Ike Prepares Far East Tour

Public Report

HONOLULU (UPI) — President Eisenhower was preparing today a report to the American people on his controversial Far Eastern tour.

He feels that evaluations indicate the trip was highly successful in generating goodwill for the United States at a time when America was under heavy Communist propaganda in the Orient.

The President, after checking reaction with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, is convinced the net result of his arduous journey was on the plus side—despite cancellation of his trip to Japan and the occurrence of anti-American demonstrations at Okinawa.

Eisenhower plans to remain in Hawaii until the weekend, unless urgent congressional business arises in the meantime. He is working on his television and radio report to the American people with one of his top speech writers, Dr. Kevin McCann.

A time for the speech has not been set, but it will be shortly after he returns to Washington. Eisenhower also is expected to hold a news conference in the nation's capital next week.

Unique Double Satellite Launched At Canaveral

Navy, Air Force Join In Firing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The United States fired unique "mother and daughter" satellites into a high orbit today to give all nations an accurate navigation system, measure the sun's radiation and make the world's clocks more accurate.

The Navy and Air Force joined forces to put a transit 2-A satellite into a 500-mile-high orbit crossing parts of Russia and the arctic and antarctic regions. The complex, 223-pound aluminum sphere gave birth to a second satellite as soon as the orbit was achieved.

Bell Awards Big Contract For Addition

A spokesman for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company told the Daily News this morning the company has awarded a contract for enlarging the main building in Pampa to the Panhandle Engineers and Contractors of Amarillo.

The work, expected to exceed a third of a million dollars in cost, will add an estimated 19,000 square feet to Bell's present facilities here.

An official at the Amarillo contracting firm declined to reveal the exact amount of the contract until he learned whether Bell had approved the original bid or an alternate bid.

The official said, "There is a sizeable variance in the two bids but it is safe to say the contract will be in the neighborhood of $350,000."

Panhandle Engineers and Contractors are well known in Pampa as the contractors for the new Capri Theater and the Safeway Market.

'Quick, The Flit' Alarm Sounded

The city has declared all-out war on the insect nation after an invasion by the mosquito troops.

Numerous complaints have been received by the city, according to John Kootz, city manager, and he wishes to make known that the city is alert to the attack.

Fogging machines are running maneuvers daily, and all water holes and mosquito breeding areas are being barraged by poison.

Solon Hurt In Explosion

AMARILLO (UPI)—Sen. Grady Hazlewood, 58, seriously injured in an explosion at his farm home, was reported in poor condition today at Northwest Texas Hospital.

An empty 50-gallon gasoline drum blew up in his face as he was cutting the top off of it with an acetylene torch.

The blast broke both of his jaws, injured his left eye, and left bad burns and deep cuts about his face. Doctors repaired his jaws in an emergency operation that lasted more than three hours.

Hospital authorities said it was still too early to tell, but expressed hope that the eye could be saved and that there would be no permanent damage. There was a possibility, however, the deep lacerations would leave scars.

Sen. Hazlewood has been the legislative leader in the fight against the so-called safe driving plan of automobile insurance rating recently adopted by the Texas Insurance Commission.

Argentina, Israeli Void Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Argentina declared today President Arturo Frondizi would not agree to a meeting with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion if Israel continued to refuse to return Nazi Col. Adolf Eichmann to Argentina.

Ben-Gurion announced in Brussels Tuesday that he and Frondizi would meet by the end of this week to discuss the case of Eichmann, the Hitler henchman accused of ordering death for six million Jews in World War II, who was taken from Argentina by Israeli agents to face trial in Israel.

Argentine Ambassador Mario Amadeo, opening the case before the Security Council, pointed out that Ben-Gurion, according to press dispatches, confirmed that Israel would not give up Eichmann and said "friendly" relations would continue between Argentina and Israel provided Eichmann remains in Israel.

Amadeo said Frondizi had said "over and over" that he would meet Ben-Gurion to discuss the Eichmann case "provided useful results can be obtained."

But Ben-Gurion, he said, had confirmed a "policy which has led to failure" and Frondizi could not agree to a meeting on the basis of that policy.

Krush In Huddle With Polish Boss

BUCHAREST, Romania (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev has decided to delay his return to Moscow in order to confer with Poland's No. 1 Communist, Wladyslaw Gomulka, diplomatic sources reported today.

Gomulka was expected to arrive here Thursday to join other top East European leaders at a Communist summit meeting which began Sunday under the chairmanship of the Soviet premier.

Western observers believed a very major decision would await Gomulka's arrival. The secret discussions presumably centered on revisions in Communist bloc policy following the summit fiasco in Paris.

The occasion for the Eastern summit conference was Romania's third Communist Party Congress, today in its third session.

Khrushchev, in a possible hint to the course of his secret discussions, told the Congress in a two-hour address Tuesday that the Soviet bloc will stand by its policy of peaceful co-existence with the West.

Rotarians Install Batson As President At Banquet

R. E. (Dick) Batson was last night installed president of the Pampa Rotary club for the coming year. He succeeded Jack Edmondson who presided at the installation banquet held in the Coronado Inn.

A special tribute to the ladies of Rotary was given by Fred Neslage and club singing was directed by Delea Vicars.

Special recognition was given the wives of those members whose husbands held perfect attendance records.

The entertainment for the evening was presented by the Phil Originals who offered several musical selections.

Approximately two hundred people were in attendance.

The Four Faces Of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller

Governor-elect Nelson Rockefeller had just trounced incumbent Averil Harriman by a half-million votes to reverse in his key state a national Democratic trend. He said he had every intention of serving the four-year term in Albany.

Rockefeller makes like a candidate in Texas where he pulls a 10-gallon hat down over his ears. Rocky and his wife went on a whirlwind tour to sample the political climate. This, he said, would determine whether he would run for the nomination.

Serious-faced Rocky ended his countrywide tour in Philadelphia, apparently with the answer he sought. He announced that he would not seek the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

Though his chances are slim, Rockefeller has now left the door open by announcing that though drafts come seldom, "I would be greatly honored and I would accept" if such a draft should materialize at the GOP convention in Chicago.

Herter Urges Reduction In Cuba Sugar Dependency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Congress today this is "an appropriate time" for the United States to reduce the dependence of its consumers on Cuban sugar.

Herter told the House Agriculture Committee that a Republican proposal to cut back scheduled Cuban marketing of sugar in the United States is acceptable to the administration.

Herter, in a prepared statement made no reference whatever to the public attacks by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro on the United States. Thus, there was no reference, even implied, to use of the sugar program for political reprisals against Castro.

Herter pointed out that the Cuba for about one third of its total sugar supply. He said the United States now must take into account the policy statements of the new Cuban government calling for greater diversification of agriculture.

Declaring that experts predict Cuba's sugar production will soon drop at least one million tons from current levels, Herter noted that the Cuban government recently agreed to supply Soviet Russia with one million tons of sugar a year for the next five years.

He also cited recent sugar sales agreements between Cuba and other Communist controlled countries.

"Because of these and other circumstances," Herter said, "this would be an appropriate time for the United States to seek ways to diversify its sources of supply and reduce the dependence of its consumers on Cuban sugar, the supply of which may become increasingly uncertain."

Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) summoned Herter before the House Agriculture Committee to explain these seemingly conflicting developments.

"In asking Congress several months ago for broad authority to change the marketing quotas for countries supplying sugar to the United States, President Eisenhower promised he would not use the power for reprisals against the anti-American activities of Castro. The President said he wanted the authority only to assure U.S. housewives ample sugar supplies.

Key House Republicans served notice last week they would lead a fight for legislation that would cut back Cuba's scheduled sugar marketing in the United States this year as well as authorize the President to make other changes in quotas. They said they had every reason to believe their proposal had administration support.

Cooley is opposed to any use of the sugar program for reprisals against Cuba. He contends that any such action would be interpreted throughout Latin America as an act of "economic aggression" against Cuba.

Herter, in a prepared statement made no reference whatever to the public attacks by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro on the United States. Thus, there was no reference, even implied, to use of the sugar program for political reprisals against Castro.

Cautious Optimism Expands Business

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Fitch survey in its semi-annual forecast for 1960 finds the current cautious optimism a major factor in lengthening the expansion-in-business and the stock market.

The current year, it says, will be one of continued growth, although not quite duplicating the record high pace of business during the first half of 1959.

"The American economy will still continue on a high plateau through the second half of 1960 with the administration likely to do all it can to maintain this prosperous state of affairs.

"Stock market prices should continue to show vigor during the remainder of the year, albeit in periods of profit-taking."

The survey, noting that recovery in the business cycle usually starts about three years, holds that the recovery should carry into the middle of 1961 at least.

The survey, published weekly by the Fitch Publishing Co., is an economic and market advisory service.

In its current forecast edition, it devotes sections to the various recent market features, including the electronics, office equipments, "pleasure time" field, and utilities. Also it devotes space to what it calls the "roller" oil, merger "panacea" for the rail, and some good words for the steel industry.

Admitting that many stocks are too high, the survey holds that a considerable number still is priced reasonably, notably the oils, steels and chemicals.

It lists the airlines and "les-sure time" groups for the more speculatively inclined, and for those with a more conservative bent "convertible bonds provide attractive offering both reasonable yields and protection against higher price movements of their common stocks."

Fitch sees a new crash program ahead for the electronics, especially in military and space programs, but it admits difficulty in selecting stocks in the group where the risk has been minimized. It lists a few that fit this classification.

Noting that the oil companies are hard put with a glut of oil and "no appreciable near-term improvement in sight," Fitch finds some good news for selected oils.

The heavy supplies of oil have accelerated development of new uses, it says. Also expenses are being pared wherever possible, and efforts are being made toward an improved operating efficiency to offset weakened prices.

The service believes that the adjustment for the steel industry

Senate's Old Flatwheel Is Still Causing Trouble

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It seems like only last January that the new Senate subway was dedicated. As a matter of fact, it was last January. I remember the event as though it happened five months ago.

It was, as I recall, a joyous occasion, one that caused spirits to soar and hearts to waltz in three-quarter time. We all thought it had solved forever the problem of getting between the Capitol and the new Senate Office Building without walking.

Little did we realize that in a few short weeks the shiny new underground "railroad" would be derisively known around the Capitol as "old flatwheel."

Like the much criticized office building which it serves, the subway has been plagued with trouble. But if the public purse doesn't run dry, the Senate may get both of them in working order yet.

I had been told that the trouble with the subway was that the cars had been designed to run on a straightaway whereas the tracks had been designed with curves. But I note that Capitol architect J. George Stewart gave a different explanation when he appeared before a Senate appropriations subcommittee recently.

"The main trouble with the cars has been the wheels," Stewart said. "The original wheels that were furnished by the manufacturer were made of cast steel, which was evidently much too soft for the type of service we have here."

So, he said, arrangements were made to have eight new wheels designed with a more durable material. He also proposed another improvement which I think might do more for the subway than the new wheels. It would provide uniforms for the subway motormen.

Up to now, they have been operating the cars in assorted garbs of khaki and denim from their own wardrobes. Stewart said it would be more in keeping with the "new look" of the subway if the government bought them uniforms.

"I think he should go even further and hire uniformed doormen to stand at each end of the tracks and help passengers on and off. It might also be appropriate to hire a train caller."

I'm sure Stewart will work out the subway problems somehow, but I don't know what he will do about the elevator problem in the new office building. The building has about a dozen elevators but most of the traffic falls on the two in the southwest corner, causing some exasperating traffic jams.

"It is too bad that we will not build another building," said Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.). "Then we would know enough to put four banks of elevators on this side."

I think Bridges might have the right idea. In view of all the things that have gone wrong, why not tear the whole building down and start over?

He hit the atmosphere on his simulated return flight about 400,000 feet up at a speed just under 25,000 miles an hour. A television camera mounted in his space taxi carried the readings of his instruments to a receiver outside.

Four plotters and 18 brush recorders tracked his progress and made a permanent record of various phases of it. Time and again, as he noticed that his angle of descent was too steep, he made corrections.

It took about 40 minutes to make the simulated landing. Lorton, generally had two or three minutes to make up his mind about a correction of course or angle of descent and correct for it.

Chance Vought's scientists and pilot Bill Lorton, an Air Force combat pilot in World War II, have made more than 400 simulated flights.

They can, with a roomful of highly sophisticated electrical equipment that includes 10,000 vacuum tubes, 350 amplifiers and 24 servo-mechanisms, duplicate all that is known about conditions in space.

The electrical equipment takes the shape and size of a vehicle that would be used in space and the conditions in space and pits them against the skill of a pilot seated in the cockpit of what might be a space vehicle.

So far, all of the experiments have been about getting back from space. The scientists are now working on the problems involved in getting back from the moon in a space "taxi."

The problems really begin when the taxi hits the fringes of the atmosphere, 400,000 feet above the earth. If the pilot hits the atmosphere at too sharp an angle, friction with the atmosphere will melt his taxi. The space simulator assumes that the nose of the taxi will melt above 5,000 degrees, the bottom, above 3,000 degrees and the leading edges of the wings, above 3,500 degrees.

This is pretty hot; iron will melt and run like water at 2,800 degrees.

Lorton made a simulated return to earth in a space taxi, hitting the fringes of the atmosphere over Australia about 10,000 miles from where he wanted to land at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., for which he forced operations down sharply from earlier in the year. It is heating its end; it anticipates some further erosion over the next month or so followed by a recovery, inspired by several factors.

Fitch believes that the decline in stock prices which began in January was caused more by over-optimism in December than any real deterioration in the business outlook.

"Instead of the uncontrolled boom, with the usual painful aftermath, that was then widely expected," it says, "it now seems 1960 will be a year of sound growth and prove all to the good."

Scientists Want Humans, Not Robots, In Space Ship

DALLAS (UPI)—Scientists who have been simulating the hazards of space travel for months, with a roomful of weird-looking electronic equipment point up the necessity of having human beings—not robots—operate space ships.

Al Sibilla and Harold Ragnell of Chance Vought Aircraft's Astronautics Division said there has been considerable thought of automatic devices operating space ships and men more or less going along for the ride.

But experiments with a manned space flight simulator, the only one of its kind in the country, indicate it may be smart to forget many of the automatic devices in favor of a well-trained space pilot.

For one thing, a man is lighter than a mass of automatic equipment. For another, he can anticipate and make decisions, which no computer yet invented is able to do.

Chance Vought's scientists and pilot Bill Lorton, an Air Force combat pilot in World War II, have made more than 400 simulated flights.

They can, with a roomful of highly sophisticated electrical equipment that includes 10,000 vacuum tubes, 350 amplifiers and 24 servo-mechanisms, duplicate all that is known about conditions in space.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate was pledged to take final action today on the Japanese security treaty which still is stirring up leftist turbulence in Japan. There was agreement to limit further debate and vote before mid-afternoon.

Democratic leaders, who had pressed for a final vote Tuesday, postponed a final vote after more than seven hours of debate Tuesday night but won the unanimous parliamentary agreement which will bring assured ratification today.

of the policy of not returning Eichmann to Argentina. In that event, Amadeo said, Argentina was obliged to press its case before the Security Council, seeking recognition that Israel violated its national sovereignty in seizing Eichmann and demanding "appropriate reparation" for the act.

Ben-Gurion, who was expected to seek settlement of the case later this week in a meeting in Europe with Argentina, President Arturo Frondizi, has remained adamant that Eichmann will not be returned by his government, even though Argentina has promised to entertain proceedings thereafter for his extradition.

Today's council meeting, in which delegates reluctantly took up the emotion-ridden case, was delayed in starting while Amadeo awaited last-minute instructions from Frondizi. Informants said Frondizi ordered his ambassador to go ahead with the case with no change in plans.

"War is not inevitable in our times," he declared. He added, however, that there was always the danger of someone pushing the "wrong button."

The speech tended to confirm the belief of many Western experts that the Soviet premier finally had won majority backing in an ideological battle with Red China over his policies of comparative moderation.

Draft Stevenson Move Simmering

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The effort to draft Adlai E. Stevenson for a third try at the White House is still simmering with no apparent cook in the political kitchen.

Nonetheless his supporters expect Stevenson's bid to burgeon if Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts fails to wrap up the Democratic presidential nomination on an early ballot.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, a Stevenson supporter, calls the draft campaign a movement "with all Indians and no chiefs." He and former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York are writing letters to national convention delegates with whom they are acquainted, urging a Stevenson nomination, and they have the backing of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

But neither Monroney nor Lehman can vote for Stevenson at the national convention. Monroney's entire state delegation is pledged to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson. Lehman was denied a seat in the New York delegation.

A small cubby hole office is functioning here as a sort of clearing house for Stevenson clubs reported to be active in 46 states. It tells the clubs where they can buy items like campaign buttons and bumper stickers and mails out information dealing with Stevenson as a possibility for the nomination. Stevenson himself has given the movement no encouragement beyond making it clear that he would accept a draft.

As the draft-Stevenson campaign now stands, it is doubted that the twice-defeated candidate's name ever will be officially placed in nomination. Even so, he is expected to poll the votes of a small bloc of delegates running behind Kennedy, Johnson and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

If the combined vote of Kennedy's opponents and a holdout by favorite sons candidates should deny the New England senator the nomination, Johnson presumably then would make his run for the prize. However, there has been no evidence yet of a major Johnson breakthrough in the pivotal Northern states with the big blocs of national convention votes.

Unless Johnson can crack those states, Stevenson and Symington presumably would inherit most of the Kennedy delegates.

It's The Routine That Counts In Police Work

By LEE GRIMSLEY
Daily News Staff Writer

One of the loneliest jobs in Pampa is that of a night patrolman in the police department.

Each night they must keep a constant check on approximately 1,500 business firms and 24,000 citizens within Pampa's 4.7 square mile city limits.

L. D. Day, the ranking officer on the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift, estimates that each police car is driven 50,000 miles annually. Much of this distance is through narrow, dirt alleys while the patrolmen check the doors and windows of business firms.

A light which usually is left on all night at a department store isn't burning. The officer checks the door and can't find any indications that someone has entered the store. To be certain he radios in to headquarters and asks the desk man to phone the store manager. Sure enough, he forgot to turn it on before he closed the building for the night.

Any suspicious cars they find parked, especially those with out of state license plates, are checked. It might be stolen or belong to a burglar working in the neighborhood.

Then it's back to routine patrolling — winding through dark lumber yards and shining search lights into piles of lumber or any other place a burglar might hide. About 10:30 p.m. the officers usually check cars left on municipal parking lots to see if any drunks are in them sleeping off a big night. By then it's time to return to the police station and await the reports of any early-morning auto accidents that need to be investigated.

A detailed report must be filled out on each accident, regardless how minor or serious it might be.

The distance from the impact of the cars to some permanent landmark, usually the nearest intersection, must be recorded for insurance records.

The investigating officers must, according to state law, use a steel tape measure for this. A cloth tape can't be used.

The officers also have to furnish

Rio Grande Melons Now Available

AUSTIN (UPI) — Honey dew melons from the Rio Grande City and Laredo areas are now available in good volume, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Tuesday.

Its weekly review of commercial vegetable conditions showed that potatoes, tomatoes and carrots made good progress after last week's heavy rains.

In the Panhandle, onion harvest began but is not expected to get into high gear until July. Cantaloupes in the southwest section of the Panhandle continued to be plagued by blowing sand.

The USDA reported South Texas vegetable crops in critical need of moisture. It said movement of watermelons and cantaloupes continues active, in addition to the good volume of honey dew.

Crops in South Central and East Texas were showing the effects of hot, dry summer weather. Watermelon harvest is active in South Central Texas and was to start next week in the early areas of east Texas.

accident reports for the drivers of the cars involved in the accident to fill out and return to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

If a wrecker is needed, the police are required to call the one each victim designates.

Many times a driver isn't able to think of a firm which offers wrecker service, but the police still can't suggest one. They must read the entire list of wreckers available here and have the driver to indicate his choice before one is called.

It's usually a routine night. But on the nights a criminal is captured there's an additional hour or two of paper work and fingerprinting to be done before the officers go home.

Sometimes it's a dull job, but other times it's exciting. And it all occurs while the city sleeps.

IT'LL BE A LOT BIGGER THAN THIS—Box contains a scale model of a radio telescope which will be the biggest in the world when it's built this fall in Danville, Ill. The University of Illinois will construct and operate the telescope under the sponsorship of the Office of Naval Research. The telescope will cover a 5½-acre natural valley. Its 160,000 square feet of receiving area will be covered with an asphalt liner and a wire-mesh reflecting surface. Four wooden towers 165 feet tall will carry 300 feed elements to the big "ear."

Davis Okays Reservoir Finance Plan

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Gov. Jimmie H. Davis has reportedly endorsed a plan to finance Louisiana's share of the Toledo Bend Reservoir on the Louisiana-Texas border.

The reservoir would inundate 182,000 acres along a 150-mile section of the Sabine River. Half of the $60,000,000 cost of the hydroelectric dam and reservoir would be paid by power companies, with Louisiana and Texas financing the rest.

Farish said the governor has approved a plan to dedicate surplus funds from a state beer tax for the next 10 years to the Louisiana Sabine River Authority to make up the state's $15 million share.

John Simmons of Orange, Tex., executive vice president of the Sabine River Authority of Texas, said that Texas has committed only $5 million to the project, but said that Gov. Price Daniel has promised that Texas certainly would match the Louisiana loans.

Walter Rogers Reports

Committee Designs Measures To Correct Payola Abuses

The House Commerce Committee, after months of sifting through some disheartening abuses in the radio-television industry, has reported legislation designed to eliminate payola, rigged programs, and so forth. Although the Committee's proposed amendments to the Communications Act provide fines and jail terms for those who accept payola or participate in rigged programs, the legislation does not include provisions for the licensing of national networks. This, in my mind, is fortunate, for I do not believe that federal control necessarily needs to be further extended in this area. But I do feel that the radio and television media need to be provided with a clearer outline of their responsibilities to the people, and there is reason to believe that the proposed amendments will be of some help in this regard.

Broadcasting stations are public utilities, similar to a bus line or a telephone company. These utilities are expected to make a fair profit, but not at the expense of the general good of everyone. For example, you expect the electric power companies to provide alternating current, upon which almost all American equipment operates. It would be an abuse for such a power company to begin producing direct current when no other electricity is available. And it would be a deception for a company to deliver direct current when the people expect alternating current. This is essence, is what has occurred in a part of the radio-television industry. As these media mature, I believe they will become sharper and more generally understood. And I think the Congress can help by sketching — not the exact steps — but at least the general direction which should be taken.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The big political news from New York state is good for the Republicans, bad for the Democrats and worse for Adlai E. Stevenson.

The good Republican, bad Democratic, news is this: New York state Democrats are in a bitter, all-out factional fight.

The worst news for Stevenson is this: His supporters in New York state are taking a bad licking, so far.

Stevenson's New York supporters are reformers. Their leaders are Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman. The Roosevelt-Lehman political leadership in New York was absolute over the years of FDR's magic. After his death, FDR's widow became an effective leader in her own right. Two years ago, Mrs. Roosevelt and Lehman fell out with Carmine De Sapio, the boss of Tammany Hall and of the New York Democratic Party.

The Roosevelt-Lehman reformers denounced De Sapio's boss rule. They ganged up on and defeated this spring some of his Tammany primary candidates. Meantime, they were maneuvering to try to win the Democratic presidential nomination for Stevenson.

Last week the New York state Democratic committee met and rejected Lehman as a delegate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention by a vote of 254-to-14. The committee did not even consider Mrs. Roosevelt for membership on the convention delegation. De Sapio's boss rule was working well.

This faction fight among New York Democrats will get hotter before it cools. All of this leaves

Stevenson and the Democrats on a tough spot. The party dispute is the best promise in sight that the Republican presidential nominee can and will win New York's 45 electoral votes next November.

As for Stevenson, two powerful politicians — who had hoped to be on the 'New York convention' delegation and to work from there toward Stevenson's nomination — will be on the outside looking in. Moreover, the alliance of Mrs. Roosevelt and Lehman with Stevenson demands that De Sapio prevent Stevenson's nomination. If he is unable to block Stevenson, De Sapio might even consider knifing him in the November election.

If Mrs. R. and Lehman ever get their own man into the White House, they would be well on their way to ousting De Sapio as Tammany boss. The method would be by withholding patronage, a deadly device. So, with Mrs. R. and Lehman benched and De Sapio confronting a fight for life against Stevenson, the latter's chance of a renomination have grown dimmer.

There is a good news for Republicans from another big state, California. I have just returned from California. The word on Democratic Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown is that he has had it. That is what the newsmen in California report on Gov. Pat. Many of them assert that, as of now, he couldn't be elected dog catcher.

Others, more charitable, claim that the governor could be elected dog catcher.

That is good news for Republicans. Just as good is the fact that Brown has stirred up a sharp factional fight among California Democrats by his move to oust Paul Ziffren from the national committee.

Polly's Quiz

Dear Polly: I'd like to turn my alcove into a music-TV room. How can I close the room off? It has an open archway. We live in an apartment and don't use the dining area because my husband works nights.

Dear Mrs. J.: If your space is at a premium, close off the area with a pair of louvered shutters painted the color of the walls or in a natural wood finish.

Dear Polly: The paint we selected for our living room looks different now that it's on the walls. The best description of it is pale lavender. Carpelent is a little. Please suggest colors for drapes and for slip covers on couch and two chairs.

Dear Mrs. J. P.: Before you spend any more money, correct that big mistake. Repair those lavender walls and then proceed with a decorating plan.

Dear Polly: My husband is a high school teacher and we always live in rented houses. The color scheme never gets along with my curtains.

Dear Polly: I have a brown sectional sofa; white leather chair and walnut lamps with beige shades. I have been toying with the idea of gold walls and rug. I would like white curtains covering an entire wall. Would this be effective? Or a glaring mistake?

Dear Mrs. B. M.: White curtains wouldn't turn into a glaring mistake if you do a bit of style with gold Greek key braid down the inside edges and across the bottom. Gold walls and rug should be pretty. Do change those beige

Planning Wardrobe Before Shopping

NEW YORK—(NEA)—If you're wondering just what should go into that suitcase for vacation, better make a blue-print. Don't just head first on what's new in your summer wardrobe. If you've some perfectly good shorts for which you need new tops, make a note of this.

Decide on colors and jot those down. What about sweaters? You should have black, navy and white cardigans in synthetics or wool. If you're taking along some pleated skirts in white, you also need pull-overs. In other words, every purchase you make should dovetail with what you now have. This saves your money and time. It also gives your clothes a carefully co-ordinated look.

UNDECIDED: I would guess they are excellent. But I'm only guessing. Experience is still the best teacher — and if I hear from readers who have had this experience, I'll print their replies.

There are some things to be wary of when you shop. These include the bikini or even the two-piece suit unless your figure is perfect. Pass up the short shorts if you don't have the figure for them. If your feet are less than pretty, put your money into closed play-shoes. Knowing your own limitations will make it possible for you to look picture-perfect on vacation. For the nearest store armed with a checkbook or cash and a vague idea of what you'd like. Your blueprint should be based.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANNETTA: This may sound like another version of a very old joke, but it conveys the message perfectly: "No one will buy a cow he can milk for nothing."

Housewife or career woman, it is best to balance working hours with hours of play and relaxation. Try 10 minutes a day of resting, with feet elevated, as a refresher.

What's your problem? Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teen-ager", is on sale at all book-stores.

Bon Vivant Archie Moore Reveals Weight Secrets In New Book

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The aboriginals of Australia are in for a shock next month.

That's when Archie Moore, actor, light heavyweight champion, restaurateur, bon vivant, jazz buff and now author hits the bookshelves. His book is entitled, appropriately, "The Archie Moore Story."

And it's going to prove to the aboriginals that they never had it so good.

Archie, as you probably know, is a man who long has been bashed by excessive avoidipolis. Between well-spaced defenses of his light heavyweight title, Archie takes on weight like a Great Lakes ore carrier. Yet, come time for the title defense, there is Archie down to the necessary 175 pounds.

Up to now, Archie has been real secretive about the process.

"It's a diet I learned from an Australian aborigine," was his stock line.

Well, there's a whole chapter with day by day intake advice—in his new biography and, as explained, the Stone Age customers down under get little sympathy from this department any more. They have been pictured as harried folks who live on dried fish and stuff but the guy who tipped Archie must have been one raised in the Waldorf.

This diet includes such items as T-bone steak, broiled fish, calves liver, oysters and lamb chops. Naturally, all of this is available to an aboriginal who knows his way into the right kral. And it stands to reason that even an aboriginal doesn't necessarily have to own a lamb to get lamb chops because the Australian marching song "Waltzing Matilda," tells all about the "jolly swagman" who fastened onto somebody else's "jumbuck."

And a "jumbuck" is outback parlance for sheep.

But Archie, boxing's longtime king of fried chicken, seems to be giving the aboriginals a little too much credit. Or else he has been improvising on his own like a jazz trombonist with the phil-harmonic.

Because Archie's printed diet includes such items as boiled parsnips, potato, okra, asparagus, artichokes, brussel sprouts and jello.

You might, and with not too much persuasion, even convince me that the aboriginals—those barefooted fellows noted for their boomerang tossing—know all about asparagus. But when it comes to items like parsnips, artichokes, okra, brussel sprouts and jello, I've got to pass.

Aside from this slight doubt, it's a good book which Archie has concocted. And he tells all, including his term in reform school as a juvenile delinquent and his days in the Civilian Conservation Corps and on the WPA.

His first fight, he relates rather humorously, was with a fellow by the name of Johnny Cunningham. And Archie pens, he hopes this fellow won't box him again.

Because Cunningham's an undertaker now.

For kids who think they might like to be fighters, Archie says "don't ask." His parallel concerns the young fellow who asked J. P. Morgan how much it cost to own a yacht.

"If you have to ask," Morgan replied, "you can't afford one."

In other words, if you want to be anybody, you don't have to ask anybody. Not even the omnipotent Archie who insists that he is a mere 43, and takes it off to leave it.

That's solid advice. So, too, may be Archie's dietetic information. But when he gives his diet and starts off every meal with "sauerkraut juice with one tablespoon of lemon juice added" I've got to think that as an "aboriginal" diet he left out one item.

Applesauce.

No Third Fight For NYC Unless Police Co-operate

NEW YORK (UPI)—Boxing promoter Bill Fugazy threatened Tuesday to take the third Patterson-Johansson heavyweight fight elsewhere unless New York City provides more police protection.

Fugazy, a director of Feature Sports Inc., which promoted Monday night's championship bout at the Polo Grounds, charged that thousands of gate-crashers gained entrance to the fight because there weren't enough police to stop them.

A police department spokesman said the promoters had been warned to hire enough private policemen to keep order inside the park. He said city police are used only for crowds outside an arena and enter it only in the event of a riot.

"I don't think New York appreciated the fight," Fugazy said. He estimated that more than 10,000 free loaders crashed the fight because of lack of police to hold them back.

"The Police Department is not in the fight business," Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said. "It is for private business to hire proper guards."

Joe Louis Has A Secret For Ingo

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Louis is so confident that a "new" Ingemar Johansson could beat heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in a third fight that he has offered to instruct Ingo on a $50,000-or-nothing basis. It was learned today.

Bomber Joe wants $50,000 for his advice to Ingemar if he wins back the title but he will accept nothing if Ingo loses.

The proposition has not yet been put to Johansson, who was flying today to Florida to spend a week's vacation at Hillsboro, near Ft. Lauderdale, with Detroit industrialist Gustav Von Reis. After the Florida rest, Johansson plans to fly to his new home at Geneva, Switzerland.

His return-bout contract calls for a fight within 120 days from last Monday night's battle in the heavyweight crown. He knocked out the brawny Swede in the fifth round before a crowd of more than 45,000, which included only 31,892 paid and the rest largely gate-crashers.

Johansson, Patterson and promoter Jack Fugazy of Feature Sports, Inc., agreed Tuesday that they wanted the third fight within the contracted time limit. However, since each of the fighters is expected to wind up with a

Semi-Pros Set Practice Tonight

Manager Henry Stephens called for a practice workout by the Pampa Roadrunners tonight as the semi-pros prepare for their Friday night date with the Liberal Bee-Jays in Liberal Friday night.

The practice session will get underway at 5:30 p.m. on Harvester Field.

Stephens said Sayre, Okla., has been booked for a home game here Sunday afternoon. Both Sayre, Okla. and Liberal hold verdicts over the Roadrunners who will be out to avenge the losses.

Either Gary Heiskell or Kippy Williams will be called for mound duty Friday night against Liberal.

Bills Meet Broncos

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League Tuesday added the Denver Broncos to their exhibition schedule.

General Manager Dick Gallagher announced the Bills will play the Broncos in a night game Aug. 13 at Rochester, N.Y.

Pony League

The 1960 Pony League championship should be settled for all intents and purposes when the league leaders, Lions Club and Cree Drilling, square off in the nightcap at Optimist Park tonight.

The Lions took a 9-3 win from Chennie while Cree edged First National Bank 4-3 last night to continue the first-place deadlock with identical 9-3 records.

With only three games remaining on the schedule, tonight's loser will be virtually counted out of the race.

Jimmy Lollar pitched and batted his team to its win, scattering five Chennie hits and lacing out a pair of triples and two singles in four trips to the plate.

Third baseman Larry Johnson swung another big stick for the winners with three hits in three times at bat.

The Lions held a 5-2 lead at the end of six and sailed the game away when they blasted four runs across in the top of the seventh.

Kerry Roper tagged Lollar for two singles to pace the Chennie offense.

G-Sox Hold On For 6-5 Win Over Pueblo

Texas League teams topped Mexican League clubs Tuesday night as the second round of games opened between the two loops in Pan American Association play.

Victoria, playing at home, was the only Texas League team to lose. Veracruz nipped the Rosebuds, 4-2. In other games, San Antonio whipped the Mexico City Tigers, 6-1, and below the border Valley pounded the Mexico City Red Devils, 14-6. Austin edged Poza Rica, 5-4. Amarillo nipped Pueblo, 6-5, and Tulsa toppled Monterrey, 4-2.

Valley's Giants kept their five game lead over second place San Antonio, outlasting the Rosebuds, 4-2. Al Stiegitz belted a two-run homer to spark a five-run uprising in the first inning. Valdemar Carmona sparked a four-run fifth inning with a triple. The Giants had the game in the bag 12-0 before Mexico City got its first base on the bottom of the fifth.

Al Baro, a former Texas Leaguer, drove in two Veracruz runs in the second inning and Miguel Fernandez clouted a bases-empty homer to keep the Eagles on top of the Mexican circuit. Victoria's Harvey Cohen, the loser, was knocked off the mound in the second. Al Paschal and Frank Kostro halted in Victoria's runs.

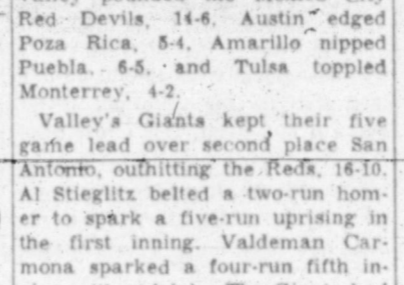

Amarillo's Gold Sox spurred ahead with four runs in the opening inning, but lost its lead when Pueblo matched the score in the fifth. Leigh Lawrence came on to put out the fire, giving up a single run in the ninth. Amarillo scored two more in the sixth and ninth.

Jim Hickman and Harry Watts pounded solo homers to lead Tulsa's eight hit attack. Gordon Richardson was the winner, but needed help from Bob Blaylock. Austin's Senators trailed Poza Rica through the first four innings, then went ahead with a two-run spent in the fifth, and added the winner in the sixth. Catcher Ray Dabek led the 11-hit attack with a second inning solo homer.

San Antonio's Jack Curtis gave up one run in the first inning, then pitched shutout ball the rest of the way to win a fine four-hit victory. The Missions tied it up in the third, and went ahead with Dick Getter's two-run sixth inning homer.

The same teams play again tonight.

SO WHAT ELSE IS NEW?

Cabot, Duncan, and One Bull survived uprisings by the losers to gain the wins.

Duncan built a 10-0 lead in three innings and then had to hang on as Celanese pecked away at it. Doc Cornutt blasted a home run to feature the loser's attack while pitcher Pat Strickland clouted one in his own behalf for the winners.

Tommy Atchley came on in relief of loser Steve Williams in the Duncan third and shutout the winners the rest of the way while his mates were trying to overcome the lead.

Cabot downed Sealtest 10-7 but not without seeing another 10-0 lead go by the boards. The Sealtest batters jumped on winning pitcher Stroud for seven big runs in their fourth to close the margin.

One Bull had the only breeze of the evening, winning 2-1 in four innings over Keller.

Ricky Maynard's home run featured the One Bull assault with Sherman Mitchell, picking up the mound win.

NCAA Golf Tourney Opens In Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Sixty-four of the nation's best college golfers began match play today on the Broadmoor course in quest of the NCAA championship.

The mountain-side course, already difficult because of deceptively pitched greens, was additionally complicated Tuesday by a hard wind that at times hit 90 miles an hour.

Gene Francis Purdue slipped two over par in the second qualifying round, but won medals with a 70-73-143.

Jack Nicklaus of Ohio State, the National Amateur champion and runner-up in last week's pressure-laden National Open at Denver, wound up with a qualifying score of 70-76-146.

Nicklaus, who nonetheless was favored to win the match play, was plagued with putting trouble on the windy greens Tuesday.

Bill Seator of Stanford, who shot a first day 69, triple-bogeyed the first hole and hacked away to finish with an 82 for a third-place 151-qualifying score.

The University of Houston won its fifth straight team title with a four-man 36-hole card of 601. Last year, at Eugene, Ore., Houston had set an NCAA team record of 561.

Palmer, Snead Break Par In Irish Practice

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland (UPI)—Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead turned in a pair of sub-par rounds and promptly were warned not to get too cocky because a change in the weather could "make a seven-shot difference" when the Canada Cup International golf tournament opens Thursday.

Palmer and Snead, who make up America's team, solidified themselves as favorites by treating the local 7,093-yard, par 72 layout as if they owned it during Tuesday's practice session.

Hitting the ball solidly and consistently, much in the manner he did last Sunday when he won the U.S. Open at Denver, Colo., Palmer fashioned a four-under-par 68 while Snead carded a 69 in his first tour of the course.

"Aw shucks, this is too easy," Snead grinned, when he birdied three par four-holes in a row.

Palmer, never off the narrow, lush fairways, might have had a 66 if he carried a pair of five-foot putts on the last two holes.

"If we're careful with our drives," he said confidently, "I think we can take this course comfortably."

There was one hitch, though, and that was the weather.

"Everybody's doing fine now in the blazing sunshine and light breeze," pointed out British amateur champion Joe Carr of Ireland, who played with Palmer twice during practice and knows this course well. "But if the weather turns bad it can make a seven-shot difference."

Barry MacKay

MacKay In Easy Wimbledon Test

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Barry MacKay figures to whip Rhodesia's Adrian Bey today at the Wimbledon tennis championships but six of America's nine men's singles survivors face rugged second round tests.

And MacKay, the 6-foot-4 Dayton star who is seeded second behind Australia's Neale Fraser, may not be able to relax too much against Bey. The Rhodesian ousted Pablo Eisenberg of Maplewood, N.J., in straight sets Monday.

One Yank is sure to bow out with Earl (Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis favored to oust John Cranston of San Marino, Calif., in an all-American match.

Chuck McKinley, the promising 19-year-old from St. Louis, faces an experienced internationalist in France's Pierre Darmon. Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., tackles Rod Laver, the red-haired Aussie who lost to Alex Olmedo in last year's Wimbledon final.

PGA Qualifiers Now Total 84 For Akron Play

By United Press International... Dick Stranahan of Alameda, Calif., and Jim Stamps of Dalton, Ga., led the latest group of 12 professional golfers who qualified at three different sites Tuesday for the 1960 PGA championship at Akron, Ohio, next month.

Stranahan, who played in the U.S. Open at Denver last week, shot a 70-87-137 for the best score of the four golfers who made the grade at Napa, Calif., and Stamps carded a 67-70-137 to lead three pros who qualified at Montgomery, Ala.

Tuesday's 12 successful pros raised to 84 the number who have qualified at various sites during the past 10 days. Twenty more berths will be decided at seven other cities Friday and next Monday.

The qualifiers will join a select field of exempted players for the tournament at Akron, July 21-24. Those who qualified with Stamps at Montgomery, were: Bob Keller of Eggen Field, Fla., 68-70-138, and Jim Yates of Atlanta, 68-72-140.

In addition to Stranahan, the Napa qualifiers were: Francisco Lopez of El Cerrito, Calif., 72-73-145; John Zontek, Mather A.F.B., Calif., 71-76-147, and Buddy Sullivan, Sacramento, Calif., 70-72-147.
