Minimum Wage Bill Past Senate

An Uncertain Fate In House

By HALE MONTGOMERY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Democratic-backed bill to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, approved by the Senate after eight days of stormy election-year debate, today faced an uncertain fate in the House.

The Senate's 62-34 passage of the measure Thursday night was a major victory for Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy, its chief sponsor.

In the House, the bill faced its first test in the conservative-dominated Rules Committee which must give its permission before the legislation can be sent to a Senate-House conference.

The conferees then would try to hammer out a compromise between the Senate measure and a House-passed bill that would boost the $1 an hour federal wage floor to only $1.15 for workers already covered.

The Senate version would hike the minimum wage gradually to $1.25 for the 23.7 million workers now under the wage-hour law plus an estimated four million new workers, mostly in retail chain stores.

The House bill would bring about 1.4 million additional employees under minimum wage protection but they would get only a $1 an hour guarantee.

It was considered likely that the conferees would scale down the Senate measure to bring it more in line with the House bill.

Other congressional news:
Sessions: The Senate was scheduled to work on minor legislation. The House was expected to meet only briefly for the fifth consecutive session and recess until Monday. The House still is waiting for the Senate to catch up with business transacted earlier in the House.

Depressed areas: Democratic Sens. Paul H. Douglas, Ill., and Jennings Randolph, W. Va., charged that the Eisenhower administration had blocked chances of providing federal aid to depressed areas this year. They said legislation to help communities with chronic unemployment should be one of the first duties of Congress next year.

City To Check On Outdated Health Cards

Restaurants and businesses operating in Pampa with health permits that are outdated came under fire today from City Manager John Koontz.

"I have ordered the Health Department to check all locations in Pampa that require health permits to operate and to see that these permits are in effect," said Koontz.
"It isn't right that one man should operate with a legal permit, while the fellow across the street is doing business with a health permit that has become non-effective. They all know the effective dates of their permits. If they do not have a valid permit, they are not going to operate," the city manager declared.

HIT BY SOMETHING — American U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, his hand on a map, answers the prosecution's questions during the second day of his espionage trial in Moscow. Powers admitted he had flown over neutral Afghanistan on his May 11 flight and that he had indeed been hit "by something" at a height of 68,000 feet over Russian soil.

Security Council Session Called

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The Security Council was summoned today to a Sunday meeting to consider the rapidly deteriorating relations between the United Nations and the Congolese government of Patrice Lumumba.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, protesting harassment of military and civilian U.N. personnel by Congolese troops, warned Lumumba in a brusque note that he might ask the council for complete re-consideration of the world organization's aid to the crisis-ridden Congo.

In Leopoldville, Lumumba said Hammarskjold resorted to "blackmail" and had "betrayed the United Nations." He threatened at a news conference to renounce all U.N. aid and turn to other powers — presumably Russia, which has given his regime strong political backing — for military and economic help.

A Congolese delegation, delayed by international red tape, left London today and was expected here by this evening. Its delayed arrival caused postponement of the show-down council session originally scheduled for Saturday. This morning, French Ambassador Armand Berard, council president for August, set the time for meeting for 12:30 p.m. EDT Sunday.

The United Nations released the text of Hammarskjold's note to Lumumba, dispatched Thursday.

The United Nations also released a protest from undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, top U.N. official in the Congo, charging that Lumumba's police arrested two messengers bearing a letter from him, took from them weapons, wallets, watches and rings, and threatened to shoot them. The U.N. messengers were rescued by Ghana guards.

Hammarskjold's threat to Lumumba resulted from an incident Thursday at Ndjili Airport, near Leopoldville, where Congolese troops seized 14 Canadians attached to the U.N. force and beat four of them.

Proposal Made To OAS Session By Herter

Dominican R. Elections Asked

By HENRY RAYMONT
United Press International

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — Western Hemisphere foreign ministers today weighed a dramatic demand by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that the Dominican Republic submit to supervised elections.

At Thursday's session of the foreign ministers' conference here Herter proposed the creation of a special inter-American committee to supervise Dominican elections "within a specific and reasonable period of time."

If the Dominicans reject the plan, Herter said, the foreign ministers should consider rigorous imposition of the diplomatic and economic sanctions envisioned by the Rio Defense Pact. Colombia and Peru promptly endorsed the idea of a "watchdog" committee, but they and other Latin America nations showed no enthusiasm for the idea of making sanctions conditional on its operation.

At least 14 of the 20 Latin American nations had indicated willingness, in open meeting or at private sessions, to support Venezuela's demand for immediate imposition of sanctions on the Dominican Republic.

Loud Applause Greet Verdict

MOSCOW (UPI) — Francis Gary Powers was sentenced to 10 years in prison today by a military court which found him guilty of spying when he flew an American U-2 photographic plane over the Soviet Union. Judge Victor Borisoglebsky read the hand written verdict and sentence to a packed courtroom after a 3-day trial. No judicial appeal from the sentence is possible, but Powers could appeal to the 14-man Presidium of the Supreme Soviet parliament for clemency.

U.S. Will Work To Free Pilot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today deplored Russian "propaganda activity" in the trial of U-2 pilot Francis G. Powers and expressed regret at the severity of Powers' sentence.

The White House said the President and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter have been following the case and the trial very closely "and they do not intend to drop it."

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to amplify this statement. However, high government sources said it meant that the United States government will do all it can to seek a reduction of Powers' 10-year prison sentence or his eventual release.

Several congressmen predicted that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev would either pardon Powers or lighten his sentence in an effort to rack up a Russian propaganda triumph.

"Now that they've milked this of all propaganda value, an attempt will be made to show they are nice people by having Khrushchev tell Powers' parents the sentence will be reduced," Rep. Francis E. Walter D-Pa., said.

Rep. Daniel Flood, D-Pa., said he felt the Communist boss might liberate Powers for propaganda reasons. Rep. Charles O. Porter, D-Ore., said he felt the sentence was "very excessive" but also predicted Powers would not serve more than a third of his sentence.

Rep. Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said "Russian justice is political but nonetheless I am pleased a more stringent sentence was not handed down."

Some American officials expressed relief that the Soviet military court spared the life of the 31-year-old spy pilot.

Administration officials virtually ruled out any U.S. prosecution of Powers for his conduct at the trial.

High government sources said the United States intends to work through whatever channels are available to seek Powers' release or reduction in his sentence.

Powers exchanged a few words with his Soviet - appointed attorney, Mikhail Grinev, as the court adjourned.

He did not shake hands with his counsel nor did he look in the direction of his family.

His prison term is to start from last May 1 when he was downed while flying the U-2 over Sverdlovsk in Siberia, on what the American government acknowledged was an intelligence mission.

Powers had pleaded guilty and told a full story of his employment by the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency and of his flight. The text of the court's verdict read:

"Deprivation of liberty for 10 years of which the first three are to be served in prison. The term is to begin from May 1. The sentence is final and not subject to appeal."

The wording of the sentence could be interpreted to mean Powers must serve three years in prison, after which he may be confined to a labor colony where the regimen would be considerably better.

Powers' own attorney delivered a summation which was hard to distinguish from the windup by prosecutor Rudenko.

Both pictures Powers as a pawn of warlike ruling circles of the United States. Grinev told the court that during his preliminary examination before the trial, Powers had confessed that he would face a 10-year prison term in the United States for revealing his contract with the CIA, if he returned.

Grinev quoted the pilot as saying it was "unlikely that he would return." It was not clear whether Powers meant he thought he would never get out of the Soviet Union or whether he did not want to go back.

The court's judgment said the flight of the U-2 over the Soviet Union was considered part of a premeditated plan by American military circles to prevent relaxation of international tension.

Powers' fate was decided by Borisoglebsky and two military associates—Air Force Maj. Gen. Alexander Zakharov and artillery Maj. Gen. Dmitri Vorobiev.

Rudenko's summation took one hour and 32 minutes. Powers stood gripping the railing of the prisoner's dock as the judgment was read. It took half an hour.

Stormy applause greeted the sentence. The 31-year-old pilot could have Pampans are due what may be their last look at Echo I, the satellite "radio mirror," tonight as it slowly moves into the earth's shadow which will blot out view of it in this area.

Viewing times, if the weather is clear, are between 8:30 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. and 10:45 p.m.

Last night numerous residents of the area saw Echo as it soared through the skies, a brilliant object that appeared to slightly change course as it passed over Pampa.

U. S. Hopes To Repeat Space Capsule Recovery

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—The United States today tries to make its second recovery in eight days of a space capsule in hopes of showing it has mastered techniques that can be used safely to recover animals and men from space.

Discoverer XIV, launched Thursday, was scheduled to eject its instrument-filled capsule about 7 p.m. e.d.t. today into a 200-by-60-mile area near Hawaii.

Ships and airplanes waited in the area to either snag the 300-pound 33-by-27-inch capsule as it floated to the earth on a parachute or pluck it from the Pacific.

A duplication of last week's first successful recovery from the "lucky 13" Discoverer satellite would be the go-ahead signal for scientists to try recovering animals from orbiting satellites.

The Air Force said it hopes to blast a monkey into orbit about three weeks if today's recovery is successful.

Mastering of the difficult recovery technique would accomplish one of the main aims of the Discoverer series launchings which began a year and a half ago.

Scientists hope techniques to retrieve instruments and animals from orbiting Discoverer satellites can someday be utilized in getting human space pioneers back to earth.

The Discoverer rockets also are the forerunners of the Samos and Midas spy-in-the-sky satellites.

Two Dogs On Board

Passenger-Laden Space Vehicle Orbitated By Russ

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union has launched a space ship carrying experimental animals, including two dogs, Tass announced today.

The official Soviet News Agency said the launching was made to develop a system to support man's life in space. It was the second launching of its kind.

The space ship went into orbit at a height of 198 miles, Tass said. It said the two dogs aboard the ship are called Strelka and Belka.

The first Soviet space vehicle, Sputnik IV, weighing 4½ tons and containing a dummy man, was launched May 15. It circled the earth every 91 minutes at a height between 194 and 230 miles.

Radio Moscow did not close down as usual at 6 a.m. EDT today, but extended its program to broadcast news of the latest space ship launching.

"The main purpose of the orbiting was to study further the system insuring conditions for man's normal existence (in space) and also the safety of his flight and return to the earth," Tass said.

"Strelka" means "arrow" and "Belka" means squirrel in Russian.

Tass said the space ship cabin was equipped with everything necessary for a manned flight in space. Several medico-biological experiments will be made during the flight, Tass said.

The Soviet news agency said the flight will enable scientists to carry out a program of space research.

Tass said the space ship, weighing 4,600 kilograms (10,143 pounds), is circling the earth every 90.6 minutes.

A radio transmitter and telemetering equipment has been installed in the ship, Tass said, to relay to earth information about the condition of the experimental animals.

Tass said the ship is also equipped with a television system to enable scientists to observe the behavior of the animals during the flight.

All the equipment aboard the ship was functioning normally, Tass said.

Mississippi Support Sought By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy hoped today his endorsement by Mississippi's senators would help swing other southern Democrats to support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the presidential campaign.

Sens. James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis Thursday night pledged their support of Kennedy for president and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president on the national Democratic ticket.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press spokesman, said "We hope to win the support of all Democrats." A handful of southern Democrats still remained silent, however.

In the Senate Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Richard B. Russell and Herman Talmadge of Georgia, and Strom Thurmond of South Carolina have not publicly endorsed the Kennedy Johnson ticket.

Adv.

Georgia Gov. Ernest Vandiver, who was scheduled to confer with Kennedy this afternoon, also has not given his blessing to the national ticket. Kennedy was expected to ask again for Vandiver's support.

Other southern governors withholding their endorsement included Orval Faubus of Arkansas and Jimmie Davis of Louisiana.

Kennedy told United Press International that he hoped to win Byrd's backing before the end of the campaign. He said he felt Byrd's support would assure him victory in Virginia which went to President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

600-Mile Horse Ride Completed

DALLAS (UPI)—After 16 days of hard riding through torrential rains, torrid temperatures and quicksand, a Roswell, N. M. boy and his father have made it Wednesday safely to Dallas, completing a 600-mile horseback vacation trip.

John Hawk Jr., 34, and his son John III, 6, were looking for someone to buy their tuckered horses today so they could go home by bus.

The elder Hawk rode two horses down during the trip and finally made it into Dallas with a tired pony named Rattlesnake.

The boy's mount made it all the way.

The Hawks encountered the quicksand near Mineral Wells and it rained on the horsemen all the way from Weatherford to Fort Worth.

Each night they camped along the trail and ate in restaurants along the way. They washed their clothes periodically in laundromats.

Hawk, a vacuum cleaner salesman, said his wife, who stayed at home with their six daughters, wasn't too happy about the trip.

"I guess maybe I'll get a covered wagon and we'll start out somewhere together next year," Hawk said.

Reds Didn't Brainwash Powers, Ike Believes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower says he finds no evidence that the Russians have brainwashed Francis G. Powers. What is brainwashing? The official U.S. Air Force dictionary says to brainwash is: "To manipulate various psychological and moral factors so as to induce a person to reveal confidential information or to subscribe to false statements."

On that basis, Eisenhower's statement puzzled some other officials who studied accounts of the opening session of Powers' spy trial in Moscow.

Rep. George H. McMahon, D-Tex., suggested Powers may have been brainwashed, on the strength of the pilot's testimony that his U-2 was shot down at 68,000 feet. That suited the Kremlin's desire to show Russia could be defended against air attack, but it did not agree with belief here that Powers had plane trouble which brought him to much lower altitude before the Russians got him. Officials in the executive branch of the government were barred by a stern State Department order from commenting publicly on the trial and Powers' conduct. But authorities privately noted subtle turns in the testimony which indicated the kind of compliance with prosecution wishes that characterizes a witness subjected to brainwashing.

Powers, under prosecution and defense examination, testified he was sorry for his part in the U-2 incident. He said he came from a

Famed Showman Critically Ill

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — Oscar Hammerstein II, famed Broadway librettist, was reported in critical condition today at his nearby farm.

The theatrical genius who helped put "South Pacific," "Oklahoma" and other great musicals on Broadway, underwent intestinal surgery several months ago.

Hammerstein suffered a recurrence of the ailment that had required surgery, "which we hope is under control," a spokesman said.

The librettist collaborated with Richard Rogers to produce "The King and I" and the current Broadway hit, "Sound of Music," among other shows.

"Showboat," one of his earliest successes was written with composer Jerome Kern.

"strictly non-capitalist" family, flew under military orders because he had to and had been treated "very nicely" in the Soviet Union. The effect of this testimony appeared to some to bear out advance predictions that Russia was endeavoring to put the United States on trial and that Powers would be pictured as the pawn in Washington's so-called war-like policies.

The Russian brainwashing technique, in over-simplified form, is to imprison a person in a solitary cell for a number of days or even weeks. In time the prisoner becomes utterly dejected, frustrated and has a compulsion to talk.

Interrogators then take over the prisoner and make him review his entire life history. At many points, he is challenged and feels a great er compulsion to explain. At length he comes to cooperate with the interrogator and gets them both out of their predicament by accepting half-truths and lies, and eventually signing whatever is put before him.

Twisters Hit Texas

By United Press International

Scattered, light thundershowers dampened a strip of West Texas extending into the South Plains today, following a night of turbulent weather that included at least two twisters, torrential rain and hail.

A line of thundershowers was reported between Lubbock and Childress and southeast to near Palo Pinto and a few showers were reported in the Midland area.

The rains cooled the northern sections of the state but, in contrast, fog lay over much of South Texas, where it was hot and humid. Amarillo had a low of 55 this morning while the high minimum was 82 at Corpus Christi.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast new scattered thundershower systems this afternoon and evening. Temperatures were expected to hover in the high 80s in most sections of the state today with lows in the mid-60s.

Torrential rains, hail and at least two funnel clouds swept across far West Texas Thursday night, closing at least one road.

The twisters were seen six miles west of Marathon in Brewster county and two miles north of Pecos in Reeves county. Both churned up the ground in open ranch country and no damage was reported.

Sheriff's dispatchers said several utility poles were ripped down by high winds, however, in Nottrees in Ector county. A flash flood covered SH-302 between SH 66 and 181 in Ector county.

Several large, felled trees were floated onto the roadway.

Heavy rains also fell in the Midland-Odessa sector after a day in which a storm that moved southward dumped as much as two and a half inches of rain in the eastern Panhandle, the Red River Valley and North Texas.

The Weather Bureau recorded the following rainfall amounts for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. Lubbock .01, Midland .03, El Paso .49, Houston .03, Beaumont .05, Fort Worth .24, Wichita Falls .10, Texarkana .28 and Presidio .13.

Nixon After Farmers' Vote; Meets Leaders

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon arranged to meet today with leaders of the three major farmers' organizations in his effort to capture the farm vote in the presidential election.

The Republican nominee scheduled separate afternoon conferences with officials of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the Farmers Union and the National Grange.

Nixon is trying to stem recent Democratic election trends in traditionally Republican Midwest farm states. He has in effect repudiated the policies of Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson, which are highly unpopular with some farmers.

Benson predicted Thursday, however, that his policies would gain more support between now and election day. He pledged his wholehearted support to Nixon's

White House drive but said he had "no definite plans" for campaigning.

Nixon conferred Thursday with his congressional farm advisers, including GOP members of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees, in a continuing search for a new program to win farm state votes.

The conferees agreed that a series of regional meetings should be held to get grass roots viewpoints on ways "to develop improved agricultural conditions."

At the same time, Nixon was reported reexamining his prospects in the South to determine whether he should make more campaign appearances than he originally planned in that once solidly Democratic territory.

Rhee-Foe Named Korean Premier

SEOUL, Thursday (UPI) — Former Vice President John M. Chang, who led a long fight against the policies of deposed President Syngman Rhee and finally quit his post in disgust, was nominated Wednesday for the premiership of the "new" Republic of Korea.

President Posun Yun nominated Chang for the post today after the National Assembly yesterday rejected his first nominee, American-educated Kim Do Yoon by a narrow three-vote margin.

Chang, titular head of the Democratic Party and leaders of its so-called "new" faction has fought an uphill struggle against the party's "old guard" group in his bid to win the important post.

Chang's nomination must receive a majority of the Lower House of the Assembly. The House decided to vote on it tomorrow.

POWERS

received a death sentence but prosecutor Roman Rudenko recommended that his life be spared. Rudenko had asked the three-man court—there was no jury—to give Powers 15 years in prison.

Powers made a last abject personal plea to the court.

The flier asked the judges to consider that he was led into his "grave crime," deeply regrets it, never bore any enmity toward the Russian people and that his mission failed—"no secret information reached its destination."

One of the American attorneys accompanying Powers' family to Moscow revealed just before the sentence that Mrs. Barbara Powers, the pretty 25-year-old wife of the pilot, wants to remain in Russia during her husband's prison term.

The court's judgment said that Powers committed a severe crime but that there were three mitigating circumstances:

1. Open-hearted admission of guilt.
2. Sincere repentance.
3. The principle of Socialist humanitarianism.

Powers appeared calm. He showed no emotion at the sentencing.

Powers' white-haired mother, Ida, seated in a rear box of the hall, took her daughter-in-law's hand and held it tenderly.

RED BLAME PRESLEY

BERLIN (UPI) — The Communists have again blamed Elvis Presley and rock 'n' roll for juvenile delinquency in East Germany.

A Leipzig court jailed seven members of an Elvis Presley club last week for allegedly raping a 16-year-old girl. But the court said the real criminals were Presley and "American barbarism."

Belgian Leader Voted Support

BRUSSELS (UPI)—The government of Premier Gaston Eyskens won a decisive vote of confidence in Parliament Thursday night despite disastrous events in The Congo. The Chamber of Deputies' 115-82 vote came after two days of relatively mild debate in which Eyskens promised a major cabinet shakeup and promised steps to reduce the Belgian commitment to NATO. The premier said by next month he would present a sweeping austerity program designed to offset financial losses suffered by granting independence to the former colony.

Well, To Tell You The Truth...

At least one Pampa motorist believes in telling exactly why she violated a traffic ordinance.

Last night, Lt. D. L. Day, stopped a woman driver who had gone through a blinking red light without stopping first.

"Do you know what a blinking red light means?" Day asked as he checked her drivers license.

"I think it means to stop before you go through it," the woman replied.

"Then why didn't you stop?" Day asked.

Without hesitating, the woman replied: "To tell the truth I didn't see you setting there."

The pleated skirt is all set as a fall fashion. And the skirts shown here will retain their pleats indefinitely. Slim dress (left) with banded neckline has suggestion of the long torso line, a deeply pleated skirt. A two-piece knit (center) with raglan sleeves and sash-tied overblouse will keep its shape, not yours. Skirt has narrow pleats and band of contrasting color at the hip line. Classic dress (right) with high neckline and pleated skirt gets something extra in the way of a sleeveless overvest that buttons with two huge buttons. The secret of permanent pleats in all of the designs shown here lies in the fabric, Acrilan. Such clothes are a must in the closet of every busy woman since they require the absolute minimum in upkeep.

Summer Snapshots Can Help Towards Better Grooming And Posture Routines

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

Summer is the time when all of us take lots of pictures, whether on vacation, at the beach or just at leisure. And these pictures can turn up some interesting things. Used in a positive fashion, they can provide a measure for self-improvement.

For instance, how does your posture come through? Slouched and round-shouldered? If so, its time to straighten up consciously.

What about the hairdo? Is it really becoming or is it just out of date? If it doesn't do something for you, it's time to get brave and change it. And that flowered print you bought at a summer clearance sale. Was it really a bargain or should it go out of your life forever?

Don't destroy the unflattering pictures of yourself. Keep them and study them carefully with improvement in mind. Toss them out when you've made the improvements. And don't ask your friends and family what they think. Few people have the courage to be honest when confronted with a question of this sort. Just go ahead on your own.

It is always a mistake for the mature woman to cling to the hair style, make-up and fashion colors of her youth.

For nothing dates her as certainly as the shoulder length bob of the early 1940s, the fuchsia lipstick, the colors she found flattering then. What happens is that she continues to look the same (to herself) but much older (to her friends).

The best policy by far is to place the matter of a hairstyle in the hands of a really good stylist, to watch this newspaper for make-up hints and to watch fashion columns in this paper for news of line and color. Change can be fun and good for the morale. You may be startled!

RUTH MILLETT

If you are the parent of a teenager you'll have to make up your mind whether you intend to be an adult, upholding adult standards, or a good Joe determined to keep on the good side of your own teenager and his friends.

You've got to make up your mind which you want to be because you can't be both.

If you're going to be an adult and a responsible parent you'll make some house rules and see that they are obeyed by your own teenager and any friends he brings home with him.

If you're going to be a good Joe you'll keep quiet and make no protest if a teen-age crowd completely takes over your house.

If you are going to be an adult you'll not be afraid to show anger, disgust, or disappointment when teen-agers show complete disregard for the rights of others.

If you're a good Joe you'll take their side whenever they get into any kind of scrape instead of insisting that they face up to the consequences of their reckless behavior.

If you are going to act like an

5 Permanent Pleats On Autumn Scene

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — This is the big year of the pleated skirt. But most of us will take our pleats permanently. And that's the way designers have given them to us for fall.

The college or career girl who buys a dress with pleated skirt wants to be assured that the pleats are there to stay. She has too much to do, too busy a life to spend hours on the upkeep of her clothes.

This is also true of the mature woman. The personal maid is a creature of the past. The dry cleaner, alterations woman and laundry have replaced her. So the older woman, too, wants to be able to turn the dress with pleats over to her cleaner, secure in the knowledge that it will come back crisp as ever.

Many of the fall synthetics are washable, of course. And drip-dry. But not all women greet this bit of information with cries of joy. Some are too busy to want to hand wash a dress; others just don't want the bother. So it's nice to have the choice: dry clean or wash, whichever you may prefer.

The first thing to do in buying one of the new knits of daytime dresses with pleated skirt is to read the hangtag carefully. Find out what the dress is made of, the fiber content is always listed. If it's 70 per cent synthetic and 30 per cent rayon or worsted, chances are that those pleats are in to stay. And with no nonsense.

But don't take any chances. Read on. If the tag says the pleats are permanent, then they are. But if it says the dress is handwashable only, pay attention. If you don't want to bother with handwashing it, then make up your mind it must go to the cleaner. If it says machinewashable, read washing directions carefully.

adult you'll correct teen-age manners when they need correcting and expect to be treated with courtesy and respect.

If you're a good Joe you'll overlook rudeness and disrespect and tell yourself "that's just the way kids act these days."

If you're a responsible adult you'll tell another parent something you think he ought to know. But if you're a good Joe you'll side with the teen-agers in helping the kid get away with something.

Dear Abby...
Motherly Love,
"Smotherly" Love
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is in my neighborhood a 15-year old boy who is a nice young man as you would care to meet. He comes to "talk things over" with me because his father died when he was small. (I am a 62-year-old man.)

Abby, this boy's mother is a fine, intelligent woman (an executive secretary) but she is ruining her son's life. She tells him he is "the man of the house". She still picks out all his clothes. She cuts him off from all young people—especially girls. He once asked her why she didn't try to find a nice man and remarry and she told him she was devoting her life to HIM and she didn't need a husband.

This boy is bright, mannerly and handsome. He yearns to be a normal 15-year-old boy but is cast in the role of his mother's personal property. Would you, if you were I, talk to his mother about it?

JUST A NEIGHBOR
DEAR NEIGHBOR: I would. If she is "fine and intelligent", she'll hear you out. Otherwise, she'll throw you out. You've nothing to lose and the boy has so much to gain. Good Luck!

DEAR ABBY: What would you think if every time you went to visit a certain friend, she put up her ironing board when you got there and said, "I'll iron while we visit." Don't you think it is rude to treat a friend like that?

TIRED OF IT
DEAR TRIED: Your friend isn't ironing for the fun of it. Obviously her ironing is a pressing matter. A close "friend" wouldn't complain. She'd help.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 22 I started dating a married man. We fell in love. I stuck with him for 16 years because I always had the feeling he would divorce his wife. He never did. I am now 38.

I have no friends and no outside interests. My own family won't have anything to do with me. Please ABBY, tell those nice little single

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Reeves presented the program with the assistance of Mmes. L. C. Bevel and G. W. Gooding. Closing prayer was offered by Mrs. B. V. Bevel.

His place here will be officially filled in December by the Rev. Russell G. West.

Mr. Fryman came to Pampa from Arcadia, Ind. He has also served as pastor of the Michigan City, Ind., church. He was graduated from Manchester College, North Manchester, Ind., and Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

His wife, Betty also is a graduate of Manchester College with a degree in English. The Frymans have two children, Mary Lou, 11, and Jimmy, 13.

While here, Rev. Fryman served as treasurer of the ministerial association.

Lesson On 'Mind' Set For Sunday

The healing power of spiritual understanding will be explained at Christian Science churches Sunday in the lesson-sermon on "Mind," which concludes the current series devoted to synonyms for God.

Christ Jesus' response to the centurion who asked help for his pained servant will be included in the Bible readings: "And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour" (Matt. 8:13).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be read (180:25): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of Divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."

Rev. West was pastor of the church here from 1939-1951. From 1951-1956, he was pastor of the Wiley, Colo., church. Since 1956, he has been doing evangelistic work throughout the United States.

While previously in Pampa, he was president of the ministerial association for one term, a member of the Kiwanis Club, and taught Bible in Pampa High School for six years.

He was graduated from Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va., and Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, Ill. He attended Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., for two years.

His wife, Millie, taught at Pampa Junior High School for 12 years. She returned to teach there last year and will teach again this year.

The Wests have four children: Russell G. West Jr., 639 Faulkner; Donald West, Grand Hills, Calif.; Virginia Lee McMurray, Canton, Kan.; and Waltine Zimmerman, El Paso.

Youth Charged In Murder Try

DALLAS (UPI)—Police filed charges of conspiracy to commit murder Wednesday against the teen-age leader of a hoodlum gang who they said ordered the execution of two youngsters who would not join his group.

The charges were filed against Johnny Lee Porter, 18. Police said he stood across the street from a house while two other young gunners fired 11 bullets through windows of the home of brothers, 16 and 17, who refused to join the gang.

The shooting took place last week. Neither brother was hurt. Police said Porter had recently organized a gang known as the "Vikings."

The teen-age gunmen were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Accused Rapist Dies Of Wounds

DALLAS (UPI)—Wilson Sheppard, 86, accused of having a four-year romance with a 15-year-old girl who is now pregnant, shot and wounded himself fatally early today.

Sheppard's wife said she heard him get up and go into the backyard of their home. She said she followed, and as she stepped into the yard, she heard a shot.

Sheppard, a realtor, was rushed to Methodist Hospital with a 22-caliber bullet in his head. He died on the operating table.

Police filed statutory rape charges against Sheppard on Wednesday after the girl signed a statement saying he first seduced her when she was 11 years old in a vacant house he owned in Grand Prairie.

She said there were numerous instances since then. Grand Prairie police said Sheppard signed a statement admitting the offenses.

Sonic Boom Jolts Atlanta

ATLANTA (UPI)—A supersonic B-58 jet bomber broke the sound barrier in a flight over Atlanta Wednesday night touching off panicky reports of bombs and explosions.

The sonic boom was so severe it was felt by just about all the one million residents in the five-county Atlanta metropolitan area. Some windows were shattered in the downtown area, and Mrs. Landis Worth of suburban Mt. Vernon Woods said she and her family were "thrown out of bed by the explosion" shortly before midnight.

Residents of a Jewish home for the aged called police, convinced the home had been dynamited. Telephone switchboards to newspapers, police stations, fire departments, radio and TV stations and news agencies were tied up for an hour with calls which one telephone company official said came from "every small town near Atlanta."

A spokesman at Dobbin's Air Force Base at Marietta, Ga., said military flight service had the B-58 on its radar screens when the rumbling explosion of sound waves shook the city. He said the jet was on a "round-robin" flight from Carswell AFB at Fort Worth, Texas.

Hurricane Cleo Small, Erratic

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Hurricane Cleo, described by weathermen as a "small" and "erratic" storm whipped up winds of 83 miles per hour Thursday night 650 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla.

The storm presently poses no danger to the U.S. coast.

In an midnight e.d.t. advisory the weather bureau warned small craft along the Carolina coasts and northward to Cape May, N. J., to remain in port.

Cleo, the season's third tropical storm, was moving north-northeastward at 20 miles per hour. But the weather bureau said:

"As the hurricane is not well organized this direction and speed may be somewhat erratic the next 12 to 24 hours."

Adult Study Course Set

"Look Up to God" will be the topic of the 8:30 and 10:55 a.m. sermons to be delivered by the Rev. Woodrow Adcock at the First Methodist Church Sunday.

Special music for the 10:55 service will be a solo by Mrs. J. P. Greenwalt who will sing "My Soul is Aflame for God" by Gaul. The Sanctuary Singers will sing the anthem, "Fierce Rabel the Tempest" by Candlyn.

Mrs. Betty Boynton Frandsen of Denver and formerly of Pampa, also will be soloist for the Sunday morning service. She will sing "How beautiful Upon the Mountain" by Harker.

Sunday fellowship will begin at 6 p.m., with a light supper of the entire family in the Fellowship Hall. At 6:30 children, youth and adults will separate for an hour of planned activities.

A three-week adult Sunday evening fellowship study course on "The Sacraments" will be held in the chapel beginning at 8:30 Sunday. Mrs. Jack Riley will conduct the course. She will discuss the Sacraments as they are understood and practiced in the Methodist Church and will also examine the briefs and observances of other churches concerning them.

The Sunday night service at 7:30 will be conducted by Pastor Adcock, who will speak on "The Search for Fellowship." Special music will be presented by the MYF Singers.

Area Churches Have United

McLean (Sp) — Miss Lois Daniel, pastor of the Pentacostal Holiness Church, has announced the formation of a larger parish, combining the congregations of the McLean and Alanreed churches.

The newly formed congregation will worship in McLean and Miss Daniel will be the minister. The Rev. Paul Cooper, who has been serving the Alanreed church will move to Dumas.

Miss Daniel also said that a new church building is being planned. Construction is to begin when a suitable location is secured.

2nd Sentence Due 'Victim' Of Air Crash

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Robert Spears, 66, once believed one of the 42 victims of an airliner crash in the Gulf of Mexico last year, faces sentencing Sept. 8 for illegally performing an abortion.

Spears, a Dallas, Tex., naturopath, pleaded guilty to the charge Thursday. He already is serving a five-year federal prison sentence for driving a stolen car across state lines.

The abortion charge against Spears had to be reinstated this year after it turned out he was not killed in the National Airlines crash Nov. 16.

YESTERDAY ... TODAY ... TOMORROW

Psalm 55:22

"Cast thy burdens upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved."

In a day that is filled with tension and heartbreak, God's people need their feet on the solid rock of assurance and live just one day at a time.

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry, two days which should be kept free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is YESTERDAY with its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders, its aches and pains. YESTERDAY has passed forever beyond our control.

All the money in the world cannot bring back YESTERDAY. We cannot undo a single act we performed; we cannot erase a single word we said. YESTERDAY is gone.

The other day we should not worry about is TOMORROW with its possible adversities, its burdens, its large promise and poor performance. TOMORROW is also beyond our immediate control.

TOMORROW'S sun will rise, either in splendor or behind a mask of clouds — but it will rise. Until it does, we have no stake in TOMORROW, for it is yet unborn.

This leaves only one day — TODAY. Any man can fight the battles of just one day. It is only when you and I add the burdens of those two awful eternities — YESTERDAY and TOMORROW — that we break down.

It is not the experiences of TODAY that drives men mad. It is remorse or bitterness for something which happened YESTERDAY and the dread of what TOMORROW may bring.

Let us, therefore, live but ONE DAY AT A TIME by casting our burdens upon the Lord, and he shall sustain us.

SWC Grid Booklet Out Now

The new Southwest Conference football roster and record book is hot off the press, and it looks like the league officials have come up with their best pre-season publication yet.

Every Southwest Conference record you could ever hope to win is listed within the covers. But most important to many fans is the complete varsity roster of each of the eight teams.

The score of every football game played by each school also is listed. And in the back you will find a list of officials who will be in charge of SWC games this fall.

The cover of the booklet is white, with orange lettering, in honor of the tri-champion Texas Longhorns.

Each year it is the policy of the conference to use the colors of the championship team on the cover. Although the Longhorns tied with TCU and Arkansas for the flag, they went to the Cotton Bowl and there by gained this honor.

In past years the booklet has been made available to newspaper, radio and television personnel only. Now, however, the general public may obtain copies of it too. Simply send your name and address, along with $1, to the Southwest Athletic Conference, Box 7185, Inwood Station, Dallas 9, Texas.

Women To Be QB Club Guests

There may be some misunderstanding on the new policy of the Quarterback Club in inviting women to attend a meeting each month.

The wives of the members won't actually become members of the Quarterback Club, president Sharret on Haralson points out.

But they will be invited to attend a certain meeting each month and will be encouraged to take part in the activities.

The first thing on the Quarterback Club's agenda this year will be a watermelon feast in Red River, which will be followed by a 15-inch rainbow trout which scaled The players and their fathers 1½ pounds.

Hebert, Campbell Share Lead

ST. PAUL (UPI)—Veteran Lionel Hebert and newcomer Joe Campbell carried two stroke leads into the second round of the $30,000 St. Paul Open today.

Their slim advantages were obtained by a pair of blazing rounds of 32-32-64, eight under par, over the par 36-36-72 Keller golf course.

The rounds were only two strokes over the course record of 510-yard 12th hole where he held by defending champion Mike Souchak, George Bayer, and over par once.

They will be invited to attend a certain meeting each month and will be encouraged to take part in the activities.

City Slickers Favored In Grid Classic

AMARILLO — The City Slickers, composed of all-stars from Conference AAAA and AAA schools will be going for their third consecutive victory tomorrow night when they meet the Sobdusters.

The City Slickers will enter tomorrow night's contest as slim favorites. This is based mainly on the fact that the once strong Sobduster squad has been riddled by injuries.

Benny Stout, the all-state tackle from Pampa, yesterday was named tri-captain of the City Slickers. He also will be in the starting lineup at the 8 p.m. kickoff. Other tri-captains are Doug Cannon of Levelland and Tascosa's Durward Epps.

Harold Stokes, a Pampa guard, also is listed as a City Slicker starter.

The City Slickers won the first two games ever staged here. They won the inaugural contest, 24-12, in 1958, and came back last summer to slip past the Sobdusters, 12-6.

Still sidelined with an ankle injury is Jackie Burns, the talented White Deer scabbler. Burns missed the final workout session yesterday, and will see limited, if any, action tomorrow night.

Morris Bailey, former TCU gridman who is coaching the Sobdusters this year, said he really didn't know what to expect from the City Slickers tomorrow night.

"I do think they'll throw the ball against us, however," he added. Bailey had one reason to be smiling today, one of the few reasons he's found to do this week. This came about when Bill Gilliland of Floydada reported that he was ready to play.

Gilliland, who Bailey terms "one of the fiercest blockers I've ever seen," has been slowed most of the week by a case of the flu.

Tickets for the game will be on sale at the gate tomorrow night. General admission is $1.50 and reserved seats are $2.

Frenchman Wins

KITZBUHEL, Austria (UPI)—Pierre Darmon of France won the men's singles title in the Alpine international tennis tournament Tuesday and Angela Mortimer of Britain won the women's title.

Darmon won by beating Australian Roy Emerson, 2-6, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3, while Miss Mortimer beat Rita Bentley, also of Britain, 6-3, 6-0.

Stout To Serve As Tri-Captain

Benny Stout, the all-state tackle from Pampa, yesterday was named tri-captain of the City Slickers. He also will be in the starting lineup at the 8 p.m. kickoff. Other tri-captains are Doug Cannon of Levelland and Tascosa's Durward Epps.

Milwaukee Comeback Rivals Giants Of '51

By GARY KALE
United Press International

The Milwaukee Braves hope that Lew Burdette's near perfect no-hitter can fan a flickering spark into a blazing pennant drive.

Burdette, who "never thought I'd ever do it," missed the National League's first modern perfect game Thursday night when he hit Tony Gonzalez in the fifth inning as the Braves scored a 1-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The 33-year-old righthander from Nitro, W. Va., faced the minimum number of 27 batters, however, when Gonzalez was erased in a double play.

Whether Burdette's brilliant performance can mobilize Milwaukee into overhauling Pittsburgh's 7½ game lead depends on how the Braves react to the team's first no-hitter since Jim Wilson turned the trick in 1951.

If they do come back, it would rival the greatest recovery since the 1951 Giants trailed by 13½ games in early August and went on to beat the Dodgers in a play-off series for the National League pennant.

Burdette, the hero of the 1957 World Series when he won three games against the New York Yankees, took matters into his own hands to prevent a recurrence of Harvey Haddix' extraordinary no-hitter against the Braves last season that was lost on Joe Adcock's hit in the 13th. He doubled in the eighth inning and came home with his winning run on Billy Bruton's two-base hit.

The victory was Burdette's 14th of the season against seven losses. Gene Conley suffered his 10th defeat for the Phils.

Dick Stuart's pinch homer gave Pittsburgh a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati and Wally Moon's 13th inning homer enabled Los Angeles to edge Chicago, 4-3, in the other National League games.

The Yankees retained their 2½ game lead in the American League by beating the Boston Red Sox, 11-7; Baltimore had an eight-run third inning to defeat Washington, 10-8, and go into a second place tie with Chicago as Cleveland topped the White Sox, 8-6, and Detroit downed Kansas City, 11-6.

Stuart, who appears at his best after a benching session, belted his 14th homer for Pittsburgh in the eighth inning to give Vernon Law his 18th win.

Moon's 12th homer of the season offset two homers by rookie Ron Santo and one by Frank Thomas. Tommy Davis' single stretched his hitting streak to 18 consecutive games, longest Dodgers' skein since 1956.

The Yankees, who have won four of their last six games by one run, rallied for six runs in the last two innings. Yogi Berra drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and a single and Clete Boyer hammered a two-run homer for New York.

Baltimore clustered six of its nine hits in the third inning outburst. Jackie Brandt and Ron Hansen each drove in two runs with singles in the eight-run rally.

'Never Happen,' He Said, But Big Lew Was Wrong

By FRED LINDECKE
United Press International

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Lew Burdette, the guy with the ever-present quip and wise crack, knows today what it takes to "leave him stunned and speechless—his first no-hitter.

The 33-year-old righthander from Nitro, W. Va., circled aimlessly and bumped into people in the Milwaukee Braves dressing room after stopping the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, Thursday night.

"I never thought I'd ever do it," he repeated again and again. But soon he was the old irreplaceable Burdette again.

When did he first think about pitching a no-hitter? "Right with the first pitch." And then with a jab at Braves' treasurer Fran Leary, "be sure to make those checks bigger from now on."

Burdette came within just one batter of hurling a perfect game. He faced only the minimum of 27 men, but he hit center fielder Tony Gonzalez with a 1-1 pitch in the fifth inning.

Gonzalez became the only Philadelphia baserunner of the game, but he was erased immediately in an unusual doubleplay. The next batter, Lee Walls, grounded out third to first, and Gonzalez was out trying to go all the way to third on a relay back to Johnny Logan covering the bag.

Serious for just a moment again, Burdette compared the thrill of his no-hitter with winning three games against the New York Yankees in the 1957 World Series.

"I rank this right up there with those," he said. Standing right next to him, Warren Spahn — a veteran who has had 10 20-victory seasons without a no-hitter — said: "The hell with your pitching. It was the hitting that did it."

Spahn referred to Burdette's second hit of the night, a double down the left field line to open the eighth inning. Billy Bruton followed with another double over the first base bag off losing pitcher Gene Conley to score Burdette with the winning run.

It was the second no-hitter of this season. Don Cardwell pitched one for the Cubs against the Cardinals on May 15. It was also the first nine-inning no-hitter by a Brave pitcher since Jim Wilson pitched one against the Phillies on June 12, 1954.

The spectacular performance recalled the night of May 26, 1959, when Pittsburgh's Harvey Haddix pitched 12 perfect innings at County Stadium, only to lose, 1-0, in the 13th and ironically to Burdette.

Burdette said he was worried about every one of the Phil's batters. "I told myself at the start of the ninth inning, 'You dumb guy, this could never happen to you.'"

But Burdette was wrong, it did.

Warren Posts 75 In PGA

LUBBOCK (Sp) — Hart Warren, Pampa Country Club pro, faced a huge task this morning as he teed off in the second round of the Texas PGA golf tournament at Hillcrest Country Club.

Warren, who recently set a new Pampa course record of 61, had trouble on both the fairways and the greens in the first round yesterday as he blew to a 3-over par 75. This placed him well down the list in the medal play tournament.

Dick Turner of San Angelo, and El Paso's Iverson Martin turned in the best rounds of the day, and grabbed the first round lead. Both of the beltors toured the par 72 course in 4-under 68s.

A two-way tie for third place also developed as Jackson Bradley of Houston and S. A. Smith of Andrews both came in with cards of 69, one stroke off the place.

Six golfers jammed the standings in a tie for fourth place with 78s. Foremost among these is Ernie Vossler, the sometimes hot — sometimes cold, belter from Fort Worth who makes the national pro tour each year.

Others coming in with 70s include Elroy Marti, Houston; Bill Trombley, Dallas; Don Dunkelberger, Dallas; Palmer Lawrence, Longview; and George Alexander, Fort Worth.

In the senior division of the tourney, Todd Meneese of San Antonio grabbed the lead with a 1-under 71. Dick Metz, former Fort Worth pro who now plays out of San Antonio was one stroke back in second place with a 72.

Metz is the senior golf champion of the world, and recognized as such by the Professional Golf Association.

Tournament officials were hoping for a clear, sunny day as the second round began this morning. A cold mist, driven by a brisk north wind, marred the opening round of the tournament and seriously cut attendance.

The moisture was expected to leave the greens tricky to put on especially for the first golfers off the tees today.

Baltimore clustered six of its nine hits in the third inning outburst. Jackie Brandt and Ron Hansen each drove in two runs with singles in the eight-run rally.

Stuart's pinch homer gave Pittsburgh a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati and Wally Moon's 13th inning homer enabled Los Angeles to edge Chicago, 4-3, in the other National League games.

Sports Briefs

By United Press International

Fine pitching featured Texas League action Thursday night and most of it came from second division clubs which shutout Valley and San Antonio, the two top teams, on a pair of four-hitters. Victoria blanked Valley 3-0, Austin whitewashed San Antonio 4-0, and in the other game, Tulsa edged Amarillo 3-2 in 11 innings after Jim Schaffer, Oiler backstop, tied it up with a last-ditch notion of the ninth homer off Don Thompson.

Jim Proctor twirled a sparkling four-hitter for Victoria and never let one of the Giants past second base as the Rosebuds put together a nine-hit attack, scoring in the first, second and fourth innings to win.

Tony Cloninger held San Antonio scoreless over the distance for Austin. Ron Goerger was doing the same thing to the Senators until Austin exploded in the seventh for its four runs, and all from a pair of homers by Bill Thompson, the first with two on and a solo blast the next time around.

In single games tonight, Victoria moves to San Antonio, Valley is at Tulsa and Austin at Amarillo.

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Earl Buchholz of St. Louis and Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, N.Y., last surviving Americans in singles play at the 79th Newport Invitation tennis tournament, took on two Australians in quarterfinal matches today.

Buchholz sought a semi-final spot against Bob Hewitt who started the tournament at Newport Casino unseeded but promptly knocked eighth-seeded Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., out of the running. Holmberg, second seeded, met fifth-ranked Bob Mark.

The winners of the two matches will meet each other Saturday while top-ranked Rod Laver, bidding for a fourth consecutive grass court title, takes on England's Bobby Wilson in the other semi-final round.

Laver, who has made it clear he won't be easy to stop, eliminated Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., Thursday, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

Wilson, Britain's top player, was down two sets to one in his match with U.S. Davis Cupper Chuck McKinley of St. Louis but rallied from behind to win, 6-4, 4-6, 10-12, 6-3, 6-3.

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Former Kansas City Athletics pitcher Dave Newkirk will be the starting pitcher for the Wichita, Kan., Cessna Bobcats tonight in the opening round of the 28th annual National Baseball Congress tournament.

Newkirk, a righthander who was a member of the Athletics staff in 1959, will face the Quincy, Mo., Cyclones.

Dave Benedict, who formerly pitched for the Omaha Cardinals in the Class AAA American Association, will be the starting pitcher for the Omaha, Neb., Thomas, who play the Anniston, Ala., Linen Threads in the other game on the first-night card.

The tournament is conducted on a double-defeat elimination system and has a starting field of 32 teams which qualified by winning state or bi-state playoffs.

Among the better-known baseball personalities who will be appearing in the tourney will be veteran Leroy (Satchel) Paige, who has been signed on as a pitcher for the Wichita, Kan., Weller Indians.

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Texas and Oklahoma high school football standouts collide at 8 p.m. tonight in the 23rd annual Oil Bowl.

The Texans hold a slight weight advantage in their starting lineup over the Sooners.

Desire, Determination Aid Connolly

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

ROME (UPI) — To look at Hal Connolly, who is using the Olympic Games as a "second honeymoon" with his beautiful Czech wife, Olga, you'd think that this was the world's hammer throwing champion.

Not that Connolly isn't massive enough. The whale from Boston College packs 233 pounds on a burly six-foot frame.

But Connolly has a slightly dwarfed left arm which is noticeably shorter and less muscular than its mate.

How then did he become a world champion in a sport where these muscular bemoths whirl around and sling a 16-pound lead ball for eye-popping distances?

The answer is, by a combination of circumstances. First, desire. Second, determination.

Third, he lived near the coach of his college track team. Fourth, there aren't as many hammer throwers in the world as there are say shot putters, sprinters, or even pole vaulters.

"Pick any one of them," says Connolly, an English teacher at John Adams Junior High School in Santa Monica, Calif. "But they all figure in it."

The dwarfed arm is result of a birth accident in which his arm was broken in several places and the tendons were torn. He underwent an operation at three months of age but today, 29 years later, it still is shorter and weaker.

"I was determined that I wasn't going to be left out of things and I always wanted to be an athlete," he says. "I started as a shot putter. When I was in college I lived near the coach and would ride home with him. The last thing he did every day was teach the hammer throwers. So I'd wait around and while waiting would throw the hammer back to the hammer throwers."

"Pretty soon I was throwing it over their heads," he grins. "So I became the hammer thrower." The short arm, he feels philosophically, has been an advantage.

"You need relaxed arms," says the man who has a world record of 230 feet, nine inches, up for consideration in a sport where until he came along 200 feet was the unreachable barrier. "Well, because of my arm I had to use my legs more, counting on natural arm relaxation and using more leg drive. It paid off."

It did, indeed. He won the 1956 Olympic title with a heave of 207 feet, 3 1/4 inches and now has the thing going so far beyond that he seems a cinch to retain his Olympic honors.

It was at Melbourne, during those last Olympic Games in 1956, that he met and fell in love with Olga Fikotova, a beautiful queen-sized Czech who won the women's discus crown. Cupid smashed his way through the Iron Curtain and, after a number of difficulties, Hal had himself a wife. Olympic officials have managed something the Russians couldn't, namely separating them. Olga is in the women's village and Hal in the men's village.

"But we are together all the time in spirit," he says without a trace of Irish blarney. "This is just like the last time, this second honeymoon, but now we belong to each other."

Nobody had to add that there aren't many athletes around with the "old man's" spirit and determination.

Redskins' Day Is Real Indian

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Washington Redskins picked an honest-to-goodness Injun to quarterback the team against the Los Angeles Rams in a National Football League exhibition game tonight.

Day replaces the injured Ralph Guglielmi who was expected to quarterback Washington in the 1960 campaign after under-studying Eddie LeBaron for several seasons.

Day, part Choctaw Indian, leads the Redskins in the annual Times Charities game which is expected to draw about 80,000 fans to the Coliseum.

New-Style Aid

There's a new idea of foreign aid from those busy, busy brains in Washington coming under public scrutiny...

This oft-wished for conclusion hasn't worked out. Nations receiving our foreign aid have become addicts of the disease.

There seems to be only a minimum concern with such questions as these:

1. Will the borrower, say in Guatemala, actually maintain his property within the requirements of the difficult equatorial conditions to justify a loan of more than 18 months?

2. Assuming that interest will be charged for the loans (this is part of the plan) might this fact tend to open up Communist claims that "Uncle Shioyok" is trying to greedily exploit unskilled and untutored natives in scores of far away places?

3. In the event of default, will the U.S. Marines move in to collect payments in arrears, or will the U.N. bail the lender out?

4. If the local government is supposed to do the bailing, what guarantee would we have that under such conditions the local government might not have further reason either to receive more foreign aid for itself, or further reason to break off relations with us?

5. Finally, since money and credit in most of these places is being expanded in a giant inflation, what makes the Americans feel that long term investments in homes might not end up being paid off in money which had lost a large part of its purchasing power?

It really is strange the way our political expedients worry so much about how to impoverish the American people.

Payola in Politics

The August, 1960 issue of Reader's Digest has an article in it that should be read by every American who has the slightest interest in political action.

Lester Velie wrote the article but his name follows the famous phrase, "as told to..." The real author is "Assemblyman X," a political reformer who tried to beat the system only to find that he had to join it to become effective.

As solid evidence of the manner in which this man has betrayed his own principles and his own voters, he ends his piece in an endorsement of the idea that political candidates be supported in their campaigns for office by taxpayers' money.

Can anyone imagine anything worse than that? Since the lists are always open and since anyone can always run for any office, if the government ever got into the business of using your money there would be no limit to the number of persons running for public office each year, if only to get their hands on the campaign expense money.

It's a most ridiculous and outrageous suggestion, which came originally from the extravagant Senator Richard Neuberger of Oregon.

But getting back to the article in question, we believe the following paragraphs are the most vital of the lot.

"...When I first ran for office, I fiercely resolved to make no deals, trade no votes. But I quickly learned that this noble course can lead only to isolation and ineffectiveness. If you want other lawmakers to vote for your bills, you must vote for theirs. If you want to be a leader, you have to make alliances and do favors that will bind legislators to you."

"The same holds true for dealing with the 'Third House' (lobbies). The lobbyists have been willing to let me and my group utilize them. They know my purpose is to build more power for myself and to maintain my group's control over the legislature. But at the same time, they expect me to produce for them."

"This is my dilemma: If I had stayed away from the lobbyists, I would have been ineffective. If I take their money and give them nothing for it, I am a cheat. If I do their bidding, I could be cheating the public. I find myself rationalizing what I have done. The tragedy is that I may wind up serving the very elements I set out to beat - yet not even know that I have changed."

"This last sentence really sets off the tragedy. For 'Assemblyman X' has obviously done this very thing. And his candor in making the statement is rooted in his own ultimate hope that in spite of all the double dealing and payola with

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. HAROLD T. HYMAN

If I had it within my power, I'd fine unqualified persons who give out false or misleading medical information and I'd jail those who think they can sound off because they've worked or served in and around a hospital in some nonprofessional capacity.

What's roused my wrath is an inquiry from a correspondent whose husband recently died in a hospital.

She writes that she's "been too mortified to go out or even receive her friends" because "someone connected with the hospital" told her that his death, due to aortic heart disease, must have been the result of a syphilitic infection.

Now, in addition to her mortification, she fears that the disease must have contracted the disease and worries lest she infect others who might kiss her during the course of their condolence calls.

While it was true, 50 years ago, that many who suffered aortic heart disease were victims of a syphilitic infection, the entire picture has changed since the introduction of effective treatment for the most serious of the venereal diseases.

Today, almost without exception, those who display evidence of aortic inflammation either suffered from rheumatic fever in early life or developed hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis) later in life.

I cannot recall having seen a single person with aortic disease, due to syphilis, in the last 20 years of my practice.

Under these circumstances why then should "someone connected with the hospital" have blackened the memory of my correspondent's husband and caused her such needless anguish?

Mostly, I suspect, because of the vicious combination of ignorance and a desire to pose as one who had the capacity to absorb the arts and sciences of medicine by breathing hospital air.

I bring this extreme example to your attention so that you may be on guard when lesser instances come your way.

I suggest that the best defense against these know-it-alls is the simple expedient of asking questions. Are you sure? How do you know? Who told you? Would you mind if I checked this information with my own doctor?

And if the self-appointed "authority" takes offense at your cross-examination, let him or her go fly a kite.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

For a copy of Dr. Hyman's leaflet "What About Hardening of the Arteries?" send 10 cents to Dr. Hyman, care (Name Newspaper), Box 489, Dept. B, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

which he has been involved somehow he has retained his innocence. Deep in his heart he must know he has not.

Once more, in graphic form, we find evidence of what a wholly unjustifiable process really is like. Nor is the evil in government produced by lobbies exclusively. As this particular office holder explains, many lobbyists are fine persons.

The problem relates to a basic, deep-seated fallacy, which is inherent in all government. Government sets out to provide things for persons by force. That is the ONLY distinction of government. The market place provides things without relying on force.

But the use of force by means of which some persons try to provide things... even "good" things... is morally improper and self-defeating in a moral sense.

If the things sought thru government channels are desirable, then market place channels can be employed as well, and without the risk of immorality.

If the things sought thru government channels are not desirable, then how much more heinous is the use of force to compel people to take them.

There is NO way in which the political structure can be patched up, safeguarded or amended to make it work in a moral fashion. The statement, "moral government," is a contradiction in terms. We don't like to admit of this ultimate. Hope springs eternal, especially in the breasts of those who hope and plan to use force on others. But the grim reality is pretty well shown by the payola article in the August "Digest." Read it and weep. But read it.

Unions Pledge Allegiance To The Brothers Kennedy

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — Under the openly abusive patronage of the Kennedy brothers, who ran the McClellan Committee with arrogant contempt for Congress and the Public, the unions have been protected from corrective criminal legislation. Should Jack Kennedy be elected, this band of lawless predators should be assured a power of almost all persons who work with their employers and the national government.

The Kennedy's political conduct portends amnesty and absolute pardon for an enormous career of past criminality and, for the future, a distorted version of the Scandinavian system of labor relations. The worst American racketeers were not troubled at all by the Kennedy's, and the most audacious socialists, such as Walter Reuther and Dave Dubinsky, Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller's political leader, have been vindicated and embraced by the Kennedy's and the Democratic majority of the committee.

During their long careers under William Green and George Meany, late and incumbent presidents of the AFL-CIO, they had absolute immunity. Green insisted that they were completely autonomous, with a version of state's rights within the federation such as the several states of the union had enjoyed prior to the Civil War.

That would be 2 to 1 against the workers. Hitler and Mussolini drew the plan. This triangle would be worse than the Scandinavian. The Scandinavian employers have been organized against unions for years and have amassed great funds to enforce lockouts and reimburse struck industries. They have a legal right and the organized power to boycott and demolish scab employers who break the united front and make separate peace in strikes.

Of late there has been ballyhoo for an enormous business enterprise in Chicago of the Building Service Employees' Union, the BSEU is putting up a colossal building on the lake front.

The president, William McFetridge, is retiring on a pension of $15,000 a year plus car, driver and maintenance, office and clerical help, and unlimited expenses for himself and one to travel at will wherever he wants to go. But this old faker is coy as to whether he will retain his $30,000 job as president of his own Chicago local of the flatter jokers.

I wonder if I am unseemly when I say that when I was leading the fight against Capone and Scallise for three years in Chicago, I never could lay eyes on McFetridge. He was a vice president and, as such, had a duty to fight, but he never came out in the open until Tom Dewey in New York sent Scallise to prison. Then McFetridge assumed the presidency and attached himself to Dewey for the 1944 campaign. In the last few years, however, he has returned to his natural political devotion. Now he belongs to Kennedy.

It took no courage to fight Capone and Scallise in this thing. In fact Capone was broken and dying and Scallise was just a slimy little slug who owed his power to Fiorello La Guardia as mayor of New York.

But such guts as it took, McFetridge never showed; for I tell you that when I was rampaging openly around Chicago and New York in pursuit of Scallise, who finally wailed that he had been "Peglerized," I never could find William McFetridge.

Student 'Airlift' Query By Solon Irks Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., asked Sen. John F. Kennedy Wednesday if his family was trying to "outbid" the U.S. government by providing funds to airlift African students to the United States.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, promptly accused Scott, a former GOP national chairman, of "the most unfair, distorted, malignant attack" made on him during his 14 years in politics.

Their dispute involved the question of whether the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, set up in memory of the senator's late brother, had moved in ahead of the State Department to provide $100,000 for the student airlift.

Scott said any such move would be "an apparent misuse of tax exempt foundation money for blatant political purposes." The Pennsylvania senator first asked whether the Kennedy foundation had promised $400,000 for the project, but then said he understood the commitment was for only $100,000.

Kennedy replied that the Kennedy foundation had not wanted to get involved in the project because of other commitments. But he said five other foundations refused to put up the money and it was decided that 250 scholarships offered African students in U.S. colleges should not go begging because funds were lacking to transport the students.

Kennedy said Frank C. Montero, president of the African-American Student Foundation and Tom Mboya, Kenya labor leader, visited him at Hyannisport, Mass., last month to ask for help for the student project after the state department had refused the $100,000.

Tuesday for Tucson, Ariz., where they will make their home.
