Kennedy's Jobless Aid Bill Is Attacked

Measure Under Fire In House, But Gets Support From Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's measure to aid depressed areas ran into criticism today from business witnesses at a House hearing, but the proposal was expected to advance a step in the Senate.

The Senate production and stabilization subcommittee was set to approve a bill similar to Kennedy's plan at its session today.

Officials of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers-NAM told a House banking subcommittee that the President's bill might do more harm than good.

Robert P. Lee, assistant to the vice president of the Connecticut Light & Power Co., said in a prepared statement that "you cannot effectively create jobs... you can only move jobs from one area to another and even that device will not work in areas of most serious long-term distress."

Lee, a chamber member, said the administration's $389 million grant and loan program — designed to entice industry to build in areas of chronic unemployment — would lead to "pirating" of firms.

Daniel W. Canton of New York City, testifying for the NAM, told the House group in prepared remarks that "if new plant location decisions are unduly influenced by the federal government, this would be an unconscionable situation."

But, he added, any federal program along the lines of promoting plant construction "would be

Couple Discards Bodies Of 5 Children

Psychiatrists Study Itinerant Carnival Man's Strange Story

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — They had six children with them when they packed up their dilapidated car in 1958 and headed south from Syracuse, N.Y., for carnival work.

They had one child — two years old — when they were arrested by Virginia authorities last week.

The horrible story of what happened to the five starved children of the itinerant carnival couple was being pieced together today by police and psychiatrists.

The investigation centered in this Virginia capital, where Ken- hospital. His wife, Irene, 44, is in neth E. Dudley, 47, occupies a jail at Lawrenceville, Va. — a private room in the state prison hamlet near the North Carolina line.

Fears Of New Violence Crop Out In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Fears of new anti-white violence and reports of a possible cabinet crisis in Katanga Province cast a shadow today over the efforts of anti-Communist leaders to bring stability to the Congo.

United Nations officials expressed grave alarm over the possibility of fresh outrages against Europeans in Kivu Province, which is controlled by followers of slain ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

It was learned that two elderly Roman Catholic nuns who were beaten savagely last month by Congolese still were restricted to the Kivu town of Kasongo. Both have been refused exit visas by town officials.

Another report said at least 23 Europeans, who were beaten last month by native tribesmen, are being held in Kindu, a town on the Luabala River.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province canceled a brief visit to South Kasai Province Wednesday to return to his capital at Elisabethville. His government denied he had returned to handle a growing crisis in his cabinet, but Katangese sources said "pressing political matters" made Tshombe's presence in Elisabethville essential.

Today's Lenten Message

By THE REV. DR. C. WALTER KESSLER, Albany, N.Y., District Superintendent of the Methodist Church (Written for UPI)

The world will be won by those who care enough to win it! Tomorrow's world may go Communist if the self-discipline, sacrificial devotion and financial support of Christians fail to surpass the imagination, enterprise and zeal of the Marxist missionary effort. You and I are voting for the kind of world we want when we say our prayers, talk to our children about their vocations, sign our church pledges, or do something more than give up a few luxuries for Lent.

Tomorrow's America will be won for the ideology that lives in the hearts and homes of her citizens. We help determine whether our land will remain a stronghold for righteousness each time we decide whether or not to attend worship, whether or not to have grace at table and family devotions, whether or not to contribute adequately to the church's redemptive ministries.

Whether peace, justice, freedom, truth and goodwill prevail in our times depends largely on the price we are willing to pay. Make no mistake about it. Victory will not be cheap. It will cost prayerful patience, brain sweat, hard work and sacrifice. The road to Easter is still through Gethsemane. Via Dolorosa, Golgotha, the cross.

Movie Actor Is Listed 'Critical' In N.Y. Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI) — Veteran film and TV Romeo John Payne took a turn for the worse today at Roosevelt Hospital where he was taken after being hit by a car on a Manhattan street.

A hospital spokesman said Payne's condition had deteriorated since he was brought in Wednesday night with fractures of the lower left leg and numerous deep scalp and face cuts. He was on the operating table for several hours while surgeons set his leg and sewed up his wounds.

Payne's condition at first was described as "good" but it became "critical" this morning, Payne, 48, seemed mainly worried about whether his handsome face was scarred.

Thousands Volunteer For U. S. Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The pretty daughters of an undersecretary of state and a veteran senator today led thousands of persons who have volunteered to live the hard life of President Kennedy's peace corps.

Kennedy announced the establishment Wednesday of a pilot model "peace corps" of trained volunteers to go overseas and help persons in underdeveloped areas.

Nancy Gore, 23-year-old daughter of Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and Sally Bowles, daughter of the Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles, went to work immediately in the new corps headquarters.

Says Congress Partly To Blame For 'Waste'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senator Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said today Congress was partly to blame for the Navy's purchase of $668 million worth of faulty planes, aircraft engines and radar.

"Our defenses should not be blamed entirely on the services," Symington said in a prepared Senate speech. "Congress itself shares a grave responsibility for the present antiquated organization structure of the Pentagon."

Symington, who has been making a series of Senate speeches about similar military waste, said the Navy spent $417 million on the F7U twin-jet, all-weather fighter before cancelling the rest of its order when 24 of the 304 produced had crashed.

Another plane was found "inadequate for the mission assigned," he said, but only after 149 of the 389 ordered by the Navy were produced. This error in ordering the T2V training plane cost $139 million, he said.

In another case, the Navy failed to halt production of the P5M radar system, he said, "even after evidence of unreliability had accumulated." He said this cost the government $51.6 million.

Other congressional news: Stars: Sen. Richard B. Russell and Rep. Carl Vinson, both D-Ga., were expected to introduce legislation to restore the five-star general rank to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. President Kennedy urged the action Wednesday.

Nixon Says He's Not Quitting Public Life

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Wednesday night he is "not retiring from public life."

The returning native son, told a cheering "welcome home Dick and Pat" audience of 1,300 he presently has no plans to run but extended the "full, exciting life in public affairs."

He said volunteers would have to serve at "great personal sacrifice." His prediction that "the number of those who wish to serve will far greater than our capacity to absorb them" appeared to be true. He said he hoped to have 500 to 1,000 volunteers by the end of the year. The White House said 5,000 letters on the subject already had been received.

Recruiting plans have not yet been completed, although a spokesman said.

Quiz Slayer In Death Of Another Girl

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rhode Island officials planned today to question confessed rape-slayer Fred Thompson about the death of a 3-year-old girl 37 years ago in New England.

A grand jury also was expected to return a true bill today or Friday against Thompson, 59, in the killing of Edith (Gogie) Kiecorius, 4, Feb. 27. The grand jury started hearing testimony.

Joseph J. Freitas, police chief of North Smithfield, Mass., and a Rhode Island State Police detective have reopened the case of Viola Aikne, 3, who was found killed in 1924. They will seek to discover whether Thompson, who was living in West Upton, Mass., at the time, was connected with the case.

Freitas said Thompson may be the same man, identified as James Graham, who was held as a material witness in the girl's death but was released for lack of evidence. He also pointed out that Thompson had written a nearby Massachusetts newspaper a few years ago seeking back issues covering the period when the girl was killed.

New York police also planned to check into every unsolved child slaying in the city area to see whether Thompson may have been involved.

Authorities planned to keep Thompson locked safely in his top-security cell under 24-hour observation in an out-of-the-way Bronx police station to avoid bringing him before crowds that have gathered wherever he goes, chanting for "rope justice."

Governor Smarts Over Rejection Of Money Plans

AUSTIN (UPI) — Smarting in defeat, Gov. Price Daniel today said the House's rejection of his money-raising proposals was "a fine day for the banks and interstate corporations, but a bad day for Texas."

"Unless some legislative minds are changed," Daniel said, "the people are going to be taxed $27 million so that banks can continue to keep money that belongs to the state and so that interstate corporations can continue their tax advantage over domestic companies."

The House Wednesday kayed two of his pet money-raising proposals and then left a third hanging on the ropes ready for the kill today.

The only survivor of the governor's emergency program to retire the state's $63 million deficit was a bill by Rep. Max Carriker of Roby to establish a uniform 1.99 per cent gross receipts tax on private utilities and extend the tax to rural electric cooperatives.

It was scheduled for more pounding today after being amended Wednesday night to the extent that Carriker said $14 million of its $17 million potential had been destroyed.

Daniel challenged the lawmakers who defeated his proposal to let the state claim abandoned bank accounts and his new franchise tax formula to "come forward with your solution."

"In the meantime, the people of Texas are going to hear more about these two measures in the future. The fight is not over by a long shot," Daniel vowed.

The abandoned property act sponsored by Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman, fell 20-79 on a vote to move it one step away from final passage.

House 'Red' Hunters Due Confidence Vote

By FRANK ELEAZER WASHINGTON (UPI) — The man who is scheduled to replace Rep. Francis E. Walter as head of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said today the Pennsylvania Democrat has managed to bring the committee into line despite a fresh wave of criticism.

Rep. Morgan M. Moulder, D-Mo., said Walter was appointed to the committee 12 years ago to help end its "unseemly conduct, and that, with the help of other committeemen, is exactly what he has done."

But Walter has another two years left at the helm of the controversial committee.

The House is ready to give the controversial Red-hunting committee its annual vote of confidence and $331,000 to carry on its work for the year.

Walter, committee chairman since 1955, announced Monday he will retire from Congress at the end of his current term, Jan. 3, 1962.

He is 66 and has represented Pennsylvania's 15th District since 1933. Moulder, 56, serving his 7th term from Missouri's 11th district, said he will be "happy and proud" to move up from his No. 2 committee spot and take over the gavel.

Announcement of the impending switch came as Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., pressed his campaign to cut the committee's investigative allowance as a step toward its eventual abolition. He knows he will not get much help.

Roosevelt, who with Rep. William Fitts Ryan, D-N.Y., has called the committee undemocratic, said he is "distressed" at Walter's plans to retire. He said his criticism was not personal. He said he thinks Walter has made a great contribution in his career in the House.

The U.S. Supreme Court Monday upheld the committee's right to investigate Communism. But a minor opinion deplored the command of his current term, Jan. 3, 1962.

Walter, committee chairman since 1955, has announced he will retire from Congress at the end of his current term, Jan. 3, 1962. ### Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The right of nations to police and protect their own territorial waters is recognized by international law. How far those waters may extend is a matter of dispute over most of the world.

One such dispute that dragged on for nearly 30 months—and strained relations between NATO allies involved Iceland and Great Britain.

It began on Sept. 1, 1958, when Iceland declared a 12-mile limit for her territorial waters, and banned fishing within that zone.

Britain promptly denounced the plan and dispatched four frigates to ensure that her trawlers would fish undisturbed. In the cold war pattern, the Soviet Union announced it would recognize Iceland's extension of her fishing waters.

In the ensuing teakettle war, shots were fired but no blood was let, and the British frigates successfully repelled Iceland's attempts to arrest the trawler crews.

This week, the two nations announced that agreement had been reached.

Iceland will "no longer object" to Iceland's 12-mile fishing zone. Iceland, in turn, for a transitional period of three years will permit British vessels to fish in certain areas of a 6- to 12-mile zone at certain periods of the year.

In classical international law, territorial limits were set at three miles—the distance of a cannon shot.

Aside from the fact that such reasoning no longer is valid, it generally is recognized now that a three-mile limit is impractical and that international law should be changed in accord with realities.

In March 1960 a conference on law of the seas opened in Geneva. Majority opinion leaned toward a territorial sea of six miles and a fishing limit of 12 miles.

The conference ended in failure, with the Western powers announcing they would continue to recognize only the three-mile limit.

Meanwhile, in the rush to control fisheries, pearls, whales, oil and other under-sea resources, individual nations have established a formless pattern of claims that have led to frequent clashes.

Publisher Gives Art Big Play

By WILLIAM D. LAFFLER
NEW YORK (UPI) — A new translation of Pierre Louys' "Aphrodite" and editions of "Walden" and "The Scarlet Letter" have launched a new series of books designed to endure for many years.

The three volumes published by Libra, Inc., headed by Vincent T. Smith, are the forerunners of what this company hopes will become showpieces of printed literature.

The publishers have set out to produce books that are graphic works of art as well as new editions of creative efforts that long have been accepted as classics.

Of the initial trio, "Aphrodite" is the most compelling because of the new translation by Frances Keene. Pierre Louys was so impressed by this new production of his most widely read work that he wrote the preface to the volume.

Readers who are interested in typography will find Libra's production of "Walden" closely akin to Thoreau's deep feeling for nature.

It is illustrated with 24 woodcuts from ancient Chinese drawings and printed on colored paper. Joseph Wood Krutch, the noted essayist and critic, offers a most introspective preface.

"The Scarlet Letter" by Nathaniel Hawthorne is illustrated by Jacob Landau with a foreword by Louise Bogan.

The men behind these books do not claim to be making a break through in the field of book publishing, but rather taking a step forward based on their experience. Smith, has spent more than 30 years in publishing. For many years he was vice president and sales director of Doubleday & Co. Marshall Lee, the designer, is an authority in his field and has won more prizes in the annual "Best 50 Books of the Year" competition than any other book craftsman.

One of the innovations undertaken in this project is the double-boxing of each volume to protect it from moisture, dust and other hazards.

Sturdy bindings, high quality rag paper and liberal use of colored pages and rubrication help make these books outstanding.

The historic Liberty Bell was made in England in 1732 and later recast in Philadelphia.

Speaker Critical Of Recent Aid To Aged Confab

Louise Evans, introduced to members of the Chamber of Commerce Congressional Action Breakfast as "one of the keenest minds in the state of Texas on political affairs," spoke this morning in the Starlight Room in Coronado Inn on her views of the recent "White House Conference for the Aged."

Miss Evans, political editor of the Amarillo News, has had many years of actual contact with workers in the field of care for the aged.

Miss Evans, introduced by Don Beaman, national affairs committee chairman, pointed out the "rigging and the show" put on at the recent White House conference on medical welfare and aid to aging persons.

"We must realize we must go together and that the individual has very little chance against the welfare problem," she said. "Statistics are the best liars I have found. They say 3.1 persons live in a house. Is a person a whole individual or not? You can't define people by per cent as they do in Washington. The Texas delegation tried to make this known in Constitution Hall in Washington."

"The human being," said Miss Evans, "is being trapped by words led to us through government representatives about this medical aid plan."

"Any population figure out of Washington on the aged (over 65), we must remember, are projected figures and have no reality," she continued. "People who fill in the papers are not versed on the subject of population and the statistics go haywire."

The speaker said the majority of aged people are not in nursing homes or do not need medical aid.

"The use of social security for medical aid for the aged is the big push in Washington, and as a delegate from Texas," she continued, "I was unable to discuss my views. Is this the kind of freedom you expect in our great country?"

"Little organization groups are forcing up-tip service to fight back, and organizations such as yours must come together and talk over these problems."

The Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor of First Methodist Church, gave the invocation. The next breakfast meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held March 16.

CLYDE GARRUTH, above, will be general superintendent of the Top O' Texas Junior Livestock show which opens in Pampa Monday and runs through Wednesday.

entered along with one hundred 185 hogs.

The Top O' Texas Rodeo Association will be host to Junior Exhibitors and their parents at a barbecue at 7 p.m. Monday in the sales arena at Recreation Park at which time prizes will be awarded in all divisions of the Junior Show. All Pampa civic clubs are participating this year by furnishing trophies for the various events and will have representatives of their respective organizations on hand to present their respective trophies.

In the Junior Show there will be six cash prizes ranging from $15 down to $4 and four ribbon prizes from 7th prize through 10th in the Calf Division. In addition to these prizes the American Hereford Assn. will add 25 per cent. In the Swine division there will be three cash prizes of $3, $2 and $1 and four ribbon prizes in the Junior Show, sponsored by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the above cash prizes, Grand Champion awards will be presented. The Junior Livestock sale will be conducted at 9 a.m. Wednesday, March 8 in the sales arena and the public is urged to come out and participate in the bidding.

Superintendent Carruth emphasized the fact today that more livestock is entered this year than ever before which will necessitate more buyers than in previous years.

Colonel Walter Britten of College Station, who has served as auctioneer here for the past sixteen years, will again be on hand to act as auctioneer for the Junior Sale.

Optimists Hear Zone Official

Harry Castle, lieutenant governor of Zone C of Optimist International, spoke to Pampa's Breakfast Optimist Club at its regular meeting Thursday morning at the Coronado Inn.

Castle reviewed the past history of the Optimist clubs to 1 March. Plans also were revealed this morning for Bike Safety Week, April 17-22, by Sammy Houchin, chairman of the program. Houchin urged that Pampa boys and girls present their bikes as soon as possible for safety checks.

Lindy Houck, chairman of the annual Optimist oratorical contest, will be in charge of next Thursday's program. As a prelude to the contest, March 10, Houck will present three boys giving practice speeches which will be given in the contest.

Guests today were Keith Swanson and Gordon Balch, Junior Optimists of the month for March and February, respectively, and Archie Maness, Herman Topper and Scott Langford.

Corps

man said some federal agency such as the Post Office Department might be used. Kennedy has not appointed a director of the peace corps, although his brother-in-law, R. Sargent Shriver, has been handling the program.

Among other things, the corps would teach people to read and write, show them how to build water pumps, drainage ditches, elementary sanitation systems and schools, and introduce improved methods of farming and teaching.

Corps members will not be exempt from military service, although they will be deferred during the two or three years of their overseas service.

Campbell Rites Set Saturday

School Is Host To Kiwanis Club

Bob Allford president of the downtown Kiwanis club announced that the Friday noon luncheon will be held in the Horace Mann Grade School Cafeteria.

Principal of the grade school, Sam Begert has invited the club for dinner in connection with Texas Public School Week, March 6-10, Allford said.

Texas Due For Chilly Weekend

By United Press International

Balmy tropical air and warm breezes from the Pacific flowed over Texas today, sending temperatures high into the shirt-sleeve range.

Generally fair skies were expected over the northern half of the state today, and clear to partly cloudy in the southern half.

Patchy cloudiness was expected to thicken by nightfall and Friday was expected to bring a new influx of chilly air to turn temperatures down over the weekend.

Meat Loaf Fills Need On Hurried Club Days

MEAT LOAF is perfect for those "busy-day" menus. You can mix it in the morning and put it into the refrigerator until you're ready to bake it. You'll love the flavor of this Savory Meat Loaf, too! It's a combination of ground beef and pork sausage with zesty spices.

How does the busiest mother in the neighborhood find time for all her activities and still please her family with delicious meals? She's earned the knack of good planning with a ready list of tasty recipes that can be prepared in a flash. The winter season finds club and community activities in full swing, as well as housework. This doesn't leave much time to spend in the kitchen!

If you're an active homemaker, you'll find that a meat loaf fits right into your "busy-day" menu plans. You can mix it in the morning, put it into the refrigerator until you're ready to pop it into the oven. There's nothing more to do until the meat loaf is baked and ready to present at the table.

Your family is certain to find this meat loaf pleasant eating! Its name, Savory Meat Loaf... suggests the zesty blend of ingredients and spices. Pork sausage, cloves and nutmeg add a pungent note. A surprise element, lemon, gives a slight hint of tartness.

One of the most important points in keeping a meat loaf juicy and tender is to bake it in a low to moderate oven. A temperature of 350 degrees F. is suggested for Savory Meat Loaf. Basting the loaf with its own drippings also keeps the meat moist.

Ground meat to be at its best should be used 1 to 2 days after purchasing. It is best to freeze it if you wish to cook it later.

On those "less-busy" days why not vary the basic Savory Meat Loaf recipe to add your own creative touch. Here are a few suggestions. Shape in a roll or loaf and bake in a flat pan with a few strips of bacon over the top; or bake meat loaf in a ring mold, in individual loaves, as patties or in muffin pans. Then add pretty garnishes. A mushroom sauce topping is delicious!

SAVORY MEAT LOAF
2 pounds ground beef
1/2 pound pork sausage
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 cup milk

1 1/2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Soak bread crumbs in milk. Combine ground beef, pork sausage, bread crumbs, onion, parsley, beaten egg, seasonings, lemon juice and rind. Mix thoroughly. Pack in a 5 x 9-inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours. 10 to 12 servings.

Perfectly Elegant Seafood Entree Party Perfect For Buffet Dining

Candlelight falls on polished silver, gleaming crystal and china and napkins neatly stacked on crisp-linen. In short, a buffet is about to begin. What's waiting in those tantalizingly steaming dishes?

This menu, requiring a minimum of silverware, is one that can be easily eaten even if some of your guests are perched on chair arms or seated cross-legged on the floor.

Accompany the casserole with buttered peas, a grapefruit and avocado salad, hot cheese biscuits, coffee and, for dessert, cranberry sherbet with assorted cookies. Split and butter the biscuits ahead of time to streamline serving.

SHRIMP CASSEROLE HARPIN

Defense Secretary Recommends Bolstering Conventional Forces

By ALVIN SPIVAK
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy says that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has recommended strengthening this country's conventional military forces. But the President stressed that no proposal has been made for lessening reliance on nuclear striking power.

The President told his news conference he had "reached no decision that would indicate there has been a change in reliance upon nuclear weapons." He said he thought Secretary of State Dean Rusk made that clear in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday.

Rapid-fire questioning on this issue brought Kennedy's fifth presidential news conference to a conclusion, with the President saying the administration is intent on maintaining American power wherever needed.

He said McNamara had completed an appraisal of this country's entire defense strategy and "part of his recommendation is to strengthen conventional forces." But he denied that this would be any "shift" from the nuclear weapons concept. He said McNamara was talking about "a general strengthening of our armed forces."

The question about conventional and nuclear power policy under the Kennedy administration stemmed from a controversy over how far Rusk had gone in recommendations to the Defense Department.

Rusk issued Tuesday a statement approved by the President to clarify a memorandum he sent recently to the Defense Department. He said this country should bolster its conventional forces while maintaining nuclear striking effectiveness.

President Hayes' inaugural day fell on Sunday, so he broke precedent by taking his oath privately at the White House.

U.S. And Latin Countries Stage War Games

BALBOA, C. Z. (UPI)—More than 3,000 troops and 150 aircraft from the United States and Latin America have begun war games designed to prevent the capture of the Panama Canal "by Communist-inspired aggressor forces."

Lt. Gen. Andrew P. O'Meara, top officer of the Caribbean Command, declined to describe the games in political terms. He said "I just know" they are a "goodin Mesopotamia."

Chief feature of the games was the airlifting of about 1,500 combat ready soldiers from Ft. Bragg, N.C., and dropping them on the jungle-enclosed coastal plain at Rio Hato, Panama. Naval and Air Force units had support roles.

Troops from Panama, Peru and the United States were participating, and there had been some "drop-outs" recently. He did not elaborate.

Our words, chicory, crocus, hyssop, myrrh and saffron originated in Mesopotamia.

Meeting Called In Hope War In Algeria Will End

PARIS (UPI)—Hopes for an early end to the Algerian war today centered around a meeting, expected imminently, between Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba and Algerian rebel leader Ferhat Abbas.

The meeting would be the second step in Bourguiba's role as a mediator in efforts to halt the six-year-old war. He conferred for five hours Monday with French President Charles de Gaulle, and said afterwards de Gaulle was ready to "go the limit" to reach a settlement.

Political sources saw this as an indication that direct talks between France and the rebel provisional government headed by Abbas would begin soon.

Farmers Checking On Their Social Security Credits

It's that time of the year again. And the farmers around the Panhandle — along with those all over the nation — are going through their books to let Uncle Sam know how they came out money-wise in 1960.

Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, says that one point farmers may want to keep in mind in figuring their earnings for social security purposes is that they may be entitled to use an optional method.

1) If gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1,800, the farmer may count as his net farm earnings either his actual net or 2-3 of his farm gross income.

2) If gross farm income is more than $1,800, and net farm earnings are $1,200 or more, the farmer must use the actual amount of his net earnings.

Geldon stated that because of the option available, self-employed farmers with gross income as low as $600 can obtain social security credit for 1960 — and so build protection for themselves in their old age, or if they become disabled, and protection for their survivors in case of death.

CONFIDENCES PROTECTED
Under the law, what you as a client tell your lawyer in confidence he may tell no one else without your consent.

Nor can a judge order him or his professional employees (like secretaries) to reveal such communications in court.

Why have such a privilege? Chiefly, to do justice; it encourages clients to tell their lawyers what they have to know to help and to advise them fully; things about their family, business, and private affairs, their hopes, fears, and ambitions.

No lawyer may speak of certain things, even after a client dies. For a client may well have to give his lawyer details which, if revealed, might harm those he most wanted to protect.

Yet, in some very rare cases, to help carry out the client's desires after death, a lawyer may have to reveal a confidence, under certain safeguards, to uphold his client's purposes.

What are confidential communications?
Confidential communications protect you as the client, not your lawyer. If you break the confidence, a lawyer may also have to talk, for the communication is no longer confidential. You may break a confidence by testifying about it, or by having unauthorized persons hear or see what was communicated.

No lawyer may keep quiet about a crime or fraud a client has told him he plans to commit. But afterwards, an accused person may talk freely to his lawyer. Even if guilty, he has a right to have his side of the story presented to the court as it may affect his punishment. A person in trouble needs to talk to someone without fear that what he says will become public.

In some states certain other professional people, such as physicians and clergymen, may receive privileged communications. However, Texas law makes no provision for privileged communications with physicians and clergymen.

[This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.]

Dear Abby... Flirtatious Wives Need Assurance

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife complains that I never take her dancing any more. When I did take her dancing she would flirt with every man in the place— including the boys in the band. So I just don't take her any more. Do you blame me?

DEAR JEALOUS: I do. A married woman often "flirts" because she needs the reassurance that she is desirable, attractive and hasn't lost the old touch. It's unwise to keep a wife down on the farm after she's seen Paris, so give her a whirl occasionally, and don't worry — you're the guy she goes home with.

DEAR ABBY: My husband dislikes eating with the children. He prefers eating later with me. We have five children from 4-13. I have gone along with his request, but I resent the way he dodges the children and also the work involved in preparing two meals. (I have no household help.) I'd like an objective opinion.

DEAR TRYING: WHY does your husband "dishes" eating with the children? If it's too early to enjoy his evening meal, he could sit with them and nibble something as a token gesture. If it's too hectic (which I suspect is the case), it's time both of you taught the children some table manners. Part of your responsibility as a mother is to see that father doesn't shirk his.

DEAR ABBY: I just had my seventh child. The eldest is 13. They are all fine, healthy children. We are able to feed and clothe them all. My clergyman failed on me in the hospital and saw fit to discuss birth control with me. (Yes, we are Protestant.) Unasked for advice, I might add.

I am quite aware of what I am doing. Why do people insinuate that we are somewhat less than human because we have seven children instead of one or two? We are NOT animals. Nor are we stupid. I wish you would ad-

Social Errors For Program For HD Club

Two new members were added to the club roll, Mrs. Alvin Adams and Mrs. R. F. Jacks. Guests were Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. O. M. Cooley. Mrs. McCoy was elected assistant secretary.

Mrs. E. E. Crawford gave a report on the semi-tailoring workshop to be held in Panhandle conducted by Mrs. Janie Fletcher, Carson County Home Demonstration Agent.

Present in addition to those mentioned above were Meses, Robert Fender, Elizabeth Tinsley, Leroy Snodgrass, M. E. West, Ben Hassler, W. S. Berry and G. E. Huckins.

Miss Rhodes Feted At Bridal Party

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Miss Betty Jane Rhodes was recently complimented with a wedding shower in Community Church Fellowship Hall. Hostesses were Meses, Con Foster, G. F. Morris, W. N. Price, R. C. Marlar, J. C. Jarvis, Clarence Kaiser, Junior Ellis and B. T. Clemens. Mrs. Ellis registered the guests.

The honoree was presented a corsage of pink carnations. Entertainment was provided by musical selections. On the program were "Whither Thou Goest" by Joan Jarvis, "Invisible Hands" by Woodward Girls Trio, "True Love" by Patricia Beigle and "Tenderly" by Carolyn Woodward and Joan Jarvis. They were accompanied by Mrs. Edith Beigle at the piano.

The serving table was laid in pink with an overskirt of white lace centered with a reflector laden with flowers in shades of pink. Miss Woodward and Miss Jarvis presided at the punch and cake service.

Ask The Designer

By GAILE DUGAN

Dear Gaile: We will celebrate our fifteenth wedding anniversary in a few weeks. My husband says that he wants to buy me a fur of some sort as a present and he wants me to pick it out. I thought I might like a mink stole but don't know what style or color to pick. Could you help me? — Mrs. M. J.

Dear Mrs. M. J.: What a kind and generous husband you have! I talked this one over with Leo Ritter, a designer who cut Queen Elizabeth's mink coat on her last visit to the United States. This is what he says: "I gather that this will be a small fur. It's my personal feeling that there is no fur more beautiful than a really fine mink. So buy the very best quality that your husband can afford. As for the color, that depends to a great extent on your own coloring. You can determine this by trying on mink in many colorings. A suit-length mink jacket is always a good buy; it can serve on many occasions. So is the suit-length stole. A small cape or an evening-length cape can double for elegant wear. But remember: don't look for a bargain. Go to a good furrier and buy the best quality he has."

Dear Gaile: My husband and I are paying our first visit to California late in January. As you can see from my address, we live in the East. We've never visited the West Coast before. I'm told they dress very differently out there and I don't know what to buy for the trip. I don't want to look out of place. Can you tell me what to buy for a ten-day visit? — Mrs. G. W.

Dear Mrs. G. W.: Your letter indicates that what you want is a small or capsule wardrobe for your visit. Actually, fashionable Californians follow the same trends as Easterners. But the climate does make a difference. So I had a chat with Maxwell Shieff of Beverly Hills, a designer who does clothes both for chic Californians and really well-dressed movie stars. He advises: "If you're California-bound this winter, stick to those classic American colors, black and white. I've done one jacket dress in white to charcoal black silk hosiery that is, I feel, ideal for travel. Add a charcoal, black and white imported cotton plaid dress and matching tubular coat. Have your outfits play dual roles; for this, short jackets are perfect. The jacket comes off when you have a dinner engagement. Most Californians dress for cocktails and dinner. For this, you might have a black silk organza sheath with matching shirred silk organza coat. Total weight? Eight ounces. For a very special occasion, have a black shirred organza sweater top with white organza tiered skirt. You'll need few accessories. Just black patent leather bag and shoes for daytime and black silk bag and shoes for evening."

Kennedy To Send Temporary Peace Corps Overseas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy signed an order today setting up a temporary peace corps of 500 to 1,000 men and women to work overseas without salary to help foreign countries meet their needs for skilled manpower. He said the peace corps members at first will be teachers, agriculture experts and health specialists. The President said, "It is our hope to have 30 or more people in the field by the end of the year."

more fully their responsibilities in the common cause of world development. "Life in the peace corps," he said, "will not be easy. There will be no salary, and allowances will be at a level sufficient only to maintain health and meet basic needs. Men and women will be expected to work and live alongside the nationals of the country in which they are stationed—doing the same work, eating the same food, talking the same language."

Space Planners Hope To Put Man On Moon By 1971

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Space agency planners now hope to put an American astronaut on the moon in early 1971. There is a possibility, however, that the Kennedy administration or Congress will order an attempt to do it sooner. Many U. S. space experts believe Russia is aiming at a manned landing on the moon perhaps as early as 1967. U. S. lunar exploration plans were discussed in hearings winding up today before the Senate Space Committee headed by Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla. Until Tuesday, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had refused to suggest a specific year for the first U. S. attempt to send explorers to the moon.

Highway Plan Is Discussed At Lefors Luncheon

LEFORS (Spl) — County Judge William J. Craig spoke to the Lefors Lions club Monday night concerning the new highway to come through Lefors. He said the contract will be let this summer. The first class highway will eventually connect with Hedley going from McLean to that city, Judge Craig said. Fred Blackwell reported that the highway committee had reached a decision on a route through the city, which would involve only three blocks and will meet with the county commissioners tomorrow or Saturday to see if the proposal will be accepted. The route is one which will be just east of the football field, and would involve moving some dwelling houses.

Lucas Tops '61 All-America

JERRY LUCAS ... near unanimous

NEW YORK (UPI)—Olympic star Jerry Lucas, who is leading Ohio State's quest for a second straight national championship, was a near-unanimous choice on the 1961 college All-America basketball team announced today by United Press International.

The 6-foot, 8-inch Lucas, who is only a junior, was picked on the first team by 302 of the 304 sports writers and broadcasters throughout the nation who cast ballots in the UPI poll. One voter placed Lucas on the second team and only one omitted his name entirely.

Picked on the first team of the glamor squad with Lucas were Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech. and Chef (The Jet) Walker of Bradley.

GUIDES MINORS CLUB

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ends Slaughter, who epitomized spirit and hustle during 10 years in major league baseball, will manage the Raleigh, N.C., club of the Class B Carolina League this year. The club is a farm club of the New York National League team which is scheduled to begin competition next year.

Ohio State, last year's NCAA champion and unbeaten this year, scored a unique feat in placing Lucas on the first team and team mates John Havlicek on the second team and Larry Siegfried on the third team.

Fred Taylor, coach of the unbeaten Buckeyes, expressed delight that three members of his squad were able to achieve All-America status although every opponent was gunning for Ohio State all season.

"I think that these boys have been sitting ducks most of the year, and that they can receive an award like this is a terrific thing," said Taylor. "This team is an example of what a unit can do."

Lucas was mentioned on 99.7 per cent of the ballots, a figure topped in the history of the UPI team only by Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, who was mentioned on 99.8 per cent last year. Lucas now has the opportunity next year to join Robertson and Tom Gola, former La Salle star, as the only players ever to be voted All-America three times.

Named to the second team along with Havlicek were Walt Bellamy of Indiana; Tony Jackson of St. John's; John Rudometkin of Southern California; and Billy (The Hill) McGill of Utah. Bellamy narrowly lost out to Walker for the No. 3 spot on the first team.

Picked on the third team along with Siegfried were Dave Debuschere of Detroit, Frank Burgess of Gonzaga, Art Heyman of Duke, and York Larese of North Carolina.

A novel feature of this year's team is that it includes three juniors—Lucas, Dischinger, and Walker. Stith and Kaiser are seniors. Lucas and Stith are the only holdovers from last year's first team. Dischinger, Kaiser, and Walker all were second team selections a year ago.

'Unknown' Brings Mississippi St. Back Into Major Cage Spotlight

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—"You're ruining our basketball program," a Mississippi State University alumnus complained in 1955 when his alma mater hired James "Babe" McCarthy as head coach.

"Why hire an unknown?" the alumnus asked. McCarthy was relatively unknown in hardwood circles in those days but since he took over at State the basketball program has been a long way from ruin.

McCarthy, who had no college playing or coaching experience, was selected Tuesday as Southeastern Conference coach of the year by United Press International.

The Maroon coach was selected by newspaper and radio sports editors from throughout the Southeast. He beat out Florida's Norman Sloan by a 3-2 ratio.

Why did the school hire McCarthy? "A country boy like me has had a lot of good luck all these years," the 37-year-old cage mentor said. "There were a lot of friends in the right positions to recommend me."

And McCarthy, known by all as Babe, hasn't let the school down. In six seasons, he has amassed an amazing record of 104 wins and 44 losses. Twice, his Maroons have taken the SEC title—in 1958-59 and this season. And it's the second time UPI has selected him conference coach of the year.

In Small College Rankings

Tennessee St. Grabs Top Spot

NEW YORK (UPI)—The tall and talented Tennessee State Tigers were named the nation's No. 1 small college basketball team for the 1960-61 season today by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

It was the second time in three years that the Tigers walked off with the UPI Trophy. They also won in 1959 and finished second behind Evansville in the national race last season.

Evansville, ironically, didn't garner a single vote in the final weekly balloting of the season. The Purple Aces were the No. 1 pre-season choice of the coaches but got off to a poor start and finished the campaign with a 10-15 record. Tennessee State, the coaches' No. 2 pre-season choice, held first place from the start of the campaign. In the final balloting, the Tigers polled 26 first place votes and 339 points.

Mississippi Southern finished second with five first place votes and 294 points, while Prairie View totaled four first place votes and 281 points to finish third.

Of the first three finishers, Prairie View wound up with the best regular season record, losing only to Jackson State in 25 games. Tennessee State finished its regular season with a 24-4 mark.

Buc Boss Sees LA As Chief NL Threat

FORT MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—General manager Joe Brown today picked the Los Angeles Dodgers as the club his Pittsburgh Pirates will have to beat to retain the National League pennant.

Although he did not sell the other contenders short, Brown said, the Dodgers should prove the toughest because of the young players they are coming up.

"They're not only good, they are great," said Brown. "The Dodgers have spent more than $2 million in the past year and a half for bonus players and it looks like they are going to get big dividends from them."

"They have kids for almost every spot and have the potential to be stars in this league."

Brown said the Pirates also have some fine looking youngsters as do the other contending clubs—the Braves, Giants, Cardinals and Reds. "The Dodgers don't have all of the fine looking youngsters by any means, but they have a pretty good corner on the market," Brown added.

Not that he doesn't think the Pirates aren't going to win again. "They have to beat us and I don't think any club is going to do it," Brown said. "But this is a tough, balanced league and even the Cubs and the Phillies give you trouble because there's a tendency to ease up a bit when you are playing them."

He put Cincinnati into the contending class because of "promising young pitching." "If Jay Hook, Jim O'Toole, Joey Jay and Jim Maloney come through for them they could well come up with the pitching they have lacked. They have a fine starter in Bob Purkey

Cage Banquet Tickets Move

Approximately half of tickets to the Harvester basketball banquet March 21 in Coronado Inn have been sold, according to James Gallemore, chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce sports committee.

Gallemore again urged today that those desiring to attend the banquet make their reservations as soon as possible as the tickets were moving rapidly. Jimmy Boyd, former Pampa cager and high school all-American in 1955, will be the principal speaker at the banquet. Tickets are on sale at the C of C offices.

Duquesne Dims Bonnie Outlook With Victory

By MARTIN LADER United Press International

They start the season all over again in the Atlantic Coast and Southern conferences today, but as far as nationally ranked St. Bonaventure is concerned, its one campaign is proving long enough.

West Virginia is an overwhelming favorite to win its seventh Southern Conference title at Richmond while a close dogfight is expected between Duke and Wake Forest to decide the Atlantic Coast kippin at Raleigh, N.C. The winner of each three-day championship receives an automatic berth in the NCAA tournament.

Flu-Ridden U.S. Hockey Team Faces Powerful Russian Squad

LAUSANNE (UPI)—A sub-par, flu-ridden United States team takes the ice against powerful Russia today in the opening round of the world ice hockey championships, and only the faithful saw any chance for a Yankee upset.

The U.S. squad has only three men remaining from the team which captured the Olympic gold medal at Squaw Valley, Calif., last year, and has had a disastrous pre-tournament tour of Europe, losing several contests to second-rate teams.

Even when it seemed that things couldn't get worse, things did get worse. Goalie Larry Palmer of Pinehurst, Mass., considered one of the outstanding players on the squad, was hit in the face with a puck during an exhibition Tuesday night. The wound required 14 stitches and the West Point graduate will sit out at least the first couple of games of the championships.

Flu-Ridden U.S. Hockey Team Faces Powerful Russian Squad

Flu is another serious problem, according to U.S. coach John (Connie) Pleban. "Almost the whole team has been down with it," he said, "although they're beginning to come along now."

Walter Rogers Reports

Theft Charges Filed Against Perryton Men

PERRYTON (Sp1) — Charges have been filed in both Ochiltree and Beaver counties against two Perryton men, alleged to have stolen a cash register and about five cases of beer from an establishment just across the state line in Oklahoma last week.

The men reportedly became involved in driving two $50,000 truck-mounted "work-over" rigs belonging to D & L Drilling Company here without the owner's consent.

The two men, Larry Ende-Noren and Byrdon Bedform Courtney are presently being held in Beaver County facing burglary charges, according to Deputy Sheriff Bobby Jack Watson.

Charges of driving vehicles without owner's consent have been filed against the pair here.

Plans Made For YMCA Banquet

PERRYTON (Sp1) — Plans are being made for the second annual YMCA banquet to be held in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church Friday night, March 17.

The banquet committee is composed of Mrs. Jack R. Allen, food arrangements; Mrs. Max Boyer, decorations and physical arrangements; Gilbert Milze, program; Jack Maxey, tickets and reservations; and Rev. Carroll B. R. A. Y., general chairman.

and their case will come before the next district grand jury.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been called into the case and is investigating the possibility of violation of federal laws regarding taking stolen vehicles across state lines.

Efforts To Televisify Congress Not New

The recent publicity given attempts to put Congress — both the sessions of Congress and the several committee meetings — on nationwide television has caused quite a bit of discussion, both serious and humorous. This is not a new question. It is as old as television which, incidentally is not too old. The question was raised during the radio era and before the advent of television. During the radio era business could not see any ready profits. They did not think that a session of Congress "in sound only" would sell. However, the advent of television put an entirely different light on the subject. People could see as well as hear the famous or notorious as the case may be — individuals about whom they had been reading in the newspapers. They could view in action the leading criminals of the day, as well as top business and government personalities, and make their own determinations as to who should be in which category.

To top communications executives, this looked like a wonderful windfall. They would be using the people's air waves to beam to the people for their entertainment the activities of the elected officials of the people, who were on the payroll of the taxpayers and not the payroll of the television producers. In other words, they would be using the people's airwaves without cost; they would have an overflowing field of ham actors who did not even need to be under contract. They would be spared all of the trials and tribulations that they have in renewing the contract of some emotionally disturbed actress who was endowed with more beauty than sense. And any time one of the ham actors, whom they were not paying in the first place, got rambunctious they could get the folks at home to cancel his contract by simply having their cameraman catch him asleep on the job or engaged in some equaling the trials and tribulations that they have in renewing the contract of one who was endowed with more beauty than sense. And any time one of the ham actors, whom they were not paying in the first place, got rambunctious they could get the folks at home to cancel his contract by simply having their cameraman catch him asleep on the job or engaged in some equaling the trials and tribulations that they have in renewing the contract of one who was endowed with more beauty than sense.

It has been said many times that all human beings, and I presume animals could be included, are possessed of a desire to act. Sometimes this is suppressed, but too often not. In Washington it has often been called the camera itch. A person suffering from this disease, and there are quite a number, is termed a lens-hound. It has been rumored that the photographic ability of an individual may determine the success or failure of a job application, especially with the lobbying groups. Great note is made of the alleged fact that human beings generally photograph much better from the left side than from the right. This, of course, would create another problem, because many people think that "top much of the left" is showing already.

These are only a few of the minor difficulties that should be considered in a proposal of this kind. One of the major difficulties would be in making the programs sufficiently interesting to the viewers. I can hardly conceive of me, women, or children being glued to a television screen on which some eminent scientist was spending two or three hours explaining the whys and wherefores of atomic energy, or some financial wizard was explaining why the interest rate in 1942 had been up and down many times during the ten years immediately following. Other interesting (?) programs would undoubtedly include hearings on why the costs allocated to fish and wildlife on a reclamation project should not be reimbursable. I am afraid that the general activities would not be attractive to viewer audiences. Hence, it might become necessary to try to attune the activities of Congress to the viewers by making them more entertaining. However, I have some difficulty in visualizing a few of the more corpulent Members wearing tight Levi's. Perhaps that could be worked out by casting them as private eyes or referees in the wrestling matches.

One observer has insinuated that the proposal to put Congress on television is a secret effort on the part of pay television proponents. They figure that about two weeks of watching most of the dull hearings and some of the speeches which take place in congress would make pay television most inviting to many of the viewers.

The fact of the matter is that Congress can, at any time, adopt a resolution authorizing the televising of such activities, as may be desired or requested by the people of this country. When the time comes that the people of this nation want to spend time watching Congress in session they will make it known in a loud and resonant voice, and I am sure that the Congress will respond.
