PARENTS WEEP AT NEWS — The parents of U-2 flier break into tears at news their son, Francis Powers, held by the Russians on spy charges since May 1, has entered a plea of guilty. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Powers, are enroute to Moscow to be at their son's side during his trial, beginning Wednesday, August 17.

Powers Enters Guilty Plea To Spy Charge, Russ Say

MOSCOW (UPI)—American U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers has pleaded guilty to espionage charges, the official Tass news agency said today.

Tass said Powers "pleaded guilty on the substance of the charge" on which he is scheduled to stand trial here Aug. 17—his 31st birthday.

"His guilt is confirmed by material and written evidence, experts' findings and witnesses' testimony," Tass said.

Tass announced that the indictment against Powers has been published here.

Tass said Powers "is accused of having been engaged in active espionage against the Soviet Union which represents a manifestation of the aggressive policy followed by the United States government."

Powers fell into Soviet hands May 1 when his U-2 jet reconnaissance plane came down over Sverdlovsk in Siberia. The Soviets claim they shot it down with a rocket, but U.S. sources are skeptical of that claim.

The Soviet news agency said the 4,000-word indictment of Powers was prepared by the State Security Committee at Moscow and signed by Alexander Shelepin, the committee chairman.

According to Tass, the indictment says "Powers, with the knowledge of the U.S. government, at the assignment of the American intelligence service, piloting a specially equipped Lockheed U-2 reconnaissance aircraft, intruded into the air space of the U.S.S.R. for the purpose of collecting intelligence of strategic nature on the location of rocket bases, airfields, radar network and other highly important defense and industrial objectives of the U.S.S.R."

The indictment said the Albany, Ga., pilot flew more than 2,000 kilometers (1,243 miles) into the Soviet Union and photographed "a number of objectives." Tass said Powers also is accused of recording signals from Soviet radar stations and collecting "other data of an espionage nature."

The indictment said Powers' mission was directed by an American "intelligence detachment specially designed to conduct espionage against the U.S.S.R." It said the detachment was "based at the American-Turkish Incirlik air base under the code name of '10-10.'"

Powers' indictment said his unit was camouflaged "under the American National Space and Aeronautics Administration."

Powers testified during the investigation that, before the May 1 flight, he had flown reconnaissance missions in a special high altitude U-2 aircraft along the Soviet Union's borders with Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan.

Powers got the orders for his final mission from his detachment commander, "Col. Shelton of the U.S. Air Force," at the American air base at Peshawar 2½ hours before takeoff time, the indictment said.

"Powers," the indictment added, "was to fly over Soviet territory from south to north at the (See POWERS, Page 3)

Laos Regime Tumbled In Swift Military Coup

Ike Gets Demo Maybe On Plans; Speed Work

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leaders filed most of President Eisenhower's legislative proposals on a shelf marked "maybe" today and bucked down to mopping-up their unfinished business.

The Senate, which reconvened Monday, was expected to ratify the 12-nation Antarctica treaty—possibly late today—as its first major accomplishment. The House won't reconvene until next Monday.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), his party's vice presidential nominee, said the Antarctica treaty probably would be followed by a bill to increase the $1-an-hour minimum wage. Then, he added, he hoped the Senate would act on medical care for the aged.

Appropriations bills—one of them a controversial money measure to finance the foreign aid program—will get priority attention, as will reports of Senate-House conference committees.

Ideal Food, ACF-Wrigley Exchange Stock

This seemed to assure action on a compromise school-aid bill if the House Rules Committee decides to send it to Senate-House conferees.

The Antarctic treaty, minimum wage, medical care, foreign aid appropriations and education bills all got a boost from President Eisenhower in the "public interest" legislative package he sent to the Senate Monday.

Also included in the President's message was a wide range of subjects—including the touchy issue of civil rights—on which Congress has previously acted, or

Rights Bill Killed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Democratic controlled Senate today killed President Eisenhower's new civil rights bill.

Shown an unwillingness to act. There was a new proposal, too—a $600 million aid authorization for Latin America.

Republicans hailed the President's message. Sen. Thurston B. Morton (Ky.), chairman of the GOP national committee, said the message avoided "partisanship" and outlined a program which "can be implemented if Congress indulges in campaign year propaganda."

However, Democrats generally found some signs of partisan politics in proposals. Sen. John F. Kennedy (Mass.), the Democratic presidential candidate, said the long list "is not unexpected in an election year."

Premier n Arrest; Report No Bloodshed

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—The government of Laos were reported today to have fallen in a lightning coup by dissident army elements.

Sketchy reports filtering into this city from the Laotian administrative capital of Vientiane said the takeover occurred Monday night and that Premier Tio Somsanith and members of his two-month-old cabinet were under house arrest.

A clique of army generals seized power for a brief period, in Laos last Dec. 31. They relinquished control after a week, but Brig. Gen. Phoumi Nosavan still was believed to have been the real power behind the Somsanith government.

Official communication channels with Vientiane were silent. There was no indication of any bloodshed.

One report described the rebels as a "leftist" group but informed sources said this was unlikely short of any surprise military blow by Communist Pathet Lao forces who control the northern provinces. A report from Singapore said the coup appeared "more rightist than leftist."

The Pathet Lao guerrillas have been warring against the royal government off and on almost since the country attained independence from France in 1949.

One unconfirmed report said the rebel group intended to ban foreign military personnel in Laos.

The Laotian government has been generally considered as pro-American and the U.S. maintained a small military group there which worked with the Laotian Royal Army.

There was no immediate word from the United States Embassy in Vientiane. The ambassador there is Horace Smith, former minister in the Philippines.

Last New Year's Eve the Royal Laotian Army seized power in what generally was described as a "palace backed" bloodless coup.

It was just a year ago that the (See PREMIER, Page 3)

Congolese Units Sent To Oust Belgian Envoy

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The central Congolese government today decreed a state of emergency throughout the nation and sent troops to expel Belgian Ambassador Jean van den Bosch and his staff.

The decree followed the U.N. Security Council action in New York ordering Belgium to withdraw its troops immediately from "seceded" Katanga province.

Under the decree, gatherings of more than five persons were prohibited. Curfew will be imposed between dusk and dawn.

Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba was taking quick action to combat unrest with his leadership and secession fever that grew while he was out of the country. He returned only Monday night.

The decision to expel Van den Bosch enforced a break in diplomatic relations with Belgium which Lumumba announced July 16 but which Belgium has ignored.

The Lumumba government announced also that Belgian consulates in Coquilhatville, Luluabourg, Stanleyville, Bukavu, Matadi and Elizabethville would be closed today.

It was considered unlikely, however, the government could enforce this order outside Leopoldville province because of its lack of authority in other Congo areas.

U. N. Orders Troops To Katanga; Belgians Told To Leave Congo

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press International
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The Security Council early today authorized Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to send the United Nations force into the Congo's secessionist Katanga Province. It called upon Belgium to withdraw its troops from Katanga "immediately."

The vote, on a Tunisian-Ceylonese resolution, was 9-0 with France and Italy abstaining.

It came at 4 a.m. e.d.t. at the end of a marathon session that started at noon Monday with interruptions only for meals. The total meeting time was 11 hours and 37 minutes.

The crisis session was called by Hammarskjöld to consider the threat of Katanga President Moise Tshombe to meet the entry of U.N. troops into his province with shooting.

Immediately after the vote Hammarskjöld made plans to return to the Congo about midnight tonight to resume direct charge of the explosive situation.

Hammarskjöld warned the Security Council, in what some observers considered his most outspoken statement, that a quick solution of the Congo problem was a "question of war or peace."

"And when saying war or peace, I do not limit my perspective to the Congo!" he added.

Despite the long session, the debate was relatively restrained except for outbursts by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov.

He reiterated a Soviet offer to help the Congo militarily if necessary "to repel the aggressor." He accused Belgium of seeking to hold the rich mines of Katanga "at the will of big American monopolies which have plunged their hands into the Congo's treasure chest."

But in the end he backed down on a draft resolution of his own, saying that in view of approval of the Ceylon-Tunisia measure he would not press it to a vote.

His resolution would have "imposed on the secretary general the obligation to take decisive measures, without hesitating to use any means to that end, to remove the Belgian troops from the territory of the Congo and to put an end to acts directed against the territorial integrity of the Republic of the Congo."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said the United States was convinced the time has come for Belgium to get all its troops out of the Congo.

British Ambassador Sir Pierson Dixon expressed reservations about the resolution but did not join French Ambassador Armand Berard, council president for this month, and Italian Ambassador Egidio Ortona in abstaining.

Cubans Nationalize Electric, Oil Industries; Approve Red Pacts

By MATTHEW T. KENNY
United Press International
HAVANA (UPI)—The Cuban cabinet, meeting without Premier Fidel Castro, effectively nationalized all phases of the country's oil and electric power industries early today and ratified cloistered with three Communist nations.

The move followed a decree issued by Castro Sunday expropriating about $700 million worth of U.S.-owned properties, including the big Cuban electric company and two big oil refineries.

There was no immediate government reaction to a U.S. note protesting the seizure of the American properties.

Today's decree provided that the production, distribution and sale of oil and electric power shall in future be monopolized by the government—except that user's cooperatives may in some cases engage in distribution and sales activities.

The cabinet also ratified cultural, scientific and technical treaties with Red China, Poland and Yugoslavia and trade pacts with the United Arab Republic and Japan.

President Osvaldo Dorticos occupied the chair at the all-night cabinet meeting in place of the ailing Castro, who was reported resting somewhere in Pinar del Rio Province.

The U.S. protest note was delivered late Monday. Its text was not made public immediately.

The growing coolness of relations between the two nations was symbolized by the relatively low rank of the officials involved in the delivery of the note. Wayne Smith, third secretary of the U.S. Embassy, handed it to Manuel Yeye, chief of protocol of the Foreign Ministry.

It is usual for the ambassador, or at least the minister counselor of the embassy, to deliver notes directly to the foreign minister or his undersecretary.

(In Paris, Atlantic pact sources said the United States has asked its European allies for political, economic and moral support in its conflict with Castro's Cuba.)

The sources said the European allies apparently have assured Washington they will sell no arms to the Castro regime. It was not certain immediately whether any other restrictions would be imposed. (See CUBANS, Page 3)

Amarillo Woman Killed In Crash

AMARILLO (UPI)—A two-car head-on crash near Amarillo Monday night killed a 22-year-old Washburn, Tex., woman and seriously injured an Amarillo man.

The victim was Mrs. Barbara Buckler, who was crushed beneath the steering wheel. Seriously injured and in an Amarillo hospital was the driver of the other car, Leonard Cleo Cooper, 46.

Mrs. Buckler's two-year-old son, Michael, was not injured in the collision.

Negroes To Continue San Antonio Picketing

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Negroes planned to continue their picketing and praying today in front of a Handy Andy chain food store in protest to the chain's alleged "discrimination" in hiring Negro help.

It is believed to be the first demonstration in Texas where Negroes demand equal job opportunities.

Between 70-80 Negroes, including several ministers, paced back and forth in front of the store Monday. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which is backing the protest, said some 600 to 700 Negroes would join the group and the demonstration would go on indefinitely.

Joseph Luter, president of the San Antonio NAACP, said the protest was aimed at a policy of the chain to hire Negroes only as porters and grocery sackers.

Hubert Green Jr., an attorney for the chain, which operates 21 stores in San Antonio, said the organization "employs more than 200 members of the colored race who have made very fine employees, and we know of no discrimination against the race on the part of the Handy Andy management."

"Anyone who comes into our stores can see a number of Negro employees, particularly in this store that has been picketed and charged with discrimination."

The store being picketed is in East San Antonio, where the Negro population is heaviest. The picket line, located just off store property, failed to keep Negro patrons out of the store Monday.

Luter also announced that he was "watching closely" the results of "kneel-in" demonstrations in Atlanta designed to integrate previously all-white church congregations, and said his group may try the same thing in San Antonio.

Father Slays 3 Tots And Grandmother

WEAVERVILLE, N.C. (UPI)—A distraught father went on a shooting spree Monday night and killed four persons, including his three small children and their grandmother, when he failed to learn the whereabouts of his wife.

The gunman, Wayne R. Franks, 30, a service station attendant, also wounded his father-in-law and then attempted to commit suicide with his .32 caliber pistol.

Police said the shootings occurred after Franks visited the home of his in-laws and spent some time on the porch drinking beer.

Franks' mother-in-law, Mrs. Jerome Holcombe, 57, was strangled on the porch. Her husband was seated nearby. Franks' three children were in bed.

Suddenly Franks demanded to know the whereabouts of his wife, Lois.

"I'll kill every damn one of you, if you don't tell me," Franks shouted, and drew a pistol from his belt.

Mrs. Holcombe begged her son-in-law not to harm the children. Before she finished her plea,

Commissioners Okay $15,000 Bills Payment

The city commission approved July bills totaling $15,374.90 at its weekly meeting today.

The commission also voted to pay a $56 library bill, and $40 salaries to members of the board of equalization for the four meetings they have conducted this year.

Acting on a recommendation by Mayor Ed Myatt, the commission voted to throw out all bids and advertise for bids on bodies for garbage trucks.

The new bid date will be Aug. 30. Only one of the four bids discussed at today's meeting met city specifications, and the commissioners felt that it was too high.

Commissioner Leon Holmes attended today's meeting, his first since June 17. He has been in Arizona, resting under doctor's orders.

Rustlers Hit Bexar County Cattlemen

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Sheriffs officers and Texas Rangers said today cattle rustlers have made off with from 46 to 50 head of cattle in night raids during the past six weeks in Bexar county.

Heaviest recent loss was to retired Gen. Harry Johnson, who lost six stocker cattle in the past week from his ranch on South Flores Road near San Antonio.

Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Delesdernier said the rustlers may be in two separate gangs, operating in south, southeast and southwest sections of Bexar county.

One of the gangs slaughters the cattle, taking only the hindquarters, and the other uses flashlights to blind cattle and calves to make them easier to take, the deputy said.

'Radio Mirror' Satellite Shot Is Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The federal space agency today postponed because of technical difficulties the launching of a 100-foot diameter "radio mirror" balloon satellite.

No details of the troubles were released. The shot was rescheduled for early Wednesday.

The satellite was to have been launched aboard a Thor-Delta three-stage rocket before dawn today. The difficulties arose when the "countdown" reached T minus 25 minutes.

The balloon, named Echo I, is designed to circle earth about 1,000 miles up to enable scientists to experiment with bouncing radio signals. Scientists believe a series of Echo-type balloons could open the door to worldwide television and telephone communications within the next few years.

Herter Expected To Blast Castro Over Seizures

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was expected to sound a strong new protest today against Cuba's seizure of more American-owned property.

Herter scheduled a news conference today. The growing split between Fidel Castro's regime and the United States was likely to be a prime topic of questioning. He also was certain to be asked about the Congo crisis as well as other international matters.

The State Department Monday accused leaders of the Castro government of "cutting off their own nose to spite our face" in seizing $700 million in American-owned property over the weekend.

Department spokesman Lincoln White described the action as "a calculated plan to destroy the economic benefits which these enterprises brought to the Cuban people."

Franks shot her through the head. He then turned the gun on his father-in-law, hitting him in the shoulder. Holcombe leaped from the porch and ran for help while Franks pegged two more shots after him.

The police said Franks then entered the house and turned the pistol on his three sleeping children. He then pulled out a pen-knife and stabbed two of the children "several times in the heart."

Five-year-old Diane died as she lay in her bed. Her brothers, Wayne Jr., 4, and Johnny, 3, died a few hours later at an Asheville hospital.

Franks then walked back out onto the porch where his mother-in-law lay dead and turned the gun on himself. He was reported in critical condition.

A house guest, Russ Hennard of Chicago, escaped the shootings only because he went to his automobile for clean clothes. Hennard told Deputy Sheriff W. E. Gibson he heard Mrs. Holcombe beg Franks not to harm the children, then several shots rang out and he ran for help.

Helicopter Is Said To Be One Of Safest Modes Of Air Transport

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The crash of a passenger-carrying helicopter in Chicago recently put the "whirly-birds" in an unaccustomed spotlight. In the following dispatch, a veteran aviation writer discusses these unconventional aircraft and their safety record.)

By ROBERT J. SERLING
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you want to get purely technical about it, the helicopter is 407 years older than the airplane.

The Wright brothers first flew in 1903. But in 1496, Leonardo Da Vinci published a design for a flying machine that looked remarkably like the modern helicopter—even to its flying characteristics.

It took another 442 years for Da Vinci's contraption to achieve reality. The first workable helicopter was built in 1938. Since then, they have become the world's most versatile aircraft.

Copters are simultaneously the ugliest and safest airborne vehicles ever built. With their complete absence of wings and their big, awkward rotor blades, they seem about as capable of flight as an out-sized brick. But their very design contains built-in safety factors that no conventional aircraft can match.

A helicopter operates simply by pushing the air with its rotor blades. The pilot manipulates the blades according to what direction he wants — forward, backward, straight up and straight down.

If he wants to descend, he flattens the angle of the blades. To climb, he adjusts the blades so they push the air down. To go forward, he tilts the blades in the direction of flight. If an engine fails, he can glide safely to the ground so long as he has forward motion; the rotor blades turn almost as fast as if there still were power.

The first whirly-bird used transmission gears from a Mack truck, and had virtually no forward speed. The latest models can cruise 130 miles per hour and there are copters on the drawing board designed to top 200 m.p.h.

There are two main types. One is the single rotor helicopter, with one set of blades mounted in the center of the fuselage, and smaller blades at the rear which turn in the opposite direction to offset the "torque" or pull of the main blades. The second type is the tandem or two-rotor copter with giant blades at both ends of the fuselage. The latter is supposed to be easier to control—just as if you had a golf bag with handles at both ends instead of in the center.

Are copters safe? The Chicago crash was the first fatal accident involving a passenger-carrying helicopter since they were put into service between Midway and O'Hare airports in Chicago in 1956. Last year, the three scheduled helicopter airlines, Los Angeles Airways, Chicago Helicopter Airways, and New York Airways, carried nearly 300,000 passengers. The Chicago company alone operates 149 flights daily, compared to only 16 four years ago.

Power's Parents Enroute To Trial

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — The father and mother of U-2 spy pilot Francis Gary Powers fly to Washington today on the second leg of their journey to the Soviet Union for their son's espionage trial next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Powers, who left their Pound, Va. home Sunday, were expected to meet Norton businessman Sol Cury and Dr. Lewis K. Ingram, Mrs. Powers' personal physician, at Washington.

Cury and Ingram, who flew to Washington Sunday night, will accompany the Powers to Moscow. Ingram will look after the health of Mrs. Powers, who has a heart condition.

altitude of 20,000 meters (65,616 feet) over the following route: Peshawar, the Sea of Aral, Sverdlovsk, Kirov, Archangel, Murmansk and (was to) land at the military air base at Bodoe, Norway.

In an emergency, Powers was to have landed at Sodanya airfield in Finland or in Swegen, the indictment said.

Tass quoted the indictment as having once more proved that American military bases set up on the territories of certain foreign states constitute a danger to peace and the security of nations.

The indictment said the U.S. central intelligence office recruited Powers in April, 1956, "to carry out special reconnaissance missions in specially equipped high altitude aircraft."

"Powers was warned that for divulging information on the activities of the American intelligence service he is liable to be punished by 10 years in jail or fined $10,000, or both," the indictment said.

"Powers testified that for fulfilling the espionage assignments of the American intelligence service he received a monthly base pay of $2,500 as compared with the $700 he received while serving in the U.S. Air Force."

Demos Warn Union's Vote Not Certain

DALLAS (UPI)—Jerry Holleman, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, urged labor Monday not to allow itself to be taken for granted by the Democratic party.

"I would never suggest that we sink to the level of some of our enemies who take delight in betraying the Democratic party," he said. "But in the future, I propose we only make specific commitments for certain purposes and for certain periods of time."

Holleman, keynote speaker for the AFL-CIO state convention, challenged union member to "act with vision and boldness" in "returning Texas to its liberal tradition."

He told the 600 delegates attending the three-day convention that one of the problems in the past has been that "we were so completely committed to the Democratic party and its nominees that the party has taken us for granted."

He charged state government is deteriorating.

"Political morality in our state is at an all-time low," he said. "We have seen our state of Texas devoted to the service of the corporations at the expense and neglect of the nine million souls the state is supposed to represent."

Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) urged the delegates to support the Democratic ticket in November "not as union men, but as Americans."

He said under a GOP administration, the United States has been on the defensive.

"I think the Democrats will give us the offensive," he said. He added he was trying to dispel the idea that "it is unpatriotic to see where the country has failed."

Airline Service Survey Begun By Chamber

The Chamber of Commerce is conducting an airline service survey by mail. Questionnaires were mailed today from the office seeking information on the amount of business that can be expected if airline service is started in Pampa.

Pampa has already applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for service and has submitted a brief in support of the request. The survey results will be made a supplementary argument.

A hearing will be held before the chief examiner of CAB in September of October. A decision is not expected before next year.

The questionnaire that was sent out asks for the number of trips by plane made to the major cities cited in the application in the last 12 months and the number of trips expected to be made in the next 12 months if service is available to Pampa.

Cities mentioned are Dallas, Ft. Worth, Wichita Falls, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, El Paso, Midland, Odessa, Lubbock, New York City, Chicago, New Orleans, Boston, Washington, D.C., Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Denver and Los Angeles.

Fact Or Fiction? — By Playwright Rogers

Burnt Toast
Chit-chat at a Moscow breakfast table:

MRS. K. Good morning, dear. My, you look grumpy as an old bear this morning.

MR. K. Now you know very well I'm supposed to look like an old bear — what would all those decadent Western cartoonists do if I looked like Cupid?

MRS. K. Well, you'll feel better when you get to work. I'm sure there'll be plenty of capitalists needing to be buried.

MR. K. Maybe so, mama, but I don't know. It isn't easy being a menace day in and day out. It takes a little initiative. Coming up with new ways to be nasty all the time can get pretty tough.

MRS. K. Oh, you'll think of something. That last plane you shot down was a real stroke of genius.

MR. K. Yeah, but that's getting to be a pretty old dodge. And those Americans made me look kinda silly at the UN, proving the plane was really over international waters and all that. I guess they caught on after the U-2 business.

MRS. K. Why don't you just stir up a riot someplace? That's always fun, and it cheers you up so.

MR. K. But I've done that already — Japan, South America, Turkey, Korea — and that's getting pretty dull lately. Besides, school starts again pretty soon and you can't expect those professors to let students keep cutting classes forever. Incidentally, what would really cheer me up is a little bacon for breakfast that isn't so raw.

MRS. K. But you always said it makes you more quarrelsome, dear. After all, you might want to raise a big stink about American bases today. I liked that speech Malinovsky made about using rockets against countries that allowed planes to take off from their territory.

MR. K. That shook 'em up okay but they're beginning to wise up and ignore it. What I need is a really good disappointment to throw at them. I'd break up another talk at Geneva except they're beginning to expect that now after the disarmament talks walkout. There's always that Cuban business, but even that has its drawbacks. You never know what that fuzzy revolutionist over there is likely to do next. He's beginning to be such an expert at denouncing the United States that it makes me look bad. If that little pipsqueak thinks he's going to put me in the shade just because he's got more hair he's got another thing coming. Things look pretty bleak all the way around.

MRS. K. What about all those struggling classes that are being exploited in the underdeveloped countries you've been shining up to lately?

MR. K. I've been working on that. Did you see that attack I had Pravda make against the United Nations in the Congo—the one that accused the United States of being behind the whole thing?

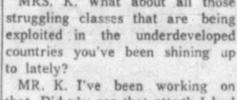

MRS. K. Yes, but wasn't that kind of far-fetched? After all, the troops were all Africans.

MR. K. I guess so, but it looked good at home here. Got to keep the folks guessing, you know.

MRS. K. Yes, but you know what Lenin said: "You can fool all of the people some of the time, some of the people all of the time, and send the rest to Siberia."

MR. K. You sound like a Stalinist. After all, this African situation offers a great opportunity not just at home. Chaos and confusion are always wonderful for us as long as it's somewhere else. Those people down there are pretty inexperienced too, so it's not a total loss. The trouble is I don't know whether to be palsy-walsy or a stinker about it. We can try to get the Belgians out of there first. That looks good to the Congolese.

and will probably paralyze the whole area. Still, it's pretty awful not to have anything new to throw a tantrum about.

MRS. K. The League of Women Tractor Drivers passed another world peace resolution yesterday. Maybe it would be a good time to spread that around.

MR. K. Those women ought to keep their noses out of politics, always talking about peace when I'm talking about war and talking about war when I'm talking about peace. They're worse than Eisenhower sometimes. He's always talking about understanding when I am talking about war and talking about understanding when I'm talking about peace. It's frustrating.

MRS. K. At least he'll be gone soon.

MR. K. Yeah, but they'll get somebody just as bad. They'll probably keep right on in Berlin. The truth is that there just doesn't seem to be anything that hasn't been tried yet, but I hate to keep doing the same old things.

MRS. K. I suppose so. I'll just keep plugging away. It's just that I get discouraged with the same old business. Oh well, another day another ruble. And mama, I wish you'd try not to burn the toast anymore.

Missile Base Lag May Bring Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Military Operations subcommittee is considering a full-scale investigation to discover why construction of some Atlas missile bases is lagging by as much as five or six months.

The subcommittee hopes to begin hearings within the next few weeks on the potentially serious delays in the building of the launching pads for the intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Subcommittee staff director Herbert Roback told United Press International today that Chairman Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) hoped to schedule the hearings either during or immediately after post-convention session of Congress.

Roback, just back from an investigation of building delays in the Atlas complex at Offutt Air Force Base, Neb., said the subcommittee planned to study all facets of the Army Corps of Engineers-Air Force management team responsible for building the launching pads.

"If you don't have a launching pad," he said, "what's the good of a missile?"

NO PEEKING
LONDON (UPI) — "If I am found guilty, every male in this country has got to be very, very careful," Samuel Fletcher, 42, told a magistrate Wednesday.

Despite his plea, Fletcher was fined $5.50 for loitering in a subway station in order to peek at women's legs as they went up the stairs.

Traffic Light Approved For Francis-West

A motion to recommend to the City Commission that a traffic light be installed at the Francis and West streets intersection was passed unanimously yesterday at a Traffic Commission meeting.

A light was thought to be the best solution to the problem because something is needed to move both automobile and pedestrian traffic. Both streets are now main thoroughfares to the downtown section, said the commission. And on Sunday especially there is a lot of pedestrian traffic because of the location of the First Baptist Church. A study on the situation indicated the necessity of the light.

A way to get the city traffic lights better synchronized was also discussed at the brief meeting.

Attending the meeting were: James Hart, Commission president; Jim Conner, police chief; Jiggs Cooke, director of city public works; and Bob Hudson, Claude Wilson and Lillian Jordan, commission members.

State Meet

Gerald Sims, commander of Pampa's American Legion Post will leave Thursday for the Texas American Legion convention at Dallas.

Sims said that so far as he knew he would be the only Legionnaire from this city attending the August 12 through 14 affair.

This, the 42nd state convention of the ex-servicemen's group, will be the largest ever, according to Lawrence L. Melton of Dallas, General chairman of the session.

The convention will officially open at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Baker Hotel, with Department Commander Donald L. Paters presiding.

Principal speaker will be Congressman Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Other nationally known speakers will be Rabbi Robert I. Kahn, national chaplain of the Legion; Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry of Austin, and Willard Brandt, national vice commander from North Dakota.

Election of officers will close out the convention at noon Sunday.

Senate Approves
Antarctica Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate leaders hoped for a vote today on ratification of the 12-nation Antarctica treaty but only after spirited opposition and considerable debate.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) urged all senators wishing to speak on the treaty to be ready for the wind-up debate. The Senate took up the treaty Monday as the first business of its post-convention session.

The pact, strongly endorsed by President Eisenhower, would "freeze" all territorial claims on the antarctic continent and set it aside for peaceful scientific research for at least 30 years.

The treaty was signed by Russia, Britain, France, Japan, South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, Argentina, Chile, Belgium and Norway as well as the United States.

Ammonia promotes peak wheat production from start to finish

Leading West Texas farmers like DAVID ACKER put down 120 lbs. ammonia per acre on wheat land

David Acker of Nazareth, who farms 400 acres, says: "I wouldn't put in a wheat crop without applying ammonia. Phillips 66 Ammonia promotes vigorous plant growth... good color... larger heads... bigger yields. I put my ammonia down at the rate of 120 pounds per acre, usually around the end of August."

"On maize land, I put down about 100 pounds of ammonia per acre. Last year on 165 acres I averaged 5800 pounds per acre, after a 1000 to 1500-pound hail loss," he reports.

Thousands of Texas farmers are using Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre. Actual field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) boosts wheat and small grain yields (2) increases maize yields (3) produces more high grade cotton (4) improves forage production.

See your local Phillips 66 Ammonia Distributor now. You can depend on better ammonia service.

Top 3 Candidates On Hand At Senate Session

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican and Democratic presidential nominees begin displaying their political talents in the Senate today in preparation for the fall election campaigns.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP nominee, was ready to gavel the Senate into session at noon e.d.t. as its presiding officer. Seated at a backrow desk will be Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate.

Nixon planned a private breakfast meeting at his home with two or three cabinet members and top campaign aides before going to his office at the Capitol. Kennedy was expected to arrive at his Senate office about 10:30 a.m., e.d.t. His aides promised to keep newsmen well briefed on his activities during the new session.

The Democratic nominee returned to Washington shortly before midnight from Hyannis Port, Mass., where he had been vacationing at his summer home and mapping campaign strategy following his nomination.

Speaking briefly to well-wishers at the airport, Kennedy again called for action on the Democrats' "must" legislative program including medical care for the aged, housing, an increase in the minimum wage, foreign aid and aid to education.

Kennedy was asked if his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, would accompany him to Hawaii and Alaska on his first campaign swing starting about Sept. 1.

He replied that it depended in part on the date of ground-breaking ceremonies for the new East-West university in Hawaii. Johnson plans to attend the ceremonies.

"If it is at the same time," Kennedy said, "I hope we will go together."

Nixon returned Saturday morning from Seattle, Wash., to complete a four-day 11,000-mile opening campaign trip that took him to Nevada, Southern California and Hawaii.

The Republican presidential candidate made it clear Sunday he did not intend to make public statements during his campaign.

SIGN LOSES BUSINESS

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, England (UPI)—Dr. Eric St. John Lyburn said Thursday he plans to sue the town council because of a group of municipally-erected signs that point straight at his house.

The signs read, "Cemetery—Kent and Sussex Crematorium."

"People take one look at them and say, 'I'll steer clear of that doctor,'" Lyburn said. He claimed the signs have cost him $14,000 in lost business.

a letter in which Jack Hall, Hawaiian chief of Harry Bridges' Longshoremen's Union, laid down conditions for backing the GOP ticket.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said the hand-written memorandum outlined Hall's demands for throwing his support to the Republicans. Hall has said he could not support Kennedy.

Contempt Charges Eyed In Bankruptcy

DALLAS (UPI)—A federal bankruptcy referee was trying to determine today if uranium promoter John Milton Addison is in contempt and refusing to tell amendment for pleading the fifth amendment and refusing to tell who he borrowed money from.

Addison acknowledged Monday he owes "commercial" firms $37,941, but said if he filed a list of "lenders" from whom he has borrowed money, it might tend to incriminate him and would violate his constitutional rights.

Besides the involuntary bankruptcy proceedings now being handled by Federal Bankruptcy Referee Elmore Whitehurst, Addison is under federal criminal indictment.

Whitehurst ordered Addison to file a complete list of creditors by Monday. Through his attorney, Lester May, Addison said he owed $23,450 to an Idaho Springs, Colo., service station, $3,600 to the Dallas Aero Service and 1,200 to Western Airlines.

He admitted it was not a complete list of commercial indebtedness, but claimed it was the best he could compile because some of his business records were in the hands of associates and law enforcement agencies.

Whitehurst said he would have to determine whether Addison's point about self-incrimination were valid, or whether he could be held in contempt.

May, meanwhile, charged state officials made an "illegal search and seizure" of Addison's records of McLean, by holding open house.

Mrs. Marjorie Back is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Anita, to Johnny Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Day. Wedding date is August 12.

last June in San Antonio, and there is "reason to believe that information obtained in that illegal seizure has been made available to federal agencies investigating Addison."

A San Antonio judge held the records had been seized illegally, and May cited a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that held such evidence obtained cannot be admitted in federal court as evidence.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 9, the 222nd day of the year, with 144 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Mercury.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1592, the father of angling, Isaak Walton, was born.

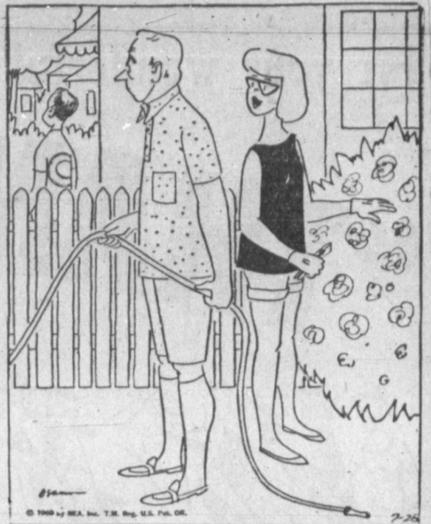

In 1831, the first train in the U. S. to be drawn by a steam locomotive made its run between Albany and Schenectady, N.Y.

In 1902, Queen Victoria's son, the Prince of Wales, was crowned King Edward VII of Great Britain, following his mother's death.

In 1945, the second atom bomb was dropped on Nagasaki, killing 40,000, injuring 80,000.

Thought for today: British author Isaak Walton said: "As no man is born an artist, so no man is born an angler."

Airman In Repeat Theft; Same Cop Puts Him In Jail

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—It was the same song, second verse, and a heck of a coincidence for policeman Bill Baker and the serviceman he arrested in a stolen car Monday.

Baker arrested Airman Robert A. Shea of Denver, Colo., for driving the hot auto. He had arrested Shea one week ago too, on the same day, at the same time of day, driving the same direction, in the same block of the same street, and, of course, in the same city.

Shea was given the same cell and the same charges of theft over $50 were filed against him.

Shea is the native name of Finland.

235 GENERALS RETIRE

ISTANBUL (UPI)—Defense Minister Fahri Ozdilek Wednesday announced the retirement of 235 generals. Ozdilek said the retirements were carried out with the aim of having a "young" army. He said those retired included himself and the commander-in-chief of the army general staff, Gen. Ragib Gumuspa.

Smokeless powder was invented in 1884 and had replaced gunpowder for use in firing shells by the early 1900s.

Don't Believe It. Let's Double Check It'

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

CHICAGO (NEA) — There was a party in Vice President Rockefeller's office on Christmas Eve. The order of the moment was business — presidential business. Two hours he and his aides over 1960 plans. Lightly shrugged off reports that Nelson Rockefeller of New York might pull out. They dwelt on problems of the various parties.

good fight of it. Nixon leaders think Rockefeller committed himself too heavily to opinion polls which never swung his way. They also believe he was unrealistic to imagine that in a few short swings around the country, he could break into the overwhelming party support Nixon had built up over years.

him—near at hand, relatively liberal in tone. As things went, Nixon hung up a good score in New Hampshire, besting Mr. Eisenhower's 1956 total, 9,000 votes. But then came a stumble in Wisconsin, where his 339,000 was outpaced by both his rivals on the Democratic side, Sens. John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey.

Again, they issued out of hand any thought Rockefeller might quit. When the withdrawal announced came, Nixon telephoned again. "I don't believe it," said. "Let's double check it." The Nixon camp was truly amazed. The Vice President called her office conference for Monday, Dec. 28, to assess the new situation. Houston Delays Desegregation; Judge To Act

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Houston School Board met Monday night and decided to take no action on a federal court order calling for the school district to begin desegregating immediately until the judge spells out exactly what he means. U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally met with attorneys Monday and said he would hand down a "clarification order" Wednesday and end the confusion about the integration order he issued last week. Last Thursday, he branded the "salt and pepper" plan of integration offered by Houston as a "palpable sham and subterfuge" and ordered it to begin desegregating next month, starting with the first grade. Dragonflies do not have stingers and are perfectly harmless.

Letters Favor Acceptance, Nixon Reports

(End of Series)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's office claimed today his Chicago acceptance speech has brought an overwhelmingly favorable flood of 24,000 letters and telegrams.

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, gave no detailed breakdown. He said the letters are continuing to come into Nixon's Washington headquarters at the rate of 2,000 a day.

Klein said "only a few" critical letters were in the flood of mail. He said the letters were sent by Democrats and independents as well as Republicans and arrived from all parts of the United States plus Europe, Latin America, Japan, Hong Kong and the Near East.

GOP presidential candidate Nixon and his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, found themselves somewhat tied down by their legislative duties in the pre-election congressional session. Kennedy was scheduled to attend a meeting of the Senate Labor Committee which is considering legislation to permit picketing at construction sites where several contractors are involved. Kennedy is chairman of the committee's subcommittee on labor legislation.

Nixon and Senate Republican leaders arranged to go to the White House for a breakfast session with President Eisenhower on legislative problems of the politically-charged congressional session.

Afterward, the vice president had appointments with Milton Baker, Pennsylvania GOP chairman, Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), who is seeking reelection, and Walter Kennedy, a New Jersey candidate for a House seat.

Amarilloan Killed By Gun Accident

LUDLOWVILLE, N. Y. (UPI)—Walter Beyeler, 45, of Amarillo, Tex., and Lansingville, N. Y., was the victim of a "fast draw" shown by his nephew Sunday.

Beyeler was fatally wounded at the Alfred Bates residence here, when his nephew, Raymond Boles, 21, of Ludlowville, was demonstrating to the Texan his "fast draw" technique.

The pistol Boles was using was believed to have been empty, but it was loaded.

The weapon went off and the Texan was shot in the stomach. He died at 5:30 p. m.

State police said Boles and a companion had been using the pistol for target practice and in trying out their "quick draw" ability.

OFFERING NEW DEGREE

TV Spook Joins British Family For Nightly Shows

LONDON (UPI)—History's first television-viewing ghost flitted eerily around the home of George Leek and his family today waiting for its nightly fare of private eye and Western programs.

The ghost—invisible but given to making chuckling noises—joined the TV circle at the Leek household in the town of North Shields several months ago.

The visitation alarmed the Leeks but they could not find another apartment so they accepted the haunt as a sort of unwelcome lodger and told only a few close friends about it. But in ghosts, as in humans, familiarity apparently breeds contempt. The spook advanced from simply making sounds to touching the Leeks—George and his wife, Margaret, 46, their daughter, Vivian, 16, and baby David.

"The noises were bad enough but this is going too far," snapped Mrs. Leek as she marched off to ask her local vicar, the Rev. Clement White, to conduct a rite of exorcism.

White listened to her story and agreed to help, if he could. "There is a set procedure in cases like this and I will follow it," he said.

Mrs. Leek implied that if the service did not work she would ask the town council to provide her with new quarters.

"The ghost bothers us night and day," she said. "Why on one occasion I was admiring a woman's hat on an afternoon television show when it brushed right across my face."

"This awful spook will drive us all to destruction."

The Leek phantom may have its place in psychic literature. It is the first reported in connection with television viewing. It is one of the very few ghosts alleged to haunt a new house—the apartment building is only three years old.

Local wags have suggested that if the Leeks fail to drive their tele-spirit away they should charge it a pro rata share of the $11 a year they pay for a television viewing license.

State Asks Clergyman

To Surrender

EDINBURG (UPI)— Authorities said today a young Catholic priest accused of trying to rape a pretty college coed can't flee the country and the next move is for him to surrender.

District Attorney Robert Lattimore disclosed Monday that the attorney for the priest, father John B. Feit, 27, telephoned him from California and said he would be surrendered to authorities in about three weeks.

Fred Semaan, a prominent San Antonio criminal lawyer, telephoned Lattimore from La Jolla, Calif., where he is vacationing. Lattimore said he was told that Semaan had put Rev. Feit in an out-of-state hospital, and refused to disclose the location.

Semaan said he took the priest "out of the jurisdiction of the Catholic church" to put him in the hospital. Lattimore said he is confident that the church is not trying to hide him.

The district attorney said he isn't disturbed about Semaan saying he won't hand over Feit for three weeks.

"I can't question him any further, even if I had him here, until his attorney gets here (from his vacation)," Lattimore said. "The courts won't open until September. He can't leave the country. All ports of exit are closed to him. So I'm not disturbed."

Besides the attempted rape, Father Feit has been a suspect in the rape slaying of Irene Garza, a former beauty queen who taught school at McAllen, about 10 miles from Edinburg. She was kidnaped and killed last April 15 on her way to church.

It was a few weeks before the Garza killing that Maria Guerra, 20, a student at Pan American College, said a man crept up behind her as she knelt to pray in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Edinburg, covered her face with a towel or handkerchief and tried to ravish her.

She said she bit the finger of her attacker, and he fled. She signed a statement naming Feit. Lattimore questioned Feit extensively earlier about the Garza killing. He denied any knowledge of it.

Inquest Ordered In Texan's Death

LARIMIE, Wyo. (UPI)—An inquest into the death of an Abilene, Tex., oil worker was to be conducted here today.

The inquest was ordered to investigate the circumstances leading to the death of Edward J. Stastny, 42, who died here Aug. 3 at Ivinson Hospital.

Stastny's two Laramie roommates, Lemuel Manford Jones, 34, and J. J. McDonald, 40, have been jailed as a result of the investigation.

Stastny reportedly was involved in two fights on July 30 with one of the men. Sheriff Ted Burnstad said Stastny is believed to have fought with Jones and that McDonald apparently was not involved.

Darlene Hobbs Circle Presents Topic For Central Baptist Royal Service Meet

Women's Missionary Union of Central Baptist Church met in the church Wednesday for a Royal Service Program on Japan entitled "Carest Thou Not?" presented by the Darlene Hobbs Circle.

Circle members presented the program dressed in Japanese kimonos and robes, "coolie" hats, while seated on pillows around a long, low tea table, Mrs. Stanley Stein, circle chairman, was assisted in presenting the program by Meses McClendon, J. H. Reeves, Jay Thompson, L. G. McDaniel, and Jack Cullison. Prayer calendar was read and prayer offered by Mrs. Robert Callahan.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Shortly after graduating from an exclusive boarding school, Nancy W, the younger daughter of some friends of ours, entertained a group of teen-age classmates in her parents' New York City apartment.

The business meeting, preceding the program, was opened by group singing of "I Love to Tell the Story" led by Mrs. Don Turner. Mrs. T. O. Upshaw, vice president, presided at the business meeting as reports were given by Mrs. Ralph Prock secretary; Mrs. Harold McCleery, treasurer; and Mrs. Leon Brown, community missions.

By week's end their wants had been revealed as a little more extensive.

The W's young guests demanded meals at all hours. They left their bathrooms untidy, their beds unmade, their shopping litter piled in the hall. They made endless telephone calls and received endless messages.

They raised their hosts' liquor cabinet for their dates without asking permission and generally behaved as though other people had been born for the sole purpose of serving their convenience.

The evening after their departure, Nancy's exhausted mother was describing the ordeal to a group of friends.

"I have never," she said, "seen such inconsiderate young people in my life."

Her older daughter laughed. "That's not their fault, Mother," she said. "You grownups have given my generation nothing to resist. All we've been given is softness and permissiveness."

"Those kids weren't bad kids. They just couldn't imagine there being any resistance in you and dad to the way they used you."

I agreed with her. I, too, think that children cannot make moral development without parental resistance to exploitative demands.

By indulging a child's every wish we can reduce him to moral flabbiness just as we reduce a toddler to physical flabbiness by keeping him in his crib. Its soft, permissive mattress will retard his ability to walk. His leg muscles have no solid firmness to push against. But when we remove him from the yielding mattress to the floor, its firmness resists the pressure of his leg muscles.

Other items on the agenda for the meet are: tour of Albuquerque; workshops; a play, produced by the University drama department; a smorgasbord supper; and a Latin Banquet, where only those in Roman dress will be admitted.

Like the W's self-centered young guest, they lose the ability to question their demands by taking other people into account.

Other making the trip are Susan Kay, resident of the local Junior Classical League, and Mrs. Lula B. Owens, sponsor of the Pampa chapter.

To them, all the world is just one big, soft mattress.

Following the business meeting, games of bingo were played and refreshments served by the hostesses, Meses Joe Crofts, Ray Burney and Billy Rape.

Take along homemade melt-in-your-mouth Maple Pralines next time you go a-visiting. Combine 1 cup maple syrup, 2 cups confectioners sugar, 1/2 cup evaporated milk and 1 tablespoon butter in a saucepan. Cook, stirring occasionally, to the softball stage (236 degrees F.) Remove; add 1 1/2 cups broken pecans and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat until creamy; drop by tablespoons onto waxed paper. Makes 10-12 large pralines.

Guests were Mrs. M. Denver and daughter, Sandra, of Duncan, Okla. Attending, in addition to those mentioned above were Meses Weldon Rogers and Bill Martin.

Polly's Quiz

Dear Polly: Not long ago I turned up some old gilt picture frames in my grandmother's attic. I think they're charming and would like to use them to frame some pictures I have. But they're black with dirt and I'm afraid to wash them. Can you tell me how to clean these old frames?—Antique Lover.

or scheme, copper accessories would be perfect.

Dear Antiquer: It sounds as if you've turned up some nice hits of Victoriana. I've had great results in cleaning picture frames by using equal parts of ammonia and denatured alcohol.

Dear Polly: We have a corner brick fireplace which turns our living room into an odd shape. What shall we do about carpeting? I prefer a room-sized rug that will fit in with Danish modern furniture. Could I use a braided oval?—Mrs. J. A. M.

Pat and dab a cloth soaked in this mixture over a small space. Then, gently wipe off the grime with a clean, soft cloth. If the surface seems dull after this cleaning, pat it with another cloth well-saturated with oil furniture polish.

The best plan is to buy a roomsize rug and ask the store to cut one corner so that it fits perfectly across the front edge of the hearth.

Dear Mrs. G. H.: What about a blue-and-white kitchen with red and pink geraniums in white pots on the window sills? White walls, Delft blue cabinets with white counter tops, linoleum that looks like red bricks and crisp white organdy curtains should make a kitchen you'll both love. For such a col-

YOUNG IDEAS
from Polly Ponds

Q: "I do not have a good complexion and would like to know what kind of make-up would help conceal it best."

A: You'll be wise if you depend on color rather than heaviness in make-up to fade the appearance of your blemishes. A thick, clogging cosmetic mask might only serve to irritate your skin.

Q: "Choose a powder and foundation-in-one in other words, a compressed powder that gives total covering powder with one very light application. Shades with tan undertones will help make blemishes less noticeable."

A: On special occasions, match your powder and foundation-in-one with a tinted liquid base in exactly the same shade. Apply it over your entire face, smooth it in with your fingertips, then pat on your compressed powder.

League Members Attend Convention

Five members of the Pampa High School Junior Classical League and their sponsor left yesterday for the organization's national convention in Albuquerque, N.M.

The conference, which ends Thursday, is being held on the campus of the University of New Mexico. About 700-800 students are expected to attend from throughout the United States.

Kristi Brown is the official delegate from this chapter, and Vince Johnson, derivative mythology I, Jim Stephenson, derivative mythology II, and Jerry Ford, derivative mythology I, will enter the translation contests.

Johnson will also enter the "Olympics" in which all contestants must dress in Roman Olympic dress.

Other items on the agenda for the meet are: tour of Albuquerque; workshops; a play, produced by the University drama department; a smorgasbord supper; and a Latin Banquet, where only those in Roman dress will be admitted.

Other making the trip are Susan Kay, resident of the local Junior Classical League, and Mrs. Lula B. Owens, sponsor of the Pampa chapter.

Dear Abby...

Let Wife See Not All Babies Are In Cradles
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife used to hold onto his arm.

DEAR ABBY: When I left my office job to be married, the other girls took me to dinner at a local nightclub. There were 8 single girls at our table. The music started and a nice-looking young man came to our table and asked me to dance.

Since I was the guest of honor and my reason for being there was my coming marriage, I didn't feel like dancing with a stranger. So I told him I would rather not, and I asked him if he wanted to dance with one of the other girls. He replied, "No, I want to dance with YOU." I told him again I'd rather not. He thanked me courteously and went away. Did I do the right thing? How should I have handled the situation? It was terribly embarrassing.

GUEST OF HONOR
DEAR GUEST: Forget it. You did the right thing. CONFIDENTIAL TO "EXPERIENCE": No man with a spark of manhood will violate the chastity of the woman he loves. When your boyfriend begins making advances on the plea that "we are going to get married anyway", it is time to get rid of him. He does not love you.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem simple but it is annoying. When my husband and I walk together he is always two or three steps ahead of me unless I hold onto his arm. People have told me they saw us on the street together and they wanted to know if we were mad at each other. He is a great big guy and I am small with little short legs, so I can't walk as fast as he can. But I would like to know what in the heck is his big hurry? THREE STEPS BEHIND: DEAR THREE STEPS BEHIND: Ask him. And in the meantime—

"American women enjoy a period of highest status as contributing members of society between the ages of 20 to 50 years."

That's one of the findings included in a recent report from the United States Senate Subcommittee on Problems of the Aged and Aging.

The best thing that women who are still in those happy productive years can do is start figuring out how to extend the "good years" beyond 50.

Here are a few starters:—As your home duties lessen, find some kind of satisfying community work (not just busy work) that will keep you a contributing member of society.

As you begin to have a little more time of your own, find some satisfying hobby that will enrich your life. (The sooner you can start on this the better. Not everyone can get as late a start as Grandpa Moses.)

Double your efforts to strengthen old friendships and to make new ones. (A woman with friends isn't likely to be a lonely or bitter woman.)

If you can go back to work and you think you may need the money later on, try to establish yourself in a job before you get any older. (It is much easier for a woman of 40 to find employment than it is for a woman of 50.)

If you feel that your mind has grown rusty from disuse during the years when you were tied down by small children, start reading good books, make more of an rotted, she said. Mrs. Totty mentioned that cheap bulbs are usually of poor quality. Bulbs prefer well-drained sandy soil, and grow when they get long hours of direct sunlight and plenty of moisture, she said.

Plans were made for a family picnic to be held at 6 p.m., Aug. 26 at Central Park.

Plant on high or slightly sloping ground where excess water will drain away, continued Mrs. Totty. Bulbs planted in a southern climate bloom earlier, so since bulbs must have time to develop roots before winter, planting time in the Pampa handle is October. Iris should be divided and reset in August.

Mrs. Frank Totty gave the lesson on spring-flowering bulbs. She stated that calendums do well here outside if protected from strong winds. Tulips, hyacinths and daffodils also do well in this climate as do iris. She suggested that one must know types, colors and size of bulbs and the places they grow best.

Members present were Meses O. G. Smith, Shelby Hood, Odie Shiner, W. G. Kinzer, N. B. Cude, B. H. Dickerson, and O. A. Wagner.

Choose colors that harmonize with the rest of the garden, said Mrs. Totty. Choose either domestic or imported bulbs. Make sure bulbs are not diseased. Diseased bulbs look moldy, discolored, and soft.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Skinner, 324 N. Ballard, at 2:30 p.m. Sept. 2.

effort to keep up with world affairs, even go back to school if you can manage to take a college course or two, go to night school.

Pour Quick Fudge Sauce over vanilla, chocolate or peppermint ice cream for a sundae supreme. To make 1 cup sauce: cook 1 6-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces and 1/2 cup evaporated milk in a saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly until chocolate is melted and sauce is smooth. Good hot or cold. For Chocolate Peppermint Sauce, add 1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract to the sauce after removing from heat.

With imagination and effort most women can push the happy years far beyond the 50 mark. Lots of women are already doing it.

I know women in their 70s—and so probably do you—who are still living the good years because they have refused to let age defeat them.

Thanks To Jack Edmondson

Jack Edmondson, the new athletic director for the Pampa school system, certainly deserves a pat on the back and a vote of confidence.

At yesterday's school board meeting, Edmondson presented a type of "athletic" or "extra-curricular code" and asked that the board consider it for approval.

Edmondson's code is something a school system's athletic department needs, and it is this corner's feeling that if such a code is adopted and enforced, it will improve the athletic system.

In it, Edmondson defines a coach in the following manner:

"That person responsible for the direction of any extra-curricular or co-curricular activity on any grade level — including athletic activities, choral, band, dramatic and school sponsored clubs."

This, in itself, will cover just about any activity a student can participate in.

The program covers 12 points, and all of them seem basically solid, well thought-out and should, in the long run, be a definite asset to the school system.

2 Points Especially Strong

As an eighth point, Edmondson's code states:

"Students should elect their activities for participation and have the opportunity to participate in any or all activities his talent, time and interest will permit."

In another point, it is stated:

"A coach shouldn't coerce or pressure any student to elect only one activity instead of another. Broad participation should be encouraged."

In writing this, Edmondson has virtually eliminated any possibility of a coach influencing a boy to concentrate on any one sport.

This, in our opinion, is only right.

A high school student, usually around 17 or 18 years old, isn't generally mature enough to know whether he wants to concentrate on one certain sport or not. And in many instances, he hasn't developed, it is understandable why he is encouraged to participate in only one sport.

After a boy reaches the college level, it is understandable why he is encouraged to participate in only one sport.

After a boy reaches the college level, it is understandable why he is encouraged to participate in only one sport.

And too, more emphasis is placed on winning, what with crowds of up to 75,000 on hand for football games and 20,000 for basketball contests. The pressure is understandably a lot greater.

But for high school athletics, we feel that Edmondson is definitely on the right track.

And that the school board made a wise choice when it named Edmondson athletic director.

Grid Fans Due For Surprise

We met Sharon Haralson for the first time at yesterday's school board meeting and were duly impressed.

He is president of the Harvesters Quarterback Club, and he said plans were beginning to shape up for making this year's club one of the biggest and best yet.

Since Babe Curfman came to Pampa he has gained a large following, and rightfully so.

It's readily apparent that the Babe has a vast knowledge of football fundamentals, and the ability to teach them to his players.

But more important, he has an uncanny knack for being a leader, especially among his players. They listen to his advice, and they seem to like him.

If you don't think so, just drop by his home some night.

It's very seldom that at least one of his players or ex-players isn't sitting in the back yard, absorbing the Curfman philosophy.

This year the Harvesters have the potential to surprise a lot of fans during the district race. From all indications, especially those the players gave in the Future-Exes game, it's almost certain that no team will embarrass them this fall.

It is the general opinion of football fans that it takes three years for a new coach to build a winning team, and this is Curfman's third year at Pampa.

When Paul (Bear) Bryant took over as head coach at Texas A&M, he built a title contender inside of three years.

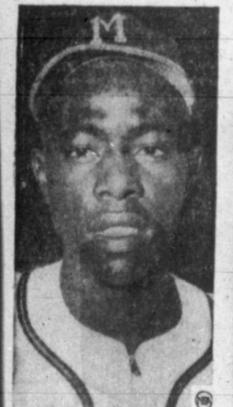

But even the Bear, one of the most feared coaches in college football circles, will tell you he had a tremendous amount of luck.

Bryant had the opportunity to recruit the players he wanted.

In high school circles, the policy of recruiting is frowned upon by the Texas Interscholastic League.

You've got to take the players that come up through the junior high ranks and hope for the best.

Still, don't be surprised if the Harvesters cut a pretty fancy figure this fall.

Keep Braves Off Top

Big Guns Failing To Hit

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves know why they are not in first place, but there's not much they can do about it except wait. Henry Aaron and Eddie Mathews aren't hitting.

With the National League race all out of kilter from pre-season predictions, maybe it's just part of the crazy trend of things that two of the league's top hitters should have poor years at once.

Who would have thought at the beginning of the season that Pittsburgh would be threatening to make the pennant chase a runaway, and that St. Louis would be pushing rated contenders like Milwaukee, Los Angeles, and San Francisco out of the first division?

Who also would have thought that with two-thirds of the season gone, Aaron would be hitting .288 and Mathews .288.

One of Milwaukee's biggest problems this year is lack of late inning punch. There are several ways to measure how many games the Braves have lost in the late innings after they were ahead. The word is out that if you can get in front of the 1960 Braves late in the game, the contest is pretty well won.

The absence of come-from-behind bounce can be laid at the door of Mathews and Aaron; for the most part, and both players accept this responsibility.

White Sox Bomb Yankees, 9-1, As Pierce Continues Mastery

SPORTS

12 TUESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1960 53rd YEAR

Fans Welcome Grapplers Back

A crowd of about 400, and about 10 times that many boos welcomed wrestling back to the Top O' Texas Sportsmen Club last night.

The boos came when Iron Mike DiBiase was disqualified 16 minutes and 35 seconds deep in the main event. And the Bronx cheers were all for Iron Mike, and not for his victorious opponent, Silent Joe Hamilton.

Hamilton had taken the first fall at 8:32 in the best of three fall match which had an hour time limit. But Iron Mike came back in less than two minutes and evened the count at a fall apiece.

Iron Mike then proceeded to pull Hamilton's hair and gouge his eyes before Hamilton threw him again. But Referee Tommy Phelps disqualified Iron Mike before he even attempted to count him out.

In the semifinals, Sonny Myer and Bob Geigel battled to a no-contest finish as Phelps disqualified both wrestlers for being out of the ring. Jack O'Reilly won the prelim over Nick Roberts on a disqualification.

Promoter Gale Clark, who was backing his first program here, said he was pleased with the crowd, even though he did sustain a "small laceration at the gate."

"I thought we had a good crowd, considering the weather conditions," Clark said.

"And I feel certain we'll have even better crowds at future programs."

Tickets for next week's matches will be put on sale at Richards Drug Thursday.

Amos Alonzo Stagg will receive the National Football Foundation's gold medal award on his 98th birthday next Tuesday, Aug. 16, for his contributions to American intercollegiate football.

Stagg, known as "the grand old man of football," will be honored at a luncheon in his home town of Stockton, Calif. The award will be presented by Chester J. Laroche, president of the National Football Foundation.

Previous recipients of the gold medal award were President Eisenhower in 1958 and Gen. Douglas MacArthur in 1959.

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit Tiger and Cleveland Indian fans are beginning to wonder if their favorite clubs have become the new "trading cousins" of the American League.

Early in the season the teams swapped batting stars, the Tigers sent Harvey Kuenn to the Indians for Rocky Colavito.

Last week it was managers, Jimmie Dykes of the Tigers went to Cleveland and Joe Gordon reported to Detroit.

Monday the teams announced that Tiger Coach Luke Appling has been sent to Cleveland and the Indians announced that Coach Jo Jo White would report to Detroit.

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentina's legendary "wild bull of the Pampas," was given a hero's funeral Monday.

Thousands of boxing fans, celebrities, admirers and friends paid their final respects to Firpo, who died Sunday of a heart attack at 65.

The "wild bull" gained worldwide fame in 1923 when he fought Jack Dempsey for the world heavyweight championship at the Polo Grounds in New York.

Firpo knocked Dempsey out of the ring in the first round but was knocked out in the following round.

Fight Obstacles Still Linger, Champion Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, before flying to Sweden early today, admitted there were still "a few obstacles" to be straightened out before he could fight Ingemar Johansson in November.

One of the obstacles, he told reporters at Idlewild Airport, is Johansson's reported desire to postpone the fight until next year because of his tax situation.

"I hope everything will be straightened out in conferences at Stockholm or Goteborg during the next couple of days," the champion said. "Then we'll all know where we're at."

Although Floyd had been hopeful of having his "rubber match" with Johansson at Los Angeles in November, he said he would be willing to wait until January or February, "but no longer than March," if Swedish Ingemar insisted upon fighting next year.

Indiana Vs. Texas

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI)—Athletic Director Frank E. Allen has announced that the Indiana football team will play Texas in 1965 and 1966 and Washington State in 1965.

SEVEN COMING TO ELEVEN—Micky Mantle (Number 7) scrambles to home plate too late, as Detroit catcher Lou Berberet (Number 11) makes the tag and goes crashing on his back in the rough action a receiver often sees.

Television To Win A.L. Championship

NEW YORK (UPI)—This is the year that television may have won the American League pennant.

There was a time when baseball scouts sweated their way through the "bushes" in search of talent. But the New York Yankee bird dogs sat comfortably in front of the magic picture box and then suggested the team pick up Luis Arroyo to stiffen a wilting bullpen.

And the "yoyo" well could be the difference between the Yankees and seven also-rans.

It all started when an adjective pitcher named Fidel Castro cut loose with so many curve balls that the Havana team of the International League was moved to Jersey City. Next, in the sequence of events, the displaced seniors found it time to entertain the Richmond club which is a Yankee farm team.

At this time, over in Yankee Stadium old Casey Stengel was jamming all 10 fingers on the panic button. The bullpen was full of crows. Ryne Duren couldn't find the plate even with his best glasses. Bobby Shantz was overworked and Duke Maas was getting murdered.

So the scouts pulled up a chair in front of the teevee set to watch their kindergarden kids from Richmond perform and ascertain whether any of them might be ready to graduate to the big leagues.

Instead, their eyes were attracted by a chunky left-handed pitcher for the erstwhile Cubans. He reminded them of Eddie Lopat, once a high class Yankee fireman. He had the same build, the same "junk," the same control and the same ability to put out rival hitters.

It was, of course, Arroyo. The Yankees nailed him and, as of the moment, he could be the difference between first place and see you next spring. "Yoyo" has saved three games, worked in one other winner and finished up the afternoon's toil for a pair of defeated throwers who had departed the premises.

Luis has been around a long while and, at 33, may not be destined to draw his old age pension at the stadium. But he could be another case such as those of Johnny Sain, Johnny Mize, Ewell Blackwell, Tom Ferrick and Country Slaughter. Each of them, after late but timely acquisition, helped the Yankees to pennants.

ROADRUNNERS SEEK NATIONAL TOURNEY BID

The Pampa Roadrunners face perhaps their biggest test of the season tonight when they go to Canyon to battle the Irrigation League All-Stars. Game time is 8 p.m.

If the Roadrunners win, they will capture a berth in a national semi-pro baseball tournament at Wichita, Kan.

But, if they lose, it's all over but the shouting, and any games manager Newt Secrest decides to schedule for the rest of the summer.

Ivan Wooten will be Secrest's choice to take the mound in the 8 p.m. contest.

"I feel certain we'll win it," Secrest said. "In fact, my prediction is that we'll win it by one run."

PARROT BOUT OUT

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—The Benny (Kid) Parrot-Don Jordan welterweight champion bout, scheduled for later this month at Seattle, has been cancelled, promoter Tommy Moyer announced Monday. Parrot won the title from Jordan earlier this year.

THE SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS—Curt Flood scores from first base on Hal Smith's double at Busch Stadium. Del Crandall of the Milwaukee Braves gets the ball too late to tag the Cardinals' fleet center fielder, Julian Javier, the second baseman who put the breath of life back into the Red Birds, makes sure Umpire Vinnie Smith calls the play correctly.

Chicago Collects 14 Hits

By GARY KALE

United Press International

Billy Pierce, passed up in the White Sox' World Series starting rotation last season, is developing a mastery over the Yankees in the hopes of realizing a lifelong ambition in this year's classic.

The Chicago southpaw defeated New York for the second straight time Monday night, 9-1, to move the White Sox to within a half game of the first place Yankees in the American League.

Pierce's newly-attained supremacy over Casey Stengel's crew gave him an 11-7 record for the season, a big improvement on the 4-15 mark of 1959 that failed to impress Al Lopez in his choice of starters in the World Series against Los Angeles. Pierce was admittedly disappointed that he did not start a game.

Chicago won its fourth straight and evened the series at 8-8 with New York as Pierce scattered four hits.

Minnie Mino and Jim Landis were the big guns in the White Sox' 14-hit attack against loser Whitey Ford and reliever Ralph Terry. Each collected three hits, Mino driving in three runs.

Mino's driving in his first run with a single in the opening inning and pushed two more across in the fifth with a bases-loaded single.

Nellie Fox hit safely in his 13th straight game as the White Sox won their fourth in a row against Ford. The Yankee southpaw lost his seventh game against seven victories.

Washington whipped Kansas City, 10-7, in the only other American League game.

National League play was limited to Milwaukee's 7-6 victory over Los Angeles and Cincinnati's 4-3 ninth-inning win over San Francisco.

Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey broke Washington's three-game losing streak as each collected four hits against Kansas City pitching. Killebrew's 14th homer of the season with a man on in the sixth iced the game for the Senators. Battey drove in four runs with a bases-loaded double in the fifth and a single in the sixth.

Rudy Hernandez, who relieved starter Hal Woodeshick in the A's two-run fifth, won his third straight game. Dick Williams' five hits and Norm Siebern's four safeties led Kansas City's attack. John Tsitouris was defeated in his first start this year.

A three-run homer by pinch hitter Wes Covington in the eighth inning enabled Milwaukee to overcome a five-run deficit and move to within five games of first place Pittsburgh in the National League.

Los Angeles, which dropped seven games off the pace, quickly ran up a 6-1 lead, but the Braves made a 6-3 in the fifth on Eddie Mathews' 23rd homer. Covington's blast capped a four-run Milwaukee rally that gave reliever George Brunet his second win. Ed Roebuck, who served up the home run ball, lost his third game.

Ed Bailey's ninth-inning homer off Mike McCormick sent San Francisco reeling to its fifth consecutive loss and eighth defeat in the last nine games. Ed Kasko, Vada Pinson and Gordon Coleman each had two hits in the Cincinnati triumph. Willie Kirkland hit his 12th homer for the Giants, but it failed to help McCormick, who lost his seventh game. Jim Brosnan finished up for Red starter Claude Osteen and won his fifth game.

Umpires Careless With Calls, Yankees' Sage Stengel Vows

CHICAGO (UPI)—Major league umpires are "careless" in calling balls and strikes, Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees charged today.

"I'd like to see them take movies of the pitches," he said, "and at the end of the season, check them over just to see how accurate they are. I'll bet they'd know then which were good umpires and which weren't."

Stengel, whose team Monday night lost 9-1 to the White Sox, wouldn't recommend use of an "electric eye" for spot umpiring during a game.

But he said the American and National leagues should get together to straighten out the interpretations so that both loops would have the same kind of umpiring.

"We play all season in the American League with the umpires working behind the plate, and we get in the World Series and the All-Star games and get National League umps who work at the side of the plate."

"If they work one place or another in the minor leagues and come up, then they've got to change. I should think that somewhere in baseball, there'd be somebody smart enough to straighten this out so we all have the same umpiring," he said.

Professional Grid Wrapup

FOREST GROVE, Ore. (UPI)—Tom Landry, head coach of the Dallas Cowboys, made four position changes Monday as he sent the squad through a relatively light workout.

He moved Bobby Cross, veteran tackle from the St. Louis Cardinals, to offensive center; line backer Bill Striegel to defensive end; rookie offensive guard Byron Bradburn to offensive tackle; and defensive end Earl Randolph to corner linebacker.

Landry said the Cowboys didn't "surprise" him in losing 16-10 Saturday to the National Football League veteran San Francisco 49ers at Seattle, but added that he was "pleased" with the team's showing and it lived up to his expectations.

Dallas will workout at the Pacific University training camp until Friday then leave for San Antonio, Tex., for the second of six scheduled exhibition games before the Cowboys' NFL opener against the Pittsburgh Steelers on Sept. 24. At San Antonio, Dallas meets the St. Louis Cardinals.

HANOVER, N.H. (UPI)—Guilford (Bill) Joyner has resigned as assistant track coach at Dartmouth to accept a post at the University of Nevada. The new position is professor of physical education and varsity cross-country coach.

LEYMOND HALL AND FORMULA 9... The nearest thing to perfect additives yet.

Hall Tire Co. Has Formula 9, Nearest To Perfect Additive

Mr. Motorist, are you looking for the nearest-perfect crankcase additive on the market today?

Then look no further than Hall Tire Co., 700 W. Foster.

At Hall Tire Co. you will find a complete display of Formula 9, the nearest thing to perfection science has devised in the way of a lubricant.

Formula 9 offers five valuable features to motorists:

- 1-Performance: Easy starting, increased power, improved acceleration, clean spark plugs, quiet operation, smooth idling, smooth slow speed operation, improved performance of vacuum equipment.
- 2-Engine temperatures — Complete fuel combustion, lower exhaust temperatures, better valve protection, lower cooling system temperature and lower crankcase temperature.
- 3-Stability of crankcase oil: Absence of hard carbon, sustained viscosity of oil, sustained oil pressure.
- 4-Operating tests: Low contamination index, low hard carbon factor, increased engine life.
- 5-Economy: Which embraces all the above factors.

Formula 9 will take your old motor and transform it into new car performance. Or if you add it to your new car, it will ensure the peak performance for years to come.

When Leymond Hall, owner of Hall Tire Co., says Formula 9 is the most perfect motor oil additive yet devised by science, he can back up his statement.

At Hall Tire Co., 700 W. Foster, Hall has a simple test he will be glad to show you.

He takes a rod, tightly enclosed in a cylinder. The rod is hard to turn.

First, Hall will add a well-known motor oil to the rod. It is still almost impossible to turn.

Next, he will lubricate the rod with another well-known motor oil additive. The results are still the same.

But when Hall adds Formula 9 to the rod, it turns easily, even though it is still enclosed in the tight cylinder.

Even after he wipes Formula 9 off the rod, you can still see the results of the penetrating lubrication the additive gives you.

Stop by Hall Tire Co. at 700 W. Foster and watch the demonstration yourself.

Then let Leymond Hall give you new car performance with Formula 9.

Nudists Prod Candidates On Divestment

NEW YORK (UPI)—The campaign is warming up. The nudists have infected an issue. The candidate will have to declare themselves on the divestment question. There can be no compromise.

The issue came into the open today when the presidential candidates were asked to speak out on a proposal for a wrap-off national inquiry into the efficacy of sunbathing in the bare as a curb to some phases of juvenile delinquency.

"We feel it is a shame that the federal government has never in any proper and extensive way looked into the values and advantages of our work in connection with a major problem affecting our society today—difficulty with the younger generation," Mrs. Zeldia Suplee, managing director of an eastern bulwark of the nudist movement, said.

"We would love to have a chance to show the candidates the wholesome way boys and girls develop in the framework of appropriate nudist activities. I feel that a study of the principle of accepting the body in its complete natural form to eliminate morbid curiosity of growing children will lessen one of the causes of juvenile delinquency."

"We don't have this type of delinquency in nudist parks."

There was no immediate reply from either camp. However, it is possible that the challenge has not yet reached them. Mrs. Suplee said she intended to send letters this week to the Republican and Democratic candidates.

Atom Bomb Victims Still Recall Injuries

EDITORS NOTE: Following is a half from the center of the bomb. Both his legs and arms were burned. His legs were disfigured. His left arm is undersized from the severe burns he received.

Mrs. Fujita recalled the moment the bomb fell 15 years ago when she was at work in Hiroshima.

"I was working in a field picking weeds when the bomb exploded," she said.

"Suddenly I saw a flash and I fell down from the impact of the blast. I was knocked unconscious. My left arm was burned by the heat and my whole body was scorched. Also the left side of my face ached.

"After five minutes I got up and began walking. The skin had peeled off my arm and blisters came out. Around me I saw hundreds of people half conscious. Many were badly hurt and crying. Some died soon after.

"Lucky for me my family had moved to the country many months before. I walked to the nearest hill and saw the railroad station burning. About 10 of my school mates were killed that day.

"When I got back home my mother squeezed the juice from potatoes and cucumbers to cool my body. For two days I felt dizzy.

"Since then I have been to the Atomic Bomb Hospital many times and also to the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission for examination."

She said that two years ago she married a man who was not from Hiroshima.

"Thankfully for me, he did not attach a stigma to my being hurt from the bomb. Then I became pregnant.

"At times I thought about the baby and was a bit melancholy while pregnant. But I got assurances from doctors that my baby had the best chance of being normal.

"Six months ago my baby was born. I was so happy when it was normal in every way. We named her Konomi (seed of tree)."

Mrs. Fujita said, "I pray there are no more atom bombs used. I hope men are wise enough not to use them."

Stocks Lag To Continue, Report Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Seeing no clues toward an improvement in corporate sales and earnings until the fourth quarter of 1966, the Fitch survey reports that any improvement in the stock market over the coming months is also unlikely.

Fitch remains convinced, however, that a significant improvement in the trend of the economy will take place after Labor Day coupled with an appreciably faster upside movement in the Dow-Jones industries.

Meanwhile, Fitch recommends investing in "recession-resistant companies or those with an unusually strong growth trend" during this period of "anticipatory market quietude."

Train-Truck Crash Is Fatal To Four

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Four persons died Monday when a 38-car Louisville and Nashville freight train slammed into a gasoline truck at a crossing near Birmingham.

Killed when the truck exploded and showered the front section of the train with flaming gasoline were engineer Albert M. Johnson, 52; brakeman Thomas D. Martin, 63; fireman Mitchell Jones, 61; and truck driver Archie M. Boothe, 35.

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir expressed hope Monday that the Soviet government would display more "understanding" about petitions from Jews who want to emigrate from Russia to Israel.

She said that in the past five years Israelis have sent more than 9,000 requests to relatives in Russia asking them to join their families in Israel. The Russians require this procedure, but turned down all the petitions, she said.

Cool Front Nips Heat; Storm Buffets Coast

By United Press International

A giant cool front moved through North Texas today and forecasters said it would drift slowly southward today and Wednesday.

The front should halt the current hot spell across the northern half of the state today.

As the front moved southward into Texas Monday night, the U.S. Weather Bureau issued a severe weather forecast for the Panhandle and the South Plains. It warned of hail and damaging winds, but expired without violence.

But a swift summer rainstorm boiled up in Corpus Christi Monday. The coastal squall sent twist-like winds sweeping across the city and caused about $3,000 in damage.

The cool front was expected to touch off thunderstorms and thundershowers in North Texas today and isolated rainfall was forecast for the entire state.

Temperatures probably will hit 100 degrees or more in South Central and Southwest Texas today, but should be in the upper 80s or low 90s elsewhere. Lows tonight will be in the 60s in Northwest Texas and the 70s elsewhere.

At dawn today, the front stretched from extreme southwest Oklahoma to 25 miles northwest of Wichita Falls to the south of Lubbock and westward into New Mexico.

A layer of clouds covered North Texas early today and the rest of the state was partly cloudy.

The violent rainstorm at Corpus Christi dumped two inches of rain.

The rain gauge at the Pampa Daily News showed .60 inch of rainfall in Pampa last night. KPDN radio station reported one-half inch.

moisture rapidly and came in the midst of a line of thundershowers that hopped up and down the Texas Gulf Coast and East Texas Monday.

The wind ripped roofs from several homes and hurled heavy timbers through a wall of one home. There were no injuries.

A Houston woman, Mrs. Ethyl Nicholson, 67, was struck by lightning during an electrical storm there yesterday. She was in fair condition at a hospital today.

Texas Cleric Speaks

A fellow Texan in Houston, the Rev. T. Robert Ingram, rector of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church, is waging a vigorous campaign to awaken those in his denomination to the church's responsibility in educating the young.

When people speak of the public school system in the United States today they mean schools that have two distinctive features:

1. They are paid for by taxation imposed by the police power of the people.

2. Attendance is compelled by that same police power and failure to attend brings a penalty under the law.

Now these two features do not in reality qualify anything to be properly called public. In fact, they disqualify it. Things that are public are things that belong openly to the people as differentiated from belonging to the king or the ruling power or what we call the government.

It has been a long, hard, won struggle for the forces of evil to wrest control of the schools from the public and the churches and to make them government schools.

The good reverend also makes this trenchant observation: "We deny the whole principle of public control by deceiving our children with the idea public control means being committed in government to the decrees of the administration. The religion we are teaching them is to glorify Caesar and to magnify his holy name as the universal arbiter of knowledge.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — There must have been a time when children went away to school to learn, else there would not be so many educated persons. That admirable hunger has, however, either been stilled or shunted, in any case, I am beginning to think that girl children go away to school to stum other girl children — with clothes and boy children go away to school to shatter other boy children with raffish room furnishings.

Our New York apartment has been infested lately with a wide and articulate assortment of the young of both sexes, all of whom are going away to school in about six weeks and not one of whom has yet mentioned education and learning in any form. If you can stand six teen-age girls in one Manhattan apartment at one time, you pick up some startling information. All you have to do is be there. You don't have to eavesdrop.

"Hair is going to be terribly short this fall," is the beginning of an example. "It's got to be short-short. Like, well, like say a topoodle with a $12 haircut. I heard it from Dana who got it in Paris and if I hear her say one more word about being in Paris I will personally put poison in her coffee. Paris, Paris, Paris, you'd think no one was ever in Paris but those French people. But she did say hair had to be short-short. You know? Anyway, I told my mother and she said at this point she could not care less and I could have a Yale Brynner shave on my head just so I'd shut up. I think she had some sort of problem going for her just then. I'll wait and catch her in a more casual mood. But, you can't go to your campus with long hair, imagine! They'd think you were from Stonehenge or something."

Or: "I told my mother that I didn't care what the catalogue said because catalogues were written for parents to make them think it wasn't too expensive a school and if it said that six dresses were all a girl needed it was a catalogue that had to be rewritten. Man, I think! Six dresses. They want us naked or something? Anyway, I have my father standing still for a ten dresses so far and I think I can eat out another six at least, or I won't even go to the station to take the train. That is another thing. They want me to go by train. It's only to Washington. I could fly. My father says I will have three tons of excess baggage and he might as well buy me a plane for what it would cost in excess weight. Such people that grow up these days. Really! What I'd like is if he'd hire that 'for hire' Rolls-Royce they have here and drive me down to the school. I'd like to make that kind of entrance and break their backs with it. Six dresses, for heaven's sake! Even the Congo women must have at least seven."

Or from a boy: "Mr. Bolton, when you left Sea Cliff you put that old red leather chair out on the terrace for the trashman and I saw it. If you had if it had I took it because I'm going down to Lafayette and I'd like that busted old chair for my room. My mother went out without consulting me and bought me a new chair and I just can't ask guys into my room for a session of talk and there is this ghisly new, shiny chair sitting there. It's nouveau, you know? It isn't done. Anyway, I took a chance and threw that old chair in the back of my jeep and if it's all right with you, I'll take it to Lafayette for my room. Then there was that beat-up Navajo rug. It would look just great kind of draped over the chair—casual, you know. I took that but my mother says I have to tell you about all this because you should know. Now you know. All right?"

Or: "I talked to Minerva Boxley on the telephone and she gave me the ice bit because her father put in a message-taking thing on the home phone and she said, 'Sweetie, if I'm not here when you call some time, you can just speak a message into this dingbat and I'll get it. Everyone, she added, should have one. Real girl of the American true — blue kind, I say, as I tear up my vote. Anyway, she was sweating it out because that mother of hers will not, positively will not, let Minerva have her old mink coat to take to school. After all, where my stores are located — it is good public relations. But the cost of using these kids under the Wage-Hour Law is prohibitive. I've got my plans figured out, if covered by the Wage-Hour Law, I can make my stores self-service and replace the 39 high school students with a lesser number of employees who are more capable of earning a higher hourly rate. I don't want to put these high school kids out of a part time, job, but..."

What it all comes down to is that, if the law demands waged and hour standards which are excessive in view of a worker's productivity and value to the employer, the employment concerned will be pared to the limit. In the case of retailing, many kinds of marginal workers, in addition to high school students, would be hit, and hard.

'DUMMY ASTRONAUT' TO DARE SPACE IN AUGUST; COULD LEAD MAN INTO SPACE — THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON — A momentous step is about to be taken in the epic man-in-space program. The National Space Administration will attempt to hurl a "dummy astronaut" into space some time this month, possibly as early as next week.

The manikin will be blasted aloft in a PROJECT MERCURY space capsule atop one of the Army's reliable REDSTONE ballistic missiles. This eventful launching (officially designated MR-1) will be from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

If all goes well, the "dummy astronaut" will soar to a height of 125 miles and travel some 200 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

The scheduling of a similar test with a live monkey. Tentative plans call for this "space shot" (designated MR-2) to be made in October.

Whether any attempt will be made this year to fire a man into space—in a PROJECT MERCURY capsule that will be used in the rigorous MR-1 and MR-2 tests.

President Eisenhower is personally closely following the progress of these plans.

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the Space Administration, has been told by the President that he hopes the U.S. will succeed in putting a man into space while he is still in office.

"I would like to wind up my Administration with such a historic achievement," the President said. Senator Thruston Morton, Ky., National Chairman, and other Republican campaign leaders are making no secret of their fervent hope that an effort will be made to fire a man into space before the November 8 election.

A spectacular success of this kind, they feel, would be a tremendous ballot boost.

Concurrently with the REDSTONE — MERCURY test, the Space Administration is also conducting a series of MERCURY space capsule experiments with Air Force intercontinental ballistic ATLAS missiles. Designated MA-1, MA-2, etc., the next are slated for September and October.

Tentatively, MA-4 or MA-5 will carry a live monkey into orbit in November or December.

For these activities, the Space Administration has $105 million in its new budget. Estimated overall cost of the history-making man-in-space program is approximately $500 million.

Everybody's Money

By MERYLE STANLEY RUKESYER

Business and investment plans at home are currently impeded by Nikita S. Khrushchev's attempt to exploit changes in the United States incidental to the forthcoming November elections.

In addition to his vulgar attempt to be selective as to which President he would be willing to meet at future Summit meetings, the Kremlin dictator has indicated preferences among personalities.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, before being nominated for the Vice Presidency, was told that the Americans for Democratic Action opposed him. Johnson, who has been against divisive tactics in the foreign field, set up a yardstick when he indicated that he would be embarrassed if this organization were for him. Each of the four candidates on the two major ticket should similarly announce that they would be embarrassed if Mr. K. expressed approval of them.

More important than the forthcoming election as a contributor to near-term uncertainty is the attitude of the Soviet leaders in probing for soft spots in the West. Khrushchev is practicing the most brazenly dangerous form of "brinkmanship" — presumably on the ground that the impending change of administrations weakens the decision making capacity of the American Government.

Instead of ignoring the situation, we should face up to it, and dramatize for all the world to see the fact that rotation in high office is a principle for implementing free choice in our constitutional system whereby the head of state is changed only by natural death, murder or some form of political conspiracy and intrigue. Such clarification would deprive Mr. K. of his propaganda effort to enhance his prestige through depicting himself as the opposite number of the President of the United States.

Because U.S. foreign policy and national defense are affected by outside developments and changes in the technology of weapons, the differences are narrowing between the two parties. On the domestic front, both groups are promising salvation through promoting economic growth. The difference relates mainly to techniques. The Democratic standard-bearer, guided by Keynesian economists at Harvard, looks for accelerated growth through the pump priming effects of increased Federal spending. On the other hand, Vice President Nixon and Governor Rockefeller have stressed achieving growth through removing taxes and other impediments to growth. Mr. Nixon emphasized tax reform, including accelerated depreciation and reduction of top rates in order to increase incentives. Rockefeller went along with these, and also mentioned curtailment of "feather bedding". While Senator Kennedy still listens to the Keynesians, and his preference for cheap money, Mr. Nixon has been influenced by economists, led by Dr. Arthur F. Burns, head of the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Post-war experience in West Germany and elsewhere has demonstrated the lifting power of sound money and private enterprise policies. This bent is a newer trend of the Keynesians to the effect that expansion stems from governmental-pump priming and perpetually low interest rates. Keynes himself backtracked on these theories in final article in the (London) Economic Journal in June 1946 when he paid a tribute to the ideas of Adam Smith, the founder of Classical economics.

Senator Kennedy, as an exponent of youth, has dramatically purported to turn his back on the ideas of the older generation. But the Keynesian illusions are themselves old hat.

Irrespective of differences, it is a mistake to exaggerate the impact on the future trend in business of the end of pre-November uncertainty as to how the election will go.

Since the Civil War, there has been no correlation between victory of one party of the other with prosperity or recession.

Irrespective of the election outcome, some economic forecasters have been predicting that by 1961 the business recovery, which started in 1958, will have spent its force. The current hand-to-mouth buying by purchasing agents, with resultant reduction of steel and other inventories, indicates that some have been trying to beat the gun and protect themselves by getting ready in advance for any projected quieting down of activity next year.

Events seem to be moving in the direction of enlarged Federal expenditures, irrespective of which party wins, but Kennedy may spend with more nerve than Nixon. Also Kennedy appears to be more of a threat to an independent monetary policy — making Federal Reserve than Nixon.

Henry Worried About Jack Kennedy's Father

I like fathers. And that's not because I became one for the first time a couple of years ago. I have always liked them. They're very nice people to have around a house.

It is this fondness for fathers that has me worried about Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy, the father of the Democratic presidential nominee, Senator John Kennedy.

Where is he? This father has disappeared as completely as if he were swallowed by the earth, or carried away by a swooping bald eagle, or hidden under pots and pans in the wagon of a gypsy caravan.

Joe Kennedy, as he was known before his disappearance, started fading from view months ago, when his son started his stretch drive for the presidential nomination.

Some say that his son, the Senator, told his papa neither to be seen nor heard; to take his constitutional walks after dark, and to use side streets.

I have even heard that Father Joe adopted disguises, and moved about sometimes in bristling red whiskers, sometimes in the humble garb of a woodchopper, and at other times in the greasestained overalls of a tire retractor.

Certainly he was conspicuous by his absence at the Los Angeles convention. There were thousands of Kennedys and Kennedys kith and kin on hand in Los Angeles. They were in the balcony, on the floor, in the aisles, in hideaways, and in hotel suites and lobbies.

But if Father Kennedy was there, he was in a sealed broom closet, or wearing a disguise that TV was not able to penetrate.

Now we all know the reason for Father Kennedy's inconspicuousness; he is said to have too much influence over his son, and is out to prove that he hasn't. It is somebody's theory that a father can't have too much influence over his son, good, bad or otherwise, if he never sees him.

I believe Mr. Kennedy's disappearing act has been carried too far. I am worried about him. I am worried about his welfare. I think all of us who own bloodhounds should put them on his trail. (Lacking a bit of Papa Kennedy's clothing for scent, I suggest holding a $1,000,000 bill under the bloodhound's nose as the next best thing.)

Even the Presidency is a high price to pay for the loss of a father's love and attention. And think of Father Kennedy. He may be so far removed that he won't ever hear how his son came out in the race against Nixon. And you just know he'll be dying of curiosity in November, even if he is hiding 2,000 feet down in Vesuvius's cone, or huddling in a shack far up the headwaters of the Amazon.

Let's find Joe Kennedy. Let's tell him to come home, to enjoy the company of his nominee son, to walk the streets like a free man.

No matter what he has whispered in his son's ear in the past, or will whisper in the future, his present punishment is too great.

POLIO CASES DOWN

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Health Department said Saturday 17 cases of polio were reported in Texas during the week ended July 30, bringing the total for the year to 72, compared with 251 cases last year.

It's going on three years old. It's like a tired old bear lying down to die in privacy, or something. I think Minerva should have the coat. I do. Her mother is being obdurate. Is THAT a word? I love H. Obdurate. Sounds like stainless steel or some diamond that won't chip. Anyway, honey, your mother knows Minerva's and maybe if she got on the telephone she could persuade Minerva's mother to be less obdurate. Minerva asked me to ask you to ask your mother. Okay?"
