French Settlers Turn Algiers Into Battlefield

French settlers turned the heart of Algiers into a battlefield Saturday and fought with Moslems and riot police in Oran in the second straight day of near-insurrection against the visit of President Charles de Gaulle.

At least two persons were killed, both Moslems ,and an estimated 200 persons were injured in barrages of flaming Molotov cocktails, brickbats, paving blocks and chunks of roofing tile. A number of casualties were cars grinding through the streets. For the first time there were serious clashes between Europeans and Moslems, A mob of 2,000 Arabs smashed European car windows and threw stones at police in the Belcourt suburb of Algiers and battled in the gutters with whites in Oran.

Some of the Moslems in both cities bore banners with the dread call for a "jihad"-a holy ern Algeria shortly after a wild clash in the center of the city between extremist "Colons" (settlers) and Moslems who charged the European sector, burning stores and attacking whites.

"The Ultras (extremist settlers) to the stake," the Moslems screamed. "Vive de Gaulle, Vive Algerian Algeria."

The Moslems supported De Gaulle's idea of a semi-independent Algeria, something the settlers oppose on grounds that

The cry "vive De Gaulle" vied with the shout "De Gaulle to the gallows" across the length and breadth of the war torn North African country.

In Algiers, Oran, Orleansville and other large cities and towns passions erupted in street fight-

Acting Mayor Rene Mekki of Oran said the situation was likely to become "very grave."

As he spoke, between 10,000 and 15,060 settlers rioted in the mobile gendarmes and the regular security police.

Two Moslems were killed in the Oran rioting but police said they died in a clash between rival Moslem factions. More than 100 persons were hurt in Oran. There also were casualties in the town of Blida.

The worst rioting occurred in Algiers where an estimated 15,000 demonstrators surged through the

A 44-yard pass from quarterback Dean Newby to speedy halfback Ed Buchanan late in the third put the West ahead to stay. Buchanan put over the final TD with less than two minutes left, bucking over from the three.

Newby ran the team well, clicking on clutch passes and moving the ball himself on keepers. One of his favorite passing targets was Buchanan, a hefty track flash who was voted the game's outstanding back.

The West opened the scoring in the first quarter, when Newby skirted right end for 20 yards, outrunning two East defenders. The touchdown was set up by Buchanan, who moved the ball 34 yards in two carries.

Voted 'Best' In Cotton Bowl's 25 Years

BOBBY LAYNE

DOAK WALKER COTTON BOWL'S BEST - Doak Walker, left and Bobby Layne were voted by sportswriters as the most valuable all-around players ever to perform in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Classic, with Walker nosing out Layne by 11/2 votes. Walker played in two Cotton Bowl games in - 1948 against Penn State and in 1949 against Oregon - while Layne starred against Missouri in 1946. Both, coincidentally, were graduates of Highland Park High School in Dallas.

Basketball season arrived over-, pass to close the score to 9-6. night for the Stinnett Rattlers after surprising Albany upset the Rattlers, 9-6, at Childress Friday night in the Class A semi - final football playoffs.

Stinnett, which had rolled over 13 foes with comparative ease in mov-12 ing to the semifinal round, never 1 = 0 could get its footing on the snow-22 slick ground and wound up with 6 120 yards rushing.

Johnny Agan, a one-man Albany g terror, almost duplicated the whole O Stinnett team on the ground, roll-55 ing up 115 of Albany's 136 yards 3 on the ground; he also scored the lone touchdown on a 23 - yard Fg Ft Pf Tp scamper in the first period.

The score came on a fourth-and-4 one gamble by Stinnett on its own 17 24, but a fumble - the only one 17 lost by either team - was recov-2 ered by Albany on the Stinnett 23. 9 On the first play after the cru-2 cial bobble, Agan circled right end, 7 cut back in and sprinted 23 yards 3 for the double stripe.

SELECTING TRAIN BUDDIES - Not the least in importance in the planning of the band trip was the selection of whom was to ride beside whom on the train. To facilitate matters, Mr. Tregoe set up a train chart with seating arrangements outlined so that best friends could sign up to sit beside best friends on the train-ride into Chicago. Last week, the train chart thumb-tacked to the band-room door proved to be a popular and often thickly populated spot. Pictured here, left to right, making a careful selection are Chris Grayson, Nita Lee, Jan Blanton, Marvin Robinson, Barbara Browning and Linda Tadlock. The adult-sponsors, accompanying the group, Mrs. Jim Jackson, Mrs. Bill Tregoe, Miss Virginia Vaughn, Mrs. W. L. Veale, Miss Evelyn Milam, Charles Meech, Deck Woldt, Homer Krueger and Joe DiCosimo, have each been assigned nine to ten students, who will be in their charge throughout the trip. Other members of the official band party are Cameron Marsh, Pampa High School Principal and Jack Edmandson, assistant school superin tendent; Otto Shewmaker, Mrs. Gerald Carter and Mrs. William Leonard, members of the Band Boosters Club.

their return to Pampa — next Sunday, and shine their instruments. Using a shine cloth and a bit of "elbow-grease" here are left to right, Bobby Grant, Marvin Robinson and Maurine Hickman. A few sightseeing trips are also planned for band members before their return to Pampa next Sunday.

Chicago, Chicago

On Monday evening, Pampa High School Concert B and will leave by train for Chicago, III., where they have been invited to play for the Mid-West National Band Clinic. The local band is one of eight in the nation which has been invited to present a program at the national clinic. The honor was accorded following the band's appearance last Spring at a Band Clinic in Enid, Okla.

Pampa High School Concert Band, directed by Bill Tregoe, is scheduled to play a progam of light classical selections at 8 p.m. on Wednesday in the Sherman Hotel.

The invitation from the National Clinic touched off a flurry of activity. . . diligent and long-hours of concentrated practice for band members and their director, Bill Tregoe during the late summer and the band entourage . . . and the whole-hearted support and financial backing of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. All of which illustrates again how community spirit can make Big Things possible. Pictured on this page are photos by Doris E. Wilson, women's page editor, depicting behind-the-scene activities, which engaged the attention of band members between practice sessions.

YOU - ALL CAN BUT THE CAN - CANS CAN'T - The difficult musical passages in the numbers that the Concert Band are to play aren't nearly as difficult for the feminine members of the band as trying to adhere to the band director's edict . . ." all you can take is what you can carry". When this includes band instrument cases, band uniforms in plastic bags, and only one suitcase for dress-up clothes, it presents quite a problem for wearers of full-skirts and frilly can-can skirts. Trying to figure a "way out" are the pretty band members pictured here, left to right, Sandra Whelchel, Gail Cullpepper, Martha Lou Kelley and Willeta Lowther, who are also twirlers with the marching band.

FINAL SESSION-Following endless practice sessions, which have been in progress all during late August and the first few months of school, the final polishing touches on phrasing and performance are given by director, Bill Tregoe to cornetists, left to right, Joe Roberson, Gordie Schultz and Milton Saltzman. Included in the selections to be given by the band on Wednesday evening in the Sherman Hotel are "Sinfonians" (Concert March); "Caribeguine"; "Renascence"; "Bolero Espanol". During their performance, the band will also be conducted by guest-conductors John Cacabas composer of "Grecian Theme and Dance"; "Blue Bells of Scotland" with Commander Brendler of the US Navy Band conducting and trombone solaist, Larry Wiehe of the US Navy Band; Ray Dvorak of the University of Wisconsin; Graham T. Overgard, Wayne State University; Don McCathern, Duquesne University and Richard Bowles of University of Florida.
