Texas Official Orders U-2s Factory Of The Tidelands

Probe Brings Out Fact U-2's Made Many 'Weather Flights'

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American U-2 planes have made 200 weather flights since 1956, Senate investigators were told today by Deputy Space Administrator Hugh L. Dryden.

Dryden, testifying before the Senate closed doors before the Select Foreign Relations Committee, emphasized that the National Aeronautics and Space Agency "produced only research information used in the design of airplanes."

He said these flights to test the effect of weather on aircraft have been conducted over the western United States, western Europe, Turkey and Japan.

Dryden said NASA has "no detailed knowledge of the flight plans until after the fact" when films and other weather information reach that agency.

Dryden, No. 2 man of NASA, also faced possible questioning about what—if any—espionage activities might be cloaked by the world.

In his opening statement, Dryden spoke only of "weather flights" by U-2 planes. This is the type of plane which was downed over Russia and produced the crisis involved in the collapse of Pan American and TWA jets which, of course, go around the month.

The weather flights, Dryden said, extended over about 284,000 miles—80 per cent of this above 40,000 feet, and 40 per cent of it, above 50,000 feet.

An important part of this research, Dryden said, involves leaders on aircraft due to atmospheric disturbances or gusts.

Postmaster General Arthur B. Summerfield today announced sweeping improvements in mail transportation that will mean better mail service for Pampa and 134 other communities in the Amarillo and Lubbock metropolitan areas, covering over 37,000 square miles.

Gen. A. Gray, regional operations director, said that 800,000 people in 40 Panhandle counties would benefit by better mail service.

First-class letters mailed before 5 p.m. on a business day will be delivered on the first delivery at any office in the areas on the following business day.

"Tests just concluded," Gray said, "proved the mail pattern to be highly successful. Approximately 900,000 first-class letters originate on an average business day in post offices within these two metropolitan areas. Approximately 60 per cent of this mail is delivered by plane within the area."

The revised mail pattern is based on the establishment of sectionalizing offices to bring first-class mail to the customer, distribution and dispatch for connection with trunk line facilities, principally at Amarillo.

These sectional centers have been established at Amarillo, Childress and Dalhart.

Supreme Court Decision Worth Billions To State

AUSTIN (UPI)—The fight for the multi-billion dollar tidelands is over today, and the state officials couldn't be more tickled with their victory in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Attorney General Will Wilson, who spearheaded the lengthy legal battle before the nation's highest tribunal, expected to receive the court's 80-page opinion today and start winding up the loose ends.

He and his staff will prepare suggestions to the court or use in writing a decree, and lay the groundwork for an answer to a possible motion for a rehearing if the federal government should ask for one.

Rehearings may be requested within 28 days, but are seldom granted—particularly in cases of such importance.

Gov. Price Daniel, who personally helped Wilson before the Supreme Court, was so happy over the decision that he called a state holiday Tuesday, shortly after he received word of the decision.

Officials called the decision a legal victory equal to those won in the war by the Republic of Texas. The governor said the victory was important not only because of the land and money involved, but because it upheld states' rights.

The court's decision means that Texas' ownership of tidelands merged land along the 1,600 miles of Gulf coast is recognized three leagues, or 20 1/2 miles out, instead of the three miles contended by the federal government.

Both Texas and Florida now own three leagues seaward, but Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana, which had the largest stake of all, lost to the federal government.

Texas has held back granting leases in the tidelands since the battle began in 1948, when President Truman changed the federal ownership and signed a Submerged Lands Act claiming the tidelands for the United States.

The state not only can go ahead with exploration and drilling in the 1,700,000 acres that were contended, but it can now spend the $82,000 held in escrow because of the dispute, and the estimated quarter of a million dollars in rentals and royalties collected by the Department of Interior.

Louisiana To Continue Fight For Tidelands

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Louisiana today promised to continue fighting for the vast income from gas oil royalties going to the federal government under a Supreme Court decision.

Louisiana, whose immediate financial needs are highest, was defeated along with Alabama and Mississippi Tuesday when the United States won title to the oil-rich offshore areas beyond the traditional three mile limit.

The federal government lost to Florida and Texas, however, when the high court found these two states were entitled to coastal belt 10 1/2 miles (three leagues) wide. The United States gets whatever is left beyond this point out to the edge of the continental shelf.

Some submerged oil lands have been leased off the Florida and Texas coasts but by far the most activity has taken place of Louisiana. Even as Justice John M. Harlan was announcing the court's ruling, the Louisiana Legislature was discussing the 285-million-dollar fund which the state has held in escrow pending the outcome of the dispute.

This money, together with another $308,000,000 escrow fund held in the U.S. Interior Department, goes into the federal treasury when the ruling becomes final.

If the transfer, or parts of it, should be made before the end of the fiscal year on June 30, the increase in Uncle Sam's income might make the difference between a respectable budget surplus and a much smaller one. Budget officials estimated over the weekend a probable surplus of at least 217-million dollars.

Commissioners Stand Pat On Pipe Decision

The city commission reaffirmed its decision last week that all pipe used in fire prevention sprinkling systems must be made of galvanized metal in its weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon.

An objection was made by officials from the Ideal Food Store, where a proposed sprinkling system was condemned last week because it was made of black pipe. They talked with commissioners and asked them to review their decision.

City plumbing inspector Joe Stemberge showed the commission a sample of water that had been standing in a piece of black pipe. The water was filled with black particles.

"This has been in the pipe only since Friday," Stemberge said. "I wouldn't drink any of it, if I don't think any of you would either."

In other business, the commission voted to purchase a used tractor from Pitts Farm Equipment for $4,000.

The Pampa Charter Commission also asked the group to consider hiring E. E. McAdams of Austin to revise the city charter, but no action will be taken on this until next week.

McAdams' fee for rewriting the city charter will be $900.

Russ 'Bugged' Couple Of Eagles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—That famous electronically "bugged" eagle in the U.S. ambassador's residence in Moscow is reported to have had a predecessor who also was bugged.

The story was told today by a British diplomat who helped the late Joseph E. Davies, U. S. ambassador to Russia from 1938 to 1943, unmask the culprit.

The incident almost "duplicated" the one told by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the United Nations last week. Lodge displayed a hand-carved great seal of the United States which had been a gift from the Russians to Ambassador Averell Harriman in 1945. In 1952, it was found to contain a tiny radio transmitter.

Boy May Point Out Murderer

AMARILLO (UPI)—A precocious young boy with a charming smile may point out the man today who shot and killed his mother.

Her four-year-old son, one of seven children, was found abandoned May 23 in an El Paso supermarket. The boy, Melvin Hayes Jr., witnessed the shooting.

The day he was found, five days before his mother's body was discovered, was the day after the youngster left Louisiana in a borrowed car to visit his sister in Amarillo, who cares for several of Mrs. Hayes' other children.

The boy was to get a look today at a 22-year-old suspect picked up in Childress Tuesday by Sheriff Guyvan Smith, at the request of Sheriff Paul Gaither of Amarillo. It could be the mysterious "Ronnie" that the child said shot his mother.

The suspect, his identity not revealed, has been linked to the child's father, Mrs. Hayes' fourth husband.

Melvin D. Hayes, 33, called "Big Mel" by the boy, is separated from his wife and also lives in Childress. He surrendered to Claude, Tex., when he learned the body of the woman had been identified. A deputy at Amarillo (See BOY, Page 3)

Youths Admit Three Armed Stickers Here

Danny Royce Wilmon, 18, of LeFlore, was released from county jail last night after posting bonds totaling $4,500.

Wilmon and J. C. Florence, 17, of Pampa, were arrested early Tuesday morning for the holdup of the Whittney Cafe. Each youth signed statements admitting that robbery and two others here during the past month.

Florence was still being held in county jail this morning in lieu of bond.

Sheriff Rute Jordan signed a complaint against the two before Justice of the Peace Bill Graham Tuesday.

Graham set bail at $1,500 for each charge against each youth.

The two also admitted robbing the Quality Service Station May 1 and the Vaughn-Roth Truck Terminal May 15.

When Florence robbed the Whittney Monday night, the 22 caliber rifle he used to hold the customers at bay wasn't loaded.

"He told us he never did have any bullets in the rifle on any of the holdups," Police Chief Jim Wilmon said.

"If any of those kids in the cafe had known that rifle wasn't loaded, they'd taken it away from him in a minute," Conner said. "It's a lot of armed bullets we unloaded guns now. The victims can't tell whether they're loaded or not."

Questioning of the two youths revealed that Wilmon had used an car at only one of the holdups, and Florence's sister's car was used in the other two.

Wilmon always remained seated in the car while Florence pulled the actual holdup. Yet the two split the loot from the jobs, each taking half of it.

Florence also told officers he came close to not pulling Monday night's robbery, even though he had started the job.

"He told us he almost walked out of the place because he knew at least one person there could identify him," Conner said. "But he said by that time it was too late to back out."

Rep. Rayburn Voids Order On Vouchers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Speaker Sam Rayburn today personally countermanded an order by the House clerk which had closed congressmen's expense vouchers to public inspection.

"They will be opened," Rayburn told newsmen.

Clerk Ralph Roberts had announced that the order by the House members denied they had abused the public treasury in their official travels. Those available for comment said the expense accounts involved official business.

Turks Arrest 300 Officials

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—More than 300 legislators belonging to ousted ex-Premier Adnan Menderes' Democratic Party have been arrested in a "whispering campaign" against Gen. Cemal Gurses' government. It was reported today.

Army sources said the arrested members of Parliament are being held on Yasadada Island in the Sea of Marmara. About 100 per cent of the Democrats in Parliament are now under arrest.

The Gurses government ended the curfew here today and reduced the daily restriction of activity in Istanbul to a nominal three hours, indicating that Turkey is quiet after a month of political turbulence.

The Foreign Ministry announced that Jordan, Lebanon, Spain, Switzerland and Tunisia, nations announced recognition today.

"We Weren't Robbed -- We Don't Want A Recount"

(Editor's Note: Newspapers are filled these days with complaints from the mayors of Texas cities who think the census takers have gone wrong when they count the voters. United Press International, after a long, hard search, has discovered one mayor who is happy with the count in his town. The mayor is W. S. Coleman of Buffalo, Tex. His story follows.)

BY MAYOR (SHINE) COLEMAN
Written For
United Press International

BUFFALO, Tex. (UPI)—We weren't robbed, and we don't want a recount.

We're the metropolis of the county.

The census shows us with 1,107 people. I know that's right.

Of course, that's only in the corporate limits. Now you take Greater Buffalo. Why, we've got a couple of thousand. If you don't care how far you go—say, in a radius of 10 miles.

And in our trade territory—counting Cortish, Cedar Creek, Concord and Flo—it'd be 2,500 easily.

There's some talk that since the county—Leon County, that is—fell below 10,000, we'll lose some offices, like the county tax assessor and the county superintendent of education.

Well, I don't think that'll hurt a thing.

As long as two years ago, the district supervisor in Dallas was asking us for a map to help make the census. We knew it was coming.

I don't think we missed three people, in fact, I think we got every one of them.

You know, this is the first time any town in this county has gone over a thousand people.

We gained 142 people—and it took us 10 years to gain these 142 people.

But all this time, we were gaining 142 people. We're losing 102.

Now, the count we had of 1,107 was a little disappointing.

I had it figured at 1,102.

But when I estimated the population for the census people, I had been very conservative—not like Centerville going to 1,200.

I'd been afraid we wouldn't make it. But we did.

We have over 12 per cent of the county's population.

And Sunday we're going to buy that wrought-iron gate coming into town that'll say "Gate Way to East Texas." But we just don't have that kind of money right now.

I can't figure those census people. I want a recount on the census. I'd say most of 'em got involved without knowing.

We know we got a truck. The mayor's been on the radio. We don't have any of that. We should have done that. The country hasn't got a dog.

New Urns Add Grace To Floral Arranging

Graceful, classic flower arrangements like those above are prize winners as decorative additions to the home or as competitive flower show entries. New containers have been especially designed in opaque and frosted glass in a variety of shapes for low, medium and tall arrangements. Flower arranger, above, is finishing a medium height triangular arrangement. In the foreground flowers follow an elongated "S" curve in a vertical arrangement.

gardeners. Seeking the advice of experienced garden club members is a short cut to learning about local growing conditions and types of plants that do best.

It's comforting to the neophyte to know that a few blooms from her garden can be displayed to greater effect by careful arrangement. I frequently call on the local florists for long-lasting foliage to fill out the background for a sparse selection of flowers. The real artist quickly graduates to more exacting arrangements.

If you think that anything that holds water can be a container for a flower arrangement, join me at the foot of the class.

Most of the experts I've heard emphasize that the correct choice of container is important to the overall effect. Size, texture and color must be carefully considered.

The experts don't like the mechanics of the arrangement to show, which eliminates clear glass and its see-through picture of stems, needle holders, clay, plastic and chicken wire.

Opaque or frosted containers are more in favor, although sometimes such devices as pebbles are used to mask the inside from view.

Size of container is an important point. This spring, through the co-operative design efforts of garden clubs and a glass manufacturing company, 18 basic shapes, sizes and styles of approved containers are available.

These are divided into horizontal, square and vertical designs for low or floating arrangements, medium and tall arrangements. The glass is shaded in attractive gray, amber, spruce, amethyst and milky white.

For the low arrangements, there are oblong shallow bowls, oval and round bowls and low urns.

Taller footed bowls, cones and urns are in the square division. These are designed for arrangements that are square in proportion to the scale of the container, the maker explains, and are most versatile for homegrown flowers.

On the vertical plane, vases and pitchers 12 to 18 inches tall are designed to take arrangements up to 30 inches tall.

According to the consultants, the container should be about two-fifths of the total height of vertical arrangements.

Don't go out dressed any old way on a rainy day. The weather itself will be depressing enough. You can cheer up your friends and yourself by wearing a trim, colorful rain outfit and carrying a gay umbrella.

DEAR ABBY....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law has a nice home, a nice husband and they are very well-to-do. I get along fine with her, but she gets on my nerves because of one fault.

If I wear a dress she has never seen before, it's "What? Another new dress?" She makes us feel as though we are very extravagant, although we live within our budget. I don't owe anybody a dime, and I have never asked them for a thing. When we invite them for dinner and serve an expensive cut of meat, she says, "My, your grocery bill must be tremendous!" My husband says to laugh it off. But I'm laughing with tears in my eyes.

TRYING HARD

DEAR TRYING: Don't let her needle you. Beat her to the punch and tell her exactly what is new. If anything is and if nothing is new, tell her that you haven't bought anything since she last took inventory. When serving, tell her how much everything costs. Announce (with the dessert) that you don't owe a dime and find living within your income a real challenge but you're doing it!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old girl with a problem that worries me a lot. When I was a little I used to play TARZAN and beat my chest with my fists. I was told that this would stunt my growth there. And it has! Everyone makes fun of me and I am so embarrassed I could die. My doctor says I am just slow to there anything I can do to give me a shape in the meantime?

NO SHAPE

DEAR NO SHAPE: Shop!

DEAR ABBY: My 12-year-old boy has recently become a diabetic. He has to eat a large variety of food that has to be measured, etc.

When we are invited to the homes of friends for dinner, is it proper to take along my own food for the boy? Or should I be quiet and make the best of it until we get home?

Tornadoes, Hail Hit Texas Hard

By United Press International
Tornadoes, near cloudbursts, hail bigger than baseballs and floods hit Texas Tuesday and today.

A tornado hit the ground south of Wink Tuesday night while hail stones said to be five inches in diameter fell. Tornadoes were sighted near Monahans and west of Stanton. Two twisters were reported at Big Spring near the Caden refinery.

The twisters either didn't hit ground or hit barren areas. The wind tore down power lines at Wink and plunged the whole town into darkness.

More than three inches of rain fell in Bonham, sending Powder Creek and Big Branch over their banks. Water rose waist deep inside the Bonham Cotton Mill.

Two grocery stores and 25 homes were flooded. Streets were damaged considerably. All of the families were reported back in their homes today, however.

U. S. Highway 82 west of Bonham was reduced to one-way traffic when dirt banks collapsed and covered the road.

Another round of rain moved into North Central Texas before dawn. The squall line that produced rains in North Central Texas was dissipating in the Texas - Grand Saline-Corsicana area early today.

Most of the tornado clouds Tuesday night were in the east portion of the South Plains and the northwest part of North Central Texas.

The hailstones at Wink dented automobiles and broke windows out of homes and places of business. Deputy Sheriff Al Smith said a thunderstorm poured water through the broken windows and did considerable damage.

said the suspect arrested in Childress was a "companion of Hayes."

Hayes was given a lie detector test Tuesday. Gaither said he failed the test, but Lt. L. R. Wynne, the polygraph operator, said results were inconclusive. Hayes was to be given another test today.

There was also the possibility that Mrs. Hayes was kidnapped in Louisiana. A woman told the sheriff's office in Jefferson Parish (Louisiana), La. that she saw two men force a woman that looked like Mrs. Hayes into a car on the night Mrs. Hayes left for Amarillo.

The FBI disclosed Tuesday that it had entered the case.

Hayes admitted to Gaither that he saw his wife at Childress early the morning of May 23. He said she had a hitch-hiker in the car with her.

"She called me and told me that she had a 'good-looking guy' to drive the car for her," Hayes said. "I went to see them and he didn't look so damn good to me."

Gaither asked Hayes if the name "Ronnie" rings a bell.

"By golly, it sure does," Hayes replied. He said his wife introduced him to the man in the car with her, but he couldn't remember the last name.

He said the man named "Ronnie" was about 32, freckle-faced, and about five-foot-10 inches tall, with brown hair.

Melvin Jr. told El Paso authorities "Ronnie" shot his mother because she saw him with "Dago," who was identified as Roselina Ditta, 37, Harvey, La., who loaned Mrs. Hayes his car for the trip.

Ditta said Mrs. Hayes was just a close friend.

His car was found abandoned at an El Paso service station across the street from the supermarket where the boy was found.

Bunch is now doing post graduate work at West Texas State College, having received his second grant for further education from that college. He will assume his duties at the beginning of the fall semester.

Bunch was in the McLean school system for six years as math teacher and principal. He is married and has three young girls and has a master's degree from West Texas State College.

Texas claimed rights to the tidelands were won with the Battle of San Jacinto, and that when the state entered the union, President James E. Polk recognized the claim to three leagues into the Gulf of Mexico.

The Supreme Court rejected the claim by the Justice Department that Texas entered the union on the same basis as other states, and also shored aside the view that to give a state a boundary of more than three miles seaward would violate this country's foreign policy.

The fact that the court vote was 5-1 in favor of Texas' three-league boundary clearly demonstrates the validity of our original boundary and the fact that the law I helped co-author (as a U.S. Senator) properly restored this property to our original boundary," Daniel said.

Texas fought, and lost, its first tidelands battle in 1950. In 1959, Wilson, Daniel and a battery of state and international legal experts took the fight back to the Supreme Court.

Wilson said five attorneys worked more than a year preparing the state's case, and spent $100,000 in legal fees.

"The importance of the fight to retain the oil-rich submerged lands lying between the three-mile limit and Texas' historic boundary of 10 1/2 miles cannot be over-emphasized," Wilson said.

Rain Does Not Deter Dance Revue Success

Plastic bags of varying sizes saved the glamour of the tulle and satin costumes from the deluge of rain and hail that fell upon Pampa last night just 45 minutes before curtain time for the 12th annual presentation of Beaux Arts Dance Recital held in Pampa Junior High School. Plastic bags were also a helpful factor in protecting the camera equipment brought by doting parents.

The rain failed to prevent a capacity house filled with relatives and friends who came to see "Stars of Tomorrow" in a variety of tap, ballet, Jazz Tap, Hawaiian, Spanish, toe and tumbling numbers performed by approximately 200 students.

The revue of local dance students of Miss Jeanne Willingham was presented under the auspices of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority with Mrs. Eugene Bentley, immediate past president, in charge of general arrangements.

Proceeds derived from the sale of tickets will be used by the sorority for the benefit of its Gray County Children's Fund.

Follow Simple Rules in Automobile Accident

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his head light beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information. . . Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess. Be specific. Measure, use skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault—or worse so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See your Doctor. If there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Dem Hopefuls Lash Nixon, U-2 Policy

By RICK DU BROW United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy and Stuart Symington, Democratic presidential hopefuls, borrowed Harry Truman's "give 'em hell" technique Tuesday night and lashed out at Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Eisenhower administration's U-2 policy.

But a third Democratic front runner for the nomination, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, declining to mention names or discuss U-2 "mistakes," said Russia Premier Nikita Khrushchev is "sadly mistaken" if he thinks Communist maneuvers can divide the United States.

All three presidential hopefuls agreed, however, they would be in no hurry to hold a summit meeting with Khrushchev if they were elected. Khrushchev made clear after the summit failure that he felt he could achieve better results with a new U.S. president.

"The Communists are trying to divide us from our Allies and among ourselves," said Texan Johnson. "But in this country there is no peace party and no war party."

Johnson, Kennedy and Symington spoke at a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner for California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, attended by 1,200 persons. California holds its primary next Tuesday.

Kennedy, victor in seven consecutive primaries, assailed the administration's U-2 policy, and had sharp words for Nixon be-

End Of The Line For Musial?

It was just a brief news item... But to his St. Louis fans who worship him and to fans in baseball everywhere who admire him, Musial's exit will come as a sad moment.

I don't think there is a man in professional sports, or ever will be, who commands the universal respect and adulation this man does.

Stan Musial

An Idol Of Fans Everywhere

Hot stove leaguers will argue forever on the relative merits of Musial, DiMaggio, Williams, Speaker, Cobb, and other greats of the game but no one who has ever known the "Man" would dispute his reputation as the game's finest gentleman.

Musial has always been a peo- ple on and off the diamond, and unlike many other stars, he has always steered clear of controversy, umpire-baiting, and critical comment on his colleagues and managers.

In public he accords the same deference to a total stranger as he does to a distinguished personality.

His capacity for gratitude was illustrated last year when he presented the deed for a brand new home to his first minor league manager, Dick Meyer, in Houston.

It was Meyer who took the green Polish youth under his wing almost a quarter of a century ago when Musial thought his baseball career was over before it started.

Signed off the Donora, Pa., sandlots as a pitcher, Musial hurt his arm while assigned to Meyer at the Cards' Daytona Beach farm club in the Florida State League.

Will retire because he has confided to his friends that he doesn't intend to hang on as a pinch hitter in semi-retirement.

Even pitchers who felt terror in their hearts as they faced the man with the strange "looking around the corner" stance will confess they hate to see him go.

When he eventually realizes that the position is no longer his, Musial will retire because he has confided to his friends that he doesn't intend to hang on as a pinch hitter in semi-retirement.

Even pitchers who felt terror in their hearts as they faced the man with the strange "looking around the corner" stance will confess they hate to see him go.

Pirates Pad NL Lead Over SF; Orioles' Barber Stars In Relief

Face Saves Bucs' Win Over Redlegs

Boston Writers Anger Sox Boss

By FRED DOWN United Press International

Elroy Face is giving the Pittsburgh Pirates that winning blend of good pitching and good luck again.

The amazing 18-1 reliever of 1959 lost his first three decisions this year but has done a complete turnaround to win four straight games in the last three weeks. He's been good, of course, but he's also getting the kind of good breaks that make the Pirates think of him as a 150-pound "good luck charm."

Face, making his second appearance in two games and his third in four, received credit for the victory Tuesday night when the Pirates beat the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3, in 11 innings to go a game and a half ahead of the San Francisco Giants who suffered a 9-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

The Los Angeles Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Milwaukee Braves, 12-7, in other National League games.

The Baltimore Orioles increased their first-place lead to two games with a 3-2 decision over the New York Yankees, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians, 6-4, the Boston Red Sox beat the Washington Senators, 5-1, and the Kansas City Athletics shaded the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, in American League action.

Face was tagged for four hits and allowed "two walks in two innings but pitched out of bases-filled jams in both the 10th and 11th. Manager Danny Murtaugh sent up Smoky Burgess to bat for him in the 11th and Burgess drew a walk that started the winning rally. Another walk and Dick Groat's bunt single filled the bases and set the stage for the winning hit by Roberto Clemente.

Ernie Banks hit his 10th homer, a triple and a double and Jerry Kindall knocked in three runs with two doubles to lead the Cubs' 11-hit attack that dealt Johnny Antonelli his second loss.

Norm Sherry, older brother of World Series hero Larry, snapped a 3-3 tie with a grand slam homer in the sixth inning as the Dodgers scored their seventh victory in nine games.

The Phillies rocked relief pitcher Lew Burdette for six runs on five hits and two walks in the eighth inning to hand the Braves their fourth straight defeat. Cal Neeman's triple, Bobby Del Greco's two-run single and Frank Herrera's second triple of the game were the big blows.

Steve Barber, the sensational Baltimore rookie up from Class D, saved Jerry Walker's first win by retiring three men on four pitches in the ninth-inning in the Orioles' fifth victory in six games.

Russ Kemmerer's 2-1-3 innings of shutout relief preserved Billy Pierce's fourth win and enabled the White Sox to end a four-game losing streak. Gene Freese and Al Smith hit homers for the White Sox.

Tom Brewer pitched a four-hitter to square his record at 4-4 for the Red Sox, who scored their decisive run on a suicide squeeze play, set up another run with a stand-run play and stole two bases.

Dick Hall pitched a three-hitter and walked four in winning his fifth game for Kansas City. Andy Carey homered for the Athletics' first run and Jerry Lumpe drove in their second with an infield out.

In the only game completed in Little League play last night before the rains came Windsor romped over Sealtell 12-4.

H. D. Larue picked up the win for Windsor but needed relief help from Lolan Ellis to do it.

Windsor built up a 7-0 lead in the first three innings before Sealtell collected three in their third.

Dicky Henley paced the winners' attack with two doubles while Larry Ekroast and Ellis connected for one two-bagger apiece.

Boxer Critical After Surgery PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI)—Baptist Hospital officials said Tuesday that injured boxer Ernie Tubbs "has not responded to treatment" following brain surgery Monday night.

The 20-year-old Houston, Tex. Negro was knocked out Monday night in the eighth round of a welterweight bout at Pensacola by Bill (Buzsaw)—Crosby, of Mobile, Ala.

Doctors said Tubbs had a blood clot in his brain which the surgery was unable to correct. They said he was suffering hemorrhages and severe swelling and has been unconscious since his admission.

By BOB SALMON United Press International

BOSTON (UPI)—Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey threatened Tuesday night to sell or move the Boston franchise if baseball writers kept trying to run the club for him.

However, Yawkey tempered his threat an hour later and said he had no plans at present either to sell or move the team. Earlier, he had hinted in one of infrequent interviews with Boston writers that he might sell or move the team if forced into it by anger.

The multimillionaire owner, admitting the Red Sox were "lousy," nevertheless bristled at Boston writers who had been second-guessing him for several weeks as to a possible successor to manager Billy Jurges.

The outburst came just before the Red Sox went out and trounced the Washington Senators, 5-1, and climbed out of the American League cellar. A few minutes before his irascible pop-off he issued a joint statement with Red Sox General Manager Eddy Harris that Jurges would not be replaced.

"To stop all rumors," he said, "the Red Sox announce that Billy Jurges is our manager and no changes are contemplated."

Writers had been having a field day with guesses on a possible replacement for Jurges. Most predicted that outfielder Ted Williams would be offered the job.

The 41-year-old Williams, sidelined most of this season with injuries, reiterated before the game that he had no managerial ambitions, particularly in Boston. "The Boston writers are impossible to please," he said.

490 Golfers Compete For Open Berths

NEW YORK (UPI)—Players competing in the second qualifying round for the U.S. Open golf championship will have about one chance in four of making the championship flight, the U.S. Golf Assn. indicated today.

The USGA disclosed that a total of 490 golfers will compete in three sectional tournaments on June 8 and 10 sectional tournaments on June 7. Out of these will come 129 players who will join 21 exempt golfers to form a field of 150 for the title competition at the Cherry Hills Country Club, Denver, Colo., June 16-18.

The 490 competing in the second round include players who qualified via the first round of eliminations on May 23 and 24 and players who were exempt from the first round. The original entry list was 2,472.

Sectionals on June 6 will be at Denver, Cincinnati, and Mamaronck, N.Y. Sectionals on June 7 will be at San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Atlanta, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Rochester, N.Y., Oklahoma City, and Fort Worth, Tex.

The Mamaronck sectional will be the largest with 82 players battling for 21 qualifying places. But the most touring professionals will be on view in the Oklahoma City regional, where 86 players vie for 34 berths.

Ingo Back To Grind After Break To Get 1st Dempsey Award

CROSSINGER, N.Y. (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson, first recipient of the new Jack Dempsey heavyweight championship trophy resumed training here today for his title defense against Floyd Patterson on June 20.

Swedish Ingemar spent Tuesday in New York City, where he was guest of honor at a trophy luncheon in Dempsey's Broadway restaurant.

Ingo and fiancée, Birgit Lundgren, also bought some convertible furniture for his new home in Geneva, Switzerland. They have set no date yet for their marriage.

At the trophy luncheon, champion Dempsey announced he was putting into perpetual competition a heavyweight championship plaque. The plaque, with the names of all heavy champs inscribed upon it, will remain permanently in Dempsey's tavern; but each new champion will receive a replica for having won the trophy.

Pony League

The Lions moved one half game in front of the pack in Pony League play last night, downing Hughes 9-3 in a rain abbreviated game.

Jimmy Lollar pitched and batted the Lions to victory, giving up just three hits and driving in four runs with a home run and a triple. Lollar's big blows were two of the three hits collected by the winners.

He staked himself to a 3-0 lead in the first inning with a three-run homer and drove in one more run in the second with a triple while his mates were adding two more.

Hughes counted twice in the second on a triple by Max Taylor, and added a single tally in the third.

Lollar struck out seven and walked four in picking up the win while losing pitcher Doug Scaggs was picked for six runs and three hits in one and two thirds innings of pitching.

Gerry Garrison relieved Scaggs and pitched hitless ball the rest of the way.

Gariand Goodwin and Charles McDonald connected for the other two hits off Lollar, both singles. Tonight Chennie will get a chance to regain the lead when they face First National Bank in the 5:30 game while Lions meets Cross in the 7:30 nightcap.

Turks Pause In Celebration To Bury Revolution Victims

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—A strong backing for his plans to frame a new Constitution and bring the country back to democratic rule through free elections. An official funeral for 21-year-old army lieutenant, Ali Hsan Kasim, and an 8-year-old boy, Ersan Ozy, was arranged today from the Haji Bairam mosque, the oldest in Ankara.

The boy was shot and killed Friday when his father did not hear or heed an order to halt his car and soldiers opened fire. How the lieutenant was killed was not disclosed.

There was little mourning for the third known victim, former Interior Minister Nake Gedek, 49. Military authorities said he leaped to his death from a window of the Ankara Military College where he was being held Sunday night. Gedek had been responsible for carrying out some of the most repressive measures of the Menderes regime and was one of the most feared and hated men in Turkey.

The Cabinet said in its first communique it had decided to adopt "prompt measures to re-public, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, for guidance.

Ataturk died in 1938, but he was a man who became a legend in his own time.

It was he who stood off the British at the Dardanelles during World War I and almost wrecked the career of the rising Winston Churchill.

It was Ataturk who gathered up the broken pieces of Turkey after the defeat of World War I and from them assembled and became the first president of the Turkish republic in 1923. It was Ataturk who ruled as a dictator so that eventually Turkey might become a true democracy in the Western sense.

When the army toppled Premier Adnan Menderes' near-dictatorship last week, its leaders cited the heritage of Ataturk.

Ataturk was born in 1881 in the Salonika-area of European Turkey. The Ottoman empire was crumbling and Turkey was on its way to earning the title, "sick man of Europe."

He was a member of an officer class which long had been a center of Western ideas. When he came to power he put them into effect. He abolished the fez as a headdress, modernized the language and discarded Arabic characters, separated church from state, established schools and gave equal rights to women.

The only survivor of the Ataturk regime is another Turk who has lived in Ioni, now close to 75 years old.

Ioni served as foreign minister for 15 years under Ataturk and carried out the latter's direct Western foreign policy. Then he took over as president and in 1950 ordered free elections.

It is said that a group of high-ranking army officers came to him, saluted, and said, "We are at your service."

The implication was obvious—a military coup, if he wanted it. Ioni turned them down.

180 Sign Ad Urging LBJ To Campaign

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A full-page advertisement appeared in newspapers here today urging that readers write Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and ask him to become an "active candidate" for his party's presidential nomination.

It was signed by more than 180 prominent Americans, including Speaker Sam Rayburn, former Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington and nuclear scientist James A. Van Allen, winner of the Nobel Prize.

The advertisement said "events of the past few weeks have made it unmistakably clear that our nation faces increasing peril... we cannot afford now to gamble with inexperience, immaturity or with political expediency."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Boisterous Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev seems not to have done his homework in the field of American presidential politics.

Mr. K wants President Eisenhower out of the White House and a more friendly negotiator in. On part of that, Khrushchev has the U.S. Constitution going for him. Presidential service is limited to two terms.

The Russian seems also to desire that Vice President Richard M. Nixon shall not succeed Eisenhower. A great many Americans will go along with Mr. K on that. But the Democrats and others who hope to lick Nixon must be wishing that Khrushchev would pipe down. His declared veto of Nixon as a satisfactory president of the United States should make some votes for the vice president and probably will.

The nasty turn of events at the Paris Big Four meeting demonstrated the need for a tough man in the White House, one who can slug with Khrushchev if there must be slugging. Khrushchev could do much toward persuading Americans that Nixon is such a man. Mr. K, in fact, already is doing that.

If Khrushchev were more familiar with the electoral habits of a free society he probably would realize that, from him, every knock is a boost. When Khrushchev knocks Nixon, Americans are likely to remember that the vice president last year went a few fast rounds with Mr. K in Moscow.

That was when they met in their "kitchen-debate" at the U.S. exhibition. Nixon got the news, paper decision in that one.

Mr. K's continued attacks on the vice president might just spread the idea that the Russian has had a bellyful of Nixon and lacks appetite for more. Such an idea would not do Nixon any harm in the upcoming presidential sweepstakes.

The American Communist editors of the party's weekly publication, The Worker, should sense this, but do not. The Worker is beating a propaganda drum equally against Eisenhower and Nixon.

Khrushchev established Nixon as a top target for Communist propaganda in his May 5 speech before the Supreme Soviet in Moscow. That is the party line and all good Reds will follow it. Good break for Nixon!

LOS ANGELES — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), on whether Democrats should raise questions about the Eisenhower administration's past policy on U-2 flights: "To ask them is not a sign of appeasement. To answer them will not bring national disunity."

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Mrs. Stanley Antack, national commander of the Daughters of the Grand Army of the Republic, protesting because 11 men and two boys in Confederate uniforms defeated nine Union-garbed men in a sham battle: "Would they let a union group win a battle down South?"

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Mrs. Myrtle Sweet was accidentally shot in the leg Tuesday when she stepped between her husband and a rabbit he intended to shoot. Mrs. Sweet, who suffered only a slight wound, said she just didn't want to see the little rabbit hurt.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices moved lower before moving substantially higher in each of the five times, over the past 23 years, that the Federal Reserve Board reduced margin requirements, according to a report by Arthur Wiesenberger & Co.

The firm says that a reduction in margin requirements is apparently in the offing in view of recent statements by monetary authorities.

Should it come soon and be followed by a stock price decline, Wiesenberger believes, a buying opportunity for the usual summer rise might well develop.

International Statistical Bureau recommends switching out of National Distillers and into International Telephone. The Bureau is discouraged about distillers' recent performance and rather optimistic over prospects of it.

A "stock for action," according to Standard & Poor's, is Spiegel, Inc. An aggressive development program seems to assure further gains in profits beyond the current year, along with liberalization of dividends, now at 37½ cents quarterly, S&P says. Down from a high of 47½ at the end of 1959, the stock at 36 is attractively priced at about nine times estimated 1960 earnings.
