Farm Safety Week Announced

The U.S. Department of Agriculture calls attention this week, National Farm Safety Week, to the dangers that affect people who work and play on farms. According to the Farm Statistics Research Division, 20 per cent of all accidents occur in the 10 to 19 year age group, and in Texas the major causes of fatal accidents are firearms, burns and drowning. The report goes on to say that fatal injury is more common in the country than in the city and that the rate of fatal injury is increasing slightly each year.

Burglars Hit Twice Again During Night

Two more burglaries were recorded in Pampa last night, running the total of break-ins since last Friday night to nine. Burglars forced their way into the Ideal Steam Laundry, 221 E. Atchison, rifled a desk and took about $8 from a cash register. Officials of the laundry said there was about $6 in the cash register — three $1 bills and some vacation special, wheels packed $1.00. Come to Pampa Safety Lane 111-S. Cuyler. Adv.

Nixon In On First Ballot; Wants Lodge As Partner

Republicans Prepare For Tough Campaign

CHICAGO (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, chose Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge early today to be his vice presidential running mate for what he said "may be the toughest campaign in our history." Nixon announced his choice of Lodge, America's United Nations envoy, three action-packed hours after he himself had won the Republican presidential nomination by a runaway vote of 1,321 to 10. The choice then was made unanimous by the climactic session of the GOP National convention.

The 47-year-old vice president, who has served through both Eisenhower administrations in that post, became the Republican candidate to oppose Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, in the Nov. 8 elections. Nixon announced that Lodge was his choice for the vice presidential nomination after a post-midnight conference lasting more than two hours with 35 other Republican leaders.

He said he would telephone his decision to Lodge. With understatement, he said he assumed that Lodge would agree and that "prospects are good that the convention will support this decision."

Nixon had watched the nominating session of the convention on television and then admitted newsmen to his hotel suite to talk to them before a national TV audience.

From his suite he went to a conference room in the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel, three floors below the famous "smoke-filled room" in which Republican kingmakers picked Warren G. Harding for the White House 40 years ago this summer. Nixon sipped coffee and talked

Copper Rush Is On For All Coin Savers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Coin dealers across the country were swamped today in the great copper rush—the stampede of thousands of customers trying to make a profit of several hundred per cent either by buying or selling so-called "small date" 1960 pennies.

But a nationwide UPI survey found that the flawed one-cent pieces are scarce in some areas and a few dealers suggested that speculators have cornered the penny market in a plot to make a quick killing.

Prices differed widely from dealer to dealer and city to city on the irregular coins—which are valuable because the 1960 date is smaller than normal.

The estimated two or three million mis-stamped pennies turned out by the Philadelphia mint are worth several times the going rate for the many millions made at the Denver mint. The Denver coins have a small "D" under the date. Both mints now are stamping pennies with regular size dates.

RICHARD M. NIXON ... on first ballot

HENRY CABOT LODGE ... Nixon's choice

Kennedy's Best Wishes To Nominee

HYANNIS-PORT, Mass. (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy today congratulated Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his nomination as the Republican standard bearer and said that with Henry Cabot Lodge as the GOP running mate, the Democrats would face a vigorous fight in the fall.

"I think both parties have pledged themselves to great goals," Kennedy said in an interview in front of his family's summer home. "And I think both parties accept these goals."

The question for the voters, Kennedy said, was which party by its action in the past has given evidence of acting toward growth and handling of such issues as unemployment.

The Democratic nominee said he didn't mind Wednesday night's statement by former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that Kennedy had suggested that President Eisenhower apologize to the Russians for the U-2 spy plane incident.

Message For Conservatives

Unity Appeal By Goldwater

INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE, Chicago (UPI) — The conservatives of America got a tongue-lashing Wednesday night from the arch conservative of them all.

He accused them of having thrown the country on past occasions to the Democrats — a party "dedicated to the destruction of America — by sulking at home on election day instead of voting Republican."

He told them not to do it again. He told them to get out and fight for Richard M. Nixon for president even if they do think the 1960 GOP platform is too liberal in spots.

It's a lot better, he said, than that "blueprint for socialism presented by the Democrats" at their national convention in Los Angeles two weeks ago.

The tongue-lashing and the exhortation were delivered by the one man whom conservatives adore above all others in public office — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona.

Goldwater, a handsome, gray-haired, forceful 51-year-old, has been called "the darling of the conservatives," "a conservative conservative," and "a right-wing reactionary." He glories in such labels.

If the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was "Mr. Republican," Goldwater, a Republican, too, is "Mr. Conservative." There were those at Wednesday night's session of the GOP National convention, which unanimously nominated Nixon for president, who far preferred Goldwater.

One of them, Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, defied the senator's personal wishes and put him in nomination. He said Goldwater had won "the admiration of America by his unswerving willingness to call a spade a spade." This touched off a noisy 12-minute demonstration.

Four seconding speeches followed, each praising the senator as a man of integrity totally without fear.

13 Killed In Crash Of 'Copter

CHICAGO (UPI) — A commercial helicopter shutting between Chicago's two airports crashed Wednesday night, killing all 13 aboard.

A spokesman for Chicago Helicopter Airways, which operated the craft, said it carried 11 passengers and two pilots.

The fallen helicopter was a Sikorsky S-58, equipped to handle up to 12 passengers.

Police said the craft blazed so furiously that rescuers could not immediately get to it.

Suburban Maywood police said witnesses related the helicopter first had exploded in the air, then plummeted to the ground and caught fire.

The night was clear and there had been no weather disturbance.

Police said the crash was so violent that chunks of charred wreckage and dismembered bodies had been strewn over a wide area across the cemetery. The helicopter's pilots were identified as Robert Meyer and John Walker, but a passenger list was not immediately available.

The helicopter had left Midway airport on Chicago's west side at 10:30 p.m. edt, en route to O'Hare International Airport, on the far northwest side. Frequent shuttle service between the two is necessary since jet aircraft do not land at Midway.

Space Shot Timetable Is Announced By NASA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's civilian space agency today unveiled a timetable of 260 space shots for the next 10 years—more than two shots a month—including a test flight of a nuclear-powered rocket in 1965.

Space scientists announced plans to put a Mercury Astronaut in orbit and hit the moon with an instrument package next year, launch the first satellite astronomical laboratory in 1963 or 1964, and send the first unmanned spaceship around the moon and back in 1964.

"We expect to accomplish manned flight to a landing on the moon and return to earth beyond 1970," the agency said.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration gave the timetable in a series of reports to the opening session of a two-day meeting of 1,300 government, industry and university officials involved in space projects.

The sessions were closed and many of the reports were censored when released because they contained classified material. Some target dates on the timetable have been announced previously.

Hugh L. Dryden, deputy NASA administrator, told the meeting "In 1965 the first test of a nuclear second-stage will be accomplished if unexpected problems are not encountered." This atomic-powered rocket presumably would be mounted as a manned second stage of a manned Saturn chemical-fuel rocket which would boost it hundreds of miles into the sky. The nuclear engine then would cut on where there would be no radiation danger. Nuclear rockets would open the way for America to blast into space payloads many times heavier than are possible with chemical engines.

With 8 Years Training, Pat Wants Top Post

By HELEN THOMAS
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI) — Like her husband, Pat Nixon has spent almost eight years grooming for the White House.

To slim, auburn-haired Mrs. Nixon, the only drawback to being first lady of the land is "if you don't like the job."

Mrs. Nixon likes the job — just as she has liked the job of being the nation's second lady.

She also relishes a political fight. Her only regret during a campaign is the time she must spend away from her daughters.

The Nixon girls are Tricia, 14, a serious type according to her mother, and Julie, 12, who's gay and "wants to make everybody happy."

In their years in Washington, the Nixons have tried to shield the children from "heavy" political discussions. But Wednesday night Tricia and Julie sat with pink-faced excitement in the International Amphitheatre as the Republican National Convention nominated their father for President of the United States.

Pat Nixon was at her husband's side, watching the convention on television in their hotel suite.

Just as Nixon became an international figure during the Eisenhower administration, so did his 48-year-old wife. At the President's request, she has flown over 114,000 air miles with her husband and done her own job of personal diplomacy for the United States. She found that people all over the world want to shake the hand of an American leader's wife. She visited homes for the aged, hospitals and charities wherever she traveled. Her schedule became as hectic on the human side as her husband's on the political-diplomatic front.

Mrs. Nixon says the rewards have been on her side. The world leaders she met, her opportunities to talk to persons from all walks of life all over the world have made her more aware of people's needs.

Pat Nixon was born in Ely, Nev. She worked her way through the University of Southern California and she tried her hand as a teacher, an X-ray technician and a bank teller before her marriage.

Market Jumps

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market vaulted today as Wall Street celebrated the cut in margin requirements from 90 to 70 per cent.

The margin cut in effect means that stock buyers must put up only 70 cents in cash for every $1 of securities purchased and can borrow the rest from a broker or banker.

The majority of issues scored widely in the initial trading in response to the news. Brunswick jumped $4.63 on the transfer of 11,000 shares, while IBM spurted $8 on 1,200 shares and Eastman Kodak $3.25 on 2,000 shares.

The action of the Federal Reserve Board was attributed by observers to the cooling of speculative fever among investors in recent months. The long-awaited margin cut is viewed by many Wall Street prophets as the "pep pill" which for the moment at least could prevent a further sharp selloff in stock prices.

Lodge Lost Senate Seat To Kennedy

By DAVID PICKMAN
United Press International

BOSTON (UPI) — Henry Cabot Lodge is available for the Republican vice presidential nomination because of an ironic turn of history eight years ago when he lost his U.S. Senate seat to a young congressman named Kennedy.

Thus Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, unwittingly set the stage for U.N. Ambassador Lodge to lend the Republican ticket the prestige of his diplomatic career.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, GOP presidential nominee, picked Lodge as a running mate because of his tough and skillful dealings with Russia. The latest example was Lodge's exposure of the Russian lie that a downed American mapping plane was flying over Soviet territory.

The turning point in Lodge's career was the 1952 election. Lodge, then 50 years old, was confident that his consistent voting record and service to the party would rally voters to his support.

Six years earlier he had ousted the "unbeatable" David I. Walsh to resume his Senate career after distinguished Army service in World War II.

To the casual observer it would seem that Lodge had an insurmountable advantage over Kennedy because Lodge was campaign manager for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Few doubted that Eisenhower would sweep to victory and carry his political family in with him.

But Lodge's labors for the national ticket proved to be two-edged sword. To get Eisenhower nominated Lodge and the rest of the Ike team had to stop Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Lodge himself got credit for shutting out a pro-Taft delegation from Texas and running in a delegation favorable to Eisenhower at the 1952 Republican national convention, one of the bitterest in party annals.

The triumph for Ike probably cost Lodge his job in the Senate. Massachusetts Republicans by the thousands either voted for Kennedy or left the space for senator blank. They never forgave him for his part in defeating "Mr. Republican" Taft.

A Lodge intimate said today he took the defeat hard but has never regretted it.

His eight years as U.S. ambassador to the U.N. have put him at the forefront of the nation's cold war diplomacy. If he becomes the vice president, he can thank Kennedy.

A victory for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, incidentally, would make Lodge the presiding officer of the U.S. Senate, where Kennedy would still have a place.

The pennies were bringing $5 apiece in Cleveland. One Columbus coin store said it sold $1,000 worth of the coins in two days. The irregular Philadelphia pennies were selling for $4 each in Oklahoma City, $3 to $4 in Minneapolis, $2 to $5 in Indianapolis, and $2 to $3 in New York City.

The Denver pennies were going mostly for 45 or 50 cents and in some cases less.

fications, and know-how to do the job" of meeting the Communist challenge in the years to come.

He said he was "ready to campaign anywhere anytime" for the ticket.

In regard to the controversial platform adopted by the Republican convention, Lodge said he favored "a very liberal civil rights plank and I also favor carrying out a civil rights program on a very urgent basis."

He said the party had "nothing to defend in the realm of foreign policy." He said his own stewardship in the U.N. should have proved to the voter that "the U.S. wins in the United Nations and has never in fact been defeated."

Explosion, Fire Destroys School

HENDERSON, Tex. (UPI) —

Two explosions and a fire destroyed a freshly painted school at the Gaston community, eight miles west of Henderson Wednesday night and sent five firemen to the hospital.

The two - story brick building was gutted by flames which broke out with a low, rumbling explosion. A second explosion collapsed one wall about two hours later.

When firemen arrived, the building was sheathed in flames. They were hampered because wells in the community were quickly pumped dry, and they had to wait for the wells to refill themselves before continuing the battle.

Eight pieces of equipment came from Overton, Henderson and Kilgore.

The firemen who were injured and hospitalized were mostly suffering from smoke inhalation.

A group of painters had been working inside the building during the day getting it ready for the school to open this fall. Firemen said when the painters left, they closed all doors and windows.

The school had classrooms for some 400 elementary, junior high and high school students.

Wanted Man Is Returned

A Pampa man, who was wanted by the Gray County sheriff's office for theft by false pretenses, was returned here yesterday from Portland, Ore., by Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggard.

He is Robert A. Gilliland, a former paint contractor here. He is charged with buying about $2,100 worth of automobile supplies from a parts company here and paying for it with a worthless check.

Gilliland was arrested by Portland detectives last week when he tried to pay for repairs to his pickup with another check.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan was notified that Gilliland had been picked up. When he waived extradition Friday, Haggard flew to Portland to bring him back here.

Jordan said Gilliland had left a trail of worthless checks all across the country before he finally was apprehended.

DULCIMER NEVER HAD A GOOD WORD TO SAY OF HIS CLASSMATES OR THE ALMA MATER WHILE THERE....

BUT NOW THAT HE'S OUT, WHO'S THE SPARK PLUG WHO NEGLECTS HIS BUSINESS TO PROMOTE ALL REUNIONS?

Rockefeller A Big Man At Convention, But Not Tops

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHE-

ATRE, Chicago (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hit everything at this Republican National Convention except the jackpot. The big prize was the presidential nomination. It eluded him.

Rockefeller has been as big a man, however, as Vice President Richard M. Nixon around Chicago the past few days. He shaped the platform to his own pattern.

The governor contrived to bring about a situation which caused Nixon to push the panic button last week. Rockefeller thereupon received the vice presidential nomination in New York City. Out of that huddle came an ultimatum to the Republican Platform Committee.

The ultimatum was that the committee must accept the platform announced point by point by Rockefeller after receiving Nixon—or else. The or else was simply this:

If the Republicans rejected the proposals the Republican Party would have to get along in the campaign without much assistance from the Republican governor of New York.

The mechanics of the Rockefeller-Nixon meeting made the proposals which came out of it seem more Rockefeller's than Nixon's. For example: It was Nixon, the assured presidential nominee, who sought the meeting. It was Rockefeller who made the proposals public.

Moreover, when the governor flew next day to Chicago he emerged from his airplane brandishing a copy of the platform proposals and exclaimed to the welcoming throng:

"If you think these do not represent my ideas, you're crazy."

This could be, of course, Rockefeller's finest hour. He is besieged on all sides to accept the vice presidential nomination but spurns it. One thing that would lift this rather listless convention to peaks of enthusiasm would be for Rockefeller to reverse the field, accept the vice presidential nomination and pledge an all-out fight to win the office. The delegates, or most of them, would like that. It would be a shot in the arm for the Republicans as the Democrats got their shot in the nomination of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for veep. The Republicans would leave Chicago believing they had nominated their strongest ticket.

All of that builds up to this: If Rockefeller stands pat on his refusal to run in second place he may leave the delegates with the uneasy feeling that they were not able to nominate their strongest ticket. If the Republican ticket is licked in November, much of the blame for that will seem to be Rockefeller's.

If that idea should get around generally in the event of Nixon's defeat, Rockefeller's political future will be clouded by charges that he refused to help his party in time of need.

"Rockefeller is aiming for 1964," said Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in a summation of the governor's recent performance. The implication of Goldwater's remark is that Rockefeller's strategy this year looks to the defeat of Nixon in November. That is an angry indictment and certainly unprovable.

It is agreed, however, that Rockefeller's chance for a Republican presidential nomination will not come until 1964 and that he will have no chance then unless there is a Democrat in the White House. A Democrat elected in 1960. A Republican president

Shining Hour For First Lady

By HELEN THOMAS
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower can leave the White House happy in the knowledge that she was an adored first lady.

She can recall fond memories of Tuesday night when Republican Party members cheered her, serenaded her and told her she was "wonderful."

It was to have been President Eisenhower's night. His speech to the GOP convention was his last big rallying call to the party, his farewell to politics.

But the President chose to share these last great moments with his wife, Mamie. A number of times he told the crowd "my wife and I..."

He walked in with her holding hands like young lovers. Mrs. Eisenhower radiated happiness to be at her husband's side. Her complexion glowed. She beamed and smiled when she walked onto the amphitheatre platform.

She looked stunning. Her costume was a splashy blue and purple silk flowered full skirted frock electd this year would be renominated, of course, in 1964 if he lived and Nixon is young.

with a matching silk turban which she wore tilted to the side, showing off the famous Mamie bangs.

The first lady wore a three-strand pearl choker, diamond earrings, and a diamond brooch. She carried a black satin bag.

When the President began to speak Mrs. Eisenhower was visibly moved. Her eyes glistened as she tried to hold back tears. She kept an adoring gaze on her husband and smiled happily when the delegates loudly applauded his speech.

Then it was her turn.

The Republicans showed their affection by giving her a gold bracelet engraved with the presidential seal. It was only after the President nudged his wife that she shyly stepped to the lectern to receive the present from Mrs. Peter Gibson of Monroe, Mich.

She had some difficulty in opening the box tied with a red, white and blue ribbon. When she saw the bracelet she exclaimed, "Oh how lovely."

This was the signal for the organ to play "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Everyone sang and the President joined in lustily.

It was Mrs. Eisenhower's shining hour.

MILL OPENING AGAIN

DALLAS (UPI) — Lone Star Steel Co., announced Saturday that it is calling back employees and will resume operations there of the Electric Weld Pipe Mill and will resume operations there

Monday. The pipe mill, which produces large-diameter steel pipe, was shut down five weeks ago, in mid-June under the company's program of gradual reduction of operations to keep pace with slow market conditions. The increase in operations came after it was learned the company had earned 92 cents per share during the first half of 1966 despite slow market conditions.

MOLDED-CORNER BEEF AND CABBAGE SALAD: The old favorite combination of corned beef and cabbage takes the form of a cooling mold salad for summertime. The crispness of shredded cabbage along with the

Corned Beef And Cabbage Salad Makes Popular Combination Year-Round Dish

Fanciers of corned beef and cabbage will be delighted to discover this salad which makes that time-honored combination as appropriate for summer as for the colder months of winter. The salad maintains the wonderfully distinctive flavor combination of the two, but does it in a cool gelatin mold that will be appealing on the hottest of days.

Both the cabbage and the canned corned beef used in this salad are shredded finely before being mixed in. Making up the base of the salad there's evaporated milk, unflavored gelatin and vinegar with mustard and grated onion added for extra zip.

To add to the coolness of your salad menu you could serve mugs of chilled soup or tomato juice and round out with a generous supply of potato chips.

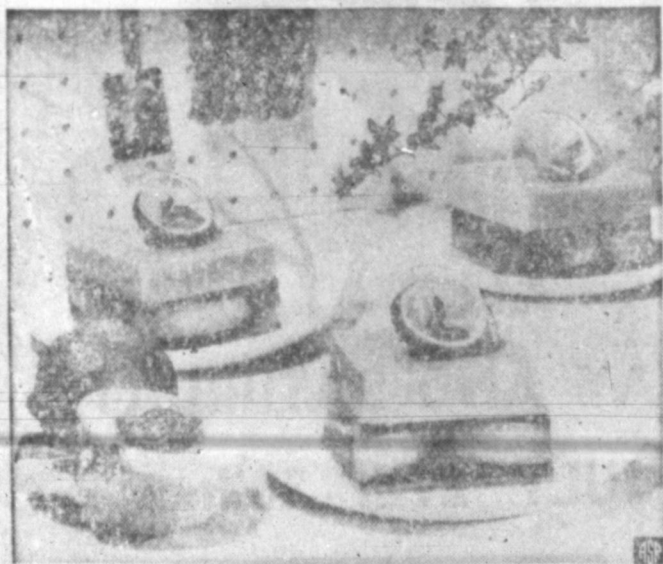

MOLDED CORNER BEEF AND CABBAGE SALAD
1 can (12 oz.) corned beef
1/4 cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup boiling water
1 cup evaporated milk
1-3 cup vinegar

1-1/2 cups finely shredded cabbage
1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
Remove any fat or gristle, then shred corned beef with a fork. Set aside until needed. Place the 1/4 cup cold water in a medium size mixing bowl. Sprinkle gelatin is dissolved. Cool, then stir in evaporated milk and vinegar. (Mixture will thicken.) Fold in the shredded corned beef and remaining ingredients. Spoon into a well oiled 1-quart mold. Chill until set, about 2 to 3 hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

HIGH STATUS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rice is the world's most important single food crop, says the Rice Council. This grain has made up 80 per cent of the diet of more than half the world's population for the past several thousand years. The United States, a major rice exporting nation, produces only 1 per cent of the world's total crop.

Peachy Lime Surprise

Delicious and festive, here's a family dessert surprise that makes two fruit favorites... Fresh ripened peaches and cool lime-flavored gelatin. So easy to prepare with the new family size fruit-flavored gelatin, it's a dessert you'll want to make frequently while fresh peaches are plentiful and at their best in flavor.

Peach and Lime Mold
1 large package (6 ounces) lime-flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
2 cups cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sweetened sliced peaches
1/2 cup whipping cream
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Measure 1 cup of mixture and set aside. Fold peaches into remaining gelatin and spoon into a 7-inch square pan. Chill until set but not firm.
Whip the cream. Place reserved gelatin in a bowl of ice and water. Beat with an egg beater until fluffy and thick. Fold whipped cream into gelatin and spoon over gelatin in pan. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Garnish with lime slices and sprigs of mint, if desired. Serves about 3 servings.

zesty flavor of the beef in a smoothly blended base of gelatin and evaporated milk make this truly delightful eating. Potato chips and chilled soup or tomato juice will taste good along with the mold.

Casserole Needs No Apologies When Prepared With Tender, Loving Care

A casserole prepared with savory ingredients, imagination, and loving care needs no apologies when offered to friends as a company dinner. And this ham and pineapple casserole does offer a dinner in a dish—with loving forethought but almost no last minute attention. The friend who invented it and served it to me and two more of her favorite friends is a business woman. She prepared the casserole the previous evening; refrigerated it and popped it into the oven the moment she arrived home. The rest of her menu was to begin with and served in the living room—a chilled bottle of unfermented white grape juice. For a salad, a sliced avocado and quick-frozen grapefruit slices. Since there was rice in the casserole, she served no bread, just some crisp sesame seed wafers. And for dessert she offered, butter pecan ice cream and a piece of plain cake. We all voted it a very good meal and took down the recipe.

COMPANY CASSEROLE

1 can (8 1/2 oz.) sliced pineapple
2 cups pineapple juice
1 tablespoon onion soup mix
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
2 cups packaged precooked rice
1 large slice (1-3/4" thick) cooked ham, about 1 pound
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons catsup
1/2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
2 maraschino cherries
Drain pineapple juice from slices into a pint measuring cup, add enough pineapple juice to make 2 cups. Stir in onion soup mix, salt and ginger. Bring to a boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat. Add rice and allow to stand covered for 5 minutes. Place cooked rice in well greased shallow 1 1/2 quart casserole and top with ham cut into 4 pieces. On each slice of ham, place a slice of pineapple. Combine honey, catsup and kitchen bouquet and brush over pineapple slices. Bake covered in preheated 375 degrees oven for 20 minutes, then uncover and bake until very hot, about 40 minutes, more. This dish can also be prepared ahead, refrigerated and baked when needed. Baking time will then be about 1 hour. Serve garnished with halves of maraschino cherries.

Makes 4 servings.

Refresh With Iced Instant Coffee

In warm weather enjoy the refreshment of iced instant coffee. No need to put the kettle on; just dissolve instant coffee in tap water, and add ice. Enjoy it between meals and with a summer favorite, such as cantaloupe in a mode served with delicious cookies, easily made from a cake mix.

To make iced coffee just measure the instant coffee into glasses or a pitcher allowing about one heaping teaspoon of coffee and about 1/4 cup of tap water for each serving. Add a little of the water, stirring to dissolve, then add remaining water gradually. Add ice cubes or pour the coffee over ice cubes or cracked ice. To make the cookies just follow these simple directions.

Sugar Maple Refrigerator Cookies

1 package sugar maple cake mix
2 tablespoons finely chopped candied ginger or 2 tablespoons finely chopped nuts
1 egg
1/2 cup butter (at room temperature)
Empty half of cake mix into a large bowl. Add remaining ingredients and blend well. Then add rest of cake mix gradually, blending thoroughly. Form into 2 rolls, 1 inch thick. Chill about an hour. Cut 1/8 inch thick with sharp knife. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 8 dozen cookies.

Melt-In-Mouth Chocolate Chiffon Offers Special Refreshment Treat

Dip into the kiddies' special refreshment treasure, instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix, for a melt-in-the-mouth chocolate chiffon pie. Made entirely of cocoa from Holland, this chocolate flavored mix blends instantly with hot or cold milk for delicious beverages and is a great favorite of youngsters. It is enriched with Vitamins B1, B2, D and iron.

Home economists of the Borden Test Kitchen use it to advantage in a full flavored chocolate chiffon pie that is an ideal summer dessert. Another recipe idea is a chocolate pudding made with instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix.

DUTCH CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

(Makes one 9-inch pie)
1 (9-inch) baked pie shell
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/4 cup water
1 cup milk
3 egg yolks
1/4 cup Borden's instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
3 egg whites
Whipped cream
Toasted slivered almonds

Sprinkle Gelatine on water to soften. Pour milk into top of double boiler; add egg yolks; blend with rotary beater. Add Borden's instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix, salt and the gelatine mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, for about 8 minutes. (About 2 minutes after mixture coats a silver spoon.) Remove from heat; cool. Stir in almond extract. Chill until mixture reached the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into thickened Dutch chocolate mixture. Pour into pie shell. Chill until set, about 2 hours. Top with whipped cream and slivered almonds before serving.

GOOD MIXER

NEW YORK (UPI)—Use a mix to make date-cheese drop biscuits. Pit 1 cup of fresh dates and cut into coarse sections. Combine 2 cups of biscuit mix with 1/2 cup of soft American cheese spread, or grated American cheese. Add 1/4 cup of milk and chopped dates and stir to moderately soft dough. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake 10 to 15 minutes in a 425 degree oven. Serve hot. Makes 18 biscuits.

Cold Soup And Hot Weather Were Made For Each Other

By JEANNE LESEM
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Cold soup and hot weather were made for each other.

Europeans discovered this fact years ago when Scandinavians, Hungarians, Viennese and Germans began serving chilled fruit soups for soup course or dessert. Fresh fruit was used in season, dried or canned fruit at other times. Some soups, like the Greeks' avgolemono—lemon, are equally good served hot on a chilly evening or in air-conditioned homes.

Short-cut books can report, to dehydrated fruit soups, two of which are imported from Sweden. Three excellent canned condensed fruit soups from an American manufacturer appeared briefly in test markets last year, but were withdrawn because interest was not enough to warrant national distribution.

Even so, summer soups can be made at home with little effort. Easiest of all are those that need no cooking. They include Spanish gazpacho, made with tomato juice, chopped raw vegetables, vinegar, oil, seasonings and ice water, with an ice cube garnish. Bulgarian tarator is also uncooked soup, made with chopped cucumbers, yoghurt and ground walnuts.

Viennese paradise soup uses pureed fresh tomatoes, sugar, lemon-rind and juice, onion juice and sour cream. Its garnishes are ham in julienne strips, melon and cucumber balls.

But better known are Russian borscht, the ruby-red beet soup traditionally served with a hot boiled potato and sour cream, and vichyssoise. This potato and leek soup was created by the late Louis Diat for the old Ritz Carlton Hotel in New York.

Frozen canned potato soup is an acceptable substitute for vichyssoise and considerably simpler to make. Dilute and heat the soup according to label directions, puree it or use a blender. Chill and serve garnished with chopped chives or instant minced onion.

Foreign taste in soups are not always fancy. One manufacturer's study of prepared soup consumption showed cream of mushroom and consommé are favorites in Scandinavia and other European areas, chicken noodle soup in the Far East, oxtail soup in the British Commonwealth and cream of asparagus in Cuba and other Latin American markets. Here at home, tomato has ranked first among prepared soups for more than half a century, the study showed.

Land Donated For Center

A ten-acre plot of land adjoining the city limits of Panhandle has been given for the site of a Senior Citizens Center. Plans for a building have been discussed and sizeable donations to this end have been made.

The background for this action is widespread civic concern for the 15 million Americans over 65 only one-third of whom live with their families. A recent survey of Carson County showed a lack of adequate accommodations for older people.

Board members of the center development are: Ralph Randel, president, Panhandle; C. L. Culver, W. J. Stubblefield, J. C. Jackson, White Deer; W. H. Price, Skellytown; Mrs. R. W. Callihan, Conway; H. H. Smith, Mrs. J. N. Garetson, Mrs. J. B. Howe, and Judge Clarence Williams, all of Panhandle.

T. G. Fields of Groom, the treasurer, appointed a finance committee. Donations may be left at the banks in Groom, White Deer and Panhandle.

Hospital Wards Out, Says Noted Scientist

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — From both the scientific and humanitarian viewpoints, the hospital ward is out-moded and must be abolished, according to a surgical scientist who is internationally known for contributions to hospital techniques.

Dr. Rupert Vaughan Hudson's chief concern was with the increasing dangers of getting a staphylococcal infection in the modern hospital.

His idea was to partition hospital wards into rooms. They would be very small rooms, just large enough to contain one bed, a bedside table, and a cabinet for the patient's clothes. But the patient would have his privacy and would be better protected from any staphylococcal bacteria on the loose.

Most wards could be partitioned with no more than a 10 per cent loss of beds, he argued. Ideally there would be a central corridor with all room doors giving into it in two, facing rows. This compactness would permit the same number of ward nurses and attendants to care for as many patients as they do now.

The cost would be relatively low if the kind of partitioning now used in offices was adopted. These walls are prefabricated in standard units and are easily put up or taken down. And these walls could be washed down with disinfectants or better, with steam, readily and, without damage, he said.

Scientifically all this would do much to lick the problem of "hospital infection" which is a problem wherever there are hospitals.

Ward patients are constantly assaulted by noises, many of them most unpleasant as in "the recovery from anesthesia and the complaint of pain or fear." The lights are turned on periodically during the night, and so sleeping pills are used "wholesale" to make up for these "defects in medical care."

'Pee Wee' Walker Is A Big Man With Flowers

By LEE GRIMSLEY,

Texas Sheriffs Elect Prexy

DALLAS (UPI)—E. E. Vickers of Edinburg, sheriff of Hidalgo County, was elected president of the Sheriff's Association of Texas Wednesday at the close of the group's 82nd annual crime seminar.

Vickers succeeds C. V. Kern of Houston. Other officers elected are Winkler County Sheriff L. B. Eddins of Kermit, first vice president; Franklin County Sheriff John E. Tittle Jr., Mount Vernon, second vice president; and Henry C. Mayfield of Lamesa, third vice president.

The group decided to hold next year's meeting at McAllen. Seven officers received awards of revolvers, rifles, shotguns and carbines at a banquet for winning essays in a contest on the question: "What is a law enforcement officer?"

They are Clara Mae Cochran, Matagorda County sheriff's office; Hill Lawrence, Paris game warden; Frank W. Jefferson, Odessa police department; James S. Moses of Port Arthur, Department of Public Safety; Sgt. J. A. Knigge, Houston police department; Ellery W. Britt, Orange County sheriff's office, and W. F. Brown, Houston police department.

the Gray County Court House or the new annex building either. "But if you mention 'Pee Wee,' it carries more weight than any other 112-pound man in Pampa.

Pee Wee, as any county employee knows, is the head custodian at the courthouse, the annex, the gun club and the county community building.

According to Pee Wee, his most important, and favorite, job is caring for the lawn and flowers. "He is most proud of the new lawn and flower arrangements at the new annex building.

"Myself and the ladies from the garden club planted all of this," Pee Wee said. "And we had to start from scratch too. We dug rock out of there and people would say we'd never get anything to grow."

The error in this prediction can be proved by looking at the thick green carpet of grass and the colorful flower beds at the annex building.

As Pee Wee will readily point out, he designed the flower beds in a manner similar to those in front of the Kingsmill St. entrance to city hall.

"But the flowers haven't come out like they should," he said. "We were a little late in getting some of them planted."

Pee Wee's interest in flowers stems back to his childhood at Cement, in the Indian territory which is now Oklahoma. "My grandfater had a nursery," Pee Wee recalled, "and I was always messing around with flowers."

Pee Wee came to Pampa March 12, 1925 and worked in the oil fields here.

Eventually he turned back to floral life and became a tree surgeon and landscaper.

Then two years ago he went to work for the county as a truck driver and general handyman in Precinct 2. Last year he was promoted to head custodian.

"You nearly have to be a tree surgeon to do this job," Pee Wee says.

"We have some unusual weather up here and you have to know when to plant some things late and others early. Then you have to know when to plumb things and trim them."

Pee Wee earned his nickname when he played high school football in Oklahoma, or the Indian territory, "some years ago."

"I had the age on them," Pee Wee said, "but I was smaller than anyone else. I never have weighed more than 149 pounds."

"I was considered to be one of the fastest men around there. But I've had some of those big fellows bump me from here to over yonder and I didn't know whether I'd ever come too or not."

SEEKS PRESS COVER

CHICAGO (UPI)—The crush of people was so heavy around the GOP rostrum before President Eisenhower was scheduled to speak Tuesday night that U.E. Baughman, chief of the U.S. Secret Service, was unable to find a seat near the President. He crawled into the press row with the staff of United Press International.

'Candid Camera' Defends Its Methods, Objectives

EDITOR'S NOTE: Before leaving for a vacation, UPI TV reviewer Fred Danzig invited various performers to reply to his criticism of their TV efforts. Allen Funt, in the following "equal time" reply, answers the charge made by Danzig early last season that "Candid Camera" is tainted by touches of anguish that stem from practical jokes.

Dear Fred: In criticizing "Candid Camera," you said you prefer "untainted" comedy.

Well, to begin with, in my opinion, there ain't no such animal. By tainted, I assume you mean something that's hoked up too much. Soiled reality or reality that's impure by provocation.

If you've ever watched a parade of people with their manufactured excuses trying to get out of jury duty, you'd find a funny situation. Just sitting there listening to them would be untainted comedy, or pure reality, call it what you will. If I filmed this using the actual judge; you'd find it slow and pompous despite the basic hilarity of the situation. But if I set myself up as the judge and pushed these people to heighten the humor, then you may have comedy that's tainted, but it's also funnier.

Even a still cameraman shooting real life must select and heighten his subjects. So do we. Otherwise, instead of "Candid Camera," you might as well just look out the window and observe people.

We feel that "Candid Camera" is at its most justifiable when it takes a universal minor weakness and exposes it so that we can all laugh at it. As long as the weakness is a common one, then, in effect, we are laughing at ourselves. The man on camera is not singled out as an odd-ball; only because he's typical. We're at our worst when we get a man who's not typical or a situation that's not universal.

For example, the time we dropped quarters on the street and shot the reactions of passer-by. The way they looked was the way we'd all look. I admit that we have a great temptation to do broader things, for the audience seems to love them, but we limit ourselves in the interest of good taste.

You mention that sometimes there is a touch of anguish in our comedy. From time to time, we're continually being accused of exhibiting sadism. Part of this comes from the fact that we don't explain, that our subjects were big enough to want us to use their spots. They wouldn't resign.

CONTINUE SAME POLICIES

TOKYO (UPI)—Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda Wednesday told Koichiro Asakai, Japanese ambassador to the United States, to follow the policies set forth by former Premier Nobusuke Kishi.

Asakai, who will return to Washington early next month, received assurances from Ikeda that Japan would continue its policy of close ties with the United States.

the releases if they felt they had been treated sadistically. So if they don't feel they were treated badly, what right do other people have to say that they were?

You must remember that, of itself, all comedy is exaggeration. We do try to draw the fine line. We get rewards from portraying situations that make all of us laugh. A sadist would receive his pleasure during the actual filming and, once the filming was over, wouldn't care what happened. We, however, spend the bulk of our time working on "Candid Camera" after the filming ends.

In other words, our being "Candid" isn't enough. We've got to edit carefully and hedge our bets just as any other comedian does. Plus, we haven't the advantage of rehearsal. In essence, while I'm questioning these people, I'm directing them, too.

We've had a number of imitators during the past 10 years and all have failed, partly because they just set a camera down and filmed what happened. They didn't try to condition it themselves.

To return to your comment about "tainted" comedy, let me say that this proves, "taint" what you do, it's the way that you do it." Cordially, Allen Funt.

Congolese Rape Two Missionaries

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two American women missionaries were criminally assaulted by mutinous Congolese soldiers, the U.S. ambassador to the Congo disclosed Wednesday.

Ambassador Clare H. Timberlake, en route to Washington to report on the turbulence in the new African nation, also said he had received an unconfirmed report that an American missionary in the northeast part of the Congo's Oriental Province had been killed.

Timberlake said the mutinous Congolese soldiers tried several times to force their way into the U.S. Embassy at Leopoldville "but we talked them out of it."

He said the attack on the U.S. missionary women occurred in a small mission in the south of the Congo on the night of July 11. He said the two women reported to him that they were ravaged by mutinous Congolese soldiers.

Timberlake withheld the names of the women and of their mission.

U-2 Pilot's Wife Waits For Visa

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Barbara Gay Powers, disappointed but still grimly determined, returned today to her Milledgeville, Ga., home to wait for a visa to visit her husband, awaiting trial in Russia as a U.S. spy.

Although Soviet officials refused to give her a visa to visit imprisoned U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, her plans were unchanged.

"I'm very desirous of being with (my husband) at this trial," she told a press conference Wednesday night. "I'm hopeful that my chances will be good."

She also expressed hope that her lawyers, who want to assist the Soviet appointed defense counsel at the Aug. 17 spy trial, would receive visas.

Powers was captured when his high-altitude U-2 spy plane was shot down deep inside Russia May 1.

"I do not know what will happen to him," Mrs. Powers said somberly. "I would certainly like to attend the trial."

A New Answer To 'Why Do You Want To Be President?'

By WARREN DUFFEE

United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who saw himself nominated Wednesday night as the Republican presidential candidate, gets the word officially today.

Nixon will formally receive the party's call when a committee picked by the convention chairman notifies the vice president in his hotel suite.

He will give his acceptance speech to the Republican National Convention tonight, soon after delegates nominate the vice presidential candidate.

Nixon watched Wednesday night's climactic nominating session on television with his wife, daughters and mother.

Afterwards he told newsmen he had never experienced such a feeling of responsibility as he felt at the moment.

Following in President Eisenhower's footsteps, if elected, "will be a tremendous responsibility and challenge," he said.

His voice seeming to choke with emotion at times, Nixon said "I never thought when I was growing up in the grocery store and service station that I would be sitting here at this moment."

Nixon was seated on a sofa with his daughters, Tricia and Julie, his wife, Pat, and his mother, Mrs. Hannah Nixon.

He was surrounded by newsmen and sweated profusely in the brutal heat in the glare of TV camera lights.

A newsmen asked him why he wanted to be president.

He paused for a moment and then said solemnly: "Well, I never thought it was something that someone sought. I never dreamed I would be here. But then I never dreamed I would be vice president. . . . You do the best you can and the jobs come to you."

It seems that a nation has a destiny and that a man has a destiny. I know I have had breaks that others didn't have."

Forensic Fallout

By DICK WEST

United Press International

INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE, Chicago (UPI)—I don't know if you have ever been addressed by oratory, but I can tell you it's as bad as being stupefied by speeches.

In the past fortnight or so of attending conventions, I estimate that I have absorbed at least 25 hours of political prose, which is about 15 hours over my saturation point.

This forensic fallout has reduced me to a quivering mass of ear-bent metaplasms, cringing before the spoken word. I long ago lost all ability to distinguish between speeches. Now they all sound like this:

"Mr. chairman, delegates, alternates, distinguished guests, undistinguished guests, ushers, great crashers, members of the great unseen television audience, friends, fellow Americans and Uncle Luther.

"We are gathered here tonight for a great and solemn occasion, and, yes, an occasion that is small and frivolous. We are here to nominate the next nominee of the United States! (Applause.)

"Our great party has before it a task of heavy responsibility, which is not to be taken lightly. The action that we take here tonight shall determine, in large measure and to a considerable degree, the man who.

"Our great party has many men who. It is a party that spans the length and breadth of our great land, from the rockbound coast of Nebraska to the sun-kissed shores of Oklahoma. (Applause by Nebraska and Oklahoma delegations.)

That "condensed text" now comes down to this:

It is the speech and scenario that summarizes the platform, but it isn't actual condensation of platform language itself, in most cases. In between other things, he gives some narration of the films that were shown.

We now have the first four pages of this. Guess whole thing would run 3,500 to 4,000 words; maybe little more.

What it?

Kennedy Has Forewarning

INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE, Chicago (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy has fair warning of two major pieces of oratorical ammunition which the Republicans will be firing at him.

They are: —Emphasis on Kennedy's youth. —Attacks on Kennedy's controversial statement that President Eisenhower should have expressed regret to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for the timing of the U-2 spy plane flight.

The biggest cheers and the loudest jeers at the Republican National Convention have come when speakers flayed the Democratic presidential nominee on these points.

Thomas E. Dewey, twice-defeated GOP presidential candidate and former New York governor played these themes for all they were worth Wednesday night and had the delegates laughing and booing at Kennedy.

In earlier speeches, Republican National Chairman Sen. Thruston B. Morton jibed at "young Sen. Kennedy" and Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, the keynoter, praised the U-2 flight for possibly averting another Pearl Harbor.

None of the GOP orators has come right out and said that Kennedy, at 43, is too young to be president. But they have frequently implied that Kennedy acts too young.

Dewey was particularly scathing on this point. He said Kennedy's "smart aleck" acceptance speech made "people wonder whether the senator is grown up enough to be president."

Selwyn Lloyd Post Given Earl Of Home

LONDON (UPI) — Britain will continue to base its foreign policy on close alliance with the United States despite the sweeping cabinet shakeup by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, high government sources said today.

The sources said the appointment of the Earl of Home as foreign secretary did not mean any change in basic British foreign policy.

Macmillan is expected to remain the main driving force in British foreign policy as he has been since he became prime minister in 1957.

The Earl of Home, like his predecessor, Selwyn Lloyd, is expected merely to act as Macmillan's diplomatic "leg-man" and carry out his policy decisions.

Lloyd, 56, was switched to another key post in the cabinet—that of chancellor of the Exchequer, replacing Derick Heathcoat Amory who has announced his decision to retire from politics.

Johnson To Visit Truman

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—Central Intelligence chief Allen Dulles was scheduled to fly back to Washington today after a hush-hush foreign affairs briefing with Democratic vice presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson, meanwhile, made plans to fly Thursday to Independence, Mo., for a conference with former President Harry S. Truman at his home.

From there, Johnson and his staff will go to Hyannis Port, Mass., to map campaign strategy with his running-mate, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Dulles flew to Johnson's ranch Wednesday night, and almost caught the Senate majority leader in his bathing suit. Johnson didn't expect Dulles to arrive until 7 p.m., and had gone swimming with Congressman Jim Wright (D-Tex.) when Dulles' plane touched down at 6:20.

GOP Indications Are Nixon Will Be Running On Eisenhower's Records

By PETER EDSON
Newspaper Enterprise
Washington Correspondent

CHICAGO (NEA) — Republican campaign managers and platform writers are going to run hard on the Eisenhower Administration record.

There is to be no clean break with the past, such as the Democrats made at their Los Angeles convention, where candidates and platform writers put their focus and emphasis on change for the next ten years and beyond.

Under normal political conditions President Eisenhower's appearance in Chicago Tuesday night for the big "Thank You, Ike" celebration would be his next-to-the-last hurrah. His last will be at the January inauguration of the next president.

But in between these two events, President Eisenhower is not going to be allowed just to fade quietly away into retirement like the old soldier.

This is not Eisenhower's own choosing or doing. The President is keeping hands off Chicago. He is not trying to influence selection of either presidential or vice presidential candidates. He is not trying to dictate the platform or amend it. The President will not attend the final Chicago session, at which the winners will give their acceptance speeches, though he may be presented on convention screens by closed circuit television.

GOP Campaign Manager Leonard Hall is counting on President Eisenhower being available for major speeches between now and November. This does not mean that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will not bear the brunt of the campaigning as he did in both 1952 and 1956. Mr. Nixon will be in the spotlight all right, but he will be sharing it with Mr. Eisenhower's reflected glory.

This is revealed in the first 1960 Republican platform planks to be released. Here there is repeated emphasis on the "Eisenhower-Nixon" accomplishments of the last seven and a half years. The name order is significant.

It makes the Vice President an equal partner in the formation and execution of what has previously been called only the Eisenhower program.

This commits the Vice President to running on the Eisenhower record, not his own. It puts Nixon in second place instead of first, where he belongs as new head of the party. It puts Nixon in a bad box from which he must escape.

"Under the Eisenhower-Nixon Administration," the platform says, "our military might has been forged into a power second to none."

"The Eisenhower-Nixon Administration," it says, "has avoided the perilous peaks and slumps of defense spending and planning of past Administrations."

It is the Eisenhower-Nixon Administration which is given credit for creating a Department of Health Education and Welfare, a new Federal Aviation Agency and reorganizing the Department of Defense... fostering small business... promoting safe, efficient, competitive transport by air, rail, road and water... and so on.

The farm section of the platform does not endorse the Eisenhower-Nixon program for agriculture by that name, but parts of it are there.

The full platform will reveal some new ideas of Mr. Nixon's. The national defense and economic growth sections reveal the influence of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in part.

But the whole business shows the Eisenhower magic is being counted on to carry GOP to another victory.

Stock Purchases On Credit Made Easier By Margin Cut

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board has made it easier for people to buy stocks on credit by cutting margin requirements from 90 per cent to 70 per cent, effective today.

However, Wall Street was disappointed with the reduction which it held was too small in view of the small use of credit in the stock market.

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, said "It is to be hoped that the Federal Reserve Board will in the near future see the merit in establishing initial margins at a more normal rate of 50 per cent."

Margin is the amount one must pay down in buying stock on credit. At a 70 per cent margin, the down payment is $70 on $100 of stock. The remaining $30 can be borrowed, using the stock for collateral. At a 50 per cent margin, one puts up $50 on $100 of stock, and borrows $50.

For a long time the stock market has been slipping lower and lower. Market experts have held that the high margin was a factor in the lack of interest.

There have been many other reasons for the price decline, principal of which has been a profits squeeze which is being brought out in bold relief in the corporation reports for the second quarter of the year.

Also steel operations have been much lower — not much over half capacity — than the experts had predicted they would be. Construction has sagged in the housing section, a bulwark of the economy. Auto sales haven't held to the levels that had been hoped for either.

Three Killed In Auto-Train Crash

GALVESTON (UPI) — A car smashed into a Santa Fe train Wednesday night and killed a man, a woman and a little child.

Edward England, 34, Galveston, died at John Sealy Hospital about two hours after the accident. The woman, believed to be his common-law wife, was identified as Edna Lee Hawthorn. The baby was Edward Darnell Hawthorn, 2. All are Negroes.

Police said the crash occurred where the Santa Fe tracks cross a dirt road just off the Houston-Galveston Freeway, U.S. Highway 75.

Survey Shows Limits Of Poisonous Weed

By ROY MCGHEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reported today it has completed a survey to determine the northern limits of a poisonous weed found in Mexico that threatens to spread to the United States.

The survey was undertaken at the request of livestock operators in West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

The department said the weed, alfombrilla, was found only seven miles south of Antelope Wells, N. M., in the Mexican state of Chihuahua. It also found the weed 85 miles southwest of El Paso, Tex., and along the Nogales-Hermosillo highway 20 to 95 miles south of the Arizona border in the Mexican state of Sonora.

"Ranch men in New Mexico and West Texas requested the survey, because alfombrilla has reportedly caused some losses of cattle in northern Mexico," the department said. "It can also kill sheep, goats and other animals."

The survey showed that the weed was widespread in central Chihuahua and ranchers in that area considered it their greatest toxic weed problem.

Alfombrilla is a Spanish word meaning rug or carpet. It derives its name from its low-growing and spreading qualities. It bears a tiny white flower when in bloom.

The department said a close relative of the weed, drymary or inkweed, is found in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Tests have shown that quantities of alfombrilla as low as 1-10 of one per cent of the body weight of a sheep and one-half of one per cent of a cow can kill the animals.

The symptoms from alfombrilla infestation in animals are similar to those of drymary—chiefly body lesions, the department said.

No specific information was available on the palatability of the weed, but Mexican cattle were reported to eat enough to indicate its acceptability as food. The department said this was especially true when there was not sufficient range grass.

Best Wishes To Nixon From Ike

CHICAGO (UPI) — President Eisenhower congratulated Vice President Richard M. Nixon early today on his first ballot nomination and got in a plug for Henry Cabot Lodge as Nixon's running mate.

Nixon first read excerpts of the President's telegram, omitting sections described as personal, to newsmen as they were leaving his hotel suite. The excerpts contained no mention of Lodge.

However, Nixon's office made public the full text about an hour and a half later and this included a paragraph suggesting that Colorado Republicans wanted Lodge for vice-president. Eisenhower sent the telegram from Denver where he is visiting his mother-in-law.

The telegram said: "Astomishment at your nomination on the first ballot is something less than complete. Nevertheless, I am delighted that you are at last free to speak freely and frankly in expressing your views on the present and future of our great country."

"To your hands I pray that I shall pass the responsibility of the office of the presidency and will be glad to do so."

"My old friend Axel Neilson is of the belief that Colorado Republicans want Lodge for your running mate with Anderson as their second choice for that post."

"May God bless you."

"As ever,
"Dwight Eisenhower.
In first reading the excerpts to reporters, Nixon had to borrow a photographer's spectacles because of the dim lighting in the hotel corridor. He said jokingly, "That's the first time I have worn glasses in public."

Rahm To Stand Trial For Murder

ATHENS, Tex. (UPI) — Dr. Charles C. Rahm will have to stand trial for the murder of Thurman Jackson at a Brownsboro School Board meeting, but there is still a question as to where and when.

The Henderson County grand jury Wednesday indicted Rahm, secretary of the school board and former Brownsboro mayor, for the shooting of Jackson, 42, during a wild melee that climaxed a squabble over the school board's firing of School Supt. Homer Bass, who had served 23 years.

Judge Melvin Johnston had freed Rahm on $12,500 bond on the murder charge, and an additional $2,500 bond on a charge of assault with intent to kill. The bonds were left the same.

The grand jury changed the indictments against George Rash and Gus Crow from assault with intent to kill to aggravated assault.

A special prosecutor hired by the family of Jackson has said that he will ask for a change of venue. No trial date has been set.

Sightseeing For Lumumba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba mixed sight-seeing and conferences today in his Washington quest for "aid without strings" for his revolt-rocked infant nation.

The goateed African leader's schedule called for visits to Mount Vernon, and the Lincoln Memorial this morning and an afternoon meeting with Eugene R. Black, president of the World Bank.

Lumumba met for almost two hours with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter after arriving here Wednesday. Afterward, the 35-year-old Congolese premier said Herter assured him of "whole-hearted" U.S. aid through the United Nations to bring order to his month-old republic.

Lumumba said the Congo would accept assistance from any nation which did not attach "political conditions" to the aid.

He refused to be pinned down on whether this meant he would accept help from Russia.

RALLY ROUND THE FLAG BOYS: Inspired by this year's Newport-Bermuda Ocean Race, fashion designers created eye-catching red, white and blue overblouses in the form of international signal flags. The newest fad in yachting fashion circles, the blouses, which spell out the letters "S" (left) and "M" (right) are worn with Bermudian shorts and port sailors caps. When used in combination the letters warn, "It is dangerous to proceed without a pilot." Despite the ominous warning, gentlemen sailors in Bermuda show a tendency to rally round the flag.

Little girls and a circus go together like bread-and-jam. These little girls give us a preview of back-to-school fashions. Full-skirted dress (left) in black-and-white has sheer black top over dotted white cotton skirt. Dotted fabric is repeated in the ruffled cuffs. Lavendar, that well-loved color of the Victorian era, is used (center) for this charming dress. It's trimmed with white applied diamond-shaped bands. Cotton satin-striped dresses (right) are covered with crisp white pinafores. Dresses have full, ruffled sleeves, little white collars and narrow sashes. Supima cotton is the fabric used in the dresses shown here. Despite their quaint and charming look, these dresses wash with modern efficiency.

Quaint Look For Children's Fashions With Colors Reflecting Femininity

By GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise
Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Before the school bell is heard throughout the land, little girls will be hopping up and down with excitement as the circus comes to town.

The clothes that the small fry wear to the circus provide us with a preview of school fashions. The first thing we'll see is that children's clothes have, for fall, a very quaint look. Even the colors are delightfully old-fashioned: lavender, grape, black and blue print, white pinstripe on plum, brown and gold print, slate blue.

But the cut of the clothes is quaint, too. These are clothes that a little girl, seated demurely at a tea table somewhere in Victorian England, might have worn. Velvet and lace are used to edge a fluted sleeve; rickrack edges skirts and black crochet edges necklines.

There are petticoats and pinafores aplenty. But this year, there are also fringed pantaloons, huge puffed sleeves and lots of eyelet ruffles. Ruffles edge skirt hems, sleeves, aprons and petticoats.

This quaint look, which has been evolving gradually in the seasons past, is a pretty one. It gives a little girl a very feminine air. For these are modern adaptations of clothes from a gentler era, from mid and late Victorian times.

For 1966, they are designed for an active life. Little girls no longer sit quietly by the sides of their elders, however much their elders might like it. Rather, they run, jump and play with vigor. The new fashions are constructed for action.

Hand-wash a drip-dry garment in lukewarm water and soap or detergent suds. The secret is to handle gently. Wringing or twisting puts stubborn wrinkles into the clothes. Rinse garments thoroughly and arrange on a non-staining hanger. Hand iron by smoothing collar, cuffs, lapels, pockets and seams.

W.M.U. Group Hears Program On Missions

GROOM (SpI) — The W.M.U. met at the Baptist Church last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Donald Ritter and Mrs. Billy Fields serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Fred Brown gave the devotional on educating youth for missions, and Mrs. Danny Ashford led the prayer.

Others attending were Mmes. Fred Brown, Viola Harrell, Jack Bivins, Bobby Cornett, Danna Hoverton, Rudolph Tucker, Walter Davis, Charles Brown and M. Henderson.

Best laid plans do go awry, but in a home with several children, planning is essential for peace of mind. A bed time bathing routine, for example, gets the children out of the bathroom earlier mornings. And it gives Dad an opportunity to wash undisturbed.

Bridge Club Meets Recently With Hexts

CANADIAN (SpI)—The Ace High Bridge Club met with Mr. and Mrs. Hub Hext recently.

Members attending were Msrs. and Mmes. Tom Abraham, John D. Glenn, Tom Riley, Ted Rogers, and Dr. and Mrs. Rush Snyder.

High scores for the evening were tallied by Mrs. Rogers and Mr. Glenn.

Fickle Fashion Begins New Cycle By Sending Styles Back To '30's

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

PARIS (UPI)—We women no sooner get our hemlines all taken up than, whoops, Paris hauls 'em down again. And just about the time we get our psyches adjusted to the rush of the 1960's, Paris pushes us back into the leisurely paced of the 1930's.

Fickle fashion, in other words, is at it again—off on a new cycle with this year means a lot of return to the old.

So look for skirts one to two inches longer than last year and to the revival of the sleek, straight hairdos, the hair-covering hats, the wrap around coats, and the loosely-fitted silhouette of the pre-World War II days when Carole Lombard instead of Brigitte Bardot was setting styles.

These were among the fall and winter fashion trends which developed Monday, opening day of a week-long series of shows by members of the Chambre Syndicale de la Couture Parisienne (Union of Parisian Dress Designers).

Scheduled today: A batch of old-timers in this big business of women's wear, Pierre Balmain, Jacques Heim, president of the Chambre, Nina Ricci, and Gres.

Designer Pierre Cardin, who once was with the House of Christian Dior, was Monday's strongest exponent of the longer skirts and the return to an era which many of you reading this are too young to remember.

Cardin dropped hemlines about two inches from last year's level so the knee-cap is amply covered. Jacques Griffe and Jean Patou were more cautious, lowering them one-half to one inch.

Shoulders were natural. Dresses and suits (with hip-bone length jackets) skimmed-over the body lightly, never hugging too closely. Waistlines were not sharply defined, but indicated with scallop insets or intricate seaming.

Most daytime costumes of the new season continued the slim skirt. But watch for gentle flare here and there.

Both Cardin and Patou featured the wrap-around look for fall. Several of the Cardin coats not only had to be clutched together at the front to keep out winter breezes, but also had huge, fur-trimmed collars wrapped high and close about the neck.

Patou's head designer, German-born Roland Karl, carried the wrap-around theme right from suits through late day and formal clothes. Favorite technique was the wrapover skirts, with one layer of fabric over laying another smoothly.

House Of Dior Bucks Paris Style Tide With Short Hemlines, Shapeless Waist

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

PARIS (UPI) — The House of Christian Dior today erased the natural waistline, minimized the bust and bucked the rest of the Paris fashion tide with hemlines showing most of the knee.

The shapelessness of the waistline was the most drastic change. The firm's youthful designer, Yves Matthieu St. Laurent, hauled it from its natural level to the lowest point yet seen in the fall and winter collection.

The so-called waist settled down anywhere from the upper hip bone to mid-thigh, its final resting place usually marked by shallow gathering in the skirts. These, the only curves in the collection, broke the severe, unfitted line with gentle cup shapes called "corolla."

Another way to describe the convex curves of the skirts—they were the shape of parentheses or what some designers call the pumpkin.

The bust looked small and flat because of the tubular silhouette and the natural smallness of the French models.

Dior kept daytime hemlines at last year's knee level but almost every other Paris designer dropped them one or two inches this season to cover the knees entirely.

"Promise of freedom, felt for several seasons, becomes a reality," said the Dior press release. "Inner construction has gone... fashion bases itself on softness in fabric, a fluid cut... dresses no longer encase the wearer, but the body comes alive within."

Dior broke with tradition and gave no special name to his 1966 fall and winter collection. Dior's collection came closer, if there were any indications of a revival, to some of the short-skirted numbers from the 1920s—except for those pumpkin skirts.

Tread Thoughtfully When Buying Carpeting To Use In Your Home

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If you're planning to carpet a room, don't limit your thinking to wall-to-wall carpeting or a room size rug. Either would be a good choice, but there are others which might be more satisfactory for your purposes. If you select a rug in a standard size such as 9 by 12, you might pick one with a border or fringe around it. You might find it practical to have a length of carpet cut from a roll and use it as you would a wall-to-wall carpet, without having it installed. Things to consider before deciding on which floor covering is best include:

Are your floors in good condition? If the answer is "yes," a rug will let a section show and still provide comfort underfoot. Floors that will need a refinishing job might be covered more economically with wall-to-wall carpeting, because proper installation with a padding fills in uneven spots and conceals poor floors. Another point the American Carpet Institute makes is to ask yourself whether or not your carpet purchase will be a long-term investment or not.

If you go to the expense of installing wall-to-wall carpeting, it is folly to skimp on the quality of the carpet. If a budget can't support top quality, it's wiser to buy a rug that can be changed after a while.

Is there a set traffic pattern in your home? If one lane through a room gets all the traffic, a rug that can be turned to distribute wear might be the best bet. Consider, too, the way a rug would fit into a room.

If it's going into a room with nooks and corners, a length cut from a carpet roll might be the best choice. You or a carpet installer could then cut a rug to fit around shapes or projections such as fireplaces without too large a gap between rug and wall. A young couple I know did just that, and are most satisfied with the results. Their experience might be of interest to you. The floors of their home are pretty and they like to see some wood showing. The living room, 13 by 13, leads to the dining room, 13 by 9, through an open arch.

If they bought wall-to-wall carpeting, they would have had to 15-foot carpeting or get into complicated seaming problems.

Instead, they bought 26 feet of 12-foot carpeting of a fine quality in a tweed-texture wool.

This carpeting, like many others today, has a latex backing. It can be cut cleanly along the edge with no raveling.

Be sure to answer all your invitations — and do so promptly.

Tweed-textured carpeting, cut to fit by the homeowner, is a compromise between rug and wall-to-wall carpeting.

Mrs. G. Groninger Hosts WMU Circle

"Sharing Possessions" was the topic of the program for a meeting of the Winni Trent Circle of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church yesterday at the home of Mrs. G. E. Groninger, 2101 Chestnut.

Mrs. D. A. Caldwell was in charge of the program. Speaking on the program were Mrs. Lee Moore, "Money Talks," and Mrs. O. V. Batson, "Price Tags."

Mrs. Groninger led the opening prayer and conducted the business meeting. Closing prayer was by Mrs. C. O. Smith.

Seven members were present and two guests, Mrs. Lee Moore and Mrs. Hugh Ellis.

Next meeting will be Wednesday at the church.

Nation's Top Republican Woman Proud Of Role Ladies Play In Today's Politics

By MARCIA MILANOWSKI
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI) — To direct women's activities the Republicans chose a woman and Mrs. Clare Williams, the party's choice said today women are good politicians. Mrs. Williams is tall, attractive and poised. Her job is to sell Republicanism and she's convinced it's the best product anywhere. Mrs. Williams, who addressed the Republican National Convention in Chicago Monday night, is the nation's top Republican woman. She's assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee and director of the woman's division at the conclave. Clare Williams is especially proud of the part women are playing in today's politics. "Women are good on details," she said, "and it's one of the reasons they're good politicians." Judging from Mrs. Williams' accomplishments, one would be inclined to agree. The energetic woman from St. Petersburg, Fla. has come up the political ladder rung by rung both in the national and in Republican Women's Club Republican Party organization and in Republican Women's Club work. She started out in her political career as a teenager driving voters to the polls. In 1954, she was elected Florida state committee-woman for Pinellas County and two years later was endorsed for the state post of Republican national committeewoman. She won reelection to the post this year without opposition. Mrs. Williams was born in Syracuse, N.Y., the daughter of a dairy executive. She says she first became interested in politics when she was a young girl listening to family discussions across the dinner table.

'You're Fired' Causes More Anguish Than Other Phrases

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—"You're fired!"

These two short words are the most devastating in the English language to most people. They probably have caused more anguish and heartbreak than is normally recognized, mainly because their victims suffer this phase of business life alone and in relative silence.

You may never have been confronted with this situation but don't get the idea that you never will. Top executives as well as office boys are unwitting victims.

According to Phil Kelly, president of the Sales Executive Club of New York, most executives live with this "monkey on their backs." Every decision they make is governed in one way or another by their desire to preserve status quo. Don't take a chance, he advises. Maybe it will backfire. If it does, "don't get panicky," Kelly warns.

He has prepared a pamphlet, "What to do when you get fired," to help people caught in this situation with a bit of sound advice and counsel.

The pamphlet is primarily intended for executives in the business of selling, advertising, marketing and distribution, but is applicable to those in other lines since its principles are basic in concept.

Kelly's first bit of advice is, "if you get fired—admit it." Too many people, he says, feel discouraged and disgraced because they have been fired.

It's no disgrace, he states, adding that there are a hundred-and-one reasons why forced severance might have been necessary. Maybe it was a merger, with attendant staff cuts; maybe pressure of foreign competition dictated the move; maybe certain markets have dried up, products become obsolete.

Many times, Kelly points out, a firing gives the boss as big a headache as it does the employee. "But it's all arithmetic and strictly impersonal."

Losing a job is seldom fatal, except to pride and self-confidence. The outcome of the situation depends entirely upon the man, Kelly says. He can attack the problem deliberately, aggressively and with logic, or get jittery about the entire situation.

The pamphlet points out that looking for a job is similar to marketing a new and unknown product. In this case the product is you. The pamphlet offers a formula for analysis of your biggest assets—the qualities your next employer is looking to buy.

The resume is listed as the most important link in the chain of job-seeking. "It has to be long enough and complete enough to tell the individual's story in a way that reflects his character, experience and potentials in the best light."

All in all, firing is a hot and touchy subject, Kelly says. "It's

Killed Speeding In Borrowed Car

HUMBLE, Tex. (UPI)—James W. Henderson of Humble was thrown 33 feet through the windshield of a borrowed car Wednesday night when it missed a curve on a country road, dropped into a ditch and hit a culvert.

Henderson, 33, was killed instantly. Two other persons, Opel Davenport, 19, and Devery Jean Davenport, 4, were seriously injured.

A farmer who lived near the crash scene said he heard the roar of the car's engine and ran outside to see it pass his house "at 100 miles an hour, at least." Skid marks left by the car were 262 yards long, police said. Henderson had borrowed the car from a friend to drive to town.

HEL THIS HAT

Stephen Douglas, the opposition candidate for the U.S. presidency when Abraham Lincoln was elected, attended Lincoln's inauguration and held the president's hat.

a subject that people like to avoid. In fact many people who will read the pamphlet will cover up the title page, for fear that someone will see them reading it. It's like the Kinsey report. Everybody is interested, but nobody wants to admit it."

ARMY SPECIALISTS plot and calculate data received on atmospheric pressure, temperature, and humidity from balloon-lifted radiosonde at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama. Information will be used in scheduling the static test firing of the SATURN space rocket, to predict what sound intensity of SATURN blast will be at any given location on the ground. Men are (from front) Pfc Floyd J. Davis of Brownsville, Texas, Pfc Phillip A. Stewart of Piqua, Ohio, and SP4 Robert A. Gautney of Alvin, Texas.

RUBBER BALLOON carrying a small electronic device called a radiosonde is released at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama. Mission—to gather information on atmospheric pressure, temperature and humidity. Data will be used to help insure that static test firings of the giant NASA-SATURN space rocket can be conducted with complete assurance of safety of property. Preparing to release the balloon is Robert Turner, Chief of the Army Rocket and Guided Missile Agency's Meteorology Observation Station.

Aggie Grid Hopes Are Dim

The first "hulabaloo" roared across the plains yesterday, but it will be at least September before you can hear any "canecks."

The event was the Texas Aggie football prospects published by the Cadets head drum beater, Jones Ramsey.

Glancing through the first few pages of the maroon and white booklet, it's apparent things don't look too bright at the West Point football prospectus published by the most glaring weakness is the lack of a good passing quarterback.

When Charles Milstead accepted his sheepskin in June, he destroyed most of the Aggies' well-balanced offense.

Not only was Milstead a good runner, he was one of the best passers in the Southwest Conference. He completed 62 of 117 throws for 752 yards and four touchdowns. He also punted 39 times for a 35.7 average.

Listed as Milstead's replacement on the No. 1 unit this year is Powell Berry, a 185-pound senior from Snyder.

As an under study to Milstead last fall, Berry threw the ball seven times, completing three of the tosses for 46 yards.

If the Aggies hope to have a passing team this year, they'll have to go along with Ronnie Brice, a sophomore from Andrews.

As a freshman last fall, Brice completed 14 of 28 passes for 129 yards.

6 Area Players On Roster

A half a dozen players from this area, including four from district 3-AAAA, will be on the Aggies' varsity roster this year.

Former Amarillo Sandies are George Gray, a 205-pound senior tackle and Roy Northrup, a 200-pound center.

Others from this area include Jim Harper, 193-pound guard from Borger; Bobby Huntington, 190-pound end from Plainview; Ralph Smith, 200-pound wingman from Phillips; and James Walton, 223-pound tackle from Dumas.

Of this group, Smith and Northrup are listed as starters; Harper and Huntington are on the third unit; and Walton is placed on the fourth string.

In all, it looks like it will be a black year on the record of James A. Myers, the Aggies' personable head coach and athletic director. If so, it will be a shame.

Myers was in hot water with exes last year when the Aggies won only three games while losing seven.

That boosted his record as Aggie field general to seven wins and 13 losses in two seasons.

The Aggies open the season with Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, and follow up with their first conference game, Texas Tech at College Station.

Then comes their only breather of the season — an Oct. 1 date with Trinity University at San Antonio. After that, the Cadets meet Houston, TCU, Baylor, Arkansas, SMU, Rice and Texas in order.

Banquet Ducats Going Fast

The banquet honoring Clifton McNeely, who recently resigned as Harvester basketball coach, is proving to be a popular idea.

Floyd Watson, one of the men responsible for the planning of the fete, said yesterday that between 90 and 100 reservations have already been made.

Only 275 reservations are available to the banquet, which will be held Saturday night at the Coronado Inn.

You can still get reservations by phoning MO 4-7502 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily. Tickets are $3 per person, and reservations must be made by 5 p.m. Friday.

For those who have been asking, the second Lights Out bowling tournament will be held at Harvester Bowl Monday. Starting time is 9 p.m.

The Lights Out affair is another creation of Red Watson, Harvester Bowl manager.

All of the lights in the building, with the exception of those directly over the pins, are turned out. This makes for a much more challenging game, even though it doesn't seem that it would work.

But the popularity of the event indicates it is here to stay. Entry fee is $2.60 per person with games being limited to mixed doubles division.

Snead, Palmer, Wall Top Choices In Eastern Play

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Sammy Snead, Arnold Palmer and Art Wall were under heavier pressure than the competitors today when the Eastern Open golf championship opened at the Pine Ridge Club.

Officials of the $25,000 tournament refused Wednesday to withdraw their protest to the Professional Golfers Assn. against the three stars who are snubbing the tournament and the chairman of the players, tournament committee conceded some action may have to be taken.

Tournament officials protested to the PGA because Snead, Palmer and Wall have scheduled exhibitions in nearby Pennsylvania in defiance of a rule that players must not play exhibitions within 200 miles of tournaments on the tour.

"If the sponsors here continue to hold to their complaint there is no question that we will have to take action," said Bob Rosburg, chairman of the players committee.

"I don't know what they'll do to me, but I'm still planning to play in Philadelphia Saturday," Snead said.

retorted Snead. "I can't see what effect my playing in Philly will have on the attendance in Baltimore."

Snead was heckled by many spectators when he shot a 71 in Wednesday's pro-amateur competition and one called out, "If that's the best you can do, we're glad you're not staying." Gay Brewer of Louisville, Ky., and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., shot six under par 66's and Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., and Ronnie Rief of Singing Hills, Calif., finished a stroke behind them.

The winning foursome in the pro-am was pro Jack Fleck and amateurs Harold Ridgley, Marion Flory and Dick Heather with a best-ball score of 57.

Professional Grid Wrapup

HOUSTON (UPI) — Veteran quarterback George Blanda directed two touchdown drives within 10 minutes in Wednesday's 30-minute scrimmage session by the Houston Oilers.

Blanda flipped a pass to Charles Hennigan, former Northwest Louisiana ace, for the first score. The play covered 60 yards.

The second touchdown drive was started by Billy Cannon's 35-yard scamper off right tackle. Blanda hit veteran end John Carson for 12 yards, and fullback Bob White went 12 more yards on a draw play.

Bill Mathis of Clemson tallied on a 15-yard run.

Former New York Giant quarterback Bobby Clatterback directed an 80-yard drive for a third touchdown.

pass play to Jim Doran, and the other one a 50-yard pass play with Larry Rex on the receiving end.

Former Baltimore Colt halfback L. G. Dupre hit paydirt on a 62-yard scamper.

Defensive tackle Don Healy and offensive center Frank Kuchta were forced out of the scrimmage with what were described as "non-serious" injuries.

FOREST GROVE, Ore. (UPI) — Head Coach Tom Landry forgot to get out of the way Wednesday as the Dallas Cowboys went through a 45-minute scrimmage in 92 degree weather.

Landry received a bad slash on his leg from the cleats of one of the members of the squad who was throwing a block during the scrimmage.

Cowboy quarterbacks Eddie LeBaron, Don Heinrich and John Talley were the offensive stars during the afternoon. LeBaron threw for two of the five touchdowns scored, one on a 19-yard drive.

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI) — Ingemar Johansson denied point-blank today that he would train like a hermit for his third title fight with Floyd Patterson at the Los Angeles Coliseum, Nov. 1.

Johansson, who agreed with promoter Bill Fugazy on the site and date Wednesday, told reporters this morning he had been misquoted earlier in the month about planning to train like a hermit.

"Although I'll have my own trailer camp for training quarters this time," Ingo explained, "I'm not going to change my methods. My family and my fiancée, Birgit Lundgren, will be with me again."

Many boxing writers had suggested that if the handsome Swede were less of a playboy while conditioning at a New York state resort for his second bout with Patterson on June 20, he might have made a better showing.

Patterson knocked him out in the fifth round and became the first man ever to recapture the heavyweight crown.

Johansson said he plans to arrive in California about mid-September and pitch his trailer camp in the mountains "not too far from Los Angeles."

Ingo Ready For Next Patterson Bout, But Won't Switch Training Routine

Cleroux Rocks Harris With Kayo In Fifth

MONTREAL (UPI) — Heavyweight Robert Cleroux appeared ready for a crack at the Canadian title after polishing off Texan Roy Harris at 1:21 of the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round Wednesday night.

The upset victory of the hometown boy was witnessed by a crowd of 12,530 at Delorimier Stadium and appeared to set the stage for a battle with Canadian champion George Chuvalo of Toronto.

Cleroux, a 22-year-old product of Montreal's amateur ranks, weighed 207 pounds, eight and one-half pounds heavier than Harris.

Up to the time of the knockout, Cleroux was the aggressor and had Harris backpeddling with the exception of the third when the Texan had the Montrealer bleeding from the nose.

The end came fast when Cleroux unleashed a right cross that nailed Harris flush on the chin. The Cut 'N Shoot, Tex., fighter reeled backwards and dropped to the canvas. Harris was on one knee at six. He jumped to his feet at 10 and protested that he was able to continue but the fight was over.

Medalist Gains In Junior Play

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Medalist George Case of San Antonio led the championship flight of the State Junior Golf Tournament into the quarterfinals today.

He won his quarterfinals berth with a 2 and 1 victory over Johnny Jones of Gainsville.

Case, a 17-year-old Alamo Heights High School senior, battled Royce Roberts of Austin for a semifinals berth in today's pairings. Roberts advanced with a 5 and 4 win over Dennis Ewing of Dallas.

Jim Hurley of Port Arthur sank a 30-foot putt on the 21st hole to beat Mike Hastings of Waxahachie 1-up in the longest match of the second round.

'Not Finished' Red Head Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Red Schoendienst insists he isn't finished as an active major leaguer and says if he no longer figures in Milwaukee Braves' plans he'll be happy to play for another ball club.

"I am not finished. I have two or three years left of fulltime ball in me and then I think I could play on a limited basis for several seasons after that," says the 37-year-old infielder.

And what if the veteran campaigner, who overcame tuberculosis only to drift into a slump this year, can't re-crack the Braves' starting lineup?

"It'll be happy to play with Ed Mathews," he answers. Pointing to his teammate. "Or against him."

Red claims he's been hampered by a slump — and that his comeback attempt hasn't failed.

There's been no failure. Just a slump — the kind that happens to every ballplayer," he asserts. "I want to keep on playing. And if this team doesn't want me, then I'll be glad to play elsewhere."

RED SCHOENDIENST ... not finished

By FRED DOWN

Dick Groat is the latter day Eddie Stanky — they say he can't run, field or hit — he's just the heart of his team.

Bob Friend, Vern Law, Roberto Clemente and Bob Skinner have pretty much monopolized the headlines for the Pittsburgh Pirates this season but they'd be the first to admit the 29-year-old shortstop and ex-Duke basketball star is the guy who makes the club click. He's the glue that holds the infield together and the steady rat tat tat of hits has kept Pittsburgh rallies going all season.

Groat demonstrated again how he comes through under pressure Wednesday night when he lashed out three hits and drove in one to lead the Pirates to a 7-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rookie Jim Maloney shut out the Dodgers for six innings in his sixth defeat against 10 wins in his ninth game for the Dodgers.

The Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0, and the Philadelphia Phillies, beat the Chicago Cubs, 7-5, in other National League games while the Chicago White Sox ripped the Boston Red Sox, 10-4, and the Washington Senators scored a 5-4 15-inning victory over the Detroit Tigers in American League action.

Groat hasn't hit a single home run this season but his three hits Wednesday night raised his average to .317. He has scored 60 runs and driven in 31. Rivals say he "hits with a sting" and he did just that Wednesday night, contributing a hit to three Pittsburgh scoring innings.

Sadecki Suffers Defeat
George Witt, Earl Francis and Joe Gibbon all failed for the Pirates before Fred Green came on to pitch the last four innings and allow the Cardinals only one hit while striking out four. Ray Sadecki suffered his fifth loss compared to four wins for the Cardinals.

Jack Sanford, who seems to be "real good or real bad," pitched a four-hitter for his sixth shutout and ninth win behind an eight-hit San Francisco attack that included a two-run double and two singles by Orlando Cepeda. The Giants kayoed Lew Burdette six innings and tagged him with his sixth defeat against 10 wins in his ninth game for the Dodgers.

Bobby Del Greco and Panchy Herrera hit homers and Johnny Callison and pitcher Gene Conley struck key doubles for the Phillies, who handed the Cubs the sixth straight loss. Conley went 7 1-3 innings to win his seventh game, while Seth Morehead lost his seventh decision.

The White Sox feasted on Boston pitching for the second straight game with a 12-hit attack that featured a homer by Sherman Lollar and doubles by Jim Landis, Minnie Mimoso and Nelson Fox. Turk Lown picked up his second victory although Gerry Staley shut out the Red Sox for the last three innings. Ted Williams and Gary Geiger homered for the Red Sox.

Bob Allison's 15th inning single broke up a four-hour and 48-minute marathon, also delayed minutes by fog, in Washington. The Tigers scored three runs in the ninth to send the game into overtime after the Senators built a 4-0 early lead with the help of homers by Jim Lemon and Pete Whisenant.

'We'll Snap Out Soon,' Says Gordon Of Tribe's Slump

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Gordon, concerned but not dismayed over the slump of his Cleveland Indians, said today "we'll snap out of it soon" and predicted the Tribe will be in pennant contention right down to the wire.

the shortstop job and Red Wilson will go behind the plate. Both were obtained from the Detroit Tigers in a waiver deal last Monday and will be playing their first game in Cleveland uniforms.

Despite their slump, the Indians still are in strategic striking position, only five games behind the front-running White Sox and only a half-game behind the third-place Baltimore Orioles.

After the announcement that the doubleheader was called off, Pier-sall quipped: "Gee I sure hope they don't blame this rainout on me."

to get hot. But they can cool off too—don't forget."

Hoping to start an upsurge after three straight defeats, Gordon will start pitchers Jim Perry and Barry Latman against the Yankees tonight. Perry has an 11-4 season record and is usually effective against New York.

Concentrate On Winning

Harvey Kuenn, the club's player representative, said he was glad the latest Piersall episode was behind him and that now the club could concentrate on winning.

Latman, who was obtained from the White Sox for Herb Score, has a disappointing 1-1 mark so far, and hasn't started since June 23.

"I agree with Joe Gordon," Kuenn continued. "This is a good ball club and most of the fellows still feel it's capable of winning the pennant. I know, of course, that the White Sox are starting time."

"If Latman could get going, it would be a tremendous help," Gordon concluded. "He has the stuff. Maybe he'll start coming around. He couldn't pick a better time."

Johnny Hayes came in an ignored winner of the classic marathon in London in 1908.

This was because—the Italian, Dorando Pietri, preceded Hayes into the stadium in a state of utter exhaustion. Dorando collapsed 200 yards short of the finish. He was helped to his feet by sympathetic British officials and finally half-carried across the finish line.

Dorando was disqualified for not competing the 26 miles and 385 yards under his own power. Hayes, the plodding little New Yorker, brought the gold medal to the United States.

Victoria's rampaging Rosebuds moved into second place in the Texas League last night with a 1-0 victory over Tulsa, while San Antonio, beaten 10-7 by Amarillo, dropped to third.

Valley's Giants, meanwhile, maintained their 10 game lead on the loop with a 5-4 decision over Austin's Senators.

Bob Humphries shutout the Oilers on five hits while the Rosebuds collected eight, and scored the deciding run in the sixth.

Social Revolution Now In Progress In Europe

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

A social as well as economic revolution is occurring in Western Europe.

It was on May 9, 1950, that French Foreign Minister Maurice Schuman proposed a six-nation common market of 160 million consumers in France, West Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

An immediate objective was to integrate French and German industry that future war between the two would be impossible. A long-term objective was a United States of Europe, joined politically as well as economically.

Out of it first came the coal-steel community and then the common market and Euratom.

Its success has equalled the most optimistic hopes of its founders, setting off a business boom which shows no sign of declining.

Tariff walls dividing the six nations are breaking down and by the end of 1951 will disappear entirely on industrial goods. Industries have been related, regardless of national boundaries, to the areas where they can function most profitably.

But the accomplishments have not been without pain.

France found that to compete on equal terms with West Germany without benefit of protective tariffs vast sections of its industry had to replace both outmoded methods and machines. This meant widespread shutdowns and consequent labor unrest.

AROUND THE WORLD

APPEARANCES ARE DECEIVING

LEAP TIDE—At Gothenburg, Sweden, 13-year-old George Brink is a daring young man who needs no flying trapeze to perform deeds of bravery. He makes a habit of leaping off a 45-foot-high cliff into the lake below. Sometimes the lad does this stunt as often as five times a day.

SKY SKI—Grabbing some air, water skier Ken Tibado has his head in the clouds at Pine Mountain, Ga. The daredevil from Lake Wales, Fla., thrills water-ski meet spectators with his stunt of flying beneath a boat-towed kite—and it isn't the easiest thing in the world to do.

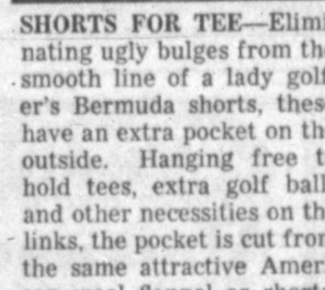

HOMER CONSCIOUS—The slugging sensation of the major leagues, Yankee blaster Roger Maris posed beside the Babe Ruth monument in center field at New York's Yankee Stadium. Maris has been having such a good season that he's already surpassed the Babe's phenomenal record for 1927.

STRONG MAN—A very young one, for Charles Maravola is just eight, as is Kathy Ann Doyle, who's admiring his muscles in New York. The lad boxed in the 80-pound class at a Children's Aid Society boxing show.

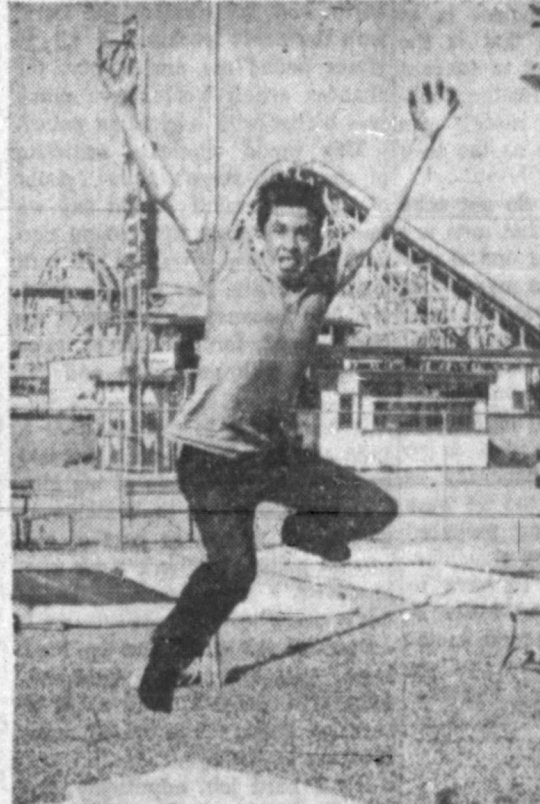

STEPPING OUT—Despite the fact that no Hambletonian Stake has been won by anyone for two successive years since 1942-43, Carlene Hanover may do it. Owned by Howard Hall, of Watertown, N. Y., the horse is shown in a fast tune-up for the $150,000 sulky classic at Du Quoin, Ill.

SHORTS FOR TEE—Eliminating ugly bulges from the smooth line of a lady golfer's Bermuda shorts, these have an extra pocket on the outside. Hanging free to hold tees, extra golf balls and other necessities on the links, the pocket is cut from the same attractive American wool flannel as shorts.

RECORD SETTER—Ursel Kueper, 23, is plowing through the water at Leipzig, Germany, to set a new world record in the 100-meter breast-stroke competition. The young lady from East Berlin made the distance in 1:19.0, beating West Germany's Wiltrud Ursemann, the former record holder.

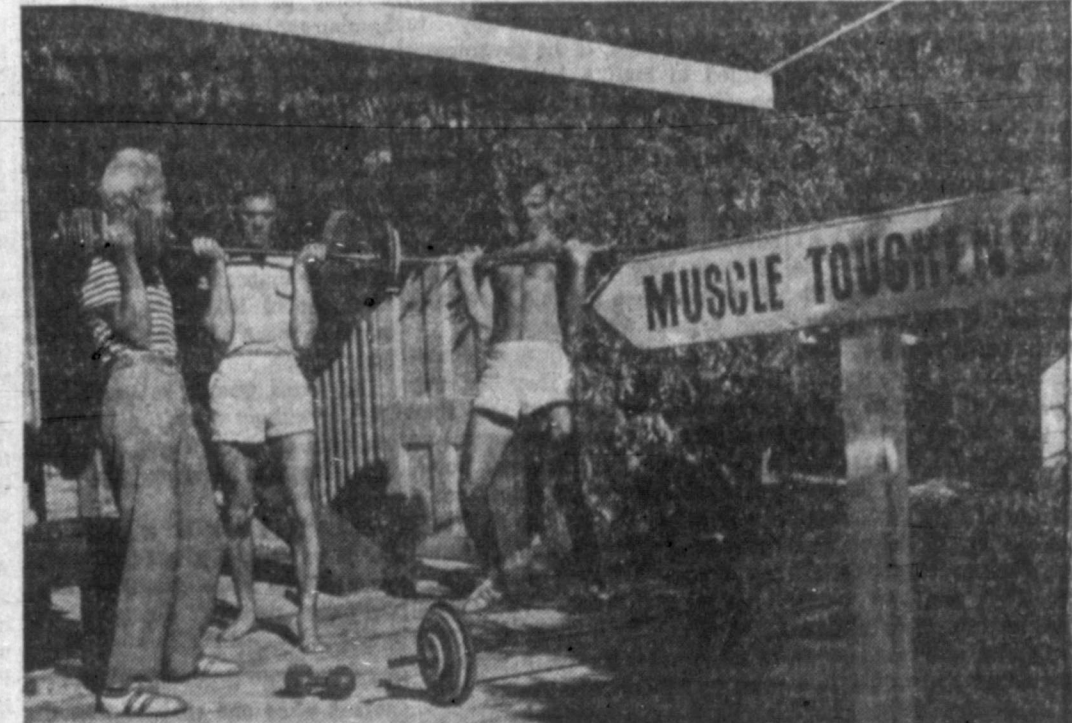

BOUNTING MAIN—They may not look it, but these kids are having the time of their lives in Dallas, Tex. Gray Bradley, 15 (left), and Brenda Morgan, 10, were trying a new amusement park thrill, bouncing up and down on nylon webbing stretched over pits.

UNDERWATERMELON—Mary Eagan (left) and Ginger Stoiz claim they like their watermelon real juicy, so they're eating a chunk of it under water at Cypress Gardens, Fla. At least, that's their story, even if it is mighty hard to swallow.

HE'S THE ONE!—Percy Cerutti (left), a white-maned Australian of 65, is one of the world's most successful coaches of middle distance and distance runners. Working with him at his training camp near Melbourne are Doug Treado (center), an American university student from Marquette, Mich., and Robert Quinlan, of Victoria, Australia.

A DREAM COME TRUE—A couple of modern Huck Finns, John McEvoy (left) and David Bender are floating their raft down the Mad River, near Springfield, Ohio. Their fancy vessel has a pirate flag, a lard-can stove, ice box and other camping equipment.

People As Cattle

We've recently run across some figures which help to reveal what we believe is a shocking type of thinking. According to the information we have, our government is now looking upon each citizen of this nation as though he were an economic unit of definite dollar value.

Bulk Mail By Bus

Funny how things develop. Take the post office. For a number of years we've had a bit to say about its operation. It's a costly, inept fizzle, since 1954 has run up a deficit which totals more than $3 billion.

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from the government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Foreign Policy Grief In Relation To Riches

The poorer the country, the less trouble it has with its foreign policy. Conversely, the richer the country, the more grief from foreign policy.

Perhaps a look at the record would help. At the last count, the United States had lent or given away money to 936 countries, and is said to be looking for more.

It boils down to the fact that a man you haven't given a present to can't very well fuss at his gift.

It's a hard job, admittedly, but the Huckle Committee thinks it should be done. But how?

Under this measure, business would be "given a free hand" in writing off expenditures for new plants, machinery, and other improvements and developments.

Conservative activist While he intends to campaign as a staunch champion of "basically conservative point of view on economic and fiscal issues," the Vice President is stressing that does not mean he favors "resisting change and doing nothing."

For the story told by the bus lines and by Governor Rockefeller, serves to show up the inefficiency and waste of the post office as few other things have done.

CHICAGO — Vice President Nixon is basing his campaign plans on the belief that he and Senator John Kennedy will differ far more sharply on domestic economic issues than on foreign policies.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., does not expect to be nominated Vice President. But he's ready and willing to be asked about the matter, Dirksen smilingly replied.

Everybody's Money

By MERYLE STANLEY RUYKESER

In these troublous times, it is not enough for Democrats to snipe at Republicans and vice versa. The foe is not the Opposition Party but militant communism led by the ill-mannered Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Under the circumstances, it would be a national setback of tremendous historic significance if the interlude between the nominating conventions and the November election is used to obscure issues rather than to clarify them.

Not far from its 1956 market low, General Dynamics seems to discount "quite fully the downward revision" in this year's earnings possibilities, according to Standard & Poor's.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has said many times he wouldn't accept the Republican vice presidential nomination, put his refusal another way Tuesday.

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI)—The Algerian rebel government-in-exile plans to send a mission to Latin America soon to "seek more support for the Algerian cause."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Being "unable to see the forest for the trees" is a frequent pitfall of the investor, according to Breivits, bi-weekly publication of Vance, Sanders & Co.

Too often, the letter points out, some people become so preoccupied with day-to-day industrial news or with seasonal forecasts of economic and market developments that they overlook the dynamic long-range growth trend of our economy.

North American Aviation seems well-deflated at current levels, says Reynolds & Co. "It is a technically oriented firm that has attained wide diversification within the framework of its military business and is particularly strong in the missile field and in defense electronics."
