Equalizing Municipal Rate Hike Being Sought By Power Firm

Commission Decides To Delay Action

Southwestern Public Service Co. today sought a municipal rate increase of some 25 to 30 per cent of electrical power supplied by the city of Pampa.

This in no way will have a bearing on rates to private residences and firms, the SWPSC representative quickly noted.

The proposal was presented today during City Commission meeting by Gordon Lyons, local manager of the firm.

The commission, after lengthy discussion, delayed action on the request.

Immediately after Lyons offered his proposal he was bombarded with queries concerning the suggested increase.

Commissioner Hershel Wilks asked Lyons how the increase figure was reached.

"We think we have arrived at a fair rate," Lyons replied.

Lyons pointed out that Pampa's present rate of six mills (or six-tenths of one cent) is the lowest rate of any city served by the utility company.

"Amarillo was on the same rate Pampa has until 1938. At (See HIKE, Page 3)

Visits Kasai Province

Lumumba Sets Invasion Plan

By RAY MOLONEY
United Press International
ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI) — Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba has gone to Kasai Province — reported scene of "bloody fighting" against his regime—to supervise preparations for an invasion of "independent" Katanga, it was reported today.

Lumumba was reported heading for Bakwanga, capital of the secessionist "mining state" overrun by his troops during the weekend, to direct invasion planning.

Katanga President Moïse Tshombe's Belgian-officered army was reported ready to give Lumumba's troops a warm reception. They had blown-up bridges on roads and the one railroad leading from Kasai into Katanga and mined or blown up the roads themselves.

Troop detachments stood ready at Katanga's airfields to block the runways in case of an attempted airborne attack.

"Katanga is strong enough to defend itself against any attack," said one official here. "We wish he (Lumumba) would come, because when we defeat him we can expect real trouble in Leopoldville." (See PLAN, Page 3)

Kennedy To Press Aid Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy served notice today that he intends to press the issue of aid to jobless areas in his election campaign.

Kennedy, itching to hit the campaign trail this weekend after a frustrating session of Congress, raised the depressed areas issue by indirectly accusing President Eisenhower of hypocrisy.

Without mentioning Eisenhower by name, Kennedy criticized the administration's record on legislation to help areas of chronic economic distress.

"Every worker would do well to remember that the administration twice vetoed area redevelopment bills only to issue later pious protestations of concern and calls for action by Congress," the Democratic candidate wrote in a Labor Day message in the AFL-CIO News.

"America has had enough of such hypocrisy," Kennedy declared. "Certainly union men and women want no more of it."

The Democratic nominee, becoming increasingly fidgety in Washington, made up his mind last week that the pre-election session of Congress is a lost cause and that he can gain nothing by staying in the capital.

Kennedy has failed to push through the post-convention session his proposals on a minimum wage hike, medical care for the aged, school construction and housing. He has decided to carry these issues to the voters.

4 White-Owned Stores Blasted By Fire Bombs

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Negroes hurled fire bombs into four white-owned stores early today, and a Negro man was killed in a frantic effort to elude police and the bullets of three white men.

The death was the first in four successive days of racial strife and street fighting in this northeast Florida port city. An uneasy calm that held for hours after 83 whites and Negroes were sentenced in Municipal Court Monday was shattered shortly after midnight when roaming Negro gangs began firing bullets into a white service station and hurling "Molotov cocktails" into stores.

Patrolman John R. Mulligan challenged the Negro occupants of a car in the strife-torn area — a predominantly Negro section — but the car sped away and crashed into a utility pole amid a hail of bullets.

The gunfire came from three white attendants at a service station which had been a target of gunfire several minutes earlier. Police said the victim was killed by the wreck, and the car was not hit by any bullets.

Patrolman J. R. Rocher was investigating the earlier shooting at the service station when the Negroes' car careened around the corner "burning rubber."

"I heard shots—I thought they came from the car—then three of the white men at the station were carrying pistols for self protection." Operator John Steed said that "shots started coming out of nowhere, and we all went down on the floor."

But police found no firearms in the car. One of the men in the car was killed instantly. The other, Willie Green, 47, received a broken jaw. No charges were filed.

The "Molotov cocktails," bombs made of gasoline-filled jars wrapped with rags, set fire to an appliance store, a dry cleaning firm and a small grocery, all owned by white merchants. Another bomb was tossed into a furniture store but did not explode. The fires were quickly extinguished.

By 3:30 a.m. e.d.t. the city appeared again quiet, but no one seemed to know what to expect next. Police were kept busy with scores of calls and blanketed the city with a 24-hour alert.

The NAACP would not say if it planned to resume lunch counter "sit-ins" and picket line demonstrations which were suspended Sunday because of street fighting and general tension. The fighting began Saturday afternoon in the downtown area where Negroes had been picketing against segregated lunch counter facilities.

More court hearings were scheduled for about 140 persons arrested in connection with the (See BOMBS, Page 3)

Bunged-Up Knee Keeps Nixon Idle

Out Of Action For Two Weeks

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon reassessed his campaign plans today from a suite in Walter Reed Army Hospital where he will be confined for about two weeks with a badly infected left knee.

The Republican presidential nominee entered the hospital Monday for treatment with antibiotics. His ailment was diagnosed as hemolytic staphylococcus aureus, an infection caused by the same germ that causes boils and carbuncles.

Nixon cancelled all public appearances for the next two weeks, including speeches Sept. 7 at Jackson, Miss., and Charleston, W. Va. GOP strategists hoped he would be able to hit the full-time campaign trail on schedule in mid-September.

The vice president appeared in good spirits as he walked into the hospital. He was described as being in excellent physical condition, other than for the infection, but his physicians wanted to keep him off his feet to avoid any possible permanent damage to his knee.

Nixon injured the knee when he banged it against a car door during a campaign appearance at Greensboro, N.C., Aug. 17. It began to bother him last week and he was treated at Walter Reed Saturday. Tests of fluid taken from the knee then and further examinations Monday brought the (See NIXON, Page 3)

Not One, But Four Honest Men Return Life Savings

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — An 80-year-old barber who left $15,467 in a New York hotel room said today he had found what Diogenes was unable to find in a lifetime of searching—"an honest man."

But the fact is Maxim Radin found two honest men—and two honest children.

Radin sold his home in Oakland some time ago and took a train to New York, where he arrived Aug. 21. He checked into the Hotel Ashley just off Times Square, carrying two battered suitcases and an old linen valise.

Radin told hotel employees he was returning to his native Yugoslavia "to die." He was to sail aboard the Italian liner Vulcania for Trieste, but the ship sailed without him Aug. 23 and he was no longer seen around the hotel.

Hotel employees put the two suitcases in storage, hoping nothing had happened to the kindly old man. Monday, Radin's room was rented to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Labadie, vacationing in New York from Winnetka, Ill.

Labadie's two children were playing in the room and they found the linen valise under the bed. They turned it over to their father, who called in another honest man, hotel manager Michael Funk.

Funk opened the valise for one of the surprises of his life. In it were Radin's unused ticket, his passport, and cashier's checks totaling $11,067, thirty-three $20 gold pieces, and $3,800 in folding money.

The valuables were turned over to police, who told newsmen the strange story. Hours later, after news of Radin's disappearance was carried on news wires across the country, the retired barber was found in an Oakland rooming house.

Radin said he would return to New York, became tired and confused and could not find the hotel nor recall its name.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Taxes—where to levy new ones and the failure of existing ones—are the biggest thorn in the side of Texas government.

That was the conclusion reached in a 31-page report issued by the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy. The commission, created by the 56th Legislature, posed a number of questions that the 57th Legislature will have to answer.

Commission estimates of the tax revenue needed to finance state services over the next biennium vary from $46 million to $108 million.

It said the biggest question mark in trying to estimate what new taxes are needed is the legality of the severance beneficiary tax, which could bring in almost $15 million annually from gas pipelines.

That tax has been held unconstitutional by a court, but the court's ruling is under appeal by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

If the severance beneficiary tax is held unconstitutional by the higher courts, the report said, it will take about $62 million in additional revenue to liquidate the deficit, replace the severance beneficiary tax and continue present state services.

Tax Group Seeks Revenue Sources

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Advice has gone out to Democratic leaders to keep emphasizing the name of their party in this year's campaign on grounds it projects a more popular image than the name "Republican."

"The Democratic Party is much more popular than the GOP," memorandum to party officials said. "Hence the word 'Democrat' enhances a candidate's popularity, while the word 'Republican' has the reverse effect."

The memo said "the effects of such words have been demonstrated in communications experiments."

George Belknap, polling director for the Democratic National Committee, sent the memo to committee members and other party functionaries.

Belknap's document said "an overlooked fact" about the Aug. 17 Gallup Poll which gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon a 50 to 44 per cent edge over Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy "was the omission of the words 'Democratic' and 'Republican' from the questions."

The memo maintained that Nixon's percentage was inflated because the word "Republican" was not attached to his name and Kennedy was not identified as a Democrat.

Dismissing this titular neglect as "not very important," Belknap said "it may even help prevent overconfidence on our part."

"However, it does remind us of the positive effect of the use of the words 'Democrat' and 'Democratic' both in polls and in campaigning," he said.

Another $46 million would be needed in new taxes to implement the first step of the Hale-Aiken program for teacher pay raises and to provide medical aid to indigents. That would make new tax needs total $108 million.

However, if on the other hand the state wins its fight to tax the pipeline companies, both totals would be some $15 million lower. It would take only $46 million to continue present services and $93 million for the Hale-Aiken program and indigent care together.

The commission warned that "The 57th Legislature will face a tax problem of the first magnitude," and added that "a tax policy must be considered a failure" if it fails to produce enough revenue to provide the services that Texans demand.

Some present taxes have failed to bring in expected revenue, the commission said, and a decrease in oil production has caused a sharp downturn in tax revenue derived from the oil and gas industry.

This makes the problem of finding new tax sources even more difficult.

Mass Arrests Follow Murder Of Premier

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Jordanian authorities today were reported arresting persons suspected of taking part in the time bomb killing of pro-Western Premier Hazza Al-Majali.

The reports, unconfirmed, were broadcast by Radio Israel in an Arab language program heard here.

The broadcast gave no details of the alleged arrests which followed Monday's two time bomb explosions that destroyed the Jordanian Foreign Ministry building in Amman. Majali and 10 other persons were reported killed and 34 others injured in the blasts.

Diplomatic observers viewed Majali's assassination as a serious blow to the West and an event which threatened another Middle East crisis.

Other reports from the Jordanian capital said King Hussein personally led the line of mourners in this morning's funeral procession for Majali. Flags throughout the nation flew at half-staff.

Reports reaching Beirut said Amman was criss-crossed with funeral processions this morning as other victims of the bombings were buried.

Safety Council Predicts 460 Holiday Deaths

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Safety Council predicted today a record 460 persons may die in traffic accidents around the country over Labor Day.

"Unless motorists drive with greater care this holiday than they have in the past, the toll of immediate traffic deaths over the Labor Day weekend could be around 460," the council said.

The present record of 453 was set over the 78-hour holiday in 1951.

The council suggested these travel tips for motorists:

1. Use seat belts, even on short trips. Not a single person killed in Fourth of July accidents was wearing one.

Two Roadblocks Appear In Path Of Congressional Adjournment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lawmakers looked for a fast windup to a long controversy on the minimum wage, but saw foreign aid and sugar legislation rise today as possible new roadblocks to adjournment of Congress.

Democratic House Leader John W. McCormack said he still hoped the 86th Congress could close up shop "by the end of the week," the previous goal had been Wednesday or Thursday.

Latest hazards to a quick getaway arose over:

- A Senate-passed money bill
- If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hdwe. Adv.

that would restore $190 million of the half billion chopped last week from President Eisenhower's requested foreign aid funds.

—Legislation passed by the Senate and recommended by the House Foreign Affairs Committee to authorize a new program of economic assistance for Latin America.

—A measure recommended by the House Agriculture Committee to let the President, under certain conditions, block a scheduled "windfall" in sugar sales by the Dominican Republic.

Controversy over these issues forced House leaders to consider the possibility they might have to chart a course once more through the balky House Rules Committee. They had hoped not to travel this uncertain route again; this goes to the voters in November session.

Most members of House and Senate were counting on Sen. John F. Kennedy for a fast decision—probably today—on the minimum wage controversy that had been tagged as the last of the big pre-election issues standing in the way of quick adjournment.

What the Democratic presidential nominee had to decide was whether to accept a scaled-down minimum wage increase voted by the House, or to stand firm for a broader—but unattainable—measure passed by the Senate and with an issue rather than a law.

Senate Passes Planning Fund

A telegram to the Daily News late this morning from Texas' two senators advised that the second supplemental appropriation bill for advance planning of the proposed Canadian River project had passed the Senate.

The bill calls for $300,000 for advance planning. The bill now goes to conference in the Senate according to senators Lyndon B. Johnson and Ralph Yarborough.

The Air Force will try to recover the monkey after it orbits the earth. At first, it had been planned to use a spider monkey.

Ground Broken On Salt Water Conversion Plant At Freeport

FREEPORT, Tex. (UPI) — The government broke ground today for its first million-gallon-capacity salt water conversion plant.

Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton said it may point the way to converting salt or brackish water almost as cheaply as the average family can buy water now.

"This plant in Freeport will likely make scientific history," Seaton said in a speech at the ground-breaking ceremony.

He pointed out that the cheapest salt water can now be converted is about $2 for a thousand gallons.

"We have sound reasons for confidence that this Freeport plant will do much better than that," he said. "With it, we hope to slash deeply into cost—a slash which will allow us to produce a thousand gallons of fresh water for $1 or even less.

"Once we have accomplished that, how much lower can we reasonably expect to drive down in the foreseeable future the cost of converting sea and brackish waters to fresh?"

"... We can reasonably assume that we shall soon be close to producing a thousand gallons of potable water from salt or brackish sources for 50 cents.

"That figure is within a dime of what many Americans pay for water from their taps."

The Freeport plant will be the first of five authorized by a bill signed by President Eisenhower. The bill calls for spending a total of $10 million for the five plants. The Freeport plant is expected to be completed in nine months.

It will be located on five acres near a Dow Chemical Co. plant. Dow agreed to buy not less than half the fresh water the plant produces. The City of Freeport will buy the rest. Other conversion plants will be built in San Diego, Calif.; Webster, S. D.; Roswell, N. M., and an East Coast city not yet announced.

The plants will use various methods of purifying salt or brackish water to determine which is cheapest.

Seaton said that conservation measures at some points in the country already save all the water that runs into rivers for use by householders and factories.

He said this will become increasingly true throughout the country as water usage continues and the only supply left will be the sea.

He said the Office of Saline Water has been handicapped by a small budget and he urged passage of legislation giving it an additional $20 million.

Nevertheless, he said, the day is sure to come when salt water can be converted cheaply, and Gulf Coast... arid West Texas will become a garden... and deserts will bloom around the world.

Inspector's Job Outlined By City

The City of Pampa today pointed up the importance of the city plumbing inspector in a special release from the office of City Manager John Koozic.

The plumbing inspection section is a part of the city engineering department. It is charged with personal inspection of all sanitary sewers, drinking water supply and gas installations. Approval of this section's inspectors must be obtained prior to use of such facilities, the release points out.

The inspection of gas installations, it states, provides a minimum safety from asphyxiation, explosion and fire. It is a necessity in the further growth of the city, and the issuance of permits and charges of inspections fees are the means by which costs of this section are offset within the engineering department.

decision to hospitalize him.

The ailment also forced Nixon to cancel personal appearances before the American Bar Association here Thursday night and before a meeting of United Press International editors here a week from Friday. He also called off a scheduled appearance on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press" Sunday and a contemplated Labor Day trip to New York to meet with nationality groups.

Strategists in both political camps immediately began trying to assess what effect, if any, Nixon's hospitalization might have on the presidential campaign.

Democrats were not guessing. Key Republicans felt it wouldn't hurt if no complications developed. But there was some private GOP concern over the possible loss of early momentum the party's strategists felt Nixon had built up.

Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates, both sent "get well" telegrams. Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson also wished Nixon a speedy recovery.

At President Eisenhower's direction, Nixon was lodged in the presidential suite at the huge Army medical center. He will pay $34 a day for the suite.

He will not have to remain in bed, and will be able to work sitting up with the injured leg extended. Nixon planned to confer regularly at the hospital with members of his staff and other officials.

Assassination Serious Blow To West Bloc

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—The assassination of Jordan Premier Hazza Majali was viewed today by diplomatic observers as a serious blow to the West that threatened the Middle East with another crisis.

Majali, who was killed Monday with 10 other persons when two time-bomb explosions destroyed the Foreign Ministry building in Amman, was considered strongly pro-Western.

The 43-year-old premier exercised firm control over extremist elements in a troubled country that was caught in a propaganda visse between Iraq and the United Arab Republic (UAR).

Observers said the Soviet Union has long regarded Jordan as a threat to Arab world influence. Russia's recent loan of $255 million to the UAR was considered a further attempt to tighten Red control over UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Jordanian nationalists accused Ma'ali of being under the thumb of the British and French governments and considered him weak in countering Zionism.

His enemies also charged him with "delivering" Jordan to the British. They pointed out that there are now 137 British officers in the Jordanian Army whereas there were 85 a dozen years ago.

Pampa Jaycees Offer Hospitality To Drivers

Pampa Jaycees will again put their "take a break" program into operation on the weekend, an activity that offers a rest period for weary drivers who will be on the highways during the Labor Day holiday.

This will mark the third time this year the club has set up its facility for the benefit of motorists.

The booth will be placed just west of the county offices on Highway 60, and be manned Friday through Monday by member Jaycees and wives.

This rest period will offer drivers a chance to relax with free coffee and soft drinks and give children a chance to ride some of the free kiddie attractions that will be installed for their pleasure.

Carl Williams, a member of the Jaycee's activities committee, said the booth will be open from 3 p.m. until 2 a.m. Friday, and from 2 p.m. until 2 a.m. Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Last July 4th holiday period saw the members pass out 1,300 Coca-Colas and 600 cups of coffee. These, Williams noted, went to people from throughout the country, plus some local motorists who visited the site.

The area will be flood lighted at night and members of the organization will be stationed along the highway to direct drivers to the location and to greet those stopping. Williams noted.

Materials Are No Longer Dividing Line For "His" And "Her" Suit Wardrobe

By PATRICIA McCormack United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — The two pants suit—once strictly "his"—now hangs in milady's wardrobe. And to worsen the insult to male ego, "her" suit crops up most often in menswear fabrics—salt and pepper tweeds to solids, including banker's gray. Dear Abby... Fisherman Allows Big One To Get Away

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My grandfather died at 96 and it was up to me to notify all the relatives so they could come to his funeral. I sent out 14 telegrams and made 5 long-distance calls. I couldn't contact a relative who lives in Omaha because he was up in Canada fishing, which was no fault of mine. All this happened a year ago but I bring it up now because the will was read and this Omaha relative only got a dollar instead of $9500 because he wasn't at the funeral. Now he blames me. Was it my fault? I TRIED MY BEST DEAR TRIED: If you tried your best and couldn't reach the fisherman, he shouldn't blame you. All he can do is write it off as a $9500 catch that got away. DEAR ABBY: Please give your readers the lowdown — are you "Miss" or "Mrs."? Is that your picture and when was it taken? And while I'm getting personal, how old are you? NOSY DEAR NOSY: I am MRS. and have been for 21 years (same man; I take my own advice). That picture is recent and I was 42 on July 4th. DEAR RABBY: I got the shock of my life this morning when my ten-year-old daughter asked me a question about sex. I had no idea she knew as much as she did. I told her she was too young to know, which she certainly is. I think this modern method of child-raising is all wrong. I mean telling children everything they want to know. I must be right because statistics show that every year more young girls are getting into trouble. I would like your opinion. OLD-FASHIONED-MOTHER DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: Girls get into trouble because they know too little — not too much. You're lucky your daughter comes to you with her questions. Don't discourage her with that foolish dodge, "You're too young to know". If she's old enough to ask, she's old enough to know. CONFIDENTIAL TO "DESPERATE PLEASE HELP": There is no reason to feel guilty. Under the circumstances, anything goes. If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—Red China is busily collecting friends among the newly emerging nations of the African continent.

For months past Peiping has courted African leaders in outright rivalry with Soviet diplomatic approaches to the new nations. Lately, the Chinese strategy has gained momentum, culminating in a decision even to send a government observer to the important African leaders' gathering in Leopoldville in the Congo.

Ostensibly designed to back the Africans against so-called "colonialists" and "imperialists," the Peiping strategy has a deeper meaning.

Red China is out to gain the votes of the new nations in the United Nations General Assembly, and the signs are she is succeeding.

The United States, with considerable support from its allies and friends in the United Nations, has been able to keep Red China out of the world organization thus far.

A majority has so far also blocked the annual move from Red China's friends to have the question of her admission to the U.N. placed on the agenda. The signs are that Peiping is now quietly gathering fresh votes in the assembly, encouraged by the changing pattern of the United Nations.

Sixteen more nations are expected to join the United Nations organization this year, bringing the total to 98, or nearly double the initial membership of 15 years ago.

Nearly all the newcomers are Africans, and there are more to come.

The change of character and even more in voting strength of the world organization has been startling.

Motorists Would Sooner Die Than Wear Auto Safety Belts

JANE RUSSELL models an auto safety belt.

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Chalk up another grim victory for man against himself. By a perverse, all-American logic:

Death or injury by auto accident will touch one in four of us again this year.

Quite simply and with hardly a thought, we could cut this bloody toll by at least half — and probably more.

But, apparently, we don't want to.

Figure it out for yourself. On the basis of experiments and tests approved by the American Medical Association, the Air Force, the National Safety Council, the U.S. Public Health Service, most auto companies and the U.S. Congress, a set of standard seat belts in your car is tremendous insurance against crippling or fatal accidents.

These are the same kinds of belts that the commercial airlines and the U.S. Air Force have insisted on for years. Race and test drivers always wear them. Nearly half our states order official cars equipped with them. Several insurance companies give reduced rates to drivers who own them.

But in spite of good example, economic inducement and — above all — the facts, the American motorist will have none of it. Moreover, he will argue against the whole idea, the experts say. To wit:

"What if your car catches on fire or falls into deep water? You can't escape if you're belted in."

Statistically, however, less than half of one per cent of auto accidents involve fire or submersion. And since the seat belt cuts the chance of serious injury by more than 50 per cent, the belt wearer has a better chance of surviving. Besides, belt release takes only an instant.

"Well," the relentless argument goes, "you're better off if you're thrown clear of the car in a collision."

No. The tests show you're five times safer in the car than hurled out of it. And if you're wearing the belt, you're six times safer in addition.

"Nevertheless," the motorist tells the expert, "I only use my car for short trips. If I were taking a cross country trip, I'd . . ."

The answer to this one comes from actuarial tables. About 75 per cent of auto deaths occur within 25 miles of the victim's home. The House special sub-committee on traffic safety, taking testimony on the value of seat belts, concluded that to be truly effective, the belt must be worn whenever a car is in motion.

There is nothing magical about the belt. It merely reduces the shock and impact of a collision on the wearer by absorbing and by keeping you from being thrown around inside the car.

In addition, belt and auto experts say, the belt prevents driving fatigue by helping you maintain good posture without muscle strain.

But regardless of unimpeachable endorsements, facts, figures and everything else, the auto seat belts are to be found in very few of the nation's 70 million cars.

Why? Experts point to several reasons.

First, public apathy — the same terpor that keeps children from getting their Salk polio vaccine. In addition, the cost to consumer is a high $13 per belt (and one is necessary for each passenger in the car).

The second road block rests with the law, which could enact and enforce mandatory seat belt installation in our cars. It would also prevent the sale of standard belts which have, in the past, given a bad name to the whole belt industry.

Not to be discounted, of course, is the auto industry. Car manufacturers almost to a man are behind the seat belt drive. But no company seems to be installing free belts (factory cost is estimated at about $5 per belt). And few auto dealers urge their customers to order seat belts on new cars along with radios and heaters.

In the end, the hard-sell promotion of belts is left to safety agencies or departments, and the belt makers. But in the words of one: "How can you sell a seat belt to today's motorist when it's not a product of super styling, not a status symbol, not anything but a way of saving his life — and optional at that."

Charlton Heston May Not Live Up To Vow

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Charlton Heston will never be able to take his own word for anything again.

After completing "Ben-Hur" on the heels of his role of Moses in "The Ten Commandments," the big guy took a private oath never to appear in another epic costume movie.

But Charlton is a man of small resolve.

Right now he's being measured for a suit of armor for his title role in "El Cid"—another multi-million-dollar extravaganza.

With a guilty grin Heston admitted he had faltered.

"About a year ago I made a pact with myself and my conscience that I wouldn't do another costume picture," he said. "But I've been offered dozens of them from William the Conqueror to Charlemagne."

"I turned them down and read modern scripts, most of which were really terrible. I did want to do 'Let's Make Love' with Marilyn Monroe, but I had to turn it down."

"Then along came 'El Cid' and it looked so good I decided to go ahead with it."

Heston must spend the next five months in Spain. "Ben-Hur" kept him in Italy almost 10 months, and "Commandments" required him to shuffle around Egypt for two months.

By the time Charlton's movies have run their course — and it is expected "Commandments" and "Ben-Hur" will be showing somewhere in the world for the next 25 years — he will probably be seen by more movies goers than any actor in history.

"It's not that I don't like making costume pictures," Heston went on. "They are not easy to do."

Financial Review

By HENRY J. BECHTOLD
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The commercial building boom that is continually changing the face of this city of skyscrapers has increased the importance of the role of the moving man.

Moving a giant corporation from one building, in many cases from a number of buildings, to its new home requires plenty of planning, practice and patience, with the emphasis on patience, according to officials of Union Carbide Corp. which now is engaged in the biggest corporate office moving job in New York's history.

Union Carbide, working together with Neptune World Wide Moving, is moving some 5.5 million pounds of furniture and equipment to the giant chemical firm's new world headquarters on Park Avenue here.

When completed late this year this task force operation will have taken 12 months to complete. Planning on this huge job began in December, 1949, with the first fleet of vans reaching the loading docks of the new 52-story skyscraper this past March.

Since then, day by day, furniture and equipment has been rolling in from 11 out-of-town locations in as many as 120 vans a week.

But this long distance hauling is only the forerunner of the local moving which presently has Union Carbide shuttling its office equipment from 14 scattered New York office buildings.

This local moving to consolidate all operating divisions at 270 Park Avenue usually is a week-end task since moving files, cabinets and typewriters has to immediately precede the particular group of employees who move into the building the following Monday morning. This phase of the operation requires up to 275 men, 400 dollies and eight vans.

The new building is being occupied by approximately 4,000 Union Carbide personnel who will

It makes good sense to pre-plant ammonia on wheat land

Prominent West Texas farmers like RAY SCHULTE use ammonia to get wheat yields up to 60 bu.

Ray Schulte of Castro County, who farms 875 acres, says: "On this soil around here, it wouldn't pay you to put in a wheat crop without ammonia." Applications of 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia per acre have given Mr. Schulte up to 60 bushel per acre wheat yields.

"On maize," he reports, "I put down 100 to 120 pounds of Phillips Ammonia per acre. I've made 8600 pounds maize per acre in the De Kalb 5-acre contest. Ammonia on cotton gives me about 1/4-bale increase per acre."

Thousands of Texas farmers are using Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre. Actual field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) boosts wheat and small grain yields (2) increases maize yields (3) produces more high grade cotton (4) improves forage production.

See your local Phillips 66 Ammonia Distributor now. You can depend on better ammonia service.

Venezuelans For Castro Angry

CARACAS (UPI) — Pro-Castro Venezuelans stormed through the streets of Caracas Monday night, burning five automobiles and puncturing the tires of buses.

Police used a tear gas barrage to restore order. At least 40 demonstrators were arrested and nine persons required medical treatment for gas poisoning.

Officials attributed the outbreak to tensions arising from Venezuela's stand at the hemisphere foreign ministers conference, which ended at San Jose, Costa Rica, with a sharp anti-Communist declaration aimed primarily at Cuba.

Castro supporters here were angered over President Romulo Betancourt's sudden recall of Foreign Minister Ignacio L. Arcaaya from the conference. Arcaaya was removed as his country's chief delegate after expressing certain reservations over the declaration which later were repudiated by Betancourt.

San Jose Declaration Puts Thorn In Side Of Castro

By MATTHEW T. KENNY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro branded as "treason" today the anti-Communist declaration issued by 19 American republicans at San Jose, Costa Rica.

"Why should we renounce Soviet support—to remain alone and weak?" the revolutionary leader demanded to know in a wrathful post-midnight address to an assembly of school teachers.

He called for a massive public rally in Havana this Friday—"the biggest public demonstration yet,"—for Cubans to show their contempt of the San Jose warning against Sino-Soviet intervention in the Western Hemisphere.

"Since our nation is the only true democracy of America, we'll assemble and discuss with the people the (Declaration of San Jose) and the people will give an answer," he said.

Castro described as "puppets" and "sadrines" the Latin Republics represented at the two-week foreign ministers meeting in Costa Rica. He said the United States was a "shark" that had gone to the conference "with a pocketbook in one hand and a hangman's noose in the other."

Working himself into a towering rage that surprised even veteran correspondents, the premier charged that the Pentagon had placed its paratroops and Marines on combat alert during the meeting.

"Why this impatience of the Pentagon to send paratroops to Cuba?" he asked. "Do they think we are cripples? Do they think their paratroops can flutter down here like butterflies without anyone bothering them?"

Four blocks from the theater where the premier delivered his three-hour harangue, two bombs went off. Police said they were

Typhoon Cuts Death Swath Across Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—Typhoon Della swirled northward today, leaving more than 80 persons dead, missing or injured in the swath of destruction it cut across the main Japanese homed island of Honshu. The missing included the American skipper-owner of a yacht wrecked in Ise Bay.

Still incomplete reports listed 6 known dead, 27 missing and more than 50 persons injured.

Near Osaka, Japanese rescue workers were racing against time to dig out 25 construction workers buried by a typhoon-triggered landslide.

The missing American was identified as Thomas Jefferson Alford, a civilian radio officer with the U.S. Military Sea Transport Service (MSTS) who listed his home as Maywood, Calif.

MSTS officials in Yokohama said they could not confirm Japanese reports that three or four other Americans were aboard the yacht whose anchor was ripped loose by the storm-lashed seas and wrecked when dashed against the rocks.

Typhoon Della, still packing center winds of up to 81 miles an hour, was moving northeast at 33 miles an hour, the U.S. 5th Air Force weather central office reported, on a course that will take it out over the Pacific Ocean.

FBI Chief Voted Salary For Lifetime

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate voted Monday night to pay FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover his full salary when he retires.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N. H.) who sponsored the move, said the full retirement benefits would be in recognition of Hoover's 30 years as head of the FBI.

Sen. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio) objected to the plan. He said it would set a precedent "that is likely to rise and plague us."

Bridges said Supreme Court justices and some other federal officials already retire at full pay.

The action was taken on an amendment to a bill raising the salaries of policemen in the District of Columbia. Both the amendment and the bill were passed on voice vote.

Hoover, 65, has given no notice that he plans to retire.

Negroes Study Port Arthur Suit

PORT ARTHUR (UPI)—Theodore Johns, a Beaumont Negro attorney, said a group of Negro parents were to meet in Port Arthur today to decide whether to file suit in federal court seeking integration of Franklin Elementary School.

Johns and a group of 10 parents met Monday with Port Arthur School Supt. Z. T. Fortescue, after trying without success to enroll their children in the Franklin school. Fortescue told the group there was no provision for enrollment of Negro children in the school.

He added that the school district would lose its state aid and accreditation if it accepted the Negro children without first gaining voter approval of integration.

Johns said the parents would not be influenced by any outside organization in their decision today.

Bar Group Split On International Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Bar Association found itself sharply split today on an international issue expected to produce fireworks during the lawyers' week-long convention here.

President Eisenhower touched off debate on the issue Monday when he called for repeal of the so-called Connally Amendment, a speech to the opening session of the association's 83rd annual meeting.

He said repeal of the amendment, which permits this country to decide what disputes it will submit to arbitration of the World Court, "cannot possibly hurt us."

Closed-door discussion of the issue had begun even before the opening of the convention, attended by several thousand of American attorneys and some 1,500 visiting British colleagues.

In 1947, the bar association took a stand in favor of repealing the reservation on jurisdiction of the World Court. But it is due to vote itself sharply split today on an international issue expected to produce fireworks during the lawyers' week-long convention here.

Opposed to the resolution is a group headed by Charles S. Rhyne, head of Volunteers for Nixon, and Arthur Dean, Chief U.S. representative in the Korean Truce talks. Among the Connally Amendment advocates are Sens. John Stennis, D-Miss., and Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa.

Nickel Cadmium Batteries Untangle A Knotty Problem - Appliance Cords

LOOK, MA: No cords.

By GABE KAIMOWITZ
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Are you one of those people who gets tangled up in extension cords? Or one who finds the plugs in all the wrong places when you want to vacuum? Or a guy who keeps tugging to get a vital inch or two of working space when you're shaving? Then listen: there's still hope for you.

A battery has been developed which may be the forerunner of one which will eliminate all appliance cords. It's a long-term, rechargeable nickel cadmium cell which already powers cordless electric shavers, radios, clocks and dictating machines. It could make the standard lead acid batteries pale by comparison.

A cordless vacuum cleaner may be released this year; cordless lamps are on the drawing boards. Cordless lawn mowers are being considered by a major U.S. appliance maker.

The U.S. government is using nickel cadmium batteries as a standby power source on its nuclear freighter, USS Savannah, American Telephone and Telegraph Co. uses scores of them for the same purpose.

This type of battery was first brought here from Germany several years ago as a flashlight "knicker." To keep it working, all you do is recharge the appliance every once in a while through a conventional outlet.

The nickel cadmium battery will not replace all cords in its present state. It is useless in items which generate great temperature changes rapidly. So for a while, you'll have to bear with cords on such electric appliances as refrigerators, ranges, coffee pots, toasters, etc.

While nickel cadmium is the little chemical compound responsible for the magic thus far, it may be replaced by another for this reason. In any case, General Electric, for one, recognizes that this type of battery is here to stay. A spokesman says that the company is continuing research on its applications and may add them to more products soon.

W. W. Smith, manager of an industrial division for Exide Storage Batteries, Philadelphia, Pa., says: "It may be wishful thinking to believe that we can dispense with all (wire) cords." But his company is one that is going ahead to convert this wishful thinking into reality.

The battery introduces the possibility of entirely new products, a spokesman for Gould National

Hearing Called In River Collision

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Coast Guard hearing was scheduled today in a collision between a coastal freighter and a ferryboat on the fog-shrouded Hudson River.

One woman was hospitalized and 12 other persons shaken up Monday when the 503-foot freighter and the ferry collided just off the New York City pier of the Lackawanna Railroad ferry. The ferry was en route from Hoboken, N.J., about a mile across the river, at the time of the accident.

About 200 passengers were aboard when the freighter ripped a jagged 60-foot hole in the ferry's upper deck to a point two feet below the water line. The gash was 30 feet across at its widest point.

Passing tugboats quickly passed lines aboard the ferry and eased it into the ferry slip before it could sink.

Mrs. Katherine Cella, 70, of Montclair, N.J., widow, was admitted to a hospital for treatment of a fractured left wrist and cuts and bruises.

Batteries of St. Paul, Minn., said That company holds battery patent rights here.

He won't say what the first new product is, but indicates that it is in the household appliance field.

History of Handshake Published By Society

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Geographic Society recently published an essay on the origin of the friendly handshake with which I wish to take friendly issue.

According to the Geographic, the custom probably began in ancient times when people would extend the right hand to show they held no weapons.

I hesitate to quarrel with so learned an organization, but this explanation seems to overlook the fact that the handshake is itself a sort of a weapon. In the wrong hands, the handshake can be almost as dangerous as the hand grenade.

For expert testimony on this point, I can refer you to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, whose fingerbones must still be aching from a gripping experience in his office Monday. Mine certainly are.

The occasion was the formation of a Dick Nixon sports committee, some members of which called on the vice president to wish him well in the presidential race.

I was on hand (an expression I use advisedly) to witness the event and made the mistake of introducing myself to the committee chairman, Bob Reynolds of Los Angeles.

I did not realize until I felt my knuckles being crushed that this was the same Bob Reynolds who was a two-time All American football player at Stanford University. He played, I can assure you, tackle.

When I had retrieved my pulverized paw, Reynolds introduced me to another committee member. Although the pain was blinding, I was able to identify him as Frank Gifford, a professional football star. Gifford is known, for good reason, as a "clutch" player.

I was counting my fingers to make certain I had not been dismembered when I walked. Harmon Killebrew and Jim Lemon, two sluggers on the Washington baseball team who evidently mistook my hand for a bat handle.

At this point, the entire troupe trooped into Nixon's office and began shaking hands with the vice president. I was surprised that the Secret Service, which has charge of protecting him, didn't stop it. Nixon, however, absorbed the manual mauling manfully, smiling all the while. I gave him credit

Authoress Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Viennaborn novelist Vicki Baum, 64, who wrote the best-seller "Grand Hotel" died Monday after a brief illness.

The author was stricken Sunday at her Hollywood Hills home and taken to a hospital where she died.

Writer of more than 25 novels in addition to plays and scenarios for motion pictures, Miss Baum came here in 1931 from Vienna with her husband, Dr. Richard Lert, now conductor of the Pasadena Symphony Orchestra. They had two sons.

Funds Voted

WASHINGTON (SpI) — The House of Representatives Friday passed a supplemental bill to make available $300,000 for advance planning activities on the Canaan River Dam project.

for a great display of stoicism. As I was leaving, I paused to shake hands with a young woman thinking that her touch might soothe my throbbing fist. Alas, turned out to be Wiffi Smith, a champion golfer.

I can't tell you much about committee's political plans cause, being temporarily disabled, I couldn't take notes. But I give you a word of advice. If you happen to meet them on the campaign trail this fall, be out for Wiffi's overlapping get
