Serious Gaps In Our Knowledge

Why U. S. Spies Are Necessary

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ray Cromley, Pampa Daily News and NEA Pentagon reporter, tells in the following article the chilling reasons why we must try to see inside the Iron Curtain. Cromley has written three exclusive dispatches. The first appears today.

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Here is the disturbing inside story of why the U.S. is making desperate, chancy attempts to spy on the interior of the Soviet Union.

It could be a matter of our national survival.

The truth is we don't know where even one of Nikita Khrushchev's big intercontinental ballistic missile launching sites is located.

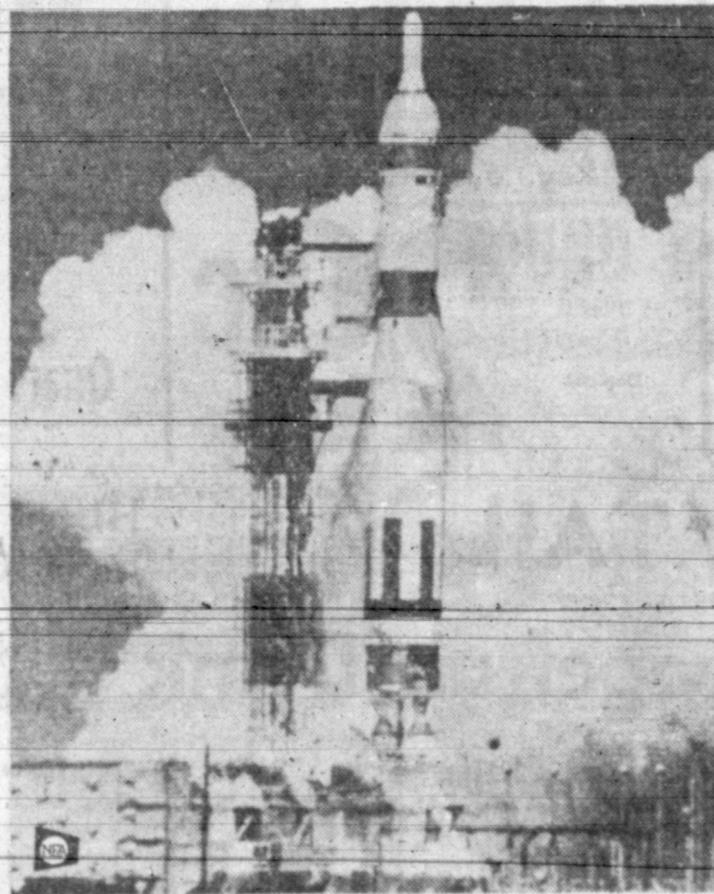

We know the top priority push Khrushchev is putting on ICBMs. We know where Russia's experimental testing sites are. But we don't know where the big military birds that could destroy U.S. cities would come from.

Not knowing where those ICBM launching bases are could be disastrous. It could make us sitting ducks for a surprise Red missile attack some Sunday morning.

If these missile sites were known, the U.S. would find a way to monitor them, spot missiles as they blasted off. That would give the Strategic Air Command and other U.S. defenders the vital extra minutes they need to prevent disaster.

We have not a scrap of evidence on how many atomic submarines the Soviet Union is building. We don't know where they are being built. We don't know, in fact, whether any are being built at all. We just guess they are.

We have only scraps of direct information on how many intercontinental missiles the Russians are (See SPIES, Page 4)

U.S. RELEASES photos such as this of Titan ICBM launching, but the Russians are never so obliging.

Corcoran Linked To Pipeline Firm

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House investigator charged today that a gas pipeline company sent lawyer Thomas G. (Tommy) the Cork Corcoran to talk to Federal Power Commissioners in a deliberate attempt to sway their decision on a pending case.

The charge was made by Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) as a subcommittee opened its third day of questioning FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall about talks he and other agency members had with Corcoran about the case last October.

Bennett called attention to a statement issued last month by Gardner Symonds, board chairman of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., which paid Corcoran, one-time New Deal "brain trust," a retainer of $5,000 a month plus expenses.

Symonds said he sent Corcoran to talk to the commissioners to be sure they understood the company's position in the case. It involved the petition of a subsidiary for approval of a pipeline to ship gas from Canada to the Midwest.

Public hearings on the case had been completed and it was awaiting a decision by the FPC.

GROOM (Sp) — Rev. Leon Hill of the Amarillo Baptist Church was the guest speaker at the Lions Club meeting Saturday night.

Club members entertained their wives at the fête. A total of 70 guests attended.

Lipscomb County, the only Panhandle county to show a decline, dropped from 3,658 to 3,395.

Spearman, county seat of Hansford County, jumped from 852 to 3,545 on the strength of an oil boom.

Population Up In Amarillo To 137,083

AMARILLO (UPI)—The city of Amarillo has almost doubled in size during the past 10 years.

U.S. Census officials said the population zoomed from 74,246 in 1950 to 137,083 today. That's an increase of almost 63,000 for the city that has grown from a Panhandle town of 1,442 in 1900.

Population gains were also recorded in other parts of the Panhandle. Ochiltree County jumped from 3,264 to 9,288; Carson County increased from 4,892 to 7,727.

Castro County went from 5,717 to 8,894, and Palmer County increased from 3,787 to 9,492.

Ferryman, county seat of Ochiltree County, jumped from a population of 4,417 in the 1950 census to its present 7,823 figure, an increase of 3,406 in the last ten years.

Lipscomb County, the only Panhandle county to show a decline, dropped from 3,658 to 3,395.

Spearman, county seat of Hansford County, jumped from 852 to 3,545 on the strength of an oil boom.

SAC Speaker At C of C Meeting

The chamber of commerce's next membership meeting will be a joint session with the Jaycees at the Coronado Inn May 31.

Gen. Stanley Pottinger, commander of the Strategic Air Command base at Amarillo, will be the guest speaker and will discuss the operations of the A11 Force and its overall defense program.

The meeting will be open to the public, but reservations must be made at the chamber of commerce office in City Hall.

Cubans Kill Flier

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—An American pilot tentatively identified as Matthew Edward Duke, 42, of Palm Beach, Fla., today was reported killed by Cuban police when he landed a light plane on the outskirts of Havana in an attempt to pick up two men and a woman.

The report of Duke's unsuccessful attempt to pluck the three persons out of Cuba was carried by local radio stations.

They said he landed in the Havana outskirts early this morning in a small Apache plane with the marking "N4565."

Two Soviets Caught Spying On U.S. Bases

By PETER UEBERSAX
United Press International

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—Two Soviet diplomats caught spying on U.S. rocket bases in West Germany and Swiss radar installations were expelled today in what the government called the gravest case of Soviet espionage here since the war.

While Switzerland tightened security measures against Communist diplomats the two Russian spies boarded a Czech plane with their families and took off from Zurich for Prague. They carried flowers and waved gaily as they left.

The two embassy secretaries listed on the passenger list as "Modin" and "Frolov" were caught red-handed Tuesday in Zurich while planning to meet a Soviet agent here. The incident stunned a country already confused by and critical of the U.S. "spy plane" incident in Russia.

They were ordered Wednesday to leave within 24 hours. Today they flew back behind the Iron Curtain.

Public hearings on the case had been completed and it was awaiting a decision by the FPC.

En route, he jumped out of his campaign station wagon at a traffic light, dashed through traffic and shook hands with three construction workers standing beside a man-hole.

Crowds were sparse because of a drizzle and intermittent rain. But Kennedy shook hands, signed autographs, patted babies and chatted with anyone within range.

"American education today is in a crisis, and the sorry prospects are that without prompt federal action that crisis will only grow worse," he told the United Women's Democratic Club in this suburban community near the nation's capital.

Kennedy had a folksy morning coffee session, marked by applause and titters, with a large group of women Democrats at Bethesda.

In addition to the Rockville speech, Kennedy scheduled two early morning talks at scientific laboratories, a dedication of a county Democratic club building, a tea, and hand-shaking visits to several shopping centers.

The Gray County Republican convention will be held in the county court house Saturday at 3 p.m.

The convention will elect 17 delegates and 17 alternates for the three state conventions — at McAllen May 30; San Antonio, June 14, and Galveston, Sept. 20.

Republican Chairman Clayton Husted said all county Republicans and conservative Democrats are invited to attend Saturday's convention.

Verifies Powers To Be Tried

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in a statement passed today by censors that further American reconnaissance flights over Russia might lead to an atomic war. He said the pilot of a spy plane downed by Russia would be tried as a spy.

Newsmen asked him at an impromptu press conference Wednesday what would happen to Francis G. Powers, 39, of Albany, Ga., pilot of a U2 reconnaissance jet shot down May 1 near Sverdlovsk, 1,300 miles inside Russia.

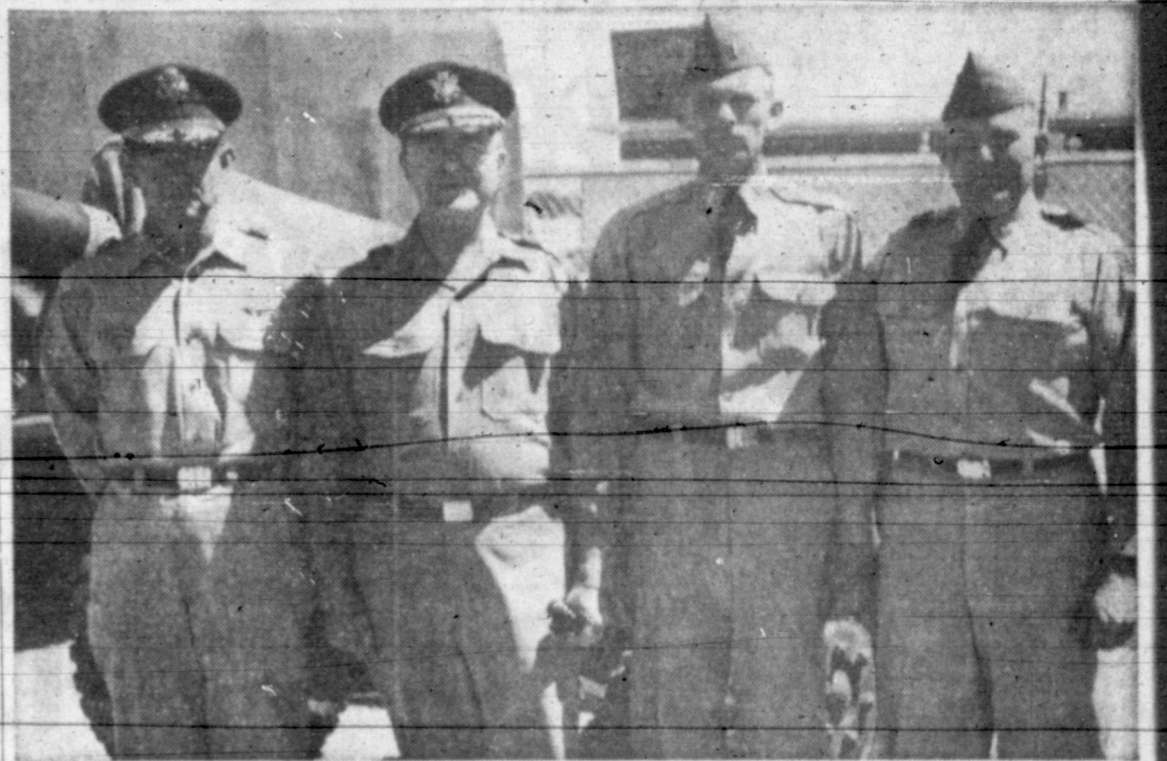

"We shall try him, try him severely as a spy," Khrushchev said.

"You understand that if such aggressive actions continue this might lead to war," he said. He said further aggression against the Soviet Union will be met "with atom bombs in the first few minutes."

Such spy flights are "highly dangerous" events, he said.

There was no official explanation of the delay in releasing Khrushchev's statements. Many of the quotes held up were directed against Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his announcement that reconnaissance flights would continue.

"If the United States has not experienced a real war on its territory, has not experienced air raids, and if it wishes to unleash a war, we shall be compelled to (See TRIED, Page 4)

MUMS FOR MS — Harvester Band members will sell mums Saturday in cooperation with the fund-raising drive for Multiple Sclerosis, being conducted locally and nationally for the next two weeks. Band members, Sandy Whelchel and Susan Kay, front row, from left, and Gail Culpepper and Anna Jo Watson, back row, are pictured as they prepare boxes of mums which will be offered for sale Saturday. Ike Still Willing To Visit Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today said he would not cancel his plans to go to Russia in June unless Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev withdraws his invitation.

The President said, however, that if Khrushchev were to follow up his highly critical remarks by withdrawing the invitation, it would be all right with him and the time can be easily utilized elsewhere.

The President's comment on Khrushchev's remarks of Wednesday were made to 17 GOP congressmen attending another in a series of White House breakfasts.

The congressmen reported Eisenhower said that Khrushchev will have to withdraw his invitation in a face to face meeting at the summit in Paris next week before Eisenhower cancels the Moscow visit.

Two subjects dominated the conversation this morning. They were Eisenhower's continued hopes for some degree of progress toward peace at the summit meeting and the remarks of the Soviet Premier who told reporters he would be "mad" if he asked the Russian people to welcome a man who sent espionage planes over their country.

Khrushchev's remarks were made after the President's defense of intelligence tactics as reflected in the American plane downed by the Russians May 1.

The President told his news conference Wednesday that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Russia were "a distasteful but vital necessity" to help this country guard against "another Pearl Harbor" surprise attack.

Khrushchev later raised the question of whether Eisenhower would be welcome in Russia. He said he was "horrified" to learn that the President had endorsed aerial spy missions over Russia. The State Department, meanwhile, prepared to send a note to Russia on the plane incident. It was expected to renew the U.S. demand for an interview with pilot Francis G. Powers, who has been held incommunicado since May 1.

American officials noted that under the 1933 Litvinoff Agreement, in which the United States recognized the Soviet Union, both nations said such interviews would be granted "without delay."

Aldridge held four shots from his .38-caliber revolver and Tucker was wounded in the neck, but he felt whether the wound was from a bullet or flying glass. The bullet may have passed completely through his neck.

Motorist Savagely Beats Patrolman

ODESSA (UPI)—Wesley Tucker, 30, crept up behind motorcycle officer Roy Aldridge Wednesday night and bit him over the head with a tire tool "15 or 20 times" before Aldridge drew his revolver and shot at him, police said today.

Aldridge held Tucker at bay with the revolver until other police arrived to arrest him. But Tucker bit off another policeman's right middle finger before they finally subdued him.

Officers Aldridge was wearing his motorcycle crash helmet and that's all that saved his life," police dispatcher J. D. Sharp said. "He suffered a broken jaw, lost most of his bottom teeth and some upper teeth, and has a possible skull fracture."

Aldridge was in surgery at Medical Center Hospital until 1:30 a.m.

Blows from the tire tool split Aldridge's crash helmet before he fell to the pavement and pulled guard against "another Pearl

An unseasonable cold snap dropped thermometers to record lows in Dallas, Waco, Austin and San Angelo early today, and Fort Worth and Lubbock had readings that equaled previous record lows for this late in the spring.

Generally fair weather with mild days and cool nights will last through Friday, the U.S. Weather Bureau said.

Lubbock had 33 degrees before dawn today for the lowest reading in the state. San Angelo had 28, Dallas 42, Waco 45, Austin 47 and Fort Worth 44. The high minimum was Presidio's 66.

Some clouds lingered in extreme South Texas today, but most weather stations reported clear skies. Rainfall amounts in the 24 hours ended at 6 a.m. included .38 inch at Corpus Christi, .33 at Victoria, .28 at San Antonio, .22 at Waco and .06 at Austin.

Telephone Gets Telephones

TELEPHONE, Tex. (UPI)—Telephone, which has been without telephones for nearly 11 years, has telephones again.

But the return of service has created a new problem. "You can't get a number on any line after school is out," said Homer Sledge, principal of the Telephone public school. "All the kids are calling their friends. They haven't had any trouble with the new dial system — but the old folks have."

Foreign News

The Almanac

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign Editor

By United Press International

It is estimated that one Soviet citizen in every hundred is a part-time policeman.

In comparable terms, that means that the Soviet Union needs about 15 times as many policemen to insure law and order in its people's paradise as does the United States.

These and other revealing statistics dealing with events behind the carefully guarded Iron Curtain have been gathered by Radio Free Europe whose transmitters beam news of the Western world to the captive nations and whose staff also spends considerable time eulling through Communist publications and monitoring Communist broadcasts.

The idea of part-time policemen was introduced in the Soviet Union in 1958, and since has been taken up with enthusiasm by the satellite states. In the Soviet Union alone, it is estimated that these people's militia, as they are called, total about two and a half million persons.

In the heavy jargon of Communism, their job is to fight against "immoral manifestations" among the people and they have the right to invade private homes in pursuit of their duties.

"Immoral manifestations" run the gamut from the sin of too free criticism of the regime to absenteeism and larceny on the job.

Working hand in hand with these part-time policemen are the "Comradely Courts" which are informal affairs in which the delinquent worker's fellows undertake to brain-wash him.

These courts, too, are widespread throughout the satellites.

The figures revealing the extent to which a police state must go to enforce its discipline also disclose a somewhat less than ideal attitude among many of the workers.

One Comradely Court dealt with a worker who threw an unfriendly iron bar at his foreman.

Many of the cases cited dealt with drunkenness on the job. Others disclosed widespread absenteeism, a reluctance to "volunteer" for overtime work, and a most non-Communist desire to turn a fast ruble on the black market with goods pilfered from the local factory.

In Czechoslovakia a Comradely Court recently dealt harshly with youths who "under the influence of alcohol party demolished the public lighting system in the village, smashed the windows of the collective building and overturned three gravestones in the cemetery, among them that of a Soviet soldier."

A Moscow broadcast which dealt with the building of human character spoke bitterly of shortcomings at a metallurgical plant in Kazakhstan. It told of "loafers" who in the midst of a bitter winter, allowed the heating system to freeze in the workers' settlement.

RELEASE MILLIONAIRE
SINGAPORE (UPI) — Kidnaped millionaire Ong Chen Gialang, 44, has been released, reportedly for a sizeable ransom, it was disclosed today.
He was thrown out of a car on a rural road here Friday night, but his family kept the information secret until Ong recovered from nearly nine days as a bound and gagged captive.

Today is Thursday, May 12, 133rd day of the year, with 233 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1780, the entire Continental Army of 25,000 soldiers surrendered to the British commander.
In 1789, a group of New York mechanics and small tradesmen, tavernkeepers and minor political leaders formed the Society of Tammany, which later turned into a political group identified exclusively with politics of the Democratic Party.

In 1820, English nurse Florence Nightingale was born.

In 1932, searchers found the body of the baby son of Col. Charles Lindbergh. He had been kidnapped on March 1.

In 1949, Soviet occupation authorities ended their land blockade of Berlin after 323 days.

Thought for today: English poet John Milton said in "Areopagitica": "As good almost kill a man as kill a good book; who kills a man kills a reasonable creature, God's image; but he who destroys a good book kills reason itself."

BOOMERANG
IONIA, Mich. (UPI) — Told to follow Mrs. Viola Teroxel on her first day as a policewoman, TV cameraman Jim Trueblood witnessed her first official act—hanging a parking ticket on his car.

EASILY IDENTIFIED
GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Police had little trouble spotting the hitchhiker described by an excited motorist Tuesday.
They drove out and picked up Donald R. Maness, 25, who still was wearing the prison uniform and handcuffs he had on when he escaped.

Scholarships Awarded At PHS Assembly

The 20th Century Club, in a break with its traditional method of awarding scholarships to Pampa High School seniors, donated a special award of $100 to Phillip Gist in a special assembly program Wednesday.

The club's regular $200 scholarship went to Kenneth Miller. But in a surprise move, club members decided to give Gist the special award.

Other scholarships which went to seniors in the special assembly program included:

Lynna Wilhelm (Classroom Teachers Association); Mary Beth Harris (Delta Kappa, G. M. M. A.); Lena Pearl Hawkins (American Association of University Women); Barbara Ann Johnson (Top O' Texas Medical Auxiliary); Mert Cooper (Women's Society of Christian Service); Nannette Flynn (A Cappella Choir); Henriette DeNardini (Gray County Heart Association); Karen Capps (Altruus 20th Century Forum); Mary Beth Harris (20th Century Forum); Nita and Rita Cartwright (Altruus Club); Henriette DeNardini (Opti-Mrs.); and James Wilson (Richard Drug).

The scholarships' value varied from $100 to $500.

Mrs. E. L. Norman, who is retiring this month after some 35 years of teaching, also was honored at the assembly.

General Inspects Reserves

Maj. Gen. C. Stanton Babcock, VIII Army Corp commander from Austin inspected the facilities of the Pampa Army reserve unit during a brief stopover here Wednesday.

Maj. Albert S. Wimberley, commander of the third battalion of the 78th artillery at Amarillo, was on tour with Gen. Babcock.

Maj. Wimberley pointed out that if the VIII corp was forced to mobilize, it could summon three complete divisions totalling 40,000 men.

"When we re-organized last year our corp was made up of the entire state of Texas," Maj. Wimberley said. "Before that we took in Oklahoma too, and were known as the T-O division."

"We're still called the T-O division, but now it stands for Texas' Own and has nothing to do with Oklahoma."

Rites Today For Thomas W. Cobb

McLEAN (Sp) - Funeral services for Thomas Wheeler Cobb were held in the McLean Methodist Church today at 2 p.m., with the Rev. Jack Rely, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Cobb died in Highland General Hospital at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday. He was a retired employee of Warren Petroleum Co.

Mr. Cobb was born in Arlington, Tex., October 1, 1889, moving from there to Hollis, Okla., in 1927 and from Hollis to McLean in 1931, becoming engaged in farming.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn B. of McLean; two sons, James B. of the armed services, and Thomas W. of Arlington; one daughter, Mrs. Carl Pettit, Jr., of Dumas; one sister, Mrs. Jim Wheeler of McLean; one brother, G. W. Cobb of Carthage, Mo., and five grandchildren.

Burial was in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of Richerson-Lamb Funeral Home.

Batteas Rites To Be Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Batteas, 80, who died at Highland General Hospital Wednesday, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the First Methodist Church in Mobeetie.

Interment will be at Wheeler where she lived from 1921 to 1950. In 1950 she moved to Mobeetie where she lived until her death.

She is survived by her husband, William Claude Batteas; three sons, W. D. of Roby, Sam of Pampa, and Elmer of Goodland; three daughters, Mrs. Minnie Wood of Amarillo, Mrs. Lois Wright of Hachita, N.M., and Mrs. Hazel Sifford of Adrian; three brothers; three sisters; 24 grandchildren; 30 great grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

W. E. Ferguson Rites Set Friday

Interment rites for Walter Elmer Ferguson of Miami will be held 2 p.m. Friday in First Christian Church Miami with the Rev. Howard E. Grant, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Ferguson died 1 a.m. yesterday in Highland General Hospital. Burial will be in Higgins Cemetery.

"We knew then that the Japanese were up to something. We didn't know what until 1 a.m. We did not have an accurate picture of what Japan could do. We didn't have the right defenses in the right places.

The situation is worse now. Pentagon military men say privately. We know less about Russia than we knew about Japan.

"We have far less time in case of attack.

"Any Red atom-missile attack would make Pearl Harbor pale by comparison.

These serious holes in our information about Khrushchev's war weapons won't be solved by planes with big cameras flying near or over Russia.

"That is just one phase of the spy race between Russia and the U.S. It's a race as important and as complicated as the missile race.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with two boys and don't know which one to marry.

First there's Andy. He's sort of blond and sells insurance. Mamma likes him, which helps a lot. He's very reliable and seems anxious to get married.

Then there's Tony. He's dark and sort of gives me the creeps. (But they're awfully nice creeps, if you know what I mean.)

I don't know which one I like best. In the daytime I like Andy, but I believe I like Tony better at night. Which one do you think would make the best husband for me?

ANDY OR TONY?

DEAR "ANDY OR TONY": Don't marry either one, if it's a toss-up. Date others and make comparisons. When "The One" comes along, you'll flip your lid—not a coin.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "HELENE" and said she wanted to divorce her husband because he might go blind at any moment was blind herself. Blind people can live happy, normal lives.

I am 13, Abby, but I know what I am talking about because my father is blind. He has never seen my mother, my sister or me. He went to college after he lost his sight and then he went to Law School. I don't mean to boast, but I think he is the most wonderful father and lawyer in the whole world. Sincerely yours,

CYNTHIA JEANNE RAMSEY

DEAR ABBY: My daughter Millie, who is 16, has been running around with a fellow who is 24. Now I find she's pregnant. He says he can't support himself much less a wife. Can we force him to marry her?

I suppose I should tell that when Millie was 15 she went out with an older man who got her drunk and got her in trouble. We were unable to get any help from the police in finding him because Millie wasn't sure of his name.

Should we try to force this second fellow to marry her? I can't raise another one of her mistakes.

MILLIE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You can't force a man to marry anyone. But he does have obligations toward the support of the child. Furthermore, a man who must be dragged by the neck to the altar would make anything but a desirable husband. How about Millie's moral behavior, Mother? Ask your clergyman or Family Service Association for help in getting your daughter back on the right track. She needs guidance, strength and supervision.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ON THE SPOT": Your husband is right. Return the gift. And tell your foreman that a pink silk nightgown is not an appropriate gift for the occasion under the circumstances.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-Agers Want To Know," send 25 stamps and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Career Girl's Grit Defeats Disease, Offers Inspiring Test Of Courage

By GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise
Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — You're a fashion model, tall, slim, red-haired and beautiful. Life seems stacked in your favor.

Suddenly on the runway during a fashion show in a New York hotel, the sight in your left eye blurs and dims. You almost miss your footing.

Frightened, you make an appointment with an eye specialist. His checkup shows nothing wrong.

You go to your own physician for a complete checkup. He places you in a hospital and thus begins a long battle for health and life. The diagnosis is multiple sclerosis.

This is what happened to Eva Burnay in 1956. A top fashion model, in demand for both photography and fashion shows, she found herself losing co-ordination.

If she tried to pick something up, it slipped from her grasp. She stumbled. Soon she was no longer able to walk. She couldn't turn in bed without being lifted.

"I was frightened," she says today, "so frightened, that my doctor told me only in indirect phrases that I had MS."

"But I was lucky, too. For I had happened to pick a doctor who knew exactly what to do to get me back on my feet."

Her doctor explained to Eva that multiple sclerosis puts muscles out of working order. He said other muscles be re-educated to take on their work.

He showed her how to walk, cutting her long models' stride down to small, shuffling steps. He had her spend long hours learning again just how to hold a cup of coffee.

"The test came," she says "when I tried to walk across my new living room rug with a cup of coffee in one hand. I made it. From then on, I always made it."

Actually, the disease had not come on as suddenly as it seemed. It was traced back to the time when Eva had double vision in her left eye when she was only 14. (Her vision is fine now).

In the hospital, she saw other MS patients who couldn't walk. Later, she met others who walked only with the help of canes or who were confined to wheel chairs.

Her doctor explained to her just how important is a strong will in determining that a disease will not defeat you.

Eva was determined. Looking at Eva Burnay today, you find it hard to believe that she has MS. A tall, willowy beauty—118 pounds over her 5 feet 8 inch-

Eva Burnay

—she has the perfect model's figure. Her eyes are clear and her skin pink-and-white. She walks and moves with assurance.

She is head of her own model agency, one so successful that it rates sixth place in the list of such agencies.

She trains the girls working for her and she is the active head of the business, on the job far longer each day than the average person works.

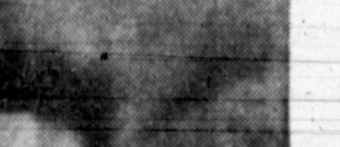

She is still under her doctor's care, has regular checkups and regular vitamin injections. And she knows that here is an arrested case of a disease for which there is yet no known cure.

One great change in her since her early modeling days has come as the result of her experience.

"When you're really something serious to cope with, you're inclined to be impatient with people who complain over unimportant things," she says.

And it's this impatience, of course, that has helped put Eva back on her feet.

At large parties the host and hostess are often too busy greeting guests to make introductions. Introduce yourself.

Sewing Machine Tips Given By HD Agent

4H Club met recently in Grandview School with Miss Kathy Davis, president, in charge of the business meeting which opened with the song led by Miss Juanita Miller.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Gray County Home Demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on how to sew on a sewing machine.

Attending were Kathy Davis, Sharon Maddox, Monnie Wienheimer, Juanita Miller and Connie Burger.

Ingenious Use Of Luggage "Leaves" Provide Filing System For Travel

NEW YORK (UPI) — Take a leaf from the book of one well-traveled Miss when you do your own vacation packing. Use luggage "leaves" to ease the job.

These "leaves" are the do-it-yourself variety — layers of non-woven material which you can buy at any yard goods counter and which seamstresses use for clothes inter-facing. Cut several layers to fit your suitcase (leaves will do for most packing jobs) and stitch-on handles, or lifts, made of the same material.

The "leaves" become lift-out trays, separating into layers various parts of the wardrobe. Use a ballpoint pen to label each handle according to contents of the tray.

"The leaves help in three ways," said Carol Lane, who is women's travel director for the Shell Oil Co. "They give a flat surface so you can get more in a suitcase, they absorb wrinkles, and they provide a filing system so you can lift out an item without disturbing everything else."

Hale, Phyllis Keyser, and Pauline Black, a guest.

Commercial Art Topic For Club

CANADIAN (SpI) — Mrs. Darrell Wiggins was hostess to Arts and Crafts Club in her home recently.

Amarillo AFB Lays Plans For Armed Forces Day Fete

Plans for the area Armed Forces Day celebration are now being finalized, according to Lt. Col. Barna C. Pope, Jr., Amarillo Air Force Base project officer for this year's event.

More than 50,000 visitors are expected to visit the air base for an open house, scheduled Saturday and Sunday May 21 and 22.

In cooperation with the Military Affairs Committee of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, a parade will be held in downtown Amarillo followed by a luncheon for high ranking civilian and military officials of the Panhandle area.

Ted V. Lokey, Jr., chairman of the Chamber Military Affairs Com-

FPC Probers Hear Corcoran

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House influence investigators have dug deeper into an "improper" contact made with the Federal Power Commission chairman by utility lawyer Thomas G. Corcoran, one-time New Deal "brain trust."

The investigating subcommittee recalled to the witness stand FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kukendall.

Kukendall told the lawmakers Tuesday that he received what he considered an "improper" phone call last October from Corcoran, $80,000-a-year lawyer for a pipeline firm involved in a gas rate case.

Indications were that Corcoran would be questioned Thursday at the earliest.

Kukendall and two FPC members who also were contacted by Corcoran, Arthur Kline and William R. Conroy, have said their talks with the attorney did not influence their decision in the case.

Other congressional news:

Drugs: The Consumers Union urged Congress to approve new laws to protect the sick from the danger of low quality drugs. Mrs. Mildred E. Brady, an official of the non-profit organization, told the Senate drug industry investigation in prepared testimony that the rising cost of medicines and the possibility that some might be of poor quality amounted to an "absolutely intolerable situation."

Acting Chairman Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) said there were indications that continuous government inspection of drug manufacturing plants was needed.

Detection: Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), a member of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, criticized President Eisenhower for what he termed an "inexcusable" 18-month delay in starting a research program to learn more about detecting nuclear blasts. Holifield said in a prepared House speech that a presidential committee recommended such a program in March, 1959, but that Eisenhower didn't order it until last week.

Housing: The House Housing subcommittee will begin public hearings Monday on a Democratic proposal to give every American a chance to buy a home in the medium price range with little or no down payment. The legislation also would tap the Treasury to provide easy financing for non-profit corporations to build rental apartments for low and medium income families displaced by slum clearance.

At the Amarillo Air Force Base open house, the star of the show will be the Strategic Air Command's giant B-52 Stratofortress. In addition, the KC-135 tanker, running mate of the B-52, will also be on display with the latest in the Century series fighter aircraft. The Snark Intercontinental missile will be on view together with the Quail decoy missile.

Aircraft from sister services will include two Jet Fighters from the U.S. Navy and an L-19 from the U.S. Army. A USAF C-119 Flying Boxcar will be in the display line-up along the hangar line at the Base.

Academic building and hangars will be open to the public and the latest in training equipment and facilities will be featured. Among displays will be a model classroom, different cutaway views of fuel systems and mock-up of a hydraulic system.

One of the most interesting displays will be in Hangar 4000, where the J-75, J-57 and J-47 engines may be seen. Explanations will be given to the public concerning what type of aircraft use the various engines.

Visitors will be able to tour the Strategic Air Command area, located at the southwest corner of the base, where they can see the B-52's on display and the maintenance facilities used to keep the America's first line of defense in the air.

Other events scheduled for the open house at the base, include a fire fighting demonstration by the Base Fire Department and a band concert by the 58th USAF Band, The Amarillo High School ROTC Drill Team will also perform at the Base and the local Marine Corps Reserve unit will provide a demonstration of the latest combat tactics.

Hustler Trainer Tried Out

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Three pilots put the first trainer version of the B-58 Hustler jet bomber through its maiden flight at speeds faster than sound Tuesday.

They held the one-hour, 40-minute Convair test flight at altitudes above 40,000 feet. Convair Vice-President Frank W. Davis said the test was successful.

Known as the TB-58, the trainer model features added window space that lets an instructor

"look over the shoulder" of the pilot-trainee, who rides in the first of three crew positions.

The TB-58 will provide jet transition and proficiency training for Air Force pilots who will fly the B-58 in Strategic Air Command units. Four TB-58s are on order at Convair, all of them conversions from B-58s used earlier in the B-58 test program.

EXTEND CITY LIMITS

Texans Drum LBJ Support In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A group of Texans tried to drum up support today for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) for president.

The Texans planned to visit 11 Democratic district meetings in hopes of corraling Indiana's 34 Democratic national convention votes on the second ballot and thereafter.

The delegates are committed to vote for front-running Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) on the first ballot at the Los Angeles convention in July. The delegates were pledged to Kennedy as a result of the Indiana primary.

The 11-man Texan group is headed by Marvin Watson, a cattleman from Daingerfield, Tex. Watson said the group plans to organize a "Johnson for President" committee here in behalf of the as-yet unannounced presidential candidate.

The Johnson forces will be headed by Howard Whitecotton, Indianapolis, the Marion County deputy prosecutor.

Whitecotton said he hoped to open campaign headquarters in an Indianapolis hotel within the next few days.

Johnson himself is scheduled to speak May 19 at the Indianapolis Press Club's gridiron dinner.

OPEN SESAME
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Scene at a supermarket Monday. A child, about 5, walked up to the automatic doors, gravely saying, "open sesame," and marching royally through the opened portals.

Budget-Wise Chefs Welcome New Ideas

When homemakers vow to take more pains with meal planning, their double intention is to achieve good nutrition and wise spending of food dollars. Although this is very simple at first, after several weeks fresh ideas for good, inexpensive dishes are often needed.

A main dish to fit this picture is Liver Bacon Jumbles. These eat patties, each baked atop slice of onion and tomato, then wrapped with a stripe of bacon, are attractive, too. It's unnecessary to emphasize the nutritious quality of liver, but budget-conscious homemakers will be glad to learn that a pound of low-cost beef liver will make six generous patties when this recipe is followed.

Equating meat loaf with economy almost trite. New K Meat Loaf thrives, but it cuts no corners in flavor. Half ground beef and half ground pork, the loaf also eludes ready-to-eat high protein meat and eggs. Its unique flavor comes also from green pepper and baked tomatoes. This entree is sleek to put together. Bake over companions along with the meat loaf. Remember the second-day appeal of sliced meat loaf — this one is ideal — lunchbox fare sandwiched between slices of rye or kaiser roll.

LIVER BACON JUMBLES
2 cups corn flakes or
1/2 cup packaged corn flake crumbs
1 pound beef liver
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup milk or beef stock

6 thin onion slices
6 tomato slices
6 bacon strips
Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Pour boiling water over liver and let stand a few minutes. Drain. Put through food chopper. Combine liver, salt, Worcestershire sauce, milk and corn flake crumbs. Mix well. Shape into 6 patties. Place onion slices on greased baking pan; top with tomato slices, then with liver patty. Wrap with bacon strips and fasten with toothpick. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. about 30 minutes.

Yield: 6 servings, 1 patty each
K-MEAT LOAF
1 pound ground beef
1 pound ground pork
3 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
1/2 cup finely chopped onions
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
3 eggs

Chilly Surprise For Hot Weather!

If a picture of a Penguin makes you cool then now's the time to make this salad for "cool" eating on hot Summer days. Make a Summer Snowman salad, too, using canned peach halves for the body, with currants for buttons as well as eyes, and pimento for the mouth. Make "top hats" of halved marshmallows... and use California dates for the feet. Both salads are simply wonderful for a children's party!

PENGUIN SALAD
2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese
1/4 cup light cream
8 canned Bartlett pear halves, drained and chilled
24 canned cling peach slices
Mash cream cheese with a fork until softened. Add cream gradually, then beat until cheese is light and fluffy. Place each pear half, cut-side down, on crisp lettuce. Use large end of pear for body and tapered end for neck. Place apricot half, cut-side down, at tapered end of pear for face. Spread cream cheese over pear and apricot halves. Sprinkle with coconut. Cut 4 dates in half and stick on faces for beaks. Cut thin strips from remaining dates for bow ties and place on necks. Use currants for eyes. Place 2 peach slices at sides of each penguin for arms. Cut remaining peach slices in halves and use for feet. Makes 8 servings.

Texas Tamale Pie Adjudged Winner In Texas Beef Council Contest

Mrs. Ben Andrews, Graham, was named one of five winners in the recent Texas Beef Council recipe contest for her "Texas Tamale Pie."

Mrs. Andrews' recipe was judged the best combination of economy beef with Gebhardt's Chili Powder, one of the Texas-manufactured food products which participated in the Beef Council's contest. The contest was open only to wives and daughters of Beef Council members.

As the mother of three children, Mrs. Andrews "has cooked lots of beef." Her son is a senior student at the University of Texas, and plans to enter law school because he feels that "law and cattle will make a good combination." The Andrews have two daughters, one studying home economics at the University, and the other attending school in Graham.

The Andrews find their Graham home centrally located for their three ranches, four, 22 and 44 miles from the city. Graham has long been a center of beef cattle production. The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association was organized there in 1877.

Mrs. Andrews' recipe makes 4 servings:

TEXAS TAMALES PIE
1 1/2 pound ground round
1/2 cup shortening
1 chopped onion
1 clove garlic
1 chopped sweet green pepper
1 1/2 cups chopped fresh tomatoes
1/2 cup ripe olives (pitted)
2 chili peppers cut fine
Salt and pepper
1/2 cup grated American cheese
2 tablespoons corn meal
1 tablespoon Gebhardt's Chili Powder
1 cup corn meal
3 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
Cook onion, garlic and green pepper in hot fat until tender; add ground round and brown. Add tomatoes, ripe olives, chili peppers, salt and pepper and simmer 1 hour. Stir in grated cheese, 2 tablespoons corn meal, Gebhardt's Chili Powder and cook five minutes. Gradually add 1 cup corn meal to 3 cups boiling salted water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Pour corn meal mush over beef mixture. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes and garnish with more ripe olives.

Casserole Ideal For Last-Minute Party Preparation

Here is beef casserole with an interesting and delicious use of sour cream, and is ideal for entertaining, since it may be prepared, refrigerated and reheated just before serving, freeing the hostess from last-minute party preparations. This recipe makes 8 servings:

BEEF IN CASSEROLE
1 pound ground beef
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons sugar
16-oz. can tomatoes
1 1/2-oz. can tomato sauce
2 cloves garlic, crushed
Pepper to taste
1 8-oz. package thin egg noodles
1 cup Sour Cream
1 3-oz. package Cream Cheese
6 green onions chopped with some of tops
1 cup Cheddar Cheese, grated
Combine and simmer 5 to 10 minutes; beef, salt, sugar, tomatoes, tomato sauce, garlic and pepper. Cook noodles, drain, and add to mixture of sour cream, cream cheese, and chopped onions. Arrange in layers, in greased casserole, meat mixture, noodle mixture and grated cheese. Heat until bubbling, about 35 minutes at 350 degrees.

EMERGENCY RULES
CAPE TOWN, South Africa—The South African government has lifted emergency regulations in 20 rural districts for the first time since they were imposed in the midst of March racial violence. The announcement is believed to be the first in areas which would end the state of emergency throughout the country, except in areas where 1,800 men are being held in jail.

Crosby's New 'Dome Doily' Is Long, Red

BY VERNON SCOTT
 UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Bing Crosby has worn a toupee-off and on—for years in movie and TV roles, but his new hair piece is ridiculous.

It's a long red wig with a top-knot which takes a hairdresser hours to keep looking neat and well-coiffed.

What's more, the laconic growler has taken to wearing a floor-length hoop skirt, lace-trimmed bodice and elbow-length white gloves.

Bing Crosby?
 Yep, complete with falsies! "The show must go on," Der Bingle explained on the set of his new movie, "The script calls for me to wear all this girly jazz, so I'm wearing it like a man, er... ah... a woman, I guess."

A sequence in 20th Century-Fox's "High Time," requires Bing to attend a college dance, and as an average fraternity pledge he is forced to wear an old-fashioned evening gown.

Because the wig covers his hair-scoop ears, and thanks to the magic of makeup, Bing could pass for an extra ugly female.

There are those who say he makes Hermoine Gingold look like

Negro Singer To Wed White Man

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Eartha Kitt, sultry-voiced Negro singer, and white real estate man William McDonald, of Los Angeles, plan to marry June 9.

Miss Kitt and McDonald, both 30, took out a marriage license Wednesday after a brief delay caused when they flew here from Las Vegas and neglected to get the necessary blood tests. They hurried to a medical facility near the Hall of Records, had the tests taken and then received the license.

It will be the first marriage for both.

Three Killed In Big Lake Crash

BIG LAKE, Tex. (UPI)—A head-on crash 20 miles south of Big Lake on Highway 33 Wednesday night killed three men and seriously injured a fourth.

The Department of Public Safety identified the dead as James H. Freeman, 24, and Carl F. Roe, 27, both of Barnhart, and Claude R. Turner, 40, of Big Lake.

They were riding in a car that skidded and crashed into a car driven by John B. Blevins of Midland. Blevins was hospitalized.

RIVER CANYON

THAT LOOKS MUCH BETTER!

DO YOU KNOW WHERE AURA HAS BEEN PICKING UP THAT AWFUL JUNE TALK?

WHERE?

HE'S BEEN HANGING ROUND WITH THE SWAMPNIKS!

SWAMPNIKS?

MUSKRATS AN' FROGS AN' HEAVEN-KNOWS-WHAT OTHER AWFUL CHARACTERS AT TH' END OF TH' POND!

WE OUGHTA MAKE HIM STAY AWAY FROM THEM!

I'M AFRAID IF WE TRIED THAT, IT WOULD ONLY MAKE THEM SEEM MORE ATTRACTIVE.

AFTER ALL, I SPOSE IT'S JUST A TEEN-AGE PHASE!

ONLY MINUTES HAVE PASSED. THE HIJACKED TEAM STANDS AT THE PRISON GATE LIKE A COBRA READY TO STRIKE.

MAYBE WE OUGHTA BUMP TH' GATE TO LET 'EM WALKEN KNOW WE MEAN BUSINESS!

WAIT! NOW I'VE CONTACTED HIM!

ALL RIGHT, YOU MEN IN THE ENGINE... I CAN HEAR YOU CLEARLY. SPEAK YOUR PIECE!

HERE'S TH' SKETCH... DELIVER LIPPY KADMAN TO US IN TEN MINUTES OR WE'LL YANK TH' THROTTLE WIDE OPEN, AND RAN THAT RADIOACTIVE CRATE DOWN YOUR THROAT!

DAD! I FIGURED OUT HOW TO CARRY ALL MY BOOKS AT ONE TIME. I JUST STRAPPED 'EM TOGETHER!

WHY-WHAT? OH, GOOD!

WHA-WHAT? OH, GOOD!

BONNIE!

WELL, WINTHROP? I ASKED YOU WHO IS OUR CLOSEST NEIGHBOR TO THE SOUTH?

WHAT TIME DOES DAVEY GET OUT OF SCHOOL?

WHAT ARE YOU DRIVING AT?

HE'S THE KEY MAN IN THE SITUATION, ISN'T HE? I WANT HIM AT THE CONFERENCE!

NO!

NO, YOU DON'T!!

GOOD MORNING! OH, EXCUSE ME, SIR.

YES?

IS THE LADY OF THE HOUSE HANDY?

NO! MATTER OF FACT, BETWEEN YOU AND ME -

SHE'S PRACTICALLY USELESS!!

Inflation Threat Grows In Europe

Guaranty Trust Co. "In a number of countries," the bank adds, "there is considerable threat of inflation, although central banks have moved to lessen the pressure by pursuing restrictive monetary policies."

Standard & Poor's business and financial statistical and analytical service says the disappearance of inflationary psychology in the United States is a matter of considerable official and general comment these days.

Many in Wall Street ascribe the stock market's dullness and weakness from time to time to the lack of inflation urge. When prices were rising steadily not long ago it was held that much of the buying of common stocks reflected a desire to insure investment against inflationary forces.

According to the experts, the tendency is for the market to rise in inflationary periods to compensate for the erosion of the dollar that inflation brings.

Our lack of inflation psychology is ascribed to ample supplies of goods, surplus producing capacity, increased domestic and international competition, application of credit restraints by the federal reserve, and prospects for a federal budget surplus in the next fiscal year, says Standard & Poor's.

"However," says Standard & Poor's, "shifts in inflation sentiment generally run to extremes, out of line with actual price trends."

"The price rise was small last year, inflation sentiment strong. Inflation sentiment is now weak, with the over-all price structure still on the firm and slightly firming side."

Now He Can Tell Secret

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI)—Chief radarman John R. Poole was relieved today — now he can talk.

Poole was removed from the nuclear submarine Triton two weeks after it sailed on its globe-girdling voyage. He was suffering from kidney stones and was transferred Factors cited as causes of waning inflation sentiment apply primarily to commodity prices. But commodities have lagged heretofore in the over-all inflation of living costs while service costs have risen largely and are still pointing higher.

Standard & Poor's notes that in March, the consumer-price index was unchanged for commodities while the index of service costs rose to a new peak, and the rent index gained a small amount.

New highs also were set by costs of medical care, transportation services and household operations.

Thus, it is noted, living costs are still rising even though inflation psychology is waning. The Morgan Bank notes that in two very important countries, Great Britain and Germany, the fear of inflation is coupled with concern over the balance of payments, though for different reasons — Great Britain is troubled by a deficit and Germany by a rather unwieldy surplus.

search to the cruiser Macon off Uruguay. "I didn't want to leave because I knew we were going to make history but the captain had no choice," Poole said.

Before leaving he was sworn to secrecy. This turned out to be almost as painful as his ailment.

"Families of the Triton crew kept asking me why they hadn't heard from their men," he said. "I couldn't tell them — I couldn't even tell my wife."

Poole said the whole crew had been briefed about the mission and therefore, even though no messages were sent back, he had a good idea where the ship was each day. "Almost every day I looked at a map and wondered how they were doing," he said.

"The skipper had told us when we'd be back so I wasn't too surprised when I heard the news yesterday," he added. "He hit it pretty close — real close."

When the news was officially released, Poole was assigned the pleasant task of informing the families.

Today he boarded a small craft to greet his crewmates and ride with them to the dock. "Boy, it's a relief not to have to keep this a secret any longer," Poole said.

Wisconsin Goofed

This week's bouquet of dirty underwear goes to the University of Wisconsin faculty for its decision to drop boxing as a varsity sport at the Big Ten school.

The ill-considered action is additional proof that faculty control of intercollegiate athletics is an unwholesome situation at best. The Wisconsin faculty members pushed the panic button on boxing during an emotional crisis precipitated by the unfortunate death of 22-year-old Charles Mohr. The young boxer died from a brain injury suffered in an NCAA title match.

Sound reasoning would have dictated a delay in the faculty deliberations until the emotional aspects of the case had been dispelled by time.

Motivated By Envy

The motive is a four letter word... envy. And this is the principal reason why college athletics should be divorced from faculty control.

The professor of Greek literature, or whatever his first name may be, who doesn't envy the stature, the public adulation, and the pay of a varsity athletic coach doesn't live. In their shabby English tweeds, these pseudo-intellectuals sate their disdain at physical achievement with covetous wishing that they had been so endowed to attain recognition in the field they believe.

It is this antagonistic attitude toward athletics which renders the average faculty member unfit to render sound judgment on anything concerning athletics.

Their prejudices run so deeply they could not be trusted to make so minor a decision as to what color the season's football tickets

Just Mixed Up Kids

The confused sense of values existing in college administrations today is graphically illustrated everywhere. The NCAA hands out a penalty, everytime a conference votes to sever a post-season bowl agreement, everytime a below average student is granted an athletic scholarship, and everytime a faculty group passes judgment on an athletic program.

What Did He Say?

The really perplexing point of the case, though, is the statement offered to the press in explanation of the "hatchet" vote.

Dr. David Felman, who presented the motion for abolishment, told newsmen the faculty felt that "boxing is no longer an appropriate sport for the University of Wisconsin."

At the risk of appearing to be a stickler on semantics, I question the phrase "no longer appropriate."

It would seem to be fair to assume that the good professor implies that boxing at one time was "appropriate."

In a clearly understandable sentence like "Sneakers are not appropriate wear for a formal dance" the message is that sneakers are unfit.

Is boxing unfit? Is it now below the cultural level of the University of Wisconsin? What makes it unfit?

The apparent conclusion is that the death of Charles Mohr made it unfit. To carry the conclusion further, one must believe that Dr. Felman views the tragic death as something degrading to the university.

Since this is obviously faulty reasoning it becomes apparent that college professors should stay in their secluded little ivory towers and leave the job of making statements to the press to those better qualified.

Big Ten Grid Pay Exposed By Magazine

NEW YORK (UPI) — Football players in the Big Ten Conference are paid to die for their teams every Saturday, the magazine Sports Illustrated charged today in an article printed in this week's issue.

"Many Big Ten football players are carried on the payroll of industry at $40 or $50 weekly," the article said. "Sometimes they show up for work, and sometimes they stay in bed."

The magazine, without naming names or schools, also charged that alumni "angels" in the Big Ten secretly make weekly cash payments to some football players.

"One angel meets the players in the locker room after a game, shakes hands all around, and deposits bills ranging from $10 to $50 in the eager, sweaty palms," the article said. "At another school, football players receive unsigned envelopes in the Monday morning mail with their weekly honorarium enclosed."

The accusations were contained in an article dealing with the NCAA's drastic action last month against the University of Indiana, which was placed on probation for four years for allegedly violating recruiting rules.

Thurman Sold

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The Charleston Senators of the American Association have purchased Bob Thurman, a former major league outfielder, from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

He played with Omaha of the American Association 1938 year, hitting .348.

Mathews' Homers Pace Braves; Beat Cards 12-8

That five day layoff apparently was just what Eddie Mathews and his muscular Milwaukee teammates needed to tune up their batting eyes.

The Braves frothed and fumed in enforced idleness since May 5 but they took out their anger on the St. Louis Cardinals with a 12-8 slugging show when they finally played a game Wednesday night. And Mathews, who was off to a slow start, looked like the 40-homer-a-year man he's been for four seasons.

Big Ed hit two homers, a single and a sacrifice fly to drive in five runs and lead a 13-hit Braves attack that also included homers by Wes Covington and Del Crandall. The outburst lifted Mathews' average to .323 and his fourth and fifth homers of the season raised his career total to 304.

Since starting the season Mathews has passed Rogers Hornsby and Chuck Klein on the all-time National League home run list and now ranks seventh. Warren Spahn was the beneficiary of the assault on six St. Louis pitchers. The victory enabled the Braves to remain firmly planted in third place behind the front-running San Francisco Giants, who beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, for their fifth straight win, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, who downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-3, in other NL action.

The Detroit Tigers scored their second straight 1-0 victory over the Washington Senators on Al Kaline's 10th-inning homer and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Kansas City A's, 5-3, in 10 innings in the American League.

Sam Jones struck out 11 batters in an overpowering twowhitter to go with a one-hitter and two three-hitters he previously had pitched in San Francisco's Candlestick Park. Both hits off Jones, who struck out five of the last seven batters, were slightly tainted.

Jones himself walked in the bases filled in the second inning to force the game's only run. Elroy Face, who had lost three consecutive decisions, gained his first victory of the season when the Pirates scored three runs in the eighth and two in the ninth.

Handy Koufax tied the score at 3-3 in the eighth and Gino Cimoli followed with a single off Larry Sherry that put the Pirates in front.

Frank Rahn struck out seven and allowed only one walk and five hits to win over Pedro Ramos in a fine pitching duel. Ramos had fanned six and yielded only four hits until Kaline connected with two out in the 11th inning—his first hit in 14 times at bat. Jackie Brandt's two-run 10th-inning homer gave Baltimore relief pitcher Mill Pappas his second win after the Orioles had tied the score with two runs in the ninth.

Barney Kutyna suffered the defeat after Bud Delfino carried a four-hitter into the ninth only to be kayoed by three straight singles.

Pony League

Hughes ripped through Kist, 10-5, and Chennie edged the First National Bank, 7-6, in Pony League baseball games Wednesday night.

Chennie added another game to its league lead by coming from behind with a three-run rally in the bottom of the seventh. Gary Sikes was the victim of the uprising and was charged with the loss.

C. E. Cantrell provided the spark for Chennie by driving in the tying and winning runs in the seventh with a double.

Chennie only collected four hits in the opposition's nine, but the Bankers left nine runners stranded on the bases.

Kist tied the count by scoring five times in the first two frames of its battle with Hughes.

But reliever Ben Washington, who was tagged with the loss, was shelved for five tallies in the top of the fourth.

Hughes' Jerry Garrison settled down after that and locked horns with Kist's Bobby Price in a scoreless duel which lasted over the last three innings.

Kist outhit Hughes, 8-6, but all eight of his blows were singles. McDonald and Taylor each banded out a double for Hughes.

Kist 320 000 0 — 5 8 8

Little LEAGUER

George Snell survived uprisings in the second and fifth frames Wednesday night as Milliron slipped past B&B Pharmacy, 8-5, in Little League action.

Milliron took the lead for good with a three-run rally in the top of the third.

In another Little League contest, Dixie Paris bombed Celanese, 11-1, as Kenneth McWilliams pitched a no-hitter.

McWilliams struck out 10 batters, walked two and hit one. Don Bennett enjoyed a perfect night at the plate, banging out three hits in as many trips.

The line scores: — B&B 030 021 — 6 6 5

Coach Stram, QB

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Frank Curci and Hank Stram will be together again next fall on the gridiron.

The Dallas Texans of the new American Football League Wednesday traded New York Giant guard Dalton Trux to Oakland for Curci, the 150-pound quarterback at the University of Miami.

Stram coached Curci at Miami last fall, but Stram came to Dallas as the head coach of the Texans. Since then, he has wanted Curci, whom he called "the best all-around quarterback I've ever coached."

Pitcher Tommy Bowers gave up the fifth hit when Ramon Rodriguez was hit by a pitched ball, Jo Bache reached first on an error and Roberto Hernandez tripled to score them.

Amarillo broke its game open with a three-run eighth inning and added an insurance run in the ninth to put it on ice, for left Harold Stowe, who went all the way. Veracruz used four mound men. Each team collected 14 hits.

Victoria's fourth hurler, Dick Smallwood, gave up only two hits and struck out six in five innings for the victory. The Rosebuds' ninth straight on home grounds. Home runs by Felipe Montemayor and Humberto Querrero sparked an uprising by the Reds that overcame a three-run deficit and put them ahead 8-3, but a counter rally tied it up in the sixth.

Amarillo Rips Veracruz, 8-3

By United Press International

Bill Parsons, husky Victoria outfielder, won't have any trouble picking up this week's paycheck.

His solo homer in the bottom of the 12th with two men out Wednesday night gave the Rosebuds a 7-4 victory over Mexico City's Red Devils, breaking a six-inning deadlock.

Texas League teams won four of the five games played against Mexican League clubs in the Pan American Association. Austin was rained out at Monterrey, and was scheduled a double-header tonight to make it up.

In other action, the Rio Grande Valley clobbered Puebla 16-6. Amarillo beat Veracruz 8-3, San Antonio stopped Poza Rica, defending Mexican loop champs, 8-2 and the Mexico City Tigers whipped Tulsa 8-4.

Rafael Rivas, Red Devil south-paw, allowed only two hits in his four-inning stint. One of them was Parson's homer over the right field wall.

The Giants look a two-game lead in whipping Puebla with an 18-hit attack, including four homers.

Valley exploded for seven runs in the fifth, sparked by a grand slam blow by Jay Van Noy, a utility infielder who joined the Giants Monday. Catcher Al Stigutz got two, one in the fourth for two runs, and a solo in the eighth. Chuck Hiller got the other one in the ninth.

Continental's Shea Hopes For Accord In Majors Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) — Attorney Bill Shea said today he hopes major league club owners will produce "a statement of earnest cooperation with the Continental League" when they meet in Chicago next Tuesday.

"They can iron things out with (Continental League President) Branch Rickey in 48 hours if they sit down and talk with him," said Shea, who guided the formation of the new league. "The big things to decide are territorial indemnities and their monopoly of players."

Shea made his hopeful statement after Pittsburgh Pirate President John W. Galbreath called for next Tuesday's meeting to discuss overall policy on such matters as legislation, bonus, minor league assistance and any other matters that might be brought up.

The meeting is scheduled only two days before congressional hearings begin on the Kefauver sports bill which has been sharply criticized by National and American League officials.

Abilene Ace To ACC

ABILENE (UPI) — Charles McCook, football quarterback and track-quarterback from Abilene High School, has signed an athletic agreement with Abilene Christian College. He guided the Eagles into the state Class AAAA quarterfinals last fall and had a 49.6-second quarter to his credit this spring before a leg fracture.

Big Ten Grid Pay Exposed By Magazine

NEW YORK (UPI) — Football players in the Big Ten Conference are paid to die for their teams every Saturday, the magazine Sports Illustrated charged today in an article printed in this week's issue.

"Many Big Ten football players are carried on the payroll of industry at $40 or $50 weekly," the article said. "Sometimes they show up for work, and sometimes they stay in bed."

The magazine, without naming names or schools, also charged that alumni "angels" in the Big Ten secretly make weekly cash payments to some football players.

"One angel meets the players in the locker room after a game, shakes hands all around, and deposits bills ranging from $10 to $50 in the eager, sweaty palms," the article said. "At another school, football players receive unsigned envelopes in the Monday morning mail with their weekly honorarium enclosed."

The accusations were contained in an article dealing with the NCAA's drastic action last month against the University of Indiana, which was placed on probation for four years for allegedly violating recruiting rules.

Thurman Sold

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The Charleston Senators of the American Association have purchased Bob Thurman, a former major league outfielder, from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

He played with Omaha of the American Association 1938 year, hitting .348.

Respect Property

A reader in the State of Washington has brought out a most interesting thought. She points out in her region there have been a number of acts of vandalism against property. So many and of such nuisance value have these come that there is a movement to urge the parents to "lay down the law" to the juveniles, who are presumed to be responsible. One could scarcely disagree with the suggestion. Surely, where young people are riding around in cars wandering around on foot, in gangs, the temptation may exist to smash a rock through a window or perform some other act of destruction. And any kind of moral pressure that parents can invoke to instill respect for private property, certainly in order to avoid the "Washington reader" minds us, the adults are in the process of committing trespass against other people's property. They may not get much of a thrill out of tossing a brick through someone's window. But they do seem to get a thrill out of organizing a committee, setting up a "pressure" group, and finally taking action which will deprive all persons in a given area of a particular income bracket of a portion of their money. Certainly, the actions of young hoodlums against property are illegal and wrong, but the fact of the case is that the actions of mature, staid citizens in passing laws which deprive others of some of their money are just as immoral as the act of brick-throwing. We are prone to remind the young people that they must respect the property rights of others. But are we willing to respect those property rights too? The fact that we might be successful in getting a law passed so that a legal privilege is established calling for (let us suppose) a five-cent contribution out of everyone's income in order to establish some kind of cultural center, does not change the immorality of the removal of that five-cent piece from its rightful owner. It is high time that adults began reminding ourselves of the immorality of many legal things that we insist upon. For when we busy ourselves legally encroaching on the property rights of others, we can scarcely wonder when young people busy themselves illegally doing much the same thing. We must admit that no one has a right to throw rocks through windows. Yet, would we be willing to shift from this position if a majority of taxpayers proceeded to endorse the idea by voting? It would, of course, be true that such a contingency would be highly unlikely. Most people would be a bit timid about endorsing window-breaking and setting up a legal sanction in this connection. Yet if most persons participate gladly and are even under the illusion that they are doing their "civic duty" when they take legal steps to break into the savings accounts of their neighbors in order to compel never schools, bigger roads, new hospitals or other "public" they think government should provide. If we are to approach this problem on principle, how can we condone one act of vandalism while at the same time condemning another similar act? For the sake of consistency as well as sanity, it seems obvious that we must either endorse stealing or stand forever opposed to it. Legalized plunder is nonetheless plunder, just as legalized vandalism would still be vandalism. We have little doubt but that a large portion of what we are now calling juvenile delinquency would disappear if the adult world in which young people are reared would begin to respect the rights of others to their own property. It is always less than effective to urge moral conduct upon our youngsters if they are well aware of immoral conduct of our own. An example in the right direction is the best sermon.

Nikita's Bluff

Nikita Khrushchev may yet go down in history as a bragart and a clown, a colossal wind-up who helped to put us on the greatest bluff of all time. Over the years, and particularly in recent months, it has been noticed that there are two kinds of reports coming into prominence from the Soviet Union. These reports are much at variance. One kind of report, the kind Nikita specializes in, reveals Russia as a great and productive nation with a high standard of living, far ahead of the U.S. in education, in space achievements, in military preparation. The other report which is slower to reach the front pages, indicates that Russia is way behind the U.S., not only in education, but in most other fields as well. The two lines of presumed "facts" can't both be right. It is possible that both are wrong, but it is not possible for both to be correct. Where does the truth exist? Painstakingly and slowly, over the years, private parties have been gathering facts about the Soviet Union. Visitors have been permitted behind the Iron Curtain in greater numbers. Economic spies have been gathering data, collating it, filing it for future reference. The U.S. Department of Commerce and the U.S. Department of Agriculture have both been in the process of checking out the facts. In a remarkably fine article appearing in U.S. News and World Report for May 2, comes now the debunking of the whole Soviet myth. The colossus of Russia is seen to be little more than a paper giant. It's a bogey used by many people to terrify Americans. It is certainly a device which has been employed politically to cause us to spend far more money than was ever necessary for military preparedness. The laws of economics are not respecter of persons. And Russia is now seen as a major violator of economic laws which have made of her a phantom of what she might have been. To be precise, let us look at a few of the indications presently available and verified by reputable reporters, analysts and experts. It has been claimed that Russia is ahead of us in many areas or will soon be. Here are the facts:

Russia is 19 years behind us in steel production; 36 years behind us in petroleum production; 36 years behind us in production of electric power; 36 years behind us in production of trucks and buses; 49 years behind us in automobile production; 23 years behind in the production of shoes; 30 years behind in the production of radios; 31 years behind in production of refrigerators; 32 years behind in meat production; 18 years behind in milk production. Let's take the race in space. Not that we think that reaching the moon is any particularly great achievement when it is accomplished with taxpayers' dollars. Here's the score. Russia has launched three earth satellites and three lunar and space probes. One of the earth "satellites" is still in orbit and one of the "planets" is still in orbit around the sun. What of the U.S.? This nation has launched 18 earth satellites, of which nine are still in orbit. It has launched four lunar and space probes and has two "planets" circling the sun. Russia put up the first earth satellite. This is true. But Russia has been outclassed ever since. Here's the basic story. Russia has more human beings, approximately 212 million. But Russia does NOT have an accumulation of capital goods nor of capital. Hence, Russia, in order to survive at all, must have about 50 million, one quarter of its total population, tied to farms so that food can be produced. In this nation, with about 180 million people, we have only 15 million on farms and ranches. And this is one of the big differences. We have the tools of production which have multiplied human energy, freeing hundreds of thousands from the back-breaking toil of food production. But all of our tools have come into existence as a result of savings, as a result of private incentive capitalism. This is what Russia doesn't have. And until she adopts capitalist methods she is bound to run a poor second. The big joke is this. If a nation does adopt this capitalist method, she is drifting in that direction right now. We will not have to fear her at all. The reason will be that Russia, as a capitalist nation, will be producing so much food and so many fine things that the Russians will not want to risk a war with anyone. Those with capital goods do not fear war.

Goldwater Called Greater Conservative

Senator Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, certainly is now the successor to Senator Taft, of Ohio, as defender of the Constitution and freedom against the absolutism of the miscalled liberal forces. These forces are almost as strong in Goldwater's own Republican Party as in the party of Eleanor Roosevelt, and Barry attacks their position without the slightest leniency. As an Arizona man and as a friend of both Goldwater and Taft, I say further that Barry is a more effective, more successful, conservative than Taft was. Taft was as much the politician, and compromiser as the conservative. Thus he submitted to depleting compromises in his incomprehensible Taft-Hartley labor union law in order to get it passed at all. But Goldwater, in a very similar situation, cast the only vote in the Senate against the Kennedy-Ervin Bill which was Jack Kennedy's and the Democrats' attempt to prostrate the union monster. Goldwater had the moral courage to stand absolutely alone so the vote was 95 to 1 in favor of the bill. But the House later fell in with this amazingly honest and morally good republican so that finally the "reform" bill which was padded was a great improvement from the standpoint of the pure quality of the constitution and the rights of men. In justification of Senator Taft it has been argued that as leader of the Republicans he could not always represent only his own convictions. Goldwater, on the other hand, speaks, fights and votes in his own name. Although that is not to say that he would be less forthright in any other position. His rise as not only a politician but as an idealist, patriot and moral hero is an episode of great potential importance. His "organization" never was comparable to the Democratic Party in Arizona "in sinews, popularity and powers of vociferation through the press. He is his own leader and it is a sorry fact that most Arizona Republicans for many years were frankly regarded as cowards who registered as Democrats in order to escape the hostility of the Democratic power. Senator Goldwater is changing this. Barry has recently published a testament entitled "The Conscience of a Conservative," which is a fine, relatively brief statement of the intended character of the government of this republic and of many of the ways in which the great intention has been thwarted and corrupted — by guilty Republicans as well as by Democrats. It is a campaign document, but, unlike the June-bug books of presidential years, this statement has moral power; it is clear and actually beautiful in its prose, knowledge and clarity. It will live when the "hit" of the campaign has been carried off to be shredded or pulped again. Senator Goldwater writes in part of the 1952 Christmas message of Pope Pius XII in earnest, emphatic warning against the obliteration of the personality of man by the brutal power of great unions of anonymous men, who are the cause of the candidates and voters to live in such a low intellectual level. Goldwater devoted the first part of his appeal to a discussion of the nature of man which will be news to the public. "The conservative," he wrote, "is not too proud to learn from the great minds of the past. He has learned that each member of the species is a unique creature. Man's most sacred possession is his individual soul. I pause to try to conjure those remarks from Eleanor Roosevelt or from Jack Kennedy, or even, I am afraid, from Lyndon B. Johnson. ('The atheists might be listening.')

Khrushy's Favorite "Ghost" Story

The Allen-Scott Report

approach" had been followed. "I think that if we had concentrated on the direct cycle," Wilson said, "we probably would have had a plane that could have flown on nuclear power. It might not have been a good plane, but it would have flown. It has been several months, the program has been revised to stress prospects that hold promise of real progress." FALLOUT — Those ATLAS intercontinental ballistic missiles, installed at Warren Airbase, Cheyenne, Wyo., are being equipped with more powerful nuclear warheads. The Joint Atomic Committee has been told by the Defense Department that the new warheads have more than double the destructive power of their predecessors. Former Atomic Commissioner Thomas Murray, now chief consultant of the Joint Atomic Committee, is convinced Russia has "carried out underground nuclear tests without our knowledge in the past year." He cites a number of facts of support that contention is his new book "Nuclear Policy for War and Peace." In this book, Murray also charges that at the Geneva conference of technical experts in the summer of 1958, the Russians had a wonderful opportunity to pick up important information about U.S. detection capabilities. They learned, for example, that it would take at least 180 seismic stations, mapped partially by Western scientific personnel, and with a large fraction of these stations on Soviet territory, before the U.S. could feel at all safe about its ability to detect with accuracy nuclear explosions down to 5 kilotons. SOCIAL WHIRL — Senator and Mrs. John Sherman Cooper, Ky., had an unusual distinction during the Washington visit to King Mahendra and Queen Ratna of Nepal. They entertained the royal couple in the garden of their home in historic Georgetown. The Coopers have been friends of the Nepalese since 1955, when he was Ambassador to that country as well as a member of the Senate. Mrs. Cooper, a South Carolina's veteran Senator, held for other Senate wives was toasted pecan and cheese sandwiches made by Mrs. Johnston's special recipe, as follows: "She grinds together various kinds of left-over cheese, adds salad dressing (not mayonnaise) tobacco and Worcester'shire sauce, and beats to a fluffy cream. The mixture is then piled on crackers and topped with a pecan half and toasted. The result may have a lot of calories, but it tastes awfully good. Unusual feature of Washington Cathedral's annual flower mart was a star home-run hitter of the Senators—Harmen Killebrew. However, he gave no baseball advice. He confined himself to selling flowers and herbs. Mrs. John Foster Dulles, widow of the former Secretary of State, is beginning to accept social invitations. Attending a garden party at the Japanese embassy, she told friends, "I'm starting to go to parties again. But I have not yet been to Duck Island (the retreat to which she and her husband went to rest from affairs of state). I haven't been able to bring myself to go there."

Looking Sideways

by WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — The man whose job it is to pick horses for the paper (and he does it reasonably well), sometimes finds time hanging heavy on his hands and he likes to comb through odds in the news and suggest that they are bases for columns. He was in after lunch the other day and said that there was rich material for a column on Peter Llewellyn Davies. He might as well have said Laverlae Nkita. You may know now who Peter Llewellyn Davies is, but I didn't. I know who Laverlae Nkita is and you probably don't. "Who is Peter Llewellyn Davies?" I asked, having learned long ago to negotiate warily with this column ferret. "You don't know?" he said smugly. "Obviously," I said with some hauteur. "You certainly should know," he said. "He was the little English boy upon whom Sir James Barrie based the story of Peter Pan. You've covered theater from here to Basualto for 22 years and you don't know that?" "All right, I'm not informed," I said. "What about him?" he said. "He died in London. He was 68 years old." "Just about take care of it. I don't see a column in it." "Why not?" he demanded. "Because, to begin with, I don't believe for a moment you know who Davies was, either." That means you got it off the machine. The machine probably offered a wire service story in detail. Name, age, place of death, cause of death, how Barrie first met the little boy, where he met him, how Barrie was inspired to write 'Peter Pan' and what Davies became after he grew up. Any reporter with a head on his shoulders would do it that way. The works. It's a routine story. "You must have seen the machine, too," he said. "Yes, that's where I got it. You're right. But it's a column don't you think?" "No." "For heaven's sake," he cried, "do you know Davies. All I know is that he was a long bit on Lynn Baggott out on the Coast or that Ziegfeld girl who became a London psychiatrist and killed herself there some months ago. But the model, the inspiration, for Peter Pan don't do anything to you. It's a touching column."

CANNON STAYS MOVE TO SHELVING NUCLEAR PLANE PROJECT, AS PRICE WARNS USSR SOON TO SHOW FLYING ATOMIC PLANE

WASHINGTON — The atomic-powered plane project, on which more than $1-billion has been spent since 1948, is in a tailspin from which there is strong likelihood it may not pull out. Two powerful opponents are determined bent on shelving the long-lagging project by shutting off its funds. Representative Clarence Cannon (D., Mo.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and Budget Director Maurice Stans have joined forces to kill a $75 million item in the Atomic Energy Commission's budget to continue work on the nuclear plane in the fiscal year starting July 1. They propose to do this through the strategy of making a new "study" of the project by a special Appropriations subcommittee headed by Cannon. That means the end of it in the blunt opinion of project supporters. They predict Cannon's group will recommend it be axed, and the full Appropriations Committee will follow suit by slashing the $75 million from the AEC budget. An irate warning against that was voiced by a private Appropriations meeting by Representative Melvin Price (D., Ill.), head of the Joint Atomic Research Subcommittee and a long-time champion of the nuclear plane project. Without disclosing his source of information, Price asserted that the Russians "may show the President a flying atomic powered plane when he visits there next month." Crux of this backstage hassle is Budget Director Stans' contention that it will require at least another $500 million to develop the prototype of a nuclear-powered plane. He holds this money "would be better spent" on nuclear-powered missiles and rockets — of which there are several highly classified projects. MORE RAMIFICATIONS — To representative Price the Budget Bureau's argument is "merely another excuse to scuttle the atomic plane. The Budget Bureau has been trying to kill this project for four years, and only the intervention of the Appropriations Committee, which they are trying to boot-trip you into going along with them, at the very time the Russians are getting ready to fly their first atomic plane. "If the Committee falls into this trap, the responsibility will rest with it. When the Soviet unveils its atomic plane, 'the American people will remember that it was the Budget Bureau that sabotaged our project. What they will angrily recall is that this Committee killed the $75 million appropriation to continue this highly essential work. Your heads will be on the chopping block, not the Budget Bureau. It doesn't have to run for re-election. Still pending in the Air Force's budget is $75 million to continue its work on this project. However, Stans has strongly intimated that if this money is approved by Congress, it will be impounded by the President. That has been done with $15.7 million of the $75 million Congress voted the Air Force for this purpose in the current fiscal year. A startling admission about the 12-year-old nuclear plane project was made by Lieutenant General R. C. Wilson, Deputy Air Force Chief of Staff for Research and Development, at a private meeting of the Joint Atomic Committee. He indicated the U.S. might now have an atomic plane if a different understanding by this great discussion. I believe this identifies Senator Goldwater as the greatest true liberal Republican.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Confidence in the market surely will be restored when people realize that the recession had its first quarter earnings do not forebadow a similar trend for the rest of the year, in the opinion of the International Statistical Bureau. The earnings trend actually has an encouraging outlook for the rest of the year, the bureau maintains. In addition, it says, stocks traditionally show a sizable advance prior to a national election. With stocks now well liquidated and with the latest economic data more favorable than seemed likely weeks ago, the rebound this summer should be most impressive although the trend will lack uniformity, according to the bureau. Bache & Co. notes that the recent divergent action of the industrial and rail sections of the list usually is a sign of internal technical weakness, since it indicates that two important market forces are pulling against each other rather than providing mutual support. Bache sees no reason to expect any sort of broad upward movement at this point.

Area Schools Name Valedictorians, Salutatorians

Sunday will mark the beginning of graduation exercises for seniors at nine area high schools.

There will be baccalaureate services at Miami, Wheeler, Groom, Canadian and Perryton high schools that day.

Miami will have the earliest commencement program of any of the schools next Monday.

A class of 38, headed by valedictorian Deneice Burnett and salutatorian Larry Anderson will be graduated.

E. M. Borden, the Church of Christ minister, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, and Melvin Munn of Pampa will speak at commencement Tuesday night for Wheeler's 17 graduates.

Valedictorian at Wheeler is W. A. Tucker and the salutatorian is Kay Cole.

Groom High School will graduate 22 seniors Tuesday. But the commencement speaker hasn't been selected yet. Steve Garmon is the valedictorian and Ellen Latta is the salutatorian.

At Canadian, valedictorian John D. Glenn Jr. and salutatorian Betty Lee Abraham, along with Carolyn Sutton and Judy Loucher, will speaking at commencement exercises Tuesday.

Rev. Burr Morris of the Canadian Presbyterian Church, will speak to the 36 seniors at baccalaureate Sunday.

Perryton High School expects to graduate 94 seniors at its services Tuesday, including valedictorian DeVona McIntire and salutatorian Billie Mae Gray. Rev. W. L. Ray will be Sunday's baccalaureate speaker and Melvin Munn will deliver the commencement address.

Shamrock, Lefors and McLean have planned May 22 baccalaureate sermons followed by commencement exercises May 27.

Dr. Gordon Bennett, president of McMurry College in Abilene, will speak at the Shamrock High School commencement, and Rev. R. L. Wyatt of the First Baptist Church will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

Huberta Blake is valedictorian and Lynda Adkins is salutatorian. Lefors' 26 graduates, headed by valedictorian Carolyn Harvey and salutatorian Juanita Wooten, will hear Dr. George Graham of Hardin-Simmons University at their commencement exercises. Charles Tudor, Church of Christ minister, will speak at baccalaureate.

Rev. Dick Crews of the First Christian Church in Pampa will be the commencement speaker at McLean High School, and David Fultz, minister of the Church of Christ, will speak at baccalaureate.

Thirty students, including valedictorian Elizabeth Boston and salutatorian Keith Goodman, will be graduated.

Melvin Munn will speak at White Deer High School's commencement exercises May 28, but a baccalaureate speaker for the May 22 service hasn't been selected yet.

The school will graduate 38 seniors, including valedictorian Lou Ellen Howard and the salutatorian, Mrs. Sandra White.

Pirate Band Wins 1 Rating

LEFORS (Spl) — The Lefors Pirate Band received a division one rating for its performance in the "Millionaire Parade," held in Enid, Okla., as part of the Tri-State Band Festival, May 4 through the 7.

Division three ratings were received for the concert contest and sight reading contest.

Three students, Betty Sue Lewis, Jerry Fitch and Barbara McDowell, played in the Tri-State Band, composed of 374 musicians from 14 states which ended the festival with a concert Saturday afternoon and night, May 7.

The 43 band members were accompanied by their director and teacher, Norris Samuelson, and Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!

Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day. Each truck averages about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon . . . with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"

Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torsion-Spring Ride is. How it soaks up road, shock and vibration. Protects fragile loads. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy soon. We'll rest our case on that one ride.

The engine is Chevy's famous Thriftmaster 6!
