UN's Bunche On Katanga Peace Mission

UN Contingent Due In Province Saturday

By RAY MALONEY
United Press International

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — United Nations trouble shooter Dr. Ralph J. Bunche arrived in this Katanga province capital today on an urgent peace mission aimed at heading off threats of an armed clash between natives and U.N. troops expected to move in Saturday.

Hundreds of whites were fleeing Katanga in fear that Congo tribes were arming themselves as a possible prelude to violence like that which broke out last month when the Congolese army mutinied.

Belgian troops have been preserving order in mineral-rich Katanga, while U.N. forces have taken over that responsibility in the rest of the infant Congo republic.

Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe declared his region independent on July 11, and has threatened to fight if U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold carries out his announced plans to start moving troops of his international command into this area Saturday.

It was Bunche's job to head off a clash and possibly to reassure the white population on its fears about a new blood bath.

There were no Katanga officials on hand to greet Bunche and an eight-man U.N. delegation when they arrived at the Elisabethville airport.

Count Harold Daspremont-Lynden, a Belgian technical assistant, and an aide welcomed them. The Katanga police band played and a police honor guard sent by Tshombe kept up the amenities, while a Katanga province independence flag flew above the airport.

Tshombe had urged Bunche to confer with him today 24 hours ahead of schedule "before a catastrophe occurs for which the United Nations will be solely responsible."

The exodus from Elisabethville began Wednesday, only a month after the nightmarish flights by white residents of the new Congo nation.

U.S. Consul William Canup said he learned by telephone that whites were fleeing the Katanga capital, as well as the nearby mining town of Kolwezi because of reports that jungle tribes were beginning to arm.

Where they were receiving their arms was not known but it was reported that Chief Munongo, brother of Katanga's interior minister, was providing his Bayaka tribe in the Jadotville area with weapons.

Katanga chiefs gathered in Elisabethville for a tribal council of war because of the premier's declaration of a state of "total mobilization."

It was considered doubtful, however, that he could muster a sizeable army. His own Congolese army was reported to be in a state of collapse. (See BUNCHE, Page 4)

Cowpokes Eat Mud Last Night

Show Goes On Despite Rain

A siege of turbulent weather gave the Brahma bulls a tough tussle for the most violent honors at the second performance of the Top O' Texas Rodeo last night, but the massive animals finally won the battle, hands down.

Only one of seven bull riders on last night's card went the eight second distance. He was Don McIntyre of Silverton who proved to be just a little more stubborn than the wild Brahma he was riding.

A blowing dust storm, followed by thundershowers marred last night's performance.

A crowd of approximately 3,000 was on hand for the grand entry. But the partisans began to scatter for shelter when the dust blew in near the end of the calf roping event.

By the time the Brahmas took to the arena floor, there were only about 50 to 100 persons left in the stands, according to Chamber of Commerce manager E. O. Wedgeworth.

However, only one event was postponed last night — the calf scramble.

Tonight, there will be two calf scrambles, featuring contestants from Hemphill and Roberts counties.

The hearty few who stayed on through the rain saw six of the wildest Brahmas on some of the muddiest underfooting at any rodeo here in recent years.

Ross Coffee of Pampa; Dee Goodman, Panhandle; Frank Wilton, Amarillo; Billy Stone, Lufkin; Derrell Leffew, Clarendon; and Joe Sims, Childress; all bit the dust in less than five seconds. Entrants were more successful in the other events, however.

Cotton Barrington of Lubbock and Rusty Welch of Benjamin both stayed aboard their steeds in the bareback bronc riding.

Welch tamed a wild one named Chrushev No. 12 and Barrington lasted the full eight seconds aboard Reno Lucky.

Bill Flowers of Aspermont turned in the best time of the rodeo thus far in the calf roping, a 13.1 last night. R. E. Josey of Post also turned in a creditable performance, tying up his calf in a fifty 14.4 seconds.

Barrington, who also entered this event, got a good jump on his. (See COWPOKES, Page 4)

AAFB Chief To Be Guest At Rodeo

It has become a tradition for the commanding general of the Amarillo Air Force Base and his staff to visit Pampa and attend the Top O' Texas Rodeo on the last day of the show. This year is no exception.

Maj. Gen. Charles H. Pottenger and his staff will be guests Saturday of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Assn. and the Chamber of Commerce at a dinner at Coronado Inn. At 8 p.m., they will attend the final performance of the rodeo.

Members of the executive boards of the chamber and the association will be official hosts to the group.

Others in the General's party are Col. and Mrs. Robert N. Wilkinson, Col. and Mrs. Ogden N. Pratt, Col. and Mrs. Marcus Satsky, Col. and Mrs. E. F. Perrin, Lt. J. Murray, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Chester Dick Jr. and Lt. Col. and Mrs. John F. Holt.

Traveling with the group will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lacy, Lacy the manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Meg's Tony Is A 'Take-Charge' Guy

LONDON (UPI)—Antony Armstrong-Jones has taken control of Princess Margaret's household lock, stock and food budget and anyone who doubts it can ask Thomas Cronin, the perfect butler now looking for a less frustrating job.

The truth about the departure of Cronin from the Kensington Palace home of the princess and the former photographer only three weeks after he was hired broke through the royal security curtain today.

At first reluctant to talk about his ordeal, the silver-haired butler, one of the most sought after in London, finally had to confess: "I was not allowed to employ any staff, even a charwoman. I did not pay them their wages and many other matters were not left in my hands as they should have been."

"Mr. Jones—I always called him 'sir' because he doesn't like to be called Mr. Jones—did all that himself."

Cronin, who used to buttle for U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney, denied reports that he and Tony had exchanged blows.

But the implications of his abrupt leave-taking still were there. The slender, 30-year-old commoner who moved from a basement in working class Pimlico to a palace with Princess Margaret is not going to let anyone make him into "a royal lap dog"—a mocking description someone incautiously used about Prince Philip 13 years ago.

For not only has Tony copied Prince Philip's mannerism of clasping his hands behind his back. He seems to be copying the tactics used by the husband of Queen Elizabeth to force himself into a worthwhile job in the public service.

Pitching Hard For 3 Electoral Votes

Nixon First Candidate To Campaign In Hawaii

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press International

HONOLULU (UPI)—Vice President Richard Nixon beamed his presidential campaigning today into the remotest reaches of this far-flung island state as he backed up his pledge to campaign anywhere and everywhere as the GOP presidential nominee.

Nixon believes that even the smallest state may decide what he sees as a hairline November contest and he is pitching hard for Hawaii's three electoral votes.

Already, Nixon is the first presidential nominee to campaign in Hawaii in all of its proud history.

He set out today on a schedule that would make him the first nationally elected official to visit more than two of Hawaii's five major islands.

Although some 70 per cent of the people and votes are on the island of Oahu, Nixon scheduled island hopping visits and handshaking tours of such lesser known islands as Kauai and Maui as well as the "big island" of Hawaii, which the area hereabouts hardest hit by tidal waves following Chile's earthquake. His schedule today spanned some 300 miles.

The vice president arrived Wednesday to the thunderous roars of the islanders. He and his wife had rested only briefly after a tough 21-hour schedule Tuesday, but appeared fresh as they stepped from their DC-7 airliner and were greeted by some 3,000 well-wishers at the airport.

At Nixon's elbow was Sen. Hiram L. Fong (R-Hawaii) and Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, both of whom accompanied him from Washington.

It was Nixon's first visit to the 50th state since it won admission to the nation, but it was his fifth trip to the islands.

Nixon told reporters that "the President of the United States must always put the security of America first and obtain intelligence information that will protect us against surprise attack" such as Japan's onslaught against Hawaii which launched America into World War II.

In the evening, the vice president appeared on an hour-long statewide television show where he charged that his Democratic opponent for the presidency has paid the price of allowing the nation's union leaders to dictate his labor platform in order to get their support.

He answered questions put to him by Hawaii's newspaper editors. Nixon said it was his contention that "the President of the United States cannot owe his election to any one group or be under the influence of any one segment of the people of the United States."

The vice president was scheduled to wind up his Hawaiian campaigning with a major speech tonight in Honolulu and will leave Friday morning aboard a chartered flight for Seattle, Wash.

Rocket Powered X-15 Travels At 2,150 mph

By STANLEY HALL
United Press International

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — The rocket-powered X-15 carried test pilot Joe Walker over the California desert at better than three times the speed of sound today to establish a world's air speed record of 2,150 miles an hour.

The successful flight in the needle-nosed research craft came after a two-month delay in the X-15 space program caused by an engine explosion while ground testing one of the three flight-ready experimental planes and three aborted attempts at the speed record.

Walker, 38, National Aeronautics and Space Administration test pilot for 18 years, broke the speed mark set Sept. 27, 1956, of 2,094 m. p. h. by Capt. Milburn Apt in the X-2—a forerunner of the X-15. Apt was killed during the record flight when the ship disintegrated.

"Yippe!" shouted the usually taciturn Walker when told on landing that it appeared that he had a new record.

The 50-foot X-15 is designed eventually to fly at speeds up to 4,000 miles an hour and take man to the fringes of space 100 miles up.

The record flight began over Silver Dry Lake, 110 miles east of this Mojave Desert test base, when Walker gave the order to be dropped from beneath the wing of a B-52 bomber "mother ship" at 45,000 feet.

He cut in the eight rocket barrels that power the craft and flew a straight course for Rodgers Dry Lake, passing over Bicycle, Three Sisters and Cuddeback dry lakes which were to have been used, if necessary, as emergency landing strips.

The weather was described as perfect for the flight, with the temperature in the mid-80s and (See ROCKET, Page 4)

Trujillo Resignation To Bring On Cabinet Shuffle

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D. R.

(UPI) — A shakeup of the Dominican cabinet was anticipated today as a sequel to the resignation of President Hector B. Trujillo.

Provisional President Joaquin Balaguer, who stepped up from the vice presidency Wednesday to fill the vacancy left by Trujillo's resignation, had already replaced two top officials and further changes were expected.

In an inaugural speech, however, Balaguer endorsed the policies of the president's brother Rafael, for 30 years the dominant figure in Dominican politics, and hailed him as "rector of the fatherland."

The president gave illness as the reason for his unexpected resignation, two years before the expiration of his current term in office.

(Informed sources in nearby

Haiti told UPI Correspondent Henry Raymond Trujillo's resignation appeared to be an 11th-hour attempt to forestall international American action against the Dominican Republic.

(The foreign ministers of the Western Hemisphere meet Aug. 16 in San Jose, Costa Rica, to consider Venezuelan charges that Dominican agents were implicated in the recent attempt to assassinate Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt.)

Integration In Houston Ordered

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Federal Dist. Judge Ben Connally ordered immediate integration of the Houston public schools today. The district is seventh largest in the nation and the biggest segregated school district.

A stair-step plan for opening all the city schools to both white and Negro students was ordered beginning next month. The case reached federal court as a result of a suit brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

If the Houston School Board follows the court order, its superintendent estimates it will lose an estimated $5 million annually in state funds. That is because voters overwhelmingly rejected integration in a special election last June 4.

Feedlot Operators To Start Purchasing Grain

Plans were announced today to expand the feedlot operations at Moody Farms, 12 miles east of Pampa on Hwy. 152, and to contract for the purchase of grain and grain sorghums from Top O' Texas farmers. The announcement was made by Rex McAnally, manager of Moody Farms.

The Moody Compress and Warehouse Company of Dallas owns the sprawling operation on the site of the old Pampa Army Air Force Base. The firm owns 1,500 acres bought at government auction in 1958, and leases another 960 acres. Moody Farms works 1,300 acres of this land and grows grain and hay.

At present the operation is feeding 1,000 head of cattle on the largest all-concrete feed lot in Texas. Plans are to contract for feeding another 1,000 head, making it the largest such operation in this part of the country.

The announcement of Moody Farm's intention to enter into the grain buying business will provide (See OPERATORS, Page 4)

Missing Pair May Be On Way to Soviet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There was speculation in some quarters today that two missing mathematicians from the super-secret National Security Agency may be en route to or in the Soviet Union.

However, there has been no charge or suggestion that they had defected.

The two bachelor Navy veterans, who had been cleared for access to secret information, were last traced to Havana where their trail was lost.

The speculation was that they might have left for Russia from Cuba, which has been on increasingly friendly terms with the Soviet Union.

The men—Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, and William H. Martin, 29, both of Laurel, Md., and long time friends—dropped out of sight June 24 after they told friends they planned to spend a vacation by motoring to the West Coast for a visit with their parents.

Military intelligence agents have ascertained that they booked plane passage to Mexico City June 25 and indications were that they flew to the Mexican capital. They were reported to have checked out of their Mexico City hotel the next day.

They were known to have purchased plane tickets from Mexico City to Havana. Reports from Havana said a check of leading hotels failed to turn up a trace of the men.

Rain, Dust Hit Pampa Yesterday

Rainfall, measuring 22 of an inch at the Daily News rain gauge, was mixed with the sand, wind and lightning which accompanied the turbulent front last night.

The rain was the first recorded in Pampa this month.

High winds did the most damage around the city, causing electrical power failure over most of the north section, and uprooted several small trees in residential sectors.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hdwe. Adv.

Kennedy, Reuther Meet, Discuss Unemployment

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy received an unemployment memorandum from United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther today pointing to warnings of a "third Eisenhower-Nixon recession."

Kennedy told newsmen after meeting with Reuther at his summer home here that they had a "most useful talk" about "some of the problems of the American economy."

The nominee said their discussion was principally about "high unemployment in July and also was concerned with prospects for the future."

"We are very disturbed about the drift of the American economy," Reuther said. "The Eisenhower administration has failed to carry out its obligations under the full employment act of 1946."

The act to which Reuther referred calls for federal action to provide public works projects to stimulate employment if jobless rates reach serious levels.

Reuther said he is "going to enthusiastically work to elect" Kennedy and his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Asked about his convention opposition to Johnson, Reuther said the Texan "had made an outstanding record" and "has stated very clearly that he supports the platform."

"That is good enough for me," he said.

Kennedy was asked to comment on Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, being quoted as saying that Kennedy had "paid the price for labor's support."

"I wonder what he meant," Kennedy said.

Kennedy's agenda today included a conference with his "brain trust" of scholars and professors for a discussion of general economic conditions.

He also scheduled a strictly political meeting with Gov. Michael V. Di Salle of Ohio. Kennedy aides said Di Salle would discuss politics in his state and the Midwest plus his own role in Kennedy's fall campaign.

White Deer Personals

WHITE DEER (Spl.) — W. M. Decker and J. W. Robinson of Herford purchased the interests of J. C. Freeman, B. R. Weeks and others and assumed control of the Farmers National Bank here last week.

Robinson will serve as a director, along with R. E. Dauer, Paul Dauer and W. J. Stubblefield.

Decker, who has had about 15 years banking experience in New Mexico and Texas, is the "new president. He has extensive insurance and real estate interests in Herford, but plans to be in White Deer several days each week, commuting in his own plane."

A. W. Anderson will continue in his position as cashier; and Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mrs. Roy McCollie, and Miss Ruth Bagley, in the bookkeeping department. Mrs. Huelyn Laycock, who has been assistant cashier, has resigned and will move to Canyon, where her husband will be director of public services in West Texas State College.

Freeman, former president, who is retiring because of ill health, has been in the banking business here for 41 years. He was first with the First State Bank and the First National Bank, he became cashier of the First National Bank. In 1934, he assumed the cashier post of the present institution, the Farmers National Bank; and after the death of A. J. Dauer a few years ago, Freeman became president. Under his management, the Farmers National Bank has become one of the top country banks in the Panhandle, with about two million dollars in deposits, and capital surplus and undivided profits of $200,000.

Weeks came to White Deer in 1928 as assistant cashier of the First National Bank, then became cashier of the First National Bank, then became cashier of the Farmers National Bank. In 1956, also because of ill health, he was forced to retire from active duty, but continued to serve as vice-president until last year.

US Makes Ready For Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States was shaping its foreign policy strategy today on the assumption that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would go through with his threat to touch off a new Berlin crisis if the West German parliament met there next month.

An authoritative source said this government was taking Khrushchev's threat at face value because it could not afford to do otherwise. The United States, Britain and France have vowed to defend West Berlin at all costs.

At least three recent published reports have said the Russians and Communist East Germans planned to stir up trouble over Berlin soon.

The United States told Russia in blunt terms Tuesday that the Soviet Union had no legal voice in Allied rights in West Berlin, which is completely surrounded by Communist territory.

The State Department said these rights were based on the defeat of Nazi Germany and "do not depend in any respect upon the sufferance or acquiescence of the Soviet Union, to say nothing of its puppet East German regime."

Khrushchev warned during a news conference in Vienna July 8 that he would sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany if West Germany held its traditional fall Bundestag meeting in Berlin as it has for many years.

The Soviet premier said the treaty would cancel U.S., British, and French occupation rights in West Berlin.

Three Youths Charged With Church Burglary

Burglary charges were formally placed against three Pampa youths in Justice of the Peace Bill Graham's court this morning.

Those charged were Bennie Bee Owen, 19, 601 E. Browning; Clifton Earnest Blue, 20, 323 E. Tule; and Robert Franklin Srader, 17, 315 W. Atchison.

Police Chief Jim Conner said bond arrangements for the trio probably would be made sometime today.

The three youths were charged with burglarizing the Harvest-Mary Ellen Church of Christ, 1342 Mary Ellen.

Patrolman Jesse B. Goad caught Owen taking various objects from a car parked in the 1300 block of Mary Ellen about 2:30 a.m. Aug. 1.

He was arrested, and further investigation revealed that Owen and the other two had burglarized the church.

However, the youths maintain they didn't take anything from the church.

E. F. Luttrell Rites Friday

Elmer F. Luttrell, 60, Williston, N.D., died July 30 in Williston.

He was born Oct. 15, 1889, in Maysville Okla., and moved to Mobeetie with his parents at the age of five. He was reared and educated in Mobeetie and attended West Texas State College in Canyon.

He was in the armed forces during World War I. On July 6, 1919, he married the former Lelan Fee in Pampa. He entered the postal service here in 1925 and lived here until 1947 when he moved to Williston. He was a rural mail carrier there for several years and for the past two years operated a filling station.

GRAIN STORAGE — In addition to increasing its feedlot operations, Moody Farms plan to provide a cash market for area farmers who raise grain and grain sorghums. a cash market for farmers in the Panhandle.

McAnally said that by raising their own and buying other grain in bulk, the cost per head of feeding out cattle could be reduced greatly.

The feedlot operation is unique in that each 150 by 100 foot pen can take care of 100 head of cattle and there is no mud or filth problem, since the lots are on concrete (the old flying aprons) and each pen is provided with a drain to facilitate frequent washing of the pens.

McAnally said that in the past two years more than $250,000 has been spent on improvements at Moody Farms. A railroad siding has been put in, old hangars revamped for grain storage and the water supply has been brought to adequacy. Moody now leases space to firms warehousing grain for the government. When the present leases expire Moody Farms plans to use the facilities to store its own grain.

Rotary Entertains Japanese Visitors

The Pampa Rotary club was yesterday entertained by the Miller Brothers Band which is in town for the Top O' Texas Rodeo.

The Japanese delegation of Boy Scouts which has recently been visiting Pampa, presented the national flag of Japan to Hershel Wilks who represented the Adobe Walls Council.

Club visitors and guests were Russell Ball, Horace Watkins, David Wilks, Vick Vickery, John Jones, Waldon Moore, John Marsh, Randy Marsh and J. R. Armstrong.

From the time they are put on the lots until they are ready for slaughter or market, McAnally said. When cattle arrive they are immediately ear tagged and sprayed.

Farmers and ranchers are invited to inspect the Moody Farm facilities, according to McAnally. Others on the staff are Foreman J. C. Holland and his assistant Milo Jantzen.

Picnic Planned By Underwriters

A board of directors meeting will be held before the picnic at 4 p.m. at the Metropolitan Life Insurance Office.

Channing Can't Follow Nudes

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Carol Channing says comedienne and nude girls just don't mix.

The blonde comedienne complained Wednesday she had decided to drop a $100,000 engagement in Las Vegas because of the unfair competition between nudity and laughs.

"Nudity of any kind kills my show," she said at a press conference called to explain her position. "I can't get laughs until an audience is with me, and I can't get them with me if they still have their minds on nude girls."

Miss Channing was to have appeared next week at the Tropicana Hotel for the start of an eight-week engagement. But the bare-bosomed chorus girls are too much for her.

"I think they're beautiful spectacles," she said. "But I just can't imagine the audience accepting me after seeing a show filled with nude girls."

He hit maximum speed shortly before his fuel burned out and while he was at 66,000 feet.

Fire Reported

troops number only about 600 and Belgium has said its 4,000 soldiers in Katanga would not stop the United Nations.

In Brussels, Katanga Finance Minister Jean-Baptiste Kibwe backed down somewhat from his statement of Wednesday that Katanga troops would "open fire on the blue helmets" of the U.N. force.

He said Katanga would accept a "token force composed of a few unarmed military and led by the secretary general . . . on a fact-finding mission."

"If the Belgian government decided to withdraw its forces it would be a cowardly act," Kibwe said. "If Belgium should abandon us we may ask the help of other countries." He declined to name any.

calf and had his rope around its neck almost before he left the chute. But his horse wouldn't cooperate and Barrington had to take a no-time.

Shortly before the thunderstorm hit, Virginia Watson of Aline, Okla., circled the barrels in 17.8 during the cowgirl sponsor contest.

But when the rain started, the times soared as high as 27 seconds. Gayle Kerley, aboard Dusty Man, turned in an 18.9 around the barrels, second best time of the night in the event.

Rusty Welch of Benjamin turned in what most of the spectators considered to be the best saddle bronc ride of the night.

He came out on a slow bucker named Engagement. But the slow pace with which the horse began was only a decoy.

And even though Engagement wound up the ride with some torrid leaps, he failed to shake Welch off his back.

Dee Goodman of Panhandle; Bill Johnson, Vermijo Park, N.M.; and Ellison Rose, Lubbock; also went the distance in the saddle bronc event.

Welch continued to be the star of the show, for last night anyway, as he came back with a splendid 14.8 clocking in the bulldogging contest.

Dick Ratjyn, the only other successful entrant in this event, turned in a 20.1 clocking.

Two 24 flat times were recorded in the double muggin contest. James Stroup, of Panhandle, the second contestant out of the chute, got the record time first. Then Bill Flowers, an Aspermont entrant, matched it.

There was a tie for the best score in the cutting horse contest as Rip Barrett of Pampa, riding Bevers Betty, and Matlock Rose of Seagoville, aboard Isis, each chalked up 145 points.

Red Myrick of Winslow, riding Laddie Buck, was awarded 143 points, and Jim Lee of Dallas, aboard LaMoca, scored 137 points.

The third show of the Top O' Texas Rodeo will begin at 8 p.m. at the rodeo grounds.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. Reserved seats are 50 cents extra.

Tickets may be purchased at the Rodeo Office in the lobby of the Pampa Hotel until 4:30 this afternoon. After that they will be on sale at the rodeo arena gate.

Pan Fried Tomatoes For Succulent Eating

FRESH OFF THE VINE

Easy enough to do when you stir smooth paste with the pan drip-flour and seasonings into a smooth paste with the pan drippings, add evaporated milk and continue stirring until simmering.

COUNTRY FRIED TOMATOES
(5-6 servings)

Large frying pan
4 large tomatoes, red or green
1 egg
1-3 cup evaporated milk
2-3 cup commercial bread crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
5 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2-3 cup evaporated milk

Cut tomatoes into 1/2-inch slices. Beat egg and evaporated milk together. Combine bread crumbs, sugar, salt and pepper. Dip tomato slices in egg mixture, then in bread crumbs; fry in melted butter until browned, turning only once. Remove tomatoes to warm serving platter. Remove pan from heat; blend flour, salt and pepper with drippings in pan to form a smooth paste. Add evaporated milk and heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches simmering point. Pour over tomatoes and serve immediately.

"Tomatoes are cheaper, potatoes are cheaper", goes the pop tune of a few decades ago. Though it's not first on today's hit parade, the song's still plenty timely. Tomatoes are seasonably cheaper. . . and like the song says: "now's the time to fall in love."

And now's the time, too, to enjoy smooth-skinned green and red tomatoes hanging plump and heavy on the vine. Tomatoes are a treat topped high on a double-decker sandwich or in a savory casserole, but they're truly tantalizing sliced and pan-fried to golden goodness.

Almost every part of our country calls pan-fried tomatoes its own, so recipe handed down from Aunt Nell. Don't forsake hers; but do try ours which you'll agree is just as delicious.

For Country Fried Tomatoes we bread the slices before frying - in butter of course, the natural fat that brings out the true flavor of the tomatoes. Creamy evaporated milk is beaten with an egg into a rich coating. The slices are first dipped in this, and then in bread crumbs which have been slightly sweetened and seasoned. Notice how nicely the crumbs adhere after the evaporated milk coating. For best results, use tomatoes that are large, firm and not over-ripe. Country Fried Tomatoes are equally tempting whether you use green or red tomatoes - as you like, or have on hand.

The pan drippings are too good to waste. Eat them to the very last drop in a sumptuous sauce.

Good Friends, Good Food, Casual Setting Perfect Ingredients For Happy Picnic

What is a picnic? Webster defines a picnic as: "An excursion or pleasure party the food for which is usually provided by members of the group and is eaten in the open air."

With their usual disregard for Mr. Webster's precision, Americans have expanded this definition to include any meal eaten under casual circumstances, according to the Texas Beef Council. In Texas, a picnic may vary from one battered sandwich eaten on the creek bank during a lull in crawdad fishing to a barbecue with a guest list numbering several thousand.

The Beef Council has found that a picnic requires three elements: good food, good friends, and a casual setting. This casual setting, however, carries a warning for hostesses: prepare large servings, because fresh air and good companionships are great appetite whetters.

This Skillet Dinner is equally delicious served on the patio or at the lake. These portions make 4 servings.

SKILLET-DINNER
1 pound ground beef
3/4 teaspoon Ac-cent (monosodium glutamate)
1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
2-3 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon pepper, divided
2-3 cup evaporated milk
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 can (1-pound) tomatoes
1 can (1-pound) whole kernel corn

Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Sprinkle Ac-cent and 3/4 teaspoon of the salt over entire surface of meat. Toss gently with fork to distribute seasonings. Add bread crumbs, 1/4 teaspoon of the pepper and evaporated milk; mix and form into large patty. Brown meat in hot shortening on all sides. Add onion and green pepper; cook until tender. Drain tomato and corn liquid into skillet; simmer until liquid is reduced to about 1/2 cup. Add tomatoes, corn, remaining 3/4 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper; heat to serving temperature.

Dissolve 1 chicken bouillon cube in 1/2 cup of boiling water. Combine the liquid with cooked pulp, 1 cup of crumbled cornbread, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper. Pile into zucchini shell & place in shallow baking and bake about 40 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Serves 6.

Soup's On - Serve Hearty Appetites

Pot-roast recipes may vary from those with the simplest seasonings to those which include all the vegetables for the menu. One thing they share is the wonderful meat flavor so satisfying to hearty appetites. It's easy shopping for pot-roasts too with the wide variety found in most markets. Arm bone, blade bone, rolled rump, heel of round, to name a few, are all cuts at home in company with the ingredients for a pot-roast, says Reba Staggs, meat expert. Soups, dried or canned, are a quick and easy way to vary flavor and dehydrated onion soup is the choice for an onion pot-roast that cooks with carrots and celery. The pot-roast is first dredged or coated with flour, then browned in a small amount of lard or drippings. Other ingredients are added and the most important rule is to cook the pot-roast, covered, with a small amount of liquid to bring out its tender juices.

ONION POT-ROAST
3 to 4-pound beef arm or blade pot-roast
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package (1 1/4 ounces) dehydrated onion soup
1 cup water

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

From the foreign editor's notebook: Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani appears assured of an impressive victory in this week's confidence tests in the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. His margin may well be one of the widest in Italy's postwar history and he may accomplish the unprecedented feat of isolating both the Communists and neo-wing Socialists and the rightwing Monarchists abstain, as appears possible.

The weekend meeting of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and French President Charles de Gaulle could be the political unity of the six European countries which form the common market. De Gaulle has stated publicly he sees great value in a European "third force" to act in world affairs between the United States and the Soviet Union.

A Chinese Communist delegation going to Tokyo to participate in observance of the anniversary of the Hiroshima atom bombing apparently wants to check the feelings of the Japanese government toward Red China in the wake of Premier Kishi's forced resignation. They will be wined and dined but they are likely to be disappointed in their official reception. Japan has no intention of assuming formal relations with Communist China until the latter is admitted into the United Nations.

The betting in Tokyo is that new Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda will call new national elections in October, or possibly November. Hopefuls within the ruling Liberal-Democratic Party already are maneuvering to become the next premier, but hard-headed Ikeda may surprise them and to retain the coveted post.

U.S. Can't Count On Sanctions For Cuba

Latin American Report—Brazil alienate any chance of wooing him back into the Democratic camp.

By LOUIS STEIN
United Press International

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Diplomatic sources here believe the United States will have an uphill battle in gaining any real sanctions against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro when the Organization of American States (OAS) takes up the two nations' differences on Aug. 16.

The sources said the foreign ministers who will sit down at the meeting in San Jose, Costa Rica—while sympathizing with the United States—will be reluctant to on record as censuring Castro because they fear the reaction at home if they do so.

An indication of how touchy the problem is showed itself in the wrangle over where the meeting would be held. No nation wanted to host it, but finally, Tiny Costa Rica consented.

The diplomats feared a repetition of the rioting which interrupted the 1948 Bogota Conference which wrote the OAS charter. Castro himself took part in these riots.

And, recent successful mob action aimed at the United States has encouraged Communists to come out into the open. As one authority said, "you can bet your life they will do all in their power to sabotage the meeting."

Nationalists in Brazil and other Latin nations feel Castro is on the right track. Also, they have little sympathy for foreign investors whose property he confiscated.

South American middle-of-the-roads agree that Castro has gone too far in suppressing Cuban liberties, but feel that strong pressure from the OAS will only

14 Killed On Tram In Austria

VIENNA, Austria (UPI)—Conductor Rudolf Trummer did not seem too concerned when several of his passengers asked to be let off his streetcar because the brakes did not appear to be working properly.

Trummer had returned to work Monday from his vacation and was just getting back to normal after a well-deserved rest.

His three-wagon streetcar was speeding along a much-traveled thoroughfare during the rush hour Tuesday when it approached a curve at high speed in the suburban residential section of Döbling.

Suddenly, the streetcar jumped the track and slammed head-on into another three-wagon streetcar coming the other way.

The thundering crash sounded like an explosion and startled hundreds of passersby who stared in horror at the unbelievable sight.

Severed arms, legs and feet littered the shattered wreckage at the passenger stop where the accident happened.

Ten persons were killed instantly. Four others died during the

Financial Review

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The rail merger proposals that have led the headlines in recent months are not a new phenomenon. An acceleration of a trend that began soon after formation of the companies more than 130 years ago.

At one time there were about 100 different railroads in the United States, but by the turn of the century this was cut to 1,224 carriers, and today there are 410 line-haul roads operating 218,000 miles of right of way.

The major lines of today are the result of innumerable combinations of smaller roads — the nation's largest railroad, the Pennsylvania Railroad, consists of more than 600 original companies.

Now, 25 of the Class I railroads are involved in merger talks which could result in nine systems ranging from 4,730 to 24,728 miles. These moves could ultimately reshape the structure of the railroad industry. With this in mind, the Association of American Railroads has released a fact sheet with all the pertinent data on rail mergers.

The greatest expansion of the principal railroads, both through new construction and voluntary consolidation, took place in the period following the Civil War and prior to the turn of the century. More than 70,000 miles of track were built from 1880 to 1900, and 425 mergers took place from 1854 through 1888.

The association notes that restrictive legislation and various court decisions in the early 1900s impeded or prevented mergers that threatened to reduce inter-railroad competition.

However, World War I and the federal take-over of the railroads brought a reversal of policy. Congress, in 1920, directed the Interstate Commerce Commission to prepare an over-all plan for consolidation of all the nation's railroads into a limited number of systems.

It wasn't until 1929, however, that the ICC published a plan for consolidating the railroads into 21 independent systems. The plan was never put into effect.

Other plans subsequently were advanced by various interest groups, but none was accepted.

In the period 1940-1958 the total number of line-haul railroads declined from 528 to 410. At the same time Class I railroad mileage rose from 175,764 to 189,066, while the mileage of the secondary lines dropped from 11,790 to 8,990, reflecting the absorption of smaller roads by enlarging Class I carriers.

Now the urge to merge has accelerated in 1960, and the railroads are hopeful that this will be the solution to their shrinking profit margins.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has authorized the purchase this year of an additional 123,524 tons of sugar to assure the American consumer of adequate supplies at reasonable prices.

North Korean Flier Defects

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI)—A young Communist North Korean air cadet who was "yearning for freedom" gunned his Soviet-built MIG-15 jet across the Bamboo Curtain to South Korea today.

The defection was accomplished in a matter of minutes. Anti-aircraft batteries on either side of the demilitarized zone did not fire a single shot at the speeding fighter.

Its pilot was 2nd Lt. Chung Nak Hyun, 24, of the North Korean air force.

He left North Korea's Wonsan Airfield on a training flight shortly before noon, circled the city a few minutes and then streaked southward to a rarely used ROK army air strip at Taepori, about 35 miles below the 38th Parallel. The strip was poorly paved but the landing was made without mishap.

Chung, rushed to Seoul for interrogation, was reluctant to talk to newsmen about his adventure because he said he was worried about his family still in North Korea. But when asked why he had defected, the slim, young officer broke into a grin and replied: "Because I was yearning for freedom."

He was dressed in a khaki cotton flying suit and was equipped with service revolver, a parachute and binoculars when he landed.

O. Henry, famous short story writer whose real name was William Sydney Porter, is buried in Asheville, N.C.

The suit for fall can look any one of many ways, all of them chic. Fur-trimmed suits are high fashion this year, as part of the important parade of luxurious clothes colored or banded in fisher, mink or sable. Harry Frechtel does a dark beige wool suit (left) with slightly shaped jacket collared in ranch mink. Suits and dresses cross each other this fall. Here, by Oleg Cassini, is the suit look interpreted in what is actually a double-breasted middy dress of men's wear gray wool. Gilet and cuffs are in white silk faille. The three-piece suit costume (right) from the Arthur Jablo collection shows another totally different suit look. This one is in hot pink wool, has boxy jacket over a sleeveless, buttoned vest. Neckline is filled in with silk taffeta scarf. Any of these designs could be the backbone of a fall wardrobe.

Morse Circle Has Party For Husbands

CANADIAN (Sp)—Ruth Morse Circle of First Christian Church met for a picnic supper in the City Park recently. Guests were husbands of the members. Attending were special guests Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harrington, Mrs. Mabel Johnson, Marion Smith and Sam Tate. Others present were Messrs. and Mmes. Walter Burnett, Carl Zyback, Percy Hill, Laurin Hardage, Jim Traylor, Bob Moreland, Harry Rathjen and Mrs. Martha Newton.

A concentrated soaping of badly soiled spots helps get clothing clean. Blouse collars and cuffs are especially prone to collect heavy soil. A soft brush also helps clean these areas when you do the garments by hand. Launder in fresh suds after spot cleaning.

Longer Suit Jacket Will Be Fashionably Warm

By GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise
Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The longer suit jacket continues to hold the fashion spotlight this fall. But it isn't drastically longer; it's wrist length or hip-top length. Coat length, this year, means seven-eighths. It all adds up to great variety and no single "look."

The tailleur, this year, has the hed lapels and slightly wend-notched lapels and slightly widened shoulders. This jacket is set over a straight pleated skirt for a silhouette that's both fresh and youthful.

There's a lot of talk about the winter or cold-weather suit which has evolved, like so many fashions, from need and demand. These are done with heavier wool fabrics, fur weskits or jacket linings. They are worn with wool jerseys or knit blouses. Many women find such suits useful on all but the warmest winter days. So designers are showing more of them this year.

Some jackets are belted; some are not. Some display collars while others are collarless. But the shortened suit sleeve (midarm length) is almost universal. This shorter sleeve is meant to be worn with the longer glove length.

The brushed surfaces and soft textures of autumn coats carry over into the new suits, too. And similarly, there are lots of winter plaid and checks in suits this fall. These are done in soft, muted colorings.

Gold and red are big suit colors but many of the reds take on a claret tint. The amethyst colors prominent in fall coat fashions are just as strong for suits. Browns, ranging from taupe to mink, are high fashion. Black is big for dressy suits, most often with fur trim.

Children collect many things during vacation months—chigger bites, dog bites and scratches. Washing these irritated areas with soap and water is a good way to start the first-aid treatment. Follow with proper ointments to fight infection and head off discomfort. In the case of animal bites check with a doctor immediately.

Polly's Quiz

Dear Mrs. K. T.: Unfortunately, me that it is old-fashioned of me to keep my silver tea service out on the sideboard. She says it's just one more thing to clean.

One of my neighbors keeps hers covered with a clear plastic so it won't tarnish. Is that being done now?—Mrs. K. T.

Dear Mrs. K. T.: Unfortunately, it is being done but personally, I would far rather see it kept in the cupboard. I belong to the old-fashioned school of thought and prefer using and enjoying my silver even if that means cleaning it more often.

Washing silver in soapy water each week and rinsing it in hot water will delay the tarnishing process.

Dear Polly: I have just painted our bedroom walls and woodwork a bright shocking pink. It was supposed to have been a dusty rose. Please don't tell me to change the color of the walls again. What color should I use for bedspread, drapes and scatter rug? The room has one window.—Mrs. M.W.

Dear Mrs. M. W.:—Indeed, I will not tell you to change your wall color. It has far more sparkle than dusty rose. Snowy white Swiss-embroidered curtains, a white quilted, glazed chintz bedspread and a white, cotton room-size rug would complete a delightful bedroom.

Dear Polly: What color should we choose for walls and drapes in our new house? The living room set and platform rocker are green; the rug is green-and-gray. Kitchen has a pink-and-gray tile floor, pink green-and-gray tile floor, pink counter tops. Table, chairs are green-and-gray.—Confused.

Dear Confused: I don't blame you for being confused but I think we can save the day. For the living room, yellow walls and woodwork with gray and yellow striped curtains would be best.

Slip cover one green chair with a print having yellow flowers on a white or pale gray ground. A couple of cherry red and white cushions would live up that green sofa.

Kitchen walls could be pearl gray with plaid curtains in gray, pink and green.

RUTH MILLETT

When you move into a new neighborhood or a new town:

Don't low-rate neighbors you left behind—or your new neighbors will surmise that you, yourself, may be pretty hard to get along with.

Pitch in and try to get your yard looking as trim as those of your neighbors. If your yard is an eyesore on the block you can't expect neighbors not to raise their eyebrows.

Make up your mind that you are going to live in peace with your neighbors. You won't for long, if you start complaining about children, dogs, or noise. You can't live on an average-size lot and have the privacy of a walled-in estate.

Be sure to return the calls of those who call on you—whether you are especially congenial or not. Returning a call is simple courtesy. You can then let the acquaintance remain just that, if you want to.

Don't gossip with one neighbor about another. If you do, you will be in the middle of a neighborhood squabble. If there is a gossip in the neighborhood, try to stay clear of her.

Return any favors done by neighbors. It takes very little effort to cut a basket of flowers for a friendly neighbor, or to take over a plate of home-baked cookies, or to offer to market for a neighbor who is ill.

Always have a friendly greeting for neighbors you know only by sight. It's not so hard to fit into a new neighborhood—if you know how to be a good neighbor.

Greek Designer Tosses All Silhouettes Including Bustle Into Winter Collection

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

PARIS (UPI)—Designer Jean Desses tossed every silhouette including the bustle into his fall and winter collection shown today.

The Greek-born designer displayed chemises, barrel backs, bloused backs, modified hobble skirts, lantern skirts, flounces, ruffles, Grecian drapes, crinoline shapes, envelope skirts, petal skirts, gypsy skirts, beaded borders and chiffon trains.

The clothes didn't just stand there and look elegant. They kept busy with bows at the necklines, bows to mark the end of bloused backs, draping across the shoulder which fell over the arm and on down to the midriff, and with stand-up ruffles of black lace at the necklines of tea- for - two dresses.

Daytime skirt - lengths came the lowest point of any shown this week - long series of fl openings. Hemlines were 17 inch from the floor, but they look even longer. Evening sheaths ro to a "new length" - 12 inch from the floor.

Dresses is an expert on use color. Daytime shades stress brown tones from tortoise shell deep beaver. Sand and rust were included. For evening scarlet red and saffron yellow were the leading shades.

Some of the combinations spotlighted in Thursday's fall and winter collection by Michel Gorr include a pale turquoise coat over a lavender suit; a lemon yellow coat over a plum dress; an overblouse of pale blue - green worn with a suit of deep olive drab.

Half Of Poison Cases In Children Were Not Preventable Say Medical Sleuths

On Raising Children
By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Medical detectives analyzing 100 cases of poisoning in children have come up with a startling conclusion—half of the poisonings were not preventable.

That is—even if parents had followed all the precautions in baby books and available safety publications, the accidents would have happened.

At the time the poison—ranging from berries to snail pellets—was ingested, 78 of the tots were being watched by or were within earshot of adults. An additional 10 were being cared for by children five years of age or older.

The tots gobbled the poison swiftly—and almost always without giving off a tell-tale grunt. They acted faster than the baby-sitters could.

Most of the children caught in the act were rushed to the hospital and had their stomachs emptied immediately. The others were taken to the doctor when they became ill.

As a result of the prompt medical treatment, none of the victims died. But some were ill enough to require hospitalization.

The medical sleuths—Drs. Gordon D. Jensen and Wesley W. Wilson—make these points in a report on their investigation in "Pediatrics," the journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics. The doctors are from the University of Washington School of Medicine. Their analysis covered children from the Seattle area.

Dear Abby...

Two Women Often One Too Many

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been in love with a married man for three years. Last summer he separated from his wife, but they continue to operate a business together.

Recently I have begun to suspect he is seeing her for other than business reasons. How can I get him out of business with her so he will have no excuse to continue seeing her?

LOVE THREATENED
DEAR THREATENED: When this married man was romancing you, did he need an "excuse" to see you? If he wants to see his wife, you can't stop him. There always seems to be one woman too many in this man's life. Right now that woman could be you.

DEAR ABBY: How in the Sam Hill can you get baseball fans to pay some attention to you? When the team is in town they never miss a game. We're lucky when it rains. When the team is out of town, they are glued to the TV or radio. Don't tell us if we can't lick 'em to join 'em. We don't particularly care for baseball. We are not married to these baseball fans yet, only engaged to them. We love them dearly but think this baseball bit has gone far enough.

JOY AND JUDY
DEAR JOY AND JUDY: For two gals who aren't married to these men you are calling the plays a little too early in the game. If you want these fans in your plans, and don't care for baseball, go along anyway—and shell the peanuts.

DEAR ABBY: I am not the kind of neighbor who "reports" things, but if anything serious happened I'd never be able to forgive myself. There are two little boys who live near me. They are 9 and 10. They make fires and pour gasoline on the fire to watch it blaze. This goes on every time their parents go out and leave them alone. I have seen it many times. Abby, if I were to tell their parents, I would be told to mind my own business. I have heard them tell other people this. They never believe a thing they hear about their boys. I'd hate to see those kids burn themselves up. How should I handle this without getting myself involved?

NO THANKS
DEAR NO THANKS: The next time you see the boys starting a fire, call the fire department and let it "handle the matter". Don't worry about getting involved.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to comment on the letter written by the woman who signed herself "CLEANED OUT". She should be happy she has a friend who only wanted her friendship and her candy.

My dearest friend wanted my friendship and my husband. She didn't get either.

Food Is Important For Party Success

Just as it isn't hard to find an excuse for a party, so it isn't hard to find dainty and delicious food to serve. And food is very important in making any get-together a success.

A salad which combines sweetbreads and fruit is an unusual party dish suggested by Reba Staggs, home economist. Sweetbreads are similar to brains in tenderness and texture and are prepared and served in the same way.

SWEETBREAD SALAD DELIGHT
1 pound sweetbreads
Water to cover.
1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar
Lettuce cups
2 tablespoons toasted slivered almonds
Cover sweetbreads with water. Add lemon juice or vinegar and 1 teaspoon salt. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Drain and remove membrane. Break sweetbreads into pieces and marinate in French dressing for 2 hours in refrigerator. Remove sweetbreads from marinade and combine with apples, grapes, celery and half of the orange sections.

Silvery Gray Hair Is Mark Of Beauty But Requires Professional Grooming

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise
Beauty Editor

In this day of really lovely hair tint shades, there isn't much excuse for mousey gray hair streaked with yellow. None of us, I think, really have an aversion to age. But almost all of us have an aversion to its trappings. And these include gray hair.

Unless you're lucky enough to possess that lovely, silvery gray hair which is a mark of beauty in itself, do something about your hair. If you don't want to switch back to a color, you needn't. You can keep your gray hair. But ask your beauty operator to give you a silvery rinse when you have your hair done.

Keep your hair beautifully set. Have it restyled every four months to make certain that yours is a contemporary hairdo. Stay away from stiff little waves and sausage curls, hairnets and all of the other unlovely ways of hairdressing.

If you prefer, a color tint, have one that's a shade or two softer than your own natural hair coloring. Because, as you grow older, your skin tones change, too. That's why true blonde or red shade looks brassy on an older woman.

Your skin and your eyes are the first things about you to reflect fatigue. Your skin is a very accurate barometer of your health.

When you're rested and feeling fine, it blooms. When you've driven yourself too far and too long, it turns gray and sags. The sparkle goes and what remains is not a lovely sight but a mere covering for bones. Your eyes, which sparkled one day, go lack-luster from lack of sleep.

If you're not quite certain yourself about the limits of your strength, your mirror will tell you rapidly and accurately. Pay attention to what it says. Never mind the fact that your neighbor needs only six hours' sleep. If you need eight or nine, see to it that you get them. For the need for sleep varies among people just as the need for food does.

Find out what your needs are and then go along with them if you want to maintain both health and good looks.

Selby Gets Life Term; Morgan To Die In Chair

AUSTIN (UPI)—Joseph F. Selby, 52, a prominent Houston accountant convicted of hiring a killer to murder his wife, must spend the rest of his life behind bars.

A jury of five women and seven men spared his life Thursday after six hours and 19 minutes of deliberation. The state had asked for the death penalty.

Maggie Morgan, a Negro fortune teller, didn't fare so well. She awaits death in the electric chair for her part in the bizarre murder plot. She was convicted of obtaining for Selby the triggerman that shot Mrs. Wilma Selby twice in her fashionable Houston home the night of Nov. 16, 1959.

Still to be tried are Clarence (Sack) Collins, a Negro longshoreman accused of being the actual killer, and Patra Mae Bounds, a Negro massage parlor employe who turned state's evidence and became the star witness for the prosecution.

She testified she introduced Selby to Mrs. Morgan when he asked her to help him find someone to kill his wife. And she said she carried $1,500 for him to the Negro fortune teller.

The jury found Selby guilty as an accomplice to murder and recommended he be given life imprisonment.

As the verdict was read, Selby stood facing the jury dressed in a light gray suit and a black tie. He was calm, just as he has been throughout the 10 days it took to decide his fate.

Joe Moss, Selby's defense attorney, said he would study the case before making any decision whether or not to appeal. Selby declined to make any statement on the advice of his attorney.

The case was tried in Austin on a change of venue from Houston. Les Procter, Travis County district attorney, branded the

50 Injured In Train Accident

WILLIAMSON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Norfolk and Western Railway's crack "Powhatan Arrow" switched from a main line to another track by accident—crashed into another passenger train near the depot here Wednesday injuring at least 50 persons. Two of the injured were hospitalized.

The crash occurred when the Powhatan, en route from Cincinnati, Ohio, to Norfolk, Va., was pulling into the depot to discharge passengers. The second train, which had arrived about 20 minutes earlier from Petersburg, Va., was empty and had been moved onto the number two track. Apparently, the Powhatan was inadvertently switched onto the same track and the crash followed.

A diesel pulling the Powhatan was derailed, but it did not overturn. The diesel of the second train and a combination baggage mail car also were knocked from the tracks, the baggage-mail car spilling onto its side.

Medaris Elected Lionel President
NEW YORK (UPI)—Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, the boss of the Army's missile program from 1955 until his retirement early this year, has been elected president of the Lionel Corp., manufacturers of toy trains.

At a news conference Wednesday Medaris said he would give special attention to the company's electronics and research fields.

In addition to manufacturing electric trains and sporting equipment Lionel manufactures explosive switches for use in connection with rockets, missiles, bombs and mines.

The Athletics Started It

The Philadelphia Athletics are the real culprits. They first started the idea of player deals with other major league teams back in 1864, long before anyone ever realized there was a major league. It seems the Athletics offered a fellow named Al Reach, who played with the Brooklyn Atlantics, a sum of money to jump the New York club and come to Philadelphia. Reach did just that, became the

Trader Lane May End It

The latest game within major league circles is 'Skipper Swap-ping,' or 'Who's In The Third Base Coaching Box.' Frantic Frankie Lane, the much-travelled general manager of the Cleveland Indians, originated the game yesterday morning when he sent manager Joe Gordon to the Detroit Tigers in exchange for Bengal manager Jimmy Dykes. The wire reports failed to mention if there was any cash involved, or whether it was a straight manager-for-manager exchange. If the Cleveland fans squawked when their favorite slugger, Rocky

Miami Center Was A Star

A tip of the Stetson (it's rodeo week) to Bill Hines of Miami, who calls our attention to an event that was never publicized. It was the six-man all-star football game recently played at Abilene. It seems as though Charlie Christopher, a center for the Miami Warriors, played in the all-star game and was one of the outstanding linemen. Writes Hines: "Charlie Christopher of Miami was the only boy from the northern part of the Panhandle to play first paid player in baseball history and set the wheels in motion for what is known today as 'player trading,' or 'player deals.' During the 96-year period since that almost-forgotten transaction, baseball officials have found numerous ways to modify trading. They came up with the player draft from the minor leagues, a straight player-swap, buying and selling with a few players thrown in for good measure, and more recently the six-figure bonus. All of this is old fashioned now.

Colavito, was traded to Detroit right before the season opened, they should really howl over this switch. So far, in his short stay at Cleveland, Lane has run through two managers and countless hordes of players. With manager trading now being popularized in Cleveland, the Indians hold a decided edge over the Chicago White Sox. The Chisox have only Bill Veech's explosive score board. The Indians, though, have an explosive outfielder named Jim Piersall, and by this time next week Lane may have already traded for a new manager to replace Dykes.

Coyotes Picked As Top Threat

Port Arthur Also To Reach Finals

DALLAS (UPI)—The state's sports writers, doing a bit of long-range forecasting with the assistance of interviews with coaches, have picked Port Arthur and Wichita Falls to meet for the 1960 Class AAAA schoolboy football title and Sweetwater and Cleburne to play for the AAA crown. Pushing their luck even a bit more, they pin-pointed Port Arthur and Sweetwater as the ultimate champs to succeed Corpus Christi Ray in AAAA and go-champs Cleburne and Breckenridge in AAA.

annual all-star cage game highlighting the closing days of the Texas High School Coaches Association week-long clinic.

A rugged defense, an edge in height and a resulting rebounding superiority was expected to be the deciding factors in favor of the South as the two teams square off at 8 p.m. in air-conditioned Memorial Auditorium before an anticipated crowd of 7,000.

That figure, if reached, would provide the current coaching school with its second record. The previous high gate for basketball was 5,936 at Lubbock in 1956. The school registration hit 3,065 at closing time Wednesday, well above the record of 3,000 set at Fort Worth last year.

The South, trailing in the all-star series 10-5 and without a victory since 1954, was given a two-to-one edge by sports writers here for the game. Coach Gerald Cobb's starting five will average 64 to 6-1/2 for the North and that same edge prevails throughout the reserves—all of whom are assured of seeing considerable action if they are physically able.

Cobb pinned his hopes on the rebounding of 6-6 1/2 Joe Fisher of Beaumont South Park and 6-6 Spencer Carlson of Aldine and Fisher's ability to adequately guard the North's 6-8 pivot man, Mike Marsh of Midland. In addition to Fisher, Cobb said he would start 6-5 Lynn Merritt of Robstown, 6-1 1/2 Bennie Lenox of Clear Creek and 6-3 Rick Kaminsky of Houston Bellaire.

North Coach W. H. Kitchens has nominated 6-5 Norman Bonds of Kilgore, 6-3 Hal Ratcliff of Dimmitt, 6-2 Dave Somerville of Dallas Jefferson and 5-10 George Scott of McAdoo to team with Marsh at the tip-off. The starting South team boasted a 21-point per man scoring average over the full season as compared to 19 per man for the North.

While the basketball stars awaited their game, the 50 star football players tapered training for Friday night's annual football game in the ton Bowl.

Although there were minor injuries, only one player still appeared to be a doubtful starter. That was Masonic Home football James Walker, who has several workouts due to a pulled leg muscle.

THE FOUR FACES OF JIMMY . . . Jimmy Dykes Ponders Tigers' Victory

Tigers, Tribe Find New Spark; Explode For Triumphs In AL

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International
It never fails — fire the manager and suddenly the ball club gets all fired up, too. Only trouble is that the flame generally dies out after a day or two, but at least the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians were happy to discover the spark was still there Wednesday night. With their dismissed manager, Jimmy Dykes, watching from the stands and wondering why on earth they couldn't do the same thing for him, the suddenly-aroused Tigers snapped a four-game losing streak by crushing the first-place Yankees, 12-2. It was pretty much the same story with the Indians. First they all shook hands with ex-Manager Joe Gordon and wished him luck in his new job with Detroit, then they went out and walloped Washington, 7-4, behind the six-hit pitching of Jim (Mudcat) Grant. The Tigers really had Dykes talking to himself. Before he got the axe with Detroit Wednesday—and swapped jobs with Gordon at Cleveland—the Tigers had scored a total of only six runs for him in their last three games. But with Coach Billy Hitchcock in charge Wednesday night, they made it all up to Dykes by pounding four Yankee pitchers for 13 hits. Norm Cash drove in three runs with a homer and a single to pace the Tiger assault and Hank Aguirre, who pitched a perfect game for 5 1/3 innings but departed after his arm stiffened in the sixth, was credited with the win. Grant took Washington as easily as he usually does. He had won 14 in a row from the Senators before they finally beat him for the first time on July 17. Ken Aspromonte drove in three runs with a homer and a double for the Indians, who scored three unearned runs on Billy Conzolo's two errors in the seventh. The Orioles ran their winning streak to five games with an 11-inning 6-5 decision over the White Sox and climbed to within two games of the league-leading Yankees, while a scheduled twin-bill between the Red Sox and A's was rained out. In the National League, the spurring Cardinals won their sixth in a row and moved to within a half game of second place by beating the Braves, 13-8; the Dodgers downed the first-place Pirates, 3-1, in a game limited to seven innings by rain; the Phillies made it three straight over the Giants, 6-5, and the Cubs scored a 4-2 nightcap victory after the Reds won the opener, 7-3. Gene Woodling's 11th inning triple, scoring Billy Klaus, gave the Orioles their victory over the White Sox after Baltimore tied the score with two runs in the ninth off Gerry Staley. Ted Kluszewski, Sherm Lollar and Gene Freese each hit homers. Rookie West Stock gained his second victory in four days. Ken Boyer was the big gun for the Cards in their triumph over the Braves. He led an 18-hit assault with three hits, including

Steelers Defeat Toronto, 43-16

TORONTO (UPI)—Bobby Layne, pass master of the National Football League, directed the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 43-16 victory over the Toronto Argonauts in an exhibition game Wednesday night before 23,570 fans. Layne shared the quarterback duties with his understudy, John Green, but was on the field when all his team's points were scored. Layne tossed three touchdown passes but the game's most thrilling score was turned in by Toronto's Johnny Wardlaw, who intercepted a Green pass and dashed 100 yards for a touchdown on the final play of the game. CLASS AAAA

Dykes More Amused With Swap

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jimmy Dykes was more amused than amazed when he was "fired" by the Detroit Tigers and stepped right in as manager of the Cleveland Indians.

"Don't kid yourself about this being a trade," Dykes said affably over the ever present cigar. "This was a case of two managers being fired and both getting picked right up."

All it means, as he "swaps" jobs with Joe Gordon, is that he takes on Gordon's pitching worries while Gordon takes on his hitting woes.

"Actually," grinned Dykes as he tackled a huge plate of ham and eggs, "It was one of my best days. I moved from sixth to fourth place."

He had, he said, long expected managerial assassination at Detroit.

"It's part of the racket," he asserted. "You have to expect it sooner or later. And, you know, for reasons which I'll keep personal, my first inclination was to say 'no' to the Cleveland offer. Not because of Frank Lane, either."

Lane is the loquacious general manager of the Indians who pops off at the first sign or a resting ear and long has second-guessed Gordon.

"Sure, he's a talker," Dykes said, "and don't think I'm knocking him. But he can be as outspoken as he wants. It'll roll off me like water off a duck's back."

Why then did he go to Cleveland?

"Simple," said Dykes, "and I don't mean me. It's just that this game gets in your blood and you can't do anything about it. Me, I've just been around too long to shake it."

He tried. Because when he managed Baltimore in 1954 the inept antics of his gladiators drove him to the verge of lunacy and he swore to himself he'd never manage again.

"It was the same there as it had been with Detroit," he explained. "We couldn't get any runs."

"There was one night we got the bases loaded with nobody out and I looked over at Muddy Ruel, who was coaching for me, and I bet him a dime we wouldn't score a run. He told me I was crazy. So what happens? The next man pops up, the next man strikes out and bingo it's all over without a run. And after the

NCAA Tightens On Recruiting

DENVER (UPI) — The policy making board of the National Collegiate Athletic Association called Wednesday for tighter restrictions on recruiting of college athletes for professional football and on recruiting of high school athletes by colleges.

The 18-man NCAA council meeting in Denver, endorsed a proposal asking the National and American professional football leagues to declare publicly their policy in signing college players.

The college board accused the leagues of violating a 3-year National Football League policy of not recruiting college athletes until after graduation.

While not naming any specific players, the board mentioned "several well-publicized cases" of athletes signed before they had finished college.

These would include the signing of Billy Cannon and John Robinson of Louisiana State University and Charlie Flowers of Mississippi. Cannon has been involved in court battles because of conflicting contracts with National and American teams.

In its new proposal, the council said, "we request that they delineate a policy which will absolutely preclude interference with the educational and athletic careers of college students."

The council, which will present its recommendations to the full NCAA membership in Pittsburgh next January, voted to bar recruiting of a high school athlete after he signs a "letter of intent" with a college.

Valley Giants Smash Way To 4-0 Triumph

By United Press International

Gaylord Perry flipped a five-hit shutout for Rio Grande Valley Wednesday night. The Giants smacked a pair of homers to beat Veracruz, 4-0, and move 11 games in front of the Texas League loop.

Tulsa split a doubleheader with Poza Rica and the rest of the Texas League clubs lost to their Mexican League opponents.

Tulsa dropped the opener, 5-4, but bounced back to take the nightcap game, 6-5, in 11 innings. The Mexico City Tigers shutout Austin, 1-0, on Eusebio Perez' three-hit mazzle. Puebla edged San Antonio, 3-2, Monterrey beat Victoria, 5-3, and the Mexico City Red Devils clubbed Amarillo 12-5.

The Tigers, top team in the Mexican circuit, scored in the fifth when Jesus Bustamanta doubled and Roberto Montelongo hit a triple.

John Orsino swatted the first two-run homer for the Giants in the sixth and Rafael Alamar duplicated the blow in the eighth. Silvio Castellanos was the loser.

Juan Delis swung the big bat for the Monterrey Sultans. He batted in four runs with a pair of bases-loaded singles while Rafael Fabela snuffed out late Rosebud threats. Lamar North hit a two-run clout for Victoria.

While not naming any specific players, the board mentioned "several well-publicized cases" of athletes signed before they had finished college.

These would include the signing of Billy Cannon and John Robinson of Louisiana State University and Charlie Flowers of Mississippi. Cannon has been involved in court battles because of conflicting contracts with National and American teams.

Fugazy Changes Date Of Flight

NEW YORK (UPI)—Because of Floyd Patterson's revolt, Bill Fugazy changed signals today and announced that the third Patterson-Ingemar Johansson title fight would be staged "between Oct. 31 and Nov. 15" instead of Nov. 1 as previously scheduled.

In order to keep the fight at the Los Angeles Coliseum, as slated, Fugazy also announced that Feature Sports, Inc., would guarantee Patterson the $15,000 which Floyd claims the California Tax Commission has been "holding up" from a Los Angeles purse he had earned in 1958.

Fugazy, president of Feature Sports, made those announcements after Patterson had "definitely" canceled Nov. 1 as the date and after Patterson had ruled out a California fight unless he received his $15,000 from the Roy Harris fight of 1958.

Champion Patterson banned the Nov. 1 date because he felt he had been ignored by Feature Sports in picking the date and site.

Liston May Try Machen

CHICAGO (UPI) — A heavyweight bout between Sonny Liston and Eddie Machen was in the making today.

The National Boxing Enterprises announced Wednesday night it had reached an agreement for a Liston-Machen bout. The fight would take place in Seattle sometime in September.

Liston is rated the number one contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight crown.

The bout would be televised nationally with the Seattle area blacked out.

The bout will be held Sept. 7, 14th or 21st depending on TV arrangements. NBC matchmaker Benny Bentley said Liston and Machen would be guaranteed $25,000 each.

Braves Sign Hurler

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves have announced the signing of righthanded pitcher Robert St. John of Milford, Mass. to a 1961 contract with Jacksonville, Fla., their class A farm club. St. John is 20, 6-2 and weighs 190 pounds.

Hank Is Victorious

CHICAGO (UPI)—Middleweight Henry Hank, victorious by a knockout for the 33rd time in 56 pro fights, planned a four week rest today, rather than meet "the bums that I can get fights with."

Hank, a Detroit scrapper rated No. 4 challenger for the world middleweight crown, took only 2 1/2 minutes Wednesday night to smack Rudy Ellis out for a 10 count in a nationally televised bout.

Ellis, losing by knockout to Hank for the second time, was the victim of a hard right hook, coming after a flurry of Hank punches, which worked with delayed action. He staggered for nearly two seconds before he toppled on his side to the canvas and he was on his face while referee Frank Sikora counted him out.

The political figures who like to play the game of being world leaders are getting all of us into endless trouble and are costing great sums of money. Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — It is positively untrue that a diner in a New York restaurant, unhappy with his waiter, muttered: "I wish I had a cobra to let loose at this guy," and that Fred Birkner, at the next table, said: "I just happen to have one here in my pocket," and fished it out for the stranger. Of course it's untrue. But Birkner does own, coddle and rent out all manner of creatures to television and the theater. If you see a mongoose on TV, it probably came from Birkner.

The land, air and naval strength Red Chian has built up against Quemoy and Matsui is now so massive that if it was hurled against them in a coordinated attack nuclear "deterrents" might be necessary to save them from capture.

NEW OUTBREAKS IN FAR EAST

WASHINGTON — Extremely disquieting developments are again menacing long-sputtering danger spots in the Far East. Indications definitely point to a new outbreak of Red Chinese aggression. While world attention has been focused on the stirring Democratic and Republican presidential conventions and the harrowing race against chaos and collapse in the newly-independent Belgian Congo, Peiping has been quietly engaged in the kind of sinister operations that usually precede violent Communist eruptions.

SPY-MASTER TO HAVANA (N.Y. Daily News) Sergei Kudryavtsev yesterday was appointed Soviet Russian Ambassador to Cuba. This man is a notorious and able Red spy-master. In 1942, he set up the spy ring in Ottawa's Soviet Embassy which was exposed by code clerk Igor Gouzenko — but only after priceless U.S. atomic secrets had been channeled to Moscow by Kudryavtsev's apparatus.

CHICAGO — By a mysterious chemical process, a pitcher of tap water was converted into a seething seidlitz in the centenary convention of the Republicans. Thus only was the great consistory saved from torpor. It is true that Vice President Nixon captivated a sparse and notably adolescent crowd including a wriggling Negro boy of seven with one front tooth conspicuously absent in the scene of his arrival at the airport. This little stooge, handily planted at the microphones and cameras as the Nixons and their two little girls came to earth, might have been hired from a casting bureau or an advertising agency. He was crowded to the very pores with winsomeness and, on the basis of this debut, might go on to heights of stardom in Hollywood or on the Waldorf Roof.

Be that as it may, he played straight for Nixon's character-bit in the first few minutes of the grand charade and served to introduce amiably an issue which soon began to fizzle like a double-dose of hangover wafers on a radio commercial. This is the hoax of civil rights. By any fair judgment the issue belongs to Harry S. Truman and ought to pay him a royalty. Mr. Truman may not have thought it up, but back in his first presidency he did recognize its sterling quality under the political medicine and therefore named a "commission" under the nominal and passive authority of Charles E. Wilson, then of General Electric.

FOREIGN FLASHES — The Central Intelligence Agency has evidence that Red China provided more than $1 million to organize and conduct the frenzied riots that prevented President Eisenhower from visiting Japan. Turkey has decided to make a bid for the lucrative tourist trade. For this purpose a new ministry of tourism is being established to initiate measures to bring tourists to Turkey and to provide facilities for housing and caring for them. Egypt is embarking on a new Suez Canal project — a tunnel under the waterway "to facilitate traffic between Sinai and the west bank of the canal."

Thus, we rapidly catch a glimpse of our problem. Lacking the wishing tree, we must work. And working, we must be spurred on to our efforts by visions of achievement, by what we call incentives. We must WANT TO ACHIEVE. And experience teaches us that the desire to gain provides a more stimulating motivation than even the desire to remain alive. In other words, the desire for gain can become stronger than the desire for mere survival. The all of us may wish to survive, and this drive is so deep within us that it is called an instinct nonetheless, with this drive as our only motivational force we will not do more than is necessary to accomplish survival. We will stay alive. But that is all we will do.

Persons in slave camps will do exactly what they have to do to prevent their ultimate dissolution. But they will do no more. Under the threat of death or even under the threat of severe punishment, man will labor. But he will labor only enough to accomplish the bare minimum of either surviving or of escaping punishment. But let man grasp the thought that they can keep what they produce. Suddenly, the world changes. Where before they were driven to accomplish a minimum, now they are self-directed to achieve a maximum. The difference is the difference between poverty and plenty. The natural resources of this world do not lend themselves to man's use without labor. Men are capable of labor in differing degrees. But to be willing to labor in more than a minimal fashion, man must anticipate a profit. Thus, you cannot tamper with human property rights without injuring man.

Expanding Problems

The political figures who like to play the game of being world leaders are getting all of us into endless trouble and are costing great sums of money. Isn't it curious how a man's interest in becoming a world leader multiplies in direct proportion as he finds himself beset by local problems which he can't solve either.

Both Ways

The beauty of freedom philosophy is found in the recognition that all freedom is a two way street. The person who wants to be free can only attain this objective when he is willing to grant freedom to others.

Collectivist Bishop

Methodist Bishop William T. Watkins has apparently drunk deeply of the same fountain which has sustained the collectivist concepts of Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam. A recent Associated Press release which appeared in West Coast papers causes us to view the concepts of Bishop Watkins with the same degree of concern with which we have long viewed the comments of Oxnam.

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

It Pays And Pays And Pays To Be A Popular Vocalist

HOLLYWOOD
By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It pays to be a singer of popular songs. It pays and pays and pays.

Take Joni James, for instance. Still in her 20s, she has 28 record albums to her credit. She also travels the breadth of the country singing at concerts.

And what's it gotten her? Among other things, a $700,000 private airplane for hopping from city to city, and a $23,000 Rolls-Royce. The latter is white with her initials inscribed on the doors and with special little running boards that pop out when she presses a button.

Her singing soon will bring her a new home in Bel Aire or Beverly Hills. She is looking for a place now to settle down with her husband, Tony Acquavina.

Joni, whose real last name is Babbo, was born in Chicago of Italian parents and is not impressed with her new-found wealth.

"When I was in Italy I found that all Italians sing," she laughed.

"So it's not such a big deal being a singer."

Currently Joni is tuning her pipes at the Coconut Grove where a 74-piece orchestra provides the background music. Despite the musical mob behind her Joni's voice carries the day.

"It takes a lot of nerve to sing with that big a band," she said. "But I don't let them drown me out."

Generally the short, dark-haired vocalist sings with only a piano accompanist at colleges around the country. She says the students comprise her largest bloc of fans.

"That's why I have the airplane," Joni explained. "I call it 'Joni's Pink Cloud.' It's not a very accurate name now. My first plane was pink, but we traded it in this year for a red one.

"It's a Cessna 310D and carries six people—Tony and me, the pilot, my secretary and my accompanist, and sometimes a friend.

"In the long run it's almost cheaper for us to have our own plane than to buy so many commercial airline tickets. Besides, we can put down on little airstrips near colleges and not have to worry about driving to and from the nearest big city."

Social Security Act Anniversary

Hal Geldon, district manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, noted today that social security has been serving America for 25 years. August 14 will be the 25th birthday of the signing of the Social Security Act.

Geldon stated that social security means many things. It means aid to the aged, dependent children, and the disabled; it means vocational rehabilitation and old-age, survivors, and disability insurance. The Government insurance part of social security — the part called old-age and survivors insurance — has grown over the past quarter of a century until 14 million men, women, and children are receiving monthly checks.

These checks are mailed each month to families whose income has been cut off because of the retirement, disability, or death of the family breadwinner. This program has a hometown touch in that it is administered through district offices located in all parts of our nation.

The play is taken from the Darvas-Lukacs book and is an example of a most unusual safety play.

West opens the queen of hearts and the suit is continued until South takes the third lead. Now expert South leads a spade to dummy's king and plays a diamond. East false cards with the jack and expert South decides to make sure of the contract.

He says to himself: "Maybe that jack is a singleton and West started with five hearts and four diamonds. In that case if I try to run my diamonds West will have an entry for his hearts and I will go down."

So expert South lets the jack of diamonds hold and winds up with nine tricks instead of 10.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Clever Ads
Like some newspaper columns, newspaper advertising can be copyrighted.

In 1903 Justice Oliver W. Holmes declared that advertisements could be owned and copyrighted even without having any special literary or artistic merit.

An author, business, or agency that puts work and skill into an ad can protect it as a rule with a "general notice of copyright."

One publisher made special road maps for an advertiser, and got them copyrighted; the court held that the advertiser couldn't sell these maps to a rival publisher.

In another case a clever picture ran in one ad. The court told a competitor he couldn't use the same picture for his ad.

You cannot copyright some things such as a list of names publicly available or an ad so common it lacks uniqueness.

Most ads are "owned" by the advertiser, not the newspaper or magazine.

Ads which are run to get business even without a copyright. Besides, a business or product name itself may often be copyrighted. Now and then, unfortunately, a company name may become so well known that without proper protection it can lapse into the common language and lose its character as property.

Trying to gain from someone else's ads may well get you in trouble.

It can be a crime for anyone to violate a copyright on purpose, and he may have to pay money damages covering all his profits. And then some.

False or misleading ads can cause loss or suspension of certain business licenses; the post office sometimes gets rough if someone uses the mail to advertise fraudulently.

Of course ads aim to brag about one's product—a fact well known to the public. Therefore, within limits, some "puffing" is allowed. But the Federal Trade Commission often stops advertisements if they are false or misleading, especially as to factual claims.
