Allies To Block Stalling By Reds On Laos Crisis

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Hopes rose today for a diplomatic settlement of the Laotian crisis.

But, while Washington sources took on a mood of cautious optimism, the United States and its SEATO allies meeting in Bangkok also were acting to prevent Soviet foot-dragging on Western demands for a cease-fire in the strategic Southeast Asian kingdom.

Diplomatic sources in Bangkok said the eight Southeast Asia treaty Organization members would go ahead with plans for military intervention because of continued Soviet silence and in the belief the Communists might be stalling to consolidate their military position. Partition of Laos was believed to be their ultimate aim.

It was announced that Secretary of State Dean Rusk would leave Bangkok Thursday morning and fly to New Delhi to confer with Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Powerful U.S. naval forces, including an aircraft carrier, were in the Gulf of Siam and the South China Sea in a position to put forces ashore in the event of a showdown.

Heavy rains two weeks ahead of the regular monsoon season had bogged down the Laotian fighting. Road travel virtually was impossible and heavy mists obscuring the mountain tops grounded air transports.

Government forces were reported inching northward on the Vientiane-Luang Prabang highway about 65 miles north of Vientiane, the Laotian administrative capital.

Washington's optimism arose from Monday's one-hour White House meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Gromyko was said to have indicated that Premier Nikita Khrushchev's reply to Kennedy's demand for an immediate cease-fire would be forthcoming in the very near future.

In separate statements, both Kennedy and Gromyko expressed hope for a diplomatic solution of the Laotian crisis.

Gromyko urged the President not to take hasty measures before Khrushchev had time to study the U.S.-supported British proposal calling for a military truce, reactivation of the old Indochina International Control Commission and then an international conference to work out guarantees for Laos' independence as a neutral nation.

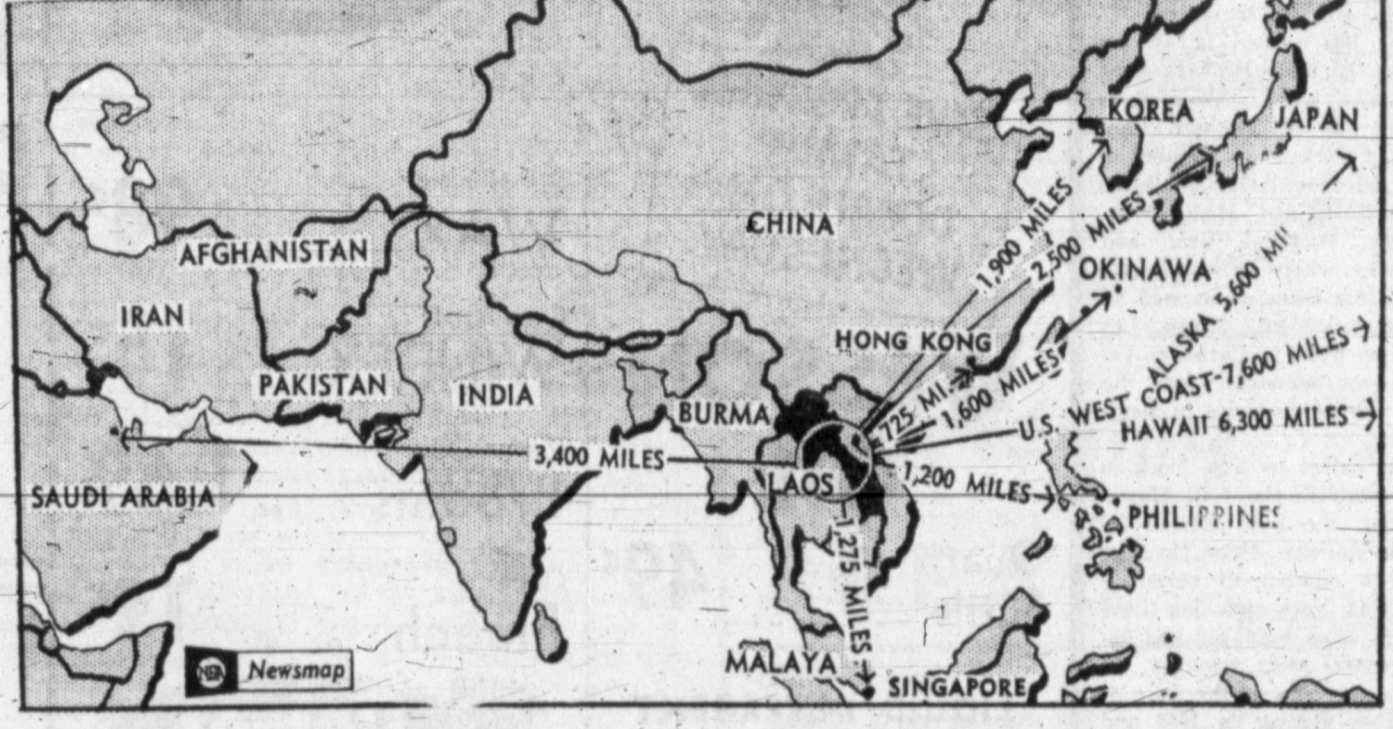

along the beach-pleading with the students to behave "like ladies and gentlemen."

Dallage, later charged with inciting a riot, ignored police entreaties to descend from his lofty perch. A power and light company truck was dispatched to the scene and a deputy sheriff dragged him down and away to the already crowded jail.

His followers deluged the estimated 250 police officers on duty in the town with beer cans, firecrackers and shouted insults.

Amarillo Group To Hear Freedom Speech Thursday

"Freedom Begins With You" will be the theme used by Dean Clarence Manion of South Bend, Ind., in his address at the Amarillo Municipal Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The rally is free and all interested people are urged to attend. It is being sponsored by the Panhandle Texans for Constitutional Government, a group of patriotic, young Americans who believe in strict Constitutional government.

Dean Manion has had a long and worthwhile career of service varying from Dean of the Notre Dame Law School until 1952 to serving on President Eisenhower's Commission on Intergovernmental Relations in 1953 and 1954. He presently has a private law practice in South Bend and produces a weekly radio program, The Manion Forum.

He has written several patriotic books and received the Freedoms Foundation award in 1949, 1950, 1954, 1955 and again in 1960 from Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

He has recently returned from a long visit to Guatemala where he was the guest of the President, General Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes.

It is interesting to note that Guatemala is the only country that has successfully put down a Communist revolution and Dean Manion learned many things there that will help preserve American Freedoms.

Death Penalty Faced By Medic And Nurse

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"I love you, Carole. I'm sorry."

The speaker was Dr. R. Bernard Finch as he approached his mistress, Carole Tregoff, only seconds after they were convicted Monday of murdering the surgeon's wife.

He grabbed her, forced her into an embrace — and then suddenly, tears streaming down her face, she withdrew coldly and walked from the courtroom without saying a word.

Their worlds — their 15-month fight for freedom through three trials — had collapsed.

The once-wealthy surgeon, now broke at 43, today faced the gas chamber or life in prison on a first-degree murder conviction.

Carole, 24, was convicted of second-degree murder by the 10-man 2-woman jury.

Both also were found guilty of conspiracy to murder. And although Carole received an automatic five years to life sentence on the second-degree charge, she technically also could be condemned to the gas chamber for conspiracy.

Conspiracy to murder carries the same penalty as first-degree murder. And Prosecutor Clifford Craig immediately announced he would seek the death penalty for both lovers.

The jury, which was sent home, reconvenes on Monday to hear further arguments and evidence before deciding on a sentence.

The end came suddenly for the couple, accused of the gunshot

12 Believed Dead As Fire Destroys Tennessee Home

CLARKESVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—All twelve members of a family of "fine neighbors" were believed to have been killed by a fire which razed their five-room farm home early today.

Authorities said eight bodies were found in the smoldering ruins of the home and officers were searching for others. Cause of the fire was not known.

Officials said apparently no one discovered the blaze in time to rescue any members of the Alex Whitehead family, ranging in age from nine months to 61 years.

"I wish I could say some of them didn't die," said Montgomery County Sheriff Kenneth Albright. He said his men were checking other homes in the Dotsenville community, about five miles from here, to be sure some of the children had not spent the night with friends.

Witnesses said the bodies recovered from the ruins were unrecognizable and had not been identified.

Radio newsmen John Allen, of WDXN in Clarksville, said the blaze leveled the wooden frame home and destroyed Whitehead's car and truck parked outside.

"It's a grim thing," said Allen. "Absolutely nothing left. Nothing but ashes. The only thing that's standing are pieces of iron-like the pieces of a bed and the hot water heater and bathtub and stuff like that—things that haven't melted."

"I've never seen anything more similar (to the Bible passage), than the postulate of the Russian revolution that he who does not work does not eat."

It was the first time Castro himself had suggested his regime might be communist, although he had clearly approved stronger statements by other officials.

Panhandle Area Snow Forecast

Possible snow in the upper Panhandle tonight. That was the weatherman's noon forecast today.

The forecast said: "Partly cloudy with possibly widely scattered thunderstorms southeast this afternoon. Cloudy through Wednesday. Occasional light rain in Panhandle tonight, changing to snow northern Panhandle and high plains Wednesday, handle late tonight.

"Scattered showers elsewhere tonight. Precipitation ending in Panhandle and high plains Wednesday."

News Adds New Weather Service

The Pampa News weather information and forecasts now come directly from the Amarillo weather station.

Heretofore it has been necessary to receive the Pampa and Top O' Texas forecasts through the Fort Worth weather station.

The new arrangement will enable The News to have 24-hour contact with the weather bureau and have available the latest around-the-clock data on weather conditions in the Pampa and Panhandle areas.

Missiles Boost To Arm Nation Declared Goal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy asked Congress today to vote a $2 billion increase in defense funds, most it to mass produce a "formidable deterrent force" of Polaris submarines in the next four years.

Declaring that "the sooner they are on station, the safer we will be," Kennedy called for assembly-line construction of the Polaris subs until they reach a one-a-month production rate by June 1963.

He proposed increases in all missile programs which would arm the nation with more than 1,300 ballistic missiles by 1965.

The big Polaris build-up was set forth in a revised defense budget in which Kennedy proposed actual spending of $43.8 billion during fiscal 1962. The administration said this was a net increase of $650 million over the spending figure proposed by former President Eisenhower for the year starting July 1.

The Eisenhower spending figure was $42.9 billion, but Kennedy's message said this did not include "underestimates" of some $235 million, including $48 million in fire damage to the carrier Constellation.

Kennedy's budget called on Congress to vote nearly $4.8 billion in "new obligatory authority" for fiscal 1962—funds that would be voted in the next fiscal year but be spent in future years. This compared to the $4.8 billion proposed by Eisenhower, thus accounting for the proposed $2 billion boost.

Kennedy said his defense program would make the United States so strong that if it received a surprise nuclear attack it could retaliate "with devastating power."

But at the same time he proposed more equipment, ranging from planes to rifles and bullets, for conventional and limited wars. He asked for only very little extra manpower, however.

He said "the strength and deployment of our forces in combination of those of our allies should be sufficiently powerful and mobile to prevent the steady erosion of the free world through limited wars; and it is this role that should constitute the primary mission of our overseas forces."

The revised military spending plan for the fiscal year starting July 1 totalled $43.8 billion, including Kennedy's new $650 million proposals plus upward revisions of former Eisenhower administration estimates which he claimed were too low.

A record for any year except in World War II, the boosted arms outlay would throw the government into a record.

City Commission Takes First Step On Building Code

City commissioners as one of their last acts before leaving office within the next two weeks today took initial steps to adopt a new building code for Pampa.

The action followed the appeal of an architect for a proposed downtown building to make some changes so he could go ahead with construction of a modern building.

He said he could not build the kind of structure he wished under Pampa's building code.

After considerable discussion the commissioners decided that Pampa should have a building code which would comply with the Southern Building Code, now in use in most Texas cities of similar size.

The commission today passed on first reading an ordinance to repeal the present city building code which was adopted in late 1927 and later revised in 1947. The proposed ordinance would adopt the Southern code.

The action would require three readings of the ordinance, officials said. This can be completed at the last meeting of the present commission on April 11.

Mayor Ed Myatt and other officials said the discussion over whether or not to adopt a new building code had been going on for nearly five years.

Today's appeal from the building architect suddenly brought the matter to a head.

"This is one of the most drastic steps we have taken in some time," the mayor said.

In other action the commission opened bids for paving projects on N. Hobart, 25th St., and Harvester St. Low bidder on the projects was Ray Boswell of Pampa. Final acceptance of any of the three bids submitted will be made at next week's commission meeting.

Boswell's bid was $30,670.88 against the bid of $32,857.32 by the E. D. Baker Corp. of Borger. A bid of $27,786.86 by the J. Lee Milligan Corp. of Amarillo was rejected as not meeting specifications.

The commission also authorized the purchase of a quarter section of land south of Pampa for water rights. The purchase price was $4,500. Officials said four water wells can be located on the property.

Campaign Expense Measure Presented
AUSTIN (UPI)—A Senate bill that would keep candidates in special U.S. Senate elections under strict expense requirements was sent Monday night to a House subcommittee of the State Affairs Committee.

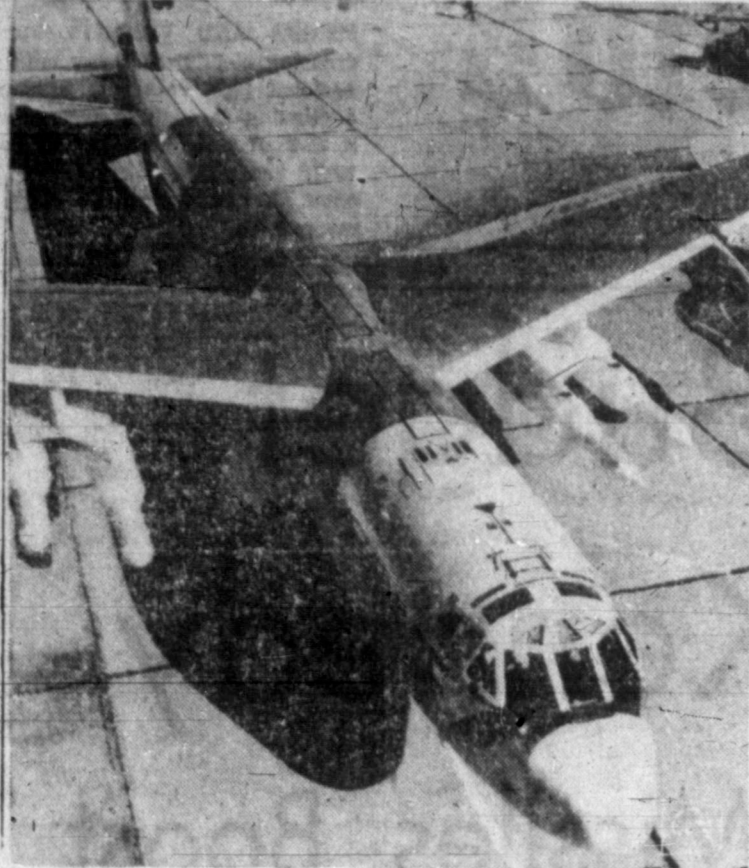

The bill, by Sen. Martin Dies Jr., of Lufkin, would place a $25,000 limit on advertising expenses.

Other changes are turbofan engines (improved jets).

Chief Announces Change In UPI Managerial Jobs

NEW YORK (UPI) — A major reassignment of United Press International executives was announced today by Frank H. Bartholomew, president.

William C. Payette, a member of the board of directors of UPI who has held several executive posts in New York since 1951, was named manager of the Southwest Division with headquarters in Dallas.

Robert N. Bennyhoff, who has had the Dallas post since 1959, was named manager for Australia and New Zealand. He will move to Sydney later in the spring.

Bartholomew said Payette would take up his new duties in the Southwest this week. He will be in charge of UPI's news and business interests in nine states from Louisiana to Wyoming.

Payette has served in all departments of UPI. He was born in Aberdeen, Wash., educated at the University of Southern California, and worked in a number of western bureaus including Butte, Helena and Billings, Mont., Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles, where he was Southern California manager as well as chief correspondent. From Los Angeles he went to Caracas, Venezuela, as manager for the northern tier of countries in South America.

He was called to New York in 1951 to establish the UPI Movie-tone News, the film service for television stations. Since then he has had a number of executive posts in New York including those of general sales manager and assistant general news manager. He became a director at the time of the UP-INS merger in 1958 and remains on the board in his new capacity in Dallas.

The Australia-New Zealand Division will be Bennyhoff's first foreign assignment although he served as a war correspondent in Korea. He was a major in the Air Force during the war. He is a graduate of the University of Nevada and his first job with UPI was in the West. Before going to Dallas he was on news and business assignment in Sacramento, Calif., Reno, Nev., San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Eric Riel, who has been manager for Australia and New Zealand since 1957, will transfer to the United States for a tour of duty with the general service of UPI.

College Education Costs On Increase

ATLANTA, Ga. — Higher education has become a cost item of great importance to the Southern family planning to send a son or daughter to college.

The average annual bill for an unmarried college student in the United States today is $1,550, the Board has reported in its publication, "Financing Higher Education." That figure, taken from a nationwide survey completed by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan, is a conservative figure which does not include such items as clothing, and radios or other extras. The publication is eighth in a series concerned with the financing of universities and colleges in the South.

To pay this bill, the Southern family must spend 16 cents out of every dollar of family income at a public college. If the student attends a private institution, it will take 24 cents of every dollar of family income — and this figure is for basic expenses of tuition, room and board alone, the SREB reports.

For several years the U.S. Office of Education has surveyed the country to determine trends in "hard core costs" — tuition, room and board. They found that while Southern costs are below the national average, so is income, and the gap between average income in the South and in the nation is even greater. As a result, higher education means a greater sacrifice to the average Southern family than to the average family in the nation, the Board said.

This is illustrated by a comparison of costs at a public institution in the Southeast and in the United States. Average tuition at a public institution in the South is $179, while it is $188 in the rest of the United States. Cost of board in a Southern school is $320, and in other parts of the nation it is $374. Room expenses average $130 in the South and $168 in the nation.

These figures amount to a total cost of $710 in schools outside of the South and $629 in schools of the South.

The average family income for the U.S. is $5,417 and in the South it is $3,911. Hence college costs represent 13.1 per cent of the family income in the United States and 16.1 per cent in the Southern states, the publication said.

Though the Southern family pays more of its budget for a child's education, a look at the state budgets of the South shows that the Southern state spends less of its budget for higher education than the average, SREB stated. Moreover, since 1940 higher education as a per cent of state budgets has dropped in the South while it increased in the nation.

There are four major sources of funds with which a student pays for his college education, the SREB reported. The largest contribution is usually that of the students' part from their own earnings in part-time work. Scholarship aid contributes some and other general sources contribute a small part. Family income level is a vital determinant of who goes to college. Thirty nine per cent of parents earning less than $3,000 expect their children to go to college, while 95 per cent of parents earning $10 thousand and over expect to see their offspring in college, the SREB reports.

In both cases, fewer children are expected to — only 12 per cent of the lower income children do get to college and 65 per cent of the upper income group go.

The greatest disappointment...

however, comes to the middle-income range. In the $5,000 to $7,000 group 80 per cent expect their children to go to college and only 28 per cent actually go.

There is some evidence, too, that the young people of the lower income groups do not receive the majority of the scholarship aid that is available, according to the SREB report. Indications are that the middle income groups get the most benefit from scholarship funds.

The Council for Financial Aid Education has estimated that half of the scholarship resources of the country are in the hands of 50 institutions. These institutions see scholarship money as recruiting money for bright students. As a consequence, the average scholarship recipient at many institutions comes from a family of more than average income.

"Such facts about student cost should lend weight to the many efforts which are being made by state legislatures in behalf of two cost public higher education, whether by holding the line on tuition increases, by providing more student aid, or by encouragement of other means of financing," Dr. Winfred L. Godwin, SREB director stated in commenting on the report.

DISPLACED PRINCESS—If life were a fairy tale, smiling little Princess Kyungwoo, 8, would live in splendor within an Oriental palace instead of the often hard world of reality in Janju-Ri, South Korea. She is the great-great-great-great-granddaughter of the Korean Princess Hwapung, whose palace still exists. It lies close to the demilitarized zone where U.N. troops guard against the Communist North. Kyungwoo's father, Chang Young Park, was the last person to live in the elaborate and ancient mansion. He moved to a nearby village when the Korean war started. The door behind the little girl is marked with the Chinese script of the royal family.

County 'Bee' Held Today

Gray County Spelling Bee was in progress this morning in Pampa Senior High School with approximately 27 students participating, according to B. R. Nuckols, Gray County "Bee" chairman. Students spelling this morning were winners in contests held in local and county schools. The contest pronouncer was Ancil Joyner, high school English instructor. The best speller in today's County Bee will be eligible to represent Gray County at the High Plains Contest to be held in Amarillo on April 29. The winner from the Plains Bee will attend national contests to be held in Washington, D.C. on May 29-June 3.

Vying for the spelling honor this morning were Pat Ludeman, Harlan Hysmith, Charles Hamlin and ... Winner in the Gray County Spelling Bee announced just before noon was Pat Ludeman, eighth grade Pampa Junior High School student, who spelled down Terry Scoggins of Lee Junior High with the word "catalytic" and went on to capture the Gray County honor by spelling correctly "chapeau."

• Billion
ernment's over-all fiscal 1962 budget a further $890 million out of kilter for a total deficit of $2.7 billion.
Still more may be needed in later years, Kennedy said, although he hoped to achieve economies in the "full reappraisal" of defense still underway.
To finance his proposals in fiscal 1962 and future years, Kennedy asked Congress to appropriate $1.954 billion more than the $41.84 billion that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed just before leaving office. The $650 million increase is for spending in fiscal 1962 only.
Even with that increase, the President found it necessary to slash $430 million from present programs. He killed outright the 15-year-old nuclear aircraft project on which $1 billion has been spent. He cut the 2,000 m.p.h. B70 bomber to the bone, leaving it a research project instead of a weapons development. He cancelled plans to put Polaris missiles on the nuclear cruiser Long Beach.
He cancelled two of the planned 14 squadrons of liquid-fueled Titan intercontinental missiles on grounds he could buy more of the faster-firing solid-fueled Minuteman missiles in the same time period.
Asserting that the "primary purpose of our arms is peace, not war," the President built his revised military plan on two main concepts:
—To develop a missile and bomber retaliatory force that is so well protected, in mobile or hard, underground sites, that even after receiving a surprise nuclear blow the United States could strike back "with devastating power."
—To strengthen limited war forces — with new conventional weapons; a new type of short-takeoff fighter plane, better sea and air life — to prevent the free world's security from being slowly nibbled away at the periphery." He said such non-nuclear wars and guerrilla actions have been "the most active and constant threat" since 1945.
Kennedy's proposals were more moderate than expected on the basis of longstanding Democratic criticism of the former GOP administration.
In military manpower, he proposed an increase of just 13,000 to a new total of 2,506,000—much less than had been widely forecast. Instead of any new divisions, the Army would get 5,000 men for one new battle group and increased guerrilla units. The Marines would increase by 3,000; the Navy 3,000 and the Air Force 12,000.

Women's Rights Bill Before House Today

AUSTIN (UPI)—The battle of the sexes today was expected to make Texas House members forget taxation—at least for a while. The House Monday put together a tax bill that would erase one-half of the state's $63 million deficit, but used to give the measure by Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger final passage.
Working on a calendar of proposed constitutional amendments today, they were expected to resume debate on a measure to give women equal rights with men.
Lawmakers started working on Dallas last week, but adjourned the bill by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas last week, but adjourned without taking a vote.
The measure needs the two-thirds approval of the legislature before it could be submitted to the voters in the next general election. If passed at the polls it would give the legislature two sessions to straighten out the 44 state laws the women complain discriminate against them.
House members voted 83-61 tentative approval to Ballman's $32.6 million piecemeal tax program, but refused to suspend the rules for final passage.
Final action on the measure was expected after lawmakers return from an Easter holiday.
House Revenue and Taxation Committee hearings of two whopping sales tax bills stretched late into the night Monday.

Ballman said a bill by Rep. John Allen of Longview and Forrest Harding of San Angelo and one by Rep. Jack Woods of Waco would go to a "super subcommittee" which he said would consider other major tax bills in hopes of getting a satisfactory measure out of the House.
The Allen-Harding 2 per cent sales levy would raise $189 million a year, the Woods bill, a 3 per cent levy on items above $10, would raise about $100 million a year.
Ballman's tax bill, which includes a revised recommendation by Gov. Price Daniel that was killed earlier, won the governor's praise.
Daniel, in a formal statement, said he was "highly pleased and believe the people of Texas appreciate the action of the House."
Other legislative action:
JUDICIARY — Senators, by a vote of 20-10, refused to consider a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo that would have permitted Texas voters to decide whether to abolish the Court of Criminal Appeals. Hademan told colleagues the state has lost confidence in the court.

district board meeting in Tahoka April 22.
Travis Stovall of Clovis, N.M., governor of District 52, also spoke at the final plenary session on "The Meaning of Service Above Self."
Announcements by Conference Chairman E. E. Shelhamer of Pampa and Art A. Smalley, conference secretary, comprised the final business of the conference shortly after 12 o'clock this noon. The conference then adjourned to the Coronado Inn for the closing luncheon session.
Five separate group breakfasts were held this morning for Rotary presidents and presidents-elect; International students; Rotary secretaries and editors; new members and their wives, and district governor representative.
The annual Governor's Banquet and Ball were features of last night's conference activities. The banquet, presided over by Dist. Gov. Pember, was held in the High School Field House. After the banquet, Rotarians and their wives danced to the music of Carleton Scales orchestra in the Coronado Starlight Room.
President Richard E. (Dick) Batson of the Pampa Rotary Club and Conference Chairman Shelhamer said today the conference had been one of the most successful in district history. The attendance was more than 700 registrants from the 43 Rotary Clubs in the 573rd district comprising West Texas and the Texas Panhandle.
Dist. Gov. Pember and International Secretary Means had words of praise for Pampa's hospitality and for the splendid conference facilities.

Church Forming New Scout Unit

St. Vincent DePaul Catholic Church will be sponsors of an Explorer Post, in addition to their Boy Scout Troop 17, it was announced today.
The first of the Post meetings will be tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m., in the home of Wyndell Cox, Chairman of the Post Committee. All High School age boys, interested in attending this charter meeting, are urged to do so. The meeting will be at 1425 N. Russell.

Perryton Worker Hurt At Oil Rig

PERRYTON — Glen Burch, 20, of Perryton remained in critical condition in a local hospital today from injuries received in an oil field accident late Sunday.
Burch was working on an oil rig north of here just across the Oklahoma state line when the pipe tongs swung loose and struck Burch in the head. He suffered a fractured skull and a brain specialist was called in from Amarillo Sunday night.

Death Case Near Jury At Lufkin

LUFKIN (UPI)—An all-male jury may start pondering today the case of a 28-year-old San Antonio party girl accused of the murder of a Tyler druggist.
Testimony ended Monday in the case, but not before the packed Brock unseal a violent outburst courtroom heard defendant Joan Brock unleash a violent outburst against a deputy sheriff and saw her collapse in the stifling heat of the non-air conditioned court.
Miss Brock and a San Antonio man, Dennis Woodbury, are accused of killing Tyler druggist W. S. Carpenter last November. Woodbury is to be tried later.

Sheriff To Return Check Case Suspect

PERRYTON — Ochiltree County Sheriff Ray Fahgan left here Monday for Louisiana to return a man to Perryton who is under indictment for swindling with worthless checks.
Fahgan was to return E. H. Hoaglan, who was indicted Dec. 9, 1957, for giving a worthless check to a welding firm here.

Elizabeth Taylor Hollywood Bound

NEW YORK (UPI)— Actress Elizabeth Taylor flies home to Hollywood today to rest in the sun and recover from the double pneumonia that nearly killed her.
Bundled in sable and smiling from her wheelchair, the raven-haired actress was carried off a plane Monday when she arrived in New York from London.

Twister Wrecks Texas Town—2 Killed, 4 Hurt

APPLEBY, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. Howard Bass knows railroad schedules. She has listened to the trains rumble past the general store she and her husband operate for years. It may have saved their lives.

"I heard a roaring noise, and I knew it was not time for a train so I decided it was a tornado," Mrs. Bass said. "I told my husband 'My Gosh, let's go' and we made a dash for the storm cellar. We made it just in time."

The tornado slammed into this tiny town of 250 persons Monday night without warning. It was dark and few saw the twitching black tail of the twister dip down from a line of racing black thunderclouds.

It touched ground just south of this sparsely settled community that still hasn't recovered from a tornado that killed five persons in 1946 when the town had about 2,000 residents.

The tail of the tornado hit at the intersection of Appleby Old Sand Road and the road that turns east to the Bethel Church, a mile away. It churned along the ground for about 300 yards, then bounced back up into the clouds, its fury spent in perhaps 15 seconds.

But in its wake two persons were dead, four others injured, and one of them seriously. Four homes were demolished, parts of others crushed to kindling wood. Nearly every home and the 12 businesses in town suffered some damage. The Department of Public Safety initially gave a damage estimate of $20,000, but later said it would run much higher.

Mrs. Lawson was in her night clothes, drenched to the skin. Neighbors found her. She had been

New $10,843 Grant Given TCU Division

FORT WORTH — A new $10,843 grant from the Allergy and Infectious Diseases Division of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., has been awarded to two Texas Christian University biology professors who are studying the organism that causes Asiatic cholera.

The research, now in its second year, involves a study of the virulence of vibrio cholerae. Some 200-300 chicken embryos are being used as the experimental animals in the study.

Dr. Russell C. Faulkner is directing the embryological study, and Mr. Earl W. Gardner is conducting the bacteriological phases of the work.

The research currently involves a check of the blood from infected chick embryos to see how the infection changes the "blood picture." This "picture" involves a count of white and red blood cells, a hemoglobin determination which is a check on the respiratory pigment in the blood that brings oxygen to various parts of the organism and carries away carbon dioxide; and a study of the hematocrit, or sedimentation rate, which determines how fast cells will settle in a given solution and how closely they will pack together.

92 Suffer Diphtheria Attacks In 2 Months

Diphtheria managed to strike down 92 young Texans in January and February, State Health Department records show, despite the fact that measures for controlling it are well-known and effective.

The 1960 total reached 239. That's 76 cases above the 5-year median, and 63 cases more than were reported during the previous year.

While worrisome to state and local health officials, the 1960 figure is by no means a record, even for recent years, but it is highly significant when individual cases are studied: 164 of the victims had had no immunizing shots whatever, and 38 had been inadequately immunized. Only 16 had received the full course of protective shots.

Therein lies a basic truth concerning communicable diseases and their control: out-breaks are products of neglected immunizations.

Other parts of the world are having similar flare-ups. An out-break is reportedly in progress in Santiago, Chile.

Is diphtheria dangerous? Certain types can be quickly lethal. In some epidemics the death rate may reach as high as 12 per cent, but it is more commonly two to five per cent.

In communities where immunizations have been neglected, studies show that about one-fourth of all cases and one-half of all deaths are among children under five. On the other hand, when childhood immunizations have been adequate but reinforcing shots neglected, older persons are most often the victims.

Diphtheria today is probably the same disease which cut down great numbers of children in Egypt during the second century and faithfully described by learned men of that early day.

Its germs characteristically invade the body's mucous membranes — usually in the throat. They remain localized but grow and multiply and exude a poison which produces typical symptoms.

Recovery from one attack of diphtheria usually, but not always, confers an immunity against a second attack.

The only effective control against the disease is active immunizations of whole populations, on schedules advised by family physicians. Reinforcing shots are essential during pre-school years, desirable on entrance into school, and optional throughout school life and early adulthood. ### Weekly Newspaper Sated For Lefors

LEFORS (Spl) — The Lefors Progress, the name of the new weekly newspaper to soon be reality in Lefors, will issue its first copy on April 6, and produce a copy of the paper each successive week.

The newspaper was endorsed recently by the Lions Club, School, and business men, after Jack Shelton, McLean, Editor and publisher of the McLean News, discussed with them plans for publication of the Lefors weekly.

Mrs. Charles Roberts, Lefors correspondent of the Pampa Daily News, will be editor of the new weekly.

Oil Man To Talk At TCU Parley

FORT WORTH — K. R. Dailey, manager of Employee Relations with Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston, will be among the top labor-management executives to address a two-day Conference on Collective Bargaining and Arbitration to be held April 17-18 at Texas Christian University.

Some 300 persons are expected to attend, according to Conference Director Dr. Murray M. Rohman of the TCU School of Business.

Dailey will give the luncheon address on April 17, discussing "The Problem Areas Facing Labor-Management Relations in 1961."

He has been with Humble for 34 years, assuming his present position in 1955. A former member of the Personnel Division planning Council, American Management Assoc., he is a life member of the Texas Manufacturers Assoc.

Get to Church on Time

CATERHAM, England (UPI) — The Rev. Kenneth Budd, Anglican rector of Caterham, says that brides who want to be married in his chapel had better get to the church on time.

"The clergy are busy people," the pastor said. "A bride arriving inexcusably late may one day be told to make a new appointment."

World's first surgery in which ether was used as an anesthetic was performed by Dr. Crawford Long, in 1842, at Jefferson, Ga.

Sicily Blames Its Banditry On Poverty

NUORO, Italy (UPI) — Perched high on a hill top, looking down a rocky valley where cactus vegetation successfully disputes the working man for bits of land, lies the town of Orgosolo, the capital of Sardinian banditry.

It is a fabulous town where silence is really golden, for it generally is the price of life. It is a town where whole families have been wiped out in a ruthless chain of vendettas, where a small flock of sheep means immense capital, where every man without a job is potentially an outlaw.

Poverty is at the root of this. To stamp it out in Orgosolo and in numberless other communities the government is ready to put into effect: one of the largest social reclamation plans in history. The plan includes building roads, the construction of professional schools, irrigation of the land and setting up local industries.

Poverty is mainly responsible for Orgosolo's constant brush with the law, according to the Catholic bishop of Nuoro.

Horrified by the chain of murders and banditry, two years ago the bishop crusaded for good will among the inhabitants of the town. He finally succeeded in bringing together all the heads of families.

One Sunday he had them swear in his presence that they would put a stop to vendettas and bloodshed.

The pact lasted a short while — until the next theft of several sheep.

Government officials hold no doubt that by defeating poverty they will simultaneously defeat murder. Sardinians are a proud and fundamentally honest race.

Castro Regime Seeking To End Mill Slowdown

HAYANA (UPI) — Informed sources said today government authorities in Camaguey have threatened drastic measures to smash a slowdown by sugar mill workers in protest against wage cuts.

A reported threat to use force if necessary was interpreted as a warning that "counter-revolutionary" charges may be filed, making workers liable to execution by firing squad.

The slowdown has virtually paralyzed the 24 mills in the province which produces about one-fourth of Cuba's total sugar.

The provincial board of coordination, execution and inspection, which controls operations of Cuba's five-year economic plans, met in urgent session over the weekend to discuss the critical situation.

Premier Fidel Castro, in a speech Saturday night, called on the nation against the threat of revolutionary efforts to strengthen the Cuban people to redouble their "imperialist offensive... inside and outside our country."

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Tuesday, March 28, the 87th day of the year with 278 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1797, Nathaniel Briggs of New Hampshire received a patent for a washing machine.

In 1868, Maxim Gorki, Russian writer, was born.

In 1895, former U.S. Secretary of State Christian Herter was born in Paris of American parents.

In 1939, Madrid surrendered to the nationalist forces of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

In 1959, W. C. Handy, the man who wrote the St. Louis Blues, died.

Thought for today: James Bryant Conant said: "Liberty like charity must begin at home."

Russia Declared Weapons Leader

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Soviet army has at least four times as many modern weapons as the U.S. Army, according to a top Pentagon officer.

Brig. Gen. Lawrence J. Lincoln, director of plans and material, said Sunday the United States had developed many weapons that were equal or superior to Soviet versions. But Russia excels in some fields and in practically all areas has a greater supply of up-to-date weapons, he said.

Lincoln said the Army had reason to hope that President Kennedy would seek an increase in the $1.8 billion which former President Eisenhower sought in the 1962 budget for procurement of major Army items.

Congo Declared Plunging Near Economic Chaos

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The Congo was plunging toward economic disaster today while rival politicians jockeyed for positions of power.

A report by the United Nations civilian operation said inflation, sagging production, a breakdown in communications and general insecurity is causing a "rapid disintegration" of the country's economy.

There is a growing realization of the nation's plight among rival politicians but they are having difficulty getting together to do something about it.

The Leopoldville regime of President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Joseph Ileo has been trying to arrange a meeting with the leftist regime of Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville but the deal has bogged down over a site.

Cleophas Kamitatu, president of Leopoldville Province and designated by Ileo as a go-between, said Gizenga appeared eager to talk but demanded the conference take place at Stanleyville Airport which is controlled by U.N. troops.

Ileo demanded the talks be held at some "really neutral" spot.

There the matter stood today and it appeared neither side was willing to give in.

The U.N. report said there was serious danger of famine in the northern and eastern regions of the country.

"In Kivu and Oriental provinces economic disaster is imminent because of anarchy and disorder," the report said.

IN DEMAND—Actor Laurence Harvey is booked for film work well into 1963, a tribute to his tremendous talent. He'll be seen soon with Shirley MacLaine in "The Spinster" and in "The Long, The Short and the Tall," with an all-male cast.

Anti-American Sentiment Rife In Old Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Anti-Americanism lies close to the surface in Mexico.

Yet it is not an anti-Americanism easily reduced to terms of black and white, just as it is not easy to reduce to simple terms the complex emotional, economic and political structure of Mexico.

Part of it is in the history books. The history of U.S. intervention in hemispheric affairs in the past and the suspicion it will do so again. The memory of U.S. and the boycott which followed Marine landings at Vera Cruz and the boycott which followed expropriation of U.S. - owned oil fields.

It is fanned by Mexico's small but vocal communist and Communist-affiliated parties and by the large Soviet embassy which distributes tons of anti-American literature throughout Latin America.

It can arise from any sight, real or fancied, to the "400,000 braceros" who pour across the border annually for transient work in U.S. agriculture.

Or it can arise from an incident such as occurred last year.

A Mexican congressman asserted that in any conflict of interests between the United States and Cuba, Mexico's sympathies must lie with Cuba.

U.S. Ambassador Robert Hill asked if this represented the government view, and Red-led students poured into the streets to protest U.S. "interference" in Mexico's internal affairs.

As do other Latin Americans, Mexicans resent what they believe is the United States' failure properly to understand their search for a better way of life in their own way.

The proudly nationalistic Mexicans have refused U.S. money grants, preferring loans which are paid on the dot.

Last year, American investors were alarmed when President Adolfo Lopez Mateos described his government as "far left" within the framework of the Constitution.

Mexicans say that only his words "far left" drew any attention. Ignored was his continuing phrase "within the framework of the Constitution," which is based on private ownership.

Mexico sees no contradiction in the fact that its government is socialistic and at the same time anti-Communist.

Politically, it sees no contradiction in the fact that it can and does maintain cordial relations both with Communist Cuba and the capitalist United States.

Economically, Mexico has ordered "Mexicanization" of its mining industry, requiring 51 per cent Mexican ownership to be accomplished over a period of years.

Escorted Tours Declared Best For Travelers

NEW YORK (UPI)—First-time foreign travelers generally are advised to go via a tour, rather than independently, and thus avoid many of the pitfalls that can quickly sour a long-anticipated trip.

Down at the particular level of advice, veteran traveler and tour operator Henry E. Temchine is more specific on why an escorted tour is more to the advantage of the novice traveler.

"By all means I advise the first-timer to go on an escorted tour," he said. "It gives the traveler the climate and atmosphere of the countries he visits, and when he goes back on another visit, he's not venturing into the unknown unassisted."

The escorted tour — as opposed to an independent tour in which local representatives of the agent assist a traveler, but doesn't stay with him or his group all the time — has an experienced guide and jack-of-all - arrangements with it at all times to take care of the details of transport, accommodations and sight-seeing.

Temchine summed up the details left to the traveler on an escorted tour like this: "All the person has to do is pack and unpack his suitcase."

Temchine, who is manager of the Tour Department of the House of Travel, Inc., New York, said there are two prime considerations when weighing whether you should go on an escorted tour or travel independently — budget and the time element.

It's his feeling that in the escorted tour "there's rational, logical utilization of time," an important element for a person whose vacation time is limited. In short, the traveler gets to see the most at an economy of time and doesn't lose valuable time making arrangements on the scene.

As to budget, an economy class tour can fulfill travel dreams as readily as a deluxe "grand tour."

"The man who travels in an economy-type tour sees as much of the monuments and scenic highlights as a man who travels on a high priced tour," Temchine said.

The difference between economy and deluxe classes usually is reflected in means of transport, hotel accommodations and meals.

Just as for the person who has a time limitation, Temchine feels an escorted tour can be more economical than independent travel to the budget minded. Among other things, you start out on an escorted tour knowing just how much your plane or ship fare, ground transportation, hotels, meals and admissions are going to cost — the stated price of the tour.

The tour expert also pointed out some other fringe benefits for those who take budget-priced escorted tours, such as traveling with others of like circumstances.

And there are "special interest" tours which put the traveler in the company of people with similar backgrounds, hobbies and interests.

Sheriff's Ouster Sought In Suit

BEAUMONT (UPI)— Acting Dist. Atty. W. Gale Walley today filed suit in 60th District Court for the removal of Sheriff Charles H. Meyer from office.

The suit, which also was signed by George Dishman, head of the United Citizens for Law Enforcement, listed the same allegations as were named in two counts of bribery returned March 14 against Meyer as the ground for removal.

Dist. Judge Gordon Gary, after a brief hearing at noon, postponed any action on the lawsuit until 10 a. m. Wednesday.

A blue ribbon grand jury on March 14 returned indictments against Meyer and four other Jefferson County law enforcement officials charging them with accepting a total of $1,700 in bribes.

Area Optimists Name Officers

LEFORS (SpI)— Five nominees for new club officers were submitted recently by the nominating committee of the Optimists Club at their regular meeting in the civic center.

They are Jimmy Pennington, president; H. C. Dunn, first vice president; A. W. Chisum, second vice president; Calvin Lacy, Manuel Allison, and A. C. Sanders, Board of Directors. The election will be held Thursday night.

Ben White, president, presided over the meeting. Plans for the forthcoming community banquet in the school cafeteria April 13, were discussed. Proceeds will go to buy uniforms for little league baseball of Travel, Inc., New York, said Temchine.

Happy Munch

NEW YORK (UPI)— A new candy - crunch confection tastes like a combination popcorn ball and pecan - almond praline. It's the invention of a Detroit, Mich., businessman who carried popcorn to munch during long - distance drives. To create a more nourishing product, he added nuts, butter and sugar glaze. Available nationally in 1 pound "tubs." (Poppycock).

The argali is the largest wild sheep. It is found in the Altai Mountains of Siberia and Mongolia.

The legislation falls short of the benefit liberalizations proposed by President Kennedy. It would be financed by one-half of the payroll for his program.

Tried Formula Leads Joey Bishop To Fame

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joey Bishop, who has done for worrying what Perry Como has done for napping, is having a busy year. Monday night, for example, he appeared on the tube twice.

Bishop made a guest appearance on CBS-TV's "Danny Thomas Show" and then ran NBC-TV's "Jack Paar Show" for Jack Paar, who is on vacation.

The success that Bishop has achieved as a comedian is based upon a tried-and-true formula. He has developed a sympathetic public personality as a hapless, unsmiling character. Somehow, tough luck always seems to be dogging his heels. To the public, he might come across as a Las Vegas version of Garry Moore.

He might be the hard-working son who missed getting his bet down on a horse race because he had to run an errand for his mother. And the horse won. At 15-to-1. He's the cab driver whose battery went dead during the height of the downtown rush hour. So Joey doesn't smile.

On the Paar show, where his style fits so well, Bishop doesn't have to press for laughs. He can

Senators Open Depressed Area Aid Bill Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans appeared to be losing ground today in their attempts to use a substitute bill to derail President Kennedy's program to aid depressed areas.

House Republicans, without the backing of much of the GOP-Southern Democrat coalition that employed the same tactics to hand the administration its first setback Friday, apparently lacked the votes to push their measure through.

Debate on the Senate-passed, $394 million bill was expected to begin late today, with voting Wednesday.

On the theory that you can't lick something with nothing, Republicans decided to try to knock out the administration bill with a substitute carrying a cheaper price tag.

This was the strategy used successfully to defeat Kennedy's minimum wage bill by one vote on the House floor late Friday. The House then passed the conservative-tailored measure by a wide margin.

But Republicans, anxious to provide a big program of federal aid, drafted a $275 million substitute and predicted it would win overwhelming GOP support.

The Republican substitute carried a bigger price tag than any of the modest area redevelopment programs recommended by President Eisenhower who twice vetoed Democratic bills.

Its size made it less than attractive to conservative southern Democrats opposed to tapping the Treasury for any such program. The question was whether the substitute could muster enough southern support to win approval.

Some conservative southerners indicated they probably would vote against both the substitute and the administration bill. If so, that probably would doom the substitute to defeat, and clear the way for passage of the administration bill since a fair number of Republicans intend to support the administration bill if it reaches the point of final passage.

Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) would not hazard a guess on how southerners would vote. "They're unpredictable," he said.

London Beatniks Taken From Sub

DUNOON, Scotland (UPI) — Three London beatniks boarded the U.S. Polaris submarine Patrick Henry in the Holy Loch yesterday — and were carried away feet first.

The three achieved their objective when one sat astride the afterfin of the submarine for 45 minutes before being hauled off. They had camped in tents along Holy Loch's shore waiting for the chance to board a sub. They were Michael Nolan, 21, Terry Chandler, 20, and Gordon Collins, 19.

William McKinley was the last Civil War veteran to become president of the United States. He was in the army at the age of 18.

Air Force Chief Goes To Hospital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Thomas D. White, 39, Air Force chief of staff, is in Walter Reed Hospital "for treatment of a small kidney stone," the Air Force said today.

White, chief of staff since July 1, 1957, entered the hospital Sunday night.

Criminal Courts Bill Voted Down

AUSTIN (UPI) — State senators refused yesterday to consider a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the Court of Criminal Appeals.

By a vote of 20-10 against consideration, the measure by Sen. Dorsey Harteman of San Angelo was killed for the present. Hardeman proposed that Texas voters be allowed to decide in the next general election whether the court should be abolished and its duties assigned to a 15-member State Supreme Court.

AROUND THE WORLD

HE DIDN'T DO IT—At first glance, it appears that Kitzirino, a cat, left the skeleton of a woodchuck clean after chewing it up. Actually, the cat's owner, 16-year-old Connie Owen prepared the skeleton for a high school science class in Oconomowoc, Wis. She boiled the meat from the bones and mounted them on a board.

OFFERING TO SHARE—During her visit to the Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg, three-year-old Lynda Gruber met a three-day-old Brown Swiss calf. They became immediate friends, as anyone can see, and Lynda is extending her apple to cinch the deal.

IT GOT THROUGH—Home from the sea, the liner United States is fueled at its pier on the ice-covered Hudson River at New York. The ship had crossed the stormy Atlantic during what the captain described as the worst weather he had ever encountered.

IT'S A JOB!—A workman in Rome, Italy, looks the size of an ant as he perches atop a lofty ladder that still seems much too short for the job. He is cleaning the massive bell tower of the Church of Christ the King. Rome may have been built in a day, but this job won't be finished that soon.

BEHIND BARS—It shouldn't happen to a dog, but it did happen to Pepper, a four-month-old German Shepherd in West Islip, N. Y. Temporarily penned in the kitchen, the pup didn't enjoy the idea and squeezed his head through an opening in the folding screen with this sad result.

SIDE SWIPE—Offside and all but out of this world, the asymmetrical lines of Svend's new hats are causing much talk in Paris. This pink straw turban, a variation of the cloche, has a wing sweeping from crown to chin along one side of the face, and is finished with matching pink organza.

THE NEW WATER HOLE—Residents of the slum area of Jakarta, Indonesia, got through flooded streets as best they could to reach higher and drier ground. Night-long torrential rains had poured down upon the capital city, but the water receded as swiftly as it fell. The refugees were able to return to their homes within 12 hours.

FREAK OF NATURE—In Little Rock, Ark., 8-year-old James Thomas is delighted with the sweet potato that grew in the shape of a dinosaur in the family garden. The odd vegetable creature is completely a work of nature, except for the toothpick legs added by the boy.

ALREADY TOO OLD—Although Neptune, a pigmy donkey at a children's zoo in Woburn Park, England, is only five months old, he probably feels like a very old man. Neptune is wearing a "For Sale" sign because he is being sold to make room for baby donkey.

ESTABLISHING A PRECEDENT—Starlet Holly Brook is showing the shape of things to come in Brooklyn, N. Y. She is holding aloft the world's first round frankfurter, created by an American kosher company. And, strangely enough, since it really looks good enough to eat, it will wind up on lots of dinner tables.

SERPENT'S TOOT—The music really has to wiggle to get through this musical snake that is being played by a visitor to the Music Exhibition in Rome. Called a "Serpentone," the instrument was made of wood but covered with snakeskin to heighten its reptile-look. It was used in Italy from the 16th to the 18th Century, but later dropped from use because it had a very weak tone. It was primarily a decorative piece in an orchestra.

FLIGHT CANCELED—Stepping up to a mystery, Gregory Drozdor can't help wondering why those steps are so misleading in New York. They go up to closed windows instead of a door in a building in lower Manhattan.

NOT STRICTLY FROM HUNGER—A polar bear in Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo isn't saying whether he craves freedom or just a little more iron in his diet. He is chewing away at one of the bars on his cage as if the cold weather that hit Chicago had made him homesick for the Arctic. Something is making him think of home.

PHS (3-0) Hits Road To Crown

AMARILLO — Pampa and Amarillo, a pair of streaking teams — but in different directions — opened the 1961 District 3-4A baseball campaign at 4 p.m. today here.

The Harvesters are riding the crest of a three-game winning streak while Amarillo (3-3) lost three games over the weekend. Going into Odessa with a three-game unbeaten record, the Sandies fell to Odessa Permian, 12-2 on Friday, and lost a double-header to Odessa High, 7-0 and 4-3 on Saturday.

PHS Coach Deck Woldt was unsure of his starting hurler here today and planned to wait until gametime before choosing between Mike Clark (1-0), a junior letterman, or Jerry Glover (1-0), a curveballing sophomore.

Otherwise, the lineup for Pampa remained the same, with Mike Stewart behind the plate, Larry Strout on first, Ab Cullender on second, Butch Crossland, short, and hard-hitting Keith Gregory on third.

Gregory, a senior letterman, has been the batting key to date in Pampa's attack. Sporting a .555 average, Gregory has pounded out four hits in his last four times at the plate, including a 3-for-3 performance against Hereford last Friday.

Pampa's non-conference wins were over Elk City, 6-4 and 10-4, and over Hereford, 10-8.

In other games today, Tascosa tests pre-season pick Lubbock Monterey in Lubbock; Palo Duro goes to Borger and Lubbock invades Plainview.

Pampa returns home Friday for a game with Plainview and returns to Amarillo Saturday afternoon for a game with Tascosa.

Twin Trouble

KERRVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Roy Sinclair, player agent for the Kerrville Little League, figures umpires are going to have fits this baseball season. "We've got two sets of twins this year," he said. "And they all have the same names — Ronnie and Donnie Miller and Ronnie and Donnie Kahlback."

As Annual NBA Draft Opens

NY Knicks Pick Stith

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The National Basketball Association completed its annual draft of the nation's top eligible college basketball players and all that was left today was to sign them.

The nine league clubs met here Monday and made their draft choices. However, this year the NBA will have to woo the prospects from the newly formed American Basketball League, which begins play next season.

The ABL held its draft meeting in Chicago March 19 and many of the big names at Monday's meeting were prominent at the Windy City draft.

Chicago, the newest entry in the NBA, was given first choice in every round and surprised no one when they opened by picking 6-foot-11 Walt Bellamy of Indiana. Then, the other eight teams in the league got a pick and Chicago was given five consecutive choices. In the five, the Chicago franchise was able to grab York Larese and Doug Moe, both of North Carolina, Moe and Larese had been touted as first round picks before the meeting.

The New York Knickerbockers came out of the draft conference with some good young players. The Knicks picked up the rights to the services of Tom Stith and Whitey Martin, both of St. Bonaventure, in the first two rounds. In the third and fourth round, they got Tony Jackson of St. John's and George Blaney of Holy Cross.

Other first round picks: Cincinnati, Larry Siegfried of Ohio State; Detroit, Ray Scott of Portland; Los Angeles, Wayne Yates of Memphis State; Syracuse, Ben Warley of Tennessee A & I; St. Louis, Cleo Hill of Winston-Salem

State College; Philadelphia, Tom Meschery of St. Mary's; Boston, Gary Phillips of Houston.

In its second round selections, Chicago picked up rights to John Turner of Louisville, Jerry Graves of Mississippi State, Larese and Moe, Don Kojis of Marquette and Jeff Cohen of William and Mary.

Other second round choices: Cincinnati, Bob Wiesenbahn of Cincinnati; Detroit, John Eagan of Providence; Los Angeles, Fred Sawyer of Louisville; Syracuse, Chris Smith of Virginia Tech; Philadelphia, Ted Luckenbill of Houston; St. Louis, Ron Horn of Indiana; Boston, Al Butler of Niagara.

FORT JACKSON, S.C. (UPI) — Oscar Rober son of the Cincinnati Royals reported to Fort Jackson Monday for a six-month Army hitch.

Braves Blank Chicago, 1-0

Hawks Still Confident

Underdog Lakers Go For Division Title

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Hawks will have their backs to the wall when they meet the Los Angeles Lakers in what could be the final game of the Western Division playoffs at Los Angeles Wednesday night.

However, Coach Paul Seymour of the Hawks said, "We'll win." Seymour's statement took more than simple confidence since he followed it by saying it was doubtful that big Clyde Lovellette would be making the trip to the West Coast with the team.

Lovellette was injured as the Lakers defeated the Hawks, 121-112, here Monday night. Seymour said the big frontliner may have slipped a disc in his back.

The Lakers have a 3-2 edge over the Hawks in the series and St. Louis needs back-to-back wins to meet the Eastern Division champion Boston Celtics for basketball's "world title."

In Monday night's contest, Elgin Baylor pumped in 47 points to lead the Lakers' attack. His total raised his five-game series mark to 182 points.

Fred Schaus, Laker coach, said he had "never seen Baylor play a better all-around game."

If the Hawks win on the coast Wednesday night, the final game of the best-of-seven series will be played here Saturday.

A win by the Lakers would give them the right to represent the Western Division of the NBA against the Celtics.

Reds' Owner Heart Fails

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Powell Crosley Jr., 74, owner of the Cincinnati Reds baseball club, and developer of the Crosley automobile, died early today at his home in suburban Mount Airy.

Crosley had been hospitalized recently for a heart condition and physical checkup and died of a heart attack.

Crosley had been hospitalized the Reds, in 1934 and purchased controlling interest in the club in 1936.

Reds Dump Tigers In 11-9 Game

By TIM MORIARTY United Press International

Warren Spahn is just like any other pitcher — he'd rather brag about his hitting.

"Just call me slugger," the Milwaukee Braves' ageless south-paw chuckles whenever he gets a hit, which isn't often. He collected only 14 safes in 96 at-bats last year for a rather anemic .146 average but three of those hits were homers.

Even in spring training, Spahn spends almost as much time in the hitting cage as he does on the mound. And this devotion to victory over the Chicago White Sox "slugging" paid off in a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Monday.

Spahn, who will be 40 next month, drove in the only run in the seventh inning with a sharp single to right off Bob Shaw to gain credit for his third victory of the exhibition season. He and Lew Burdette, who worked the Chicago Sunday night, blanked the first four innings, blanked the White Sox on five hits.

Herb Score pitched six fine innings for the White Sox, stopping the Braves on three hits before giving way to Shaw, who made his first appearance of the spring after a long holdout siege.

Wally Post and Steve Bilko, a pair of legitimate sluggers, also struck key blows for their teams. Post unloaded his sixth home run of the Grapefruit League season following a two-run poke by Vada Pinson to give the Cincinnati Reds an 11-9 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Bilko drove in four runs with a homer and a bases-loaded double as the Los Angeles turned back the Cleveland Indians, 9-7.

Montreal Coach Hit With Fine

CHICAGO (UPI) — The largest fine in hockey history, $2,000 rode on the shoulders of Montreal Canadiens Coach Toe Blake today heading into the fourth game of the Stanley Cup semifinal playoff series against the Chicago Black Hawks.

Blake was saddled with impost Monday by National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell for striking referee Dalton McArthur twice following the Canadiens' 2-1 loss, after overtime of 52 minutes and 12 seconds, to the Chicago Sunday night. The Black Hawks lead Montreal, 2-1, in the series.

"No, I won't appeal," Blake said. "I'm just glad there was no suspension. It's a lot of money, but I expected something."

Campbell, who has been president of the league for 15 years, previously imposed a high fine of $1,000 on the Canadiens' Maurice (Rocket) Richard, an action which touched off riots in Montreal.

"There have been fines of $500 several times," Campbell said, "and I fined Punch Imlach $200. There have been playoff fines. But Blake was sorry about this. He told me he'd do anything to call it back."

East, West Shrine Cagers Battle

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The State and either York Larese of East's shooting will be pitted North Carolina or Tony Jackson against the West's height tonight of St. John's (N.Y.).

West — Forwards, Cedric Price of Kansas State and Bill Bridges of Kansas; center, Walt Bellamy college basketball players will be of Indiana; and guards, Gary assembled on the same floor. The Phillips of Houston and Tom East starting lineup will average Meschery of St. Mary's (Calif.) 6 feet 4 inches, and the West 6 feet 6 inches.

Probable starting lineups: East — Forwards, Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure and Bob Wiesenbahn of Cincinnati; center, Doug Moe of North Carolina; and the Shriners' crippled children's guards, Larry Siegfried of Ohio, hospitals.

AL DARK ... new manager

HARVEY KUENN ... new slugger

Despite Trades, SF Weak In Key Places

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a series on the 1961 prospects of major league clubs.)

By NORMAN MILLER United Press International

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants have a new manager in Al Dark, a new 300-hitter in Harvey Kuenn and a newly revived morale. But they still are plagued by many of the old handicaps that made them a disappointing team the past two seasons.

As spring training progressed, it became apparent that the winter trade which brought Kuenn and his lifetime .311 batting average from the Cleveland Indians did not remedy the Giants' obvious weaknesses.

The Giants are strong at five positions — in the outfield and at first and third base. And they have a good group of starting pitchers. However, in order to become a serious pennant contender they need improvement around second base and behind the plate.

And their relief pitching is woefully weak.

Then, too, there is that problem of battling the winds of Candlestick Park for 77 home games. Those winds and the disintegrated morale which set in when Tom Sheehan replaced Bill Rigney as manager were prime factors in San Francisco's fifth-place finish.

Dark is a natural leader who is extremely popular with the players. This alone should be enough to lift the Giants two or three notches in the standings.

But the acquisition of Kuenn has created a peculiar problem. Dark has six good ballplayers for the five positions at which the club is strong. They are the incomparable Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, and Felipe Alou in the outfield; first baseman Willie McCovey; third baseman Jim Davenport — and Kuenn.

None of these can play shortstop or second base well. Thus, to make room for Kuenn's bat in the lineup, one good ballplayer will have to sit it out.

Dark does not acknowledge that this is any kind of a problem.

"To play Kuenn," he says. "I know he can play any position I put him. I'll decide where he'll play when I see where the others fit in."

Kuenn probably will start the season at third base. Davenport, bothered last season by stomach ulcers and a severe knee injury, likely will sit it out at the start, although defensively he is better than Kuenn.

Dark is convinced that McCovey's batting potential is closer to the .354 of his rookie 1959 season than to the .238 he hit last year when, Willie says, he became confused because of too much advice. Mays, too, feels McCovey can hit well "if they'll just leave him alone."

Eddie Bressoud, a .225 hitter, is the Giants' first-string shortstop. With Bressoud and Blasingame in the infield, the Giants made fewer double plays last year than any club in baseball.

Playgrounds Attractions Needed In Trade Centers, Dallasite Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—The modern trade center should be a year-round playground as well as a hub in the new national pattern of marketing, believes president Trammell Crow of the Dallas Market Center.

"There must be attractions to draw merchants and their families from hundreds of miles away just as the great trade fairs of Europe drew them in the Middle Ages," said Crow. "We don't need conjurers and acrobats and strolling minstrels as the medieval fairs had, but we do need kaleidoscopic color and entertainment. To provide the glamor and relaxation, Crow has given his Dallas trade mart, now a dozen years old, a great glass covered courtyard as big as a football field. "It's roof is 60 feet high and full sized trees with live free birds nesting in them grow under the glass. We have a small lake, a large fountain, a Texas version of a Parisian sidewalk cafe, and very realistic Japanese gazebo or summer house and garden with dances, banquets and other entertainments go on in the courtyard the year around. "During market times the crowds remind you of those in St. Mark's Square in Venice," beamed Crow.

The growth of the Dallas Market Center has altered the wholesale pattern of the country, Crow claims.

"Back in 1954," he said, "Chicago had the only major furniture trade mart in the country, although there were minor ones in San Francisco, Grand Rapids, New York and High Point, N. C. Chicago also had the one major appliance mart and the soft goods and fashion marts all were centered in New York.

"Today, almost every industry has annual or seasonal showings of about equal prominence in New York, Chicago, Dallas, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The big regional trade mart has taken over from the national market center."

Arms Ban Veto Not Acceptable

GENEVA (UPI)—The veto, the Soviet Union demands in any future nuclear test ban agency would make it simple to violate the prohibition, the United States said today.

Chief American delegate Arthur H. Dean declared the Soviet veto demand is unacceptable.

He did so at the 278th meeting of the 2½-year-old conference, as part of a detailed outline of the minimum controls and international inspection of the West demands Russia accept as the price for an East-West treaty to ban nuclear weapons test for all time.

The railway nearly to the peak of the Jungfrau Mountain, in Switzerland (11,401 feet) is the highest in Europe, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Reds May Have Shot Down U.S. Plane In Laos

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An American military transport plane was apparently shot down deep in Communist-held territory, officials said today.

The C47 transport, with eight persons aboard, belonged to the office of the air attache at the American embassy in Vientiane.

Officials said there was no evidence whether any of the Americans survived. They said it would be difficult for survivors to get out of the rebel-held territory.

The plane was on a flight from Vientiane to Saigon. Informed sources said it detoured over the rebel-held Plain of Jars area on an intelligence mission.

The nature of the mission was not disclosed, but the plane has been used before to check on Soviet airlift operations.

"Wasp Waist"

Some kinds of solitary wasps have a narrow stalk joining the front and back parts of the body. This thin stalk in the middle gave us the expression "wasp waist."

The above marks are documentary proof of the mileage potential built into today's cars using Mobil. They were scored on the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run—world's greatest official proof of mileage economy.

Mobil has been economy proved in every make of American car. This year sixty-five cars were entered; they traveled 2561 miles, from Los Angeles

All cars averaged 23.25 miles per gallon with Mobil to Chicago—over deserts, mountains, crowded city streets. Only Mobil goes to such lengths to demonstrate to you the mileage-economy possible from today's cars.

You can prove this economy in your own car. Fill up with Mobil Regular or Special . . . improved with Preptane, the new long-mileage additive. Then do as the Economy Run drivers do: drive properly—avoid "jack-rabbit" starts, ease into higher gears quickly, keep a steady foot on the accelerator.

You, too, can get more miles between fill-ups with Mobil
