

Negroes Win Test Case In Sit-In Fight

AUSTIN (UPI) — Because of a legal technicality, the Court of Criminal Appeals yesterday overruled heavy fines assessed four Marshall Negroes for participation in sit-in demonstrations and ordered prosecution dismissed.

An opinion by Judge K. K. Woodley explained that the Negroes had been charged under faulty information because the state failed to say whether the sit-in participants used violence or some other means of action.

Dad Releases Tot To Mom, Leaves Jail

DENVER (UPI) — William D. Anderson, 21, agreed to give custody of his three-year-old daughter back to his estranged wife — and got out of jail.

Anderson had been in jail since Nov. 1. He took his child from his wife, while Mrs. Anderson was in Texas visiting her parents. Anderson gave the little girl to friends.

County court ordered him to return the child to Mrs. Anderson, who had filed kidnaping charges against him in Waxahachie, Texas. Anderson would not say who had the child.

Teen-Aged Girl Flees Kidnapers

SULTAN, Wash. (UPI) — The 17-year-old daughter of a Sultan banker was abducted by two men yesterday and held for $25,000 ransom but she escaped in the kidnapers' automobile and returned home unharmed.

The girl, Hazel Irene Oelrich, apparently was kidnaped while she was on her way to high school this morning.

Her father, George Oelrich, manager of the Sultan branch of the First National Bank of Everett, told sheriff's deputies he received a telephone call at 2:15 a.m. telling him he had 20 minutes in which to put $25,000 in cash in a telephone booth at a gasoline service station in Monroe if he wanted to see her again.

Financial Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States has a do-it-yourself currency system that is the handiest, most flexible and by far the best money system yet devised by man, according to the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

This currency is the bank check. Americans will write about 13 billion checks this year, which would make a single stack 820 miles high, totaling close to $2 trillion.

More than 90 per cent of the total money transactions in this country are paid with checks, and the remainder paid with regular paper money and coin.

The big disadvantage of our modern checkbook money system, according to the bank's family economics bureau, is that it holds the same historic "easy money" inflation traps as printing - press paper money, and disguises them much better.

But at the same time it provides special weapons, not available in regular currency, for dealing with inflation.

Government paper money and coins, once put in circulation, can stay there indefinitely—usually until they wear out, the bureau said. But checkbook money is constantly being canceled when deposited, and then replaced in circulation by newly-written checks, which pass the money on.

Therefore, the bureau said, by using its powers which limit the amount of loans the nation's banking system can make, and by raising basic interest rates, the federal reserve can quickly apply strong brakes to the issuance and renewal of checkbook dollars.

This tends to reduce any excessive credit money in circulation and any accompanying threat of inflation. Such restraints usually are unpopular, the bureau noted, for many people enjoy the unhealthy glow of false prosperity which is actually milked from the value of their savings through inflation.

And, the report said, it is for this very reason that all consumers should understand how modern checkbook money inflation works, so that intelligent public support can be given to national policies which preserve the purchasing power of the dollar.

Credit, soundly used, is an invaluable force in the growth of the American economy. But the bureau said, if the government spends billions of dollars more than it takes in, and borrows from the banks to cover the deficits, it thereby puts billions of dollars of additional checkbook money into circulation.

And if our banking system offers too liberal, easy money lending policies to its customers, with low interest rates, this is an invitation to businesses to expand operations by means of borrowing and issuing more checkbook dollars.

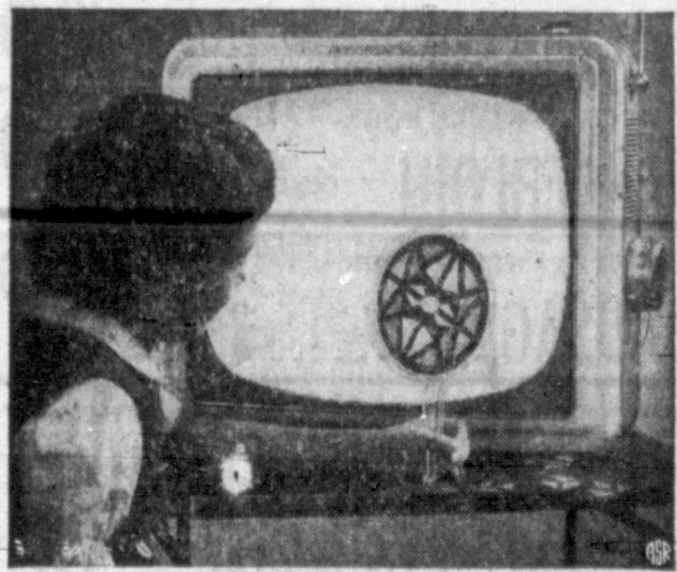

The bureau said it also invites and encourages consumers to put a larger proportion of their anticipated future earnings into circulation now, because of the easier terms which can be granted them by business.

Thus, it added, government deficit spending, and general easy money lending policies can pour a large volume of additional checkbook money into circulation to bid for labor and goods, with the same inflationary effects on costs and prices as if government printing presses were to pour a similar quantity of additional paper money into circulation.

And such inflation is soon accelerated by increased speculation in stocks, commodities and real estate, among others, in anticipation of the rising prices produced by easy money eras of the past. It is further aggravated by excessive build-up of top-heavy inventories of goods, in expectation of higher costs for labor and materials.

Franklin Pierce was U.S. president when the Republican party was founded at a meeting in Rindown, Wis., Feb. 28, 1854.

Kaleidoscope With A New Look

In many a youngster's mind, the Christmas season and a visit to Toyland are interchangeable, and the breathless anticipation that surrounds them both is boundless—matched only by the frustration puzzled parents often feel in looking for something new and intriguing to put in that Christmas stocking.

Children love toys which are colorful, which move or change, and best of all are toys which do all three. Perhaps this is why kaleidoscopes have always been a happy choice. This year, however, this popular toy has a new look in tune with modern living. It's a kaleidoscope wheel.

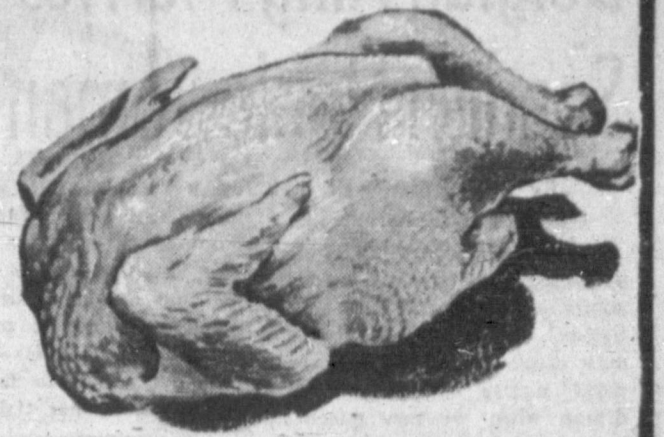

Called by its manufacturers the first new idea in kaleidoscopes in fifty years, the new toy is based on the scientific principle of the stroboscope. By making use of the 1800 electronic scanning lines per minute on any television set, the wheel can produce literally thousands of color patterns and designs.

The toy consists simply of a molded clear plastic wheel and a set of four interchangeable discs made of heavy gauge polystyrene film. As easy to use as it is fascinating, the wheel is operated just by slipping one of the colored discs in place and turning on the television set to any channel. Either a picture or the blank but lighted screen may be used. The wheel is held at arm's length about three or four inches from the screen, given a rapid spin, and a panorama of flashing colors and designs unfolds on the whirling discs. Changing discs creates a whole new set of designs.

The kaleidoscope wheel is moderately priced and available at toy counters everywhere.

U-2 Spy Case Second

Kennedy's Election Is Year's Top Story

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy's election as the first Roman Catholic president of the United States topped this year's list of 10 biggest stories, announced today by United Press International.

No. 2 of the "ten biggest news stories of 1960" — selected by UPI editors of the United States and Canada — was the downing of the U2 spy plane by Russia and its aftermath in the summit collapse and trial and sentencing of pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Two stories tied for third place: The 15th session of the United Nations General Assembly attended by Khrushchev, Castro, Nasser and other heads of state; and the gaining of sovereignty by the Congo, setting off a wave of violence.

The list follows:

1. Kennedy's election.
2. U2 incident and aftermath; summit collapse and Powers trial.
3. (tie) 15th session of United Nations General Assembly, and Congo.

5. Cuba.
  6. Japan cancels Ike's visit.
  7. Caryl Chessman executed.
  8. Negro sit-ins.
  9. Hurricane Donna.
  10. Pirates win World Series.
- In choices after the first 10, the editors, representing hundreds of UPI subscribing newspapers, balanced a tie for 11th— Princess Margaret's wedding and the Chilean earthquake.
- The firing of a Polaris missile from a submerged submarine by the United States was 13th; Russian-Chinese disagreement on co-existence policy was 14th, and the capture and holding for trial by Israel of Nazi executioner Adolf Eichmann was 15th.

"Someone put bubble bath in it!"

Texas Due More Bad Weather

By United Press International. Don't put up your overcoats and rain slickers. There's a new siege of bad weather zeroed in on Texas.

A new mass of cold knifed into the Panhandle and West Texas Plains today. The leading edge of the cold air was along the Childress-Lubbock line. The swift-moving front was expected to surge to the Gulf of Mexico by Friday.

The lowest pre-dawn temperature was 27 degrees at Childress where the frigid fingers of the cold front were felt. High was a 43-degree reading at Brownsville. Skies cleared over the state Wednesday and temperatures warmed to the highest readings in nearly two weeks. Sunshine made puddles of the snow and ice blanket in West Texas, the Panhandle and Big Bend country.

But it was only a breather, the weatherman said.

North of Texas, the front produced a violent winter storm. It was whipped along by strong northerly winds with gusts up to 58 miles per hour through the Dakotas and Minnesota. The Weather Bureau warned of "considerable" blowing and drifting snow.

A rather weak disturbance in the western Gulf managed to spread some light rain during the night across the southern half of Texas and along the Gulf Coast to Florida.

The Weather Bureau said the cold Canadian front would skid temperatures in the northwest to night, and start the mercury sliding in all other sections by Friday and Friday night as it shoves southeastward across the state.

For the first time in days, maximum temperatures Wednesday across the state all were above freezing. The coldest was 38 at Lufkin and the hot spot was 58 at Presidio.

Fog restricted visibility to less than one mile in portions of North Central, and South Central Texas and along the Texas Coast today.

Rainfall amounts for the 24-hour period ended at 8 a.m. today included Houston 1.12, Galveston 1.28, Beaumont-Port Arthur .92, Corpus Christi .28, Laredo .01, Victoria .08, Austin .08, and San Antonio .08.

Save Bean Can Lids For Yule Decorations

By PAUL PHILLIPS United Press International
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The next time you open a can of beans, don't throw the lid away. Use it for part of your Christmas decorations.

Mrs. Jesse Sewell has come up with the idea of using the lids to trim the Christmas tree and add a sparkle to the Yuletide wreath.

Mrs. Sewell made a wreath this season decorated with roses made from the tops of tin cans. Each small rose contains three lids and each large rose has five.

Mrs. Sewell explains you first pick out a size rose to suit yourself and start with the smallest lid you have. Punch two holes near the center with an ice pick and cut three to five petals with tin snips, depending upon whether the lid is small or large.

Bend a wire in the shape of a hairpin and pull the ends through the two holes in the top. Add progressively larger tops until you get the size rose you want, then with pliers, bend the petals in the form of a rose.

Mrs. Sewell recommends rounding off the edges with tin snips before assembling the rose whether placed on a tree or wreath. If it is to be painted, she advises spraying after it has been placed into its final shape.

Her own wreaths are composed of tin roses sprayed with gold paint, dried hydrangea blossoms, pine cones, ribbon and boxwood soaked in one-third glycerine and two-thirds water until preserved.

For Christmas tree ornaments, simply cut the edges with tin snips and pull up every other edge with pliers to get a zig-zag effect. Mrs. Sewell pastes a colorful holiday picture, perhaps from an old Christmas card, on one side of the lid.

There are several ways to make your own table-size Christmas tree but the easiest and most inexpensive is with wire mesh about two feet square, and a broom stick.

Mrs. Sewell says stretch the wire mesh flat, stretch a piece of string 21 inches long from one corner, forming an arch or quarter circle, to the opposite end. Cut the wire along the path of the end of the string, wire the two sides together and your tree is made.

Spray the form with the same color paint used in making your rose decorations. The tree will stand 21 inches high and will have a diameter at the base of 10 inches. The broom stick, inserted from the bottom, will hold the tree upright but it probably should be set on plaster of paris.

Mrs. Sewell has one other suggestion. That is, the prettiest tops have gold inside and can be sprayed any color desired.

During the rest of the year, Mrs. Sewell uses complete cans as flower containers by covering them with spray-painted cardboard.

Climax Merry Morning With Christmas Brunch

'Twas the morning following the night before Christmas. All through the house, not a creature was stirring except the whole family.

Gift paper and ribbons are piled high. The children, their cheeks rosy with excitement and their eyes agleam, play with their toys. Santa's bounty has been received with glee — and now it's time for a merry Christmas breakfast. The opening meal, on the most special day for the year, should itself be special.

However, Mom has a long day of cooking for the Christmas dinner ahead. Breakfast must be good but mustn't take up too much of her time. She can be grateful that most of the breakfast starts with time-saving canned foods — yet it can be a memorable meal.

First, the family gets a choice of canned juices. This year, try canned juices that you don't ordinarily serve at breakfast time. Try pineapple juice, a mixture of canned juices, or fruit nectars. Or you can float a few banana slices on canned orange juice.

Now canned hash reports for duty, but on Christmas morning it dresses for the occasion. The hash goes into little ramekins or custard cups, gets topped with an egg, and the whole is baked.

While the hash and eggs are baking, a Dutch Apple Cake goes into the oven. This delectable cake looks elaborate, takes just a jiffy. You start with prepared biscuit mix, add canned apples, brown sugar, and cinnamon. By the time the hash is ready, you'll have a spectacular pastry warm and fresh from the oven.

This merry Christmas breakfast will climax the merriest of Christmas mornings!

MERRY CHRISTMAS BREAKFAST
Assorted Canned Fruit Juices
Baked Hash with Eggs in Ramekins
Dutch Apple Cake

COFFEE YULETIDE
BAKED EGGS AND HASH
1 can (1 pound) corned beef hash
4 eggs
salt
pepper
paprika
butter or margarine
4 tablespoons milk

Line each ramekin dish with 1/4 of the corned beef hash. Break one egg into each dish. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika; dot each egg with butter; pour 1 tablespoon of milk over each egg. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until of desired doneness.
YIELD: 4 servings.

DUTCH APPLE CAKE
2 cups prepared biscuit mix
4 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons melted shortening or salad oil
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 can (1 pound) sliced apples
Blend together prepared biscuit mix, sugar, shortening, egg and milk. Beat vigorously for 30 seconds. Turn into greased round 9x1 1/2-inch layer pan. Combine cinnamon, nutmeg, sugar and melted butter; blend until crumbly. Arrange drained apple slices on surface of cake; sprinkle crumb mixture over apples. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes.
YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Cabbage Rolls Are Brisk Day Fare

Brisk days call for suppers that are hearty, meat and potato-y. These Cabbage Rolls with their meat and potato filling are just such a dish.

Since the recipe calls for just one cup of mashed potato, new instant mashed potatoes are a special boon. It's very easy to make the exact amount of potato you need and never have any wasted leftover, simply by following the measurements given on the instant potato box. If you haven't tried instant mashed potatoes lately, you'll find them a revelation. Today's instant mashed potatoes are truly as light, fluffy and flavor some as the best you ever made. To begin with, steam or blanch twelve cabbage leaves and set them aside to cool. Blend a can of cream of mushroom soup with a half cup of water. Add the mashed potato, meat, eggs and seasoning. Place an equal portion of the meat and potato mixture on each cabbage leaf and roll them up. Place the rolls in a shallow baking dish, add a little water and cover with aluminum foil. Bake them in a moderate oven for one hour.

Serve with a tomato or mushroom sauce and you'll make six hungry people very happy.

MARTHA'S CHICKEN AND NOODLES. Here is a real heartwarmer of a main dish called Martha's chicken and noodles. It's exceptionally good because the noodles are cooked in chicken broth and evaporated milk making them deliciously rich and fine flavored. Extra nutritious with the evaporated milk this main dish is an excellent choice for a chilly winter's day.

Chicken N' Noodles Mainstay For Menu

You may wonder how a good old favorite like chicken and noodles can be improved on, but just try this recipe for Martha's chicken and noodles and you'll see. The "magic" ingredient in this recipe is evaporated milk. It's used along with chicken broth in cooking the noodles and the result is wonderfully flavorful and creamy smooth.

If you have some cooked chicken and broth on hand this is a wonderful way to use it up, but if not, canned chicken and chicken bouillon cubes can be substituted and the other ingredients — evaporated milk, noodles and dried parsley flakes — are also staples you can always keep at hand.

Chicken and noodles can be prepared all in one cooking pan and takes little time to prepare, but with all this convenience it's still a hearty and warming dish that makes a fine mainstay for a winter menu.

Martha's Chicken and Noodles
2 cups chicken broth
2 1/2 cups water
1 tall can evaporated milk (1-2-3 cups)
1 teaspoon salt
1 package medium noodles (8 ounces)
2 cups cooked chicken, cut in bite size pieces
2 tablespoons dried parsley flakes

Blend chicken broth, water, evaporated milk and salt in a large saucepan and bring to a boil over medium heat. Stir in noodles and continue cooking until thickened, about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. During last 5 minutes of cooking time stir in chicken pieces. Just before serving stir in parsley flakes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: If desired, 2 chicken bouillon cubes dissolved in 2 cups hot water may be substituted for chicken broth. Omit salt and proceed as above. Also two jars boned chicken (3 1/2 ounces each) may be used in place of cooked chicken.

Delicious Pie Boasts Tangy Cheese Flavor

If you are looking for a really distinctive variation of the always popular pie — one that has exciting taste appeal — let American blue cheese and dairy sour cream come to the rescue.

You'll find the subtle sharpness of the delicately-marbled blue cheese is in complete harmony with sweetened, lightly spiced sour cream. In combination they accentuate the goodness of sliced apples to make a surprisingly fine pie filling with the cheese providing an elegant note.

This is the kind of attractive, open-faced pie to serve for Sunday dinner and for parties.

Blue Cheese Apple Pie (eight-inch pie)
Pastry for single 8-inch pie shell
4 to 5 large baking apples, pared and cored
2/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)

Slice apples thin and arrange in pastry lined pie plate. Mix remaining ingredients together. Pour mixture evenly over apples. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes. Roll out any remaining pastry and cut designs with cookie cutter. Bake them on a cookie sheet in hot oven for 10 minutes. Place cutouts on top of baked pie. Serve pie slightly warm.

Plan Fast, Hearty Meals For Days When Busy With Holiday Shopping

Busy, busy is the entire holiday season! Perhaps the busiest time of all for most homemakers is the day before each gala event. That's the day she spends picking up last minute groceries, baking, and doing as much pre-preparation as possible for the holiday dinner.

Still, there's the usual evening meal to be prepared on this most hurried of all days.

This year, why not streamline that day-before-the-holiday supper with a simple, robust casserole that is just mixed and baked. Here's one, appropriately called a "Busy Day" casserole, that combines canned salmon noodles and canned soup.

It has a surprise ingredient of American blue cheese to give it a delightfully different, piquant flavor. Delicious morsels of the creamy, blue-marbled cheese go hand in hand with salmon for a filling nourishing one-dish meal.

Busy Day Blue Cheese Salmon Bake (Five-six servings)

4 package (4 ounces) noodles
1 can condensed cream of asparagus soup
1/4 cup water
1 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 1/4 ounces)
Dash worcestershire sauce
1-pound can salmon, flaked
Buttered cracker crumbs

Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender; drain. Heat soup with water over medium heat, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat.

To the soup add blue cheese, worcestershire sauce, salmon and noodles. Pour into buttered casserole. Sprinkle buttered crumbs over top. Bake at 350 degrees 35-40 minutes.

Holiday entertaining can be made easy with the new, frozen puff pastry shells. Bake them early in the day. At serving time, fill pastry shells with whipped cream or ice cream and garnish with frozen berries.

High Court Upsets Urban Renewal Rule

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Supreme Court ordered the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals yesterday to reconsider its ruling that declared part of the state's urban renewal law unconstitutional.

A group of Laredo residents headed by J. C. Richter contended an urban renewal election in Laredo Sept. 2, 1958 was void because the voting was restricted to property holders. Urban renewal was defeated in Laredo by a 2,072 to 1,885 vote.

The Civil Appeals Court threw out that part of the law which made property ownership a qualification for voting.

Laredo Mayor J. C. Martin Jr. led a group appealing the civil appeals decision to the Supreme Court.

Red Cross Plans Baby Care Class

The Pampa Chapter of the American Red Cross plans to start classes next month in Mother and Baby Care if there is sufficient demand for them.

Dr. T. D. Harvey, at a meeting of the Red Cross Board this week, urged expectant mothers to register with the Red Cross for the training classes.

Police Nab Pair By Tracking Them In The Snow

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Two suspected burglars, who wrecked their car during a police chase, were tracked down in the snow and captured yesterday by Wichita Falls police.

The chase started when police noticed a "whole back seat full of radios" in their car.

The car driven by the pair quickly outdistanced police but hit an icy spot in the road and flipped over on Farm Road 367 between Iowa Park and Electra. Both the men were injured but they struck out on foot in a half-inch of snow.

Some 15 minutes later police arrived and tracked the men down. Charges were withheld pending further investigation.

New Toys For Preschoolers

Next to a child's food, his playthings are probably the most important contributor to his steady progress in muscular and mental development, educators and psychologists agree. Research, in fact, has shown many of the same principles which apply to the feeding of babies also apply to play situations.

A thorough knowledge of those principles now has led one of the nation's leading baby food producers to enter the toy field by creating a totally new line of toys for the preschool child. Each of the new toys has been designed with a specific motor control in mind. Because a child moves from stage to stage rapidly, toys are also planned wherever possible to have several uses, giving them longer play life and leading the child positively into the next stage of development.

Typical of such toys are the Giant Alphabet Blocks pictured above. First they are a toy the infant can see and touch, later fit-together toys which help develop finger skills. To the toddler, they become a "stacking" toy, and finally to the preschooler, a "building" toy. Their play life thus lasts easily from infancy through the first four years.

In addition to the requirement that toys be well conceived and properly designed, there is still another requirement of particular importance to parents of infants—sanitation. To overcome parental anxiety on this score, the company is using an unusual new material. Surfaceless polyethylene, a recent development of one of the large chemical companies, contains a unique ingredient which combats bacteria on the surface of the toy, offering a positive health safety advantage. This property remains effective for the life of the toy and is especially effective as an active killer of the deadly staph organisms.

Baylor Choir To Sing Here Next Month

The Baylor University A Cappella Choir will present a special program Jan. 6 in Central Baptist Church. It was announced today.

This program will follow an extended tour of the West Coast that will begin Dec. 28, university officials said.

Other concerts are scheduled for Amarillo, Phillips, Childress and Wichita Falls.

While on the West Coast swing the group will witness the Tournament of Roses and attend the Rose Bowl football game between University of Minnesota and University of Washington.

Store At Graham Destroyed By Fire

GRAHAM, Tex. (UPI)—A fire destroyed a large food store in Graham Tuesday night, causing more than 100,000 damages. One fireman was injured.

What caused the blaze hadn't been determined. It broke out in the rear of a Safeway store and quickly spread throughout the one-story structure.

Firemen from nearby towns came to help keep the flames from spreading to flanking businesses.

Mystery Blast Rips Waco Home

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Two mysterious explosions ripped through a home and adjoining garage in Waco yesterday, injuring Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Crouch and two of their four children.

The force of the explosions was so intense a car sitting by the curb outside the house was blown across the street and bricks were torn off the house as though they were wooden shingles.

Every window in the house was shattered and the inside was extensively damaged.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The screen rights to J. B. Priestley's horror book "The Old Dark House" have been purchased by William Castle and it will be filmed for Columbia Pictures.

Before starting work on "The Old Dark House" Castle will finish work on "Homicidal" and then will produce two other mystery films, "Ghost Train" and "The Doomsday Men."

All In A Lifetime

PLEASE, PROFESSOR PEABODY, YOU'VE BEEN OVER-OVERWORKED—YOU NEED TO TAKE A LONG VACATION FOR AWHILE!

WELL, THAT'S IT! I WAS AFRAID THE OLD JALOPY WOULD BUST DOWN ONE OF THESE DAYS! OH, LARD! IT'S A DREAD-FULLY LONG WALK HOME! AW, YOU WON'T HAVE TO WALK, HILDA—

I COULD FORESEE SUCH A SITUATION AND TOOK NECESSARY PRECAUTIONS! YOU DO, LARDY! A COLD (BRRR!) SLED! WELL, I COULDN'T SQUEEZE A SPORTS CAR IN MY TRUNK!

I DON'T LIKE THAT NEW SALESMAN, MR. POTTS! HE'S MUCH TOO CONCERNED! MAYBE YOU'RE MISJUDGING HIM, SUSIE. AFTER ALL, A GOOD SALESMAN MUST HAVE LOTS OF SELF-APPRECIATION TO BE SUCCESSFUL! YES, MR. POTTS, BUT THIS ONE HAS SO MUCH! HE GIVES THREE HEAVY CHEERS EVERY TIME HE PASSES A MIRROR!

KAFF KAFF KAFF! THAT SETTLES IT! I'M GOING TO QUIT SMOKING RIGHT NOW! HEY, PAT... MAMA WENT CHRISTMAS SHOPPING—REMEMBER? HM! I BETTER WAIT UNTIL SHE GETS HOME—OR SHE'LL NEVER BELIEVE ME!

YAK! YA MISSED TH' BALL AGAIN, PETUNIA! IT'S A WONDER I EVER HIT IT—THESE PADDLES ARE SO SMALL! TOO BAD THEY DON'T MAKE 'EM KING SIZE! THEN MAYBE YA COULD GET TH' BALL BACK T' ME ONCE IN A WHILE! YAK! OKAY, SMARTY, SERVE!

WHEN! BOY, AM I TIRED! I'M JUST NOT AS YOUNG AS I USED TO BE. IT'S ABOUT TIME I CUT DOWN ON MY KNIGHT CLUBBING.

FRANKLY, DR. NOVAKS, I'VE HAD SOME ODDBALLS IN THIS LAB, BUT YOU'RE THE FIRST WHO WATCHED TV WESTERNS ON COMPANY TIME! IN VIEW OF YOUR ACHIEVEMENTS, I CAN OVERLOOK IT, BUT OTHER RESEARCHERS CLAIM YOU TURN IT SO LOUD THEY CAN'T CONCENTRATE! THOSE WEDDING FISHWIVES! VERY WELL, I HAP IT SENT HOME! ANYWAY, MY PROJECT IS FINISH!

I STILL CAN'T BELIEVE NINA WAS SUCH A MESS! I'M SURE GLAD I'M UNCOMPLICATED INSIDE! JILL, HONEY, THIS "A PLUS" ON YOUR SCIENCE PAPER IS TERRIFIC! THANKS DADDY! "UNCOMPLICATED," SHE SAYS! GOSH, YOU TWO ARE COMPLICATED JUST TO LOOK AT! I HATE TO THINK WHAT'S INSIDE!

YOU SHOULDN'T HOLD IT AGAINST SPOTLESS McPARTLAND JUST BECAUSE HE HAS A GERIA COMPLEX, WINTHROP! WHY DON'T YOU INVITE HIM TO JOIN THE FRIENDSHIP CLUB? WELL... OKAY. SPOTLESS, HOW'D YOU LIKE TO JOIN MY FRIENDSHIP CLUB? WE HAVE OVER ZOO MEMBERS. HOW CLEAN ARE THEY? 1-2-3-4-5-6....

WELL, AMOS, OL' JAKE AINT GONNA FORGET YOU JEST BECAUSE HE'S GOT MORE MONEY THAN THERE ARE COFFEE BEANS IN BRAZIL! I KNOW YOU DON'T WANT NO HANDOUT, SO JEST HAND ME THAT ANTIQUE CLOCK AN' THROWN IN THIS SHILLELAGH, AN' I'LL GIVE YOU $50! THROWN IN THE SHILLELAGH, HE SAYS! THAT MUST BE WHAT HE'S AFTER RATHER THAN THE WORTHLESS CLOCK! MY WORD, JAKE, YOU'RE A TRUE BROTHER AFTER ALL!—UM-HAK! I COULDN'T PART WITH THAT SHILLELAGH, BUT YOU CAN PURCHASE THE CLOCK FOR $50!—NO CHECKS!

BOY, I'VE BEEN LOCKING FORWARD TO THIS SHOPPING SPREE—ALL YEAR I'VE BEEN PUTTING MONEY INTO A CHRISTMAS CLUB, AND THAT MEANS I DON'T HAVE TO TOUCH MY REGULAR BANK ACCOUNT! WELL, RIGHT THERE YOU'VE TAKEN SOME OF THE JOY OUT OF MY CHRISTMAS BUYIN'—I HAD TO TAKE ALL MY SAVINGS OUT OF THE BANK! AN' YOU'VE BOTH TAKEN ALL TH' JOY OUT OF IT PER, HE— I'M USIN' BORROWED MONEY!

IF THAT'S ELSIE CRONK, TELL HER I'M MAD AND WON'T TALK TO HER! I'M SORRY, ELSIE, BUT COOKIE IS MAD AND WON'T SPEAK TO YOU! BANG! SHE HUNG UP ON YOU!

DOC IN 1835, SEEMS TO BE ENCOUNTERING NO DIFFICULTY! HMW! LOOKS LIKE HE FOUND HIS GRAMPA, BENJAMIN, FIRST CRACK! ...AND HE MUST HAVE GOT THE INFORMATION HE WANTED—HERE COMES THE MESSAGE! Oh, Oop, crank 'em back to 1000 Zillion, zillion, zillion!

BONNIE DID YOU SEE TODAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE? NOPE! WELL, IT'S MISSING! WHY ASK ME? WHAT WOULD I DO WITH IT?

IT'S THE DEED TO OUR HOUSE, DAD! I'LL MOVE OUT RIGHT AWAY SO THAT LORNA CAN HAVE IT REDECORATED WHILE YOU TWO HONEYMOON! WELL, WHAT DO YOU THINK OF MY WEDDING GIFT, LORNA? WHY, I— FURTHERMORE, DAD, I'M GOING TO GIVE YOU SOME STOCK IN THE FIRM!

THIS IS SERGEANT NOVAK STATE POLICE! I WANT TO GET SOME INFORMATION! OH, YEAH? WE WERE JUST GOING TO CALL YOU FELLOWS! WHY? WELL, WE'RE AFRAID ONE OF OUR CABS HAS HAD AN ACCIDENT—OR SOMETHING! THE DRIVER HASN'T REPORTED SINCE NOON!

—WE HAVE TO THINK OF OTHER THINGS NECESSARY FOR SURVIVING A FALLOUT BESIDES PROTECTING OURSELVES FROM IT— I'M AHEAD OF YOU! THERE'S A WASH-ROOM BEHIND THESE CURTAINS— WE HAVE ALL TH' THINGS SUGGESTED BY CIVIL DEFENSE— AND, DIXIE— YOU EVEN HAVE PRIVACY THIS IS WHERE YOU SLEEP— YOU'RE CUTE, PA— HOW LONG ARE WE GOING TO STAY HERE? OH— MESSIE A MONTH? A MONTH??

THIS YEAR I'M NOT ASKING ANYTHING FOR MYSELF, ONLY FOR OTHERS! AH, HA! OUR GIRL HAS THE TRUE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS! LIKE TO HEAR IT? SURE WOULD! Dear Santa: Please give some poor, lonely horse a home at our house...

ER, TH' FACT IS, OLD CHAP, I DON'T SEEM T'BE ABLE T'FIX 'TIS BEN! THIS IS SHASTLY NEWS, PENNYWORTH! GHASTLY INDEED! WHILE BRUMBY POSES AS HUMPHY, HUMPHY'S DISGUISE HAS GOT HIM MISTAKEN FOR BRUMBY! CHARMING FELLOW, SEEMS SHAKEN BY IT ALL! I FEEL IT'S THE LOSS OF HIS WIFE, VICAR! YOU DO SEE, MR. BRUMBY, THAT YOUR CHILD NEEDS A MOTHER'S CARE? MY STARS! WHAT'S SHE LEADIN' UP TO?

Farmers Urged Not To Let Federal Agencies Do Their Talking For Them

DENVER, COLORADO, (Sp) — No matter who is secretary of agriculture or which party is in power in Washington, farmers never should get "sucked in" on the proposition that government agencies can effectively speak for them, members of the American Farm Bureau Federation were told this week at one of their annual convention sessions.

Roger Fleming, secretary-treasurer of the nation's largest farm organization and director of its Washington office, devoted most of his annual report to tracing the history of attempts by government agencies, labor unions, businessmen and politicians to "speak for farmers."

None of those groups, he said, has been enthusiastic about the development by farmers of a strong organization of their own.

"For years it was thought that farmers were not smart enough to know what was good for them," he said. He added his belief that it was "perfectly natural for government officials and employees not to want people to disagree with them in what they are doing... therefore, it isn't surprising that they have made efforts from time to time to try to speak for farmers."

He recalled attempts by various Washington administrations to attempt to replace farmers' organizations by government-appointed and dominated committees.

Labor, too, has gotten into the act, he added, by encouraging farmers to "join puppet farm organization that would have the same relationships to labor unions as Charlie McCarthy has to Edgar Bergen."

He added:

"The choice is not between whether farmers are going to be represented or whether they are not. The choice is how agriculture is to be organized and who will 'call the tune.' I have no doubt that the decision of American farmers and ranchers will be when they know what the issue is and what the choices are."

Fleming added that if the United States should decide to "travel the road to wholesale use of any one — or an combination — of leveling devices... we can be reasonably certain the net result will be low agricultural efficiency, low per-family farm income and high-priced food and fiber to consumers."

Speaker Traces History of Reds

The Communist Party has taken a meeting of the Top O' Texas Life on a world-wide basis since 1945. Underwriters Assn. in Poole's Steakhouse.

Russia spends $2-billion dollars a year on Communist propaganda. Most people become Communists because they think they can get something for nothing and a little authority.

Those are the highlights of an address made here this week by William L. (Jerry) Lee, retired brigadier-general of the U.S. Air Force, speaking at the monthly

Brig. Gen. Lee, who is former commander of the Amarillo Air Force Base, spoke on "Communism and Its Effects Throughout the World."

The speaker traced the background of Communism from its inception with the Lenin revolt against the Czar in 1917 down to the present.

Fleming reported AFBF has a membership of 1,600,792 farm families in 49 states (Alaska excepted) and Puerto Rico. "The over-all membership situation is healthy; morale is high; prospects for further growth in membership are good," he said. "In spite of the substantial decline in the total number of farming units reported..."

He said he was "cautiously optimistic that a basis for better understanding between farm and non-farm people can be developed," adding:

"There are more and more people conscious of the need—and there is an increasing number who understand that we can't measure up to the challenge in this field simply by trying, figuratively speaking, to 'sweep our problems under the rug.'"

Turning to the technological revolution in agriculture and the speed with which it is moving forward, Fleming said the family farm is not losing out in the race.

He continued:

"In fact, the family farm is gaining ground. It is getting larger, to be sure, but it still is the most efficient pattern of economic organization in agriculture."

"If allowed to make full use of its natural advantages, the family farm can more than hold its own in competition with the principal alternative methods of organizing agricultural resources, which are large-scale corporation farming and peasantry."

"The biggest threat to the family farm is the danger that government intervention may destroy the ability of the family farm to change with the times and cause it to lose its natural market to synthetic products which can be produced in industrial plants."

He said he believed the greatest threat to the commercial family farm, other than atheistic Communism itself, is the "politics of equal shares—one share, one vote."

"In Russia," he said, "there are no rich and poor farmers—they're all poor and, in a sense, all equal. The Russian farmer and his neighbor are both equal in that they do not have an automobile. They do not have a television set. They cannot own a tractor. They can have only one cow per family and two sows. But they're all equal—they're all in the same boat."

The shingle cut, introduced in Paris and New York this fall, is undergoing a great modification for winter. Here are three versions of the cut as it now appears, all of them very different from the severe shingle. New York version (left) is modified in longer, more billowed version. Paris version (center) is sleek and close to the head but has height at the crown and movement in bangs and side curls. Chicago cut (right) is longer, more bouffant and very soft. All three styles must be set on large rollers to achieve the effects shown here.

Dear Abby... Truth Outlives Lying Tongues

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will print this in your column because I am so sick over the whole mess I don't know where to turn for help. I am the mother of a teenage daughter. We sent her to a boarding school because she couldn't adjust to our high school. Ever since she left town people have been saying that she's in a home for unwed mothers.

She has always been a fine girl. Why should people ruin her reputation by their terrible lies? Why? Why? Why? HEART-BROKEN MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: We all know that a lie can travel half-way around the world before the truth can get its boots on. But take new comfort from the Old Testament: "The lip of truth shall be established forever; a lying tongue is but for a moment." (Proverbs 12:19)

DEAR ABBY: When my husband said his employees wanted a Christmas party with no wives or husbands, I started to make a few plans of my own. The next night when my husband came home, I had my kitchen counters piled high with holiday food and drinks. I explained that on the night of his employees' party I would send our children to my mother's and have a cocktail party for the people I do business with every day. The grocer, the butcher, the milkman, the insurance salesman, the bank teller and the car salesman who sold us our car, etc.

The next evening he told me that he had changed his mind and decided to skip the party and give each employee a turkey instead.

Yule Songs Set Mood For Baker PTA Meeting

A selection of Christmas songs were presented by the first grade pupils of B.M. Baker School at the December meeting of the PTA held in the school auditorium. The program was presented under the direction of Mmes. Jarvis Johnson, Wanda Cardwell, E. B. Boston and Miss Edna Daughtee, first grade teachers. Included in the selections were "We Wish You A Merry Christmas," "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town," "Rudolph," "It's Beginning To Look Like Christmas," "We Are Now Ready For Santa Claus," "Twas The Night Before Christmas," "He'll Be Coming Down the Chimney, Coming Down the Chimney," "The Santa Claus Express," "2 Feet and Eight Little Tales," and "Sleep Baby Jesus."

During the business meeting, Mrs. Orval Ferguson reported on the recent state PTA convention held in Austin. Other reports were given by Mrs. Ray Lowe, secretary; Mrs. Troy Bennett, treasurer; and Mrs. Howard Price, City Council delegate.

Mrs. Ferguson, membership chairman, reported that $2 would be given to the rooms having the largest percentage of PTA memberships. Winners are Mrs. Jarvis Johnson and Mrs. E. B. Boston, tied for first in the first grade; Mrs. Zelma Poston's third grade; Mrs. Aubrey Jones' third grade; Mrs. Austin Ruddick's fourth grade; Otto Mangold's fifth grade; and Mrs. Frank Dial's sixth grade. A cake baked by Mrs. D. L. Martindale was won by Mrs. Robert Dittmeyer. Mrs. Boston's room won the room count by having the most parents present.

Short Styles Sweep Feminine World As Gals Take To Softer Hairdos

ALICIA HART Newspaper Enterprise Assn. You can virtually hear the scissors clicking in every top beauty salon around the country today. For the ladies have taken to short hair the way a duck takes to water.

According to a poll taken among top salon stylists in New York, short hair will sweep the country by midwinter. But the straight, shingled coiffure that made news from Paris last June is being greatly modified.

The trend is away from severity. It is towards longer, fluffier, less exaggerated and far prettier styles.

Many leading hair stylists have different interpretations of the short haircut but they are all softer than the original straight version.

In Paris the hair is worn sleek and close to the head. But softness is achieved with height at the crown, bangs and side curls, according to the Lilt Reference Service researchers.

New York stylists have come up with a slightly longer, fuller version of the original shingle cut. In Chicago, too, the hair will be longer and softly bouffant.

Any of the new coiffures is simple to care for but all of them demand expert shaping. Frequent permanents is also necessary to give the body needed for fullness.

If you're a home permanent gal, be sure to underpermanent to acquire a loose, casual wave.

When you set your hair after shampooing, don't go into the old familiar pincurl operation. To get the rounded crown look, the hair must be set on mammoth rollers.

And, speaking of a shampoo, include in that task often. Your hair has more body when it's freshly washed, and your hairdo will look soft and full.

One of the reasons, given by an expert, for the popularity of short hair is that women love anything that makes them look younger. And why not, if it can be accomplished with dignity?

This new style strips years off one's face. It's young and clean looking. It doesn't at all resemble the unfeminine shingle of the thirties.

So if you want an extra helping of chic and glamour, just trot off to the nearest expert with scissors. The result will delight you.

If you want to make your soap supply last longer, try unwrapping each cake and leaving it in the air for a few weeks before you actually use it.

Rebekah Assembly President Honored By Five District Rebekah Lodges

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) - Mrs. Sadie Patterson of Jacksboro, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, was honored Wednesday evening at a meeting of five Rebekah lodges in the Skellytown IOOF hall. Mrs. Tommie Hill, conductor of Skellytown Rebekah lodge introduced Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. Ruth Lawley, Pampa, district deputy president of District Two, was welcomed and seated to the right of Mrs. Patterson. Other special guests welcomed were Mrs. Maggie Garrett, Borger chairman of the scrapbook committee; Mrs. Roy Kretzmeir, Pampa, youth counselor of the district; Roy Kretzmeir, Pampa, junior past Grand Master of the IOOF of Texas; and Mrs. Norma Eubanks, district deputy president of district three.

A social hour was held following the meeting. The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth, centered with a horn of plenty overflowing with fruit. The cake, decorated with yellow roses and the face of a clock and the inscription "Take Time for Others," was served by Mrs. Elwess, noble grand. Mrs. Hill served the punch. Plate favors were miniature horns filled with candy corn.

Mrs. Patterson urged the members to keep up their donations for the support of the two IOOF and Rebekah homes; the home for the aged in Ennis and the children's home in Corsicana. She also asked the lodges to contribute to the Scuyler Colfax memorial which will be a national memorial and will be built in Washington, D.C. Mr. Colfax was the founder of the Rebekah order.

Donations for the Rebekah Scholarship Fund were presented to Mrs. Patterson from the five lodges represented: Pampa, Canadian, Perryton, Spearman and Skellytown.

U.S. And Soviet Race To Develop The Quiet And Efficient Fuel Cell

By RAY CROMLEY
 WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There's an unpublicized U.S.-Russian race in a somewhat undramatic area of science that could turn out to be crucial in the East-West arms and space contests. It's a search to see which country can first develop practical "fuel cells." Fuel cells produce electric power directly from chemical action, in somewhat the same way the battery in your automobile does. But fuel cells do not have to be recharged. They keep operating as long as fuel is added. That doesn't sound sensational. But success in this area may determine whether the U.S. or Russia is first in developing: Long-distance, manned, maneuverable, powered space craft. The first noiseless submarine—a boat almost undetectable and therefore very difficult to sink. Superior army battle tanks. In some distant day, fuel cells may power the car you drive, give you two to three times as many miles per gallon and cut your repair bills. They may one day operate the big central power stations that supply your city with electricity. So great is the promise of the fuel cell that as of now 60 private and government laboratories are working on their development. That's twice to three times as many as two years ago. They include automobile and petroleum companies and a wide range of other major U.S. concerns. Russian laboratories are also known to be exceedingly active. The U.S. Army expects to have a specialized type of fuel cell developed within one to two years that a soldier can carry—with its fuel—on his back. It would deliver a total amount of power as great as a storage battery 10 times as heavy. The Navy would like to perfect fuel cells for submarines. Even atomic subs are noisy, and sound makes it possible for the enemy to find and "kill." Fuel cells have no moving parts. They would make the submarines much quieter. Fuel-cell-powered submarines would also be able to stay out to sea longer without repairs. The Army wants fuel cells to drive tanks and trucks. Tanks with efficient fuel cells could range two to three times as far in a wide-flung battle as can present day tanks. This could be crucial in exploiting battle breakthroughs. The Army also wants fuel cells as mobile power plants. The troops need power close to the front for sending messages, for cooking, for repair shops, for electric light. Noisy power plants that have smoke exhausts are a dead giveaway to the enemy. Silent fuel cells give off no smoke. Space ships will be early users of fuel cells when perfected. They can use the heat of the sun and the coolness of space to cause chemicals to combine and split apart in an endless cycle that would produce electricity without using up any fuel. The Air Forces is looking into the possibility of using fuel cells on airplanes. Some scientists think a form of fuel cell will be practical for farm and all-purpose tractors, for road building and some types of industrial machinery within less than a decade. What excites scientists about the fuel cell? For one, its potential efficiency is double to three times the efficiency of the engines and power plants we use today. For another, fuel cells have no moving parts, which increases reliability and reduces maintenance. They should be light in weight and cheap to manufacture. A fuel cell is basically simple.

combining. This is already feasible with some fuels. The problem is to do this with cheap fuels. Another major problem is to keep the cells from getting fouled up and therefore inefficient or unworkable after a relatively short period. Titan booster, topped by Dyna Soar, blasts off launching pod.

As second stage falls away, Dyna Soar enters manned flight at near orbital speed. Dropping third stage, it becomes a glider.

Leading edges glowing from friction heat, Dyna Soar sweeps into the atmosphere to land after "skip-flying" through space.

WHEN DYNA SOAR SOARS — One of the most exciting space exploration vehicles of the future is the Dyna Soar manned space glider. Drawings by Boeing Airplane Co. artist Fred Takasumi show the sequence of a typical Dyna Soar flight. Boeing is building the craft, which is expected to carry its first pilot in late 1964. Technically, Dyna Soar is a "boost-glide" vehicle: It will be boosted to the fringes of space by the Titan ICBM, then rocket itself to a speed of more than 15,000 m.p.h. At this near-orbital velocity, Dyna Soar will be able to "skip" around the world on top of the atmosphere, much like a pebble on a pond. The Dyna Soar program, costing 495 million dollars, calls for 18 vehicles, 11 of them to carry a man.

14 Are Hurt In Bus Crash

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Fourteen persons were injured, two seriously, when a Greyhound Scenicruiser and a Railway Express Agency truck collided here Wednesday night.

The collision occurred as the truck entered the U.S. 90 from a shopping center where freight company officials said it had been loaded with air express packages. The bus was heading west toward New Orleans, with most of the passengers bound for Texas and California.

The collision injured bus driver John L. Bordelon, 33, of New Orleans, and sent the huge bus rolling backward out of control. The big vehicle rolled some 500 feet down the highway, sideswiping three oncoming cars. No occupants of the automobiles were injured.

Of the 14 victims examined and treated at the hospital, only two were admitted for observation. Truck driver R. E. Jones, 59, of Mobile, was admitted with possible head injuries. Rossee Struss, 47, en route to Los Angeles, was in critical condition. Twenty-two passengers did not require hospital treatment and boarded another bus to continue their journey.

Receiving minor treatment at local hospitals were:

- Eldon Auskerman, 35, and his daughters, Joycelyn, 10, and Karen, 6, Klamath Falls, Ore.; W. W. Grant, 43, Houston, Tex.; Mrs. Helena Sydow, 60, Needville, Tex.; Mrs. Eleanor de Alvarado, 49, and her daughter, Gloria, 23, Port Isabel, Tex.; Mrs. Edna Vergari, 53, Los Angeles; Mrs. Susie Borden, 71, New Orleans; Mrs. Carrie Pierce, 76, Lakewood, Calif.; and Nettie de Shazo, 61, Houston, Tex.

New Snow Storm Heads Into Midwestern States

By United Press International

A Canadian-born snow storm headed for the Midwest today.

North winds set off by a new outbreak of cold air carried gusts up to 38 miles per hour into the Dakotas and Minnesota and out to offer heavy drifting from the Rocky Mountains east to Michigan.

In Alaska, civil defense workers organized rescue teams to evacuate 15 persons remaining in a flooded valley where an Anchor River ice jam threatened to wash out all roads 65 miles southwest of Anchorage. An estimated 18 persons were taken out Wednesday.

Warm air rolled north from the Delaware through Eastern cities, a welcome respite from crippling cold and record snows since the weekend.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted 40-degree temperatures for New York City. Garbage collection resumed in the nation's largest city for the first time since Monday and officials reported commuter travel and the theater attendance approaching normal.

In Washington, police declared an end to the capital's snow emergency but warned of nighttime low readings and hazardous city driving.

Scattered snow flurries were predicted in Maine, New Hampshire and northeastern New York State. Fair to partly cloudy skies covered North Atlantic states.

A cold front extending from Lake Ontario to north-central Texas divided the storm system from chill rains throughout the Deep South.

A weak disturbance in the Western Gulf of Mexico spread rain through the southern states. And showers mixed with sleet moved from northern Mississippi into the Eastern Tennessee and across the Appalachians into western North

Pampa Will Send 'Sweetheart' To Fat Stock Show

Pampa will send a representative to the 1961 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show which opens in Fort Worth Jan. 27 and runs through Feb. 3.

E. O. Wedgeworth, Pampa Chamber of Commerce manager, said today Pampa has accepted an invitation to take part in the show. Wedgeworth said the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association will select a Pampa girl who will go to Fort Worth as "Miss Top O' Texas Rodeo." This selection, he said, will be made by the association's executive board.

The city's cowgirl sweetheart will wear western attire, ride in the rodeo grand entry and will receive special recognition.

Pampa Lions Club Party For Ladies Scheduled Tonight

Annual Ladies Night Christmas Banquet will be held by the Pampa Lions Club at 7 p.m. today in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Norman Henry, club president, said some 225 persons are expected to attend tonight's banquet.

The Pampa High School A Cappella Choir, directed by Hugh Sanders, will present "Christmas, In Song '60." Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will give his interpretation of "The Second Christmas." Dinner music will be played by the We Three Combs.

Complete Vote Returns Show Thinnest Margin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rhode Island was expected to certify its presidential vote count today, completing official returns of one of the closest elections in history. With certified results in from 49 states, Sen. John F. Kennedy held a thin 113,498-vote margin over Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Here is the United Press International tabulation based on complete, unofficial returns from Rhode Island and official results from all other states:

Kennedy — 34,231,090 (49.715 per cent)
Nixon — 34,117,592 (49.550 per cent)

Others — 505,658 (0.735 per cent)

Total—68,854,340

Kennedy had 50.063 per cent of the 68,348,982 two-party vote, and Nixon had 49.917 per cent—a record-low difference of 0.166 per cent.

The Democrat won by the closest popular vote margin since 1888. That year, Grover Cleveland outpolled Benjamin Harrison by 90,728 popular votes but lost because Harrison got a majority of the electoral votes.

Kennedy won 300 electoral votes and Nixon 223. Fourteen unpledged electors in Mississippi and Alabama said they would vote for Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. The electoral votes in each state will be announced Monday.

The Republican-dominated Illinois election board Wednesday unanimously certified Kennedy's victory in that state despite GOP claims of vote irregularities.

Republican Gov. William Stratton proclaimed the tally official although he said "considerable irregularities" were shown.

Surprise
SCITUATE, R.I. (UPI)—Clarence Cady, 79, was unhurt when his car tore down a guard rail and plunged over an embankment. When rescuers arrived, he said, "I'm surprised to find myself here."

School Annex Hearing Set

AUSTIN (UPI)—Oral arguments between the Marshall school system and a nearby school district it wants to annex will be heard by the Texas Supreme Court Jan. 18.

The court decided Wednesday to hear the arguments. Dist. Atty. Charles A. Allen said in a brief for the smaller district the suit has racial overtones.

The Marshall City Commission voted to annex the Woodlawn Common School District No. 13 in 1958 after a public hearing. A trial court sided with the city, but an appeals court ordered a new trial because doubt was raised over whether the voters in the Woodlawn district desired to be annexed.

Allen said the "case literally bristles with reversible error."

RUNS IN FAMILY

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—At a recent surprise road-check of cars, authorities arrested a man for drunken driving at a Hoboken check-point. He telephoned his brother for bail money.

On the way, the brother passed through the same check-point and was arrested for drunken driving—and operating a car while his license was revoked.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Goodbody & Co. attempts to answer the question of how much can the market advance when the Dow Jones industrial average is already capitalizing earnings by 18 times.

One factor to consider when viewing price-earnings ratios and low yields is the enormous growth in investment companies, pension funds, and other institutions which purchase common stocks, the firm says.

The net purchases of these investors have been reducing the available supply of stocks in the market. This does not prevent sharp reactions nor will it prevent major declines, but it does tend to increase price-earnings ratios and reduce yields.

Some speculative stocks which appear to have short term upside trading possibilities, according to Eldon Grimm of Walston & Co. include: Bell & Howell, International Tel & Tel, Raytheon, RCA, Northrop, North American Aviation, Outboard Marine, Reynolds Metals, Magnavox, Collins Radio, General Instrument, and Pfizer.

Bache & Co. reports that General Outdoor Advertising looks like a good long term growth situation. The company has increased earnings in seven of the past eight years and appears to be doing it again in 1960. A full year net of $2.50 a share is expected, Bache says, up from $2.44.

Stock Trend Service says it is satisfied that the die has been cast for a further extension of the rise from the September and October lows carrying into mid-January. It says that price action warrants the purchase of U.S. Vitamin.

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (UPI)—Louie Perkovich, 39, complained to police Wednesday that a thief had visited his home while he was at work.

The culprit took his two-by-three-by-twelve foot back porch.

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!

Ordinary 1-beam type front axle. A stiff-beam design that transmits shock from the road right through the truck.

Chevy Independent Front Suspension. Wheels flex independently, minimize tire abuse as well as body stress.

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles. Try one. CHEVROLET

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

THE STORY: Bart Wagner makes a deal with Catherine Lewis, a widow who has been terrorized by outlaws. If she will keep a bullet wound in her arm, he will stay at her ranch and help her until the wound heals.

© Noel Loomis 1960. Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

He awoke to the smell of fresh coffee. He started up, and found himself lying on a buffalo robe, with a comfort over him. It was daylight; he got up and stretched. Her voice came to him. "It's nearly noon," she said. "You've slept the clock around and then some."

His arm was sore, but otherwise he felt like a spring coil. He asked, "No trouble during the night?"

"No trouble." For a second he thought she sounded almost regretful. "I suppose they saw you rise up, and knew you stayed."

"That won't last long," he predicted. "Meantime, we'd better go ahead with the work."

"Ben had some money in his pocket when he was killed," she looked at him steadily, sizing him up, then said, "Tomorrow you can take the wagon into Clarendon to get supplies."

He got a big drink of water from the bucket. "You will be alone again as soon as I pull out," he noted.

She looked up from the stove. "I'm not afraid to stay alone. I have the Sharps. Besides," she added softly, "there's somebody on my side now. You'll be back in three days, and they will know that because you're taking the wagon."

He hung up the dipper. "You've been throwing that rifle around a lot in the last few hours. Ever shot a man?"

"No," she admitted, stirring something in a deep tin pan. "I thought not." He glanced at the water bucket. "First thing I better do is rustle up some water from the creek. Your barrel outside is mighty near empty."

"There's a sled out by the corral," she told him. "Another thing," he said curiously. "I know the places here are far apart, but it seems strange there haven't been any neighbors in to see how you're getting along."

She said, "with her eyes on the floor. 'Ben wasn't much of a hand to encourage callers.'"

At supper they had pie with some kind of creamy filling. "Mighty good," he said after his second piece.

Her immediate pleasure was apparent. He guessed that among Ben Lewis's unattractive characteristics, he had not been one to waste words in idle compliments. He thought about it as he took his time over his second cup of coffee. Finally, he said, "Mrs. Lewis—"

"My name is Catherine," she said.

He nodded. "Nice name." But he wondered if Ben had ever called her by it.

He looked at her dark eyes. How could he tell her what came to his mind: that she was pretty and pleasant and eager to please—and ripe for anybody who might come along and tell her sweet things. He was sure of one thing: in spite of her competence in frontier matters, she was a child as far as men were concerned. She had the body and mind of a woman but the experience of a young girl, and apparently Ben had taken her out of circulation before she had had a chance to get acquainted with any young fellows. That of course was not unusual. A man always needed a woman's help to run a ranch, and sometimes he would marry any girl strong enough to carry a bucket of water. "I forgot to notice," he said, "whether there is any barbed wire around."

"There are half a dozen rolls back of the corral," she told him, watching his eyes as if she had some knowledge of his thoughts.

He took his gun belt from the peg near the door and buckled it on.

She spoke from across the table. "You trust me now, don't you?"

He looked at her, half amused. "I reckon I do," he said.

"What would you do if I made a move toward the rifle?"

"That's idle speculation," he said. "You've had all kinds of opportunity but you haven't taken it. Anyway, there's no reason for you to aim the Sharps at me again. I have no wish to harm you."

"You might be one of the outlaws—maybe some other band besides Xenophon Jones's."

He put on his hat, and it struck him that the civilizing influence of a woman was soon felt, for that was the first time in years that he had taken off his hat to eat. "If I were an outlaw," he said, "I would not have wasted all this time."

"I put two comforts and a blanket on the floor for you," she said, pointing, "and you can have the buffalo robe."

"Thank you, ma'am." He scooped them up in his arms and went out. "Goodnight, Catherine," he said as he stepped into the darkness.

"Goodnight," she said. (To Be Continued)

Texas A. And M. Research Reveals Data On Iron-Nickel-Zinc Alloys

COLLEGE STATION, (SpI) — Exploratory data on mechanical hardness, magnetic properties, and corrosion resistance have been determined for the iron-nickel-zinc alloy system at Texas A. and M. College.

The research was conducted by Paul S. Gupta, a graduate student in mechanical engineering, working under the supervision of Dr. Bruce A. Rogers of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station.

His findings with iron-nickel-zinc alloys of various percentages revealed high coercive force and mechanical hardness. The saturation value decreased as the coercive force increased, indicating a flattening of the hysteresis loop.

The alloy containing 18.67 weight-percent zinc and 24.4 weight-percent nickel produced the maximum coercive force of 154 oersteds. No appreciable increase in coercive force was noted until an aging temperature of 600 degrees C was used. The maximum hardness was attained at a lower aging temperature, 300 degrees C. Extreme brittleness was observed in the alloys containing a high percentage of zinc.

The high value of 154 oersteds in coercive force suggests that still more valuable properties might be found by additions of cobalt, according to the researcher.

Other elements that might make valuable contributions to this ternary alloy system are titanium, aluminum, molybdenum, copper, and nitrogen the researcher points out. He thinks also that percentages of zinc probably should be carried up to at least 25.

None of the alloys were resistant to chemical attack by weak acid solutions. Greatest corrosion resulted from nitric acid solutions and least corrosion from hydrochloric acid solutions. The alloys with a higher percentage of nickel were least affected.

SHARING THE WEALTH — Twenty-six states (shaded in map above) are dividing up almost 20 million dollars in resource receipts from federal lands being paid them by the Department of the Interior. The funds come from mineral lease revenues and are to compensate the states for lands and resources owned by the government within their borders. The total covers only half the year. Altogether, the states will have received over 34 million during fiscal year 1960.

Holiday Reminders

State Traffic Accident Totals Noted

One of the always present dangers at Christmas time is the threat of death on the highways of the nation.

And it is present in Texas, just as it is elsewhere, but Governor Price Daniel is again taking steps to attempt to cut down the loss of human life.

The Governor's Highway Safety Commission has compiled these facts of holiday death tolls and other dates, as a reminder that one must be alert and in full control of one's faculties at all times when on the highways:

1960 Traffic safety totals (first 10 months of 1960 estimated thru Nov. 18) — 1,837 dead, 163,000 injured, 251,000 crashes, $283,000,000 estimated economic losses, 38 billion, 700 million miles traveled.

Percentage comparisons, 1960 against 1959: deaths down seven per cent; injuries down eight per cent; crashes down 8 per cent; estimated economic loss down eight per cent; estimated vehicle miles traveled up one per cent.

1957, 1958 and 1960 (thus far, first 10 months) all show reductions in traffic deaths over preceding year since Governor Price Daniel organized first continuing campaign against Traffic Deaths and Losses.

The 1959 Christmas-New Year's holiday death toll was the lowest for any 12-day holiday period since 1949. It was 97.

The Christmas-New Year's holiday death toll in Texas has been lower than the official prediction of expected traffic deaths every year for the past three years.

In 1959, there was only one day in which some person did not die in Texas traffic, only one "deathless day" of all the days in the year.

On 11 days in 1959, only one person died in a traffic crash. With just a little additional caution, care or courtesy, there could have been 11 more "deathless days" in Texas last year.

In three months of 1959—February, September and December—two or more persons were killed on each and every day of the month, with the exception of Dec. 2. The latter day was the only "deathless day" in Texas traffic last year.

One of the most unusual developments revealed by 1959 Texas traffic death records was the deadly fact that 11 persons were killed on each of 21 different days. Only three months missed an 11-death day, March, June and December.

The month of July, 1959, had four days on which 11 Texans died in traffic, July 1, 2, 18 and 20. August, October and November each had three 11-death days.

Again proving up the rule that ordinary weekends are the most dangerous days in Texas traffic, ten of the 21 days in 1959 on which 11 persons were killed each day were Saturdays and Sundays, five Saturdays and five Sundays.

As usual, the "deadliest day" in 1959 Texas traffic was a Saturday — Nov. 14, when 24 persons died in eight fatal crashes. There were only three other days last year on which 20 or more persons died in Texas traffic: 20 deaths in 11 crashes on Sunday, Feb. 1; 22 deaths in 14 crashes on Saturday, Sept. 12; and 22 deaths in 10 crashes on Tuesday, Dec. 22.

The "deadliest week" in 1959 Texas traffic was "tragically," Christmas Week. About 47 persons were killed in traffic every week last year, but 77 died during Christmas Week, a timely warning for Christmas Week, 1960.

"Deadliest month" in Texas traffic in 1959 was November, when 247 persons died in 195 fatal crashes, highest monthly totals in both categories. Second "deadliest month" in 1959 traffic was December, with 190 fatal crashes and 240 deaths.

Americans pay a total of five billion visits to the movies annually.

SPTS ARTS GALLERY
Pampa's Harvesters put their already well-worn suits-cases in the closet today after playing five of their first six games on the road, and prepared for an eight-game home schedule that will carry them up to Jan. 6.

In that string, Pampa will meet Fort Worth Birdville, a school that has produced such stars as TCU's Ronnie Stephenson and North Texas' Rod Byrd, on Friday and Saturday; Dumas on Tuesday; Quanah on the 23rd; Seminole on the 29th and 30th and Palo Duro on Jan. 3 in a 3-4A conference opener.

None of the remaining seven non-conference clashes and the lone district battle are easy touches. Dumas has beaten Pampa once, 41-31, last Tuesday; Quanah eased by the Harvesters, 60-57, in Pampa's first game, while Seminole is always one of the South Plains' strongest teams, although they are off to a slow start this year.

Matson Could Be Key

However, with the appearance of Randy Matson, the sturdy 6-4 soph, in the starting lineup, Pampa showed its first winning spark Tuesday night, despite the 10-point loss.

Matson scored only five points, but the big boy pulled down 10 rebounds in his debut to lead the Harvesters in that department. On one spinning layup he almost dented the backboard as he pounded the ball home.

Harvester Coach Terry Culley, obviously delighted with Matson's first showing, still feels that Randy could be the key to a good district season.

"Randy still needs a lot of work, but he's the type of player who will improve the more you work with him," Culley said yesterday.

"I thought he played a good ball game against Dumas, considering it was his first competition."

Sophomores Impressive

Right now Culley seems to be settled on three starters: Senior Pat Carter, the team's leading scorer with 78 points and a 13.0 per game point average; Senior Allen Wise, 6-3 who is the team's leading rebounder and third top scorer with 53 points and Matson.

For the other two places, a heated battle is shaping up between Bill Neslage, a good offensive hand, Larry Stroud, the second leading scorer with 71 points, Jim Crinklaw, Lloyd Balch, Chase and Kries.

Stroud and Balch have seen the most action to date but Chase's defensive prowess has moved him up the ladder, even though he won't be eligible for district play until mid-term, time enough for the

Junior High Cagers Play

Pampa's two ninth grade basketball teams — Robert E. Lee and Pampa Junior High — wrap up the 1960 portion of their schedule today with out of town contests.

Lee (2-1) goes to White Deer for a game with Bucks' B' team that has lost only to Lefors' B' while the Reapers (4-1) play an important conference game with Dumas Junior High in Dumas. The Reapers and Dumas are tied for the district lead. Dumas beat Berger Austin, 26-24, this week and Pampa downed Lee, 37-24, last week to stay on top of the loop standings.

Pampa's eighth graders (0-1) meet Dumas' eighth-grade team Thursday while Lee Eighth (1-0) is idle.

On Friday, Pampa (1-0) goes to Berger Austin for a seventh grade clash. Lee Seventh (1-0) is off until Jan. 6 when it plays at Phillips.

Birdie Wins Scotch Golf

SEBRING, Fla. (UPI)—Gloria Armstrong's eight-foot birdie putt made Faye Crocker's swan song golf tournament seem a bit off key here Wednesday.

Miss Armstrong, teamed with Jim Turnesa of Rye, N.Y., dropped in the putt on the first extra hole of a sudden-death playoff in the $18,000 mixed Scotch foursome championship and won it.

Runners-up were Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., and Miss Crocker, who is leaving golf to return to Uruguay, in South America. They shot 139. This was Miss Crocker's final tournament.

Miss Armstrong, of Lakeland, Calif., had a good day—the winning putt, a team total of 20-32—62 and a 171-yard hole in one on the ninth, which she shot with a three iron.

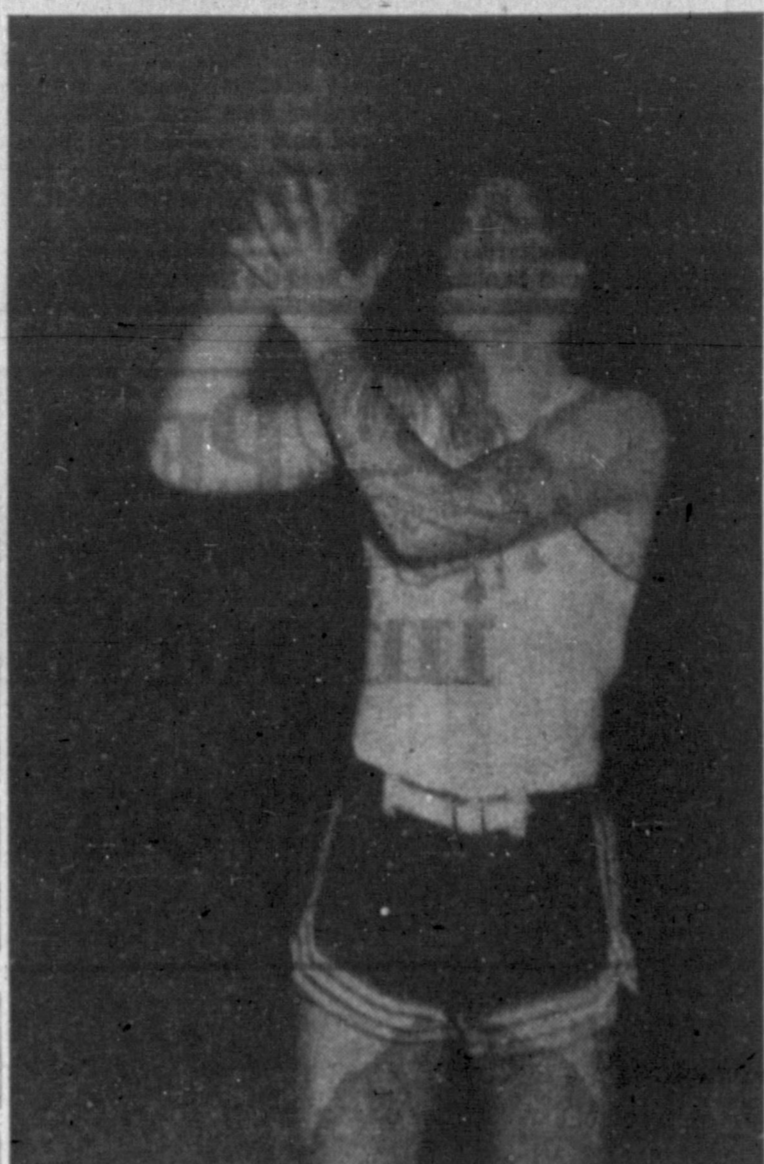

Third place went to Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and Betsy Rawls, of Spartanburg, S.C. with a total of 146.

Fourth went to Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., and Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., with a total of 141.

SHARP SHOOTING SENIOR — Bill Neslage, 5-11 Harvester guard and 1960-61 co-captain, should see extended action this weekend when Fort Worth Birdville comes to Pampa for a two-game series. Neslage is the fourth highest scorer on the Harvesters thus far this year with 39 points. (Daily News Photo)

Carter Assumes Point Lead

Pampa (1-3), looking for that elusive second win, will be slightly taller than the visitors, but the height advantage will be slim.

Heading the Harvesters will be Pat Carter, a classy 5-10 senior guard, who leads the Green and Gold, point-wise, with 78 tallies in six outings for a 13.0 per game average.

Another almost sure starter will be Allen Wise, the rangy 6-3 center who holds down the No. 3 position in scoring with 33 points for an 8.8 points per game total. Wise is also the rebounding leader.

Randy Matson, 6-4 sophomore, should start at the other post berth in Pampa's tandem set. Matson first saw action in the Dumas loss Tuesday and — while he scored only five points — he swiped 10

Tennessee A&I Tops Small '10'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tennessee A&I State, which won the national small college basketball championship two years ago and finished runnerup last season, today topped the first weekly United Press International ratings of the 1960-61 campaign.

The Tennessee State Tigers, winners in 5 of their first 6 games this season, were the No. 1 choice of 16 of the 36 coaches who voted this week. Voting was scattered because of a lack of "form" at such an early stage of the season.

Evansville, last year's small college champion, ranked second this week despite a 1-4 record. The Purple Eagles won their high ranking because three of their four defeats came at the hands of major college powers — Notre Dame, Iowa and Utah.

SWC Cagers Return To Action

By United Press International
Southwest Conference basketball teams, taking a mid-week break, return to action tonight in a pair of intersectional warm-up games for the league race that gets underway after the Christmas holidays.

Texas A&M's sharp-shooting Aggies put their 3-1 record, best in the loop, up for grabs by Oklahoma State at neutral Houston tonight while Rice travels to Shreveport, La., for a game with the Centenary College Gentlemen. All conference clubs were idle Wednesday night.

Arkansas and Rice are tied for second place in the conference overall standings with 3-2 marks. Texas Tech (2-2), Texas and Southern Methodist (both 2-3), Texas Christian (1-3) and Baylor (0-4) trail.

Friday night, the Aggies remain in Houston for a game with Oklahoma University, Texas Tech tangles with Louisiana State at Lubbock, and Baylor, still looking for its first victory, travels to Alabama to enter the Birmingham Classic.

3-4A Sends Out Seven Victory-Seeking Teams

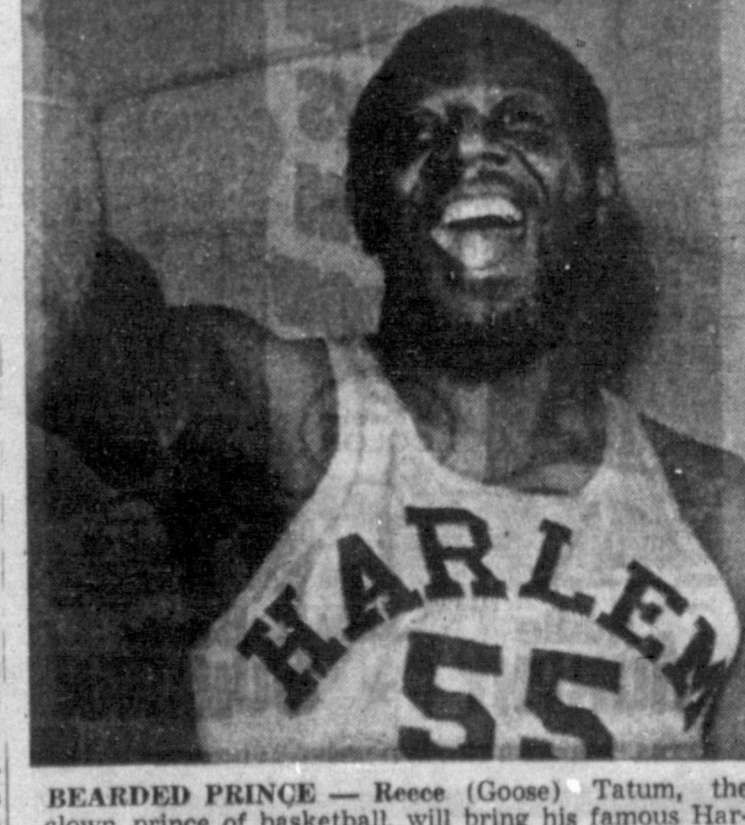

Beginning with three games tonight, all of District 3-4A's teams — with the exception of Lubbock — go into action during the next three days hoping to better the already-impressive week's won-lost record.

The district wrapped up seven victories in nine games on Monday and Tuesday — the best record this year — with Lubbock's 66-60 loss to Odessa Permian on Monday and Pampa's 41-31 defeat by Dumas Tuesday the only blots on the tally.

Tonight's games will find Monterey (3-3) at Midland (6-1) and Dumas (7-1) at Amarillo (3-2) and Hereford at Tascosa (3-2) in a doubleheader.

On Friday, Berger's unbeaten Bulldogs (6-0) go for lucky number seven when Seminole visits them. The Bulldogs, picked for second in a pre-season poll, are making the predictors recheck their tally sheets as Berger has rolled up 370 points in its six wins.

Plainview, finalist in its own tournament two weeks ago, takes its revitalized team to El Paso for a two-day tourney that opens Friday. The South Plains Bulldogs (3-4) pulled a big upset Tuesday when they nipped Dimmitt, 49-45,

BEARDED PRINCE — Reece (Goose) Tatum, the clown prince of basketball, will bring his famous Harlem Stars to Buffalo Fieldhouse in Canyon Saturday night. The clowning basketballers will play the New York Rens at 8 p.m. and half-time variety entertainment will be included.

Carver Dumps Shamrock '5'

Pampa Carver shot back into the winning side of the column last night with a rousing 51-38 victory over Shamrock, but the Carver guys fell, 31-17.

George Duke was high point man for Carver with 27 points, while his sister, Mary Duke, had eight points to pace the girls' losing effort.

Carver's next action comes this weekend when they travel for the Shamrock Tournament Friday and Saturday.

Kefauver Works Overtime

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If Sen. Estes Kefauver has his way, the underworld in boxing will get a quick knockout punch from Congress.

Unless the government does break the grip of mobsters on the fight game, he feels boxing may disappear.

As chairman of the Senate boxing investigation, the Tennessee Democrat announced Wednesday he would ask Congress to create as fast as possible a temporary federal boxing commission to rid the sport of hoodlums.

His statements delivered at the end of two weeks of hearings on criminal influences in boxing, made it plain "the heat is on" for racketeers in the fight game.

Part of the final session was devoted to fruitless questioning of Frankie Carbo, underworld mystery man accused of holding the reins and the purse-strings of the ring business. Carbo was brought to the hearing from his New York prison cell where he is serving a two-year term for acting as a behind-the-scenes fight manager.

Kefauver said previous testimony by former International Boxing Club (IBC) President James D. Norris indicated that the millionaire sports promoter "sought and made use of Carbo, a well known racketeer, and other unsavory elements to dominate the professional sport."

"Although there is some question whether this alliance was one of necessity or free choice," the senator added, "the fact is that it existed and served to corrupt the sport of boxing."

"Although Carbo is now confined behind prison bars, it is also evident from the testimony that his influence with promoters, managers and matchmakers continues today."

Kefauver said it was clear that new legislation must be passed to "restore the integrity of the sport," and that he would ask Congress to do just that when it convenes next month.

Southwest Down Grid Attendance Tops 20-Million Mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — College football attendance rose 4.02 percent this year to top the 20-million mark for the first time in history.

A National Collegiate Athletic Bureau survey of 620 colleges reveals that 20,403,409 spectators viewed games this year topping the 11-year-old record for total attendance by 751,514. The previous mark, set in 1949, was 19,651,995.

College football attendance in 1960 also set records in average attendance, 7,523 per game, and of 32,909 per home schedule.

This was the seventh consecutive season in which college football attendance increased. The figures show an increase over the last five years of 18 per cent. Total attendance in 1955 was 17,344.

Favorable weather was offered by the NCAB as an important reason for this year's increase. NCAB figures showed that 41.6 per cent of all the games in 1959 were played in "unfavorable weather." College officials reported only 13.6 per cent of their games were played under poor weather conditions this year.

Five of the seven geographical sections of the country showed increases, topped by the 28.38 per cent rise in the Rockies. Attendance was up 11.62 per cent in the Midlands, 7.32 per cent in the East, 5.6 per cent in the South and 1.96 per cent in the Midwest. The Pacific Coast experienced a sharp 6.38 decline while the Southwest was off only 0.96 per cent.

PHS Awaits Birdville

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

Pampa's Harvesters, who have yet to meet any softies this year, continue that streak this weekend when Fort Worth Birdville, last year's 5-4A champion and bidistrict Berger victim, brings its upsurging team to town for a bracket of games.

Birdville, which hopped off to a slow start, has won three of its last four games — including a third place in the strong Garland tournament — to up its record to 5-4.

The Birds hold wins over Arlington Heights, 56-55; Dallas Kimball, 46-41; Garland, 46-40; Bell High School and Fort Worth Northside, 69-40, the latter win coming Tuesday night.

Losses have been to Denton, one of North Texas' stronger teams, 69-58 and Heights, 59-43, and Dallas Samuell, 69-48.

Birdville, guided by first-year coach Charles L. Dowler, is a well-rounded team and will be headed by Doug McClure, a 6-0 senior guard who is the team's leading scorer.

Other starters — all lettermen — are Guard Bill Fenimore, 6-0 senior; Forwards David Duke, 6-2 junior, and Jay Jackson, 6-2 senior; and Center Jerry Wrench, 6-3½ senior.

'Bama Preps For UT Game

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Coach Paul Bryant and his Alabama football team, including almost every member, today left for Houston, Tex. and the Bluebonnet Bowl.

The Crimson Tide meets the University of Texas Longhorns Saturday in the bowl game.

Bryant said the players "Walked through" game plans in the gymnasium Wednesday because "the weather was so bad we didn't want to go outside."

Probable starters in Saturday's game will be Norbie Ronsonet and Bill Battle at end, Charlie Pell and Bobby Boyston at tackle, Bill Neighbors and Jack Rutledge at guard, Lee Ray Jordan at center, Pat Trammell or Bob Skelton at quarterback, Leon Fuller and Butch Wilson at fullback and Mike Fracchia at halfback.

Two New AL Clubs Buy Name Players

BOSTON (UPI) — The new five major league clubs that contacted Washington General Manager Ed Doherty Wednesday shortly after he had participated in an unprecedented selection of players together with Los Angeles General Manager Fred Haney.

Between them, Doherty and Haney spent a total of $4,325,000 for 61 players. Each of the two new clubs selected 28 players off a special American League roster at a cost of $75,000 per player.

Los Angeles also drafted three minor leaguers, including Steve Bilko, who will be right at home in Wrigley Field where he played in the Pacific Coast League, hitting 55 homers in 1956 and 56 more in 1957. Washington drafted two minor league players, each costing $25,000.

The Cardinals were only one of

they could make up the following teams:

Los Angeles — 1b-Kluszewski or Julio Becquer (Twins); 2b-Aspromonte; 3b-Yost; ss-Ken Hamlin (Athletics); of-Cerv, Faye Throneberry (Twins) and Jim McAnany (White Sox); c-Ed Sadowski (Red Sox) or Bob Wilson (Indians); p-Jerry Casale (Red Sox), Ned Graver (Athletics), Clevenger, Maas and Grba.

Washington — 1b-Long; 2b-Billy Klaus (Orioles) or John Schiave (Twins); 3b-Bob Johnson (Athletics) or Klaus; ss-Coot Veal (Tigers) or Jim Mahoney (Red Sox); of-Tasby, Woodling and Marty Keough (Indians); c-Pete Daley or Dutch Dotterer (Athletics); p-Pete Burnside and Dave Sisler (Tigers), Tom Sturdivant (Red Sox), Hal Woodeshick (Twins), and Shantz.

Like Doherty, who selected Gene Woodling of the Orioles, Willie Tasby of the Red Sox, Dale Long of the Yankees and Dick Donovan of the White Sox among others, Haney also revealed he had received trade feelers "from a number of clubs."

Haney said the Los Angeles club might take advantage of the extended inter-league trading deadline which was moved up 24 hours to Friday midnight.

"Whether we trade or not, however, we don't think we're too badly off with some of the ball players we got," Haney added. "We have the nucleus of a respectable ball club in fellows like Ted Kluszewski (White Sox), Bob Cerv, Eli Grba and Duke Maas (Yankees), Ken Aspromonte (Indians), Eddie Yost (Tigers) and Tex Clevenger (Minnesota Twins)."

Each of the contributing eight AL clubs lost seven players during the two-hour long selection session held in the private office of league president Joe Cronin.

The Yankees were hit first. Haney won the coin toss and picked the 26-year-old, right-handed Grba, who had a 6-4 record with the Yankees last season, chiefly in relief.

Doherty then selected Shantz as Washington's first choice in the old southpaw was a key man in pitching category. The 35-year-old southpaw was a key man in the Yankees' bullpen this year, turning in a 2.78 earned run average and a 5-4 won-lost record.

Managers Bill Rigney of Los Angeles and Mickey Vernon of Washington, also present at the selection session, both said they were "happy" over the choices.

"We would have liked to have gotten Yost for our ball club," said Vernon, "but they beat us to the punch. We still came out all right, though."

Rigney, likewise, was satisfied with the men his club bought. "We got some name players and some young pitching talent," he said. "We have no complaints at all."

Rigney and Vernon both shrugged helplessly when asked if they could offer some kind of starting line-up. From the players on their rosters now however,

Stinnett, Bucks Pace 1-A All-District Grid Picks

Stinnett, District 1-A champion which posted a 13-1 record before losing to Albany, 9-6, in the Class A semi-finals last week, dominated the all-district team announced this week by landing seven men on the first unit and two on the second team.

White Deer's Bucks, number two finisher in the 1-A race with a 9-1 record put three starters on the first team and three more on the alternate unit, while Gruver had two first-team selections and Sunday, one.

The Rattlers' seven-man selection was headed by three-fourths of the starting backfield: the fabulous Anderson brothers, Donnie and Larry, and Dude McLean, although McLean missed several district games because of a broken foot suffered in the White Deer battle.

Fullback/Tommy Lester of White Deer and Halfback Bill Logsdon of Gruver were the only two to break into the Stinnett-dominated five-man backfield pick.

Rattler linemen picked were End Don Hazel, Tackle Billy Dodd, Guard Steve (Red) Jenkins and Center Benny Karr.

Besides Lester, White Deer also placed glue-fingered Leland Knight at end position and Tackle Carl McAdams at first team posts.

White Deer's selections on the Hughes and Quarterback Dickie Hanna, acknowledged as one of the top passers in the Panhandle, and Joe Grange.

Panhandle, which failed to scratch on the starting squad, placed Robert Medlin at guard on the second team.

The 1-A coaches selected the teams but were not allowed to vote on their own players.

Cincinnati Nips Knicks

By United Press International
A couple of almost normal-sized basketball players, Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals, are battling for rookie of the year laurels in the giant-cluttered National Basketball Association.

West is "only" 6 foot 3 and Robertson isn't much taller.

Robertson, for three years the leading collegiate point-maker in the country, scored 22 points Wednesday night, helping to clinch a 121-114 victory over the New York Knickerbockers at Cincinnati.

West scored 24 points, had 11 rebounds and shot 50 per cent from the floor of the Los Angeles Sports Arena as the Lakers beat the Western Division-leading St. Louis Hawks for the first time this season, 124-113.

Detroit defeated the Philadelphia Warriors, 134-126, in the other NBA game scheduled Wednesday night in Detroit.

Point-Happy Mounts Breaks Tech Records

LUBBOCK — Perryton's Del Ray Mounts, who breaks Texas Tech scoring records with frightening — to opponents — monotony, has shattered another school mark just four games into his junior season.

Mounts' field goal shooting percentage of 90.9 against Loyola there Monday night bettered the 85 per cent mark accomplished by 6-7 Don Perkins of Irving last year against Southern Methodist. Perkins, against the Mustangs, connected on 11 of 13 field goal tries. Mounts, 5-10 guard from Perryton, missed only one of 11 attempts in the Raiders' 78-74 victory in New Orleans.

Mounts, accounting for 28 points during the game, hit his first eight shots, missed one, and closed out with two more goals. From the free throw line he made 8 of 12. Thanks to the 28-point spree — third best of Mounts' career — he is averaging 23.3 points a game. That's exactly 10 points better than at this stage last year for the little fellow who wound up leading the Southwest Conference in league game scoring with an 18.9 average.

The bigger half" of Texas Tech's scoring punch, 6-9 Harold Hudgens, is expected to resume action after missing both the Florida (a 79-76 loss) and Loyola games. The Raiders 2-2, meet Louisiana State University, winner over University of Texas Monday night, in the Coliseum here at 8 p.m. Friday.

Aparicio Takes Fielding Honors

BOSTON (UPI)—There's fresh evidence today of what Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox has been saying for the last two years: Luis Aparicio is baseball's modern "Mr. Shortstop."

American League fielding statistics released by league president Joe Cronin disclose that the slick-fielding Aparicio's .379 percentage in 1960 was by far the best in the circuit. It was the second straight season in which Aparicio led the shortstops and his average this year was nine points higher than his 1959 mark.

By ED LUBANSKI 1959 Bowler-of-the-Year

Does the proprietor of the bowling center wince every time you deliver the ball because you're bouncing it on the lane instead of laying it down smoothly?

If you'd like him to smile and add pins to your score, too, bend the left knee deeply during the final step.

It stands to reason that if you do everything else correctly, but forget to bend the knee, you'll swing the ball forward and release it at about knee level. The ball will put a dent in the maple lane and have all of the working spin removed from it.

Bend the knee and the ball will glide out on the lane like an airplane coming in.

Another Trojan Horse

One of the items in which our new President has indicated his interest is the matter of medical care for the aged, at taxpayers' expense.

When one realizes that this medical show not only provides the costs of medical care for those not eligible for old age assistance, for any reason, but additionally will provide medical financial assistance to any who seem to have difficulties in meeting the costs of their illnesses, the overall cost will be seen to be staggering.

He sat on the Victorian couch with the velvet upholstery and said that the fact was that ghosts are rare these days because most families are reasonably happy. Not greatly. Reasonably.

"In the old days of torment and torture and cutting off of heads a site developed a lot of tension and nervous energy and ghosts feed on that," he said. "If a house has a haunted reputation, people walk by it at night in fear and that fear generates the kind of energy that keeps ghosts going. Take a tranquil house with a peaceful family in it and ghosts wither, even if they have been there from time to time."

Allen - Scott Reports: Kennedy May Junk Overseas Dependents Slush; To Confer on Morale with Congressional Leaders

WASHINGTON — There is a strong possibility President-elect Kennedy will junk the plan to slash the number of military dependents abroad by 50 per cent.

As a preparatory step, he has asked Clark Clifford, his liaison representative to the Eisenhower Administration, to make an immediate thorough "review" of this move to curb the increasingly serious flow of gold from the U.S.

Under President Eisenhower's order, the return of dependents is being undertaken when Kennedy is inaugurated. This homeward movement is due to start next month, at the rate of 15,000 a month.

Yule In Europe Much Different

ROME, ITALY — Already I can see that Christmas in Europe is going to be mighty different from Christmas at home.

Not only are we going to be thousands of miles away from friends and loved ones, but just as many miles away from the trappings to which we have long been accustomed and hold dear.

The biggest problem of all, however, has been Christmas cards. For a country that has adopted so many phases of New World culture, Italy has been ever so backward when it comes to Christmas cards.

Nor did I find a card with puddles hanging from the branches of a tree, or one on which prancing Scotties hauled a sleigh, or even one of a champagne glass whose bubbles spelled out Merry Christmas.

"Blood money," a term now used to describe the reward for betraying a criminal, once represented legal exactions that could be made by a victim's family against his murderer, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The Nation's Press

A FAITH FOR THE YOUNG

The real strength of the United States lies not in hydrogen bombs, missiles or bombers, but in the kind of faith that exists in the hearts of the American people.

Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, retired Army hero, recently made this point in saying that the success of America's mission of world leadership hinges on our young people believing in our system.

America's youth as future leaders in the professions, in industry and government, he said, "will determine whether the nation of tomorrow will preserve the ancient virtues and will carry America forward."

Speaking at a cornerstone-laying ceremony at Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va., Gen. Wedemeyer said: "This won't be done unless our future leaders really believe in our system. They must be genuinely convinced that the American system—including the free market places... and the right to work—offers fairer rewards and greater opportunities to our people than socialism or communism."

They say it is too much to expect Latin or Afro-Asian countries to go capitalist at this late date. They insist that the best U. S. can hope for is a mildly friendly neutralism overseas. At home, they insist that, in the interests of fulfilling "modern needs" that the "private sector" of the economy give way to the "public sector."

The Red regiments refused to fight when the Germans came on and the half-hearted loyal troops in front of them were betrayed. What could the Algerians think of that as a country to fight for? After Hitler struck Russia, the leading French Communists vanished to reappear in Moscow for a duration. Then they came swarming home to massacre thousands of loyal Frenchmen including Pierre Laval and to disgrace the nation by clapping Marshal Petain into prison.

The same Communists are still alive and quietly active although General De Gaulle seems to have put them down for the time being. In fumbling thus to imagine the problem thoughts of an Algerian colonial I find that I am expressing my own memories of the life and downfall of France in those years.

Hamline Is Sand-Blasting Expert, Too

Hamline Air Tool Rentals One Of New Firms Here

One of Pampa's newer businesses is Hamline Air Tool Co., which specializes in air tool rentals.

And the big one-two punch of this firm is the fact that it has the air tool you need — name it and George Hamline has it — and, too, it eliminates travel to Amarillo or Borger for such equipment such as was the case in the past.

Among the many air tools you, as an individual, or as a firm may need are air compressors, paving breakers, air tamps, clay spades, chipping guns, rock drills, and the like, and all are available at a nominal fee at the Hamline Air Tool Co., 212 N. Houston Street.

And, one may do business by telephone simply by calling MO 4-8643, and, of course, that is an advantage.

Another attraction the firm offers is pickup and delivery. This, too, includes long distance delivery and pickup in the event one of the air tools is required for, say, a week or up to a month.

"We try to service anyone, anywhere," was the way George Hamline, owner of the organization, explained it.

Hamline is not new to Pampa and vicinity. He lived here some years ago, but moved to South Texas some years ago where he operated the Coastal Corrosion Control Co. for a number of years.

He also specialized in industrial painting and sand blasting there just as does his firm here.

One of the features of the company's sand blasting operations is the protective measures taken by Hamline.

Take this for instance: Several days ago the firm was sand blasting the entrance to a local church, but an auto was parked where it would have been showered by dust from the blasting operations, still if the car was splattered, it wasn't because Hamline Co. failed to take protective measures. For before one step was taken to go into the sand blasting operation, that car was encased in plastic, and when the operation was completed the plastic was removed, leaving the car in the condition in which it was prior to the project being started.

This is one of the prideful efforts of Hamline Co. for it is the opinion of George Hamline that, if one begins a project, that project must be done well.

"We don't go off half-cocked on an endeavor. We realize the value of doing a job well. We take pains to see that our job is completed in this work, and is a registered and certified coating engineer so designated by the Houston Coating Society, and the National Association of Corrosion Engineers, among others, which fully qualifies him for an experts rating.

Thus, in the event you need air tools, industrial painting or consultation on industrial painting or corrosive protection, think of George Hamline, owner of Hamline Air Tool Rental Co. It is certain this organization can, and is capable of aiding you.

H&M Assures Holiday Cheer For Parties

HOLIDAY CHEER! — So let's Shop H. & M. Cut Rate Liquor Store, Foster and Hobart streets! That's the holiday "slogan" of Herb Lotz and Myron Dorman, co-operators of the firm which bustles with business, for they have in hand numerous brands of outstanding whiskeys and liquors which are palatable to those who know the fine things in the field.

And, better than ever, the H. & M. Cut Rate Liquor Store has two prominent features:

- 1-Pronto delivery service, and
- 2-Some of the rare bonded brands of whiskey and Scotch which are not usually available in Pampa.

But, more than ever, you are receiving prices that are right; prices that are right for your pocketbook, and you just can't beat that. Not even with a stick!

"Since this is the holiday season, we have gone to the limit of our quota to bring in whiskeys that are not usually seen on shelves in Pampa," said Myron Dorman, one of the two owners. And a look at the wide variety the store offers is the convincer. For the brands run the gamut from such as these:

Old Charter, 12-year-old; rare Scotch brands (just name'em), and liquors of your choice are at your disposal and are merely awaiting your selection. And all are appropriate Christmas gifts.

These, plus the usual are at hand at all times at A. & M. Cut Rate Liquor Store. And the operators of the firm are at your beck and call throughout the store hours.

Along with all this, the H. & M. Liquor Store has all the "mixes" you will require for the holiday festivities. So make it a point when you need materials for THAT party to visit H. & M. Liquors, Foster and Hobart streets, or TELEPHONE MO-4-8102, and, as the co-owners say, "It'll be there pronto!"

Financial Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Housing starts played a big part in the failure of the nation's economy to get rolling this year.

At the same time, however, new home construction is expected to get the economy moving in 1961.

Housing starts this year approached 1.3 million units, approximately 19 per cent below the 1959 figure of 1.6 million, and the Housing Institute looks for this figure to jump to 1,375,000 in the new year.

The institute said there are many favorable factors for an upturn in housing starts, although it may not come until sometime during the second quarter. The consensus among economists is for the economy to start picking up at mid-year. Among the favorable factors are:

Disposable personal income should increase by about $12 billion next year, providing a higher level for home purchases.

Consumers will start the new year with record liquid assets and a very favorable financial position, despite the large short-term debt.

A continued increase in population to more than 181 million should result in increased demands for new homes.

The number of families in the middle income group — a big home buying category — continues to expand.

Vacancy rates, which showed a substantial gain in 1960, indicate that buyers are becoming more selective, and that the supply of new apartments is greater than demand. The institute said the home building industry is in a position to capture some of the market since high rents provide an incentive to the purchase of a home.

There should be an improvement in the stock market, which will result in a more favorable trend of public psychology. The institute regards this as a help to home building.

The latest survey of consumer intentions, as reported by the national industrial conference board, indicates an improvement in consumer confidence following the election. Consumer buying plans for new homes showed a 13 per cent gain from November, 1959, levels.

NEAT BURGLAR

HONOLULU (UPI)—Restaurant owner Yoshinobu Kaneshiro said Wednesday that a burglar has raided his establishment six times this month—but he had a good word for the intruder.

Kaneshiro said the culprit cut pie with professional neatness, washed his silverware after using it, and always replaced opened fruit juice cans in the refrigerator.

TIPPLING THIEF

CELLE, Germany (UPI) — A tipping thief let his minor vices get the best of him Wednesday night.

Police said he broke into a combination liquor and grocery store and started sampling the Scotch whisky lined in bottles on the shelves.

Then he started to light a cigarette and set the store on fire. He poured beer on the fire, but it wouldn't go out.

The storeowner discovered the fire and put it out with water. The owner also found a box full of coins that police said had been stolen from a nearby tavern.

West's Too Thin Blooded For Kennedy's Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This may sound like sour grapes, but I'm just as glad that President-elect Kennedy isn't going to appoint me to anything.

I'll admit I had my eye on a cabinet post—who didn't?—and that I suffered some pangs of disappointment when the secretary of statehood was grabbed off by some other fellow.

However, the way things have been going this week at the "Red House," as Kennedy's Georgetown home is called, I can see that I'm too thin blooded to serve in his administration.

I mean I don't think I would have what it takes to stand out there on his front stoop in sub-freezing weather, bareheaded and topcoat-less, while he announced my appointment to the press. It's bad enough being one of the newsmen who have to stand around on the icy sidewalk and interview the Kennedy callers as they enter and leave. I spent a couple of hours doing that and my feet haven't thawed out yet.

Reporters who have this assignment regularly have been comparing it to Valley Forge, and I must say that some of them looked a bit like veterans of Gen. Washington's encampment. They have been outfitted by the Salvation Army.

Never have I seen such a motley assortment of parkas, arctic boots and other types of Army surplus equipment, which obviously was left over from the Aleutian campaign. All that was needed to complete the scene was a dog sled.

But at least the newsmen could wear something to keep their heads warm. In contrast, it seems to be protocol for the office-seekers calling on Kennedy to emulate the rugged characteristics of their hatless leader.

Kennedy, of course, has an office in the Senate Office Building, which has warm corridors, but he prefers to stick close to his own hearth. There is a good reason for this.

He tried working at the Capitol for a while, but soon discovered there was no tactful way to keep his fellow senators from dropping in for a chat. One senator who stopped by to say "hello" used up an hour of Kennedy's crowded schedule before saying "goodbye."

It was shortly after this that Kennedy moved his base of operations to his Georgetown home. It's not cricket for another senator to go there without an invitation.

At intervals, Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press aide, appears at the back door and addresses himself to the blue upturned faces gathered around the steps. This always produces a lot of wistful questions about Kennedy's coming trip to Palm Beach.

It may be a good thing that Kennedy is going to Florida soon. If he stayed here, the next secretary of agriculture might turn out to be a polar bear.

"Buffalo Bill" Cody fought his famous "duel to the death" with a Cheyenne warrior named Yellow Hand or Yellow Hair.

Ike Winds Up Annual Check On His Health

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower was scheduled to leave Walter Reed Army Hospital today following completion of part-two of his annual physical checkup just 36 days before he retires from the White House.

The 70-year-old Eisenhower, oldest U.S. Chief Executive, was expected to leave the hospital sometime in the afternoon.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, who emphasized that Eisenhower was not ailing and had no symptoms of illness, said any statement on the examination would be issued at his White House office.

Eisenhower entered Walter Reed Tuesday night to complete the final head-to-toe checkup he will undergo as President. He leaves office Jan. 20.

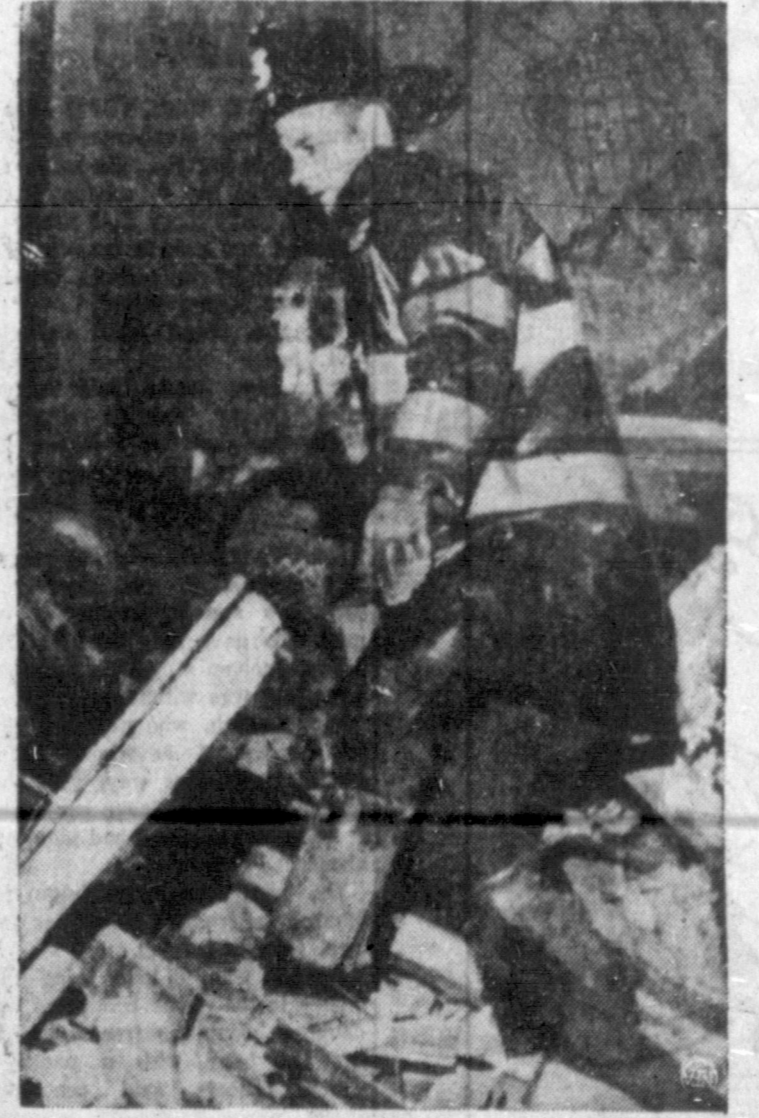

He was pronounced in "continued excellent" health following the first half of the tests, Sept. 15-16. Hagerty said the three-month delay in completing the tests occurred because Eisenhower had been "fairly busy" since mid-September.

Hagerty said the President "feels fine and just wants to get the yearly examination concluded."

He'd Break Habit

DALLAS (UPI) — It's getting to be a habit Henry Lolomia would like to break.

Lolomia, 34, told police a gunman walked into his grocery store yesterday and "robbed him of $50. He said he is positive it is the same bandit who robbed him of about $50 two weeks ago and got away.

RESCUED — With tiny poodle "Sandy" gently clasped under his arm, man Gustav Knocel picks his way through the rubble of a five-story building that collapsed into an excavation in New York. Sandy's owners, who lived on the top floor of the apartment, were away when the building crashed to the ground. All the residents were away or fled before the structure fell and there were no injuries.

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI)—Rhonda Wright, 13, of Kountze, Tex., was killed Wednesday when the car she was riding in skidded on a slippery highway and hit a tree.

GEOLOGIST DIES

TYLER, Tex. (UPI)—H. Clair Matheny, 59, chief geologist for Delta Drilling Co., was found dead in the dining room of his home in Tyler Wednesday. Death was apparently caused by a heart attack.

WAYNE LEFT SHOTGUN

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actor John Wayne was bequeathed the late Ward Bond's favorite shotgun, it was revealed under instructions of his will admitted to probate Wednesday.

Wayne was a close friend of Bond, former star of the TV series "Wagon Train," who died Nov. 5.

BAR ENTERTAINMENT

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Police Department has barred all entertainment at the Copacabana nightclub for four days during Christmas week because six employees were found working without proper identity cards.

SPELLMAN STARTS TOUR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Francis Cardinal Spellman will embark Friday on a two-week tour of U.S. military installations in the Northern Hemisphere during which he will celebrate Christmas masses in Greenland.

HIRE METER MAIDS

EAU CLARE, Wis. (UPI)—The City Council Wednesday overrode the objections of councilwoman Mrs. Bessie Lee and approved plans to hire meter maids to monitor the city's parking meters. Mrs. Lee objected on grounds that Eau Clare men are having enough trouble finding jobs without female competition.

FILTERED SMOKING—Smoke is blown through a piece of pipe made of porous stainless steel, which is a new idea in filters. With this type filter you can remove dirt particles one-half a micron in size (anything smaller than 40 microns can't be seen with the naked eye) from a liquid twice as thick as molasses. The porous metal is made by binding powdered steel. The filters, made by the Pall Corporation in Glen Cove, N.Y., look like solid steel but you can even strain tea with it.

Castro Has New Theme

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro angrily charged today that the United States has supplied rebel terrorists with special high-powered explosives. In one of his most bitter attacks on the United States, Castro denounced the American government for supporting "the counter-revolution by appropriating one million dollars to aid counter-revolutionaries and war criminals." Castro, shouting almost incoherently during a three-hour speech before a Cuban Workers' Confederation meeting called to oust the anti-Communist leadership of the electrical workers' union, said: "We have the impression from data gathered that mechanisms used to sabotage electric power plants were prepared abroad. Furthermore, it's a certain fact that the intelligence service of Allen Dulles and the bandits of the Yankee Pentagon have been furnishing counter-revolutionary elements with a type of special high-power explosive used by the United States Army." Castro said the U.S. appropriation for aid to Cuban refugees was "simply an invitation to soldiers of the old (Batista) army to leave the nation and enlist in the mercenary force preparing to attack from abroad, or in the interior mercenary organization of terrorism and sabotage."

Girl Gets Sprained Ankle When Trapped By Train

CHENOA, Ill. (UPI)—Margaret Cleary nursed a sprained ankle today and worried about her pet cow, shredded by the undercarriage of 35 freight cars. For what "seemed like an eternity," Margaret, a 15-year-old high school student, Wednesday lay fear-stricken under a Gulf Mobile Oil freight as it gathered speed out of this north central Illinois town. Margaret's older sister, Catherine, 17, and two younger brothers were on their way to catch the school bus and the train stood in their way. They waited, Catherine said, "about 25 minutes" for it to start. Then the two boys and Catherine crawled under, "just like we've had to several times before." Margaret was last in line. As she scrambled under the train, it started to move. "The first thing I knew, Margaret was lying there," Catherine said. "There was nothing I could do to help her. I heard her scream."

Catherine and her brothers Ralph, 12, and Mike, 11, shouted "Lie still!" Catherine said Margaret "scrunched her head down. 'I was crying and I don't remember for sure, but I don't think she made a sound after that first scream. Just kept her head down close to the ties.'"

Persons Sued Over Negroes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—The Justice Department filed suit here Wednesday against 81 individual white persons and one bank accused of "economic coercion" against 400 Negroes. The government charged the defendants with plans to evict Negro tenant farmers in January as reprisal for their having registered and voted in the November general election. The defendants denied the charge and said the Negroes are victims of mechanized farming. Pete Williams, a cotton farmer, said he has switched to a completely mechanized operation because "we can produce the crop much cheaper by machine and do not have to keep a close check on our labor." Williams said he plans to grow 80 acres of cotton next year, using no labor other than himself and his family. The federal complaint names residents of Fayette County, Tenn. A similar suit filed earlier lodged the same charges against residents of Haywood County, which adjoins Fayette in the rich cotton country of West Tennessee. Federal District Judge Marion Boyd will hear the government's request for a temporary injunction Dec. 27. A second request for a permanent injunction will be heard later.

Used Car Owner Sought As Key In Kidnaping

EVERETT, Wash. (UPI)—The owner of a much-traveled 590 used car is being sought today as the possible key to solving a 17-year-old girl's story that she was kidnaped and used in an effort to extort $25,000 in ransom money from her banker father. The girl, Hazel Irene Oelrich, and honor student at Sultan, Wash., high school, told Snohomish County sheriff's deputies Wednesday that her kidnaper let her escape in the car after making the phone call from Monroe, a Snohomish County town. Sheriff's officers said the car, a 1950 Studebaker, was purchased two days ago in Everett by a man who gave only General Delivery, Snohomish, as his address. His name was withheld. Miss Oelrich, who narrated her 90 minutes of adventure in a casual, nonchalant way, said the man forced her to leave her home at knifepoint after he had inquired about her father. The "ride" was from Sultan to Monroe, where she called her father, George Oelrich. Oelrich was told to bring the money to the phone booth and his daughter would be freed. Oelrich left the bank with a package which officers said contained $2,000. The money was placed in the phone booth but when word came that Miss Oelrich was home safe, it was picked up before it could be taken. Miss Oelrich said the last she saw of her kidnaper was as he walked around a corner in Monroe telling her, "This isn't a one-man outfit; my part in this fiasco is over."

Electoral Votes In Illinois Now Solid For JFK

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today held a firm, official claim to Illinois' 27 electoral votes despite Republican charges of election fraud. The Illinois Electoral Board certified Kennedy the official winner Wednesday at the end of a stormy 2½ hour hearing in the state Capitol. Kennedy's margin over Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a razor-thin 8,858 votes—2,577,846 to 2,368,988. Republicans conceded the election by the GOP-dominated Electoral Board all but spelled the end to their hopes of reversing the Kennedy victory. "There is apparently no way of stopping the electoral votes from going to Kennedy," Cook County (Chicago) Republican Chairman Francis X. Connell said. George Dapples, attorney for the Chicago Nixon Recount Committee, spiked suggestions an injunction might be sought in Circuit Court here to prevent the Democratic electors from meeting Monday. "What good would that do?" Dapples asked. "It wouldn't keep Kennedy out of the White House, or put Nixon into it."

Peter Pan's Christmas Story

By Walt Disney

Letters To Santa Claus

Dear Santa Claus: I am nine years old. I would like a Chatty Cathy or Barbie doll. I would also like a stroller. I have two big brothers. Their names are Ricky and Larry. My piano teacher gave me a pin. I have two cats. Their names are Sam and Spoty. I would like for you to bring Sam some cat food and overboots. Spoty would like some to. So get Spoty some cat food and overboots.
Love
Judy Tarrant

Dear Santa Claus: How are you? I'm just fine. I won't a B-B gun for Christmas, a bow and arrow and a guitar. I want you to come before I go to bed. I hope you come too, I want to see the sled and the reindeers.
Love
Kirby, Lester Cochran

Dear Santa: We were afraid you hadn't heard about our little sister Robbie Denise. She is only three months old but we want her to have something under the Christmas tree. I would like to have a wood burning set and some games and my little brother wants a tractor and a little wagon. We will have the house nice and warm and plenty for you to eat. We love you.
Joe and Mike Cade
1504 S. Amherst
Perryton, Texas

Dear Santa: My name is Deborah Carol. I am 2 years old. My mommy is writing this for me. Please bring me a baby doll and tricycle. I have been a very good girl. Love,
Deborah Carol Wallace
120 N. Nelson

Dear Santa Claus: I would like a football an a kicking tee, a new bicycle, a shooten shell set and thats all. Your friend,
Michael Harold Wakefield

Dear Santa: I want a barbi doll and a baby doll. She's like a real baby. She has a bracelet that has a place for her name and her mother's name. My little sister wants a Chatty Kathy doll. You can pull a string and she will talk. And I want some sparkle paints. Love,
Debra Reynolds
1060 Prairie Dr.

Dear Santa: I wish you would bring me a electric football set. And I want amonopoly set too. And I want a watch and scout hunting gun that shoots plastic shells. It has a strap to hold it on. I have a sister. Her name is Judy. She wants a high heel doll, I have a brother. His name is Bobby. He wants a rifle like mine. I am in the third grade. Love,
David Johnston
1153 Prairie Dr.

Dear Santa: We have tried to be four good children. Debbie my little sister would like a Bride Doll. Gary wants a Snub Nose .38. David wants a auto transport carrier and I would like a Wilson football suit. Love,
Debbie, Gary, David and Mike Fortin
1044 Huff Rd.

Dear Santa: I am five years old and am a good boy most of the time. Would you please bring me a Roy Rogers double gun and holster set? Don't forget the other boys and girls.
Love
Stanley Barefoot

Dear Santa Claus: I would like a Tiny Tears doll and some Presto Paints, a set of table and chairs, a bride doll, a little baby bed, a set of dishes, a play stove and a play refrigerator.
Love

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy who is 23 months old. I would like for you to bring me a red tricycle, red wagon and a green and white stuffed striped bull dog. Don't forget all my little cousins. Timmy wants a rocky horse like mine. Gaines wants a stuffed toy like I do. My sister Sandra Gail wants a black mutan and a record player with some "Rock 'n Roll" records.

There will be coffee and cookies waiting for you. Lots of love,
William Darrell Floyd and Sandra Gail Whitney

Dear Santa Claus: We are little girls. We are five and six years old. We want you to bring us a Shirley Temple doll with a wardrobe, a set of China dishes and a set of silverware.
We have been nice little girls.

We will leave coffee and cake for you in the kitchen. We love you,
Carla and Kay Ridgeway
Mobeetie

Dear Santa: I am 7 years old. My sister Lisa is 3 years old. We each want a cowgirl shirt, (sizes 8 and 14), boots (size 10 1/2 B and 1 B) hat and guns. Cathy would like a big wagon. We have been good girls this year.
From Terri, Lisa and Cathy

Dear Santa: I want a dolly with a pony-tail and clothes and a Texas Broncho horse. I'll leave you something to eat on the table. Thank you,
Sherrill Sanders, Age 6
