Pampa Airman Is Killed

Was Member Of B47 Crew

LT. Granville Harkrader, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Harkrader, west of Pampa, was killed when a B-47 bomber, in which he was navigator, plunged into a pasture 12 miles southeast of Topeka, Kan., Friday.

Also killed in the crash were Aircraft Commander, Capt. Paul Jones, 34, of Madison, Wis., and Lt. Carl S. Hoeblerlin, 24, Pleasantville, Iowa.

The plane crashed a crater about 15 feet deep in a pasture about 1/2 mile east of the base near the village of Watson. A number of trees were struck, and more than a hundred feet from the crash site, a B-47 wing was scattered over a wide area.

Mattress Hank, a former, who witnessed the crash, said the plane appeared to dive almost straight down and a ball of fire rose into the air after the plane hit.

A crew of Air Force investigators began an examination of the wreckage in an effort to determine cause of crash.

Spring Does 'About Face' in Panhandle

United Press International

Risk clear weather that felt more like winter than spring permeated Texas Saturday in the wake of an unseasonal Canadian cold front that brought funnel clouds, heavy rains and destructive lightning to the state.

The front, which dropped the temperature to 28 at Dumas early Saturday, moved all the way through the state.

The clouds that brought more than 50 inches of rain to south-east Texas and sent the Colorado River out of its banks also moved off to the east, and forecasters predicted generally fair weather throughout the state Saturday and Sunday.

Conventions Secured For Pampa In '61

Two more conventions added to a growing list that will go toward making Pampa known as the Top of Texas convention city, have been secured, it was announced Saturday by the Pampa Rotary Club and the Pampa chapter of the U.S. Highway 60 Association.

E. O. Wedgworth, chamber of commerce manager, telephoned the News Saturday night that the 1961 U.S. Highway 60 Association convention will be held here next March or April.

Wedge also announced that the Hwy. 60 Ass'n brochures, stippled maps, were distributed at the meeting and that a supply will be made available to "interested" parties.

There were approximately 100 delegates at the convention from California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Illinois.

Two officers re-elected were Bill Huro of Show Low, Ariz., and Wayman Gurnison of Fairview, Okla.

Pampa was chosen as the site for the convention.

Joske's Closed To Sit-In'ers

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Negroes used Saturday for the fourth successive day to get service in two restaurants in Joske's of Texas across from the Alamo, but were refused entry.

The store kept the two restaurants, the Camille Room and the Chuckwagon closed. Thirty Negroes took part in the demonstration, but the store and hand-out outside the store and hand-out leaflets to passersby.

Demos Vow To Hold Nixon To Party Line

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic Party leaders served notice Saturday they will not let Vice President Richard M. Nixon "disavow" the Eisenhower record or get a "political divorce" from the Benson farm policy in the 1960 campaign.

Nixon was the chief target of both former President Harry S. Truman and Speaker Sam Rayburn in prepared speeches before some 5,000 Democrats attending a $100-a-plate congressional campaign dinner in Washington.

Truman, bitterly anti-Nixon, fired this barb: "How would you feel if you had to run for congress as a Republican on a ticket headed by this vice president? All I can say is, there are some things much worse than retirement."

The ex-president, in political fighting, told fellow Democrats their party is "on the march" and will capture both the presidency and continued control of congress if they work hard.

Rayburn, in even a more direct assault on Nixon, forecast that the vice president probably will be "trying to disavow his inheritance—but he won't get away with it."

He said that although Democrats don't know who the GOP vice presidential nominee will be in 1960, "Nixon's real running mate this fall is going to Ezra Taft Benson."

The Republicans let Benson set the farm policy which is putting the small farmer out of business," Rayburn said. "For eight long years Nixon and all the other team-mates let him pursue this ruinous policy."

Now, in this election year, we are not going to let Nixon get a political divorce from Ezra Benson. His job is to defend him, not divorce him."

Rayburn again took an indirect political swipe at Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, who has chastised Southern Democrats and predicted that Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson could not be elected.

Texas Demos Tell GOP -- 'Stay Out'

United Press International

The Democratic party Saturday issued Republicans a blunt notice to stay out of next Saturday's primary election as politicians charted their last-ditch efforts to win voter support.

State Democratic Chairman J. E. Connolly of Abilene put up the "GOP Keep - Out" sign, reminding Republicans that the state's new party affiliation law is to keep members of one party from participating in the affairs of another.

Pointing toward the May 7 primary, the earliest in Texas this year, candidates will take their campaigns to Texas' largest cities for a final pitch to the heavy concentrations of poll tax holders.

Most candidates indicated they would be home Saturday night for the counting.

Connolly reminded voters that a person who participates in Saturday's primary will have his poll tax stamped "Democratic" and without this identification cannot participate in precinct conventions.

Republicans will nominate candidates for the general election at a state convention May 30.

Except in some rural areas, the Demo precinct conventions will be held Saturday night to permit all voters to participate.

Caryl Appears Doomed

Attorneys File Last-Ditch Plea

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — Caryl Chessman's attorneys filed Saturday a petition with the California Supreme Court that may delay decision on the convict author's fate until his final scheduled minutes of life.

Attorney George T. Davis filed the petition Sunday afternoon and the court announced that it would meet to consider it at 9 a.m. (noon edt) Monday one hour before Chessman is slated to be executed in San Quentin's gas chamber for kidnaping, robbery and sex terrorism.

The court said copies of the petition would be distributed to the judges at their homes Saturday by bailiffs of the court. They will consider the petition over the weekend and meet in conference Monday to render their decision.

Earlier in the day a federal judge turned down a petition for a writ of habeas corpus and a stay of execution for the condemned man, who appeared to be more doleful than during his nearly 12 years on death row.

Chessman, in what may have been his last press interview, said he had been working most of the day.

Cubans Mass For Gigantic May 1 Rally

HAVANA (UPI) — Thousands of peasants and cane-field workers poured into Havana Saturday for a May Day rally organized to demonstrate support for Premier Fidel Castro and condemn "Yankee aggression."

The U.S. Embassy on the Malecon overlooking the Caribbean will be under extra Cuban police protection Sunday even though the glass-sided structure is miles from the Plaza Civa where the rally will be climaxed by a speech by the bearded premier.

The campesinos (peasants) sugar cane cutters and other workers converged on Havana by truck, bus and train, clanging machetes against the sides of their vehicles, in response to a call from the government to make the rally the biggest in Cuba's history.

If the government hopes to realize crowds of 1,500,000 are expected to turn out to watch Castro's "People's Militia" parade and to hear his address.

The underlying theme of the rally, sponsored by the Confederation of Cuban Workers (CTC), was "Down With Yankee Aggression." Other slogans proclaimed "The Fatherland or Death" and "Full Support for the Revolution."

Castro's speech is expected to contain new attacks on the United States. There was no previous information available on his address, but Castro himself said everything will be made perfect by clear May 1.

Conrado Berquer, head of the 500,000-member sugar cane workers union, also promised in a television speech Friday night that there will be some surprises on May Day.

Castro, members of his government Cuban labor unions and distinguished guests from Russia, China, Poland will review the parade from stands beneath the statue of Jose Marti in the heart of the Plaza.

Elizabeth To Decide On 'Jones--Sir Jones'

LONDON (UPI) — The Royal Family gathered at Windsor for the weekend Saturday to make a final decision on whether to confer a title on Antony Armstrong-Jones before his marriage next Friday to Princess Margaret in Westminster Abbey.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth, who was a member of the Greek Royal House, received the British title Duke of Edinburgh the night before his marriage on 1947. Royal circles believed a similar title was inevitable for Tony, although the 30-year-old commoner has been reported not interested in the slightest.

This was the last weekend for Tony and Margaret as bachelor and spinster, and they were spending it at the royal lodge with the rest of the family, although Queen Mother Elizabeth has to hurry off briefly to Norfolk to attend the wedding of the son of her lady-in-waiting.

More details were emerging as the big wedding day approached, including breathless gossip that Margaret's wedding gown was of white silk organdie with modest V-neckline, fitted waist, three-quarter sleeves and a slightly full skirt forming a short train.

Although royal dressmaker Norman Hartnell declined comment, sources in the fashion world said the sketch of the dress in the press was "roughly accurate."

Police have solved the Wednesday night burglary of Warril's Mini Mart in Prairie Village with the arrest of three youths.

Youths Admit Store Thefts

Police Capt. Denny Roan said Gene Harvey, 18, of Lefors, Jimmy Lynn Barnes, also 18, of 1140 Noel Row, and a juvenile whose name was not disclosed, signed statements admitting the burglary.

Roan said all three admitted entering the store shortly before midnight Wednesday and taking seven cases of beer and a quantity of cigarettes, gum, cookies and food.

Harvey and Barnes were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bill Graham Saturday, who set bond at $1,000 each. The juvenile has been released to Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard for disposition of his case.

A Chorus Of Pleas

LONDON (UPI) — A chorus of foreign pleas to spare the life of California convict Author Caryl Chessman swelled Saturday. The press in Europe, Asia and Latin America detailed minute by minute his last legally allotted hours of life.

Appeals for Chessman came from persons ranging from Dr. Albert Schweitzer to Brigitte Bardot.

A Spaniard living in Portugal, Agostin de Llase Branco, sent a bottle of fine Port wine from Lisbon via airfreight to death row in San Quentin prison. It left Saturday and might not reach him on time.

Daniel Urges Import Cuts

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel, fearing that the domestic oil industry is in great danger Saturday urged 27 other governors of oil-producing states to join in a demand to cut foreign oil imports.

Daniel pointed out that the present import restrictions are not accomplishing the purpose of the program, since foreign oil imports now equal more than 26 per cent of domestic crude production.

"This is a higher ratio than existed in 1959 or any previous year," Daniel wrote the governors. "In spite of the fact that the President's Advisory Committee reported that it imports significantly exceeded the 1954 ratio of 16.6 per cent, the national security would be seriously endangered."

DOOMED

might never instead of sleeping. "I will have ample opportunity to catch up on sleep after Monday," he said.

"I say flatly I am not the Red Light Bandit," said the man who has given two death sentences as the terrorist of lovers' lane couples in Los Angeles.

"I am prepared now without pointing the finger to anyone to prove this."

He claimed he had new evidence that would show "the knowing use of perjury, willful suppression of evidence and conviction obtained through use of fabricated evidence."

The condemned man, who has become a symbol throughout the world in the fight to eliminate capital punishment, faced his ninth date with death at 10 a.m., p.m. (1 p.m. ed) Monday. Eight times his execution has been stayed.

One of his last hopes was smashed Friday when the State Supreme Court again voted 4-3 against clemency Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who granted a reprieve last February just 10 hours before Chessman was to die, said his hands were tied.

"I am powerless to take any action," the governor said.

The state constitution provides that the governor must have the consent of the Supreme Court to parole or commute the death sentence of a prisoner with a previous felony conviction.

The State Supreme Court voted just as it had twice earlier, although Davis indicated he thought one justice had changed his mind since the court ruled on the matter in February.

Friday's petition had as its main thesis that Chessman was being subjected to cruel and unusual punishment, forbidden by the U.S. Constitution, in his harrowing series of stays and his more than 11 years on death row.

It argued that it was particularly cruel for Brown to have granted a reprieve Feb. 19, less than 10 hours before Chessman was to die, partly because of a desire to avoid demonstrations during President Eisenhower's South American tour.

At the time Chessman had been moved to "holding cell" a few steps away from the gas chamber.

Chessman, already a graduate of three state prisons, was sentenced to death in July, 1948, as the infamous "Red Light Bandit," who had been terrorizing couples parked in lovers lanes in Los Angeles.

He was convicted on 17 out of 45 counts in Los Angeles Superior Court after choosing to act as his own lawyer in the case. A jury of 11 women and one man found him guilty on eight counts of robbery, two of sex perversion, four kidnapping and one each of attempted robbery, grand theft and attempted rape.

On two of the kidnap counts he was given the death penalty under California's so-called "Little Lindbergh Law." On the other two kidnap counts he got life without possibility of parole.

The crimes for which the state demanded Chessman's death were: (1) taking a woman at gunpoint from the car in which she was parked to his own car where he forced her to perform an unnatural sex act, and (2) forcing a 17-year-old girl into his car, driving her several miles away and forcing her into the same act.

Since coming to San Quentin Chessman has published four books, one of which, "Cell 2455, Death Row," became a best seller; his also studied law books in prison and became a recognized expert on the writ of habeas corpus. The instrument he has mainly relied upon to keep himself out of the gas chamber.

Dysart Service Planned Today

Interment rites for Carey Allen Dysart will be held 3 p.m. today from the First Baptist Church in Mobeetie with the Rev. Charles Uzzie, pastor, the Rev. L. T. Fields, pastor of First Baptist Church of Forrest, N.M., and the Rev. C. C. Lamb, pastor of Mobeetie Methodist Church officiating.

Mr. Dysart, born Feb. 9, 1881 in Ellis County, died 9:45 p.m. Friday in his home, seven miles west of Mobeetie.

The deceased moved to Wellington in 1889 and then to Mobeetie in 1918, where he had resided on a farm since that time. He was senior deacon in Mobeetie First Baptist Church and for a number of years was chairman of the board. He also served on the school board for a number of years.

On June 28, 1959, he and his wife celebrated a golden wedding anniversary.

Survivors include his wife, Minnie; two daughters, Mrs. Alwyn Savage of Hereford, Mrs. A. B. McPherson of Amarillo; three sons, Elywn of Dalhart, Norman of Amarillo, David of Wichita, Kan.; two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Loter of Wellington, Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, also of Wellington; one brother, Charlie of Clayton, N.M.

Burial will be in Mobeetie Cemetery.

anti-Communists.

The semi-official newspaper Revolution predicted that 200,000 members of the "People's Militia" created by Castro will march in the parade.

The government and the CTC have been whipping up enthusiasm for the rally for weeks. Caravans of horn-blonk trucks and cars wound through the streets of Havana during the day while occupants exhorted pedestrians to come out for the rally. The city's life will come to a virtual standstill during the day. Few, if any, taxis or buses are expected to operate. All movies and theaters will be closed. There will be no milk deliveries.

All restaurants, cafes and coffee shops are expected to shut down. Hotels were making arrangements to provide sandwiches and drinks for their guests.

The sale of liquor was banned from midnight Saturday until 6 a.m. Tuesday, except in certain night clubs which received special permission.

City, C of C Work Together To Import New Industries

By CHARLIE CROSS
Daily News Staff Writer

When industry moves out, you have had it. That's a state made by Pampa Mayor Ed Myatt while discussing what Pampa is doing to attract industry to the city.

Mayor Myatt said industry and securing is a joint project of the city commission and industrial development committee of the chamber of commerce.

He pointed out that the monetary value of a plant site is probably small item in the eyes of company officials. He said, "We can't give them any relief so far as taxes are concerned because we are tied to the amount of the tax we can utilize in that manner." He pointed out that "city officials are depleted and we haven't the proper amount of bond money, so we have had to use general fund money."

Myatt said, "That's the reason we have employed the firm of Fowler & Grafe to make this plan for us. It is actually a plan implemented by the people of Pampa, for the people of Pampa."

Lyons, chairman of the industrial development committee of the chamber, said, "Because of the unsettled tax situation in Texas, industry is hesitant to make investment in the state and we get to get our tax structure clarified."

Lyons said, "We are constantly gathering information from trade magazines and other sources. When we get wind of a company plan for expansion or a new location, we contact them by letter, and advise them of the virtues of Pampa."

He said the chamber doesn't have a big enough budget to allow personal contact, but some employees of Pampa companies travel a great deal, and it is possible to contact them personally.

"The oil industry has essentially supported our state for many years and now that the oil supply is depleted, the only thing that has been done to provide a new source of income has been to add more taxes to industry," Lyons stated.

He concluded, "Industry is very hesitant to go into any state with an unsettled tax situation."

Looking at the picture from industry's standpoint, Gene Steel, supervisor of personnel services for the Pampa Celanese plant, said, "The first item we look for when moving into a new area is an adequate supply of raw materials; in our case hydrocarbons, fuel gas and water."

Another very important item is a place that is attractive to our employees."

He pointed out that the Celanese Corp. has to import some of their employees, while others are hired from the town the plant is near. He said in this case they look for people that have had experience in the oil fields of above average intelligence.

Steel pointed out that in the case of imported employees, the plant officials must be able to show them a clean, attractive community, with good schools, churches and recreation facilities.

Celanese plant manager, Hershel Wilks, agreeing with Steel, said, "Without raw materials and employees, you've got nothing."

"You also have to consider transportation in relations to markets, and what kind of people live in the area? Will they make good employees? What kind of schools and churches are in the town? What kind of 'labor climate' is there? What kind of tax structure does the community, county and state have?" Wilks said.

"If we had a broad, long-range tax plan we would have a great deal more industry than we now have."

In pointing out the need for an

WELL, NOW — Gene Steel, director of personnel services at the Pampa Celanese plant, ponders a question concerning industry's side of the location story. Steel said, "The first thing we look for in a location site is an adequate supply of raw materials; the second is a good clean town with good schools, churches and other things that will make our employees happy. In Pampa, we found both." (Daily News Photo) adequate supply of raw materials, Wilks said. "We pump 800 gallons of water a minute, 24 hours a day. We burn 128,000 gallons of butane and propane gas a day, and use 20 to 22 million cubic feet of fuel gas."

He said everyone at Celanese is still happy with the Pampa plant location. Wilks tells a story that happened a short time ago. He was talking with a company vice president about a new location in south Texas. When Wilks inquired about the new plant, the location, people, schools and churches, he was told, "Hershel it's a very good location; in fact, it's almost as good as Pampa."

Too Young To Be Prosecuted

MIAMI (UPI) — Judge Gerald Klein threw out a charge against John Burkert Friday. John is only two years old.

North Miami Beach policeman Stanley Light, had charged John with failing to have a traffic light on his tricycle.

John wasn't in court. He was in St. Francis Hospital, where he has been under care since the tricycle he was riding was hit by a car March 30.

He suffered a brain injury and five fractures. He was in a coma until Friday. A cast encases his small body from the chest down. At first John was not expected to live. It was shortly after he took a turn for the better that Light's ticket arrived.

"I was all upset when we got the summons," said his father, John D. Burkert. "I didn't know what to do. It was ridiculous."

Klein knew what to do. "This matter doesn't belong in my court," he said.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says the recent stock market decline has "disclosed weaknesses in the speculative fabric which may become major problems."

Public and institutional enthusiasm for the super growth stocks, he thinks, has frightening implications for the future.

Thurlow believes it suggests that few people learn from their own mistakes and almost never from other people's experiences. He relates the current scene to the 1929 debacle.

Abraham & Co. has reports on American Cyanamid, Martin Co. and Spiegel, Inc., recommending them all for purchase. Martin and Spiegel appear undervalued, the report says. While noting that a dividend increase appears in store for Cyanamid as earnings continue their favorable trend.

Goodbody & Co. considers Macy stock excellently situated for income and gradual growth. A price-earnings ratio of 10-1 is historically low for this issue, it notes, as well as appearing abnormally low in the present general investment environment.

Prentice-Hall says that textile mill output, although moderately lower than the mid-1959 record highs, still seems pretty recession-proof for the balance of 1960. Apparel demand and inventory sales ratios are particularly favorable, the publishing house reports.

Wife Of Controversial Capitalist

Mrs. Cyrus Eaton Eyes Senate Seat As She Tries Hand At Ohio Politics

By AL OSTROW

CLEVELAND (NEA) — Anne Kinder Eaton, controversial wife of the controversial capitalist, Cyrus Eaton, has plunged into politics as a candidate for delegate at large to the Democratic national convention.

to try to unseat Sen. Frank J. Lausche in the 1962 Democratic primary. Her husband, a white-haired tycoon who controls corporations with three billion dollars worth of assets, says, "Anne would make a good senator."

To Eaton, that means an immediate "accommodation" with the Soviet Union and the Communist world, diplomatic recognition of and massive trade with Red China, disarmament and reduction in foreign aid programs to permit major tax reduction and a policy of encouraging American businessmen to compete successfully for a bigger share of world trade.

Courts Jammed By New Law

AUSTIN (UPI) — More drivers are demanding jury trials on traffic violations than ever before because of the new merit-auto insurance plan, a Texas traffic courts conference was told Friday. Judge Clair Getty Jr. of Houston said his city has been forced to operate five corporation courts from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. to handle the case load. The insurance plan, which penalizes careless drivers with higher insurance rates, "has brought a greater awareness of the motorist public as to the importance of a traffic trial," Getty said. Getty told the group meeting at the University of Texas that despite the long court schedules, Houston has a backlog of 120,000 moving traffic violations to be tried. Judge Vic Hall of the McLennan County Court of Law told the conference that cases appealed from municipal courts have not been greatly affected by the safe driving plan. However, Hall said, in counties where violators believe their case will never come up on appeal the docket shows increases in appeals from 50 to 100 per cent.

Badges Awarded At Pack Meeting

One Lion and Bear badge and six Wolf badges were presented to Cub Scouts at the Pack 110 April meeting. John Hassa received the Lion badge and Robert Oliver was awarded the Bear badge. Wolf badges went to Jay Johnson, Roger Cole, Paul Johnson, Harold Hurst, Robert Lockhart and Courtland French. Mark Thomas and Jan Miller were presented gold arrow point under Wolf awards and Charles Buzzard received the silver arrow point under Wolf. The next pack meeting will be May 19.

Nursing Association Looks To Upgrading Scale Of Wages

By WARREN FRANKLIN United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — U.S. health care standards during the next decade will depend in large measure upon increasing the number of qualified nurses by raising the economic standards of the nursing profession. Some 7,000 delegates to the five-day American Nursing Assn. (ANA) convention beginning Sunday in Miami Beach will discuss the wages problem and other key issues in an effort to achieve coherent and effective national policies. This question of raising the wages of nurses is a unique problem in collective bargaining which the ANA hopes to demonstrate as vital to the public interest. Persuasion, the public's good will and public relations are the only bargaining approaches or avenues open to the organization within the existing framework of the Taft-Hartley law and state and local regulations governing any wage negotiations. Mrs. Judith Whitaker, executive secretary of the ANA, explained here that a more competitive labor market and the practical and hardheaded economic concern of possible future members of the nursing profession are necessitating this revision of existing economic standards. "Today, in hospitals alone, 11 per cent of all R.N. positions budgeted for are unfilled, and we anticipate a steadily increasing demand for more nurses," she said. "The problem is further complicated," Mrs. Whitaker said, "because of the shortage of qualified funds for traineeships necessary to prepare these persons for teaching and administrative posts. Today's nurses need more education than ever before," she said. "The advance of medical and nursing techniques requires much more specialized knowledge. The ANA has recommended to the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health, Education and Welfare that 6 million dollars be appropriated for professional nurse traineeships and 2 million dollars for public health nurses.

Pampa Students Make International Friends With Annual Jr. Red Cross Gift Box Project

By LEE GRIMSLEY
Daily News Staff Writer

When tragedy strikes in a foreign land, Pampa, thanks to the work of a group of volunteer Junior Red Cross members, will become a symbol of friendship and help to the stricken people.

Members in Junior high and elementary schools are nearly finished packing a group of gift boxes which will be used by students their own age where ever tragedy strikes.

So far the local Red Cross has received 174 such gift boxes, and some schools are still in the process of packing.

The boxes contain items that will help safeguard children's health, as well as toys for boys and girls of all ages.

All items packed in the boxes are donated by Junior Red Cross members. The boxes average cost is $1.50 each.

When the packing is completed the boxes will be sent to the Red Cross' national warehouse at Landover, Md., for storage until they are needed.

They also include a letter of greeting signed by the students who packed them, and a note asking the user to write to the local Red Cross office. In most cases the letter is answered.

"This year we've received letters from Vietnam, Germany and Japan and some other countries," Mrs. Lillian Shotwell, executive secretary of the Red Cross chapter here said. "And a lot of times we have to go all over town to find someone to translate them for us."

Mrs. Shotwell said the Red Cross received numerous requests for items to be included in the boxes. Many of them are for toys.

"The people usually request soccer balls," she said. "But we can't play soccer much in this area so we've just been sending basketballs. Next year I'm going to order some regular soccer balls before we start this."

Mrs. Shotwell also said the gift trunk, being packed by Junior Red Cross members at Pampa High School, will be ready for mailing by May 15.

Among the items it will include the Harvester annual and a Texas Almanac.

West Proposal Spurned Prior To Summit

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has rejected in advance the West's principal summit conference pitch on Germany — a plebiscite in which the Communist East Germans could decide their own future.

His rejection came in the course of a long speech at Baku, in the Soviet republic of Azerbaijan early last week. But the full significance was lost in the spot news concentration on his renewed threat to impose another Berlin blockade.

Khrushchev now has slammed the door on virtually every Allied proposal on the major issues to be discussed at the Paris meeting next month — with the possible exception of a nuclear test ban treaty.

The adamant Soviet attitude represents one limit of the diplomatic playing field at Paris. The other limit is drawn by the fact that all four participants—Khrushchev, President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and French President Charles de Gaulle — have a vested interest in continuing the "detente" — relaxation of tension which has held sway since last September's Camp David meeting.

The four have no common ground for agreement but, on the other hand, all want to keep from heating up the cold war again. Between these two limits they will struggle at Paris with the titanic issue of dividing East and West.

Washington diplomats, who have their own way of making book over pre - lunch martinis, figure the outcome of the summit conference is as easy to predict as that of a professional wrestling match.

They anticipate no progress on Germany or Berlin, a general reaffirmation of the necessity to try harder on disarmament and possibly the initiating by the United States, Britain and Russia of the general outline of a nuclear test ban treaty.

De Gaulle, who has just succeeded in setting off France's first two atomic blasts, will not subscribe to such a ban unless the other nuclear powers agree to throw away their present weapons or work out a rigid system to control missiles and all other possible vehicles to deliver nuclear weapons. This is not about to happen.

Diplomats believe the toughest job for the Big Four at Paris will be to work out a communique offering some hope of future progress on the knotty problems they face.

You Can't Tell A Real Antique By Its 'Genuinely Old' Covers

By WARD CANNEL, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — Score one more triumph for modern science. The booming antique business in the U.S. today is in more jeopardy from counterfeiters than ever before.

Ad Promises Scrutinized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has warned businessmen against abusing such advertising promises as "lowest price in town," "lifetime guarantee," and "satisfaction or your money back."

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) served notice that from now on it would take steps to see that advertisers back up to the letter all of their guarantees.

The agency issued a guide to alert both consumers and businessmen as to what it considers false advertising of guarantees on products.

FTC Chairman Earl W. Kinnear said the guide was essentially educational but contained "mailed fist" in a speech prepared for delivery to the Better Business Bureau in Los Angeles.

He warned that the commission would "bring legal action against an alleged violator" of the rules set forth in the new guide.

The guide stipulates that all product guarantees must "clearly and conspicuously" disclose the following information:

—What product or part of a product is guaranteed and an exact explanation of what the guarantee involves, including its duration.

—The manner in which the guarantee will be backed up—for example, by repair, replacement, or refund.

—Whether the manufacturer or the retailer is the guaranteeing party.

Kinnear cited many examples of phony guarantees which he said make it tough for the honest businessman to compete with "the slick and the greedy."

He said many advertisers have found the slogan "guaranteed for life" valuable in selling. But he added that "the advertiser should make it plain just whose life he has in mind — the purchaser's, the manufacturer's, the retailer's or the Federal Trade Commission's."

Or in other words, while modern chemistry, physics and mechanics can make a moon, they can also make a Queen Anne table or a sort of a genuine hall-mark George I tea pot.

Of in other words, folks, watch out.

Now, it is a little difficult to get antique dealers to admit that counterfeiting exists. Old-silver mongers say, for example, that old-silver is all right, but you've got to be careful about old furniture. And the furniture men say furniture is all right, but watch out for gems and silver. And like that.

But one antique silver expert in New York, John Daley, says: "If you use money, there will be money counterfeiting. As the antique business grows, antique counterfeiting will grow."

And from Darwin Neumeister, vice president of the venerable Black, Starr and Gorman firm: "Gems and antiquity are mysterious businesses to the layman. Any mystery is bound to be plagued by considerable misrepresentation."

None of this represents a new trend in human nature, the experts say. Forgeries in the arts are practically as old as the arts. And there is still a law on the English books which makes phonyed—hallmarks on silver a hanging offense.

Now, hanging is no joke. But there is a wry smile in a counterfeit tea pot which sent some silver smith to the gallows 150 years ago and now commands a fat price as a legitimate antique.

Today, of course, that silver smith doesn't stand a chance. Modern science can forge it much better — and, more important — cheaper. To wit:

1. Furniture. There are drills available today that can simulate the tooth-marks of early American worms — sure signs of colonial artistry. There are dyes to make wood look old, magnificent glues to make it behave old.

2. Silver. What makes an old piece of silver old, by common consent, are the hallmarks — those small inscriptions noting the maker, his town, the year, etc.

Modern technology can make it easier than ever to take the hallmarks from a small item like sugar tongs and place them on a larger, higher-priced tray. Sometimes, too, a new silver piece will be built around an old fragment which contains the hallmarks.

"It's a lot of work," one reputable dealer said. "And I wouldn't do it — unless I could get $10,000 for the finished piece."

3. Gems. "Somehow," a New York jewelry expert said, "Americans traveling in the Orient or India manage to find those tremendous bargains. Back here for appraisal, they discover they've got a synthetic made possible only by significant American science."

In all this confusion between old and really old, whom can a consumer trust?

"Us," say the dealers to a man. But long-time purveyor Raymond Pollenz, adviser to the Antique Dealer magazine, shakes his head.

"With pressures all around him urging him to buy today and discard tomorrow, every consumer has a sneaking but solid suspicion that every antique dealer is a take."

WHICH IS WHICH? — Some are prized Carrara marble mantelpieces, others, cheap, imitations of the same.

Landscaping Enhances Pool Areas

NEW YORK (UPI) — The fantastic growth of backyard swimming pools has created a heavy demand for landscaping services.

Too many homeowners pay little attention to pool surroundings. Shrubs, trees and ornamental bushes are scattered about with little thought given to plant habits.

To help homeowners set up the ideal surroundings for their new private playgrounds, United States Pool Corp., Newark, N.J., has devised a few basic rules of landscaping that can be easily and effectively utilized.

According to the company's landscaping engineer, the more attractive and hearty evergreens suitable for screening and high hedging around the pool are hemlock, canadensis, taxus cuspeda capitata, illex cornuta and arbutus.

Be extra careful when selecting evergreens to be used near a pool, making sure the dropped foliage is not prickly or sharp, such as holly, juniper and stricta.

Seasonal flowering shrubs may be used for a low cost, effective summer screen, but should be planted well back from the pool because the dropping of leaves and flowers will only add to the chore of keeping the pool clean.

This also includes flowering trees. These trees, also planted well back from the pool area, are most effective for screening from second story windows or higher level property surrounding the pool.

Flowers should never be planted close to the pool because they attract bees and other insects that can be a nuisance, and spent flowers will fall into the pool on windy days. However, flowers have an important usage as background setting.

News In Brief

ELVIS SLIPPING? LONDON (UPI)—Elvis Presley still is shy of the old music magic he had with British fans before he became a GI and shaved his sideburns.

His first disc since his Army discharge, "Stuck On You," failed to top the British hit parade. It rose as high as number two last week and slipped to eighth place this week.

BALLISTIC BOOST—A new high-in-civilian-air travel is shown in this futuristic drawing. Carried piggyback to 120,000 feet by a booster plane, left, a rocket-powered, hyper-sonic transport takes off for a 15,000-m.p.h. trip into near space. When top speed and an altitude of 40 miles are reached, the "boost-glide" transport cuts its power and glides to its destination on another continent. A small jet engine assists in landing. It could happen in the 1980-90 period, according to Leston Faneuf, Bell Aircraft executive. Estimated cost of developing the system is rounded off at one billion dollars, making government aid necessary for its success.

South Louisiana Hit By Twisters

NEW-IBERIA, La. (UPI)—Tornadoes skipped around a 50-mile area of South Louisiana Friday night, damaging nearly every home in one village and wrecking eight planes at an air base.

Only one injury was reported. The worst property damage was at the New Iberia Naval Air Station, where eight planes were tossed like toys by a twister and four buildings damaged.

Deputy Sheriff Louis Ackel said that almost "all houses in Loreauville suffered some sort of damage." Loreauville is a village of 900 persons a few miles from New Iberia.

Arkansas Solon Favors Johnson

DALLAS (UPI)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) says that "as of now" he favors Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson for President.

McClellan, in Dallas to take part in Lawyers Week activities at Southern Methodist University, said he prefers Johnson "because his political philosophy is closest to mine."

The Arkansas senator expressed belief Johnson lost no ground in the South as a result of his leadership in passage of the civil rights bill. "I can't say that he was hurt by the bill," McClellan said.

Ag Department Intensifies Program To Safeguard Food

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some months ago, the Agriculture Department called for "an intensified education program" to insure the proper use of chemicals in foods.

This education program was mentioned in Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's "chemicals and food" statement Jan. 14 in which he said the food supply in the United States is the "safest, cleanest, and most wholesome in the world."

He added that the department "intends to continue and intensify its efforts to insure that American consumers get the food they need and want, in adequate quantities at a reasonable price, and that these foods continue to meet the highest standards of nutritional quality and wholesomeness. It strongly endorses the safe use of carefully tested chemicals as required to maintain the excellence, variety, and economy of the foods we eat."

The Agricultural Research Service (ARS) promptly began work on the education program. Already ARS has published three leaflets dealing with chemicals in foods.

The central theme in each leaflet is: "It pays to use chemicals safely." This department axiom is followed by the admonition: "Always read and follow instructions on the label."

Department leaflet No. 470 was addressed to "Mr. Field Crops Producer," No. 471 was to "Mr. Fruits and Vegetable Producer."

"As a modern farmer, you count on pesticides and other farm chemicals to aid in your operations," the department said to the field crops farmer. "These chemicals benefit both you and your customers by helping to assure the high quality and adequate quantity of the nation's food and feed supplies."

"It's up to you to use farm chemicals safely and effectively."

Then followed the statement that "chemicals cut costs by reducing losses and by increasing production efficiency."

Without a protective spray or dust, a growing crop can be wiped out by insects or disease, the department said. Even a crop in storage often is not safe without protective chemicals.

"By using chemical weed killers you can sometimes eliminate the need for more costly farming operations, such as hand hoeing of cotton or cultivation of corn," the department advised.

The leaflet to the fruit and vegetable producer was similar to that for field-crop farmers.

The message to the livestock producer advised that "avoiding harmful residues in animals you raise is your responsibility."

Welch Is Quotable, Allen Case Versatile

By DICK KLEINER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Joseph Welch, currently occupied as the host of the new Hour of Great Mysteries...

"I have two careers, the law and television, and I manage to squeeze them in by a schedule. If they want me to do something on TV, I say I'm too busy with the law. If they want me for the law, I say I'm too busy with TV. Actually, I love them both, but law will always come first. I've known her long."

"I went to Grinnell College. I did Gary Cooper. I met Mr. Cooper at a party in Hollywood and I said, 'Is it true that you called the trout for the drama club at Grinnell?' He said it was true. I said, 'Then we have something in common. I don't feel, however, that the fact that I tried for the drama club in college is a sign that I wanted to be an actor. At a small college, everybody tries out for everything.'"

"I like mysteries. I think that most trial lawyers do. In evidence, every case that comes to trial is a modest mystery. I have no facility for creating mysteries, however. Nor for writing or even reading plays. I think that's a flaw in my character. There are other flaws. For example, I cannot read maps and blueprints. It has been a hardship to me, in certain cases, to have that flaw in my character. It's something I'm ashamed of."

"I do not feel it's a good idea to have Congressional hearings or trials. I admit the public interest—be served, it's good for the public to want to see these things, and they would learn from seeing them. But I feel more harm than good would be done. The witnesses would be too conscious of the camera and act accordingly. There are enough pressures on them as it is."

"If I have any unfulfilled ambition, it is to write something that's lasting. John Voelker, who wrote 'Anatomy of a Murder,' has been after me to write a book. Certain publishers have urged me — no, strike that out — invited me to write a book. I think I will, and I think it will be about me. Necessarily, it will be a slim volume."

Gore Vidal, who wrote the original play, 'Visit to a Small Planet,' has not seen the movie version, which stars Jerry Lewis. 'I don't have to see it,' says Vidal. 'That's not in my contract.'"

When Allen Case was boy, he decided that he wanted to be "financially secure" when he was 25. He made it at 23.

Case is the Broadway singer who went Western, and how? He stars with Henry Fonda in 'The Deputy' series. And he wants to continue with his two careers, which is why he pops up now and then as a straight singer of straight songs on such shows as Garry Moore's.

Case is the Broadway singer who went Western, and how? He stars with Henry Fonda in 'The Deputy' series. And he wants to continue with his two careers, which is why he pops up now and then as a straight singer of straight songs on such shows as Garry Moore's.

"I've turned down suggestions that I sing in 'The Deputy,'" he says. "I don't want to be a singing cowboy. I have a legitimate voice, and I think the two careers must be kept separate."

He likes his work in the Western series. He hopes to stay with it. "Two, three, four years—because the inactivity was driving me batty."

He's been in the real estate business in the interim, involved in deals figured in the millions. He admits, quite frankly, that he doesn't need the money and, in fact, he's working on plans now to set up a foundation to help needy young singers get started.

For Tracy, who had a regular radio show from 1931 to 1949, the return to active duty is a treat and a challenge. A treat because, happily, he's found that he is remembered. And a challenge because he's out to capture the hearts of young audiences as he did those of his parents.

And his voice is still good enough to do it. DICK'S PICKS: Debbie Reynolds, getting better with each record, has it good on an RCA called "City Lights." Others: "Fish in the Ocean" (Paul Evans, Guaranteed); "If There Are Stars in My Eyes" (Gretta Brewer, Coral); "Wheel of Fortune" (Lavern Baker, Atlantic); "Doin' the Madison" (Mary Ford, Capitol); "No Apads" (Lloyd Price, ABC-Paramount); "One Little Girl" (Carl Dobkins Jr., Decca); "Hurtin' My Heart" (Conway Twitty, MGM); "On the Via Veneto" (Darcelle Ray, RCA).

The folk music revival is reflected in a flood of good new LPs: The Kingston Trio's latest gem, "Capitol is 'Sold Out,' a beauty; Harry Belafonte has a rip-roaring collection of chain gang songs on RCA, "Swing Dat Hammer"; Mahalia Jackson has another beauty on Columbia, "Come On Children, Let's Sing"; a new group, The Coachesmen, have a way with a song, as shown by their "Subways of Boston" on HIFI Records; Oscar Brand has more of his modern folk songs, taken from the Air Force tunes of World War II and later, on Elektra's "Out of the Blue."

WELCH: It will of necessity be a slim volume.

CASE: He made it two years ahead of schedule.

Yul Brynner Will Become First Bald Western Hero

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (UPI) — Yul Brynner is about to become the first bald western hero in movie history.

The Russian-born actor, who sported a head of hair for his last film, "Solomon and Sheba," has about it once again for "The Magnificent Seven," being shot near this suburb of Mexico City.

"I went into this part with a clear mind," said Brynner. "I can play, but I felt this part was safe since the story was set in Mexico and I am again a 'foreigner.'"

"You see, my problem in U.S. pictures is that I'm not a typical, clean-cut American boy. That's why I live abroad. Most of my pictures have foreign settings, and the tendency today is to shoot movies where they actually come from."

"No one in his right mind leaves a country for taxes alone," he said. "I moved because my jobs made it necessary. Because of the parts I play, I rarely found myself using my home in Hollywood in that country."

"Now I have solid roots in Switzerland. My boy goes to school there and I have to get back to Geneva for my job at the United Nations. I work as a special consultant to the high commissioner for displaced persons."

NEW YORK (NEA) — The latest electronic devices are causing a boom in one of the oldest musical forms.

The popularity of chamber music is steadily increasing. This is reflected in sales of chamber music albums, in the demand for quartets and trios for concert work, even in the number of chamber music groups making a living at it.

And the revival, say the members of the Fine Arts Quartet, one of the finest practitioners of the ancient art, dates from just after World War II.

Borger Gets Only 3 Hits But Wins

By BOB DUNBAR
Daily News Sports Editor

BORGER — After taking a 3-0 first inning lead, the Pampa Harvesters fell apart at the seams and handed the Borger Bulldogs a 10-5 win here Saturday.

Kippy Williams breezed along until the fourth inning with the 3-0 lead and held the Bulldogs hitless before he got himself into a jam with control trouble.

The loss forced the Harvesters to share third place in the District 3-AAAA league with Plainview, who walloped Tascosa 12-0 Friday. After lead-off batter Bobby Stephens fled out to start the game, Wendell Ridgway drew a free pass, Larry Stroud followed with a single, moving Stephens to third.

Bobby Nutt cracked a sharp single to left, bringing home the first Harvesters tally. Terry Joe Haralson got Stroud home when he was safe on an error by the Bulldog shortstop.

Roy Don Stephens then hit a slow roller back to short and before Lindsey decided what to do with the ball, Stephens was safe at first and another run came across.

Bulldog pitcher Bob Connelly retired the next two men and that was all the trouble the Harvesters gave him until the top of the seventh when they counted two more runs.

Williams struck out the side in the Borger first and added two more strikeout victims in the third. To the left-handed ace's credit, the plate umpire cut down the strike zone so that Williams' most effective pitch, the straight fast ball across the knees, was missing the strike area.

The Bulldogs took advantage of three walks, an infield error and one base hit in the fourth to tie the game at 3-3.

Borger came right back at Williams in the fifth, waiting him out for another free pass to lead off the inning. When the hard-luck southpaw hit a batter after having him down two strikes, Coach Dick DeWalt decided it was time to change pitchers.

Jimmy Walker was called in from the bullpen, but the little righthander didn't have much better luck with the plate umpire. Bulldog third baseman Hood greeted Walker with a single to lead the sacks. After Welch struck out, Temple drew a free pass to tie the game in the fourth. R. B. Bell grounded out from Bobby Nutt to Stroud, the runner on third coming across on the fielder's choice.

With runners at first and third, Terry Joe Haralson threw perfectly to Ruben Strickland to get Bell attempting to steal second but when Strickland put the ball on the runner it dropped from his glove and another run counted for the Bulldogs.

Leading 7-3, Borger made the most of two more walks, another infield error, a hit batsman, and one base hit to rack up its last three runs in the sixth.

After Walker gave up a single to rightfielder Temple, Woldt called Mack Taylor in to relieve him. Taylor mopped up, getting Adams to fan and Connelly to pop out to Strickland.

The Harvesters came to life in the last time around but it was a case of too little, too late. Stroud led off with a 400-foot infield single . . . 300 up and 300 down.

The lanky first sacker underout a Connelly fast ball and shot the ball straight up like a satellite headed for orbit. The ball headed back for earth and dropped between the legs of the second baseman.

The third base line as three Bulldog infielders watched, each waiting for the other to take a stab at the towering pop fly.

Nutt drew a walk, and when Roy Don Stephens walked the bases were loaded with only one out. Gary Hill singled to drive in Stroud from third.

After Strickland popped out, Woldt called Gerry Owens in to pinch hit for Taylor. Owens walloped Connelly out for a walk to force Nutt across with the Harvesters' fifth run.

Bobby Stephens ended the threat when he popped out to third.

The fielding gem of the day was turned in by rightfielder Hill in the second inning. With one down, Temple teed off on a Williams fast ball and drove the ball deep to right center. Hill hauled the ball in with a sensational backhand catch as he ran full tilt for the fence.

The Harvesters ended the 1960 season with an overall record of 11 wins and 7 losses.

Hole-In-One Contest Set At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament officials Saturday revealed a $10,000 hole-in-one contest as a warmup for the $27,500 tournament proper May 12-15.

Each of the 54 golfers entered in the invitation-only affair will get three shots at the cup from a slightly more than 700 yards as a feature of the clinic on Wednesday, May 11.

The same rules which applied last year, when the purse was only $1,000, will be in effect this time. In case of more than one ace, the pot will be divided.

In case of no holes-in-one, the three closest will share in a $300 pot—split $150, $100 and $50.

The closest any player has come in two previous contests was three feet 11 inches last year when Argentine Roberto de Vincenzo picked up the $150 check.

The prize also will compete that day in a $300 driving contest, won only $1,000, will be in effect this time.

Nieder Better Shot Put Record

By ED SAINSBURY

DES MOINES (UPI) — Bill Nieder, a former Kansas star now in the Army, broke the recognized world shot put record in the Drake Relays Saturday with a throw of 63 feet 11 1/2 inches.

The mark came as Nieder beat record holder Parry O'Brien for only the third time in 19 trials. Nieder, who earlier this year tossed the 16-pound ball 63 feet 7 inches in the Texas Relays, exceeded 63 feet three times in his four measured tosses. His other tries were 63-10, 63-8 and 62-8 1/2. He got his best distance on his fifth try.

Nieder set a new Drake AAU record, though, since the previous mark was 59 feet 9 1/2 inches by O'Brien six years ago. O'Brien won the Olympic shot put in both 1952 and 1956 and he, Nieder, Dave Davis and Dallas Long of Southern California, who did not compete here Saturday, were rated as the major challengers for the three spots open in the event on the 1960 U. S. Olympic team.

Nieder, O'Brien and Davis qualified Saturday for the Olympic trials.

In the other special event bringing an Olympic champion into action, Glenn Davis, formerly of Ohio State and the 1956 Olympic 400-meter hurdle champion, won the 440-yard dash. His time of 47.4 was well below his own relay record of 46.5.

Davis was not pressed, though, since second-place winner Eddie Southern, formerly of Texas, was timed in 47.9, was fading fast at the finish.

Outside of the performances in the special AAU events, the lengthy program fell far short of expectations. Handicappers had anticipated that as many as 20 records would be broken or seriously threatened.

Only one relay record was broken, that by Central Michigan with a 3:12.3 in the mile-relay. One was tied by the East Texas State quarter mile relay team which equalled the clocking with which it won last year, 4:1.

In the 100-yard dash, Kansas' Charlie Tidwell triumphed in 9.5, also one-tenth of a second off the record, but he was the only Olympic qualifier.

None of the collegians qualified in the high jump, won by Charles Lewis of Grambling with 6 feet 5 1/2 inches, or the hop, step and jump, won by James Baird, West Texas State, at 47 feet, 3 3/4 inches. The only qualifier in the shot put was winner Mike Lindsey of Oklahoma, with 55 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Barrie Almond of Houston, won the mile run in 4:12.6 staying off a desperate finish by Ron Gregory of Notre Dame, clocked in 4:12.7, but again neither was fast enough for an Olympic chance.

Texas Univ. Sweeps 2 From TCU

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — The University of Texas baseball team mangled hapless Texas Christian University 17-1 and 13-3 in a baseball double-header Saturday. TCU didn't win an inning.

Texas center fielder Roy Menge hit three homers in the day's play and Jay Arnette, Lew Brazelton and Pat Rigby each knocked homers in the one-sided slugfest. The wins cemented Texas in the first place in the Southwest baseball conference with a record of nine wins and two losses with only four games left in the season. TCU's season tally dipped to three wins, seven losses and one tie so far this season.

Fleck Ties At Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Lean Jack Fleck of Los Angeles repeated his three under par 69 that was washed out in a downpour Friday to pull into a three-way tie Saturday with Arnold Palmer and Bill Collins in a second round play of the $35,000 Houston Classic Golf Tournament.

Palmer and Collins, both hampered with slow greens, managed Friday's downpour, but Fleck, to come in with identical 71s who won the National Open in Saturday, and stay in the top slot. Fleck said he felt he was "very fortunate" Saturday.

"It was putting very well despite the slow greens," he said. "The course played longer and there was more mud, but I had a lot of luck."

He sank an eight-foot putt on the fifth for a birdie, then stayed even until he reached the 11th, where a ripple on the green caused him to miss a 10-inch putt for a bogey four.

He recovered, however, on the 13th when he chipped to within six inches of the hole and sank it for another birdie. He then stayed even the rest of the way to wind up at seven-under-par through 36 holes.

Palmer, of Ligonier, Pa., who is far in the lead this season in total earnings with more than $44,000, had considerable trouble N. C., and Fred Haas of New Orleans, followed with 140s and Paul Harnsey, of Worcester, Mass., of three putts two holes, one Paul Harnsey, of Worcester, Mass., of three putts two holes, one Dave Hill of Detroit and Frank Beley, Canton, Ohio, were next in from 30 feet on the 13th and got an eight-foot putt on the 15th.

Tommy Bolt, another Crystal River resident, had to withdraw after 27 holes Saturday because of a pulled muscle in his back. All hands agreed that the greens were much slower after today was with my putting.

Grey Lag Handicap To Arcaro

NEW YORK (UPI) — Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer outmeade St. Louis' Arcaro in a loose with the sparkling speed that made him horse of the Year in 1959 at Aqueduct Saturday and outgamed First Landing in the stretch to win the $70,000 Grey Lag Handicap by a neck.

Dropping back to last in the field of 11 thoroughbreds after half a mile, Sword Dancer, owned by Eddie Arcaro in the saddle, started to run when he reached the end of the backstretch.

First Landing had taken the lead from Manassas Mauler in the mile and one-eighth race with Whitley making a strong bid at this point. But Sword Dancer proved invincible as he outgamed his two rivals to pick up a winner's purse of $44,800.

First Landing just posed out Whitley for second place with Talent Show another two lengths farther back in fourth position.

It was Arcaro's first victory in the Grey Lag stakes and his fourth in a row for the day. The crowd of 46,639 gave horse and rider a tremendous ovation as they came back to the winner's circle.

Sword Dancer was timed in 1:49-3/5 under high weight of 126 pounds. He paid $7.30, $4.20 and $3.70. First Landing, who before Saturday's race held a 2 to 1 edge over Sword Dancer in their Olympic specials, and while about three previous meetings, returned it, equalled the 200 mark of 20-3 $3.00 and $1.50 as favorite, seconds for the distance around a Whitley paid $7.50.

PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — John Thomas, the 19-year-old Boston University sophomore who nearly lost a foot in an elevator accident 13 months ago, high jumped to a world's record Saturday when he cleared 7 feet, 11 1/2 inches at the Penn Relays.

The orbiting youngster, who has cleared seven feet a score of times indoors, shattered the previous world mark of 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches held by Russia's Yuri Stepanov before 45,000 fans sitting in dead silence.

Silence was requested after he cleared seven feet, and after the measurements to guarantee the 7-foot, 1 1/2 inches, the tall youngster made his approach. In one magnificent effort, he made it on his first try. Then the crowd saluted him with a roar of approval.

While Thomas was making his magnificent leap, Villanova, with two sophomores and two juniors in its lineup, won the mile relay for the sixth consecutive year and Yale cracked a relay drought by winning two events in its first major victories at the carnival since 1912.

The Eli's took the two-mile relay, setting a meet record, and also won the sprint medley on a "football plunge" finish by Tom Carroll.

San Jose State swept both sprint relays, equaling the carnival record in the half mile, while Michigan, which won the distance medley Friday, won a second title with the four-mile relay.

Bucs Stretch Win Streak To Eight In Row

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates scored 10 runs in the second inning and equaled their longest winning streak since 1949 Saturday when they made eight in a row with a 12-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Roberto Clements and Bill Mazeroski hit homers as the league-leading Pirates battered Red hurlers for 14 hits. Mazeroski's homer was one of his four hits for the game.

Roy McMillan's two-out wild throw, coming after two runs had scored, touched off the deluge of Pirate runs in the second inning. Before Pirate hurler Bonnie Daniels fanned for the third out, 14 batters went to the plate. Victim of the Pirate scoring spree was right-hander Cal McLish, who is still looking for his first victory after three starts.

Daniels, who gave way to Paul Giel after five innings, was credited with the victory, his first of the season. He was rapped for six runs and eight hits, including homers by Roy McMillan and P. B. Bailey. McLish's homer was his sixth of the season.

Giel was replaced in the eighth by Elroy Face when the Reds scored their final run.

Roger Maris, Bill Skowron and Bobby Richardson smashed home runs Saturday in a savage, 18-hit attack that ended a five-game winning streak for the Baltimore Orioles and carried the New York Yankees to a 16-0 victory.

Jim Coats earned his third straight victory without a defeat, limiting the Orioles to eight hits and striking out four while halting a three-game losing streak for the Yankees.

The Yankees jumped on loser Milt Pappas for five runs in the first inning and continued their onslaught against five Baltimore relievers.

Maris drove in four runs with his homer and two doubles, Mickey Mantle sent three more over the plate with a triple and single and Skowron drove in three with a single in addition to his homer.

Orioles Manager Paul Richards threw Rip Coleman, Gordon Jones, Robbie Mabe, John Anderson and Arnie Portocarrero into the rotation after Pappas. The loss was Pappas' first compared with one victory.

Reaper's Matson Takes Four Firsts

DUMAS — Robert E. Lee Junior High School of Pampa ran off with honors at the Panhandle Junior High School Athletic League track meet here Saturday, racking up 71 points to Pampa Junior High's runner-up total of 31½.

Bill Martin set a new district record in the high jump for Coach Lester Ramsey's junior high crew when he topped five feet, eight inches. The old standard was 5 ft. 6½ inches.

Ninth-grader Randy Matson was a one-man gang for Coach Earl Peeler's Pampa Juniors. The husky youngster took four first places and one second, good for 24 points of the Pampa 31½ total.

Borger's Austin Junior High finished third in the seven-team meet with 30 points. Also ran were Borger Sam Houston, Dumas, Perryton, and Phillips.

Jimmy Lollar tied a district record for the Rebel squad when he was clocked at 22.5 in the low hurdles. Lollar is only an eighth grader but ran with the junior high squad all year. He also placed second in the 440-yard dash with a time of 59.4, an outstanding time for a 14-year-old.

Ralph Palmer nailed down a first in the 220-yard dash with a time of 54.4, edging out Matson in this event. Palmer also took a pair of seconds for the Lee team, one in the 50-yd. dash and the other in the 100-yd. dash.

The Rebel 440-yd. relay team tied a district record when it negotiated the quarter-mile in 49.3 seconds. Dale Mercer, Arnold Phillips, and Dickie Hafley joined Lollar in this relay.

Phillips chalked up a fourth place in 50-yd. sprint and a fifth in the 100-yd. dash.

Jerry Glover's second place in the high hurdles, Curtis Fletcher's third in the 800-yd. run, Gerald Vance's third place in the low hurdles, Dee Wright and Travis Tucker rounded out the scoring for Lee.

Other Lee squad members were Dee Allen, Nelson Rockwell, Gary Epperson, and Shaun Hills.

Coach Lester Ramsey, aided by John Hale and Bill Kennedy, has worked the Lee track squad into a top-district contender with Saturday's title the second district trophy gained by the Rebels this year. Just last week they captured the top trophy in the Amarillo Invitational.

Together with Pampa Junior's Matson, the only other Reapers to place in the meet were Dale E. Pletcher who tied for first in the pole vault with a leap of 8 ft. 6 inches, and Kenneth Hebert who placed in the 220-yd. dash.

Smith Cops North-South Golf State Meet To Name Champs In 3 Sports

PINEHURST, N.C. (UPI) — Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N.C., captured his first major golf crown Saturday with a 5 and 3 victory over Peter Green of Franklin, Mich., in the North and South amateur tournament.

Smith, who maintained a steady pace on the front 18-holes of the 36-hole final round, started the second round 4 up after his 19-year-old opponent in the 60th annual tournament had sand trap troubles.

The long hitting new champion said he played his best golf during the final round on the No. 2

Moore Wants To Defend His Title In LA

DENVER (UPI) — Commissioner Joe Foss of the new American Football League said Friday a $2 million television deal is almost assured for 1960.

League executives ended a two-day meeting at the Denver Hilton Hotel. Foss said about half the needed sponsors already have been found for the TV deal with the American Broadcasting Co.

The ABC would carry 17 "Game of the Week" telecasts, paying the AFL $125,000 for each game, Foss said. That would be evenly divided among the eight teams.

Pro Bowling Loop Lures Nine Cities

DALLAS (UPI) — Nine cities are expected to make bids here next week for franchises in the newly-organized National Professional Bowling League.

The league opens a three-day meeting Tuesday with an agenda that includes the possible naming of a commissioner and the formation of a player draft.

Eight cities already hold franchises in the league that plans to open play in 1961. The organization will present professional leagues such as the American and National baseball leagues.

J. Curtis Sanford, Dallas franchise holder and temporary assistant chairman of the league, said Saturday that four and possibly eight franchises would be issued at the Dallas meeting. The eight charter members voted in February to limit the number of teams to 16.

Cities holding franchises along with Dallas are Los Angeles, Chicago, Omaha, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Raleigh. Representatives from Fresno, Detroit, San Francisco, Sacramento, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Denver, Salt Lake City and Boston are expected to make bids for franchises.

Skate Champ Heiss Weds '56 Olympian

NEW YORK (UPI) — Blonde world skating queen Carol Heiss, 20-year-old daughter of a baker who put the finishing touches on the wedding cake herself, was married to Hayes Alan Jenkins, 27, Olympic champion figure skater of 1956.

The wedding in fashionable St. Thomas Episcopal Church on Fifth Avenue culminated a romance that began at an ice skating rink when Carol was a teenager and Jenkins was a student.

Carol won the Olympic Gold Medal at Squaw Valley, Calif., in February. In March, she won her fifth world figure skating title.

The third Olympic figure skating champion in the family could not attend the wedding. Jenkins' brother, David who won the men's title at Squaw Valley this year could not serve as best man because he was taking final examinations at Western Reserve University's medical school in Cleveland.

This was the bride's first wedding in competition. She did not find out what happened at a wedding until she went to the rehearsal for her own Friday.

The couple received full celebrity treatment. At least 1,000 persons crowded both sides of Fifth Avenue to get a glimpse of the skaters when they left the church. The ceremony began 15 minutes late, but Carol's father, Edward Heiss, said the delay was planned, to give the 350 guests time to be seated.

The ceremony was a simple one, taking only 20 minutes. Carol beamed as she walked down the aisle on her father's arm and back up the aisle with her new husband.

She wore a white tulle wedding gown with long sleeves, lace trimmings and fingertip veil. Her train was a foot long and she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

This was a 10-day honeymoon "somewhere west of east," the couple will set up housekeeping in Akron, Ohio, where Jenkins is practicing law. Carol, a junior at New York University, said she would finish college in Akron.

Valley Giants Miller Leads TL With .449

By United Press International
Charlie Miller, the Valley Giants' second baseman up from Class B ball at Eugene, Ore., continues to find Texas League pitching to his liking.

The 24-year-old rookie, who hit .341 last season at Eugene, was raking the Class A moundmen at a .449 clip through the first two weeks of the season, led the circuit in hits with 22 and shared a three-way lead in doubles with Victoria's Al Paschal and Austin's Bill Thompson.

Paschal at 417 and Tony Asaro of Amarillo at 405 also were above the .400 mark in hitting, while John Orsino, Hiller's teammate, at .393 and Tulsa's Fred Whitfield at .385 rounded out the top five.

Whitfield also led the loop in stolen bases with four. Other individual leaders included Layton Duco of San Antonio with six home runs, Jerry Buckch of Tulsa with 12 runs and Jack Davis of Amarillo with 15 runs batted in.

Among the pitchers, Tulsa's Fred Walker, a lanky right-hander up from Billings, Mont., in Class C ball, was the only three-game winner. He was undefeated although he had failed to last out a single start. He also set the pace in strikeouts with 21 along with Tulsa's Jack Warner.

The Valley's Tommy Bowers and San Antonio's Jack Curtis were the busiest pitchers with 25 innings worked and Bowers also was the only man to work three complete games.

Ironically, the lowly Amarillo Sox led the circuit in runs (.80), RBI's (.75) and stolen bases (.12). Tulsa led in hitting with .278, in home runs (.16) and doubles (.29).

Bally Ache Wins Derby Tune-Up Run

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Front-running Bally Ache, tuning up for a Kentucky Derby clash with Tompon, scored an easy three-length victory over Venetian Way and three other Derby eligibles Saturday in the Stepping Stone Purse.

Leonard Fruchtmann's bargain colt made his Kentucky racing debut the impressive one by running the seven furlongs in 1:22-3/5, just three-fifths second off the Churchill Downs track record.

The track was officially listed as "good," but appeared heavy after a series of showers that preceded the race.

Another length — and a half back of Venetian Way was Mrs. Mary E. Person's second-string Derby hope, Divine Command, while Stephen and the Arizona filly, Sand Flower, brought up the rear in the five-horse field.

Bally Ache, which has won more than a half million dollars since Fruchtmann bought him for $2,600 as a yearling, went to the post a 3-5 favorite and paid $3.40 and $2.20 in the mutuels. Venetian Way paid $2.20. There was no show betting because of the small field.

Southern Ladies' Golf Opens Today

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A field of 160 women golfers, headed by four former champions, will tee off Sunday in the 45th annual scramble for the women's Southern Amateur golf tournament title.

The tourney is being held this year at the well-groomed, 5,964-yard Metairie Country Club course here. A 36-hole championship round will climax the event Saturday.

Defending champion Judy Eller, a 19-year-old coed from Old Hickory, Tenn., was entrenched as the favorite by virtue of her impressive win last year.

The talented youngster smashed all Southern records with her nine-under-par 68 in the qualifying round and went on to down five-time champion Polly Riley of Ft. Worth, Tex., in the final match.

Miss Riley's loss last year was her first defeat in a Southern final match. The personable Texan won the coveted title in 1948, 1950-51 and 1953-54.

Mrs. Margaret Lee of Memphis, Tenn., is back for another shot at the trophy she won in 1949, along with 1956 winner Mrs. Mack McGarry of St. Petersburg, Fla.

24 Inning Tilt Sets Mark

Rio Grande Nips SA In Epic Game

United Press International

Baseball fans for years to come will be talking about the marathon 24-inning game — one of the longest in the history of baseball — that the Rio Grande Valley Giants won 4-2 from the San Antonio Mission early today.

The five-hour, 42 minute contest broke a 50-year-old record for the longest game in Texas League history, and tied the second longest game record in major league history.

It may have set a new record as the longest game in history by time. The longest previous major league game was between Boston and Brooklyn on July 5, 1916. It lasted five hours, 19 minutes, but was only 20 innings.

The longest major league contest of record is the 26 inning game Brooklyn and Boston played on May 1, 1920. There are two other 24 inning games of record — Detroit and Philadelphia on July 21, 1945, and Philadelphia and Boston on Sept. 1, 1906.

The previous longest game in the Texas League was a 1-1 tie between Waco and San Antonio in 23 innings on July 5, 1910. The longest complete game previously was 22 innings between Tulsa and Houston in 1922.

For 16 full innings, the score was tied 0-0. The Giants scored first in the 17th inning on a home run by Gary Tomlin. The Mission scored after the catch.

Davault set the Missions down in order in the bottom of the frame. The Giants used the win to climb over San Antonio into third place, two and a half games back of Tulsa, which kept a full game lead on Austin by splitting a doubleheader with the Senators last night.

The Oilers grabbed the opening, but lost the nightcap 10-12. Austin's catcher Ray Dabek rapped a four-base blow with two aboard in the bottom of the ninth to nail down the win.

Victoria rallied for three runs, also in the bottom of the ninth, to take a 1-6 victory from Amarillo, shoving the Gold Sox deeper into the cellar, seven full games off the pace.

In games tonight, Amarillo travels the Valley at Harlingen, Austin is at Victoria, and Tulsa travels to San Antonio.

KILLARNEY (UPI) — Fearless Fraleys facts and figures from the emerald green fairways of Erin.

Cecil Ewing, the famed internationalist, says that former U.S. amateur champion Harvie Ward is the "richest swing" he's ever seen in U.S. golf — and he has seen some dandies.

Few top players can match the "runnerup" record compiled by the big Irishman from County Sligo in his three Walker Cup appearances.

In 1936 he lost to Johnny Fisher at Pine Valley, N.J., and Fisher went on to win the U.S. Amateur. In 1947, Cecil lost to Willie Turnesa in the Walker Cup at Portrush, and Willie went on to take the British Amateur. And in 1949 he lost to Charlie Coe at Winged Foot and the Oklahoma City tournament later that year took the U.S. Amateur.

"Beating me," says Cecil wryly, "seemed to be just what they needed to get really hopping." Killarney is the section from which Connie Mack's ancestors came and it is so lushly beautiful that it is difficult to understand why they left. The Killarney Golf Club has a breath-taking view. It sits on a point jutting out into Lough Leane with McGillicuddy Reeks (the Connie Mack Mountains) in the background.

Golfers there have a difficult time trying to decide whether to play or fish for the trout and salmon in the broad, tree-lined lake.

Angling addicts are impatiently awaiting the May fly fishing season. During May, trout feed on the mayfly and it is used by the OLYMPIC FACILITIES SET.

ROME (UPI) — Work on the installations for the summer Olympics Games at Rome will be completed far in advance of the Aug. 27 opening.

Giulio Onesti, president of the Italian Olympic Committee, revealed that despite poor weather schedules have been fulfilled and deadlines have been met.

"We will be ready in advance, perhaps more than any other organizing city has ever been before," he added.

Giving the impression of a home straight out of a Hans Christensen Anderson Fairy Tale is the home of the Bill Arringtons. This split-level Swiss Chalet has an exterior of antique bricks with rough-hewn planking and heavy shake roof. A tiled entryway leads into a formal Victorian living room with an adjoining family room in Early American with corner fireplace flanked with bookcases and a gun case on either side. An alcove in the end of the family room is the dining area. The kitchen features pine cabinets with pine paneling throughout the house. The sunken bath in the downstairs bathroom is an unusual feature here. Tones of brown, green and yellow form the decor for the three-bedroom home.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arrington, 2111 Dogwood

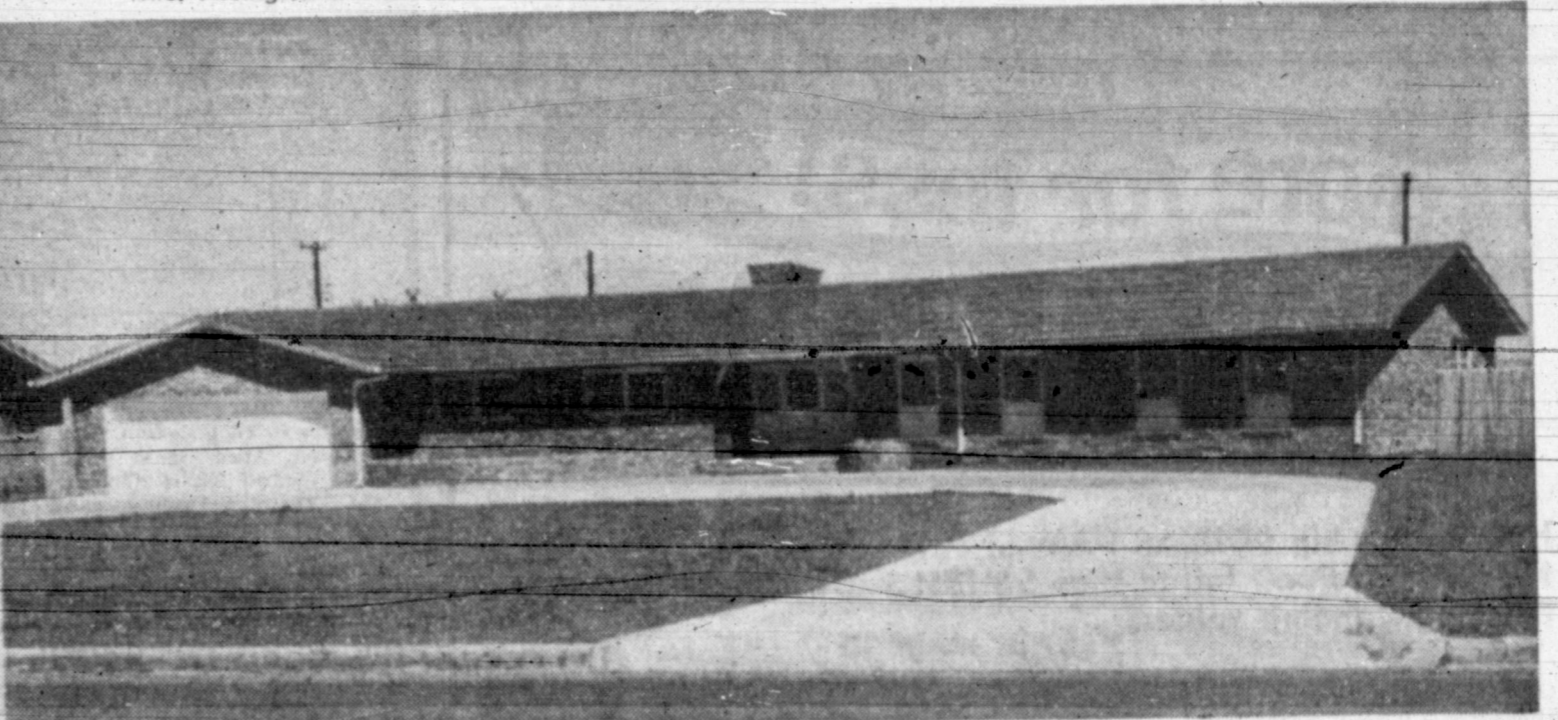

Mrs. Arrington

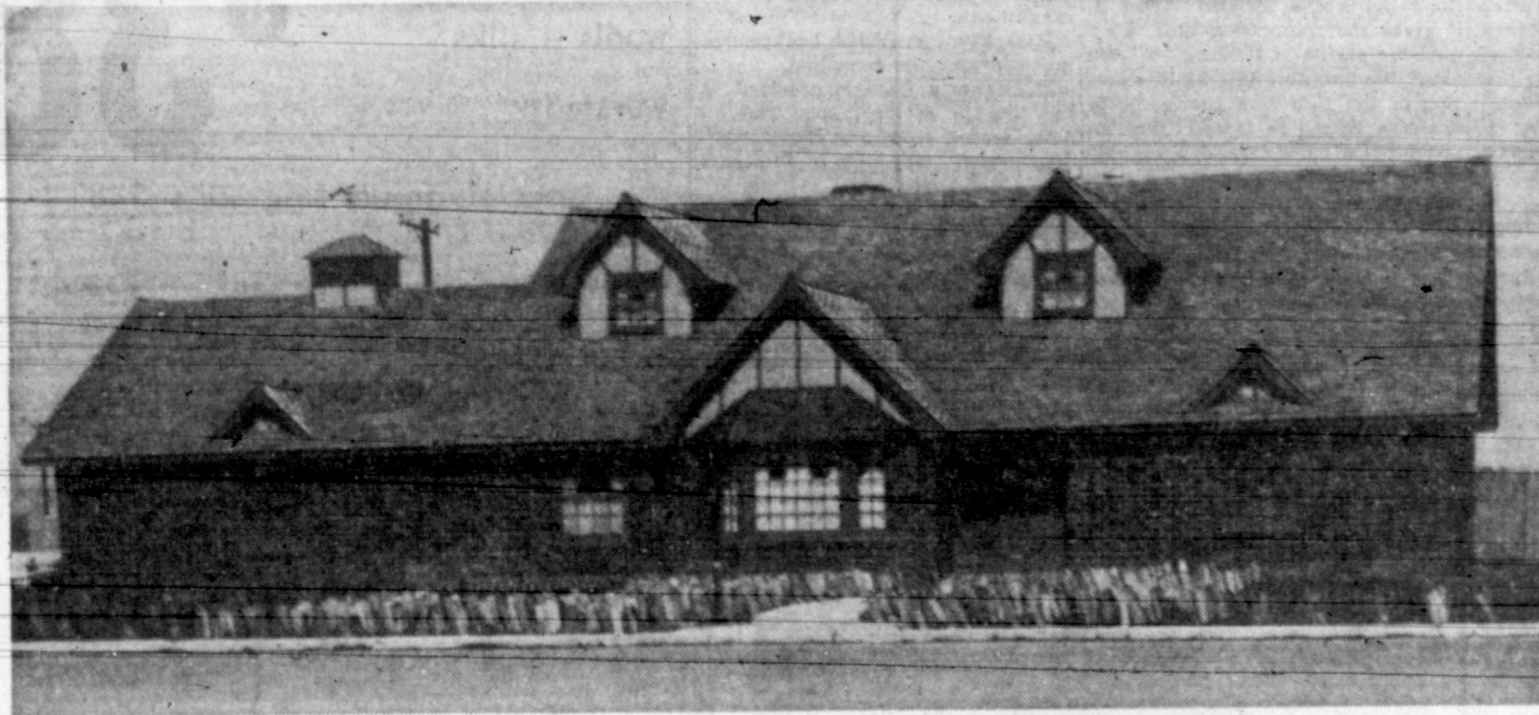

Planned for family living, easy and comfortable throughout, is the home of the J. Kirk Duncans. Ash paneling and woodwork is an attractive feature throughout the home. A wide-brick entry hall leads down two steps into the formal French Provincial living room with its soft, muted green walls and carpeting. A window, curved from the inside and outside looking out on the swimming pool is an impressive feature of this room. There is a formal dining room done in Rural French with wainscoting and grass paper in a soft gray-green providing a pleasant setting for dining. The family room has a beamed ceiling with oak plank flooring and is furnished conventionally; a wood burning fireplace opens both into the living room and den. A housewife's dream of convenience is the entryway from the garage into the pantry, where groceries and packages may be placed. The utility room is situated in the center of the bedroom wing for convenience. A glass doorway leads from the den onto a patio, which partially surrounds a full-size pool; off to the side is a badminton court, which may be flooded for ice skating in wintertime.

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Julian Key, 1840 Fir

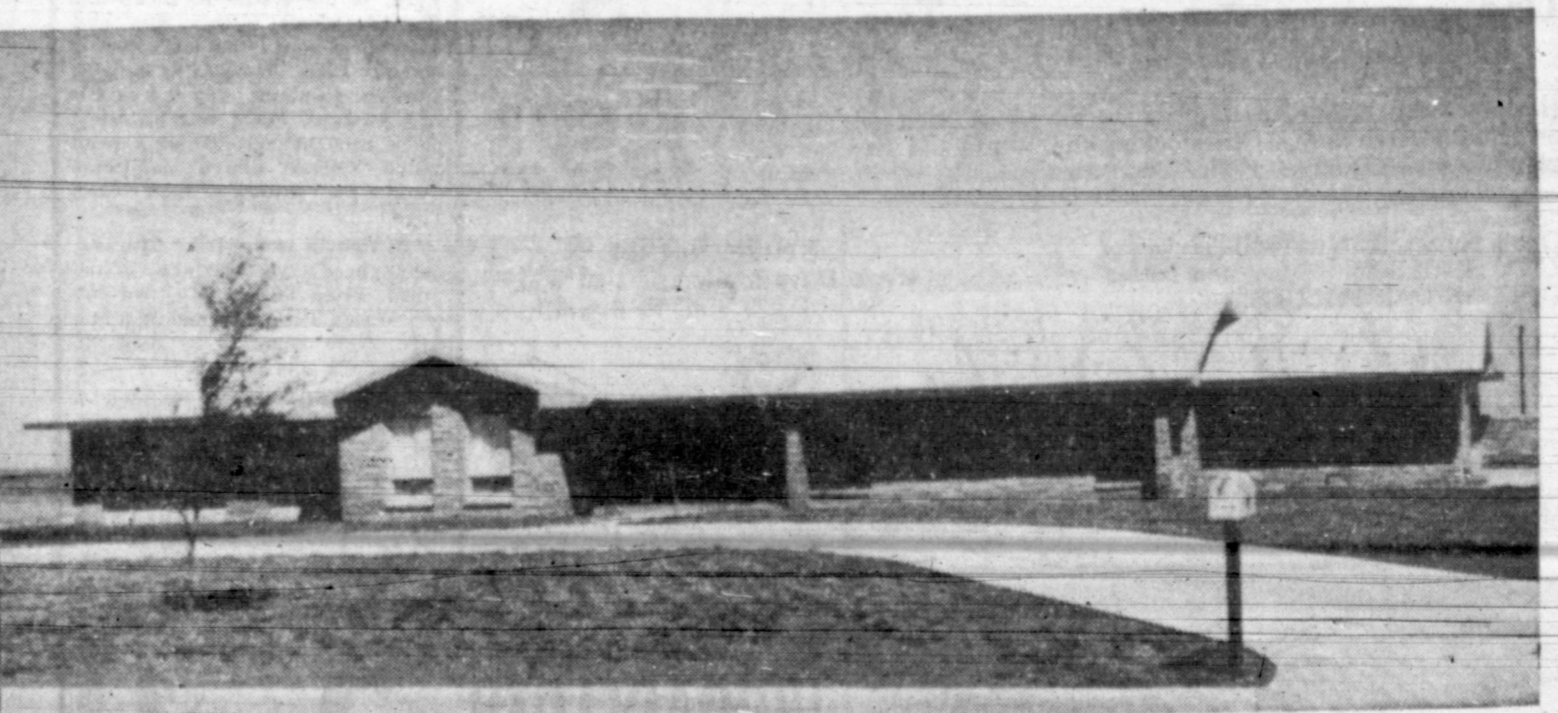

Mrs. Key

With the other families pictured on this page, Dr. and Mrs. Key are opening their home for a tour on Saturday, May 7, from one o'clock until five. Their home, which resembles a two-story English farmhouse with German-Gothic, French Regency and Dutch Colonial influence, is done in over-sized brown brick with rough shingle roof. The down-stairs family room and upstairs sitting room have bay windows. The home features paneling with parkay floors in family room and kitchen. The formal living room and dining room are in 18th Century mahogany; den and master and both down-stairs bedrooms are in Rural French. An attractive feature of the home is the wallpaper, bedspreads, and curtains made from custom design prints of gold keys, in brown tones with touches of yellow and green. The bedrooms upstairs are those of the two teenage daughters; one bedroom is in 18th Century mahogany with pink and white check spread and drapes; the other is in white French Provincial with blue check spreads and curtains. The sitting room upstairs doubles as a study room. A curved staircase leads out of the den to the upstairs area. There is an entry from the Master bedroom downstairs onto the curved porch, which is adjoined by a curved patio. The stockade fence follows the curved lines of the patio. The front lawn will be covered with Baltic Ivy; the stakes pictured here are to hold down the burlapping, which is protecting the ivy, until it gets a good start.

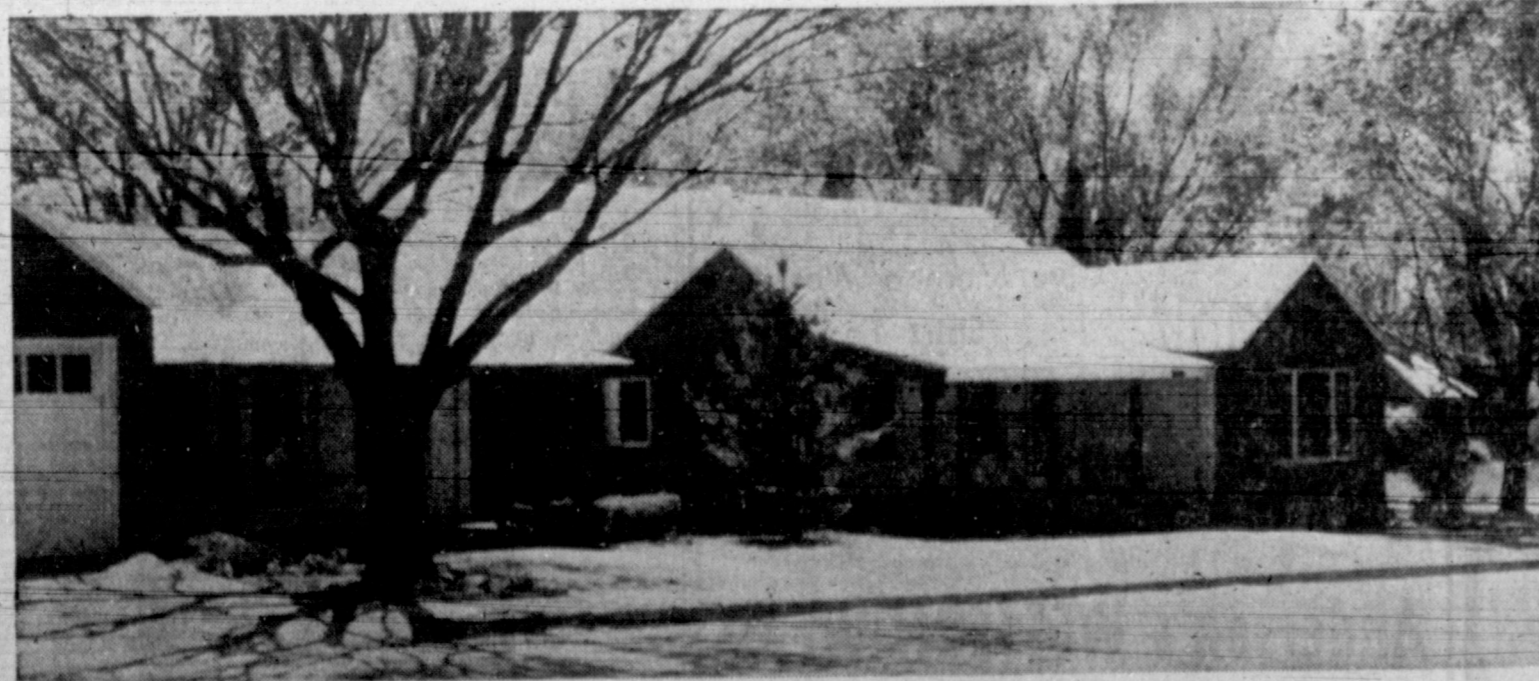

"Oriental Modern with black and whites, bright touches of orange and gold predominating is the decor of the Reid home. A flagstone entry, blending into the den floor, greets guests as they arrive at the home. A Mynah Bird in a black cage greets callers with "Come In." A beautiful touch in the home is the master bathroom done in allwhite and gold. There are gold-brass cabinet pulls in oriental characters on all cabinets. A massive black door with huge brass door-knob, centered, creates an impressive entrance. Two outstanding features of the home is a chess table of carved teakwood, with matching carved chairs, holding an Ivory chess set with oriental figures and an antique doll collection in a lighted case in the hallway. A waterfall and miniature pool in the formal living room is a dramatic point of interest.

Mrs. Reid

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Reynolds, Sr., 1132 Charles

Mrs. Reynolds

Straight from a lonely spot on a wide prairie to an attractive residential district in a city is the authentic ranch-type home of the Wiley Reynolds. Stepping into the rustic den with its cypress paneling there is an interestingly rustic chandelier hanging from the ceiling; one entire wall of the den is a rock fireplace extending from floor to ceiling with wrought iron cooking utensils decorating the walls. The kitchen creates a warm, friendly atmosphere with a large sofa and a ranch-style dining area. A master bedroom extends the length of the house downstairs with furnishings in 18th Century mahogany. Tones of blues and whites with bright touches of pink, purple, and green accent the living room, which offers a formal note from the other rustic furnishings. The room is furnished in the Victorian period. Two formal entries provide entrance to the home; one into the Victorian living room and the other into the rustic den. The home has an outer finish of redstone with white brick trim and white shingle roof. The Reynolds' home is one that has grown charmingly and beautifully to suit family needs.

New Ideals For Fabric Design Shown Guests Of Civic Culture Study Club

Civic Culture Club entertained guests at a tea on Tuesday afternoon in Lovett Memorial Library. Mrs. Ophelia Morris, president of the club, welcomed guests to a film showing of "New World of Ideas" provided through the courtesy of Celanese Corporation of America.

Slides were projected by Mrs. R. E. Dauer.

The first stop on the tour shown in the film was Guatemala, the land of three civilizations: Spanish, Colonial, Modern and Mayan Indian. "Here," Mrs. J. B. Townsend narrated, "John and Earline Brice, photographers, were captivated by the brilliantly colored handwoven scarfs worn by Indian girls. For festive occasions, men of the Maya tribe wear elaborately embroidered jackets. Embroidery from one of these jackets was the inspiration for delicately outlined gold and turquoise prints of spun and celanese acetate."

At the next stop in Quinto, capital of Ecuador the photographers captured a wealth of fabric design for use in Celanese fabrics.

The narrator continued, "Lima, Peru, is the cradle of Incan and Spanish Colonial history. The photographers found the lost city of Machu Picu, temples, hanging gardens, fountains and terraced stairways. From this historical place can the antique satin print called "Cortez" and a handsome damask pattern called "Casa Tile."

"In Bolivia is the Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable lake in the world. From this beauty, two colors, Water Turquoise and White Sand, were found to be used in rugs, walls and drapes."

"The glamour city of South America is Rio de Janeiro, the capital of Brazil. The breathtaking beauty of Harbor of Rio, when lighted at night has been likened to a diamond necklace. The Christ the Redeemer Statue stands 100 feet high and the arms measure 90 feet wide. At night when great flood lights are focused upon it, it gives the impression that the massive statue is floating in the sky," the narrator said as this portion of the film was shown. Copacabana Beach is famed for its mosaic tile sidewalks. From all these, the Brices received ideas for many lovely fabric designs, Tamaco, Carioca and Tassels.

In concluding remarks, the narrator said, "From this travelogue, we receive "New World of Fabric Beauty" for our home."

She carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations atop a white Bible.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gee chose a beige georgette dress worn over taffeta with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hainer, wore light blue tulle and lace over taffeta. Their corsages were fashioned from white carnations.

Mrs. Billie Laramore, pianist, played the traditional wedding marches and served as accompanist for Miss Nadine Slater, vocalist, as she sang "Always" and "Love-You-Truely."

accompanied by Mrs. Mills. Pampa and Robert E. Lee Junior High Schools and Pampa High School will participate in the observance of Music Week by contributing band and vocal groups. To stimulate interest in Music Week, Treble Clef began by sponsoring a poster contest in public schools. Over one hundred posters were entered in competition; the winners' posters are to be displayed in Parpley's Music Store, which has awarded each of the first and second place winners with gift certificates. The Music Week committee also announces that Lovett Memorial Library will display posters entered in the contest and will have a special book rack containing all the popular, instructive and interesting books that are dedicated to music and musicians. "This display has many of the most recent publications in the music field," Miss Lawlor, Treble Clef Music Week publicity chairman points out. "Every week is music week in the library, though. Recordings of symphonies, opera and folk songs can be borrowed on your library card." Highlight of National Music Week will be the welcoming of special guests, Mrs. Jimmie Yates, president of Seventh District of Texas Federation of Music Clubs, and Mrs. Raymond Marshall, president-elect. They will be the special guests of Treble Clef Club's board of directors at a luncheon in Coronado Inn on Tuesday noon. Both guests are Lubbock residents. Mrs. Yates will install new officers of the club at the annual dinner meeting in the City Club Room on Tuesday evening. Hostesses for the dinner meeting are Mmes. B. W. Riehart, Mrs. John Conway, and Mrs. Paul Reimer. Presiding officer at the dinner meeting will be Mrs. Lonnie Richardson, outgoing president. New officers to be installed during the evening are Mmes. Treble Clef Announces Plans For Music Week

The 37th annual observance of National Music Week will be celebrated in Pampa May 1-7. Treble Clef Club in keeping with its objectives "to encourage the appreciation and the understanding of music and to stimulate the interest in music in Pampa and the surrounding area" is providing many varied programs all during Music Week. At 10:30 a.m. Monday, National Music Week will be officially opened by Ed Myatt, Pampa mayor, who will issue the Mayor's proclamation and read the telegram from the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, which was sent to the National President of the Federation of Music Clubs. The special objectives of the federation in 1960-61 are to make music for the harmony it creates in living; to demonstrate the pleasure and value of music; to encourage amateur participation in music; and to increase musical knowledge through study. The Music Week Committee will be interviewed on two staff breakfast programs on Monday morning: one at 8:30 a.m. in Richards Drugs over Radio KHHH and at 9:30 a.m. over KPDN in B&B Pharmacy. Dedicated to the achievements of these aims, the National Federation of Music Clubs with its cooperating organizations, such as Treble Clef, join forces to direct attention to the dynamic influence of music in everyday living. Both radio stations will have daily broadcasts of musical programs throughout the week: KPDN will broadcast 9:35 to 10 a.m.; KHHH programs may be heard 6:15 to 6:45. Members of Treble Clef who will perform on these radio programs are Mmes. E. B. Alleman, W. M. Cooper, Lois Fagan, W. H. Fuller, John Gill, David Mills, A. L. Patrick, Lonnie Richardson, Leroy Thornburg, Calvin Whatley, H. V. Wilks, Fidelia Yoder; Misses Juanita Haynes, Eloise Lane and Rosemary Lawlor. Guests soloists who will be heard on various radio programs in vocal numbers will be Mrs. James D. Webb, James B. Dalley, Dr. N. J. Ellis, Ben Gollehon, Joe Whitten, Mrs. John Gill, Tom Atkin, Miss Eloise Lane, and Mrs. Yoder will be accompanists. The Rev. David Mills will play two violin numbers,

HAPPY MAY DAY to you... wonder what has happened to that wonderful custom of making May Baskets and leaving them on the doorsteps of friends... we remember some of our Labors of Love fashioned from old-style tablet paper which were stuck together with flour-and-water paste and filled with fragrant Locust Tree blossoms... which had been gingerly plucked from a thorny tree... then either late in the evening... or before dawn on May Day we'd leave them on the doorsteps of friends we wished to surprise... true, the May Baskets were flimsily constructed and the blossoms long wilted before they were found but somehow this custom generated a warmth that is difficult to duplicate these days.

Search thine own heart. What paineth thee
In others in thyself may be.
— John Greenleaf Whittier

PEG GOES POKING... we sneaked a peek by way of the alley exit of the new Capri this week... and, of course, found only a skeleton of things to be... but seats are rapidly being placed in position for the Grand Opening on May 12... which date we are eagerly anticipating... for the first movie selected for showing in the new theater is to be that delightful comedy with Doris Day, "Don't Eat the Daisies"... we didn't dare try out the seats since we were definitely trespassers... but we do hope that they are strategically placed and just close enough to the seat in front so that we can slump comfortably... with our knees propped up on the back of the seat in front... this position, which is in reality an invitation to a chiropractor's visit, is no doubt a habit we've formed from watching TV horizontally at home... we've often wished that the TV screens were more flexible so that we could turn the screen side ways when we are watching it from a side horizontal position... who knows, maybe this model is next!!... we were wondering what all of the tiny little stakes were for out in front of Katy and Julian Key's home on Fir Street... now we know... they are to hold down the burly-burly which is protecting the ground until their lawn gets established... nothing like clearing up a mystery that bugs you.

The most difficult thing in life is to know yourself.
Thales

CAN YOU IMAGINE an ordinary pantry step-ladder being used effectively as a table decoration?... we couldn't either until we saw the centerpiece dreamed up by the hosts for the Country Club Remodeling Party given Saturday evening last in the club... the ladder was placed in the center of the buffet table with sweeping bouquets of fragrant lilac blossoms on each step... dinner was served by candlelight... and the food was marvelous and sumptuous... ideal for the hearty appetites of members who are working hard on remodeling ideas... guests were greeted by Zee and Jack Holloway, Frank and Mildred Smith, Aline and Luke McClelland, dressed in carpenter's aprons and caps, who gave the impression of being more attractive than proficient at the building trade... spilled among the guests who mixed and mingled in the Lounge before dinner were... Edwina and Lynn Boyd... the Ed Myatts... Floy and Mark Heath... Elizabeth Taylor of Greenville, who represents the Columbia Artists of New York City... no doubt celebrating the glorious success of the recently completed Community Concert Drive... which for the first time in 17 years, we are told, has a sold-out membership... Curt and Will Beck were helping her celebrate... noted the Joe R. Donaldsons with a gay group of friends... table decorations were clever, too, paint cans holding candles and huge paint brushes and other building supply brick-a-brack appointed the tables... very clever, indeed, these Remodeling Party hosts.

SIGNS OF CHANGING TIMES... when you consider your best friend the one that shares her diet pills with you... or when you are more irritated over being kept waiting ten minutes than being overcharged ten dollars... would seem to bear out that time is more precious than money.

THE BIG MYSTERY???... we are wondering what is going into the building that is being completed on North Hobart Street between Bobette Beauty Shop and the Minit Market??? we've heard that it is to be a boys' clothing store and another time that it is to be a drug store... the suspense of what it is to be getting more suspenseful by the rumor... speak of suspense, we hear that Wanda Campbell has done it again... her third book, her third book, a new mystery, has been published and is available at local book shops... its title, "Mystery of Old Mobeattie"... this should make good reading for from old, old timers we hear that the origins of Old and New Mobeattie have been a mystery for some time.

LOTS OF PAMPANS ARE OUT OF TOWN this weekend for one reason or another... Delta Kappa Gamma members are having a convention this weekend down Fort Worth way... Lavinia Webb... Essie Mae Walters... Mary Reeve... Sybil Turner... Ruby Gunn... and Mildred Sullivan are down there seeing what it is all about... Mrs. G. H. Pounds of Canadian was to have accompanied them... Mildred is to direct the convention music and Ruby to serve as accompanist... Icie Horrah is in Austin this weekend, too... the oil portrait she painted of Mrs. Ben Boyd, state president, is to be hung in the federated club building there... several have gone down to Austin, too, to attend the Overton wedding this weekend... of course, the parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton... and the C. V. Wilkinsons... and Sandy Williams are the few we know of who are attending... and there was another important event which we must make mention of with Austin as the scene again and that is the arrival of little Miss Kristin Hughes on Good Friday... her proud parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Hughes... and the equally proud grandparents, Dick and Ruby Hughes... imagine Austin this weekend will seem like old-home-week, if any of these Pampans who are there run into one another... as surely as the swish of a bat means Springtime equally does the tinkle of china and fragrance of flowers mean Springtime installation luncheons for the various clubs around town... two are planned for Tuesday in Coronado Inn when Twentieth Century Allegro Club and Twentieth Century Cottillion install their new officers at fancy luncheons... and there is we note from the paper an important meeting at 10 a.m. Monday in the Inn, when local clubwomen are invited to attend a meeting of import to the community on the subject of oil depletion... this is one subject that each of us should be vitally interested in... whether or not we are directly connected with that industry we are all affected by it.

Skellytown Pair Honored By Firm

BRYAN WILKERSON ... honored by firm

PIPELINE EXPLODES
HARLETON, Tex. (UPI) — A gasolene pipeline exploded in the tankyard of the H. L. Hunt Oil Co. refinery early Thursday, igniting two 500-barrel tanks of gasoline and causing a fire that raged for six hours. Marshall Fire Chief C. L. Bechtold said no one was injured. The fire was allowed to burn down after firefighters cut off all valves and lines leading to the tanks.

Wilkerson joined Northern June 2, 1935, and has been Crew Foreman at Skellytown since April 3, 1950. Bates joined the company August 27, 1925, and has been shift engineer at his present location for several years.

Card of Thanks
The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters.
His restoreth my soul: His leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear not evil: For Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou hast prepared a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou hast not allowed my head to bow down: For Thou hast been my helper, and Thou hast lifted up mine head above all mine enemies.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.
—23rd Psalm

Imports, Crude Cuts On Agenda

TYLER, Tex. (UPI) — Oil imports and crude prices will be discussed on an international basis at the 14th annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association. The executive and policy committee meeting will take precedence Sunday morning, focusing discussion on foreign oil imports and domestic industry problems. Presidents of two national producer associations will speak Tuesday.

They are W. J. Goldston, president of Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, and Alvin Hope, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. Federal Power Commissioner Frederick Shueck and John Winger, New York petroleum economist, will review national gas issues. Nationally known petroleum writers Ruth Sheldon Knowles, Eugene Miller and Lloyd Usell, will form a panel on oil public relations.

Miss Knowles is author of the biography of famous oil wildcatter — "The Greatest Gamblers." Miller is associate editor of Business Week magazine, and Usell is director of public relations for the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Wallace E. Pratt, oil geologist with nearly a half-century of experience, will receive the "hats off" award from TIPRO.

Retiring TIPRO President Harry C. Jones, Kilgore, will be honored at a reception.

Tyler was chosen as the meeting site this year to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the discovery of the East Texas field.

Oil Leaders Map Strategy In Case Of Nuclear Attack

By MAC SEBREE
United Press International
TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — A nuclear attack on the United States, despite its horror and destruction, would not knock out the oil industry if a plan now underway is fully developed.

When and if the bomb falls, some 350 leaders in the oil and gas industry will, under the plan, assemble in predetermined points throughout the U. S. to gear the industry for full use by the stricken nation.

These oilmen are members of the National Defense Executive Reserve, composed of leaders in all branches of practically every industrial complex in the nation.

At present, it is noted in the Independent Petroleum Association of America Monthly, there are about 2,200 members of the executive reserve slated to occupy key positions in some 17 government agencies and departments, in the event of an attack on Washington, D. C.

To the Office of Oil and Gas has been delegated the responsibility of selecting and training the top leaders in the various segments of the industry. OOG is relying heavily on its experience in the past with both the petroleum administration for defense and the petroleum administration for war, which operated during World War II and the Korean conflict.

If a nuclear attack should come, it is expected that all of our larger cities, such as those along the east and west coasts, would be prime targets.
