

'Freedom Riders' Are Due In Pampa From Los Angeles Saturday

Six horsemen left Los Angeles Veterans' Day on a 3,076 mile ride to Washington. They will pass through Pampa at approximately 4 p.m. Saturday on their long ride to the nation's capital to carry to President Eisenhower a message urging the administration to take a solid stand against communism. The idea was put into action by The Rev. Dr. Thomas Wyatt, minister, author and longtime foe of communism. The riders will include two of the nation's better known rodeo performers, Don Whisenant and Everett Creach, plus stunt men from the motion picture industry.

The six riders and their five alternates will make their trip Pony Express style, with one of the men on the go at all times. The ride will take the men through 400 cities and 14 states.

E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, said that a reception committee is being readied to formally greet the group upon its arrival here. At present, the local effort is in the planning stage and the chamber manager said details will be announced this week. The riders will stick to the Pony Express theme throughout, camping beside the roads along the way, in their "crusade for God and freedom."

The endeavor is expected to be climaxed Dec. 2 and either President Eisenhower or a member of his cabinet will greet the riders and accept the letter which has been burned on saddle leather.

Tyler Druggist's Killer Confesses

TYLER (UPI) - A San Antonio prostitute and dope addict confessed Saturday that she strangled and shot a Tyler druggist who had been missing since late Tuesday night, but police said "she may be taking the rap" to save her boy friend.

Joan Franklin, 28, and her boy friend, Dennis Woodbury, 30, also of San Antonio, led authorities through dense underbrush near Lufkin to the body of missing druggist W. S. Carpenter, 43, early Saturday.

Police said Miss Franklin announced:

"Well, there he is, just like I told you. Now are you happy?" Miss Franklin later signed a confession stating she was entirely responsible for the crime. She also told officers her real name was Joan Brock, though she has been using the name Joan Franklin. She and Woodbury were held in jail without bond.

Deputy Sheriff Odell Butler, of Smith county, said Miss Franklin served one term at Huntsville on a narcotics conviction and had been picked up several times in San Antonio as a prostitute. Butler said Woodbury had served three terms at Huntsville, once for a narcotics conviction, another for assault to murder and another for armed robbery. Miss Franklin, dark-haired and with a dark complexion, claimed she strangled Carpenter in Tyler, by wrapping a necktie around his neck and twisting it with a screwdriver, after the druggist refused to give her and Woodbury narcotics.

Then, Miss Franklin said, they drove 83 miles to Lufkin and dumped the body. The woman said she then shot Carpenter once in the head and another time in the chest "to make sure... just for good measure."

But police indicated they were not sure she was telling the truth. They said she seemed to be gone on Woodbury and "may be taking the rap" to save him from the electric chair. Miss Franklin clung to Woodbury when she took officers to the body.

Sheriff Harlan Long of Tyler said, "there are still a lot of loose ends to clean up." He said charges have not been filed because

Monday School Holiday Called To Avert Trouble

By JOHN C. WARNER
United Press International

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - The Louisiana state superintendent of education Saturday night declared Monday a state-wide school holiday, delaying for at least one more day the integration of schools in New Orleans.

Education Supt. Shelby Jackson in his declaration asked that all schools in the state observe the holiday. No reason for the declaration was given.

Earlier in the day, U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers telegraphed Gov. Jimmie Davis that he will bring down the full powers of the Justice Department upon him if he tries to stop the integration of New Orleans schools by five Negro girls.

Davis, who calmly went off dove hunting after his lunch, has sworn that he will go to jail rather than let any public schools in his state be integrated. The New Orleans school board is ready to carry out a federal court's order to integrate Monday morning.

Rogers telegraphed the warning to Davis. He assured New Orleans Mayor DeLeese S. Morrison, who has not objected to integration, that the Justice Department will cooperate fully with local authorities in preventing disorder or violence.

Trying to stop the Negro girls from going to school will constitute violation of federal law on five counts," Rogers told Davis.

"I am confident," he telegraphed Davis, "that public officials in the state of Louisiana will uphold and support the constitution of the United States and will exert every effort to give full cooperation to the Federal courts in order that law and order may be maintained."

"In the event, however, that violations of the statutes mentioned herein should occur, I would have no recourse other than to use the full powers of my office to support the orders of the federal court, implementing the (See CRISIS, Page 3)

Pampa's Speeders Cautioned

Speeding and drag racing on Pampa's streets has been brought into sharp focus in a letter to the city Traffic Commission which has been signed by 50 residents.

Commenting on this situation, City Manager John Koonz said:

"We want the cooperation of the people in the cutting-down of speeding in the city. This is one of the nation's leading killers and maimers. If the situation does not clear, and rapidly, we shall crack down hard on the offenders, and that will mean a number of people will find themselves in arrest."

The letter to the Traffic Commission reads:

"We feel that Pampa very definitely has a traffic problem. Speeding through our streets is on the increase, making very hazardous conditions for children who are trying to cross the streets. It is apparent that this situation must be corrected and this correction should come through the combined efforts of our law enforcement agencies and our planning agencies such as yours.

"We solicit your cooperation in this matter and favor any reasonable program of action that will make our city a safer place in which to live.

James Hart, Traffic Commission director, issued this statement in behalf of his panel:

"We, the Traffic Commission call on you, as a citizen of our city, to drive more carefully. We also ask that you encourage others to drive at a safe speed. As you know, speed is the killer on our highways and streets. If you, as citizens, control your speed you can control accidents. Remember: the law is no stronger than the support given by citizens in support of the law."

California Vote Total Inching Up For Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Early counting of absentee ballots in California Saturday showed Vice President Richard M. Nixon closing in on President-elect John F. Kennedy, but not fast enough to take the state's electoral vote.

A handful of tallies were counted Saturday in San Luis Obispo and Napa counties with Nixon getting 1,922 of them and Kennedy 1,484. This was 56.4 per cent for Nixon, who needs about 60 per cent of the outstanding absentee ballots to overtake Kennedy.

Latest tally on the vote for California's 32 electoral votes gave Kennedy 3,122,756 and Nixon 3,087,738. Kennedy's lead was 35,017 with most of the 250,000 absentee ballots still to be counted.

Most counties, including populous Los Angeles where 90,900 absentee ballots were out, will start their final count Monday, the last day for receiving them.

The secretary of state must announce the official winner on Nov. 28.

Pat Hillings, chairman of the Los Angeles Republican Central Committee, said a GOP team would check possible irregularities in absentee ballots there.

"We have evidence that there have been a number of voters who have taken out absentee ballots from precincts in which they have not lived since Sept. 16, the last day of registration," Hillings said.

Opposition To Bowles Expressed

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., said Saturday he would oppose any attempt by President-elect John F. Kennedy to name Rep. Chester Bowles as secretary of state.

Cotton said he wanted to do everything possible to support the incoming President, but "I do not see how I could bring myself to vote for the confirmation of a secretary of state who favored any form of recognition of Red China."

"I sincerely hope," Cotton added in a statement released by his office, "that the Senate will not be confronted with the nomination of such a person."

6 Killed As Fast Moving Cars Crash

Wreck 'Welds' Autos Together

GROESBECK, Tex. (UPI) - Six persons, including four young people who had been to a high school football game and who "were obviously racing," police said, were killed about midnight Friday when two automobiles slammed together on a slight hill near Groesbeck.

Two more youths suffered severe injuries in the crash described by a longtime wrecker operator as the "worst I had ever seen."

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Alvin McCollom, of Sherman; Earl David Smith, 20, Mary Lou Sanders, 15; Nell Williamson, 14 and Cary Ray Jutson, 19, all of Groesbeck.

The injured were Larry Smith, 15, and Carol Lummus, 15, also of Groesbeck.

State Highway Patrolman John Neece of Mexia said "the car driven by the older Smith was obviously racing with a car driven by an unidentified Negro." Neece said the Smith car was on the wrong side of the road, approaching a slight hill just before the accident.

The impact forced the left door of the McCollom car against the right door. The McColloms were thrown out and killed instantly.

The engine of the Smith car was pushed into the front seat. Two of the youths were thrown out, the rest were badly mangled.

Rufe Berry, a wrecker operator from Groesbeck, said the cars "welded together" on impact. He said when he attempted to pull the McCollom car "it fell into pieces."

The McColloms, parents of two children who were at home in Sherman, were on the way to Houston to visit Mrs. McCollom's sick father. McCollom was well-known in Sherman as a contractor.

None of the youths was killed outright, but all died later in hospitals.

New FM Radio Outlet Opens

Pampa's newest radio station, KBBF-FM, goes on the air at 6 a.m. tomorrow.

The station will be on the air 17 hours daily, Monday through Saturday, and will feature music and news, with stress on programs designed for young and old alike.

A highlight program will be "Nightlines," a show built along the same lines as WLW-Cincinnati's far-famed "Moon River." Melvin Munn, a veteran radio and television announcer and program director, will handle this hour-long program. It will feature music, poetry and "chatter," and is expected to be a major drawing card for the new outlet.

KBBF-FM is owned by Coy Palmer and, quite appropriately, the station's call letters are taken from the names of Palmer's family. (See RADIO, Page 3)

Citizens Group Answers Questions on CRMWA

The Canadian River Municipal Water Authority election in Pampa will be conducted Nov. 22. It will be for one reason: Shall Pampa join this organization that with its pact with the United States government, will furnish much of the water this city will require for the next 50 years.

The following question and answer series has been prepared on CRMWA by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce:

1. What is the Canadian River municipal water authority?

It is an agency established under the laws of Texas in 1953 to do a special job of developing a surface water supply from the available waters of the Canadian river. The Authority Board is constituted by representatives appointed by the governing bodies of the member cities. The member cities are: Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Levelland, Brownfield, Slaton, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa.

2. What will the Canadian River project consist of?

The proposed project for the construction of an earthfill dam near Sanford, Texas, 9 miles northwest of Borger. The dam will be 6300 feet in length; the base of the dam will be 1300 feet in width and the top 40 feet wide; the highest fill will be 199 feet above the streambed; the dam will require 13 million cubic yards of earth. The aqueduct system will consist of 322 miles of Pipeline varying in size from 15" in diameter to 72".

3. Who will operate the project?

The Bureau of Reclamation will design and supervise the construction of the project. Once completed the project will be turned over to the Board of Directors of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. The Authority will be responsible for operating and maintaining the project works, including any recreational facilities.

4. Do we need the Canadian River project?

The Canadian River Project is the only major surface supply of water available to the High Plains cities. It is needed to supplement our underground water supply in order that these water deposits might be conserved.

5. Why can't we continue to rely on our underground water supply?

Increased population and increased water uses have placed a greater demand upon our water supply. Ground water is becoming increasingly difficult and expensive to obtain. Canadian river water is now competitively priced and by using it we can conserve and extend the life of our ground water supply.

6. What will be the quality of the Canadian River water?

On the basis of records available for the period 1950-1958 it is most favorable with respect to fluoride content, and is in all respects well within the limits recommended by the U.S. Public Health Service for domestic use.

7. Will there be sufficient water to maintain the project?

The project is designed for a maximum water usage of 103,000 acre feet annually. The U.S. Geological Survey Report has kept records of the river flow for a long period of time. The average annual runoff at the damsite for a period of 36 years (19-23-1959) has been 276,900 acre feet per year.

8. What will be the effect of silt deposits in the reservoir?

The design of the dam allows 405,000 acre feet for sediment, which will be more than adequate for the 50 year contract. Additionally there is 500,000 acre feet of conservation storage for use of the member cities and 425,000 acre feet for flood control. There is more than a million acre feet of emergency storage above the flood control pool. Should sedimentation encroach the conservation pool, by redesigning the spillway the life of the reservoir could be extended another 100 years.

9. Will the Lake Provide Fishing & recreational advantages?

The lake area will be open to the public for recreational use. Lands to be acquired for the project will be adequate to permit such access. With water to the top of the conservation pool the lake will extend up the river 20 miles, at spillway crest 28 miles, providing adequately for this phase of community life.

10. How long would it take to complete the project? When could construction begin?

Assuming favorable action by the voters of the member cities, construction work on the dam could be started in the fall of 1961 and completed in three years. Work on the aqueduct system could be started in 1962 and would require five years to complete.

11. What is the plan of finance?

Public Law 898, of the 81st Congress, regular session of 1950 authorized congress to appropriate money for the construction of the Canadian River Project, to be repaid by member cities over a 50 year period with interest at the rate of 2.632 per cent per annum. The contract provides for the repayment from water revenues only. There is no ad valorem tax clause in the contract and none will be required. The reimbursable cost of the project is $92,960,000. First payment will become due approximately one year after the completion of the project.

12. What will we do with our present water facilities?

These facilities will continue to be used as a supplement to the reservoir supply, particularly during the summer months when the demands are above normal and as an assurance for further growth of the city.

13. What will the water cost?

The proposed contract between the City of Pampa and the Authority calls for the delivery of untreated water to the city limits of Pampa at a point to be designated by the City at a cost of 13.62 cents per thousand gallons. Rates of other cities: Lubbock 17.66 cents per thousand gallons and Brownfield 29.16 cents. This price covers the 50 years of the contract. Pampa will provide water treatment facilities.

14. Will this project effect the bills of the Pampa users?

With the increasing distances to available water, the increasing costs of water rights and the increasing costs of producing underground water, the City estimates that in less than 20 years the Canadian river water will be the cheapest water it can obtain from any source. Assuming there will be an increase when, or before the project is completed, under the contract we will enjoy a fixed price for 50 years. Without the project, it is estimated our capital costs for the next 25 years will exceed our share of the project and we will be faced with continuing increased costs of water.

15. Who is eligible to vote?

Pampa residents who have rendered property (real or personal) to the City of Pampa for tax purposes and held a valid poll tax receipt or exemption.

16. When do we vote?

Nov. 22.

17. What do we vote on?

Approval of a proposed contract between the City of Pampa and the Authority.

Five Children Burned To Death

BRANDON, Miss. (UPI) — Five Negro children were burned to death and two seriously injured Friday night when fire destroyed a four-room frame dwelling in a rural area north of here.

A Jackson, Miss., fire department spokesman said the five victims, all brothers and sisters, apparently were living with their grandparents. It was not established if any adults were at the home when the tragedy occurred about 11 p.m.

The dead were identified as Booker T. Bryant, 2, and his sisters Rosa Lee, 3, Vera, 4, Helen, 7, and Sandra, 10. The two children injured were Herbert Bryant, 6, and Walter Lary Thompson, 14. They were taken to University Hospital in Jackson. Hospital authorities reported the

Nixon Plans To Remain In Politics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon intends to remain active in politics after he leaves office Jan. 20 and is being urged not to shut the door on another try for the White House in 1964.

Although Nixon has not yet announced his plans, it is widely reported that he will set up a law office here, perhaps in partnership with retiring Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers Jr., a long-time close personal friend.

Nixon is known to have received many attractive job offers from big corporations, law firms and universities. But hanging out his own shingle would give him greater freedom to engage in political activity and to speak out on national issues.

There is no possibility of Nixon merely "retiring." He is only 47, has no private fortune and has a wife and two young daughters to support.

As defeated GOP presidential candidate, Nixon automatically becomes titular head of the Republican party.

As a nominee who came within an eyelash of winning, he may well have his eyes on a return engagement in 1964.

His press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Thursday Nixon had received a number of telephone calls and telegrams from party leaders "urging him to stay active in politics and not to say anything that would indicate he would not run again."

Political pundits predict a titanic struggle for power within the GOP during the next four years, with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York leading the liberal faction and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona the conservative wing.

Nixon could profit politically from this intra-party strife by keeping himself available as a compromise candidate, acceptable to both sides.

Crisis

The warning was an indication of the seriousness with which the U.S. government views the integration crisis in Louisiana.

It probably is the first such direct warning from Washington since September, 23, 1957, when President Eisenhower, after riots at Central High School, put the citizens of Little Rock under proclamation to keep the peace.

The following day, 1,000 paratroopers arrived in Little Rock at the President's order.

The next move in the crisis, which could explode into open violence, is up to Davis. He gave no indication of what it will be when he left for his dove shoot.

Idea For JFK To Refuse Pay Held 'Insult'

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI)—A Republican women's group's suggestion that millionaire John F. Kennedy turn back to the treasury his salary as president was a "rude affront," a group of prominent writers said Friday.

The writers, including Pulitzer prize winning novelist MacKinlay Kantor, deplored the suggestion and apologized for it.

The Sarasota County Women's Republican Club had wired Kennedy that "in view of your financial status, we suggest that you and any of your family going on the government payroll turn back to the people of the United States your respective salaries."

The women also suggested that the entire Kennedy family publish "the list of corporations which provide your income so that the people will feel reassured there is no conflict of interest in your so-called concern for public welfare."

That request, said the writers, was "an additional gratuitous insult."

Kantor and 10 other Sarasota residents aired their feelings in a telegram to Kennedy. They described themselves as a mixed group of Republicans and Democrats.

Other signers were former United Press President Karl Bickel, playwright Alfred Hayes, novelist John D. MacDonald, Wyatt Blasingame, and Richard Glendenning Jr.

Financial Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The glass industry, which has enough headaches from its continuous battle with metal in the packaging field, is now facing increased competition in the glazing field from plastic.

Makers of optically-clear cast plastic sheets have set their sights on the glazing field, which they say is their fastest growing market. They boast that acrylic sheets are ideal for windows in schools and industrial plants "because they can withstand much greater impact than glass."

It was back about the turn of the century that the first, and now the most used plastic, an acrylic resin, was cast between two panes of glass in a search for a proper laminate for safety glass. The result, according to the Polycast Corp., was a sheet more resistant than glass to such things as weather and heat distortion and with unusually high optical qualities.

However, it was not until 1935 that acrylic sheets were cast commercially to provide canopies and parts for aircraft, among other applications.

Now, John O. Beattie, president of the Stamford, Conn. firm said, the casting of plastic sheets is a $100 million a year business, and growing steadily.

Surgeon Shortens Tall Girl's Legs

SUNDSVALL, Sweden (UPI)—A Swedish surgeon said today he cut two inches off a six-foot tall girl's long legs in an unusual operation last summer to ease "deep complexes" caused by her height.

Dr. Lars Unander-Scharin of the Institute for the Crippled and Disabled said he took two inches out of each of the girl's thighs just below the hip joint, and then reinforced the cut bone ends with silver plates. The girl is now able to walk without crutches, he said.

Scharin said there was no physical necessity for the operation, and that he was reluctant to perform it "just for looks."

"I hope I'll never have to perform such an operation again," the doctor said. "At first, I refused to perform the surgery... but both the girl and her parents begged for an operation."

"Finally, it became clear that the girl suffered so deeply from her long legs that I decided to perform the surgery on humanitarian grounds."

Chief and Mrs. Plunk, with their six-year-old son, Billy, recently moved from Buena Park, Calif., and are now residing at 1019 N. Frost.

It Took Time To Say With Confidence:

'My Eyes Have Four Feet'

By TODD PAVELA
Written for Newspaper
Enterprise Assn.

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (NEA) — Her name is Heidi. We met at a four-week training program at the Leader Dogs for the Blind school in Rochester, Mich.

There can be little doubt that I needed her more than she needed me. My vision had been failing since my senior year in high school because of a complication resulting from diabetes. I lost my sight during my sophomore year in college.

Only with the help of my devised wife, Jean, did we graduate, summa cum laude, from Midland College in Fremont, Neb., this year.

But I still had to "walk alone" in this world. That's where Heidi comes in. She's a German shepherd dog who was 27½ months old, weighed 65 pounds and walked with a wiggle and a swagger when we were introduced by a trainer at the school.

I suppose I expected her to perform miracles from the moment I took her leash. But that's when I found out that dogs are "human," too. They make mistakes.

She had three months training. I had three days to prepare for our meeting. The school did its best to match us physically and psychologically. But we still had a long way to go before we could work as a team.

From the beginning, we were together constantly. Heidi was chained to the wall near my bed at night, on leash by my side at other times.

The "fun" started when we followed our first practice route, less than a city block long. I gave the forward command and we were off and running. Working with another student-dog team and helped by a trainer, we stopped at curbs and went around obstacles; Heidi responded eagerly.

Everything was fine until Heidi began to take advantage of my lack of experience. I soon learned the truth in a trainer's words: "Daydreaming while walking is a luxury only the sighted can afford."

Heidi brushed me close to buildings. I noticed that I was leaning to the left, away from any imagined or real obstacles, to compensate for her behavior. Our trips were tense. I began to doubt her.

Our street crossings became sloppy, wandering, and occasionally hazardous. Instead of facing the opposite curb directly, I often angled; Heidi occasionally led me astray, once down the middle of the street. Finally, she led me nonchalantly back to safety, out of the way of moving cars.

The trainers suggested that I had not won Heidi's affection yet. She was working for me out of a sense of duty, not love.

So I stepped up my praise, displaying confidence which I no longer felt, commending her simplest performance. And slowly, surely, the happy, wiggly bounce, which had disappeared during the period of tension, returned.

I completely regained my confidence when Heidi one afternoon stopped short while we were crossing a broad alley. A car whizzed by, inches from her nose. No untrained dog this! She was an expert even if her master weren't.

But there were still many things to be learned. Dropped off in a completely unknown area one day, I gave Heidi a forward command, hoping she would get us back to the school. Instead, I was led to someone's cellar door. It seemed that Heidi could get as lost as I could.

I realized then that it's up to the dog to see, but it's up to the master to think; the master must know where he is, where he wants to go, how to get there. The dog does well to get him there quickly and safely.

Then there is a right and wrong time for strangers to pet the dog. When we're standing in a store, that's fine; the dog learns that strangers can be friends. But when we're moving, neither dog nor master should be distracted.

Heidi and I learned the proper approaches to elevators, stairs and revolving doors. We "avoided" baby carriages and toddling youngsters. Finally, we took the supreme test of following a route while the trainers for a traffic safety test "tried to run us down."

Careless people could trap us in a revolving door."

Cash Awards Due Texas Newsmen

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas newsmen who have written outstanding stories, series and columns this year will get cash awards Jan. 28 at the annual Austin Headliners Club party.

The first-place awards include $1,000 grand prize for a story or series with highest impact on the public, $400 for an outstanding article or series when time is not a factor, $400 for the same with deadline pressure, $400 for distinguished writing, $400 for outstanding reporting in a problem affecting a Texas area and $150 for outstanding photographic work.

Charles E. Green, Austin American-Statesman editor and chairman of the finance committee, and Jerry Bell of Austin, president of the club, said the prize list, already raised and set aside, make the awards among the state's most-coveted.

Out-of-state newsmen will judge entries, and winners will be announced at the party. Entries are made to the American-Statesman in Austin, and the deadline is Jan. 2.

Many Hurt In Algeria As Settlers Protest

ALGIERS Algeria (UPI)—Thousands of European settlers screaming "De Gaulle to the gallows" battled riot police with rocks and clubs today, injuring scores of persons in a wild protest against moves to loosen Algeria's ties to France.

Police fought back with tear gas and rifle butts. The battle raged for more than an hour and a half.

A stream of ambulances carried off 30 or 40 injured rioters and 17 security guards. At least eight of the injured were women.

It was the wildest, most ominous outburst against President Charles de Gaulle's authority here since European settlers staged an uprising last January in which 22 persons were killed and 170 were wounded. A rioting uprising in 1958 in Algiers led to De Gaulle's rise to power.

First reports said "many" demonstrators and riot police were injured in the fighting which erupted in the heart of this seething city shortly after 10:30 a.m. It was the second consecutive day of anti-Gaullist disorders.

Police officers called on the demonstrators three times through loudspeakers to disperse. The warning is obligatory by law.

When the appeals were ignored, mobile guards charged using rifle butts as clubs. The charge, down the broad Avenue Pasteur near the Algiers University building, split the crowd in two.

Demonstrators first took refuge in a road tunnel near the university, rallied their forces and then counter-attacked with rocks, pieces of wood, iron bars and anything else they could throw or swing.

It called for a convention to consider repealing the state's original ratification of the Constitution of the United States. As simple as the language was, the portent was enormous.

The law provided for delegates to the convention to be elected Dec. 6. They were to assemble Dec. 17. In the fall of 1860 the question whether a state had the constitutional right to secede from the Union already was as old as the republic itself, which had recently turned three score and 10.

The possibility of secession had been foreseen by makers of the Constitution. Alexander Hamilton in "The Federalist," the essays he, James Madison and John Jay wrote in 1787-88 explaining the document in the campaign for ratification, recognized that the issue might arise.

Hamilton wrote in No. 16 of the Federalist Papers that the possibility of revolution with a state always was present and that if rebellious forces attained enough headway then no form of government, republic or monarchy, could always avoid or control them.

John C. Calhoun, South Carolina statesman, put the issue into simpler language in 1831 during the Nullification crisis. Calhoun argued in his Fort Hill address — so-called because he wrote it in the quiet of his plantation of the same name — that the Constitution was a compact among sovereign states with certain powers delegated to a central government. If the contracting parties could not judge infractions of the powers by the central government, Calhoun argues, then they had signed away their rights to an irresponsible body with no hope of control.

He held that a state's only recourse against any infraction by the central government was to interpose to halt what they believed was the unconstitutional practice. The central government's redress then, he held, was to use the amendment machinery of the Constitution and submit the issue to the states with three-fourths necessary to ratify.

Calhoun called his doctrine interposition. A commoner name was State's Rights. But Calhoun's theory later would be used as a political defense of slavery.

The Nullification crisis arose over a tariff law with which the South, and South Carolina particularly, disagreed. President Andrew Jackson met the issue head on. In a proclamation Dec. 10, 1832, Jackson declared the nation to be indivisible, that state must obey the laws, no state could leave the Union and that the whole force of the federal government would be used if necessary to collect revenue in South Carolina.

One historian said of the proclamation: "If any single date can be fixed as that on which a given date was predetermined, the Civil War became inevitable on Dec. 10, 1832." (See note below.)

But South Carolina secessionists in 1860 were facing James Buchanan, not Andrew Jackson. A Pennsylvania bachelor, Buchanan came to the presidency in 1856 without serious opposition.

The quick and fiery reaction to the election of Lincoln worried Buchanan, but not enough to force him into action. Several times Buchanan discussed the worsening situation with his cabinet members, who were about equally divided between northerners and southerners. Once he proposed a constitutional convention to reach some compromise but went no further than to discuss it. He remarked that disunion seemed inevitable.

At one of the cabinet meetings Buchanan read a document, the burden of which was that the South must submit to the election of Lincoln and indicated force would be used to halt secession. That brought violent dissent from the southern cabinet members and moved Secretary of Treasury Howell Cobb of Georgia and Secretary of Interior Jacob Thompson of Mississippi to summon Jefferson Davis from his plantation.

Davis was a U.S. senator from Mississippi and a former secretary of war under President Franklin Pierce. He had played a sort of second lead previously in the political infighting between the North and the South and now was going back to the capital to rehearse a bigger role.

Davis hastened back to the capital just about the time — Nov. 13 — that a momentous order cleared the War Department. The order — Special Order No. 137 — said that Maj. Robert Anderson, 1st Artillery, would immediately take over command of the defenses of Charleston, S.C., and the defenses included a fort called Sumter.

Floyd would say that he had picked Anderson himself, a decision which he would live to regret. Anderson was a Kentuckian, and married to a Georgia wife. His father had helped in the unsuccessful defense of Ft. Moultrie in the Revolution and had been captured by the British. Moultrie, a short cannon shot from Sumter, would be Anderson's headquarters. Despite his southern background Maj. Anderson was a Union man. Floyd apparently did not know that.

Time for the meeting of Congress was approaching rapidly and on Nov. 17 Buchanan asked his attorney general, Jeremiah S. Black, a Pennsylvanian, for an opinion on what powers the President held to meet the emergency. Black replied later that the Constitution had not provided for the secession of a state and contained no legal means for the President to force a state to remain in, adding that there was no question that the President was obligated to enforce the laws.

Buchanan also called in another Pennsylvania lawyer, Edwin M. Stanton, for advice. What Stanton told Buchanan is not recorded but the President seemed to stiffen against the secessionists after the conference. Stanton was destined for a big share in the strife to come as Lincoln's secretary of war.

Jacob Thompson noted the stiffening of Buchanan, but said: "Old Buck, at heart, is right and with us."

But "Old Buck's" message to Congress would say neither "yes" nor "no" to the secessionists and the drift to war gained momentum.

(Next week — Maj. Anderson takes command of Ft. Sumter.)

Sweet Smell Of The Male

U.S. Men Spend Cents For Redolent Scents

By WARD CANNEL, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK — (NEA) — Progress report. Just like everybody said, the American male has smashed sales records again in his rush to make himself smell.

of birch tar, citrus-like bergamot, or — good grief — essence of rose. Meanwhile, according to marketing analysts, psychologists were at work in today's big area of research & packaging.

It had already been established that men buy their own essential scents (shaving cream, deodorant, etc.) while their wives buy the luxury fragrances (colognes, etc.). And so, in keeping with what psychologists had discovered after years of research, the containers that men buy were made shot and squat, and the containers women buy were made tall and cylindrical.

Rowse is a scent inventor and vice president of Narda, one of the nation's leaders in the essential oil industry. He doesn't care what brand men buy, so long as they buy.

According to Rowse, the big breakthrough came right after World War II when men bought the big pitch 'or deodorants, namely: you can still be a he-man even if you don't smell like one.

After that it was all down hill. Scent inventors found that traditional pine odor of men's toiletries could be replaced (as sales climbed) with the oriental smell of sardalwood, cloves, the smoky smell

Life Plan Of Broadway's Irma Reaches Fulfillment At Age 26

By DICK KLEINER, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — After some of the most enthusiastic reviews of several years, the New York theatrical world is singing the praises of a brand new star — Elizabeth Seal. And you think she's happy?

You're absolutely right. She is. There is only one possible shadow on the otherwise sun-kissed horizon: here she is at 26 with her Life Plan fulfilled and no place to go. The star of the new hit, "Irma la Douce," heaved a heavy sigh. "I'd always figured that I'd be a star in New York at 25. I almost made it — my 26th birthday came while we were rehearsing. This was all part of my Life Plan. And I've done it all now. There's nothing left."

The Life Plan of Elizabeth Seal started when she was small girl in England, and began studying dancing. The ballet in particular was her goal.

At 9½, she won a scholarship to study classical ballet. She would probably be with one of England's great ballet companies today except for an accident. It wasn't a very glamorous accident — she tripped over a suitcase walking home — but it resulted in a broken ankle.

"It made classical ballet impossible," she says, "so I had to try some easier dancing."

At 18, she auditioned for the chorus of a London musical. She looks back on that first audition with her ever-present laughter. She says that in pigtails and no make-up she looked 12. The producers were so started to see a child that they gave her the whole afternoon, and she went through her whole repertoire and got a part — "after the producers called my parents and promised they would look after me."

From there, she was graduated to second lead in the London company of "The Pajama Game," the lead (the Gwen Verdon part) in the English edition of "Damn Yankees," and then she created the London edition of the French hit, "Irma la Douce," which moved to New York this year.

Elizabeth is a medium-sized brunette with glowing brown eyes and a hearty laugh, clues to the bubbling nature that seems just below the surface. It erupts occasionally, as when she talks about some of her impressions of the life in the U.S.

"You have to rehearse to go to a party here," she says. "They expect you to entertain. I went to one last night and they wanted everyone to sing for his supper. Well, I didn't — I'm not a variety artist and I don't know any songs except those in the show. Fortunately, the pianist didn't know them."

One point about the U.S. pleases her. And that's American reporters. They ask less embarrassing questions than the English press.

"In England," she says, "they'll ask 'Do you think you're attractive?' and 'What color knickers do you wear?' I had an idea the American reporters would be worse, but they're not. They've never asked me that sort of thing."

(This reporter wasn't so much interested in what color her knickers were as what are knickers? Turns out they're ladies' undergarments.)

Although Miss Seal has no further specific ambitions, she is not completely devoid of dreams. She would like to make a "good" movie — although she has no desire to be "a film star." She would like to try a straight dramatic TV role. (She'll make her American TV debut as a singer with Perry Como in December.)

And she'd like to bring her parents over for a visit. That will take some doing, because (a) there are four younger brothers and sisters that have to be taken care of and (b) it costs a lot.

There may have to be a new step added to the Life Plan to take care of that.

Jack Benny Gives Black Tie Party In Automat

NEW YORK (UPI)—"I haven't come here in 20 years," Jack Benny mused, "I can't. If people saw me, they'd say I'm eating here because I'm stinky."

To prove that he was nothing of the sort, Benny Thursday night gave away nickels to more than 400 guests he had invited to a black-tie dinner and dancing party at the Automat.

With a brave smile, he sat in the cashier's booth himself for about 10 minutes, handing over $2 rolls of nickels to the tuxedoed and bejeweled celebrities, who then bought their own dinners at the slot machine windows or in the cafeteria section.

The giveaway totaled $440 by the end of the party.

The guest list included Broadway and Hollywood stars, writers and singers, and a monkey named Kokomo Jr.

Kokomo played the violin. So did Benny. He joined the six-piece orchestra on the bandstand to play "Sweet Georgia Brown."

He then threaded his way through the closely packed cafeteria tables to join Kokomo Jr. for a short, scratchy duet. The like the beard or various-colored waist, shirt and hat, is just another way of male self-assertion.

It all adds up to a $279 million market in scented shaving preparations and another $84 million in luxury fragrance items.

"Now the next step," says oil-man Rowse, "is to get them so they've got a certain, personal smell and they won't go out without it."

For the psychiatrically oriented, the industry purrs that aroma,

GEMS OF PHILATELY — Stamp collector James Simpson, a Pampa High School student, shows his display of stamps of Axis occupied countries of World War II to the Rev. Fr. R. W. Lang of St. Vincent Catholic Church, right, and Walter Stein. All three are members of the Pampa Area Stamp Collectors Club which will complete its exhibit in Lovett Memorial Library with an auction this afternoon. (Daily News Photo)

Philatelists To End Exhibit Today With Auction Of Stamps In Library

By ED HAYES WILSON
Daily News Staff Writer

One of the more interesting and informative hobbies is that of stamp collecting, being a philatelist, that is, and Pampa and the surrounding area abounds with these people.

This is pointed up in the exhibit in Lovett Memorial Library that will climax today. The displays, the Pampa Area Stamp Club will climax today. The displays, all attractively arranged, contain stamps from just about all the nations of the world, and each stamp has a story back of it.

Some of the local collectors have some high priced stamps, but it appears that these people don't place monetary value before that of "just owning" certain rare ones. Looking over the display yesterday, Walter Stein, club president, explained each of the individual exhibits. In each he noted the efforts of the club member to arrange his display in eye-appealing manner. And it was as Stein said, judging of the displays would take "quite some doing."

Discussing the cost of such a hobby, Stein explained that some collectors spend thousands of dollars for stamps and, in some cases, thousands are expended to purchase one stamp.

Take the stamp that is the only one of its issue in existence. This is the British Guiana stamp which was issued in 1856. The stamp first was purchased by a man for $1. However, due to its rarity the price has soared to $50,000!

This stamp is exhibited throughout the world quite frequently. However, the owner is not known, since the stamp was purchased some years ago by a commission man who would not divulge the buyer's name.

Another expensive stamp is the Mauritius. This gem, if orange in color, sells for $20,000, and if it is blue, well, the cost dips slightly to $15,000. And, if they could be pried loose from collectors (there are but three of these in existence, one being in the British Royal family collection) there would be all sorts of action in philatelic circles.

Stein also noted that one United States sheet of stamps created a turmoil some years ago when a fellow brought the one-hundred stamps sheet in a post office and discovered the airplane on the stamps was upside down.

The initial owner later sold his discovery for $1,500. However, the asking price on these, a block of four, mind you, is $30,000 and, if one acquires a margin block of four he must pay $35,000.

But it's as Stein said "But whose got THAT kind of money?"

The local exhibit ranges along the walls of the auditorium. As one enters the room and walks to his right he first notices the display of Mrs. A. M. Nash, 721 N. West. This is a spread of first day United Nations cancellations, and aligned next to Mrs. Nash's is that of Ray Wagner, 2343 Nava jo Rd., which shows commemorative stamps from the 1937 Society of Philatelic American Convention.

Mrs. Doris Sears' flag set is next. This display shows stamps of 1958 with 48 stars, of 1959 with 49 stars and the current issue of flags with 50 stars. The brilliant red, white and blue colors may be seen from a distance and one is quickly drawn to view it.

Mrs. Sear and Stein joined in arranging a ships' mail spread. This one includes one of the "submerged issues" from the U.S.S. Sea Dragon, which was the first submarine to cross the Northwest Passage under ice.

Some of the other displays are Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson's soldiers mail arrangement of letters from World War I and II and the Korean War; Drew N. Harvey's Army-Navy series of West Point and Annapolis, and James Simpson's occupied countries issue of 1943-44. This one contains stamps from the nations which were occupied by the Axis armies of Germany, Italy and Japan.

A charter member of the club, Miami's Harry A. Nelson, has in his display $1, $2 and $5 stamps. Each is a sheet of $100 and this totals $800 in expenditure should one buy the stamps for use in mailing. The cost of these sheets was slightly below that figure, however.

C. K. Gaylor, Pampa postmaster brought in a fine exhibit. It shows how a stamp is made, from the time an artist draws it to its approval by a post office committee and the final engraving. This item was sent here by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, and is one of several the department has for display throughout the nation.

Skilled Worker Quota To Grow In Argentina

Latin American Report
Argentina

By JAMES R. WHELAN

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentina, like many another country of the modern world, is feeling industrial growing pains.

A recent study showed that by 1967, the country will need half a million new skilled workers, but the schools at present rates will turn out less than half that number.

Hand in hand with that shortage goes the critical lack of technicians and engineers.

The two could seriously cripple the country's effort to industrialize, symbolized by a recently opened $600 million steel mill, booming oil production (up 33 per cent in the past year), plans to expand the nation's road network, mushrooming petro-chemical industries, and motor vehicle production.

In greater Buenos Aires alone, for instance, there are at present 260,000 skilled industrial workers and only 23,000 students in the technical and vocational schools.

This year, the government has earmarked 160 million pesos (about $1.95 million) in the education budget for vocational schools, but this is less than two per cent of the overall education budget and only one-tenth of what the state-run railroads alone are expected to lose this year.

Another part of the problem is awakening student interest in jobs in the mechanical field such as auto mechanics, tool and die work, draftsmen. The same study showed that in the province of Buenos Aires, 8,146 students were preparing for "white collar" jobs as secretaries, bookkeepers, etc., while the 28 vocational schools combined enrolled only 10,264 students.

On the professional level, the shortage of engineers has been worsened by an outflux of scarce "brains" to such countries as the United States, Mexico and Canada. The shortage is especially acute in the petroleum and electronics-atomic energy fields.

Talking of the exhibit, Stein said it was a highly successful one and explained that it will be climaxed this afternoon when the club will hold an auction.

Kennedy Clan Seems To Be 'Fun' Family

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Backstairs with the president-elect:

The Kennedys seem like a much larger family than 15 people because they all move around so much, even within one room when they're all together.

It isn't editorial or gushy to say that they seem to be a fun family. Watching them at their various homes in Hyannis Port, Mass., the day after the election, a relative stranger to their midst said, "There seems to be 500 of them."

The hard core of the family—the 15—consists of President-elect John F. Kennedy, his wife and daughter; his parents, and two brothers and their wives, plus three sisters and their husbands. There is a strong physical resemblance among the sons and daughters—they all tend to angular tallness. Their behavior patterns, to the casual observer, run along similar channels with a distinguishing characteristic of informality.

To White House reporters conditioned to the almost ceremonial way President Eisenhower goes to the golf course, it was an eye-opener in Hyannis Port to see Bobby and Teddy Kennedy race across a lawn throwing football passes to each other.

At this moment, it was almost impossible to think back to Bobby as the hard-fisted political boss who ramrodded his brother's campaign to success. The sight of him leaping high in the air for a pass from Teddy seemed incongruous with the thought of other campaign managers. Who could possibly conceive of James J. Farley or Leonard W. Hall playing games on anybody's lawn?

All of the Kennedys, save the father of the clan, Joseph P. Kennedy, regard playing catch with a football as casually as former President Truman regarded a morning walk, or President Eisenhower a few practice golf shots in seeing at the White House will zoom in popularity.

The present White House tennis courts could be enlarged a bit, screened off and the men of the family, with friends, of course, could run their off-tackle plays in complete privacy. Then the sight-seers could see the team only when they went to the showers.

Do You Really Understand The Bible ?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it. Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means.

How would you interpret the following passages from the Bible: "I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (Matthew XVI, 18ff). "For, behold, henceforth all generations shall call me blessed." (Luke I, 48). "Receive the Holy Spirit; whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." (John XX, 23). "He who believes and is baptized shall be saved." (Mark XVI, 16).

Catholics recognize the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. If you wish to know the Catholic interpretation of the above mentioned Bible passages as well as other beliefs of Catholics, write for a free pamphlet explaining Catholic teachings. Plainview Rallies To Startle Harvesters

Longhorns End Frog's Title Dream, 3-2

Field Goal Aids Texas To Victory

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Dan Petty's 26-yard first quarter field goal, his fifth in a row, proved just enough to give Texas a 3-2 Southwest Conference victory Saturday over punchless, but defensively rugged Texas Christian before 40,000 fans.

Texas thus knocked TCU out of any possible thoughts of a title and kept the Longhorns' own faint hopes glimmering with a 4-2 loop record against a 5-1 for Arkansas and 4-1 for Rice. It was TCU's second defeat against two victories and a tie in league play.

Texas went into the game a one-half point favorite and that's just about how close it was with TCU chalking up its points midway in the fourth when end Milton Ham broke through and sent Texas halfback James Saxton sprawling in the end zone on an attempted double reverse for a safety.

Texas, which dominated the first half with 11 first downs to TCU's one and 145 yards to TCU's 34, put together only one sustained drive all afternoon and it was the one which culminated in Petty's three-pointer.

At that, Texas had to get the breaks. The Longhorns failed to move the first time it got the ball, and TCU's Bob Lilly, a terror to Texas all day, blocked Saxton's punt. TCU's Richard Holden picked it up in the air about the Texas 35 and started go-ahead.

But, Texas quarterback Mike Cotten hit him hard enough to jar the ball loose and Cotten recovered it on his own 33. From there Texas marched 59 yards to the TCU eight, where the winners faced a fourth and three situation when they called on Petty and his toe.

It was the first 3-2 game in conference history, although TCU had won a 1937 Sugar Bowl game from Louisiana State by that score. It also marked the third time Texas had figured in a one-point margin game this season, losing the other two to Nebraska and Arkansas.

Scoring:
Texas 3 0 0 0-3

Stamped Bull Leads Baylor By USC, 35-14

WACO (UPI)—Fleet Ronnie Bull ran circles around a heavy Southern California line Saturday as he scored three touchdowns to lead the Baylor Bears to a lopsided 35-14 victory over the Trojans.

UCLA Shoots Down AF '11'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Tauback Bill Kilmer shot down the Air Force Academy football team Saturday, running for two touchdowns and passing for another to lead UCLA to a 22-0 victory over the Falcons.

Kilmer, playing on a Memorial Coliseum field made sloppy by a steady rain, had his biggest moment of the day when he swept left end for 88 yards and a touch down in the second period.

After he turned the Falcon flank, he actually slowed down to allow his blockers to get in front of him and loped along the south sideline to the score without having an unfriendly hand put on him.

Ohio U. Tops Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UPI)—Hard-hitting Ohio University struck mainly to the ground Saturday to overpower Bowling Green State 14-7 in a showdown battle of the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 small college football teams.

The Bobcats from Athens, behind for the first time this season, scored on two long drives in the second and fourth periods to clinch the Mid-American Conference title and probably the national championship.

Leads Rice By Half-Game

Arkansas Subdues SMU, 26-3

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI)—Billy Moore, a cocky sophomore quarterback with the poise of a veteran, engineered Arkansas to a 26-3 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday before 31,500, the largest crowd ever to see a game here.

The triumph was Arkansas' fifth in six conference games and put them in a position to go to the Cotton Bowl with a victory over Texas Tech next Saturday. The Razorbacks have a half-game lead over Rice.

Moore scored once himself and handed off for two other touchdowns after carrying the ball to within five yards of the goal both times. He continually kept the SMU defense off balance with his bootleg option.

He had offensive help from halfback Lance Alworth and George McKinney, the regular quarterback, who started all three of the drives which Moore finished. Alworth scored the second TD on a two-yard end sweep in the third.

Fullback Curtis Cox scored the Razorbacks' first touchdown with a one yard dive 50 seconds before the half ended and Jim Worthington, a inid string halfback, scored the final Arkansas touchdown after Arkansas built up a 19-3 lead in the final period.

SMU capitalized on a Mustangs punt which gave the Mustangs the ball on the Arkansas 8 in the first quarter. After three plays cost them nine yards, to the 17, end Buddy Nichols came in to kick a 34-yard field goal and give SMU a 3-0 lead in the final minute of the first quarter.

At the time, SMU had a minus 11 yards rushing and had not made a first down. The Mustangs made only four first downs in the first half. They didn't make another until the final two minutes as the Razorbacks easily outclassed them.

Arkansas took the lead after getting 20-mile-an-hour wind in their favor in the second. Their first drive stalled on the SMU 28 when Moore fumbled. But the Razorbacks came back with an 83-yard drive which carried all the Baylor's fourth TD was also on a long distance connection between Ronnie Stanley and halfback Jim Oldham for 47 yards.

There were four touchdowns in the last quarter. The final Bear tally came after Bobby Ply threw 22 yards to Tommy Minter, and a penalty added 15 yards to the USC 14. Ply hit Richard Gowen on the seven, and Jerry Moore in the end zone. Larry Corley added his fifth conversion.

Fumbles were costly to the Trojans, as they lost the ball four times inside the Bear 35.

Bear fullback Jim Evans recovered another fumble on the USC 44 to set up the first Baylor TD. Two passes from Stanley to end Bob Lane put the Bears on the 23, and Bull accounted for the rest on three runs.

The score came with fourth and one on the USC 14. Bull took a handoff, headed wide around left end, faked a cut and then raced for the flag.

Another USC fumble put the Bears on their own 25, and Ply threw three straight strikes for a total of 58 yards, before three Bull-dozing runs netted another touchdown. The score by Bull came on a three-yard run through left tackle.

Scoring:
USC 0 0 0 14-14
Baylor 0 14 7 14-35

way, McKinney's 28-yard run to the Mustang 20 put Arkansas in good position and Moore, the No. 2 signal caller, took over. He went to the one in four plays and then handed off to Cox who scored.

Scoring:
Arkansas 0 6 6 14-26
SMU 3 0 0 0-3

Bull Liege Takes Race

ANAPRA, N.M. (UPI)—Bull Liege just missed the world record for 6 1/2 furlongs blazing home in 1:15 1-5 to win the featured El Baso Elks Club Purse.

The time by the chestnut tied the track record and missed the world record by only two-fifths of a second. Malaysia finished second and MacMullen closed fast for third.

Howard Payne had a low score of 25 and Midland had a low score of 24.

Quarterback Sparks Howard Payne To 18-0 Win Over Southwest Texas

BROWNWOOD (UPI)—Quack back Dale Byerly sparked Howard Payne Saturday as the Yellowjackets rolled to an 18-0 victory over Southwest Texas State in a Lone Star Conference football game.

The victory gave Howard Payne a 4-2 conference season record, while it was the fifth loss for Southwest Texas, winner of only one conference game.

Field Goal Hands Tech 10-7 Loss

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Reserve quarterback Joe Dempsey booted a 17-yard field goal with 37 seconds left here Saturday to bring the underdog University of Wyoming a 10-7 victory over Texas Tech before a crowd of 12,500.

Wyoming took advantage of a fourth down gamble by the Raiders at the Cowboy 43. The victors marched 56 yards on 14 plays, Dempsey's kick coming on fourth down with only a foot to go for a touchdown.

The Raiders scored the second time they held the ball with second team quarterback Johnny Lovelace pitching 10 yards to halfback Dickie Polson who ran the remaining five yards for the touchdown.

Quarterback Glen Amerson converted and with 12:30 gone in the first quarter, Tech held a 7-0 lead.

A recovered fumble at the Tech 33 set up the Wyoming touchdown. Tackle Ray Youker pounced on Amerson's bobble and the Cowboys scored in two plays. On the second play, quarterback Chuck Lamson ran to his right, stopped and, tossed 10 yards to end Marty Hamilton.

Hamilton, in the clear, raced to the two, where he was hit by halfback Dan Gurley. Hamilton dragged him into the end zone and when Dempsey converted, it was a 7-7 with 4:45 gone in the second period.

Vicenzo Challenges In Mexican Open Golf

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Robert de Vicenzo, former international champion and three-time winner of the Mexican Open, shot the first hole-in-one of his career and zoomed into a second-place deadlock behind Howie Johnson Saturday in the third-round battle for the $10,000 18th Mexican Open golf championship.

Regarded as one of the world's foremost golfers, with many titles to his credit, the veteran de Vicenzo waited until Saturday at the 135-yard par-three, 12th hole to achieve his long-sought objective. He used a No. 9 iron to make his ace, while playing with Canada's Al Balding and Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif.

De Vicenzo's five-under-par 37 moved him into a runner-up tie with Tommy Hanson of Sand Springs, Okla., and Jack Sellman of Houston, Tex. Hanson shot the best round of the day with 65. The three runners-up finished with a three-day total of 206, trailing Johnson by two strokes.

His record-breaking 63 Friday kept the six-foot-three Johnson on the top perch as he went for a 71 Saturday. The 35-year-old professional had a satisfactory 34 going out but went one over par on the back nine.

Seventeen-year-old Hector Alvarez of Mexico City continued to dazzle the large throngs with another par-busting effort. The leading amateur fired a 67 to move into fifth position with Billy Maxwell, Oceanside, Calif., who was the first-day co-leader, Ramon Sota of Spain, and Buster Cupit, Hot Springs, Ark., all with 208.

Maryland put aside its bag of offensive tricks Saturday and took advantage of a pass interference ruling for a 22-19 victory over North Carolina.

The Terps' winning touchdown came after they took possession of the ball on their own 37 with 1:05 left in the game. The pass interference against North Carolina put Maryland on the Tar Heels' one-yard line.

North Carolina, tightening its defense, threw the Terps for two successive losses and then held Maryland at the line of scrimmage on the third down. But on Betty tossed to Gary Collins in the end zone for the score.

Alternate Maryland Quarterback Dick Novak converted for two points by completing another pass into the end zone to Tom Brown.

Rice Owls Start Late To Topple Ags, 21-14

HOUSTON (UPI)—A trio of day game the Rice defense had given up an average of just over four points per game to seven opponents.

Rice University backs clicked with precision when it counted Saturday to defeat Texas A&M 21-14 and keep Rice's hopes alive in the Southwest Conference race.

Rice halfback Max Webb, took a pitchout from quarterback Billy Cox and went 14 yards to put the Owls in the scoring column early in the first period, then halfback Bob Wyatt scored two more for the winning margin.

A&M after a listless start drove 80 yards in 11 plays with third string quarterback Ronnie Brice passing 11 yards to Franklin Fisher in the end zone just before the half. Then the Aggies drove 80 in 12 plays Brice scoring from the 13 with less than two minutes left in the game.

Bulldogs Spoil Pampa Homecoming, 13 To 6

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily News Sports Editor

Plainview's big Bulldogs, victory starved after eight fruitless outings, turned into mad dogs with less than three minutes to play in the last quarter to score twice and spoil Pampa's homecoming, 13-6 before 4,000 partisans at Harvester Field Saturday afternoon.

Foaming at the mouth after having one touchdown called back because of a holding penalty and another drive stopped by a fumble on the Pampa 1-foot line, the Bulldogs tied the game with 2:32 remaining when Charles Furrow plowed over from the 3 and won the game a minute and 17 seconds later when Quarterback George Ragle intercepted a Pampa pass and streaked 35 yards down the west sideline to tally at 1:15.

The win gave Plainview a 1-8 record and seventh place in District 3-A while Pampa fell into complete possession of the cellar.

Playing in perfect 71 degree weather, Pampa cranked up its lone touchdown drive late in the first period on its 12 after a Plainview punt.

With Fullback Steve Dobbin and Quarterback Butch Crossland doing most of the legwork, the Harvesters rolled to seven straight first downs and used 15 plays to drive 75 yards and score, with Halfback Sherrill Miller going the final yard over a heap of multi-colored jerseys at 10:06 of the second quarter. Dobbin's kick after was wide to the left.

Pampa threatened to run away with the game two plays later when Pampa's Jimmy Storms intercepted a Plainview pass on his 30 and ran it back 3 yards to the 27.

Two incomplete passes and a Dobbin draw failed to move the ball and Dobbin could only gain five to the 22 and the ball went over to Plainview on downs.

Five plays later, after a first down on the 32, Pampa's Mike Stewart picked off another stray Bulldog pass on the 45 and ran it back to the 34.

Miller went to the 30, Roy D. Stephens kept to the 27 and L. H. roared down to the 20 for apparent first down but an e sides penalty nullified the run a Pampa had to start over on the 32. A Stephens pass was long and a punt over the goal gave the ball back to Plainview on the 20.

The Bulldogs then mounted their best drive of the first half to the Pampa 26 before Center Duke Garren rose up at middle linebacker to intercept another Plainview pass and run it back to the Plainview 45 before Furrow brought him down. A piling-on penalty on the same play moved the ball to the Bulldog 30.

Stephens hit Storms on a 14-yard pass play to the 16 as Storms made a beautiful one-handed overhead catch. Two plays later, Crossland found Storms alone in the end zone and flipped a pass, only to have it intercepted by the ever-present Furrow who ran it back to the 4 to end the first half.

The second half was all Plainview as the 205-pound defensive wall limited Pampa to 37 yards rushing while rolling up 147 themselves.

After Austin Winter, Plainview tackle, pounced on a Pampa fumble on the Pampa 48, the Bulldogs drove to a first and goal on the Pampa 8. Fullback Roy Kiser gained two to the six, Ragle went five to the 1 and Kiser hit to the one-foot line before heads up defensive work by Randy Matson, recovered a fumble on the 1 yard line on the next play.

The next time Plainview got its hands on the football, it drove 80 yards in 13 plays with Furrow, who made 13 of those yards, going over for the tying TD.

Garren left the score 6-6 when he came through the Bulldog line like a runaway express train to block Joe Ferguson's try for point.

Going for the win, Crossland came out throwing with 2:16 left but Ragle's spear hit first pass and hot-footed it 35 yards for the winning score.

Crossland was the top Harvester rusher with 61 yards and Dobbin was second with 42, but was hobbled from the second period on after one of the Plainview behemoths fell on him.

For Plainview, Kiser rushed for 65 yards, Furrow had 64 and Ragle had 52.

Besides Garren, Stewart and Matson, Billy Cooper, Carl Clark, Lynn Schofield and Larry Taylor played good defensive games. Crossland also had one of his better defensive days and on the series of downs that led to Plainview's first score, he made three successive tackles.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (UPI)—Maryland put aside its bag of offensive tricks Saturday and took advantage of a pass interference ruling for a 22-19 victory over North Carolina.

Miami Wins Coin Flip

Miami High School jumped off on the right foot yesterday in its bi-district plans when Coach Bill Hines won the coin toss, making his Warriors the host team against Galt Friday night in an eight-man contest.

The game will be played at 7:30 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the gate only, with adult priced at $1.25 and students at 50 cents.

"This is a great break for us, we're going to need a bit of help to knock off Galt. They've won 43 without defeat and only one tie. But I honestly believe that we can take them," said Hines.

The way the Warriors have performed this year gives support to Hines' belief. They knocked over 10 foes, all in handy fashion.

Purdue Passer Pushes Gophers Off Top Rung

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The Boilermakers got their last touchdown in a freak play with the clock dead.

Tom King, fumbled Allen's punt in the end zone, and Jim Tiller came up with the ball to give Purdue a touchdown.

The game was going to a photo finish before the freakish Boilermaker score. Minnesota had three chances to score within the last seven minutes, but an inspired Purdue line rushed the passers to stop the Gophers.

Mighty Missouri Stomps Sooners

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Mighty Missouri put down a determined underdog Oklahoma squad 41-19 Saturday after the Sooners flubbed away an opportunity to top the nation's No. 2 team from the unbeaten ranks.

In a thrill-packed game played before a homecoming crowd of 56,500, the keyed-up Oklahoma team presented the Tigers one of their fiercest tests of the season. But with Oklahoma trailing by only five points, in the last period, Sooner quarterbacks tossed four wild pichtouts which Missouri cashed in for two touchdowns and a field goal to break the game wide open.

Missouri, Oklahoma's successor as the power house of the Big Eight, insured its best season in 51 years by winning its ninth straight game and its sixth straight conference trial. Oklahoma did something no other team had done by scoring twice as ground plays during the first half. But Missouri still had a comfortable 24-12 lead.

The Sooners rallied to move up to 24-19 as fullback Ronnie Hartline shattered the Tiger line, accounting for 59 yards of a 74-yard drive to the Missouri one. Quarterback Jimmy Carpenter sneaked over as the third period ended.

Oklahoma 6 6 7 0-19
Missouri 10 10 0 17-41

Alabama Triumphs, 16-15

ATLANTA (UPI)—Richard O'Dell's field goal at the final gun gave fired-up Alabama a breath-stopping 16-15 come-from-behind victory over Georgia Tech Saturday.

The clock was down to its last second when O'Dell kicked from the 24-yard line on a play called without a huddle that left 45,000 fans sitting stunned in their seats.

ETS Bombs Lamar Tech

COMMERCE, Tex. (UPI)—East Texas State all but shattered Lamar Tech's dreams of a share of the Lone Star Conference championship Saturday, crushing to Cardinals 27-0.

Little Danny Davidson provided the offensive spark for the Lions, scoring on a 25-yard pass from Jim Williams in the first quarter and running 62 a 10 yards for two other touchdowns in the final period. Davidson also ran for a two-point conversion.

Iowa Drubs Ohio State To Cinch Big Ten Tie

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—Forest Evashevski made his last home appearance as Iowa's head football coach a success Saturday as the Hawkeyes drubbed Ohio State, 35-12, to clinch at least a share of the Big Ten title.

Seniors were honored at the traditional Dad's Day game but it was a set of fleet underclass backs which turned the game into a rout and moved Iowa back into first place in the Big Ten with a 5-1 record.

The Hawkeyes, beaten by Minnesota last week, were given the opportunity for a share of the crown when Purdue edged the Gophers Saturday, 23-14. Minnesota must beat Wisconsin next week to tie the Hawkeyes for the crown.

The defeat ended Ohio State's hopes for a share of the title as the Buckeyes, rated a slim favorite in pre-game odds-making were out-rushed, out-passed and out-played in the line.

Sophomore fullback Joe Williams paced Iowa with two touchdowns, one a 48-yarder that opened the scoring in the first period. He added another on a one-yard plunge in the closing seconds of the first half to give the Hawkeyes a 28-6 halftime margin.

But junior left halfback Larry Ferguson gave the crowd of 57,900 and a national television audience the biggest thrill when he swept around end and sped down the sidelines for 91 yards and Iowa's only score of the second half.

The other scores by the sixth-ranked Hawkeyes came on a 12-yard run by quarterback Wilburn Hollis and a 1-yard sneak by his understudy, sophomore Matt Szykowny.

Ohio State, ranked No. 3 nationally and considered one of the better offensive and defensive clubs in the nation, was able to move the ball but not consistently enough.

Scoring:
Iowa 7 21 0 7-35
Ohio State 0 6 6 0-12

Jayhawks Tromp Colorado, 34-6

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Hugh Smith galloped 46 yards and Bert Coan scampered 74 yards for third quarter touchdowns Saturday to lead the Kansas Jayhawks to a 34-6 victory over the Colorado Buffaloes.

The win gave Kansas a 5-0-1 Big Eight Conference record and set the stage for a title showdown with the Missouri Tigers next week.

The defeat, Colorado's third of the season, killed any post-season bowl hopes for the Buffaloes.

Kansas enjoyed only a 7-0 halftime lead, but broke the game wide open in the third quarter on the long touchdown runs by Smith and Coan.

Third string fullback Norm Mailen plunged over for two fourth quarter scores to put the game out of reach.

Kansas 7 0 14 13-34
Colorado 0 0 0 6-6

Ole Miss Whips Tennessee '11'

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Bowl-bound Mississippi shattered the Tennessee defenses with deadly passing by quarterback Jake Gibbs and powerful running by fullback Jim Anderson Saturday for a 24 to 3 victory, the first ever achieved by the Rebels on the Tennessee home grounds.

Fourth-ranked Mississippi, now 8-0-1 for the season, handed Tennessee its second defeat in a row with cool efficiency.

Houston Fights Off Florida St.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Houston halfback Ken Bolin took a 12-yard down-the-middle pass from quarterback Don Sessions Saturday for a fourth period 7-6 victory over the underdog Florida State Seminoles.

The Seminoles drove hard for a touchdown with three minutes left in the game but a two-point pass from quarterback Ed Trancycyler to halfback Carl Meyer failed, leaving FSU a point behind.

Sessions' pass capped a 52-yard drive which started when Houston took a Florida State punt on its own 48. The drive was sparked by a 22 yard pass play from Sessions to left half Billy Richardson, which pushed the ball to the FSU 27.

Sessions and Richardson drove it to the 12, where Bolin scored on the pass with 14 minutes left in the game. Righthalf Eddie Mitchamore kicked the extra point.

Scoring:
FSU 0 0 0 6-6
Houston 0 0 0 7-7

Bellino Leads Middies To 41-6 Cavalier Rout

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI)—Hard-running halfback Joe Bellino turned in a stirring four-touchdown scoring performance Saturday to pace once-beaten Navy to a lopsided 41-6 victory over losing Virginia.

Bellino's scoring, before a crowd of 20,208, included an end run of 90 yards, the longest in his academy career.

Navy got underway with its scoring rampage in the second period with an eight-yard pass from quarterback Hal Spooner to Bellino.

Bellino then proceeded to add scores on a 39-yard run in the same period and a one-yard plunge in the third.

Huskies Head For Rose Bowl

SEATTLE (UPI)—Washington clinched the Big Five football championship and a second trip to the Rose Bowl Saturday by rolling over outclassed California, 27-7, to the delight of 56,000 homecoming day fans.

The Huskies' trip to the Rose Bowl still needs the formal approval of the conference, but there was little doubt that this should be forthcoming.

California did not score until the issue had already been decided.

The Bears finally scored midway of the fourth when reserve quarterback Larry Balliett hit Steve Bates with a 7-yard TD pass to end a 48-yard drive.

Auburn Sneaks Past Georgia

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI)—Full back Ed Dyas' fabulous foot and bread-and-butter bursts through the center of a scrappy Georgia line gave Auburn a tough 9-6 win over the Bulldogs Saturday in Dixie's oldest rivalry.

It was a battle of field goals all the way and neither team scored a touchdown.

A crowd of 46,000 saw Dyas smash three national records with field goals from 28, 24 and 22 yards out. Dyas now has kicked 12 field goals this season, putting him far ahead of all others. He has kicked 18 three-pointers in two seasons for a new national career record.

Dyas' winning field goal came in the last 45 seconds of play. It was Auburn's 29th straight victory at home and avenged a last-second defeat by Georgia last year which gave the Bulldogs the SEC title.

Gator Bowl Offered

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The surprising Florida Gators made their own breaks Saturday to rout underdog Tulane 21-6 and assure Florida of its best season in Southeastern Conference history and a bid to the Gator Bowl.

Immediately after the game, Gator Bowl Chairman John Piombino announced he was extending Florida an invitation to play in the Dec. 31 post-season classic at Jacksonville. Florida was expected to wait until after its final game, against Miami Nov. 26, to tell whether it will accept.

A partisan homecoming crowd of 44,000 watched the Gators turn two Tulane fumbles and an intercepted pass into touchdowns in the first half for Florida's seventh victory against two losses.

Sophomore halfback Adrian Colon raced 70 yards for the Green Wave's only touchdown after intercepting a pass by Florida quarterback Bobby Dodd, Jr.

The victory gave Florida a 5-1 record in the SEC, the Gators' finest showing since the conference was formed in 1933, and made first-year Coach Ray Graves' team a virtual cinch for a bowl appearance.

Tulane suffered its fifth loss — in a dismal season with only two non-conference triumphs and a tie with Alabama.

Scoring:

Tulsa Fullback Helps Stop NTS

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Tulsa's junior fullback Bo Bolinger became a one-man team, scoring two touchdowns and brought Tulsa out from behind to defeat North Texas State, 12-8, before 9,112 fans here Saturday.

Bolinger set-up Tulsa's clinching touchdown by intercepting a North Texas State pass in the fourth period, and carried on six successive plays to move the ball from the 14 to pay dirt.

Tulsa then had to fight off a determined drive by an aroused Eagle team late in the fourth to put the game on ice. The win gives Tulsa a chance to share the Missouri Valley Conference title if North Texas can defeat Wichita next week.

Cadets, Pitt Fight To 7-7

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Army and Pittsburgh, conquerors of defending national champion Syracuse on successive week ends, battled to a 7-7 tie Saturday with the Cadets losing a chance for a mild upset when a field goal attempt hit the crossbar with 35 seconds left.

Even after that disappointment, the Black Knights from the Hudson nearly scored on the final play when halfback Glen Adams intercepted a Pitt pass and raced 59 yards before being tackled on the Pitt 16 when the final gun sounded.

Almost unnoticed in the confusion of the hectic finish was what appeared to be a safety against Pitt. An unofficial indicated that a Panther back had been trapped in his own end zone. Had the call stood, it would have given Army two points but the referee overruled his fellow official's call and said the ball carrier got out of the end zone safely.

Scoring:
Pitt 7 0 0 0-7
Army 0 0 7 0-7

McLean Upsets Lefors, 13 To 6

McLean's Tigers put a brilliant finish to a so-so season Friday night by upsetting Lefors Pirates, 13-6, and ending the Pirates' chance for a second consecutive title.

In other area games, White Deer waxed Stratford, 40-16, to wrap up second place in District 1-A with a 4-1 record. Perryton topped Spearman, 32-4, to win the 3-AA flag. Stinnett skinned Pampa's Panthers, 18-12, to take the 1-A title and conclude its regular season with a 10-0 record. Memphis defeated Canadian, 19-6, and Groom added icing to its district title by downing Texline, 44-8 in a 1-B game.

McLean, which has suffered all sorts of misfortune — including a coaching changeover in mid-season — beat Lefors the hard way by coming from behind.

Lefors, evidently looking ahead to next Friday's district clash with Stinnett at Pampa, took a 6-3 record into the game and were unbeaten in District 2-A action. The Pirates looked like champs as they went to a 6-0 halftime lead on a 22-yard run by Danny Wilmon.

McLean roared back in the third period when quarterback Ken Williamson hit back Jim Watson on a 22-yard wing pass and Tommy Herron led the all-important conversion.

The Tigers scored the win — the first over the Pirates — home field in years — in the fourth period when George Patton plunged over the 2.

Despite the loss, Lefors will still represent District 2-A against Stinnett as the Pirates defeated Memphis, the co-holder of the conference crown, week.

The deadly two-three scoring punch of Joeage, Tom Lester and Dickie Hysparked White Deer to its second win. Grange scored a 20-yard scamper in the first period and Lester ran the conversion to give the Bucks an 8-0 lead but Stratford came back in the second period to close the gap to 8-6 when Gary Dettle scored from the 1.

White Deer increased its edge to 14-6 at halftime on a pass from Hanna to Leland Knight that covered nine yards and then the Bucks exploded in the last half to win going away as Lester scored twice on runs of 12 and 5 yards and again on a 65-yard pass interception and Herman Hall put six points up on the Buck side with an 11-yard run.

Stinnett ran seven plays from scrimmage and scored on four of them before pulling out the starters in coasting to its win over Pampa.

Panhandle's scores came on a 10-yard run by Bob Median and a 5-yard plunge by Mike Ecklund.

Bears Walk Tightrope In Zany NFL Battle

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press International

And now it's the Chicago Bears, who reach the crisis stage in the National Football League race.

Two weeks ago it was the Philadelphia Eagles; last week it was the Baltimore Colts and New York Giants. All survived the early season make-or-break game and that's the big reason why several clubs remain in contention for the title.

The Bears, who have a 3-3-1 record and cannot afford another defeat, are 7-point underdogs against the Western Division-leading Colts in the NFL's top game at Chicago.

Here is how the five other Sunday games shape up (all favorites are the home teams): Philadelphia Eagles 14 points over Washington Redskins; New York Giants 7½ over Pittsburgh Steelers; Cleveland Browns 10½ over St. Louis Cardinals; Green Bay Packers 22 over Dallas Cowboys; Detroit Lions 4 over Los Angeles Rams. The San Francisco Forty Niners are idle.

The American Football League pits its two division leaders against each other in the battle between the Houston Oilers (6-2) and the Los Angeles Chargers (5-3) on the West Coast. The game is rated a tossup. The Dallas Texans (4-4) are at home against the Denver Broncos (4-4) and the Oakland Raiders (4-5) entertain the Buffalo Bills (3-5). Dallas and Oakland are favored.

The first meeting between the Colts and Bears this season was no contest, Baltimore winning 42-7. However, the Bears, who did not play last weekend, are in their best physical shape of the season and are "up" for this survival game.

Philadelphia is the hottest team in the NFL having won five in a row since dropping the season-opener to Cleveland. The game against the Redskins (1-3-2)

Wolves Win

ANN ARBOR, (UPI) — Michigan's heavily favored Wolverines slumbered through two days and then — by the efforts of an all-else-struck-for-three touchdown in the second half to wrestle a 29-7.

The keyed-up Bears, who are now winless in six against Big Ten opponents, had a 1-7 overall record. Michigan napping in first period and grabbed an octet 7-0 lead.

The Wolverines, favored by three touchdowns that advantage in a hat carried a mere 8-7 over the half.

Orange Romp

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Pete Brokaw, a free wheeling halfback, exploded for three touchdowns Saturday as Syracuse broke off a two-game losing streak with a 45-6 romp over traditional rival Colgate.

Fish Service Pens Helpful Tips On Preparing Meals From Catch

By BILL CLAYTON
United Press International

Much as a Texas fisherman enjoys working his favorite stream or lake area for a few pounds of fighting fish, the full pleasure of the outing comes to many when they whisk the fish home for a fish fry or other culinary caper.

For those who can get past their wives' objections to having to clean, gill and scale fish, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Dallas offers the fisherman-cook a creel-full of cooking suggestions for the fish of his choice.

You don't have to fry a fish for the best flavor, the service points out with a list of recipes for barbecued, smoked, baked, steamed, and stuffed fish.

A for-instance, from fishery marketing specialist Henry Boies of Dallas, is the recipe for "fisherman's Delight":

Brush inside of a number of cleaned small fish, such as perch, with lemon juice, salt and pepper, and wrap each fish with a slice of bacon. Cook fish on a barbecue grill near hot coals until bacon is crisp, turning the white.

For baked stuffed fish, such as bass, fill fish with a stuffing of bread dressing sauteed chopped celery, onion, crumbs and season-and garnishing with parsley and lemon or tomato and serving on the plank with potatoes and hot vegetables provides a full meal.

The State Game and Fish Commission wardens warn Texans looking forward to the deer season that Llano and Bowie counties will have check stations again this year, where all deer taken in those counties will have to be checked within 24 hours after killing. Check stations in Bowie County are at the DeKalb Ice House and the west gate of the Red River Arsenal, and the Llano County check point is intersection of State Highways 16 and 71. Antlerless deer taken anywhere in the state will also have to be checked at some commission check point in the hunter's area.

Lefors-Stinnett Game To Be Played In Pampa

Lefors, champion of District 2-A, and Stinnett, 1-A title holder, Friday afternoon selected Pampa as a neutral site for their bi-district game next Friday night.

Representatives of both schools, meeting in Borger, voted to play the important game at Harvester Park at 7:30 p.m. with Lefors as the home team. The winner will advance to regional play.

Stinnett (10-0) and currently the top-ranked team in the state in Class A, ended its regular season Friday night with a 28-12 conquest of Panhandle while Lefors (6-4) was upset by McLean, 13-6.

The two teams have met once before this season, with Stinnett coming out on top, 33-0, at Lefors. Tickets for the game will go on sale at the Pampa Chamber of Commerce office on Tuesday, according to Murray Sealey, chairman of the chamber's sports committee. All tickets will be general admission.

The ducks will go for $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students and children.

The Pampa chamber will give a bi-district trophy to the winner.

250,000 Deer Hunters Ready

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas estimated Saturday that a quarter-million Texans will swarm into choice hunting areas for the beginning of the six-week open season on deer Nov. 16.

Club President Henry LeBlanc said the outlook is for a season to equal or surpass the 155,000 deer taken last year.

He urged hunters to: Obey the law, be considerate of landowners, observe safety, and to earmark their hides for assignment to state hospitals for the therapeutic uses given them by convalescent patients, who work the hides after a taxidermist processes them.

Optimists Kick Off Youth Week With Banquet

A three-part program, highlighted by the presentation of Robert E. Lee's undefeated seventh grade Rebels, will kickoff Pampa's Optimists Club's observance of National Youth Appreciation Week at 8:30 p.m. in Folee's Steak House.

The week of Nov. 14-20 has been set aside for national recognition of youths and the work they do in all activities.

A. J. Carubbi Jr., chairman of the Pampa Muscular Dystrophy Drive, will present the first segment of the program with a discussion and movie on MD, one of the nation's leading cripples of young people.

Following will be the recognition of the Lee team which racked up a 5-0 record and was the only team in the Pampa school season to go unbeaten.

Butch Crossland, quarterback on the Harvesters, will speak to the Lee squad to keynote the presentation.

The program will conclude with the awarding of sportsmanship awards to individuals from each of the four Pampa junior baseball leagues by Melvin Jayroe, president of the Pampa Jaycees.

John Conway is in charge of the program and he anticipates a good crowd for the banquet.

WE QUIT

A STATEMENT TO THE PEOPLE OF PAMPA:

After much deliberation we have decided to discontinue operation of the Thompson Hardware Company. My brothers purchased the Carr-Crawford Hardware Co. in 1926. I became associated with them upon graduation from college in 1928. Other than the time served in the Navy during World War II, I have been in this store continuously since that date. Having served the people of Pampa for this period of time, ours has not been an easy decision.

We have not lost our lease and are happy to say we are enjoying good health. Our reason for this action is that in these changing times the hardware store as we know it is no longer regarded as an essential source of supply. Time was when people went to their favorite hardware store for their hardware needs. Now it seems to be easier to pick them up at the grocery store, the drug store, the department store, the stamp store, a service station, or the 5 & 10c store. With this wide diffusion of the potential market it is no longer a profitable endeavor for us. Living in Pampa has been a wholesome experience for us. The years have been both pleasant and profitable and we have endeavored to give back to the community a measure of this remuneration by participating in the projects of community service that contribute to the program of growth and public improvements.

This is a genuine sale of our entire inventory. No one knows how many items a hardware store must carry. On our last inventory there were over five thousand items listed. Our policy has always been to sell quality merchandise at reasonable prices. During the past week we have re-priced our merchandise. Every item has been drastically reduced. We invite you to come in. Should we have anything you wish to buy, it will be priced at a considerable saving.

WELL, WHAT DO WE TALK ABOUT now that the elections are over? ... have you noticed long lulls in conversations during the past few days? ... we have, but since we've never discussed politics via this column, we don't propose to do so now. ... however, we must comment and commend that other news media, the TV industry, for its excellent coverage of the national election ... never before, do we believe, has the American public en-masse been so well-informed on issues and felt so close to the gentlemen involved in these issues than during this past election ... which accounts in great part, we believe, for the overwhelming interest taken in it. ... if it was a little confusing at times that was because the American public expected TV, radio and the newspapers to erase our confusion, which, naturally, it cannot do. ... that is why each of us were given a degree of mental intellect to resolve and digest the issues and come up with our own opinion. ... too, we think that the debates, discussions and mock elections that were held in history and civic schoolrooms around town is such a wonderful way to instill at an early age political interest in the minds of our young people, who will actually be making these decisions in just a few short years. ... the students had to pay a wee poll tax fee to entitle them to vote and they were given sample ballots to make like those used in the real election. ... we had one pet theory exploded though. ... we always thought that "out of the mouths of babes" you could tell from the school elections how the national election would go. ... didn't happen in this incidence though. ... enough of this serious business. ... guess our ego is showing, we just wanted you to know that SOMETIMES Peg does think of more serious things than how pretty a little finger is crooked around a teacup or who gave what party when.

WHERE ARE THESE 1956 HARVESTER "exes" today????

WE HEARD THAT IT was really a gala affair that the Society of Petroleum Engineers for Abilene gave for their laies in the Starlight Room of the Coronado inn on election night. ... it was the first time that the gentlemen have invited their ladies out to their usually stag affairs. ... the food was sumptuous, the program most interesting considering the stiff competition it had with election returns. ... and the ladies were lovely. ... among the feminine guests were Ann Hestor, Alice Ann Knox, Donna Sidwell, Wanda Gill squired off by her husbands, Don Hestor, Al Knox, Gene Sidwell and John Gill. ... quite a few members were over from Amarillo and Borger, too, and they gave their whole-hearted approval of the lovely facilities and wonderful food served at the dinner. ... now the members are looking forward to their Christmas dance on Dec. 6. ... we know that the A. D. Fish household was in a whirl of happy, hectic confusion last Sunday afternoon when over two-nunared relatives and friends called to wish them a Happy Golden Wedding anniversary. ... there was a rather unusual fact in connection with the party. ... there were five generations (all feminine) present for the occasion. ... Mrs. Fish's mother, Mrs. W. E. Sullivan of Lubbock; her daughter Mrs. C. F. McGinnis of Pampa, her granddaughter, Ivys, Don Stone of Amarillo and a great granddaughter, Peggy Stone of Amarillo. ... we heard that Mrs. Fish and her mother wound up the day's festivities by attending evening church services in the First Baptist Church. ... it's not every day that a Golden Wedding Anniversary honoree can attend church services with her own mother!!

IN ADDITION to election week last week could be tagged "Lust Day Week" - for three local clues that we know of that entertained their friends at teas. ... Pampa Garden Club members are still talking about the wondrously amusing and highly informative program that Mrs. John V. Powers of Lubbock gave for them. ... we have heard some of the amusing things that she said as she created lovely floral arrangements. ... for instance, did you know that it takes a highly intelligent person to like purple? ... Mrs. Powers said it was so. ... and now even it we didn't like purple before, we do now just to get into the "intelligent" category. ... too, she had something to say about people who never make mistakes. ... to erect that their talents for "always being right" is needed on a much higher, i.e., "in heaven" level. ... we loved that. ... twentieth Century Club also brought out their silver service and prettiest centerpiece, mink-eyed spider mums, and invited Lorene Skinner of Amarillo over to talk about skin-care. ... never thought or it before but it seems most apropp that Mrs. Skinner should talk about skin-care to play on words for you over there in the corner who doesn't dig our humor. ... twentieth Century Club held its guest day in Zee Holloway's newly re-decorated home. ... it was done by Chick Prettyman of Amarillo. ... we hear that it is just lovely. ... all done in soft, warm tones. ... we happened by just as Betty Horitor was stepping out of a car. ... she looked so attractive in a brown suit, a tiny brown velvet hat curved around her smartly-coiffed head, and her shoulders draped with a luscious Sabie stole. ... she was most striking. ... luckily for us no other car was coming along as we took in the details of her costume!

WE ALSO NOTED a lot of attractive gals traipsing into the Coronado Inn Thursday. ... just imagine most of them were invited guests to the one o'clock bridge-luncheon given by Dorothy Neslage, Margaret Thompson, Eunice Pierson, Katherine Homer and Mary Kinard. ... Mary Ann Kelley Jr. is floating around on wee-size Cloud Nine these days especially since her Birthday Wish came true. ... more than anything else she wanted a French Poodle so her Dad, Dr. Frank, gifted her with one, which she has promptly named "Mr Cocoa". ... we hear that Jewell Castleberry got away this week for her long-anticipated trip to Hawaii. ... hope she has a wonderful time and we are sure she will. ... Rosalie and Jimmy Hollingswood have moved into their pretty, split-level home out in the Fraser Addition. ... and we can imagine that the Jeff Beardens are most anxious to get into their lovely home on the corner of Aspen and 23rd in time for the holidays. ... what's this we hear about Lou Ella Grace Erdman giving a book review here in December for the Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority. ... maybe we'll have more of this to tell you later on. ... think the ticket sales are to start soon, can hardly wait to see the new club rooms in the Pampa Country Club. ... A big Party is planned for the opening night. ... see you there? ... Love, Peg

Fitz To Be Featured In One-Man Show

Dord Fitz, artist and art teacher, renowned not only in the Southwest, but also in Eastern art centers, will have a one-man show of his paintings. The exhibition will open November 15, in the Lovett Memorial Library and will be hung for two weeks. The Pampa Art Club is sponsor of the Fitz show.

Portraits, visual paintings and abstractions will be on display. A versatile artist, Fitz appeals to all people with different types of paintings. In the local exhibition are landscapes, still lifes and abstractions and portraits. Fitz' portraits hang in more than twenty states. Because he is acclaimed for his portraits, he usually has a waiting list.

Fitz has taught art classes in Pampa for almost eight years. It all started in 1951 while he was a professor in charge of art education at the University of Kentucky. His oldest son was recovering from polio and, following the family physician's recommendation, Fitz, his wife Agnes and their three children moved to their ranch near Higgins, Texas, just across the Texas line in Oklahoma. He started teaching art to Oklahoma Panhandleites in 1951 in the Westerner Art Center and gallery, an abandoned schoolhouse in a wheat field. The next year, Fitz became a circuit-riding art instructor in several Texas towns, including Pampa, Canadian, Amarillo, Borger, Hereford, Perryton and Spearman.

When he opened his gallery in Amarillo in 1956, Fitz stopped most of his traveling and students drove to his studio to study art with him. The Dord Fitz Galleries are at 1710 Taylor.

A new exhibition of paintings and sculptures is hung every four to six weeks. Only established artists' works are hung in the Fitz Galleries. The most recent exhibition is that of Charlie Bunnell, Colorado artist. This fall Bunnell taught a course in art technique at Fitz' gallery. Local artists taking this course were Mmes. A. L. Smalley, Jr., Howard Johnson, M. L. Satterwhite and Ruth and Helene Huff and Mrs. Tom Anderwald of White Deer — all students of Fitz.

At the regular advanced art criticism classes, well known artists speak. During the past year James Boynton of Houston, one of the seventeen United States artists exhibited in the 1959 Brussels World Fair; Elaine de Kooning and Mickey Wagstaff, both of New York City; J. J. McVickers, head of the art department at Oklahoma State University; Woolcott Ely of Taos, N. M.; and Bunnell of Colorado Springs, Colo., lectured at the classes.

This spring Fitz showed at his gallery an all-woman art show, including contemporary artists and sculptors. This was the first such show in the world. Valued at more than $60,000, the works of the eighteen acclaimed women artists were exhibited in March at the Fitz Galleries. Attending the opening of the show were eight New York City women — five artists, one sculptor, an art gallery owner and an art collector. Because artists and art patrons believe in the almost fantastic art movement Fitz is achieving, famous artists are anxious to exhibit in his gallery — despite the fact that all have had well-received one-man shows in New York City and many, abroad.

one-man art exhibit

Artists and sculptors in the East know Fitz and many of his students. For the past four years Fitz has taken a group of his students to New York City in the spring. All attend the opening of the Dord Fitz Student Exhibition at the Burr Gallery. While in the city, artists entertain Panhandle painters in their studios and homes.

For the past three years Fitz was director of the art exhibition at the Tri-State Fair. He has had many one-man shows throughout the United States, including those in this area in Oklahoma City, in Amarillo at the Tri-State Fair and in Pampa.

Melvin Munn was guest speaker at Austin PTA Fathers' Night held Thursday 7:30 p.m. in the School auditorium. In developing the theme, "The Need For Higher Education" Mr. Munn brought out the need for a junior college in Pampa and stressed the need for allowing children to make their own decisions (within reason) "instead of telling them what to do all of the time and letting them do certain things themselves instead of depending on mother or dad. "If this is done, while they are at home," Mr. Munn said, "they will feel more secure and will be able to cope with situations when they do go away to college." He also stated that challenges are so much greater now than they were a few years ago.

The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. E. Thompson.

Civic Culture Club Hears Program On Tax Reforms Pending In Congress

The nation's present federal tax policy is a "virtual graveyard for personal ambition and incentives", Civic Culture Club members were told in a special program on "Why Bother About Texas?" at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Townsend. With four members taking part as speakers, the program emphasized that "the income tax system is denying the American people the just rewards for dedicated effort and hard work; the exorbitant taxes are siphoning off money that should be going into savings and investment; that, as a result, there is a shortage of capital needed for creating new jobs and providing for economic growth."

BETROTHED

Miss Marcella Kay Gaines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gaines, 510 N. Wells, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marcella Kay to Kenneth D. Talbot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis L. Talbot of Olustee, Okla. A December wedding is being planned.

The club speakers described tax rate reform proposals now pending in Congress; the Herlong-Baker bills which would gradually reduce income tax rates for both individuals and corporations over a five-year period. The basic individual tax rate would be brought down, in five annual steps, to 15 per cent from the present 20 per cent. The top bracket rate, would be cut to 47 per cent from 91 per cent, with corresponding reductions in the rates in between. The corporate tax rate would be reduced to 47 per cent from the present 52 per cent.

Mrs. Ophelia Morris, program chairman, who urged the women of Pampa to get behind the tax rate reform movement, introduced as speakers, Mrs. Irvin Cole, Mrs. Carl Axelson, Mrs. Stanley Brandt and Mrs. Louise Sewell.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Present were Mmes. E. Osborne, R. E. Dauer, A. D. Hills, A. C. Houchin, C. F. Pennington, W. C. Scott, K. A. Sorenson, Willis White and Chester Williams.

Periodic Arrangements Highlight Guest Tea

Mrs. John V. Powers Guest Doy Speaker

Pampa Garden Club entertained with its annual Guest Day Tea Monday in the Lovett Memorial Library.

Mrs. John V. Powers of Lubbock, national flower show judge and chairman of judges in this district, entertainingly and informatively spoke to the group on flower arrangement and points to be considered when entering arrangements in flower shows.

She advised members "not to become run-around. Flower growers and arrangers are artists and you cannot hitch an artist to a wagon. If you don't take a prize, don't become disillusioned. Try again."

"You will find," Mrs. Powers continued, "that a person who loves flowers is a person who loves to give. When you visit her garden and admire a certain plant, she will almost certainly say, 'Here let me give you a start of it.'"

Mrs. Powers went on to say that many memory gardens are started in this way: "Gardens that have reminders of pleasant friendships with people, who no longer may be with you."

The speaker also advised the group not to become a purely social club; "go into civic work and into promoting beauty in your community."

During her talk, Mrs. Powers explained period arrangements which had been prepared in advance of the program, and which included arrangements illustrative of the period of Cleopatra, King Louis, Queen Victoria, Madame Dubonnet Williamsburg up to the period of Early American and contemporary arrangements.

One of the most popular lines in flower arrangements, which Mrs.

shared to an inch or two from the center; the three stalks in tiered arrangement were accented at the base with Gruber Daisy Leaves and brilliant red berry-peppers with a Red Bird forming a focal point of interest. Another arrangement was created before the audience in the use of pale lavender Spoon Mums, deeper pink Elsie Pulsen roses with color accent provided by purple mums and grapes.

Following a welcome to guests refreshments from a table appointed with a brown line cloth highlighted with an arrangement of bright yellow mums, bronze button mums with cattails, vivid green wheat spears and Lemon leaves accent in a milk-glass bowl. Mrs. Coy Palmer presided at the silver coffee service.

Hostesses during the social hour were Mmes. Henry Gruben, T. M. Brooks, Thelma Bray, Weldon Adair and Walter Purviance.

Members and guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stubbe; Mmes. Hubert Phillips, Charles Woolley, Joe B. Griffin, Ira Carlton, H. H. Boyton, H. W. Waters, Fred Hart, Roy C. McKee, S. K. Moot, A. COTILLION FASHION-LUNCHEON—The first steps in preparing for Twentieth Century Cotillion's monthly Fashion-Luncheon are the selection of models and fashions to be shown. Current Affairs Are Discussed At Varietas Study Club

The subject "Current Public Affairs" was discussed at a meeting of the Varietas Study Club held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Cecil Dalton.

Mrs. Sherman White, program leader, discussed the origin and organization of Texas Democratic primary elections. In urging all women to vote, she said, "National apathy toward voting is just one step from bondage."

Mrs. Dow King spoke on major issues to come before congress. She asked, "What constitutes a major issue?" and answered by saying "any legislation that affects any one of us, either directly or indirectly, is a major issue." She mentioned specifically foreign policy, national defense, economic growth and education.

In discussing "Education for the Handicapped," Mrs. Ralph Thomas stated that "Pampa is moving forward in this program." To illustrate what can be accomplished for a handicapped child, she gave a short review of the book, "Karen," a true story of an exceptional child as related by Marie Killes, the child's mother.

The following members were present: Mmes. H. H. Butler, H. H. Bratcher, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Dosier, S. C. Evans, H. T. Hampton, Lee Harrah, Dow King, J. E. Kirchner, C. L. McKinney, Luther Pierson, J. R. Spearman, Ralph Thomas, W. A. Wagoner, Sherman White and D. Faulkner.

The program was presented by Mrs. Bill T. Braly, who discussed "William Pahlmann, Decorator" and by Mrs. W. G. Wagoner on the topic, "Let Not Get Out The Vote," which brought out that it is better to get out an informed vote; rather than votes that are merely concerned with numbers.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. John Gentry, vice president, announcement was made for the district federation convention to be held in Pampa in the Spring.

Mrs. Stuart Kines was welcomed as a new member.

During the social hour refreshments were served to the following members, Mmes. Curt Beck, John Lee Bell, Bill T. Braly, J. W. Cundith, J. B. Dailey, Ewert Duncan, John Gentry, C. W. Twentieth Century Club Fetes Guests At Library Tea

Mrs. Lorena Skinner Guest Doy Speaker

"Gone are the days when women stepped into a store and asked for just any old color lipstick and a face powder," was the opening remark of Twentieth Century Club's Guest Day speaker, Mrs. Lorena Skinner of Amarillo, manager of an Amarillo department store beauty department and representative for a leading cosmetic house. Mrs. Skinner spoke at the club's Guest Day held Tuesday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library.

Continuing with the course of study for the "Ledger For Creative Living" the afternoon's program was headed around "Be Cosmetically Give."

"Beauty-conscious women today realize that lip and powder are the least and most important of a really beautiful complexion. The important part is the consistent care of the skin cleansing and maintaining moisture for a healthy glow," the speaker pointed out, "all, leave off soap suds, since our climate in the arid is already dry enough. Use a cleansing cream and lotion. After-30 - skin needs moisture, which can be restored by the use of a hormone cream and there is absolutely nothing harmful in the use of a hormone cream when you buy from an established cosmetic house. You are not taking a chance."

The cosmetologist discussed at length the treatment of face cysts, which are hardened oil - packs, which appear under the skin. She advised a cosmetic treatment, which will attack the skin trouble from the inside, clear it up there, and bring it to the outside, where medicated cosmetic treatment will remove the unsightliness forever without scar.

Of interest to the audience was the treatment of teenage skin troubles for both boys and girls. "There are seven different kinds of acne," Mrs. Skinner said, "and the trouble must be treated first from within the pores." She recommended the use of a liquid cleanser, medicated astringent, which will bring the trouble area to the surface, where a medicated cosmetic cream will clear up the acne or other teen skin trouble. "If treatment is started in the early stages, you will not be bothered too much by it. Boys don't mind in the least the cosmetic aspect of the treatment after they see how it benefits their skins."

"You only get one face in a lifetime," Mrs. Skinner humorously said, "so please take care of it. Remember that old saying 'put your best foot forward?' No wadays, let's say 'put your best face forward.'"

The program opened with words of welcome from the president, Mrs. Ronald Hubbard.

The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. W. R. Campbell.

Mrs. Ray Duncan was awarded the door prize and each guest was presented two cosmetic articles.

Hostesses during the social hour were Mmes. Lloyd Hicks, Tom Rose and H. E. Stanfield. Mrs. Robert Sanford presided at the silver service.

Following the social hour and short business meeting, Mrs. Phillip Gates introduced the afternoon's speakers. Mrs. Irene Osborne and Mrs. H. H. Hahn presented the program assisted by Mrs. Owen Gee and Miss Marika Minelli, special guests.

Miss Minelli of Italy, who is studying in Pampa High School on a scholarship from the American Field Service, and Mrs. Gee, who recently toured in Italy, contributed to the program discussion.

"Italy: Mother of the Western World" was the discussion topic for the speakers with slides of Venice, Pisa, Genoa, Rome, country-slides with quaint haystacks, ancient architectural splendor with detailed slides of art works were shown.

A quotation from Stephen Spender, "Everything in Italy is not only cultivated, but love" illustrated the afternoon's program.

Members present were Mmes. Jeff Bearden, Ross Buzzard, G. L. Craddock, R. E. Dobbin, J. R. Donaldson, J. W. Edminister, Phillip Gates, H. H. Hahn, L. H. Hart, W. L. Hasse, E. L. Sopping Pampa with ELEANORE

The most fascinating miniature world I know of is the world of the scale-model train. Particularly the exquisite HO-gauge models, which are complete and authentically scaled down to the last nut-and-bolt. It is fascinating to compare the model with the real thing. At the Hobby Shop there is a complete stock of HO-gauge trains, equipment, track, layout plans, and soon. There are kits to build cars and engines, track-side equipment, hook-up wire, switches of all kinds. Pat Howell has plastic models of houses, barns, people, animals, landscaping, road signs, and every possible accessory. What more fun for your son and his Dad than an electric train for Christmas. There are complete train sets with transformers and track, ready-to-run, or you can do as the hi-fi fans, and buy "component parts". My son has enjoyed the train set he got last year, and I have enjoyed making some of the accessories for it. There are cute little wooden snap-together train sets for the small ones who are not old enough for the destructible electric train. At the HOBBY SHOP, 111 W. Francis.

Shopping is getting more and more exciting as the year runs along towards Christmas. And to give you a good example: hanging in splendor on the wall at Clayton Floral last week were striking decorations so light that masking tape would hold them up. These are angels, trees, and bells lit up white and gold. Some are three feet tall. They'd be lovely against a brick wall or on a front door. The bells could be used for wedding decorations, or for many other party-times. They are completely new, different, and so easy to make. Made of paper-light plastic. Another new item among the large Christmas stock arriving weekly, were cast aluminum candleholders, with the look of Chinese incense burners. A big set and chain is included; they may be hung singly, in pairs or set on any table to burn with an enchanting flickering glow.

Shadow by Paragon. Clayton's almany, many candles, Sights, candle holders of all kinds by often: their Christmas is arriving all the time a could miss some thing wonderful. CLAYTON FLOKRAY, 410 E. Foster.

I never realized so many exciting things happened around a beauty shop! This past week Edna Prescott and Jackie Tynes were telling about the Botten Supply House Harvestal and educational clinic held today and tomorrow. Their whole staff planning to attend the affair. There will be exhibits, demonstrations of new techniques, in hair shes, permanent waving, make-up and so on. Professionals to assist you in all kinds, and ambitions. It is exciting and new ideas and enthusiasm naturally benefits us so why not become one of them? We are talking about THE BEAUTY SALON, 111 W. Francis.

Big plans are under way for a traditional Thanksgiving dinner celebration at the Coronado Inn. It has the experience of manager that nearly everybody will want Turkey and the star of the evening. He gave me a pre-let tall. My mouth is watering with the choices of desserts, nothing of mince-meat pie. Plan to enjoy Thanksgiving Dinner on the grounds. Look for bluegrass greening up and the star and circle of the entrance. We are talking about Thanksgiving they work even better. Celebrate at the CORONADO INN.

While I was waiting for gift items bought at PAMPA OFFICE SUPPLY, 211 N. Cuyler.

If you're carving your Thanksgiving bird at home, you will need carving sets, and one of the beautiful Turkey Platters at Pampa Hardware. They have platters in traditional designs of turkey and cornfields, and one in white with a bas-relief turkey design. Also, a wonderful way to celebrate is with turkey plates decorated with turkeys. Pampa Hardware has Johnson Brothers china, with turkeys and vegetable dishes in Thanksgiving designs. They are beautiful and truly festive. One turkey is a beauty: Red-Cliff Ironstone. Imagine it on your table! You will certainly need a punch-bowl for the holidays, and other elegant serving pieces, coffee servers and ice-buckets. There are truly beautiful ones on display. I love to see all the pretty and useful things at PAMPA HARDWARE, 120 N. Cuyler.

You'll never believe what Charles of Miami has designed for your daughter now! Absolutely beautiful skirt and cardigan sets. The skirt is of pearl-hide, simulated leather, in white, trimmed with tiny red embroidered flowers, or blue and pink bows. White cardigans trimmed to match. The skirt is washable and has an elastic waistband to hold it up, a full-circle of beautiful skirt. Sizes 3-6x and 7 to 14. For Christmas parties, for the Junior Cotillion or any festive occasion, Helen Wells at Hi Land Children's Shop has in some beautiful sheer wear-wear dacron party dresses. Simple, yet elegant for parties, are the silk-organza dresses, each with its own slip, and lined bodice. One pretty has a brocade skirt, velvet top. A cute dress just being put on the rack when I came in was a cotton print with a tunic trimmed in Cluny lace, and a lined collar. Sizes 3-6x and 7-14. If your daughter needs a party dress, you will find what you are looking for at HI - LAND CHILDREN'S SHOP, 1619 N. Hobart.

Large, colorful jewelry has come into its own this fall. So that your face won't be dwarfed by your jewelry, choose your eye make-up to blend with whatever color stones you wear, and you'll offer your jewelry some serious competition.

With fur hats so popular this season, your eyebrows need more attention than ever. If you wear a white, tan or pale brown fur hat, remember to darken your brows with a slightly heavier hand or they'll be lost in the forward thrust of shaggy ends of fur from your hat.

Pastor Should Have Freedom Of Choice

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our pastor's wife died a few months ago and the whole town is running after him to help him replace her. He's in his early fifties and seems interested in a pretty little school teacher who is 33. She has never been married and would make him a good wife. The problem is she has an older sister who has never been married, either. She is 38 and gives piano lessons. The 38'er wants this pastor very much, but I think the pastor prefers the 33'er. I'm sure the 33'er would grab the pastor fast if her sister weren't in the running. The town is divided. Who should get him? Some say the 38'er, as it may be her last chance. We'd like you opinion.

FRIENDS OF BOTH

DEAR FRIENDS: The town should stay out of it. The pastor should court whom he wishes. And the sisters should wait to see which (if either) he selects.

DEAR ABBY: I went steady with Russell for three months. He's a wonderful guy but he was tagged for speeding twice and was cited for three other traffic violations in the past six weeks. He had his license taken away from him but he drives anyway. My Dad found out about it and made me break up with him. I don't think this was fair. Wouldn't it be punishment enough to forbid me to ride with him? I am 16 and Russ is 17.

RUSS' GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I agree with your dad. How "wonderful" could a guy be who continually breaks the law, has his license revoked but drives anyway? He's bad news. Stay away from him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a size 12. My sister should be a size 12, too, but she is a size 14. She is always "going on a diet tomorrow." Last January she admired a dress of mine, so I gave it to her hoping it would be an incentive to stick to her diet. She seemed delighted with the idea, accepted the dress and promised she'd stick to her diet this time.

Well, she's had the dress for nine months, and instead of losing weight, she's gained. The dress has been hanging in her closet and I would like to wear it this winter. How can I get it back without hurting her feelings?

SIZE 12

DEAR SIZE 12: Ask her if she would mind letting you wear the dress until she is able to wear it.

Hour-Glass Hugging Fashions Make Room For New, Slackened Silhouette

NEW YORK (UPI) — We've moved from the sack to the slack in fashion silhouettes.

The one outstanding trend in the spring 1961 collections in New York's garment industry is to clothes with a definite easy shape — clothes with a slackened silhouette. No hour glass hugging of the figure. Instead, a relaxed, not tight fit.

Not that we all can climb comfortably into the voluminous mummus. Skirts for spring make strong demands on the figure, because so many of them remain slim. And certainly the continuance of the short hemline, just skimming the knee caps, calls for good gams.

The ease comes through the sleeves, bodice and waistline. Bodices are so bulky that it will take a few tryings-on in dressing rooms during shopping to get used

Overcome Shyness By Looking Straight In 'I'

NEW YORK — You can overcome shyness if you look it straight in the "I".

Shyness is really self-consciousness — I-consciousness, say the November issue of Seventeen Magazine in a major feature-titled "I'm Shy. . . Why?" Teenage girls who are shy are afraid of doing or saying the wrong thing, of being embarrassed or hurt or making a fool of themselves. When they learn why they are afraid and accumulate experience by meeting difficult situations head-on, their shyness should disappear.

Why are you shy? It may be because of fear by association, a feeling of inferiority, or just because it's a first.

If you dread being called on in class, it may be due to a teacher who was cross way back in the third grade. Memories of a re-buff, ridicule, teasing, a failure, a rejection can all serve to make you shy.

If you start out with a doubt about being liked every time you meet someone it may be due to overprotection, criticism or comparison when you were a child.

Too many be-carefuls or "Why can't you be more like Mary Jane?" can undermine your self-confidence. Famous people have developed little tricks to get over feelings of insecurity. For you, the trick might be remembering that there are some things which others are afraid of, too.

If you're afraid of going on a college weekend or to dinner with a boy, it may just be because these are firsts. Remember that after you try something once, you will never again have to do it for the first time.

The best way to overcome shyness in special situations is to meet it head on — with experience. If you're shy about meeting a friend's mother, get used to meeting her. If you're afraid to volunteer in class, do so tomorrow. If you don't accept these challenges, you may still be shy at twenty.

Here are some ways suggested to hide shyness: 1) Breathe deeply half a minute before giving a speech or report. 2) Say what you're thinking, even if that's "I'm too afraid to say a word." 3) Act poised and relaxed and the feeling will follow. 4) When you enter a party, stop at the door and count to ten slowly, then circulate, don't sit down and hide. 5) If you spill or break something, apologize and then forget it. 6) When you feel that all eyes are upon you, look up. You will probably find that no one is even glancing your way or that the boy across the room is looking at you and would like to come over.

Nine Points Of Order For Husband To Ponder

"I have your nine rules for getting along with a husband taped to my dressing table mirror, so that they will be a constant reminder to me. Now — how about nine rules for getting along with a wife?" So writes a reader of this column.

1. Make it as easy as you can for your wife to be a good housekeeper. A husband who strews his belongings around, never puts anything back where it belongs, and never cleans up after himself can discourage a wife from trying to keep a house neat and tidy.

2. Look for opportunities to praise your wife, instead of taking everything she does for granted. And be sure to brag on her to others now and then, if you really want to make her feel appreciated.

3. Don't expect your wife to know you love her if you never tell her so.

4. Come home at night in a cheerful frame of mind. Even when you have to force a cheerful attitude, make that much effort. You would make the effort for a friend — why not for the woman you love?

5. Take your wife out at least two nights a week. You'll both be happier than if you sit around home night after night, just because this is the easiest thing to do.

6. Do the "man's work" around your home without having to be nagged into taking care of things.

7. Don't grow sloppy and careless about your appearance. A husband who looks well groomed and well dressed is as important to a woman as a good-looking wife is to a man.

8. Mind your manners. Don't grow careless about your table manners, or neglect the small courtesies you showed your wife when you were dating.

9. Don't expect your wife to make your marriage happy. Half of the job is up to you.

Chopin Program Given At Club

MCLEAN (Spl) — The Pioneer Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Harold Fabian with Mrs. Hickman Brown as hostess.

Floral arrangements of chrysanthemums in autumn hues appointed the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. Jesse Coleman, president, conducted the business meeting during which plans were made to send Christmas gifts to the White Deer Home for Girls.

The setting for the program "An Afternoon with Chopin" was arranged with a bust of Chopin against a floral background on the piano.

Mrs. Fabian began the program by giving a brief account of Chopin's life as one of the greatest pianists and composers. He had a marvelous appreciation of the effects that the piano could produce. Chopin began his musical career at the age of four and died at the very young age of 39; during this time, his works included more than 200 published compositions.

Mrs. Fabian concluded the program with a piano recital featuring Chopin's Preludes, Mazurkas, and Ballades.

Mrs. H. F. Barnhart and Mrs. Jack Riley, both of Pampa, were welcomed as special guests.

Attending were Meses. Sinclair Armstrong, Jim Back, Jim Boyd, Wilson Boyd, Hickman Brown, Morris Brown, S. A. Cousins, Ercy Cubine, Dale Glass, Tom Greenwood, Jim Hartaway, Guy Hester, Forrest Hupp, Creed Lamb, Clyde Magee, Evan Sitter, June Woods, Kenneth McCall, W. E. Hogan.

Fidelis SS Class With Mrs. McGuire

The Fidelis Class of Central Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. John McGuire for a social.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Teddy Lewis, president, who announced that the December social would be in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Florence on Dec. 13th.

Mrs. Lewis gave a devotional entitled "aren't you glad" in which she brought out the blessings of family life.

Hostesses were Mrs. Neil Coventry and Mrs. McGuire. A fall theme was used in the table decorations with a centerpiece of a dried floral arrangement.

Members attending other than those mentioned were: Meses. Bob Callahan, J. P. Adams, Kenneth Florence, Bill Jenkins and Dean Wheeler.

Means, Chris and Gregg; Daniel Rose; Norman Sublett; Pampa; Dale Brunley, Tammie and Terry; Kenneth Brown, Brenda and Linda; Mar-non and Debbie; Gordon Robinson; Margaret McPhillip; Kenneth Vernon and Debbie; Gordon Robinson and Chuck; Charles Roberts and Jannis; the hostess and her children, Matthew and Carolyn.

Sandwich in Season

It's a pleasure to have "left-over" meats appear in a new guise. Arrange a lettuce leaf on a slice of toasted bread. Top lettuce with thinly sliced pork, ham, or beef, and top meat with 2 tablespoons of canned cranberry sauce. Add 1 teaspoon mayonnaise atop the cranberry sauce. Serve sandwich with a bowl steaming soup.

Roast Beef Garnish

Big, baked apples filled with mince-meat make a colorful garnish for roast beef during the holiday season. Remove apple cores but do not peel. Place 1 tablespoon sugar in center of each apple. Fill with mince-meat and bake covered in a moderate oven (375 degree F.) about 45 minutes or until apples are tender.

Baker School Choir In Program Of Songs At PTA Meeting

B. M. Baker School choir, under the direction of Mrs. Flaudie Gallman, music instructor, presented a selection of cowboy songs in honor of Dads at the PTA unit meeting Thursday evening in the school auditorium.

Open House and room visitation preceded the program at 7 p.m.

Among the vocal selections were "Tumbling Tumble Weed," "Going To Leave Ole Texas," and a "Cow-boy's Meditation." In closing, the choir sang "A Song of Praise," and "America For Me" in observance of Thanksgiving.

A skit entitled, "Operation PTA" was presented by the executive board with Mrs. A. N. Green as narrator. Mrs. Orvel Ferguson portrayed "Mr. PTA"; Mrs. Executive Board and Mrs. President were played by Mrs. D. P. Brown; Mrs. S. A. Downs played the role of the doctor and the nurse with Mrs. Hospitality depicted by Mrs. Robert Dittmeyer.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE.

They'd been shopping, too. I had just ordered coffee when they sat down beside me at the counter of the department store's tea-room. The teen-age daughter, her hair expertly beehived, ordered uckleberry pie a la mode. The mother scanning the menu sighed: "I'll stick to my diet. A slice of melon, please."

But when the confectioner's daughter had ordered was delivered, she changed her mind. To the waitress she said: "My, that pie looks so fresh and delicious. I think I'll have an order of it, too."

With scorn in her voice, the girl said to the waitress: "I knew that my mother wouldn't stick to her principles." The mother flushed painfully. In constraint and embarrassment she said to the waitress: "All right, forget the pie. I'll keep the melon."

And to demonstrate her capacity to stick to her principles, she proceeded to eat the melon in an angry and uncomfortable silence.

I wished that she'd laughed at her child's scorn instead and said "How right you are. Maybe I'd better not talk of being on a diet until I can go on one."

The young are awfully rigid people. When we announce that we are on diets, never tell lies, love our neighbors and otherwise preach virtuous conduct, they expect us to mean what we say.

When they catch us subverting our heroic declarations, they regard us with scorn and disdain. Our authority weakens along with their weakened respect.

We are foolish to announce our dedication to heroic principles that we cannot maintain by our actions.

This passion for highfalutin talk that we can't live up to seems to me to be a special American problem.

It creates confusion and irritation, not only in our children but among peoples of foreign lands. Charles Dickens once noted this love of grand talk in us and wrote of it with the same scorn expressed by the girl at the tea-room counter. Just as we parents are

Polly's Quiz

Dear Polly: I find your column most interesting. It's comforting to know that other people have decorating problems, too. My husband just built natural wood bookcases along one wall of our living room. Now I'm going to paint the room. I'll have new slip covers for the couch and two chairs and would like your help in choosing colors. I have a large picture window and a green rug.—Mrs. C. S.

Dear Mrs. C. S.: You and your problems have plenty of company. Soft green always looks well with natural wood so that color could go on your walls. Print curtains and sofa slip cover could then have a design in green, brown and gold. Cover the two chairs in a gold tweed-like fabric.

Dear Polly: I am writing with regard to my front doors. They each have glass to within one foot from the floor. I have Venetian blinds and would like to know if I could put a split panel of drapes in each door. Or do you have another suggestion?—E. J. B.

Dear E. J. B.: Don't put draperies on your entrance doors. Take off those Venetian blinds and have full semisherp curtains slipped on top and bottom rods. They could be in white or matched to your wall color.

Dear Polly: I am a high school freshman. We're going to paint my small (seven by nine) bedroom a light apricot. I am wondering about a color scheme. What color curtains, bedspread and rug? I don't like ruffles or cafe curtains.—Susie.

always claiming glorious intentions we cannot deliver on, so our politicians love to proclaim heroic purposes which our country cannot fulfill. For us, glorious action.

What results in both children and foreign lands is distrust of what we say.

Dear Susie: It's nice to know that a girl your age has some definite ideas, decoratively speaking. In such a small room, repeat the apricot in polished draw curtains and bedspread. A brown or even an apricot rug could be used. Some soft green and brown cushions on the bed would give a dash of contrasting color.

Dear Polly: I have a very old oil painting and would like to know how to clean it properly. It was your column that taught me how to clean a gilt frame.—Mrs. C. R.

Dear Mrs. C. R.: Oil paintings require professional cleaning and should be sent to an expert. Your local art museum should be able to suggest a reliable person.

Trend Back To Gas Lighting

By MAC SEBREE
United Press International
TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—If Thomas A. Edison thought his new-fangled electric light bulb put an end to the old-fashioned gas lamp he should be around today.
He would need only to drive down the streets of numerous smart new housing developments or residential neighborhoods to see the familiar glass globe and flickering flame of bygone days, still lighting the streets and sidewalks.
It's not that American communities haven't kept up with the times. In fact, the old-time gas lamps were largely replaced with electric lighting years ago. Now in some areas the trend is back to gas because of the ornamental and atmospheric value of the old lamps.
Some older neighborhoods — such as in St. Louis and other big cities—have kept gas lamps flickering down the years without interruption.
The trend to gas lamps is being encouraged by gas companies and the natural gas industry. New York State Natural Gas Corp., in Pittsburgh, Pa., is among the firms serving gas light systems and notes that they are also popular in small towns.
Oklahoma Natural Gas Co., of Tulsa, is among companies encouraging private gas lamps for front lawns, patios and driveways.
The village of Wyoming, N. Y., which has had a gas light system for 48 years, lets its lamps burn day and night — because it is cheaper than hiring someone to go around turning them on and off.
Gas lights were first introduced into the U. S. in 1806.
In 1816 a man named Rembrandt Peale opened a Baltimore museum. The main attraction was of the electric light, gas lights were dimmed and didn't revive until the mid-20th Century.
When it lost the battle for lighting, the gas industry turned its efforts to the development of gas cooking.
Who would have thought then that the companies someday would be pushing gas lights again as a source of revenue?

Dangerous Front Man

It is an axiom among dictators that when their internal power seems in danger they raise the specter of aggression from hostile outside forces. Cuba's Fidel Castro has reached the point in his career of chaos where he has to lean upon that tactic.

With mounting stridency he screams that the United States is about to invade his island country. He is whipping up an invasion fever among Cubans, exhorting them to "die fighting" on the beaches if necessary.

In point of truth, Castro appears to be using these violent scares to cloak substantial Cuban moves toward the camp of the Soviet Union. The United States has formerly charged to the Organization secretly getting healthy quantities of arms and numbers of military technicians from the Russian Communist bloc.

This development comes on top of further sweeping economic gestures toward the Communists, including the nationalization of hundreds of Cuban firms and the seizures of the last large group of U.S. enterprises on the island. Our major investment there is now virtually wiped out.

We know, of course, that we plan no invasion of Cuba, though the "rest" we gave 1,450 Marines at our Guantanamo naval base there does not suggest we would yield this area easily. Our deeper concern, aside from general unhappiness over Castro's drawing closer to the Communist orbit, is that the irresponsible Cuban leader plans to use his arms build-up to stir unrest in other Latin countries.

There is a bitterly painful irony in this. As a leader Castro has proved a ghastly failure.

Now this man can do nothing to govern his own land wants to export failure to his Latin neighbors. For sheer audacity his aspirations are hard to match.

He offers Latin America a "revolution" which promises in fact only economic turmoil, social chaos, and political bondage to the most tyrannical force — Communism — that exists on this globe.

America cannot solve the problem of Castro by invasion or by more stringent economic embargo than we now impose. Ultimately the Cubans themselves must rise to throw out their bearded foe.

But possibly that moment might be brought closer if the other Latin lands could drop their lingering illusions that Castro's revolution was real, and combine forthrightly to condemn him for what he is: the dangerous agent of a far-bigger tyrant than he.

Self-Responsibility

In spite of all governmental efforts to change things around, the fact remains that in man's earliest years he must prepare for his later years. The illusion of societal responsibility will never replace the fact of self-reliance and preparedness.

Independent Education

In a recent trip to the east coast, an associate had the privilege of meeting briefly with M. Norval Young, president of Pepperdine College.

Upon his return, he was particularly delighted to see on his desk what amounts to a Declaration of Independence taken by this independent private college.

The statement was made by President Young on February 12th of this year. We reproduce it here: "On January 11, 1960, the board of trustees of Pepperdine College reaffirmed its strong advocacy of the private competitive economic system which has made possible the rapid development in the United States of the world's highest standard of living. Believing in the fundamentals of personal initiative, decentralization of government, personal integrity and in opposition to the growing trends toward collectivism, the board of trustees on that date rejected the concept of government loans for financing dormitory construction, and at the same time instructed college officials to make no application for government aid, choosing rather to depend upon private financing to meet the needs of an expanding enrollment at Pepperdine College.

"The dormitory for which we break ground today has been financed through private means. Ninety-seven people have invested a total of $300,000 for this building which will provide facilities for 120 additional women students. So far as I know, this is the only dormitory to be thus financed in Southern California in recent years. We believe that it will set a pattern for other private institutions. The rate of 6 per cent per annum which we are paying private investors in this bond issue compares to the 4 1/2 figure charged on government funds. However, we believe that this additional interest will, in the long run, be more economical if it in some way encourages other institutions to reject the increasing trend of dependence upon federal government in solving education's problems.

"We, of course, are indebted to the 87 men and women who have invested in this program in amounts of $100 to $50,000. They came from every area of life and represented every area of friends of the college. Their confidence in the future of Pepperdine College is most inspiring.

"We sincerely advocate the conservative economic principles of private ownership of property, an open market, and the total freedom which was envisioned by our founding leaders and which is guaranteed in the Constitution of the United States. Every child in our land has a right to understand the advantages and the values of our unexcelled and unequalled system of living in freedom. This is the whole of the state ment.

We are enormously pleased and encouraged to see this. And we were impressed by both the vigor and the wisdom displayed by President Young in our brief meeting. We are often told that because of the enormous sums of money taken from the taxpayers by force and violence it is almost impossible to find sums in addition to these in order to provide the means of private and independent education. Unquestionably and without challenge the amount of predation committed in the name of education is enormous.

But where the importance of private and independent education is recognized, in spite of all, the money can be found. It must be found. Day by day the importance of private and independent education in this country is growing. This must inevitably be true as government enlarges and pre-empt more of the normal functions of other human activities.

All things rest upon knowledge. And knowledge must rest upon a kind of freedom that can only be found outside of government and where trust support and coercion does not exist.

We congratulate the president, trustees and other officials of Pepperdine College. So long as their spirit prevails, there is hope in the land.

A Faith For American Youth

The real strength of the United States lies not in hydrogen bombs, missiles or bombers, but in the kind of faith that exists in the hearts of the American people.

Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, retired Army hero, recently made this point in saying that the success of America's mission of world leadership hinges on your young people believing in our system.

America's youth as future leaders in the professions, in industry and government, he said, "will determine whether the nation of tomorrow will preserve the ancient virtues and will carry America forward."

Speaking at a cornerstone-laying ceremony at Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Virginia, General Wedemeyer said: "This won't be done unless our future leaders really believe in our system. They must be genuinely convinced that the American system — including the free market places . . . and the right to work — offers fairer rewards and greater opportunities to our people than socialism or communism."

General Wedemeyer performed a public service in stressing that the great challenge of our times concerns the conviction of the young people of America. The communist enemy well understands that, and has not neglected efforts to woo young people away from dedication to free enterprise economics, states' rights and other basic ingredients of the American dream.

Apostles of Big Brother government never lay down their weapons in their fight to convince young people that capitalism — and the local freedoms associated with it — are as outmoded as the Model T. They present freedom in terms of government's actions — freedom for government TO DO certain things; not freedom FROM super government. They also never miss an opportunity to say that capitalism can not work at home or abroad.

The tactics used by the foes of capitalism are very subtle. Knowing that Americans won't swallow communist or all-out socialist thinking, they employ devious methods.

They say that it is too much to expect Latin or Afro-Asian countries to go capitalist at this late date. They insist that the best the U.S. can hope for is a mildly friendly neutralism overseas. At home, they insist that, in the interests of fulfilling "modern needs" that the "private sector" of the economy give way to the "public sector." Instead of demanding nationalization of industries, they try to bog down industry in federal regulation or vilify it.

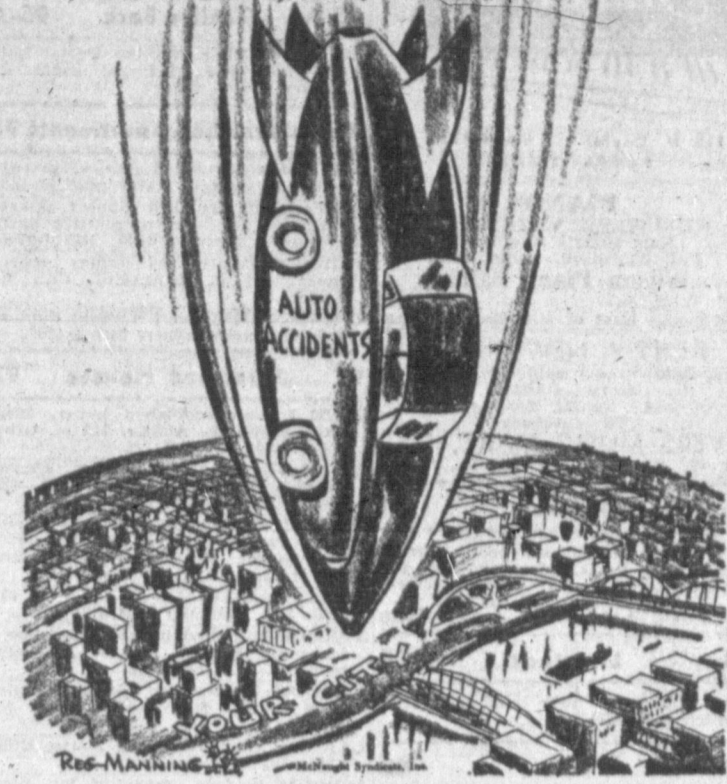

The powerful campaign mounted against the pharmaceutical drug companies last winter — the companies that have done so much to bring health to the American people — is an indication of how the foes of free enterprise work at discrediting capitalism.

Work with young people is one of the most important tasks facing American conservatives. These young people may not be old enough to vote or to write a letter to a Congressman seeking legislation. But they are the future of America. Their attitude toward free economic institutions will depend on whether American business enterprise is permitted to carry on its work in a climate of understanding or whether it is subjected to such onerous restriction that state socialism creeps over the land.

Young minds need a strong faith. It is up to the older generation of Americans, those who understand, to tell the new generation coming on the real story of how the United States developed from a wilderness to the richest nation on earth. It is the older generation, as a whole, that has been weakening in its faith — not the younger. The hope for maintaining our time-honored American system of free enterprise and its underlying principle of individual freedom lies with our youth. That this hope may be well placed is becoming more and more evident as we consider the interest of high school youth in the Junior Achievement movement and the drastic change toward conservatism among college students as graphically illustrated by the rapidly growing Young Americans for Freedom organization. Such movements must be encouraged.

STATE DEPARTMENT QUIETLY TRANSFERRING SECOND DIPLOMAT LINKED TO POLICIES ENCOURAGING CASTRO'S RISE

WASHINGTON — The ax has clipped another State Department official who has played an important role in the sharply criticized policies relating to Cuba and Central American countries.

He is William Wieland, director of the Office of Caribbean and Mexican Affairs.

The 53-year-old career diplomat, with more than 20 years' service has been quietly removed from this key policy position and is now studying German at the Foreign Service Institute in preparation for a new assignment — apparently in a German language country.

Replacing Wieland in this significant, unannounced action is his assistant, Edwin Vallon, who has been named Acting Director.

This is the second time in the past six months that a high State Department official has been eliminated under fire from the controversial Inter-American Affairs Division.

A GROUP OF Cuban doctors, headed by Health Minister Amado Ventura, a known leftist, has reached Moscow as "guests" of the Russian government. The doctors are to visit hospitals and research centers, and also take "refresher courses."

Premier Castro is going to Mexico this month in a curious role — according to his aides. He will fly there on November 20 to take part in the 50th anniversary of the Mexican revolution, and will make this trip as a "private citizen" in response to the invitation of the Mexican Social School.

Mexican authorities claim to know nothing about this reputed visit, and doubt it very much. They view these Havana claims as "more Castro propaganda for home consumption."

Two known Communist Castro newsmen have departed for Red China to present an oil painting of him to Mao Tse-tung. They are also bearing other gifts for the Peiping ruler, among them a large tiger skin. Where they got that is a mystery, because there are no tigers in Cuba. It probably was "intervened" from someone's home.

The first group of Cuban students, 10 of them, has left for Czechoslovakia to study there under a scholarship program the Russian satellite has given Cuba.

Former Ambassador Arthur Gardner and Earl E.T. Smith told the Senate Internal Security Committee, at private sessions, that Wieland was "one of the key architects of the State Department's policy which encouraged Castro's rise to power."

Gardner testified Wieland served "him in Havana for a short time and, 'I was very glad to see him go.'"

"I know his record," Gardner said to the Senate investigators, "because William Pauley, who was Ambassador to Brazil, had Wieland down there and got rid of him. He felt he was out of line on what our policy ought to be."

Senator Thomas Dodd (D., Conn.) asked in what way Wieland had been instrumental in Castro's gaining control.

"I think Wieland had strong influence on Rubottom," replied Gardner.

Former Ambassador Smith related that before he went to Havana, he had been directed by Wieland to get a briefing from a New York newspaperman who was vigorously pro-Castro and had written numerous favorable articles about him.

According to Smith, this pro-Castro newsmen carried much weight in inner State Department councils.

Smith spent several hours discussing Cuba with this reporter. On the basis of this meeting and other factors, Smith told the Senate probers, "I believe there was a deliberate and systematic indoctrination in 'socially approved attitudes' . . . zeal for promoting equality of economic condition, fondness of the centralized welfare state . . . federal aid to schools, and all that. Until very recent years, sweet sympathy for the aims of the Soviet peoples was on this list of approved attitudes. . . ."

Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

NOTE: This is an open letter to E. R. (Gene) Sidwell in response to his recent letter published in the Clearing House.

To the Daily News: Being human and somewhat sensitive, my first feeling on reading your false accusation that I, along with Mr. Ivy Duncan and Mrs. Charles Wade, had made erroneous statements in the newspaper and on the radio in regard to party policy during the just completed election, was that of persecution, a not uncommon reaction to unjustified criticism.

My next thought was that if I must be falsely accused, I was in very good company with Mr. Duncan and Mrs. Wade whose ethics and character are undoubtedly above reproach.

Now that some days have passed and having had time to reread your letter and give it some serious thought, I find I must respect two qualities which opinion is a good indication that you are interested in national and world affairs. Second, the fact that you are seeking the truth, the greatest or emotional maturity to recognize the truth, is commendable. As you grow older and more mature, you very well may be a great asset to your party in the area of pursuing the truth.

Being in complete agreement with you that the political philosophy of each party is entirely different, I would make this suggestion which you may accept and profit by or reject as you like, since you, like me are a free thing American. I would suggest that you join with some of the very able members of the Republican party in presenting to the public the true philosophy of your party. Be proud of your philosophy and defend it rather than hiding it behind a half-hearted platform.

In my opinion the Republican party passed up a great opportunity in the just finished presidential contest. There is no better place to forward the cause of one's own party than in a national election when the attention of all the American people is focused on the two parties. If the Republican party had presented its true philosophy to the people and a presidential nominee who was in accord with that philosophy, it would have, while possibly receiving a smaller popular vote, made a great stride toward converting people to its folds.

While personally in direct opposition to the philosophy to which the Pampa Daily News adheres, I am in complete agreement with you that the political philosophy of each party is entirely different, I would make this suggestion which you may accept and profit by or reject as you like, since you, like me are a free thing American. WHAT THE RAILROADS NEED (Industrial News Review)

Secretary of Labor Mitchell recently spoke at a Railroad Brotherhoods Institute luncheon where he deplored "the existence of a public transportation policy which is so out of harmony with the realities of 1960 as to be more reflective of the vanished realities of 1920." He further said about the hard-pressed railroad industry: "That it needs relief from unfair, subsidized competition, whatever the form."

"That it needs relief from discriminatory taxation."

"That it needs authorization to operate a variety of transportation media, without hampering restrictions."

"That it needs revision of rate regulations based upon the outmoded concept that railroads are a monopoly."

Mr. Mitchell then advocated a study of railroad work rules, wage structure and the whole gamut of problems involved in the competitive status of the industry, the modernization of its operations, and the job security of its workers. In discussing this highly important matter, he stated: "Management cannot manage or exist without the ability to maneuver flexibly to meet competitive challenges. The status quo is not an answer to the challenge of change; standing pat is often an optical illusion for going backward."

It is certainly significant that the cabinet officer who bears the principal responsibility for advancing the legitimate interest of labor should have taken this position. A solution to the railroad problem has two main facets. One lies in government action to correct obsolete and destructive regulatory and tax laws and policies. The other lies in management-brotherhood cooperation to revise work rules which, in many instances, are equally obsolete and destructive, and which gravely weaken the industry's ability to compete for business — and, thus, to assure job security. In diplomacy on the part of both the union and management are needed — and needed now.

believing it to be idealistic and impractical. I cannot help but admire the policy followed by the publisher in presenting this philosophy honestly. The unvarnished truth, while sometimes difficult to swallow, is to be preferred to artificially flavored hypocrisy. By using the straightforward policy followed by the Pampa Daily News as a guide, you as an individual seeking the truth and wishing to present and preserve the truth can join with equally conscientious members of your party in preserving the principals of the Republican party.

Being a firm believer in the two-party system, I hope to see this system preserved. Young men like yourself seeking the truth can be the greatest asset in preserving this system. If you believe in the Republican party and its philosophy, do everything you can to insure its preservation. We Democrats will do likewise within our own party. Thus we can all, Democrats and Republicans alike, look forward to a free America with two distinct party philosophies.

Sincerely,
MRS. JACK C. (RAMONA) SMITH

Card of Thanks
Beyond life's dim horizon,
is a happy, peaceful land—
where travelers are welcomed
By a loving, outstretched hand,
—and every weary traveler
Finds a wonderful new life,
That's free from every heartache,
And every care and strife.
For here he meets his Master—
And his heart filled with peace—
Beyond life's dim horizon,
Where his joy will never cease.

MRS. KATE HEISKELL
Our heartfelt thanks to everyone for their thoughtfulness and kindness during the long illness and the loss of our loved one, To Rev. James A. Todd, Rev. Richard Crews, Rev. Louis Hill, Rev. M. H. Smith, Drs. Lang, Overton, Moore, and Donaldson.

GLORIA ROUSH
It is with deepest gratitude and heartfelt thanks that we extend our appreciation to each one, that in any way ministered to our dear wife, daughter and sister in her extended illness, and for the love and sympathy shown us in our bereavement and great loss of Gloria Roush.

To friends and neighbors, for food prepared and served in our homes. For the many beautiful flowers that portrayed your love and understanding.

Especially may God bless in his special way, Dr. Decker, Mrs. Mabel Schmitz, Betty Dipore, Mrs. Jean Johnson, and all the nurses that helped in every way to make her more comfortable. To Dr. Carver for the beautiful last rites and loving words of comfort to Joe Whitton who sang his message of comfort to our broken hearts and his acceptance. Also to those who acted as pallbearers and to Dunkel-Carmichael for their last impressive and kind services. We are grateful.

And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, write. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth, yes, said the spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them. Revelation 14:13

Remember friends when passing by
As you are now, so once was I
As I am now, so soon you will be
Prepare in life to follow me.

Genealogical, Historical Society Meets Thursday

By TRACY D. CARY
President, Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society

The Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society met Thursday night in Lovett Library auditorium for its November forum with Don H. Culton, Amarillo, land attorney, presenting a program, "Land Records-The Genealogist's Historical Gold Mine".

Noting that genealogical research often requires a knowledge of deeds, patents, and surveyor's records, the speaker drew on his long legal career in land litigation for his tribute to the early surveyors of the Texas Panhandle, who are responsible for the "shape Texas is in — geographically speaking."

In 1803 the boundaries of Texas included parts of Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Before 1803, Gray County was owned by France after being ceded to her by Spain. In 1819, in 1819 the U. S. ceded all its claims on Texas to Spain, but it became Mexican Territory when Mexico threw off Spanish rule. In 1836 Texas became a republic, but as part of her territory was above the Missouri Compromise, the anti-slavery element in the North wanted no more southern territory and refused annexation. When Texas became friendly with England and France the U.S. changed its mind. Texas agreed to the creation of five new states from her territory. This she sold to the U.S. for $5,000,000.

Culton pointed out that the first surveying of the Panhandle was in the northeast portion of the present state boundary; but no survey would cross the Canadian River because all South of it was hostile Indians. First of the pioneer surveyors were the Maddox Brothers from Austin and Gunter and Munson of Sherman who came in 1870 and were joined by John Summerfield in 1876. These men had to keep one eye open for Indians and the other on their "Jacob's Sticks", a heavy pointed stick covered with iron and having a compass on top. With their chains and plumb bobs, they averaged 20 to 25 miles a day surveying for 24 a section. Their average age was 20 and the hazards were often hardly worth the price of the land which could be bought at $70 for 640 acres. Two days before the Battle of Adobe Walls Gunter and Munson arrived with 13 others at the site and buried two buffalo hunters who had been killed by the Indians.

Their primitive instruments often made surveys inaccurate and magnetic conditions prevented "true" readings. The speaker has the original field note book in which Capt. George Spiller wrote his survey of the Canadian River in 1858. The pattern of many early surveyors is hard to follow now, and the researcher's situation is often described. "To follow you I am content, if you'll only tell me where you went". A question and answer period followed the address.

Preceding the meeting a Buffet supper was served to members, with Mrs. Royall Cantrell, Mrs. George Ingram, and Mrs. Clayton Persons acting as co-hostesses. Place mats were 1836 maps of Texas, and tables were centered with arrangements of cactus, berries, and autumn leaves.

A short business session was conducted by the president, Tracy D. Cary, in which Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Merriman and Ivey E. Duncan were received as new members, and the following were elected to fill offices on the board of directors, Luther Fruit, 1st vice-president; Mrs. George Ingram, 2nd vice-president; and David Grayson, parliamentarian.

In addition to members attending were the following guests: Mrs. W. R. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Silcott, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMillen, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill, and Mr. W. A. Spoonmore all of Pampa; Miss Laura Love and Mrs. Luther Fruit of Borger; Attorney Ray W. Richards of Amarillo; and Mr. R. E. McDowell of Joplin, Mo.

Children's Book Week Nov. 13-19

November 13-19 will mark the 42nd celebration of National Children's Book Week, sponsored by Children's Book Council, Inc., to promote love of books among children of all ages. Libraries, schools, and bookstores everywhere will join the observance.

"Book week takes as its slogan the phrase, "Hurry for Books!" The idea for Children's Book Week — to stimulate the enjoyment and use of books — originated with the late Franklin K. Mathews, chief librarian of the Boy Scouts of America, who soon found an enthusiastic supporter in Frederic G. Melcher, the publisher. Together they enlisted the help of outstanding librarians and booksellers and in 1919 the first Children's Book Week was held. This observance has mushroomed since. This, the 42nd, is expected to climax all predecessors.

Locally, the Lovett Memorial Library will mark the occasion with special displays of recent books for children and of other outstanding and best-loved books. Many teachers with their classes will visit the library during the week as a particular opportunity to emphasize the importance and joy of reading.

Youth Banquet Held In Perryton

PERRYTON (Spl) — Approximately 50 young people attended a banquet Wednesday night at the new high school cafeteria. The banquet was sponsored by members of the Church of Christ.

The decorations were in keeping with the Thanksgiving holiday, with flowers in pumpkin vases and center pieces of turkeys, corn and fall leaves.

Seated at the guest table were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Dale King, and Clford Newcombe.

The invocation was given by Norman Ballenger, and John Ivy introduced the speaker, Dale King of Anson, Texas.

King spoke on "The True Riches," these being "A Good Name, A Good Conscience, and God's Favor."

Entertainment was furnished by Barbara Newman, Linda Campbell, Carolyn Lollis and Phyllis Weatherford. They were accompanied by Karan Montgomery on the piano.

Closing remarks were made by Rodney Ivy after which, Gary Newcombe gave the invocation.
