Pampa Aides To Wilson 3 To Direct Campaign

Attorney General Will Wilson has announced the appointment of Aaron Sturgeon, Tom Braly and Don Cain of Pampa as co-chairmen to manage his campaign for re-election in Gray County.

"I am proud and grateful that they have accepted the job of heading up my campaign in Gray County, and I am certain that their efforts will be successful," Wilson said.

Cain, speaking for the co-chairmen, said they were delighted at the opportunity "to become a part of this statewide movement for good government."

"We are behind Will Wilson and what he stands for 100 per cent, and we know that those people in our county who are interested in vigorous law enforcement and good government will staunchly support him in his bid for re-election," Cain said.

"We have long been ardent admirers of his outstanding record as a public official and as a dedicated leader in the fight against organized crime and racketeering in Texas."

Wilson said he is campaigning for reelection on the basis of his qualifications, his experience, and his long record as a public official.

"Good government," Wilson says, "demands mutual understanding between the people and the officials who represent them in the halls of government."

As a fighting district attorney in Dallas when he returned from World War II, Wilson rolled up his sleeves and smashed the rackets, Cain said.

After two terms as Dallas district attorney, he was elected associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas and served for six years during which he won acclaim for his interpretations of the law.

In 1956, Wilson was elected attorney general of Texas.

As attorney general, he is leading a fight against gambling and vice. His statewide drive to stop the illegal and unscrupulous activities of loan sharks is well known.

Religion Issue A Legacy Of First Primary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The religious question survived today as a Democratic legacy of the Wisconsin primary and as an issue to be put to another test in West Virginia next month.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic and victor in Tuesday's Wisconsin Democratic presidential primary, and the loser, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, both deplored the appearance of the issue in the race. But they also knew that politicians in both parties would be studying its possible effect on the results.

When Humphrey and Kennedy are rematched in the West Virginia primary on May 10, the issue will be tested in a different way, perhaps of greater importance to Kennedy.

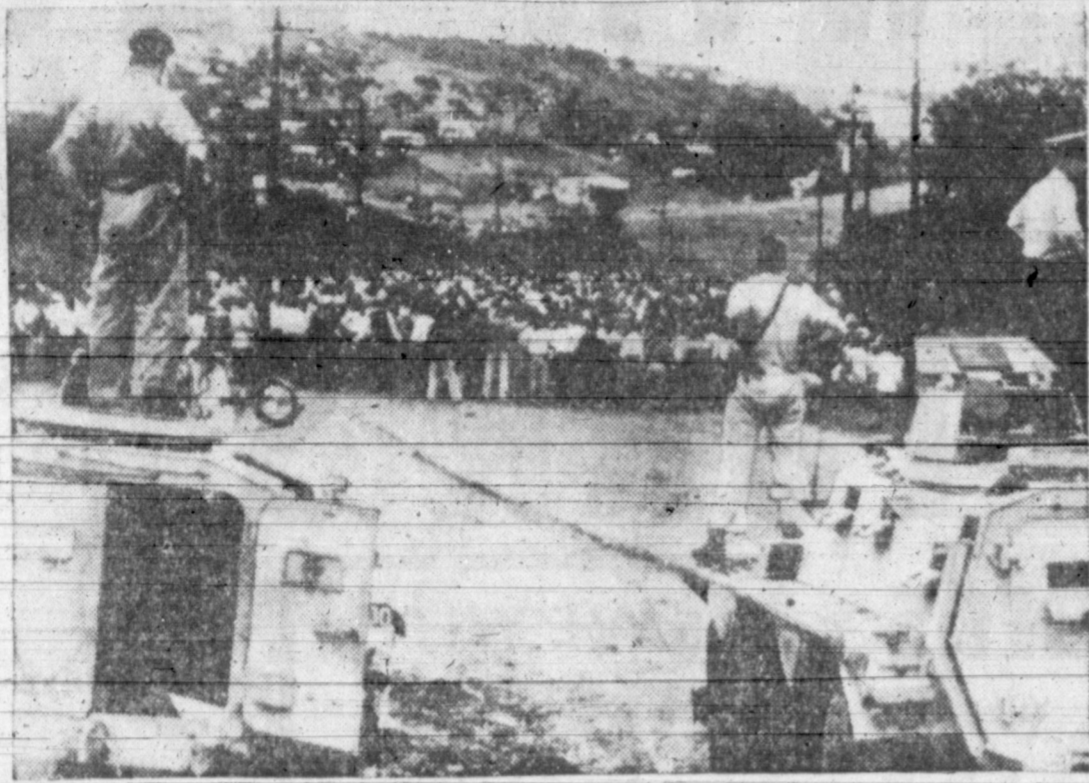

Less than 5 per cent of the population of West Virginia is Catholic compared with more than 20 per cent in Wisconsin.

West Virginia congressmen said today they viewed their state's race as a toss-up. Some thought the religious issue had been over-emphasized but others thought it could be the dominant factor in the outcome.

Humphrey begins a two-day swing into West Virginia Friday. Kennedy visits the state Monday and expects to spend a week or more there after Easter.

Kennedy was scheduled to start a tour today through Indiana where he and Vice President Richard M. Nixon are expected in the state's May 3 presidential primary, neither has serious opposition.

Kennedy distributed a Wisconsin analysis Wednesday to show that he had strong support in predominantly non-Catholic areas. It said he had lost counties with a heavy Catholic vote along the border of Minnesota. Humphrey's home state.

ON MARCH — Armored cars confront some 5,000 Africans setting out on a march into Durban, South Africa, from nearby Cato Village, a seat of native unrest. A few Africans stand, arms linked, in front of the mob trying to halt the march. Reports say that two white policemen saved 150 Africans from a screaming mob of 2,000 near Durban after the small group defied a stay-at-home demonstration and went to work.

Continuing Sessions Planned

Congressional Action Meet Well Attended

The first meeting in a continuing series to discuss congressional legislation, in effect a congressional action committee, was held this morning at the Coronado Inn with 100 attending the chamber of commerce sponsored event.

Business and professional persons board reports from four chamber members of social security, inflation and spending, tax reform legislation and labor legislation.

Speaker were Dr. Joe Donaldson, who talked about expansion of social security benefits, with emphasis on the proposed Foran Bill which would provide government paid medical care for persons over 50 years. Lynn Boyd discussed inflation and spending controls and Roy Sparkman gave his ideas on tax reform legislation. Reno Stinson discussed proposed labor legislation.

Meetings of the congressional action group will be held every two weeks. Pampanas are invited to participate and discuss various phases of legislation. The purpose of the meetings is to keep the public informed as to what is transpiring in Congress and the Texas Legislature.

The meetings are every other Thursday at 7 a.m. in the East Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn. Don Beaman is chairman of the Legislative and National Affairs committee of the chamber, sponsors of the breakfasts.

The next meeting will be April 21. Reservations may be had by calling the chamber office.

Natives Beaten In Display Of Force

CAPETOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Troop-supported South African police poured into the native compound of Nyanga today and equipped beating blacks who refused to go to work.

It was the biggest display of force since the township outside Capetown which has been a center of protest against a white law requiring Africans to carry passbooks.

The chief of police, Col. Terblanche, reported the situation inside the compound "very tense." He declined to give details.

Natives reached by telephone inside Nyanga told United Press International that a new wave of police beatings had erupted.

Terblanche merely said he had sent patrols into Nyanga this morning for "certain operations" designed to "protect law-abiding Africans from agitators and intimidators."

The violence resumed after a national holiday Wednesday in which there were no police beatings of Africans for the first time this week. Because business was closed down Wednesday there was no need for police to try to force Africans to work.

Many Africans have been engaged in a massive stay-home demonstration against the passbook law.

After holding the law in abeyance for 11 days, the government will again would be enforced starting today. It set off a new wave of resentment among African blacks.

Both Oppose A Sales Tax

United Press International — The race for lieutenant governor is off and running. Both candidates vowed to fight a general sales tax.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, seeking an unprecedented sixth term, broke his campaign silence Wednesday and laid down a six-point platform.

And his political opponent, Don Yarborough, a Houston attorney, countered with an eight-point platform and in a speech at Port Arthur, accused Ramsey of engineering the death of ratable, take oil bill.

This bill, one of several recommended by the governor's oil industry study commission, was designed to help Texas' own oil industry meet one of its most serious problems, the problem of trying to compete with foreign oil.

Workmen Suffer Burns

Three Pampa men were burned painfully late yesterday afternoon in a flash fire at the Phillips Pampa gas plant south of town.

H. T. Thompson, D. Brock and W. D. Burgess were admitted to Highland General Hospital. Thompson was treated and released, while Brock and Burgess are reported in good condition today.

Officials at the plant would not release any information as to the cause of the fire. Only slight damage was done to the plant.

Chattanooga Will Study Request For Integration

By United Press International — The Chattanooga, Tenn. school board will meet soon to study a suit filed Wednesday by four Negro parents seeking racial integration of city schools.

Commissioner S. Dean Peterson, head of the Department of Education at Chattanooga, who was named as one of the defendants, said the school board will be called together at the earliest convenient time to discuss the suit and to determine the procedure to be followed.

R. H. Craig, a Chattanooga attorney, who filed the suit in federal court, called on city school authorities to "cease operating a compulsory bi-racial system in Chattanooga and comply with the decision of the Supreme Court" in cases involving the de-

DeGaulle Willing To Ban A-Bombs

Declares He Will Follow Any Lead

LONDON (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle told the combined houses of British Parliament today France would be "happy" to quit developing atomic bombs as soon as the other world powers destroy their nuclear weapons.

"Peace can only be attained if the general fear of sudden annihilation is first removed," the visiting French leader told a rare joint session of Lords and Commons. Usually only the Queen speaks to a joint parliamentary session.

By implication, de Gaulle rejected the attacks on West Germany made by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchey during his recent tour of France.

"The peace France and Britain are striving to build should not widen divisions or poison wounds including those suffered by the Germans, who were yesterday our enemies but today are a vital part of the West and our common ally," he said.

A fanfare of trumpets greeted de Gaulle as he strode into the ancient great hall of Westminster adjoining Parliament.

A dark business suit was draped over his 6-foot, 4-inch frame. It contrasted with the brigadier general's uniform—symbol of his World War II stay in London as leader of Free French forces—which he has worn at most of his appearances here.

In slow, deliberate French, de Gaulle delivered an eloquent plea on behalf of world disarmament.

France, he said, "wishes above all for stocks of nuclear weapons to be destroyed, the installations where they are to be made to be used for different purposes, the rockets and aircraft carrying them to be scrapped."

At Cairo, Ill., where the Mississippi and the Ohio rivers meet, flooding of lowland areas was expected but huge levees protected the city from the raging rivers.

New trouble was expected as the flood crest moved south. The Memphis Weather Bureau estimated 175,000 acres of lowlands would be flooded by the swollen Mississippi.

Three days of floods in the Midwest already have inundated one million acres, according to the American Red Cross. The relief agency estimated Wednesday that 31,000 persons were affected by the floods and said damage would run into the millions of dollars.

Midwesterners were not alone in battling thaw-triggered spring floods. New England was having its problems, too.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Southern senators staged a last-ditch fight today for a modification of the civil rights bill which even administration supporters conceded might have merit and speed passage of the measure.

Russell called the provision, written into the bill by the House, a "monstrous" section which demands correction. He told newsmen he thought his plea would "appeal to the sense of fairness of the Senate if they understood it."

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) said he would confer with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers about Russell's arguments. He said any modification "would take the steam out of the debate" and expedite final action on the bill.

Dirksen said he felt Russell's request was "an honest one" and not a "dilatory tactic."

The disputed section would require a judge to issue an order authorizing a Negro applicant to vote "provisionally" if his registration application had been filed 20 days or more before an election.

If the application was filed less than 20 days before an election, the judge could issue such an order at his discretion.

In either case, the provisional votes would be impounded pending a final decision on the application.

Russell and other Southerners said voters in all states must be registered at least 30 days in advance of an election to qualify to vote.

WED IN SECRET — Runaway heiress Gable Benedict and her Romanian-born husband were hiding out today after a quickie wedding yesterday. Gable's family exerted every effort to prevent the marriage.

Gamble Gambles For Love

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. (UPI) — Heiress Gable Benedict and Andre Porumbescu honeymooned secretly today in fear her family would press its relentless battle to break up their international romance and marriage on the run.

The couple was married Wednesday night in a 10-minute, single ring ceremony on the lawn of an isolated log cabin lodge by a justice of the peace. Gable, 19, nearly collapsed in hysteria during the ceremony, alternately laughing and crying.

The millionaire bride was married in a simple blue and white frock. She wore no veil and carried neither flowers nor Bible. Andre, 25, wore a single-breasted, two-button blue suit and a borrowed shirt several sizes too large for him.

The couple "kissed at least 50 times" at the lakeside lodge in the Blue Ridge Mountains before hopping into a waiting automobile to begin their frantic honeymoon flight still fearing the socialist's grandmother—guardian would block their union with some last-minute legal maneuver.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia's Sputnik III made a death plunge into the earth's atmosphere Wednesday and left 11 man-made objects still whirling in orbit.

In addition, one Russian and two U.S. deep space probes are in orbit around the sun.

Sputnik III, launched May 15, 1958, reaped a big harvest for science. In its 23 months of life, it orbited the earth more than 10,000 times, reporting on radiation, ring currents, and other properties of space.

The only Soviet earth satellite still in orbit is Lunik III, launched Oct. 4, 1959. Also in orbit is Lunik III's last stage rocket.

Law Reinforced As Sit-In Trial Starts

MARSHALL, Tex. (UPI) — Texas Rangers and state police reinforced local law enforcement officers today as 16 Negroes prepared to go to trial for refusing to leave segregated lunch room counters last week.

The Negroes are charged with disturbing the peace by failing to leave the premises. They will be tried in the court of city recorder George Glenn Huffman.

Rumors of another demonstration by students of Wiley College, one of two Negro colleges in Marshall, added to tension around the city's square. It was reported that the students would demonstrate while the trials were going on.

Sixty-three other Negroes are charged with unlawful assembly and unlawful picketing as a result of last week's demonstrations in this East Texas town, where there are as many Negroes as there are whites.

Officers guarded the entrances to the courtroom and kept spectators and newsmen from entering. Only those who were to participate in the trials were allowed in court.

A housemother from one of the Negro colleges tried to get in the courtroom with a large group of Negroes. They were turned away at the door.

Capt. George Whitehurst, acting police chief, said he had orders to exclude newsmen and all others except the defendants, witnesses, officers and court personnel.

Small groups of Negroes stood across the street from the City Hall courtroom, looking in the City Hall.

Texas Ranger Capt. Bob Crowder, of Dallas, headed the Ranger contingent in town. Other state officers arrived to back up the local police and sheriff.

The small City Hall courtroom was used purposely as city officials tried to keep the trials as quiet as possible.

Cón Man Will Appeal Sentence

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Glenn Dale Castle, 41, who has boasted that he is an international confidence man, says he will appeal a 15-year prison sentence he received Wednesday.

A jury convicted Castle of taking stolen money orders across a state line. He was arrested at a private dinner this evening. His wife and one interpreter also will be present.

Informed sources said Eaton would use the occasion for a man-to-man discussion with Zoria after the meal and has ruled that complete secrecy about what is said be maintained by his staff.

The 10-power conference, less than a month old, reached such an impasse that French Delegate Jules Moch went so far as to suggest that Zoria seek new instructions from the Kremlin.

Like The Buggy Whip, Open Boat Whaling Disappearing

By COLETTE BLACKMOORE United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—What probably is the most dangerous peacetime occupation—open-boat whaling in the Moby Dick style—practically has disappeared from the seven seas.

Soon it may depend for its survival entirely on the fertile imaginations of adventure story writers and movie-makers.

This rather sad reflection on the growing security of modern life came from Dr. Robert Clarke, an Englishman who has tried his hand at open-boat whaling both in the movie studios and outside.

He stopped by at United Nations headquarters early this week on his way from Europe back to South America where he is now advising the governments of Chile, Peru and Ecuador, under the expanded technical assistance program, on how to develop their whaling industries.

Dr. Clarke was the technical adviser for the filming of Herman Melville's classic whaling epic, Moby Dick. He told a group of U.N. newsmen to whom whaling was a pleasant interlude from discussion of the South African riots, how the scenes of Ahab's encounter with the white whale were skillfully shot in specially constructed ponds in London.

Moby Dick was constructed in three gigantic parts, Clarke explained, with a very realistic head just as Herman Melville described it. The only thing omitted from the movie model was Moby Dick's crooked jaw. "We didn't put one in because people might think it was a very badly constructed whale," Clarke said.

In real life, sperm whales with deformed, twisted lower jaws sometimes are encountered. But do white whales really exist? Dr. Clarke has never seen one, and he has no hard evidence that anyone else has. The closest kelly-to-white is found in old sperm whales which get more gray-headed the older they become.

Dr. Clarke said he supposed that "in peacetime there is no more dangerous occupation than open-boat whaling." The only part of the world where it is still practiced is in the Azores and around Madeira Island, off the coast of Portugal. There whales are harpooned, chased, and lanced to death much as they were in the 19th century and the open boats, Clarke said, "are smashed time and again."

One of the few precautions is that now, according to Portuguese whaling regulations men must be able to swim before they are allowed out in the boats.

Dr. Clarke has eaten a lot of whale meat in his life and he described it as "very good indeed." Dr. Clarke, who said he "always wanted to go and see whales" since he was a small boy, has already spent two years helping Chile and Peru put their whaling industry on a scientific basis.

Together these countries catch about 5,000 whales annually; Ecuador, which had no whaling industry, now wants to join the chase.

A CRYING SHAME—Tears, a woman's ultimate weapon, are being put into the service of science. Mary Drotos, a Cleveland, Ohio, student, is experimenting with them as a science fair project to prove they kill bacteria. But Mary's having a tough time producing the tears. She's tried standing in the wind, cutting up onions, thinking of sad stories and sniffing ammonia. When her own eyes are cried out, she turns to volunteer weepers. Results: so far some bacteria (could they be male?) are killed by the tears; others thrive. More crying jags are in order.

Current Odds 172 To 1 Against Being Drafted

By CARLTON F. WILSON, United Press International
AUSTIN (UPI)—The current odds against getting drafted in Texas are 172 to 1. That's the estimate of the State Selective Service Board, and covers only men physically qualified and classified 1-A.
And about a third of the state's meager draft quotas are filled by volunteers. Next month, the board estimates, only about 200 out of 250 draftees will go into uniform against their wishes.
Texas has some 60,000 men physically qualified for the draft who do not have children or are not being deferred for other reasons.

New Scout Units Being Organized

Institutions that participated in the "together dinner" of the Santa Fe Scout District are completing organizational steps necessary to make the scouting program available to all boys.
St. Vincent DePaul Catholic Church will complete its troop application tonight with Ceareo Buzzetta, scoutmaster, Wendell Cox, A. J. Edwards, Albert Kemp and S. W. Dremsel will be committee members for the new unit.
A committee composed of Ray Cales, W. C. Brown and P. D. Strickland of the Loyol Order of Moose are nearing completion of a new troop, with W. J. Green the new scoutmaster.
The Pampa Fire Department will hold its first meeting with interested boys in the near future to organize a troop. Bob Young will be scoutmaster. Committee members include J. V. Pickett, Paul S. Reid, more Kenneth Kirby, Dale Sharp and T. D. Snow.
The Elks will meet tonight to continue organization of their troop with John Brockmeier as scoutmaster. Committee members are Bill Elkins, H. P. Hoepfner, H. W. Morrow, Clayton Husted and L. R. Entlerline.
Other institutions are meeting with committees to line up the leader of the new unit such as cubmaster, scoutmaster or advisor. By the end of April, seven additional units are anticipated which will make the scouting program available for more boys and bring the meetings closer to their homes.

Awards Made At Cub Meeting

Thirty-two boys qualified and received "Fiftieth Anniversary Achievement Awards" at Tuesday's meeting of Cub Pack 4 in Fellowship Hall at the First Christian Church.
The awards, qualified the pack for the President Eisenhower trophy, which was presented to Cubmaster Bob Swanson by awards chairman Charles Lane Hart.
Individual awards were presented during a candlelight ceremony with a Cub from each rank lighting two candles. Cubes receiving awards were Johnny Wood, Gary Green, and Hal Skaim, Den 1; Steven Craig, Mike McCoy, Jack Webb, Bruce Rasmussen, Ricky Meadows, Raymond Reid, Steve Hall, and Robbie Pate, Den 2; Mike Burnett, Stanley Cable, Carroll Newton and Chuck Weaver, Den 3.
Awards of arrow points to approximately all the members of Den 4. Instantly all the members of Den 4 received a new member by three sign erection permits, $10 transfer. He is Danny Cotton.
No new business/permits were issued.

Experts Fear March Report On Business

By EDWARD COWAN, United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government economists predicted today there will be little to cheer about in their reports on business in March.
The reports on jobs, income, sales and production, to be released in about 10 days, are expected to show little improvement and possibly some dips.
Unusually cold and snowy weather last month is responsible, according to the experts. They also cited slowdowns in steel and auto production.
Economists and top policy makers, such as Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, say publicly that with most economic activity at or near record highs, business is good.
But they acknowledge privately that business growth in the next six months or so cannot be held until results for April and May are in hand.
How business fares this month and next will make or break forecasts for a spurring spurt. Without a spurt the economic outlook for the next half year will be pretty gloomy.
Top administration officials are aware that there has been a lack of pep in the economy in recent weeks. They think it would be premature to conclude this means a recession or that business needs a boost from the government. They say basic review of government policy will be necessary only if the economy worsens markedly.

Kiwanis Speaker Hits Foran Bill

A speech in keeping with insurance was given to the Typographic Club at its weekly meeting last night in the Coronado Inn.
Speaker for the evening was Roy Keel of Amarillo, president of the General Agents and Managers Committee.
Reinartz presented facts on where life insurance dollars are spent and how they work for the betterment of the community.
He spoke about the Foran Bill now being studied by Congress, which gives medical benefits to persons age 50 and over. Reinartz said that if passed this bill would add to the tax woes of the nation. He said the medical profession is against the bill.
He also mentioned the pending Keel Bill in which self-employed persons would be allowed to place 10 per cent of their earnings into a self-retirement plan. He said insurance men feel that the Keel Bill is just another step toward socialization.

Experts Fear March Report On Business

By EDWARD COWAN, United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government economists predicted today there will be little to cheer about in their reports on business in March.
The reports on jobs, income, sales and production, to be released in about 10 days, are expected to show little improvement and possibly some dips.
Unusually cold and snowy weather last month is responsible, according to the experts. They also cited slowdowns in steel and auto production.

ALICE, Tex. (UPI)—Juvenile Judge Wash Storm ordered Donna Dvorak, 14, sent to a juvenile home Wednesday and scheduled another hearing next week.
Donna shot Bobby Whitford, a 16-year-old classmate, to death in a science class last week because she said he threatened her girlfriend.
Storm had the girl taken to the Martineau Juvenile Home in Corpus Christi. He said the hearing set for next Thursday would be to determine whether she should be sent to a state training school.

Economy Run Honors Go To Chrysler Corp.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Chrysler Corp. took top honors in the 1960 Mobilgas economy run, placing first in four of the six divisions of the fuel-saving test.

Fifty-six drivers crossed the finish line Wednesday after nursing their cars 2,061 miles from Los Angeles. The cross-country trip took five days.

The test, sponsored annually by the Mobil Oil Co., was conducted by the United States Auto Club (USAC). It is designed to check gas use of American-made cars under normal driving conditions.

Chrysler products took the first two places in the two low-priced car divisions and first in the upper, medium priced class and the high priced class.

Winners were Mary Hauser, Hollywood, Calif., in a Plymouth Savoy, at 24.8 miles per gallon; Mary Davis, Hollywood, Plymouth Belvedere, 22.8; Mel Alsbury Jr., Hollywood, Chrysler New Yorker, 20.8, and George Alsbury, Hollywood, Imperial, 18.8.

The top performance record went to a Rambler American custom in the compact car class, the first year the smaller cars competed. The Rambler, driven by Los-Viland, Livonia, Mich., finished with a 28.3 mile-per-gallon average, best in the field.

A Studebaker Hawk, driven by Jim Peterson, Altadena, Calif., was the winner in the lower medium priced class with a 22.9 average.

House Expected To Approve Influence Peddling Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House was expected to approve today legislation to outlaw influence-peddling by retired military officers working for defense contractors.

Indications were that a proposal to write in specific criminal penalties for officers and weapon firms who violate the law would be sidetracked.

As written by the House Armed Services Committee the measure would provide for the court martial of any officer who took a selling job in the defense industry within two years after retiring from the armed services.

Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.), a member of the armed services committee, is leading a group of House members trying to tack on the criminal penalties amendment.

Opponents planned to try to scuttle the amendment by arguing that it was not germane to the bill under House rules.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the armed services committee told the House during the opening day of debate Wednesday the bill was not a "powderpuff" measure as some have charged.

He said the bill was "effective and can accomplish the desired results without resorting to a criminal statute."

Other congressional news:

Unemployment: The House Rules Committee reluctantly opened hearings on pleas for federal help for areas with chronic unemployment. Under prodding from Democratic leaders, the conservative-dominated committee agreed to hear witnesses on a long-stalled bill. The measure, bottled up by the committee for a year, would provide 251 million dollars in grants and loans for economically depressed areas. This is about five times as much as President Eisenhower recommended. The Senate has passed a $389,500,000 measure.

Aged: Seven GOP senators introduced a voluntary plan for the state and federal governments to help old folks pay their medical bills. The proposal would meet some of President Eisenhower's objections to a bill which would extend Social Security benefits to include medical care for the aged. Under the Republican plan, the elderly would pay a share of their insurance premiums, depending on income, and the state and federal governments would pay the rest.

Commission: The Civil Rights Commission has asked Congress to provide money for an investigation of whether Negroes get fair treatment in the courts. The commission also wants funds to look into alleged racial discrimination in hiring and public facilities. The requests were disclosed in testimony made public today by a House appropriations subcommittee.

Defense: Key congressional Democrats endorsed President Eisenhower's plan to hurry production of the Atlas missile, Midas spy satellite and Polaris missile submarine. But they balked at his proposal to pay for the speed up by cancelling construction of two planned nuclear sub-killer submarines. Chairman George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) of the House Appropriations subcommittee considered the shuffle said, "This is a compromise package and personally I believe it is a poor package."

U.S. Needs Half Again More Doctors

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Fifty per cent more doctors would be needed in the United States if the nation's present physicians each worked only 40 hours a week.

Dr. Mark S. Blumberg, a Stanford research analyst, Wednesday told delegates at the annual conference of Blue-Cross medical insurance plans that the average U.S. doctor now works 60 hours each week.

This is partly because the average doctor "is a poor businessman who doesn't budget his time very efficiently," said Blumberg. Also, the long work-week for physicians is brought about by the tradition which says doctors must treat all patients who seek their services.

be willing to give up any play for that extra trick if by so doing you can increase the chance of making your small slam.

By this time you should have seen the safety play. It consists of winning the diamond lead, cashing the king of spades and then playing a spade club from both hands.

It makes no difference which opponent wins or what is returned. You get over to dummy with the king of clubs and discard your two red losers on the ace and queen of spades. Then back to your own hand for the rest of the tricks.

If you play for seven by leading a club to the king and cashing the two good spades you will lose your slam because East will make a trick in each black suit.

NO TIME FOR PLANTING—At a time when farmers should be getting ready to plant corn, many fields in northern Missouri and Iowa like this haven't been plowed. Snow and wet weather have kept the ground too muddy for corn pickers.

Kennedy Now In Need Of Old Pros

EDITOR'S NOTE—Lyle C. Wilson, UPI's Washington manager and veteran political writer, assesses the results of the Wisconsin election in the following dispatch.

WASHINGTON WINDOW
By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The time has come for a couple of battered old political pros to take over strategic command of the stop-Kennedy movement. The old pros are speaker Sam Rayburn, of Texas, and Harry S. Truman, of Missouri. They may have valuable aid from another pro, also old, who in her own right is worth a regiment of politicians.

That other old pro is Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Returns from Wisconsin's presidential preference primary summon Rayburn, Truman and Mrs. Roosevelt today to the stop-Kennedy high command. By any reasonable evaluation of the Wisconsin returns, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) licked Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and licked him good in Humphrey's own back yard. They will meet again in West Virginia's presidential primary but Humphrey's chance to stop Kennedy will not come again. It was right here in Wisconsin.

Rayburn, Truman, and Mrs. Roosevelt apparently must accept the stop-Kennedy high command because each has much at stake. Rayburn is promoting Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) for the Democratic presidential nomination. HST is the big gun behind the candidacy of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.). Mrs. R. is on record several times that Kennedy will not do for president. Her boy probably is Adlai E. Stevenson, or even Humphrey.

It adds up to this: Kennedy picked up powerful momentum in Wisconsin. He is the front runner now on better evidence than mere polls or the judgment of political observers. Mr. Sam, HST and Mrs. R. face this question: What happens if Kennedy is not stopped?

What happens? This happens: Kennedy will go on to be nominated. So, the old pros must gang up now and stop him if there is to be a chance for the nomination of Symington, Johnson or Stevenson. They will try and that should, make it a wonderfully rough and tough pre-convention season.

Kennedy won the Wisconsin popular vote by a fat margin and took at least six of the state's 10 congressional district contests. His popular vote and six district victories earned Kennedy 20 delegate votes at the July Democratic National Convention. Thirty delegates votes were at stake in the primary. Best consensus here among political observers was that Kennedy should be counted the victor if he won the popular vote and took six congressional districts at least one of which was agricultural. He did just that. His farm district was the centrally located seventh.

Humphrey made a big issue of farm relief and Kennedy's uncertain record on it. The young man from Massachusetts needed to win at least one farm district here to show that Midwestern farmers were not bitterly opposed to him. Humphrey took the other farm areas. Kennedy's strength came largely from the cities and the towns and the areas in central and eastern Wisconsin which have large Roman Catholic populations. There were indications that Catholics rallied strongly to Kennedy's support. Calumet County, for example, is rated 55 per cent Republican and 50 per cent Catholic. Final Cabinet returns gave Kennedy 2,700 votes. Humphrey 1,911. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, unopposed in the Republican primary, did not do much better than Humphrey with only 1,654 votes. That was the pattern in other similar counties.

Reason for Worries
Probably the reason for so many earthworms, appearing on the ground after a rain is that their tunnels are flooded and they come up for air.

HE'S HAVING IT—And he can have it all to himself, too. On Chicago's windswept 12th Street Beach, William Wohl, of nearby Kirtora, was taking a sunbath amid ice and snow when well-insulated patrolman Tony Rigoni spotted him. There's no law against it, and Wohl would have gone swimming, too, but he'd forgotten to bring his ice pick.

THE SLIPPERY ONES—They had no sleds handy, so these folks used a little ingenuity to whiz over the snow in Parsons, Kan. Leonard Myers (left) is being towed on an auto-hood while Bill Perez slides on a rocking chair with hitch-hiker Gary Hardesty.

SOAR HEAD—The top man in German gymnastics, Guenther Lyhs took this graceful flier in the horse-jump event at Ulm. The 24-year-old athlete won the Olympic Combined title, consisting of 12 separate events, and five first places.

RITE OF SPRING—Mother Nature provided a flowery frame as Aquasmaids water skied over the surf at Florida's Cypress Gardens. It was their salute to spring, and the blossoming tree also indicated the season was at hand.

STUNTING—Karen (left) and Doris Bomach, 17-year-old twins, did this handstand upon their arrival in New York on the liner America. The girls, and their pet dog, were en route to Jefferson, Ohio, to join the Mills Bros. Circus.

BOWLING BALD—Pat Nelson is sure the clean-shaved noggin of Vernon Arnette will make a perfect bowling ball. Decorated with standard finger holes, Arnette was up to his neck in sand, on the beach at Carmel, Calif.

HEMMEED IN—St. Bonaventure's Tom Stith (42) is surrounded by Bradley's Ed Wodka (33) and Chet Walker (left) as he tries to make a two-pointer in Madison Square Garden. This National Invitation Tournament game was won by Bradley, 82-71.

SOL DOLLS—While a lot of the country thawed out from blizzards, Zoe Petersen (left) and Julie Stokes sought "relief" from Florida's winter sun with a golf umbrella in Miami. Object of their attention was the weekly yacht race off Cape Florida on Key Biscayne.

THIS IS THE LIFE!—A plastic swimming pool, which can be easily installed in any hole dug for it, got a tryout at the International Spring Fair in Frankfurt, Germany. The do-it-yourself job, once in position, can be left in place during the winter months without fear of damage. Its usual depth is about four feet, but that can be varied.

ON WATCH—Towel-draped Debbie Struble, three, is trying to get some sand out of one eye and keeping the other on her mommy, distance swimmer Diane Struble. Mom was practicing in a pool in Miami Beach.

ROWING PAINS—Practice gets a new twist on land for the Cambridge boat crew as they stretch their muscles before a row on the Thames River at London, England. They were getting into shape to meet Oxford in their annual historic race April 2.

Festival Of Passover Noted With Tasty Menu

Many great recipes come from traditional ham at Easter, turkey at Thanksgiving or sauerkraut on New Year's Eve. Foods are a symbol of these holidays, help to preserve the significance of historic happenings.

Few holidays have a deeper culinary tradition than the Jewish Festival of Passover, celebrated in commemoration of their deliverance from bondage. Many great recipes had their origin from the rich ceremonies of this eight-day festival.

A quick look at a selected few may suggest a more refreshing spring menu idea. Here's an easy, yet tasty one — Broiled Salmon with Browned Potatoes and Glazed Carrots. This, with the aid of aluminum foil, is an all-in-one broiler meal.

To broil salmon, place a sheet of strong Alcoa Wrap aluminum foil over the broiler rack. Then the fish will not break or crumble when removed. Simply lift the entire sheet of foil to the serving platter, and crimp the edges to form an attractive frame around the fish.

The accompanying Browned Potatoes and Glazed Carrots require no recipe. Cook the potatoes in a large amount of potatoes and carrots, brush with melted butter, and place on the sheet of aluminum foil in the broiler for the last 5 to 10 minutes of cooking.

BROILED SALMON

- Place sheet of Alcoa Wrap on rack of broiler pan.
- Clean, bone fish; place skin side down on foil.
- Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika, lemon juice.
- Broil 3-4 inches from heat. Fish is done when flesh will flake with a fork and surface is golden brown.
- Lift fish on the foil to heated platter; crush foil in around fish; garnish with parsley, lemon wedges.

As a preface to the salmon, you may desire to serve cold borscht with sour cream — a tantalizing

Tuna-Cheese Pie With Quick Crust

Tuna-Cheese Pie is made with prepared pie crust mix, chunks of tasty tuna, sharp cheese and creamy celery soup. Bake it in a disposable foil pie pan.

TUNA-CHEESE PIE

PASTRY:

- 1 10-ounce package pie crust mix
- 4-5 tablespoons water

- Add cheese to pie crust mix.
- Add water; mix.
- Roll half of pastry to 12-inch circle, fit into 9-inch foil pie pan; chill.
- Roll other half of pastry to 10-inch circle; cut into 1/2 inch strips; reserve for lattice topping.

FILLING:

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 10 1/2-ounce can cream of celery soup, undiluted
- 1/2 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
- 2 6- or 7-ounce cans chunk-style tuna, drained
- 1/2 cup chopped pimiento

- Melt butter; add green pepper, onion; cook until tender.

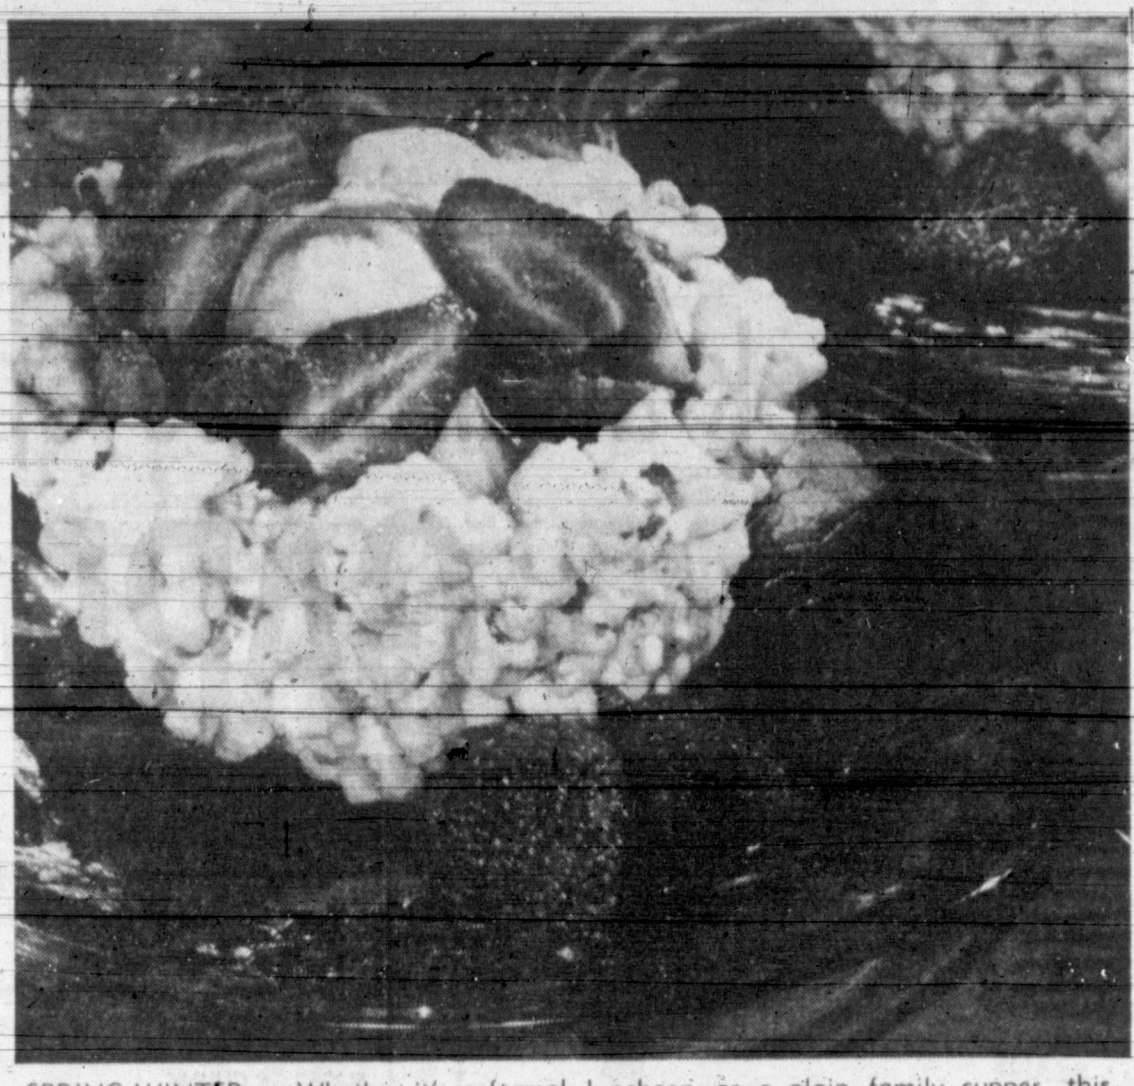

- Stir vigorously until a ball of dough is formed, completely clearing sides of pan.
- Remove from heat; add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition.
- Drop by teaspoon onto Alcoa Wrap lined cookie sheet.
- Bake 25 minutes at 450 degrees F.; reduce heat to 325 degrees F.; bake 40 minutes longer or until puffs are dry and crisp.
- Cool; make small slit in side of each puff; fill with jam or fruit filling.
- Yield: 24 small puffs.

Here is an extra trick to utilize with these Passover recipes. Buy fresh salmon steaks, not the packaged kind, in quantity. Freeze an extra supply, wrapping them with Alcoa Wrap foil.

Novel Liver and Bacon Spread

Chop 4 slices bacon and cook until crisp. Remove bacon, cook 1 pound thinly sliced beef or pork liver in bacon drippings slowly until browned but not hard. Put liver through food-chopper and combine with bacon, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1 tablespoon pickle relish and 1/2 cup mayonnaise. Serve as sandwich spread. Yield: 2 cups.

The crushed-leather belt, lined in satin and cinched with a buckle, continues into summer. It's pretty in black or Paris pink.

SPRING WINTER — Whether it's a formal luncheon or a plain family supper, this popcorn shell with ice cream and your favorite topping will be the star of the show. Snowy-white and crisp, sugar-coated popcorn makes a sundae a special taste treat.

Strawberry Popcorn Dessert Sure To Delight Spring Luncheon Guests

The "hostess with the most" is one who surprises her guests with new, different and delicious party foods. Here's one which fills the bill perfectly.

The unusual combination of ice cream and strawberries in a snowy-white dessert shell is sure to amaze and delight guests at spring luncheons and showers. And if you serve it to your family, stand back or you'll be tramped in the rush!

The crisp, sugar-coated popcorn makes a perfect shell for ice cream sundaes of all sorts and enhances any flavor of ice cream or topping. Beat of all, this easy-to-make popcorn shell can be made days ahead, wrapped in saran or foil and popped on a plate, still fresh and crisp on the big day.

STRAWBERRY POPCORN DESSERTS

- 2 quarts unsalted popped popcorn
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1-3 cup water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- 2 cups sliced strawberries or 1 1-pound package frozen strawberries

Place popcorn in buttered bowl. Combine sugar, corn syrup, water, salt, cream of tartar and butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Cook to hard crack stage (390 degrees F.), stirring frequently. Pour syrup in a fine stream over popcorn and stir carefully until syrup evenly coats popcorn. Shape into shells using 8 large (9 1/2 ounce) glass apple dumpling dishes or cereal bowls. Cool thoroughly. Just before serving scoop ice cream into shells; top with strawberries. Yield: 8 servings.

Orange Enhances Potato Casserole

Rainy or drab days of early spring can be pleasant and rewarding if a little extra time is spent cozily in the kitchen. Dinner on such days should be especially nice to come home to... different, gay and partied. Orange in the form of grated rind enhances a Sweet Potato Casserole. A hearty accompaniment to sliced ham or Canadian-style bacon and a mixed green salad, the casserole is topped with quartered or miniature marshmallows and crunched sugared corn flakes.

SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

- 3 cups mashed sweet potatoes
- 2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 8 marshmallows, quartered
- 1 1/2 cups sugared corn flakes
- 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine

Combine sweet potatoes, butter, grated orange rind, salt and pepper. Spoon lightly into buttered 1-quart casserole. Arrange cut marshmallows over potatoes, pressing in slightly. Crush sugared corn flakes into coarse crumbs; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over marshmallows. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 6-8 servings.

Hints For Getting Best Results With Brightly-Hued Easter Eggs

Coloring eggs at Easter is family fun. Children love it, particularly adding fancy or funny designs, and they should be a part of the activity. Doing Easter Eggs together makes for a fine family tradition to carry on over the years.

All packaged egg dyes on the market are made according to the U.S. Food & Drug Administration's standards. The dyes are certified to be pure and are safe and harmless to use on eggs or in food. Neither will the dyes stain washable surfaces or fabrics, so Mother need have no fear if some are spilled. Just a few hints for getting best results:

Always use fresh, white eggs. Eggs that have been in storage or chemically treated to preserve them will not dye well.

The eggs should be hard-boiled, of course, and the colors will be brighter if they are dyed while hot.

To prevent the shell from cracking in the water, pierce the rounded bottom end (not the pointed end) with a needle or pin. This releases pressure from a small air pocket located at the bottom of the egg which otherwise would crack the shell.

Do not let the eggs be unretrified for too long a time, especially if they are to be used in sandwiches, salads or other dishes after the holiday.

For an attractive Easter centerpiece, arrange the colored eggs in a low bowl or basket. Encircle these with cute animal figures made of colored hard-boiled eggs as the bodies and cut-out pieces for the heads and stands. Or these can be used as place favors with names written across the eggs.

Coloring and decorating material for the eggs shown is available in PAAS Easter Egg Coloring Kits on sale at super markets, grocery, drug and five and ten cent stores everywhere.

Frosty Cranberry Ictish: Easy and elegant describes this unusual accompaniment for the Easter Ham. Whip 1 cup whipping cream until stiff. Fold in 1 cranberry relish (slightly defrosted package (10 1/2 ounces) frozen cranberry relish (slightly defrosted) and 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish. Serve without freezing or pour into a 4x10-inch refrigerator tray, freeze until firm. Cut into 12 pieces and serve immediately.

Backers Think Action Coming On River Span

By ROY MCGHEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional backers of a bill to build an international dam across the Rio Grande at Del Rio, Tex., were still hopeful today that legislation could be completed this session. But they conceded there might be some delay.

The bill, giving congressional authorization for a mixed private versus public power, water rights and repayment problems.

"I am hopeful we can work out a bill acceptable to all parties concerned," Selden said. "I think we will."

Rep. O. Clark Fisher (D-Tex.), in whose district the proposed dam would be built, said utilities "made a very strong case for the dam."

He said the primary job was to get flood protection for the lower Rio Grande Valley. "All other questions are subsidiary," Fisher said.

Fisher, author of the authorization bill, said he would support any position on power the committee takes, just so it approves his bill.

As Fisher wrote the bill, the falling water rights would be leased to a private electric utility. He said he wrote this in the bill because the Federal Power Commission and the International Boundary Commission did not think it economically feasible for the government to install generating equipment.

"But the important thing in this bill is flood control," Fisher said. "In 1954 we lost more than 200 lives. I can't think of any place in the country where there is a more pressing need for a dam to protect our people."

Fisher said he had been informed that Mexico was ready to go with its part of the dam. He said he understood Mexican President Lopez Mateos told the United States that his country had its share of the needed construction funds, or could make them available on short notice.

Fisher, author of the authorization bill, said he would support any position on power the committee takes, just so it approves his bill.

As Fisher wrote the bill, the falling water rights would be leased to a private electric utility. He said he wrote this in the bill because the Federal Power Commission and the International Boundary Commission did not think it economically feasible for the government to install generating equipment.

"But the important thing in this bill is flood control," Fisher said. "In 1954 we lost more than 200 lives. I can't think of any place in the country where there is a more pressing need for a dam to protect our people."

Fisher said he had been informed that Mexico was ready to go with its part of the dam. He said he understood Mexican President Lopez Mateos told the United States that his country had its share of the needed construction funds, or could make them available on short notice.

Collins Speaks Out 'Come What May'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Florida Gov. Leroy Collins has emerged as a Southern leader of what he terms the "realistic" approach to the region's racial problems. The following dispatch is based on an exclusive interview.

By AL KUETTNER
United Press International

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Florida Gov. Leroy Collins, who insists he has no panacea for the nation's racial problem, said today that it can only be solved through application of basic moral principles on the part of both the white and Negro races.

Collins, in the final year of a governorship to which he cannot succeed himself, is leader of a state that has become a great Southern melting pot where the sun-loving and fun-loving from all over the nation mingle with the native sons. The state is heavily populated by Negroes.

"In this cosmopolitan situation, racial attitudes range from strong Dixie's stubborn segregation stands.

States Sifted Opinion

Collins' opinion on the wave of restaurant sit-downs by Negroes is this: Merchants have a legal right to keep Negroes from being served but he doesn't think "they can square that right with moral, simple justice."

Florida has been hit by sit-downs in at least ten places. Here at the capital city of Tallahassee, which was on the verge of serious violence, 46 persons including six whites were arrested. Other Negroes were picked up at Tampa and St. Augustine.

In the midst of the tension the governor made an address to the people on a late Sunday afternoon, often reaching for a well-used Bible to emphasize the issues confronting people today.

"When there is division there is suspicion, there is fear, there is distrust and ultimately there is hate, and hate consumes and destroys," he said.

He pleaded for all elements to work together in solving the problem. He announced a state-wide bi-racial committee and urged every community to follow suit on the local level.

Collins' office reported today that of the more than 4,000 responses to the appeal, fewer than 500 were in opposition to the governor's stand.

The governor said he made his decision to fight for what he feels is morally right on the race question without counting the consequences. It pains him, he says, to hear remarks that he is putting on a show to attract support for some national plum like the vice presidential nomination.

The South, Collins said, must learn to look ahead in the direction of an answer to its problems instead of "always looking behind where the problems originated."

One major factor in the South's racial strife, Collins feels, is the attitude of its leadership.

"Much of the Southern leadership has encouraged defiance of the courts and sometimes we have become our own worst enemies," he said.

As for himself, Collins said he has followed a policy of never closing doors to possible solutions of great public issues.

In this connection, he said he is perfectly willing to stand up and be shot politically for taking a firm stand on such issues as the race question.

"Frankly, I had rather be counted among the politically dead over such a stand than among the missing," he said.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My teen-age daughter goes steady with a high-school boy with green teeth. I really mean it.

It doesn't seem possible that in this day and age an 18-year-old boy could go around with such neglected teeth. I swear the inside of that boy's mouth hasn't felt a toothbrush in ten years. And I'm sure he hasn't seen a dentist in at least that long. It isn't a matter of finances either because this boy got a new car from his parents for his 18th birthday.

Every time he smiles (and he grins constantly) the green mold and cavities appear. What disturbs me is that my daughter isn't bothered about it in the least. When I asked her how she could stand to kiss him, she said, "Oh, muuuu-thur!" How in the world can you wake up a boy or his family?

DEAR DISGUSTED: Your hints, suggestions or recommendations would be neither appreciated nor welcomed. And stop needing your daughter. She probably thinks he's God's gift to men and she's not looking for a gift in the mouth.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me, have good manners gone out of style or not? For twenty years, I have been sending get-well cards, birthday cards, anniversary cards, baby cards and many other kinds of cards. Last year I sent out 256 cards and only six people said, "I got your card and thank you."

Another thing, I am called on to make cookies for this and cakes for that. They send a child after it and that's all I know. And while I am at it, what about people who are invited to a tea and don't bother to call to say they can't come — they just don't show up? I gave a tea and invited 28 people — only 7 came and I never heard boo from the others.

What's wrong with people today, Abby? Have they forgotten how to say thank you?

DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: Every generation produces its share of ill-bred clods who haven't the common courtesy to acknowledge a kindness. History is merely repeating itself.

DEAR ABBY: The people in the apartment next to ours have a 12-year-old daughter. She comes home right after school but she saves up all her piase practicing until 9:30 and 10 o'clock at night.

Then she bangs on the piano for an hour straight.

We sometimes like to go to sleep at 9:30 or 10 because my husband isn't too well, but the noise keeps us up.

I have hinted to the mother several times, but she hasn't taken the hint. We're not the kind of folks who fight with our neighbors. Should I talk to the girl herself? Or should I drop the landlord a note?

DISTURBED

DEAR DISTURBED: Just come right out and tell the girl's mother what is on your mind. If that doesn't work, ask the landlord to speak to the family. That might strike a responsive chord!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOVELY HULA HANDS": After giving him back his ring he should accept the fact that the "engagement" is broken. If he continues to follow you — give him the back of your lovely hula hand.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Moppet Size Fans Of Captain Kangaroo Meet Him Also As Serious Musician

WOMAN'S VIEW
By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most moppet-size fans of television know Robert Keeshan as Captain Kangaroo, the man with the wairis mustache who pulls toys, tricks and treats from bulging pockets.

But several thousand also have met him as the man who invites them to have fun with serious music at symphony concerts.

Eighteen months ago, Keeshan began his personal campaign to get the music of the great composers to children of pre-school and early grade school age.

Since then, he has appeared with symphonies of Charlotte, Kansas City, St. Louis, Atlanta, Houston, Dallas, Columbus, Ohio, Birmingham, Ala., Wichita-Hutchinson, Kan., and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Keeshan figures the concerts have reached between 125,000 and 150,000 children, plus assorted parents. He does two concerts in each city and all have been sell-outs.

In some instances, parents have advertised in local newspapers hoping to get extra tickets.

"Children take to music at an early age, but rarely to the classics," said Keeshan, in an interview in his New York office. "Unfortunately, in most homes, they're not exposed to good music. They are of high school age before they get around to those dreadful music appreciation courses or can attend youth concerts. And by that time, their taste already is developed in the rock 'n' roll area.

"I think most authorities agree that the formative years for a child are three to eight. Well, that goes for music the same as everything else."

Small children, he continued, do not have the attention span necessary for the average young people

Honey In Morning Dispels Blue Day

A plain white shirt is basic to every man's wardrobe; it's the accompanying tie that gives it distinction. And so it is that a cooked cereal is basic to every well-planned breakfast; but it is what goes on the cereal that gives it class.

Honey on cooked cereal gives that dietary staple a good face lifting. Honey perks the cereal up in taste and in looks.

You can simply spread honey over the cereal right from the honey jar, or if you like to be a bit more fancy, you can try either of these simple preparations for a honey topping for your cereal:

Place one cup of milk with 1 tablespoon honey, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, and 1/4 teaspoon ginger in a jar and mix well. Serve over your cereal. This is called Honey Spiced Milk and makes one serving.

Or if you believe in the egg-a-day theory but cannot bear to face them in the morning, try this easy way to make the egg a part of the diet: Beat two eggs well, gradually add 3 tablespoons of honey and 2 cups of milk. Blend this thoroughly. Sprinkle with a few grains of nutmeg and serve over cooked or prepared cereal immediately. This Golden Honey Eggnog recipe makes enough for four to six cereal bowls.

Try this honey and cereal combination during Honey for Breakfast Week, April 17-24, starting Easter Sunday morning. You'll soon be a confirmed user of honey in the morning.

RUTH MILLETT

Today's mail brought me an invitation that makes me dare to hope that we women are beginning to grow weary of busy-work and may in time outgrow our need to make our do-gooding as time and energy-consuming as possible.

The invitation is to a "phantom tea" to raise money for a worthy cause. It is called a "phantom tea" because there isn't going to be tea at all.

Nobody is going to have to make chicken salad sandwiches; nobody is going to have to get tea cakes; nobody is going to have to round up enough china and silver to serve a couple of hundred women.

And, joy of joys, those who receive invitations won't have to worry about what to wear, get all dressed up and drive across town to stand around making polite palaver, excitement over the beauty of the centerpiece, drink a cup of tea and scurry back home.

Instead, of all that, in sweet charity's name, we who are invited to this phantom tea are simply asked to decide how many guests we would bring if the tea were going to be for real, total up the "admissions" and mail in a check.

What's a wonderful fund-raising idea. Nobody has to work on committees. Not one cent of the money that comes in has to be spent on refreshments. Nobody, as the invitation points out with charming frankness, "has to get all dressed up for an affair you were sure would be boring and didn't really want to attend anyway."

I'm sending in my money without delay — and gladly, too. It is the nicest money-raising tea I NEVER went to.

Tall Shopping Tales Fabulous, But True

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Those tales of Southwesterners who sweep into a store and order "10 of everything" are tall, but also true.

An executive of a famous store in these parts said:

"We think nothing of a woman buying 20 or 25 pairs of shoes at one time."

The store, operating for 53 years in this booming city, wasn't even ruffled when this spring a customer plunked down $85,000 for the whole Steuben "America in Crystal" collection—30 pieces of handblown glassware representing each state.

"That," said Edward Marcus, vice-president of Neiman-Marcus, "is the biggest single order we've had in the last few weeks."

Some of the more extravagant purchases come at Christmas, and one order from last year still isn't filled. The store's holiday catalog offered a star—delivered on the hoof for $1,925 plus transportation.

"We got an order from a man in South Africa," said Marcus. "But it was too late to get it shipped to him because of the six-months quarantine regulation. We'll ship it this year... timing it so the beef will be just right."

Marcus, 50, started in the family business at 13 as a messenger boy. Today, he looks back with amusement and amazement at some of the customers through the years.

Women customers will come in to buy one dress style in six different colors; sets of a Paris import for as much as $3,000 is a common event. The store sometimes will bring a Paris designer to Texas just to make a wardrobe for a debutante.

One male customer for the last several years has presented a $3,500 set of Jensen silver to each of his daughter's friends as they grew up and wed.

One year, an Oklahoma oil man attracted by the store's window display of "gifts for her," had the contents of one window—rings, necklaces and all—moved and set up in a room in his house as a surprise for his wife. The works cost him about $35,000, Marcus said.

Another male customer each year challenges the ingenuity of the store in dreaming up the unusual in a gift for his wife. Last year, the store packed luxurious beige lingerie in a globe-sized champagne glass and finished off with a "sizeable" diamond ring, parked on top like a maraschino cherry. Another looked at four evening bags, imported from India and priced at $500 each because they were studded with semi-precious stones, and said, "I'll take 'em all."

GS Neighborhood Meet In Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — A Girl Scout Neighborhood meeting was held recently in the home of Mrs. Earl Looper, Skelly Production Camp, with Mrs. Marian Osborne, executive district director and Mrs. John Holt Jr., Girl Scout Council president, as special guests.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Fred Wall and Mrs. Roy Burgin were elected council delegates with Mrs. J. R. McDernan and Junior Ellis as alternates.

Mrs. Wall, cookies sales chairman, instructed leaders in the sale of cookies which will begin April 11 and continue through April 25.

It was announced that a council meeting will be held in Borger Girl Scout Little House, on April 29 at 7:30 p.m.

Plans for a Day Camp for Skellytown scouts were discussed.

Attending other than those already mentioned were Mrs. A. W. Shubring, R. C. Heaton and Gerald Huckins.

Polly's Quiz

By POLLY CRAMER

Dear Polly: Our house has a picture window in the living room that looks smack into the one next door. I have draw drapes but the neighbors' kids stand at their window and watch everything we do. It makes me nervous but since we need light, I keep the curtains open. What do you suggest?—Mrs. K. B. N.

Dear Mrs. K. B. N.: Even though your neighbor may hate you for drawing the curtains on the real life drama that provides her children with free entertainment, do something about that window. Cover the lower half with semisheer cafe curtains in addition to your present curtains. Inside window shutters, in tiers, would also answer your problem.

Dear Polly: My living room walls are pale pink and my rug is beige-and-brown tweed with pink threads. What color should I choose for sofa, drapes and chairs?

Dear Polly: I hope those pink walls really ARE pale. Draw curtains and slip covers for the two chairs could be brown chintz with flowers in pale pink and cream. Flowers might have green leaves. Green and cream pillows would be pretty on a brown sofa.

Dear Polly: Recently, we bought a house. Kitchen has lower half of the walls in pink tile with black baseboards. Real of walls are painted a horrid green. We can't decide on a color to go with pink. Appliances are white. What do you suggest? Should doors and window sashes be white or the color of the walls?—Mrs. E. S.

Dear Mrs. E. S.: I suppose the pink tile is there to stay. Paint the upper walls and window frames the same shade of pink. Now, with that nasty green out of the way, you can smarten up your kitchen with black doors. Add black-and-white pinstriped curtains.

Undecided.

End Of KP Duty For Homemaker

Swiss Potato Bake is an ideal recipe for suppers or luncheons. And ideal, too, are the "flavor flakes" which instantly are transformed into light delicious whipped potatoes. These tiny flakes herald the end of "K.P." duty for the American homemaker.

SWISS POTATO BAKE
(Makes 6 servings)

3 cups milk
1 envelope Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes
1½ cups (6 oz.) grated natural Swiss cheese
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 eggs, separated
Scald milk. Stir in Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes and cheese. Add salt and Worcestershire sauce. Beat egg yolks slightly; add a small amount of the potato mixture; mix well. Add egg mixture to the potatoes; blend well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Gently fold egg whites into the potato mixture. Spoon into 2-quart casserole. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 hour and 15 minutes, until lightly browned. Serve immediately.

Adultery need not necessarily break up a marriage, said a California gynecologist in a recent talk. The doctor went on to point-out that "husbands take to extramarital activity because of boredom or monotony and to build up their ego, but they usually are happy to return to their wives."

Maybe so, doctor. But do the husbands ever return to HAPPY wives?

Judging from the letters that come to this column, they don't.

Wives often take an erring husband back — for a number of reasons. But the husband doesn't get back a happy wife.

—Maybe the wife takes him back because she doesn't want her children to suffer from a break-up of the family.

—Maybe she takes him back because she is so in-love with him that she can't bear to lose him for good and all.

—Perhaps she takes him back because she feels she is too old to begin a new life without him, or because she doesn't feel she is capable of earning a living.

French Designer Describes Women As Sheep In Choosing Their Clothes

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—One practiced observer of the style scene says that American women never have been so well dressed. Nor, by contrast, have they ever been such a flock of sheep in choosing their clothes.

These comments come from Bettina Ballard who for 20 years covered American and French designer collections for a fashion magazine and now has put some of her thinking and experiences in a new book, "In My Fashion."

Mrs. Ballard writes that "women now ask for nothing better than to be led, bullied, dictated to, and given as little freedom of choice as possible" in their clothes.

In an interview, she added that this sheep-like attitude wasn't necessarily a great evil — it was just a result of modern woman's way of life.

"To be creative in your wardrobe takes a tremendous amount of time," said Mrs. Ballard. "Look at the infinite care the Duchess of Windsor gives her choice of clothes."

"Few of us women today have that much interest, that much time, or that much money."

"And," she added, "few of us have the conviction."

"I am fascinated," she continued, "at how more and more women will take the opinion of movie stars and fashion editors."

Yet there is no question but what we all are better dressed because of the mass production of style, she said.

"We are in an age of conformity," Mrs. Ballard said, "when all of our children grow up to the Ivy League look or the garden club look."

That conformity will mark the dress of an entire town, she added. The mink stole becomes characteristic of the San Francisco woman. In other cities, you'll find the neat little suit and the big flower hat practically a costume.

In still others, "every woman is bare-headedly casual in a simple dress with prim white collar."

Mercury To Season High

By United Press International
A mild cool front and spreading clouds will keep North Texas cooler today than it was Wednesday when the highest temperatures of 1960 were recorded.
It appeared that summer had already set in Wednesday as Fort Worth reported 95 degrees and Dallas 94. But forecasters said temperatures should not go that high in North Texas today.
The highest temperature in the state Wednesday was 97 at Presidio. Minimum temperatures overnight ranged from 39 at Doherty to 63 at Galveston and Corpus Christi.
Forecasters said temperatures will rise sharply today despite a little cooler air from the north. Cloudiness formed in South Texas early today and started spreading northward, forecasters said.
Mild temperatures are expected through Friday.
No rain was reported in the state during the past 24 hours.

Religion In School Poses Big Problem

"EDUCATION U.S.A."
By LOUIS CASSELLS
United Press International
How public schools should deal with religion is one of the thorniest dilemmas of U.S. education.
Although some Americans hold strong opinions on this subject, there are many others, probably a majority, who are deeply perplexed and who see no simple, satisfactory solution.
They recognize, on one hand, that enormous practical difficulties are involved in any public school approach to religion. One of the difficulties is that the public schools serve children of many different faiths and of no faith. So great is the religious diversity in some communities that even the reading of a Psalm at opening exercises may bring sharp protests from some parents.
Moreover, the courts have shown a marked tendency in recent years to place a strict interpretation on the freedom of religion guarantees of the Constitution. A three-judge federal court ruled recently, for example, that it is unconstitutional for the state of Pennsylvania to require the daily reading of 10 verses of the Bible in public schools. Other courts have banned the use of the Lord's Prayer, or grace before meals in school cafeterias.
Public schools have tended to react to these difficulties by retreating from many mentions of religion. But there is widespread public dissatisfaction with this policy.
Many Americans feel that if the public schools are totally silent about God, they will inevitably create in children the impression that he doesn't exist — or isn't important. Thus, instead of being neutral toward religion, the schools actually will be upholding a religious viewpoint which is held by only a tiny minority of Americans.
In this connection, it is often pointed out that the Supreme Court itself has recognized that "we are a religious people whose institutions presuppose a Supreme Being." Why, it is asked, should public schools be forbidden to acknowledge the existence of God, when Congress does so by opening all of its sessions with prayer, when the armed forces provide chaplains and chapels, and the

Duel Victor Sentenced

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI) — An argument about the Civil War led to a fatal pistol duel. The victor testified as he pleaded guilty in court here Wednesday.
The teacher got a pair of pistols, stepped off 20 paces, turned and fired.
Earl Delaney, 58, a native of Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty before Judge J. D. Todd to killing Harold Poe, 37, a native of Texas.
Delaney and Poe were roommates. Both taught school at Flour Bluff, a small community near Corpus Christi.
Delaney testified that besides the Civil War, he and Poe argued about whether it was morally right for Poe's grandfather, a circuit-riding preacher in pioneer days, to carry a bottle of corn whiskey in his saddle bag.
He said Poe fired first and he shot back in self defense.
Delaney switched his plea from innocent when the state changed the charge from murder with malice to murder without malice. Judge Todd gave him a five-year suspended-prison term.

Kimball Chosen For NLRB Post

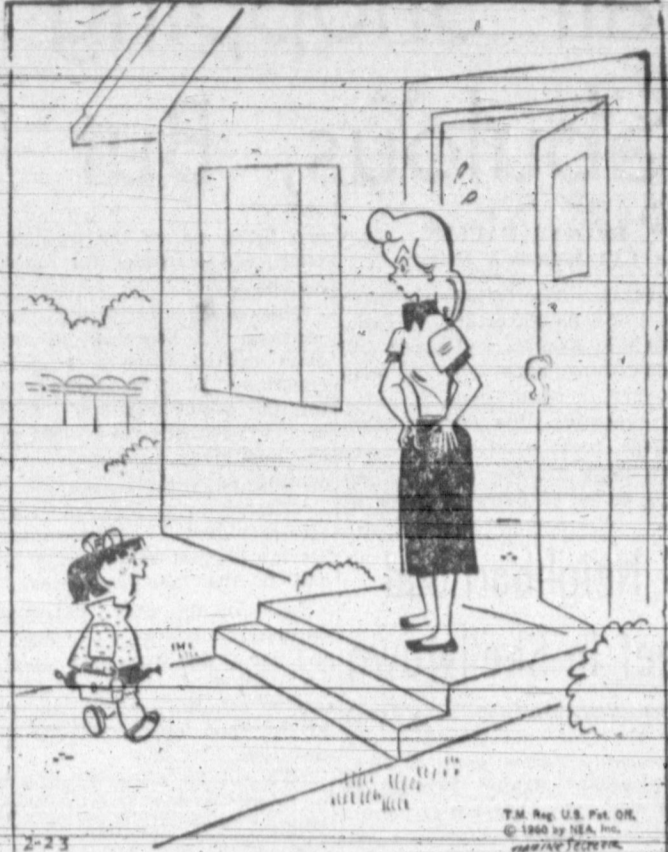

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today nominated Arthur A. Kimball, now staff director of the President's Advisory Committee on Government Organization, to be a member of the National Labor Relations Board.
Kimball, a 57-year-old Republican and native of the District of Columbia, has been in government service since 1928 when he went to work for the Commerce Department.
The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.
Kimball was named to a five-year term replacing Stephen S. Bean whose term is expiring. The new NLRB member has worked for the Veterans Administration and the State Department and served in the Army during World War II. He has held his present post on the advisory committee since 1953.

Charge Against Powell Dropped

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal Judge Frederick van Pelt Bryan today dismissed a second of the three income tax evasion counts on which Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. is on trial.
He denied a defense motion to throw out the one remaining count, which charges him with preparing a false and fraudulent return for his wife in 1951.
The count dismissed today had charged the Negro congressman and minister with evading payment of $1,399.69 in taxes on that 1951 return. Testimony during the trial had indicated that errors made by others in filling out the tax form had virtually wiped out the alleged deficiency.
Bryan dismissed another count of the indictment Tuesday after the government conceded it had failed to produce evidence to sustain its charge that Powell had prepared a fraudulent joint return for himself and his wife in 1952.

Crop Duster Killed In Crash

PLANO, Tex. (UPI) — A 29-year-old Dallas pilot, apparently blinded by the morning sun, died today when his plane tangled with electric wires and crashed, sheriff's officers said.
Officials temporarily withheld the name of the pilot, who was dead on arrival at Collin Memorial Hospital in McKinney after the crash on the James Griffin farm near Plano.
The crash was witnessed by Gordon Jones of Plano Flying Service who was assisting the pilot in crop dusting. Officers said the dusting plane was flying into the sun when it hit high electric wires between the Griffin house and highway.

Every Man Has His Price, But No One Knows Castro's

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HAVANA (NEA) — At the busy Jose Marti airport, a tall, solemn woman and her two children stood in line for the Miami-bound flight.

"They must leave," an anti-Castro Cuban whispered. "I know the situation very well. The government has confiscated their property — an estate and business worth about $5,000,000. Day by day Castro is destroying the middle class. But do not misunderstand," he said, putting his finger on what has happened to Cuba and why the U.S. has been powerless to negotiate there. "Do not think Castro is treating this estate. The government is honest. Very honest. None of us would deny that."

In simpler, harsher terms: "Every man has his price. Especially every leader. But it is impossible to find Castro's price. And until somebody finds it, there is no way to deal with him," according to a heavy machinery dealer who is presently watching his business go bankrupt under new laws banning the importing of parts.

Well, in today's market place of bid-and-asked political prices, there are actually only a few ransoms that demagogues ask in return for their cooperation, namely:

1. Absolute control over their opposition.
2. Plenty of American goods and money.
3. But U.S. imports have virtually come to an end. U.S. investment has been cut off. U.S. tourism is just about dead. All at Castro's request.

"The economy is in a ghastly mess," an ex-owned anti-Castro business man said. "We will soon be on a par with every backward nation in the world. But I must admit, not having refrigerators or television sets are not the only criteria for poverty and unhappiness."

4. International power.

"We do not have a Suez Canal or a Panama Canal," an official in the Foreign Relations office says. "We would have a hard time getting Cuba to accept communism — this is a very Catholic country."

"We do not anticipate invading Miami and we would have been warned about what would happen if we invaded any other Caribbean country."

5. The following and adulation of the people.

There is no doubt that Castro still has plenty of both. If an election were called tomorrow (which is highly unlikely), the anti-Castro estimate they could get about 30 per cent of the Havana vote and hardly any of the rest of the country.

What remains, of course, is the highest — and most impossible — price: a hands-off policy by the U.S.

"Who is America, to tell us with whom we can and cannot trade?" a foreign relations officer asked. "Who is America to judge us?"

Cabot's opinion of his royal buddy came from the heart.

"He leads a very simple life now," big Bruce explained. "He's no longer a man without a country. Prince Rainier of Monaco has made him a citizen over there."

The king doesn't gamble any more, either. He never did plunge at the crap tables like they used to say he did.

"He's a very democratic guy, too. Sometimes when you least expect it he comes up with funny sayings like, 'Take it easy, greasy you've got a long way to slide.'"

Recalling this bon mot, Cabot doubled up with remembered mirth. In Bruce's book Farouk is quite a card, vehement Egyptian feelings to the contrary.

"Another thing they've got wrong about Farouk is his drinking. He doesn't drink at all any more. And he's not the lady's man they say. He's been going with the same girl for six years."

Cabot, back in Hollywood for the first time in 10 years, will appear with Jack Benny in Phil Silvers' special show on CBS-TV May 7.

Somewhat heavier than when he left, Cabot now makes his home in Rome where he works in occasional movies, owns an interest in a hotel and runs a travel agency.

Foreign News

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

A European economic union entered into with high hopes in March, 1957, is causing worried thoughts among European statesmen who fear it ultimately may split Western Europe into two sharply divided economic, political and even military camps.

With a deadline approaching July 1, Western leaders are spending almost as much time on this problem as they are on preparations for the East-West summit conference in May.

It was the subject of worried cabinet meetings in Bonn and Paris — a major topic for President Charles de Gaulle and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan during the former's current visit to London.

Concern also is felt in Washington, both for the possible effects on U.S. business and the possibility that a plan to unite Europe may actually assist in dividing it for decades to come.

At the root of the concern is a recommendation by the executive commission of the six-nation European common market that internal tariffs be cut 20 per cent on July 1, with corresponding protective barriers going up against non-member nations.

Bitterly opposed are the nations of the Rival European Free Trade Association. As opposed to the "Inner Six" of the E.C.M. Market, the members of the EFTA are known as the "Outer Seven."

In the common market are West Germany, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy.

In the EFTA are Britain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Austria and Portugal.

The EFTA is strictly an economic grouping set up as a weapon against the common market. The common market is both political and economic, with an important objective the intertwining of the various economies in such a way as to make war among the member nations an impossibility. It particularly hoped to avoid any future conflict between France and Germany. It hoped to abolish all tariff and other barriers among the six in 10 to 15 years.

Fearful of being shut out of a rich market, Britain long sought a compromise solution which would permit her to participate in the common market. No solution could be reached, partly because of French suspicions of British motives and partly because of Britain's own Commonwealth commitments.

Until recently the prospect was for two sharply divided economic camps.

British automobiles shipped to West Germany would pay an eight per cent higher tariff than similar automobiles shipped from France or Italy.

Now new, serious efforts are being made at compromise and to prevent the erection of the new barriers which could divide Europe more surely than the best efforts of the Kremlin.

Farouk's A Good Guy, Says Cabot

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Bruce Cabot, King Farouk's boon companion and nightclub cavalier, landed in Movietown this week and announced, "Farouk is a good guy."

Investors Eager To Part With Funds For Show Biz

By LEROY POPE
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The hankering to take a flyer in a Broadway show sooner or later infects thousands of folks who regularly invest in securities.

But how to go about it stumps most of them. They know the odds are long but they don't know how long, and they can't find any sign posts in the Broadway investment market such as exist in stocks, bonds and commodities.

A TV script writer with some financial experience, Seymour Vall, has set out to put up the sign posts. Vall has founded a semi-monthly magazine called "Theatre Investor," to publish news about plays and musicals, whose producers are looking for angels. He also publishes research reports on the earnings records, not only of plays, but of producers and directors.

In the April issue, "Theatre Investor," which incidentally costs $50 a year, charts three prospective productions and lists 20 others that are looking for more capital. Vall rates their prospects in four groups on the basis of how past productions of similar type have fared over the years on Broadway.

He gives each two ratings — "current," meaning how the production plans seem to stack up right now, and "maximum," meaning what the show could earn if it actually is produced and gets good reviews from the critics.

It Wall gives a show a current rating of only 1, that means he thinks it now only has a 5 per cent chance of earning a profit. A rating of 2 means that over the years 17 per cent of this type show produced on Broadway has been profitable. The profitable percentage jumps to 70 for group

2 Crucial Ball Games Slated

Red Griggs the pipeline

Pampa track coach Dwaine Lyon and his mile relay team are wondering what you have to do to win something in this area.

The Pampa mile relay team of Tommy Locke, Steve Dobbin, Roy Dyer and Dwaine Lyon broke the Pampa school record last week in that event, but managed only a sixth place finish in the Amarillo Relays.

The Pampa foursome ran the mile relay in 3:21.2, winning their preliminary heat and cutting .2 second off the school mark of 3:31.4 set in 1958 by Frank Snow, Alton Thygerson, Andy Epps and Locke.

"That time would have been good for first or second place in last year's meet," Lyon said. "Actually, many of our boys are turning in better times and distances than they did last year. The trouble is that everyone else seems to be doing the same thing."

Not even the most optimistic Pampa fans expect the track team to repeat as district champion at Lubbock this weekend. However, broad jumper Buddy Rawls and relay runner Sherrill Miller have completely recovered from injuries, and Hurdler Charles Warren is still a question mark. "He isn't completely recovered," Lyon said, "but we'll just have to let him run and hope for the best." Warren has been hampered by a back injury.

Lyon forges a five-way scrap for the district title between Amarillo, Palo Duro, Tascosa, Borger and Lubbock, with Pampa, Plainview and Monterey fighting for sixth place.

Mistakes Hurt Baseball Squad

Deck Woldt's Pampa High School baseball team is scheduled to play this weekend, a couple of games which could make or break their chances for the District 3-4A championship.

The Harvesters will play host to Lubbock and Monterey, who are tied for the district lead with 4-0 records. Pampa is a game back at 3-1.

The Pampa squad is going to have to do better in the fields of hitting and playing heads-up ball, than it did in the past three games, to get anywhere against the loop leaders.

Against Tascosa the Harvesters made two errors after two were out in the seventh inning to kick away what looked like a sure victory. Against Palo Duro, Tuesday, they were lucky to survive a series of mental mistakes. Palo Duro, especially one in which a high fly was allowed to drop behind that Palo Duro made a few more mistakes.

Pampa has scored only three earned runs in the past three games, and all of those were scored on wild pitches against Tascosa.

Woldt was, of course, deeply disappointed after Saturday's 6-5 loss to Tascosa. "You had to be there to believe it," he said. "Two men out, and we let in score four runs."

Woldt, a man who takes his baseball very seriously, blamed himself as much as anybody for the Tascosa loss. "I let Jim in my Walker in there too long," he declared. "I should have pitched him when he got in trouble. Tuesday against Palo Duro, when Kippy Williams got in a jam in the seventh inning, I put Walker in, and he retired the side and we went on to win the game."

Woldt was also disappointed about some of the mental mistakes his players made against Palo Duro, especially one in which a high fly was allowed to drop behind that Palo Duro made a few more mistakes.

Woldt was also glad to see his hitting eye in that game.

Woldt showed tremendous confidence in Pampa's ability to hit in the clutch, in the seventh inning of the Palo Duro game. "With one out, Pampa has the best chance of the out," he said. "I pitched to the batter, and he hit a home run."

Northern Leaguers Needed

Hart Warren, Pampa Country Club professional, is conducting a free golf clinic Saturday at the Country Club, beginning at 10 a.m. Warren will demonstrate different types of golf shots with different types of clubs. He will then answer questions, and have pupils demonstrate the new techniques they have learned.

Warren said that if enough interest is shown in the free golf clinic, he will hold a class every week for several weeks. He said that all golfers, both men and women, are invited to attend.

Harvesters To Host Lubbock Friday, Monterey Saturday

The Pampa Harvester baseball team, bidding for its first District 3-4A championship, plays two games this weekend which could make or break its hopes.

The Harvesters, in third place with a 3-1 district record, meet Lubbock here Friday at 4 p.m., and Monterey here Saturday at 2 p.m. By winning both games, Pampa could grab at least a share of the district lead.

Lubbock and Monterey are both undefeated in district play, with 4-0 records. Lubbock has defeated Plainview 8-5, Amarillo 4-1, Palo Duro 11-10 and Tascosa 5-1. Monterey has beaten Tascosa 12-1, Palo Duro 13-0, Amarillo 8-7, and Plainview 21-1. Pampa has stopped Amarillo 4-1, Plainview 3-0, and Palo Duro 7-3, while losing to Tascosa 6-5.

Monterey was the pre-season favorite to win the district title, and Pampa was picked for second.

A right-hander, either Mike Clark (1-0) or Jimmy Walker (2-2) will pitch Friday's game against Lubbock. Portside Kippy Williams (3-0) will take the mound against Monterey Saturday. In district play, Walker has won two games and lost one, while allowing two earned runs in 11 innings of pitching. Williams has a 1-0 district mark, and hasn't allowed an earned run in 13 innings of hurling.

Coach Deck Woldt plans to shake up the Harvester batting order, in an effort to get more hitting power. Pampa has batted in seven runs in its last three games, but all were unearned (aided by errors).

Two Harvesters are batting more than 400 in district play, and another pair are over the 300 mark. However, three others are batting well below 200.

The Pampa lineup for Friday's and Saturday's games, with district batting averages, is as follows: Larry Stroud (.467), first base; Ruben Strickland (.063), second base; Wendell Ridgway (.599), shortstop; Bobby Nutt (.357), third base; Terry Haralson (.231), catcher; Roy Stephens (.143), left field; Bobby Stephens (.308), center field; Gary Hill (.091), right field; and Clark (.000) or Walker (.250) and Williams (.000), pitchers.

Ready For Big Season

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International
Early (Gus) Wynn, the American League's top winning pitcher of last season, gave notice today that he's all set for another big year that will bring him close to the magic figure of 300 victories.

Wynn Pitches Shutout

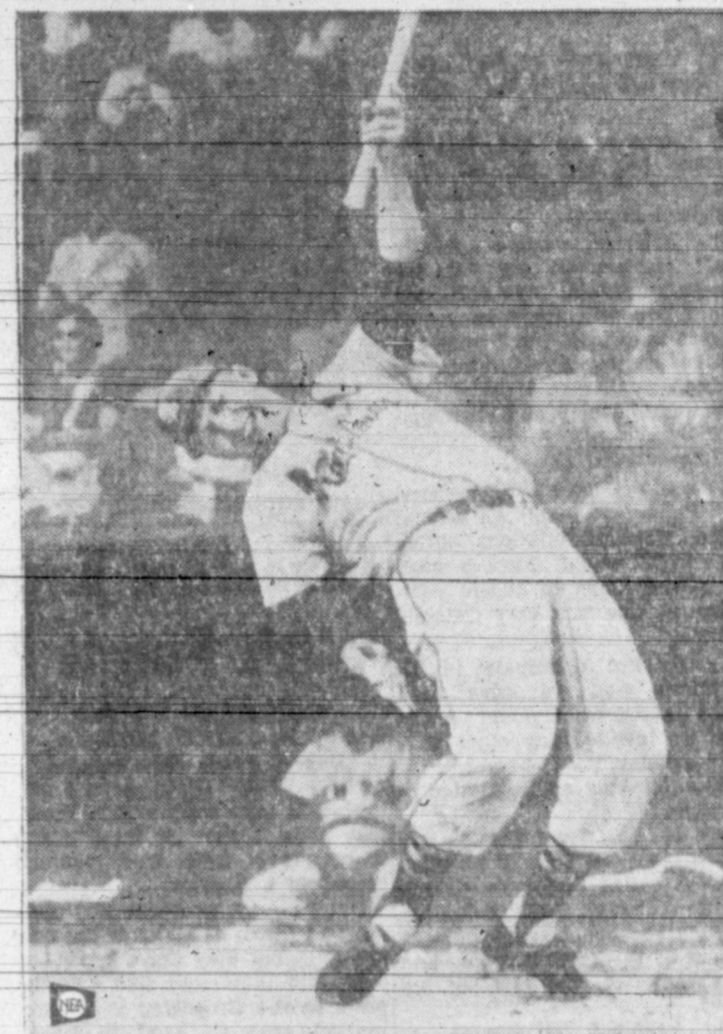

Mathewson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Eddie Plank and Lefty Grove.
Only three more wins will put Wynn in the No. 7 slot among modern pitchers, just ahead of the 273 wins by former Yankee star Charley Ruffing.

Wynn, who complained of a gout attack just last weekend, was in pain in the neck for the Tigers as he scattered four singles over his seven innings. Two of the Detroit hitters were quickly erased in double plays. A two-run Chicago go-rally in the fifth inning on Gene Freese's single, Minnie Miñoso's double and Al Smith's double enabled Wynn to turn over a 2-0 lead to Frank Bauman, who pitched the last two innings.

Wynn pitched a 1-0 shutout over Cincinnati, Bob Hale's ninth-inning double cleared the bases for Cleveland's 10-9 victory over the Chicago Cubs; Dick Schofield's 10th-inning single drove in Pittsburgh's winning tally in a 7-6 decision over Philadelphia; Stan Musial's homer led the Cards to a 13-10 victory over Boston; and Roger Maris' 11th-inning single gave the Yankees a 4-3 win over Baltimore.

Sam Jones, the Giants' 21-game winner, was blasted for seven runs in the Dodgers' victory, including homers by Wally Moon and John Roseboro and six walks. Willie McCovey's three-run homer led the Giants' futile counter-attack.

Lopata's blast off rookie Dave Stenhouse gave Milwaukee a fifth straight victory and made it 11th straight in the league. Bob Rush, the winner in relief, pitched the ball in the bright Arizona sunlight, but he doubled and smashed a grand-slam homer in the eighth to pace the Cardinals' Praves.

OUCH! — Joe Cunningham of the St. Louis Cardinals grimaces and twists his body in pain after being hit in the back by a ball pitched by the New York Yankees' Jim Coates during a game at All Long Field in St. Petersburg.

Masters Tourney To Start Today

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor
AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — The world's masters of the fairway started today after the first of 1960's major golf titles — the Masters — with Arnold Palmer the betting choice and Sam Snead and Ben Hogan the sentimental favorites.

A field of 64-17 amateurs and 67 professionals — was scheduled to tee off at 10 a.m. e.s.t. over the 6,980-yard Augusta National golf course with fair and mild weather forecast.

By dusk on Sunday, barring a playoff — one of them will wear the green jacket which symbolizes one of the most coveted championships in the game.

Despite a slight attack of the flu, which he shrugged off as "nothing serious," Palmer still remained the betting favorite. The odds on the year's leading money winner lengthened from 3-1 Friday, and at 6 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. Closing time is 8 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Harold Wright and Bunny Bhurman have just returned from a couple of days fishing in Lake Texoma near Tishomingo, Oklahoma. They brought back 50 "barn door" crappie weighing from one to two pounds. Two other Pampa men, Chester Shellhouse and Albert Webber, in four days of fishing took 110 of the big crappie.

Palmer, who has cashed in $26,700 thus far, said he went to see a doctor purely as a precautionary measure "and he told me the congestion was breaking up."

"It doesn't bother me," he insisted, adding that the odds didn't bother him either.

"At least I try to make them no concern," he said.

Palmer played only a few holes on the back nine of the championship course Wednesday and then shot a two-under-par 25 over the nine-hole par three course in the afternoon. The contestants played this one for silverware prizes. Palmer missed four greens, but had seven one-putt greens.

Snead won the competition when he birdied the ninth hole for a 25. Lew Worsham and Dick Knight tied for second with 34. David Sanders and Ted Kroll each had holes in one. Snead considered his par three triumph a good omen.

Cross-Fire And Backlashes

BY CHARLIE CROSS

Last Sunday being the kind of day it was I decided to drive down to Lake McClellan and look things over. Didn't do any fishing, just spent a couple of hours looking over the new layout and getting acquainted with concessionaire Joe Tipton and his wife Betty.

These two young people have certainly brought about a number of improvements in the facilities at the lake. They opened the concession stand on the west end of the lake last year, put in some coolers and a complete line of skis, tow ropes, life preservers, and fishing tackle. This year they opened a lunch room in the south end of the concession building. Joe told me that just about anything in the fishing line a man could want can be bought there.

More than 40 acres at the east end of the lake have been reserved for fishing only, and boats can only get into the reserved area by staying at a speed of five miles per hour or less. All sking and speed boating is done on the remainder of the lake. Work is being done on the washed out spillway and roads are constantly being improved.

Joe said the fish have just started hitting, but some good catches of crappie, white perch and channel cat are beginning to come in. More power to Joe and Betty. Lake McClellan is the closest spot to citizens of Pampa, and with a little cooperation could be built into a real resort spot.

By the way, the concession stand opens at 7 a.m. Monday through Friday, and at 8 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. Closing time is 8 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Texans Push For Aid On River Survey

By ROY MCGHEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A determined group of Texans today sought help from several sources in an effort to increase federal funds for Trinity River development surveys.

More than 40 Texans, including the mayors of Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston, talked with government leaders prior to a scheduled late afternoon appearance before a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Chief aim of the group was to get an extra $75,000 added to President Eisenhower's recommended $250,000 for continued study of Trinity River problems and development.

Ben H. Carpenter, Dallas president of the Trinity River Improvement Assn., was chosen spokesman from the group that included civic leaders from Fort Worth to the Gulf.

Acting Mayor Elgin Robertson of Dallas, Mayor Tom McCall of Fort Worth and Mayor Lewis Currier of Houston backed up Carpenter in the request.

The Texans arrived by chartered plane Wednesday night and worked out their plans at a 7 a. m. breakfast. They called on the chief of the Army engineers and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Although Houston is not directly involved in Trinity River development, it became interested following an agreement it made on sharing of upstream waters.

Backers of more immediate cash for river studies hoped the extra funds would speed completion of the 10-year master plan survey for the Trinity watershed.

The studies already have led to construction of four upstream reservoirs, start of construction on another, and authorization of a fifth.

The subcommittee also was scheduled to consider these sums for these projects:

- $100,000 for the Brazos Island Harbor; $899,000 for Freeport Harbor; $2,700,000 for Galveston Harbor and Channel; $1,600,000 for Inland Waterway Channel to Port Mansfield; $956,000 for

Writers Analyze Primary

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Kenneth E. Fry and Ira Kapenstein are the men to see if you come cold into Wisconsin to report and analyze a mixed up presidential preference primary between a big city, Democratic, Eastern, Roman Catholic and a small town Democratic, Midwestern, Protestant.

Fry and Kapenstein write politics for the Milwaukee Journal. That is their business. Fry and Kapenstein are experts. If you can't see them to pick their brains, read what they write in the Journal.

What Fry wrote in the dawn hours after Wisconsin's election day was this:

"Sen. John F. Kennedy's 100,000 plus (popular vote) margin over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey was impressive but inflated by what was virtually 'bloc' voting by Catholics and a sizeable Republican crossover vote. (Republicans voting in the Democratic primary.) Kennedy did not run well in the farm areas but did score some points with labor.

"Humphrey (a Protestant) ran well in the farm areas and in many Democratic areas. He also demonstrated strength among military groups and in depressed areas. He did better than most observers expected."

Let expert Kapenstein take it from there:

"Sen. John F. Kennedy clearly won the votes of most Catholics and of many Republicans regardless of faith. Kennedy rolled up almost all of his margin over Humphrey in three congressional districts which are heavily Catholic, two of which are also strongly Republican. He apparently was penalized because of his religion in some strongly Protestant areas.

"Kennedy showed tremendous ability to win votes in traditionally Republican counties. He broke into areas where Democrats had never done well before.

"Kennedy built his victory margin on landslide majorities in Catholic areas and a powerful appeal to traditionally Republican voters. He ran well in many Democratic areas too, but the great shifting of votes, which made this primary different from any other in history, took place in areas of strong Catholic and Republican traditions.

To sum it up, and neatly, too, Kapenstein told Journal readers: "Humphrey did well with farmers who have been voting Democratic. Kennedy won with farmers who previously had been voting Republican. Humphrey benefited from a strong farm protest."

Giveaway Shows May Come Back

By WARREN FRANKLIN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Giveaway shows are sneaking back into public consciousness and, favoring the same TV screens that disillusioned their vast former audiences.

This observation—or warning, depending upon individual preference—comes from a near unimpeachable authority, Jackie Bright who, appearing as "The Crazy Auctioneer," stated television's entertainment configuration.

Bright, now executive secretary of the American Guild of Variety Artists, remembers the exact hour, date and circumstances of the momentous occasion.

Between 8:30 and 9 p. m. on Sunday, July 1, 1948, in video's formative years, he made the first TV giveaway in recorded history over the NBC network for the Chase and Sanborn division of General Foods Corp.

By the standards of TV's pre-quiz scandal and payola viewers, when giveaway programs appeared to menace the functioning of the national economy, Bright's prizes to contestants were insignificant, ever miserly.

Corvair named "CAR OF THE YEAR"

"Four-wheel independent suspension totally unlike any other U.S.-built car" ... "air-cooled aluminum engine ... not dependent on the properties of a liquid coolant" ... a rear-mounted transaxle "allowing a flatter floor and a lower roofline. . . ." These are some of the praises heaped upon Corvair by the editors of Motor Trend—the world's largest general automotive magazine—in announcing their coveted Car-of-the-Year award. Other cars didn't even come close. The Motor Trend experts, who evaluated every make in the country, were unanimous in their decision, published in the April issue. But, unless you have personally driven a Corvair, you can't appreciate what this engineering achievement really means in combining compact car economy and agility with big car ride, room and sure-footedness. Drop down to your dealer's, take a trial drive and then judge the Car of the Year for yourself!

A CAPELLA CHORUS—The 60-voice A Cappella Chorus from Lubbock Christian College will sing at the Mary Eihen and Harvester Church of Christ Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The group is currently on tour in the north Panhandle. Under the direction of B. Wayne Hinds, the chorists will make six tours this year. The program features sacred concert numbers, well-known hymns, spirituals and ensembles.

Kissing Parishoner In Jail & Still Unkissed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Billy Gilbreath, 34, is back in jail today for trying to kiss the preacher's teen-age daughter in front of the congregation.

San Antonio has chuckled for two years about Billy's love life. But it is not a bit funny to the Rev. Leonard Norville, pastor of the Central Assembly of God Church, nor to his 17-year-old daughter, Shirley.

"He's a maniac, I suppose you would say," the Rev. Mr. Norville said. "He claimed he was attracted to my daughter, but this same thing has happened before. It's not just my daughter. And she sure doesn't like him. She's engaged to a fine boy in the service."

It all started when Billy was 22 and attending a service at another church—the North Side Assembly of God Church. Suddenly, he ran to the front, grabbed a girl and tried to kiss her. She screamed and deacons pulled him off.

"The spirits just moved me," Billy explained. "Well, just don't listen to the spirits," the preacher told him. Billy started attending Norville's church, and became disturbed when the minister called him in last year and told him to behave himself. Billy snickered awhile, then vowed he would kiss Norville's pretty daughter.

He tried a few days later. This time, police were called and Billy was thrown in jail for aggravated assault and release of a $2500 bond.

He apologized. "He called me Tuesday and said he was coming back to church," Norville said. "I advised him not to. He had said last year when he apologized that he would never come back, and would cause no more trouble."

"When he came last night, I met him in front of the church and asked him not to go in. But he ran over me like a bulldozer. He tried to kiss Shirley, but she screamed and ran."

Deacons tried to pull Billy off, but the hefty unemployed laborer knocked them aside like children. Norville stepped in front of him. "I won't hit you," Billy said. "I still have respect for preachers."

"I couldn't rest until I had reproved myself," Billy said in jail. "The girl doesn't mean that much to me."

He was charged with creating a public disturbance in church. "The heck of it is," Billy said, "I still ain't been kissed."

CROWDED RUNWAYS

HAYWARD, Calif. (UPI)—Pilots have appealed to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to help combat an increasing menace at Hayward Municipal Airport.

Landings and takeoffs used to be hampered by rabbits frolicking on the runways. Now the runways are even more crowded—assault and release of a $2500 bond.

Mississippi Still (No Pun) A Dry State

By CLIFF SESSIONS
United Press International

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Mississippi, where it is estimated that more than 25 million dollars is spent annually on 900,000 gallons of liquor and wine—today remained the only legally dry state in the nation.

The House of Representatives Wednesday night defeated, by a vote of 75-60, a Senate-approved local option bill and ended a serious threat to legal prohibition.

The vote followed more than six hours of debate in which backers of the bill to end prohibition pointed out that liquor flows freely in many areas of the state and urged the local option law as a means of controlling liquor sales.

But State Rep. Kelly Hammond said the threat of the bill's passage made this "the darkest hour in the state of Mississippi. It would turn loose the flood gates of hell."

Hammond urged the House not to "prostitute the process of democracy in front of these young page boys."

Local self-government, which is constantly being urged by Southern politicians, was stressed by supporters of the measure that have permitted counties to vote themselves out from under prohibition.

Rep. Charles Deaton, who introduced the bill, said "prohibition has grown steadily worse during the past 51 years." The prohibition law was passed in 1908.

But Rep. Jesse Chaffin charged that the bill was recommended "two-bit politicians."

First dinner fork in Amarica was owned by Governor John Winthrop of Boston.

REFLECTIONS IN THE SUN—Warmed by the bright Roman sun, these two benchmates of different generations seem lost in the world of their own thoughts. Bread, love and dreams, perhaps? The pensive girl and news-absorbed old man are seated on a ledge near the Trinita de Monti Church, which overlooks the famed Spanish Steps.

Daniel Appoints Tax Study Group

By PAT CONWAY
United Press International

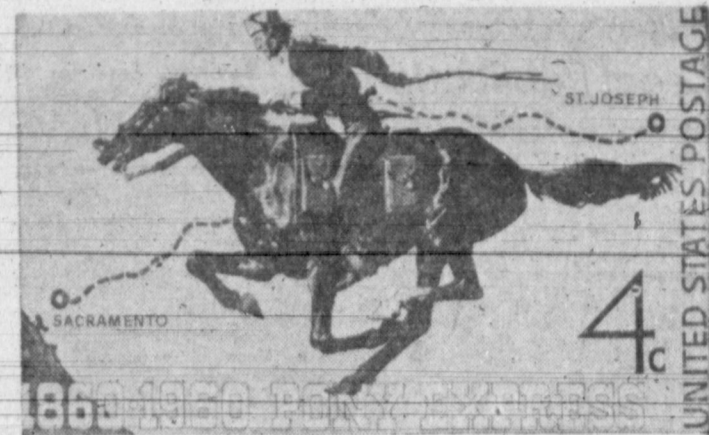

AUSTIN (UPI)—The action by Gov. Price Daniel in naming the first six members of a tax study group has taken the punch out of the major blow aimed at his administration by Jack Cox, the only candidate opposing Daniel's bid for a third term.

Daniel named Secretary of State Zollie Steakley as chairman of the proposed 30-member finance advisory commission, and said he would name the other 24 members later.

He said he wants the commission to find a way to bolster the state's sagging revenue in time for the 57th Legislature next January, without resorting to a general sales or income tax.

And at the same time, he continued to hold out hope for a special session of the Legislature to pass a teachers' pay raise. He said the general fund deficit would be whittled from $88 million to $40 million by September, but if a pay raise for teachers was passed, it would put the state another $35 million in the red.

Although Daniel stressed that his naming the tax commission was not intended to be a rebuttal at the verbal blasts Cox has aimed at his administration, the fact remains the key issue in the Cox campaign is state finances. He has belittled Daniel's lack of a specific tax plan.

MANY YEARS AGO—This stamp recalls the glamorous Pony Express, a short-lived mail delivery service between St. Joseph, Mo., and Sacramento, Calif. The four-center will be placed on sale July 19. Artist was Harold von Schmidt.
