U.S.-German Accord On Gold Outflow Seen

By ED HAYES WILSON
Daily News Staff Writer

The United States diplomatic move "Save the Dollar" took the German government by surprise, and for that reason, more than any other, the Bonn diplomat refused to aid in the campaign.

That was the opinion yesterday of Dr. Paul Robert Moak, who is visiting Pampa through today. He came here through the Foreign Exchange Program of the Office of Cultural Exchange Department of the Department of State, Washington, D. C., and will return to his home at Munich, Germany.

The young editor and political commentator explained it was his belief that something of this sort should have been handled in secrecy and that the meetings should have been planned well in advance, with diplomats of both nations being fully briefed on the subject.

"The talks at Bonn were friendly. There was no harshness in them in anyway. However, the West German government was caught off balance, you might say, and, although it appears at this time the refusal was final, such is not the case," said Dr. Moak.

The visitor pointed out that among other things to remember was the fact, and a prominent one, that the United States election was but one week away when the story broke that this country was extremely concerned about the outflow of gold. The information was released over the vigorous protest of the Department of State. However, once the "cat was out of the bag" the administration had no choice but to pursue the course it took.

The Bonn government had no choice but to deny the request at that time," said Dr. Moak. "It did not know what the outcome of the election here would be and it was forced to await the result. As you see, John F. Kennedy defeated Richard M. Nixon, and this will mean an all over change in policy here. I believe the German diplomats will, later on, reach an accord with your government on this major financial matter."

He discussed the latter part of the above statement further when he said it would probably come when an agreement is reached on a cash level.

"I doubt that the sum asked by your government will be approximately $600 million, but I feel certain an agreeable settlement will be made," he explained.

One thing that he stressed was the fact that the Bonn government did not want to contribute directly to the support financially of United States troops stationed in Germany.

He said it was the opinion of West Germans that the funds contributed should be specifically used for support of all NATO troops.

"Something will be done, though. You may be sure of that. The West German people are friends of the United States and they will remain so, regardless of the outcome," the editor said.

As for United States troops in Germany, he put it this way: "When young men are away from home they sometimes let themselves go more so than they do when they are in their own community. It is the same with the GI's in Germany. However, only a few get in trouble, and the German people have changed their attitude towards United States soldiers. The vast majority of your

U. S. Will Press West Germany On Money Drain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy has been advised that the Eisenhower administration intends to keep the pressure on West Germany to help stem the drain on U.S. gold and dollar reserves.

Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, in two meetings with a top Kennedy aide, has relayed to the President-elect the present administration's feeling that the prosperous German nation could help carry the foreign aid burden.

Anderson also was reported to have urged the Ford Motor Co. to halt its plan to buy $359 million worth of outstanding stock of its British subsidiary. A source close to Anderson said he had told Ford officials their plan would seriously damage the dollar-saving program.

In Detroit, however, Ford spokesman said they were aware of "no such approach" by Anderson. One Ford official flatly denied that the Treasury secretary had made such a request.

Anderson has met twice with Paul Nitze, a Kennedy aide, to give the incoming administration a fill-in on the latest developments in the financial situation.

GOP Pushes Demand For A Recount

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Republican leaders aimed a fresh verbal broadside at Secretary of State Zollic Steakley and renewed their demands for an immediate hearing by the state board of canvassers on the contest of the general election vote in Texas.

The GOP, through its attorney Hardy Hollers of Austin, demanded that Democrats be given a deadline of tomorrow to answer the Republican request for a contest hearing, and that the actual hearing be no later than next Monday.

Steakley, a member of the board, agreed only to give the GOP a preliminary hearing after the Democrats file an answer to the Republican demands no later than Dec. 7.

The reason for the Republican rush to get the show on the road is that the Democratic electors have been certified and they will cast the state's 24 votes in the electoral college on Dec. 19. After that, the question is moot.

The GOP accused Steakley Wednesday of being "arbitrary and unreasonable" and said his

Blockade Fails At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Two white "blockade-runners" outmaneuvered angry housewives today and got four white children into an integrated school.

A white minister and a metropolitan reader's wife, the staunch hold-outs against the "cheerleaders" trying to blockade white students out of William Frantz school, boosted the attendance back up to five today—four white students and one Negro girl.

The housewives, undaunted by bitter cold and a court ruling affirming integration, were outfoxed twice.

Mrs. Daisy Gabrielle brought her daughter, Yolanda, to school in a car driven by women members of a group called "Save Our Schools," dedicated to keeping the schools open. They picked a door opposite to the side of the building, where the sometimes-violent women congregated, and went in and out nearly unnoticed.

The Rev. Andrew Foreman, arriving later, got his daughter Pamela Lynn into the school along with two unidentified boys, by the same method. The boys were believed the children of a white Baptist divinity student.

A few of the women made it to the other side of the building in time to jeer Foreman.

"Go pick up some more, you nigger lover," they yelled. "Now you better start asking niggers to come to your church."

At McDonogh 19, the other integrated elementary school, the white boycott was still complete. Three little Negro girls showed up to attend school by themselves for the ninth day.

At Baton Rouge, the Legislature considered abandoning public education and furnishing state money to parents who wish to send their children to private segregated schools.

A unanimous three judge ruling Wednesday struck down one of the Southland's last hopes of reversing federally-enforced racial integration — the ancient doctrine of interposition — along with a bundle of hastily-enacted Louisiana laws designed to halt the race mixing.

The judges dismissed interposition, which alleged states could decide whether Supreme Court

Fidel Gives Orders To Shoot, Kill

HAVANA (UPI) — Hundreds of militiamen with orders to "shoot to kill" suspicious persons prowled the streets here Wednesday night and early today, determined to prevent any repetition of the terror bombing which blacked out a fifth of Havana for 17 hours.

There was no immediate report of new activity by the foes of Premier Fidel Castro who killed his physician, militia Maj. Manuel Fajardo, in the Escambray Mountains Tuesday and bombed out the Havana electrical system Wednesday.

The anti-Castro "30th of November" underground organization exploded 20 bombs in various parts of Havana during the pre-dawn hours Wednesday, including one that wrecked an electric transformer, interrupting power service at 7 a.m.

Light and power were not restored to the blacked-out districts of the city until 12:15 a.m. today. In the interval, bars and business activities — including UPI's Havana bureau — operated by candle or lantern light.

Elevators were out of commission, and the failure of electric pumps threatened water supplies in some places.

Most of Wednesday explosions were caused by time bombs, planned by anti-Castro agents who toured central Havana Tuesday afternoon in a truck bearing the markings of the nationalized electric company.

Man Gets 2 Years For Stealing His Chimp From Zoo

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — A 28-year-old Floridian who broke into the St. Louis Zoo because his pet was "treated like an animal" was found guilty Wednesday night of second degree burglary and chimpanzee stealing.

A circuit court jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated one hour and 35 minutes before returning the verdict and setting punishment at two years' imprisonment on each count against animal trainer Robert Tomarchin.

Circuit Judge J. Casey Walsh freed Tomarchin on bond pending an appeal.

Kennedy Gives Williams State Department Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today announced his selection of G. Mennen Williams of Michigan as assistant secretary of state for Africa in the new administration.

This was the first major appointment announced by the incoming chief executive.

Kennedy made the announcement with Williams at his side, both of the men standing on the chilly, windswept front entrance of the president-elect's home.

Kennedy called the post for Williams "a position of responsibility second to none in the new administration."

"The fate of Africa which is now the object of a giant Communist offensive will affect vitally the security of every citizen of the United States," Kennedy said.

Kennedy also scheduled conferences with Connecticut Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff, who has been mentioned for several Cabinet posts; Robert Lovett, former Truman administration official; Rep. Stewart Udall, D-Ariz., a possible interior secretary.

In addition, Kennedy's staff said the choice of a budget director would come today.

After what was expected to be Kennedy's busiest day in his Washington stay, the president-elect will fly Friday to Palm Beach, Fla., where more appointments may be announced Saturday.

The meeting with Williams was at Kennedy's Georgetown home.

Then followed scheduled meetings at the Senate Office Building with Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Humphrey was actively interested in a number of top appointments in the new administration among them the agriculture post in the cabinet. Perhaps concei-

Venezuela Students Defy Law

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Communist-led students transfused the Caracas University campus into a virtual fortress today, defying troops to dislodge them on the sixth day of subversive rioting in which at least 14 persons had died.

The outbreak of violence, which had been confined to the Caracas area, spread Wednesday to at least six provinces around the country. Although details were lacking, it appeared that troops in the provinces were battling mobs in much the same way as in the capital.

Pro-government union leaders said in a nationwide radio broadcast Wednesday night that leftist foes of President Romulo Betancourt would try today to foment a nationwide general strike. They appealed to loyal workers to ignore "clandestine" strike calls.

Col. Anibal Sanchez Gomez, the national police chief, announced Wednesday night that about 200 persons had been arrested since the riots started Nov. 25.

Police raided Communist offices in central Caracas and the suburbs Wednesday, confiscating sizeable quantities of Red propaganda. Party files were missing, however, and few Communist leaders could be located.

Authorities suspected the party had "gone underground."

Government raiders also seized powerful radio transmitters in the

Houstonian Kills Estranged Wife

HOUSTON (UPI) — A 35-year-old draftsman today was charged with the ambush murder of his 31-year-old estranged wife in what police termed one of the most brutal killings in Houston history.

Detectives said the husband poured bullet after bullet from a high-powered rifle into the body of Mrs. Bonnie Geiken, continuing to fire long after she was dead. She was literally torn to pieces by the force of the slugs fired at close range.

"He shot her seven times, and any one of the seven would have killed her on the spot," detective J. E. Gunn said.

Five-Ton Space Ship Is Heaviest Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union announced it launched a five-ton space ship today carrying animals, insects and plants into an egg-shaped orbit around the earth.

It was the heaviest object yet hurled into space and the third huge cosmic vehicle sent up by Russia this year. The last previous one also carried animals and insect life.

The French observatory at Meudon and United Press International and other monitors in the London area heard a series of dashes of variable duration on the broadcast frequency the Russians said the satellite was using.

The United States' biggest satellite was the 2.5-ton Midas II launched May 24, 1959. It contained no animals.

Tass news agency said two of the animals aboard the ship were dogs named Pchelka (Little Bee) and Mushka (Little Fly).

"The experimental animals are being watched by means of radio-television and telemetering systems," Tass said.

It comprised the latest Russian step in the race with the United States to be first to get a man into space. The United States has launched a greater number of satellites than the Russians, but none as heavy.

There was no immediate word on whether the Soviets would try to get its space vehicle back to earth with the animals alive.

A space ship sent into orbit Aug. 19 was returned to earth safely the following day with live animals aboard.

Tass said preliminary data showed the space ship was humming around the earth in a giant oval path once every 88.6 minutes.

"The scientific measuring instrumentation installed in the Sputnik ship provides for several scientific investigations of outer space physics," Tass said.

It said the instruments were fed from chemical and solar sources of electricity and all appeared to be functioning normally.

Top Postal Job Said For Negro

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — The Albany Times-Union said in a copyright story in today's edition that it has learned from authoritative sources that President-elect John F. Kennedy may name Negro Rep. William Dawson of Illinois as postmaster general.

If Dawson is appointed, it would mark the first time that a Negro received a Cabinet post in the United States.

Dawson said "no comment" when asked in Chicago whether he would accept such a post, the Illinois Democrat said. "I'll answer that the same way. I've never accepted a post that has not been offered."

The Times-Union said it had been "informed by Capitol sources which in the past have been highly accurate that Dawson is being strongly advanced" for the post.

The strongest other possibility for the post, the Times-Union story said, was John Bailey, Connecticut Democratic chairman and an original Kennedy booster, and an original Kennedy booster Dawson, 74, would be one of the oldest men ever appointed to a cabinet post, the paper said. A native of Albany, Ga., he has represented Chicago's First District since 1943.

The Times-Union said earlier this week its sources reported that Sen. William Fulbright, D-Ark., probably would be Kennedy's secretary of state. Today's editions said, however, that "unexpected" elements have entered the discussions.

The Times-Union, a Hearst newspaper, said that the Little Rock school integration flareup in Fulbright's home state might raise questions about his suitability because of important future dealings with the Congo crisis and with other emerging African nations.

A Fulbright appointment also might permit Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus to appoint himself or some other strong segregationist to replace Fulbright in the Senate.

Clock Stirs Hassle In Texas Town

JASPER, Tex. (UPI) — They were having the courthouse repaired, and figured the clock posed a threat.

The commissioners felt it would cost too much to fix up and strengthen the clock tower. And as it was, the clock might topple down at any time.

Hancock figures it will cost about $15,000 to put the clock back. The county has no funds, and it would mean either issuing warrants or calling for a bond issue.

Ever since the county courthouse was built, longer ago than many residents can remember, the clock and its bell have kept time for Jasper and important part of everyday life.

Then one Monday morning over two years ago, the clock was silent. In fact, it was gone. Over the weekend, the county commissioners had the clock taken out.

Ours Bursts

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Scientists pressed by U. S. government officials today stepped up an investigation to find out if there was a connection between America's latest space shot failure and a claim that part of a rocket fell on Cuba.

A Thor-Abie-Star rocket fired from the Cape with two prospective earth satellites was destroyed high over the Atlantic Wednesday. Informed sources said "it is possible that at least some of the wreckage might have crashed on Cuba."

Early today, a spokesman for the Cuban government newspaper Revolution said a piece of a rocket had crashed near Holguin in Cuba's easternmost province of Oriente.

The spokesman declined to reveal further details and said the newspaper — official publication of Premier Fidel Castro's government — would publish a full story later this morning.

The Defense Department and the Air Force, which had charge of the space shot, clamped an official silence on information about the failure within hours after the mystery-shrouded crash.

State Department officials were reported "highly interested and quite concerned" about whether the shot might have hit Cuba, particularly in light of strained relations between the Latin American nation and the United States.

The planned flight of the 79-foot rocket would have carried it over the east coast of Cuba en route to an orbit in which the satellites — a Transit III-A navigational aid and a solar radiation experiment — would have swept over all of earth between the arctic and antarctic circles.

Santa Fe Sets 25c Dividend

The board of directors of the Santa Fe Railway today declared a dividend of twenty-five cents per share on its preferred capital stock payable Feb. 1, 1961 to stockholders of record at the close of business Dec. 30.

In addition, the Board declared an extra dividend for the year 1960 of twenty-five cents per share on the common capital stock of the company payable Jan. 12, 1961 to stockholders of record at the close of business Dec. 8.

The directors also declared a quarterly dividend of thirty cents per share on the common capital stock of the company payable March 1, 1961 to stockholders of record at the close of business on Jan. 27, 1961.

With this action today, the total dividend appropriations for the year 1960 amount to $1.45 per share on the common and together with the preferred appropriation aggregate $41,415,822.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investors Research Co. says there are indications of a substantial flow of capital into aircraft shares capable of springboarding a major advance in this group.

In the weeks ahead these issues will continue to outperform the market, the advisory firm says; but a really sustained rise is likely to coincide closely with a decisive turning point in the entire market.

General Motors continues to offer good value at prices which are well below the previous high, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. The present $2 annual dividend seems conservative in relation to estimated earnings. It says. Also recommends Harris Intertype, Garrett, International Harvester and Johns-Manville.

Stock Trend Service says that immediate and severe profit-taking should occur after the turn of the year following sideways December price action.

United Business Service says the year end rally should carry a little further, though any very extensive rise in stocks will probably have to wait for evidence that the recession in business has more nearly run its course.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne Noel & Co. says the recent recovery movement appears to be meeting somewhat stronger resistance and he wouldn't be surprised if the market gave up more ground in an attempt to consolidate its position.

TROUBLE FOR A STRONGMAN — Gen. Rafael Trujillo, Dominican Republic strongman, has a minor rebellion on his hands in the person of a squirming grandson. They're together in Ciudad Trujillo.

Financial Review

By HENRY J. BECHTOL
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Where there's a will there's a way.

This old saying may well describe National Patent Development Corp., which is proving that there still are new and different ways to make money in America.

This recently-formed company's underlying purpose is to bring new ideas and products to the market through the utilization of dormant patents.

These unused patents, according to company chairman Jess Larson, a former mayor of Chickasha, Okla., could pave the way for millions of dollars of new products and other technological advances.

Literally thousands of new developments are kept from commercialization because they are covered by patents not being utilized, the former War Assets Administrator declared.

The U. S. Patent Office annually issues more than 50,000 new patents and it currently has an estimated backlog of some 200,000 patent applications. However, only a fraction of all patented developments is ever commercialized, and of these, only a smaller fraction turn out to be profitable.

The problem today, Larson said, is that countless new products and applications are daily being uncovered as an offshoot of industrial research. These new developments customarily are patented, but they are not commercially exploited for the benefit of the public because they are not related to the principal business of the company that sponsored the research work. Or maybe the company does not foresee a market for them.

Meanwhile, other companies often are seeking the same or essentially the same idea which another company has patented but which it is not utilizing.

If these companies could be brought together—the one supplying use of the patent, the other one would benefit, Larson stated.

The problem here, he added, is to bring buyer and seller together to their mutual advantage. It is here that National Patent Development Corp. thinks it can be of invaluable assistance as an intermediary.

Not only can it bring interested companies together, Larson said, but it also can investigate technological developments, supply legal and technical advice, and, where necessary, obtain financial assistance to bring these developments to the commercial stage.

Larson says countless discoveries can be translated into practical accomplishments and higher living standards if better use is made of our technical resources by utilizing existing discoveries and inventions.

Plans To Bounce Phone Calls Off Satellites To Be Told To Jaycees

Plans to expand worldwide communications by bouncing telephone calls off satellites orbiting in outer space will be described Tuesday to members of the Pampa Jaycees

Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists who made coast-to-coast long distance calls by bouncing voice signals off a balloon satellite in orbit 1,000 miles above the earth.

Wheeler Jury Indicts 7 As New Term Opens

WHEELER (Sp) — Seven grand jury indictments were returned as the 31st Judicial Court of Wheeler county convened for its November term this week.

The indictments include: Morice Roberts, Bobby Thomason and Charles D. Norman, acting together for burglary; Elton H. Hale, E. J. Minor and Leroy Coston for rape and also for robbery by firearm and theft; William Locklin, theft; John Roy Selby, for rape and incest, and Charles Hagerman for theft.

Members named to serve on the grand jury for six months are Marvin Helley, H. H. Hall, H. J. Finsterwald, Joe Weatherly, L. T. Lee, Sam McMurty, Robert Adams, Sol Blonstein, A. C. Brown, Clayton Sanders, E. A. Zybach and Earl Williams.

● Accord

One thing that bothers the editor with the GI's is this: He feels our soldiers should be instructed in languages far more than our military heads determine. Dr. Noack said that foreign languages should be S.O.P. for all the military, not just the select few who are sent to language schools of the armed forces here.

"It would help them greatly when they ship overseas," he pointed out.

Getting around to Texas and Pampa, he said that he felt that Texas was to the United States what Barvaria is to Germany.

A quick quip was "Yeah, Beer!" and it brought a laugh from Dr. Noack.

Returning to the serious side of the interview, Dr. Noack explained that he had been in the United States for five weeks and would be in this country for two more weeks. He has been in numerous parts of the nation since his arrival, and will have toured many more areas before he returns home to his wife and two children.

Dr. Noack, while here, breakfasted with city manager John Koonz and other local civic leaders Tuesday morning, and during the afternoon visited farms, ranches, plants and other locations. He appeared highly pleased with what he had seen and could foresee nothing but prosperity for the Panhandle and Pampa.

The final query put to him concerned the difference between newspapers here and in Germany. His reply was:

"You stress local and national news on page one. Our policy is, in the majority, to play international news on the first page and, if a special release comes from Bonn we use that. About the only time we'd use a local story on page one is if the burgemeister shot his wife, (he thought a minute) or vice versa."

● Pushes

Democrats countered that the contest is "political gnat-biting" at its worst and that the GOP doesn't have a leg to stand on. Jimmy P. Horany, Democratic elector from the 13th Congressional district, said that the "Republican charge of fraud in the Nov. 8 general election is one of the biggest shams in Texas' political history."

Mrs. McAndrews Rosary Planned

A rosary will be said for Mrs. Ellen McAndrews at 8 o'clock tonight in Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home with the Rev. Fr. Ronald Ramson as officiant.

Mrs. McAndrews died at 8:20 o'clock last night in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Nash, 932 S. Hobart.

The body will be sent to Claremore, Okla., where funeral services will be held Saturday. Interment will be beside her husband Michael McAndrews, who died Dec. 26, 1926.

Mrs. McAndrews was born Aug. 7, 1879 at Salina, Okla. She was a member of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church and had lived in Oologah, Okla., Borger, and Lefors before making her home in Pampa in 1945.

In addition to Mrs. Nash, she is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Nora E. Williams of Tulsa Okla.; two sons, Charles McAndrews of Borger, John F. of Pampa, and 14 grandchildren.

Bids To Construct Track Are Sought

Authorization to advertise for bids for construction of a cinder track around the Pampa High School football field was given at a special meeting of the Pampa Independent District school board yesterday afternoon. The board approved the move to have Wayland Merriman, consulting engineer, ask for bids on the project.

The board also took its annual action in naming a multiple textbook committee, headed by Supt. Knox Kinard, to select text books submitted by Texas State Board of Education.

Final Rites Set For Mrs. Hardin

McLEAN (Sp) — Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie Pearl Hardin, 69, who died yesterday morning of a heart attack in her home three and one-half miles east of McLean, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Methodist Church, with the Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery.

The late Mrs. Hardin was born Nov. 12, 1891 in Oklahoma, and was married to T. H. Hardin, Nov. 19, 1922 at McLean.

She is survived by the husband; one daughter, Mrs. Jack Lisman of McLean; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Claude Williams of Dallas; and two grandchildren.

(Continued From Page 1) homes of two Venezuelans and uncovered a number of arms caches. Three hundred "Molotov cocktail" incendiary bombs were found in Andres Bello High school, an early focus of trouble in the riots.

The university has been a hotbed of anti-government activity since the outset of the disorders. There have been recurrent clashes between students and government forces but so far there was no concerted official effort to take over the campus.

Three persons died during a clash between troops and students in the university Wednesday. A soldier and one student were shot, and a 55-year-old Dominican passerby suffered a heart attack apparently brought on by the shooting.

(Continued From Page 1) Sputnik-ship, without the last stage of the carrier rocket, amounts to 4,563 kilograms (about 5 tons)," Tass said. "It moves along an elliptical orbit."

Tass said the vehicle's path ranged from 187.7 to 265 kilometers (115 to 164 miles) from earth.

"The orbit's inclination to the equatorial plane is 65 degrees," Tass said.

It said the space ship's transmitter was operating on 19995 megacycles.

Tass said the space ship would pass over Rome at 5:31, Leningrad 5:36, Paris 7:01, Peiping 7:20, London 8:32, Hanoi 9:55 and Moscow 10:10, all times A.M. EST.

The Soviets launched their first so-called "space ship" last May. It weighed 4.6 tons and had a dummy man aboard.

Youth Fires Into Crowded Schoolyard

DALLAS (UPI) — Pow! Pow! Pow! Pow! Pow! Five times a teen-age thug fired into a crowded schoolyard and the students dived for cover. It was an attempted assassination. But the victim escaped. He flattened himself on the ground with the other students.

The only casualty was a textbook. One of the slugs from the snub-nosed .38-caliber revolver buried itself in the book entitled "Enjoying English" carried by Armando Sareta, 16.

The shooting took place Wednesday afternoon when the 750 students at Crozier Tech High School marched into the yard for a routine fire drill. The gunman, identified by police as Tony Cipriano, 18, had been driving around and around the school in a car with Johnny Villareal, 17, at the wheel.

Walter Schiebel, principal at the school, said it was a "miracle" that none of the students was injured.

Police picked up Cipriano and Villareal a short while later. They said the car they were driving had been stolen.

Cipriano turned over his gun and admitted the shooting. He puffed on a cigarette and smirked.

"I guess I need some more practice," Cipriano said.

"Now there," remarked one policeman, "is a portrait of a punk."

"I shot at him because he shot at me," Cipriano explained. "I wanted to get him before he got me."

The victim wasn't identified by police. But Villareal also said the target of the assassination had shot at him too.

Russ Pair Chased From Missile Site

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two Communist officials assigned to the Hungarian legation in Washington were stopped by state police after the officials lingered near a suburban Army Nike-Ajax missile base for more than an hour, the Chicago Tribune today reported.

The Tribune said the officials, identified as Lt. Col. Laszlo Beres, assistant military and air attaché of the legation, and Karoly Hackler, legation counselor, were issued a warning ticket and allowed to proceed after Beres invoked diplomatic immunity.

The incident occurred near a missile base in suburban Orland Park, Ill., one of 24 missile batteries ring Chicago and Gary, Ind., steel mills.

The newspaper said state troopers' suspicions were aroused when the men's blue, late model sedan circled the base in an erratic manner, sometimes parking on the shoulder of the road. The apparent observation lasted more than an hour.

Japan Turning Out Own Wild West Movies

TOKYO (UPI) — Yippee hi-yo! Yippee hi-yo! 'Getalong litte dogie. They went thataway, stranger. Try saying that in Japanese. But it's being done. The western film has come into its own in Japan.

Hopalong Watanabe, terror of the badmen, roams the plains.

Tex Suzuki, gimlet-eyed, walks slowly up the dusty street toward Blackie Konoshima, draws in a high noon finale.

Saburo (The Kid) Yamaguchi rides off into the sunset astride his faithful horse Kintaro, loving but leaving behind Miss Sachiko Kawasawa, the innocent maid he saved from a fate worse than death.

Two-Gun Abe squats behind a covered wagon, teeth bared, as he fights off waves of attacking Indians.

The plots are the same, the scenery similar. Only the faces are different.

As incongruous as it sounds, the American-style, Japanese-made western film is enjoying a boom in Japan with even first-run theaters showing them.

Rotarians Hear Three Speakers

Pampa Rotarians yesterday heard classification talks by three of the club's members.

John Gentry spoke on the scope of responsibilities of the plant safety engineer, George Crow explained how an oil well is perforated and A. J. Carubbi told of the duties of judicial branch of municipal government.

Club visitors and guests were Jack Allen, Bob Wall, Jack Nichols and Dr. Paul Noack of Munich, Germany.

City Man Enters Not Guilty Plea

A not guilty plea was entered in Gray county court by James B. Williams of Pampa when he was arraigned on a charge of swindling with a worthless check.

Williams was arrested for allegedly writing a check for $10, drawn on the First National Bank of Pampa in favor of Jake Sell. He was released under $500 bond.

Motorist Fined

Edward B. Goodrich, 43, of Pampa, pleaded guilty in Judge Bill Craig's county court yesterday afternoon to a charge of driving while intoxicated. Goodrich was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail. He was arrested by city police shortly before midnight Tuesday in the 600 block of W. Browning. Police said no accident was involved.

New Mexico Man Held By Sheriff

Kenneth Dennington of Aztec, N.M., is being held in Gray county jail charged with removal of mortgaged property.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said Dennington was picked up on a warrant from the New Mexico town and jailed pending arrival of Sheriff's officers to return him to Aztec.

Letters To Santa Claus

EDITOR'S NOTE: We had a talk with Santa Claus this morning and he said he's lost his deciding chart and can't determine what Tommy Hoover wants for Christmas. He suggests that Tommy decide his message and forward it to the Daily News for publication.

Dear Santa Claus:
I want a bicycle with wheels on the back. 132 S. Hobart in Pampa, Texas. I've been good. Your friend, Jenny

Dear Santa,
I've been a good boy. I live at 1009 E. Browning in Pampa. For Christmas I want a Jet Rocket, ack-ack gun, record player. We'll leave you something for your raincoats and something to eat. Remember my friend. See ya Christmas Eve. signed Jimmy.

Dear Santa,
I have been a good boy. I mind my mother most of the time. I would like to have a stake, rack truck, a dirt mover, "Battling Betty", the giant-size tank. Please be good to all the boys and girls. Love, Tommy Foran, age 6.

Dear Santa,
I have been a good boy. I mind my mother most of the time. I would like to have a BB gun on page 22 plus a Whirlybird materized rescue helicopter. Please Santa be good to all the boys and girls and have a very nice Christmas. Love Richard Foran, 601 E. Harvester. P.S. Please send Buddy, our dog, some bones.

Dear Santa Claus,
Doug would like to have a racking horse and truck. Glenda wants a tricycle. Kathy and Jeanie want a bicycle and refrigerator, stove and cabinet to share. Tommy would like to have a metal buckle gun and a hot rod that pedals. If you can't get all of these to our house, what ever you have will be fine. Thank you. Love, Doug, Glenda, Jeanie, Kathy and Tommy Watson.

Theories Relieve Man From Jury

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—A man was excused from jury service in a criminal case in U.S. District Court when his theory didn't agree with the court's.

Judge Edward W. Day asked Roland J. Levesque, West Warwick, R. I., if he believed the defendants in the case had to prove their innocence.

"Yes," replied Levesque. Judge Day asked if Levesque meant that.

"I was in the service," Levesque said, "and you were guilty until proven innocent."

"Well, it's not so in the courts," Judge Day said when the laughter subsided, "and I don't believe it's so in the service. I'm going to excuse you."

National Supply Regroups Areas

The National Supply Company has consolidated its former Oklahoma City and Panhandle Districts, and much of its former Tulsa district, into a new area organization headquartered at Oklahoma City. Walter E. Barnes is area manager of stores.

Supply stores at Blackwell, Bristow, Cushing, Drumright, Duncan, Elk City, Healdton, Hominy, Lindsay, Oklahoma City, Okmulgee, Perry, Seminole, Shidler, and Tulsa, Oklahoma; and Berger and Pampa, Texas, are involved.

The changes are part of a comprehensive realignment of its oil field sales organization within the United States being put into effect by the company.

'Thyroid Gland' Detector Notes Two Atom Blasts

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A sensitive detector of atomic bomb explosions anywhere in the world recorded two "positives" in the early part of this year which the scientist in charge is unable to explain.

This detector is the thyroid glands of the slaughter animals of the world — sheep, cattle and swine. The scientist in charge is Dr. L. Van Middlesworth of the university of Tennessee, Memphis.

Thyroid glands whether of man or beast will absorb any iodine which becomes available to them. Iodine-131, a radioactive isotope of this element, is made available to all thyroid glands by atomic bomb explosions since it is one of the fall-out products.

Middlesworth established the scientific accuracy of this detector some years ago. He received the preserved thyroids of slaughter animals from many parts of the world periodically and measures them for iodine-131 content. In the first four months of this year there were four marked increases of this radioactive isotope in animal thyroids. Two are readily explained. The French tested atomic weapons in the Sahara Desert on February 13 and again on April 1, according to the official announcements at the time.

However, the iodine-131 content of the thyroids of sheep reared around Nashville, Tenn., reached a relative high in January. And after the peak of increased iodine-131 in animal thyroids in many parts of the world following the February explosions, there was a second peak which occurred well in advance of the April explosions.

It may be that the atmospheric fall-out of iodine-131 following a series of atomic bomb explosions comes in two phases, Middlesworth reported. If so this would explain the two peaks of thyroid iodine-131 between the two sets of atomic tests.

But it wouldn't explain the purely local increase in sheep thyroids around Nashville, Tenn. A second explanation would be new increases in atmospheric iodine-131 not connected with announced explosions, Middlesworth added.

The remarkable sensitivity of animal thyroids to atmospheric iodine-131 was illustrated by Middlesworth's newest calculations. Eight days after the first Sahara explosions on February 13, the thyroids of sheep around Haifa, Israel were taking up the radioactive isotope.

Eleven days afterwards the thyroids of cattle in Formosa contained 100 times more iodine-131 than they had in January and earlier in February. Even the pigs around Middlesworth's own bailiwick, Memphis, had an increased amount in their thyroids.

The highest concentration he measured were in the thyroids of sheep in Portugal. But early March the content was at its maximum in sheep in Germany.

Phone Firm Names New Wire Chief

C. R. Ruble of Abilene, has been appointed supervising wire chief for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Pampa, effective today. The announcement was made by Homer Estes, district plant superintendent for the company in Amarillo, who said the position is a newly authorized job, brought on the steady telephone growth in Pampa and surrounding towns. Estes said Ruble will supervise "telephone plant activities in Pampa, Berger, Canadian, Canyon, Gruver, Hereford, McLean, Shamrock and Stinnett."

Ruble began his telephone career in San Antonio in 1954 following graduation from Texas A&M. He also served at McAllen and Corpus Christi, and was promoted to plant results supervisor in Dallas in 1958. He was appointed wire chief in Greenville in July of 1959 and made test center foreman at Abilene in January of this year.

Ruble is married and has three children.

Doctor Reports On Reaction To Halt In Smoking

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A California doctor has told of four cases where cigarette smokers developed painful canker sores after they stopped smoking and were "dramatically relieved" when smoking was resumed.

Dr. Ralph Bookman, author of an article in California Medicine, official journal of the California Medical Association, could offer no explanation.

He said he submitted the case histories only because they "seem to indicate a possible therapeutic relationship between cigarette smoking and recurrent aphthous stomatitis (canker sores)."

Dr. Bookman said the four men, all habitual smokers, developed the sores within a few days after stopping smoking. And in each case the sores soon vanished after the men began smoking again.

Holland's Dikes

Holland has three kinds, or series of dikes. Huge ones, by or on the sea, fend off the first assaults of the waves and, if these crumble, a second bulwark takes over, followed by last-resort defenders of the individual farms.

Big Occasion Will Find Hostess Ready

Almost any festive meal can be planned, prepared ahead of time and put into the freezer. If you are one who prefers to have time for friends and family when they come together for one of the big holiday meals, then work ahead.

Fall festivals, winter holidays and family get-togethers are all part of happy living as the cold days urge the summer outdoor vacationers to come inside for a year of work.

You'll really be ready to enjoy a big occasion if you have planned and prepared much of the meal from dips for appetizers, to dessert for the big occasion. There are certain rules to remember, however, when freezing foods. For example, when you make dips or spreads to freeze, prepare them as usual, but leave out any raw vegetables until just before serving. If you make stuffing for the big bird, pack dry bread and seasonings into plastic bags ready to thaw and mix. Steamed puddings, fruit or chiffon pies, cookies and fruit cakes may be frozen.

For festive fare, Honey Pumpkin Pie is most likely to be the family's favorite, so form the crusts and freeze them ready to put the filling in at a moment's notice. Honey gives that delectable flavor that blends so well with the spiced pumpkin. Honey helps to make the filling the right consistency. Honey is so easy to use in foods. Fill the crusts full of Honey Pumpkin Pie Filling. Serve slightly warm, topped with whipped cream or plain, as each prefers.

The recipe is as follows:
PUMPKIN PIE FILLING
 1/2 cup strained honey
 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk solids
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon mace
 1/2 teaspoon ginger
 1/2 teaspoon cloves
 1 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin
 2 eggs, well beaten

1 1/2 cups water
 2 tablespoons melted butter
 1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
 Mix dry ingredients well to prevent streaking. Add other ingredients. Blend thoroughly. Turn into pastry shell. Bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees F. in preheated oven. Reduce to 350 degrees F. and bake 40 minutes longer.

Sausage And Cheese Team Together To Form Versatile Family Meals

The team of sausage and cheese is so versatile, it can dress up for company, satisfy a ravenous family, please the home-for-lunch crowd, or add sparkle to a lunch box.

Here are some of the details.
BLUE MOONS
 Round hamburger buns, filled with a hearty mixture of blue cheese, summer sausage and pineapple cottage cheese are cut in half-moons to lend life to a luncheon. Other moon shares may be cut to intrigue the youngest luncheon carriers, crescent, three-quarter and even full man-in-the-moon with pickle features.

COMPANY BOLGNA
 Everyday bologna takes on a company manners when its curdled around broccoli spears and piquancy comes from the sliced sausage with mushrooms. Added piquancy comes from the sliced Mozzarella cheese rolled up inside the sausage.

Low-Calories
 Here's a low calorie salad dressing with all the flavor of a rich dressing. Pungent American blue cheese, which has only 40 calories per tablespoonful gives the dressing a delicious flavor.

To make the low calorie dressing, blend 1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese and 1/2 cup butter-milk. Pour this over head lettuce slices or wedges, or a tossed salad. Top with crumbled blue cheese and poppy seeds for garnish.

CORN CANOES
 Perfect for grade school lunches, these piping hot sandwiches perform well at Sunday suppers, too. The "canoes" are hollowed-out frankfurter buns, toasted light brown; the filling is a blend of cream-style corn, sliced salami, canned soup and grated cheese.
FAVORITE BAKE
 Lima beans, a creamy cheese-and-onions sauce herbs and skinless franks add up to a supper all members of the family will relish. The casserole bakes in 20 minutes and asks only for a cool molded fruit salad to complete the meal.

Holiday Callers Are Welcomed with Snacks
 Spiced Turkey Dip and Dilly Cheese Spread are delicious snacks which will help to welcome your holiday callers.

SPICED TURKEY DIP
 2 cups chopped, cooked turkey
 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 1/2 cup flaked coconut
 1/2 teaspoon tabasco (or to taste)
 1/2 teaspoon allspice (or to taste)
 Mix together and chill thoroughly. Makes about 2 1/2 cups. Serve with Triangle Thins.
DILLY CHEESE SPREAD: Shred 2 pounds process American cheese and mix with 1 cup chopped dill pickles. Chill thoroughly. Make about 4 1/2 cups. Use as a spread on Ritz Crackers or put through a cookie press to make spritz designs. Garnish with olive slices or caviar.

Gourmet Dish Is Cook's Triumph With Its Glamorous And Tasty Seasoning

Chicago, November 23 — Here's a dish that is a cook's triumph... quick and easy to prepare... but glamorous and flavorful enough to be a favorite for company dinners or party buffets.

This quick and easy almondine cheese potato recipe can be put together in a matter of minutes. First make the savory cream sauce subtly seasoned with dry mustard, celery salt and Tabasco sauce; add tangy cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Meanwhile heat and brown frozen French fries on a baking sheet and arrange on a warm serving dish. Top the French fries with the hot sauce and sprinkle with toasted slivered almonds.

Round out the menu with a platter of sliced turkey and ham, a molded spiced cranberry salad nestling in crisp salad greens, toasted rolls and a hot baked apple pudding for dessert. Serve plenty of fragrant, steaming hot coffee and your reputation as a gourmet cook will be established.

ALMONDINE CHEESE POTATOES

1/2 cup butter or margarine
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon paprika
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/2 teaspoon celery salt
 2 drops Tabasco sauce
 1 cup milk
 4 ounces shredded American or Cheddar cheese
 2 packages (9 oz.) frozen French fries
 1/2 cup toasted slivered almonds
 Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; blend in flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, paprika, mustard, celery salt and Tabasco sauce. Add milk and cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Add cheese; stir just until melted. Brown frozen French fries on baking sheet in remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; sprinkle with remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt. To serve top French fries with cheese sauce and sprinkle with almonds.
 Yield: 6 servings.

Turkey Loaf Makes Good Sandwiches

Now that the holiday season is here again, the old problem of turkey leftovers will be facing many homemakers.

Many families prefer to warm the turkey and dressing, and serve it in a manner similar to that at the big holiday dinner. Others like it cold, or on sandwiches with plenty of trimmings.

Another variation for turkey leftovers is a cold sandwich loaf, which makes a delightful main dish for dinner or lunch. It is fun to fix, and it makes a long way amount of turkey, go a long way.

Turkey Sandwich Loaf
 3 cups chopped cooked turkey
 1 cup chopped celery
 1/2 teaspoon grated onion
 1 cup mayonnaise
 1 loaf white bread, unsliced
 1/2 cup butter, softened
 1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)

Combine turkey, celery, onion and mayonnaise. Mix well. Slice crusts from bread and cut loaf in four slices lengthwise. Then butter two center slices on both sides and other two slices on one side only. Spread buttered side of bottom slice with turkey mixture, cover with bread slice buttered on both sides. Again spread with turkey mixture. Cover this with second slice buttered on both sides. Spread with turkey mixture, and top with remaining slice, buttered side down. Press loaf together firmly. Moisten American blue cheese and cream cheese with over whole surface of loaf. Chill milk, blending thoroughly. Spread over whole surface of loaf. Chill at least one hour. Slice and serve.

Swiss Veal Lausanne Proves Soup Has Uses As Appetizer, Main Dish

In addition to its being a satisfying appetizer or main dish soup, Heinz Cheese Soup can be used as a sauce for meats, fish or vegetables... even pastries. It's destined to be one of the most versatile soups to hit the market.

To illustrate this versatility, here is a Swiss dish—Veal Lausanne—in which thinned out veal were baked in a sauce of cheese soup and white wine and garnished with onions and mushroom caps.

VEAL LAUSANNE
 1-1/2 pounds veal cutlet
 Flour
 Salt and pepper
 drippings or shortening
 1 cup sliced onion rings
 1 can Heinz Condensed Cheese Soup, undiluted

1-3 cup light cream
 3 tablespoons dry white wine (optional)
 1 can (4 ounces) button mushrooms, drained
 Heat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate). Lightly flour meat; season with salt and pepper; brown well in bacon, drippings, or oil. Place meat in baking dish (11" x 7-1/2" x 1-1/2"). Saute onion rings in drippings until tender-crisp; arrange on top of meat. Combine soup, light cream and wine in same skillet; pour over meat. Garnish with mushrooms. Bake 40 minutes or until meat is tender. Makes 6 servings.

Everyday Potato Assumes Company Manners With Potato-Apple Bake

An imaginative new way to serve potatoes is always welcome because in most households they appear on the menu once a day. Here's a suggestion that is simple to make and is particularly delicious with roast pork — Potato Apple Bake. The two major ingredients are a jar of applesauce and an envelope of instant whipped potato flakes. You can make the potatoes in seconds with instant whipped potato flakes because the chores of peeling, boiling and mashing have been eliminated. Just pour them into salted boiling water to which milk and butter have been added, and then whip. Arrange them in the center of a baking dish, add the spiced applesauce and pop the dish into the oven. Here's the recipe:

POTATO APPLE BAKE (Makes 4 servings)

1 1/2 cups water
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon butter
 1/2 cup cold milk
 Whipped Potato Flakes
 1 envelope Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon mace
 1 (15-oz.) jar apple sauce
 2 tablespoons butter
 2 tablespoons bread crumbs
 Combine water and salt in medium-size saucepan; cover; bring to boil. Remove from heat; add butter and milk immediately; then Borden's Instant Whipped Potato Flakes. Stir gently with fork or wire whip until liquid is absorbed; whip briskly. Combine cinnamon, nutmeg and mace; blend well with applesauce. Place potatoes in center of well-buttered casserole; arrange applesauce around potatoes. Melt butter; add bread crumbs; mix well. Place buttered crumbs on potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes. Serve with roast loin of pork.

Shrimp Balls Will Perk Up Snack Tray

To add variety to your snack tray, make tiny balls of shrimp and serve hot with Triscuit Wafers. Here's how:

3 cups chopped, cooked shrimp
 1 1/2 cups Triscuit wafers crumbs, finely rolled
 2 eggs beaten
 1 clove garlic
 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Mix Shrimp, Triscuit Wafers crumbs and eggs. Shape into small balls. Chop garlic and add to melted butter or margarine. Saute shrimp balls until brown on all sides. Serve immediately with assorted Nabisco snack crackers and cheeses. Makes about 30 balls.

'His Other Secretary,' Or 'Who'll He Name?'

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (U.P.I.) — Although the last of the soap operas recently vanished into thin air, we have going here a similar sort of daily drama which might be entitled "John's Other Secretary."
Or if that title doesn't fit, we can always call it "One Man's Family."

The central character in this cliff-hanger is President-elect John F. Kennedy, but he usually uses a stand-in, played by Pierre Salinger, his press aide.
Once a day, and sometimes twice, Salinger calls a news conference to impart tidings about the incoming administration. Naturally, the atmosphere is fraught with expectation.

Will this be the day that Kennedy appoints someone to his cabinet? Will he name the new secretary of state? The secretary of agriculture? The secretary of anything?

Perhaps these questions will be answered as we join Salinger in the Senate caucus room for today's episode. But first, a word about the baby.

The baby is doing very well. Salinger says the baby has had no oxygen for 24 hours, but Salinger probably means that baby was not given oxygen artificially. Very few babies can go for 24 hours without any oxygen.

And now, back to the cabinet. True to the soap opera tradition, Salinger raises more questions than he answers. He does this by reading a list of all the people that Kennedy has a seat during the day, plus all the people he plans to see the next day.

As he reads, the audience mentally matches the names against those that have figured in the speculation about cabinet posts. There are no fresh clues, however, in Salinger's bland recital. And now, a further word about the family.

Kennedy plans to take his daughter Caroline with him when he goes to Palm Beach, Fla., this weekend. She will stay there when he returns to Washington next Monday.

Someone wants to know who will take care of Caroline. Salinger assumes a nurse will do it. This is the firmest appointment yet.

And now it is time for the come-on — the end-of-program bit that whets the audience's interest in the next episode. There will be, Salinger says, an announcement made in Palm Beach on Saturday. It will be, he promises, "hard news."
There also likely will be some announcements made before Kennedy leaves for Florida. So tune in at this same time tomorrow folks.

Oil Lift Course Slated At Tech

LUBBOCK (SpI) — Petroleum field engineers and production men will find a wealth of information at the West Texas Oil Lifting Short Course slated April 20-21 at Texas Tech, according to E. D. Anderson of Dallas, short course production co. engineer.

Program chairman and Lone Star Program plans for the eighth annual short course on the Texas Tech campus indicate there will be technical lectures and discussions on nine phases of oil lifting — with approximately 40 papers presented by specialist in various fields.

Papers to be presented by engineers and production men will cover such topics as artificial lift mechanics and problems, multiple zone producing methods and equipment, rod pumping — surface and subsurface, corrosion, production handling (various phases), production maintenance and general topics on safety, engineering fundamentals, management and tubular goods.

Indicative of the great interest shown in WTOLSC papers is the numbers of requests for proceedings made since the short course's founding. In the past seven years, more than 5,822 proceedings have been ordered and a total of 81,230 reprints of individual papers have been sent to firms throughout the industry, according to short course secretary-treasurer James Rodgers, assistant professor of petroleum engineering at Tech.

Last spring some 379 men from 127 companies attended the 1960 short course.

McGraw-Hill May Acquire Dodge Firm

NEW YORK (SpI) — McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. Inc., announced today that discussions looking toward acquisition of the F. W. Dodge Corp. are proceeding satisfactorily and an understanding is expected to be reached in the near future.

Details of the transaction have not been fully established but it is contemplated that McGraw-Hill will issue common and preferred stock for the F. W. Dodge Corp. The F. W. Dodge Corp. is an old and well-established publishing company with headquarters in New York. Its principal properties are Dodge Reports, a daily construction-news service; Dodge Construction Catalogue Service, which issues a number of catalog files of manufacturers' products. Other properties include Architectural Record, a professional monthly, and three commercial newspapers, Daily Pacific Builder (San Francisco), The Daily Journal (Denver), and Daily Construction News (Chicago).

Through a subsidiary, F. W. Dodge also publishes The Modern Hospital, The Hospital Purchasing File, The Nation's Schools, and College and University Business.

JFK, Students Debate Medicine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy and a group of Georgetown University medical students had a brief debate Wednesday night on socialized medicine.

The students saw Kennedy emerging from Georgetown Hospital after visiting his wife and shouted: "Keep out socialized medicine."

Just before he stepped into his car, Kennedy yelled back: "I'm for medical care for the aged and you're against socialized medicine... and there is no disagreement. It's a matter of definition."

Model Railroad Jargon Puzzles

NEW YORK (UPI) — Parents whose youngster gets a model train for Christmas may be surprised shortly afterward to hear such remarks as these:
"Get that goat off the high iron!"
"Hook that muzzle loader to the reeler!"
"Give that wildcat an alley!"

The translations in order: "Get that yard engine off the main track!"
"Hook that hand-fired locomotive to the refrigerator car!"
"Give that runaway locomotive a clear track!"

The Lionel Corp., model train manufacturer, has compiled a glossary of these colorful terms, and if parents apply themselves between now and Christmas they may be able to converse with Junior after the holidays.

Match Toys With Wishes Of Child

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—When shopping for Christmas toys, keep in mind the interests of the child who is to receive your gift, says Charles Martin, extension family life specialist at the University of Minnesota.

Most youngsters give definite clues to their play interests, Martin says, and you can watch them to find out what they like to do. Children will be happier if you buy them toys to fit in with what they most like to do.

The collie dog first was bred in Scotland and used for taking care of sheep.

Reason for Worms
Probably the season for so many earthworms appearing on the ground after a rain is that their tunnels are flooded and they come up for air.

Bowling Alleys Become Fashion World's Target

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The bowling alleys are the fashion world's next target. Dress designers and owners of the bowling centers alike feel that it's time to get the women bowler out of shirtwaist dresses or baggy trousers into something prettier and still practical. Various trade sources report that bowling is the nation's number one, and fastest growing, participation sport. The number of bowlers is estimated at 30 million, four million more than a year ago. Of this number, an estimated 12 million are female, ranging from teens to grandmas. One big reason for the increasing popularity of the sport with women, industry sources say, is the spread of the luxury bowling centers — complete with restaurants, cocktail lounges, boutiques, baby sitting services and even art galleries. One leader helping to link fashion to the indoor sport is the American Machine and Foundry Co., makers of bowling equipment. AMF commissioned five New York designers, all known for their knack with sports and leisure clothes, to create a dozen new costumes for the lanes. The results included wrap-around skirts, pleated skirts, flared skirts, shirts over trousers, skirts with slashed backs and side slits, sleeveless, pullover blouses, and loose fitting jackets. But most of all, there were the divided skirts winning pins down. These were either the flared culotte or the straight style which the industry has dubbed the "stride."

Mrs. Mathis Is TEL Hostess

CANADIAN (Sp) — The TEL Class of the First Baptist Church met with Mrs. Henry Mathis recently. Mrs. Jack Graham, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Jack Sutton gave the devotional, "Thanksgiving." Those attending were Mrs. Paul Bryant, guest, and members Mmes. Darrell Wiggins, Jack Graham, Barney Varnell, J. C. Cain, Florence Pendergraft, Paul Malcolm, Doris Chumbley, Jack Sutton, George Ayers, R. N. Matthews, Tom Masters, Aubra Bentley, Margaret McClure, Everett South and Earl Kelly.

Covered-Dish Fete Given By Council

The Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met at the Church recently for a covered-dish luncheon with Mrs. Carl Canster and Mrs. L. S. Hardage as hostesses. Mrs. Percy Hill, vice-president, conducted the business session. The devotional "Spreading Missionary around the World," was given by Mrs. Jim Mitchell. The lesson, "The Church of Christ in Saltillo, Mexico," was conducted by Mrs. Harry Haines. Also participating was Mrs. Warren Harrington.

Mrs. Thurman Is Feted At Shower

GROOM (Sp) — Mrs. Doyal Thurman, nee Sue McAdams, was honored with a bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. Thelma Pool. In the receiving line were the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Mattie McAdams and Mrs. E. T. Thurman, bridegroom's mother. Mrs. Leroy Mashburn was guest registrar. The serving table was appointed with a white lace cloth over blue linen centered with a floral arrangement of miniature Shasta mums accented with white and silver wedding bells and a cluster of blue grapes. Miss Brenda Brown presided at the silver tea and coffee service while Miss Anna Mac Weller served cake. Hostesses were Mmes. Viola Harrell, Beadie Brown, Loula Wall, Fannie Asberry, Verma Whalley, Alice Ward, Athelle Driskill, Carrie Foster, Maurine Mashburn, Edna Frederickson, Grace Henderson, Thelma Pool and Rose Fields.

Thimblette Club Entertains Guests

GROOM (Sp) — Thimblette Needle Club entertained husbands and guests with a holiday dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Culver recently. The serving table was centered with a turkey decorated in an autumn motif. Guests were seated at quartet tables with each guest's place marked with a jeweled nut-head, given as favors. Following dinner, games of "42" and Canasta were played. Hostesses were Mmes. C. L. Culver, Jimmy McCasland, John Reed and Ross Nix. Guests and members attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Waldon Reno, Ross Nix, John Reed, C. L. Culver, L. C. Jones, Bill Cornett, Alton Goodin, Ray Clark, E. S. Craig, George Eschile, Charley Fields, E. C. Goodlett, Bill Hammers, Preston Harden, Nath Helton, Leldon Hudson, Turner Kirby, Lee Kirk, Allen Knorpp, Bob Newton, Rudolph Tucker; Dr. and Mrs. John L. Witt and Mrs. Ted Bones.

Mrs. C. E. Terry Is HD Club Hostess

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Alhambra Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. C. E. Terry. Mrs. Buel Gray, Parliamentarian, spoke on the amendments voted in the recent elections. Miss Geraldine Mays, Hutchinson County Home Demonstration Agent demonstrated ways of preparing squash and stated it should be included on the menu often as a yellow vegetable. During the business session, club members voted a donation to Boys Ranch and planned a holiday supper in the home of Mrs. Vernon Payton.

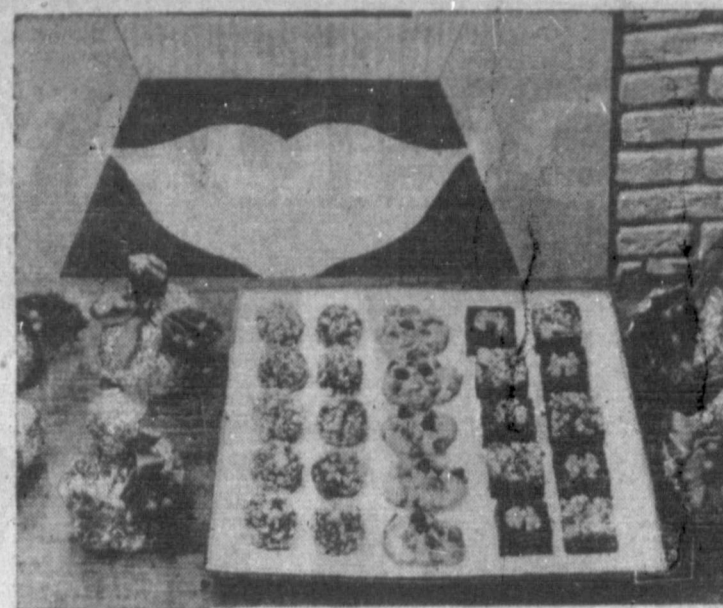

The Mature Parent Not All Fond Relatives Are Really Interested

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Because John didn't remember his Uncle Fred and Aunt Gert, he was delighted to hear that they were coming for Sunday dinner. To him the titles "uncle" and "aunt" had aroused an expectation of special grown-up interest in him. So he was both surprised and disappointed by their lack of it. Arriving, Aunt Gert said he had a look of his father's family about his eyes and Uncle Fred said, "My, you'll soon be big enough to go to school." And that was that. Only after a hearty dinner of roast beef and pumpkin pie did Uncle Fred grow more expansive. Then, asking Steven if he liked lollipops, he took 50 cents out of his pocket and gave it to him. Aunt Gert said: "For heaven's sake, Fred, if you want to give the child money, give him $5 to put in his bank. You're teaching him to save money, aren't you, Rhoda?" Steven's mother said she was. Under her guidance, Steve relinquished the 50 cents, folded Uncle Fred's $5 bill and poked through the slot of his large pink plaster pig bank. Later, preparing for bed, he said to his mother, "I don't like Aunt Gert." "Sh-sh," she said. "That's not nice. She likes you very much." Now in terms of Steven's future welfare this attempt to conceal the truth of Aunt Gert's disinterest in him could become as well-meaning of his energies as though mommy had told him he could expect stones to turn into chocolate cakes. What she did was to tell Steven that his own awareness of another person's disinterest in him was unreliable and that he could expect affection from it. I hope she won't continue to feed him this lie. If she does, Steven's ability to withdraw expectations from people who can't feel interest in him will be impaired. Hoping to reach that interest in him which mommy has told him disinterested people possess, he will of employers who don't have it to give him. He may become painfully involved with girls who will exploit his hope of affection that they do not feel. Be ruthless about weeding out your wardrobe. Get rid of anything which you have not worn for two years. Have in your closet only those suits, dresses and coats which are really getting use.

ALUMINUM foil makes a gay and practical wrapping for Christmas candies and cookies sent to relatives and friends.

Cook's Nook

Florentine Dainties Are Excellent Traveling Cookies

Aluminum foil makes a gay and practical wrapping for Christmas candies and cookies sent to relatives and friends. Planning to make Christmas cookies and candies to send to distant friends and relatives? Then be sure you choose recipes that will travel well. Squares of aluminum foil, folded around the cookies or candy, decorated with ribbon and holly, make beautiful Santa Claus sacks to send your presents in. Let the youngsters make the sacks as their part in Christmas giving. FLORENTINE DAINTIES (Yield: About 6 dozen cookies) Two eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, one 6-ounce package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate morsels, 1/2 cup finely cut dates, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind. Combine eggs and sugar and beat until thick and lemon colored. Sift in flour and salt. Stir in remaining ingredients. Drop by rounded teaspoons, 2 inches apart, on a well-greased baking sheet. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Remove immediately from baking sheet. CHOCO-NUT FUDGE (Yield: 2 pounds) One and one-third cups evaporated milk, 1 cup sugar, two 6-ounce packages (1 cup each) semisweet chocolate morsels OR one 12-ounce jumbo package semisweet chocolate morsels, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts. Combine evaporated milk and sugar in a 3-quart saucepan. Place over moderate heat and bring to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add semisweet chocolate morsels and stir until smooth. Turn into buttered 8x8x2-inch aluminum foil-lined baking pan. Sprinkle nuts over surface, pressing firmly into fudge. Chill. Cut into 1 1/2-inch squares. VARIATIONS: 1. Omit chopped walnuts from recipe; press a walnut half into the surface of each square. 2. When semisweet chocolate morsels are melted and mixture is smooth, add 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts to fudge before turning into pan. Omit pressing nuts into surface. 3. When semisweet chocolate morsels are melted and mixture is smooth, allow to cool slightly. Shape fudge into 1-inch balls and roll in finely chopped walnuts until surface is coated. SUNDAY'S DINNER: Fruit cup, broiled steak, hash brown potatoes, broccoli with hollandaise sauce, hot Parker House rolls, butter or margarine, green salad bowl with French dressing, ice cream, Florentine dainties, coffee, tea, milk.

Dear Abby... Poker Widower Needs Full House!

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Have you any advice for a man who is married to a woman who spends every afternoon (and half her evenings) playing poker? We've been married for two years and I am getting tired of it.

DEAR POKER WIDOWER: Deal her a full house!

DEAR ABBY: I answered the phone last night and a man on the other end said, "Ask Rudy to call Hazel in half an hour." My husband's name is Rudy, so like a fool I gave him the message. He wouldn't use the phone at home. He left and called her. When he came back I asked who Hazel was. He didn't even answer me. That night I heard him say in his sleep, "But you're another man's wife and what are we going to do about the kids?" Do you think there is another woman in the picture? We've been married 12 years, have 5 kids and I thought we were happy. How can you get the truth out of a man who refuses to talk?

DEAR WIFE: The truth is apparent. Why attempt to beat a confession out of him? Your local Family Service Agency offers free counseling and so does your clergyman. Don't tackle this without professional help. DEAR ABBY: Do you think our mother is being fair to us kids? She hasn't let our father in the house for four months all over a phone call she got from a person she doesn't even know saying our father had a girlfriend. They have been married 21 years, Abby, and Daddy never stayed out late or did anything wrong. She hasn't any real proof. How can she do such a thing to us?

DEAR FATHERLESS: If your mother has locked your father out of the house with — or without — proof of his wrong-doing, she is being unfair to herself and to you children. Parents owe themselves and their children a harmonious home. This can be achieved only by airing all differences, discussing them and resolving them. No matter how guilty your father might be — your mother shares the blame.

DEAR ABBY: Why do people go into a theatre to neck? Don't they know that a theatre is a public place for watching a movie — not a park bench? I am an usher in a theatre and I know what I'm talking about. A couple comes in supposedly to see a show and they sit there all evening in a clench, kissing like a cow pulling his foot out of a mudhole. If they want to neck, let them stay home. USHER

San Antonio Stock Show Lists Premiums

The 1961 San Antonio Livestock Exposition is offering an all time record $156,679 in premiums and purses to exhibitors and contestants, according to Stock Show president E. W. Bickett.

More than $71,000 of the total amount will be offered to Livestock Exhibitors while horse show entries will compete for more than $11,000 during the Feb. 10-19 exposition at the Joe Freeman Coliseum, San Antonio.

Livestock Chairman Mark L. Browne explained that $26,110 of the total premium is being offered to exhibitors of Breeding Cattle in the following allocations: Herefords, $10,000; Angus, $5,440; ABBA and PAZA Brahman, $3,000 each; Brangus, $2,520; Santa Gertrudis and Charolais, $1,000 each.

The 12th annual exposition is offering a total of $6,367 in the boy's livestock show and $7,851 in the junior show. Open class steer exhibitors will vie for a total of $3,310.

Exhibitors of sheep, goats, wool and mohair will compete for a total of $6,713 in premiums. A total of $369 has been designated for open class market wether lambs.

In the swine division of the show, premiums total $11,680 with $7,090 set aside for the open show and $4,590 for breeding swine.

Dairy Cattle entries will compete for $6,090 in total premiums. Approximately $700 in special trophies, herdsman and neatness awards will be made in the livestock division. Deadline for livestock entries is December 15 and premium list and entry blanks are available from A. B. Johnson, General Manager, San Antonio Livestock Exposition, P.O. Box 1746, San Antonio.

Lefors Lions Sponsor Yule Home Display

LEFORS (Sp) — Prizes for the best decorated houses in Lefors will be awarded by J. R. Sparkman and the Cut Rate Grocery Store, it was announced by J. E. Sparkman at the regular breakfast meeting of the board of directors of Lefors Lions Club. First prize is $10, second prize, $7.50, and third prize, $2.50.

Breakfast was served by J. W. Walls and J. Bussell, followed by a business meeting conducted by Ray Chastain, president. Final arrangements were made for the Ladies night Christmas dinner Dec. 12. Reports were made by Aubrey Carlton and David Robinson on Gun Club finances. At the evening meeting, Kenneth Fields, Lion Cub of the month, was introduced by Jerry Jacobs, Supt. of schools. Joe Tooley, Pampa, presented an achievement certificate to President Ray Chastain for outstanding work in 1960. Lion Boyd Beck introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Ralph Thomas, past president of the Pampa Club. Thomas spoke on outstanding work done in the community by the Lefors Club, mentioning March of Dimes, United Fund drives, Little League. Attendance at conventions, attendance to zone meetings, ending with a pep-talk on Lionism.

Robin Once Was Favorite Decoration

The robin, now considered a harbinger of spring, a century ago, was a favorite Christmas motif on cards, and for decorative effect.

Legend connected the robin with Christ, and thus with Christmas.

The legend states that the bird, in trying to ease Christ's suffering on His way to the crucifixion, pulled a thorn from the crown. In so doing, a drop of blood fell on the robin's chest and remained there forever.

Comic robins, perky robins and robins in all types of poses were pictured by the thousands of Christmas cards in the late 19th century.

PERFECT PEARLS

Perfectly round pearls are considered the finest. Drop or pearl shapes, oval shapes and button shapes are next in value in the order named. Irregular shaped pearls, called baroque pearls, are the least valuable.

Christmas Mail Expected To Top 6 Billion Pieces

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Post Office Department is up to its red-white-and-blue garters in the biggest Christmas mail rush in history.

It expects to handle between 6 and 7 billion Christmas cards, letters and packages during the month of December.

Postal officials expect an increase in overseas mailings. During the last two months of 1959, Americans sent about 1.5 billion pounds of letters and more than 25.5 million pounds of parcel post abroad by ship.

An additional 1.25 million pounds of Christmas cards and letters were airlifted overseas along with some 350,000 pounds of parcel post in the final month of 1959.

Handling the Yuletide deluge will require about 250,000 additional postal employees scattered across the nation.

Ohio State Heads Major Cage Action

By United Press International

The Ohio State Buckeyes, led by All-America and Olympic star Jerry Lucas, begin their quest of another NCAA championship Thursday night when the 1959-61 college basketball season officially swings into action.

Besides the defending champions, five other teams, ranked among the nation's top 10 in the pre-season ratings, get underway Thursday night. They are Bradley (No. 2), Utah (No. 6), St. Bonaventure (No. 8), Auburn and Kentucky (Tied for No. 9).

Indiana (No. 3), Kansas (No. 4) and Utah State (No. 7) open Saturday night, while North Carolina, ranked No. 5, doesn't begin until next Monday.

Bradley, winner of last season's National Invitation Tournament, is expected to be the only member of the elite group to run against tough opposition in Thursday's openers.

Chet (The Jet) Walker once again leads Bradley which opens on the road against a veteran Minnesota quintet. The 6-4 Walker averaged 21.8 points a game last year.

Ohio State sends the 6-8 Lucas plus three starters from last season against Ohio University in a road game; and Utah, the 1959-60 Skyline champion, plays on the road against Loyola of Los Angeles.

All-America Tom Stith, runner-up to Oscar Robertson as the nation's top scorer last season, is expected to run the Bonnies home court winning streak to 33 against John Carroll. Auburn hosts Livingston and Kentucky faces VMI at home.

Cincinnati, which enjoyed three years of high ranking through the efforts of Robertson, attempts to improve its 19th rating against Indiana State in its home opener, minus the "Big O."

Other top games Thursday night include: Georgia Tech-Georgia, Maryland-Penn State, Butler-Wisconsin, Air Force-New Mexico, Alabama-Louisville and George Washington-Richmond.

Uncle And Snead

Moneybags Palmer Eyes Victory Over Two Sams

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Moneybags Arnold Palmer today began playing for Uncle Sam—and for Slammin' Sam.

Golf's newly-crowned all-time leading money winner with a record $73,716 for one year of fairway play was "looking to get even with the income tax man." And he also needed one more win to match Sam Snead's modern mark of nine tournament victories in one year.

The genial Pennsylvanian was working on both objectives as the first round of the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open golf tournament started today with one of the fastest late-year Florida fields in history shooting for the $2,000 first place money.

And Palmer definitely was the man they had to beat. For, after a two-month layoff, he returned to the tour last week to win the Mobile, Ala., Open and wipe out Ted Kroll's four-year-old all-time money winning mark by $900.

"I'm playing now for Uncle Sam," Palmer grinned as he contemplated his rich year. "But let me add that it's a real pleasure. I sure don't mind paying if I'm lucky enough to win. I'd just like to keep winning even though right now I'm paying more taxes than I ever thought I'd win in purses."

Palmer also was "hungry" for victory in this tournament — as well as in next week's Coral Gables Open "if possible"—because he'd like to match or surpass Snead's modern mark of nine tournament victories in one year. Palmer's current task was lightened somewhat in this tournament with Mike Souchak a doubtful starter because of an attack of flu and two other stars definitely scratched.

TIL Suspends School After Playoff Fight

AUSTIN (UPI)—San Antonio Sam Houston High School has been replaced in the state Class AAA playoffs by Seguin High and the San Antonio school placed on one-year suspension in football by the Texas Interscholastic League.

The league's executive committee took the severe action Wednesday night after investigation of a charge filed by the Kerrville chapter of the Southwest Football Officials Association that Sam Houston players were guilty of "misconduct" during a regular season game Oct. 28 at Uvalde.

Uvalde also was placed under one year probation, but will be allowed to compete for the district championship.

Seguin, which lost a 26-7 decision to Sam Houston in the district round of the playoffs last week, was reinstated as a result

Trainer Sees 'Sugar' Win

SAN JACINTO, Calif. (UPI) — Trainer Harry Wiley broke a 22-year precedent today and predicted flatly that Sugar Ray Robinson will beat Gene Fullmer in their third middleweight title fight at the Los Angeles Sports Arena Saturday night.

"I joined Ray 22 years ago, shortly before he turned professional," said the chunky, middle-aged trainer. "And I never made a public prediction before, because you don't win fights with your mouth."

Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, is favored at 13-5.

U.S. Netters Triumph Again

MELBOURNE (UPI)—Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz swept into the finals of the Victoria tennis championships today, setting up an all-American final on Saturday.

In battle of services, MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, beat England's Mike Sangster, 6-4, 10-8, 12-10. Buchholz beat Chuck McKinley, 3-6, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4. Both come from St. Louis.

McKinley had advanced to the semifinals when Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy walked off the court in a quarterfinal match in a dispute with the referee over the wearing of spikes.

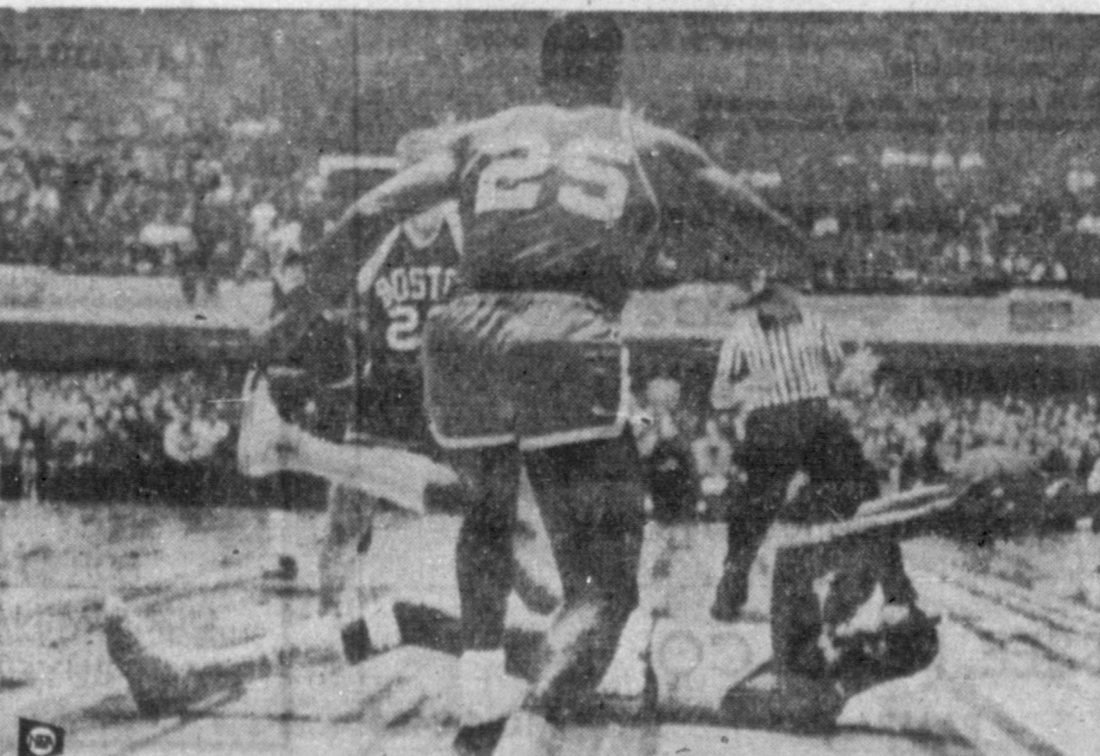

Bufs Threaten Suit In Expansion Battle

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The president of the Houston club in the American Association waved an anti-trust threat at Commissioner Ford Frick and the National League today if they persisted in their efforts to keep the American League out of the Houston territory.

Angered by the stalemate in the negotiations with the National League group seeking to invade Houston, and by Frick's order Tuesday that the American League stay out of the territory, President W. H. Hopkins of the Houston Bufs sent off a stinging wire Wednesday to the commissioner and to President Warren Giles of the National League.

Hopkins, who owns the Houston territory, insisted that his group is free to negotiate with the American League in an effort to bring major league baseball to Houston.

Any "agreement or understanding" that would restrict the Houston territory exclusively to the National League would be regarded "as being in restraint of trade," Hopkins informed the baseball leaders.

Two High Scorers Return To Bolster Pampa Hopes

When the Pampa Harvesters hit the floor tomorrow night in Quanah Wise had a 6.3 average in 1959-60 with 157 points, good enough for overall fourth place in team point-making.

Also back for another try this year are Larry Stroud, who finished sixth with 63 points and Bill Neslage, who had 22. Both divided their time between the Harvesters and the Shockers last year to account for their lower totals.

Carter, who finished strong last year, wound up in the number two slot in scoring with 293 points for

Seminole Tourney Tops Crammed 3-4A Weekend

Pampa's Harvesters, last of District 3-4A's basketball teams to open 1960-61 play, invade Quanah tomorrow night while most of the other district teams do battle on the South Plains and in the Permian Basin.

Much of the spotlight will be on the Seminole tournament Friday and Saturday where Berger and Monterey are entered, along with Midland and host Seminole. Berger (1-0) and Midland (2-0) meet in the opening game, which could develop into a grudge battle with little ease. Last year, Midland defeated Berger twice but lost to the Bulldogs, 56-55 in overtime in the regional game.

Midland, minus 6-8 Mike Marsh and 6-7 Mike Humphrey, have beaten Odessa Ector, Seminole and Lubbock in surprising fashion, although only Charles Dishman is back off last year's 30-1 team. Berger, which lost only five games in '59-60 — counting the state playoffs — will field an experienced team that will average 6-0, with Vernon Welch, 6-0, and Jeff Levine, 5-10 the two returning regulars.

Other starters, all lettermen, are Center Ronnel Shockley, 6-5, Johnny Wilson, 6-0, at forward and Warren Bell, 5-10, at guard.

The defending champion Bulldogs have been tabbed for the runner up slot in the district race this year and the Midland test should provide a good indication of Berger's prowess.

Elsewhere, all three Amarillo teams make a three-pronged invasion of Odessa. Amarillo's tall, experienced Sandies (1-0) meet Odessa, another strong District 2-4A team, Palo Duro (1-0) plays Permian and Tascosa (1-1) meets Ector, a AAA team on Friday.

The next night, the "musical chairs" schedule will find Amarillo against Permian, Palo Duro against Ector and Tascosa at Odessa.

Plainview will be favored in its own tournament which runs Friday and Saturday, although the Bulldogs lost their opening game to Dimmitt, 47-39.

Lubbock (1-2) hosts Levelland Friday, then is off until Monday when they play Abilene of 3-4A.

Stinnett Faces Tough Plains '11'

Wichita Falls, Fort Worth Paschal, Port Arthur and Corpus Christi Miller are favored to win their quarterfinal Class 4A football games this weekend and set the stage for next week's semifinals.

Wichita Falls (11-0) hosts Ysleta (10-0-1), which surprised everyone last weekend by upsetting Odessa Permian, 31-21; this week, things are liable to be a lot different.

Paschal (8-3) meets a up-and-down Lufkin team (7-4) that upset Garland, 7-6, last week to move into the quarters.

Celtics Gain Steam, Top Detroit Pistons

By United Press International
The Boston Celtics are off on a tear and who's going to stop them?
That's the question around the National Basketball Association as the world champions reeled off their ninth straight victory Wednesday night in defeating the Detroit Pistons, 125-110.

The Syracuse Nationals handed the St. Louis Hawks their second consecutive loss, 135-126, in the opener of the NBA doubleheader at Detroit. No other games were scheduled.

Boston, which held a 5-3 mark on Nov. 15, has picked up steam and now leads the Eastern Division by 1½ games over the Philadelphia Warriors with a 14-3 record.

Bill Sharman with 23 points and Tom Heinsohn with 22 topped the Celtic scorers in beating off two comeback attempts by the Pistons. Rookie Jackie Moreland led Detroit with 22 points.

Larry Costello sparked Syracuse's third quarter drive with eight straight points to give the Nationals a lead they never relinquished.

Hal Greer's 35 points were high for Syracuse. Costello scored 30 points while the Hawks' Bob Pettit tallied 32.

The lowly New York Knickerbockers are the next opponent for the Celtics. The two teams meet in a doubleheader at Philadelphia tonight prior to the Los Angeles Philadelphia game.

Syracuse is at Cincinnati in the only other game scheduled.

of the Harvesters' 1,450 points in the 25 games.

Last year's leading scorer, All-Stater Craig Winborn, has departed for Texas University. A top rebounder and playmaker, Winborn scored 499 points in 1959-60 and he will be sorely missed by Coach Terry Culley.

Also gone are Joe Timms, who was the third high scorer with 188; Phillip Gist, who racked up 52; Hershel Terrel, 62; Leslie Stanfield, 8, and Don Curry, 6.

Little is known about Pampa's Friday night foe, Quanah has yet to play a game, having recently completed an extended football season.

The Harvesters had little trouble with Quanah last year, beating them 55-29 in their opener and repeating the victory, 68-47, later in the season.

Then, on Saturday night, Pampa

The "big three" appeared no nearer a solution than they were at the start of Wednesday's 3½-hour session which ended at 5:30 p.m., EST. The only announcement made by Frick after that session was that another meeting would be held today.

There were no indications whether the high hopes entertained by Frick at the start of the first meeting would be justified. Frick, a long-time advocate of "orderly expansion" is attempting to persuade the American and National leagues to cooperate with each other.

"I want a rule we can live with for some time," he said. "I want to work out a formula that will be good in 1962 as well as in 1961."

There are two problems: 1. The National League has blocked the American League plan for two nine-team circuits with inter-league scheduling in 1961 — the "compromise" the AL offered as the price for not invading Los Angeles next year. 2. Rule One-C of the major league agreement prevents the invasion of any major league city without the unanimous consent of all 16 owners. Obviously Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers will not vote in favor of expansion into Los Angeles in 1961.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A giant question-mark still hung over the major leagues' expansion plans today when Commissioner Ford Frick and league presidents Warren Giles and Joe Cronin met for the second straight day at baseball's summit.

The "big three" appeared no nearer a solution than they were at the start of Wednesday's 3½-hour session which ended at 5:30 p.m., EST. The only announcement made by Frick after that session was that another meeting would be held today.

Boston, which held a 5-3 mark on Nov. 15, has picked up steam and now leads the Eastern Division by 1½ games over the Philadelphia Warriors with a 14-3 record.

Bill Sharman with 23 points and Tom Heinsohn with 22 topped the Celtic scorers in beating off two comeback attempts by the Pistons. Rookie Jackie Moreland led Detroit with 22 points.

Larry Costello sparked Syracuse's third quarter drive with eight straight points to give the Nationals a lead they never relinquished.

Hal Greer's 35 points were high for Syracuse. Costello scored 30 points while the Hawks' Bob Pettit tallied 32.

The lowly New York Knickerbockers are the next opponent for the Celtics. The two teams meet in a doubleheader at Philadelphia tonight prior to the Los Angeles Philadelphia game.

Syracuse is at Cincinnati in the only other game scheduled.

Raiders Begin Year With Tough Hamline

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Red Raiders open their 1960-61 basketball schedule against Hamline University's Pied Pipers in the Coliseum at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Coach Polk Robison's Raiders, "spoilers" of the Southwest Conference last year because they knocked Southern Methodist and Texas A&M out of the title, have the ingredient they missed most — a big man — but lack experience.

Six-foot-nine Harold Hudgens of Ballinger has returned to the lineup which includes only three lettermen.

That trio, all juniors — 5-10 Del Ray Mounts of Perryton, 6-4 Roger Hennig of Mathis, and 6-3 Mac Percival of Vernon — will be starters again, along with Hudgens, sidelined scholastically last season and one of last year's freshman team. Among the sophomores most likely to start against Hamline are 6-5 Tom Patty of Carlsbad N. M., 6-4 Bobby Gindorf of Pampa, and 6-5 Tom Clark of Roswell, N. M.

Since competition for starting berths has been close, considerable service Thursday night can also be expected of squadman Don Perkins, 6-7, of Irving, sophomores Milton Mickey, 6-5, of Lockney, and Gilbert Varnell, 6-5, of Sewanee, Tenn., as well as junior college (Frank Phillips) graduate John Lemmons, 5-10, of Happy. Veteran Joe Hutton, in his 30th year of coaching, is bringing seven lettersmen from the Hamline team that posted a 23-4 record and went to the National Intercollegiate quarterfinals last season. The Pied Pipers are seeking their 11th consecutive Minnesota Collegiate championship.

Bill Nelson, 6-2 forward, and Charles Wennerlund, 5-10 guard, are the mainstays of the Pipers, who will also start Bryan Jensen, 6-2½ forward, Roger Norsted, 6-5 center, and Tom Hutton, 5-9 guard, Coach Hutton's son.

Former collegiate stars are in the lineup of the C&I Lifers who will meet the Texas Tech freshmen at 6 p.m.

Both reserved and general admission tickets, selling for $2 and $1.50 respectively, are still available for the doubleheader.

SWC Teams Start Play

By United Press International

A trio of Southwest Conference teams and the same number of Border Conference fives help get the major college basketball season under way in the Southwest tonight.

Before the week is out every Southwest Conference team but Baylor will have been in action.

Tonight, title-favorite Texas A&M opens at San Antonio against Trinity. Texas Tech hosts Hamline at Lubbock and Rice plays Lamar Tech at Beaumont.

In the Border circuit, Texas Western is on the road against Oklahoma at Norman, Okla., Hardin - Simmons entertains Texas Lutheran at Abilene and Arizona State plays California Western at Tempe.

Ten Pin Tales

Last week produced the highest scores rolled this year. Jessie Smartt rolled a 700 series, his first sanctioned 700. Only three other Pampa bowlers have this distinction. They are Leon Harris, Buzz Hoover and Howard Musgrave. Howard Musgrave missed a 700 by only 7 pins with a 693, which would have made his fifth 700 series.

IL Selects New Prexy

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Sixty-five-year-old Tommy Richardson, who guided the Eastern League through many crises during his 26 years as president, today assumes the job of running the International League.

Richardson was elected president of the International League Wednesday as successor to 77-year-old Frank Shaughnessy, who retired Monday. Richardson signed a one-year contract for $15,000.

"I feel fortunate to follow in the footsteps of a man like Mr. Shaughnessy," said Richardson.

Rebel Eighth Opens Season Today

Unbeaten Lee, Reapers Go For Second Victories

Pampa's Reapers and Robert E. Lee's Rebels, both undefeated after one start against a common opponent, go for their second wins of the year today on opposite sides of town.

Lee, which topped Lefors 62-33 last week, hosts Austin of Borgert at 4 p.m. in the Lee gym and the Lee eighth graders will follow that game with their opener against Austin's eighth.

The Reapers, who waxed Lefors, 78-30 Tuesday, tackle McLean's 'B' team at 4 p.m. in the Pampa Junior High gym in what could be a close game.

Pampa seventh and Lee seventh wait until Friday afternoon to start their eight-game seasons. Lee hosts Borgert Austin and Pampa plays Phillips, also a home game.

For the ninth grade Rebs, Coach Joe Perryman probably will start Gary Sikes at high post, Mike Bridges at low post, Larry Gregory and Gene Storrs at forwards and Ricky Stewart at guard.

Bridges and Sikes' each score

18 points in the Lefors victory and either is capable of breaking a close game wide open.

Coach Roy Kieval of the Reapers will go with the same lineup that walloped Lefors and will start Gary Davis at post, Ken Hebert and Charles Price at forwards and Guy Cloud and Richard Rexroat at guards.

Davis is the rebounding ace while

Ninth grade scorers and teams are:

Name, School	Points
Hebert, Pampa	46
Sikes, Lee	18
Bridges, Lee	18
Davis, Pampa	13
Storrs, Lee	8
Stewart, Lee	6
Barnes, Pampa	6
Rexroat, Pampa	4
Willis, Pampa	4
Cloud, Pampa	2
Triplehorn, Lee	2
Sanders, Lee	2
Wells, Lee	2
Gregory, Lee	2

Hebert put on a one-man show against Lefors, racking up 46 points, 16 more than the whole Lefors team.

In the Lee-Austin eighth grade encounter — the opening game for both teams — Rebel coach Bill Kennedy will start Keith Griffith, 6-0, at high post and David McDaniel, 6-0, at low post in his tandem set-up.

Lee's three guards will be Richard Fatheree, 5-7, the team's playmaker; Charles Snuggs, 5-9, and San Williams, 5-8.

The Rebels' second unit will be composed of Robert Howard, 5-9, and Charles Jaynes, 6-0, at posts, and Kerry Roper, 5-8, Tom Healey, 5-7, and Bill Henry, 5-8, at guards.

Optimists Set Bouts

Fists, padded of course, will be flying all around the Optimist Boys Club building at 7:30 p.m. tonight when boxers from Hereford, Borgert and Lefors do battle with fellow fighters from Pampa.

Optimist Coach Ollie Wilhelm has carded at least a 15-fight slate for tonight but a few fights may be added in case one of the three visiting teams brings extra punchers.

One of the expected attractions tonight will be the appearance of Charles Coffee, a battling welterweight. Coffee has been in the Optimist program for several years before going into the Navy but is now home on leave.

CANCEL FIGHT

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A scheduled 10-round lightweight bout between Jackie Donnelly of Buffalo, N.Y., and Vic Diamond of Frankfort, Pa., for Dec. 6 has been cancelled because of Donnelly's disagreement over financial arrangements.

The fight had been billed as the co-feature to the Joey Giambra-Ralph (Tiger) Jones middleweight bout.

NATS SIGN SUSCE

LOUISVILLE (UPI) — George Susce Sr., a former coach with the Red Sox, Indians and Braves, has been signed as a bullpen coach by the new Washington Senators.

PICTURE NEWS

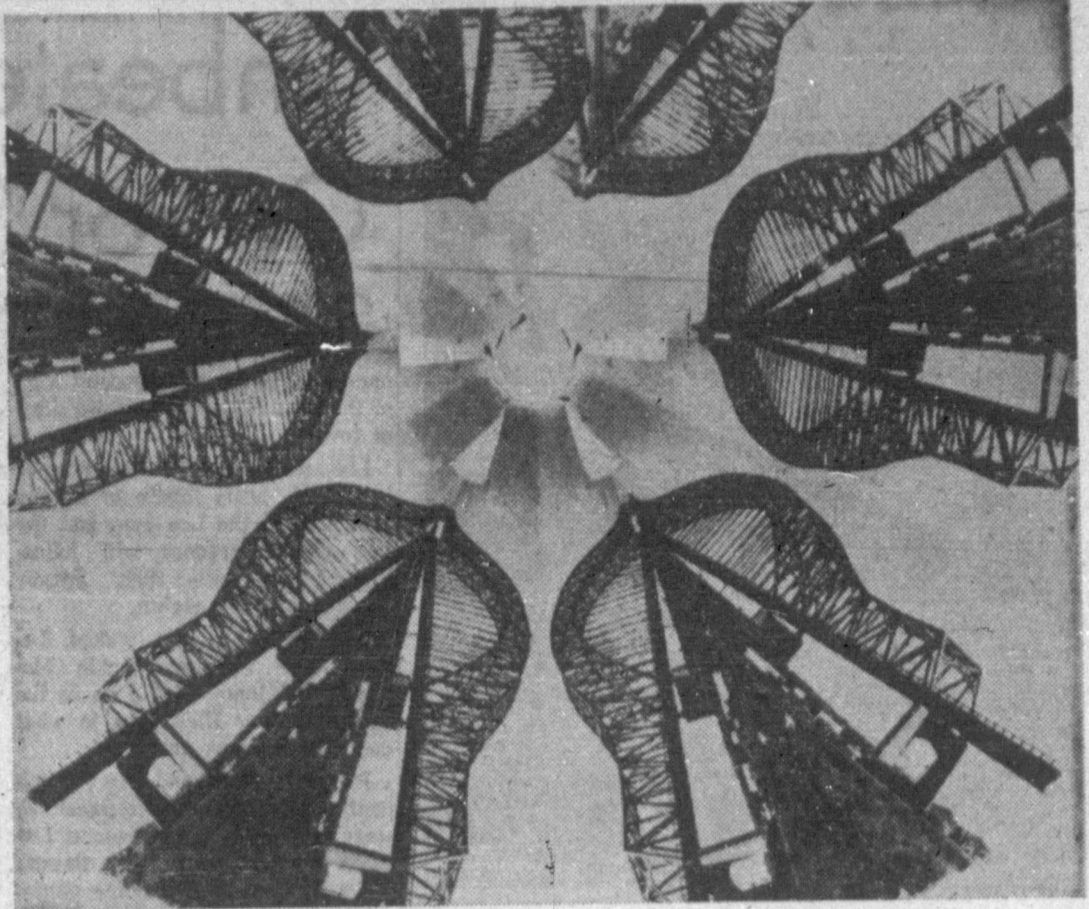

AROUND THE WORLD

IT'S JUST GOSSIP—Although it may look like a political discussion between a donkey and an elephant, it was merely a friendly visit at the zoo in Forrest Park at Fort Worth, Tex. It was probably tinged with curiosity, for each animal undoubtedly considered itself infinitely more beautiful than the other "oddy."

FOR HOLIDAYS — At a fashion showing of Philip Hulitar's holiday collection at the Sheraton-East Hotel in New York, this gown was a highlight. Of beige satin, it has gold autumn leaves applied on it. The matching beige tulle stole carries the same gold leaf motif of the striking gown.

WHAT'SIT TO YOU?—Photogenic surrealism poses this neatly patterned mystery. These could be six-oddy-shaped base fiddles, but they're not. Actually, this is a view of the Julien Dubuque Bridge, crossing the Mississippi River between Dubuque, Iowa, and East Dubuque, Ill., as printed through a kaleidoscope.

POPULAR POP—Restaurateur Tommy Kirk (center) got a surprise baby shower in Seattle, Wash. Friends who wanted to give the father-to-be a present, arranged it with the help of Tommy's wife. The Kirks have three children, the youngest of whom is 17, and they really had not been expecting another addition to their family.

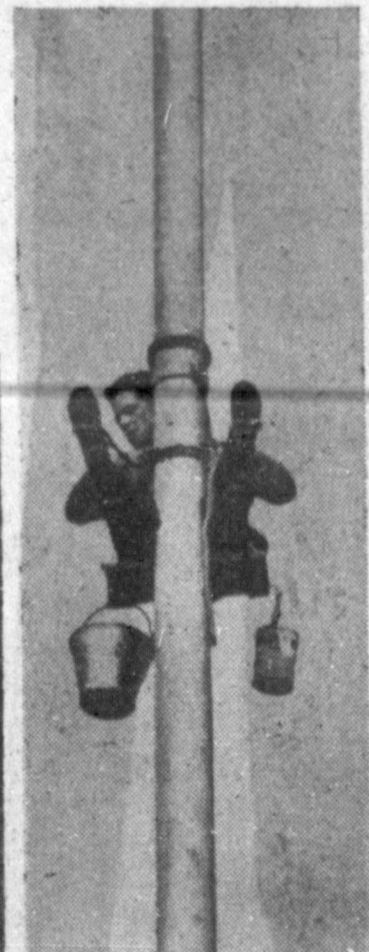

IN THE DEEP—The mysterious-looking silhouettes are not from outer space. They're skin divers at work under the surface of water at Silver Springs, Fla. They were taking part in the filming of a segment for a TV show.

JOLLY THREESOME — At a party for director Alfred Hitchcock (right) at Luchow's Restaurant in New York, it is difficult to tell who's the happiest of this threesome. Actress Joan Tetzel and her husband Oscar Homulka were among the celebrities on hand to honor Hitchcock.

ALL DOGGED OUT—A Yorkshire terrier in Ottawa, Ont., Canada, is doing its best to look its best. Any lady knows that hair curlers are no fun, but this four-footed beauty is enduring "torture" for the sake of a fancy dog show and a crack at first prize.

HANGING AROUND — A nonchalant young man in London seems unworried about his high old fix, even if he is at the end of his rope. He is lashed to a lofty flagpole while he paints atop the National Gallery. The steeplejack's narrow wooden seat is balanced by a paint can and a bucket of water, as they dangle beneath him.

FOR THE BIRDS—And imagine their delight when some feathered creatures move into this five-story bird house in Tokyo, Japan. The cage was on display at a handicraft exhibition, and it featured an Oriental-like pagoda design which should please any prospective tenant.

COLD 'N' FLEECE—They go together in this brush-textured bulky knit sweater, featuring a solid-color ribbed turtle neck with zip front closing. The fleecy fashion is completely washable and shrink-and-stretch-resistant.

HEADING FOR OBLIVION—As a wrecking crew lifted the cupola from this old house in Dallas, Tex., it signalled the end of the two-story structure. But it meant the beginning of a new parking lot, more important in this age.

SWEEP STAKES—Typical of the street sweepers on London streets for many years, a worker at right has cause for concern as he eyes a mechanical rival in the British capital. Built in the U. S., the new power sweeper can clean, dust and even spray a sweet-smelling disinfectant. It can also put a lot of men out of work.

GOING UP AND DOWN—The soaring structures of the Manhattan skyline contrast with the mass of debris fronting them near Central Park. The building at left still has the imprint of stairways and windows of an adjoining structure that was torn down. It is part of a slum clearance project for a new public school on the West Side.

The Truth Finally Known

The idea of getting something for nothing isn't quite the same thing as getting something in the easiest and most convenient manner.

Frequently, these two different attributes of human kind are confused. Much of our progress relates to our ability and willingness to find newer and better ways of getting things done. But much of our lack of progress, and many of our depressions, wars and panics are sired by the traces of larceny in the hearts of so many which cause them to believe they can, or at least to try, to get something for nothing.

One of the basic commandments to be taught every child from the age of two should be that there is no such thing as something for nothing in this world.

Sometimes efforts made by some people to get something for nothing have their humorous touches. Like the young San Francisco couple a few months back who found themselves without a baby sitter when they wanted to go... oh, so badly... to a week-end party.

Well, they came up with a solution which ranks as a Grade A attempt to chisel. They took their two children and committed them to a hospital under the guise of treatment for alleged "upper respiratory ailments."

The young couple figured they could get away with it all right. They had Blue Cross and the prepaid insurance plan was supposed to cover hospitalization for such things.

Fortunately for the sake of some remaining integrity, Blue Cross challenged the bill and refused to pay it. The upshot was that the young father had to pay $95 to cover the hospital costs. We're not certain, but it is possible Blue Cross cancelled him out. If it failed to do so, it missed a trick.

This unsuccessful attempt to get something for nothing crops up all the time in many strange and unique ways. The courts are full of cases where employers have been sued for damages which resulted to employees who were simply going to or from work.

One classic incident occurred in a midwest city where an employer was taken to task because an employee of his, having to drive his car across the railroad tracks in traveling from his home to his place of employment, failed to stop, look and listen.

The unfortunate employee was killed. But the man's family was able to get something for nothing in this case, as the employer was found at fault. It was argued that the employer, a contractor, was erecting a building in a place where crossing the track was mandatory. Therefore, crossing the track was a work hazard and the employer was held responsible.

Without a doubt in the world, the principal source of this "something for nothing" attitude is in the government itself. When "democracy" is relied upon as a device for governing, sooner or later those with the franchise imagine that the government is a bottomless cornucopia of goodies and try to get something for nothing out of it.

Social Security is a well-known instance of this line of reasoning. So are many of the other programs and projects undertaken by our socially slanted regime started since 1789.

In this connection we think the remark of Virgil Jordan is particularly apt. He observed: "The endless repetition of a lie or the multiplication of an empty promise does not make a truth. Truth is something more than the greatest common denominator of mass ignorance and greed. It is never determined or demonstrated by majorities or pluralities of popular error and appetite. Ultimately, with God's aid, it always emerges and finally prevails, supreme in its power over the destiny of mankind, and terrible in its retribution for those who deny, defy, or betray it."

The something for nothing idea is a lie. We have been living this lie in this country for a number of years. The fact that the lie has been repeated almost endlessly does not make it true and cannot make it true. We have a rather uneasy feeling that the discovery of this mammoth falsehood is close upon us. And as Jordan observed, those who live by this lie may suffer a terrible retribution.

The Kraft Konzept

We have never heard of it before, but now we run across the name of John F. Kraft, Inc., an apparently independent research firm of New York. On the basis of a report issued from this firm to the National Education Association, the results of which were carried in the NEA Journal, we suspect that this is only a part of the name. Perhaps it should be Kraft and Steath.

According to the NEA Journal the Kraft research people were given eight questions. Just what these questions were and how they were worded is not revealed in the article, but there is something close to a revelation.

The article referred to appears in the November issue of the NEA official mouthpiece and is entitled: "The Public Favors Federal Support." But it contains this paragraph: "From a list of eight 'problems,' persons interviewed were asked to select the two or three they considered as most important. In this list, 'getting better schools and teachers' ranked fourth. It trailed only 'national defense,' 'negotiations with Khrushchev and the Russians,' and 'keeping prices down and inflation in check.' It outranked 'civil rights,' and 'aid and welfare to old people,' and 'keeping taxes down.'"

This paragraph in itself is revealing, although we take leave to doubt the accuracy of the findings. Even if we accept what is said at face value it appears that people feel that keeping prices down and holding inflation in check is more important than getting better schools and teachers.

But, of course, the NEA publication doesn't intend giving a well-balanced picture on anything and slants virtually everything it puts out in an effort to make it appear that government schools are an answer to every problem.

According to the Kraft poll, here are some of the results as revealed by the NEA. Asked whether or not the federal share of support for schools as compared with the state and local share was "too little; about right; too much, right"; 25 per cent said "too little"; 25 per cent said "about right"; 25 per cent said "too much, right"; 4 per cent said "not sure."

Then, when asked if the federal government should increase its participation 65 per cent favored increase, of whom 34 per cent wanted "a lot" of increase, 25 per cent wanted "a little" increase and 6 per cent were "not sure." And to go on, 23 per cent favored continued support at present levels; 2 per cent favored a decrease; 4 per cent favored "do away with it entirely"; 6 per cent wasn't sure.

This kind of statistical gathering is right down the alley occupied by the NEA and they have quite naturally jumped on it and made it a lead article in their monthly effusion. What is basic here, is the recognition that among persons who feel that prices must be kept down and inflation halted, a preponderance of expressed viewpoint regarding education was that costs should be pushed up and let inflation keep on spiraling. We can't hold the Kraft people responsible for that. There are probably millions of people in this nation who still can't seem to figure out why we can't have more government goodies in the same package with a lowered tax bill.

But while it can readily be admitted by all and sundry that education costs money, it is becoming more and more matter of man-on-the-street recognition that money doesn't necessarily improve education. The NEA's position has consistently been: "Give us enough money and we can do anything." But the evidence shows rather well that increased budgets and enlarged school expenditures do not improve calibres either of teachers or what they teach. What should be recognized is that whatever sums do get into the hands of teachers and educators, the sums should be freely and voluntarily given.

Any sum of money which is taken by the force and violence of collective government action is too much. The NEA operates on public plunder and as such is in error whatever the facts may add up to after this fact.

Robbery and rhetoric don't go together. And public polls urging more expenditures for schools would look a great deal different if the people polled realized that all the money talked about was going to come out of their own pockets.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK — It is ten days until Thanksgiving — all right, nine, then — but you may as well start thinking about it. Thanksgiving is a long chalk from what you usually think. For example: it didn't take place at Plymouth, Mass. It took place at the Pilgrims' Plantation. It was not a religious occasion drenched in prayer. It was a harvest festival, an idea borrowed from the Indians, and prayer was a daily fact with the Pilgrims and did not need a special day.

If the facts were known — and people have tried for years to make them known, but to small avail — Thanksgiving did not become an annual event until 1863, 242 years after the first Pilgrim harvest feast. For many years it wasn't even national. It was regional, here and there. Actually, each of the colonies appointed its own day and that day often enough did not coincide with the day in the next colony. If you want to fine tune down to hard truth: it wasn't a day. There was a whole week of festival. The festival spirit did, however, contain one basic stricture: they never played ball on the holiday. Other times they did.

If you ever read a menu of the first Thanksgiving, it is a fake. The Pilgrims did not hand down the menu for that day. It is doubtful even that they sat down at prepared tables. It was more like an outdoor barbecue, with all hands standing around and enjoying snacks.

There was no proclamation for that first Thanksgiving in November, 1621. The people just passed the word around among themselves and made a sort of community celebration of it. They did exchange food. If one family lacked food, a family with more than enough gave them some and took corn or some other edible in exchange. The first proclamation as a formal matter was issued by the town council of Charlestown, Massachusetts, dated June 20, 1678, designating June 29, 1676, as a day for public Thanksgiving. That one, obviously, had nothing to do with the autumnal harvest festival idea.

Earlier, Boston held a day of Thanksgiving, but not by formal proclamation. That was on Feb. 22, 1690, to celebrate the safe arrival of ships bringing food and friends from Europe. For ships to make the Atlantic crossing in full safety in mid-winter at that time was more miracle than feat.

The Thanksgiving notion spread with such fervor through the colonies because, for one thing, it gave opportunity to have a little fun in the midst of wracking work and the drive merely to keep alive. Second, it gave the colonies a chance for a festival all their own while they awaited such messengers as England, France, Christmas and Easter. They felt that by creating their own festivals they diminished these two days, held to be specifically British.

There was one Thanksgiving in reverse. It became apparent by July, 1823, that there would be a severe, tragic crop failure and that the coming winter would be an ordeal. The governor appointed July 30, 1823, as a day for fasting and prayer in the hope that Providence, somehow, would take them out of their fast approaching plight.

And finally, from old Gov. Bradford, himself, these words: "They began now to gather in ye small harvest they had, and to fit up their houses and dwellings against winter, being all well recovered in health and strength, and had all things in good plenty; for as some were thus employed in affairs abroad, others were exercised in fishing, about cood and bass, and other fish, of which ye took store, of which every family had their portion. All ye somer there was no want. And now began to come in store of fould, as winter approached. And best vision, etc. Best hope had about a peck a meal a weeke to a person, or now since harvest, Indian come to ye proportion."

Master Bradford's spelling is intact. And for much of this I an indebted to Coronet Instructional Films, which has just completed filming the first truly authentic portrayal of the Pilgrims' first year in America, including the landing of the Mayflower and the first Thanksgiving. The site was the Plymouth Plantation.

RED CHINESE MAY FREE AMERICANS MEETINGS UNDERWAY THIS WEEK IN WARSAW

WASHINGTON — There is an outside chance Red China has at long last decided to liberate the five Americans serving long sentences on phony spy charges.

Basis of this glimmer of hope is a meeting in Warsaw this week between Ambassador Jacob Beam and Ambassador Wang Ping-nan — the 102nd of these deliberations that have been underway since September, 1955.

Because the Communist enemy sought this latest session, hope has revived that the long-imprisoned Americans may be freed.

When he submitted this request to Beam last week, Wang Ping-nan gave no hint as to the reason for it. They last met on October 16, without any results or the slightest indication that other meetings would be any more productive.

State Department authorities conjecture that with the Christmas season approaching, Peiping may be preparing to make a spectacular propaganda gesture by liberating the imprisoned Americans. However, it is readily admitted this is merely a surmise.

Secretary of State Herter has directed Ambassador Beam, in his conference with Wang Ping-nan, to again stress the following three U.S. stands:

- (1) Release of the five Americans; (2) exchange of newspaper correspondents with no strings attached; (3) renunciation of the use of armed force in the Formosa area. The Reds have persistently balked at these demands.

President-elect Kennedy has been apprized of the latest Warsaw meeting and approves of it. He is also represented as favoring continuing these discussions, but possibly on a different level.

Beyond that general thought, his views haven't crystallized. But it is a problem he plans to ask his secretary of state to personally consider and submit recommendations.

During the course of these five-year-old exchanges, the Communists have twice tried to shift them to the foreign ministers level. They first proposed this while the talks were being held in Prague. The late Secretary John Foster Dulles indicated he might consider that if the Reds first liberated the five Americans and renounced the use of armed force in the Formosa Strait.

Peiping wouldn't agree, and nothing came of the matter. When Secretary Herter succeeded Dulles, the Communists again attempted to raise the protracted discussions to the ministerial level. But Herter reiterated Dulles' requirements, and the Reds once more refused to meet them.

The five-year-old meetings were agreed to by the U.S. on assurances that all American prisoners would be freed. Twenty-three were released in 1955, within a few months after the talks started. But the Communists have steadfastly refused to liberate the other five on the ground they were convicted of espionage.

The parents of two of them, John Thomas Downey, New Britain, Conn.; and Richard Fecteau, Lynn, Mass., have been admitted to China to visit them. Downey and Fecteau are Army civilian employees who were captured during the Korean war. Charged with being spies, Downey was sentenced for life, and Fecteau given 20 years. The other prisoners are Bishop Walsh, Washington, D.C.; H. F.

Americans Face 'Cold' Outlook

HEIDELBERG, Germany — One of the gravest dangers an American faces in Europe is fresh air.

Yes, plain, old-fashioned, country fresh air. It is more likely to cause his downfall than, say, other and more visible dangers such as bicyclists, wandering cows with long horns and ribbons round their necks, dall automobile drivers, Brussels sprouts three times a day, feather beds a mile deep, and green salads.

This is especially true in winter when, in Europe, as in many other parts of the world, the fresh air gets cold.

In the United States we make a determined effort to keep cold, fresh air outside where it belongs. We insulate roofs, weather-strip doors and windows, and sometimes go so far as to plug keyholes.

Over here people are not so unfriendly to fresh air. In fact, they are downright sociable with the stuff. They seem to feel that fresh air, like people, should come in doors when the weather becomes freezing, and have a chance to warm up.

To facilitate the entrance of the fresh air, the people throw open the windows and doors as soon as they wake in the morning, and keep them open for most of the day. The fresh air does not overlook this opportunity to come in doors and mingle with the folks.

It rushes in, pell-mell, and makes itself at home in parlor, bedroom, and bath. Also under chairs and sofas and in closets.

Many hotelkeepers run their inns the same way they do their homes, which means that hotels are also swept by frigid winds most of the time.

The hotel I am in here should change its name to the Himalaya-Hilton, or Little America Haus, or the Polar Ritz.

It's cold here in Heidelberg, it's damp, and there is a sailboat sort of breeze blowing, and my hotel is as wide open as a bombed-out dog kennel.

To keep my room closed I would have to forget my business and stay indoors 24 hours a day, for the moment I walk out of it the maid comes in and raises the windows, ties back the curtains, and opens the door so that ventilation will be through, across and sideways.

She then hangs the mattress and bedclothes out the window to insure that I will have a fresh and freeing bed when I retire.

I have told her to keep the windows shut, and the door, too, and she says, "Ya! 'Ya!' and opens them wider. There is no chance of my overpowering her and making her do as I say, for she is built along solid, Teutonic lines, and could make the Notre Dame line without taking off her apron.

Besides, I am so brittle with cold that one swat from her and I'd break in two.

Typing in an overcoat isn't too bad, and neither is reading in one. But sleeping in an overcoat is getting me down. I roll a lot when I sleep, and the buttons on my coat are very large, and I am beginning to look as cratered as does the moon.

Fair Enough

Watch Kennedy's Labor Attitude

WASHINGTON — Although the next President has strong ties with the union racket, it does not necessarily follow that he will forbear to smash this great criminal dictatorship at last. This would be a shocking reform which might not endear Kennedy to the people as a nice man. But few regard him as a nice man now and, as Leo Durocher put it with superb cynicism, nice guys finish last. Kennedy is, and will come to be almost unanimously regarded as, a man without loyalties. He proved his ruthlessness in the campaign and, since then, his contempt for the moral intelligence of the people. It cannot be inferred from his theatrical embrace of Nixon that he regrets or withdraws anything he said against Nixon's character in the campaign. But Nixon likewise lent himself to the mockery so that honors, if such they be, are even.

The worst domestic threat is the labor union. It is a Mafia with a proven record of crime ranging from bomb explosions, mayhem (as in the spectacular case of Victor Riesel, who was blinded by acid), to extortion of thousands of millions. Kennedy knows more than most Americans about this beetle-browed criminal force. He would lose no face with the public by turning against some union leader; now that he has no further need of them and pressing Congress for a labor law to deprive unions of the criminal privileges they brazenly claim as a rightful, though not moral, due without which they could not exist. They have stated this position many times.

No President ever has done this. Roosevelt, of course, used union mobs, including the communists of the early CIO, the same as Mussolini and Hitler used the black and brown shirts. They scoured Michigan, much of Ohio and Pennsylvania, and were stopped only when Captain Mooney, a great Chicago policeman, and Captain Barnes, his admirable successor, drew a deadline against insurrection. Captain Mooney's

Advice To Buyer: Think Of User

NEW YORK (UPI) — Men's toiletries, one of the most popular Christmas gift items, can wind up merely occupying shelf space unless some thought is given to choice, according to an expert in the field.

"Sometimes there is a great difference between what a man can use or wants and what he gets in ties," said Howard M. Rand Jr., of Citation House, which manufactures men's toiletries.

"More women than men purchase men's gift toiletries, and women sometimes select the type that appeals to them—not men," Rand said.

Rand said research had determined that women favor a long, slender shape for a bottle, whereas men prefer a short, squat shape.
