arrested for the demonstrations, have chosen to stay in jail for days rather than accept release on bond. A number have been given stiff fines for disturbing the peace.

Placard-carrying pickets and parading Negro college students have kept their message in the forefront.

"Freedom and Justice," proclaimed signs carried by students of Alabama State College for Negroes in Montgomery.

Nine students at the college were expelled on orders of Gov. John Patterson for attempting to integrate a canteen in the city of Montgomery. The firing touched off mass student demonstrations, a peaceful march on the Alabama Capitol and a boycotting of examinations.

Sympathy demonstrations popped up on the campus of famed Tuskegee Institute.

A similar planned Capitol march in Columbia, S.C., where Negro students joined in the lunch counter sit-downs, was nipped by Gov. Ernest Hollings.

"We will not tolerate any such pilgrimages at the state Capitol" (See LOCAL, Page 3)

Ike Urges South To Iron Out Difficulties Without U.S. Help

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today advocated the formation of bi-racial conferences in every southern community to help settle racial tensions locally rather than depending on the federal government.

Eisenhower, commenting on recent Negro lunch counter demonstrations in the South, said he thought that such demonstrations, if orderly and seeking to support the rights of equality, were constitutional. Therefore, he said, they should be permitted.

The President reserved judgment, however, on disorder resulting from such demonstrations. He told his news conference he was not a lawyer and could not determine the extent to which the federal constitution might apply.

Furthermore, he said disorder was a matter for local handling.

That, he said, was one principal reason why he thought there should be bi-racial conferences in every southern community in an effort to reduce conflict between the races without turning to Washington for the answer.

A chain of "sit-in" strikes protesting racial discrimination at lunch counters has occurred all through the South. Negroes—most of them college students—have filled lunch counter seats where, in most instances, they are refused service while seated. White sympathizers have joined them in some places.

Hundreds of arrests have occurred and there have been episodes of violence. This week, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, urged Eisenhower to have federal agencies protect the constitutional rights of Negroes in Alabama.

Other highlights of the President's first news conference since Feb. 17:

He made painstakingly plain that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is his personal preference for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination. He said he would participate in the election campaign, himself, if invited to do so.

He said that, in requesting congressional changes in the sugar quota act, there was no thought whatever of punishing the people of Cuba, however, he wanted the authority to turn to other sources of sugar supply.

He said he felt the United States disarmament plan submitted in Geneva with its provisions for gradual effectiveness and sure safeguards on compliance was vastly preferable to the Russian total disarmament, four-year program.

He restated this government's position that there would be no change in policy toward Berlin at the summit conference in May.

Strong Protest To Cuba

By MILTON CARR
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — Leaders of Premier Fidel Castro's revolution today studied a new U.S. protest today in an atmosphere aggravated by shouts of "death to Eisenhower!" over government loudspeakers.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa was said to have taken the U.S. protest note to President Osvaldo Dorticos Tuesday night, a few hours after it was delivered by Charge d'Affaires Daniel Braddock.

Washington reports indicated that the note formally expressed the verbal charge of "irresponsibility" hurled at Cuba earlier this month by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Herter's statement, denying Cuban hints that the United States was to blame for the explosion of the French munitions ship La Coubre in Havana harbor, was rejected by Roa.

Informants in Camaguey province reported a crackdown on workers and ranchers alike that appeared to have tightened the government grip on the economic life of the province.

Unconfirmed reports said a husband of sugar workers who protested the 4 per cent wage assessment imposed on them by their union to help finance Castro's industrialization plans were delivered to a police station Tuesday.

An upsurge of anti-Americanism was reported here, symbolized by the slogans shouted by loudspeakers the government had installed in Havana's central park.

"Death to Eisenhower!" the loudspeakers thundered. "Let the Yankees come—we'll show them how to fight!"

House Tries To Salvage Civil Rights Provision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House leaders sought today to rescue the administration's voting referee plan from a two-way assault and write it into the civil rights bill.

The referee proposal, designed to safeguard Negro voting rights, was caught in a crossfire from liberal Democrats seeking a tougher measure and Southern Democrats who want to water down the plan.

In a series of bewildering votes Tuesday, the House killed the referee proposal and then revived it. At the end of the confu-

Argentina Rounds Up Peronistas

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Army police strengthened by a declaration of internal war rounded up suspected terrorist supporters of ousted ex-President Juan D. Peron in raids throughout the country today.

The total number of prisoners taken in raids on Peronist hangouts was not announced, but it was believed to be in the hundreds.

Prominent prisoners were said to include former Foreign Minister Edelmo Cavanaga and Peronist union leader Hector R. Lagomarsino. Unconfirmed reports said the unidentified "chief of the new terrorist movement" has been captured.

Provincial police, placed under army command Tuesday, synchronized their raids with the roundup of Peronist suspects in the capital.

President Arturo Frondizi's government, under army pressure to take effective action against terror-bombers in Argentina, invoked a law devised by Peron himself to declare "internal war" on his followers.

A decree published Tuesday night proclaimed a "grave emergency" throughout Argentina.

Lana's Daughter Confined

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Cheryl Crane, the tragedy-ridden daughter of glamorous Lana Turner, today was confined in a county school for problem girls by order of the juvenile court.

Juvenile authorities declined to reveal cause of the surprise withdrawal of the attractive 16-year-old junior from Beverly Hills public high school last Friday and her immediate confinement in El Retiro School.

Cheryl has been a ward of juvenile court since she stabbed to death Johnny Stompanato, an underworld figure and her mother's lover, in Miss Turner's bedroom April 4, 1958.

Miss Turner refused to disclose cause of Cheryl's confinement, but she did deny widely circulating reports that her only daughter was planning to elope with a Beverly Hills carhop.

"There is absolutely no truth that she intended to get married," said the blonde star. "Not one word of truth."

"She did date a carhop, but she also dated many others."

Miss Turner described the El Retiro School as an institution for "helping girls who need that extra bit of help."

Daniel On Swing Through Panhandle

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel opens a four-day swing of West Texas today with a luncheon speech at Amarillo.

Tonight, the governor will speak at a banquet in Shamrock opening the annual St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Thursday, Daniel goes to Dumas for a speech at the annual installation banquet of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Friday, he will address a meeting of the El Paso Bar Association and Saturday morning he will dedicate the new El Paso County airport at Fabens.

Pampa Boosters To Shamrock Fete

A chartered bus will take a group of Pampa boosters to the St. Patrick's Day celebration in Shamrock tomorrow. The boosters are sponsored by the Public Relations Committee of the chamber of commerce.

"Anyone interested in making the trip is asked to call the chamber of commerce office for information," stated Jerald Sims, chairman of the committee. The bus will leave at 9:15 a.m. and return about 2 p.m. There are accommodations for 25.

Search Party Finds 13 of 18 Miners

LOGAN, W. Va. (UPI) — Rescuers trudged past the canvas-encased bodies of 13 miners today to search the depths of Holden No. 22 mine for five more men trapped in the coal pit eight days ago.

There was little hope the five would be found alive.

Discovery Tuesday of bodies of 13 of the 18 men trapped in the mine since March 5 saddened this community. Rescue squads at the mine entrance bowed their heads. Salvation Army workers led them in prayers and hymns.

The seven-day, round-the-clock search had been sparked by optimism until Tuesday afternoon when West Virginia mines director Crawford L. Wilson emerged from the mine with tears streaking his face.

In a voice quivering with emotion, he announced that some of the men had been found dead.

The 13 bodies had been found huddled together in a partially-fallen, crumbling tunnel three miles from the pithead.

"All the men are presumed dead," Wilson told newsmen who gathered about for the first announcement of the miners' fate.

The news stunned all those connected with the rescue operation. In the community of Holden, where mine families had feared the worst but spoke in hopeful terms, the dead men's relatives grieved behind closed doors.

Bishop's Last Letters Read Like The Diary Of Anne Frank

By HERBERT G. SPENCER
United Press International

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—"They have isolated me as if I were a contagious leper."
"They are trying to tear the faith out of the hearts of priests and faithful."
"Thus did Roman Catholic Bishop Simon Tsu describe his last, hard years in Communist China—years that brought increasing persecution, house arrest and finally death at the age of 91."
The two telling sentences were contained in letters smuggled from the churchman's closely guarded residence near Nanking. The Vatican released the entire correspondence today, more than a year after the last letter was received, saying it came from the pen of a "martyr."
Tsu, ordained by Pope Pius XI in 1926 as one of the first Chinese bishops, refused until the last to knuckle under to his country's new Communist masters.
He rejected attempts to persuade him to join the "patriots"—a pseudo-religious organization designed to replace loyal Roman Catholic churchmen with those faithful to the Communist Party. Even when the Communists "retired" him in 1958, he refused to surrender the cross and ring which were symbols of his office with the Pope.
In many ways Bishop Tsu's letters read like the diary of Anne Frank, the Jewish girl who was forced to live with her family in an attic to escape Nazi persecution and who finally died in a concentration camp in the last days of World War II.

Lenten Devotion

By Richard Cardinal Cushing
Catholic Archbishop of Boston
Written for UPI

It seems to be one of our great American customs to dedicate weeks and months to place emphasis on special causes. And people with authority of any kind are invited to add the supposed weight of their words to the publicity involved. How much of this wisdom survives longer than the page on which it is printed would make an interesting study!
But a Christian bishop hailing the approach of another Lenten time feels that his message must survive! It is one of his most sacred duties to urge all men of good will to come nearer to almighty God during the age-old season originated for that very purpose. In every way he can he must repeat the words of John the Baptist, "Do ye penance," and of Paul of Tarsus, "Now is the acceptable time!"
Putting aside for a moment the demands of any special project, may I take this opportunity to plead the cause of prayer and personal spiritual housekeeping? It is time indeed to refurbish the soul, to cleanse the heart of evil thoughts, and to extend a willing hand to those around us.
On Ash Wednesday every year, millions throughout the world wear on their foreheads the symbolic ashes intended to remind them and those who see them of the frailty of merely human hopes, of the lowly earth which begins and ends each life's journey here below. But this curious observance, inherited from days when penances were truly realistic, will only be a badge of foolishness or hypocrisy if affected by men and women whose pride and prejudices are not wholesomely reduced thereby.
To penance, then, and prayer, must all of us return. For us the hour-glass warns: "It is later than you think!" What a world this could be, what a world this can and will be, if each of us recalls in Lent what dust we are and to what dust we shall return.
With repetition such words as these grow stale; we must revive their meaning. What better time for this than the first Lent of the mysterious "sixties"? Perhaps this will be a scientific decade, or a savage one, or both. Why can we not so act as to give these new years of grace a nobler claim to remembrance? Is it beyond our hopes, with God ever ready to assist us to make these the "saintly sixties"? That they will be if each of us, in his own way, accepts this Lent as a proper time to make a start!

KNIT WITS—Having a real ball (of yarn, that is) in London, England, is Reading University student Susan Clifford, 28. She began working on a scarflike object last October. Fellow students pitched in to help—and now it's reached the outlandish length of over 200 feet and contains some 1,330,000 stitches. Susan keeps on knitting. She hasn't the foggiest idea how long it will be when finished—or even, for sure, what it is.

Uncle Sam To Auction Diamonds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Past. Hey, buddy. Wanna buy some hot diamonds?
You can get them from Uncle Sam. And its all on the up and up.
The General Services Administration (GSA) announced Monday that it would put on the auction block this spring 56,000 carats of government-owned diamonds valued at between two and three million dollars.
And these aren't industrial diamonds. They are the wearing kind that proverbially are a girl's best friend.
A GSA spokesman explained that much of the lot had been seized by the Customs Service from would-be smugglers and stockpiled by the government in case of a war emergency when they could be used for industrial needs.
The government now has so many regular industrial diamonds, however, that the gem quality stones can be auctioned off.
The gems consist of two lots: approximately 8,412 carats of cut and polished stones to be offered at the first sale on April 21, and

Message From Ireland On Eve Of St. Pat Day

By SEAN F. LEMASS
Prime Minister of Ireland
Written for UPI

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — I am very happy to send greetings for St. Patrick's Day to your kind and kin abroad and to the many friends of Ireland who are to be found in every land.

For our scattered race, the great festival is a day of reunion in spirit which brings all of us together in love of Ireland and affectionate regard for one another. The worldwide celebration in honor of St. Patrick is proof, if proof were needed, of the fundamental national unity of the Irish people and to Ireland.

The national objectives which we are seeking to attain are well known to all our friends beyond the seas. Politically, our fundamental aim is the unity of our country, which we are confident will ultimately be achieved. Meanwhile, we desire, and are endeavoring to promote, practical cooperation in the economic sphere with our separated fellow countrymen in Northern Ireland and the growth of neighborly relations between the two parts of the island which are at present divided into one another.

Culturally, we are continuing our efforts to restore full vigor to our national language and to foster, among all our people, a sense of pride in our heritage from the past and an endeavor to develop that heritage in the future.

We hope to have available, in short time, the results of a special investigation, which has been in progress, of the methods by which our aim concerning the Irish language can best be assured.

If, as we hope and pray, the Red Cross Party At Air Base

The Pampa chapter of the American Red Cross will sponsor a party tonight at the Retraining Center of the Amarillo Air Force Base. Eleven representatives from Pampa plan to attend.

The retraining center is a service to rehabilitate Air Force men instead of giving them a dishonorable discharge. The men are sent to the center to try to adjust to life rather than being sent back home.

The Red Cross assisted in this program by sponsoring entertainment each month. The Pampa chapter sponsors parties in March and October.

Attending the party tonight will be Sgt. and Mrs. O. F. Kreimeyer, and Misses Vern Pendergrass, James Lewis, Stanley Brandt, Jess Beard, K. I. Dunn, Mack Harmon, G. E. Tinnin, Charles O. Duenkel Sr. and Libby Shotwell.

Scouting Sponsors To Meet

Fred Neslage, "Together" chairman for the Santa Fe District, will conduct the program at a "Together Dinner" tomorrow night at the Coronado Inn.

Committees of local institutions have been invited to attend and hear the story of Scouting. Sponsors of the dinner are J. C. Peck Co., Pioneer Natural Gas Co. and Southwestern Public Service.

The Rev. Richard Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church, will speak on "Boys will be Men."

A group of organizers, under the leadership of Neslage and A. R. Valley, district organization and tension chairman, called on 25 institutions to invite them to participate in the program. Some of the institutions are currently sponsoring a phase of scouting, but are asked to add additional units.

The institutions that plan to be present at the dinner are Rotary Club, O. C. and A. Union, National guard, fire department, Gas Club, Optimist Club, Noon Lancers Club, Lamar School, Lamar Christian Church, Royal Order of Moose, St. Paul Methodist Church, Salvation Army, Highland Street Church, First Methodist Church, St. Vincent dePaul Catholic Church and the Harrah Methodist Church.

Found Guilty On Lesser Charge

Normie Jacob Harper of Amarillo was fined $25 and costs in Gray County Court yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of passing on the left of a motor vehicle within 100 feet of an intersection.

Harper was originally charged with negligent homicide and the passing charge when he was involved in a collision at the intersection of Farm to Market Road No. 282 and Gwendolyn St. which caused the death of Smith J. Meador.

He originally entered a plea of not guilty. Yesterday the negligent homicide charge was dropped, and Harper was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charge.

Extension Service Asst. Director Instructs At Coronado Inn Meeting

Dr. D. C. Pfannstiel, assistant director of the extension service, instructed extension agents and secretaries from 11 counties in a new system of filing to be used by extension offices in the state yesterday. The all-day meeting was held at the Coronado Inn and continues today with representatives from nine other counties attending.

Miss Mary L. Cothran, assistant district extension agent, instructed secretaries in office management and operation during a short session near the end of the meeting.

The new filing system provides for 365 categories with numerous sub-heads under each category.

According to Cecil Regier, Gray County assistant agent, "Now when agents change counties, they won't have to learn an entirely new system. Previous to this new system, it would take three months just to learn the filing system of that office."

Attending the meeting yesterday were agents and secretaries from Gray, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts, Wheeler, Donley, Collingsworth, Hutchinson, Carson, Armstrong and Hansford counties.

Counties in session at the meeting today are Castro, Oldham, Dalhart, Potter, Deaf Smith, Moore, Hartley, Sherman, and Randall.

Congress Urged To Hike Minimum Wage To $1.25

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The effect on cotton garment firms would be greater, he said, "since wage levels are lower and are kept down by the competitive effect of unorganized shops."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America urged Congress today to boost the federal minimum wage to $1.25 an hour to wipe out "poverty in the midst of plenty."

Jacob S. Potofsky, who also is a member of the AFL-CIO executive council, testified before the House labor subcommittee in support of a bill to raise the wage floor 25 cents from the current $1.00 an hour and extend coverage to an additional 7,500,000 workers.

In his prepared testimony Potofsky said an increase in the minimum wage would not raise costs greatly for either manufacturers or consumers.

For instance, he said, a $1.25 minimum wage would hike the cost of making the average suit by 14 cents and the typical dress shirt by six cents.

The effect on cotton garment firms would be greater, he said, "since wage levels are lower and are kept down by the competitive effect of unorganized shops."

"We must face the fact that in industries with very substandard wages, the impact on cost will be greatest," Potofsky said. "It cannot be otherwise and we must face the problem squarely."

Actors Can't Work On Films

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The Screen Actors Guild has refused to allow actors to return to work on eight films left unfinished when the actors' strike began March 7.

"The guild will not allow the eight pictures to go back into production until negotiations have proceeded to a point where the guild is assured of an equitable deal," said Executive Secretary John L. Dales. "This point has not yet been reached."

His statement brought a halt to optimistic reports that the strike was near settlement.

Representatives of the guild and the Assn. of Motion Picture Producers, bargaining for the seven major studios, will meet again Thursday.

Mentally Retarded Teenage Girls Find Niche For Selves In Hospital Work

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mentally retarded teenage girls need help in preparing for jobs, and hospitals, short-handed, need volunteers.

The two needs, existing in communities across the nation, merged in Wilmington, Del. Now, the mentally limited girls are helping themselves by helping out in Delaware Hospital.

Mrs. Marian B. Doom, volunteer supervisor for the hospital, reports that the experimental program—with a two-way pitch—can be put to work in any town where similar needs exist.

In a report to the American Hospital Assn., Mrs. Doom said the hospital's work with the mentally limited girls began with a contact from the Delaware Assn. for Mentally Retarded Children.

The hospital was told that several of the girls needed training and could be of service to the hospital in routine jobs.

"At first glance," said Mrs. Doom, "this seemed an almost impossible request to fill. We fully recognized the difficulties and pitfalls of such a program. But we agreed to try."

Within a few weeks, the first group—seven girls—showed up at the girls' hospital. Some of the girls were uneasy at the strangeness of the place and the people. But everywhere they went to work in the hospital, the girls were met by smiling and patient workers anxious to teach them repetitive chores. Soon, they felt at home.

Mrs. Doom doesn't hold up the program as a miracle solution for the problems of mentally retarded teenagers.

"But," she said, "it is one way to keep these children of limited mental capacity from despair—and to make their families happier as they themselves are happier."

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

My 3-year-old daughter is making a picture of a house, a tree and a two-legged creature, presumably human. The green crayon she is using breaks. At her request, I renew its point. Then, watching as she resumes work on her tree, I exclaim: "Oh no, dear. Only the leaves of trees are green."

Seizing the brown crayon from her box, I proceed to impose brownness on the green of her tree-trunk. It may improve the looks of the picture, but my little girl may never finish it.

My 8-year-old is repairing a rip in her hem. Watching her choose needle and thread, I exclaim: "Oh no, that thread is too thick."

Inserting the right thread into the needle, I put my own swift, small, experienced stitches into her ripped hem. The skirt will be beautifully repaired, but my daughter may never try to mend her own clothes again.

Is this kind of overpowering helpfulness the problem of the Mrs. P. who writes: "Though our 13-year-old girl is a good student, she has recently taken to dawdling so that she's often late for school. Her teacher says her work is good and she seems socially adjusted. I always wake her in plenty of time but there's always some excuse for dawdling. Either she can't find a book she needs, couldn't get into the bathroom or finds some other reason to make herself late for school. What could be responsible for this dawdling?"

Maybe by taking over her wish to get to school on time and making it your wish instead.

Just as we can destroy a little child's interest in his drawing by making it our drawing, we can destroy an older one's wish to go to school by overpowering it with our wish for his school. It is easy to spot domination in the imposition of brown on a little child's green tree; but less easy to spot it in the over-anxiety that takes over a child's wish to learn—by constant reminders of school's importance.

So I suggest that Mrs. M—stop

Deep South Atmosphere Created For Annual Training Union Banquet

SKELLETOWN (Sp1) — The Training Union of First Baptist Church were recent hosts for a banquet, held in the church recreation room. A "Deep South" atmosphere greeted the guests as they entered through an arch-way covered with magnolia blossoms into the banquet room, which depicted a garden on the banks of the Mississippi River. A simulated stone-wall divided the garden scene and a large mural of "The Cotton Queen" on the river. Indirect lighting was used on the stone-wall, which made the show boat more effective.

Invocation was given by Reverend Truman Luther, pastor.

Welcome was given by Johnny Wilson, master of ceremonies. Five black-faced gentlemen served a Southern dinner to the guests, seated at twenty-five small tables.

A Magnolia Maiden sang a solo, "In The Garden of Tomorrow". She was accompanied by Miss Patsy Moore at the piano. A sextet of Cotton Belles sang "Dixie" and "Is It True What They Say About Dixie". They were accompanied by Miss Dianne Thomas at the piano. A Southern Lad gave a reading entitled "Benjamin Bang" and a group of Confederate Characters sang "Steal Away" and "Paper Doll".

Reverend John Dyer, pastor of Hobart Street Baptist Church, Pampa, was the speaker for the evening.

A congregational song, "Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus" was directed by Alvin Bellows. The benediction was given by A. M. Dean.

The mural for the banquet was made by Ross and Charlie Coleman. The five colored waiters were Messrs. Alvin Bellows, Tom Spence, Curly Mercer, Orville Wimslett and Buster West.

Approximately 150 persons attended.

GROOM (Sp1) — Mrs. Lila Milton celebrated her 80th birthday on Leap Year's day with a party on Monday afternoon in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Milton. Because of the unusual date of her birthday, Mrs. Milton celebrated her first birthday in four years.

Assisting with serving was a granddaughter, Mrs. Jesse Simmons of Amarillo.

During the open house reception approximately 65 friends called to wish Mrs. Milton a happy birthday. She received 125 cards from friends and relatives and a long distance-telephone-call from her grandson, Jack Milton of Arlington.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barnett and Mrs. Viola Floyd of Lakeview and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Simmons and family of Amarillo.

If a party is being given in your honor, arrive before the other guests, and stay for the entire party.

tion was given by A. M. Dean.

Approximately 150 persons attended.

RUTH MILLETT

Gentlemen: You ought to know it is utterly deflating to any wife to have her husband say: "Is THAT what you're going to wear" when she is all dressed for a party and had, until that comment, felt she looked pretty nice.

"What happened to your hair?" when she has spent an afternoon in a beauty salon getting a new hairdo she hoped would make her years younger.

"What was the matter with the room the way it was" when she has spent the day pushing furniture around, re-hanging pictures, etc., in an effort to give a tired room a new look.

Or any one of these deflators: "I wish you would teach MY WIFE how to make this shrimp dish. It's the best I ever ate."

"It's a nice dress, I guess, but why do you always get such drab colors? Remember that red dress Mrs. so-and-so had on at last night's party? Now that's the kind of dress I wish you'd wear."

"Lamb chops for dinner? That's what I had for lunch."

"If that isn't just like a woman... I never can find anything around this house."

"I don't see what you're so upset about... If I ran my office the way you run this house..."

"How do other wives manage to stay on a budget?"

"I didn't tell you because I didn't think you would understand."

"WHADDYA MEAN, ELECTRICITY'S A BARGAIN?" "Look at this bill. It's higher than it was last year, isn't it?" Yes sir—it is. But let's see why. Do you have a new appliance, perhaps? A Christmas present for your wife? "Well, yes. I got her a clothes dryer. Goes with the washer we got last summer." Lucky wife. Is there anything else? "Well, yes. We've got a new TV set, too—and I guess we've been watching it a good deal." Yes. In other words, you've been putting more electricity to work for you, and getting more value out of it than ever before? "You're right. I guess we have. Never looked at it that way. Why, maybe electricity is a real bargain." No doubt about it, sir. It is. SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

School Board Candidates To Speak On PTA Program

Members of the Pampa Board of Education, the superintendent of Pampa public schools and candidates for the office of trustee of the board of education will discuss functions of the board of education at a program sponsored by the City Council Parent-Teachers Association Thursday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock in the Sam Houston School cafeteria.

This is the last of six study programs offered by the City Council PTA in order that members of the Parent-Teachers Association may receive credit for twelve hours of study under the national PTA Family Life study program. The general public is invited.

Aubrey Steele, who is retiring as school board trustee this year, will speak on the "General Responsibilities and Privileges of a Member of the Board of Education." Steele will talk more specifically about the level of school government where the methods and curriculum for classroom use are selected.

Warren Fatheree will talk on "How Big a Business is Our Educational Program." Fatheree will also speak about how interested the general public is in the affairs of the schools.

Elmer Wilson will speak on the "Salary Scales of the Pampa School System." He will discuss the salaries of principals as well as teachers.

Superintendent Knox Kinard will speak on the "Relationship of the School Board to the Superintendent; the Superintendent to the Principal; the Principal to the Teacher."

E. L. Green and D. E. Holt, board members, will not attend the program because they have been called out of town.

Each of the three candidates for trustee on the school board, Dr. R. M. Hampton, Bob Andis and Marvin Boyman, will speak on the subject, "Why Am I Running for the School Board?"

During the first hour each man will speak. Following coffee, during the second hour of the program, there will be an open forum and discussion. Persons attending the program will have an opportunity to ask questions.

The Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard will moderate the panel presentation and open forum.

Members of the PTA who have attended all six of the study programs will receive certificates, crediting them with the twelve hours of study.

The programs have been planned and arranged by the Study Course Committee of the City Council PTA. Mrs. Ronald E. Hubbard is chairman. Mrs. Julian M. Key is president of the City Council PTA.

MIAMI (UPI) — A wealthy Cuban businessman denied today that he has been named "provisional president in exile" of an organization aimed at ousting Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Francisco G. Cajigas, in a statement given newsmen by a friend, did say that "it is true an ideological united force of those opposed to Castro's regime of terror has been formed and is made up of all the representatives of the Cuban activities: civilians, military, economic and religious."

Cajigas, 55, now lives in Mount Dora in Central Florida. He apparently came to Miami to confer with a former army officer who served under the Batista regime Castro tossed out.

The officer, Jose Eleuterio Pedraza, now lives in the Dominican Republic.

The statement was issued by Cajigas after a report by a Miami newspaper that he had been reliably reported to have the exile presidency. But he insisted that "it is not true that I have been named provisional president."

The newspaper's Latin American editor, George Southworth, reported that sources within the organization confirmed Cajigas' appointment and said Pedraza was named head of the military arm of the movement.

The paper also reported that the two men are worried that the United States will accuse them of revolutionary activities in violation of neutrality laws, for which they could be deported.

THREE FOR THE SNOW—Looking like a page out of Russian literature, Cyrus Eaton's troika (three specially trained stallions) plunge through the snow at Northfield, Ohio, pulling a sleigh with the industrialist aboard. The horses and a charaban (a light carriage) were given by the Russian government to Eaton. The sleigh was purchased later.

Other pro-government propagandists have hinted broadly that the United States was to blame for the explosion which wrecked a French ship here 10 days ago, killing at least 60 persons. Other sources blamed the blast on Cuban anti-Communists.

Pardo said his version of the story was based on unspecified "documents which the Americans prefer to ignore." He cited only an account by "U.S. historian W. W. Johnson."

Mrs. Roosevelt resumed her talk after about 10 minutes, saying "tonight's events did not hurt you, they hurt your enemies." It was the second threat received against Mrs. Roosevelt. Police had searched the auditorium just before she spoke, after receiving an earlier threat.

Cajigas who has never held political office, said "the plan aims at placing all Cubans back into a civilized world and restoring the respect for democratic solidarity in this hemisphere and expressly waiving all personal interests."

BLASE CROWD—Man sprawled on sidewalk attracts no attention in London. No accident victim, he was one of a group of photographers stationed outside Buckingham Palace. He took cover to change film in his camera while waiting for Princess Margaret and her fiancé, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Denies Being President Of Cuba In Exile

MIAMI (UPI) — A wealthy Cuban businessman denied today that he has been named "provisional president in exile" of an organization aimed at ousting Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Francisco G. Cajigas, in a statement given newsmen by a friend, did say that "it is true an ideological united force of those opposed to Castro's regime of terror has been formed and is made up of all the representatives of the Cuban activities: civilians, military, economic and religious."

The paper also reported that the two men are worried that the United States will accuse them of revolutionary activities in violation of neutrality laws, for which they could be deported.

The statement issued by Cajigas also said the group's unity plan is based on setting up an executive board "which would unite all of the foes of Castro, inside and outside of Cuba, to share the responsibility of restoring the democratic rhythm in our country, thus stabilizing the peace without sterile retaliation and where law, justice and equality may predominate for all Cubans alike."

Commie Line By Fidelists

HAVANA (UPI)—An anti-American radio commentator charged Monday night that Americans were to blame for the explosion which sank the battleship Maine here in 1898, setting the stage for the Spanish-American War.

Jose Pardo Llada referred only indirectly to the fact that the U.S. invasion of Cuba 62 years ago insured this country's independence from Spain.

Chamberlain Faces His Toughest Task

By United Press International
Wilt Chamberlain faces his toughest playoff assignment tonight when the Philadelphia Warriors meet Bill Russell and the Boston Celtics in the opening of the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division finals.

The St. Louis Hawks open their best-of-seven western sectional final playoffs against Minneapolis, the team that beat them in last year's post-season games.

Chamberlain, the 7-2 freshman sensation who broke eight season records and set a playoff mark of 53 points against Syracuse University, has had nothing but trouble from Russell during his rookie campaign.

Although the Warrior who had outscored and outrebounced Big Bill, 479-237, and 355-294, respectively, he only managed to pace Philadelphia to five victories in 13 meetings with the Celtics.

Rangers Get Both Gridders

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — The Dallas Rangers of the National Football League announced the acquisition of three more players today to bring to 30 the number of players signed, bought or traded for the new club.

From the Detroit Lions, the Rangers added the names of Charles Aze, a center who played college ball with the University of Southern Cal; Jim Doran, end who hailed from Iowa State, and Gene Cronin, a linebacker who signed with the Lions from the College of the Pacific.

Rangers General Manager Tex Schramm said the players were acquired by the agreement of NFL officials that the Rangers buy three players from each of the other league teams in order to be able to put a team on the field this fall.

The Rangers still have selections of three players each from the Chicago Cardinals and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Other selections announced Tuesday by the Rangers:

From the Chicago Bears—Jack Johnson, defensive halfback who played collegiate football with Miami; Pete Johnson, defensive halfback from VMI; and Don Healy, offensive guard from Maryland.

From the Pittsburgh Steelers—Ray Fisher, defensive tackle from Eastern Illinois; Ray Matthews, offensive halfback who is a veteran of nine seasons with the Steelers and who played with Clemson; and Bobby Luns, place kicker and punter specialist from Alabama.

From the Washington Redskins—Doyle Nix, SMU defensive halfback star; Joe Nicely, offensive guard, and Tom Brantz, offensive end.

Folly, DeJohn To Meet Tonight

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Heavyweight contender Zora Folley risks a nine-fight winning streak against slugger Mike DeJohn in a televised 10-round bout tonight at the Arena.

Folley will rely on cleverness and a stingy left jab to repulse the charges of his stronger opponent.

Currently ranked third among heavyweight contenders, Folley has a 50-2 record, including 29 knockouts. In his last fight, the Phoenix, Ariz., battler outpointed highly-regarded Eddie Machen.

DeJohn, a KO artist, is listed ninth among heavyweight aspirants. His record is 39-7-1. The Syracuse brawler, the last of seven fighting brothers, has scored 27 knockouts.

Bears Sign Hodge

WACO (UPI) — Ken Hodge of Carrollton, an all-district and all-state honorable mention winner, has signed a letter of intent to play with the Baylor Bears.

Hodge was Carrollton's top pass receiver last season, netting 323 yards on 16 catches. He scored 29 points and returned six kickoffs an average of 19 yards each.

As a punter he averaged 33 yards per kick and as an occasional ball carrier in the wing-T formation he made an 11-yard average. Hodge is 6-2 and

Bonnie Attack Panics Redmen

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Can those amazing, ball-hawking Bonnies panic top-seeded Bradley the way they panicked defending champion St. John's?

That was the big question in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament today as a result of St. Bonaventure's stunning 106-71 rout of St. John's and Bradley's impressive 78-64 victory over Dayton in quarter-final games at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

The two red-hot teams collide in a semifinal Thursday night for the right to meet the winner of the other semifinal between Providence and second-seeded Utah State in Saturday afternoon's final.

St. Bonaventure, only a one-point favorite, drove St. John's crazy with its ball-stealing and shot the eyes out of the basket with a 58 per cent shooting average in handing the Redmen their worst defeat in 15 NIT campaigns.

"Panic is the only way to describe what happened to us," admitted Coach Joe Lapchick of St. John's. "When they stole the ball we were just started to play like sophomores."

"Can they panic Bradley?" said Lapchick in answer to a query. "Well, now, that's a different story. Bradley is a much more poised ball club than we are."

Coach Ed Donovan promised that his Bonnies from Olean, N.Y., "will start with the modified press defense against Bradley and use it all the way—unless we get into trouble that way."

A press defense also was a major factor in Bradley's win. The Braves were trailing 37-33, when they switched to that defense early in the second half and the resulting surge carried Bradley to a 68-56 margin with less than three minutes left.

"We had to change to the press because we were getting licked," admitted Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn. "We had to do something that would change the pace of the game."

Coach Tom Blackburn of Dayton was bitter about the officiating, particularly the work of Charley Eckman, former coach of the old Fort Wayne Pistons of the National Basketball Association.

"Eckman was less harmful to the coaches when he was a coach," said Blackburn. "I thought we were going to win when we had that four point lead, but Eckman made three straight bad calls against us. We lost the ball three straight times without making a shot, and there went our lead."

No Big Cage Changes Set

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — College basketball has reached the patternized stage where no drastic rule changes seem to be in the offing, St. John's coach Joe Lapchick asserted today, and any revolutionary alterations must stem from the pro ranks.

Looking into the future, the former star of the original Celtics predicts that:

—The pros eventually will "have to do something" to counteract the skyscrapers by either raising the basket or making the rim smaller.

—The colleges will adopt an orange ball more conducive to television.

—Minor rules will be introduced to combat "gimmicks" but the colleges won't "buy" the pro time limit on possession for many years.

"College basketball doesn't actually have the height problem which pro basketball faces," explained Lapchick. "Actually, in college play while the overall height average has increased there still are only a very few real giants playing every season."

"But the pros, who take the pick of the college crop annually and put the accent on the biggest fellows, eventually will have to do something. I suppose," he added.

"The big boys are scattered among a host of colleges, let's say 800 of them, while there are only eight pro teams. So the pros must make the adjustment either with a higher basket or a smaller rim."

There will always be rule adjustments in the college sport, Lapchick contends, but he sees nothing really drastic in the foreseeable future.

"All games must be tempered with to eliminate bugs," he argued. "Progress must be part of any sport and you have to knock out the 'gimmicks.'"

By gimmicks, the lean basketball great means such rule evaders as the trick Kansas came up with when it had Wilt Chamber-

ABC Receives Rights To TV

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Broadcasting Co. has acquired the NCAA TV football rights for the 1960 and 1961 seasons.

Financial terms were not revealed in the joint announcement by Rix N. Yard, chairman of the NCAA television committee, and Thomas W. Moore, vice president of the ABC, but it was emphasized that it is the first two-year agreement made by the NCAA. The National Broadcasting Co. held the NCAA TV rights the last few years.

On out of bounds plays under their own basket, they flipped the ball over the backboard and Wilt, standing in front of the basket, merely tapped it in. The rule makers countered by ordering the ball taken out on the sides.

UCLA Netters Halt Trinity Streak

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA Tuesday defeated Trinity University of San Antonio, Tex., 5-1, to end a six-match winning streak for the Trinity tennis team.

Trinity freshman Chuck McKinley, one of the finest tennis players in the Southwest, was the only Texan to emerge victorious. He defeated UCLA's Allan Fox, 7-5, 6-2.

The Uclians swept the remaining three singles matches and the doubles.

Roger Werksman defeated Rod Susman, 6-4, 6-4. Larry Nagler defeated McKinley and Susman, and Norman Perry defeated Jimmy Moses, 6-0, 6-4.

In doubles play, Fox and Nagler defeated McKinley and Susman, 6-4, 8-6, and Perry and Werksman defeated Newman and Moses, 7-5, 6-4.

Fox and Perry were NCAA All-Americans last year, though Nagler is considered UCLA's No. 1 player this season.

mitted Coach Joe Lapchick of St. John's. "When they stole the ball we were just started to play like sophomores."

"Can they panic Bradley?" said Lapchick in answer to a query. "Well, now, that's a different story. Bradley is a much more poised ball club than we are."

Coach Ed Donovan promised that his Bonnies from Olean, N.Y., "will start with the modified press defense against Bradley and use it all the way—unless we get into trouble that way."

A press defense also was a major factor in Bradley's win. The Braves were trailing 37-33, when they switched to that defense early in the second half and the resulting surge carried Bradley to a 68-56 margin with less than three minutes left.

"We had to change to the press because we were getting licked," admitted Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn. "We had to do something that would change the pace of the game."

Coach Tom Blackburn of Dayton was bitter about the officiating, particularly the work of Charley Eckman, former coach of the old Fort Wayne Pistons of the National Basketball Association.

"Eckman was less harmful to the coaches when he was a coach," said Blackburn. "I thought we were going to win when we had that four point lead, but Eckman made three straight bad calls against us. We lost the ball three straight times without making a shot, and there went our lead."

CANTON, Tex. (UPI) — Glenn Dixon and Jimmy Wright, key linemen in Breckenridge's Class AAA schoolboy co-championship football team last year, have decided to attend West Texas State College.

Dixon, a 225-pound tackle, made the all-state team while Wright, a 190-pound guard, was an all-district and all-area selection. He was the third athlete in Breckenridge's "B-team" to sign to win four letters in football.

Chisox Win 4th Straight Baseball Tilt

The Chicago White Sox are doing it with mirrors again.

Scored by some experts as a "freak" champion when they won the American League pennant last year, the White Sox have won four straight Grapefruit League games with the same blend of strong pitching, air-tight defense and opportune hitting that brought them their first flag since 1919.

The White Sox scored their fourth in a row Tuesday and the victory was especially sweet to Manager Al Lopez because the victims of the 3-0 decision were the New York Yankees. The Yankees have been pooh-poohing the White Sox' 1960 pennant chances ever since the close of the '59 campaign.

Get Two Hits

The White Sox made only two hits Tuesday but took advantage of Dick Bronstad's wildness. Dick Brown tripled across a run in the second inning after a walk to Joe Hicks and the White Sox added two more in the third on Nelson Fox' single, three walks and an infield out.

Bob Shaw, an 18-game winner last season, Rodolfo Arias and relief ace Gerry Steach pitched three scoreless innings each in limiting the Yankees to four hits. The White Sox have yielded only seven runs in 42 innings this spring and the American League champions have yet to make their first error.

Tony Kubek had two hits and Bill Skovron and Roger Maris one each for the Yankees, who have lost three of four games and scored only six runs.

The Cleveland Indians chalked up their first victory of the exhibition season when they beat the Chicago Cubs, 7-5; the Boston Red Sox shamed the San Francisco Giants, 6-5; the Pittsburgh Pirates out-slugged the Kansas City Athletics, 17-12, and the Cincinnati Reds beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2, in other exhibition games. Los Angeles vs. Detroit, Milwaukee vs. St. Louis and Philadelphia vs. Washington were rained out.

Tough New Orleans Pelican Finally Becomes Extinct

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The New Orleans Pelican, which flew safely through 99 years of baseball and survived last-place finishes, the suicide of a general manager and even a yellow fever epidemic, is finally dead.

The ancient bird expired Tuesday, when club officials turned the franchise over to the Southern Association. The cause of death was listed as public apathy.

The ailment was compounded by the team's falling finances, lack of fan interest and no major league working agreement.

Citizens Bank To Play Elk City

The Citizens Bank basketball team of Pampa will travel to Sayre, Okla., Saturday night for a game with the Elk City, Okla., independents. The game will be played at Sayre Junior College.

Elk City defeated Citizens Bank Monday night, 60-57, in an opening game of the Crawford, Okla., independent basketball tournament. Dean Evans scored 33 and Roy Tally 22 and Dick Wolf 16 for Elk City.

Cannon Testifies For Ram Lawyer

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — All-America football player Billy Cannon gave six hours of testimony to a Los Angeles Rams attorney Tuesday, but the Louisiana State star's lawyers would not let the deposition be made public.

"Cannon's attorneys claimed his remarks were privileged," Rams spokesman Bert Rose said, "so all we can do now is go along with them until the trial."

The Rams, who signed the LSU grid ace to a contract in November, seek to have Cannon barred from playing with any other pro football team. Cannon later signed with the Houston Oilers of the American Football League after his Jan. 1 appearance in the Sugar Bowl game.

He contends the Ram contract is illegal because it was penned before he completed his college eligibility. Cannon also returned $10,000 former Rams general manager Pete Rozelle had given him for signing.

Rozelle, now commissioner of the National Football League, was quizzed last month by Cannon's lawyers in a deposition-taking similar to the one Cannon underwent Tuesday. Rozelle's hearing was open to the press, reportedly at the invitation of Cannon's lawyers.

Ram attorney John McHose said he had assumed that at least part of Cannon's deposition could be made public, and the Rams were in the middle of writing a statement in the press, reportedly a privilege claimed by Cannon's lawyers.

A scheduled press conference also was canceled after Cannon's lawyers clamped a lid of secrecy over his remarks.

Rose said the California Superior Court will hear the case, "probably in June." Most of Cannon's deposition is expected to be revealed then.

In the second half of the twirl bill, Clarence (Tiger) Floyd, 174 1/2, New York, scored a surprise upset when he gained a 10-round split decision over Von Clay, 172, Philadelphia. It was the first-loss the 20-year-old fourth ranked heavyweight contender suffered in the course of an 11-1-2 career.

Movie Actors' Strike May Finish Big Studios

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
OLLYWOOD (NEA) — Movie
actors vs. "major" movie studios.
Who will win? Bet on the major studios.

How could they win in the final showdown? By simply disappearing like the magician's rabbit — old show business trick.
By simply pocketing all the considerable old movie loot, selling their big real estate holdings, becoming movie distributors,
movie makers.

They can and are snaring
both theater and future TV profits
among themselves.
The major, in name only, studios have been unable to compete with the independent movie makers, today's complex, international movie making world.
The actors, with nothing to lose, gambled on grabbing a share of the TV loot in the safe before the ship sank.
But the loot in the safe, and in the big studios' physical investments, appears to be more important than the ship.
Self liquidation of the major studios, precipitated by the actors' strike, seems a possibility.

MOVIE PLAYERS Mary Beth Hughes and John Angelo, out of work because of the actors' strike, look at a sign directing them to the unemployment office in Hollywood.

It seems to be a possible big off to "The Day They Drained Swimming Pools" in Hollywood and Beverly Hills.
Why? Television, the new mass entertainment medium, doomed major studios before the actor.

Today's top movie makers are dependent stars, directors, writers and producers.

sight (often as high as 43 per-

Evangelistic Association Meets Monday

Cecil Todd, tent revivalist, was the featured speaker for the Panhandle Evangelistic Association meeting Monday night at the Coronado Inn.
The P.E.A. is an associated effort of Christian churches, of the Panhandle areas of the Texas and Oklahoma to establish new churches in these areas.
Reports were given at the meeting by the ministers of the two churches established during 1959 at Pampa and Borger. Harold Starbuck is the minister of the Hi Land
Christian Church in Pampa and Will T. Winslow is the minister of the new Central Christian Church in Borger.

Sam Stone, chairman of the association, stated to the group that plans were being made for the establishing of two more new churches in 1960.
Todd has been in this area for the past two weeks speaking to the area churches concerning ten-tent evangelism. He will be the evangelistic speaker for the "Greater Crusade for Christ in Pampa," in September, a tent meeting sponsored by the Christian churches of this area.

Todd told the Christian workers in his message, "Magnificent Men for a Muddled World," that the Christian movement stands or falls on its followers joining hands, hearts and heads in a unified action against evil.
"There is no limit to what a Christian worker can do for God if they don't care who gets the credit.
"Christ must be more than a person we sing about, pray about, preach about. He must be a dynamic living personality who holds the steering wheel of our lives.

"Our Christian actions must not be for fame, popularity, applause or praise from men, but for the straightforward exalting of Christ as Lord."

There were 69 persons present at the meeting, with representatives from the following churches: Shantuck, Okla.; Booker; Canadian;
Memphis; Clarendon; Dalhart;
Borger; Parkview Christian Church, Washington Avenue
Christian Church, Paramount Terrace
Christian Church, West Amarillo
Christian Church all in Amarillo and Clovis, N.M.

"The Right to Join Or Not Join A Union"

Most of our trouble comes from loose talk, from not defining terms.

An Ideal Labor Union

But there could be an ideal labor union that a man would have a right to join, and when a man says a worker has a right to join or not join a labor union, he should define exactly what he means as to the kind of union he has a right to join.
