U.S. Missile Detecting 'Eye' Whirls In Perfect Orbit

SPY LAUNCHED — An 88-foot, two-stage Atlas-Agent with a 2½-ton Midas Earth satellite aboard, leaves its launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Midas, a "Spy in the Sky" system, will be able to detect hostile missiles seconds after they are launched.

Weather Delays Return Captured C-47, Passengers Free

By WILLIAM A. BRIDGES
United Press International
WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI) — Rain and stiff winds today delayed the return of a U.S. Army C-47 and its nine occupants from West Germany after the Iron Curtain had lifted in record time. The American crew and passengers, including a woman, had been scheduled to fly to West Germany this morning five days after Soviet MIG-17 jets forced the plane to land in a Communist airfield near the Baltic Sea. After hours of finger-pointing by a spokesman at U.S. Air Force officials, the nine Americans were still grounded. He said if the weather did not fit the Americans would be taken to Berlin by car. Telephone calls to the Mayor's office in the tiny village of Prevesmuehlen confirmed they had weather had delayed the plane's takeoff for the two-hour flight to Wiesbaden. Soviet authorities surprised Air Force officials when they cleared the diplomatic path for the plane and its cargo. There had been reports East Germany might be allowed to use the plane as a wedge to gain long-sought American recognition of the Communist regime.

EXPECTING — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a news conference in Washington that he "fully expects" Secretary of State Christian Herter to be before his committee May 27 for a briefing and consultation on the summit failure.

Four To Appear Before Gray Grand Jury Today

Russell E. Glover, Geral Garrison, Percy Collier and Jim Nelson, accused members of an oil field equipment theft ring that was broken last week, were scheduled to go before the Gray County grand jury sometime today. District Attorney Bill Waters yesterday, Texas Ranger Bill Henslee took the four men to Perryton where they were indicted for theft and bond was set at $1,250 each. Earlier Glover had been released on $5,000 bond here and Garrison was freed on $2,500 bond. The bond here for Collier and Nelson was set at $2,500 each, but they were unable to post it. The group is still to be charged in Sherman County and bonds will be set there. Henslee predicted that the total retail value of the oil field equipment the ring is charged with stealing will top $50,000. However, he said they were receiving only about 40 per cent of the equipment's worth when they sold it. "One load they sold was valued at about $12,000," Henslee said, "but they sold it for $5,000." Henslee also said that authorities have recovered $4,500 worth of equipment but have no leads as to whom it belonged. Sheriff Rufe Jordan, who has been continuing investigation of the case in Oklahoma, said it would take up to six months to completely untangle the case and determine the rightful owners of the equipment.

Can 'See' Rocket Takeoffs

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — America's first "spy in the sky" satellite whirled around earth in a near perfect orbit today, poised for a crucial test of its missile detecting "eye." U.S. scientists plotted the path of the 2½-ton moonlet, named Midas II, as accurately as possible, to work out a tight series of real and simulated missile firings during its operating life of about a month. The tests were delayed somewhat Tuesday when, shortly after the satellite had gone into orbit, a key computer malfunctioned and scientists were forced to spend 45 minutes making rough calculations by hand. The Air Force hopes to prove that Midas II can detect rockets by heat radiations the minute they are launched. This would pave the way for a system of satellites that would patrol the skies around-the-clock within two years, to warn against sneak attacks by an aggressor. The launching of Midas II aboard an Atlas-Agena rocket here indicated the nation is looking to space for security against surprise attacks—particularly now that it has pledged not to use U-2 planes for air reconnaissance over foreign territory. News of the Midas success echoed in the United Nations Tuesday. Italian Ambassador Egidio Ortona told the delegates that the satellite had made meaningful progress in the U.S. Security Council debate on Russia's demands for condemnation of the United States for the U-2 incident. Midas II is only a test model of the operational system. Its nose, containing an infra-red scanning device, is pointed toward the earth. It can scan thousands of square miles at a "glance." Early tests are expected at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., with brilliant flares simulating missile launchings and visible over a radius of about 50 miles. The Air Force indicated the flares will be "touched off" within a week. The Air Force also plans to time the launching of some of its bigger missiles here and at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., to coincide with passes of the satellite before its batteries burn out, probably within the next three to four weeks. The satellite's orbit was all that scientists had hoped for. It circles the earth once every 71.3 minutes, hitting 322 statute miles at its highest point above earth, and dipping to 292.1 miles at its lowest. The orbit is around a comparatively narrow band on either side of the equator, over no Russian space and only the extreme southern tip of Communist China.

Temblors Arouse Silent Volcanoes

By MARTIN LEGUIZAMON
United Press International
SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Volcanoes that had been silent for as long as 40 years belched smoke, ash and lava today over southern Chile, in what may be the worst earthquakes in history. Official figures compiled by UPI placed the toll at 3,625 persons dead or missing. Two new volcanoes on the shores of Lake Rinihue, born in the travail that made itself felt all around the Pacific basin this week, added their smoke to that of at least seven known volcanoes. The formation of the new volcanoes—one already more than 300 feet high—displaced the lake bed and sent masses of water surging into the land-flooded San Pedro River, creating a new threat to quake-devastated Valdivia. The rumbling peaks jettied smoke as much as 23,000 feet in the air, and some of them also belched glowing streams of lava. Fortunately, few Chilean towns are located near the volcanoes that were in action today. New reports of looting came from the disaster zone. In the Puerto Saavedra region, half-drowned by this week's tidal waves, troops were ordered to take "energetic action" to put a stop to "acts of pillage" by Indians. A new tidal wave lashed Chile's southern coast Tuesday, and a major earthquake was reported in the offshore Chile Islands. Observers at the University of

Galveston Population Shows Drop Of 906

GALVESTON (UPI) — Galveston today became the first major Texas city to show a drop in population during the past decade, a preliminary census count showed. District census director Sid Holdredge reported Galveston's 1960 census as 65,662, which is 906 fewer residents than the city showed in the count 10 years ago. Holdredge emphasized, however, that the figure was preliminary and subject to change. The Galveston Chamber of Commerce had predicted a 1960 population of 71,000. Victoria doubled its size during the past decade to become the fastest growing city in the 13-county Ninth Congressional District. The preliminary report showed Victoria jumped from 16,128 in 1950 to 32,708, and Victoria County increased from 31,241 to 46,080. Brazoria County, with its sprawling Dow Chemical Co. in the Freeport area, skyrocketed to a 1960 census population of 75,279. The county had 46,549 persons 10 years ago. Freeport, which annexed Velasco in 1957, is up to 11,492, nearly double its 1950 count of 6,012. Angleton, Lake Jackson and Clute—all in Brazoria County—also showed gains. Angleton was up to 7,231 from 3,299; Lake Jackson soared to 9,582 from 2,887; and Clute had 4,463 compared with 2,200. Other Brazoria county towns included, (1960 census first): Alvin 5,625 and 3,701; Brazoria 1,280 and 776; Sweeny 5,079 and 1,393; West Columbia 2,929 and 2,100; Pearland 1,494 and 350. The preliminary report also showed that Bay City jumped to 11,586 from 5,437 in 1950. Matagorda County's 1960 total was

Bryant Wins Florida Runoff For Governor

By FRAN KEIDGE
United Press International
MIAMI (UPI) — Florida today acclaimed Farris Bryant as its governor-to-be and furnished solid endorsement of his deep South approach to any racial problems that may arise in the next four years. Bryant rolled to victory over state Sen. Doyle Carlton Jr. in Tuesday's decisive second Democratic primary with a margin of better than 85,000 votes. Bryant carried 55 of the state's 67 counties. Unofficial United Press International returns from 1,940 of the state's 1,971 precincts gave Bryant 492,171 votes and Carlton 406,909. In so doing, Bryant not only turned back Carlton's first bid for the governorship, he also overcame the editorial endorsements of most of the state's major newspapers and the powerful backing of outgoing Gov. Leroy Collins which were given the 37-year-old son of a former chief executive. One of the last statements made by the Ocala-born, Harvard-educated victor on election eve was the promise, if he won, to "stop answering these race questions of the newspapers." He also issued a plea for unity. Although pledging to keep Florida's schools open, the 45-year-old Bryant took a firm stand throughout the campaign to maintain segregation and the state's rights under the federal constitution.

Ex-Governor Gets Nod In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Former Kentucky Gov. Keen Johnson, holding a lead of 32,000 votes with less than 800 precincts untabulated today was the Democratic nominee for United States senator to oppose incumbent Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) in November. Johnson, with the backing of the state administration, was running ahead of his opponent, Lexington attorney and John Y. Brown, in one of Kentucky's eight congressional districts. The exception was Brown's home district. Cooper, with only nominal opposition from Thurman J. Hamlin of London, had piled up 29,453 votes to 1,273 in the Republican primary.

'Old Glory' Is Sold For Rags

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A New York City merchant has shipped American flags to Haiti for use as dress goods, curtains and scrub rags, the State Department confirmed today. The disclosure came when Assistant Secretary of State William B. Macomber Jr. confirmed the "sale and improper use" of the flag in a letter to Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) who had heard of it from a returned visitor to Port-au-Prince. Porter's informant called the practice an "insult" to the United States. Macomber said the government is considering "what measures can be taken to halt further exports of American flags for inappropriate purposes." The 48-star and 49-star emblems presumably are from surplus stocks. On July 4, the 50-star design becomes official, although use of all older flags remains legal and proper. The New York merchant was not identified. Porter told Macomber he was informed "certain flag manufacturers" have sold flags to "many persons" in Haiti "for use as clothes, curtains, and even scrub rags." He said his informant saw a flag thus misused and was distressed. "It was their impression that this was widely prevalent and I am asking that investigation be made to see whether the condition still exists and what if anything can be done effectively to correct it," Porter continued. If it comes from a hardware store, we have it, Lewis Hdw. Adv.

City Authorizes Paving Program

The city commission approved an $11-million paving program and authorized $40,000 for paving repairs in the second session of its weekly meeting Tuesday. In other action, the commission adopted a strict policy on loading zones, and approved only eight of 18 applications. The commission met for two hours and 45 minutes Tuesday morning, then came back for another two-hour session in the afternoon. The new paving program calls for work on a block and one-half area of Harvey St., 1500 and 1470 blocks of W. Bond, 500 S. Gillespie, 900 S. Nelson, the front of Travis School on 23rd St., 600 S. Ballard, 1100 and 1200 S. Nelson, 300 N.

Thief May Make A Return Trip

City commissioner Jack Vaughn has respect for the ingenuity of a thief. Someone walked into the R o t h Vaughn all-night service station Monday night, and walked out with an ARA car air conditioner that was on display. Police theorized that the culprit took the air conditioner while the night manager was in another part of the station. Some of the parts were missing from the air conditioner, so it can't be used. "They'll probably come back and steal the parts to make it work tonight," Vaughn said in yesterday's city commission meeting.

Conditions Ripe For Showers

United Press International
Warm and humid weather enveloped Texas again today and the U.S. Weather Bureau said conditions were ripe for another round of scattered violent thunderstorms, especially in the northern areas of the state. It was too early in the day to pinpoint the possible danger areas but the bureau hit the forecast on the nose yesterday when predicting severe weather for an area between Lubbock and Wichita Falls. That section bore the brunt of a line of storms that packed at least four tornadoes, drenching rains and heavy hail. The tornadoes struck near Glenn, in Dickens County 60 miles northeast of Lubbock, near Matador a bit further to the north and close to Paducah, eastward in Cottle County. Fair skies prevailed in West Texas this morning with East and Central Texas reporting partly cloudy weather and South Central Texas cloudy with scattered light rain and drizzle. Early morning temperatures ranged from 46 at Dalhart and 49 at Amarillo and Lubbock to 76 at Laredo.

Jaycees To Man Hospitality Booth

The Jaycees will open a hospitality booth on Highway 60 Friday to provide a rest stop for Memorial Day travelers through this area. The booth will be opened at 8 p.m. Friday, and the Jaycees will give free soft drinks to motorists who stop. Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. Wedgeworth said most Pampa business firms would be closed Monday in observance of Memorial Day.

Huddle By Ike, Nixon

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower conferred with Vice President Richard Nixon today on the worldwide speech the President will make tonight on the summit failure and Soviet-American relations. The President is expected to tell the American people — and the Russian people too, if the Kremlin will let them listen — that the United States must stand firm against threats but leave the way open for future negotiations with Russia. Nixon met with the President for what the White House described as a general discussion which included the speech tonight. The President also scheduled a breakfast conference Thursday with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders for an expected report on the summit conference. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson told newsmen he assumes the President will "brief us as he ordinarily does when he comes back from one of these trips." The President's report on the summit conference collapse and its meaning to the free world will be carried on major radio and television networks at 8 p.m. e.d.t. He will speak from the White House. Eisenhower was reported planning to outline a "positive approach" for the free world to take in the new phase of the cold war, including another appeal for his "open skies" inspection plan. He is expected to go over the U-2 spy plane incident and other events leading up to the collapse of the summit conference in Paris last week, but also to emphasize a need for calmness in the trying period ahead.

Cost Of Living Index Jumps To New High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's living costs shot up to a new record high in April, and showed the largest monthly increase in nearly a year, the government reported today. The sharp rise will mean wage increases of two cents an hour for 975,000 workers in auto and farm equipment industries whose pay rate is tied to the consumer price index. The Labor Department said the index rose four-tenths of one percent in April, the largest increase since last June. An unusually large increase in food prices—largest in more than two years—sent the index to its new all-time peak. All foods except dairy products and some vegetables cost more (See LIVING, Page 3)

Midas Beeps Out Taunt Spy Plane Debate Is Now Academic

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following dispatch, United Press International reporter Charles Corddry analyzes America's revolutionary new step in the field of global reconnaissance and the effects it could have on the U-2 spy plane controversy. By CHARLES CORDDRY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The world could well and truly measure today—from events at the United Nations and at Cape Canaveral, Fla., how far its diplomats lagged behind its scientists. A Midas satellite launched from Cape Canaveral was circling the globe every 94.34 minutes, beeping out its taunt that U.N. debate on spy planes may be academic. "Open skies" are at hand, the satellite seemed to be saying, whether U.N. diplomats ever get around to agreeing on them or not. Midas, a new missile detection alarm system, was lofted into a near-perfect circular orbit just before the U.N. resumed debate Tuesday on Russia's doomed motion to condemn America for U-2 flights. The Security Council debate droned on, and so did the two and one-half ton satellite—first of a string of military spacecraft that will make the U-2 look like a dime store detective kit. In the council four small nations urged a resolution, calling on East and West not to stop negotiating in the wake of the summit collapse. America's latest "open skies" inspection plan for preventing surprise war, was still far off stage. And there was no telling when the diplomats would come to grips with the broader question of peaceful use of outer space, posed by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge on Monday. Midas had circled the globe three times, increasing American confidence with each circuit, when (See PLANE, Page 3)

Spy Complaints Now Said Trivial

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — A majority of the Security Council was reported agreed today that Soviet complaints about U.S. spy planes were trivial in the light of the new American Midas II satellite. U.N. sources predicted a 7-2 vote against Russia in its demand that the United States be condemned for the "aggressive acts" of its air reconnaissance teams, with Ceylon and Tunisia abstaining. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge pushed for a verdict by late this evening so the 11 nation council could take up President Eisenhower's new plan for an "open skies" inspection system under U.N. control.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Recommended reading for the draft-Rockefeller operators is Harry S. Truman's article in the current issue of Look magazine.

HST's word for all draft operators is that it is next to impossible to draft strategy to produce a nominee for president of the United States.

Truman is not concerned in this article with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. The piece is about Adlai B. Stevenson and why Truman believes Stevenson was licked in 1952 and 1956. It applies, however, to Rockefeller.

Truman makes in this article two notable points:

That Stevenson could not have been nominated but for Truman's intervention in the 1952 convention.

That Stevenson's failure to support without qualification the record of the Truman administration assured his defeat.

"When the (1952) convention opened, a deadlock developed," Truman wrote. "I got the leaders of the convention to confer with me and I told them I regarded Stevenson as the logical candidate. As a result, he received the nomination."

"Some of Stevenson's supporters anticipated that he would be drafted but a draft would not have materialized. A draft rarely can be worked on a convention. It required the intervention of the President to get Stevenson through."

Then Stevenson went out and conducted a campaign that was not in support of the program of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and myself. You cannot successfully run as a Democrat with a Democratic administration in power, without running on the record of the administration."

The foregoing expressed the political judgment of one of the

NEW YORK (UPI)—Convertible Bond Guide reports that the bond market's reaction to the summit was almost indifferent compared with the strength displayed by many sectors of the equity market.

Last Wednesday, it notes, the report that the Federal Reserve was likely to reduce margin requirements prompted bond dealers to mark down bids in anticipation of a swing from bonds to stocks.

The Guide says, however, that in view of its wording, the report appears to be a "trial balloon" that is at least as likely to be followed by a reduction in the present 4 per cent discount rate as by a reduction in margin requirements.

Reynolds & Co. believes Food Machinery & Chemical Corp. to be an outstanding long term growth situation. Earnings this year are expected to compare favorably with the $2.92 a share recorded in 1959, Reynolds says. This would mark the eleventh consecutive year-to-year gain in net income and a continuation of a remarkable growth trend.

Bache & Co. notes that Parke, Davis is in the process of reversing the downtrend in which it has been confined for the past several months. A break through at 45 1/2, accompanied by increased trading activity would signal the beginning of a near term move, Bache believes.

Simulated Nuclear Blast To Break Ground For Hospital

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—A mushroom cloud will billow over San Antonio today.

The simulated nuclear explosion will be used instead of the conventional shovel to break ground for the world's first nuclear-age true-shelter-type hospital.

There is no danger from the device. It is called a "nuclear fire maker" and sends a mushroom shaped cloud hundreds of feet into the air, visible for miles. An explosive charge to TNT will turn somewhat more than a spadeful of earth.

Plans for the Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital were the first in the nation approved by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, which made a $400,000 grant.

The hospital is designed to provide facilities for 1,200 people below ground, even if the buildings on top of the ground are bombed out.

House Vote On Funds Bill Due Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House was expected to vote today on final passage of a $3,914,798,985 money bill to finance atomic energy, water resources and public power projects.

The measure was tentatively approved Tuesday after attempts to boost and cut the spending total failed.

Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) called the appropriation wasteful, high but his view was not held by the majority.

The bill includes 58 million dollars to push work on an atomic-powered airplane, which Rep. Joe L. Nevens (D-Tenn.) said could have been launched several years ago if government officials had not dragged their feet.

Other congressional news:

Schools: The House also headed into a battle over a Democratic-sponsored bill to provide 975 million dollars in federal aid for school construction. Proponents of the measure feared that efforts to attach controversial amendments might hurt its chances for passage.

Capital punishment: A House Judiciary subcommittee opened hearing on a bill by Rep. Abraham J. Multer (D-N.Y.) to abolish the death penalty for federal crimes. Multer said he hoped Congress would pass the measure and that all states then would follow suit.

Saratoga Hits Merchantman Off E. Coast

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The super aircraft carrier Saratoga and a West German merchant ship collided off Cape Hatteras, N.C., shortly after midnight, the Navy said today.

The Saratoga was en route to Mayport, Fla., from Norfolk, Va. The Navy said a jet fuel line which carries fuel for aircraft was broken and a fire resulted on the Saratoga, but it was quickly extinguished.

The merchant ship was identified as the Bernard Leon Harit. The Navy said the Harit suffered "extensive damage" above the water line. Its radio communications were knocked out.

The ship's engine was running, however, and it got under way for Cape Henry, Va., by 1 a.m., escorted by the U.S. destroyer Stripling.

The German ship intended to proceed to Baltimore. The Saratoga, which carries a crew of 3,500 and is as long as an 80-story building is high, suffered damage to its upper hull and a catwalk, in addition to the fire.

The Harit lost radio contact when its bridge and living quarters on the port side were demolished.

The Navy said the Saratoga was due to dock at Norfolk this morning. Rear Adm. T. H. Moore, commander of Carrier Division Six, was aboard the Saratoga for the routine training mission.

Temple Mayor Demands City Attorney Quit

TEMPLE (UPI)—Temple's recently-elected Mayor Henry Taylor Jr. called upon Democratic National Committeeman Byron Skelton Tuesday to work full-time at his post of city attorney or resign so a new one can be named.

"In my opinion the present city attorney should be replaced," Taylor said. He estimated Skelton has held the post 15-17 years and said it pays $500 a month.

"We can get another attorney who will do all the work the city attorney should do and draw the same salary," Taylor said. Taylor said he has received complaints that Skelton has refused to prosecute city suits to collect delinquent personal taxes on automobiles.

The question of hiring an assistant city attorney or replacing Skelton—came up before the Temple city commission at its last meeting, prior to one held Tuesday, but action on the proposal was postponed.

Skelton was not available for comment on the situation.

Postponement Of $4 Billion Tax Cut OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Ways and Means Committee approved without change today legislation granting President Eisenhower's request to postpone for one year four billion dollars in tax cuts scheduled for July 1.

Supporting the administration's plea against "piece-meal" tax cuts, the committee shouted down efforts to cut telephone and travel taxes.

Then, by voice vote, it approved a package bill to continue temporary taxes at present rates for another year and fix the national debt ceiling temporarily at 293 billion, as the administration requested.

The temporary ceiling of 293 billion was scheduled to drop to 283 billion on July 1.

The legislation the committee approved would prevent scheduled reductions in taxes on corporation earnings and in excise taxes on liquor, beer, wine, cigarettes, new automobiles and auto parts.

It also would forestall for another year repeal of the 10 percent tax on telephone calls and a reduction to 5 percent in the existing 10 percent tax on train, airline and bus tickets.

The legislation would maintain corporation income taxes at 52 percent instead of permitting them to drop to 47 percent. It would block scheduled tax reductions of $1 a barrel for beer, $1.50 a gallon on distilled spirits, and one-cent a pack on cigarettes.

Dems Choose Collins For Convention

NEW YORK (UPI)—Selection of Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins as permanent chairman of this year's Democratic national convention is expected to reduce the chance of a party-splitting fight over a civil rights plank in the party campaign platform.

The 51-year-old Florida governor, a leading moderate on racial matters, was picked as chairman Tuesday during a meeting of the Democratic Party's 14-member committee on arrangements for the convention which starts July 11 in Los Angeles.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, at 36 the youngest man in the Senate, was named keynote speaker and temporary chairman. A civil rights advocate, Church is a former winner of the American Legion's national oratorical contest for high school students.

Collins succeeds House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who stepped down from the post so he could work for the candidacy of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Probe Strip-Tease Incident Involving Earl Long's Guards

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A grand jury today was investigating an incident in former Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long's hotel suite here involving six policemen, a strip-teaser and Long's bodyguard.

The bodyguard, Dick Davis, complained about the activities of the policemen—two detectives, two patrolmen and two lieutenants. All are expected to testify at a grand jury hearing Thursday.

Details of his complaint were not disclosed.

The incident occurred shortly before dawn Monday in Long's suite at the Warwick Hotel. The former governor and his bodyguard checked in Sunday night.

Police said they were called to the suite to investigate a complaint by the stripper, Marcia Katza, 24, who said she had been robbed of $240.

Later, it was reported, Long telephoned Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy, and charges subsequently were brought against the six officers.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I love children and we have eight of them. On Saturday afternoons I go to town to do the week's marketing while my husband stays home and minds the children. I am never gone more than three hours, but when I return I find the children sleeping all over the house. The six-year-old told me that "Daddy gives us sips of his drink." This can be beer, wine or hard liquor, I asked him about it and he said it quieted them down and did them no harm. Will a few sips do them harm, Abby? I am worried.

MOTHER OF EIGHT
DEAR MOTHER: Your husband had better learn a few facts about the effects of alcohol on children AND the penalty for making it available to them. I mean sips, gulps or snootfuls. Insist that he stop it. And send HIM to the store while YOU stay home and mind the children if he hasn't any better sense than that.

DEAR ABBY: I was 14 years old on Easter Sunday, and my mother and I had a big birthday party planned. Unfortunately I had the flu on my birthday, so we had to call the party off. I was hoping we could postpone it for two weeks, but my mother called it off for good. She said it would look like we were giving the party just for the presents if we had the birthday party two weeks later. Do you think this was fair to me?

NO PARTY
DEAR NO PARTY: Your mother was right, honey. The only time to have a "birthday" party is on your birthday. You could have had just a plain party at a later date, however.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman of 35 who has worked for the government in a civil service job for 25 years. I retired last September and now I think I am going to have to go back to work again in order to get some rest.

The reason is this: I have three daughters and a son. They are all married and are raising families. Since I have "retired" I have been pestered to death to come and take care of this one's children and the other one's baby. They don't realize what they are asking. I get two and three calls a day: "Mom, can you run over and watch the kiddies for a few hours?" How can I say no when they know I am not working? Don't get me wrong, Abby, I love my children and my grandchildren, but I don't want to be a free baby-sitter seven days a week — and that's what I am, if you can think of a solution besides going back to work, please let me have it.

FREE SITTER
DEAR FREE SITTER: It's strange how some people can't say "NO" — but when they're stepped on they certainly can holler "OUCH!" You retired because you wanted to rest. Now stay home and next time you are asked to "sit" — unless it is convenient and you really want to — say "NO!"

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from "DOG LOVER" who thought more of his dog than he did his relatives. Will you please send his name and address? I think we are related.

ANOTHER DOG LOVER

St. Vincent dePaul Altar Society Makes Plans For Organizing Circles

A plan to form circles within the Altar Society was explained by Mrs. Carl Williams, chairman of the circle program, at a meeting of St. Vincent de Paul Altar Society held Wednesday in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Williams told the group that the circles serve a two-fold purpose: to promote friendliness and cooperation on a social level and to serve as a media for raising funds for the Society. She suggested sewing, bridge, cooking and hobby circles saying that each member could choose the circle in which she might have an interest.

Mrs. Williams went on to say that the circles would be held in the home of the member. Mrs. Owen Johnson, on the subject of "Christian Homes." Meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. R. L. Edmonson Sr.

Volunteers to serve as chairmen of the circles include: Mrs. Lynn Boyd, bridge; Mrs. Lloyd Simpson, sewing; Mrs. Freddie Reck, hobby; Mrs. H. W. Waddell, cooking; Mrs. G. A. Darling and Mrs. Conrad Kotara, hobby. A list of the chairmen was given to the members so they could indicate which circle each preferred.

Mrs. S. W. Kretzmeier, newly-declared president, announced the standing committee chairmen for the year. They include Mrs. Earl New Jr. and Leonard White, spiritual development; Wayne Howell, membership; Floyd Simpson, properties; Conrad Kotara, Catholic charities; and David Roberts, publicity.

Prefects for each month include Mrs. C. M. Blymiller, Conrad Kotara, C. L. Sullins, Kenneth Cummings, Robert Brandon, Geraldine Wyatt, Adolph Gerik, Conklin, Bob Jewell, Walter Pung, Freddie Reck and G. A. Darling.

Mrs. Kretzmeier announced that a class of instruction in the care of the altars is being planned to especially benefit the new prefects. Mrs. Kretzmeier also said that the prefect system will be used during the coming year as in the past.

The next meeting of the Altar Society will be held June 15 in the school cafeteria following the Novena.

Each officer was presented with a brightly-hued bandana handkerchief as a railroad symbol of her

Russians Caught Spying Many Times -- U.S. 'Once'

More About The U-2. The story of the flight of the U-2 plane over Russia and the resulting repercussions will be told for many years to come. It brought many things into glaring focus and brought out the truth about the international picture, untarnished by diplomatic maneuverings and fence-straddling.

It is a well-known and documented fact that Russia has engaged in the most extensive espionage activities in this country for many years and that these activities have been measurably stepped up the last several years. In fact, Russians have been caught many times and a number of those in this practice are now in penitentiaries of this country.

On May 1, 1948 the history of United States reflects documentation of 65 Russian spy cases in this country. Among these are the cases involving the atom bomb secrets from the country. Each and every case documented, in my opinion, in the facts and figures a great deal more serious in every respect than any information or figures which could have been gathered by the weather plane 15 miles above earth. A number of the cases solve the use of diplomatic immunity to further espionage activities. Yet, it would seem from the case of Mr. Khrushchev that only Russia is entitled to gather information about other countries.

Many people have felt for some time that Khrushchev was much more interested in talking about a summit meeting than in actually participating in one. They also felt that if the summit meeting came out, the sole purpose of Khrushchev is participating in it would be to use the meeting as a stage in which to pour forth propaganda or to embarrass the other participating countries, rather than to devote all effort toward a peaceful solution of the many trying world problems. They also felt that when the meeting ceased to serve those purposes for Russia, it could be scuttled. These were some of the many reasons why former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had opposed meetings that could be used as outlined.

The activities of Mr. Khrushchev in recent days have confirmed the fears and feelings of those who felt as expressed in the above paragraph. He grabbed on to the U-2 incident to serve all of his purposes. He used it for propaganda as to the great ability of the Soviet Union to know what is going on in and over their own land. He used it as a means to threaten other nations. He used it as a means to try to embarrass the President of the United States (But he quickly found that he had more than met his match.) He used it to scuttle the Summit meeting which he did not want to attend in the first place, and thereby avoided the necessity of immediately facing a number of issues which would have proved most embarrassing to him. He thought that the U-2 incident was probably the finest thing that had ever happened in his career to bolster and support him.

BUT, he may soon find out that it will be the worst possible thing that could have happened to him. He may find it most difficult to explain to many countries, and most especially of all, to his own people, that all of his bragging and big talk about Russia's invincibility and invulnerability has turned out to be a lot of hot air. He may find that the Russian people will begin to wonder just how much truth there is in all of his big talk, now that they discover that these flights have been going on over Russia for some four years. Perhaps he thinks that he can keep this truth from the Russian people, but he cannot keep it from the top echelon of the party faithful in the Kremlin, a group

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (UPI)—North American Aviation's Atomic International Division has been granted the first U.S. patent issued to a private company for an entire reactor system, the company announced Monday. The reactor was designed for educational, medical, industrial and biological research.

MISGUIDED MISSILE
MARYVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Two helicopter crewmen weren't even fazed when the door of their whirlybird fell off 1,000 feet Monday and slammed onto the roof of John L. Haynes' home near here.

LL Cecil Blanton and Lt. Grady Oxford, both of Fort Campbell, Ky., landed the 'copter in a nearby field, claimed their door, and took off again for training maneuvers at Fort Bragg, N.C.

that has the reputation of not permitting extended explanations. History will probably record that Mr. Khrushchev, like other dictators, overplayed his hand. He has failed miserably in the greatest opportunity he will ever have to place the USSR in a favorable position insofar as the quest for peace is concerned; a failure from which he will not recover, and one which serves to confirm the suspicions of all free countries as to the lack of sincerity of the USSR concerning their talk of desires for peace.

'Social Step' For Clams And Oysters

Science Today
By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Science believes it is ready with the know-how to become the best friend oysters and clams ever had. That means science now can save them from their natural enemies such as star fish and crabs.

If you were an oyster or a clam, however, you could feel there is a catch in it. The know-how is not going to be applied if it spoils their flesh for the human palate. That remains to be found out.

Science's weapon is chemical, similar to the chemical killers which rescue vegetables from insect marauders so people can eat them. The possible hazards are the same if the chemicals are harmful to human beings.

The chemicals are mixed into sand which serves as an anchor. The sand is laid in strips on the sea bottom to form a barrier around the beds where oysters and clams are having their innocent, sedentary existence.

For any enemy who crosses the barrier, it is curtains. Sand treated only with a chlorinated heavy oil is enough to stop the heaviest of the oyster's enemies—the gastropods called "drillers" because they bore through the shell to get at the bivalve within.

The barrier has to be only six inches wide, and experiments show that it stays unbreachable by drillers for at least 18 months.

To stop star fish the barrier has to be widened to three feet. A favorable current could kick a star fish over a narrower one before it could be harmed.

Crab-Killers Added
And two more chemicals have to be added to the oily sand, both potent insecticides which are relatively non-toxic for mammals. These chemicals are needed to kill crabs.

The natural enemies of oysters and clams which are already well established in their midst can be polished off by spreading chemically treated sand over the beds.

Even the clam-killing snail, polynices, can be dealt with, although it arrives at its prey from underneath, by tunneling through the mud. It is dealt with by injecting plugs of treated sand into the sea floor.

All this has come out of years-long, trial and error experiments of the biological laboratory of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service at Milford, Conn., V. L. Loosanoff, G. L. Mackenzie Jr., and L. W. Shearer, the scientists who did the work, reported their successes to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

This chemical solution is not yet ready for commercial use. It won't add to water pollution because the heavy oils are not soluble in water and are held in place by the sand. But killing off one class of animals while sparing others could upset natural balances to the detriment of the fishing industries. And the oils and chemicals might accumulate in oysters and clams and make them inedible. Those are the unanswered questions.

PLANE SENTRY IRKED

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—J. K. Iverson didn't like being awakened at 4 a.m. for sentry duty at the airport near here. It was cold and it was wet, he told a magistrate, and so he decided to do something about it. Iverson fixed his bayonet on his wing several times, making the rifle stab an airplane wing several times, making the plane unfit for flying. The magistrate fined him 83 pounds ($232.40).

U.S. Gets Credit For Red Mistakes In Asia

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SAIGON (NEA) — By and by your ear tunes out the top-level highly-qualified, close-to-the-government information at the luncheon table and it begins to wash over you on this western boundary of your freedom that your life lies in much smaller, browner hands.

What those hands are going to do is the vital, shifting problem here.

The names on the front-line of our battle against Communist aggression sound like Lek or Jose or Praxit. This is only an approximation as their dialects often cannot be written.

Consequently, their names do not appear on treaties or contracts or guarantees of safety — nor on their own epitaphs when they drop under enemy guerrilla fire.

Even to the casual observer, it is a miracle that the U.S. has allies here in Southeast Asia where the problems are more like staying alive for 25 years than like working about recognizing Red China.

For Lek or Praxit, it is more to the point that a law has been passed restricting the killing of carabao. In real life, less meat and more rice is closer to home than the "perimeters of the free world."

For Jose in the Philippines, it is of immediate concern that the courting season has begun among the hill tribes of headhunters who will come down the mountain to massacre whole villages and carry back their grisly souvenirs. Can the U.S. be that important? Can Jose's own government in Manila be that immediate or vital?

Even if you want to, it is unlikely that you can educate your children or improve your standard by much. Your yearly income in up-country Thailand is about $100 per year. In Santa Jose, P.I., about $2 per day — if anybody will pay it.

This poverty and isolation, however bad and long-lasting they have been, are perhaps worsened by the knowledge of how it could be, brought in by U.S. attempts to inform the people.

"We can't give aid without arousing resentment," one information officer said.

"Can we give information without tempting the people to be envious of us? If we are going to explain how to make things better, we have to explain why they're not good today. It's a real dilemma."

And so, as the level of education and information grows among the up-country people, the jeopardy to U.S. relations increases.

Thailand, for example, has tripled the number of radio receivers in the past four years. TV sets are moving up-country by the gross. Movies have become a national addiction.

The result has been the planting of a stereotyped image of the American. Briton and Frenchman in the Thai mind. It isn't helping the situation.

Movement of facts through the same media has another hazard. Filipinos in the provinces, living the agrarian lives their ancestors led, want to know why the U.S. has opened her markets to the old enemy, Japan.

And Thais, working through the jungles on elephant-back, want to know why U.S. aid is decreasing in Thailand and rising in its neighboring, old competitor, Cambodia.

"Because," they are told by the U.S., "Japan is very important strategically and Cambodia could fall easily to communism. It has nothing to do with our friendship for you."

To the Thai, Vietnamese of Filipino, it doesn't make much sense. If you want to get tacky about semantics, communism is old hat to these folks. The Filipino provincial community is used to living off any member who has a job. Thais are accustomed to strong, central, occasionally irrational authority. And the Vietnamese have suffered under considerable alien brutality in the past.

Why should they fight the invader from the north when it might be easier and safer to bend like the bamboo shoot when the north wind blows? It is not unusual to hear Southeast Asians refer to the Korean War as "your battle" — even though they fought in it.

There Are Many Authors, But Few Writers In Hollywood

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A saddened H. Allen Smith almost chucked the book writing business recently when he heard that Elvis Presley was going to become an author.

"Why, he couldn't write a letter," snorted H. Allen, gazing gloomily into a glass of beer.

Known the world over as a humorist, H. Allen's smiles were frown-like as he contemplated the 35 years he spent learning to write stories. His latest being "The Crab Grass Grew."

"The 'ghosts' have taken over," he charged, making reference to writers who pen life stories for show business people who want to tell the world how it feels to be sober after spending years in saloons.

What upsets Smith is ghost-written books of the "expose" variety which compete with his humorous tomes for sick readers.

"You see, I write humorous books and the only people who buy them are those wanting to take something to a sick friend in the hospital," Allen explained. "I'd like to write for healthy people, but things just don't work that way."

"One time I asked a rich showman, who had a book ghosted for him, how come he wanted to steal money from my pocket by selling to the hospital trade. He got sore and hasn't invited me back to his home since."

Ordering up another beer, Allen berated wealthy movie and TV stars who hire top flight authors to pen a story, then go around the country bragging about "their" book.

"Why, I know of one comedian who never saw his book until after it was published," Smith scoffed. "It was written in the publisher's office."

Argentina Marks 150th Anniversary

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentina observed the 150th anniversary of its independence today in ceremonies witnessed by delegations from 50 foreign countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Top-ranking figures at the anniversary celebration included Dutch Prince Bernhard and the presidents of Peru, Cuba and Uruguay. The United States was represented by Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks.

Half Urged To Silly Bickering

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today it is time for political leaders of both parties to "stop the name-calling" in appraising the summit collapse.

Humphrey, who recently withdrew as a Democratic presidential candidate, made it clear his comment applied as much to Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler as to Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton, who traded "soft on communism" charges Tuesday.

"Neither President Eisenhower nor Adlai Stevenson is soft on communism," Humphrey told United Press International. "Both are dedicated, great Americans."

"Those who charge Stevenson with retreat or appeasement are engaging in demagoguery. And any one who charges President Eisenhower with being soft on communism or with 'playing footsie with Russia' is equally wrong."

Ordering up another beer, Allen berated wealthy movie and TV stars who hire top flight authors to pen a story, then go around the country bragging about "their" book.

"Why, I know of one comedian who never saw his book until after it was published," Smith scoffed. "It was written in the publisher's office."

Israel Offered Evidence On Eichmann

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Justice Minister Pinhas Rosen said today a former U.S. war crimes prosecutor has offered new documents of Nazi atrocities for possible use in the trial of Adolf Eichmann.

Eichmann, 54-year-old former head of Hitler's Jewish Resettlement Bureau, was charged Monday with the murders of millions of Jews. He denied the charge.

The Israeli Secret Service captured Eichmann, a fugitive since the end of World War II, and he now is under 24-hour watch awaiting trial. But no other details of his capture were made public and Israel Police Inspector General Yosef Nahmias said Tuesday night they would remain secret.

Rosen said Robert Kemper, New York attorney who served as deputy chief prosecutor at the Allied war crimes trials in Nuremberg, cabled him offering the hitherto unpublished documents.

Offers of help in the case against Eichmann poured in from all over the world. Several Israeli concentration camp survivors volunteered to serve as executioners if Eichmann is convicted.

Eichmann offered to testify. West Germany said it would cooperate in supplying evidence and aid to the prosecution, but would not help Eichmann's defense.

Israel said any Nazi witnesses called by Eichmann would not be given immunity from prosecution here.

Inmate Found Dead In Cell

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — Police found Jose Sanchez Zamora, 65, dead in his cell at the Hidalgo County Jail Tuesday. A doctor said he had a history of heart trouble.

Zamora was arrested because a waitress in a tavern complained he slapped her when she wouldn't serve him. Police said he was drunk when they arrested him.

Woman Shoots Threatening Mate

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Annie Mae Galloway, 28, told police today she killed her husband because he threatened her with a rifle.

Marvin Galloway, Jr., 35, died from four bullet wounds in the chest and stomach.

The woman said her husband came home early today and started beating her. She said when he went to a closet and got a rifle and threatened her, she pulled a .22-caliber revolver from under her pillow and shot four times.

Socialism

We are asked on occasion if there are any evidences of successful socialism. Before answering we must qualify the question by discovering, if we can, what the question means by socialism.

The Pampa Daily News

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK—NOONDAY MEANDERS: You drive into New York early because a man wants to show you a tiny private house in Greenwich Village, which is hooked up to New York Steam Corp. pipes for never-fading heat in winter, and which house he thinks you ought to live in because two murders, a famed elopement, a minor mystery and the tradition that it once housed the mistress of an illustrious President of the United States all attach to the house and give it a sort of lustre not to be found in the average apartment.

Socialism

What is the conclusion to be drawn? Merely this: Socialism can occur when violence and coercion are relied upon. When socialism is considered as an economic ideal, and is attempted through voluntary means only, the scheme invariably bursts open at the seams. It takes force to make socialism work. Voluntary cooperation will always end in some kind of capitalistic, private property owning society.

Dancer Hits Stock Market For $2 Million

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nicolas Darvas and his sister, dancers, were offered an engagement in a Toronto night club for which the pay was to be 6,000 shares of a Canadian mining stock called Briund.

Something came up to prevent their taking the job so, as a gesture of appreciation, Darvas bought the stock for 33,000 — 50 cents a share, the going price. That was back in November of 1952, and it was his first stock purchase.

A few months later he sold it at $1.90 a share and pocketed a profit of $8,000.

Now the scene changes to July 1, 1959, as he was about to take off for a dancing engagement in Monte Carlo. On that day his brokers apprised him that the current market price for the stock was more than $2,250,000. And most of that had been made in 18 months.

The other day in a restaurant in New York's "Steak Row" he related how he started out as a complete novice to buy and sell stocks. He wasn't an economic illiterate, since he had been solidly grounded in economics and sociology at the University of Budapest. But he was starting from zero when it came to stocks.

He related how he began his operations in Canadian stocks since Briund treated him so kindly. He just steadily became he bought at the high and sold at the low. Then he switched to Wall Street with half his Briund profit gone. Here he had some quick profits which lured him on.

Then came more troubles even though he read books on the market and studied all the ways of the market place. He finally evolved his "system" which he says made him the $2 million plus — and more in recent months.

He has set it all down in writing in a book that soon will appear under the title "How I made $2 million in the Stock Market." American Research Council, Larchmont, N. Y., is the publisher. During the time he made much of his money he was traveling around the world with his dance act.

Darvas with all his money has not changed his way of life. He is in athletic trim with daily exercise when not training for his dances. He still enjoys most of all his hobby of picking stocks.

He is completely unorthodox in his operations. His list of should-nots keeps him away from advisory services, brokers' advice, Wall Street sayings, the over-the-counter market, rumors, fundamental approaches, and juggling a long list of stocks.

He admits there is no sure thing in the market—that he was bound to be wrong half of the time. But he wants his gains in the half he's right to be more than the losses in the half when he's wrong.

Under the system, he studies the stock tables and nothing else. He selects a few stocks that appear to be developing activity and strength and watches them. He finds them moving in frames or as he calls them, "boxes," each box above the one before it, but with the price bounding around in the limits of the box. If the stock goes below the box low, he discards it.

Say a stock has been fluctuating in a 45-50 area. That's its first box. The next one would be 50-55. Declines within the box are welcome since they drive out the weak holders. If the stock holds its boxes, he buys.

He places his order at a cer-

From Billie Dove To Doris Day In Career

HOLLYWOOD

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI-Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Only one actor in the world can lay claim to working in movies with Billie Dove and Doris Day—but he had to live to the age of 90 to accomplish the distinction.

He's Ott Seaton who made his acting debut in 1887 at the tender age of 17. In the intervening years he has appeared in hundreds of pictures.

"And I'm still going strong," he said with a twinkle.

"I'm just a ham who likes to talk about the good old days but honestly forces me to admit I gave up acting for 20 years—between 1905 and 1925. There wasn't much doing during that time so I went into real estate. But nobody holds that against me."

Seaton is a pink-cheeked old-timer with wispy strands of white hair and merry blue eyes. His favorite topic of conversation is his age.

Asked if he had a family, Seaton admitted that he is the father of two sons and a daughter.

"They're good kids," he said. "I'm especially close to my oldest boy, Raymond. He's 70 years old, but Ray is still a kid to me. Guess he isn't a child anymore, though. He retired and lives in Denver."

Seaton's other youngsters are a son, 35, and daughter "in her late 40's." He is a great-grandfather and somewhat confused by the thought that Raymond is a great-grandfather, himself.

"I began with a small stage company which I owned back tain-price and protects his investment with a stop loss order. He steadily raises the stop-loss price as the stock moves up. He holds until the stock begins to perform poorly, readjusts his stop and lets the market sell him out.

This system isn't as easy as it sounds. The first thing to do is find the stocks to watch. You've got to get a feel of the market and then they'll jump out at you, he says. Secondly, there's a problem of determining the size of the boxes — some represent fluctuations of 10 per cent, some more, according to the volatility of the issue.

Anyhow, the system has worked for Darvas. And he's got the proof to prove it. But he went through many a trying time before he clicked. When he did he had some "beauties" — Lorillard, Diners Club, Universal Controls, Thiokol, Texas Instruments, and Zenith in their heyday, and a few.
