Ineligibility Eliminates Strong Team

Temple Club Tossed Out

Amarillo Sandies Have Good Chance To Cop Title

Temple's elimination from the schoolboy grid race of the Inter-Scholastic League last week took out one of the strongest contenders for the state title.

Temple had topped over three teams in its district by large scores, and seemed almost certain to go into the final show when the district eleven eligibility committee passed the football club for a loss. Games were ordered forfeited to Waco, Cleburne and Hubbard. They are previously humbled by the Wildcats in their dash for the crown.

Sandies Should Win

Amarillo's powerful eleven now bids fair to cop the state pennant. They met their stiffest opponent of the season last week when they were lucky to oust the strong Pampa Harvesters 9 to 6. A safety and a touchdown spelled the winning marks of the Champions, a 9 to 0 lead, but the Pampa aggregation came back to score a little later.

As a result, the Sandies will meet Lubbock's Westerners on Thanksgiving for the championship.

Lubbock barely turned back the Plainview team 14 to 6 and is not rated sufficiently strong to take down the Sandies. Borger, the fifth team of the circuit, went down before the powerful Ciasa B. McLean club, 24 to 0.

In the Oil Belt, Ranger's Bulldogs just barely nosed out the Cisco Lobos 7 to 6. The Abilene Eagles continued to tag around the summit by mounting Breckenridge 13 to 7, while the Improved Brownwood team handed Eastland another losing, 14 to 6. Ranger appears to be headed for another title.

Panthers Out

Pat Murphy's El Paso Panthers lost, 29 to 13, to the strong Bowie aggregation of the same city. Bowie has a hefty, powerful club this year and will make a strong bid for the bidistrict pennant.

Murphy had previously said that if the Mexican Bowie team got the jump on his club they would likely win. Bowie is not hard to beat if an early lead is taken but if they get a head start it is a tough battle for anybody's team.

Two Big Battles On Southwestern Chart

Two games counting in the standings on the schedule this week in the Southwestern Conference with the Aggies battling Rice at Houston and T. C. U. playing Texas at Austin.

The other conference teams have tough assignments, two of them in inter-district play.

Baylor goes to Lubbock to play Texas Tech. S. M. U. will try to find out about this Centenary team at Shreveport and Arkansas tackles Hendrix at Fayetteville.

Pink Bollworm Compensation Board Qualifies and Prepares Launch Activities

AUSTIN, UPI—Members of the pink boll worm compensation board, created to consider claims of farmers who were damaged by the infestation several years ago, qualified Monday.

Members are Fred W. Davis, R. J. Murray and Joe E. Edmundson.

The announced adjustments and settlements with growers would be made as soon as data could be obtained and hearings held. The board advised farmers not to employ legal counsel, since such procedure would not be necessary to adjust claims.

The Daily Sport Mill

By Tom Beasley

Our remark in Sunday's issue of the Herald that some members of the Steer team didn't keep in training like they should was a target for much criticism. Our statement was backed up by two of the oldest and best players on the team who admitted it was true. A number of fans have expressed the same opinion.

Bob Flowers, who demonstrated his ability as a football star in inter-district play against the Ponies, has a place already reserved on the all-district mythical eleven. However, just where to place him is open to discussion. Jim Cantel, Colorado mentor, suggests that Bob be placed on defensive full-back.

Jack Dean snapped out of his lethargy and played as good a game as could be asked. If he finishes out the remaining two games in the same fashion he should be another on the all-star eleven.

Captain Holbert and Cecil Baker made a strong bid for the all-district team by keeping Graves and Vines well in hand.

We suggest that coaches only be allowed to participate in picking the all-district team. Each coach and his assistant should pick a team and give his reasons for each choice. A letter team could be picked that way rather than have everybody pick his own team and none of them having much meaning.

Virgil Jones made a remarkable record Friday. He carried the ball 38 times for a net gain of 180 yards, an average of nearly five yards to the play; scored the second touchdown, added an extra point after the first one and fumbled in attempting to repeat, punted four times for an average of a 30 yard net gain. He also had a punt that was good for 25 yards to Whitten for the first touchdown.

It's the way the two teams came out. Only Baylor gained 25 yards from scrimmage, yet while the Steers had a net gain of but 22 yards for the entire afternoon on scrimmage play.

Sweetwater was penalized three times for a total of 35 yards. Big Spring none.

Passes: Sweetwater attempted four, one for 30 yards and a touchdown, the other three incomplete. Big Spring attempted five passes, three of them good for a total of 30 yards.

Cats Versus Mustangs For Sector Title

Ponies Expect To Oust The Bobcat Eleven On Thanksgiving

San Angelo's top-brass victory over McCamey, 34 to 0, placed the impugning Bobcat's 83 points under the compass-needle-leading Sweetwater Mustangs and brought to a close before the Thanksgiving Day battle will decide the championship.

The Mustangs, however, can tie the Bobcats on Turkey Day, and win the championship on a percentage basis, but are certain to be an open game, with each team trying desperately to score as often as possible if at all. This is a Mustang victory over Colorado.

District games this week:
Friday—Colorado at Sweetwater; Saturday—McCamey at Big Spring.

Thanksgiving Day games are: Sweetwater at Angelo, Colorado at Big Spring, and a non-conference game, Midland at McCamey.

Souvenir Hunters Fight For Flowers Off Guinan Casket

MOHNT PLEASANT, N. Y. (UP)—A mob of 2,000 persons fighting and clawing for flowers from Texas Governor Guinan's casket left at least a dozen injured in what officials called the "most shameful and disrespectful scene that ever occurred in Westchester county."

The riot occurred at the gate of Heaven cemetery when the body of the night club hostess was being placed in a receiving vault. The milling crowd stripped floral offerings from the casket and denuded crying flowers. A small police guard was swept aside.

One man seized a wreath from the coffin and was bearing it triumphantly aloft when the milling crowd turned into a mob, with every person struggling to get a souvenir the fight to get flowers continued until there was not a spray or wreath remaining.

Hours before the cortege was scheduled to arrive at the gate at Heaven cemetery a large crowd had assembled. Many persons climbed on tombstones and monuments to get a better view. Others climbed to the roof of the receiving vault.

The crowd blocked the way of the hearse and the procession was forced left empty-handed. A fifth break netted five cents.

Federal Grand Jury Will Hear Case Of Wise County Farmer

DALLAS, (UP)—A federal grand jury at Fort Worth will hear the case of J. A. Morgan, Wise county, Tex., farmer who pleaded guilty here to charges of using the mails to defraud after claiming he found part of the Charles F. Urschel ransom money.

The hearing was set for Nov. 27. Morgan is in the Dallas county jail in default of $2,900 bond.

When arraigned here Saturday before U. S. Commissioner Lee R. Smith, he acted quiescent. He told officers that his story of finding approximately $70,000 of the ransom money was fabricated, and appeared more concerned over the welfare of his wife. He said he had shot her and seemed unable to comprehend assurances from officers that she still lived.

"That good taste you're talking about is the 'seasoning' of Turkish Tobacco—"

I HAPPEN to be one of the men who buy Turkish tobacco for Chesterfield.

Our men live in Constantinople, Samoun, and Smyrna in Turkey; and Cavalla, Serres, Xanthi, and Patras in Greece. The best known Turkish tobaccos come from these sections, and we try to select the best grades for Chesterfield.

There is no other tobacco just like Turkish—it has a taste and aroma all its own. Chesterfield seasons them just right.

Bright, multi-colored lights blinked in dazzling radiance. A myriad heaven of man-made stars was Broadway as the milking thousands of humans pushed and tugged along the crowded thoroughfare.

Old Apple Annie canted her head and looked at the Duke with a frown. "What do you think your doing, you Duke?"

"Apple Annie's words hit me. I was about to say 'you're a good girl' and she tossed her head defiantly and deliberately straightened her dress which had been twisted around her body. To emphasize her defiance, she ran the back of her hand across her mouth and blew a kiss in the air. She was looking at me as though I were an every-day occurrence.

"Dave the Duke's looking for you, Annie—over at Missouri Martin's," said the boy.

Annie looked at him grimaced and started away. Then she looked over her shoulder. "Come around the house some time. I got a lotta silverware laying around loose."

She hobbled away toward Missouri Martin's.

Missouri Martin was a Broadway institution. She owned and operated the night club "Missouri Martin." Always the genial and welcoming hostess, she had prospered—made plenty. Her "boisjeons" "Hello, Sucker!" was known from the Battery to the most remote fastness where Broadway ends.

Missouri walked from the dance floor upon which 30 gorgeous girls in abbreviated costumes danced. The head waiter stepped alongside and tapped her shoulder.

"Will you okay this check? It's Dave the Duke's."

"Bless you, Duke. How'd you do last week?"
 (Played by Ned Sparks, Warren William and May Royson)

"I quietly tore up the check. Many times did I tell you the Duke can't spend any money in my place?" She walked away with the Missouri and a group of men and women who were crowded around one of the tables.

"Hey! What's going on around here?" she asked.

"Sh-h-h!" whispered an onlooker. "Dave the Duke's got a big bet on."

"What? What kind of bet?"

"Sh-h-h! You're liable to scare the life!"

"The life?" Missouri's eyes widened.

"Yeah. He's better the Greek a fly lands on his piece of sugar first."

Missouri squirmed her way through the spectators to view the sport. She watched Dave the Duke as the tall, handsome man waddled around on a stool. His two columbia, happy, a dimpled smile, and twinkling eyes, dim and tough, gripped the table tops as a fly buzzed between the lips of sugar.

Shakespeare leaned forward, pushing his lips and buzzing. "Duck-a-duck-a-duck!"

"Dave the Duke smiled. 'What do you think your doing, Shakespeare?'"

"Shakespeare whispered. 'I'm dead. I'm over to your place, Duke. Lay off. You drive enough flies as it is.'

"Everyone became still, only the buzzing of the fly was heard. Suddenly, the fly swooped down and landed on one of the pieces of sugar. A shout went up. It was the Greek's piece.

"The Greek shouted. 'Tough luck, Duke. That's a bitter business you've got me.'

"The crowd dispersed and the Duke and his two columbia returned. They walked to the table. "Buck-a-ruck!" he cried to the crowd and waved his hats and keys.

"I know I shouldn't bet without my apple. I got to find Annie, and the Duke, as he slipped into his coat, started searching for her.

"Listen, Happy—this is going to be one of the biggest bets I ever bet in my life. Look at my chances. Look at my luck. I've got to me. I've got to the Greek."

"Did I ever tell you?" said Happy. "About the guy that was waddling about a horseback? One day he's out searching for him and gets knocked over by a truck."

"Yeah, broke in Shakespeare's office was telling me it had to be to be superstitious."

"Go out and find Apple Annie, said the Duke sharply.

"Sure, Duke. That's just where I was going." Shakespeare started out.

Support—
 Inside New York sentiment toward NRA principles has undergone a significant shift in the past week or so. Recent visitors to Washington have been coming back as self-converted missionaries. The idea is penetrating that the codes must be made to function or something much worse from industry's viewpoint may befall.
 Those who were advocating open rebellion a short time ago are strangely silent. Walter Teague's remarks about a one-way street had their effect. The consensus of the opposition is that this is no time to get tough. Besides some of the industrialists whom conservative Wall Street had counted as allies have discovered that the codes work much better than they expected.

Sinclair—
 It was just like old times up in the Senate Office Building one day last week.
 The Senate Banking Committee, through adroit examination by Prosecutor Pecora, was hearing about that Wall Street deal in which the principals and their friends cleaned up over $12,000,000 without laying out a dime.
 And back of the reluctant witnesses—Arthur Cutten, the big market manipulator—sat the lawyers of Harry F. Sinclair listening attentively to every word.
 You may remember Sinclair as the oil magnate who usually went to jail for thumbing his nose at the same sort of committee several years back.
 Sinclair and Cutten were key figures in the profitable syndicate which dealt in Sinclair Consolidated Oil stock. The syndicate had followed Cutten on the witness stand but unfortunately had been taken ill in Sublime Springs.
 In a way, Sinclair's illness was fortunate. It enabled his attorneys to prepare the boss for his own grand trial and finally to take place this week.

Johnson—
 Some of the pool boys are once more testing the speculative waters with a timid toe. Exchange members are laying off but the appetite for profit outside traders is beginning to overcome their fear of what Washington will do to them.

Notes—
 In private circles, reports are especially essential the Roosevelt administration is being formed by a new group from the ranks of Hitler. Instead of having signs, they had lanterns to warn traffic that the street is being torn up the German Chancellor puts a couple of his Nazis on the job. When business was picked up the day last Friday and headlined that day's conference between Mr. Roosevelt and Litvinoff as the climax of it were sent of premature. The Earl Curzon was never more than a name in the reason why we didn't recognize Russia for 15 years. One of these is a 100 page volume of Kerensky wounded three persons, was thought to be Russell Hughes, companion of Jack Klutas, kidnaping suspect.

Securities—
 Sentiment is growing in investment banking circles that Professor Felix Frankfurter has Machiavelli skinned forty ways.
 Until recently most of them thought that the severity of the Securities Act (which he wrote) was simply due to misguided zeal. They felt their business was badly crippled but hoped for a break when that fact became sufficiently apparent.
 Now that they've studied it from all angles and chattered with Frankfurter's friend Louis on the Federal Trade Commission it begins to dawn that perhaps the law was made unworkable from their angle on purpose—designed to be a legal and carefully veiled death sentence for their business. This fits into the picture of government control of capital recently mentioned in

Concessions—
 Meanwhile concessions to make the codes easier for business to live up to are being quietly extended all the time. One of the most significant was a local compliance board ruling that restaurants can count tips as part of sales' wages. The principle cuts deep and temporarily settles an acrimonious argument. The local board is holding its breath until it knows whether its action is approved in Washington. Local insiders believe that labor will be persuaded not to make an issue of the matter for the present.

Smith—
 Friends of Al Smith say that he will be in no hurry to step into the Tammany picture. The Curry-Farley crowd is far from settled and Al can accomplish more if he doesn't butt in too soon. You can get plenty of inside forecasts that he will be in the limelight within a year. But the Curry wing of Tammany add that he will have to move to Massachusetts to do it.

State—
 The New York State Senate presents a political jigsaw puzzle worth watching. Tammany has a small nominal majority but the balance of power lies with three Senators who take orders from Flynn. If they should gang up with the Republicans at inauspicious moments they could make Messrs. Curry and McCooney extremely uncomfortable. Tammany is talking freely about throwing Farley out as State Chairman but there's many a slip.

Call A Spade A Spade—
 Says Mae West, Who Greatest Newest Type
 Mae West, appearing here this evening 6 p. m. to 11 p. m. in a special preview of her latest hit, "No Angel," has created a revolutionary screen type.
 A constant transgressor whose lovelorn adventures, triumphs and glory, she always comes out on top. Avers Mae West "That's the way it often works out in life."
 Playing the role of a hard-boiled circus bantam, Mae captivates 'em and leaves 'em. In the end however, she ties on a tall, dark and handsome millionaire bachelor, which might entitle her to say "I'm no fool!"
 Mae West knocked the rust off the ticket idea with "He Done Me Wrong" but "No Angel" is meeting with even greater popularity with the screen public.
 This she attributes to her policy of pulling a spade a spade.
 Lionel Barrymore will appear from 2 p. m. until 6 p. m. in "One's Journey," and will have a full day's run Wednesday.

Watchman At Gorman Slain
Woman Shoots Men, Turns Gun On Self For Fatal Wound

GORMAN—Leon Robinson, 55-year-old Gorman night watchman, was dead and Mrs. Mae King, about 35, of Desdemona, was in a critical condition in a hospital here as a result of a shooting on the main street Monday night.

Terminating a short conversation, Mrs. King seated in the automobile in which she had just driven from Desdemona, shot Robinson once through the forehead, killing him instantly, and then shot herself twice through the lungs with a second gun.

Four boys standing near the automobile heard the three shots in rapid succession and saw Robinson crumple to the street then Mrs. King fall from the car across the dead night watchman's body.

Two guns fell from the car into the street. From a 38 calibre pistol, one shot had been fired through Robinson's head.

Two cartridges from the second gun, a 25 calibre pistol, had been discharged, the bullet penetrating Mrs. King's lungs. Robinson's gun, a 45 calibre pistol, was in his scabbard, untouched.

J. T. Chapman, justice of the peace, who conducted an inquest over Robinson, returned a verdict that he had died from gunshot wounds inflicted by Mrs. King.

Government To Feed Families While Jobs Being Established

WASHINGTON, (UP)—More than 2,000,000 hungry and cold at the government table this winter.

The homeless will be given shelter. The hungry will be given food. The unemployed will be given work. The government will be the agent of President Roosevelt that there shall be no suffering of Americans, simply because of the depression.

Two million men already have been given steady wages through federal construction projects. Mr. Roosevelt has promised to find jobs for 4,000,000 more before the snows of winter get deep. To do this the president has established the Civil Works Administration, which will spend $100,000,000.

While the jobless wait for the factory whistles to blow, the steam shovels to puff and the concrete mixers to rattle, the federal emergency relief administration, under direction of Harry B. Hopkins, will be caring for them and their families.

About 3,376,000 families, with an average of 4.4 persons in each, are on the relief rolls. Hopkins has spent almost half of $290,000,000 allotted to feed them so far. If his money runs out he hopes to get more.

He is distributing 300,000,000 pounds of pork to his relatives. He has opened 100,000,000 pounds of canned beef. He is buying 2,000,000 pounds of butter a week. He has bought 11,579,000 bushels of wheat, intends to buy more, and will grind it all into flour. He has purchased $175,000 worth of apples.

Fair Closed Until Spring Of 1934

CHICAGO—A Century of Progress exposition was in winter recess Tuesday, after having been visited by 22,517,221 persons since it opened last May 27.

The grand avenues were deserted of all except a few guards and workmen. Saturday 92,282 persons, fared by Jimmy Bess and a sudden rise in the temperature. Faded through the tumults for the last time on June 1 when the fair will open for another season by popular request. Even President Roosevelt urged that it be held over.

At the stroke of midnight last night Henry Running, a Rush medical college student from Sioux City, low, enter of the grounds and became the last person to visit the fair in 1933.

Closing ceremonies were simple and brief. Talks by Rufus G. Dawes, president and Major Lenox R. Lott, general manager, were carried to the crowd on the ground by the loud speaker system.

"Bitter Cold TODAY, SON" SO I'LL DRIVE YOU TO SCHOOL"

Donald: "Mother, it is cold—nearly half of my class was not there yesterday." Mother: "Cold weather does interfere with school, Donald, but I'm glad you can get there—thanks to our car." Donald: "But, mother, nearly all the other boys who were absent could come in cars but their folks don't even try to use them in cold weather—'cause they can't get them started." Mother: "Maybe, dear, they don't use the right gas and oil—that's practically the only difference between our car and many others. Understand, Donald, people are careless—they fail to get penetrative oil—found only in Germ Processed Motor Oil made by Conoco. Cold oil, even winter grade, unless it is right, makes it hard for the starter to revolve the motor. Conoco Oil helps motors turn over easily and then the Conoco Bronze Gasoline acts at the first spark and the motor starts at once."

MOTHER DO YOU THINK THE CAR WILL START O.K.?

Full motor protection, especially in Conoco Germ Processed (Paraffin Base) Motor Oil because the penetrative oiliness, called "The Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. Conoco Germ Processed Oil is the highest grade motor oil obtainable... the paraffin base crude oil sources, the scientific skill and the most modern of refineries combine to make it so. Then it is Germ Processed with an exclusive Conoco formula.

Instant Starting and Lightning Pickup can best be obtained with Conoco Bronze Gasoline, and without sacrifice of Long Mileage, Greater Power and Anti-Knock advantages. For cold weather starting it cannot be excelled—all the possible fuel needs of modern cars have been fulfilled at no increase in price.

It can be easily identified by its bronze color but you must be sure it is Conoco Bronze Gasoline for only in this way can its advantages of unusual performance and greater economy be obtained.

Body Of Man, Missing Several Days, Found In Patch Of Weeds Near Temple With Skull Battered

TEMPLE—Dr. A. M. Clifford, Temple veterinarian who disappeared Wednesday night when he went out on a call was found beaten to death late Monday on a farm two and one-half miles east of Temple.

His body was found in a patch of weeds by Hoyt Hadden, 21, who was cutting stalks on the A. J. Parker farm. His attention was directed to the spot where the body lay when his team of mules shied.

Dr. Clifford had been struck at the base of the skull with a sharp instrument and again just back of the center of his head. The gashes indicated they had been caused with some sharp instrument, possibly a tire tool or an automobile spring leaf.

Thrown Out of Car
The body was lying face down. Dr. Clifford's coat was over his head. His medicine kit was nearby with his hat on top of it.

The body apparently had been thrown out of an automobile and over a fence, then dragged about 20 feet into the weeds. No attempt had been made to bury it. Justice of the Peace O. W. Wore conducted an inquest and returned a verdict that the doctor had been murdered.

Dr. Clifford was called from his home Wednesday night by an unidentified person who told him he was a farmer and needed Dr. Clifford to treat some live stock.

The caller refused to meet Dr. Clifford downtown and came out to Dr. Clifford's home. Dr. Clifford took his medicine kit and went out, the man picking him up in front of the house. Dr. Clifford had been seen soon after he left his home.

District Attorney Henry Taylor, Sheriff George Zivley and other authorities were making every effort to identify the man with whom Dr. Clifford went on the call.

Dr. Clifford was a widower.
