Pilot, Wife In Tearful Goodbye

Last Meeting For Three Years

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI)—Barbara Powers was reunited for an hour today with her husband, American F-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, in a tearful scene that she said may be their last meeting for three years.

Powers' father, mother and sister visited him earlier in the Soviet Supreme Court building. Newsmen got the impression they did not plan to see him again.

Barbara, 25, said her husband began crying, put his arms around her and held her close when he learned he probably would face the next three years without them.

Barbara said her 31-year-old husband did not know which prison he would be sent to. She said she probably would be allowed to see him every two months.

Because of the infrequency of such possible visits, Barbara indicated she may not remain in Russia as previously planned.

Powers was convicted last week of espionage for the United States against the Soviet Union by flying a U-2 reconnaissance plane over Soviet territory May 1. He was sentenced to 10 years' deprivation of liberty, with the first three years to be spent in jail and the remainder probably at a work camp.

"He would be worried about how I was living and I would be upset every time I saw him," Barbara said. "It may be better not to see him at all until he gets out of prison and into the labor camp where I may be able to stay with him a couple of months."

"He was very emotional knowing we would be going away," she said. "Previously, the pretty brunette wife from Milledgeville, Ga., had indicated she would try to get a job with the U.S. Embassy here so she could be near her husband during his imprisonment."

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Powers, the fiercer parents, and his sister, Mrs. Jessica Hileman, wept openly as they left the Supreme Court building after seeing Powers.

Command Of AF Colonel Taken Away

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Col. J. P. Randolph, deputy commander of Randolph Air Force Base and a flying hero, had his command taken away Monday pending investigation of charges he used government property to build a houseboat for his personal use.

The houseboat in question was finished in June and the base newspaper carried a story of its launching. However, the Air Force today declined to discuss the houseboat or its size.

Col. H. F. Muentzer, base commander, announced Randolph's status change Monday, saying that relieving an officer is customary in such cases and "in no way pre-judges the case."

Randolph, 44, is a native of Temple, Tex., and was graduated from St. Mary's University in San Antonio in 1937.

He earned the designation of ace during World War II for shooting down five enemy aircraft. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Randolph said today, "I feel I should probably not make any statement until completion of the investigation. My own conscience is clear and I don't feel I have knowingly violated anything. But I don't think I'd better say any more."

He said he plans to ask the advice of a civilian lawyer.

The investigation was expected to last several days.

Ike Approves Of GOP Care For Aged Plan

By HALE MONTGOMERY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower indicated to Republican congressional leaders today that he approves a new GOP proposal for government-subsidized medical care for the aged.

But Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen said after a weekly legislative conference at the White House that it appears Eisenhower will veto a rival Democratic plan that calls for higher Social Security taxes to finance such care.

Dirksen said a bill introduced by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., probably would be "acceptable" to the President. It comes up for a vote today in the Senate but its chances of adoption were considered slim.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Republican presidential nominee, already has endorsed the Javits plan, a somewhat broader program than the administration first requested.

Javits had warned before the senate moved into a showdown session on the politically explosive medical care issue that Eisenhower would reject the Democratic proposal, backed by presidential contender John F. Kennedy.

Dirksen said the vote on the Kennedy backed measure would be "very close," however. But no matter what the Senate does, any bill may be revised by a Senate-House conference committee.

"There are a lot of 'ifs' in the whole picture," he told reporters.

Atom Ship May Get Polaris

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Construction of the first U.S. nuclear-powered cruiser is 18 months behind schedule. But the Navy may convert its embarrassment into a solid gain by using the delay to arm the ship with Polaris missiles.

It was learned today that the atomic cruiser Long Beach, once scheduled to join the fleet at the end of this year, now is slated to be commissioned in June, 1962. The estimated cost of the ship, heavily armed with anti-aircraft and anti-submarine missiles, has increased from $250 million to $300 million.

A proposal is now under consideration in the Pentagon to delay completion of the ship somewhat longer and add 16 Polaris missiles to its armament. If this is approved, the Long Beach would become the first surface ship equipped to hurl long-range ballistic missiles at strategic enemy targets.

The Long Beach, under construction at Bethlehem Steel's Quincy, Mass., yard, also would become one of the most expensive (See SHIP, Page 4)

'Telephone Address' Proposal Miffs VFW

DETROIT (UPI) — The miffed leadership of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has refused to let Democratic presidential nominee Sen. John F. Kennedy address their national convention here by telephone.

Kennedy had accepted an invitation to address the convention today, but turned it down at the last minute, citing the press of Senate business and the expected vote on the medical aid bill.

Kennedy's news secretary Pierre Salinger announced Monday that the Massachusetts Democrat would address the convention by telephone. Later, the senator's office said Senate business would prevent the telephone address and that Kennedy would telegraph his message instead.

But a VFW official disclosed the real reason for the switch—the VFW refused to let Kennedy address the convention by phone. The official who declined to be quoted by name, said the VFW leadership was "miffed" because Kennedy "kept them on the hook" so long before saying if he would or would not show up to speak.

Kennedy's GOP opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is scheduled to address the convention Wednesday.

ARRESTED — Robert Uhlman of Baldwin Township, Pa., has been arrested in Little Rock, Ark., in connection with the stocking murder of his wife, Gloria Mae, who was found strangled in her Baldwin Township home. Uhlman, held in Little Rock for Pittsburgh Police, denies having been home over the weekend.

Boston Experiences Worst Traffic Tieup

BOSTON (UPI) — A sudden transit strike made motorists of straphangers today and the old city experienced its worst traffic tieup in memory. Gov. Foster Furcolo declared a state of emergency.

The strike began when a bus driver was suspended for refusing to leave on a run that would have brought him home two minutes late Monday. Word spread like wildfire through the system and one division after another closed, leaving commuters stranded.

New expressway approaches to the downtown area, suburban freeways and tunnel and bridge approaches were hopelessly clogged

Monday night and again during today's rush hour. Overheated cars stalled and added to the chaos.

All on-street parking in Boston's central core was banned.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority sought a superior court injunction against the carmen's union even as some 300,000 commuters pondered their fate.

Gov. Furcolo asked the executive council to authorize seizure of the system. The M. T. A. is a state-created private agency. The council voted a 3-3 tie early today but was scheduled to meet later and reconsider its vote after talking with both sides in the dispute.

Bids Opened Today

City Delays Action On Paving Awards

Two street paving bids were received by the Pampa City Commission in its meeting today. However, approval and letting of contracts will be delayed until next week's meeting since an ordinance must be passed prior to the commission giving its final go ahead.

Streets to be paved will be included in the ordinance, it was pointed out by City Manager John Koontz.

The bids came from E. D. Baker Co., Borger, and Ray Boswell Co., Pampa.

Baker bid $27,811.55, with Boswell proposing $26,821.19, a difference of $990.36.

The meeting opened with a delegation from the City Improvement Club, headed by Mrs. John Morgan, 417 Oklahoma St., seeking aid from the city for repair of streets in the "flats" area.

She told the commission that people were unable to get to churches and schools, especially in rainy weather on Oklahoma and Elm streets, and that repairs of curbs and gutters, which she said would require a 75 per cent concurrence of property owners, but recommended that, meantime, City Engineer Monroe Moore study the situation and report his findings to the commission. The two commissioners present, Leon Holmes and James Crawford, agreed.

It was further decided that graders would be sent to the area to level off the streets as first step to alleviate the situation.

The commission, in conclusion, told the delegation that something would be done to put the streets in better repair, regardless of how a poll of property owners comes out.

Other matters brought before the panel included preliminary approval to lease a one-story metal warehouse owned by the city to Dalby Transfer and Storage Co., and suggestion for a four-way stop at Francis and West streets.

The lease for the building which is located in the 1800 block of Hobart St., will be readied by Dalby representatives, the city manager and City Attorney Robert F. Gordon. It will be presented to the commission for final approval next week.

City Engineer Moore was told to suggest a four-way stop at the intersection of Francis and West streets in the next meeting of the City Traffic Commission.

The First Baptist Church is located at the Francis and West streets intersection, and officials of the church had asked to something be done to control traffic at that point.

Commissioners Jack Vaughn and Hershel Wilks were out of the city today.

Mountaintop Rescue Slated By Helicopter

EAGLE, Colo. (UPI) — A Missouri woman, critically injured and paralyzed in the crash of a light plane Sunday afternoon, spent this morning on a cold, rainy plateau in the rocky mountains near here, unable to be moved.

The woman's husband, Dr. Ellis Lynn Shotts of St. Joseph, and two other men were injured less seriously.

An Air Force helicopter from Lowry Air Force Base in Denver was scheduled to airlift Mrs. Shotts off the mesa early this morning. But the Civil Air Patrol headquarters here said rain and low clouds made such flight impossible, at least for the next few hours.

Shotts, 24, walked 20 miles after the crash to a ranch home to get aid. He reached the ranch Monday afternoon, suffering scratches, shock and exhaustion.

A rescue squad was dispatched immediately to the scene. The two other injured men, Dr. A.W. Blue of St. Joseph, pilot of the single engine Piper Tri-Pacer, and T.L. Pursley of Nevada, Mo., were removed and hospitalized early today in Glenwood Springs, Colo. Pursley was reported suffering multiple abrasions, and Dr. Blue was suffering lacerations and a possible fractured (See RESCUE, Page 4)

U.S. Charges Cuba Is Now Commie Base

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — Cuba maintained silence today on U.S. charges that it has become a base "to spread the Communist revolution throughout Latin America."

Cuba's Raul Roa declined to include his name with U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter among the scheduled speakers at Western Hemisphere foreign ministers moved into their second day of debate on the issue of Communist infiltration.

"We will answer if and when we consider it necessary," was his only immediate comment.

He was considered certain, however, to launch a slashing counter-attack against the United States before the conference is over — possibly by Wednesday, when the Cuban delegation has invited newsmen to see some films of "interest."

Observers believed the movies would purport to show atrocities committed by "U.S. imperialists" in Cuba.

Would Cut Off Order For Sugar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for power to cut off the proposed U.S. purchase of 322,000 tons of sugar from the Dominican Republic.

In a special message to Congress, the President requested authority to buy the sugar from any other foreign country without regard to regular allocations.

Against the Dominican Republic was similar to the action taken by Eisenhower against Cuba earlier this year.

Meanwhile, officials said the United States also has decided to ban the use of foreign aid funds for the purchase of sugar from the Dominican Republic.

This would prevent countries which receive aid dollars from spending them to buy Dominican Republic sugar.

Eisenhower, in his message to Congress, noted that the foreign ministers of the American republics, meeting in Costa Rica, unanimously condemned Dominican acts of "aggression and intervention" against Venezuela.

He said the United States joined with its sister American republics in resolving to break diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic and to "interrupt partially economic relations with that country."

Under a law enacted last month, 322,000 tons of sugar not being purchased from Cuba under its reduced quota was allocated to the Dominican Republic. This was in addition to the 1960 Dominican quota of 130,000 tons.

Eisenhower said that if the amounts allocated to the Dominican Republic remained unchanged it would give that country "a large sugar bonus seriously embarrassing to the United States in the conduct of our foreign relations throughout the hemisphere."

"The government should have discretion to purchase elsewhere the quantity apportioned to the Dominican Republic pursuant to the July amendment to the Sugar Act," Eisenhower said.

"I therefore request legislation providing that amount which would be purchased in the Dominican Republic pursuant to the July amendment need not be purchased there, but may be purchased from any foreign countries with regard to allocation." The President also called attention to the fact that the Sugar Act (See SUGAR, Page 4)

District GOP Arrange Barry Goldwater Visit

Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) will speak in Amarillo Sept. 27, Clayton Husted, chairman of the Gray County Republican committee, said today.

The county chairman said that Goldwater would be unable to appear in Pampa, and that instead the GOP county leaders will attempt to arrange for John Tower of Wichita Falls, Republican senatorial candidate who will oppose Senator Lyndon Johnson in the November elections, to speak here.

"We hope to bring Tower here for a few days to speak before civic organizations," said Husted.

The announcement that Sen. Goldwater would speak in Amarillo came during a meeting of the 31st Senatorial District Executive Committee at Borger Monday night.

Also on the meeting agenda was discussion of preliminary arrangements for county organizational plans, headquarters, finances and campaign speakers.

Attending were Glynn Morris of Amarillo, district chairman; Mrs. Kathryn McDaniel of Borger, district committeewoman; D. D. Beene, Wheeler; Mrs. C. R. Pierce

Some Light On The Subject

It may come as a "low blow" to certain people of this vicinity, but a lover's-lane, beer-party street is in line for lights.

Commissioner Leon Holmes told City Manager John Koontz that he had received complaints from people in the area about Barrett St. in Prairie Village, noting the parties were going on and that lights would eliminate the "nuisance."

Koontz said one light had been scheduled for the section in question, and Holmes hinted at further discussion of another light to eliminate the entire situation.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investors once again appear to have lost confidence in the transportation industry.

And this confidence will not be restored until the industry is put back on a sound and efficient operating basis, according to Perspective, the monthly publication of Calvin Bullock.

The firm's investment management department notes there has been a great deal of talk along these lines by the proper authorities, "but no concrete program has been advanced by, or has the backing of, a group to put it into operation."

It notes that any program should include, as a minimum, less regulation of a fiercely competitive industry, new rate-making policies, equitable treatment of each of the several segments, user charges for facilities paid for with public money, reduction of the railroad passenger deficit, and changes in outmoded working rules.

Perhaps the most important step of all, Perspective adds, would be a coordinated government policy which embraces all segments of the industry and permits each one to serve the public in the areas for which it is most economically suited.

Perspective discusses the three major segments of the transportation industry in the August issue. It terms as "natural" the "superior" growth trend of the trucking industry, a much newer mode of transport.

The railroads have seen a steady erosion of their position in the transport field and have spent an average of $1 billion annually in the past 14 years in the hope of gaining increased efficiency.

These additions and betterments have kept the railroads out of deficit operations but have not been able to offset completely the adverse effects of rising wages and material prices and loss of traffic, Perspective notes.

And, it adds, whether the railroads will be able to make additional improvements which will reduce operating costs in an amount similar to the benefits of dieselization and other betterments "is doubtful."

With the exception of regulation, the major problems of the domestic trunk airlines may be regarded as unique, according to the publication. Excessive competion has reached a point on certain routes, it says, where, at present levels of traffic, profitable operations are difficult to attain.

Increasing seating capacity and a smaller relative rise in passenger miles have combined to reduce the load factor which is an important determinant of net results.

Perspective says the airlines need a rather large and constant increase in passenger miles, especially during the present period of relatively high operating costs brought about by the transition to the jet age.

Cool Spell Hits Montana

By United Press International
A vigorous cold front carried a winter preview mixture of snow and rain into Montana early today; dropping temperatures 40 degrees at some points.

The front swept southeastward across the state and set off thunderstorms and winds up to 50 miles an hour in Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska. By comparison, the weather picture was placid elsewhere around the country.

Fog lay over much of the northeast during the night. South Atlantic coast states, Florida and the Gulf area had scattered showers, measuring up to 1.43 inches during six hours at Gainesville in Northern Florida and 1.16 inches at Greensboro, N.C.

From the Rockies westward, temperatures were generally in the 40-s and 50-s except for higher readings in the Southwest. East of the Rockies, the Great Lakes and Ohio northeast into New England reported temperatures in the 50-s and 60-s, low for most of the East and Midwest.

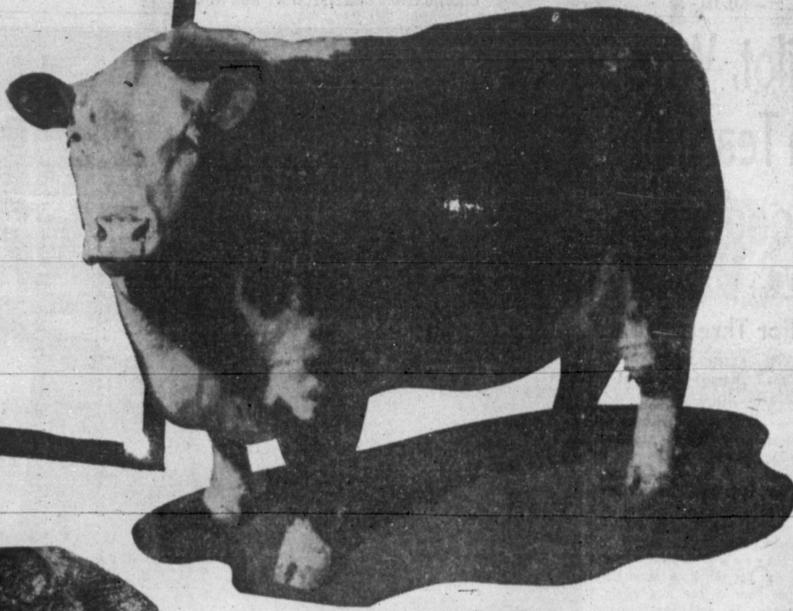

At Billings, Mont., the cold front dropped the temperature from 90 Monday afternoon to 50 early today. Cool weather was expected to continue through the state, with more snow in the Northern and Central Rockies.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted scattered showers from the Rockies into the Great Plains, from the Gulf of Mexico into the Middle and South Atlantic States and through Lower Michigan and Southern Wisconsin.

Congo Crisis Cooling; Spot Arrests Continue

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI)—Congo troops arrested three white civilians—presumably Belgians—in the Belgian Airline office at Leopoldville-Airport today and seized the radio transmitter they were accused of operating.

About 50 soldiers cordoned off the area, and thousands of natives gathered to watch the prisoners herded into a truck and driven away. The radio set was taken away in an army jeep.

It was not immediately certain what use the men had been making of the radio transmitter, which might have been required for normal airline communications work.

Premier Patrice Lumumba's dispute with the United Nations former French colony is believed to stem from the belief that its president, Fulbert Youlou, is helping the secessionists who favor splitting the former Belgian Congo into a loose federation of autonomous provinces.

The premier's belief appears to stem from Youlou's friendship for Joseph Kasavubu, president of the former Belgian Congo, who has never denied that he favors the federation plan.

A secessionist convention currently meeting in Elisabethville, capital of "independent" Katanga province, includes representatives of Kasavubu's Abako party.

The secessionists, who threatened Monday to overthrow Lumumba within two weeks, issued a statement today saying his government is "incapable of carrying out its mission of insuring order and security and establishing peace."

Telephone communication between Leopoldville and Brazzaville also has been cut off.

Wheat yields increase 12 to 20 bu. per acre with ammonia application

Well-known West Texas farmers like WADE MILLS apply 100-120 lbs. ammonia per acre on wheat

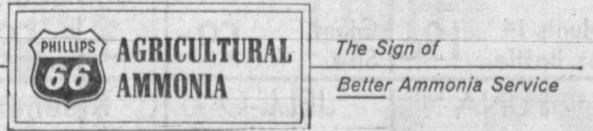

Wade Mills, who farms approximately 765 acres in Castro County, reports: "The first time I used ammonia on wheat land I got increases from 12 to 20 bushels per acre. We applied 100 to 120 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia per acre.

"Applications of 120 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia on maize land has produced an average increase of 2000 pounds per acre. On maize following maize, Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia is a must," he explains.

Thousands of Texas farmers are using Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre. Actual field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) boosts wheat and small grain yields (2) increases maize yields (3) produces more high grade cotton (4) improves forage production.

See your local Phillips 66 Ammonia Distributor now. You can depend on better ammonia service.

Sub Detector Design Revealed

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—A small group of engineers from Texas, using the facilities of the U. S. Navy base at Key West, are testing a new type of sonobuoy designed for detecting the movements of enemy submarines.

The buoy, a floating electronic device, is expected to provide a solution to some perplexing anti-submarine warfare problems.

The idea for the sonobuoy was conceived by a group of University of Texas scientists who formed Texas Research Associates in Austin, Texas.

Bill Allowing Nixon-Kennedy Debates On Tap

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower is expected to sign without delay a bill to pave the way for a series of television debates between presidential candidates John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon.

House approval Monday sent the bill to the White House for final action. The three major networks immediately announced their readiness to go ahead with the proposed debates.

However, spokesmen for the two candidates said no final arrangements had been made. An aide to Kennedy said the next move was up to the Nixon camp. Spokesmen for Nixon said the debates would largely depend on the schedules of the two candidates.

The bill would suspend the equal time provisions of the broadcast law for the 1960 campaign as far as the presidential and vice presidential candidates are concerned. It would not apply to lesser candidates.

The networks requested the legislation so they could set up the Kennedy-Nixon debates without having to give equal air opportunity to presidential candidates from minor parties.

Explosion In Chattanooga Baffles Police

By United Press International

The fourth explosion in 10 days in Chattanooga, Tenn., damaged a Negro dwelling Sunday, slightly injuring two children.

Fire marshal Mike Quinn said he did not believe the latest blast which damaged a duplex in a Negro neighborhood — was racial-inspired but he could give no explanation for the explosion.

"It looks like it was caused by a gas leak," Quinn said.

Previous blasts occurred at two Negro houses and at the home of a white real estate man whose company sells homes in previous white sections to Negroes.

The main force of Sunday's blast struck the five-room apartment of Thomas Reid, a 24-year-old chemical company employe.

Two of Reid's four children were cut by flying glass in the blast. Reid was cut by flying glass in the blast of the mystery blasts to cause injuries.

John James, a retired janitor who owned the duplex and occupied the other portion of the building, estimated damage at about $4,000.

Dear Abby...

After Big Rush...

Big Let-Down!

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I found a note under the windshield wiper of my car this morning. It said, "OK, Miss Hard-To-Get, let's get acquainted. How about dinner next Saturday night?"

It was written by my downstairs neighbor. He's an attractive bachelor who moved into this building recently. My landlord said he was interested in meeting me. (I am 26 and single.) Is it proper to accept an invitation of this kind? "MISS HARD TO MEET?"

DEAR MISS: If you want to meet him (and apparently you do) ask your landlord to introduce you. But don't accept a dinner invitation with him via your windshield wiper. He could be just a big drip who goes off the deep end for anything in skirts.

DEAR ABBY: Can you settle an argument for us? I had a form to fill out in which many questions were asked. One was "NATIONALLY?" Since I was born in New York, I put down "AMERICAN."

A friend said the only people who could say they were AMERICANS were the AMERICAN INDIANS. He asked where my parents were born. I told him Poland. Then he said my nationality was POLISH! I told him the question was not "DESCENT?" but "NATIONALITY?" He said what they really wanted to know was, "were my people Japanese, Italian, Russian, and so forth." and no matter where an Italian or Japanese was born, he is still Italian or Japanese. Who was right?

DEAR CONFUSED: One belongs to a nation by "birth" or "naturalization," according to Webster's definition. So having been born in America, you are an American. According to law, if a cat has kittens in an oven, they are biscuits.

DEAR ABBY: I was shocked to read in your column a letter signed "THROUGH THE MILL" which read, "I am not the sort of person who gives her baby away... even an animal wouldn't do that."

I went "through the mill" when I was 16. I gave my baby away because I had nothing to offer her. I was unwed and alone. An adoption agency found my baby a good home with fine parents. I was a young girl who made a bad mistake, but I knew I had my life before me. Any mother who has given her baby away knows that it is harder to give up a child than to keep it. And far less selfish. I know in my heart that I did the right thing and I have never been sorry. And every girl who has been "through the mill" knows I speak the truth.

ALSO THROUGH THE MILL
DEAR ABBY: I love your column, but PLEASE don't advise unwed mothers to keep their babies. As a social worker I see the resentment vent upon unwanted children that would break the hearts of women who are waiting to adopt the little ones. My opinion, based on years of observation is this: unwed mothers should tell relatives and neighbors that their babies died at birth; then put Cool cooking on a warm night is easy with this new electric ceramic skillet. It has a base which contains heating unit and a 10-inch covered dish.

Escape Route From Summer-Heated Kitchen Is Out Back Door To Patio

Looking for an escape route from a summer-heated kitchen and a hot stove?

Some routes are blocked by lack of cash in the sugar bowl, i.e., air-conditioning the kitchen, dining out or buying an electronic oven.

Others are thwarted by noisy resistance from the family, i.e., the fresh-from-refrigerator dinner, the suggestion everyone go on a liquid them out for adoption. Then thank God their babies are having a better fate than the one they would have given them.

MOTHER'S HEART
If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

food diet or the flat announcement that it's too hot to cook.

A simple, practical and inexpensive solution is to take the cooking where it's cooler. Forget the steamy stove. Take your meals outdoors, to the porch or to the basement recreation room. Besides the ever-present outdoor barbecue, there are other ways of cooking away from the kitchen.

Tabletop grills put a tiny stove in front of you. More versatile, however, are your electric utensils. Electric skillets, saucepans, coffee makers, roasters and so on should be exploited.

Coffee makers brew coffee but they could also heat water for soup.

Skillets used for breakfast bacon and eggs are equally good for dinner casseroles, fried chicken, meat cakes and potatoes.

Deep fat fryers with basket removed are fine for hearty soups, baked beans. Plan meals around the capabilities of your appliances.

Even the large roasters or roaster-rotisserie combinations can be portable. Sturdy carts are often sold as bases for them. All these appliances have in common thermostat heat controls to maintain proper cooking temperatures.

In the casual atmosphere of a warm summer's evening nobody really objects to the kitchen look of skillets or roasters transplanted to the dining area.

But the utilitarian appearance is being modified in new housewares. More use of color, more attention to graceful design and portability are three signs that indicate tabletop cookery and service may be headed for year-round popularity.

One good example is a new electric skillet made of the super-strong white ceramic. This is a two-piece affair, the sturdy base contains the electric heating unit and the 10-inch glass-covered skillet fits on top.

The base and the skillet are ground for perfect contact and the temperature guide on the base controls heat to 425 degrees.

A glass fiber insulated layer in the base protects table surfaces. The skillet handle is detachable. The base alone may be used for plate warming, heating rolls and similar purposes.

As another good example, see new kitchen cooking spoons and forks which now come with decorative, flower-sprigged beige melamine handles. They are pretty enough to carry to the table for food preparation or service if they hang on their own carved mahogany stand.

A third sign is a new line: canisters, bread box, cake and pie storer all with serving tray bases. The opal white, antique gold or mocha shades with gold trim used in these plastic and aluminum sets are planned for adaptability to different backgrounds, dining room or kitchen.

Davis - Coutts Family Has 19th Reunion

The family of the late R. I. Davis and Mrs. Eva Coutts, south of the city, held its 19th reunion. A charcoal supper was given Saturday night on the patio of the John R. Davis home and a barbecue dinner was served Sunday at the home of the Eddy Coutts, southeast of the city. Fifty-two members attended the supper and 60 were guests for dinner.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis and Mike of Brighton, Colo.; Mrs. Mina Dimmitt of Turon, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fluke, Linda and Larry of Kingman, Kan.; Messrs. and Mrs. Gene Toms, Tommy, Jerry, Terri of Arlington, Kan.; Elmer Ross of Shawnee, Kan.; Melvin Combs and Mrs. Edd Combs of Johnson, Kan.;

Also, Messrs. and Mrs. Floyd Leonard of Sublette, Kan.; Orville Oller, Glenda, Lois of Turon; Edlon Oller; Larry Oller, both families of Pratt, Kan.; Alvis Tabor, Kenneth, Carol, Perry and Allene of Panhandle; Wood Northcutt of Abilene; Jerry Davis, Sheryl, Valeria and Teresa of Amarillo.

Ricky Wyatt Notes Eighth Birthday

Ricky Wyatt celebrated his eighth birthday with a party given by his mother Mrs. R. L. Wyatt, Mrs. Buizz Urbanczyk of White Deer, aunt of the honoree, was assisting hostess.

Movies were made during the party of guests and the games played.

Refreshments were served to Diane O'Neal, Ronny Barber, Keny and Sandra Cummings, Steve, Janice, Jeanne and Johnnie Duncan, Dough and Ronny Wyatt; Mmes. Johnnie Duncan, Buizz Urbanczyk, Gene Barber, R. W. O'Neal, and Kenneth Cummings.

and Dannel; Miss Roselle Baggerman.

body line, feminine and supple. There are a few switches, of course but by and large we gals are allowed some curves here and there. Hemlines are up to the knees at Dior, down to calf top at Cardin. Take your choice or pick any point in between.

The basic silhouette is a princess dress which runs straight from the neckline, ignoring the bosom, almost by-passing the waist, touching the hips and ending in whimsy at the hem. "Whimsy" means a pleated or gathered flounce, a two-foot bubble, a scalloped hem, a band of fur, braiding or embroidery.

Day dresses are pruned down to the point where many are minus sleeves. Necklines are plain, high, rounded, oval or finished off with a scarf knotted at one side.

For coats, there are enormous collars reaching up to the ears. Outside buttons, nearly as large as small saucers, are used for the new side-fastenings.

The 1930 influence is more talk than reality. There won't be any diving into Auntie Mame's wardrobe trunk to fish out a 1930 Paton number with the not iont hatt number with the notion that will look like 1960. The difference between 1930 and 1960 lies in a technique of cut and 1960 undepinnings. There is a world of difference.

New suit jackets are short and lightly fitted. Some are straight and flat at the front and other boast side closings. Side-wrap skirts are used for both suits and daytime dresses.

Coats, suits and dresses have an important point in common: they are knee-deep in fur. Luxury fur, as well as the lesser furs are used in all collections. Furs feature include mink, fox, chinchilla, sable, leopard, lamb, lynx, and broadtail.

For evening, the billowing bag gown has finally gone. Instead there are semi-full or really slim numbers, some with embroidered bodices or super-wide stoles. There are lots of clinging "femme fatale" dresses with daring necklines.

Models with closely-shingled heads wore jeweled bands on some. Some had long rope necklaces with large beads, dangling earrings and jeweled slippers. The 1961 Paris collections have the 1920's meeting the 1930's head-on.

Scouts Want To Take A Trip — So They Get Busy And Earn Fare

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Joe Wells became leader of Brownie Troop 17 in 1952. Since then she has continued to work with the troop as it became Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 17 and now Senior Girl Scout Troop 17. The troop has three scrapbooks filled with material concerning activities for the past eight years. One of the 13 girls in the troop was awarded given in Girl scouting. "I'm especially proud of the fine program aides for the younger scouts," said Mrs. Wells. Two years ago, the girls decided that they wanted to take a camping trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota. So they set to work raising the money for the trip. Here is their story as written by a member of the troop.

By LINDA BARKER
Member Girl Scout Troop 17

Dreams do come true. Two years ago this past spring, a group of teenage Girl Scouts dreamed of going on a camping trip of their very own. All of them had tried their skills as campers at local Girl Scout camps, but now they wanted to go on a tour in a northern state, camp out in the wilderness, and cook their food over a campfire.

But dreams need money to come true. Dauntlessly, these Scouts planned their campaign. Thousands of pounds of old papers were collected and hauled to a concern in Amarillo. Bake sales and rummage sales were conducted by the girls, and many boxes of candy were sold.

On Aug. 5 at 6 a.m., "Bessie," the Girl Scout bus, with her Texas flag unfurled headed north, destined for the Black Hills of South Dakota. Thirteen girls made the trip. They were Suzanne and Sally Paden; Linda Sue Abbot; Anna Jo, Susan and Terry Watson; Linda Barker, Elizabeth Graham; Linda Belmont, Nora Wells, Chris Grayson, Ann Duncan and Beverly Heaton.

Accompanying them were advisor, Marilyn Wells, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Abbot and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Graham and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Watson and family.

The first night tents were pitched at the Maloney Reservoir near North Platte, Neb. The caravan arrived in the Badlands the next afternoon.

Permanent camping site was set up at Stockade Lake in Custer State Park each girl had duties or "capers" to perform such as pitching tents, cooking, cleaning up, etc.

Each day the Scouts would go on excursions of the terrain, tours to museums and visits to historical locations. Some of the interesting things the group did were: Rode an 1890 train; toured a gold mine, visited graves of Wild Bill Hickock and Calamity Jane, rode the skiers chair lift up Terry Peak, which has an elevation over 7,000 feet.

Many scenic tours were taken such as in excursion to the national memorial of Mt. Rushmore.

One of the most inspiring events attended was the Black Hills Passion Play. In 22 scenes, this colorful production portrays the last seven days of the life of Christ. This drama is staged in an open air amphitheater, surrounded by

HOUSTON (UPI) — An elderly man who went berserk and holed up in an outhouse Monday night shot and killed a deputy sheriff in a gunbattle with more than 20 officers.

Deputy Don Knowlton, 31, was shot at the base of his neck as he maneuvered in front of the small wooden structure. He managed to fire five shots from his service revolver before he died.

U. N. Will Try Again To Form Scuttled Group

LONDON (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said today the United Nations probably will create a new multi-nation Disarmament Committee sometime this year to replace the 10-nation commission torpedoed by Russia in June.

Other deputies and police officers who had surrounded the building poured a withering barrage of gunfire into the structure, but the gunman, Lewis E. Semora, 82, managed to escape with little more than a scratch where a shotgun pellet grazed his face.

Semora was charged with murder early today. Police said he mumbled incoherently when first taken into custody, but later seemed to "come to his senses."

"Here I've gone and shot somebody who was coming out to help me," police quoted Semora as saying.

The incident started late Monday night when deputy George Kilpatrick answered a complaint just north of the Houston city limits. Semora's neighbors reported he was roaming the neighborhood and had already shot out the windows of two houses with his shotgun.

Kilpatrick said when he arrived in the area, he could hear shooting, and radioed for help. By the time help arrived, Semora had gone behind his home, where he lived alone and worked a small truck garden and barricaded himself in the outhouse.

The diplomats said, however, that the Western powers would try to limit its size to prevent its becoming "bulky and unmanageable."

The body of Mrs. Sandy Ferro, 72, a barmaid at the Idle Hour Club, was found Monday.

The victim's arms were folded and a crude cross fashioned from bamboo sticks had been placed on her abdomen. A note scrawled in the sand said, "I did (sic) not want to kill her. Roy told me 'mama I love very much,'"

They said the new committee probably would include representatives of major geographical areas as well as spokesmen for the big powers. They said India probably would be included, along with a Latin American nation and perhaps a representative of Africa.

Galveston (UPI) — Three men today faced murder charges in the slaying of a Galveston waitress whose battered body was found in a bunker in the old abandoned Fort San Jacinto ruins on east beach.

Those charged included the victim's husband, John Ferro, 33, who was found Monday night lying in a pool of blood on the floor of his apartment, a pistol in his hand and a bullet wound in the temple. His condition was reported satisfactory today.

Each day the Scouts would go on excursions of the terrain, tours to museums and visits to historical locations. Some of the interesting things the group did were: Rode an 1890 train; toured a gold mine, visited graves of Wild Bill Hickock and Calamity Jane, rode the skiers chair lift up Terry Peak, which has an elevation over 7,000 feet.

Faubus Backers Submit Petition

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — A seventh Florida county filed a petition with the Secretary of State today seeking qualification of electors pledged to Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas on a national States Rights party ticket.

Dixie County added its petition, with 26 names, to the group already submitted, asking that electors be placed on the ballot pledged to Faubus for president and retired Adm. John G. Crommelin, an Alabama segregationist, for vice president.

The law states electors of other than the major parties may be placed on the ballot if petitions of 25 registered voters from 34 counties are received.

Many scenic tours were taken such as in excursion to the national memorial of Mt. Rushmore.

One of the most inspiring events attended was the Black Hills Passion Play. In 22 scenes, this colorful production portrays the last seven days of the life of Christ. This drama is staged in an open air amphitheater, surrounded by Thursday afternoon, this untanned, tired, but happy group of Girl Scouts returned home with stories and experiences to cherish for lifetime.

They have proven a dream could come true.

Unemployment Frauds Uncovered

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Four San Antonio men have been fined a total of $200 after pleading guilty in Bexar County Court-at-Law to charges of accepting state unemployment benefits fraudulently.

Martin A. Sanchez was fined $20 and ordered to repay $313 received illegally; Daniel Antuna was fined $20 and ordered to repay $190; a $40 fine was levied against Louis Navarro, plus repayment of $313, and Louis G. Lopez was fined $120 and told to repay $210.

Players' 'Protection' Rights Squabble Looms Over Cub's Suit

CHICAGO (UPI)—A legal battle which might determine the rights of baseball players to protection from their opponents on the playing field loomed today.

Southpaw pitcher Jim Brewer and the Chicago Cubs set up the possibility Monday when they filed a joint suit asking $1,040,000 damages from Billy Martin, Cincinnati Reds infielder, for his assault on Brewer Aug. 4.

There were intimations later that Martin might file a counter-suit against Brewer charging that the pitcher threw at his head to set off the attack.

Should he file such a suit, it was indicated he would have the full support of the Cincinnati club, since its general manager Gabe Paul, said, "Of course we'll fight it. If the case comes to trial, there will be some very interesting developments."

The suit by the Cubs and Brewer was the first ever filed by a major league player or club for damages as a result of actions on the field, according to Charles Segar, secretary of the Major League Baseball Organization.

The brawl occurred after Brewer's first pitch to Martin Aug. 4, high and inside, hit the bat and caromed off Martin's helmet. On the next pitch, Martin swung, but his bat flew to the pitchers' mound. When he went after it, he punched Brewer instead.

The pitcher suffered eye injuries which required two operations, one to correct a depressed fracture of the eye orbit bone and the other to set a fracture on the rim bone under the eye. He was released from the hospital Monday.

Martin was served with notice of the suit before Monday's Cubs-Reds game and wise-cracked, "How do they want the money? Cash or check?" Earlier he had been fined $500 and suspended for five days as a result of the match.

Hornung Paces Green Bay Win

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers is off and running again, indicating he'll be a tough guy to beat in the National Football League scoring race.

The former Notre Dame quarterback, who won the 1959 NFL scoring title with 94 points while operating as a halfback and field goal specialist, already has accounted for the margin of difference in Green Bay's two exhibition victories this year.

Hornung booted three field goals and an extra point Monday night to lead the Packers to a 16-7 victory over the New York Giants before an enthusiastic crowd of 22,000 in the first NFL game ever played in Jersey City.

Leone-Myers Purse Held Up; Matched Again

Antone (Ripper) Leone and Sonny Myers banged each other around for more than a hour last night in Top O' Texas Sportsman Club before Leone gained a questionable victory that was capped by Promoter Gale Clark holding the wrestlers' purses.

Clark said he held up the 'pay days' because Leone took advantage of Referee Jack O'Reilly being flat of his back and not in a position to see what was going on as Ripper tossed Myers out of the ring.

"Ripper may have gained the final fall, but he won't be paid for it. We're matching the pair again next week. This will be a winner-take-all affair, and we'll see how Leone can handle things in that light," said Clark.

He also said that next week's seating will be on a first come, first served, basis, with all seats at $1 each.

Leon took the first fall of the feature with a crab hold in 12:08, but Myers bounced back to even matters with a series of judo chops in 23:16. In the disputed final fall, Leone pulled his act after the two had tugged away for 30 minutes and 12 seconds.

The semi-windup saw Nick Roberts polish off Tim Geohagen in straight falls. Roberts took the first with a back press in 11:36, and the second after a series of drop kicks in 16:32.

Tony Morelli pinned Silent Joe Hamilton in the opener with a body press in eight minutes, 43 seconds.

He'll Head Parade Of Teams

Brundage Due Draft To Remain At Helm Of Olympic Committee

By LEO H. PETERSEN, UPI Sports Editor

ROME (UPI)—A future king will be the flag bearer when the Olympic Games open Thursday and an old man who has spent most of his life and a lot of his fortune promoting amateur athletics, probably still will be president of this greatest sports car rival of them all.

Prince Constantine, only 23 but in line to be the next king of Greece, will lead the Greek team into Olympic Stadium in the parade of athletes and officials when the games are officially opened. As the country where these games began, Greece traditionally leads the parade and the prince was chosen as a member of the Greek yachting team. He's the helmsman in the dragon class.

And while a future king was chosen as the first flag bearer it was disclosed that Avery Brundage of Chicago appeared to be a sure bet to be re-elected president of the International Olympic Committee, the guiding force behind this intrnational athletic contest.

Brundage, who is 72 years old, said he was not a candidate for re-election for a third term, but such is his enthusiasm for amateur athletics that he agreed he would serve again if drafted.

IOC Chancellor Otto Mayer of Switzerland, also a noted amateur sports backer, said the back-room battle to keep Brundage at the helm had been successful and that he would be re-elected president at a meeting today.

"He can't miss continuing in the job he has done so well," said Mayer. Before Brundage became president of the IOC he had been president of the United States Olympic Committee for a number of years.

"Everybody is agreed on having Mr. Brundage continue as president," Mayer added, revealing that a move to elect Lord Burghley, Marquis of Exeter to the post had been defeated. "The vote will be a mere formality."

The IOC also confirmed a previous ruling that Nationalist China shall continue to be known in the Olympic Games as "Taiwan."

Nationalist China had asked to be recognized as "China," a proposal opposed by Red China. Red China wanted to keep Nationalist China out of international competition such as the Olympics, but was voted down by the IOC. As a result, Red China, as a protest will not be represented in the 1960 games.

Brundage at Monday's meeting of the IOC continued his plea that the games be reduced in size both from a competitive as well as a financial standpoint.

Ace Dodger Relief Chucker Stops Giants, 8-5; Cubs Win

United Press International
Larry Sherry is directing another attack which may possibly put the Dodgers in position to challenge the Pittsburgh Pirates down the stretch for the National League pennant.

Sherry, hero of the 1959 World Series against the Chicago White Sox, was instrumental in Los Angeles' surge from 4½ games back in late August last season that carried the Dodgers to a playoff victory over Milwaukee.

The homebred right-hander considers the present 8½ game deficit a margin he is personally dedicated to reduce. Sherry won his fifth straight game in relief and fourth in the last eight Dodger outings by defeating the San Francisco Giants, 8-5, Monday night.

Chicago defeated Cincinnati, 6-3, in the only other major league action.

Fowerworks for Sherry's 13th victory of the season was partly provided by Norm Larker, the league's leading hitter. The Los Angeles first baseman drove in three runs with as many singles, raising his average six points to .349.

Gil Hodges, who relinquished his hold on first base to Larker, hit his seventh homer of the year and 362nd of his career in the seventh inning to break his tie with Ralph Kiner as the all-time right handed home run hitter in the National League.

Ron Santo and Don Zimmer each collected two extra base hits to drive in five of the Cub runs. Santo numbered a pair of doubles among his three hits, while Zimmer belted a double and a triple to hand Cincinnati starter Cal McLish his ninth defeat of the season.

Fullmer, Sugar Ray Matched

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sugar Ray Robinson, holder of the middleweight title on five different occasions, tries to make it six Oct. 8 when he fights Gene Fullmer for his NBA 160-pound title in a 15-rounder at the Sports Arena.

Matchmaker George Parnass announced the bout Monday at a press conference by phone between the principals — the 40-year-old Robinson in New York while Fullmer was at his West Jordan, Utah, home.

It'll be a lucrative bout for both fighters, starting with $100,000 the American Broadcasting Co. doled out to kick off its new series of Saturday night fights.

Denver Pulls Switch By Raiding Canadian Loop For Key Players

By GENE MEAKINS
United Press International
DENVER, Colo (UPI)—The Denver Broncos have added something new to professional football in this country—now the players are coming here from Canada.

Bob Howsam, president of Denver's entry in the new American Football League, went right to Canada for his head coach, Frank Filchock, and his general manager, Dean Griffing. Since then, Filchock and Griffing have been bringing in talent from the professional league in Canada.

The Canadian League had plagued the old National Football League for years by grabbing off a few American football players. Perhaps Filchock's best coup was the landing of a pair of veteran Canadian League quarterbacks, Frank Tripucka and Dom Dublinski, both of whom once played in the NFL. Both are 29 and accomplished passers.

Tripucka, who will be the No. 1 man in the Bronco offense, holds three Canadian League records for passing in a single season—the most thrown, the most completed and the most yardage. He played at Notre Dame and Dublinski starred at Utah University.

Among the experienced NFL performers who should help Denver are Al Carmichael, an offensive halfback who played with Green Bay; Don King, former tackle with Cleveland, Philadelphia and Green Bay; Darryl Rogers, defensive halfback who played with the Los Angeles Rams, and local favorite Frank Bernardi, who was brilliant at Colorado University and later played defensive halfback for the Chicago Cardinals. In addition, the roster is spotted with veterans of Canadian football.

Otherwise, Filchock and his two assistants, Dale Dodrill, one-time great middle guard for the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Jim Cason, former defensive back with San Francisco and Los Angeles, will rely on youth.

"The keys to a successful pro club are experience and leadership," according to Filchock. "We feel that Frank Tripucka and Tom Dublinski will give us the leadership and experience we need at quarterback. Blend these two with our potential young talent—such men as J. W. Brodnax (Louisiana State); Larry Cundiff (Michigan State); Austin Gonsoulin (Baylor) and Carl Larperter (Texas)—and you have the ingredients for a hustling, entertaining club that figures to be a contender."

Toothbrush-Paste Combo, Too

'Flashlight Shoe' Aids Forgetful

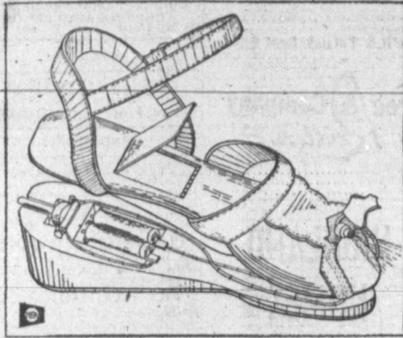

By JERRY BENNETT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — It's about time. Inventors have finally gotten around to helping the "helpless."

Among the helpless are those people who forget their toothbrushes and paste while traveling; the ones who stumble around in the dark or flounder in the water.

These are the people who are physically and mentally fit but who just can't seem to get organized. Obviously, they need help.

So for the absent-minded brusher, A. L. Corbino of Omaha, Neb., offers a toothbrush which contains its own paste. While cutting the odds in half for the forgetful, this device still allows those who are adamant about being absent-minded to forget the whole thing.

For the stumblers, Benigno Gonzalez Arias and Roberto Mendoza Quijano of Havana, Cuba, have patented a flashlight shoe. This also is good for heavy people who lose things in the night. Now they don't have to bend over until the object is sighted under the rays of light emitted from their shoes.

FOR STUMBLERS — Those dark of night treks about the house are made easy with this flashlight-in-toe shoe. Battery is installed in heel.

And for the people who have fought their way through 10 or more years of school, camp and beach without learning how to swim, William H. Hebrank of Severna Park, Md., has a motor-powered contraption. Non-swimmers (and swimmers, too) just lay down on this job and away they go.

It would seem that the gadget like a surf board with an out-board motor. To speed across the water, the user simply lies on his stomach, turns on the engine and guides himself with an "easy-to-operate" steering gear. The invention is light-weight, easily carried by hand and the inventor says it works in shallow or deep water.

Now if anyone has any bright ideas about self-tying shoe laces or repellers for people who are constantly bumping into things (other troubles that plague the helpless), he need only write the U.S. Patent Office, Dept. of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

He will have the opportunity to help someone in need while, at the same time, making a small fortune.
