

Helping Hands Provide Sight

By CHARLIE CROSS
Daily News Staff Writer

Little 14-month-old Cynthia (Cyndy) Taylor may be too young to realize it yet, but she has many friends in Pampa.

Cyndy, who lives at 3248 S. Barnes with her mother, Mrs. Pat Taylor, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Blackledge, was born with cataracts on both eyes, and unable to see.

However, doctors gave some encouragement that if Cyndy had an operation the cataracts could be removed. The family paid for one operation, but when it was time for another Cyndy was ill with pneumonia, and after that the family couldn't afford another.

Apartment Luxury To Be Standardized

By HENRY J. RECHTOLD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Today's luxury apartment will be the standard apartment of tomorrow.

Apartment building design follows a definite pattern and the features of the standard apartment of the next decade can be foreseen by taking a close look at conveniences in today's luxury apartment—houses, according to Alan Tishman, of Tishman Realty & Construction Co., Inc.

Cyndy's mother knew of organizations that sometimes helped out in such situations but "was afraid to go to them because I had heard they placed the baby in a foster home."

The case came to light when Mrs. Ethel Jay, a neighbor, was ill in the hospital and visited a friend who was in the same room with Mrs. Taylor. When Mrs. Jay left the hospital, she called Joe Tooley, telling him of the case and the ball started rolling.

Tooley, who is a director-elect in the United Commercial Travelers, thought the club might want to make a project of the case. J. C. Roberts, grand counselor, agreed, and a campaign was started. Tom Beard, a partner with Tooley in Richard-Drug, named the campaign "Fight for Sight." The bank account is still carried under this name.

WONDERFUL SIGHT — Pat Taylor smiles fondly at daughter Cyndy as she flinches from the camera flash. The occasion was little Cyndy's return from Amarillo where the tiny girl had just been fitted with glasses after an operation to remove cataracts from her eyes. Mrs. Taylor said although the glasses were the smallest ever made by the optometrist, they still had to be bent to fit Cyndy. (Daily News Photo)

Highway Patrol Reports On County Traffic Toll In 1959

Sergeant E. G. Albers of the Pampa office of the Department of Public Safety said today there were eight persons killed in seven fatal accidents last year in Gray County.

He also pointed out there were 80 personal injury crashes, where 109 persons were injured, and 144 non-injury crashes.

In picturing the overall state scene, the sergeant said 15 of every 1,000 Texans were injured in traffic accidents during 1959.

In presenting his facts, he said 2,133 persons died in traffic collisions in Texas during 1959. He said death took a holiday only one day, with Dec. 2 being the state's only accident-free day. The state's worst tragedy of the year was a two-car head-on collision in Hidalgo County, February 15, killing 10 persons which occurred not far from Alamo where the most disastrous traffic accident ever recorded took the lives of 29 persons in 1940.

Albers said traffic accidents occurred at the rate of one every 92 seconds; a person was injured every four minutes and a person was killed every three hours and 34 minutes.

In referring to the "death calendar" as one of the most interesting portions of the report, Albers said Nov. 14 was the most deadly traffic day of the year with 24 persons killed in eight fatal accidents. He also said there were 23 days when 15 or more motoricides occurred.

Motorists traveled more than 125-million miles per day in Texas last year. This rate jumped the year-long total up five per cent to an all-time high of 46,032,000,000 vehicle miles.

Tiros Picture Apparatus Is Not Working

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal space agency disclosed Friday that a mechanical failure aboard the Tiros I weather satellite is preventing it from taking defiled cloud pictures over Russia.

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said at a news conference that the weather satellite "is working successfully and well."

But he added that since Saturday evening, the satellite's clock timer governing operation of the cameras has not been working properly.

The camera involved was a narrow angle, "high resolution" device designed to obtain the clearest pictures.

As a result of the failure, Glennan said, "this camera has been able to take pictures only on direct command over Hawaii and adjacent Pacific areas and over the New Jersey area."

This means that only the larger of the two television cameras, the so-called low resolution device, has been instructed since Saturday evening to take cloud cover pictures as the satellite passed over Russia, China and elsewhere in the Far East. Tiros was launched last Friday morning.

"Pictures taken by the large TV camera are too vague to show any details of objects on the ground."

"We have in fact been embarrassed by the wealth of photographic material which has been received," Glennan said. He released them for publication today.

The photographs will be the first made available to the public since six were released last weekend shortly after Tiros was fired into a 440-mile high orbit with two television cameras aboard. The photos all showed cloud cover over North America.

Officials said Tiros had relayed back to earth more than 1,000 pictures, including some shot over Red China and the southern part of Russia.

It was understood that NASA had carefully screened the photographs prior to their release to prevent any charge by a foreign government that the United States was spying on its territory.

But it was determined that none of the pictures showed enough detail to offend any other country. In addition to the cloud cover, they show only rough geographical outlines such as the coasts of continents.

For example, a number received at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., showed the boot of Italy, the Strait of Gibraltar, the Suez area and eastern Mediterranean nations, and the southwest coast of Europe.

'Sun Watch' Satellites Proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two scientists Saturday proposed a new satellite system to provide early warning of solar storms likely to black out earth radio communications.

With such warning, they said, it would be possible to minimize the disruption.

The sun-watch satellites were suggested by Alan Shapley of the National Bureau of Standards Boulder (Colo.) Laboratories and O. G. Villard J. of Stanford University in a report published by the space science board of the National Academy of Sciences.

Shapley and Villard also recommended additional high-altitude atomic explosions, supplemented by high explosive blasts, to get information about the ionosphere.

The ionosphere is an electrified region of the upper air, starting at about 40 miles and extending indefinitely outward, which serves as reflector for radio waves of the kinds used in communications.

Frequently occurring but now unpredictable eruptions on the sun bombard the atmosphere with charged particles which trigger magnetic storms and snarl communications.

Shapley and Villard said "satellites should provide a virtually ideal vehicle" for studying so-called polar communications blackouts.

"Since polar blackouts are isolated, localized events, it may be possible to avoid them and thereby maintain communication if the characteristics of a blackout could be predicted," they said.

"It seems likely," Shapley and Villard continued, "that a future system of satellites carrying radiation counters, and orbiting the earth at very great distance, could provide early warning of an impending solar disturbance and thus substantially reduce ionospheric communication time."

The average American drinks slightly more than two cups of coffee daily.

Celtics Win NBA Playoff

By BOB SALMON
United Press International

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics captured their second straight National Basketball Association championship Saturday and their third in four years by overcoming the St. Louis Hawks, 122-102, behind an awe-inspiring team effort.

Pandemonium broke loose in the nationally televised game at the garden even before the final buzzer sounded. The veteran Bob Cousy was carried from the floor by jubilant fans who saw the Celtics gain revenge for the only break in Boston's domination of NBA supremacy since 1937. The Hawks broke the string that year by beating the Celtics in a seven-game world championship finale. Frank Ramsey was high man for the victorious defending champions with 24 points. Both Bill Russell and Tommy Heinsohn dropped in 22 points, while Cousy

Palmer Leads Masters By One Stroke

ARNOLD PALMER... favorite ahead

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Favored Arnold Palmer fought off a cankerous putter, a bone-chilling wind and a hungry pack at his heels to tie an even par 72 Saturday and stay a stroke ahead of the tightly-bunched Masters field.

Palmer had to battle all the way to post a 34-38. That, coupled with his previous two rounds of 67 and 73, gave him a 212 and made him the first man in Masters' history ever to lead the field all alone for the first three rounds.

Smack at his heels at 213 were five others—always-dangerous Ben Hogan, Julius Boros, Dow Finsterwald, Ken Venturi and U. S. Open champion Billy Casper.

An estimated crowd of 40,000, most of whom trailed the intense, 30-year-old Palmer over Augusta

National's 6,980-yard layout, saw the Ligonier, Pa. pro take what seemed an eternity before making up his mind what club to use for his third shot on the 17th after he had overshot the green with his second.

He asked his caddy for one club, then changed his mind and went to his wedge. He hit the ball 10 feet past the pin and missed the putt coming back, giving him a bogey five on the 400-yard hole.

Palmer, who had three-putted the eighth and 11th holes previously, wasn't out of the woods yet. He hit his second shot on the par four, 420-yard 18th a bit too far and the ball struck the lip of the trap and just did roll onto the edge of the green.

Taking plenty of time, Palmer putted to within a foot of the cup and then got down with his next shot. So, he is in approximately the same shape now as he was in 1958 when he won this blue-ribbon tournament for the first time with a 284 total. Palmer had a 211 total after the first three rounds in that one and barely squeaked through when Doug Ford and Fred Hawkins each missed final day birdie putts of less than 12 feet on the 18th which would have forced a playoff.

Boros' two-under-par 34-36-70 was the best score turned in during a day which started warm and mild and ended chilly and windy.

Boros was at 143 before the start of the third round, three strokes behind Palmer, and he made up two of them.

The 40-year-old Boros had three birdies and one bogey on the 18th when he chipped five feet past the hole on his third shot and required two putts coming back.

Compared with Boros' round, Palmer had four birdies and the same number of bogeys.

Hogan, who shot back into contention with a 68 Friday following a first round 73, shot a 35-37-72 Saturday although, like Palmer, he three-putted two different greens. Ben got a bad break on the par four 365-yard seventh when his tee shot hit into the crowd and landed a few yards behind a tree.

Finsterwald also recovered well from the two-stroke penalty that was assessed him Friday by shooting a 36-36-72 to go with his previous rounds of 71 and 70; Venturi continued his comeback from a wretched back nine of 42 on the opening day with a 34-37-71, and Casper shot the same, 37-34.

But Hogan recovered brilliantly by hitting through the tree to within four feet of the pin from where he got down in one putt for a birdie.

Finsterwald also recovered well from the two-stroke penalty that was assessed him Friday by shooting a 36-36-72 to go with his previous rounds of 71 and 70; Venturi continued his comeback from a wretched back nine of 42 on the opening day with a 34-37-71, and Casper shot the same, 37-34.

GARY WILHELM ... NCAA boxing finalist

Wilhelm In NCAA Finals

MADISON, Wis. — Gary Wilhelm, first round, in Friday's semifinals, University of Wisconsin, was scheduled to fight Mills Lane of Nevada Saturday night for the NCAA welterweight championship.

Wilhelm, who has been named to the second AH-American boxing team, has a record of 4 wins, 2 losses and 2 draws in team bouts. He also won the University of Wisconsin all-university tournament, and was named the outstanding contender in Wisconsin's contender's tournament. One of Wilhelm's victims in team matches was Walt Sheppardson of Idaho State, the 1958 NCAA champion.

Sul Ross Wins

ALPINE (UPI) — Pitcher Tommy Shields turned in a good job on the mound and at the plate Saturday in leading Sul Ross to a 2-1 victory over St. Mary's of San Antonio.

Shields gave up only five hits, struck out six and issued three walks and hammered two bases-empty home runs and a single in three times at bat.

St. Mary's center-fielder Henry Christopher had a single and a double in four trips to the plate and St. Mary's surfer Richard Shepler hit a triple.

Meeting Set For Semi-Pro Organization

CRAWFORD, Okla. — A meeting for persons interested in forming a semi-pro basketball and baseball league will be held at the Crawford High School Gymnasium Thursday 8 p.m.

If the new league is successfully organized, it will include eight teams from Oklahoma and Texas, which will play a double round-robin schedule of 14 games in both basketball and baseball.

Texas teams invited to send representatives are Pampa, Shamrock, Miami, Higgins, Canadian, Bryson and Spearman, Oklahoma towns invited to the meeting are Langston, Granita, Sayre, Elk City, Clinton, Arnett, Shattuck, Cheyenne, Reynolds, Berlin, Hammon and Crawford.

John H. Smith, superintendent of Crawford schools, says that he has talked to many people interested in sponsoring teams or playing in the league, and that he believes such a league could be successful.

He also says that a plan has been worked-out by which each league entrance fees at no cost to the players, and that park officials in several towns have indicated that their ball parks would be made available to participating teams.

Smith requests anyone who wishes to attend the meeting to notify him by mail, and let him know how many are coming to the meeting.

New Social Security Benefits Likely in 1960, But Look For Increase in Your Payments, Too

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The way it looks now, Social Security benefits this year. But the big new medical benefits now strongly argued are unlikely. So, despite the hullabaloo, are the other major proposals which would mean further sizeable increases in your Social Security payments.

Of course, anything can happen in Congress, especially in an election year. But this is today's guessing on Capitol Hill, both by those for and those against new benefits:

—Almost certain to pass are full retirement benefits immediately for all totally disabled "qualified" workers — regardless of age. The probable "qualification": five years on jobs covered by Social Security. At present, totally disabled workers have to wait until they're over 69 to start getting retirement payments.

—An increase in benefits paid to widows probably will be enacted this session of Congress. A widow now receives half of what she and her husband together were paid by Social Security. There's a strong feeling on the Hill she should get more.

—Direct payment of medical bills for oldsters under Social Security is unlikely to be approved this year, although the idea has strong union support.

But there's some chance of guarantees against loss or partial subsidies for private insurance companies willing to provide reasonable, low-cost medical coverage policies for the oldsters.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Social Security is not operated in the same way as is a commercial insurance company. An insurance firm is expected to have enough money, investments and payments upcoming to pay off all of its predicted obligations, even if it never secures another policy holder.

If Social Security were operated in that way it would require a 1960 trust fund of $75 billion — just to meet all payments for today's oldsters alone.

And it would need a 1960 trust fund of $300 billion to meet all its future obligations to those now working under Social Security. It would need that $300 billion over and above what today's workers are expected to pay in during the rest of their working lives.

But Social Security has only about $22 billion in its reserve. This means that today's workers are taking money out of their wages to pay a sizeable chunk of the benefits today's oldsters receive. When today's workers retire, their benefits will be in good part paid for by the next generation of workers. It is in essence partly a tax on the next generation to pay benefits for this generation.

Talked about: a form of "deductible" coverage — in which the aged would pay the first $250 of expenses in any illness. Private insurance would cover the rest.

As another substitute for public medical coverage under Social Security there's a chance of a good stiff increase in public assistance to those who can't afford medical care. There's pressure now for an increase in the monthly payments Social Security makes to the aged. A small increase is perhaps possible. A sizeable increase is highly unlikely. There's a chance that the oldsters will be allowed to earn more money and still be eligible for Social Security payments. If an increase does go through, it will likely be a few hundred dollars a year. It now stands at $1,200 per year. This will work dollarwise, government actuaries say, as long as Social Security continues to be compulsory — and so long as the estimates of how long workers will live after retirement are approximately correct over the long run.

There's also pressure to increase Social Security taxes indirectly by tugging the salary base on which they're paid from today's $4,800 to $6,000. An increase to $5,400 is possible. But there's growing doubt any increase will be passed.

The Congress started out this year with an apparent determination to pass large new Social Security benefits, raise Social Security payments further. A number of strong bills were put into the hopper, one by Presidential aspirant John F. Kennedy.

The tide still looks strong on the surface. But men close to the Congressional deliberations say there are signs of a change coming. The unions are still pushing strongly for new benefits that actuaries estimate would cost billions of dollars a year eventually. Large numbers of older people are pushing for heavier benefits for the aged.

But there's the beginning of a new trend, too. Congressmen report that people are beginning to write in against higher Social Security payments. A man earning $4,000 notices that $144 a year is being taken out of his pay check, in addition to the $144 paid by his employer, and counted in by the employer as a fringe benefit in wage negotiations.

Automatically, under present laws and with no new benefits, by 1960 the salaried man earning $4,800 will be paying $216 a year in Social Security, his employer another $216. This is giving rise to complaints.

Warm Springs Census Takers Musn't Miss Marks 15th Anniversary Many Less Count Be Way Off

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Exactly how many Americans will be counted in the 1960 census? Even President Eisenhower is wondering about that.

He recently asked newsmen whether anyone had started a national "pool" on guessing the exact number.

Official figures for the nation won't be released until next fall, possibly in October. But the statisticians who play the "number game" at the Census Bureau are betting on 179,918,794.

They say the final figure could be off by 100,000 or 200,000 but doubt that it will vary more than that.

Approaching Eastertide.....

GLORIOUS is the only word for the beauty this time of the year with the forsythia in full blast at its job of blooming the prettiest forsythia we have seen this season is the one at the south corner of the house at 2215 Russell, the Pat Ingrams. It has long sprays solid yellow with blossoms, radiating from a solid yellow ball of blossoms at the base. Not the long, drooping stems of lots of the forsythia around and there never was a prettier time of the year for the yard at the Demaris Holts, on Charles. Oh, Spring.

MORE LITTLE notes on spring posies, if you don't mind. We drove by to feast our eyes on the beautiful grass at the E. C. Sidwell's. It is so green this time of the year, when no one else's ordinary grass has begun to green up. By next week Inez Carter's back yard and the grove of fruit trees at the Bill Fraser's should be in glorious blossom. You had better keep track of both to see the display at the proper time and while you are at it, go look at all the pretty green shrubbery that Dan and Gladys Forsha have in their front yard. They live out on Chestnut and then turn the corner and drive past Ralph and Faye Sidwell's to see their red tulips and pink and violet hyacinths. And if those mentioned flowers are long gone by the time you get there, there will be many thousands of others to make a Sunday afternoon drive an experience in Plains' Spring Beauty.

WONDER IF Dr. Frank Kelly is wearing a butter-yellow (the latest Spring fashion color) tie these days, to match the blossoms around town. We remember a year or two ago, he sported such a tie, and a hat-band to match, and received our vote of the best-dressed around. Another sign of warming weather is the presence of hundreds of little boys playing baseball on the lots of Stephen F. Austin School, Lions Park, Kiwanis Park and Fisher Panhandle Grainery, where tryouts for Little League were being held last week and the sports news on radio and TV is beginning to be filled up with baseball items. The change of seasons would be apparent to a blind man if he listened to the sportscasters. The four seasons are baseball, football, basketball, and track. So be it. Let's mark 'em that way on the calendar.

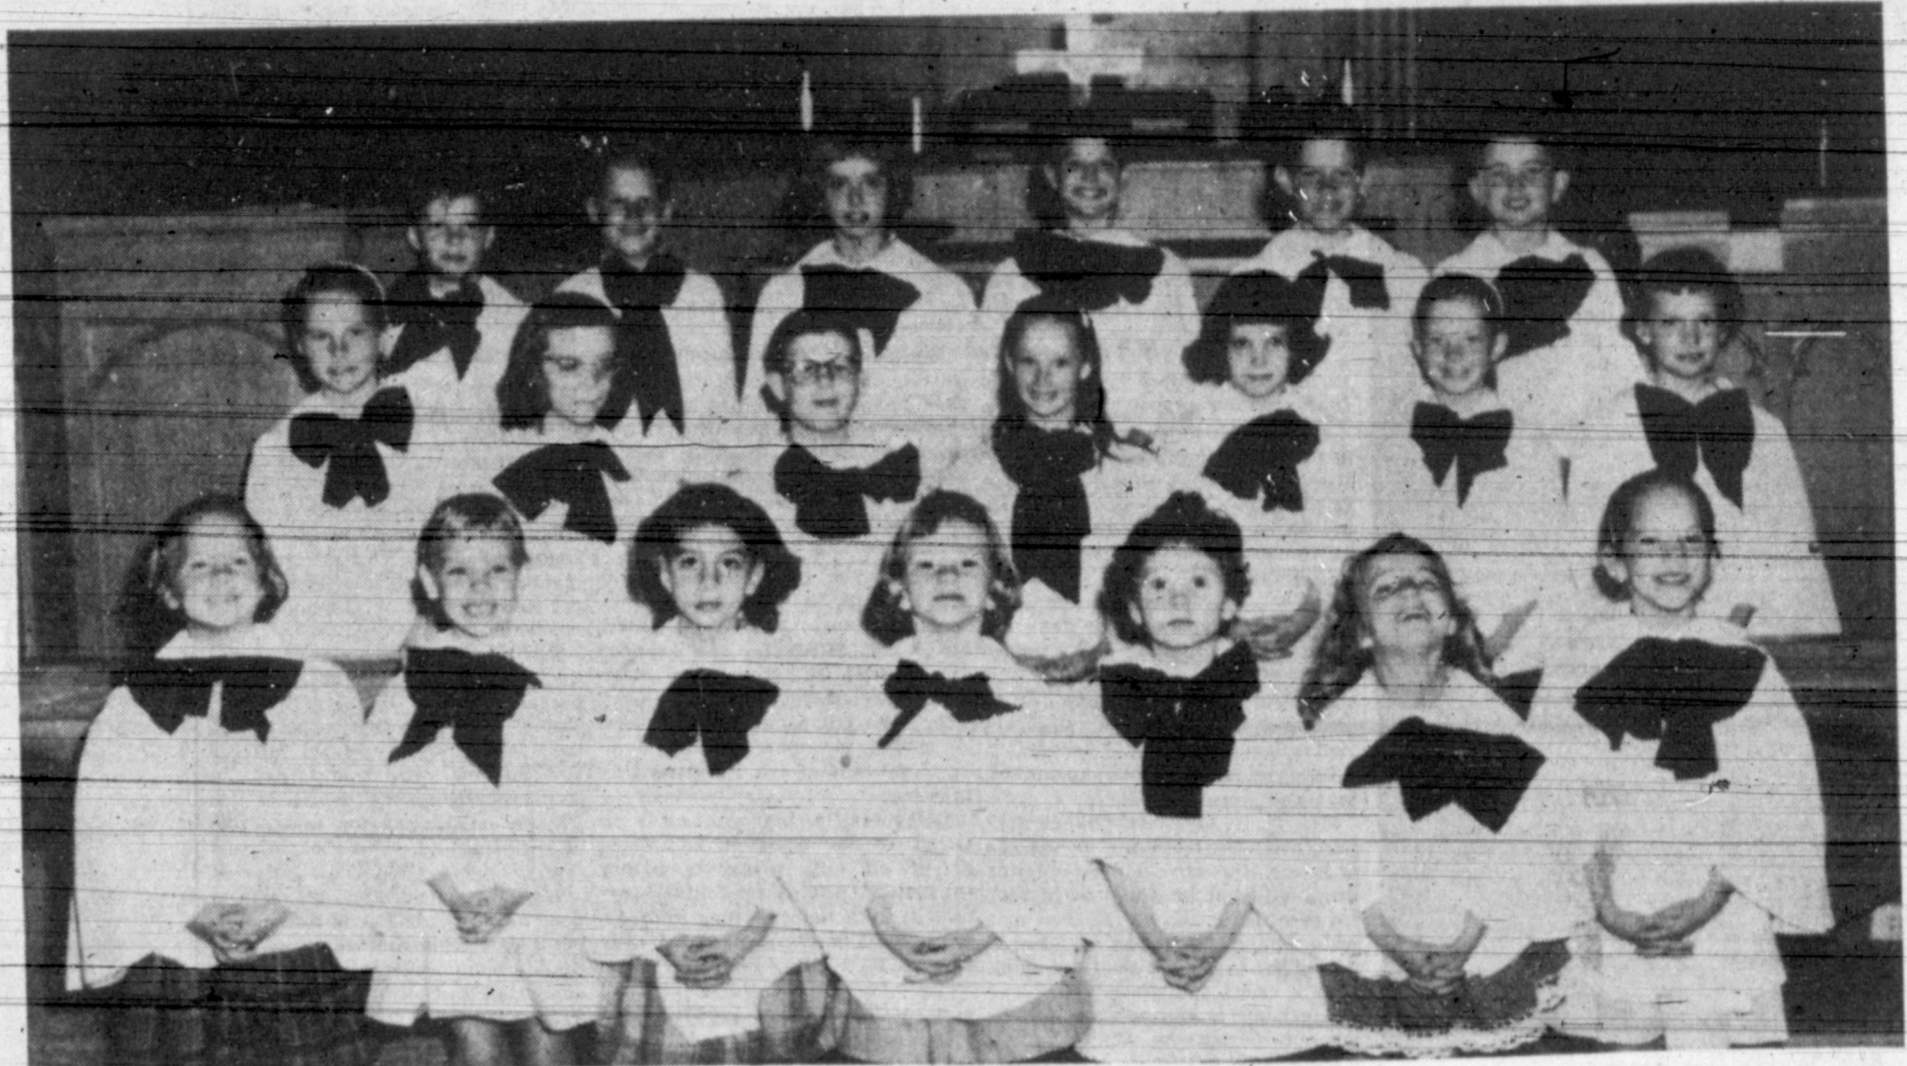

THE PAMPA ART CLUB held its annual Guest Day Tea and exhibition last Sunday. And there were so many beautiful things on display that members have made during the past months, that we can't begin to tell you all. But we will comment on a few things which struck our fancy. First of all, the beautiful madonna mosaic done by Viola Dogget, which hung at the end of the room. One of the most beautiful mosaics we have seen. And it aroused much delighted comment from guests. Then the contour glass ashtrays made so beautifully by Honey Hart. One lovely sea-green one we liked. It seemed almost as if there were sea-spray on top of it. And a delightful portrait in enamel on copper, done in pinks and yellows by Peggy Palminter. And speaking of Peggy, the piece de resistance of the show was her "Spring Hats". Little blobs of colored glass on stiffs, labeled appropriately. The end result of a glorious experiment that went kerplunk! A marvelous touch and for sheer beautiful design, you couldn't match the silver and wood and stone jewelry of Ruth Nenstiel. Amongst the paintings were a beauty of battles by Mary Hills. And one titled "Gulf Coast" by Lorene Johnson, with a lonely bird surveying the ocean. And the blues and grays of fishing boats by Mary Hills also. We were happy to greet Ruth Nenstiel who poured coffee for guests, and to take a few of the little cakes and cookies to enjoy while looking at the pretties. And a unique idea for backgrounds to display some of the bottles and dishes were the cardboard, or pressed paper pulp apple dividers which were sprayed in bold black and gold and wired together to make small screens. They looked absolutely elegant. And would be marvelous foils for contemporary flower arrangements. It's an idea you may like to try. Leone Davies and Ruth Nenstiel, we understand, did most of the arrangement of the exhibit. Excuse us if we have missed an important name, but that was the best info we could overhear. We know all the members worked hard on the thing, but it takes one or two to coordinate!

POTPOURRI Majunta Hills' newest baby is a darling little girl, who looks just like her mama, and has been named Majunta Jo. She has Majunta's dark coloring and hair. A nice addition to the family of beautiful children she and Forrest have. Some sixty little members of the library Story Hour, held each Thursday, will have an Easter Egg Hunt this coming week. We noticed the charts of attendance on display at the library last week, with their bright stars pasted on for every story hour attended. We hadn't realized the group was quite so large. We are happy to see so many take advantage of the stories and games each week. The decorations at the basketball banquet held a week ago last Thursday were simply fabulous. You had to be there to catch the overall beauty that was heightened with so much school spirit. The green and gold Harvester colors were carried out in the coronation dress of Queen Donna Herr, who was dressed in a pale yellow formal, and her attendants, Carolyn Hudson and Betty Sprinkle in emerald green. The background brass screening covered with green grass carpeting, sprinkled with pink, white, and yellow hyacinths. And the scene was lighted with six wrought-iron candelabra and two huge topiary trees. Phillip Gist escorted the Queen, and Joe Timms and Craig Winborne escorted Betty and Carolyn, respectively. Mabel Torvie was in charge of the arrangements. The dining tables were decorated with little gold-sprayed harvest trucks, filled with typical harvest-time shocks of wheat and tiny basketballs. Huge shocks of wheat centered with a golden basketball and with yellow mums encircling the bases completed the decorations for one of the most memorable evenings in Harvester history. And just wait until next year!

WE SIMPLY must not forget to tell you that the Community Concert membership drive will soon be swinging into action. Board members tell us that no membership renewal letters will be sent out this year, as has been done in previous years. But memberships may be purchased from those who sold them to you last year. Thought all you Pampa "First Nighters" would like to have that bit of information.

VISITING IN our city are Mrs. S. J. (Celia) Marshal, Jr., and her cute little one-year-old son, Joey. They are guests from Dallas of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Davis. Celia is Mrs. Davis' sister. (parenthetically, we saw the Davis' busy, busy last week moving their DavCo toy shop to its new and larger quarters. And hanging their big sign up). Celia has commented that she loves to visit here where the sun shines so much (at least it has been since she arrived!). So she can return to the dark and damp East with a sun-tan. Macie Pickett has reported to her friends here that she is living on a lovely hillside in a two-story "inconvenient barn of a house" while awaiting the building of the new home on the family farm. Her address is Route 2, Bastrop, La. Twenty-five or thirty guests, family and old friends, surprised Horace with a birthday coffee party recently. And she says her pantry is overflowing with vegetables and fresh eggs, and all the wealth of goodies a farm community is able to provide. By the way, we reported some months ago that she has sold an article about the work done by Pampa members of the First Christian Church. Well, the article is now published in THE CHRISTIAN, available at the church, and many Pampons are mentioned. You might like to look it up. That's all we have room for.

Love, Peg

Special Music

Easter Bonnet

New Spring bonnets will be blossoming out all around the city on Easter Sunday morning. Selecting the just-right bonnet to complement a costume is matter of great import to fashionable matrons, who plan to be in the traditional Easter parade. Mrs. Robert K. Swanson, pictured here, is facing the dilemma of which of the lovely hats to choose for the Easter parade as well as for her appearance at Twentieth Century Cotillion's Fashion-Luncheon on Monday in Coronado Inn.

Busy Days Ahead

Easter Bunnies this week will be busy blending paints, consulting color charts and conferring with Mather Hens to insure an adequate supply of eggs for the annual trip to Bunny Believers' homes, around the city, to deliver Easter baskets. Symbolic of this childhood fantasy is the Easter Bunny pictured above. "Bugsy" was formerly owned by Danny Fain, who received him as an Easter gift last year, but now is owned by Donny's mother, Mrs. W. T. Fain, who received him as a gift from her son on Mother's Day.

Easter Lilies

A pretty girl is as pretty as an Easter Lily and substantiating this statement is Miss Janet Osborne, who is posing here surrounded by the age-old symbol of Easter, the lily. Through the ages, the fragrance of lilies has been sought as perfume and many have cherished the beautiful flowers for their marvelous powers of healing and joy. Lilies are symbolic of peace and happiness to all. One story has it that a troubadour once sang of a knight whose manner was always sad until his wife, searching for a cure, found a lily of purest white and pressed it to his brow. The knight smiled and forever after, his household was a happy one. The Easter Lily plant is a perfect symbol for the beautiful Easter season.

Mrs. Wyeth Lee Baten

Nuptial Vows Said By Thompson-Baten In First Methodist Sanctuary Service

The wedding of Miss Lois Ann Thompson and Wyeth Lee Baten of Denison was performed in double ring rites at seven o'clock on March 12 in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in Texarkana.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Thompson of Texarkana. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M. A. Dalrymple of Lefors and the late Mr. Dalrymple.

The Rev. J. A. Chapman performed the ceremony before an altar enhanced with matching triangular arrangements of white gladioli and Easter lilies. Flanking the altar were nine-branch brass candelabra of pyramid design which held white tapers. Tall floor standards of white gladioli and Easter lilies were placed at the ends of the choir loft, while other seven- and five-branch pyramid candelabra with burning tapers were effectively used against a background of jade palms. Pew seats for the families were marked with white satin ribbon. The couple knelt on a white satin prie-dieu for the closing benediction.

Nuptial selections were provided by Mrs. Otis Matthews, organist and included "Romance," "Wedding Bells" and "Andantino." Mrs. Matthews accompanied Buddy Coopwood, soloist, who sang "O Perfect Love."

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace and illusion tulle over white satin. The bodice featured long pointed sleeves and a tolle neckline with yoke embroidered with iridescent sequins topped with matching embroidered collar. The panel skirt was embroidered with sequined appliques of matching lace. Her finger tip Veil of Illusion

OLD-FASHIONED CHARM

... in a new-fashioned home, sounds contradictory, doesn't it? But it isn't really. Your home can be as up-to-date as tomorrow, yet reflect all the mellow charm of bygone days when you plan it around a Provincial theme. One of the prime advantages of a Provincial decorating theme offers is the lavish and almost unlimited use of color. This is furniture has been added to create a setting of warmth, easy friendliness and inviting hospitality. These organic colors were later duplicated in paint and combined with organics to form pleasing, colorful backgrounds to complement Provincial furnishings. This had been successfully accomplished in the living room sketched above. A warm, greyed-rose, picked-up from the tones in the natural bricks of the fireplace wall, has been used on the painted walls. This warmth has been tempered by the predominance of blue in the braided-rugs and upholstery covers. To this setting the ageless charm of maple is added to create a setting of warmth, easy friendliness and inviting hospitality.

Church Youth Present Panel For Association

"Our Town - Our Youth - Our Future" was the theme of the program presented by the church youth at a meeting last Wednesday at the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. The program was introduced by Mrs. Wade as follows: Susan Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kay; Mick...

Ashby, daughter of Dr. Charles Ashby; Tony Edmondson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edmondson; and Robert Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Greene.

Miss Kay spoke of the responsibility in the home of the parent and student which, in capsule form, she summed up with this Bible verse: "Love is patient and kind; love is not jealous or boastful; it is not arrogant or rude. Love does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrong, but rejoices in the right. Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things."

Mr. Edmondson recognized the student's responsibility in the school by saying, "Students cannot enroll in responsibility to their school for a semester; it is a continuous process and with each privilege, there is a parallel of responsibility." The Pampa Church Pilgrimage held last December by Kiwanis-sponsored Key Club was listed as a very successful attempt of the students to be a vital part of their community.

Miss Ashby stressed the need for students to attend church and church school. "Examples of the stewardship of students in my Church have been the aid my Fellowship class has given in redecorating furniture for the younger church school classes; for assisting with vacation Bible School; for promoting the African mission studies in March. Everyone agreed in later discussion that youth deserves the privilege of representation in the Church's governing body in recognition of their responsible stewardship."

Mr. Greene said, "Success of students in home, church and school relationships will be reflected in making a better community. The community organizes clubs for students to join and develop into future citizens of the city; the career clinic has been very rich in giving students a realistic view of their future hopes and plans; the proposed youth center might aid in some way, but it is not expected to be the answer to all needs of youth." Robert continued, "There is a need for qualified people to handle our youth so that not only punishment is given, but counseling is vitally needed to rehabilitate these wrong-doing and wrong-thinking youth."

Mrs. Stanley Brandt, following the question and answer period directed to the panel, with the worship service titled, "Jesus Care" (See CHURCH YOUTH, Page 20)

Plans Announced For Presbyterian Spring Meeting To Be In Plainview

Mrs. J. R. Salisbury, who will speak at Spring Presbyterian in addition to filling the synodical presidency April 19-20 was president of the National Council of Presbyterian Women's Organization and chairman of its Executive Committee for the 1954-55 quadrennium. She resigned her office as president of the Missouri Synodical Society to take up these duties upon being elected to this new office at the National Meeting of Presbyterian Women at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, in June 1954.

Activities in the Women's Association of Second Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) in Kansas City, Missouri have always taken precedence in Mrs. Salisbury's interests. In the past she has served as treasurer and president of her association and as treasurer and president of the Kansas City Presbyterian in addition to filling the synodical presidency. Interest in the mission of the Presbyterian church led her to visit mission stations in southwestern United States, both among the Indians at Ganado, Arizona, and Spanish Americans in New Mexico.

Mrs. Salisbury was born in Ulysses, a small town in Nebraska, and together with other members of her family was active in the local Methodist church while growing up. During her college years at the University of Nebraska she became a Presbyterian. As a student she was chosen a member of Pi Lambda Theta, professional teaching honorary society, and Phi Beta Kappa.

After her marriage, Mrs. Salisbury moved to Kansas City, Kan-

Mary Barker ... learning to communicate

Work In Phonics, Blends And Sounds Open New World For Deaf Children

The birds are coming back to the Panhandle. Did you hear them singing in the trees this morning? Mary Lynn Barker, eight, did not; she never has and probably never will.

Mary suffers from a severe hearing loss. She does not know very much about the wonderful world of sound about her. Of course, at times this proves advantageous. When noise and confusion are present in the school room, Mary is not conscious of that. She goes right on studying her lessons, doing her assignments, concentrating on the work at hand. She is doing second grade work in the special education class at Travis Elementary School and is a bright, attentive, diligent pupil.

Mary is an expert lipreader. In fact, she was about four years old before her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barker, realized she was almost deaf. She had talked as quickly as the average child, though perhaps not as clearly. Since Mary began wearing a special hearing aid last April, her pronunciation has improved, and she is able to hear most sounds within very close range.

Through the special education program, she is being given intensive work in phonics, blends, and sounds. Speech therapy is helping her pronunciation. Her ability to communicate and to be communicated with is greatly improved.

It is important for children, who do not hear, to be given the learning skills necessary for exploring the world about them. It is difficult to realize how much is learned through sound, and a child denied that ability must be taught to rely on his other senses to help him adjust to the world of communication about him.

Through special education programs this is being made possible. The support of the community as a whole is necessary for such a program to be successful. The proceeds from the Tour of Beautiful homes being sponsored by the Parent Education Club on May 7 will be given to aid this program.

Pampa matrons who are generously opening their homes for tours, are Mrs. Kirk Duncan, 2322 Duncan; Mrs. Wiley Reynolds, 1322 Charles; Mrs. Bill Arrington, 2111 Dogwood; Mrs. Julian Key, 1840 Firland; Mrs. R. E. Reid, 2712 Duncan.

Tickets are available through Parent Education Club members to Pampa club women at $1 each.

Ritual Of Jewels Held By Upsilon

Pledges of Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi participated in a Ritual of Jewels ceremony conducted by Mrs. Wiley Davis, president, in the City Club Room on Monday evening. Those taking the ritual were Mmes. Leo Casey, Tom Darby, Paul Howard, R. F. MacDonald, B. G. West, George White and Roy Whitcomb. Members assisting Mrs. Davis were Mmes. Earl Barnett, Bill Garrett, Ernest Fletcher, Betty Cooper, J. P. Adams and Bill Ellis.

During a short business meeting following the ceremony, Mrs. Davis read a letter from the Toastmasters Club announcing that they would sponsor a course in speech-making and inviting members interested to attend.

Mrs. Henry Gruben reported that the rummage sale was a success and expressed her appreciation to the members for their cooperation. Hostesses for the meeting were Madams Henry Gruben and Brandy Hudson. A centerpiece of a bird house set in grass and decorated with jonquils and violets on a white cloth embroidered with yellow flowers made an attractive Spring setting for the refreshment table.

Members attending other than those mentioned were Mmes. H. W. Bowerman, Bill Grant, June Griffith, S. Gene Hall, Charles Jenkins, Bill Jenkins, Max Louvier, W. H. Nichols, Jr., Jere Sanders, James School, C. S. Youngblood, Pat Watson and Miss Adelaide Williams.

Knowing your own type is one of several essential keys to good dressing. A large woman should never wear frills nor flowery hats. Neither should she stick to strictly tailored suits. Her best bet is a quiet femininity.

for Children," taken from Matthew 18:1-6.

The Fellowship of the Least Coin was dedicated by Mrs. Ocie Stewart in remembering the missionary from Hong Kong, Rayann Ma, followed by prayer and group singing of "Bless Be the Tie that Binds."

Mrs. Bruce Pratt led a prayer for all those listed in the Yearbook of Prayer for that day.

A business meeting was conducted by president, Mrs. John Nutting. Mrs. E. J. O'Brien's name was submitted by the nominating committee, and she was elected to fill the vacancy of Ecumenical Missions Secretary, after Mrs. W. M. Lemmons' resignation was accepted for that office.

Announcement was made of Fellowship Day in the Presbyterian Church on May 6 at 1 p.m. which is the regular meeting of the United Church Women of Pampa.

Mrs. Nutting announced that Spring Presbyterian will be held in Plainview April 19-20 and the theme will be "Declare His Wonderful Deeds." Mrs. J. R. Salisbury, past president of the National Council of Presbyterian Women's Organizations will be the main speaker. Mrs. J. E. McCrery of Pampa will lead the worship service.

Impressive Records Net FHA Honor

Misses Linda Robinson and Barbara Halley, Lefors High School juniors and Miss Paula Cumberledge, senior, will leave April 27 to attend the state meeting of the Future Homemakers of America to be held April 28-30 in Austin. A state degree for homemaking skill will be conferred in Austin's municipal auditorium during an afternoon session to be held April 29.

The honor was accorded the homemaking students by meeting requirements set out by the state degree committee of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America. To receive the state degree, the girls have complied with the requirements of personal goals, held responsible positions in school activities; participated in community activities, which contributed to better family life; have held responsible positions in FHA chapters; assumed responsibility in worthwhile activities in several areas of homemaking during high school, long enough to show definite improvement; have helped others in the community to understand the goals of a broad homemaking program.

Each candidate for the state degree has compiled a book-length record of her accomplishments for application of the state degree and each has already received a junior and chapter degree, which now makes her eligible for the state degree.

If you're making your first trip to the tropics, one thing that definitely should not go into your suitcase is a pair of short shorts. They are not worn on the street in most tropical islands and brand yourself a tourist when you turn out in them. A tourist with bad taste, that is.

Combine honey with orange juice for a doubly-nourishing pour-over for breakfast waffles or pancakes. The children will love it.

If your feet and ankles tire during the day, remove your shoes. Then rotate your ankles about 10 or 12 times while sitting. Also wriggle and stretch your toes. This not only strengthens the muscles but also relaxes tired feet.

Why Install a Gas Light?

If you are a home owner who takes justifiable pride in the appearance of his property... if you have a regard for the convenience and safety of folks who come to see you... and if you have a keen sense of economy as well as for things functional... then a Gas Light will be a satisfying addition to your yard.

Neighbors welcome its glareless illumination... insects give its soft, mellow glow a wide berth. And regardless of the architectural style of your home, gas lights provide an indefinable "something" that adds noticeably to the appeal of any residence, at an amazingly small cost of operation.

Why not call Pioneer tomorrow and find out all the details about Gas Lights? Special Budget Prices start at just $49.50, installed.

Dunlap's INTRODUCES THE Optional Credit Plan

An All-New Concept in Credit Service

We believe that your charge account should be a real convenience to you. You have a right to expect of us a credit plan which has flexibility, adaptability to your personal needs, which may vary at different times of the year.

The new OPTIONAL CREDIT PLAN is just that!... a 30-day account with flexible payment terms whenever you need additional time!

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS

When you receive your statement each month, you may pay your account in full just as you've done in the past... OR, if you want extra time, you may make payments of 1/3, 1/2 or even 2/3 of the balance. YOU make the decision... taking advantage of the optional terms only when YOU so desire. You may make a partial payment one month and pay in full the next.

* Minimum payment is 1/3 of balance owing, as shown on statement, or $10.00 whichever is greater.
If you choose to use the partial payment feature at any time, a small service charge will be added to the UNPAID balance. For example, if you paid $15.00 on a $60.00 account, the unpaid balance would be $45.00... The service charge added would be just 68¢. All cash payments and credits will be deducted before the service charge is computed.

HERE ARE ITS ADVANTAGES

- If your account has been carried heretofore as a regular 30-day account, without option terms, it was payable in full each month. Now you may, if you wish, send partial payment as outlined herein. No service charge is added if your account is paid in full by the 10th of the month following date of purchase.
- Your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT is always ready when you need it... even though you may choose to use its privileges only a few months a year.
- You'll need no other "Special Credit Plans"... your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT has all the features of ALL special credit plans.
- You needn't come in to make "extra" arrangements for "extra" credit... your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT is automatic.

ANY QUESTIONS?

MAY I TAKE LONGER THAN 30 DAYS TO PAY MY BILL AT DUNLAP'S?

Yes indeed! That's the main point. You may take a longer period any month or months that you wish... even up to several months for this month's purchases.

DO I NEED TO CALL THE CREDIT OFFICE WHEN I WANT "EXTRA" TIME?

No, your OPTIONAL ACCOUNT is automatic.

CAN I USE THIS AS A TIME PAYMENT ACCOUNT FOR EXTRA LARGE PURCHASES?

Yes, that's one of the reasons you'll enjoy OPTIONAL CREDIT... it's a 30-day account when you want it as such, or an extended terms account when you desire.

WHAT MUST I DO TO CONVERT MY ACCOUNT TO THE OPTION PLAN?

Nothing. All Dunlap's accounts now have "optional terms".

Gingham Influence To Be Introduced To Fashion World By U.S. Designers

NEW YORK (UPI)—I'll take some doing to make all of us dames look as sexy as Brigitte Bardot, but the U.S. fashion industry certainly is busy with the project.

Take first the gingham influence. When the French actress was wed to Jacques Charrier, she wore gingham and within weeks French women were gingham-made. The passion spread across the Atlantic and this spring, this old-fashioned fabric is worn by customers of all ages and in every type of apparel from bathing suits to evening dresses.

Now, Miss Bardot's influence will be even more direct. She has endorsed numerous apparel items, and her American representative, Jay Emmett, who has a merchant-dising organization, is signing up more manufacturers by the week. The first manufacturer to get the Bardot label was the Lovabre Brassiere Co. Bardot bras went on sale this week on the West Coast and by mid-April will be national, said Arthur Garson, president.

Garson said Miss Bardot assured—his representatives—she wore this intimate apparel item, although most movie goers are more apt to visualize her draped provocatively in a Turkish towel. According to Garson, Miss Bardot commented, "In everyday life, I am like every other girl. A bra is like lipstick. No woman who values her looks would be seen without either."

"We believe her," said Garson. "We expect this year to sell 1.5 to two million items with the Bardot label," said Garson. The actress also endorsed three combination sleepwear-joungewear sets in gingham check for top form—one of them with pants brief enough for a company spokesman to call them a "ruffled G-string," hosiery and leotards from Rudin & Roth; and sun glasses from Rayex.

And Emmett said that endorsement of dresses, blouses and bathing suits are in the talking stage. Emmett said numerous manufacturers wanted to capitalize on the star's popularity but "we intend to keep things basically at the fashion level."

"We won't take towels."

"This girl is a 36-C. and I doubt if she'd dress without one."

For Garson's firm, Miss Bardot also has endorsed a line of girdles, garter belts, panties, and outer bra and pants set for beach wear.

"We expect this year to sell 1.5 to two million items with the Bardot label," said Garson. Goodwill Home Demonstration Club Discusses Spring Luncheon Plans

Plans for a spring luncheon were discussed at a meeting of Goodwill Home Demonstration Club held recently in the home of Mrs. W. E. Autry Jr., 1424 N. Russell. Plans were also discussed for a meeting to be held April 19 in the home of Mrs. Boyd Mauls for the purpose of making satin pillows.

Mrs. Diamond presented a program on Gladoli and discussed the selection of corn, planting care, fertilizer and soil that bulbs should have for healthy, beautiful flowers.

The next meeting will be held with Merten Home Demonstration Club in the County Agent's office on April 15 at 9:30 a.m.; a guest CHINA PAINTED LAMP — Mrs. S. B. Sybert, left, admires the lamp made by Mrs. Cecil Shirley at the Art Show staged Tuesday by Pampa Art Club. Mrs. Shirley created the lamp, which is lighted from within to show off the lattice-work cutouts in the base. A turquoise base shades into pink with sculptured flowers and a Bird-of-Paradise to reflect an object of beauty. The color was airbrushed and finished with china painting. Unable to find a shade to complement the base, Mrs. Shirley fashioned one herself from pleated nylon taffeta.

Pampa Art Club Has Guest Day

Pampa Art Club entertained with an Guest Day on Tuesday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library. Guests were invited to the informal afternoon to browse around and view the objects of art which members had created during winter morning and afternoon workshops.

Guests were served from a table highlighted with an arrangement of driftwood arranged with yellow jonquils, gray pussy-willows, grape hyacinths, forsythia and lemon leaves lighted with tall gray tapers and a mock Robin of Spring forming the center of interest. The arrangement reflected again in a mirror base was created by Mrs. James McCune assisted by Mrs. Herman Hanis, a newcomer to the city.

Past presidents of the club presided at the coffee service.

Members of the hospitality committee were Mrs. A. C. Cox, chairman, and Mrs. L. E. Jackson.

During the social hour, the hostess showed slides taken at the Going Away Party given for Mrs. George Perkins.

Attending were Mrs. W. E. Autry, A. P. Coombes, Leland Diamond, Ray Frazier, Lee Jackson, Boyd Mauls, Kenneth Roys and John Osborne.

showed specific situations where Jesus used the Bible, when making important decisions as he used the Bible in reference to himself, God's Power and Love from the book of Luke. A poem, "Our Faith Small" was read. Meeting closed with silent prayer followed by repetition of the Lord's Prayer.

Refreshments were served during the social hour. Attending were Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, W. R. Campbell, A. B. Carruth, C. E. Boswell, W. H. Burden, Myrtle Darsey, Price Doster Sr., W. R. Ewing, J. E. Gilbert, H. E. Hamm, Lola Harper, Bob McCoy, George Nelson, Helen Knox, Joe Shelton, Fred Thomas, Charles Wooley, and a guest, Mrs. B. L. Perry, mother of Mrs. W. J. Carter.

CIRCLE SIX

CIRCLE SIX met in the church parlor with Mrs. M. Q. Wilson and Linton Bradford as hostesses. Mrs. Coy Palmer conducted a brief business meeting. It was decided not to meet on April 11 because of pre-Easter church services. Mrs. Palmer discussed "The Man Who Brought Us Christmas"; Mrs. Don Duggan reported on "Luke, The Musician." Mrs. John Brewer, study leader, discussed scripture in Luke and dismissed the group with an inspirational Thought For the Day. It was announced that the next meeting will be April 25 with Mrs. William Oler and Mrs. Fred Martin as hostesses.

Guild Continues Study Of Luke

The study of Luke was continued under the leadership of Mrs. Ina Smith at a meeting of Wesleyan Service Guild held Monday in the home of Miss Ila Pool. Miss Alice Gordon and Mrs. Grace Boston were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Smith was assisted in the study by Mrs. Lillie Mae Fowler, J. M. Turner, Misses Alma Wilson and Inez Clubb. Portions of the sermon "Mount" were discussed with a recording of "The Lord's Prayer" used for closing.

During the business session, reports were given by members who attended the District Conference held in Borger on April 3. All nine units in the district were represented, including seven members of the First Church, Pampa, it was reported.

Mrs. Smith appointed Mrs. Sherman White, Mrs. Turner and Miss Minnie Allen to the nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the new year.

Members attending, not previously mentioned, were Mrs. B. E. Ogden, L. E. Panick, Harold Wright, W. B. Fountain, Malcolm Denison, Aubrey Jones and Lillian Mullinax.

The next guild meeting will be on April 15 in the home of Mrs. Sherman White, 610 N. Frost.

This is the season for short white cotton gloves. But remember, they serve their purpose only when they are washed after EACH wearing.

RUTH MILLETT

A bridge expert has come to our town, and suddenly bridge-playing wives are almost impossible for their husbands to live with.

It's like this: The wives are all taking lessons from the self-appointed genius and the husbands, who haven't time for lessons, are all taking lessons from the self-appointed genius and the husbands who haven't time for lessons, are finding out that they can't possibly do anything right at the bridge table.

Let good old George bid and make six spades and instead of getting a smile of approval from his bride and marriage partner, he now gets a lecture.

Every such lecture either begins or ends with "Mr. Jones

Peggy Shannon Is Bride Of W. G. Campbell

WHEELER (Sp) — Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Peide announce the marriage of their daughter, Peggy Shannon to William G. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Campbell of Shamrock.

Doubling ceremony was performed Saturday afternoon in the First Christian Church of Shamrock, with Rev. Leneral Jones, uncle of the bridegroom, performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Pat Trimble, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Best man was Bill Campbell, uncle of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a light blue and white polished cotton, with elbow-length sleeves, and a full pleated skirt.

The church was decorated with white gladoli stock and candles. Miss Kitty Lynn Hibler played the traditional wedding march and throughout the ceremony played "Always."

The bridegroom is employed by Moran Brothers Drilling Co. He attended school in Shamrock. Mrs. Campbell attended school in Wheeler and attended Daughon's Business College in Amarillo. At the present she is employed as a census enumerator.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are making their home at 610 North Madden in Shamrock.

Appetites Soar When Diners Dine In Rooms At Dizzying Heights

By GAY FAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) — Dining or winning at dizzy heights rapidly is growing into an international fad.

San Francisco long has had its Rainbow Room and Paris its Eiffel Tower with spectacular views of the surrounding city.

Now, the nation which made world famous the custom of eating in a cellar (The Ratskeller) also has produced a restaurant among the highest in the world.

It occupies two glass-enclosed floors of a four-story circular tower.

And since the husbands don't even know Mr. Jones they are stumped for an answer.

The lecture is even worse when poor old George makes six when he bid only four. Then the finesse that worked is forgotten and so is the even break on a side suit. If George had bid his hand properly, according to Mr. Jones' rules, the proper contract would have been reached.

It's downright amazing to see how these husbands who are successful enough so that their wives have the time and money for bridge lessons can be so meek when their wives start quoting Mr. Jones.

"basket" setting like a bump on a skinny, white concrete shaft 408 feet high in Stuttgart's Television Tower. The Tower reaches to 694 feet.

One other floor of the basket is for a kitchen and food preparation section designed especially for the circular area, the other, for offices, television equipment and technicians.

The Tower is owned by the South German Broadcasting Co. It sits in a forested area on a hill high above the city and is visible on good days at least 50 miles away.

Max Schober, 50, is the head waiter at the Tower. His family for three generations has been in the restaurant business.

I dined at the Tower with a group of 20 persons on a "get-acquainted" tour of Germany.

The Tower annually draws one million visitors, and Schober said that the restaurant's guest list had included Russian diplomats, American millionaires and just plain folks from all parts of the world.

Strings On Treaty With East Germany

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Western Allies are reported willing to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the people there voting in a free election under international supervision say they want it that way.

Authoritative sources said this will be the reply of the United States, Britain and France to Soviet Premier, Nikita Khrushchev if he repeats at next month's summit conference his demand for separate peace pacts with the two Germanies.

The idea of calling Khrushchev's hand was said to have originated with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who doubts seriously that the Soviet leader will agree to such a procedure when the chips are down.

Even as he does, American officials are convinced that the East Germans would reject the idea of separate treaties if they could express their choice free from Soviet pressure.

The approach admittedly contains some elements of chance but the United States apparently has convinced its allies that the West has more to gain than lose by gambling on this one.

Khrushchev repeatedly has demanded separate treaties with the two Germanies—the Soviet-occupied East and the pro-Western federal republic headed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The Allies have consistently rejected this, insisting that there should be a single peace treaty with a reunified Germany brought together through free elections supervised by an impartial commission.

Western policies and strategy for the summit conference which opens May 16 in Paris will be discussed here next week at a series of foreign ministers' meetings, beginning Tuesday and continuing through Thursday.
