Powers Probe Said Complete

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special board of inquiry has finished questioning U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers and a report on the investigation may be released before the week is over.

Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone said Tuesday the board, headed by retired Federal Appeals Court Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, had completed its interrogation of Powers about his crash in Russia May 1, 1960, and subsequent imprisonment.

Bomb Attacks Are Continuing In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Reports that a cease-fire in Algeria was imminent touched off a series of plastic bomb attacks in Algiers and Oran today by the outlawed Secret Army Organization (OAS).

Police said the OAS, which has vowed to keep Algeria French, set off 10 plastic bombs in 15 minutes before dawn on the edge of the Moslem-Jewish quarter.

Several hand grenades were tossed from balconies at the same time. There were no immediate reports of casualties.

At least 10 plastic explosions were reported in the western port city of Oran.

The bomb attacks in the Moslem-Jewish quarter here sent many half-clad Arabs scurrying into the streets shouting independence slogans.

Police cordoned off the area and restored calm in less than two hours. Informed sources said fast action apparently prevented repetition of the Feb. 14 OAS plastic bomb offensive in the native quarter which touched off wild anti-European demonstrations by the Arabs throughout the day.

Arabs rioted in the southern Algerian town of Souargia Tuesday shortly before French Minister for the Sahara Louis Jacquinot arrived there on a visit.

Three Arabs were killed and 1 wounded when French police had to open fire on a crowd of several hundred to restore order.

French soldiers, backed by armored cars and half-tracks, patrolled the streets of Algiers to head off violence and demonstrations that are expected to come when a Franco-Algerian cease-fire is announced. Right-wing European settlers want Algeria to remain French.

Twenty-four persons were killed throughout Algeria Tuesday and 41 were wounded, bringing the 1962 casualty toll to 1,176 dead and 1,980 injured.

Because it is uneconomical to serve medium and small cities with jets, the trunk lines want to turn over some of these points to local service carriers.

This is where Pampa's appeal comes in, according to local chamber of commerce officials.

The big airlines are still vitally interested in feeder and "backup" passenger traffic in the smaller communities, but the smaller airlines now are fighting for this trade.

Airlines represented at the hearings include Braniff Airways, Central Airlines, Continental Airlines, American Airlines, Trans-American Airlines, Trans-Texas Airways and Frontier Airlines.

In addition to the Pampa representation by Rep. Rogers, other Southwest cities making appeals include Albuquerque and Roswell, N.M.; Hobart and Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Brownwood, El Paso, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Big Spring, Hartlingen, Houston, Midland-Odessa, San Angelo, San Antonio, Sherman, Temple, Texarkana, Waco and Wichita Falls, Texas.

According to word from Washington, most of the airlines are being given 30 minutes for argument and the cities' representatives are given five minutes to present their case.

A final decision by the board was not expected to be forthcoming for several weeks following today's and tomorrow's hearings.

Think You Have Problems? Try This Trick!

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Doctors pondered today how to get a fork out of Miss La Rae Peterson's stomach.

Miss Peterson, 21, a stenographer, said at Harris Hospital that this is how she came to swallow the fork:

She and a girl friend were eating dinner at a hotel coffee shop Tuesday night, and got to talking about tonsils.

"I've had mine out," Miss Peterson said, and opened her mouth to show her friend her operation.

The friend used the handle of a fork to depress Miss Peterson's tongue so she could get a good look. But she didn't take a firm grip on the fork.

Miss Peterson had an urge to swallow, and down went the fork.

Wall Street Jolted By Indictment

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wall Street, much buffeted by recent federal inquiries, suffered a fresh jolt Tuesday with the indictment of J. Truman Bidwell, chairman of the board of governors of the New York Stock Exchange, on income tax evasion charges.

Bidwell, among the most successful and prominent of brokers, was accused in a federal indictment of evading $55,908 in personal income taxes for 1956-57. The two-count indictment followed closely on reports that the federal government was building a major tax case against a prominent Wall Streeter.

Bidwell's resignation from the board of governors and as chairman of that policy-making body of the nation's largest securities mart was quickly announced by the New York Stock Exchange. He had submitted the resignation Feb. 1.

Henry M. Watts Jr., vice chairman of the board and a partner in the firm of Mitchell, Schreiber, Watts & Co., will succeed Bidwell as chairman at least until the annual election May 14.

Bidwell replied to the two-count indictment, saying, "I have fully paid all taxes due." At the same time he bitterly deplored what he called "a most disquieting series of leaks and planted stories from high places in Washington."

Bidwell, a 58-year-old independent floor broker who handles orders for his own customers and other brokers, will plead to the indictment in federal court here next Monday.

Maximum penalty on conviction would be five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each count.

Bidwell was the first ranking exchange official to be named in a criminal action in more than two decades. The last was Richard A. Whitney, a prominent broker-sportsman and exchange president from 1930 to 1935. Whitney pleaded guilty in 1938 to charges his custody and was given a 5-to-10-year sentence. Whitney virtually dropped from notice after emerging from Sing Sing Prison after serving nearly three-and-a-half years.

However, the financial world has been jolted by recent Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) criticisms of trading practices. (See WALL JOLTED, Page 3)

R. B. Cooke Is Appointed Assistant City Manager

To Fill Gap Until Koontz Successor Is Named

In follow-up action on a request for the resignation of City Manager John Koontz, the Pampa City Commission yesterday afternoon named Public Works Director R. B. Cooke, assistant city manager, effective at once.

Cooke has been a city employe for 16 years and has been director of public works for the last 5 1/2 years.

He was named assistant city manager with the understanding he would take over as city manager when Koontz' resignation becomes effective March 15. According to the agreement between the commission and Cooke yesterday, he would then serve as city manager on a temporary basis until a replacement is found.

Upon the appointment of a new city manager, Cooke will return to his job as public works director, it was agreed.

The request for Koontz' resignation came suddenly at the forenoon session of the regular Tuesday city commission meeting in City Hall.

The motion was made by L. P. Fort, seconded by Commissioner Lloyd Simpson and adopted unanimously by the mayor and all four commissioners.

The action followed lengthy discussion of an alleged lack of accomplishment in the city manager's office and internal problems in various city departments which it was charged had gone unsolved for many months.

In opening discussion at yesterday afternoon's commission meeting, Mayor E. C. Sidwell again expressed regret at the action the commission had found necessary in asking the city manager's resignation.

"I believe I speak for the entire commission," he said, "when I say we are not content to follow the path of least resistance. It would have been much easier just to look the other way and let things go by unnoticed. But we feel that when we have problems, we should do something about them."

The mayor took the opportunity to address department heads who had been summoned to the afternoon meeting.

He cited mounting costs of city operation over the past 10 or 12 years.

"We are responsible for our actions," the mayor said, "and we expect the same from our department heads."

The mayor explained that it is the responsibility of department heads to check their costs and keep them down. He said the population of Pampa has not increased in the past two or three years, but that the cost of city government has.

He said the commission does not believe that reaching into the taxpayers' pockets is the secret for good operation.

And to the department heads, (See R. B. COOKE, Page 3)

City Commissioner L. P. Fort said today his telephone was busy last night and that he had some 30 calls concerning yesterday's action of the City Commission in calling for the resignation of City Manager John Koontz.

He said two of the callers, one of whom identified himself, warned him that he wouldn't be around as a city commissioner long enough to "do anything else."

Fort said the man who identified himself explained that he meant he wouldn't be a city commissioner much longer.

"The other caller didn't explain just what he meant," Fort said. "He just said I wouldn't be around long enough to mess things up any further and hung up."

Fort is the commissioner who made the motion yesterday to request the city manager's resignation.

Commissioner Lloyd Simpson, who seconded Fort's motion yesterday, said he hadn't received any reaction from the resignation request.

"I haven't received a single call about it," Simpson said this forenoon.

Commissioner Leon Holmes said he received about a half dozen calls last night.

"None of the callers complained about our action," Holmes said.

Commissioner Newt Secret said he had received some calls but had no comment to make about them.

City Manager Koontz was on the job this morning. He said he had gone over some things with R. B. Cooke, who was appointed assistant city manager, pending further action on Koontz' resignation.

Koontz said he planned to remain on the job and help all he could until March 15, the effective date of his resignation.

The city manager reiterated his statement of yesterday that he had no further comment to make on the commission's action.

Mayor E. C. Sidwell, reached at his office this forenoon, said he had not yet been downtown and that there were no further developments as far as he knew.

Inquiry Hits Railroads' Featherbed Practices

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A presidential commission called today for drastic overhaul of railroad labor practices to halt "featherbedding," revamp wage structures and modernize working policies and conditions.

The 576-page report to President Kennedy, approved by the commission's 10 public and management members, was denounced by its five-union representatives in such terms as "shabby... obnoxious... a tragedy."

One labor member charged that the commission had made it "difficult if not impossible" to settle peacefully a long-standing dispute which could result eventually in a nationwide railroad strike.

It was to avert such a strike that the carriers and five brotherhoods representing more than 20,000 engineers, firemen-helpers, conductors, brakemen, switchtenders and other operating personnel agreed to creation of the commission in 1960. The panel was headed by Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind, of New York, who succeeded former Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell as chairman in March, 1961.

The report, filed the day before a March 1 deadline, can serve only as a basis for further collective bargaining, since mediation efforts by the public members failed.

The commission sided with the nation's railroads on the most dramatic point at issue—whether the 45,000 firemen-helpers of engineers on diesel locomotives in freight or railroad yard service should keep their jobs.

The railroads said that if they could eliminate firemen on all passenger runs they could save $5 million a year.

The three big partisan issues: The committee bill would directly affect tens of millions of individual taxpayers, starting Jan. 1, by withholding for taxes 20 cents on every dollar in stock dividends and on interest earned on savings accounts in banks and savings and loan associations. The Treasury said this would capture $600 million of the $80 million in revenue which it loses every year because of taxpayers' failure to report such income.

Commission Gets Answers From Solons

Mayor E. C. Sidwell said today he had received answers from Sen. John Tower and Sen. Ralph Yarborough to his letter in which the Pampa City Commission had urged the lawmakers to do all in their power to block efforts of the national administration to set up a Department of Urban Affairs with cabinet status.

Senator Tower assured the Mayor and City Commission that he would oppose the proposal.

"If the measure should ever get through Congress," Senator Tower wrote, "we will witness the end of local autonomy of our urban areas and the destruction of our federal system and the role of the state in federal-state relationship. The federal government has no place in the affairs of our towns and cities."

Senator Yarborough wrote that he would give the mayor's points "careful attention in studying this or similar legislation. Thank you for writing me about the proposal which would establish a Department of Urban Affairs."

The mayor said he had not yet received a reply from Rep. Walter Rogers, who also was sent a copy of the letter. However, when the matter came up in the House last week, Rogers was one of the representatives who helped to vote it down.

Partisan House Fight Seen Over President's New Withholding Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A partisan fight shaped up in the House today over President Kennedy's proposal to withhold taxes on stock dividends and interest.

Income taxes on wages and salaries have been withheld through payroll deductions for two decades. Legislation to apply a similar system to dividends and interest was wrapped into a wide-ranging tax bill on which the House Ways and Means Committee reached final agreement Tuesday.

The measure—a compromise version of Kennedy's tax program—represented the most extensive income tax revision since the en-acture code was overhauled by a Republican Congress in 1954.

The measure was expected to reach the House floor for a showdown vote in mid-March.

GOP leaders said they would attempt then with a single-shot amendment to knock out the withholding tax, drastically revamp big tax concessions provided for business, and soften tougher tax treatment applied to foreign income of American business.

Republicans said their revisions would result in considerably less revenue loss than the committee bill and therefore would not threaten Kennedy's precarious $436 million budget surplus for the fiscal year starting July 1.

You'll Be Glad To Know Your Postage Stamp Glue Is Perfect

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Bureau of Engraving and Printing has reached the "epitome of success" in putting just the right amount of glue on a postage stamp.

The glue, however, will continue to taste like glue. These little-known secrets were revealed to a House appropriations subcommittee early this month. The testimony was released Tuesday.

H. J. Holtzclaw, the bureau's director, told the congressmen that "I can say, without fear of contradiction, that the quality of the gum and the method by which it is being applied transcends any other period in the history of the bureau."

Holtzclaw said it could not have been done before the atomic age. It took high-speed stamp presses with beta ray gauge equipment to make sure the stamp and the glue are just the right width.

Of course, there are still some complaints.

"There are people who have a tendency to lick too much of the gum," Holtzclaw informed the congressmen. "And then find difficulty in affixing a stamp to an envelope."

Holtzclaw said the bureau received many "many suggestions to flavor the gum. Maple syrup and strawberry were two flavors preferred by postage lickers."

"The citrus fruit industry in California took the matter seriously," Holtzclaw said, "and plagued us for a long, long time to make the flavor like an orange or a grapefruit, or a tangerine."

Rep. John R. Pillion, R-N.Y., lauded the bureau for sticking to the tasteless stamps.

"I want to compliment the gentleman," Pillion said, "on his stand in paying no attention to the people who would like to use even the glue for advertising purposes, giving a flavor like orange or Schlitz beer."

John Glenn Is A Storybook Hero On Ground As Well As In Space

By RICK DUBROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The television cameras Monday revealed John Glenn to be as much of a storybook hero on the ground as was in space.

Often before, these merciless cameras — rightly or wrongly — have dampened enthusiasm for public figures by betraying their most intimate characteristics. But when they focused on Glenn in his historic speech to the joint session of Congress, they only increased his stature as a human being.

His personal impact was tremendous.

Addressing the august assemblage of lawmakers and diplomats, he showed not a whit of nervousness. Yet at the same time his modesty was apparent, demonstrated nobly by his introduction of his two American predecessors in space, Alan Shepard and Virgil Grissom.

His showmanship was enviable because it was unaffected. With coming that any professional showman would appreciate, he told how he left his camera hanging in the air beside him while he found gravity as he went about other business.

At another point, he told how the President's daughter, Caroline, cut him down to size when, upon being introduced to him, she said: "Where's the monkey?"

The cameras revealed a man's quiet pride in his country as Glenn told how he gets a "hard to define feeling" when the American flag goes by.

There was no false sentiment in his statement: "I'm certainly glad to see that pride in our country and its accomplishments are not a thing of the past."

It was a brilliantly conceived and delivered speech: Giving credit to all concerned with his orbital flight; venturing into politics with the observation that the world was able to observe the achievement openly; advocating the pursuit of knowledge as being worthwhile in itself because of the unknown paths it can lead to.

The three networks — CBS, ABC and NBC — gave dramatic immediacy to Glenn's rain-soaked motorcade along Pennsylvania Ave. from the White House to Congress. And there were damp eyes in our house as the Marine Band played The Stars and Stripes Forever while Glenn waved from the back seat of his open convertible.

It was a proud day to be an American. Proud, too, for Glenn's wife, son, daughter and parents, whom he introduced to Congress and whose shining reactions were their own best comment.

Glenn even introduced his mother-in-law. Now there is a man who has everything under control.

The Channel Swim: Jackie Gleason plans to return to television next fall for CBS in a one-hour series Saturday nights. He would move into the time slot vacated by Perry Mason, which switches to Thursdays.

Red Skelton's CBS-TV show will be expanded to an hour next season. The comedian signed a new six-year contract. Edie Adams, widow of cigar-smoking comedian Ernie Kovacs, has been signed to film a series of commercials for a cigar firm for the next two years.

Warner Bros. has renewed its yearly option on Edd (Kookie) Byrnes of ABC-TV's 77 Sunset Strip. MGM is shooting a test film based on the old Andy Hardy movies for a possible television series.

NBC-TV, which produced Debutante '62 earlier this year, will offer The Vanishing Act, a study of the changing face of society, April 6. Boris Karloff, Viveca Lindfors and Richard Basehart star in a television adaptation of the movie The Paradise Case on NBC-TV March 11.

Shirey Rites Are Pending

Funeral services are pending for Earle D. Shirey, an oldtime cowboy, who died Saturday in Baldwin Park, Calif. He was born Sept. 12, 1900 in Winfield, Ala.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Barbara Woods of Baldwin Park, four sisters, Mrs. Cleo Schaffer, south of Pampa, Mrs. U. Throckmorton of Perryton, Mrs. Carl Larson of Amarillo, Mrs. Robert A. Quaid of Quinton, Okla.; one brother, C. L. of Amarillo and three grandchildren.

Arrangements will be announced later by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

R. B. Cooke

Mayor Sidwell said: "This commission is dedicated to do a good job for the people of Pampa — and we are only going to ask your support, but we are going to demand it. "You department heads are aware of our problems, and it is up to you to come up with some answers to solve these problems."

Paul Crossman, speaking from the lobby, said he didn't believe city costs should be cut down to the extent that city services would suffer.

At one point Crossman said he thought that one member of the City Commission should resign — or that, perhaps, there should be a recall election.

A little later, City Commissioner Fort arose and said: "You don't have to be clairvoyant to know that Mr. Crossman was referring to me. I will say that, voluntarily, I am not going to resign — and if the people in my ward want a recall election that is up to them."

All of the city department heads were excused shortly after 2 p.m. and the mayor and commissioners began questioning Director Cooke about his taking over as assistant city manager.

Cooke told them he felt he could take over the job until a replacement could be found.

Mayor Sidwell said he hoped a replacement could be found in the ranks of city employees. City Engineer Monroe Moore said he would be "happy to help Cooke in any way possible."

When asked for comment on Cooke's selection, Commissioner Holmes said Cooke had been with the city for 16 years and should be familiar with the problems. Commissioner Fort said if he was going to pick a city manager it might not be Cooke "because his experience doesn't go far enough." Commissioner Simpson said he thought the city should hire an experienced city manager. Commissioner Secret said he had no comment.

"I don't know whether we're doing right or wrong," Secret added.

City Manager Kooz said he will help in any way he possibly can to assist Cooke in becoming familiar with the office.

The mayor asked members of the audience if they had any comment and there being none, the afternoon session adjourned at 2:30 p.m., just 55 minutes after it had started.

Changes on the American Stock Exchange (AMEX), which ranks second in size to the New York Stock Exchange. Both the AMEX president and its board chairman resigned, and a reorganization program for that exchange is expected to be presented by late May or early June.

Only a little over a week ago of stealing $214,000 from funds in the SEC gave New York Stock Exchange specialists detailed questionnaires covering their market practices and activities.

U.S. attorney Robert Morgenthau followed up Tuesday's indictment by repeating an earlier declaration that there is no "concerned" government drive to investigate the tax background of persons working in Wall Street.

The indictment against Bidwell charged he had actual income of $110,829 in 1956, but reported it was $83,157, on which tax of $28,116 was paid. The government claimed the tax was short by $31,429.

For 1957, Bidwell allegedly reported only $31,336 income instead of $97,372, and paid $26,919 in taxes. The shortage for that year was said to be $24,478.

Bidwell issued a statement saying he had paid a half-million dollars in income taxes in the past five years and added, "This controversy is purely a personal tax matter between the Internal Revenue Service and myself. Neither the investing public nor the stock exchange is involved."

Bidwell, a member of the exchange since 1941 and a governor since 1956, said he had been disputing his returns for 1956-57 with the government for three years. He said he felt it was "strange that Washington would wait until I was chairman of the board of the NYSE and then pick this particular period of the year—around income tax filing time—to release suddenly a barrage of publicity before the matter was even presented to the grand jury."

Bidwell is a native of Binghamton, N.Y., and a 1925 graduate of Lehigh University. He has homes on New York's Park Ave. and at Easton, Conn.

Mrs. Call's Rites Are Scheduled Here Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. W. L. (Mary) Call, 1816 Beech, will be held at 3 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church with Dr. W. W. Adcock of Abilene, district superintendent of the Methodist Northwest Texas Conference, officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Mrs. Call, sixth grade instructor at Stephen F. Austin school, became ill after assuming her classes on Tuesday morning; was taken to a local doctor's office, where she died unexpectedly.

She had been a teacher in the Pampa School System for 16 years. She began her teaching as Miss Mary Gougher, at the age of 17, in Greenwood County, K-ns, and taught in various rural schools in that county from the fall of 1919 until the Spring of 1933. She was out of the teaching profession from 1933 until moving to Pampa in 1939, at which time she became engaged in substitute teaching. In 1946, Mrs. Call assumed a full-time teaching position at Horace Mann school, where she came to Stephen F. Austin as a fifth grade instructor. Two years ago, she began teaching at the sixth grade level.

She had not missed a day of school, because of illness, since she began teaching in Pampa 16 years ago, according to D. V. Biggers, Stephen F. Austin principal.

Prior to her death, Mrs. Call had written and was producing a play with a patriotic theme for presentation before the Kiwanis Club, which will meet at the school on Friday. Other teachers in Austin and the students are going ahead with the play, which will be presented at 7 p.m. Friday for the Kiwanis guests in the school auditorium.

Four Escape In Running Gun Battle

PLAINVIEW, Tex., Feb. 28 (UPI)—Four young men in a black sedan fought a running gun battle with patrolman Bill Holland Tuesday night and shot the windshield out of his patrol car.

Holland said he was forced to give up the chase when a tire on his car blew out. Bullets pierced the hood of his car as well as the windshield, and may have caused the blowout.

Holland was not hurt. He said he began chasing the car when he saw the four men out of a bowling alley, jump into the car and drive off. When he tried to stop them for questioning, they began shooting, he said.

The Department of Public Safety in Lubbock alerted officers throughout West Texas. The DPS said one of the four may be a 15-year-old youth that escaped from the Gatesville school for boys last week and is believed to have stolen a car in Waco.

about $250 million a year in wages. The unions insisted the firemen were needed on all diesels for safety's sake. But the carriers maintained they were unneeded and a major example of so-called "featherbedding."

The report proposed that no new fireman-helpers be hired, that those with 10 or more years seniority be kept on with full job rights, but those with less time be separated or furloughed with up to a year's notice and dismissal pay based on length of service. They also would have preferential hiring status and receive two years' training for a new job at carrier expense.

This proposal was firmly opposed by spokesmen for the operating brotherhoods. The operating employees in 1959 numbered 211,000 out of an industry total of $15,000 workers.

Another high point of the commission's report was its call for a mandatory retirement age of 65 for operating employees, so that by 1967 no engineers or others would be above that age.

than owed, the taxpayer could apply to the Treasury for a refund. Exemptions from withholding could be obtained on savings accounts of children younger than 18 and of persons 65 and older who expect to have no taxable income at the end of the year.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, Republican tax expert and chairman of the House GOP Policy Committee, denounced this as a "legislative monstrosity." He said it would work injustice on millions of persons who owe no taxes or less than the amounts that would be withheld.

The bill would allow industry, business proprietors and farmers tax cuts ranging up to $8 for every $100 spent for income-producing machinery, equipment and other tools. Retroactive to last Jan. 1, this could cover outlays for many items, including breeding bulls bought by farmers and typewriters bought by freelance writers. The provision would result in an estimated $1.8 billion revenue loss in the next fiscal year.

Republicans were lining up behind an alternate plan which they said would lose much less revenue but provide tax relief for a wider segment of business. The GOP plan would provide an acceleration in depreciation allowances and would allow retailers and wholesalers to claim tax deductions geared to their inventories.

The bill would tighten tax treatment on foreign earnings of U.S.-owned corporations operating abroad. They now can defer payment of U.S. income taxes on foreign earnings until they are brought back to this country. One new provision would deny tax deferral in the future on accumulated earnings unless they are plowed back into the same business abroad or invested in underdeveloped countries.

Republicans said they were willing to support certain other tax-tightening provisions on foreign income, but not to the extent of allowing the Treasury to tell American business abroad where it could invest its earnings.

Whatley Is Band Booster Club Prexy

Calvin Whatley, formerly vice president of the Pampa Band Boosters Club, was elected last night at a meeting held last night in the Pampa High School Cafeteria.

Whatley was elected to serve the unexpired term of president Bunny Shultz who resigned recently.

Other business on the agenda at last night's meeting was the appointment of a nominating committee for next year's officers. Appointed to the committee were Joe DiCosimo, Homer Cruger and Mrs. George Quible. They will report to the club at a meeting to be held in May.

May 17 was set as the date for the annual Band Banquet to be held in the Pampa High School Cafeteria. Mrs. G. A. Rath will serve as banquet chairman.

The club also voted not to sponsor the Navy Band concert which had been discussed recently.

Concert Series Set By Board

Pampa Community Concert Association, at a recent board meeting held in the directors' room of the First National Bank, selected additional artists to complete its concert series planned for the 1962-63 concert season.

Artists engaged by the board to make appearances here are Mantovani of London, England, an international director of light music with his orchestra of 45 members; Robert Merrill of the Metropolitan Opera, as announced during the recent membership drive campaign.

To complement the series, Carlos Montoya, master of the Flamenco guitar will appear. Montoya is one of the top classical guitarists in this country and has appeared as a guest many times on the Ed Sullivan Show.

In early Spring, the New York Pro Musica is slated for appearance here. This internationally-celebrated ensemble with 11 artists does instrumental and vocal compositions from the 14th and 15th century composers. They have appeared in all the major cities in America and are a premium attraction for local concert patrons.

Thornton Rites Set Thursday

Interment rites for William Edward Thornton, 77, a retired farmer, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Calvary Baptist Church with the Rev. Orville See, pastor, officiating assisted by the Rev. John Dyer, pastor of the Hobart Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Thornton, born Aug. 4, 1884 in Eddie, died at 4:10 p.m. Tuesday in his home, 745 Locust.

He was married to Onie Matthews in Joshua on July 29, 1904. He was a longtime resident in Miami and Mobeetie before moving to Pampa 10 years ago from Mobeetie. He was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church.

Survivors are his wife; one son, Wilbur; and one daughter, Mrs. Nelson Jackson, all of Pampa; two brothers, R. J. of Farwell, and E. G. of Olney.

Pallbearers will be Clyde Prince, Raymond Hawkins, Alvin Henry, Carl Ammons, T. L. Olliphant and Cecil Bryant.

Interment will be in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

$5 Fine Set On Theft Charge

Paul C. Hammons, Pampa, was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail yesterday when he pleaded guilty before County Judge Bill Craig on a charge of theft by false pretext.

The complaint was signed by Wiley Pettit.

Buzzer Scares Thieves Away

A rigged-up buzzer frightened thieves away last night at the Jiffy Laundry, 721 W. Brown, and they left empty-handed.

Police Chief Jim Conner said today the break-in occurred shortly after the laundry had been locked at midnight. The thieves forced the front door to gain entrance, but when they tried to break into a coin changer the buzzer set off and they fled.

One big dazzler... one little gem...

Now join the world's greatest V-8 collection

405-HP THUNDERBIRD V-8—Thirty years of Ford experience culminate in this startling V-8. Available in every Galaxie, it puts 405 horses under the throttle, a dazzling level of acceleration that cannot be imagined but must be felt. A super-performance option, it comes only with the four-speed gear box. But, unlike some "special" engines that require delicate tuning and modification, it puts out its potential right off the showroom floor. Even more impressive, Ford skill has made it a docile tiger; it idles smoothly, it is durable, its super capacity does not come at the expense of harshness and noise. Among expert drivers, it is praised as a true high-performance V-8 in America... the pace-setter for 9 other V-8's tailored to every driving need.

NEW FAIRLANE CHALLENGER "260" V-8—When the 221-cubic-inch Fairlane V-8 appeared last fall, automotive writers hailed it as a great basic advance, a compact jewel of design. Now, the "260" V-8 proves their prediction. With 164 hp, 19 more than the standard version, Fairlane gains a new brilliance of performance—but it still runs on "regular," still outpaces any standard-size Six. It has the durability of time-tested cast iron, slimmer and lightened by Ford's precision-casting technique. Created by the one maker who has built 30,000,000 V-8's since 1932, it brings the sparkle and smoothness of V-8 power well within the thrifty budget's reach, puts truly sophisticated engineering at the service of truly economical motoring.

Dear Abby...
Sailor Advised To
"Hit The Decks"

By ASIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a sailor in the U.S. Navy. Recently I made plans to marry a 16-year-old girl from my home town. In order to get enough money to get married on, I reenlisted in the Navy for six years. I got a $400 bonus. When I went home to get married, my girl's father ran me out of the house and refused to let his daughter marry me. She's not old enough to marry without his consent. Now I'm in the Navy for six more years and can't get out. What should I do?

FLEET POST OFFICE
DEAR FLEET: It looks like you're stuck with a six-year hitch and $400. Make the best of it, Mac, and see the world.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died suddenly last November. At a Christmas party I renewed acquaintance with a man I had known for many years. On New Year's Eve he asked me to marry him. My teen-aged daughter became very upset when I told her, and said that out of respect to her father I should wait at least one year. When I told this man I wanted to wait, he cooled off and started seeing another woman in town. The talk around town is that he may marry her. I think I passed up a good thing and would like to have another chance with this man. How can I revive his interest without having it look like

Underarm Gusset Adds
Comfort To Tight Dress

MARY BROOKS PICKEN
Newspaper Entertainer Assn.

It is my hope that the answers to readers' questions in this column will serve you in more than the specific instances mentioned. They can clue you to sewing procedures in various situations.

DEAR MRS. PICKEN: Recently I bought a size 12 dress which fits me just right except for the fact that the sleeve is too tight. The salesgirl suggested a little diamond at the underarm. I have tried doing this, but it doesn't seem to work. — J. B.

DEAR J.B.: What the salesgirl meant was to put a gusset at the underarm.

Buy a size-12 pattern that has an underarm gusset and, if you have enough material, cut the gusset according to the pattern, open the underarm seam and sleeve just enough to insert this gusset. Let out as much as possible in the underarm seam.

The sleeve will be more comfortable, but you must be careful that you follow the instructions on the pattern for applying the gusset properly.

DEAR MRS. PICKEN: Is there any way of handling a silk sari with a border, both in cutting and sewing? The way it is loomed, it seems to pull in different directions. — G. F.

DEAR G. F.: Because of the Sleeve line is more comfortable with addition of underarm gusset (arrow).

border, a sari usually needs to be made on the crosswise grain of the fabric, laying the fullness at the waistline in pleats either stitched down or left loose.

Some women like to make a shirtwaist-type top and use the border at the front, making short sleeves and using the border as a finish.

This way, the fabric would be cut on the length for the waist part. Some make the bodice on the crosswise, use straps over the shoulders, and then make a stole out of what is left to cover the shoulders.

Look under "dressmakers" in the yellow pages of your phone directory. You may find someone near you who sews, to whom you could take your sari for making, if you still hesitate to make it yourself.

DEAR R. Z.: Yes, there are several things you can do. Buy nylon net or lace, use the top of a dress or blouse pattern. Cut a brown paper pattern from this, making the pattern as deep as former yoke.

If net, cut a new top for your nightie, shaping the neck and shoulders as you desire.

If lace, lay rows on the pattern, overlapping the edges 1/4 inch, stitch these together, stitching right over the paper, which can be torn away when stitching is complete. Often a nightie so rejuvenated will give months of good wear.

Some like to cut the nightie to a petticoat length, then stitch 3 to 5 rows at the top with elastic shirring thread.

This is particularly good if you wear shortie nightgowns.

Rudeness Can Be
Veil To Defects
By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

We recently entertained a British writer whose novels are wildly adored by a sensitive and intense young woman I know. After some hesitation I invited her to meet him. She accepted, but she did not meet him. The day before our modest little party, she telephoned me and without preamble demanded hotly:

"Why haven't you sent me a formal invitation? You thought I wasn't important enough to bother yourself with sending one, didn't you? Well, I'm not coming to your party. And I think you are the most patronizing and hypocritical person I ever knew!"

Then she broke the connection. She was horribly rude, wasn't she? But I wasn't insulted.

I am aware that my young friend's self-confidence has been so cruelly mangled that she is afraid of a party's social strains. She was driven to create a situation between us that would justify her withdrawal from ours.

I knew that her rudeness was saying to me, "I cannot come to the party because I fear saying or doing the wrong thing." She is receiving psychiatric treatment for this inability to know and com-

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, in the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings.

Gov'ts. 'Helping Hand'

Two of the nation's leading airlines—American and Eastern—have proposed to their stockholders a merger.

Merger has become a dirty word, politically. It conjures up phantoms of unearned monopoly, gouging of the public and planned unemployment.

In the matter of air transportation you have a near-classic example of federal control as it happens, as it operates and as it brings an industry to grief.

The example of the airlines is parallel to that of the radio-TV industry, also in big trouble.

Air transportation and radio transmission of sound and picture are under the control of the government. Bureaucrats decide who shall use which air routes and which wavelengths.

Some airlines want to go up in price; some want to go down. Some want new routes. Others want to get rid of the old ones. Nobody's happy.

Everyone would like the profitable hauls, nobody wants the losses. The government, unfortunately, isn't able to iron out the trouble.

So the government subsidizes airlines, gives them good and bad hauls, pays them for work they don't do, awards them exclusive franchises; and now it may chase out the non-scheduled lines.

And still the industry looks sick. Two major carriers want to merge, out of economic necessity. Government control doesn't mean more service, it means fewer services, fewer competitors and, eventually, higher prices.

This is the lesson to be learned from the airlines and the broadcast industry: Nothing, but nothing, is quite so good for getting an industry in trouble as the helping hand of the government!

Self-Responsibility

All highway accidents are caused by people. Persons who realize that they are responsible for everything that they do, usually do not have accidents.

Private Education Growing

In the face of mounting taxation, enlarged governmental regulation and possible economic and moral ruin, there is a story which tells of a growing reaction to the trend, America's investment in private and independent schools is growing enormously.

Here are some facts worth thinking about. According to a staff study recently published by St. Thomas Press, and titled, "Schools Weighed in the Balance," private and independent schools are growing faster than public (governmental) schools.

In 1949, government school enrollment came to 25,597,000 and in the same year, private and independent school enrollment came to a total of only 2,600,000.

In 1956, government school enrollment came to 25,597,000 and in the same year, private and independent school enrollment came to a total of only 2,600,000.

In 1966, government school enrollment came to 25,597,000 and in the same year, private and independent school enrollment came to a total of only 2,600,000.

In 1976, government school enrollment came to 25,597,000 and in the same year, private and independent school enrollment came to a total of only 2,600,000.

In 1986, government school enrollment came to 25,597,000 and in the same year, private and independent school enrollment came to a total of only 2,600,000.

In 1996, government school enrollment came to 25,597,000 and in the same year, private and independent school enrollment came to a total of only 2,600,000.

TRUTH-FORUM

With Ed Delaney

Some of our editorial and publishing pundits appear eager to curry favor with the conservatives in this country and still not lose the support and subscriptions of the liberals.

Conservatives in the political forum, according to these oracles of the press, should avoid what they call "demagoguery" and "name-calling," otherwise they lose their status as conservatives and fall into the "extremist" class.

Responsible persons presently conspicuous on the political and public scene seldom make "indiscriminate accusations." Their citation of indisputable records of current history and linking with it the names of those who were or are inextricably involved in the making of that history, is not indiscriminate accusation.

For example: when Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker addressed a capacity audience in the Sports Arena in Los Angeles recently, he emphasized that he was not criticizing the Army, from which he resigned a short while ago.

If the FCC can't understand simple answers like these, how can it be smart enough to regulate the industry?

The airlines, also under government control, have troubles of another sort, but for the same reason: They too are licensed.

Some airlines want to go up in price; some want to go down. Some want new routes. Others want to get rid of the old ones. Nobody's happy.

Everyone would like the profitable hauls, nobody wants the losses. The government, unfortunately, isn't able to iron out the trouble.

So the government subsidizes airlines, gives them good and bad hauls, pays them for work they don't do, awards them exclusive franchises; and now it may chase out the non-scheduled lines.

And still the industry looks sick. Two major carriers want to merge, out of economic necessity. Government control doesn't mean more service, it means fewer services, fewer competitors and, eventually, higher prices.

HEW Post for Weaver If Urban Affairs Fails in House vote, President Plans

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is determined one way or another to name his housing chief, Robert Weaver, to a Cabinet post this year.

If Congress refuses to set up a new Cabinet post for Weaver by rejecting the proposed Urban Affairs Department, the President plans to pick Weaver as the successor to Health, Education & Welfare Secretary Ribicoff.

Secretary Ribicoff will leave his important HEW cabinet post this spring to seek the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat now held by GOP Senator Prescott Bush, Conn.

Ribicoff's resignation, which is expected to touch off a number of changes within the Administration, is already on the President's desk. It will be announced either in March or April.

The President made known his decision to break precedent and name Weaver as the first Negro cabinet member during a recent legislative strategy meeting with his congressional leaders.

He told the legislators he would like to see Weaver become the first head of the proposed Urban Affairs Department. However, if Congress balks at that, the President said he would name the housing chief as Ribicoff's Cabinet replacement, stating:

"Weaver is fully qualified to hold either of those Cabinet positions. I want him in the Cabinet."

The latest survey of House members on the President's Urban Affairs reorganization plan clearly indicates that if Weaver is to get a seat in the Cabinet it will have to be the HEW post.

It shows that the President's plan needs 43 additional votes to win approval in the House. A defeat in either the House or Senate will kill the proposal for this year.

NOTE: Mayor Richard Lee, of New Haven, Conn., is the odds-on favorite to replace Weaver as head of the Housing & Home Finance Agency when he is given his new Cabinet position.

BACK TO WORK — U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers wants another crack at the Communists.

He is planning to ask the Air Force to reinstate the commission (Major) that he gave up in May 1956 to fly the plane that made spy history — and helped shatter a summit meeting.

And the chances are good that the Central Intelligence Agency's most publicized spy will get his wish.

Have We The Courage?

(Christian Economics)

The battle for Freedom in Latin America and for that matter everywhere, is being lost by the default, carelessness and indifference of those who still enjoy it.

While the Communist countries are literally flooding the world with false and dishonest literature concerning the rosy benefits and great success of communism, little effort is being made to counteract these wholly misleading stories and alleged facts.

South America is literally teeming with hundreds of books, pamphlets, and tracts available everywhere, setting forth communism as a pure road to less work, prosperity and happiness.

The oft-repeated "big lie" is, as always, the chief cornerstone of the Communist propaganda edifice. Over and over it is alleged that in the free world the workers receive about one-sixth of the fruits of their efforts while the owners gather in the remaining 84 per cent.

According to a high Defense Department official, the Air Force is expected to approve Powers' request after studying all the de-briefing reports on his ill-fated U-2 flight over the Soviet Union in 1960.

These still-secret reports reveal that Powers obtained more information on Soviet missile and nuclear installations through his overflights than any other CIA operator.

Also, the de-briefing shows that Powers gave no significant military information that the Soviets could not have obtained from other sources.

Powers was captured near Sverdlovsk, Russia, on May 1, 1960, after he parachuted from his crippled reconnaissance plane.

The high-flying jet was disabled by an air-wave shock that was believed caused by the force of an exploding warhead of a Soviet ground-to-air missile.

Powers was subsequently convicted of espionage by the military division of the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union and sentenced to 10 years' confinement. He was returned to the U.S. in exchange for Colonel Rudolf Abel, a Soviet spy.

NOTE: In addition to being Russia's top spy in the U.S. and Europe before his arrest, Colonel Abel also is a nuclear physicist and engineer.

SENATE TV MYSTERY—Senator Margaret Chase Smith, R. Maine, is threatening to take the Senate floor and denounce the lax security protection of the Capitol police if the mystery of her missing TV set isn't cleared up soon.

After a week of investigation, more than a dozen Capitol police have been unable to dig up a clue as to who took the expensive set. . . Senator J. William Fulbright, D. Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is staying out of the limelight, acting on the advice of his campaign advisers.

Fulbright is limiting his statements on foreign policy until after the Arkansas Senate primary in May. Also, he has asked Senator John Sparkman, D. Ala., to act as chairman for many of the controversial committee hearings. . . The government's plan to let larger packages go through the mail and to charge higher rates for delivering packages is tied up by a legal knot. The Postmaster General must first prove to the Interstate Commerce Commission that he has the right to suggest changes in limits now fixed on package size and weight.

Hankering

By HENRY McMEMORE

Last week at a cocktail party—one of those mammoth ones where every field is represented, from professional tea tasters to encyclopedias salesmen—I happened across a State Department man.

Alloofly cordial, he was answering questions on everything under the sun, couching his replies in a language that appears to go along with State Department men as naturally as a pearl gray tie.

I never did get around to asking him, but I itched to know why the morale of State Department workers is so easily lowered.

And we all know it is. Hardly a day goes by without some top State official saying that such and such a move would be damaging to the morale of State and would send it plunging like a bucket dropped in a well.

If America does this, State's morale will plummet. If America does not do this, State's morale will be lower than a sandhog's lunch pail.

Why? Are State Department men chosen for their super-sensitivity? Are they thoroughly screened and are those with tough fibers thrown into the discard? Are only the delicate, mercurial souls given a desk and put on the payroll?

I know of no other business where the employees can so easily be thrown into fits of despondency, and their work impaired, by a wrong move on the part of their superiors or the general public.

Nor do I know of any other business — and working for State must be a business just as much as clerking in a bank, walking the floor of a department store, or selling vacuum cleaners from door to door — where the feelings of workers are so guarded.

State's morale was hurt, so it was said, by Mr. Dulles running the whole show by himself.

It is now said it is likely to suffer if Mr. McNamara reveals the names of the speech censors.

There never is any stability in State's morale. To question the ability of even one member of the vast organization appears to be enough to send the whole shebang into a fit of sulking, mutual distrust, petulance, and annoyance at Congress and the country.

I never walked around the State Department when its morale was at an ebb, but I'd like to. For curiosity's sake, I'd like to see with my own eyes what "States" do when they are hurt.

Do they put their heads on their desks and groan and moan? Do they walk about in a pet, giving sharp answers to friend and foe alike? Or do they just stay at home, and refuse to go to work? Do they sulk like children who have not been given their way?

Maybe it's time for State to face up to the hard facts of life. Maybe all "States" should be told that they must take a little bitter with the sweet, or, as long as I am coining phrases, that every rose has a thorn.

Just a thought, you know. . .

Banner Year Forseen For Home Run Clouters In Coming Season

Manny Perez and Carson Watt and fellow boxer Ronnie Morgan in the double winners circle Saturday night with victories in the National Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago.

Three boys are slated for tonight in the quarterfinals.

Watt, a middleweight carded a low decision over Phil Brown of Muncie, Ind. in his initial bout of the evening. Watt advanced into the quarterfinal with a unanimous decision over Roger Fulton of Nashville.

Perez, fighting in the welterweight division, rallied to card a decision over Don Douglas of Denver, Colo. in his first bout of the evening.

Perez started off rather slow in the first round, but countered well in the second round, with Douglas bleeding from the nose during the hectic round. Perez then took complete control of things in the final round to gain the decision.

Perez proved that he would have to be reckoned with in the battle for the welterweight title by knocking out Dohn Anderson of Louisville, Ky. in 1:59 of the first round.

Perez and Anderson were both wild in the opening round, but the Amarillo slugger put on a strong attack in the final round and wore his opponent down before delivering the tell-tale blow.

Morgan, who was shuttled off to Chicago as an alternate boxer in the lightweight division, pounded out two decisive decisions Monday night in the opening round of fistic action to gain the quarterfinal round.

Survivors of tonight's action will return home following the bouts and then return to the fistic wars in the semi-finals and finals starting March 7.

NEW YORK (UPI)—It looks like another banner year for home run hitters in 1962—bats are lighter, the sluggers are eager and the fences are shorter.

Roger Maris of the Yankees showed 'em last year there's nothing mystical about Babe Ruth's record. That was a clue too obvious to ignore.

Since 1961 specifications were released a year ago—the Detroit Tigers, Kansas City Athletics and Cincinnati Reds all made minor adjustments in their fences, downward, to be sure, Washington's new ball yard is considerably more inviting to homer-hitters than was old Griffith Stadium.

In Los Angeles, where Walter O'Malley's plush new plaza at Chavez Ravine joins the circuit, the differences are difficult to assay. Chavez replaces the oddball layout for the Dodgers in the vast Coliseum and the Wrigley Field home for the Angels, where distances in left center and right center weren't exactly impressive.

In Detroit, the Tigers have dropped the wall two feet in left, making it nine feet to match the barrier in right. How much the two extra feet of air space will assist right-hand hitters Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline is anybody's guess. But obviously it won't hurt a bit.

The Athletics have pulled in the left field foul line by 17 feet, leaving the other dimensions as was. The A's have no big clouters who'll benefit but by reducing the left line from 370 to 353 feet from the layout becomes more accessible to all hands.

At Cincinnati, the wall in left and center fields has been lowered from 18 to 14 feet. The Reds have excellent pitching with which they hope to hold the enemy and a pair of rightie sluggers (Frank Robinson and Wally Post) who figure to benefit from the lower wall.

Washington's new stadium is 33 feet shorter in left, 16 shorter in center and 15 feet longer in right field but the wall in right is 24 feet lower.

Chavez Ravine in Los Angeles gives the National League Dodgers a normal layout for a change and it represents a great relief from the fantastic contours of the Coliseum playing field, which had a 40-foot screen and a 251-foot foul line in left. Chavez will be 350-feet down both lines and 410 in center with a 10 foot wall all around.

For the Angels, who played their first season in Wrigley Field last year, Chavez will present deeper areas in left center and right center. However, the left field line is 10 feet shorter and the wall 4.5 feet lower. In right the foul line is nine feet shorter but the wall a foot higher.

Houston's new ball park figures to be on the rugged side for distance clouters with 360 foot fences (eight feet high) in both left and right fields. However, the Polo Grounds, home of the New York Mets, is one of the more familiar home run heavens—at least for hitters who can slice 'em down the lines.

The accent obviously is on the home run since Maris had his big blast of 61 in 1961 and ignited box-office interest everywhere he went around the circuit.

Everyone seems to like the act.

Unions In Loop Tie With Tech

United Press International back Foley, the No. 2 scorer in college basketball, has completed a crusade to make Holy Cross one of the top teams to be reckoned with in the National Invitation tournament.

Holy Cross, anxious to avenge a 77-75 defeat in last year's NIT semifinals, clinched a berth in the 1962 tournament at New Haven by whipping Boston College, 75, Tuesday night at Newton.

Official announcement of the Crusaders' entrance into the tournament is expected to be made by the NIT selection committee at Boston today.

Foley, who set four Holy Cross scoring records since he succeeded such stars as Bob Cousy, Tom Heins and Tom Heinsohn at the Worcester, Mass., school, tallied 24 points in the "must" victory over BC. His season's average is 43.3 points per game.

Before the game it was reported Holy Cross could reverse an 87-77 defeat by Boston College Feb. 3, Foley and his mates would receive the last available invitation to the NIT. Three other invitations are expected to go to runners-up in the Missouri Valley, Skyline and Middle Atlantic conferences.

Holy Cross was held to a 14-all game at the end of the first 10 minutes, but then went on a 14-3 run that appeared to leave the Crusaders free to loaf the remainder of the way. But BC spurred to within 38-37 before Foley led a 11-point cross spurt that really put the game on ice.

Now it's the NIT for Holy Cross and a hoped-for revenge meeting with Providence. The two teams meet in a pre-tourney match Saturday that could reveal the outcome of a future engagement.

The seven other teams already selected for the NIT are: St. John's, Loyola of Chicago, Navy, Duquesne, Dayton, Wichita, and Houston.

In light action Tuesday, Notre Dams defeated Evansville, 99-91, as three of the Irish starters each scored 20 or more points; the Air Force, an at-large entry in the NCAA tourney, mauled South Dakota, 84-57; Bowling Green beat Detroit, 86-55, in a battle of tourney-bound teams; Niagara defeated Colgate, 80-59; Texas Tech topped Texas A&M, 69-49, and Southern Methodist beat Baylor, 69-52, to remain in a tie for the Southwest Conference title, and Texas edged Arkansas, 61-60.

Weiss Praises Old Long Green

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—General Manager George Weiss of the New York Mets thinks that good old American dollar is going to solve some of Casey Stengel's problems.

Weiss revealed Tuesday that he has talked with the nine other National League teams in hopes of making a deal for an established shortstop and a pitcher. He added that he wants to make the deals "purchases" rather than player-trades because the Mets aren't strong enough to surrender what talent they have.

"I feel fairly certain that I can make the deals," said Weiss. "It will be perhaps a few weeks before they can be completed, however, because the teams involved have young players they want to look at before they are willing to make the deals."

He rejected the popular theory that "you can't buy players."

"We bought Frank Thomas, Richie Ashburn and Charley Neal," he said. "The clubs we have dealt with realize it is a league problem to put a good team in New York."

"We're not that deep in player talent that I would care to trade away some of the players we already have," he added.

Weiss is believed to be close to a deal with either the Pittsburgh Pirates or the Cincinnati Reds. The only qualified shortstop on the Mets is ex-Milwaukee utility player Felix Mantilla—and Stengel has indicated several times that he would not count on Mantilla for a full season.

The rest of the Mets' infield seems fairly well set with Gil Hodges and Ed Bouchee platooning at first, Neal at second and Don Zimmer at third.

Pama Cindermen In Mee With Tascosa

Pampa's Peters journey to Amarillo to battle Tascosa's R in a dual cinder meet at Rebel high school track.

The match was originally scheduled for Tuesday but was called off because of cold weather.

There will be an A team and a sophomore division with 14 events carved in each division.

The Harvester cindermen raced to a fourth place finish in their initial outing in the Ft. Stockton Relays with Randy Matson, the durable "do-it-all" athlete, eclipsing the school record in the shot put and the discus.

The junior track star tossed the iron ball 55 feet 10 1/2 inches to better the old mark of 55 feet 8 1/2 inches set by John Cantrell in 1955. Matson then heaved the discus 159 feet 8 inches to eclipse the record set by Randall Clay in 1946 of 159 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Bill Martin, who jointly shares the high jump mark with Don Hinton at 5 feet 10 inches, tied his record at the Ft. Stockton meet.

Housn Cops Cag Wins In Lo Play

Houston cag teams hogged tonight this past week in the sixth grade action in the Wee basketball loop.

In fifth action, Austin won over 7-3 and over Lamar 30 Houston, meanwhile was the measure of Baker, 15-7 Wilson, 13-5 Travis made it a clean sweep with 11 victory over Mann and 8-5 decision over Baker.

In sixth action, Austin won two Wilson 23-12 and over Lamar 20, Houston also topped Baker 45-8 and over Will 25.

In other grade action last week won over Travis, 28-8 and took the measure of 17-9.

Clay Winner In Bicket

Betty sank 38 points Tuesday to lead Claude to a 47-42 victory in a Class B bid-diddle at the Harvester.

Charles of Briscoe led the loss 23 points. Claude an early first quarter were never headed at.

Cash Signs Major Pact For 100 Percent Increase To $29,000

United Press International Norm Cash has accepted a 100 per cent salary increase, leaving Rocky Colavito, Orlando Cepeda and Joey Jay as the "big three" of the unsigned major league ball players.

A total of 17 players, including Colavito, Cepeda and Jay, remain unsigned—and all will become official holdouts if they fail to agree to terms today or Thursday. And indications are that there will be at least several players who risk front office wrath and the possibility of slow starts in order to drive hard bargains.

Cash, who led the American League with a .361 average last season, accepted a pact that raised him from $14,500 to $29,000. The Detroit Tigers' squareshouldered first-baseman hit 41 homers and drove in 132 runs to go with his league-leading average.

Colavito and Jay seem prepared for sieges but word from the San Francisco Giants' camp in Casa Grande, Ariz., is that owner Horace Stoneham, and Cepeda are close to agreement.

Colavito, who hit 45 homers last season, is holed up at his Temple, Pa., home while Jay, a 21-game winner for the National League champion Reds, is brooding at the Spencer, W.Va.

Cepeda, who hit 46 homers last season and is being hailed as a potential 60-homer slugger this year, has been demanding $35,000—and it is reported that Stoneham is close to agreeing to such a figure.

The other unsigned players are Turk Lown of the White Sox, Dale Long of the Senators, Camilo Pas-

You Probably Own More Than One Watch

By JESSE BOGUE UPI Financial Editor NEW YORK (UPI)—Sometime in the next few months, a company expects to see its 50 million watches go across a counter and into someone's pocket or onto a wrist.

Although this may not reflect a growing desire on the part of the populace to get to work on time, it does show, according to some industry sources, a changing pattern in watch purchases by the general public.

It may not apply in the case of each person who owns a watch; but there are more persons, these sources say, who own more than one watch, than was the case 25 or even 10 years ago.

Joachim Lehmkuhl, president of U. S. Time Corp., said today people can buy two and even three reliable watches "one for sports, another for dress and another for work—for about the cost of a single watch not too many years ago."

Lehmkuhl predicts a 40 million U.S. watch market by 1970. According to figures from Daniel Yankelovich, U.S. market consultant for the watchmakers of Switzerland, about 18.5 million watches were sold in the United States in 1950. In 1959, 24.75 million were sold.

Yankelovich's figures showed that before 1947, watches $30 and under accounted for about 15 per cent of the market; those of $75 and over, 31 per cent. Today, about 50 per cent are priced at $30 and under, and those of $75 and over account for about 18 per cent.

Washington was born on the 11th of February, according to the Julian, or old-style, calendar.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market continues to feel its way, apparently awaiting completion of its consolidation phase or some new bullish influence to prompt a move into new high ground, says Standard & Poor's "Outlook."

The service advises maintenance of well-invested positions, since an early settlement of the steel dispute on a non-inflationary basis might provide the necessary stimulus.

Analyst Arthur Wiesenberger says investor psychology will continue on the favorable side and he continues to advocate a positive policy of equity investment.

Although there is a probability of a minor decline toward the 700 level in the Dow-Jones industrial average, the general near term trend will be that of a churning and indecisive market with special emphasis on low priced, speculative issues, says analyst James Dines of A. M. Kidder & Co.

Sparks & Co. says from a technical standpoint he is still of the belief that a modest market reaction of the 700-705 area in the D.J. industrials is in the making and will precede any full-scale upward move.

Lindbergh, Glenn Aerial Exploits Show Advances

NEW YORK (UPI)—The sky blazing exploits of two U.S. solo-flying pioneers are separated by 35 years which point up a stunning advance in air science.

In 1927, Charles A. Lindbergh flew his Spirit of St. Louis non-stop from New York to Paris in 33 hours and 39 minutes. The journey was 3,600 miles.

On Feb. 20, 1962, Lt. Col. John Glenn Jr. rode the Friendship 7 space capsule in an 81,000-mile triple orbit around the earth in 4 hours and 56 minutes.

The Lone Eagle's average speed for his solo flight across the Atlantic was 140 miles an hour. This year the freckle-faced Marine travelled at 17,500 miles an hour. Lindbergh's plane weighed 5,200 pounds, was 38 feet long and had a wing span of 46 feet. In comparison, Friendship 7 weighed 3,000 pounds, was 9 feet 6 inches high and measured 6 feet wide at its base.

Immigration Changes Asked By Council

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—A pronouncement calling on Congress to revise immigration laws to eliminate racial and cultural discrimination, was submitted for approval Tuesday to the general board of the National Council of Churches.
 A report said the revisions were sought in the light of "moral principles and human values, as well as considerations of national welfare." It said present law "neither reflects Christian concern adequately nor furthers our national interest sufficiently."
 Authors of the document said they were, in particular, "critical and ashamed of the racial and cultural discrimination in the present basis of our immigration quota system."
 They called for changes under which immigration quotas would be based on four priorities, irrespective of ethnic origins.

The four, designated without order of preference or importance, were admission of persons with special occupational skills needed in this country; admission of persons whose coming will stimulate U. S. economic and social life; reunion of families; an enactment of permanent legislation in lieu of temporary measures to admit needy refugees.
